CHICAGO (AP) — Police today pressed their relentless search for the brutal slayers of three school boys after the father of one of the victims joined in the hunt for helpful information.

United Fund Set For Second Big Push Of Drive

With the initial surge having accounted for approximately half of the goal the United Fund dug in Monday for the second big push this week.

The immediate goal was the report meeting Tuesday noon in room No. 1 at the Settles. Division leaders and team captains were expected to regroup forces for a final all-out campaign to clean up their prospect cards by the end of the week.

One of the biggest drives, based on number of participants, will take place on Wednesday when the women's division, under Mrs. Neil Norred, makes a one-day visit to all residential sections.

"This is not to take the place of any of the other divisions," Mrs. Norred emphasized. "This is to give the housewife and any others who might not otherwise be contacted an opportunity to have a part in the United Fund."

"We feel that the housewife has just as much stake in community progress as anyone, and we want to give everyone a chance to have some share in the community's welfare, character building and volunteer health agencies. The best way to do that is through the United Fund."

"This portion has nothing to do with gifts made by other members of the family through other divisions... It is an individual appeal primarily to the housewife and to people not visited by other workers."

The big sign reflecting progress of the campaign was to be erected Monday on the courthouse square. Al Stevenson is to paint in the daily progress on the United Fund barometer.

Friday evening the Junior High Band will form a Red Feather as a reminder to all people to support the United Fund.

year-old Robert Peterson, one of the victims, spent an hour last night flagging down buses near his home in an effort to secure information.

Peterson, accompanied by two bus line officials, appealed to drivers and passengers to relay any possible information to authorities. Police said Peterson kept at his self-imposed task for an hour before returning home.

Authorities did not say whether or not Peterson's personal appeal turned up any pertinent information.

The naked, battered bodies of young Peterson, John Schuessler, 13, and his brother Anton, 11, were found seven days ago in Robinson Woods, west of the city limits. Police said the youths apparently waged a terrific struggle before being murdered.

Thus far the police investigation, already one of Chicago's most extensive, has failed to produce concrete results.

More than 100,000 persons have been interviewed and 23 square miles combed since the bodies were found Tuesday.

The boys last were seen alive about 9 p.m. the previous Sunday four miles east of Robinson Woods.

More than 300 policemen made a fruitless house-to-house canvass of the Jefferson Park police district over the weekend. It was in that district that the boys vanished.

Police planned further talks with several persons held for questioning.

One of them, Jack McKinney, 27, a Chicagoan, returned voluntarily from Tennessee for questioning.

Sheriff Joseph D. Lohman said McKinney had been picked up near Tazewell, Tenn., where he was found asleep in his car. He said McKinney had what appeared to be scratches on his face and blood stains on his shirt.

Police also planned further questioning of two youths who were accused by another young man of molesting him in Robinson Woods a year ago.

The Chicago detective bureau received a telegram from Mrs. J.H. Lopez of Cedar town, Ga., offering a $1,000 reward for capture of the killer or killers. She explained that she had read about the case.

Her offer raised the reward total to $6,700. Mayor Richard J. Daley plans to ask the City Council to post $10,000 in reward cash.

Off Beat Conductor

When Deputy Sheriff Melvin Moe stepped into suburban Mercer Island's Shorewood Clubhouse he immediately was drafted as the evening's guest conductor for a fun-loving Seattle, Wash., Symphony Orchestra family-night concert. Moe was tracking down some double-parking leads when he entered the clubhouse. He ended up leading the 75-piece symphony through Johann Strauss' spirited "Thunder and Lightning Polka"—and never got around to writing any tickets.

WORLD TAKES NOTE

U.N. Marks Its 10th Birthday

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United Nations marked its 10th birthday today—the anniversary of the day the U. N. charter went into effect. The event was observed with celebrations around the world.

An international concert in the General Assembly hall tonight was a part of the celebration at the U. N. itself. The performers included Emil Gilels, the Soviet Union's premier pianist, the New York Philharmonic Symphony, British composer Sir William Walton, American conductor Leonard Bernstein, and the Schola Cantorum, New York choral group.

In a statement, Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U. S. delegate, called the international organization "the most potent single engine in the world for influencing public opinion."

"It is a place where we Americans can set forth our own ideals and where we can expose Communist fallacies," he said.

Harold E. Stassen, President Eisenhower's disarmament adviser, in a speech at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York last night said he was sure that "the skeptics of today who scoff at the United Nations will be as wrong as the cynics of two centuries ago who scoffed at the United States."

The Korean War dead were honored at ceremonies at the U. N. cemetery at Pusan, America's top military commanders in the Far East in statements warned the Communist world that their forces were ready to repel any aggression.

2 More Plane Victims Die

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Two more deaths have brought to eight the total killed by the crash of millionaire sportsman Joel Thorne's plane into an apartment house last Monday night.

Miss Anna Presneco, 41, Lyndhurst, N. J., and Mrs. Laura Marchica, 38, succumbed yesterday to burns.

They were sisters of Mike Preston, 31, who is still in critical condition at St. Michael's hospital.

Patricia and Preston are the only survivors of a family group of eight who were celebrating the baptism a few hours earlier of 7-week-old Sheryl Preston. The celebration was at the Preston apartment.

Killed in the crash were the baby, Thorne and an 18-year-old bride of two months, Mrs. Betty Wolf. Then Patricia's brother Johnny Marchica, 6, died. Friday night Mrs. Shirley Preston, 25, wife of Mike and mother of the baby, died. So did Frank Marchica, 38, Preston's brother-in-law.

Fifth Clary Trial Begins

DALLAS (AP)—Clifton Clary, 54, former Runnels County ranch foreman, went on trial today on murder charges in the death of his wife seven years ago.

It was the fifth time for Clary to be tried. Two sentences were reversed, one mistrial was declared and in a fourth attempt the indictment was quashed.

Clary's wife burned to death near Ballinger in 1948.

Chance Seen For Balancing Budget

Mercury Drops As Cold Norther Crosses Texas

By The Associated Press

A speeding, bone-dry norther-nippiest of the season—reached the Mexican border Monday after failing to set off predicted snow in the Panhandle.

Temperatures dropped to freezing or below throughout the Panhandle and into the Plains country.

