A EUROPEAN INVASION—PINEAPPLE SOUP

Pineapple soup, a European dish with a trans-Pacific slant, arrives at the table with a mint-sprig garnish.

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE AP Feature Service Writer

When friends are in to dinner do you serve them something unusual—a new dish or a new combination of dishes? Wise hostesses do.

It's the unusual that makes people sit up and take notice. And what cook is there who doesn't like to have her party achievements commented on?

There's a new food idea spreading in this country, an idea that has long been popular in Europe. Fruit soup—different and deliciously refreshing as a starter for dinner or luncheon.

On The Tart Side Fruit soup really is a strained fruit sauce, a little on the tart side, thickened, and served cold.

The temperature is not a set practice, though; fruit soup can very well be served hot when the air is nippy.

Rhubarb is in season now, so let's start with rhubarb soup. It doesn't sound very appetizing? Well, why not give it a try? You may be surprised.

To serve eight, you will need four cups of diced fresh rhubarb. Put this with one cup of granulated sugar, one and a third cups of water and three slices of lemon in a double boiler. Cover and cook 20 minutes. Stir several times with strained fruit. Add a speck each of salt, cinnamon and cloves and cook three minutes. Cool and chill. Serve in a cup or a small soup dish and top with the reserved rhubarb. Garnish with thin slices of lemon and orange.

Another Pink One Another pink soup is cranberry. Mix two cups of sweetened cranberry sauce, one cup each of grapefruit and pineapple juices and a speck of salt. Cover, simmer 10 minutes and then thicken just a little.

NOTE: Lemon juice to taste may be added to the soup with the pineapple juice if a more tart sauce is preferred.

Take out a cupful and put the rest through a sieve. Thicken this by mixing two tablespoons of flour with three tablespoons of cold water and pouring it into the strained fruit. Add a speck each of salt, cinnamon and cloves and cook three minutes. Cool and chill.

Rego Effects Working Agreement With New York Yankees

The Sports Parade

By HANK HART

Big Spring's Barons sacked up a victory Wednesday afternoon because Midland's Bill Patterson made the mistake of pitching to the league's most dangerous hitter when the chips are down.

Patterson, or maybe it was Catcher Red Witt, was the innocent victim who wasn't anywhere in this vicinity last year, was afforded no chance to test The Comanche Kid.

Local fans probably best remember Capps that May day he broke into the lineup after returning from Muskogee. The opposition was Jodie Tate's Wink Spudders, the opposing pitcher Paul Reeves who had been setting the Barons on their respective ears all afternoon.

Through eight innings Witt had managed to maintain a respectable advantage, went into the ninth frame with a 5-4 lead. Reeves lost some of his magic, however, allowed a hit after the first man had been retired. He succeeded in retiring the second but passed the third, putting runners on first and second. Bobby Decker strode to the plate and Reeves called a halt to go into a huddle with his manager. He got his signals. It was an intentional pass, sending Decker to first and filling the bags. Capps appeared at the plate. Carefully Reeves worked Capps into a hole, putting two strikes across the plate. But a third pitch that sliced the dish never found its way to the catcher. Capps hooked into it, drove the pellet out against the right center field wall and the two runs scored that won the ball game.

They'll learn.

Sam Mallica, the Midland Cowboy's brilliant shortstop, was released by the Chicago White Sox earlier in the year because he wears glasses. He threatens to develop into the most consistent fielder in the entire league, has contributed almost unbelievable catches in his first two games. He may be too brave, however, taking the league infield as a whole into consideration. The Midland ground is probably the worst in the loop, should be improved.

Bob Wooten, the southpaw who is threatening to beat out Red Webster for the Barons' first basing job, played poor ball at Hot Springs, Lake Charles and Refugio before coming here. In 30 games during 1938 the Dallas boy, whom fans will find is just as good a fielder as was reliable Harry Slegbert last year, Robert clouted the crochetted lemon for a .322 mark throughout the 38 season. At Hot Springs Wooten went into the lineup as the cleanup hitter the first night, collected "four for five." In his first 18 games, he clouted out nine home runs. He hopes to find the range in the local ball orchard.

Wooten and Webster have developed into fast friends despite the fact that there is but one job open. The battle should wax warm before it's over.

Bob Mori, the Midland rambling right fielder, is a brother to Ray Mori, the former big timer who is now playing in the Coast league.

There should be a time limit placed on softball games at the Muny park diamond. With two games scheduled last night one game was not completed until 10 p. m., the aftermath could go but three frames.

Owen Brummett who has been selected as one of the captains for the Steer intra-squad grid classic at the stadium Friday afternoon, broke a hand in last Friday's clash but will probably get into action. The paw has been placed in a cast.

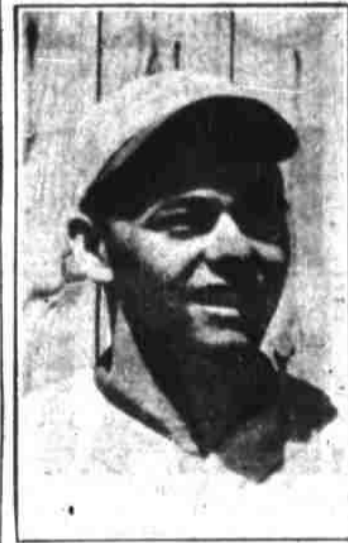

RIGGS OPPOSES SHIELDS TODAY

HOT SPRINGS, Va., April 27 (AP)—Bobby Riggs of Chicago, No. 1 seeded favorite, meets Frank Shields of New York in semifinals of the Hot Springs invitation tennis tournament today.

