Pictured above is a segment of the parade which yesterday kicked off the annual celebration for Big Spring's Cowboy Reunion. Eight sheriff's posses, two bands, a half dozen decorated floats, about 100 mounted rodeo contestants and other local riders took part in the parade. Float entered by the Desk and Derrick Club won first place. The Rainbow Girls float came in second, and third place went to the Citizens Traffic Commission.

Oratory Stalls Senate Vote On Farm Measure

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON (AP)—A bumper crop of election-year oratory made it uncertain today how soon the Senate would get around to voting on controversial new farm legislation.

Sen. Young (R-ND), floor leader for a bipartisan group of senators who are bucking the Eisenhower administration plan for flexible farm price supports, said in an interview:

"If we can pick up three more votes we can win."

Young favors a one-year extension of present rigid supports on five basic crops — cotton, wheat, corn, rice and peanuts. He said a long list of speeches probably would prevent any major votes today.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt), floor manager for the administration proposals, insisted in a separate interview that the Senate would back flexible supports when the show-down comes.

"We've not lost a vote," Aiken added.

Both Aiken and Sen. Anderson (D-NM), former secretary of agriculture and a longtime backer of flexible supports, said they hoped for a vote before the Senate quitted tonight.

In a speech prepared for Senate delivery, Young recounted repeated statements by Secretary of Agriculture Benson in opposition to continued rigid price supports, and he added:

"This is not what we promised to farmers two years ago during the election campaign.

"I challenge anyone in the Senate of the United States to point to a single speech by President Eisenhower during his campaign two years ago in the Midwest where he ever mentioned flexible price supports."

Gasoline Plant In Sweetwater Area

SWEETWATER, Tex. (AP)—Waste gas from oil wells will be turned into liquid petroleum products by a million-dollar gasoline plant to be built near here.

Construction is scheduled to start immediately on the plant for the Honolulu Oil Co. and Payne, Johnson & Byars of Tyler. Its location is 15 miles east of here in the White Flat Oil Field.

The Gasoline Plant Construction Co. of Houston, which will build the plant, said completion has been set at Dec. 15.

Preacher, Rebuffed By Buffs, Will Carry On War On Nudists

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP)—A crusading preacher, rebuffed in his initial effort to visit Sunshine Gardens yesterday, vowed to return today and resume his fight against "the nation's threat of nudism."

Dr. Braxton Sawyer of Fort Smith, Ark., went to the Battle Creek Area Sunbathing Club armed with an invitation to attend the American Sunbathing Assn. convention. He also carried a movie camera.

He was asked to remove his clothes before entering the nudist camp — a requirement for all visitors.

"Never," stormed Dr. Sawyer, who says he's a Baptist minister. "The closest Sawyer got to the bare facts yesterday were 20 barechested nudists who stopped

Nearly 7,000 Witness Opening Show Of Big Spring's Rodeo

Almost 7,000 spectators turned out last night to view the first performance of the 1954 edition of the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion Rodeo, at the Rodeo Bowl in the southwest part of Big Spring.

The crowd shouted and applauded its approval of the largest grand entry in the history of Big Spring Rodeo, with more riders than could be gotten into the arena. Show music was played by the Community Band, composed of members of the bands from the Big Spring and Coahoma high schools, together with a group of adults who have been playing with them this summer.

The fastest calf tying of the evening was the 13.3 seconds credited to Johnny McMullen of Big Lake, who was almost equaled by Sunny Edwards of Big Spring with 13.4 seconds. In third place was Jimmy Cooper of Monument, N. N., with 13.8 seconds.

Other calf roping times included Jess Slaughter Jr., of Big Spring 14.1; Bill Price of Lovington, N. M., 14.3; John Powell of Big Spring 14.5; James Leonard of Big Lake 14.6; J. L. Sawyer of Garden City 16.3; Clifton Lowry of Del Rio 16.3; John D. Holletman of Ozona roped and tied his calf in 17.3 but was penalized another 10 seconds for a total of 27.3 when his horse broke the barrier; Buddy Fort of Lovington 17.8; Clay Mann of Colorado City 19.3; Toots Mansfield of Big Spring 19.4; Horace Lanthicum of Big Lake 18.7; Johnny Leonard of Big Lake 19.9; Wilson McBride of Midland 20.9; Wayne McCabe of San Angelo 20.9; Merle Kelton of Midland 22.4; Tom Romine of Big Spring 26.0; David Shellenberger of Marietta, Okla., 38.5, with "no timer" going to Harry Middleton of Big Spring. Scouter Frels of Bandera, and Walton Rankin.

Thousands Ignore Heat To View Rodeo Opening Parade

With thousands looking on despite sweltering weather, a mile-long parade through the downtown area kicked off the annual rodeo here Wednesday afternoon.

Eight visiting Sheriff's Poses added color to the procession which saw the Desk and Derrick Club win the float contest.

There were no official estimates on the crowd, but cars were parked past Sixth Street on Gregg, Security, Main, Rannels and Johnson as well as jammed into the downtown area.

Approximately 250 visiting Pose members and their families took part in the barbecue thrown for them at the City Park after the parade. Dale Douglas, in charge of arrangements, said that all the Pose groups which came here were on hand for the feast of barbecue, beans, and trimmings.

Around 300 mounts were in the parade. Leading the parade, behind the officers who cleared the way, was the Webb AFB band, followed by the color guard, city, county and rodeo officials. Then came a series of the Posse groups, including those from Martin County (complete with chuck wagon), Dawson County, Midland County, Ector County, Reeves County, Borden County, Lynn County.

Two Officials In Minor Ruckus

Two public officials were involved in an altercation during which at least one blow was struck at the courthouse Wednesday.

The disturbance occurred in the county auditor's office and involved Auditor Lee Porter and Justice of the Peace Cecil Nabors. Both Nabors and Porter said the incident occurred after the auditor asked that Justice Court dockets be brought to his office so that information could be secured for a monthly report.

Both also said that after words were exchanged Nabors went behind the auditor's desk and struck Porter. Nabors said Porter also struck at him, but Porter said he only grabbed Nabors' arm and led him to the front of the office.

The two officials have been at odds since a report of justice of the peace fees and fines was published last week. No complaints have been made as a result of the disturbance.

Hearing Is Held In Murder Case

Examining trial for James H. Knox, Negro alman charged with murder in the death of Samuel Lee Clemons, Big Spring Negro, was being held in Justice Court today.

The hearing was recessed for lunch after six witnesses were heard. The examining trial was expected to be completed during the afternoon.

Clemons died about 2:30 a.m. July 13 of knife wounds received in a street fight in the flats section of Big Spring.

Police Chief E. W. York, the first witness this morning, described events which occurred after officers received a call to the Cozy Inn Cafe on the night of July 12. He told of one knife being taken from a girl identified as Dorothy, sister of the deceased, and of another knife being found at Webb Air Force Base.

Both were blood stained, and the defendant admitted ownership of the weapon found at the base, the chief said.

Melton Hunter, McKinley Childress Jr., and Jesse Dickerson, all airmen, testified concerning a visit to a cafe in the flats on the night Clemons died. They said they saw Knox talking to Clemons' sister, and both Dickerson and Hunter testified that of the two quarreled.

Childress told of later seeing Clemons strike Knox as they stood beside a car outside the cafe. He said he attempted to stop a fight and that Clemons grabbed him around the chest and threw him in the street.

He said the next thing he knew a large crowd had gathered before the Cozy Inn Cafe and police were arriving.

Knox was charged with murder four days after the fight occurred and after police had held several airmen in jail for questioning in connection with the disturbance. He had been in the county jail since charges were filed.

The Community Band, under direction of Clyde Rowe, rode on a big float and played during the line of march.

A series of smaller commercial displays, tractors, etc. were included along with a number of the rodeo performers, pleasure riders and youngsters.

The parade, under direction of Malcolm Patterson, moved off earlier than any in several seasons. Prize awards of $25, $15, and $10 were posted by the rodeo association for the best floats. Visiting Posse delegations were guests at the opening show.

Russian Parley Proposal Just Another Gimmick

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia's new proposal for a Big Four foreign ministers meeting is officially regarded here as part of a persistent drive to wreck Western anti-Communist defenses and to destroy eventually American leadership of the free world.

Officials said today Britain and France stand firmly with the United States in opposition to this Kremlin campaign. They forecast that the Russian proposal for new talks on European security will be turned down by joint decision. Three-power talks on a reply are now getting under way in London.

However, further Soviet moves are expected. The belief here is that the Russians may try to devise proposals of increasing attractiveness to Western Europe. Their immediate major aim is to block West German rearmament.

Their proposal for an over-all European security system has been put forth as an alternative to the Western-sponsored European Defense Community proposing to rearm Western Germany as part of a six-nation army. EDC is due to come up for action soon in the French Assembly.

Russia's over-all campaign aimed at destroying U.S. leadership and isolating the United States is being developed along two main lines.

One is directed toward convincing non-Communist nations not only in Europe but all over the world that the Communist bloc wants only peace. The agreement of the Reds to end the war in Indochina fits into that line, as does their European plan.

The other line is directed toward convincing the free nations that the United States is not peaceful but is committed to starting a new war.

President Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday the Soviets are "spending literally billions in different kinds of propaganda" and using "subversion and bribery to drive the contention of their toward acceptance by millions. The President declared the United States must "be more imaginative in finding ways to combat" the Soviet campaign.

The latest Soviet maneuver was made yesterday when Russian ambassadors in Paris, London and Washington delivered a joint proposal to drive the free nations of the Big Four powers should meet in August or September to discuss the calling of a big all-European conference on European security and on some German problems.

The Russians had made like proposals earlier, most recently on July 24, urging creation of a European-wide security system which would include Russia and the Iron Curtain countries. They have frankly offered this as an alternative to EDC, they have suggested that the United States should be a member, and that Russia should be an observer and that Russia might be taken into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

McCarthy Probe Group Is Named

Panel Votes To Lift Debt Limit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee voted today to lift temporarily by six billion dollars the present $75-billion-dollar federal debt ceiling.

The decision was a partial victory for the Eisenhower administration, which last year ran into a stone wall when it asked the committee to boost the debt limit by 15 billion dollars.

Party Leaders Name Six For Censure Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon today appointed a six-member Senate committee to make an investigation of the conduct of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and consider proposals that he be censured.

The members:

- Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah).
- Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kans.).
- Sen. Francis Case (R-SD).
- Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.).
- Sen. John C. Stennis (D-Miss.).
- Sen. Sam J. Ervin (D-N.C.).

While Nixon announced the appointees, the actual selections were made by party leaders.

The Senate Democratic Policy Committee had an early morning meeting to decide finally on the Democratic members.

At its conclusion, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Democratic floor leader, said, without disclosing the names, that his party's selections "are men who are symbols for patriotism, integrity and judicial temperament."

Johnson added:

"Two of them have had eminent careers as jurists. The third is one of the most beloved and respected senior senators on the minority side of the aisle."

Colorado's Edwin Johnson is the senior senator to whom Lyndon Johnson referred.

Edwin C. Johnson, 70, has been in the Senate since 1937 and is out-ranked by only seven senators in point of service.

A former Colorado governor (1923-27), he has announced his intention to retire from the Senate and run again for the governorship.

Stennis, 55, is a former Mississippi circuit judge. He has been in the Senate since 1947.

Ervin, 57, was appointed to the Senate only last June 5 on the death of the veteran Sen. Clyde Hoey (D-NC). Ervin stepped down from his state's Supreme Court bench to accept the appointment.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, described his task in advance as one of selecting men of judicious temperament who had not become deeply involved in the controversy over McCarthy.

Homes Evacuated As Giant Blaze Spreads

PEKIN, Ill. (AP)—Homes were evacuated today near a distillery fire and civil workers were summoned for fear new blasts might knock over other storage buildings "like dominoes."

Fire fighters were ordered back from a flaming whiskey rackhouse of the American Distilling Co. because a huge store of alcohol might ignite and explode.

