Boy, moving is not fun! I have lived in the same house for 20 years and recently sold that house and am moving to the former Gus and Catherine Bird house, 4 blocks across town! First, is all the "stuff I have collected, then the "stuff" from my rents and grandparents, along with son's "stuff", which has been saved from birth to now, 18 years.

Seems I get one corner cleaned out and look around and it has piled up in another corner. I know it can't multiply except by my own hands, but the "stuff sure seems to grow.

I have sure been glad to have an 18 year old son who likes to be strong to lift stuff" and say "you just wait, Mother, I'll move that"!

Also seems like familiar "stuff" has a way of disappearing when you need it. Everyone says that alright, I'll find it next time I move (may stay lost).

Scheduled to open in mid-1991, the Childress prison will add a $461,000 monthly payroll - $7.4 million annually to the area's sagging economy.

"The crime rate is out of control," the speaker, Charles Terrell, vice chairman, Texas Board of Criminal Justice, said, emphaisizing the need for war just as if the enemy troops "had crossed our bor-ders."

"We must spend money to win this war...increase our spending for neigh-borhood rehabilitation units, drug reha-bilitation programs...," Terrell added. He also recommended congressional effort to make drug offenses a joint state and federal crime.

Since the governor took office four years ago the legislature has approved and the TBCJ has selected 20 major prison sites adding 30,000 beds in addition to a psychaitric hospital and 12 trustee camps. Six of the new units are in West Texas,

"Childress and five other West Texas towns have Governor Clements to thank for prison economic boosts, "Terrell said.

One day I asked him, "Why be a victim when you can be a vic-

"I can't help it," he said. "I can't change myself." "But Christ can change you,"

I answered. One day He said to a paralyzed man, "Pick up your stretcher and go home." Did the man say, "It's hopeless to try?" No, he trusted, picked up his stretcher and went home.

DPS Accident Report

Capt. Rusty Davis, District Supervisor of the Amarillo Highway Patrol District comprising of 31 counties said, "For the month of June, our troopers investigated 8 fatal accidents, 67 personal injury accidents, and 75 property damage accidents. There were 11 persons killed and the month of June. Opersons were killed and 1 person was injured in these accidents."

Official figures just received by Lub-bock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. bock-based Plains Cotton Growers, inc. show the 25 PCG counties surrounding Lubbock in 1989 produced 1,608,200,480 pound net weight bales, less than one-half the 3.234 million grown the previous year and only 72 percent of the area's 10year 2.226 million average.

Acreage and production totals for all counties in Texas are published each year by the Texas Agricultural Statistics Serv-ice (TASS).

The figures in the past have been released in late May or early June, but according to a TASS official were delayed this year by a re-ordering of "due dates" for final reports on the various crops.

Last year's High Plains production still accounted for a normal 56 percent of all Texas Upland cotton, but only 13.2 percent of U.S. production, compared to the 20.6 percent of national production in 1988. Planted acres in the 25 counties in 1989 totaled 2.813 million, of which only 2.12 million remained for harvest, an abandonment of 24.6 percent.

Areawide per-acre yield came to 364.1 pounds compared to a 10-year average of 353.4 pounds.

PCG's analysis of separate irrigated and non-irrigated figures in the TASS report indicates that about 402,000 of the 692,000 abandoned acres were classified as irrigated, primarily cotton lost to hallstorms. The remaining 290,000 abandoned acres, in the report's dryland section, for the most part failed for lack of rainfall.

An additional indication of drought conditions is the 237-pound per harvested acres yield from dryland versus the 497-pound irrigated yield. Also, dryland planted acreage made up a little less than 53 percent of the area's total in 1989, a surprising departure from the 60 percent of acreage planted on non-irrigated acres in both 1987 and 1988.

Of Texas' top 10 cotton producing counties in 1989, only Hidalgo County, in tenth place, is found outside the High Plains area. Ranking from one through nine, in order, are Gaines, Lubbock, Lynn, Hockler, Texas, Carebal, Lonb, Payana. Hockley, Terry, Crosby, Lamb, Dawson,

The following chart shows 1989 planted and harvested acres, yields per harvested acre and total production in 480-pound net weight bales for each of the 25 PCG counties.

Heavy Television Viewing Can Harm Children

Too much television viewing can have a negative impact on children, especially during the summer when school is out, two hours a day. Encourage children to warns the Texas Medical Association That negative impact can take several forms, particularly violent behavior and obesity, as well as early sexual activity and alcohol and drug abuse. "What children see on TV, they imi-tate in life," said Fortunato O. Sunio,

What children see on the screen also is a critical factor. For example, violence in children's programs, such as Saturday morning cartoons, rose from 18.6 violent acts an hour a decade ago to abut 26.4 violent acts an hour now. Each year American children also see an estimated 14,000 sexual references and innuendos, only 150 of which deal with sexual responsibility, abstinence or contraception.

One reason is that children spend only about one-fifth of their viewing time watching children's programming. Most of the viewing time is spent on programs designed for an older audience, such as music videos, soap operas, and sitcoms. Parents can help prevent or counteract

Social Security Tips

How bank accounts affect Supplemental Security Income (SSI) eligibility is an area that consistently confuses people who are receiving or applying for SSI. This column should help clear up some of that confusion.

To be eligible for SSI, a person must have resources of less than $2,000 ($3,000) for a couple). Bank accounts are usually considered resources; therefore, they count toward this limit.

count toward this limit.