Another feature of the event here, testing spot for Captain Walter L. Pate's American Davis cup candidates, found Riggs and Wayne Sabin of Portland, Ore., who split after winning the National clay courts title four years ago, teaming again in the first round of doubles competition.

The second round results produced no upsets. Sabin, No. 2 seeded entry, defeated Thad C. Benton, Orange, N. J., 6-4, 6-2 and plays August Gansmuller, New York, today. Other semifinal duals send Erwood Cooke, Portland, Ore., against Gilbert Hall, New York, and John Doeg, Rumson, N. J., against George Pryor, Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

IN THE GROOVE

One of the real reasons the Big Spring Barons may make a bid for championship honors in the W-T-NM baseball league this year is their great infield combination. Keystone performer of that infield is Bobby Decker (above), all-star second sacker last year who is well on the way toward realizing his greatest season in professional ranks.

The Purchase, N. Y., boy, who stole 67 sacks to set up a new record in 1938, collected three hits in five official trips, scored two runs, batted in another and handled six chances afled faultlessly in Wednesday's victory over Midland.

Softball games at the Muny park Wednesday evening resulted in decisive victories for Lone Star Chevrolet and McGeehee Super Service.

The Mechanics triumphed over Collins Bros. Drug, 19-3, while McGeehee smashed Big Spring Motor, 14-3, coming from behind after the Motorists had tallied their runs in the first inning.

ROOSTERS WIN FOURTH IN ROW

Ben Daniel's Roosters spanked the South Siders in a Recreational softball league clash at the South Side Wednesday, 25-16, to protect an unbeaten record. It was their fourth straight victory.

In other games Moore smashed the ABC team, 12-10, in a fray played on the ABC diamond and the East Siders lost to the Mexican Tigers at the Plaza grounds, 28-7.

Three Players On Way Here To Join Club

Locals Prepare To Open 4-Game Stand With Midland

Tony Rego, manager of the Big Spring baseball club, returned from the Barons' first road trip this morning with the announcement that he had effected a working agreement with the New York Yankees, that three of the world champions' farm hands were already on the way here to join the club.

The announcement, coming as the Barons prepared to open their home schedule, came as a surprise although local fans had known that Rego had been working toward that end for the past three weeks.

The agreement was reached in a long distance telephone call between Joe Devine, chief Yankee scout, who was in El Paso at the time, and Rego.

The players who are scheduled to arrive within the immediate future are Cordell Lloyd, left handed first baseman, and two right handed pitchers, Herb Flynn and Elson Bahr. Two left handed pitchers are to be dispatched here soon, Devine said.

Rego, after the conference, said that all the players now in camp would be retained and that they would be afforded as much chance of holding their jobs and progressing with the system as any of the players the parent organization might send here.

The Barons, having split a two-game series with Midland on foreign grounds, prepared to stage a gala celebration in their debut before the home folks this afternoon. Johnny Soden, star righthander, was to take the mound in the 4 o'clock fray.

A crowd of more than 1,500 was expected to jam the park to get a look at the latest edition of the homelings.

The two clubs will tangle again here tomorrow afternoon. Saturday and Sunday the locals engage Abilene's Apaches here before embarking on a road trip.

Night games will be inaugurated next week.

The Mechanics triumphed over Collins Bros. Drug, 19-3, while McGeehee smashed Big Spring Motor, 14-3, coming from behind after the Motorists had tallied their runs in the first inning.

Indians Shut Out Dallas Nine, 8-0

Tulsa Vanquished By Ft. Worth Cats, 2-8

By the Associated Press
Oklahoma City's Indians had a 1 to 0 lead on the Dallas Rebels through seven innings yesterday. Right there they must have gone into a war council and decided that wasn't enough margin in view of what consternation ninth inning rallies often cause because they danced seven men across the plate in the eighth frame.

Their 8-0 victory was the second Texas League whitewashing of the day. Shreveport's Sports bunched three singles in the fourth for their 1 to 0 conquest of the Houston Buffs, ending a hurling duel between Havin of Shreveport and Van Slate of Houston.

George Meyer, former Dallas player, sparked the Redskin uprising by gathering a triple, double, home run and single. His homer, together with Corbett's double and two of the errors marked up against left fielder Ernie Sulik, were major factors in the Oklahoma's big inning.

The Fort Worth Cats knocked out the veteran Max Thomas and took advantage of Stefan's wildness to score all their runs in the first five innings as they vanquished the Tulsa Oilers, 8 to 2.

Tony Criscola batted in seven runs on two hits and two sacrifices as he and his San Antonio Mission mates subdued the Beaumont Exporters 12 to 5. The Padres built up a 6 to 3 lead on five hits by the end of the third inning, during which frame Bill Strickland rescued Bill Miller when the Shipper started or had difficulty finding the plate.

The North Star lies almost directly above the North Pole, thus appearing to stand still as the earth revolves on its axis.

Pirates Taking Up Where They Left Off In '39; Lose Again

By JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
Pipe the lift boats, mateys, the Pittsburgh Pirates' brig is sinking again.

It now develops the Buccaneers' craft didn't quite touch bottom last September when it resigned the National league pennant by dropping six of its last seven games.

The team has lost six successive contests since winning this season's inaugural from Cincinnati and, with invariable fast starters like the Pirates, that's more than a trifling upsetting. In 1938 the club won its first seven in a row and the year before monopolized first place until June 5, winning 10 games in one unbroken stretch.

Although they outdid the Chicago Cubs by one yesterday in losing, 3-1, the Pirates are battling like they were all pitchers. Rookie Fern Bell has a fancy 444 figure, but the best mark among the regulars is Johnny Rizzo's .504.