Eight persons may have been killed. One person was known dead, and more than 30 were injured in two explosions and fires since Wednesday morning.

The threat that the fire might spread and touch off new blasts prompted Pekin air raid wardens to ask all civil defense workers to be ready to report for emergency action.

Many civil defense workers from Pekin and nearby communities already had reported for duty at the fire scene.

Some 110,000 barrels of aging whisky—the equivalent of 17,325,000 fifths—have been destroyed. This loss, plus the plant and equipment destruction, sent the cost of the fire into the millions of dollars.

The section of the plant burning this morning is only 70 feet from a building where 600,000 gallons of alcohol are stored.

The danger area was roped off. Firemen were pulled back.

A half mile away from the burning rackhouse is the huge works of the Corn Products Refining Co.

The continuing fire, capped by a dazzling, nighttime, atomic-like explosion seen 75 miles away, destroyed much of the company's sprawling plant facilities in this central Illinois city.

Damage already is well into the millions of dollars.

The explosion last night lifted the roof and walls of one rackhouse—a six-story brick building—high into the air. The debris rained down on firemen and plant workers fighting to halt the fierce, whisky-fed blaze touched off 17 hours earlier during a severe electrical storm.

Bricks buried two fire trucks and a fire chief's car.

Firemen who were drawing their water from the Illinois River and reportedly handicapped by a lack of sufficient pressure, were ordered to retreat a quarter of a mile because of the threat of new explosions.

China Again Thumbs Nose

LONDON (AP)—Red China has refused again to accept a second American protest against the shooting down of a British airliner off Hainan last month, diplomatic officials said today. Three Americans were among the 10 persons killed in the attack.

The U.S. State Department disclosed July 29 that the Peiping regime had contemptuously turned down American protests on both that incident and a subsequent fighter attack on two American rescue planes in which the attackers were shot down.

The protests were relayed by the British charge d'affaires, Humphrey Trevelyn. The Chinese would not accept them from his hand.

Informants here said Trevelyn had sought anew to deliver Washington's protest, but the Communists refused for the second time even to consider it.

The United States does not recognize Red China and has no diplomatic dealings with the Peiping government.

U.S. Secretary of State Dulles said Tuesday the Chinese had put themselves in the wrong by refusing the protests. He announced at the same time that another strong protest had been sent off to Peiping through the British.

Unions Combine For Maritime Campaign

HOUSTON (AP)—In what is termed an historic act, the CIO and AFL have set up a joint group to organize a maritime workers along 2,800 miles of U.S. rivers and canals.

The move yesterday is the first time in labor history two trade union groups have pooled their resources, said William Smith of Washington, field assistant to CIO executive vice president John Rife.

Represented at a meeting in a hotel here were the Masters, Mates and Pilots (AFL), the National Maritime Union (CIO) and the Marine Engineers Beneficial Assn. (CIO).

Charles Barancio, a CIO organizer, will head the joint committee, Smith said. He will have offices in St. Louis.

Closed Circuit TV For Night Clubs?

NEW YORK (AP)—Smaller night clubs and restaurants throughout the country may get top-flight floor show acts via closed circuit television.

Plans to televise famous acts from the bigtime clubs were announced yesterday by William Rosenzohn, executive vice president of Box Office Television Inc. He said his firm expects to begin operation of the closed network service early in 1955.

Martin Faces Valuation Hike

STANTON (SC)—Addition of approximately $1 million in values through a blanket 20 per cent increase in the roll is in prospect here.

Commissioners court members, sitting as a board of equalization, came to this conclusion Tuesday. There seems little likelihood that the current rate will be changed when the court comes to fix the tax roll and rate for this year.

Martin County is in search of additional revenue for at least a year in order to help overcome some of its financial difficulties. As of June 1, there were insufficient funds with which to pay salaries. Since then the county has been operating in part on borrowed funds pending receipt of current taxes for 1954.

Kefauver's Second Term At Stake Today In Tennessee

By ED OVERHOLSER
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver, whose ending handshaking and political tub thumping almost won him a presidential nomination in 1952, will find out today if he is popular enough with voters in Tennessee to win a second Senate term.

As title-holder he had to meet the surprisingly strong challenge of Rep. Pat Sutton in the Democratic primary while the nation's youngest governor, Frank Clement, bid for a second term against his bitter political enemy, former Gov. Gordon Browning.

Clear skies and weather as hot as the campaigns themselves were in prospect for Tennessee voters as the weatherman said early today the temperatures would climb to 100 or higher.

State Democratic Chairman H. S. Walters said between 625,000 and 650,000 voters will be cast in his party's primary while GOP Chairman Guy L. Smith said 125,000 would vote in the Republican primary.

Democratic primary winners are virtually certain to win the November election in predominantly Democratic Tennessee. The Republicans have no candidate in the gubernatorial race. Their main strength is in upper east Tennessee where two Republican congressmen have no serious opposition for re-nomination.

With Sutton in the senatorial battle, Tennessee will nominate a new representative from his district to be sent to the House with six other Democratic representatives who face little opposition.

Ray H. Jenkins of Knoxville, whose name won national prominence as special counsel for the Army-McCarthy hearings, is listed on the ballot with Robert Gregory of Memphis for the Republican senatorial nomination. However, Jenkins has said his name appeared on the ballot by accident and he is not a candidate.

Hitch-Hiker Has Mystery Burns

Leo Robbins, who told Midland hospital attendants that he is from Big Spring, was in critical condition today as a result of burn wounds received mysteriously while hitch-hiking.

Robbins is not expected to live, according to a report received here by police radio last night.

He was taken to Midland Memorial Hospital after being found beside the highway in that city. He told officers that he was kicked out of a car in which he was riding.

Robbins said he was hitch-hiking to Midland and caught a ride in a late model Packard and went to sleep. The next thing he remembered was being kicked out of the car badly burned.

He stated that he worked in the Atomic Cafe here, but the manager of the cafe could not be contacted today.

Six-Year-Old Girl Perishes In Fire

IOWA PARK, Tex. (AP)—An early morning fire today killed a six-year-old girl while her father searched vainly through the flaming house.

Mary Lou Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Miller Jr., burned to death when her father was unable to find her after rescuing two other children.

Miller, 28, collapsed in the flaming house. He was pulled to safety by a neighbor, J. H. Hicks. Miller was reported in "grave" condition from extensive burns.

Miller and his wife were sleeping on the porch when the fire started in the small frame house. Miller rushed in and brought out two children, Robert, 7, and Helen Marie, 5.

Houston Will Have Moving Sidewalk

HOUSTON (AP)—A moving sidewalk—described by Mayor Roy Hofheinz as the only one south of New York City—will be built by the city of Houston across Buffalo Bayou.

The city council yesterday approved the $225,000 expenditure to connect a 2,000-car parking lot on the north side of the bayou with the Sam Houston Coliseum.

Several shows of her work have been held, among them an exhibit at the Officers' Wives Club at Webb Air Force Base and a show in Odessa. Later in the year, some of her paintings were displayed at the tea given by the Hyperion Club and at the Garden Club Flower Show.

Watch Your Weight

Irish beauty Constance Smith, who is now making a picture in London, chats with Lydia Lane about maintaining an even weight.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

To Keep Down Weight: Leave Table Sooner!

By LYDIA LANE

LONDON, England — I was delighted to see Constance Smith again. She is over here making "Tiger by the Tail" for Leonard Goldstein. We have many mutual friends in Hollywood and we chatted about California as we had delicious tea at Claridge's.

Constance is a traditional Irish beauty with blue eyes and black hair and there are many who feel that some day she will be one of the top names in pictures.

"I miss the fresh oranges and the sunshine of Hollywood," she told me, "but I must say the misty English weather is much better for my skin. I firmly believe that unless you are very careful, sun tanning can be really bad for your skin. It looks a pretty color but it dries out the natural oils so fast your skin undergoes a change — I know mine has."

"That's why it's so important to become acquainted with the many fine preparations which help the skin to attract moisture," I commented.

"The women in the United States are much more skilled in making themselves attractive than women over here," Constance remarked. "Almost every girl knows how to shape the proper mouth for her face, how to accept her eyes and how to balance her face with her hair-do. It is not until you leave Hollywood that you realize how much you have picked up there."

It's so easy to take for granted anything which is easy to get."

I asked Constance if she had a weight problem here. "What with such tempting things for tea," I explained, pointing to a tray of English muffins and jam on our table.

"The climate has something to do with not gaining," Constance said, "But I find that so long as I balance my intake I have no problem staying the same. Its when people eat more than they need that they head for trouble."

"I think one of the most important lessons in keeping a good figure is to train yourself to listen to your appetite so that you learn to differentiate between true hunger and eating with your eyes. If you never overeat, if you stop before your appetite is satiated and if you leave the table feeling you could enjoy a little more, I think," Constance said, "it is easy to maintain an even weight."

The group was dismissed with a prayer by Mrs. Elrod.

A business meeting of the men of the church board followed and they changed the family night fellowship meeting to the fourth Monday instead of the first.

Agreement Reached To Resume Production Of Crude In Iran

By DON SCHWIND
 TEHRAN, Iran (U)—Representatives of eight big Western oil companies and the Iranian government announced broad agreement today to restart Iran's frozen oil industry. They said they hoped to begin shipping at least some of the oil again in about two months.

Under the agreement announced simultaneously in Tehran and London, the eight companies as a consortium will operate the vast Abadan refinery and the surrounding oil fields. They will buy the oil output from Iran and will sell the production abroad. Iran will retain title to the fields and the refining facilities.

Settlement of the three-year diplomatic battle was announced in a joint statement by Iranian Finance Minister Ali Amini and Howard Page of Standard Oil of New Jersey, chairman of the negotiators for the oil companies.

Their statement did not detail the rate of payment to Iran but informed sources said it was virtually the same 50-50 split that prevails elsewhere in the Middle East.

Amini and Page estimated that Iran, through direct oil revenue and taxes, would get 420 million dollars during the first three years of the arrangement. The estimate for the third year, more than 187 million, is larger than Iran's pre-nationalization oil revenue.

The agreement will run for 25 years, with provisions for three 5-year extensions.

The eight companies making up the consortium are Britain's Anglo-Iranian, which developed and operated Iran's industry until ex-premier Mohammed Mossadegh nationalized its holdings in 1951; Standard of New Jersey, Standard of California, the Texas Co., Gulf Oil Co., and Socony Vacuum, all American; Royal Dutch Shell and Compagnie Francaise de Petroles.

Though Page in a separate statement said the companies "must now conclude a separate agreement among themselves covering like participation," informed sources said they would set up this division: 40 per cent to Anglo-Iranian, 40 per cent to the five American companies, 14 per cent to Dutch Shell and 6 per cent to the French firm.

Lions Program Features Sports

Lions got a taste of sports in three different areas Wednesday.

Special guests of the club were Mrs. Everett Colborn, wife of the producer of the annual Big Spring Cowboy Rodeo; her daughters, Mrs. Rosemary Tompkins, treasurer for the show and Carolyn Colborn, a specialty performer; Benny Binder, the rodeo clown; and Pete Logan, announcer. Logan spoke briefly. They were introduced by Rexie Cagle.

Another group of special guests were Charles (Lefty) Morris, winner of the Big Spring Soap Box Derby and who will leave Tuesday with his parents for the national finals at Akron, Ohio; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Morris, and sister Virginia; and Loyd Wooten, Gil Jones, Lions president, wished Charles godspeed and expressed appreciation to Tidwell Chevrolet and to the Herald for sponsorship of the derby and to merchants who furnished prizes.

Third phase of the program was a projection of the pictures taken at the Big Spring-Gainesville semi-final game in the AAA play-offs last autumn. Jack Cook, co-captain of the Quarterback Club, was in charge. Wednesday was "sandwich day" at the club, the difference between the sandwiches and

FOR BETTER SERVICE City Mail Routes Get Realignment

Realignment of carrier routes in Big Spring is in process of taking place.

