

China Hasn't Kept Promise On Prisoners

WASHINGTON (AP)—Diplomatic sources said today Red China shows no sign so far of keeping its promise of four weeks ago to tell 19 imprisoned Americans they are free to leave China.

Not only have the prisoners not been released, the informants said, but the Red Chinese have denied them contact with the British official designed to work with them.

This, it was learned, is the chief snag in the highly secret negotiations at Geneva between U.S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan toward easing Far Eastern conflicts.

Wang agreed Sept. 10 after six weeks of repatriation talks that Americans in China had a right to leave "expeditiously." He promised that Red China would "give wide publicity" to this agreement and would permit Gen. O'Neill the British charge d'affaires at Peking, to do likewise.

Ten Americans who had been jailed have since left Red China. So, too, have four of the dozen Americans who have been refused exit permits. The other eight of these presumably know they are free to leave.

To date, however, O'Neill is reported to have been frustrated by Peking each time he has tried to get in touch with the other Americans — 18 in jail and one virtually a prisoner.

What's Money?

Frank Licavoli, 3, Detroit, wears a smile despite the fact he either played "banker" or "share the wealth" with $2,500 of his parents' money. Frank took his mother's purse out with him to play while she was in the basement. It contained $2,500 from the sale of a house. When Frank's mother located the boy a few minutes later, he still had the purse but the money was gone. Frank can't talk and a search of the neighborhood failed to reveal the cash.

Rudder Prepares To Re-Open State Veterans Land Program

By The Associated Press

Land Commissioner Earl Rudder prepared Friday to reopen the state's controversial veterans land program by Nov. 1.

Rudder told of his decision in Temple Thursday as Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd said in Austin he had filed the state's 23rd suit for recovery of funds paid out by the state in the scandal-ridden program.

The program was indefinitely discontinued early this year after irregularities were charged and former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles refused to take the oath for his 10th term in the office. Giles has been convicted in two suits growing out of the land scandals and has appealed a prison term sentence. In all, several hundred indictments have been returned as an outgrowth of the scandals first uncovered by a weekly newspaper editor at Cuero, Cletus Ehrster, a land dealer is on trial at Georgetown, charged with misrepresenting documents signed by a Negro veteran in a land sale under the program.

Rudder emphasized the Nov. 1 reopening date for the program was tentative. He said no applications for land purchases are being accepted now. Veterans under the program could buy farms at low interest and long terms, some up to 40 years.

Block sales of large acreages to groups of veterans figured in the scandals. Some said they thought they were "signing up for a pension." Others said they didn't know they had bought land.

Rudder said that when the program resumes that the state will have six million dollars available. Such a fund, he said, should take care of an estimated 1,000 veterans.

The commissioner, appointed by Gov. Shivers, said applications for help in buying land would be handled on a first-come, first-served basis.

"Without a good land appraisal system, we would have no program," the Brady rancher and World War II hero said.

The new recovery suit seeks $50,448 from Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Byrd of Zavala County.

The suit alleges that Paul Little of Crystal City, acting for the Byrds, misrepresented to the Veterans Land Board that nine veterans of Latin-American descent wanted to buy land owned by the defendants.

The suit brought to $2,111,000 the amount the state has sought to recover in funds from the veterans land program. Some $235,000 has been recovered.

AT DEMO MEET

Shivers Promises Party Independence

FORT WORTH (AP)—Texas Democrats had a new national commitment backed by all factions, coupled with a fresh pledge from Gov. Shivers to continue his fight for independence within the party from "Northern big city bosses."

Shivers told an applauding crowd of 1,000 at a fundraising rally last night that he has decided "to stay in this fight and see it through."

This was taken by many as the tip-off that he may run for his fourth elective term.

Shivers' speech climaxed a day of Democratic activity in which Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey was named national committeeman to replace Wright Morrow, thrown out by the State Executive Committee two months ago.

Ramsey's selection drew quick approval from Speaker Sam Rayburn, leader of the loyalist faction which Shivers has been fighting and against which he promised more warfare. Ramsey also won the endorsement of Senate majority leader Lyndon Johnson.

Shivers did not refer to Ramsey in his speech, but State Executive Committee Chairman George Sandlin praised the selection in his introduction of Shivers. There was no doubt shown among Shivers' friends that Ramsey was acceptable to the governor.

