S. Highway 70 Group Hold Meeting Here

The Highway 70 Association, which has been organized to improve the highway from Matador to San Francisco, California, held its first meeting here Monday night, February 13, at the home of Mrs. J. W. Cox. The meeting was presided over by Mayor McWilliams. Parnell Powell, president of the association, reported on the progress of the project. He stated that the highway is now paved with the exception of 11 miles in Arkansas. The route is expanding and with the improvement of many roads, it is believed that Highway 70 will attract a greater number of tourists this season. Value of coast-to-coast routes is well established. Towns on the routes have profited and grown to an amazing degree. The tourist "crop" has been declared the most profitable of any produced in many instances. The value of volume highway travel is not restricted to the businesses which travelers patronize. The money spent is left with the cafes, filling stations, motels, small grocery stores, etc. but they in turn spend with other businesses in a community until all reflect the benefit of highway commerce.

CASH GIFTS MADE TO BAND LEADERS

Appreciation gifts of $50 in cash were made to each Ward and Albert Rattan Thursday night at a meeting of the directors of "The Toreadors", Matador's drum and bugle corps. The gifts were presented by the two band leaders for the long hours of training that they had donated to the corps and their tireless efforts and patience since the corps was organized. Directors approved a plan to select the drum major and majorettes at the same time pep squad leaders are selected. Out of town judges will make the selections. Cheer leaders will be eliminated from the candidates, making it impossible for girls to hold the two offices at the same time. The directors also adopted a policy requiring the Toreadors to reorganize each year. At the benefit chili supper held in the Legion Building Monday night, under the auspices of mothers of band members, total net receipts amounted to about $100.

Matador To Get Highway Patrol

Matador is soon to have a permanent Texas Highway Patrol station. The information was made public yesterday by State Representative Elbert Reeves, in a letter from Director Homer Garrison, Jr., of the Texas Department of Public Safety. Rep. Reeves had sought the location pointing out to the department that Matley county needs the protection because of its expanse of fine highways that have proven a temptation to speeders. Two fatal accidents that claimed six lives in less than 30 days have shown the need of Highway Police. In both instances the drivers were non-residents. The letter from Director Garrison, dated January 23, is as follows: "Honorable Elbert Reeves, State Legislature, Matador, My Dear Friend: After talking with you a few moments ago in reference to the traffic conditions that exist in your vicinity, Capt. Posey came into my office. He, Chief Elliott and I discussed the matter at length and as soon as he returns, he is coming to talk with you, and I am sure he can give you some temporary assistance in the matter. "As I promised you during the Session of the Legislature, we do intend to open a permanent Patrol station in Matador, but we cannot until the present Patrol School is finished. This will be sometime after the middle of March. At that time we will open a permanent Station. If you desire, it will be satisfactory with us to give this information to the newspapers. "It is good to hear from you and I hope that anytime I can assist you in any way, you will call upon me. With very best wishes, I am Sincerely your friend."

Curb Placed On Gratis Polio Shots

Polio vaccine is now obtainable through the service of your local physician like any other type of vaccine and the State Health Department has advised Dr. Albert Trawick that no more Salk vaccine will be released by the State or National Foundation. Children who received shots last summer should have another (or booster) shot within the next two or three months. Dr. Trawick said, "Prevailing charge in this area is $4. In a release received by the Tribune this week from State Health Commissioner Henry A. Holle, he appealed to Texas parents to have their children vaccinated as protection against polio this spring and summer. "The polio season starts early in Texas," he warned. "This year, for the first time in history, we have a vaccine against the disease on hand before the season opens in mid-April. Official records show paralytic polio during 1955 struck six times more frequently among unvaccinated children than among those who received prescribed amounts of the vaccine at the proper intervals." "Three shots are said to give a high level of protection against polio," he stated. (continued on back page)