Within two weeks or slightly longer, most of the routes will be consolidated and re-numbered. This will not be final disposition of a task that Postmaster Elmer Boatler says should have been done a long time ago. Before the routes are finally "jelled," the rough edges shown by actual experience will be worked off.

Boatler hopes that the changes will result in the saving of time, reduce confusion, and save Uncle Sam some money in handling the mail.

Over the years the routes have more or less evolved out of demand for service rather than with an eye to maintaining compact grouping of territory. When there were relatively few routes this was not any great problem, but now it represents substantial overlapping of territory.

In one instance a route sprawls the regular costs of a meal going to the Lions Camp for Crippled Children.

like a giant horseshoe. In several other cases there are long necks off of one route protruding into the body of another. Little pieces of a single street may be divided among three or four routes.

Chief point of saving in time and perhaps in mis-handling of mail will be in distribution. Boatler thinks. A simplification of the various routes would make separation of the mail much easier.

This naturally will be reflected in less mail coming back from a route because it should never have gone to that route in the first place.

Another important factor in the re-arrangements will be in securing substitute carriers or relief distributors. Right now, when regulars have to be out, mail handling can get fouled easily because of complex lines separating the routes.

For record keeping, matters will be simplified by re-numbering the routes from the point of proximity to the office. The present numbering system developed as new routes were added.

There are 13 foot carriers in the city. They make 5,783 stops serving an estimated 21,316 people. In ad-

Colonel Has New Foe When He Tries To Rule On Dress

By TOM STONE
 FRANKFURT, Germany (U)—A battle-scarred U.S. Army colonel ducked behind his combat ribbons today as the wrath of a thousand American women poured down on him.

"I had no idea it would cause such a fuss," smiled Col. John H. Dilley, commander of the Frankfurt detachment, who issued an order advising Army wives and daughters here to spruce up and tone down their dress.

His directive said "the attire being worn in public by some American women is not in good taste," and warned that if they didn't do something about it "positive action" would be taken.

Outlawed were: Bare-back, halter-type sunsuits worn without a jacket or wrap. Bary mid-riff costumes. Strapless, low-cut dresses (except in clubs or at social functions). Shorts on teen-agers or women. Blue jeans on "mature women." Pin curlers, unless neatly covered.

The colonel, a West Point graduate who distinguished himself in the African campaign in World War II, said some women were going to and from the Post Exchange looking awful.

One of the women who likes her Levis said:

"I used to wear blue jeans to the commissary to buy groceries. Now I can't. I have two kids and keep house. I can't change clothes every time I want to go out of the house."

Another said stoutly:

"Our freedom is being threatened."

Col. Dilley (of 1510 Armstrong Ave., Kansas City, Kan.) remained good-naturedly firm.

"They've already shown a big improvement. Somebody just had to tip them off how they looked."

More Sun, No Rain Says Weather Man

By The Associated Press
 An August sun beaming through mostly clear skies kept Texas warm Thursday.

Temperatures were expected to be a little hotter than Wednesday, when it reached 105 at Presidio and 104 at Laredo.

Thunderheads that brought relief to parts of West Texas earlier this week were virtually gone. The Weather Bureau held little hope for rain.

Early Thursday a thunderstorm was reported at Salt Flat—but it was dry. Just thunder, no rain.

Morning temperatures ranged from 70 at Marfa to 83 at Galveston.

Trailer House Man Wants To Pay Tax

LINDEN, N.J. (U)—Stephen Sember was a tax collector's dream come true today.

Sember, who lives in a trailer, lodged a formal complaint with the City Council demanding to know why he hasn't been billed for taxes.

Sember said yesterday he had lived in trailer camps in various parts of the country for the past 10 years and always had been obliged—and happy—to pay his taxes.

Why, he asked, should it be any different in Linden?

The Council's tax committee promised to look into the matter.

Public Aid Necessary As Drought Spreads

By ROBERT H. JOHNSON JR.

Farmers and ranchers are grim and dispirited in the vast drought country where corn and cotton droop and cattle graze on broken pastures.

Anybody wishing to visit the Deep Creek project can reach the area turning off Highway 377 at Mercury, between Brownwood and Brady. This is near the geographic center of the state.

Polio Nearing Seasonal Peak Over The State

By The Associated Press
Polio reached its highest incidence of the year in Texas last week with 163 new cases reported, but a State Health Department spokesman said experience charts indicate that should mark the peak for 1954.

Gov. Shivers Wednesday proclaimed the last two weeks of August an emergency March of Dimes period in Texas to help rebuild funds to fight polio. At Canyon, in West Texas, gamma globulin shots were given 610 children Wednesday, second day of a mass inoculation. Shots were given 634 youngsters Tuesday.

Dr. Robert Jarrett, local health officer, said more shots would be given Thursday if there was demand. Jarrett said there was "no polio emergency in Canyon," but the shots were "just a precautionary measure." Three polio cases have been reported in Canyon the past month. One victim died.

The gamma globulin was furnished by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The health department report Wednesday said the year's total of polio cases in Texas reached 1,410, compared to 949 a year ago. But that was far behind the 2,371 cases during the same period of 1952, Texas' worst polio year.

Shivers urged Texans to dig deep during the emergency March of Dimes period.

Nothing polio is "now nearing its summer peak, crippling boys and girls, men and women," he said. The polio foundation needs more money to help victims by paying for patient care when needed.

"The cost of care for polio victims has risen higher than ever before while at the same time enormous sums must be spent on the study of a hopeful vaccine and to supply the public with gamma globulin for temporary immunity," Shivers said in an official memorandum.

Frustrated Peddler Goes Into Action

LONG BEACH, CH. (AP) — This salesman literally beat his prospect over the head—with the merchandise.

Erwin E. Hunter told police the salesman came to his door yesterday and sought to interest Hunter in some pots and pans. Hunter said he declined politely, whereupon the pot merchant banged Hunter on the noggin with a pan. Hunter said that, when he recovered from his surprise, he floored the peddler with a right to the jaw. The salesman got up and fled, taking his wares with him. Police are looking for him on an assault charge.

Will Do His Own Atonement For Atomic Bomb

GREAT BARRINGTON, Mass. (AP) — A 30-year-old Navy veteran says he will walk the streets of his town Saturday in a "personal proclamation of guilt" for the atomic bombing of Japan and the U.S. Hollis J. Wyman Jr., a Harvard graduate, said today he is guilty of "burning his fellow human beings, first as a naval officer in Japanese waters, and secondly as a United States citizen during the H-bomb tests." He is a member of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, a world-wide pacifist organization. He said he chose Saturday for his day of "atonement" because it falls between the anniversary of the Hiroshima and Nagasaki bombings.

Wyman applied to the selectmen of this western Massachusetts town of 6,712 for permission to stage his "proclamation." It was granted after considerable debate.

He will carry placards and distribute pamphlets throughout the day.

Wyman spent two years in France and Germany with the group doing rehabilitation work. His mother, Mrs. Hollis J. Wyman of Auburndale, said he was "revolted" by the destruction caused by the bombings of Europe and "feels guilty about having been in the armed service."

Flies From Indochina For Parley With Dulles

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Robert McClintock, U.S. charge d'affaires in Indochina, arrived by plane tonight en route to what he described as "an urgent conference" in Washington. He planned to leave almost immediately for the nation's capital. McClintock said he had been summoned to Washington by Secretary of State Dulles. Beyond that he would make no comment.

Soviet Submarines Threat In Pacific

By ROBERT EUNSON
TOKYO (AP) — The Russian Navy may have as many as 90 submarines in the Pacific area, Vice Adm. William Callaghan, commander of U.S. naval forces in the Far East, estimated today.

"These submarines definitely would be a threat to maintaining sea lines of communication," said the tall, grey-haired admiral, whose job would be to fight them in the event of war with the Soviets.

"Russia has a total of 375 submarines," Callaghan said in an interview. "and we feel it would be reasonable to expect that one-quarter of them are in the Pacific."

He estimated the Russian Pacific fleet also has 30 destroyers and two cruisers, but no aircraft carriers or battleships.

"Submarines and air power are their greatest threat, so far as Soviet capability is concerned," Callaghan said.

Two weeks ago, Gen. Earle E. Partridge, Far East Air Forces commander, said combined Soviet, Chinese and North Korean air forces had 7,500 planes, most of them Russian.

Russian ground strength in the Far East has been estimated at 35 combat divisions by a high-ranking officer on the staff of Gen. John E. Hull, Far East commander.

Poland Demands Stowaway's Return

LONDON (AP) — Charging "brutal disregard of the rights of a foreign ship," Communist Poland has demanded the return of the stowaway the British freed last week from the Polish freighter Jaroslaw Dabrowski.

A protest note handed last night to the British ambassador in Warsaw also demanded damages and punishment for those responsible for the incident.

London police snatched the Polish stowaway, 24-year-old Antoni Klimowicz, from the freighter after halting it last Saturday in the Thames. The seaman, seeking asylum in Britain, hid on the ship when it left Poland. Crewmen caught him before he could escape in London and were hauling him back to his homeland.

Following a hearing Tuesday, Britain's lord chief justice granted Klimowicz his freedom. He was told he could have a permit to work in Britain, and there appeared little likelihood the British would hand him back to the Poles.

The Polish government charged in its note that he was a criminal who twice had been punished by the British authorities for smuggling.

A Bible Thought For Today—

Sarah was more beautiful than the women of the kings harlem because she was beautiful inside. Beauty is indeed far more than skin deep. "The Egyptians beheld the woman that she was very fair." — Gen. 12:14.

Pipes For Women Old Stuff, Take The Case Of Our Pioneer Women

Pipes for women are coming on the market, and there are reports that some of them have been received in our own fair city. We ran across a picture of lady-size pipes the other day, and we make solemn oath that one of them was striped like a zebra.

The boom in pipe-smoking among the fair sex is a rebound from the claim, not yet scientifically proved, that cigarette smoking is connected with cancer of the lungs. The theory that tobacco smoked one way might cause cancer while tobacco smoked another way is harmless seems sort of shaky to us, but the anti-cigarette people explain away the contradiction by claiming that cigarette tobacco is grown or processed in such a way that it irritates the lungs and causes cancer.

As a reformed pipe-smoker myself we'd like to warn the ladies that there is probably as much real tobacco in a single bowl-full as there is in a whole pack of cigarettes.

Not that we find anything out of the orinary in ladies smoking pipes. A recollection is seeing an elderly woman rocking herself in the chimney corner, puffing away on her clay pipe with a cane stem. She grew her own makin's.

We hope we're not intruding on the privacy of an old friend, but a scout informs us he recently called on Editor A. W. Neville of the Paris News. That grand old man of Texas journalism is way up there in the 90-some-odd's himself, and apparently as durable as the hills.

Well, while they were talking Mr. N. out with his sack of Bull Durham, pours a quantity into a cigarette paper, and proceeds to roll his own. He struck a match, and paused to remark:

"All this malarkey about cigarettes causing cancer is malarkey."

We have no doubt people would be better off not to smoke at all. But then they'd also save money by breaking the habit of wearing clothes and living in houses.

Radar Traffic Control Could Be Means Of Reducing Death Total

Radar control of traffic is a going concern in several states. In Texas, the Public Safety Department is wisely carrying out a period of education, in which the device is demonstrated to law enforcement officers and citizens from community to community, so that when full installation does go into effect, the public will be thoroughly familiar with it.

A survey by U. S. News & World Report shows that new highway signs are springing up throughout the country. "Speed Checked by Radar," or "Warning! Speed Is Radar Controlled." The radar device operates unattended. It takes a clear picture of the rear of a speeding car, showing the license plate. It is not activated by cars making legal speeds, but is set off by a car which goes faster than the limit.

The police merely check the record shown by the radar device, ascertain the ownership of the car by checking the license number, and send out a notice to come in and face the music.

As to the legality of this system of traffic control, a number of lower courts have upheld it, though final determination may await a U. S. Supreme Court decision. There have been the usual cries of "speed trap" wherever the system has been instituted, but this complaint lacks validity because in every case there are public signs warning that the road is under radar observation.