As the front blew into South Texas Monday morning, sprinkles were set off at Corpus Christi and Laredo while Alice reported moderate rain. But there was no hope of significant rain because skies cleared rapidly behind the norther.

Scudding along at 25 miles an hour, the norther carried a load of dust and kicked up more dirt and debris as it rolled ahead. Cotulla in South Texas reported visibility reduced to six miles by blowing dust as the front blew through there at 7:30 a.m. Monday.

Low readings Monday included Dalhart 27, Amarillo 28, Lubbock 30, Childress 34, Wichita Falls 37, Midland 37, Wink and Mineral Wells 41, Alpine 42, Dallas 43, San Angelo 44, Sherman 43, El Paso 48, San Antonio 58 and Houston 61.

Fair and cool readings were predicted for all of Texas through Monday night, with a slight warming tendency setting in for West and North Central Texas Tuesday.

Heavy frost painted wide areas of the Panhandle and there was fear of damage to late-planted cotton, the harvest of which has just begun.

Plainsmen reported heavy frost in a 25-mile radius in all directions with damage to cotton re-planted in June after heavy spring rains. Late-planted cotton was all right and grain sorghums, about half of which have been harvested, were fully enough matured to withstand frost.

The Weather Bureau predicted more frost for early Tuesday, extending south to the Dallas-Fort Worth area. Continued clear skies, absence of wind and more chill readings prompted the forecast.

Cold Air Mass Over Rockies

By The Associated Press

The coldest air of the fall season pushed southward from Canada to center over the central Rockies today.

The season's first zero reading was recorded at Fraser, Colo., site of President Eisenhower's favorite fishing and camping grounds.

Below freezing readings early today reached from the Western Plains southward to the Texas Panhandle and eastward across the upper Mississippi and central Missouri Valley regions.

Light rain showers, generally less than a quarter of an inch, fell throughout the night over much of Illinois and Indiana and northward to the Great Lakes. Snow flurries touched parts of northern Wisconsin and Minnesota. At International Falls, Minn., an inch of snow was on the ground.

Elsewhere, the temperatures held seasonal. Readings in the 60s and 70s covered a region westward from Alabama into southern Texas. Miami reported the morning's highest temperature, 78 degrees.

Considerable warming took place in the northeastern section of the nation. Readings in the 50s were common early today over much of New England in marked contrast to yesterday morning when below freezing marks were the rule rather than the exception.

Readings of 60 covered an area from Ohio northeast into New York state.

County Studying Bids On Equipment

County commissioners were purchasing more equipment today and had under consideration six bids on a new bulldozer and truck.

Central Texas Machinery Company of Abilene submitted the low bid of $14,725.86, plus trade-in of an old machine, on supplying the bulldozer. There were two other bids on this, submitted by W. L. Johnson Machinery Company and Road Machinery Company, both of Midland.

Tidwell Chevrolet Company of Big Spring submitted the low truck bid, offering a 1953 model for $1,325 plus trade-in. Driver Truck & Implement Company offered a 1956 International for $1,380.45 on the same basis, and Jones Motor Company offered a 1956 Dodge for $1,370.

TRUCE CHIEF ON WAY

Israelis Charge Attack By Syrians

JERUSALEM (AP)—An Israeli army spokesman said Syrian forces opened fire today on the Israeli settlement of En Gev along the Sea of Galilee. He said there were no casualties.

His report came as the U. N. truce chief for Palestine flew today to U. N. headquarters in New York to report on the tense situation existing along Israel's borders with her Arab neighbors. A Saturday night Israeli raid in which three Syrians were reported slain and five captured added urgency to his mission.

Israel complained to the Security Council that Syria was guilty of persistent violations of her border.

The truce supervisor, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, said an investigation showed at least two groups of 20 to 30 armed Israelis each carried out a "well-planned" retaliatory raid across the Syrian border Saturday night.

He said Syrian sources reported one of their lieutenants and two privates were killed and six privates wounded. Israel previously had announced the capture of five Syrian soldiers, including a lieutenant and a sergeant.

"Bits of equipment and ammunition found in the area of the attack have Israeli markings, and blood traces lead in the direction of the Israeli border," the Canadian truce chief said.

He declared it was a tragic illustration of the "policy of retaliation" and took off for New York to make a report to the U. N.

The Israeli announcement said the raid followed the kidnaping of an Israeli soldier named Jacob Minovsky by Syrian soldiers and "a number of other organized Syrian attacks during the past fortnight." Syria contended that Minovsky had crossed into her territory from Alabama into southern Texas. Miami reported the morning's highest temperature, 78 degrees.

Israel already had complained to the U. N. truce observers that

Highway Crash Kills 7 Marines

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP)—A sedan going downhill broadsided into an approaching tank truck-trailer yesterday, killing seven young Marines in the car.

It was one of the worst highway disasters in southern California history. Wreckage and bodies were strewn along the highway. The windshield broke off the Marines' machine, sailed over the truck and shattered the windshield of another car, but its driver was unharmed. The truck's radiator was embedded inside the Marines' car.

The truck driver, Jack R. Hubbard, 32, was unhurt. He told highway patrolmen: "There was nothing I could do. They were skidding, then wham! They hit me. It sounded like thunder. Sparks went everywhere."

Patrolmen said it was a miracle the oil-laden truck did not explode. They said skid marks showed the oncoming car was five feet over the center line reeling sideways.

The 1st Division Marines, returning to Camp Pendleton from weekend liberty, were:

Cpl. Wesley T. Mason, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tossa L. Mason, Navco, Ala.; Pvt. Frederick P. Hulme, 21, son of Edwin Hulme, Medford, Mass. and Mrs. Anna Hulme, Chelsea, Mass.; Cpl. John H. Malone, 21, son of John H. Malone, Bixby, Okla., and Mrs. Anna Malone, Tulsa, Okla.; Cpl. James B. White, 19, son of Arion E. White, Herrin, Ill.; Cpl. Paul L. Lemieux, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Lemieux, Lowell, Mass.; Cpl. Gary C. Perini, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Perini, Denver, Colo.; and Pfc. James H. Harter, 20, son of Mrs. Thelma Bowen, Delph, Ind.