These figures would explain a lot of beatings, but the Pirates never fold in halves. In seven games not one pitcher has lasted the route and the defensive play hasn't been up to par.

Manager PH Traynor has grasped at every straw in sight but all plans have gone awry.

Third baseman Lee Handley, spark plug of the team last year, was knocked unconscious by a pitched ball just before the season opened and hasn't played a game. Traynor wanted to use Bell regularly in right field but the Pacific Coast recruit hasn't measured up as a fielder. The aged Helme Maunah was obtained last September as a pinchhitter and has been used five times in that capacity this spring without getting a hit.

The Pirates' place in the cellar isn't the only cock-eyed angle to the present National league race, because the Philadelphia Phillies are in second and got there yesterday without even playing. Their game with the New York Giants was rained out along with the contest between the Boston Bees and Brooklyn Dodgers. So the 1-0 shutout the St. Louis Cardinals administered to Cincinnati on the five-hit flinging of Curt Davis was just sufficient to move the Phillies past the Reds in the standings.

Eastern games in the American league also were rained out, but the western clubs put on a good show. The Detroit Tigers nosed out the St. Louis Browns, 7-6, in 10 innings in a game featured by seven home runs, of which two came from Hank Greenberg's big bat. Bill Dietrich nearly got a shutout as the Chicago White Sox beat the Cleveland Indians, 5-1, but a single and a double in the last of the ninth gave the Tribe a tally.

Lubbock Is On Local Grid Schedule

Betty Faces A Dangerous Opponent

WESTERNERS TO BE MET SEPT. 29

The Big Spring high school football schedule for 1939 was completed Wednesday with announcement that arrangements had been made with the Lubbock Westerners for a game here Sept. 29.

The Westerners, who lost to Corpus Christi in the state playoff finals last December, originally had scheduled Temple in a practice game but the recent decision barring Temple from Texas high school football for a year as handed down by the intercollegiate league committee forced cancellation of the agreement.

Cochair Pat Murphy also announced that Austin High (El Paso) would come here for an exhibition Oct. 13. Arrangements had previously been made for the game but no site had been agreed upon.

Of the ten games the Longhorns will play next fall, seven are to be played at home.

All local games except the Thanksgiving Day clash with Sweetwater will be played at night, Murphy said.

PROTHRO SAYS ALL PHILS NEEDED WAS CONFIDENCE

PHILADELPHIA, April 27 (AP)—The man behind the surprising Phillies—a dentist who has yanked 1938's most downtrodden team into second place in the National league— isn't promising they'll stay there but, he says, "it can be done."

Such is the faith Manager James "Doc" Prothro has in the club that has won four straight from the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers and has not lost in five games. One was an 11-inning tie with Brooklyn.

"I'm not a doctor, you know; just a dentist," said Prothro today, "but I know something about medicine and I think I have discovered a serum for that last-place poison baseball experts and writers have been injecting into my boys for the past two years."

"I'll tell you what it is—confidence in themselves. For the first time since most of them came up from the minor leagues, they believe they can win and are sure that they will not finish last."

"Those boys are no collection of bums. They're good and just as likely to move up three places as one in this league."

Prothro, who succeeded Jimmy Wilson, served notice during spring training he would not tolerate players who did not smile. He began building confidence in the players on the coaching lines.

But "Doc" has more than personal magnetism to help the Phils. He has shown he can handle men, and has displayed he knows when to switch pitchers and batters. In the Brooklyn series he inserted a whole string of pinch hitters and relief twirlers and all came through. In the second game with the Giants he caught Bill Terry's men flatfooted by ordering Claude Passeau to lay down a squeeze bunt with a man on third and two out. It scored the winning run.

Sande Horse To Be Watched In Race Today

Heather Broom Must Be Impressive To Be Entered In Derby

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 27 (AP)—Earl Sande, three times winning jockey in the Kentucky derby, trainer for John "Hay" Whitney, sadly discounts his chances of a starter in this year's classic at Churchill Downs.

Sande had the heart-breaking experience last year of having the favorite Stagehand become ill a few days before the derby.

Earl said the running today of the Bluegrass stakes held his attention more than the derby because the showing of Heather Broom will determine whether he has a derby contender.

"A nice, handy horse," was Sande's description of Heather Broom, chestnut colt from the Whitney stables, "but he'll have to run a good race today to get in the derby and I don't know what he can do on a slow track."

"I'm getting along pretty well as a trainer," he said, modestly omitting the fact that his charges won more money than any other trainer's in 1938, "but I'd rather be out there riding." (Sande also trains for Maxwell Howard.)

Heather Broom, he said, "handily" won his only start this year in a conditioning race at Jamaica, as did Whitney stable's second choice three-year-old, Counterpoise, but Sande wasn't sure how the Broom would go on a slipper track. He was the only Whitney horse brought to Kentucky.

"I expect him to run a good race," though he added, "and if he should happen to win, then we'll give him a chance in the derby."

CLEAR WAY FOR GOLF FINALS AT AUSTIN

By HARRY C. BURKHALTER
AUSTIN, April 27 (AP)—Four sterling masters of traps and fairways teed off today in semi-finals of the Women's Texas Golf association championship.

After 18 holes only two will be in the running for honors in the association's 23rd annual Miss Betty Jameson, San Antonio youngster seeking her fourth state title, matched strokes today against a dangerous opponent in Miss Kathryn Pearson of Houston.

On the other side of the draw, Mrs. E. R. Hury, also of the Alamo city, took on Mrs. Otto Armstrong of El Paso.