If and when adopted generally, radar control should result in better observance of the speed laws, and as the motoring public becomes more and more—and painfully—aware of these automatic traffic cops the highways should become safer and safer for speeding is the major cause of accident.

A speed trap set for the purpose of enforcing some fee-grabbing enforcement officer is one thing; but where due and proper warning is given there can be no complaint on that head. Too long, it has been a sort of game to thwart the traffic laws. But with 38,000 traffic deaths a year, it is high time steps were taken to make this kind of law violation unpopular as a pastime and radar control seems to be a step in the education of the public.

Asserts 'Due Process' Denied McCarthy In New Senate Acts

Those who complain about Sen. McCarthy's improprieties might raise the question of due process.

1. A committee of the Senate finds itself involved in accusations of unbecoming conduct on the part of its chairman and members of its staff. Direct complaints are made against the chairman, the chief counsel, and the administrative officer of the committee by a special counsel engaged by the Department of the Army after a conference had been held in the office of the Attorney General of the United States which was attended by important members of the executive branch of the government;

2. The three who were accused of impropriety made an answer;

3. The committee decided to conduct an investigation into its affairs, chose Sen. Karl Mundt to preside and Ray Jenkins of Knoxville, Tenn., as special counsel;

4. A hearing was held which took testimony for 36 days in public, in the presence of press, radio, television and a large audience. In addition, a number of witnesses were heard in executive session. Millions of words of testimony were taken all of which were duly recorded, and except those taken in executive session, they have been printed;

5. It was stated that the counsel for the committee would digest the testimony and make a report to the committee which is empowered to act upon it. The committee, under the chairmanship of Karl Mundt, would then file its report with the Committee on Government Operations which would make a decision from which an appeal could be taken to the Senate for action.

This procedure, which is orderly and conforms, as much as possible, to the traditions and rights of the Senate and all parties concerned, was violated during the last hour of the McCarthy-Stevens hearing by Sen. Charles Potter whose report was issued to the press before it was filed with the committee of which he is a member and before the last word of testimony was in. Sen. Potter's impropriety may have many explanations. The only realistic explanation can be that he did it because he wanted to do it and that it satisfied those who had anticipated that the hearings would disclose gross improprieties on the part of Sen. McCarthy and Roy Cohn which, if they took place, were not brought out in evidence.

At any rate, Sen. Potter's obligation to his colleagues was to file his statement at the hearing and not to issue it as a press release while the hearing was still in session. For this insult to his colleagues, Sen. Potter was not reprimanded because it is really impossible to reprimand a senator who is a sovereign in his own right.

Sen. Potter also placed himself in the position of voting with the Democrats against his Republican colleagues, which was duly acknowledged by Sen. McClellan who shouted, "Welcome Democrat!" Sen. Potter is not running for re-election this year; were he running for re-election this year, it is doubtful if he would have acted in this manner.

Into this situation entered the aged and years-weary Sen. Ralph Flanders of Vermont who also did not wait for the report of the committee but who projected himself as a private judge, made deliberately untruthful statements concerning Roy Cohn, maligning his private morals. He also proposed a senatorial reprimand for Sen. McCarthy. One of his charges is that the McCarthy Committee has been investigating and keeping files on certain senators. I do not know how true that is of the McCarthy Committee but there are files concerning the relations between some United States Senators and Communists.

Even I, a humble reporter, to use the favorite word of Mr. Welch of Boston, have some data about some senators I do not use because I do not engage in gossip. Some day some committee will perhaps happily bring such data forward and they might stumble on the efforts to keep Michael Greenberg on the government payroll, and also they might glance at the continuing friendships of Alger and Priscilla Hiss who have more defenders than speak out in public.

Sen. Flanders did not wait for the Jenkins report, or for majority and minority reports of the Hunsot Committee, but went off entirely on his own, against the wishes of many of his colleagues who felt that he was out of order. There was no due process in Sen. Flanders' conduct.

POTOMAC FEVER

By FLETCHER KNEBEL

WASHINGTON — A fellow with a beard walked into the Senate today, heard the words "Joe McCarthy" and demanded his money back—they hadn't changed the feature since he was a boy.

Republicans accuse Independent Sen. Morris of revealing a top secret document from Harry Truman in 1952. Democrats had a bad year with secrets in '52—even the secret ballot got away from them.

The names Army Brig. Gen. Vogel to head the TVA. You can't beat 'em if they won't let him sell the New Deal's TVA—he'll draft it into the Army.

A German rocket expert says flying saucers come from outer space. The flying saucers folk are afraid to land on earth. They've heard all the cooking is done by the English—and the love-making by the Russians.

Republican leader Knowland proposes a committee to weigh charges against Joe McCarthy. The average American of today will die with holes in his head—bored to death by McCarthy.

American Airlines pilots strike for an eight-hour limit on cross-country flying duty. It isn't the flying that gets on the pilot's nerves after eight hours—it's the taping.

More Senators propose a committee to investigate Joe McCarthy. This will be known as the McCarthy-McCarthy hearing. It will cover the Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year, Washington's Birthday—and the New Year.

Any Change In Immunity Under The 5th Amendment Means A Court Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — A long constitutional court fight lies ahead if Congress passes — and there's a chance now it will — a law to force Fifth Amendment witnesses to testify by guaranteeing them immunity from prosecution.

The fight can be made two ways: (1) On whether Congress can pass a law to get around the Constitution's Fifth Amendment and (2) whether Congress can pass a law guaranteeing a man immunity in both federal and state courts.

The Senate passed an immunity bill in 1953. The House passed a different one yesterday. The Senate may accept the House bill, jacking its own. Then President Eisenhower could sign the bill into law.

rights in keeping quiet, the court said, because her testimony might lead to her incrimination later under the Smith Act. Mrs. Patricia Blau — The FBI says it is the same one — was one of seven persons arrested earlier this week on charges of violating the Smith Act.

The House and Senate, upon the urging of Atty. Gen. Brownell, have approved differing bills to get around the Fifth Amendment and force witnesses to talk.

Generally, this is what the House bill would do: If a witness were asked about Communist activities and pleaded the Fifth Amendment, he could be promised immunity from prosecution for any crime related to his testimony. If he still refused, pleading the Fifth Amendment, he could be tried for contempt of Congress or a federal court and, if convicted, jailed.

But the first witness who spurns immunity and lands in jail for contempt will certainly appeal to the Supreme Court, raising this question: Isn't Congress violating the Constitution when it passes a law to deprive a man of the Fifth Amendment's protection? The government would argue that he has been guaranteed immunity to prosecution and therefore lost no right.

Once-Busy Woman Finds Relaxation In Small Town

HILL CITY, S. D. (AP)—How can a middle-aged woman who has lost her husband and reared her children adjust to a world that suddenly seems empty?

That was the problem that faced Mrs. Arthur Wermuth, mother of Maj. Art Wermuth, the famous "one-man army of Bataan."

She found the answer by turning her back on the busy social life of Chicago and settling down in a cabin in this old small (population 500) mining town in the Black Hills. She lives alone with her 8-year-old Dalmatian watchdog, "Sissy," and says she has found here a new peace and purpose in life.

"Ever since I came here," she said, "I have loved these hills so much that I could kiss the ground for the happiness they brought me."

Her son is now in the insurance business in Denver.

"To this day we have never talked about the war," she remarked. "Some day, mother, I'll tell you about it," he said, and she will tell me. But it is over, and now he doesn't want even to hear about it.

"So far he hasn't even looked at the scrapbook I collected about his heroism, but some time he will. I also still have the gavel used in the House of Representatives to declare war on Italy and Germany. It was given to me by Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas. He said the gavel used to declare war on Japan had been stolen."

The shelves of her four-room cabin are crowded with souvenirs of her travels. The shelf above the fireplace holds the bronzed first baby shoes of her two children—and the skull of a gorilla, given to her in Seattle.

Mrs. Wermuth now is a familiar figure in the Black Hills, and held in high affection for her acts of kindness. Even the crustiest old prospector waves as she wheels by on a trout fishing trip.

"No, I don't miss the city social life I used to know," she said. "Here they have something much better than society—a neighborliness you don't find in many places."

"The Rocky Mountains are so big they give you a feeling of loneliness. But the Black Hills give you a feeling of serenity and peace."

Drape Shape By Dior May Go Over Like That Lead Balloon

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

Christian Dior, the Paris fashion designer, may have bitten off more than he can chew this time.

His bucking Marilyn Monroe, Esther Williams, Designer Helen Rose, the "false" makers and the corset people.

Dior is the French gentleman responsible for the "new look" for women after World War II. He also has fiddled with the hemline a few times since.

Now he's trying to abolish the boom with what has been dubbed the "H-line" in fashions. Dior's new dresses take after those of the twenties, when waistlines dropped below the hips and whole costumes looked like they were draped over a clothes line.

The new fashions went on display in Paris last week. They flatten out the chest with a top piece that hangs straight down from the shoulders.

In the middle, waists are only slightly formed, with the belt, if any, to be buckled around the hips. Sashes, also around the hips, are recommended. Skirts blossom out from somewhere on the hips and you can have them with pleats or in the shape of a tube.

The only curves you'll find are the ones going around—none up and down. The gowns highlight the "draped shape."

Marilyn says Dior's fashions aren't for her. "I'm not built for any kind of boy's form fashions so why should I wear them?"

"Who ever heard of a flat-chested mermaid?" asks Esther. "The question answers itself—nobody."

Designer Rose claims "The Average American woman will never go for that flat-chested style." (The average American man probably won't either.)

The corset and false people haven't gone on record yet with their reactions to the H-shape. But if they need any support...

Understanding With Moscow On Germany May Be Necessary

BONN, West Germany — West Germany's venerable Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will interrupt his holiday this week at his retreat in the Black Forest to go to Brussels for a meeting of the Council of Europe. There he will meet Premier Mendès-France and together they will work out the adjustments that the French Premier considers essential if the French National Assembly is to ratify the European Defense Community treaty.

These adjustments will not mean basic changes in the treaty but rather interpretations spelled out for the Assembly so that, after EDC comes into being, the Council of Ministers can make the changes within the EDC framework. Then at the same time the settlement of the Saar, that long and bitterly disputed issue over the province lying between France and Germany with its rich coal and steel industry, will also go into effect. As the result of lengthy negotiations, the Saar settlement is said to be 99 per cent worked out.

This will be the course of events if the official optimism of the Adenauer government is, in fact, justified. Talking with this reporter, Vice Chancellor Franz Blucher made it evident that Germany will not accept the kind of limited sovereignty under discussion in Paris as an alternative to EDC.

Short of EDC, already ratified by Germany, Belgium, Luxembourg, and Holland, a great gap opens up. Great Britain and the United States have proposed that if there is no action at all in France they will grant sovereignty to Germany and end the occupation in their zones. This would leave the French zone still under occupation and, as Wilhelm Meißner, vice chairman of the Social Democratic party expressed it to this writer, it would mean still another division of divided Germany.

In short, the outlook is perfectly hideous if in these last critical days EDC is finally sunk. American High Commissioner James Conant sees serious turmoil within Germany should the worst happen. This helps to explain the official optimism within the Adenauer government and within the High Commissioner's office, an attitude maintained so long that it is like a grim frozen in hopeful perpetuity.

As an official optimist reflecting the iron determination of the elderly Chancellor, Vice Chancellor Blucher is even willing to look beyond the coming into being of EDC. It will be time, he says, after EDC is created and the German divisions are being formed and equipped to hold another four-power conference with the Russians. The latest invitation from Moscow should be refused, he holds, to go on saying "no." To satisfy the widespread demand in Britain and Western Europe for negotiation in the next few months and certainly within the year the three Allied powers must sit down again with the Soviets.

