Toll Reduced In 'Death Corridors'

State's Selective Traffic Enforcement Gets Results

AUSTIN, Jan. 28 (AP)—Pioneering in selective traffic enforcement, Texas last year reduced road deaths 57 per cent along 19 highway "death corridors," state police said today.

Official figures for 1938 showed 134 deaths compared to 315 in the previous year on these sectors of high accident highways.

Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the public safety department, said Texas is the only state known to depend almost entirely on this method of enforcement—concentrating officers on segments of roads with the biggest toll of human life in previous years.

Patrolmen police 22,900 miles of Texas highways for which the unofficial 1938 death toll was 1,609, approximately a 22.5 per cent reduction under 1937.

The comparative 1937 and 1938 death records for the 19 high accident sectors:

- Dallas to Fort Worth, 24 and 4.
- San Antonio to San Marcos, 23 and 12.
- Georgetown to Troy, 19 to 8.
- Greenville to Dallas, 14 and 5.
- Wichita Falls to Vernon, 10 to 1.

EARL KENNEDY FAMILY INCREASED AS ORPHANED NIECES ADOPTED

Here is the first picture taken of the new family of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kennedy, Miles farm couple who have adopted the three orphaned daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kennedy, slain by Frank Salazar who Wednesday at Sweetwater was assessed death in the electric chair for the crime. Standing are Mr. Kennedy and his elder son, Wendell, 16. Seated, from left to right, are Mrs. Kennedy; adopted daughters, Faye, 4, Imogene, 10, and Wilma, 16; and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kennedy's youngest son, Donald, 13. The couple has another daughter, Evelyn, 18, now attending college in San Marcos. Faye still wears a bandage over one of the skull fractures wrought by Salazar's bludgeoning the night of Dec. 15. Imogene volunteered to the photographer she didn't want to smile "because my teeth were knocked out." Wilma smiled as she laid aside two more letters, adding to a long series she has had offering jobs and adoption. She said she is going to get her high school diploma first and then may study to be a nurse. Seventy-five neighbors gathered at the Kennedy farm Thursday with 18 tractors and plowed 241 acres of land to help Mr. Kennedy "catch up."

Increase In Assets Of Nearly Six Million Reported During 1938 By Southwestern Life Insurance Co.

An increase in assets of $5,777,727, the largest in its thirty-six years' history, was made by Southwestern Life Insurance company during 1938, according to C. F. O'Donnell, president. The company's annual financial statement shows total assets of $51,200,259. A comparison with last year's statement shows that the Southwestern invested heavily during 1938 in United States government bonds and in bonds of Texas cities and counties. The increase in these items accounts for the greater part of the gain in assets. With more than $29,000,000 now invested in bonds, O'Donnell said that his company had continued its record of never having had a default of either interest or principal on any bond. "The company's bonds are worth at current market prices $2,226,519 more than their book value," he said. During 1938 the company gained insurance of $19,564,935, bringing the total to $342,617,326. "Southwestern Life is now the second largest company in the South writing ordinary insurance only," said O'Donnell. "Measured by amount of capital, it is fifth in size in the United States."

Levine Store Is Moving To San Angelo

Sam Fisherman Purchases Lease And Fixtures

J. W. Nelson, manager of the Levine store here, Saturday announced sale of the firm's lease and fixtures to Sam Fisherman, pioneer Big Spring merchant. According to Nelson, the store will be vacated as soon as stock on hand can be disposed of, which will be about March 1. The local Levine unit is moving to San Angelo where a larger building than the site here is now in remodeling stages. The new store, officials say, will be one of the most modern in their entire system and will carry better quality merchandise in all departments. As soon as the Main street store is vacated, Sam Fisherman will begin filling the building with a complete stock of new spring wearing apparel for men, women and children. A large piece goods department will also be featured. "Our new location will see a complete change in the type of merchandise formerly carried by us," Fisherman said Saturday. "We'll carry nothing but better class stock throughout, but our buying will be in such quantities that we'll be able to offer most attractive retail prices in all lines." He will announce opening of his new location early in March. At San Angelo, Nelson will head the new Levine store. Accompanying him to that location from the Big Spring store will be M. V. Smith, in charge of the men's department, and Miss Eva Cohen, ladies ready-to-wear buyer.

BIG FLOOD CONTROL PROGRAM PLANNED FOR LOUISIANA

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28 (AP)—Wade O. Martin, chairman of the Louisiana flood control and water conservation commission, just back from Washington, today projected a huge flood control and drainage program for Louisiana that he said in its entirety might involve $100,000,000 and affect several states. Martin said a meeting had been called for February 17 at Monroe, La., to discuss the proposed program and that legislators and other officials of five states would be invited to attend. The states involved are Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma and Missouri. He said the combined project would make it possible to tap the Red river and bring down water in such quantities as to prevent backing of salt water from the gulf.

