

Matadors Again District Winners

Schedule Bi-District Tilt With Gruver Dec. 2nd

FOR THE SECOND TIME in succession the Matador Matadors Friday night won the District 2-B football championship when they defeated the Wheeler Mustangs 27-18 here on Burleson Field. Largest crowd to witness a football game in Matador's history filled every available seat in the two new grandstands, and parked automobiles.

In the bi-district championship game the Matadors are scheduled to play the Gruver Greyhounds in Buffalo stadium, West Texas State College, Canyon, at 7:30 Friday night, December 2. Admission will be $1 for adults and 50c for students. Since Buff Stadium seats 7,500, no reserve seats will be sold. Tickets will be on sale in Matador as soon as available.

The Greyhounds are undefeated champions of District 1-B and are expected to offer the Matadors their strongest competition this season. In Plainview this afternoon Kress high school and Wilson high school teams are scheduled to clash. Winner of this game will meet the winner of the Matador-Gruver game on December 9th for the Region 1 Championship.

The game here Friday night was a gridiron classic with suspense mounting in every play. More than 2,000 wild cheering fans watched the Matadors claim the second district championship in succession and achieve a 6-0 district record as compared with a 5-1 season record for the Mustangs. Last year the Matadors won the district championship when they defeated the Quitaque Panthers 20-0.

By Jimmy Bert Erzell
Weather was ideal for football with enough pinch in the night air to keep the fans overly alert. The game was hard-fought and cleanly played. The Matadors outplayed their visitors in the first, second and fourth quarters. The Mustangs held the upper hand in the third quarter which ended 18-14 in their favor. The Matadors rolled up a total of 253 yards as compared to the Mustangs' 214 yards. In the first down business the Matadors sold 18 as compared to their visitors' 14. At the end of the first quarter the Matadors led 7-6 and completed the half 14-12. With Wheeler in the lead at the end of the third quarter, the Matadors came back to score two touchdowns and win the game 27-18.

In the beginning stanza Ellithorp smashed eight yards over right side for the first touchdown. Pat Green passed to Dayton Graham for the extra point. Wheeler came back in a hurry to score on Jim Porter's 26-yard gallop around his team's left end. Topper failed in the attempt to run the extra point over.

Pat Green kicked the extra point. The Mustangs scored their second touchdown after time had run out for the half. Quarterback Harold Crossland passed 29 yards to End Dennie Bowerman. The extra point fizzled and back in the second quarter, Duck Hamilton took a pitchout from Quarterback Dayton Graham and sped 31 yards around his left end for the touchdown.

AN ACT TO REGULATE COMMERCE

Both Are Modern!

Your rights and privileges as an American citizen are protected by the Constitution, a unique and magnificent document whose principles are as sound today as when written, over 150 years ago. Through the years, amendments have been added to keep the Constitution up-to-date. The same is true of the regulatory powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Congress has enacted more than 150 amendments to the Interstate Commerce Act since it was passed in 1887, completely overhauling it twice. In principle, present ICC regulations governing the various transportation systems are pertinent, constructive, and modern in concept. Under these principles, we have developed the greatest competitive transportation system in the world!

The Diary of Mary White

August 6, 1955 (Saturday)

You can believe me when I say I hated to get up this morning. Out my bedroom window the sea was calm and air was clear and cool, but I knew what was in that kitchen. I didn't think I could tackle it on an empty stomach, so I had a bowl of cornflakes. There was just enough snot in each thing that I used to make the mixture a light gray when I stirred it up. Not bad, considering my appetite.

Well, we took that stove apart joint by joint and screw by screw. I've never seen so much snot in my life. We filled a 55 gallon barrel almost. The drafts, sides and top were completely choked up. The couple who left here, left it for an initiation present I guess. By the time we were through we really looked like Aunt Jemimah and Uncle Remus. We put it back together and fired it up. Glory Hallelujah! It worked perfectly. Now the question was, would we ever get enough water carried and heated to scrub off all the snot from us and from the kitchen? At 10:30 we had enough off to eat breakfast. By two o'clock we had our hair shampooed and a bath taken. Yes, we actually looked like people again. I set to work to fix supper, and at six-thirty we sat down to: Creamed salmon (David gave us one about two feet long), turnip greens (from the school garden) rhabarb pie (from the school garden). The English peas are full of blooms and the beets are bigger than marbles. They may make it before the season gets too late.

Marelda cleaned the dishes and I patched Roger some jeans. R. W. radiated some. Our boxes that I mailed in Valley arrived here the 5th—about two weeks time. The sun is still shining brightly but it is eight-thirty and I think I'll call it a day.

August 7, 1955, Sunday: Temperature 70 degrees

A leisurely unburied Sunday. What a treat. The day was bright and warm. Girls went swimming during high tide. I read all morning which is another rare treat for me. Had creamed beef, coffee for lunch. Each member of the family entertained himself all afternoon. Marelda got restless and had her first homesick cry. I dread for my time to come, but I know it will. It almost happened Friday when I got Virgie's letter, but I had so much other mail that I made it over that hump. Two technicians from Moses Point came to the store. R. W. talked to them and they promised to come over and fix both our short waves sets and our own radio. Our battery got damaged in shipment so that occurrence of the condition. In this case, only cows starting into the third or later lactation should be treated.

Vitamin D should be added to the ration of cows to be treated for approximately seven days before and one day after calving. IN NO CASE SHOULD TREATMENT EXCEED TEN DAYS. Recommended dose is twenty to thirty million units a day. Commercial sources are available for this purpose.

New Remedy For Worms In Swine And Poultry

The use of piperazine compounds for the removal of large roundworms in humans has been very successful. Recent tests by several stations indicate it is just as useful in swine, calves and poultry. The material is soluble in water, highly effective, and practically non-toxic in recommended doses. It can be administered in feed or drinking water. This compound will probably replace sodium fluoride, if field tests continue to prove satisfactory.