Shivers had urged Morrow's ouster on grounds the national committeeman who had backed Dwight Eisenhower in 1952 was not going to be recognized by the national committee, and that Texas needed a representative who could speak for a majority of Texas Democrats in national party councils. Morrow called it a capitulation to Rayburn.

Shivers was interrupted nine times by applause during his appeal for backing on his states' rights program. He sharply assailed the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) for seeking to tell Texans how to run their politics.

He centered his attack on Democrats who he said want to "plant the heel of federal authority" on Texas oil and gas wells, and "reach further into the classrooms of our children."

Urging that Democrats fight for what he called the fundamental principles of the party, he pleaded for no compromise or let up in the struggle.

These battles cannot be fought, the governor warned, "if we try to march in lockstep with those who are leading down the road to expediency."

The executive committee voted to hold the May 1956, state convention in Dallas, and to drive for 3,500,000 paid poll taxes. The convention names Texas' national convention delegates.

This was part of the Shivers conservative faction's strategy for winning convention control, and control of the Texas delegation to the national convention in Chicago. The "loyalists" under Rayburn have the same objective. Its leaders plan a meeting in Waco Oct. 15.

Hitting hard at his opposition, Shivers said: "They will never rest until the last vestige of Texas independence has been ground into the earth."

He predicted the national convention would not be controlled by any group, saying that Texans have a fine opportunity to declare their principles there.

Shivers said he believed there were men in the national party "who can and will support the principles we believe in and, at the same time, supply the vigorous leadership which the party needs."

Gaullists Join Faure Offensive

PARIS (AP)—The Republican and Social Action (ARS) Party, a faction which grew out of Gen. Charles de Gaulle's rally of the French people, joined the offensive against Premier Edgar Faure today as he battled in the National Assembly for his government's life.

A party caucus voted to expel Faure's minister for Tunisian and Moroccan affairs, Pierre July. It was July who served as Faure's strong aide in drafting the North African policies now meeting so much opposition that the government may fall.

The caucus also asked Faure's new defense minister, Gen. Pierre Billotte, another ARS member, to resign from Faure's Cabinet. Faure only a short time earlier had ordered Billotte to Morocco in an apparent effort to get his reform program for the protectorate under way in time to save the government.

Billotte announced he would go directly to the Rif country of Morocco, where military operations against rebel Berber tribesmen are holding up administrative changes. Whether he would heed his party's demand for his resignation was uncertain.

The party actions followed the defection from Faure's government of another former Gaullist faction, the Social Republican Party. Four ministers of this group, including former Defense Minister Gen. Pierre Koenig, were dismissed from the Cabinet by Faure yesterday.

Observers in the National Assembly gave Faure's government only a limited chance to survive the vote of confidence on his North African program expected to be held Monday. But one of his best prospects lay in a quick dislodging of the log jam in Rabat.

His program there has been stalled by resident general Pierre Boyer de Latour's delay in naming a three-man regency to take over the throne powers Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa delegated to a cousin when he moved to the international zone of Tangier.

Faure faced a barrage of criticism in the continuation of the debate. More than 40 deputies asked to speak after the premier told the Assembly last night he was sure his policy of conciliating the Moroccan Nationalists was the right one.

The Cabinet authorized him to seek a vote of confidence — perhaps on Monday — after four Gaullist ministers refused to go along with his program and were forced out.

Weakened by the loss of Gaullist support, as well as by many defections in the ranks of peasants and independents, Faure appeared to face an impossible task of rallying the required 314 votes in the 627-member house.

National Polio Count Lowest In 6-Year Period

WASHINGTON (AP)—Only 1,360 cases of polio were reported last week, the smallest total for the comparable week in six years, the Public Health Service said today.

The new cases ran 21 per cent below the 1,694 listed in the week ended Sept. 24.

For the year there had been 23,018 cases through Oct. 1, 7,884 of them paralytic. This compares with 28,292, including 10,183 paralytic, in the similar 1954 span.

A Health Service spokesman said the indications now are that this year's total "will be in the range of 30,000," against 38,741 in 1954.

There have been 21,955 cases reported for this "disease year," which began about April 1, compared with 26,739 in the corresponding 1954 period.

Last week's 1,260 cases compared with these totals in the five preceding years: 1,951 in 1954; 1,455 in 1953; 3,542 in 1952; 1,405 in 1951; and 1,990 in 1950.