Mrs. O'Daniel Has Added 'Home' Atmosphere To Austin Mansion

By PEGGY HARDING LEE
AUSTIN, Jan. 28 (AP)—The O'Daniels are at home.

In the short space of the busiest 10 days in her life, Mrs. W. Lee O'Daniel, first mother of the state, has created in the old governor's mansion a family home permeated by an atmosphere of friendliness and informal hospitality. Personal belongings added to the ornate furnishings of the high-ceiled reception rooms have brought a breath of home into the time-honored parlors. Potted plants, cut flowers and books lying around on tables are homely touches, relieving the formality.

For though Mrs. O'Daniel may be first lady of the state, she is first the wife of W. Lee O'Daniel and the mother of those three gay children, Mike, Pat and Molly. It is to make the mansion a home for them that she has found time to deposit some of their belongings over the place.

In addition, Mrs. O'Daniel, cultured and poised, has been making plans for the entertainment schedule at the mansion. The first night affair there will be a reception for the legislators and their wives about the middle of February. This party and all other functions at the mansion, Mrs. O'Daniel said, will be informal for the men. Tuxedos will at no time be compulsory. This is in line with the informal note set by the governor in wearing a business suit to his inaugural reception.

Other plans for the social side of mansion life include a number of teas Mrs. O'Daniel is planning. The hospitality of the mansion to Texans will continue with daily open house as has been the custom for years. Each day, excluding Sunday, the mansion will be open from 2 to 5 p. m. for those wishing to be shown through the historic residence. While the callers are having items of interest explained to them, they will be accompanied, if at all possible, by some member of the O'Daniel family.

All three of the younger O'Daniels will be college students as Molly has decided not to wait until September to enter the university.

Would Transfer Glasscock Cases To Dist. Court

Herald Austin Bureau
AUSTIN, Jan. 28—Rep. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo has introduced a bill in the legislature to transfer jurisdiction of the county court of Glasscock county over civil and criminal cases to the district court.

The measure was recommended by County Judge O. W. Crouch of Garden City as an economy move. Civil and criminal dockets of the county court are unusually light. The county court's jurisdiction would be limited to probate matters, appointment of guardians, granting of letters of administration, and other similar work.

Both District Judge Cecil C. Collings and District Attorney Martelle McDonald of Big Spring, who will assume jurisdiction over cases now tried in the lower court under provisions of the bill, have given their approval. "I think it will save Glasscock county some money, and will not increase our work beyond the point of being able to handle same," Judge Collings said in a letter to Hardeman.

Sen. H. L. Winfield of Fort Stockton will sponsor the bill in the Texas senate.

CITY LOSES IN GAS TAXATION RULING

AUSTIN, Jan. 28 (AP)—District Judge J. D. Moore ruled today municipalities were not exempt from state taxation on gasoline brought into Texas from other states for their own use. The ruling was against the city of El Paso, with judgment of $3,286.30 in favor of the state. The municipality gave notice of appeal. The city of El Paso, which imported its gasoline from New Mexico, claimed it was not a distributor of the motor fuel, hence was not liable for the tax.

TAX ON BACHELORS WOULD PROVIDE A SPINSTER'S FUND

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 28 (AP)—State Senator H. J. Lovelace said today he planned to introduce a bill in the Tennessee legislature placing an annual tax of $1,000 on bachelors and—of all things—let the money go into a fund for pensioning old maids. There was little hope of administration backing for the bill. Both Gov. Prentice Cooper and Senate Speaker Elan Maxwell, are bachelors.

Convicted In Wife's Death

Physician Sentenced To Die For 'Love Affair' Slaying

TUCUMCARI, N. M., Jan. 28 (AP)—Pictured by the state as an elderly male Borgia, who poisoned his wife for the love of an auburn-haired cafe waitress, Dr. John H. Sanford was convicted today of first degree murder and sentenced to die April 21 in New Mexico's electric chair. Sanford, twice mayor of Santa Rosa where he achieved prominence in 20 years of practice, was found guilty by a jury which deliberated five and a half hours after hearing his calm denial of murder or more than professional interest in the young woman alleged to have claimed his love. Dr. Sanford calmly accepted the jury's decision that upheld the state's contention that he put poison in his 47-year-old wife's coffee so he might be free to continue an illicit love affair. But his composure crumbled as he stepped before District Judge Harry Patton to hear his fate. Trembling, he leaned on a table, closed his eyes and said in a husky voice: "Your honor, before my God, I have not poisoned my wife." Attorney James Briscoe and Harry Blattman advised Judge Patton they would appeal. Mrs. Sanford, comely Santa Rosa clubwoman, became ill last July 14, and died nine days later in a Tucumcari hospital. Officials ordered an exhumation in September. Enough of a common poison "to kill 15 persons" was found in her viscera, technical witnesses said. Pictured as a "Jekyll and Hyde"