Shooting par and sub-par golf throughout the tournament to date, Miss Jameson should take her set-to with Miss Pearson, although the medalist and defending champion insisted she "need lots of help."

Her opponent today won by identical score from Mrs. George Thompson of Fort Worth.

Mrs. Hury, pre-tourney favorite to meet Miss Jameson in the finals, breezed through her match against Mrs. John Parnell of Dallas, public links title holder, 6 and 5.

To enter the semifinals Mrs. Armstrong turned in the first mild upset of the meeting by putting out Mrs. R. E. Winger of Fort Worth.

Miss Jameson entered the next-to-last round by virtue of a 3 and 2 victory over Miss Marie Levi of Dallas in the quarter finals.

Tally turned Jocelyn over his knee, and spanked her with his hard, calloused palm.
"Now maybe you'll leave me alone!" Tally snapped. "I'm not a gentleman and I have no manners. Blueblood means nothing to me nor does your money. So run along and tell your boy friend I said you should have been spanked years ago—"

Capps, Marek Star In BS 10-6 Win

By HANK HART

MIDLAND, April 27—Tony Rego and the boys found out here Wednesday that all's well that ends well.

The Big Spring Barons rocked along for seven innings a bad second in their game with the Midland Cowboys, suddenly got busy as the end neared, had managed to tie the count by the end of nine frames and closed out three innings later with a glorious 10-6 victory.

The payoff came in the twelfth when Billy Capps solved the offerings of Bill Patterson, Cowboy right-hander, for a terrific home run with the bases loaded.

Back Into Game A big eighth inning had kept the Barons in the ball game, Decker, Volk and Stacey scoring in that round when the Cowboy defense went to pieces.

Happenings In Rural Communities

MOORE

The Moore school will close on May 5 according to Miss Arah Phillips, principal. Both teachers and students are busy winding up class work and preparing for closing day programs which will include three nights of entertainment. Miss Ann Martin, county superintendent, administered standardization tests to grade school students on Thursday. On Monday night pupils of the first six grades will present a program. Mrs. Doyle Turney will be in charge of the music. Friday morning pupils will receive grade cards while the afternoon will feature softball games and other athletic sports. Friday night will conclude the year's work when the freshmen will give a three act play.

All programs will be free and the community as well as others are cordially invited to attend.

The Moore Unit of the County Agriculture association met Monday night in the school auditorium. Plans were made for the next meeting, on May 29, to be held in the form of a tacky party with an old fashion ice cream supper for the members and their families. A social committee of Mrs. Dave Baulch, J. H. Burchett and Lester Newton was appointed.

At the conclusion of the business session a brief program was given as follows: Songs, "Old Rugged Cross," Hazel and Dorothy Corns and Mary Margaret Hayworth; talk, "Future Price of Cotton," O. P. Griffin; duet, "When You Were a Tulip," Loveda and Delbert Shultz.

CITY TO PARTICIPATE IN CHILD HEALTH PROGRAM

Under the sponsorship of the P.T. A. council, plans are being mapped here for a widespread observance of Child Health day on May 1.

Churches, organizations, schools, and individuals are being drafted into a program which has as its objective the impression on the public consciousness the importance of the welfare of the child to the state and nation.

Taking cognizance of the fact that President Roosevelt and Governor O'Daniel have issued proclamations for the day, Mayor K. V. Jones Thursday said that he endorsed the move and urged others to consider the timely slogan, "The Health of the Child is the Power of the Nation."

Dr. Frank Boyle, county health officer, will open the campaign for observance by participation in the chamber of commerce program at 5 p. m. Thursday. He will renew the appeal on May 4 over station KBST.

At least two churches—the First Baptist and First Presbyterian—will make special mention of the event, particularly as concerns the spiritual side of the child.

W. C. Blankenship, city superintendent, said Mrs. H. W. Smith, who is in charge of the child health day drive, is conducting a poster contest among the ward schools and will cause the posters to be displayed in the business windows downtown.

R. R. McEwen, post commander of the American Legion, said that his unit would cooperate in any way it could to the furtherance of the program. The P.T. A. units of the city will concentrate on child health programs during the month of May.

An offer to run child health films at one of the R. and R. theatres here will be accepted, Mrs. Smith said. J. Y. Robb, manager, has agreed to handle the trailers free in cooperation with the program.

Story of Child Health day goes back 11 years to May 1, 1928 when a congressional resolution was passed authorizing the president to issue an annual May Day proclamation.

However, the struggle to gain stability for the movement goes back another decade when a nation-wide Baby's Week was promoted. Since that time, numerous organizations have grown up, all lending their support to the end that the child may be made more healthy and thus, that the nation may be made more secure.

Philly Poison Ring Methods Exploited

PHILADELPHIA, April 27 (AP)—A possibility that Philadelphia's insurance-murder ring used more violent methods than poison came to light today with arrest of a widow whose husband was killed by a "hit-run" motorist.

Detectives charged he was run over deliberately after being slugged with a lead pipe.

They charged Mrs. Marie Wolosyn, 41, with homicide in the death of her husband in January, 1936. Police had listed his death as an unsolved hit-run case, but they now contend he was murdered.

William Connelly, chief of Philadelphia county detectives, said the widow collected $10,600 insurance on Wolosyn's life.

Although the usual method of the ring or its "customers" was to poison victims slowly, investigators indicated other means were discussed. George Neumeyer, secret service agent, has testified two men accused as ring leaders proposed braining an intended victim with a sandbag.