The Health Service said decreases occurred last week in most geographic divisions of the states, especially in the northeastern part of the nation.

Only three states had more than 100 cases each, Massachusetts and Wisconsin each reporting 135 and New York, 149. During the week ended Sept. 24 New York reported 208, Wisconsin 194 and Massachusetts 181.

The communicable disease center reported there had been 717 cases, 239 of them paralytic, among persons who had been given the Salk polio vaccine.

For the first time since early summer the weekly communicable disease summary omitted a cautionary note that no conclusions could be drawn from those case reports as to the effectiveness of the vaccination program.

Instead, it presented the report first made public last weekend that the number of cases reported among seven million vaccinated children throughout the nation is running 25 to 50 per cent below the rate to be expected without vaccination in the same age groups.

U.S. Forces Aiding Flood Victims Suffer First Death

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The first death was reported today among U.S. relief forces keeping flooded Tampico alive. Reports from the Gulf Coast port said a rescue launch from the destroyer Bassett overturned and a Marine was drowned.

The Marine's identity was withheld. The only other new death reported in the city was a suicide, a merchant apparently despondent over his property losses. By unofficial count, 326 others have died in the hurricanes and floods in the Tampico area.

The Panuco River, after a month of hurricane and rain-spawned flooding, dropped a few inches. Barring more rains, the fall was expected to accelerate sharply in a few days.

But new threats of famine and water shortage developed in Tampico, its above-water blocks jammed by the city's 110,000 population and 55,000 to 70,000 refugees from the surrounding coastal plain.

A conference of federal, state and local officials announced Tampico had drinking water for only another 24 hours, that the city was without bread, flour, salt, sugar and other necessary foods, and that medical supplies were still in short supply.

Food was stacked high on the airport outside the city, but washed-out highways and bridges kept much of it from reaching the 16 or so blocks still above water.

In the heart of the city. Four U.S. Army amphibious vehicles arrived by air from Pueblo, Colo., to shuttle supplies.

U.S. Navy helicopters lifted refugees to the airport and passenger planes shuttled them on to inland camps. In Mexico City, the federal government discussed the possibility of removing 40,000 of Tampico's people as soon as the waters recede enough to let trucks, trains and ships through.

Tampico's city manager, Anastasio Garcia, estimated the flood damage in the city alone at 42 million dollars.

Along with the airlift of refugees, the Navy's helicopter rescue of persons stranded over the countryside continued at the rate of about 1,000 a day. Launches and boats from the aircraft carrier Salpan and other U.S. Navy ships collected almost as many. The American sailors and fliers battled fatigue and the elements as much as 18 hours a day.

U.S. To Ask New Atomic Conference

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States was expected to press today for another international atomic conference at the U.N.'s Political Committee turned to peaceful use of atomic energy.

Sen. John O. Pastore (D-R.I.) was slated to take the floor for the United States. A U.S. spokesman said he probably would stress that the United States feels the international conference held in Geneva last August was such a success that a similar parley should be held within the next three years.

American circles said the United States intends to cosponsor a resolution calling for such a conference and predicted it would get warm support from the 60-nation body.

Pastore, a member of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, also was expected to dwell on the proposed international agency to supervise the program for using the atom for peace.

Under a draft statute prepared by the United States and other atomic powers, the agency will be supervised by a 16-nation board of governors.

As the most important contributors of atomic know-how and materials, the United States, Russia, Britain, France and Canada would be members. Australia, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Portugal and South Africa would hold five seats on the first board because they are heavy producers of atomic materials.

Six other members would be elected from countries neither possessing nor yet processing atomic materials.

Soviet Premier Bulganin told President Eisenhower at the summit conference that Russia would contribute to the agency when it is set up.

The Political Committee is expected to turn to the related topic of atomic radiation when it completes its present debate. After the Big Four foreign ministers wind up their Geneva parley — probably in November — the committee will take up disarmament, the major item on its agenda.

President May Get Change In Hospital Routine

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower was reported today to be looking forward to a hospital routine change which probably will give him a more active role in the conduct of government business starting this weekend.

Early tomorrow morning he will pass the crucial two-week milestone along the recovery trail he has been traveling without complications from the time of his Sept. 24 heart attack.