REV. CURTIS GOES TO PASTORATE AT SEMINOLE

A former resident of Big Spring, Rev. O. C. Curtis, has assumed pastorate of the First Baptist church in Seminole, according to announcements received here. He went to that post from Andrews, where he had served as pastor since 1934. During his pastorate in Andrews, the church membership increased from about 50 to more than 200, and a house of worship and parsonage built. Rev. Curtis organized the Baptist Brotherhood, a popular organization with men in Andrews.

by the prosecution, Dr. Sanford was defended by his attorneys as an innocent victim of circumstances, whose wife committed suicide because of her unfounded suspicion he had been untrue to her. Projected as the "other woman" in the case was Mrs. Hallie Mae Wilson, waitress wife of a cafe worker. Her husband, Walter, testified that Dr. Sanford, after the death of his wife, avowed his love for Mrs. Wilson and asked Wilson to divorce her.

BAYLOR BEARS TAKE OVER SECOND PLACE IN SW CAGE RACE

PETE CREASY LEADER IN 44-42 WIN

HOUSTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Baylor University's Bears played superior ball beneath the baskets here tonight and nosed out Rice in a 44-42 thriller to supplant the Owls as the runnerup team in the Southwest Conference chase.

Baylor scored most of its field goals on followup shots.

Six sensational one handed long shots by Frank Carwell, Rice's sophomore guard and the league's leading scorer, and brilliant floor play and defense work by Bert Selman kept Rice in the thick of it.

Top scorer was Pete Creasy, captain and forward of the visitors, who plunked nine field goals through the hoop, all on crisp shots. Time and again Creasy managed to get behind his guard, Flacido Gomez.

Vaughn, highly touted Baylor sharpshooter, was covered in grand style by Selman. Vaughn made only one field goal, that with three minutes to play when he swished in a long shot with the score tied at 38-38.

The score was knotted at 2, 9 and 11 in the first half, and at 29, 32, 36 and then at 35 with three minutes left in the game.

Then Grady Vaughn supplied his lone basket of the game, a long shot to put the Bruins ahead, 40-38. Vaughn chipped in a free throw later but so did Carwell and it was 41-39.

Walters made a one handed shot to give the Bruins a four point lead but a free throw by Steakley cut it to two, Carwell intercepted a pass and threw to Selman, who was in the clear, and Rice was only one point behind.

With about 15 seconds to go Vaughn was fouled and made the toss and Rice had the ball out of bounds. The Owls were working the ball down the court when the game ended.

Collegians To Mat With Pro 11 Today

With O'Brien In Fold, All-Stars Favored To Win Out

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28 (AP)—Davey O'Brien of Texas Christian and Billy Patterson of Baylor, two of the greatest pass throwers of the 1938 season, match shots here tomorrow in a charity football game bringing together college stars of last year and players from the professional leagues.

The benefit contest is sponsored annually by the local chapters of the Knights of Columbus.

O'Brien, 152 pounds of gridiron dynamite and an All-American last year, will be the central figure on a squad which also includes three of his Texas Christian team mates—Ki Aldrich, center, I. B. Hale, tackle, and Johnny Hall, right halfback. O'Brien will hold down his regular left halfback berth.

Except for the four Texans and Clarence Manders, quarterback from Drake, the collegians were recruited from schools of the San Francisco bay area.

Patterson, star of the East-West game here January 2, in which he tossed the two winning touchdown passes, is the only college player of 1938 on the team assembled from professional league warriors. He will oppose O'Brien in the left halfback position.

The college all-stars were installed slight favorites today.

Texas League Change Still Is Probable

Santone Course Is Not Settled; Loop Delegates Meet

BEAUMONT, Jan. 28 (AP)—Texas league officials meeting here today to adopt the 1939 schedule were delayed in that purpose when representatives of the Dallas Steers along with William Ruggles, league statistician, were held up by a train wreck which prevented their arrival until late afternoon.

Consideration of the schedule was postponed until Sunday morning, the balance of today's program being occupied by a dinner, with the Beaumont club, 1938 champions, as host.

The wreck involved a freight ahead of the train on which the Dallas delegates were riding, and occurred near Corsicana. The train was little damaged but there was a delay of four hours before tracks were cleared.

Regardless of which several schedules under inspection is finally adopted, the opening dates on April 12 will remain the same with Fort Worth playing at Dallas, Oklahoma City at Tulsa, San Antonio at Shreveport and Beaumont at Houston. This order will be reversed to supply the visiting teams with their openers two days later with the exception of Fort Worth, Dallas moving into the Cat stronghold on April 13 instead of April 14.