Highway patrolman said Mason was driving the car. Six Marines died instantly. Harter died shortly afterward in a hospital. The crash occurred about five miles southeast of Brea.

Senate Finance Chief Balks At Tax Reductions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) said today he believes a balanced budget is "in sight" but that "this does not mean there will be a surplus sufficient for tax reduction."

Byrd, in a speech prepared for the American Institute of Accountants, also said "it would be unsafe to make a permanent tax reduction based on present boom conditions."

"We will always have peaks and valleys in our business conditions," he added.

Byrd is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee which handles tax legislation. His views appeared to put him at variance with Sen. George (D-Ga.), another high-ranking member of the committee and its former chairman.

George said last week that he favored an income tax cut next year, and believed it should come ahead of federal debt reduction.

In the last congressional session, Byrd and George teamed with Republicans to defeat an income tax cut put through the House by Democrats.

Byrd noted that the Treasury in its latest estimate had forecast a deficit of $1,700,000,000 for the current fiscal year ending next June 30. He said he believes the budget may be balanced because of steadily increasing revenues in a boom economy.

However, the senator declared "sound tax reduction is based upon reduced public expenditures."

"It is true," he said, "that the present administration has reduced expenditures by more than 10 billion dollars as compared to those in the last year of the previous administration."

"The fact is that this net reduction is accounted for by reduced military expenditures since the end of the Korean War."

"Expenditures for strictly non-military programs in this fiscal year are estimated at $27,700,000,000. This figure is three times the cost of these programs in 1940."

Byrd said that all foreign aid in the economic field should be stopped, the federal civilian payroll should be reduced, the government's farm subsidies which he said cost $2,800,000,000 last year should be cut, and grants to states should be slashed.

'Dope' Charges Filed Against 2

John Oakley, Negro from Texas, this morning was charged with possessing marijuana.

About a third of a pound of "bulk marijuana" was found in quarters occupied by Oakley at the rear of 1065 NW 4th, said Bob West, district attorney's investigator. West and city police arrested Oakley Friday and searched the house afterward.

Another narcotics case, in the misdemeanor category, was filed in County Court today. John Henry Blackburn was charged with possessing nembul, a hallucinate pill form commonly called "yellow jacket."

Burglary charges were lodged in Justice Court against Nestor Martinez, from El Paso. He is accused of burglarizing the Holman Grocery on North Gregg Oct. 2.

Other misdemeanor charges filed in County Court were against Lela Pinkerton Lattion, alleged DWI; John Dennison, alleged theft; and Ray Scott, alleged aggravated assault.

Scott, from Lamesa, is charged with assaulting Ed Brown, also of Lamesa, Saturday night. Officers said the two became involved in an argument in the 300 block of North Gregg about 11:15 p.m. Saturday. Brown was cut on the stomach and under the left arm.

Dennison is charged with theft of a tire and wheel from H. McDaniel on Sunday. McDaniel's pickup was parked at 2210 Main.

Miss Lattion was arrested on the DWI charge by sheriff's officers Saturday.

World Atomic Agency Pushed

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Spurred by a State Department call for a 12-nation conference in December on the makeup of an international atomic energy agency, U. N. delegates renewed consultations here today in an attempt to get general endorsement of the agency.

The question is before the U. N. Assembly Political Committee. So far there have been differences over what countries should be in the agency, how it should operate, whether it should be formed inside the U. N. or outside, and whether the Security Council should have a veto on its operation.

The United States, Britain, Australia and other Western sponsors of one resolution have insisted the Assembly should ratify a decision to go ahead and form the agency, and determine its U. N. relationship later.

Princess Margaret In London Following Weekend With Sister

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret was back in London today after a quiet weekend with her sister Queen Elizabeth II and the Duke of Edinburgh at Windsor Castle.

Peter Townsend also spent a quiet Sunday. He left his London apartment only once, just long enough to put a letter in a mailbox in the street outside.

What plans the princess and the divorced commoner might have for further meetings were not disclosed. When Townsend had tea with Margaret Saturday at Clarence House, her London home, it was their ninth date in 20 days. The impression grew, meanwhile, that the 25-year-old Princess still had not made up her mind definitely whether to marry Townsend, 40, a Royal Air Force group captain and the divorced father of two sons.

The Rev. Douglas Lockhart, rector of old St. Paul's Episcopal Church of Scotland, spoke out strongly against such a marriage in a sermon in Edinburgh.

"No one has yet any right to assume that Princess Margaret intends to marry Group Capt. Townsend for there has been no official announcement to that effect," the 57-year-old clergyman said. "But if she were to make any such decision she would be taking a step which she is perfectly well aware to be contrary to the law of Christ and his church.

"The views of her sister and brother-in-law about sanctity and the permanence of the marriage bond are well known."

Queen Elizabeth II is believed to be sympathetic toward her younger sister in the matter but she also is believed to be cautioning her to give second thoughts to any plan of marrying Townsend.

The Duke of Edinburgh, Elizabeth's husband, is reported to be firmly against such a marriage.

Farm Issue Hottier With GOP Blast, Added Farm Price Drop

WASHINGTON (AP)—The political storm over the farm issue has gathered intensity with a Republican blast at two possible Democratic presidential candidates and an official report of a further farm price drop.

Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall yesterday accused Adlai E. Stevenson of bowing to pressure from Democratic leaders and doing a complete "flip-flop" in endorsing 90 per cent of parity farm price supports.

And he said New York's Gov. Averell Harriman, in recommending the 90 per cent system, "has also advocated return to an unworkable program which piled up seven billion dollars worth of price-depressing farm surpluses in government warehouses."

The report of a further setback in farm prices came from the Agriculture Department. It said prices declined between mid-September and mid-October under the influence of a record output of crops and livestock. The exact amount will be issued in a formal report Friday.

Farm prices already average 4 per cent below a year ago, the department said, while prices of nonfarm goods have climbed.

Neither Stevenson nor Harriman offered an immediate reply to Hall's statement. A Stevenson aide said that before Hall "starts interpreting Gov. Stevenson's position on agriculture, I would like to see you try to explain Secretary (of Agriculture) Benson's."

Benson heads the Eisenhower administration program aimed at trimming surplus production and supporting farm prices mainly through a sliding scale of federal price props. This took the place of a Democratic program of 90 per cent of parity payments. Parity is the price paid by law to be fair for farm products in relation to farmers' costs.