Doctors at Fitzsimons Army Hospital have said from the start that any complications would be most likely to develop during the first 14 days — that at the end of that period the Chief Executive probably would be "over the hump."

They never have meant, of course, that the danger would evaporate right at the end of two weeks by the clock. That period always has been just their best estimate on the basis of experience.

But they have said that after 14 days in the hospital Eisenhower probably would be able to step up his activity a bit so far as government business is concerned.

If all continues to go well they plan to let him engage in an occasional conference with other administration officials and to let him study official papers from time to time.

He has signed several documents during the last week, nothing more. Preliminary study of the papers was handled by aides and the President has had to make no policy decisions.

The prospect of getting back to a point where he can make some such decisions reportedly has cheered the Chief Executive, who will be 65 a week from today.

The President's first visitor other than family members and a few White House staff members will be Vice President Nixon, who is scheduled to arrive here late tomorrow from Washington.

Nixon is coming at the President's request but James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary told newsmen, "They will not take up any controversial subjects at all."

Also at Eisenhower's request, the vice president is presiding at another Cabinet meeting in Washington today—the second time he has served in that role since the President was stricken.

Expert Calculates Life Of Satellite At Various Heights

WASHINGTON (AP)—A leading rocket expert has calculated that a basketball-sized space satellite at an altitude of 100 miles would last less than an hour.

At 200 miles it could last about 15 days, and at 300 miles for about a year, Dr. Homer Newell told the national capital section of the American Rocket Society last night. Newell is acting superintendent of the Atmosphere and Astral Physics Division of the Naval Research Laboratory.

He based his calculations on a satellite about the size, shape and weight of a basketball, traveling at a speed of 18,000 miles an hour. That is the expected speed of the satellite which the United States hopes to send aloft by 1957.

The Defense Department, announcing two contract awards yesterday, said the exact size and shape of the satellite itself have not yet been determined, and added that it will probably travel in an elliptical orbit, varying its height above the earth. As it slows down, gravity is expected to pull it into denser atmosphere where it will disintegrate.

Newell said the U.S. Committee for the International Geophysical Year, of which he is a member, is thinking in terms of launching 6 to 10 space satellites during that "year" — actually, an 18-month period from July 1957 through December 1958.

He said the initial satellites probably will be "passive" — that is, they will contain no instruments whatever. Later ones may contain radio telemetering equipment to send back information from outer space.

Capable All-Out Leader

The Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association exercised wisdom in choosing a real live-wire for its new President. He is French M. Robertson, Abilene oilman, holder of a distinguished career in the public service, as well as an outstanding operator in many phases of the oil industry. This native of Stonewall County, lawyer and two-term representative from Haskell County, holder of a Legion of Merit from work performed as a WW II Air Force officer, served as Southwest regional director of Civil Defense, and is still personal adviser to CD Administrator Val Peterson.

One of Robertson's greatest achievements has been as a member of the Texas as Prison Board for nine years, and chairman of that board for the last four years. Under him and his colleagues, the Texas prison system has come from one of the worst in the nation to one of the best, both in physical properties and in the humane management of prisoners.

It took Hitler's toughest stormtroopers to quell the rampaging Greeks. WASHINGTON — The so-called "spirit of Geneva" is dead. The Russians have killed it. It was one of his informal and likewise revealing speeches. He remarked, as reported by the radio and press services, that if anyone believes that our smiles involve abandonment of the teaching of Marx, Engels and Lenin — the name of Stalin was added, according to the official East German broadcasts — does not appear in the Moscow reports — he deceives himself poorly. Those who wait for that, he said, must wait until a shrimp learns to whistle.

Most SWC Teams Are Favored This Week

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor

Southern Methodist meets somebody it's expected to beat—hapless Missouri—Friday night to start off a busy weekend of intersectional football for the Southwest Conference. It's a 2-day period highlighted by the ancient Texas-Oklahoma game and clashes by two league members with foes on far-flung fields—Texas Christian vs. Alabama at Tuscaloosa and Texas A&M vs. Nebraska at Lincoln—and a bitter conference struggle in which Arkansas will fight for survival against rugged Baylor. And there's a most important intersectional game at Houston where Rice tries to remove Clemson from the undefeated, untied ranks. Around a quarter of a million fans are expected to jam the stadium for the six games. Southern Methodist, two-time loser, and Missouri, which has been licked thrice, get together in Dallas' Cotton Bowl as a feature of the opening of the Texas State Fair. The two have been playing some of the best in the country with dire results.