July Fourth will find San Antonio at Shreveport, Houston at Beaumont, Dallas at Fort Worth and Tulsa at Oklahoma City in double header programs and on Labor Day exactly the reverse will be the schedule.

All informal discussion occurring during the meeting accepted San Antonio's presence in the league as a settled fact although the remote possibility that the Missions franchise might be moved still existed in view of the continued bargaining at San Antonio over rental of the park owned by the schoolboard and operated by the St. Louis Browns.

A crowd of about 15,000 poured $507,713 through the mutual machines.

The Connecticut sportsman's combination of Maerial and Go Home was held at $26.60 for each $2 win ticket. Mrs. B. F. Whitaker's Sickle T., a slight favorite, finished fourth behind.

Francisco, representing the Dan farm of John Galbreath, just failed to overhaul Maerial in the stretch drive.

Mrs. Payne Whitney's speedy Cherry Jam led the field of three-year-olds which handed Incoelda her defeat in the Shenandoah purse.

Yesterday a Baby Was Born

On your block, or a short way down the street, is a new baby to help make Big Spring a better place in which to live.

The proud parents months ago began planning for the extra clothing and furniture needed for this new citizen. You can be sure advertisements helped! Now they are reading the advertisements carefully for the baby food the youngster will need . . . for his crib and blankets.

All mothers can rely on what the local merchants say because these business men are not afraid to put their names to announcements of their goods. They can be trusted to do the honorable thing in every transaction. It's a good idea to deal with folks who keep their word . . . as successful advertisers must.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—T. E. Braniff, president of Braniff Airways, Oklahoma City, Okla., when testifying before the Civil Aeronautics Authority this week during a hearing for certificates of necessity and convenience covering a proposed route between Wichita, Kas., and Pueblo, Colo., pointed out to the authority how the route would form an integral part of a proposed Braniff Airways system covering the entire central west. Supplementing its present 2,711 mile route between Chicago, Texas and the Mexican border at Brownsville, the proposed lines would create an 8,350 mile system connecting many principal mid-west cities on routes more direct than any now available. At least 26 mid-west metropolises would be benefited by the proposed system and many not heretofore connected directly with each other.

Approaching Storms On Tax Issues May Be Seen On Legislative Horizon

Sales Levy Vs. Natural Resource Impost Likely To Be The Battle

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL AUSTIN, Jan. 28 (AP)—There seems to be a lull between storms in the Texas capital where W. Lee O'Daniel is making good progress in setting up his administration and the legislature has completed organization for a four-month session. Dust from the inauguration of O'Daniel and his recommendation of a tax on commercial transactions estimated to raise from $45,000,000 to $200,000,000 a year has settled, but clouds of the sales tax versus natural resource tax controversy will be mounting soon. Unmistakable recent signals of the approaching "blow" were a proposal in the house for a much higher natural gas levy, another in the same body for substantial natural resource tax increases and a charge today by Sen. Joe L. Hill of Henderson that O'Daniel intended to backtrack on his transactions tax recommendation. Hill said he (Hill) favored a combined natural resources tax increase and a levy on incomes.

Appointment Squabble There was a rumpus last week over confirmation by the senate of Governor O'Daniel's appointments to certain state offices but this discussion probably will soon pass. Chief opposition is to his selections of Elmer M. Halle as tax commissioner and Joe Kunchick as labor commissioner, charges having been made Halle is really a resident of Kansas and Kunchick is a "company union" man. Governor O'Daniel, in addition to considering appointments, is working on another message to the legislature in which he will advocate elimination of special funds from the state's plan of handling revenue. It is plain he is devoting much time to getting acquainted with the routine of his new job, and meeting members of the legislature. There is interest in the degree of success he achieves in getting along with the legislature because of his campaign attacks on "professional politicians." However, he has reassured his desire to work harmoniously with the legislative branch. Legislators and others will be listening tomorrow when O'Daniel delivers another of his "fire-side chats"—with musical interludes—in a broadcast from the governor's mansion. They are interested especially in what he says about politics because the question has been raised whether the new governor would attempt to "apply heat to the folks back home to obtain legislative support. Appropriation Hearings Next week the house committee on appropriations starts hearings on emergency requests of state departments and institutions, and this work may be coordinated with that of the senate finance committee. Chairman Morris Roberts of the senate finance committee rapped the whole idea of emergency appropriations, declaring agencies should budget money appropriated and not run up deficiencies on the assumption the legislature would make them good. With the session now 19 days old, these trends have been noted by observers: O'Daniel has organized his office, met the legislature and, generally, seems to be doing better than many people thought he would. He has made his major appointments, with some resulting opposition. The legislature is starting work slowly, but that is normal, for in a general session there is no pressure at first. Conservatives are definitely in control of the legislature. There has been a marked absence of proposals for legislative investigations.