Hall said that as recently as Oct. 7 "Adlai Stevenson said the 90 per cent parity program was not the answer to the farm problem."

Yet when the pressure from the Democrat National Committee and other party heads became too strong, he completely reversed himself.

"He told a Des Moines political meeting Friday that 90 per cent of parity is 'all the more necessary at the present time' . . . His flip-flop has scrambled the egg-heads supporting him" for the 1956 nomination.

In his Oct. 7 speech at Green Bay, Wis., Stevenson said he did not believe a high support program by itself, "good as it may have been in its day, is good enough for now—the problem is to see that the farmer gets his proper share of the national income."

The 1952 Democratic presidential nominee did say that as between supports and no supports, "I am for high prices. However, he also said "we must be prepared to experiment with new techniques" to insure farmers an adequate income.

Hall said "the real program" of Democratic campaigners next year "is likely to be the Brannan plan." That program by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan under the Truman administration was rejected by Congress. It proposed to let farm goods sell for free market prices with the government to pay the farmer the difference between these and "fair" levels.

Harriman, speaking Saturday to the same Midwest conference of Democratic leaders at Des Moines, Iowa, which Stevenson addressed, also recommended 90 per cent supports and other farm aids. He said the Republicans are treating the farmer "like some kind of economic delinquent."

In St. Paul, Minn., however, chairman Ellender (D-La.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee said he believes there is not a "ghost of a chance" that Congress will restore the fixed 90 per cent of parity system next year.

Ellender commented as his group began a nationwide tour to find out how the farmers feel about the Eisenhower administration farm program.

Meanwhile, Hall and other GOP strategists today were said to have set tentatively the first week in February as the time they believe President Eisenhower will say whether he will run again.

The timetable reportedly was based on Eisenhower's health progress reports and on various political necessities, including an early February deadline for candidates in the Ohio presidential preference primary next year.

California's Gov. Goodwin Knight told radio-TV interviewers in New York last night that Eisenhower, if he decides not to run himself, could name the Republican presidential nominee in 1956. Knight said he was certain no man could win the GOP nomination if Eisenhower opposed him.

Among the Democrats, chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the House Appropriations Committee told an interviewer he believes it impossible for Congress both to cut taxes and balance the budget next year.

Sen. George (D-Ga.), however, said in a separate interview he believes budget balancing is "clearly in sight" and the time has come for income tax cuts.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo) said in Dallas, Tex., he is "not interested or available" for the Democratic presidential nomination next year.

Senators Head Home, Special Plane Stays Put

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two touring U. S. senators were heading home aboard a regularly-scheduled military flight today while the plane specially dispatched to fetch them from Madrid remained in Europe.

Sen. McClellan said in Paris he was boarding the regular military Air Transport plane: "I don't know anything about any special plane."

Joining McClellan on the flight to Washington were Sen. Stennis (D-Miss) and his wife. "When we left the states we scheduled a return on this day by MATS plane and that is the way we are going," McClellan said.

But the special plane the senators shunned will still carry a load: The Air Force in Madrid said the 60-passenger-plus craft is being flown to Frankfurt, Germany, to pick up stranded GIs and their families.

The Defense Department says it sent the four-engine plane to Madrid for McClellan and Stennis because it found no plane available in Europe on the date the senators wanted to come home. The roundtrip cost of that and a similar special flight slated to pick up Sen. Chavez (D-NM) in Paris Nov. 3 was estimated at $20,000.

The three senators, all members of the Senate Appropriations Committee, have been in Europe inspecting defense and spending. The Defense Department says it is obligated by law to provide the transportation for such trips.

Saying there had been "some misunderstanding" about the affair, the Pentagon stated over the weekend that it knew before the tour began when the senators expected to be returned "and the senators were advised that a way would be found to make suitable air transportation available on those dates."

It said McClellan and Stennis were offered a flight out of Madrid Oct. 25 instead of two days earlier, and Chavez out of Paris Nov. 6 instead of Nov. 3.

This proposal was rejected as "not acceptable" in a message from Col. Ralph J. Watson, Senate liaison officer acting as the senators' military escort, the Pentagon statement said. It was not made clear who decided the offer was not acceptable.

United Air Lines To Fly All Planes Despite Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—United Air Lines says it expects all its planes to fly on schedule today despite a strike by flight engineers.

The engineers walked out yesterday, claiming their job security is threatened by a new company rule that all newly hired engineers be qualified pilots.

The strike caused the airline to cancel one flight last night and several others were delayed 30 to 90 minutes. However, a company spokesman predicted today's operations would be "100 per cent normal."

The company said all planes taking off since the strike have had full crews, with qualified supervisory personnel filling in for engineers on strike.

William Kent, president of the AFL Flight Engineers International Assn., said the company might be able to "get by for a time and to an extent" but predicted that within a week the engineers' picket lines would have a "telling effect."

Flight engineers are assigned to planes having a gross weight of more than 80,000 pounds. For United this includes all its DC8, 6B and 7 passenger planes flying between 80 cities in continental

United States and Honolulu. The airline also has a number of smaller planes that do not require an engineer.

The engineer travels in the cockpit with the pilot and copilot. He makes a preflight check of the plane. During flight he handles certain mechanical controls and monitors the plane's instruments.

A union spokesman said United employs 470 flight engineers but added that not all of them have heeded the strike call.

Ike Embarks On His Busiest Day Since Attack

DENVER, Colo. (U.S.) — President Eisenhower embarked today on his busiest work schedule since he was stricken with a heart attack. A stepped-up list of callers followed encouraging weekend check-ups and issuance of a declaration of unqualified support for Secretary of State Dulles in advance of the Geneva conference. The President said Dulles "speaks for me with authority for our country" in the foreign ministers meeting opening Thursday. Gabriel Hauge and Dr. Arthur F. Burns started a parade of official visitors to Fitzsimons Army Hospital for a conference on economic problems.