A specialist in child photography will be in Matador, Wednesday, to make photographs of children. He will be a representative of Woltz Studios of Des Moines, Iowa, and the Tribune will publish every picture made, in later issues. The pictures will be made absolutely free of charge. There is no age limit and no restriction except that children to be photographed be brought to the Legion Building (Wednesday, February 1) by parents or other guardian. The Tribune will publish the pictures as a feature entitled "Citizens of Tomorrow" as soon as engravings are received. The pictures and the engravings are made without charge. The Woltz Studio is a responsible firm of nationally known portrait photographers, in business for more than half a century. They have been in Matador previously, making pictures of business and professional men and women. They provided the Tribune with engravings of many Lions Club members. The children's picture plan is exactly the same. The Tribune receives an engraving of each child photographed. There is absolutely no charge or obligation for taking the pictures. Parents don't even have to be a subscriber of the Tribune nor even a reader. No one has to purchase any pictures, although they will be offered later by a Woltz representative. It is entirely up to the parents or guardian and no "high pressure" will be used by the representative. The Woltz Studios make fine photographs. They know by experience that copies of the pictures they make are usually wanted and through the volume of their operation, it is profitable to make this unusual offer. By special arrangement the Tribune can obtain free engravings of Lions members who were not photographed previously. The Woltz photographer will remain at the Legion Building after 5 p. m. (closing hour for making the children pictures) and make photographs of Lions members. No charge will be made for making the Lions pictures, although extra prints may be obtained on the same basis as the pictures made of children.

Mothers To Conduct Campaign For Funds

Millions of people in the enslaved countries of the world are praying for the right to vote—to have a voice in the government; freedom. This privilege is your heritage, purchased with the blood of every man who has given his life in defense of our nation's principals. You can help keep America free with your vote. It is just as important as the President's vote and it counts just as much as the vote of a millionaire. But you must pay your poll tax before midnight, January 31. Remember that a deceased voter no longer has a voice in government. If you fail to pay your poll tax your voice in government is also stifled for a year. Go now and pay your poll tax—and vote in every election this year to fulfill your duty as a citizen!

NEW MICROFILMER IS INSTALLED BY FIRST STATE BANK

Ever try to make 400 pictures, each of a different object in a minute? It can be done. The First State Bank here has just installed a new microfilming device called the "Recordak Reliant" a product of the Eastman Kodak Company, which is geared to that speed. The machine takes 400 pictures of 400 different checks in a minute, photographing both sides at the same time. It reduces the pictures 40 to 1 and uses 16mm film with approximately 29,000 checks being recorded on 100 feet of film. The new machine is a part of the bank's new and modern bookkeeping equipment and is the very latest type microfilmer. Reduced to language the average bank patron can understand (and, including newspaper reporters) it means that a picture is made of every bookkeeping operation. Every check that goes through the bank (local and out of town banks) is photographed. The film is sent to Dallas where it is processed and returned, to be kept as a permanent record. It means more protection for the customer. In event a check is needed or any record of its negotiation is required, the film can be run back through the "viewer" or within a few days a photostatic copy of the check in full size can be obtained. Checks of all sizes are dumped into a hopper at the bottom of the machine and they pass through with machine gun precision. It is also capable of photographing documents as long as 12 inches. Vice President John Barnhill showed a Tribune reporter the complex mechanism (it looked something like a television set with the back off) and explained the many features which speed up and improve the accuracy of a modern bank's bookkeeping operation. The reporter was impressed but apprehensive, wondering when some new banking device will slap a customer's wrist when he starts to write a check for more money than he has on deposit.

John Stotts Makes Announcement For Commissioner Race

The Tribune is authorized to announce the candidacy of John Stotts of Matador for the office of County Commissioner, precinct one, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, July 28, 1956. Now serving in the capacity of sheriff of Motley county, Mr. Stotts is widely known as one of the outstanding peace officers of West Texas. In making his announcement this week, Mr. Stotts said: "I had previously decided not to be a candidate for sheriff again, but considered the race for commissioner instead. I feel that I am qualified to serve in the office with experience in the operation of county business that would be valuable. During the period of time that I have served as sheriff I have gained a knowledge of the county's income from a tax standpoint and I am familiar with most of the problems that require the services of a commissioner. "I am deeply grateful to my friends for their confidence and support in past elections and in event the voters of precinct one elect me to the office of commissioner, I will fulfill the duties to the best of my ability. "I will sincerely appreciate the vote and support of everyone and offer my appreciation in advance for any favors extended in behalf of my campaign."