On unification of East and West Germany, Blucher believes it can come peacefully after EDC has given Europe such strength that the Russians will understand they can no longer succeed with their tactics of divide and conquer. Looking ahead, the Vice Chancellor, who plays an important role in the Bonn Administration, comparable to that of Vice President Nixon in Washington, sees unification resulting from prolonged negotiation with Moscow. The Russians fear not so much the loss of East Germany itself as the defection of Poland and Czechoslovakia under pressure from the west.

For many Americans that kind of bargain would look like appeasement, particularly in view of the political appeals to American citizens of Czech and Polish descent. But for Europeans, and especially for Germans in the center of Europe, the more-or-less-inevitable battleground, the shape of things to come must have some such look since the contemplation of atomic warfare is intolerable.

United States. We are our brother's keeper, by gosh, and we're doing something about it.

I refer to Social Security.

In the U. S., we do better by the aged. In the 1900's, yes, even in '29, a man's old-age security was his offspring. Old folks were supported by their children and grandchildren. Now, a man's old-age security is his Old-Age and Survivors Insurance, often with a company pension as a supplement. And more and more persons are being brought into both folds—social security and industrial pension systems.

So, we don't have to worry about being helpless, dependent, and penniless at 65. We won't be rich, but something will be coming in.

Consequently, Social Security and corporation pensions have become a new and assertive economic force. They provide spending power for persons who are retiring this year, next year, and the year thereafter. They influence today's spending by persons who will be getting pensions 15, 20, and even 30 years hence. By becoming one another's keepers in old age on a national scale, we've increased the propensity to spend.

Business Outlook—J. A. Livingston

Prospect Of Old Age Pensions Keeps Americans On The Spend

Here's one for the lover of economic puzzles: Savings banks, commercial banks, "raking in cash" as never before. Savings are at an all time high. Yet, American families aren't as saving as they used to be.

In 1901, according to a study by Fortune magazine, consumers in the $3,000-$4,000 bracket put aside 9 per cent of their income for a rainy day. In 1929, 5 per cent; last year, only 4 per cent.

Families in the $7,500-to-$10,000 bracket saved a fourth of the income in 1901, 15 per cent in '29, and 10 per cent in 1953. The same propensity to save a smaller portion of income today than yesterday applies at every income level—very low and very, very high. That being so, how come savings institutions are bulging?

There are several explanations:

First, the population is greater than ever and the average level of income has risen. There are more savers with a greater saving potential.

Second, as the level of income rises, people tend to save more. Thus, families in the $7,500-to-$10,000 brackets saved two-and-one-half to three times as large a percentage of income as families in the $3,000-to-$4,000 bracket.

Third, more and more families are pushing up into the higher income brackets. As they push up there, as already noted, the tendency is to save more than families in the brackets they've left behind.

But why is it that Americans of today save less than their economic counterparts—Americans with the same real income—at the turn of the century? Fortune ascribes this to the marketplace. "A family in 1900 could buy nothing like the number of things that are considered necessities for a family today."

A bewildering array of 1954 products—TVs, automobiles, air conditioners, movie cameras, dresses—synthetics, washing machines, suits—bewitch consumers. In 1901, the choice was still very limited. A horse and buggy and a bicycle were common forms of locomotion. The radio and television didn't exist. People read by kerosene lamp and gas light. The phonograph was new and had to be cranked. The player piano was a luxury. Money stuck to people and people in money. That's the theory Fortune emphasizes.

I think there's another influence—an influence which will become more controlling as the years go by. The old Biblical ethic has taken on a new force in the

Tank-Like Bayer Draws Attention In All-America

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (U.S.)—Mammoth George Bayer, the Paul Bunyan of the links, may never strike it right in the $200,000 Tam O'Shanter golf jamboree starting today, but he is a pro set apart from the others because of his incredible power.

His colleagues—such as Doug Ford, Dutch Harlickson, Jimmy Demaret and Lloyd Mangrum—claim that the 240-pound 6-3 1/2 Bayer is the longest hitter in golf history.

The "tank-like" Bayer was among 36 pros teeing off today in the first round of the All-American tourney, the first phase in promoter George S. May's fabulous extravaganza that runs 10 days and is climaxed by the "World Championships" next week.

The "world" champion receives $50,000 in cash and a $50,000 exhibition contract. The All-American meet is a mere warmup, with a top prize of $3,450.

Bayer, pro at the Glen Head, N.Y. Country Club, is not expected to win, but he is bound to draw attention of the swarming galleries by his feats of the tee.

About 300 pros had to shoot for 60 qualifying spots. Leading the survivors with six-under-par 66's yesterday were four club pros—Tom Burke Jr. of Chicago; Paul McGuire, Wichita; Jay Hebert, Woodmere, N.Y.; and Mike Spivey, Ottawa, Ill.

In the meantime, the biggest players were talking about Bayer's practice round drives. For instance, on the 465-yard second hole Bayer's drive was so prodigious he needed only an easy nine iron for his second shot. He has hit a 330-yard green on the carry.

"Probably my longest drive came on a Las Vegas municipal course last September," he recalled. "The hole was 475 yards. My drive hit a spectator standing on the front edge of the green on the second bounce. There was a 10 to 15 mile-per-hour tail wind."

Dr. Bannister To Take Drill

VANCOUVER, B.C. (U.S.)—Dr. Roger Bannister has a slight cold in the head today but says it isn't bothering him and he has prescribed a brisk mile canter in preference to a glass of hot lemonade.

Cage All-Star Game Carded

SAN ANGELO (U.S.)—The East-West All-Star basketball game, one of the features of the Six Man Coaching School now in progress here, will be played at 8:30 o'clock this evening in the San Angelo High School Gym.

Little Leaguers To Resume Play

Little League play will be resumed this evening, with two American League contests on tap. In the opener, the Engineers meet the Oliers while the Legion plays the Eagles in the afterpiece.

Plymouth Is Winner

SINTON, Tex. (U.S.)—The Plymouth Oliers of Sinton beat Victoria, 3-2, last night and meet Brooke Medical Center of San Antonio today for the district semi-pro baseball tournament championship.

Swamp Boat Launched

Jerry Don Graham sits proudly in a swamp boat, one of the first of its kind seen in these parts, built over a period of several months by his father, Charles Owens Graham. Sixteen feet long and six feet eight inches wide, the unique craft progresses by the powerful bites its propeller takes out of the air. It has a 65-horsepower Lycoming engine and the prop is to be screened in for safety reasons. The boat is covered with marine plywood and Graham used 18 gross of brass screws in building it. It has a fiberglass cover, finished with plastic resin. Eventually, it will have a windshield, it, of course, has no underwater rudder. Bill Horne helped Graham in its construction. After the above picture was made, Graham took the craft out to Moss Creek lake for a test run.

Coahoma Goes 1-Up In Y Loop Series

Coahoma moved within one game of clinching the YMCA City Softball League crown by edging past Webb Air Base, 4-1, here Wednesday evening.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With Tommy Hart

Steer Park compares most favorably in dimensions to the Milwaukee County Stadium, Fenwick Park in Boston and the Yankee Stadium, of all the big league ball orchards.

Every few weeks this writer is asked to settle the argument: Which state supplies the more native born big league baseball players, California or Texas?

California wins by the proverbial mile (30-15) but the truth of the matter is, California ranks no better than third among the states, in that respect.

Odessa baseball backers have launched a ticket sales campaign to get the Oliers out of the red and, from all reports, are experiencing good success.

Lefty Wells, who grew up here, has managed the First National Bank team to a second straight Little League baseball championship in Monahans.

Al Richardson, who won 19 mound decisions in the Longhorn League three seasons ago, may have played his last baseball game.

Chuck Moser's salary as high school coach at Abilene this year will be $7,402.

No-Hitter Spoiled By Dan Ozark But Shippers Win

Anderson wound up with a four-hitter at Beaumont to pick up his fifth decision since joining the Exporters. He walked one and struck out five. His mates gave him an easy lead to work behind, scoring five runs in the first three innings.

Dallas beat Shreveport, 6-3, Oklahoma City blasted San Antonio, 13-5, and Houston downed Tulsa, 6-3.

Thursday night's slate sends Fort Worth to Shreveport, Tulsa to San Antonio, Dallas to Beaumont and Oklahoma City to Houston.

ALBERT BISHOP On Job

At Stanton Show

Bob Johnson, called the "new sensation" of the show world, heads up the 1954 Electric Fair to be staged in Stanton Friday. Johnson, serialist and balancing artist, will team with several other performers during the annual membership meeting of the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative.

Cap Rock Members See Big Transition

STANTON (SC) — Cap Rock Electric Cooperative members will look back Friday on tremendous transitions which have taken place in 15 years.

Annual meeting of the cooperative is set here for 2 p.m. on the exact anniversary of the formation of Cap Rock on Aug. 6, 1939. Then there were 325 members who had signed for a 158-mile system in Howard and Martin counties. Today there are 2,800 customer-members served by more than 1,700 miles in Howard, Martin, Midland, Glasscock, Reagan, Upton, Ector, Andrews, Dawson, and Borden counties.

As in recent years, the highlight of the annual gathering will be the Electric Fair which has its first session at 6 p.m. Thursday at the Cap Rock grounds on U. S. 89 just west of Stanton. Doors of the two 100-foot tents housing a dozen and a half commercial displays will open at 10 a.m. Friday. Half an hour later the annual meeting of the Cap Rock Refrigerative Cooperative will start, and the electric co-op meeting is due in the afternoon. The show closes at 5 p.m. Friday after a round of professional talent and an amateur contest.

With the Fair this year are Bob Johnson, 25-year-old aerialist and balancing artist who also teams with Ginny Johnson in a juggling and whip act; Billy Wimberly and his Drifting Texans, a hillbilly band from the Central Texas area; Wini Williams, Louisiana Tech graduate and billed as the Home Ec Glamour Girl of the Southwest; and Harland Stretz, master of magic.

In the show of electrical appliances and farm equipment are Cook Appliances, Fairbanks - Morse, Ken Scudder's Household Equipment, Lee Machine Exchange-Bigorelli Agency, Montgomery Ward and Hiburn Appliance of Big Spring; Stanton Electric, Stanton Supply, James Jones Hardware, Louder Electric, Billington Motor and Irrigation, Rogers Electric, Bentley's, Ector Thornton Implement of Stanton; C&H Appliance Mart, Cox Appliance, ABC Elms-Necchi Sewing Sewing Circle of Midland.

Prizes, capped by a radio, will be given at a Willie Wirehand quiz contest. Fairbanks-Morse will carry on a demonstration of a home water system; Fridalire will conduct a demonstration of cooking with gas and electricity.

Riggs Sheppard, then superintendent of Courtney school and now manager of Medina Electric Co-op at Hordito after serving as national assistant REA administrator, was chief organizer of the Cap Rock co-op. Among others assisting were George Bond and the late O. P. Griffin, county agents of Martin and Howard counties. H. W. Deary, sport was first president; Rees Adams vice president; Sheppard, secretary-treasurer; Glenn Cantrell, Arsh Phillips, C. F. Gray, J. A. Jones, Mrs. Wiley Clements, Mrs. Lee Castle, Cantrell now secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Castle and Gray have served continuously on the board.

The co-op had its first loan on July 1, 1940. Through the past year it had borrowed $2,467,465, having repaid $302,204 of this together with all interest. This loan figure, incidentally, is the net value placed on the system. Gross income per annum approximated $38,000, net income $71,000. There are 22 employees, headed by O. B. Bryan, manager. Members of the board who have come on since the organization are J. D. McCreless, Paul Adams, D. W. McDoanid, W. D. Howell and Edgar Phillips.

Radio Star's Son Dies in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 7-year-old son of Charles Correll, Andy of radio's Amos 'n' Andy, died of an acute kidney infection, the county autopsy surgeon said yesterday following completion of toxicological tests.

John Correll succumbed July 5 in a Santa Monica hospital. It was believed at first he might have died of poison used in a paint sprayer at his home.

There's Right—And Wrong—Way To Water Lawn, Trees

Watering the lawn, flowers or vegetable garden is one of the easiest things to do right—or wrong. The new garden tools recently placed on the market, some people think, will help them to do the job right. But local nurserymen disagree.