Burns, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, and Hauge, Eisenhower's personal economic adviser, will precede Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. into the President's sickroom today. Lodge is chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations. The weekend checkups found Eisenhower doing well enough to be flown East between Nov. 5 and Nov. 12. Whether there will be a complete recovery from the heart attack he suffered 30 days ago, Dr. Paul Dudley White, noted Boston heart specialist, reported, cannot be determined for another "two or three months." That was on Saturday when Dr. White met reporters to give them what he called the "good news" about the President's condition. The President was well enough yesterday to stand upright unaided and step onto a pair of scales. They showed he had dropped to 172 1/2 pounds, four less than when he entered the hospital. This, News Secretary James C. Hagerty said, "is all to the good."

Saarlanders Reject Economic Unity Plan

SAARBRUECKEN, Saar (U.S.) — French Premier Edgar Faure and German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer moved swiftly today to counter a crisis brewing between their two nations as a result of the Saar's 2-1 rejection of the plan to Europeanize the rich industrial valley. Faure and Adenauer exchanged telegrams expressing their conviction that the outcome of the Saar plebiscite yesterday must not be allowed to upset relations between France and West Germany. But already the vote had toppled the Saar's pro-French premier and heightened demands from other German leaders for return of the German-speaking coal and steel territory the Reich held before World War II. A whopping 96.72 per cent of all eligible Saarlanders went to the polls yesterday and turned down the European status plan 423,434 (67.7 per cent) to 201,973 (32.3 per cent). There were no incidents during the balloting after a turbulent three-month campaign. The borders of the tiny area between France and Germany were sealed to prevent possible infiltration by agitators. A five-nation neutral commission supervised the voting. Within minutes after the final returns were reported early today, Premier Johannes Hoffmann announced he was resigning "out of respect for the will of the people." He promised immediate parliamentary elections certain to set up a new government pledged to work for speedy reunion of the Saar with Germany. Hoffmann said he would serve until a new parliament is elected but pro-German leaders met this morning and said they would not accept him as a caretaker head of government. Instead they proposed Heinrich Welsch, chairman of the executive board of the Saar railroads. Hoffmann, 64, has been in power since 1947. By defeating the Europeanization statute—which had taken five years to work out in Paris and Bonn—the Saarlanders inflicted a bitter humiliation on the French and raised a grim question mark over French-German relations. The Europeanization plan would have put the Saar's defense and foreign relations under a neutral commissioner of the seven-nation Western European Union while maintaining its customs and currency union with France. The statute was signed by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in Paris a year ago as the price for French agreement to West German rearmament.

U. S. Foreign Aid Drops $760 Million

WASHINGTON (U.S.) — United States net foreign aid dropped 760 million dollars in the 12 months ended last June 30. The total net foreign aid spending figure was 4 1/2 billion dollars. The Commerce Department attributed the decrease to a 23 per cent decline in military aid. Most of this drop affected Western European countries. Nonmilitary aid reversed a five-year downward trend and increased by 23 per cent during the 12 months. Get The Best For Less... LESS THAN 1/2¢ A TABLET. 200 TABLETS ONLY 79¢. St. Joseph ASPIRIN.

West Completes First Items For Big 4 Meeting

PARIS (U.S.) — The Western Big Three foreign ministers completed work today on the first part of a joint memorandum they will submit at the Big Four conference at Geneva. The first point concerns proposals for German reunification within a European security system. The ministers, U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay met with experts until shortly after 1 p.m. They were to meet again to examine the remaining points of the memorandum, concerning disarmament and East-West relations. French sources said the ministers quickly reached complete agreement on details of a joint Western position regarding Germany.

Bao Dai Loses Post As Viet Nam Leader

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (U.S.) — Premier Ngo Dinh Diem, landslide winner in a popularity plebiscite over absentee chief of state Bao Dai, will proclaim South Viet Nam a republic and himself its first president, it was reported today. Diem, one of Asia's most resolute anti-Communists, dug Bao Dai's political grave with a referendum yesterday in which the Vietnamese overwhelmingly rejected the playboy ex-emperor and chose the Premier chief of State. Authoritative sources said Diem would proclaim Wednesday a holiday, announce the official election returns, and in the presence of the Cabinet, diplomats and a large throng preside at the formal birth of the republic with himself as president. He will remain premier as well until after the election of the first National Assembly, expected before the end of this year. Returns from six provinces and the capital indicated about 98 per cent of those voting wanted Bao Dai eliminated from the political scene. In Saigon, the capital, Diem received 424,126 votes to Bao Dai's 2,036. The city of Tourane gave Diem 47,712, Bao Dai 5. For the first time in modern history the Vietnamese were given the chance to vote in a national election and nearly five million turned out. No major violence was reported anywhere. Another referendum probably will be held next month to approve a constitution. The U. S. State Department has already said it will recognize the election outcome. Britain and France are believed certain to do likewise. But new trouble between the Western Big Three and the Soviet Union loomed as a result. The overwhelming vote of confidence in Diem appeared to rule out any possibility of unification elections in North and South Viet Nam next July, provided by the Geneva armistice and vigorously opposed by Diem as long as the Communist North cannot guarantee free and unfettered voting. The Soviets, cochairmen with Britain of the armistice negotiations, were certain to renew their pressure for the elections, probably during the Big Four foreign ministers' conference opening in Geneva this week. The referendum marked the second—and apparently final—ousting of Bao Dai from power. Puppet emperor of the kingdom of Annam under the prewar French and during the Japanese occupation, he abdicated in 1945 under pressure from the Communist-led Vietminh and subsequently fled to Hong Kong. The French returned him in 1949 as chief of state, but his influence waned steadily after he went back to France last year and Diem's star rose. From France Bao Dai gave active support to Diem's enemies and twice ordered him out of office. Instead of obeying, Diem pushed doggedly ahead, unified the wavering army, defeated the rebellious Hoa Hao and Binh Xuyen private armies, jailed or exiled those Bao Dai named to replace him and brought unity to the country torn by nine years of civil war.

State Fair Closes

DALLAS (U.S.) — The State Fair closed last night in a blaze of glory and the spatter of ancient cars, setting a new attendance record of 2,611,271 in the process. Moshe Sharett, Israel's prime minister, was all set to toss in their laps a frying-hot issue: What are they going to do about the sale of arms by the Soviet bloc to Egypt? Overnight two other thorny problems arose and were likely to be thrust into their consultations. These were: 1. The collapse in the Saar plebiscite of Western plans to "Europeanize" that frontier valley as a keystone of French-German reconciliation; and 2. The overwhelming victory of Premier Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam over absentee chief of state Bao Dai in a referendum. This virtually eliminated any possibility of a unification election in Indochina as provided by the 1954 Geneva armistice conference at which the British and Russian foreign ministers were cochairmen.