The porchlight drive will start with the signal of the fire alarm. It is under the sponsorship of the Matador Garden Club. Mrs. W. N. Pipkin, president of the club, said last night that arrangements have been completed for the campaign. A mother and child will work as a team, knowing by the signal, a lighted porchlight, that a contribution is waiting in the home. Mrs. Pipkin said that Matador has been divided into sections and workers assigned. The polio fund drive is progressing well in the Flomot community with a total of $235.51 collected up to Tuesday, according to Mrs. L. B. Turner, Tribune Flomot correspondent. Last week the Tribune inadvertently omitted the names of two workers, Bill Myer and E. G. Browning from the Flomot committee. The Whiteflat drive which last week had reported $143, was conducted by Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Garrison, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Dixon and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford (Pip) Martin. Coffee Drive Here Three cafes, Waybourn's, Charlie's and Lane's, and one drug store, Stanley Pharmacy, will give the entire proceeds of their coffee sales tomorrow (Friday) to the polio fund campaign. All contributions above the 5c per cup price of the coffee will go into the fund. Ward Rattan, fund campaign director, said the drive was progressing well with favorable reports from all sections of the county. Roaring Springs community is planning a home talent show and food sale at the school gym Tuesday night, January 31. In the meantime the drive in Matador is progressing in a satisfactory manner according to Superintendent Bert Ezell, chairman.

Deadline Near For W-2 Forms

Employers were reminded today that the deadline for issuing W-2 withholding statements to employees is January 31, according to D. L. If it becomes necessary to correct a W-2 after it has been given to an employee, a corrected statement must be issued and marked "corrected by employer."

Row Stubble Ideal For Seeding Grass

Row sorghum stubble heavy enough to prevent blowing is an ideal seed bed for row planting of such grasses as Blue Panic, Blackwell switch grass or Indian grass, especially on mixed or tight land and on the better sandy soils, according to James H. Priddy, work unit conservationist of the local Soil Conservation Service office.

The stubble should not be disturbed before the grass is seeded he advised. If anything is done the stubble should be left standing with roots intact. Grass may be seeded early (any time in March or April) so as to be down and ready for spring rains. To wait for a rain to seed grass is a bad philosophy. The new stubble meeting the following fundamentals so important in getting a stand of grass: 1. A firm seed bed. 2. Seed should be placed on level or slightly above level to avoid too deep covering by soil movement caused by rain.

3. Seed should be placed almost on top of the ground at the base of the sorghum stubble. This is important for the following reasons: (a) Stubble furnishes protection to small seedling from wind, moisture evaporation and direct sunlight. Also the greatest amount of moisture will be absorbed in the area. (b) Stubble will serve as a guide to early cultivation and spraying at a time when seedlings cannot be seen readily from a tractor seat.

Grass seeding assistance is available from the Soil Conservation Service through the Upper Pease Soil Conservation District. Cost share assistance is also available through the local ASC office of which Thomas E. Moore is office manager.

Former Residents Observe Anniversary; Sisters Have First Meeting In 35 Years

"I just broke down and cried," said Mrs. D. L. Yandell, 68, of Post, as she told of her reunion in Lubbock Saturday with her sister, Mrs. H. C. Miller, 67, of Wichita Falls, whom she had not seen for nearly 35 years.

The two met again at a reunion of the family honoring Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Yandell, celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lesley Yandell, 1707 E. 14th St., Lubbock. All nine of the Yandell children and their families were present Saturday.

Located Through Son

The whereabouts of Mrs. Miller was learned through one of her four sons, Henry Fowler, of Wichita Falls when members of the family asked a telephone operator there to try to locate him. Fowler informed them that Mrs. Miller lived nearby, and arrangements for the reunion were made with her by telephone.

The Yandell family did not know at the time that Mrs. Miller had married a second time and that her name was no longer Fowler. The last knowledge they had of her whereabouts was in 1941, when she lived at Port Lavaca. Mrs. Miller has four sons by her previous marriage, Ray, Henry, Alford and Jim Fowler.