At the recent trial of Herman Petrillo, convicted of first degree murder and facing the electric chair, Neumeyer testified Petrillo had told him he could earn $600 by "bumping a guy off."

Mentions Bandown Neumeyer, who stumbled on the poison plot while investigating counterfeiting, said Petrillo suggested various ways of killing Ferdinand Alfonsi, 38, a WPA worker. He mentioned running over Alfonsi with an automobile, drowning him, or hitting him on the head with a sandbag.

Petrillo confided later, the investigator testified, that he gave Alfonsi "enough poison to kill six men."

Petrillo was convicted of Alfonsi's murder and the WPA laborer's widow awaits trial on a similar charge.

Mrs. Carina Favata, who pleaded guilty to poisoning three persons received a judge's promise that she would not be electrocuted if she helped smash the poison ring. Her disclosures were followed by four arrests and the discovery that a man Police Captain James A. Kelly termed a "big shot" of the insurance-murder "corporation" was a prisoner in New York.

Kelley announced the New York prisoner Caesar Valenti, now serving a sentence in Riker's penitentiary for liquor law violation, was co-leader with a "faith healer" of the ring when it was organized about 10 years ago.

Some six years later, Kelley said, the ring split into two groups, with Valenti as head of one and the "faith healer"—still a fugitive—as head of the other. Investigators believe the ring, operating in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Delaware, may have killed "scores" of persons to collect insurance money.

Timing their talks this week. Friends of the vice president insist that although Garner has never hesitated to tell Mr. Roosevelt when he disagreed with a presidential proposal, these exchanges have always been on a friendly basis.

In spite of these differences of opinion, Garner's friends declare he has played a powerful part in the negotiations which have opened the way for enactment of various presidential measures, including the reorganization bill. Nor is there much doubt that he helped quiet opposition to some of the supreme court and cabinet appointments of this session.

mania defend their independence. He concluded with a pledge to the opposition that in the event of war "taxes on the very wealthy, which already are very high, must be further and substantially increased" and also promised anti-profiteering measures with "severe penalties."

The British-French coalition appeared to have won an ally and to have failed, at least temporarily, to induce another to give reciprocal pledges on the eve of the reichsfuehrer's speech in answer to President Roosevelt's peace appeal.

In Copenhagen, Ivan Maisky, Soviet Russian ambassador to London, declared his country would "assist Europe in case of aggression."

In Paris, however, Rumania was reported to have advised Great Britain and France of her opposition to entering mutual assistance pacts with them at least for the present.

Tells Of Trip

Chamberlain informed the house of Commons King George VI and Queen Elizabeth would travel to the United States and Canada aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Australia instead of the battle cruiser Repulse.

The Repulse, Britain's only available battle cruiser, will be kept in European waters because of the international tension, the prime minister said.

Irish Prime Minister Eamon De Valera announced in the Dail he had canceled plans to sail Saturday for the United States. He was to have opened the Irish pavilion at the world's fair and was expected also to visit President Roosevelt in Washington.

Despite some liberal and labor opposition to Chamberlain's announced intention "to introduce as soon as possible a system of compulsory military training," the prime minister was confident it would be endorsed.

He made it clear last night that he urgently desired confirmation of Britain's great preparedness step before Hitler's speech — in which the fuehrer is expected to turn down President Roosevelt's plea for German and Italian guarantees of at least 10 years of non-aggression to 31 specified nations.

TYPICAL POSES BY DIX AS 'MAN OF CONQUEST'

Richard Dix, veteran actor whose ability to play adventurous roles is recognized by all, has the part of Sam Houston in the Ritz attraction, "Man of Conquest," showing here Friday and Saturday. The story, built around the exciting life of Houston, a naturally concerned itself with the glorious history of Texas in its war for independence. Dix gives a life-like characterization of Houston in his days as governor of Tennessee, as a member of an Indian tribe, and later in the heroic struggle for independence from Mexico.

The Polish government press reiterated Poland's determination to resist any Nazi attempts to annex the Free City of Danzig.

MARKETS

Wall Street

NEW YORK, April 27 (UP)—An early upswing in today's stock market, led by aircraft, lost momentum as the session proceeded and gains running around 2 points were whittled down or erased at the close.

Guessing as to what Hitler would say in his speech before the reichstag tomorrow, answering the Roosevelt peace appeal, was hardly calculated to put steam into speculative prices. Traders, consequently, kept commitments at a minimum while waiting to see just how strong a blast would come from the fuehrer.

Budget

The gain is attributed largely to the purchase of a new truck and equipment at a cost of $4,200. The truck would be smaller than the present pumps and would be used to combat the least serious blazes.

Free trash hauling service to the residential areas of the city at least twice a week would call for an increase of $6,470 in the health and welfare department requirements. This figure includes cost of two trucks and additional men.

Voicing the hope that property owners who now owe the city $17,000 for paving would make payment in order that the program could be continued and legal action avoided, the budget message set $25,487 for paving as against little more than $2,000 last year. Should a WPA project be secured for the work, 40 blocks could be paved. If not, the expenditure would be cut to little more than $12,000 and about 10 blocks paved.

Would Resist Danzig Seizure

WARSAW, April 27 (UP)—Expectation Adolf Hitler would discuss Polish-German relations in tomorrow's reichstag speech brought press declarations today that Poland would resist any Nazi attempts to annex Danzig Free City.

The government declared its belief settlement was still possible "if Germany is reasonable."

The nationalist opposition, on the other hand, declared such hopes were useless and called on the government to abandon "such dangerous illusions."

Both sides agreed Poland would accept no arrangements regarding Danzig without her free consent. The free city, nominally under league of nations protection, is former German territory and within the Polish customs administration.