It takes more than automatic timers, revolving and traveling sprinklers, root applicators and sprinkler and soaker hoses, they say. You can always go wrong if you don't know when and how to water.

Early in the day is the best time, because the sun doesn't dry things up so quickly. Never rush with the job, they warn. Watering takes time.

A great many persons direct the moisture on foliage. "This should never be done," one nurseryman said. "Wet foliage may encourage disease."

Canvas soaker hoses are best suited for thorough watering between rows and in beds, the nurserymen agreed. Simply run the hose between plants and leave it to do the job. The water will soak in deep without washing, caking or splattering mud.

Watering the lawn is perhaps the hardest and most necessary job of all, the nurserymen believe. Watering the lawn properly takes time and the experts doubt that you're likely to get the job done by holding a hose. They advise use of a sprinkler. Moisture should be four or five inches deep.

But the shrubs and trees need watering, too. Simply putting a little water around the trunk of a tree will do it no good, a nurseryman said. For best results—trees with greener leaves—they advise root applicators. This type, with a perforated pipe, gets the water down where the small roots are.

X-Ray Survey To Start Thursday

The annual mass X-ray survey, sponsored by the local tuberculosis association and the State Health Department, will start here next Thursday.

The survey will be conducted for seven days this year, an increase of one day over the 1953 schedule. X-ray equipment will be set up in the new Masonic building at 105 E. 3rd Street with health department technicians in charge.

Members of various women's clubs will be in charge of registration during the clinic. All residents again will be urged to report for the chest examinations, which will be made without charge.

Last year there were 5,223 chest X-rays made, resulting in the location of 38 suspicious chest conditions, including three cases of tuberculosis and 10 other disorders. X-ray sponsors hope for a larger turnout for the examinations this year, since the service will be available for an additional day.

Hours for the survey will be from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily. Bryce Wiginton is in charge of arrangements for the survey.

Oil Discoveries At Fast Rate In East Germany

BONN, Germany (AP)—Bustling West Germany is outpacing all its neighbors in oil discoveries.

Five new oil fields have been discovered this year, pushing annual production to 2 1/2 million tons. This is about one-third of the nation's requirements.

By 1955, oil experts predict West German wells will put out three million tons a year. Hitler's Germany produced only 450,000 tons of oil in 1936.

West Germany's crude oil production already is the biggest in West Europe. With estimated reserves of 60 million tons, the nation may be able to supply all its oil needs within 10 years, oil men say.

Since the war, about 40 new oil fields have been discovered in West Germany. The biggest of these are in the Ems Valley along the Dutch frontier and in the northernmost state of Schleswig-Holstein.

Drillers are now boring along the Baltic coast, along the Upper Rhine between Frankfurt and Basel and in many other areas in search of new fields.

German refining capacity is expanding along with oil output. Investments of 750 million marks (178 1/2 million dollars) in new plants have pushed capacity to over 10 million tons a year.

The residents of Greenland are attempting to grow trees in some sheltered locations on the island.

IT HAPPENED

It's A Clean-Up

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Workmen cleaning behind a brace of 30-year old telephone booths in City Hall yesterday found some articles apparently discarded by telephone callers over the years.

A dozen newspapers dating back to 1935, three bottles of what appeared to be Prohibition-type rum and a flag of the Philadelphia Sesquicentennial Exposition held in 1926.

Double Catch

MARUTO, Japan (AP)—Kamechi Matsumoto, 38, broke and hungry, went fishing for his supper.

He got a bite, and hauled in a big octopus. The octopus was clutching tightly in its tentacles a purse containing more than 7,000 yen (about $20).

Matsumoto at the octopus and reported the money to police. If no one claims it, he can have it.

Drunk On A Bike

PIQUA, Ohio (AP)—Even though he hadn't even been inside an automobile, Elton M. Morris of Piqua drew a three day jail sentence and a $100 fine for drunk driving.

Municipal Judge Charles Lynch acted after Morris pleaded guilty to the charge. Officers had reported they found Morris "weaving all over" Main Street on his bicycle.

No Insurance

CONCORD, N.C. (AP)—George Douglas Cordell, an insurance agent, parked his car in front of a client's house here yesterday.

A few minutes later he came out and the car was gone. He found it crashed against a tree 200 feet down the street, where it had rolled. Damages $250.

Cordell said remorsefully he had no collision insurance.

One-Man Riot

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Nine-year-old Charles Tiger got locked inside a big wholesale food warehouse last night and accidentally tripped a burglar alarm.

He crawled out from behind a packing crate to find 15 policemen facing him with guns drawn.

"You caught me," he said. "Bet'cha can't catch the other six guys who are in here with me."

A systematic search of the warehouse, lasting 45 minutes, produced no one. Officers decided to talk to Charley again. The youngster broke down. "Ain't nobody here but me."

Eisenhower Loses

ABILENE, Kan. (AP)—A third cousin of Dwight Eisenhower failed to win the nomination for sheriff in the President's home county.

Carl Eisenhower came out third best in the three-man race in Tuesday's primary election. He is a Republican.

Border Patrol Chief Has Had Varied Assignments

By WAYLAND YATES

It must be a courageous man who can chase criminals of every nationality, yet never feel that his life was endangered.

Such an attitude characterizes Elmo M. Rainbolt, Inspector in charge of the U. S. Border Patrol detachment in Big Spring.

Rainbolt has conducted investigations into the activities of alien racketeers in virtually every section of the country during his 13 years with the U. S. Immigration Service.

One of the men he investigated in connection with deportation proceedings in Cleveland, O., was on the seven-member "grand council" of the Mafia, International underworld organization which originated in Sicily.

That was during 1951 and 1952—two years the Border Patrol Inspector spent in the Cleveland area looking into the operations of alien criminals which the Justice Department hoped to deport. Many of the cases on which Rainbolt worked still are tied up in the courts.

During the early part of World War II, Rainbolt was detached to New York City where he spent several months checking the loyalty of so-called "enemy aliens." He also has conducted Immigration Service investigations in New Jersey, California and around Seattle, Wash.

He was one of the officers who transferred Fritz Kuhn, famous German-American Bundist, and other German internees from Ft. Stanton, N. M., to Ellis Island for deportation during the war.

Rainbolt also was stationed for approximately six months in Queretaro, Mexico, where he assisted with the processing of laborers for employment with U. S. railroads.

The Border Patrol officer says he has handled persons of "every nationality under the sun." The majority of these weren't criminals in the popular sense of the word, but the majority have been, at the best, violators of immigration laws. And in the group have been murderers, rapists, thieves and robbers, both citizen and alien. From them he has removed scores of knives and pistols.

The bulk of Rainbolt's time with the Border Patrol has been spent in the Mexican-U. S. border sector of West Texas, mostly looking for "wetbacks" who illegally crossed the border into this country.

The officer entered the Border Patrol on Dec. 26, 1941, at El Paso. After a few months training at El Paso he was assigned to Terlingua, a small mining community in the Alpine sector. Here he rapidly developed his proficiency with the Spanish language, for all but a few of the 300 Terlingua residents were of Latin-American extraction and spoke little or no English.

Rainbolt next was stationed at Pecos, where he spent two years with the exception of a few months in New York City investigating the loyalty of persons born in Germany and other countries with which the United States was at war. He met and married June Kimble, a music teacher, while stationed at Pecos and the couple honeymooned in New York during his tour there.

Early in 1944 he entered the Army and served at Fort Sill, Okla., and Camp Wolters, Tex., until his discharge in early 1945 at Fitzsimmons General Hospital, Denver, with a lung infection diagnosed as "desert fever." The ailment was contracted during a visit to the San Joaquin Valley of California, Rainbolt believes. He recovered quickly, and the infection is not recurrent.

Following his Army discharge, the Border Patrol sent Rainbolt to Queretaro, then to Alpine, and later he was put in charge of the detachments at Marfa and Sanderson. He went back to Pecos in 1949 and received his Cleveland assignment in February, 1951.

He was transferred to Big Spring from Cleveland in January, 1953, and has been in charge of the BP detachment here since that time. In this area, Rainbolt and four other inspectors constantly comb a 15-county territory for Mexican and other aliens. They pick up an average of about 60 "wetbacks" per month, with an occasional Canadian or European alien turning up. Rainbolt says 60 to 75 per cent of the patrolmen's time is spent "working on information"—looking for someone they know is an alien and think is in this area. The rest of their time is spent checking persons who arouse their suspicions.

Manner of walk, dress and the general air of "wetbacks" are the clues in the Border Patrolman's work. Rainbolt says an alien from the hills of Mexico is easy to spot because of his "bent-kneed walk." A bracero (legal resident) and wetback wear different facial expressions, and the failure to look an officer in the eye has resulted in the apprehension of many of these illegal immigrants.

Other Patrol inspectors here are Charlie Henderson and Lige Embury, Walter Edwards and Marvin Butler are assigned to this station, but both are on detached service at present.

Inspector and Mrs. Rainbolt reside at 1104 Marjio. Their two sons are Richard, 9, and Billy, 7. Twin daughters are Lucette and Lucinda, 5.

Rainbolt considers his work his hobby. Off duty hours he spends studying or assisting other local law enforcement agencies.

Community Band Plays At Rodeo

Music for this year's rodeo production comes from a bunch of musicians who play for the pure fun of playing.

They constitute the "community band," an informal organization promoted this summer by H. Clyde Rowe, high school band director. Rowe conceived the idea that there were a lot of former band members who would welcome the experience of getting together once a week just to play a few solid marches and melodious overtures. He put out an invitation, and numbers of them turned out. Together with several high school musicians who also wanted to keep the touch during the summer, they made up the band.

The band marched in the rodeo parade Wednesday and each evening it provides background music for some of the acts, as well as "fill-in" between acts.

"We'll play a bunch of Sousa and K. L. King marches, a lot of gallops and lively stuff, just good standard fare," said Rowe.

Rowe said about half the band personnel of around 40 players were old timers, college boys who want to keep playing during the summer and others who want to keep the touch. The remainder are high school bandmen from here and Coahoma.

The schedule calls for them to be at the grounds at 7:15 p.m. daily, play a half hour concert starting at 7:30 p.m. and then play interlude and take-up-the-slack music during the show.

Finally Wins Bet, But Loses Life

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Delmar R. Willingham, 38-year-old painter, won 50 cents yesterday but lost his life. He leaped from the Anthony Wayne bridge into the Maumee River on a bet and drowned.

Willingham lost a game of pool and then two games of shuffleboard to a drinking companion, Niles Niemi, whom he had met several hours earlier at a tavern here, police said.

"There must be something I can beat you at," Willingham told his companion. "I'll bet you I can jump off the bridge."

The two rode to the bridge and Willingham then dove off, yelling: "It's a long way to Tipperary," police said.

Pendergast Element Beaten In Primary

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Pendergast faction of the Democratic party in the Kansas City area was beaten in nomination races for all of the eight major county offices Tuesday.

The faction is headed by James M. Pendergast. He inherited it from his uncle, Tom Pendergast, Kansas City political boss who died a decade ago.

Fisherman's Car Riddled By Slugs

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Three "Dan'l Boones" couldn't find a b'ar to test their marksmanship on yesterday.

So they riddled Frank Jagsarszewski's automobile with nine .45-caliber automatic slugs and 10 from a .22-caliber rifle, peppering the right tires, rear glass and right side.

He said he noticed three men shooting at a nearby tree when he parked to go fishing in the Ohio River. He returned to find his car shot up and the men gone.

Bees Get Orders To Buzz Elsewhere

HACKENSACK, N.J. (AP)—Honey bees, who have found a happy hunting ground among the bare-skinned at the Arcola Pool, better carry on their buzz business somewhere else in the future.

The pool obtained a temporary injunction against the nearby Tally Ho Inn, where five bee hives are kept, ordering the Inn owners to show cause why they should not confine the bees to their own back yard.

Pool operators claimed the bees have stung 40 bathers.