JACK EVERETT and Friends

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Three of the principals in the above picture, which was made a number of years ago, may not recognize themselves. They are pictured with Jack Everett, who now is employed as Driver Education teacher in the local school. The others are, left to right, Ray Taylor, Jerry Millsaps and Marshall Crawford. If you haven't heard of any or all of the boys, you're not a regular reader of the sports pages.

All are Lamesa products, where Jack was employed at one time. Taylor is currently playing with the great TCU football team. Millsaps is now the Howard Payne quarterback and some say he is the best signal barker Lamesa ever had. Crawford, injured in an automobile accident late in the summer, is still counted upon to play a lot of end for Rice Institute this season. The three youths combined to deal out misery to the Big Spring football team about four years ago.

Texas high school teams are now 13-1-1 in the wu-lost-tied columns against Oklahoma contingents.

Those who are complaining here that the varsity coaching staff (two men) isn't big enough should sit in on some of TCU's practice sessions.

Head Coach Abe Martin has only two assistants.

If you'd like, you can get reserve seat tickets to the North Texas-Hardin-Simmons football game in Odessa by writing the Chamber of Commerce over there. The ducaets are priced at $2.40 each. The game takes place the night of Saturday, Oct. 5.

Two of the better young football players coming up in the grades here are James Harrington and Gordon Bristow, both of whom perform for Charles Caraway's Eighth Grade Yearlings. Harrington is a swivel-hipped speedster who runs with british power.

Bristow is perhaps the finest blocker on the Yearling club, which is not hard to understand, since his paternal parent is Obie Bristow, who has been teaching him that important phase of the game. The "t" runs deep on the Junior High clubs here. Our job is to keep the lads we now have.

Roland Powell and Cloyd Shilling, the stellar tackles who went from Sweetwater to the University of Oklahoma, are now running first string on the Sooner freshman team, according to Roy Scudday, the Sweetwater scribe.

In from Abilene for a weekend visit, Wiley Wise says he's played most of the two games the McMurry College freshmen club has behind it. Wise, who came along fast at the end of last season, originally planned to attend Tampa University this year but decided it was too far from home, so he took a scholarship at McMurry. Wiley is the type of lad who likes to play football. He's going to be big enough to make McMurry a fine hand, too. He's a center.

What kind of football club does Vernon have? The Lions played Wichita Falls a better game than did Amarillo, which was supposed to have one of the best teams in AAAA circles. Another scoreless performance like Amarillo had last week and Amarillo fans will be wanting to sack Joe Kerbel.

eligible to play in Saturday night's engagement here between the Coahoma reserves and Big Lake. The contest is the first of five arranged by Coach Dub Behrens for the B leaguers. Game time is with Greenfield tonight will be Tercions.

Army, Irish In Top Grid Contests This Weekend

By RIP WATSON The Associated Press

Army and Notre Dame, whose annual meeting used to be one of college football's top attractions of the year, don't meet on the gridiron this year, but they are providing the top games this weekend just the same. Both will be playing to packed, partisan houses with bristling battles in prospect. Notre Dame, No. 5 team in the country, will be tested first in a clash with Miami tonight in the Orange Bowl, with a record crowd of 75,800 expected to see if Miami's football buildup, with this game specifically in mind, can be brought to a successful climax.

Winning Bums Get $9,768.21 Each

NEW YORK (AP)—Members of the World champion Brooklyn Dodgers and the losing New York Yankees received the good news today from Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick. Thirty members of the Dodgers will get $9,768.21 each and to 34 members of the Yankees will go $5,598.98 each. In addition each club voted part shares and gave cash awards from the players' cut of $73,853.59, including $85,000 from the pregame television show. Rookie pitchers Don Bessent and Roger Craig, who helped put the Dodgers back on the right track when they began to slip after the All-Star Game, were given full shares even though they played only about half the season. The Yankees also gave a full share to ex-GI Billy Martin, who joined the club Aug. 30 and played a major role in the club's drive to the American League pennant. Other Yankees voted full shares included Jim Konstanty, Don Larsen and Billy Hunter. Konstanty was optioned to Richmond late in the season and recalled too late to be eligible for the series. Larsen optioned to Denver in May, was recalled July 31. He won eight of his next nine games. Hunt was sent to Denver along with Larsen and suffered a broken leg in August. Frick's official report showed the total receipts for the series to be $2,337,515.34. The commissioner's office received 15 per cent from each game or $350,627.30. The clubs and league offices split $1,332,034.45, representing 25 per cent of the receipts of the first four games and 85 per cent of the take from the remaining three. Brooklyn players received a total of $309,898.51 and the Yankees $296,599. The Dodgers' voted three half-shares and gave $2,200 in cash awards to seven individuals. The Yankees voted partial shares to four and cash awards of $5,000 to eight.