First In 16 Years

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Yandell have lived in Post since 1948.

when they moved there from the Matador-Roaring Springs area, Yandell is 69.

The Saturday reunion marks the first time in 16 years that all of the Yandell children have been together.

Members of the Yandell family and relatives who attended the gathering Saturday were: Mr. and Mrs. David Yandell, Globe, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. Dee Sinclair, El Paso; Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Yandell, Claypool, Ariz.; Curtis A. Sinclair, El Paso; Mr. and Mrs. David Sinclair and three children, Lubbock; Wynola Bayles, Guthrie; Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDonel, Pecos; Mrs. Charlene White and sons, Reggie and David, Dougherty; Mrs. Betty Blackwell and sons, Jesse, Odell and Charles, McAdoo; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Huff, Swanville, Calif.; Mrs. Willard Woods and daughter, Patricia, Estacado, Ore.; Mrs. C. Pled 'Pinions

BY MRS. J. M.

When our own locks were nice and brown, Mr. M. had a penchant for blondes. Now that we have turned grey (which after all is a type of blondness) his fancy seems to be turning in the direction of brunettes. Just another example of the baffling inconsistency of the male animal.

If we were in the cleaning business, one of the aggravations of life, we feel, would be the lost belt situation. The person with a lost belt haggles over it for weeks and hounds the life out of the proprietor until he produces either the belt or a reasonable facsimile, or the cash for a replacement. Usually the belt turns up in the owner's closet or is discovered at the competitor's cleaning establishment, where it had been all the time. We joined the ranks of the lost-belters ourselves recently, and offer this apology to Ona: We found ours over at Days.

It was Christmas on New Year's for the Bert Estes family. Mr. and Mrs. Estes, former residents, now of Colorado Springs, Colo., were here for New Year's week-end, and their daughters had postponed having their Christmas gift exchange until they could all be together. A family dinner was enjoyed in the home of their daughter, Vivian (Mrs. W. F.) Jacobs.

Other Estes girls and their families present for the occasion were: Opal (Mrs. Bill) Pipkin, Winifred (Mrs. Robert) Darsey, Lucretia (Mrs. R. E. Jr.) Campbell, and Virginia (Mrs. Homer) Shankle, the latter from Memphis. The other Estes daughter, Shirley (Mrs. Bobby) York lives in Oxnard, Calif., and visited here in November.

Virgie (Mrs. Fred) Clower, former resident now living in Plainview, sends us this clipping from the Plainview Herald's "20 Years Ago" column:

Two great offensive football teams battled here Friday for Region One, Class B honors, with victory going to the favored Matador Bull Fighters over Hereford Whitefaces. The 3,000 enthusiastic fans were provided a thrill minute as the Matadors romped to their 19 to 13 victory.

She wrote: "The clipping will only interest those of us who realize the wheel of time is turning so fast... knew you'd get a bit of chuckle from it as I did when I looked at it and realized that 1935 was the year I finished high school at Roaring Springs and it had been 20 years. Incidentally, there are 5 of my graduating class in and about Plainview and we only had 16 to be gone with."

Virgie also enclosed a check to "renew our subscription to the best and friendliest paper in the world... truly we enjoy every line of it... just two Sundays ago I used one of the very interesting paragraphs from Trail Dust in my Sunday School lesson (I teach a ladies class at College Heights church...")

And now, Mary White and Mrs. M. can take a bow for this from the pen of Mrs. Jimmie Worsham, former Geneva Cooper, of Stinnett: "... just a note with my remittance for the Tribune for another year. I just surely do not want to miss a single issue. I look forward each week to Pled 'Pinions and Elementary Elim."

We appreciate all these nice comments from our subscribers. So many have declared in renewing, "... Can't do without it." Which compensates in a measure for the days and nights of effort required of weekly newspaper galley-slaves.