San Francisco Area Is Rocked By Quake

SAN FRANCISCO (U.S.) — San Francisco and the East Bay area rocked last night with the second damaging earthquake within seven weeks. It lasted about two minutes. Windows shattered, telephone lines went dead, statues fell from niches in a chapel, dishes fell from shelves and overhead lights swung dizzily. At Oakland, an apartment house fire started soon after the quake and burned to death an 85-year-old woman, Ora Bell. Tom Delain, a battalion fire chief, estimated damage at $23,000 and said the fire was "definitely caused by a gas explosion." Ruth Aldinger, 49, jumped out of a second story window during the fire and suffered serious injuries. Oakland firemen also blamed the quake for a $3,000 house fire. Battalion Chief Bernard Doolley said it either cracked gas pipes or extinguished a pilot light, causing an explosion. Manuel Ortega was hit by flying glass and injured slightly. At Sonoma, the Buena Vista Winery said the jolt shifted a 1,200-gallon wine cask in its cradle. A seam split and, until workmen caulked it, geyser of wine sprayed out. There was not much loss. Pacific Gas and Electric Co. said a neighborhood substation in Walnut Creek went out of service temporarily. The firm said that probably two live wires brushed together. Two pinball devotees declared the jolt was strong enough to "lift" the machines they were playing.

A Bible Thought For Today

Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer: for I believe God, that it shall be even as it was told me. (Acts 27:25)

Editorial

George Yields But Not The Reds

Senator Walter Franklin George (D-GA), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, now sees almost eye to eye with the State Department on how to handle the Red China situation, and this must be counted as a matter of considerable importance, not only because of the Georgian's position as head of an all-important committee, but because his views are respected on both sides of the aisle.

The Georgian has executed a graceful de marche which brings him closely in line with the views of Secretary Dulles. Last July he had come out in favor of a meeting between Dulles and Red China's Chou En-lai within six months, as the best way of easing dangerous tensions in the Far East. This clashed with Dulles'—and the administration's—view that we should refuse to discuss anything with the Communists until they fulfilled at least a few of their promises. It also unwittingly played into the Reds' hands, and they have constantly been ding-donging the U. S. for a full dress conference ever since.

Now George has come more nearly in line with the official administration attitude, by calling on Red China publicly to renounce the use of force in the Formosa dispute before Dulles would agree to meet Chou. This is not a 100 per cent retreat from his former position, but about as near as a statesman can go in one full swoop.

Challenging Red China to renounce force is a fairly safe diplomatic gesture, for it isn't likely Chou would ever agree to such a proposal. But suppose he did? Could any dependence be placed on such a promise from such a source?

The low-level U.S.-Communist parleys which have been under way at Geneva for some weeks now have been far from convincing that the Communists are ready to talk sensibly about more serious matters at higher levels. Time after time the Chinese representatives at Geneva have interjected into those limited proceedings the demand for a top-level conference. Just as consistently the U.S. has refused, unless China shows more convincing proof that her promises are anything more than empty gestures to gain greater advantages for herself.

New Look At Israel At Taxpayer Expense

Carrying the carcasses of U.S. senators and representatives to all parts of the world has been an unwelcome chore wished off on the United States Air Force. Some of the passengers were members of committees or missions legitimately interested in governmental affairs, and therefore entitled to travel at the taxpayers' expense. Many were just sightseers, with their families along, either traveling openly as tourists or with some "official" excuse for using Military Air Transport Service facilities.

This week the Pentagon blew the lid off this situation by announcing that two four-engine Constellation transport planes would make a special flight to Europe to bring home three senators and their wives who declined to wait for scheduled flights—not scheduled commercial airline flights, but scheduled MATS flights. The Pentagon announced that when its proposal that they use a later schedule plane was unacceptable, it had no alternative but to send the special planes.

The senators were all Democratic members of the Senate Appropriations Committee, a group whose members are entitled to travel wherever their investigative duties may lead them, with transportation to be furnished by the Department of Defense.

But what Defense got fed up with was the abuse of that privilege, as represented by refusal to travel like ordinary people would, and calling for a round trip to Europe by two planes for six people that would cost $20,000.

First the senators' administrative assistants declared no special treatment had been asked for, and Senator McClellan of Arkansas, one of the three, said "There is not a word of truth in it." Senator Chavez of New Mexico said he had "requested nothing." As this was written Senator Stennis of Mississippi had not been reached.

Congress owes it to the people to examine into and perhaps overhaul the regulations under which so many of its members take junkets to all parts of the world at government expense. This past summer in particular they have traveled far and wide, and while travel is broadening and presumably instructive, some of the comment made by some of the congressmen upon their return from Russia and the Iron Curtain makes one wonder if they really learned anything worthwhile.

Another Project Cirled MacArthur

WASHINGTON — The most important American military project to aid the Chinese Communists was one of the more conspicuous omissions from the recent Pentagon release of documents concerning U. S. policy in the Far East in the last war.

The elder of these reporters has personal knowledge of this project, which constitutes one of the major unsolved mysteries of the Far Eastern war. In the summer of 1945, shortly after the Japanese surrender on Okinawa, the reporter accompanied Maj. Gen. C. L. Chennault to the China Theater headquarters of Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, at Chungking.

While there, Gen. Wedemeyer decided flatteringly asked the reporter's advice on a highly confidential telegram which had just been received from the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington. The telegram requested Gen. Wedemeyer's opinion of a truly extraordinary proposal.

In brief, Gen. Wedemeyer's predecessor in the China Theater, Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, then held the Okinawa command under Gen. MacArthur. Why not, asked the telegram, let Gen. Stilwell land from Okinawa on the North China coast, possibly on the Shantung peninsula? Because of the expected requirements of the invasion of Japan, Gen. Stilwell could not be allowed more than a couple of American divisions. But he could make a junction with the local Chinese resistance forces; he could strengthen them with American arms; and he could lead them against the Japanese armies in North China.