IT'S THE WAY HE WILL SAY "NO" THAT COUNTS The world anxiously awaits the reply on Friday of Adolf Hitler to the proposal made by President Roosevelt that dictatorial powers enter into a guarantee of a minimum 10-year period.

What the German Führer has to say and the general type of his answer is expected to have an important bearing on the waning hopes for peace. It is, perhaps, more the tone of the reply rather than his actual answer that will concern the world, for none surges more than the faintest hope that he will accede to the request.

It is not logical to believe that Hitler can or will agree wholeheartedly and unreservedly to keep the peace for a decade. For how long a time he will acquiesce, suppression, and blind nationalism hope to stand on truth, free-thinking and lasting peace? How can a man, or a government for that matter, pursue one course and then abruptly and enter into another diametrically opposed?

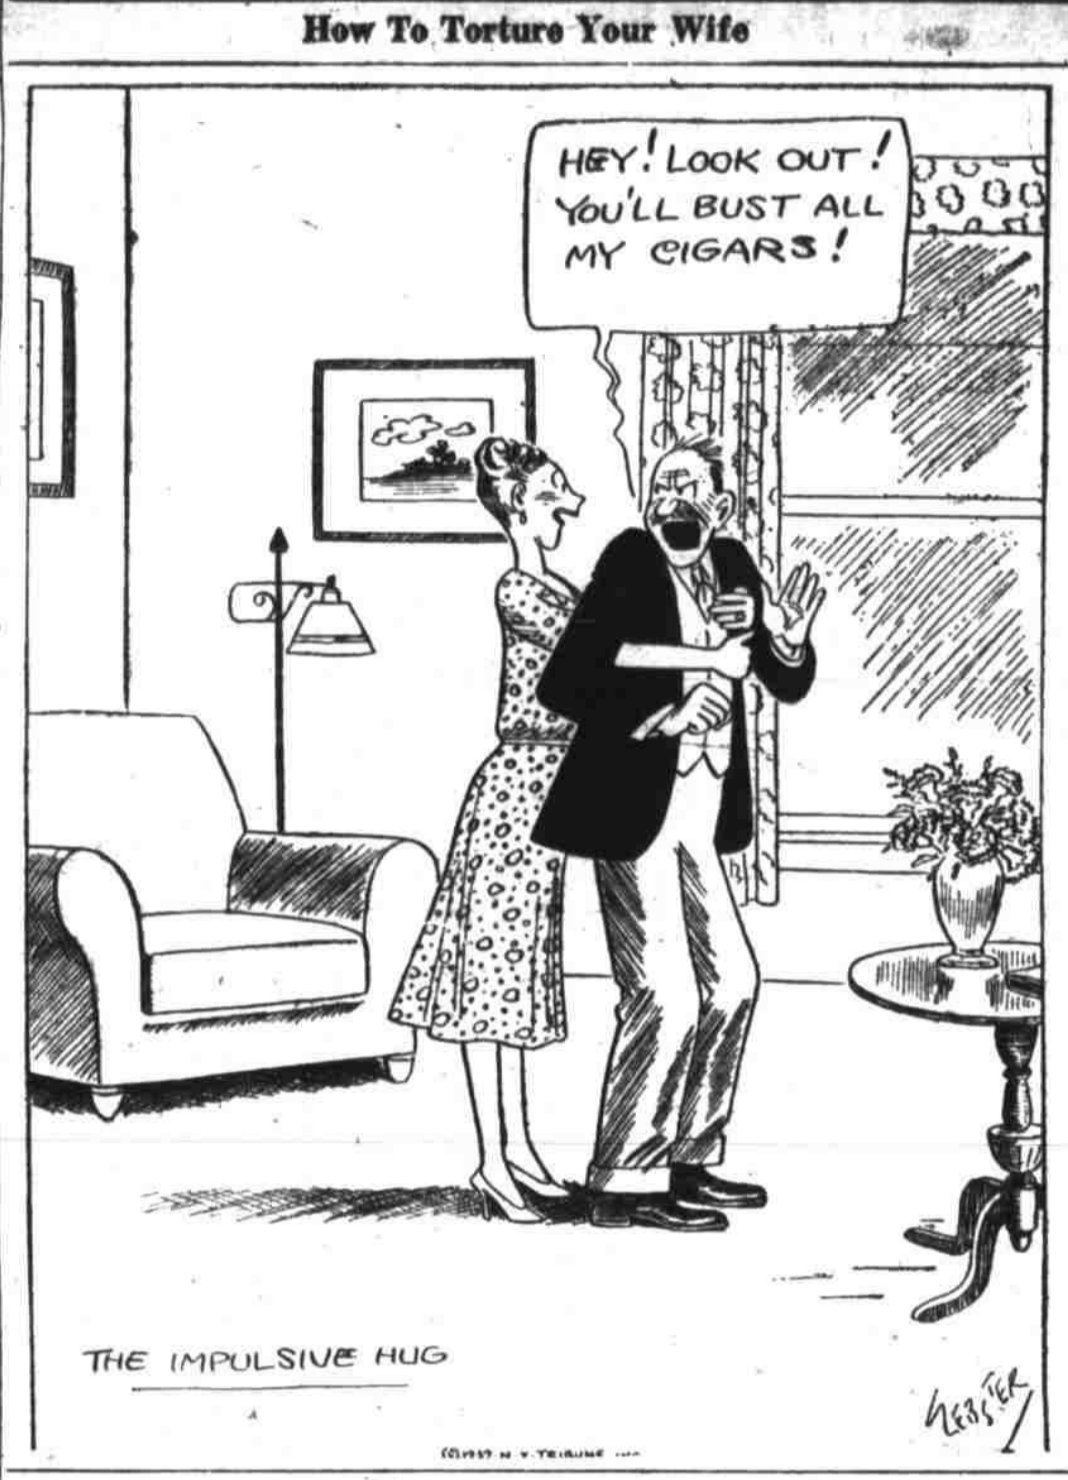

Perhaps the Nazi chieftain may dem the proposal with faint praise, perhaps he will make a forthright rejection, perhaps he will heap criticism on the brow of President Roosevelt and ridicule the idea. But it is almost certain that he will not agree to such a timely proposal without crossing his fingers.