PERFORMANCE

made it the Largest Selling "8" in the World...

the FORD V-8

Just look at these official registration figures for the first 11 months—January through November, 1955

Car Sales	Ford Sales Leadership
FORD V-8	1,341,742
Car C-V-8	634,376
Car P-V-8	262,870
Car C-Six	845,153
Car P-Six	334,540

Here's why!

People just naturally go for 8 cylinders in the FORD package!

And to a world record extent! Just think, in the first 11 months of 1955 alone, 344,496 more people bought Ford V-8's than the two other low-priced competitive eights combined!

Of course, the reason the Ford V-8 is the largest selling eight-cylinder car in the world is that more people like its brand of performance—the kind that comes with the car!

These people aren't amateurs in judging engines. Nearly 24 years of building Ford V-8's to supply their demand is convincing proof of that.

And the Ford V-8 of today is the best yet... by a country mile!

Smoother and quieter—you can scarcely hear it, even with the hood up!

Sassier—just ask the highway patrol officer who drives one. He knows it takes a Ford to catch a Ford!

And, for the very practical question of durability—ask a Ford cab driver. He knows how Fords take it days on end.

So, if it's performance that you want—and wrapped like a gift—the Ford V-8 is your baby.

Come in... try it today!

Give them a Faith to live by

Worship with them this week

Naturally you want them to have all the good things in life... a happy home... a good education... plenty of chances to meet other nice young people. But be sure to give them the most precious gift of all... Faith.

The wonderful part is that faith is yours to give... no matter who you are, what you do for a living, how much money you have in the bank.

Faith is the gift you give a little at a time. Every week you worship with the children at your church or synagogue. The youngsters see you... the biggest, smartest, most important people in their world... asking God for help, thanking Him for blessings. Then it's clear to them... here they can always find the strength they need, always find the happiness they want.

Then you've done the best a parent—any parent—can do.

PROGRESS

ACCURACY and SPEED!

THAT IS WHY WE HAVE INSTALLED THE NEW

Recordak Reliant

MODERN banking methods require constant change in the handling of each day's business. Accuracy and speed are always at a premium. We have this week installed the RECORDAK RELIANT for microfilming every check we handle.

The new machine makes it possible to photograph checks at the rate of 400 per minute. The front and back sides of each check are filmed at the same time. Standard 16mm film is used in the Recordak Reliant and a photograph record of 29,000 checks is made on 100 feet of film.

We believe our patrons appreciate knowing that their transactions with this bank are handled speedily and accurately. We believe they appreciate the knowledge that a permanent record is kept of each check we handle.

The Diary of Mary White

October 3, 1955, Monday

I took the bull by the horns today. (Maybe I'll get fired).

Gave the grades 5 through 8 a home assignment and sent them home to stay until 1:00 o'clock. I kept the first through fourth grades and made good progress. This afternoon had good attention in upper grades because there weren't fifteen or twenty little titters going on all the time. We could relax and talk upper grade talk. This is going to work much better. Hope my boss in Nome doesn't object.

Flurries of snow fell this morning but melted as fast as they fell. The thermometer is hovering around 30 degrees. The natives say the rivers and creeks will freeze in October and that the sea will freeze in November. I am keeping a close watch for I have been amazed at how wrong was my conception of Arctic Circle weather.

October 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 got lost in the rush.

October 9, 1955, Sunday

Up at the usual hour. Breakfasted, bathed and dressed for Sunday School. My class was large today. Must have had twenty young people in it including Joshua, a young Eskimo preacher from Haycock. He is here helping the district missionary, Walter Anderson, do some work on what is to be the parsonage if ever there is some one to live in it. During church he gave a public testimony and the Rev. Anderson preached.

Mrs. Fredolph Sacchus played the organ and I am still agog at the singing. There is no foreign accent of any kind when they sing. Several good voices around me sang out so clearly that I had to look around to be sure they were natives. The praises of God sound good when sung by any tongue.

Spent the afternoon in the office trying to catch up on letter writing. Should have been working on my reports and lesson plans, but had that Round Robin letter and knew from experience that if I don't take advantage of Sunday afternoon, it might not get answered.