Tractor Wheel Stops On Youth

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (AP)—"I didn't feel so good. I was awfully scared."

That is what eight-year-old James C. O'Shea of Council Bluffs had to say about having a wheel of a 2,500 pound tractor parked on his chest.

James said it happened when his pants leg caught in the sprocket chain of his bicycle.

"I took one foot off the bike and tried to get my pants loose," James related. The next thing he knew he was off the bike and under the tractor.

Can't Give 'Em All Time They Earned

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Police Chief Dick Runyan has a problem. Twelve of his men have won three days off each.

Runyan has a standing offer that an officer who catches a burglar at work gets three days off with pay.

As shifts were being changed at the station Monday, a call came in reporting a burglary under way. Officers from both shifts rushed to the scene and arrested three youths. A dozen patrolmen and detectives took part.

"I can't give them all time off," Runyan said. "I'll have to let them draw from a hat or something."

MRS. NINNIE LILLA BAIRD

Chairman Of Board Still Makes Quilts

The chairman of the board for the world's largest independent baking concern finds time to piece quilts. At 85, she also helps with the housework.

She is Mrs. Ninnie Lilla Baird, founder of Mrs. Baird's Bakeries, Inc.

Mrs. Baird loves the kitchen and her fondness for baking provided a livelihood for her eight children and her husband, the late W. A. Baird, after he became too ill to work in 1908. The small business she started in Fort Worth expanded into four bread plants and a cake plant which today serve an area including approximately one-half of Texas' 7,700,000 residents.

Mrs. Baird was born Ninnie Lilla Harrison on May 23, 1869 in Tennessee. Her mother died when she was four and her father when she was 12.

She went to live with an invalid aunt in Trenton, Miss., and as a young girl helping with the housework, sewing and cooking she developed her skill at baking.

When she was 17 she married W. A. Baird. The couple ran a small bakery near Covington, Tenn., for a time and moved to Fort Worth in 1901.

They operated a small lunch stand near the T&P station in Fort Worth and Mrs. Baird earned a reputation throughout the neighborhood for baking good bread, which neighbors frequently asked to purchase.

In 1908 her husband became unable to work and Mrs. Baird decided to go into the baking business. She purchased a small, wood-fired oven from a hotel, enlarged her kitchen and soon was turning out 40 loaves at a time.

Her four sons—Deward, Hoyt, Roland and C. B.—helped with the baking and made deliveries each afternoon after school. Mrs. Baird's four daughters, Beasie Lorine, Marjorie and Ruth, took care of the housework.

Mr. Baird died in 1911 and the complete load of providing for the family fell on Mrs. Baird.

"All I wanted to do then," she recalls, "was to make a home and living for my children."

"Do your best, be honest," she taught them.

Mrs. Baird's little business prospered and soon a horse and wagon were purchased to assist with the deliveries. A little wooden building was erected in the back yard to house her first delivery truck. During World War I she built her first plant and went into the wholesale bread business.

In 1928, a plant was opened in Dallas under the supervision of son Roland W. Baird. In 1938, Mrs. Baird established a plant in Houston under direction of Deward.

Also that year, the Fort Worth establishment moved into a new and larger plant which was managed by Hoyt, and the old Fort Worth plant was devoted exclusively to cakes under the direction of the youngest son, C. B.

In 1949 a new plant was built in Abilene. It is under the management of a grandson, William D. Baird. Then, in 1963, Mrs. Baird's Dallas operation moved into a new building, the nation's largest exclusively-bread-baking plant.

The family still operates the five plants, with Mrs. Baird serving as chairman of the board. She spends much of her time at home, helping with the housework, piecing quilts and doing other handwork for two orphans. She is a member of the College Avenue Baptist Church in Fort Worth.

Culberson Plans To Retire At End Of Present Term

THROCKMORTON, Tex. (AP)—Olin Culberson says he plans to retire from the Texas Railroad Commission when his present 6-year term ends in 1958.

Culberson has been a commissioner since 1941. He made the remark at the opening of the Manning-Harrington Unit Water Flood Plant and Injection Plant six miles northwest of here.

In March, 1950, Culberson announced for Governor, but a heart attack the next month forced him from the race. He said he would continue living in Austin after retiring.

Shivers, Foe Expenses Close

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers and Ralph Yarborough, opponents in the run-off contest for governor, ran a close race in campaign spending as well as in the voting returns in the first primary.

Final reports to the secretary of state on how they spent their money in the first primary showed today that Yarborough put out $152,663.22; Shivers, $144,709.74.

Shivers' sworn statement listed gifts totaling $100,508.89, a considerable part of it donated after the July 24 voting.

Yarborough reported he had received gifts amounting to $94,329.39 and had borrowed $10,000.

In the U.S. senatorial race, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's final report reflected expenditure of $5,854.11, debts of $794.65, and no gifts. The report of Dudley T. Dougherty, whom Johnson defeated by an overwhelming majority, had not yet been received by the secretary of state, but an earlier statement on spending showed an outlay of $99,825 by Dougherty. He also had reported receipt of $24,623 in gifts.

First statements of spending by candidates involved in run-offs are due between Aug. 8 and Aug. 23. The law requiring itemization of expenditures and gifts is designed to make available to the public how much is being spent in behalf of a candidate and by whom his race is financially supported.

'Corporal' Unit To Go To Europe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army has announced that its first battalion equipped with "Corporal" guided missiles will be sent to Europe soon.

The battalion has 10 launchers for the big missiles that can be armed with either atomic or conventional warheads. With a range of at least 100 miles the Corporal can be guided to its target at a speed several times that of sound. The unit destined for Europe is the 259th Field Artillery Battalion now completing training at Ft. Bliss, Tex. It will be assigned to U. S. Army forces in Europe and train and maneuver with forces of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The guided missile unit follows the earlier assignment there of five battalions of the Army's new 280mm atomic cannon. Each A-gun battalion contains six of the big weapons.

Area Cowhands Showed Latins How It's Done

It was 40 years ago when a group of adventurous cowboys from Midland took it upon themselves to educate the folks in South America about how things are handled in Texas.

The late Spencer Jewell, father of Midland's J. Holt Jewell, and W. D. Connell went to Buenos Aires in 1905 to look over the possibilities of settling in that part of the world. They were not absolutely sold on the idea that South America was any better than Texas as a place to settle in, but they made some friends and couldn't help telling those friends about Texas ways.

South Americans were amazed when the Midland men described Texas habits and ways of handling horses and cattle. One thing led to another and Jewell and Connell were told if they could produce cowboys who could perform according to the Midlanders' descriptions, there was plenty of South American money to be made.

While Connell remained in Buenos Aires, Jewell returned to West Texas, gathered up a crew of top waddies including the famed Clay McCosgill, then the world's champion roper and bronco buster and Joe Gardner, also an expert roper and rider.

Other hands were Ira Driver, now of Big Spring; Len Driver and Joe Hooker, all expert ropers and bronco riders. Another who went was Bill Pickett, the Negro bulldogger who became famous over all the world as a member of Col. Zach Miller's 101 Ranch show. Pickett was renowned for his trick riding from his horse at lightning speed, pouncing upon the neck of a steer and throwing him into the ground by digging his teeth into the steer's nose.

For almost a year the Texas men treated South Americans to such a

BULLDOGGER SETS RECORD

What was claimed as a new world's championship record in bulldogging was turned in last year at the third performance of the Big Spring Reunion Rodeo, when Bill Ages of Amarillo caught and downed his steer in 2.7 seconds.

Up until that performance the fastest 'dogging time in the rodeo had been the six seconds scored by Monk Crawford of Big Spring at the opening performance.

But other fast times started piling up that Friday evening last year, any one of which would have beat Crawford for the first place in time.

Paul Lanning of Kilren downed his steer in 3.4 seconds. The flag dropped on the bulldogging of Lawrence Carey of Mineral Wells to stop the watches at 4.7 seconds, and Slim Emmert of Shamrock was close behind with a time of 5.6 seconds.

The 23-room home, Sagamore Hill, built by Theodore Roosevelt in 1884, has been opened to the public as a shrine for the former President.

Insects Could Make Cotton Crop Expensive

Cotton insects last year destroyed more than $62 million worth of lint and cotton seed in Texas. They are busy now and coupled with dry weather could make the 1954 crop an expensive one.

Last year's loss amounted to an estimated 342,000 bales of lint and approximately 142,000 tons of cottonseed, says Freeman Fuller Jr., assistant extension entomologist. The figures were developed by the National Cotton Council from basic data released earlier by the USDA, reports the specialist.

The top "culprit in the cotton patch" last year was the boll weevil and was responsible for reducing yields by an estimated two per cent. All other cotton insects raised the total loss to five per cent for the state.

A review of the figures, Fuller says, shows that Texas Cotton producers are doing one of the better control jobs in the nation. Only California, New Mexico, Arizona and Missouri show a lower percentage of the crop lost to insects.

The loss for the nation amounted to almost $261 million in both lint and cottonseed and is slightly below the total damage done in 1952.

Fuller suggests that farmers continue to keep a close check on the cotton insect population by making frequent field inspections. Should infestations develop to the damaging point, control measures become a must. The intervals between applications and the thoroughness of the job done, he emphasizes become very important factors in stopping insect outbreaks. Any recommended insecticide, he adds, will give good control if properly applied.

Finally, he suggests, farmers may secure information on insect identification, insecticides and their use from any Texas county agricultural agent.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation to end federal supervision over the Alabama and Coushatta Indian tribes in Polk County, Tex., was passed by the House yesterday. The bill goes to the Senate for conferences on proposed minor amendments.

Papers Okay, But No License For Pal

DETROIT (AP)—Women screamed, tables flew and there was an awful rumpus at police headquarters yesterday, but Miss Moore, 18, didn't get his pal's driver's license.

Moore had all the credentials—even his friend Ivan Buford Harmon's wallet.

Everything went smoothly when Moore identified himself as Harmon until he signed his buddy's signature. A patrolman spotted the difference in handwriting and bedlam broke loose.

Desks were overturned by Moore, chained poles to keep crowds in line were scattered and the crowd was in a frenzy until Moore was subdued.

Moore, who was held for fraudulently obtaining an operator's license, said he didn't think his pal could pass the written test.

Calves Will Run Toward Feed Pens

Last year for the first time at the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion Rodeo the roping calves were released to the ropers at the south end of the arena.

The plan was so successful that it is being used again this year.

Rodeo cattle, like other cattle, are notorious for running for the pens in which they have been fed. Calves released from the north end of the arena (where the feed pens are) have had the habit of cutting back toward the hay racks. By releasing them at the other end they make a long run down the arena giving the roper a better chance to get his loop on them and giving the spectators a better show.

Savories Something New For Snacktime

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Serve a savory when you bring guests cool porch or garden refreshments this summer.
In England a savory means "a small dish or a course, usually served at the end of a dinner in contrast to the sweet, consisting of a highly seasoned concoction." Americans serve their savories as afternoon or evening pickups, or before a meal — any time, that is, except as a last course at dinner! In England, too, a savory may mean something as elaborate and filling as a cheese fondue; in the United States, we are more likely to use the word for well-seasoned spreads or other foods served on a base of toast, crackers or pastry.

Market shelves are full of possibilities for savories and kipper snacks, from Norway, are one of the most interesting and inexpensive of these. Recently we made three different savories from these thrifty kipper snacks with pleasing results. Here are the recipes.

CREAM CHEESE AND KIPPER SAVORIES

Ingredients:
1 3/4-ounce can Norway kipper snacks
1 5-ounce package cream cheese
1 1/2 teaspoons finely grated onion (pulp and juice)
salt and freshly-ground pepper small round crackers
pimiento-stuffed olives

Method:
Lift kippers from oil in can carefully; scrape off skin with small sharp knife; mash kippers. Add cream cheese and onion; mix thoroughly. Add salt and pepper to taste. Makes about 1/2 cup; use 1 tablespoon of the spread to mound on a cracker; garnish with a thin mound of olive. Makes 12 savories.