An even larger, but no less anxious, crowd is in prospect in Ann Arbor, Mich., tomorrow, where 97,239 will see Army try to win its sixth straight from Michigan in a series that has been bitterly fought despite the Cadets' victory every time thus far. The game, a pick 'em affair, shapes up as a battle between Army's Eastern powerhouse, rated sixth nationally, and Michigan, hailed as the best in the West and ranked second nationally. While counting the receipts of tonight's sellout, Orange Bowl officials may be listening tomorrow for returns from, of all places, the Cotton Bowl, where powerful Oklahoma, with 21 straight victories, meets old rival Texas in an annual scrap. If the Sooners can get past Texas, as they're favored to, the nation's top-ranked team, is over the toughest part of its schedule and starts mopping up operations tomorrow against Wake Forest.

After tomorrow, Oklahoma plays only Big Seven teams, which haven't beaten their perennial conference champion in nine years, and Oklahoma A&M, Maryland, the nation's top-ranked team, is over the toughest part of its schedule and starts mopping up operations tomorrow against Wake Forest.

TEXAS STILL HAS BIG EDGE IN SOONER SET

AUSTIN, (SC)—A football rivalry featuring teams with diametrically opposite modes of attack will be renewed Saturday at Dallas as universities of Oklahoma and Texas meet before a 10th straight capacity crowd of 75,504 at the Cotton Bowl.

Entering their 50th year of football feuding against the ground-conscious Sooners, the Longhorns seek to end a string of three consecutive victories by Oklahoma. Precedent favors the Steers for never has Oklahoma been able to earn a fourth victory in a row, failing in this task in 1913 and 1951.

The Sooners, however, bring into this regionally televised game 22 straight victories and a record of having scored in 97 consecutive games.

Although the Longhorns rarely have been blessed with passing and receiving talent as this year, they have attacked OU through the air in all but one of the last eight games. Nevertheless, passes did not figure prominently in either of Texas' victories during this period. The 1947 Steers ground out four touchdowns before completing a pass for a fifth, while the 1951 Longhorns threw only three aerials. In contrast, Oklahoma has stuck to the ground against Texas during the eight-year span with the exception of 1950 when 20 passes netted 104 yards but no touchdowns.

For the full period, Texas threw 129, completed 65 for 882 yards and five touchdowns, Oklahoma passing 70 times, completed 29 for 450 yards and three touchdowns. Recent games indicate both clubs will follow the same pattern. Oklahoma edged North Carolina, 13-6, and in the process rolled for 403 yards on the ground. The same day, Texas passed for 223 yards and three touchdowns while defeating Tulane, 35-21. Both teams are well-equipped for their particular style of attacking. Oklahoma has priceless running talent in Quarterback Jimmy Harris, Halfbacks Bob Burris and Tommy McDonald and Fullback Billy Pricer.

Texas claims its best passer in years in Sophomore Joe Clements, and a bevy of fine receivers including Ends Menan Schriever, Wayne Wash, Ed Kelley and Allen Ernst and Halfbacks Walter Fonden, Joe Youngblood and Ed Hawkins.

Propeller Shafts Of 10 New Navy Ships Being Replaced

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today the propeller shafts of 10 new Navy ships are being replaced at a cost of several million dollars.

A Washington dispatch to the Times by Hanson W. Baldwin also said that a total of 21 new naval vessels are affected by a change in propeller shaft specifications.

The Navy was quoted as saying that the extensive propeller-shafting replacement program was decided upon early last summer after a failure in the frigate Norfolk, a new 5,500-ton ship.

The story gave this account of the mishap:

The Norfolk lost a propeller and part of a propeller shaft at sea last spring and the turbine driving this shaft, suddenly relieved of its load, "ran away" and virtually exploded.