The missionary and Joshua visited after church. They plan to leave tomorrow. Too bad we couldn't talk all night. He came by himself and visited the night of the 5th (one of those lost days) and gave us many pointers on the village people and their affairs. It is his opinion that the early missionaries along with the A.N.S. and Welfare had ruined the Eskimos.

The early missionaries gave and gave what their mission boards could muster to give," (he pointed out), "They asked nothing in return. The A.N.S. has built and maintained schools and footed all the bills with tax money, even to furnishing pencils and paper and all supplies as well as the hot lunch and free drugs. If a woman has a baby and no father to support it, welfare pays her $60 for the first one and $40 for each additional. The men say to the missionary who insists on marriage, "If I marry her she no get check. I have to make living. I no can make living. So we don't marry. And that is the way things remain despite the efforts of the missionary."

The man hunts and brings in meat, but she lives with her mother and father and he with his (or at least a part of the time). The children play at their school work because they can stay in school until they are 18 years-old. I have several 16 and 17 year olds in this grade school.

To these people government means nothing more than hand-outs. They feel no responsibility for helping to support it. All their hospital bills and medicine are free. If they get a job and go to work then they must pay their own bills so they reason that a man is better off without a job. Their pride and self-respect are fast disappearing and like all who are becoming sullen toward the hand that feeds them.

I'm trying to teach these children that nothing is free—that someone had to pay; but you should see the skeptical looks that I get. The Parcels, who taught here for four years handed out government surplus right and left with no thought of work or pay. They were popular. The Hougers who came last year tried to have them earn their hand-outs. They petitioned him out of a job. I am trying to strike a happy medium but I'm not likely to be very popular.

But I did not mean to go so far afield. Led on by my questions the missionary discussed the origin and doctrines of the Swedish Covenant Church. They are a group who withdrew from and fought against the state church of Sweden and its political corruption. In doctrine they are very similar to the southern Methodists. But still more interesting was his description of a trip by dog team from Candel by way of Haycock and on to Unalakleet.

His wife, six children and household effects had been flown to Unalakleet. He was district missionary and since he had to take his dog team and sled or give them away, he decided to make the trip and visit Haycock and hold services there for a few days. He tried to get a guide or someone to go with him, but every Eskimo he talked to made some excuse, so he struck out alone. He had hoped to reach Haycock the third day out. The snow was not crusted on top and he had to break trail with his snowshoes for the dogs and sled. They did not make good time and were exhausted at the end of the third day. He found a shelter cabin and rested for two days and dried his socks and underwear. That may sound funny, but the temperature was 36 below and each night he slept out he stripped to the skin and put on dry socks and underwear. To sleep in clothes you have perspired in, is to assure yourself of freezing to death.

At the end of two days rest he was out of food and had only a little raw blubber left for the dogs. He hooked up and started on, thinking that he had his directions straight. After about two hours of travel, an ice fog settled in and from all descriptions one can see even less than on a dark and cloudy night. Everywhere is whiteness with no variance and one dog cannot even see the next one. He broke trail all day in what he hoped was the right direction. At the end of the day he and the exhausted dogs made their beds in the snow and he shared their last piece of blubber. He felt as he was preparing to crawl into his sleeping bag that "this was it". He did not expect to survive the night.

Just before he pulled the flap over his head the ice fog lifted several hundred feet and about ten miles away he saw the top of a mountain that he recognized. He knew that between him and that mountain lay the village of Haycock. He took his bearings and by the time he had his compass set, the ice fog was on the ground again. He said, "Thank you Lord. Now I know you are watching." He pulled the flap over his head and went to sleep, and by his testimony the Lord awakened him about every twenty minutes all during the night. He would rub his arms and feet and start circulation again, and then sleep a little longer.