Joe, the pride of the fire department, is going on the block. Despite the fact that he is the department mascot, the sleek young ocelot is to be sold to the highest bidder soon. Firemen had staved off his sale for sometime but finally agreed with other city officials that a mascot of Joe's type is a little too much trouble for men in such confined quarters. Although Joe is gentle as a house cat around adults, he had developed the habit of playing too roughly with children. Because he is a curiosity, children were readily attracted to him, thus necessitating a constant watch by firemen. So if anyone wants a unusual pet of unsurpassed beauty, Joe is waiting at the fire hall for the highest bidder.

Probe Allegations Of Misconduct Against Judge NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—The department of justice, Attorney General Frank Murphy announced today, has under investigation allegations of misconduct against Federal Circuit Judge Martin T. Manton of New York, one of the nation's ranking jurists who has sat on the bench for 23 years. The department in Washington said "this investigation is to determine whether there is basis for action by federal authorities." Judge Manton held a press conference on a series of articles in the New York World-Telegram dealing with the judge's business relations. The judge said, however, he had decided against issuing a statement "until all of the articles are published, after which I will determine what to say." A justice department official in Washington said allegations against Judge Manton developed in the district attorney's office in New York City. Officials here declined comment.

Plan For Moving Alien Refugees To Texas Draws Some Frowns

AUSTIN, Jan. 28 (AP)—Any move to bring European or other alien refugees to Texas will encounter bitter opposition from some legislators. This was disclosed today when Rep. Dewitt Kinard of Fort Worth denounced a proposal of a New York banker to give a billion dollars to bring 50,000 European refugees to Texas. "I don't want 'em and I don't think the people of Texas want 'em," Kinard said. "I am going to ask the house and senate to adopt a resolution memorializing congress and the department of labor to bar these refugees from the United States, and more particularly from Texas, until our unemployed citizens are absorbed by private industry, and those on relief have been provided gainful employment. "Charity begins at home, and home, to me, is Texas," he added. Kinard cited the heavy tax burden already on the people of Texas to pay for relief, and said the proposed importation of the 50,000 refugees would only mean "that many more on the state's relief rolls." "A man does not have to go abroad to find a charitable use for his dollars," Kinard said. "I can furnish the New York banker a list of 50,000 Texas families who will welcome the opportunity to have a chance like this." Henry Santry, New York promoter announcing the proposal did not disclose the name of the New York capitalist. The promoter, envisioned tent cities in Texas sparsely settled regions where Jewish refugees would be placed. Santry said he favored a location in the Texas Panhandle.

Again Will Offer Bill On One-House Legislature

AUSTIN, Jan. 28 (AP)—The frequently-discussed unicameral legislature issue is due to make its advent into the 68th legislature. Senator G. Hobart Nelson of Lubbock said today he would introduce a proposed constitutional amendment similar to one defeated at the last regular session providing for a one-house legislature of 62 members. "I will offer my proposal again, probably within ten days," Nelson said. Nelson's proposal would call for election of two representatives from each of the 31 senatorial districts. Each member would serve four years, with an election every two years to select one member from each district. "That would give the people an opportunity to express their views on government every two years," Nelson said. The proposal calls for a salary of $5,000 per year, and provides that the job be full-time, expressly prohibiting any outside compensation or employment. Under the unicameral plan, the legislature would be in session for two years, though it would not necessarily be in assembly the entire time.

Gable And Loy Are Back At The Lyric

'Too Hot To Handle' Is Story Of High Adventure

Thrills in the strenuous life of a newswoman, and romance between Clark Gable as the adventurer of the lens and Myrna Loy as a daring aviatrix, come to the Lyric theatre in "Too Hot To Handle," dramatic story of the love of two people whose lives are a constant quest for excitement. The Sunday-Monday engagement marks a return showing here of the successful film.

Gable and Walter Pidgeon play rival newsmen covering fighting in the Orient. Constantly using trick and device to "scoop" each other, they clash when Miss Loy, as the aviatrix, attempts a "mercy flight" with serum, and Gable, barred from the field, reaches it in an ambulance but wrecks her plane. The filming of the "Chinese Big Apple," and finally Miss Loy's dash into the South American wilds to find her lost aviator brother, with Gable following with his camera, are among sensational details, also Gable's filming of a blasting liner from a plane piloted for him by Miss Loy. A special company was sent to Dutch Guiana to film location scenes for the South American episode.

Jack Conway, who directed "Viva Villa!" "Labeled Lady," "Baroness" and other hits, directed "Too Hot To Handle," which is based on a story by Len Hammond and on a screen play by Laurence Stallars, author of "The Big Parade" and "What Price Glory" and himself a veteran newswoman editor, and John Lee Mahin.