The investigation that followed apparently was not able to determine definitely whether the shaft had broken or the loss of the screw had caused the shaft failure.

The story gave those details of the replacement program:

Among the ships affected are the aircraft carrier Forrestal, the largest warship in the world, which was commissioned last Saturday at Portsmouth, Va., and her sister ship Saratoga, which is to be christened at the New York Naval Shipyard in Brooklyn next Saturday.

Air Tour Scheduled

The seventh annual All-Texas Air Tour will land at Odessa Oct. 10 about noon. All local pilots and other interested persons are invited to meet the more than 125 participating pilots. Also, local pilots may participate in the tour, joining it at any point.

FOR $100,000
All She Has To Do Is Break A Trance

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—All Pat Morris has to do to collect $100,000 is shake off a hypnosis and get up from a chair.

If she can do that today on the Truth Or Consequences TV show, she can pocket the loot.

This is the latest attraction in a giveaway orgy touched off by the fabulous success of The $64,000 Question. When that show shot to the top of viewer ratings, TV minds began whirring with new gimmicks.

The fertile mind of Ralph Edwards went to work. He knows the value of huge giveaways, having originated the "Hush" contests in radio.

One day, a night club entertainer named Arthur Ellen came to the Edwards' office. He said he could hypnotize a contestant and prevent him from rising and collecting $1,000 placed on a table. That sounded like a good stunt for Edwards' Truth or Consequences show, which Jack Bailey emcees on NBC.

"Only we'll make it $100,000!" Edwards said. Ellen agreed to find backers to put up the hundred grand. He is said to have found them in Nevada.

Last Friday two busloads of USC students were brought to the show. Ellen tried hypnotizing eight of them, selected 19-year-old Patricia Morris as the likeliest prospect.

In a demonstration for newsmen Wednesday, Ellen put her into what appeared a deep hypnotic sleep within seconds and stuck her with pins, made her remain in awkward positions for minutes, and suspended her body between two chairs.

Pat was barred from consulting other hypnotists or psychologists this week. In case Ellen cannot hypnotize her, she can be supplanted by two other USC students, Bill Hillinck, 21, and Paige Bovee, 19, who appeared on the show last week.

Hypnotist Ellen is sure he can put the hex on Pat so she won't rise from the chair. What does she think?

"I don't know," she says. "I'm sure going to try."

If she wins, the money will be paid her in $5,000 installments over 20 years.

Lamesa C-C Banquet Set

LAMESA — The Chamber of Commerce has completed plans for its annual banquet, which will be held Oct. 13 at the High School Cafeteria.

Melvin Munn of Dallas, director of Public Relations for the Blue Cross-Blue Shield Insurance Company, will serve as principal speaker. Chairman of the Speakers' Bureau of the Dallas Community Chest and Dallas Heart Association, Munn is recognized as an outstanding speaker.

He also serves as district chairman of the Texas-Oklahoma District of the Key Club and Vice President of the Dallas Kiwanis Club and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Dallas County Association for the Blind.

Stansell Clement will be master of ceremonies at the banquet.

The banquet will mark the 50th anniversary of the organization of Dawson County and the 35th anniversary of the founding of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce.

All past presidents of the organizations will be invited to attend, according to J. P. White, general chairman of the committee.

Mrs. Jake Lippard will play organ melodies immediately prior to the program. Bernie Howell and his Orchestra of Lubbock will supply music during the banquet. Owen C. Taylor will lead the singing.

Satellite Project Contracts Awarded

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department announced today that "Project Vanguard" — the creation of an artificial space satellite — is now under way with the award of two contracts.

The prime contract "for a major part of the project," the rocket launching vehicle, has been awarded to Glenn L. Martin Co., Baltimore aircraft firm.

The General Electric Co. "will supply the rocket motor which will be used in the first stage of the launching vehicle and other important portions" of the system, the department said.

The contracts are being handled by the Navy Department, the agency chosen to manage the military part of the scientific research project. Army and Air Force facilities also will be used, the announcement added.

TCU Educator To Speak Here

FORT WORTH—Dr. Ike H. Harrison, new dean of the TCU School of Business, will address the annual meeting of the West Texas Teacher Association in Big Spring, Oct. 21-22.

He will discuss "The Basics Needed by Students to Enable Them to Reach Top Level Positions."