MILK EQUALS MIXED GRAIN FOR LAYING

Feeding tests conducted by the New Mexico Experiment Station show that either white or red milo is equal to a mixture of 40% corn, 40% wheat and 20% oats as a scratch grain for laying hens. Egg production on the different scratch grains was so nearly equal that one grain cannot be considered superior to the others. Income per hen over cost of feed for white milo was $6.26 compared to $5.97 for hens fed red milo and $5.78 for those fed the mixed scratch grain.

COUNTY AGENT PALLMEYER SAYS:

Plant Roses Now

Anyone can grow roses. They may be planted in the fall or spring. In Texas, fall planting is generally preferred.

Aim for quality and you may also get quantity. Many gardeners try to grow too many varieties or too many plants. Given careful attention, that 10 well chosen varieties will produce as many flowers and five far more pleasure than 50 poorly-tended plants.

Essentials for success with roses are: proper planting, a sunny location and well drained soil. Start with No. 1 grade plants, and have the ground ready when the plants arrive. Make sure roots are never exposed to sunlight or drying winds.

Water plants thoroughly. Don't apply fertilizer to newly-planted bushes until the root system is well established, then feed at least twice a season. Never fertilize in late fall. Keep plants free of insects and diseases with a regular spraying or dusting schedule.

For details on selection, soil preparation, pruning and care of roses, get a copy of TAP 1, ROSES FOR TEXAS from your County Agents Office.

Cartwright, Matador End, Named Player of the Week

By EDDIE MULLENS
Amarillo Daily News Sports Writer

A glue-fingered end with the speed and aggressiveness of a top-notch fullback has been chosen as the Daily News' Class B. Player of the Week. He is lanky, and talented, Garland Cartwright of the powerful Matador Matadors. Garland, a junior this year, stands 6-1 1/2 high and tips the scales at 180 pounds.

The big end is one of the best defensive players on the Matador club this year. Garland's aggressive play has helped the Matadors compile an impressive 8-1 mark thus far this season.

However, his outstanding play last week for Coach Ray Hopkins, against the Quilago Panthers, gave Garland the award. Although Garland scored two touchdowns for the Matadors, it was his great all-around play, especially on defense, which made the Matador fans rave about him. Incidentally Matador won the game, 72-26.

No other cold remedy can match 666 liquid or 666 Cold Tablets.

One particular play stands out in the Matador fans' minds. When Arvin Ellithorp broke loose for an 80-yd. run, Garland cut across the field and threw the key block to spring his talented teammate loose for the touchdown gallop.

Another fine defensive game which the fans at Matador still remember occurred in the Crowell contest. Everyone admits that Crowell has a very fine Class A team and were noted for their end sweeps. However after they tried Garland's side a few times, the Class A team decided to give it up as a lost cause. The Matadors stopped Crowell 18-13.

At Silvertown, Garland had another great defensive night. As the Silvertown Owls were beaten 20-0, Garland was in on nearly 20 tackles.

Although the Matadors aren't noted as a passing team, Garland has snagged several passes for touchdown gallops. He has good speed, a good attitude and trains well. Coach Hopkins uses Garland at either end, tackle or line backer on defense.

The Matadors have scored 308 points this year to the opponents' 134 points.

Wheeler in the Lead
Wheeler came back strong in the third quarter and scored on Fullback Roger Topper's one-yard smash into the line. The extra point try was wide and the quarter ended with the Mustangs leading 18-14.

Early in the fourth quarter the Matadors backed their visitors deep into their own territory when Capt. Hamilton intercepted a pass on the 11-yard line and returned it over the Wheeler goal line to put the Matadors out front 20-18 in the story-book game. This might have been all of the ball game but the Matadors added another touchdown and extra point in the final two minutes of play, as if to dispel any doubt in the minds of the fans. Graham faked a handoff to Charles Renfro who went over right tackle for six yards. Pat Green converted.

Defensive standouts for the Matadors were legion and included 17 tackles or assists for Alvin Lynn, 10 for Cartwright, eight for Renfro and seven for Frank Thrasher.

Homecoming Was Enjoyed By Exes

That Matador Homecoming was enjoyed by the exes who attended is evidenced in letters that have been received by local residents and officers of the Ex-Student Association. Typical of the many letters which have been received are two from which excerpts are herewith quoted.

"Will you express my sincere gratitude and appreciation to the entire group who made Homecoming in Matador such an enjoyable day to me. I know it takes long hours of hard work and planning to make an occasion like that possible, and I just want you to know that I think nothing was left undone in the way of entertainment, food and program, to say nothing of the welcome air that permeated the entire occasion... I thoroughly enjoyed every minute of it and shall be looking forward to seeing everyone again next year. Best wishes to all, Mabel (Jenkins) Solomon, Tulla, Texas."

"Last Friday was one of the most enjoyable days of my life. The people of Matador and Motley County are just as wonderful and friendly as I remembered them to be. I wish I could thank each personally for making the day a success. The day is worth traveling many miles to attend. My thanks to all... it does a person much good to visit with old friends. My wife enjoyed it almost as much as I did, visiting with old and new friends. Nancy agrees with me about Matador."

"That football game is something that I will not soon forget. How good it was to see that Matador team make so many touchdowns... The Drum and Bugle Corps with their Toreador uniforms is something that I hope never dies."

"We departed the game after the halftime ceremonies next year, if I do not have to work the next day, I plan to remain until the last person departs the reception after the game. Thanks again for such a fine day. Sincerely, Jack" (Major Jack Robinson, Jr., Altus, Okla.)