Gen. Stilwell, of course, had been dismissed from the command in China by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, and was well known to be the Generalissimo's bitter personal enemy. Equally, of course, the Chinese forces of resistance in the North were almost exclusively composed of Communists, and Gen. Stilwell was a professed admirer of the Chinese Communist movement.

The J. C. S. proposal, in short, was tantamount to an American declaration of war on Chiang Kai-shek. The reporter, perhaps frivolously, suggested to Gen. Wedemeyer that he answer the telegram by inquiring whether the Joint Chiefs really meant to go to war against Chiang. Gen. Wedemeyer, who concurred in the reporter's analysis, in the end wired the Joint Chiefs that such a landing in China could hardly be made without Chiang's consent, which would not be forthcoming. No more was heard of the proposal thereafter.

There is still interest in this proposal, however, in the present context of heated controversy about Gen. Douglas MacArthur's role in that difficult and distant time. Stilwell himself was then Gen. MacArthur's subordinate and the forces he was to lead into North China would have come from the divisions available to MacArthur for the Japanese landing. Stilwell's landing on the China coast would have drawn its logistical support from MacArthur's Pacific Theater. Even after landing in China, Stilwell would have remained under MacArthur's command.

The aim of the proposed landing by Stilwell, moreover, was to counter a threat which Gen. MacArthur then estimated far too highly. This is shown by the papers already published by the Pentagon, and particularly by two key memoranda of conversations with Gen. MacArthur in 1945, written by Col. Paul Freeman Jr. and Brig. Gen. George A. Lincoln.

In both these contemporary documents, Gen. MacArthur is portrayed as warmly endorsing very great concessions to the Soviets in Manchuria—such concessions, in fact, as were made at Yalta—as the worthwhile price of a Soviet offensive against the Japanese forces on the mainland. Although Gen. MacArthur has since declared that he did not want a Soviet intervention in 1945, Col. Freeman further described Gen. MacArthur as strongly urging that the Soviets ought to be persuaded to move against the Japanese in Manchuria at the very first possible moment after the German surrender.

The reason given, in both instances, was that Gen. MacArthur believed the Japanese armies on the mainland to be very powerful and thought they constituted a serious menace to the success of the landing in Japan. The Freeman-Lincoln memoranda fit, in turn, with a precisely similar account of a conversation with Gen. MacArthur by the late New York Herald Tribune correspondent, Bert Andrews, which is preserved in the Forrestal papers.

A question therefore arises about the origin of the remarkable proposal to send Gen. Stilwell and the Chinese Communists against the Japanese mainland armies that were then giving Gen. MacArthur such grave concern. Was it a mere J. C. S. pipe dream? Were the Joint Chiefs, who always hated a row with Gen. MacArthur, really proposing to divert forces under his control, at a most crucial moment and without his prior concurrence? Or had the proposal in fact originated in Gen. MacArthur's own headquarters, as seems more natural. These questions also deserve answers.

The GOP Is Up A Tree

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican party and its would-be presidents are up a tree until Jan. 1 unless before then President Eisenhower says he won't run again.

Over the weekend Dr. Paul Dudley White, the Boston heart specialist directing Eisenhower's convalescence, said it can't be determined for another two or three months whether his patient has fully recovered.

But a full recovery doesn't mean Eisenhower will try for re-election in 1956. It would seem unlikely, having had one serious heart attack, that he would seek another four years in the White House.

It's generally assumed Eisenhower won't run. Yet, until he says something one way or the other, the Republican hopefuls who would like to fill his shoes someday can hardly publicly proclaim their candor.

That means time lost in building their fences and lining up delegates to next summer's Republican convention.

At the same time the Republican National Committee, which has to plan for the convention, will have to switch some of its plans and much of its thinking if Eisenhower doesn't run.

Until Eisenhower's heart attack in September, the Republicans were building their hopes around Eisenhower's running. He was their main hope of winning.

Apparently he still is, if not in person at least by proxy. Judging from their current statements, Republicans seem to think in terms of running on Eisenhower's record if he himself can't run.

Goodwin Knight, California's Republican governor and himself a possible candidate for president, acknowledged last night in the Meet the Press TV program there's been a lot of confusion in Republican ranks.

So until Eisenhower finally says yes or no about running again, the party and its still unannounced candidates must mark time and gnaw their fingernails. They're all in a state of suspension now.

Eisenhower knows this. And he has probably made up his mind not to run. But saying so is a matter of timing. His energies have been so restricted by his doctors he has had little time, if any, for political discussion.

He'll need time to talk things over with his advisers and the party's top politicians because of the effect of his announcement—if it's not to run—on his party and its candidates.

The big gulf that separates the thinking of some of the top Republicans, on both foreign and domestic problems, could split the party wide open before the convention unless some way is found to prevent a split.

Eisenhower may try to find that way before stepping out of the picture. For that reason, in order to have time for reflection and consultation, he may wait until January or early February before announcing his decision.

Columnists Have To Read Their Mail

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open the morning mail: That more than 1,200,000 Americans are blind in one eye.

That, while the U. S. dollar may not be worth 100 cents, it has been worth a lot less many times in the past than it is now. In 1787, the year the American Constitution was drafted, national credit was down to zero and a dollar was worth just two cents.

That adults average three colds a year, but children have nearly twice that many. (Don't let the little runny-nosed monsters near you. Carry an umbrella, if necessary, to fend them off.)

That, on the other hand, tests have shown you can kiss your sweetheart when she has a cold—and the odds are nine to one you won't catch a cold yourself.

That Japan's cement industry is now fifth largest in the world. Banzai!

That one way to help hold down your weight is to eat more slowly. This enables your blood sugar to rise and satisfy your hungry feelings before you finish your plate and start reaching for a second helping.

That a Scottish book firm which has published nearly 2,500,000 copies of the classics reports the all-time favorite is "David Copperfield," by Charles Dickens. Next in popularity is "Pride and Prejudice," by Jane Austen.

That while America needs more trees, the world itself still has more than enough timber to supply its present population. As a matter of fact, only a third of the earth's wooded areas are now being exploited.

That more than 100 American newspapers now run weekly fashion columns for men telling them how to dress well. (Wonder who reads them most—wives or husbands?)