The cast includes Walter Connolly as the newswoman manager, Leo Carrillo as Gable's sound man, Johnny Hines, Virginia Weidler, Betty Ross Clark, Willie Fung and Patsy O'Connor. Hundreds of Chinese play in the Oriental scenes in which Gable, under shot and shell, films the bombing of a village.

KBST NOTES—'March Of Dimes' Program To Be Aired Today

A full-hour variety show, dedicated to the "March of Dimes" and the national drive to air sufferers of infantile paralysis, will be heard by the Texas radio audience when "The Sunday Afternoon Revue" is heard over station KBST and the Texas State Network from 4 to 5 p. m. today.

Top radio artists of the Southwest will be heard, and a special drama pertinent to the occasion will be given by the TSN players. Bob Crosby, his orchestra and his bouncing Bobcats will sound out a rhythmic clarion call—"Calling All Jitters!"—when they make a guest appearance on the Mutual network's coast-to-coast "Admission Show of the Week" this evening from 5:30 to 8 p. m. over station KBST.

With Crosby are many of the All-American swing artists recently selected by Paul Whiteman. Vocalists are Marion Mann and Bob Crosby. While most swing sultans beat out the African type of rhythm, Crosby's collection of "cutters" concentrate on the slower, mournful type of "Dixieland," pioneer of all swing music. This music, it is reported, was first created by colored folks of New Orleans as they returned from funerals.

A series of surprises will be in store for listeners to Gall North's "Fashions" broadcasts at 9 a. m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday of this week, when Gall North returns to the air after visits with leading fashion authorities and stylists of New York City.

Persons who have perplexing problems confronting them lose little time in presenting their difficulties to a human relations authority—and in national authority and popularity, there is no one more sincere and appreciative of the problems facing humanity than John J. Anthony of New York City. Mr. Anthony directs the "Original Good Will Hour" in order that these problems may be brought before him and the coast-to-coast audience of the Mutual Broadcasting System. The "Good Will Hour" is heard over station KBST and the Texas State Network each Sunday at 9:30 p. m.

Outstanding Musical Films Highlight Ritz Bookings

THEY'RE BOTH—

Jeanette MacDonald co-stars with Nelson Eddy in Technicolor Production of Victor Herbert's "Sweethearts".

'The Great Waltz' To Climax Week Of Features

A week of outstanding photographs puts the Ritz theatre in position to celebrate a sort of mid-winter "jubilee week" beginning Sunday. There are four strong productions calculated to bring the customers in and send them away satisfied. Leading off in this parade of features is the newest Jeanette MacDonald-Nelson Eddy musical, "Sweethearts." This is another of the Victor Herbert adaptations, and contains lovely song hits, but it is different from other settings—and it is done in Technicolor, to add beauty. "Sweethearts" is regarded as one of the outstanding current entertainment pieces. The week begins and ends with music. Friday-Saturday program is headlined by "The Great Waltz," another ace production of the season that has won high acclaim for its music. The cast includes Luise Rainer, two-time winner of the Motion Picture Academy award; Fernand Gravet, French star; and, more noteworthy, Meliza Korjus, the European opera star. "The Great Waltz" marks the debut of Miss Korjus in American films, and she is rated as one of the choice "finds" of the year, a possessor of beauty as well as an extraordinarily fine coloratura soprano voice. Her name rhymes with "sorgous" and the critics say that's all right, too. "The Great Waltz" is based on the life of Johann Strauss, the real waltz king, and much of the music is from Strauss compositions.

Midweek pictures at the Ritz are slightly different types. On Tuesday and Wednesday—bargain days—there will be screened "Four Girls in White," in which the nursing profession is glorified in Hollywood fashion. The four girls are Florence Rice, Ann Rutherford, Una Merkel and May Howard, while in the supporting cast will be found Buddy Ebsen, Alan Marshall, Kent Taylor and Jesse Ralph.

Adventures Of The Sea Told In Picture

'The Storm' Is Dramatic Offering At The Queen

Telling an emotional story of adventures and thrills in the lives of wireless operators on American merchant ships, "The Storm" is the dramatic offering at the Queen theatre for today and Monday.

Filmed against the colorful background of giant ships and thundering storms at sea, the narrative is said to possess power and realism. Gripping storm scenes in which giant waves batter the ship are shown in spectacular reality.

In the cast are Charles Bickford, Barton MacLane, Preston Foster, Tom Brown, Nan Grey, Andy Devine and Frank Jenks. The story itself concerns the efforts of Bickford, an adventurous and hard-fighting wireless operator, to keep his young brother, Brown, from marrying the ship's pretty nurse, Nan Grey. The romance element is interspersed with many a dramatic element to provide a story of real action. The picture was produced and directed by Ken Goldsmith and Harold Young, the two responsible for the popular picture, "Little Tough Guy."