The weary dogs did not wish to begin the next day, but with some urging they did. It was hard going and after about two miles the sled fell into a hole and the dogs quit. No amount of tugging could get them up. He sat down on the sled and wondered, "What now, Lord?" No plane could come searching, though he was long overdue. A few minutes elapsed when out of white nothingness he heard voices. He knew it must be another dog team going by, so he ran in their direction. It proved to be up a hill and down the other side but he got close enough to make himself heard, because that team and driver had stopped to rest. It was an Eskimo man and eleven dogs who could easily run sixty miles without stopping. This morning they had come ten. He hitched up and dragged exhausted missionary, dogs and sled all to Haycock. Here the natives put him to bed while they washed and dried his clothes, mukluks and fed him and his dogs. That night his feet were too sore to stand and his fingers too frostbitten to hold the Bible, but he held services and seventeen young people dedicated their lives to Christ.

That is the village from which Joshua comes. Here, also, he learned why no native would make the trip with him. They think no man can survive a trip across that part of the country in January. When asked why they didn't tell him this, they shrugged their shoulders and said, "Mebbe white man do what Eskimo no can."

Remember my having mentioned before that they never tell you that you are making a mistake. They just give you a blank look and let you make it. (to be continued)

Poultry Raisers Advised To Plan Early For Season

With poultrymen starting 1956 replacement of chicks this month County Agent Bill Palmeyer advises early repair and cleaning of brooder houses. Windows, doors and ventilators should be checked, well-fitted and working smoothly. The roof should be checked for leaks.

He further advised that adequate feeder and watering space be arranged to provide uniform growth of all birds. Palmeyer said birds should be provided with one inch feeder space per bird, up to three weeks of age. The space should be increased to two inches at from three to four weeks of age. At six to seven weeks the feeder space should be increased to three inches per bird. He said these needs can be met by one four foot trough for each 100 chicks at the start. At six to seven weeks of age they will need three troughs four feet long by four inches deep, per 100 birds.

Five one-gallon waterers by each brooder having a capacity of 500 chicks at the start are necessary, and at from two to three weeks of age, two waterers with a three gallon capacity should be provided for each 100 birds. If a water system is available, a four foot automatic water trough should be provided for each 250 chicks.

Where chicks have access to range, one square foot of floor space for each two birds is needed. Since green feed is often not available on the range, there is a trend towards growing pullet replacement chicks in confinement. Under these conditions each bird should be provided with one square foot of floor space until they are eight or nine weeks of age.

polio; the second shot given one month after the first shot, and the third shot following seven months later.

According to that schedule, all Texas children who received second shots summer or fall are now ready to have their third shot.

The National Polio Foundation furnished the first two injections but the third injection must be obtained from private physicians or local health departments.

The success of the vaccine was announced April 12, 1955, after exhaustive nationwide studies. But by then countless numbers of children had already been exposed in a rising seasonal incidence.

Result: 1955 was pretty much an ordinary year for polio for the nation as a whole, despite the fact that Texas' 1955 season was below the 5-year median.

Liquid Fertilizer Yields more Crops

Peace time application of Atomic Energy has scored another first in the field of agriculture. Recent fertilizer tests with radio active tracers indicate that many of the textbooks on farming will have to be rewritten.

In hearings before a Senate Subcommittee on Atomic Energy Research, Dr. H. B. Tukey, Chief Horticulturist at Michigan State College recently claimed that foliage feeding of growing plants is "the most efficient method of applying fertilizer to plants that we have yet discovered."

These tests have proven scientifically what many farmers have been discovering for themselves all over the country. Liquid Fertilizer, when applied to the leaves of growing crops at the proper time can often increase the yields of crops as much as 50%. As to the actual amount of fertilizer used by the plant, Dr. Tukey states, "if we apply these materials to the leaves in soluble forms, as much as 95% of what is applied may be used by the plant. If we apply a similar amount to the soil we find about 10% of it to be used."

According to figures issued by the California Department of Agriculture, one-third of the entire tonnage of commercial fertilizer used in California is in liquid form.

One Ohio firm, the "Na. Churs" Plant Food Company even offers a written guarantee to their customers, based on results in 27 states and Canada for the past ten years.

Liquid fertilizer can be applied to growing crops with ordinary spray equipment. It is often applied by airplane sprayers. The amounts recommended for foliage feeding are usually around two gallons per acre, making the cost per application extremely low. Liquid fertilizer can also be used for treating seed, in the row, and in transplanting.