At a time when the universe is in such a critical turmoil, it might be considered criminal for a power not to adhere, in sympathy at least, to the principals of an armistice from unrest. The criminal act, however, will not be in saying "no," but in perpetuating the continual fear and uncertainty that has enshrouded the political and commercial world within the past year.

In the final analysis, it will be this tension, this apprehension for what the morrow will bring that will plunge Europe—and the world—into a chaotic, useless, suicidal, brutish struggle.

It seems such a small sacrifice on the part of the German leader to be conciliatory when so, so much is at stake.

First Million Customers Can't Be Wrong, So Frisco Fair Officials Plan To Whoop It Up

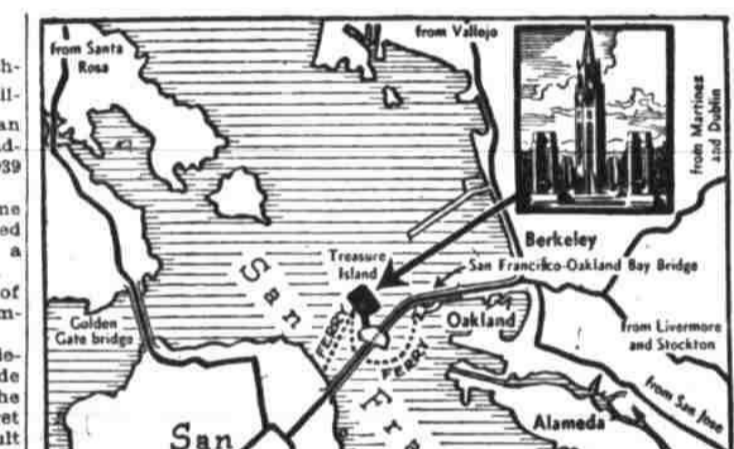

By SAM JACKSON AP Feature Service Writer SAN FRANCISCO—After watching the behavior of the first million customers officials of the San Francisco World's Fair have decided that what the fair-goer of 1939 wants is to whoop it up.

As a result there have been some administrative changes intended to make the exposition more of a carnival and less of a museum. That ever recurrent issue of world's fair—nudity—has an important place in the picture.

As soon as promoters on the sidelines read that Sally Rand's Nude Ranch had taken in $40,000 in the first eight days, they decided to get in on the money. As a result

Greenwich Village, which is an entire street of girl shows, has entered the field, several such attractions are running independently and still others have taken space in Television City, being built.

THE NEUTRALITY ENTANGLEMENT

In trying to decide what to do about the neutrality act, the members of the senate committee, have an extraordinarily difficult problem. Senator Borah pointed out the difficulty last week when he asked whether it was not impossible for the committee to come to an agreement which would be accepted as a neutral position.

Take the simplest case. Suppose congress does nothing. Then on May 1, when Section 2 expires, we shall have an embargo on munitions to belligerents, an embargo that is not being applied to Japan and China.

Suppose then, that congress re-enacts the whole of the existing law. In that event congress will have reaffirmed so positively its insistence on the present act that the president would be morally bound to impose an embargo against Japan.

Suppose then that congress enacts still further, enacts the Nye-Clark-Bone mandatory embargo. Where does it leave us? It also means an immediate embargo against Japan, followed almost surely by a Japanese military alliance with the axis, creating a situation in which there are the strongest inducements to a triple attack on Great Britain and France.

The "Drunk-in-Charge-of-Car" law active in Sweden for the past three months, has been reported by London newspapers to have reduced traffic accidents by 20 per cent.

To be convicted under this law means one month's imprisonment without the alternative of fine and irrespective of the social or official status of the defendant.

We are, no matter what we do, in a position where no one will regard the action of congress as neutral, where every one will see that it favors one nation at the expense of another.

The Herald's Serial Story Old Home Week Murder By Phoebe Atwood Taylor

Chapter 47 NEAR A SOLUTION Around supper time Asay returned to the Leach house, not remembering until he reached the front door Sara's warning that Bertha was to have the weekend off.

But Bertha herself called to him from the upstairs window as he returned to his car. "Asay, Asay! If you want supper, come 'round to the kitchen door!"

Asay grinned and returned. "There's plenty to eat," Bertha said. "If you don't mind cold things—look at my cups! Three!" she pointed proudly to the silver cups on the kitchen table.

Asay nodded. "You 'cstantsants put in two jars, an' they had the same numbers. An' the judges used one to taste from, an' then stuck the duplicate under the light an' stared at it, an' peered around."

He held it up to the light. "No, it's not. Bertha, let me see that paraffin. Huh. Now, get me one of your glasses of beach-plum from the preserve closet."

"Paraffin's dif'rent," Asay said. "Not as white. Bertha, let me think." "Well," Bertha said after fifteen minutes, "where'd that awful stuff come from?"