Explorers To Seek Ruins Of Ancient Mayan Cities

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—The only serious exploring party of recent record which carries its entire equipment on two human backs is getting ready for its second and most ambitious trip. It's going into a part of Mexico where even the natives won't go. The backs that carry the equipment are those of Dana and Ginger Lamb, who also are the entire party. Youngsters as explorers go, they already have done a 1,500-mile cruise in an open canoe down the western coast of Mexico from San Diego to Panama, with a detour into the Mexican jungle to see what it was like. Now they hope to spend a couple of years, mostly in the high jungle country of the Mexican states of Chiapas and Campeche, spilling over into parts of British Honduras and Guatemala.

There are plenty of legends, too. It is said there are Mayan cities which no white man has seen, and that there also are spirit lands, and enchanted lakes and similar good material for adventure books, which is what the Lams produce. The American Museum of Natural History is, however, said to be interested in the Lamb expedition on account of the possibility of finding those Mayan cities.

GIVE UP WHISKEY? NEVER, HE SAID; HE'S IN JAIL

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28 (AP)—When it came to a showdown between giving up whisky or going to jail, Mountaineer John R. Gary never faltered. Appearing in a red woolen shirt, Gary pleaded guilty yesterday in federal court to operating an illicit whisky still in the western Pennsylvania mountains. "If you promise to quit drinking, I believe the proper penalty would be probation," offered Judge E. G. Schummaker. "Never, sir," said Gary firmly. "Six months and $500 fine," snapped the judge.

Tahoka Man's Appointment A Surprise

Smith First From South Plains To Major State Job

Herald Austin Bureau
AUSTIN, Jan. 28—During the next six years one of the richest and most far-flung businesses in Texas—the life insurance business—will have many of its most important dealings with a quiet, modest, tremendously energetic young man from the South Plains—Truett Smith of Tahoka.

When Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel Tuesday nominated Smith to be life insurance commissioner and chairman of the board of insurance commissioners for the next six years, he chose a man who is scarcely known in capital circles—a young man who has worked diligently and tirelessly at the profession of law and who has compiled an excellent and spotless record as a public prosecutor.

Political observers were frankly amazed at Smith's selection. His appointment had not been rumored among newspapers, lobbyists, or legislators. It was a complete surprise.

West Texans were pleased with the selection because for the first time in history, the South Plains area received a major state appointment.

Standing five feet, 10 inches in height, weighing 160 pounds, Smith is stocky, calm, and unassuming. Wearing conservative clothes, he impresses people with his modesty and his quietness. His hair is a light brown and his eyes are blue.

Born 34 years ago in Jones county near Anson, Smith has lived all of his life close to the soil.

The new commissioner went to Wayland Baptist college at Plainview and Texas Tech at Lubbock, studying pre-law work. In 1928 he was elected county and district clerk of Lynn county, in 1932 he was elected county attorney, and in October, 1935, he was named district attorney by Gov. James V. Alford to succeed G. H. Nelson who had been elected to the Texas senate. Smith and Nelson had been law partners in Tahoka.

Debate Team Will Discuss Sales Tax In Angelo Meet

Resolved: Texas should adopt the Retail Sales Tax. This question has been arousing much controversy all over the state and the high school debate team is debating this subject in San Angelo this weekend.

The defending champions, who won the tournament last year, Jacquelyn Fay and Nettjean Carter are representing the first girls team. Billie Bob Phillips and Betty Lee Eddy are representing the second girls team.

First team for boys is composed of Howard Hart and George Hatch, and Louis Alexander and Addison Cotten form the second team. Miss Elouise Haley, debate coach, accompanied the team to San Angelo. Other debates to be held include one at Baylor university and another one at Dallas when they will compete with a high school team.

Women At Work Making Friends Comes First

"My job?" asked Mrs. J. L. Lynch, "well if I have to give it a name I guess my job is to please the customers that come into the coffee shop." And "Mom" Lynch, as she is known to half the town, does just that as supervisor at the Crawford Hotel coffee shop.

To explain just what she means, Mrs. Lynch went on to say that she "chased down bad orders," to find out why the customer was dissatisfied and corrected what was wrong. Then if a customer should come in and sit alone and look at the ceiling awhile, then reads the menu over again, and finally for want of something else to do draws patterns on the table cloth with the nearest object, Mrs. Lynch goes over and has a chat. Having traveled and lived in numerous cities, she usually can find someone they know in common or a place that they have both been to.