What's so confusing about that, you wonder. Well, Social Security considers a bank account yours if your name is on it as owner or co-owner and there are no legal restrictions that keep you from taking money out and using it for your own benefit. This is true even if you don't use the account or don't consider the account yours. That means it's important that bank accounts are precisely titlen to

Proper titling is also critical when community, civic, or social groups collect money for a special reason such as to help pay an SSI recipient's medical expenses. EATING OUT THE HEALTHY WAY

THE HEALTHY WAY
Restaurants and cafeterias serve
Americans 45 billion meals each year.
People who are pressed for time appreciate being able to eat on the run, but our bodies may be suffering as a result.
Meals prepared in restaurants generally are higher in fat and calories, and lower in nutrients than meals prepared at home. Shelley Fillipp, R.D., outpatient dietitian at Methodist Hospital, offers these tips on eating healthy while eating out.

these tips on eating healthy while eating out.

1. Look for phrases like "steamed," "broiled," "stir-fried," "in its own juice," "poached" and "rack grilled." These adjectives mean low-fat preparation. Beware of menu items described as "buttered," "creamed," "au gratin," "breaded," sauteed" and "sauce." These phrases indicate high fat or cholesterol.

2. Ask the waiter or waitress how an item is prepared if the menu doesn't tell.

3. Give the chef your special requests. Ask for sauces and salad dressings to be served on the side so you can control the amount. Also, request that your entree be topped with low-fat cheese.

4. Always remove any fat from meats. Poultry skins are also high in fat. Ask the chef to remove the skin.

5. Select lean cuts of beef, pork and lamb and limit yourself to a 4-ounce portion. (As a guideline, 4 ounces of meat will be about the size of a woman's palm).

6. Choose whole-grain breadsticks and heagels instead of high-fat croissents.

6. Choose whole-grain breadsticks and bagels instead of high-fat croissants, muffins, combread or biscuits.

7. For dessert, choose fresh fruit, angel food cake, low-fat frozen yogurt or fruit

8. Avoid salad bar items such as potato and pasta salad, bacon and salad dressing.

9. Ethnic restaurants can be ranked high in nutrition if you know what to order. Italian restaurants offer food prepared "affogato" (steamed or poached) or "cacciatore" (in wine and vegetable sauce). Chinese restaurants offer steamed vegetable dishes, noodle soups, poached fish and fortune cookies.

With Priority Mail, your package gets preferential handling from the U.S. Postal Service. That's because packages in our bright, new Priority Mail envelopes or those labeled with our Priority Mail stickers are separated from the flow of other classes of mail. They receive attention from the minute they reach us until they arrive at their final destinations.

Priority Mail: It's convenient and as simple as mailing a letter.

Not only is Priority Mail fast, it's convenient, too. You can send your package from any post office, station or branch—even through letter or rural mail carriers—or place it in any col-lection box to any address in the United States. Paying postage is just as simple, too. You can pay by stamps, postage meter strips or a permit imprint. And we've also provided you with a table—showing zone-rated fees—in this

And if your business requires you to send many different items to different locations

many different items to different locations within the same out-of-town area, Priority Mail Drop-Shipment Service is right for you. This service is the next-best thing to having an out-of-town office because it reduces normal delivery transit time. You can combine your customers' shipments or time-sensitive mail, with the applicable postage preaffixed, into one Priority Mail pouch for delivery to the destination city. Once there, the pouch is opened and the contents go into the regular mailstream for the regular mailstream for delivery. And Priority Mail Drop-Shipment Service is available for use by permit holders, too.

And here are some custom options that really make sense.

Any of these special options can be used to customize your domestic Priority Mail

Insurance

Protection against loss, rifling or damage to packages whose contents are valued in any amount up to $500 is available. Fees range from $.70 to $5.00.

Return Receipts

Proof of delivery, showing to whom and when a package was delivered, can be obtained for a small fee:

Receipt showing to whom and date delivered . ☐ Return Receipt showing to whom and date delivered and exact address of delivery . . $1.20

The cost to restrict delivery to the addressee or authorized agent is $2.00.

These service options are available for all Priority Mail insured for more than $50 and on certified, registered and C.O.D. mail.

Items ordered by an addressee can be sent C.O.D. by Priority Mail. The price of the article and the cost of postage will be colle from the addressee and returned to the sender. Payment can be made in cash or by check made payable to the mailer. Up to $500 can be collected from the addressee. The fee for this service includes insurance against loss, rifling or damage. Fees range from $2.00 for items worth up to $25, to $6.50 for items valued at $500.

Begenning Monday, July 23, 1990, the landfill will be open only on Monday and Saturday, 9:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.

Due to the cost of digging pits, the Council feels that all shingle haulers will be a second or secon

ay a fee of $5 to $15, depending on load

We realize this is going to be inconvenant, but we are forced to do this or be without a landfill. Your cooperation will be greatly appreciated by both City and County.

The Matador and Motley County Homecoming will be held Friday and Saturday, September 28 and 29, 1990. Class Reunions are encouraged! For more information, contact Kennith and Mary Marshall, 347-2455.

And now abideth faith, hope and love, These three, but the greatest of these is love.

MESSESSION STATES

For we are God's workmanship, created in Christ Jesus to do good works, which God prepared in advance for us to do.