KIPPER TOAST SAVORIES

Ingredients:
1 3/4-ounce can Norway kipper snacks
2 tablespoons mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type relish sandwich spread
8 slices bread
butter or margarine
2 tablespoons tomato catchup

Method:
Lift kippers from oil in can carefully; scrape off skin with small sharp knife; mash kippers. Add mayonnaise; mix thoroughly. Makes 1/2 cup. Toast bread lightly and spread with butter at once. Quickly spread each slice of buttered toast with 1 tablespoon of the kipper mixture; cut each toast slice into 3 finger lengths. Dribble 1/4 teaspoon of catchup down center of each toast finger. Serve at once; or keep warm for short length of time. Makes 24 savories.

Broiled Kipper Savories

Ingredients:
1 3/4-ounce can Norway kipper snacks
16 square salted crackers (2 by 2 inches)
3 small tomatoes

Method:
If desired, remove crusts from

Eating Meat Can Help Beat The Heat

When the heat and humidity are getting you down, you'll feel better if you eat plenty of meat and other protein foods (chicken, fish, milk, eggs and cheese).

Don't try to get by on skimpy.

Cool, Green Dessert Made From Avocado

Avocados form the basis of this cool green dessert which originated in Brazil.

CREME DE AVOCADO

Ingredients:
4 ripe avocados
1 tablespoon lime juice
1/2 cup sugar

Method:
Mash avocados with fork; put through food mill or sieve. Add lime juice and sugar. Mix thoroughly. Spoon into freezing tray of automatic refrigerator; chill until icy cold but not frozen. For variations, add any one of the following ingredients before chilling: 1/2 cup vanilla ice cream, one teaspoon creme de cacao or one finger curacao. Makes five or six servings.

1/4 pound ready-sliced cheddar cheese
paprika
Method:
Lift kippers from oil in can carefully; scrape off skin with small sharp knife; flake with a fork. Butter crackers; sprinkle each with about 1 teaspoon flaked kipper; top with a slice of tomato and a small square of cheese; dust with paprika. Broil until cheese melts. Serve at once. Makes 16 savories.

MRS. CURTIS DRIVER

Tuna Fish Salad Goes Way Of All Hot Dogs

That old summer faithful, tuna fish salad, undergoes a new treatment in the recipe Mrs. Curtis Driver, 804 Birdwell, gave us for pepping up the summer menu.

The Driver boys, Charles and Curtis Handley, are sold on it. That may be because the tuna is dolled up like hot dogs. In fact it's called Tuna Salad Coney and it can be fixed ahead of time, popped into the ice box and then just heated when meal time arrives.

Mrs. Driver latched onto the recipe when she visited her sister in Ponca City, Okla., which is also her old hometown.

President of the Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church for two years, Mrs. Driver says she has no hobbies except the two school age boys.

And she admits she's not one of those people who just love to cook. But her two healthy boys look as if they have thrived on her cooking whether she likes doing it or not.

TUNA SALAD CONEYS

Ingredients:
1/2 pound American cheese (1 cup grated)
3 hard-cooked eggs (chopped)
1 7-ounce can tuna (flaked)
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped stuffed olives
2 tablespoons chopped sweet pickle (relish)
1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
6 hot dog buns

Method:
Combine ingredients (except buns). Mix lightly. Split buns and fill. Wrap buns in aluminum foil. Place in slow oven (250) about 30 minutes. Serve hot. Fills 6 large buns generously.

Wondering How To Make Guacamole?

Avocado serves as the base of a number of tasty dips suitable for potato chips, pretzels, wheat wafers, buttery round crackers or square salty crackers.

GUACAMOLE DIP

Ingredients:
1 avocado
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon minced onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper
1 clove garlic
Mayonnaise

Method:
Mash pulp of peeled avocado. Stir in lemon juice immediately to prevent discoloration. Add minced onion, salt, Worcestershire sauce, cayenne pepper, a sprinkling of freshly ground black pepper and clove garlic, mashed, if desired. Mix well. Cover with thin layer of mayonnaise to prevent discoloration. Just before serving, stir in mayonnaise. A little cooked, crumbled bacon and fresh, diced tomato may be added also. Garnish with pieces of fresh tomato, canned pimiento or crumbled bacon. Makes about one cup. For a crunchy spread, add one-third cup finely chopped roasted almonds.

More Texas Trade

The first shipment of Hawaiian raw sugar into Texas in 18 years is shown being unloaded at Galveston for Imperial Sugar Company at Sugar Land, Texas, only sugar refinery. The cargo represents a significant upturn in the state's import-export activity with Hawaii and the Far East. Imperial is one of Texas' largest single importers, paying nearly $3,000,000 annually in duties on raw sugars from Cuba and Puerto Rico.

We're Clowning, But It's A Cake

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Advice to Mothers: Turn kitchen artist and make a wonderful clown cake for a small-fry party.

A friend of ours first encountered this cake at a preschool birthday party. After we tried it in our own kitchen, and it was taste-tested with glee by both young and old, we had a notion to send it traveling.

First you bake a conventional butter-type cake—the light chocolate variety youngsters like—in an oblong pan, and cover the cake with a fluffy white frosting. You probably have made this frosting before, but we are giving you the recipe for convenience sake. Next step is to mark off the clown shape with more of the white frosting, using a cake decorator. Now you pile some of the fluffy frosting inside the clown to make him fat and billowy. At this point, a thin line of chocolate frosting goes around the clown so there is no mistaking him. Finally, morsels of semi-sweet chocolate polka-dot his suit, and five "sourball balloons" float aloft in each hand. Or use red and green maraschino cherries, as our teenage nephew did, when he helped decorate our cake.

To carry out the circus theme at your small-fry party, you might have the youngsters play "Pin the Tail on the Circus Animal." Of course, the winner gets a box of animal crackers. We know the pin-the-tail game is as old as the hills, but we have yet to see a preschooler who didn't adore it. Set your bias aside and let the kids take over.

Small dime-store animals make fine favors for the party table. Or you can decorate paper cups with animal cutouts and fill them with sourballs.

If you serve sandwiches before the cake, you might cut raisin bread into animal shapes with a cookie cutter and tint cream cheese pink for the filling. And don't, under any circumstances, forget the pink lemonade! Pour it into decorative mugs, if you have some, or use paper cups; in either case add candy-stick stirrers.

CLOWN CAKE

Ingredients:
2 cups sifted cake flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
2 egg yolks
1 cup milk
Fluffy White Frosting
Chocolate Decorating Frosting
Extra semi-sweet chocolate pieces

Try These Tips For Tastier Canapes

Canapes and hors d'oeuvres should be small and dainty and, if they are to be eaten with the fingers, easily handled. They may be served together in a special dish divided into compartments or on a tray. Place those of the same type together.

Cut a cantaloupe, grapefruit, apple, or pineapple in half, place the halves flat side down on the tray, and stud them with hors d'oeuvres on toothpicks and surround them with canapes. If pineapple is used, allow the leaves to protrude, and decorate each with a maraschino cherry.

Hollow a large apple, fill it with mayonnaise, and surround it with cooked shrimp on cocktail picks for dipping. Or fill other fruit shells with anchovy paste and surround them with potato chips for dipping.

CHOCOLATE DECORATING FROSTING

Melt one-half of a 6-ounce package (1/2 cup) semi-sweet chocolate pieces and 1 1/2 teaspoons shortening over hot (not boiling) water. Remove from heat. Stir in 3 tablespoons evaporated milk and 1/2 cup sifted confectioners' sugar; beat until smooth.

Cold Cuts Can Be Distinctive

Besides being good fare for dinner parties, cold cuts come to the fore in main dish salads, casseroles and sandwiches. Here are examples of the distinctive ways you can use cold cuts for family or guest dishes:

1. Add strips of meat (bologna, salami or summer sausage, for example) to a tossed salad to give it color and flavor appeal as well as added nutritive value.

2. Roll bologna, spiced ham or veal loaf to form cornucopias; secure with a toothpick. Fill with cottage cheese, potato salad, cold baked beans or coleslaw.

3. For sandwiches, combine one or more of the following with your choice of cold cuts, finely chopped or ground: chopped pickles, onion, celery, grated carrot, grated cheese, chopped hard cooked egg, mustard or horseradish and mayonnaise to moisten.

4. In a little hot fat, fry sliced bologna until edges curl. Fill with hot potato salad, scrambled eggs, creamed potatoes or baked beans.

5. Add cubes of your favorite cold cut to potato or macaroni salad.

6. Fry liver sausage or braunschweiger in a little hot fat. Serve in toasted buns with fried onion slices and a sliced dill pickle.

Colombia Assembly Re-Elects Leader

BOGOTA, Colombia — Colombia's National Constituent Assembly overwhelmingly voted last night to continue Gustavo Rojas Pinilla as the nation's President for the next four years. He ran against ousted President Laurean Gomez, in exile in Spain. Rojas Pinilla received 65 votes against 8 for Gomez. Both are Conservatives.

Twenty of the 34 Liberal deputies in the Assembly boycotted the election. The other 14 voted for the winning candidate.

Rojas Pinilla was army commander under Gomez until he seized power in a bloodless coup in June, 1953. The Assembly then authorized him to occupy the presidency until Aug. 7 this year, when Gomez' term would have expired.

Russian Economy Advancing, Latest U. S. Analysis Shows

By TOM WHITNEY

NEW YORK (AP)—There are soft spots in the Soviet economy which are giving headaches to Soviet leaders, but Russia nevertheless continues to count impressive industrial gains.

Analysis of the latest official statistical report issued in Moscow a few days ago gives no reason for believing there has been any slowdown in the U.S.S.R.'s economic-military buildup.

While continuing to stress heavily the branches of industry which contribute most directly to arms production and war strength, the Soviet government has succeeded during the past half year in turning out considerably more durable consumer goods for its people, including some appliances.

Here are some of the most important known facts about the Soviet industrial economy:

The Russians say they increased total industrial output in the first half of 1954 by 14 per cent over the first half of 1953. For a country already the second industrial power on earth, such an increase of output—the same as that maintained for 1953 over 1952—is big.

Calculations show Soviet steel production should rise this year by a little over three million tons, bringing production in 1954 up to 41 metric tons.

Soviet coal output in 1954 should run close to 350 million metric tons. U.S. production last year was about 435 million. Soviet electric power output in 1954 looks to be about 145 billion kilowatt hours. America's 1953 production was 514 billions.

To assure continuance of this pace of industrial development, the Soviet government is increasing its already enormous rate of capital investment in industry. Well over three-fourths of the new funds are going into heavy industry, which produces war materials, capital investment goods and raw materials, fuel and power with which to produce these things.

But the consumer was not forgotten.

Production of television sets in the first half of 1954 rose by nearly three times over the same period of 1953. In the same period output of radio sets more than doubled, refrigerators more than tripled, vacuum cleaners more than quadrupled. Output of other durable consumer goods also increased by big margins. Such spectacular increases could be scored simply because output previously was not high. It still is very low by American standards, but it is now a start to something big.

Output of such consumer goods as foodstuffs, textiles, clothes and footwear—of much greater importance to Soviet consumers—also increased, but by much more modest margins.

Against the Soviet gains, there were negative aspects to the working of the economy in the first half of 1954.

The government failed to meet planned reduction in costs of industrial production. General costs of output fell by only 3 per cent, even though labor productivity, it is claimed, rose by 7½ per cent. Unless this situation is corrected by year's end, it will endanger the government's system of annual retail price cuts.

Three important ministries, overseeing production of timber, fish, and meat and dairy products, failed by wide margins to fulfill their production plans. Railway transport in the first half of the year couldn't keep up with its car-loading plan.

Production of pig iron fell below the quota, increasing by only 6 per cent over the first half of 1953. Schedules for production of freight cars and passenger autos were not met. Output of dyes, synthetic rubber, cotton cloths, rubber footwear and processed meat increased over the first half of 1953 by only the barest of margins.