"I think I know," Asay said slowly. "I think I know where it came from. I can't be sure. I looked at so many jars of jelly yesterday. Bertha, gimme this—"

"That stuff? I should say not! It goes right out to the garbage hole!" "Nope," Asay said. "Bertha, I want you to do somethin' for me. I'm goin' to take this awful tasting stuff, an' you're not goin' to tell a soul I got it. Take the labels an' put 'em on another jar. Whatever you do, don't you tell a soul!"

Bertha nodded. "Aunt Sara told us, but we haven't told. What's that got to do with it?" "I figured another, an' now with luck, this nasty stuff's goin' to solve them two murders an' it's goin' to solve 'em before I go to bed tonight!"

Hamilton stood just inside the Town Hall ball room and hummed under his breath the tune that Upjohn's Merry-makers were swinging to the skies.

and tasted the jelly. She was rushing from the kitchen as Asay returned. "Well," Asay said when she came back, "well? I mean, I'm awful sorry to act like that, but seen' as how you done the same—"

"Asay, that's not my jelly! I never made anything like that awful burned smell stuff! Why, I should think someone swept out a coal bin and booted the sweepings with this afternoon, that it was mine. It looked dif'rent. But the number was right on it, and it was my number, and it was the same jar, and all—Asay, how do you suppose—how did it happen?"

"I don't know." "But you tasted it—didn't the judges taste it?" Asay nodded. "You 'cstantsants put in two jars, an' they had the same numbers. An' the judges used one to taste from, an' then stuck the duplicate under the light an' stared at it, an' peered around."

"I know it's a lie," Kay said. "Buck only has negatives, not pictures—"

"Pictures," Hamilton said firmly. "Local man developed 'em. For the winners. Pictures taken yesterday. Lane and I put on long coats and tied handkerchiefs around our faces, and held him up in his car, just outside where he rooms. We tied him up. Little later we came along as police and undid him and gave him every-things we're well. But what Asay out what he wanted. He was waiting in the bushes. Anyway, Buck thinks we're well. But hat Asay wanted a lot of pictures of jelly and string beans for, nobody knows!"

"Jelly?" Kay said. "It's insane—hurry up. I can't stand this suspense!" (Copyright, 1939)

Sewing Room Produces More Than 20,000 Garments In 15 Months

More than 20,000 garments at a cost of little more than a dollar each is the record of the county WPA sewing room project during the past 15 months.

According to figures released by Mrs. Anna L. Lee, project supervisor, $19,172.51 in federal funds and $1,595.58 by the county have been expended since the project was set up last as of Jan. 24, 1933.

In that period of time, the women on the project have produced a total of 20,715 garments for distribution to the needy. There were no restrictions as to type, for infant wear, and garments for boys, girls, women, men and even toys have turned out as a result of the project.

First of all, the project provided for 80,000 man-hours work during the 15 months. What is considered even more important, it better equipped women for home sewing for not one of the 100 women who were assigned to the project at various times left it without having been given a thorough course in clothes making from cutting, to assembling and hand work.

So adept have the women on the project become that they have averaged 31 per cent of a garment during their work period. They also made 29,801 1-2 yards of material do for the more than 20,000 garments, or an average of only 1.49 yards of material to the garment, thanks to a well planned layout system of cutting.

Garments — trousers, pajamas, complete baby layettes, women's suits, shorts, dresses, shirts, etc. — are delivered to the Texas Relief Commission for distribution.

More Arrests Made In Investigation Of Poison Ring

PHILADELPHIA, April 27 (AP)—Detectives rounded up at least a dozen more men and women today in an insurance-murder poison ring investigation and arrested three on homicide charges.

After hours of night “star chamber” sessions the investigators described how the four-state ring and its “customers” poisoned numerous victims to collect insurance money under leadership of a middle-aged man who practiced witchcraft and was known as “The Rabbi.” He is still free.

Indications the poison plot may have taken at least 75 lives in the past ten years in Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey and New York have come repeatedly from investigators.

One man has been convicted of first degree murder, a woman has pleaded guilty to three slayings and three other persons await trial on murder charges.

New developments in the investigation came rapidly after Mrs. Carina Favato, confessed poisoner of three men, disclosed some of the insurance-murder ring's deepest secrets.

Arrested last night and held pending a hearing were:

Mrs. Josephine Romano, 41, who Assistant District Attorney Vincent P. McDevitt said confessed poisoning her husband.

Mrs. Agnes Mantiuk, 36, widow of a barber, the state charges was poisoned fatally.

Emilio Micelli, 30, accused of impersonating a poison victim to obtain insurance on the other man's life.

Police detained at least ten other persons for questioning.

Three Admit Guilt In Woman's Death

WHITE CLOUD, Mich., April 27 (AP)—Lieut. Lyle Morse of the Michigan state police announced today the husband, mother-in-law and a brother-in-law of 20-year-old Helen Cassidy had confessed she was killed in a plot to gain custody of her four small children.

Her body was found hanging in her farm home February 26. Investigators said she was choked to death before the body was suspended to simulate suicide.

Prosecutor J. Donald Murphy said he would request warrants today charging first degree murder against Mrs. Matilda Cassidy, 46, the mother-in-law; Charles Cassidy, 23, the husband; and Elton Cassidy, 26, a brother of Charles. Murphy said Elton admitted the actual slaying.

The prosecutor and Sheriff Robert Hart said the slaying was motivated by a family quarrel in which the young wife's housekeeping, religion and upbringing of the four small children were criticized. Charles Cassidy started suit for divorce last fall, asking custody of the children. Helen Cassidy filed a cross bill and attempted to keep the children.

Four coast-guard cutters hailed them as they sped down the bay.