Her first job of this sort was in Savannah, Ga., where she worked as a waitress. Her ability to meet people, make them feel at home, and like her guaranteed her success from the beginning.

She started with the coffee shop here three years ago and in this time has seen Big Spring grow in population and increase in civic stature. Also, in these years she has made a place for herself in the hearts of the people. Some of her customers she has had for eleven years and one patron she has served in three different states. She has talked with visiting celebrities and the losers and finds in each type something to like and to enjoy.

She really, to sum it up briefly, just likes folks, all kinds, and has made a job out of trying to please them.

MRS. J. L. LYNCH

Her first job of this sort was in Savannah, Ga., where she worked as a waitress. Her ability to meet people, make them feel at home, and like her guaranteed her success from the beginning.

READING AND WRITING

Some books of various sorts, for various sorts of people—

First Book: Ethel Mannin is one of the straightest thinkers among the Leftist writers, and her "Women and the Revolution" is one of the best things of its sort so far. Miss Mannin sees revolution as a process of change and rebirth, not as a destructive flame. Perhaps you don't, but you can read her new book profitably just the same. (Dutton; $3.)

Second Book: If you feel that Logan Pearson Smith's "Unforgotten Years" is merely the trivia of an expatriate's life in and near literature you can easily prove your case. Leaving out the escape of features there remains still a lot of beautiful writing. (Little, Brown; $2.50.)

Third Book: Carl Bridenbaugh's "Cities in the Wilderness" is a social study of America as she was in the years between 1625 and 1742. It is done in terms of its "cities," particularly in terms of five of them: New York, Newport, Philadelphia, Boston and Charleston. (Ronald; $5.)

Fourth Book: "Scarlet Anne" is a long narrative, poem in blank verse (suitably relieved by lyric insets now and then) in which the struggle of a young Englishwoman against the bigotry of Puritan Massachusetts is pretty well described. (Doubleday, Doran; $2.)

Fifth Book: The curious fact that plays written for what we call the "social theater," a non-existent and chimerical affair, are always "left" plays. No one seems to think anything but pinkish plays have social significance. This explains the content of the forever energetic William Koslen's "The Best Short Plays of the Social Theatre." "The Cradle Will Rock" and "Private Hickey" are fair samples. (Random; $2.50.)

Sixth Book: A gallant attempt to serve up Lord Macaulay properly garnished with the life of his time has been made by Richard Croom Beatty in "Lord Macaulay: Victorian Liberal." It's a question whether Lord Macaulay ever could be intensely interesting to the younger generation today—it serves almost as well for literary purposes, that he is intensely interesting to Mr. Beatty. (University of Oklahoma; $2.)

Things Are Gloomy Down Austin Way--It's Examination Time

AUSTIN, Jan. 28—We are in the middle of final exams and my hand shakes as I write the words. Cram, memorize, no sleep, too much coffee, packages of cigarettes, stacks of books, alarms that go off at all hours, and tutors that help for a dollar and a half an hour—it is enough to make a strong man weak and to transform a beautiful co-ed into a haggard, jabbering old woman who looks similar to Marie Antoinette just before she went to the guillotine.

All during the week the skies have been overcast with gloomy clouds as the sun goes into deep mourning for us. Late each night two small boys go from house to house bringing a basket filled with fruit and candy to sell to weary students who welcome any excuse to cease studying for a few minutes.

I took my first final in the gloomy atmosphere of the gym. The gigantic room was as silent as the tomb as it was filled with half dead students—only the squeaking of shoes shattered the exhausting silence. For the first half of the three hours my mind dwelt entirely on a nice soft bed and wonderful sleep, but the thought of grades roused me enough to mentally put crackers in the bed so I could get to work.

Next week finals will be over and the campus will be deserted as the again carefree students will be gloriously celebrating their passing or flunking as the case may be. Anything can happen then and I suggest that Governor O'Daniel remove the goat he keeps grazing on his front lawn or he may never see it again. There is something symbolic about that goat that tempts the students.

EAGLE PASS LEADS IN SPINACH OUTPUT

EAGLE PASS, Jan. 28 (AP)—The world's largest spinach shipping center relaxed a bit this weekend because of a slow, drizzling rain and counted 824 carloads of data. "muscle" vegetable shipped to date. Since November Eagle Pass has surpassed total shipments of all other winter garden towns, government reports show.

Causes of the leap in spinach growing in this sector was attributed to opening of a new farm land under irrigation from the Rio Grande gravity canal which attracted spinach growers to this section.

Mr. Lewis, one of radio's most brilliant news casters, is a "20 year man" in this field... and we are indeed happy to announce sponsorship of this interesting program on these two days.

Plan now to dial KBST each Tuesday and Thursday at 6 p. m. for Washington's top-news stories of the day. (Also heard on Wednesdays at the same time).