That the West Coast film colony is serving as the guinea pig for the introduction of a new drink called "The Matador." The recipe: a jigger of tequila, two jiggers of pineapple, a squeeze of lime, and crushed ice. Stir like crazy, then serve, Chico.

That our revolutionary forebears liked a drink called "The Stone Fence"—made of cider and applejack.

Remembers Forgetting

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—One of the things best remembered by Dr. James A. Jones Jr., new president of Union Theological Seminary here is something he forgot.

A young couple stood at the altar in his church which was full of their friends. No preacher appeared to marry them. Phone calls to Dr. Jones' home and various hospitals failed to locate him. Another preacher was located and the wedding knot was tied. Dr. Jones said he was so engrossed in the difficulties of a family in his church that he forgot the time of the wedding.

"Those youngsters were good friends of mine," said Dr. Jones. "Fortunately, they still are."

Free Enterprise

DALLAS (AP)—Winking was declared a part of free enterprise in a peace bond hearing between two clothing store owners.

One of the owners, whose store is three doors from the other merchant, took lusty swings at the chin of his competitor who "winks and nods his head when a customer starts into my store."

"I don't know how to wink," retorted the accused. He added that he was going to take winking lessons and hereafter "wink for wink" and "nod for nod" for enticing customers.

"After all," they agreed, "we both believe in free enterprise."

Horses Easier

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—Milkman H. A. (Ole) Palmgren, who retired after delivering milk on the same route for 29 years, says wagons drawn by horses were best.

"The horses were easier to handle," he said. "They knew the route and I didn't have to do any driving."

No Imagination

HAMDEN, Conn. (AP)—Policeman John H. Olson handed out two speeding tickets within an hour. Both drivers gave the same excuse—they were hurrying to a baseball game. "Absolutely no imagination," Olson complained.

Radios Get Vicious During Football Game

Radios and I just don't get along, especially during football season. Maybe it's because I grimace at them so much.

The trend of battle can be going along as smooth as silk in a football game but let me walk within hearing range and the team I'm pulling for starts coming apart at the seams.

It always happens and I'm inclined to think it's due to the hostility radios feel for me. Word gets around, you know.

Say, for instance, I am pulling for Waybelow Normal in a game against Arthritis Academy.

Waybelow has the ball and has ripped off three first downs in a row when I get within hearing range of the radio. The announcer, scrambling for the most glowing adjectives, is trying to describe what a real All-American Normal's halfback, Henry Hunchback, is. Hunchback is so good his mother was even interviewed over the airwaves before game time.

I settle down and try to visualize the manner in which Henry has assumed charge. Arthritis Academy is caving in. The situation is so bleak, the Arthritis cheer leaders are learning funeral dirges.

Then play is resumed and my ear is bent in glorious anticipation. Hunchback is poised to grind under the Arthritis Academy linemen like a Sherman tank.

The ball is snapped and someone crashes through and throws Hammering Henry for a two-yard loss. He gets up slowly and shakes his head.

Waybelow Normal is back to the opposition's 37 now, second down and 12 to go. Hunchback, grim and vengeful, asks that the play be aimed the same way. His blockers delight in steam-rolling the opposition and he booms all the way down to the six-yard line, first and goal to go.

But wait, there are three red flags down on the field. Someone has seen an infraction of the rules. Waybelow had 14 men on the field and draws a five-yard penalty.

It's second and 17 to go now and the ball is all the way back to the 42.

The situation gets desperate. Waybelow's quarterback calls for a pass. He flips one out in the flat toward Hunchback but Henry isn't there. Domino Hemo of Arthritis Academy comes out of nowhere to intercept and heels-and-toes it all the way to a touchdown.

"Oh Oh!" the announcer screams, "some one is down back up field. It looks like, it looks like, it is Henry Hunchback, Waybelow Normal's star. With a broken ankle, a busted shoulder and a bad cold that could develop into pneumonia. He could be out for the season!"

That does it for me. I beat a retreat as far away from that radio as I can and consider writing my congressman, demanding that the squawk boxes be outlawed for the good of mankind.

Radios just don't like me.

Goodies In Those Christmas Catalogues

Who among us, confronted by his Christmas shopping list, does not eventually run afoul of that problem child, the friend who has everything?

Well, sir, I have just come across a gift that promises to lick this conundrum in 1955. It may even lick the problem permanently, but I am getting ahead of my story.

Although a bright Indian summer hovers like a blessing over the land and im-provident robins have not yet migrated to Miami, the recent burden of the mail has been appeals to my better nature to get a half nelson on Christmas and order now citrus fruit, pecans, fruit cake, plum puddings and figs and renew magazine subscriptions as yuletide gifts for my loved ones.

With grasshopper insouciance, I have been shredding this stuff into the wastebasket and waiting for the first snow. However, the arrival of a Christmas catalogue, boasting the perfect gift for the person who has everything, has wrought reform. I even want to pass on the glad tidings.

These tidings herald a "jeweled cork," offhand, you may think that neither you nor your friend who has everything needs a jeweled cork to stopper the milk, cat-soup, tonic, or gin bottle. That a plain cork, one minus sequins and jewels on top, will do quite nicely.

Ah-ha! But this cork is for none of these mundane purposes. It is advertised as the "jeweled cork for the hole in your head." Perish the thought that you have a hole in your head, but remember the friend who has everything, including a hole in his noggin?

That surely licks the problem, and permanently, as I hinted, if the friend lacks what you and I so indubitably possess: A sensayuma. In addition, it opens up a whole new vista of do-it-yourself Christmas gifts. Why not make a beaded trap for the friend who has bats in his belfry? The possibilities are endless.

There is also ready for the Christmas trade and the practical joker—although I am not certain the two are necessarily synonymous—a ball-point fountain pen that files apart when put to use. In addition—honestly: you'll die laughing—there is a jewel box from which a lifelike mouse springs when the box is opened.

Not least of all, the catalogue advertises a Christmas special in a new-type toothpaste with three flavors—Scotch, Rye and Bourbon. And if this doesn't make the teeth three shades lighter in a three-day trial, it at least won't dissolve 'em and a few cloves or the usual amount of sea-sen will enable the user to go home, kiss the cook and walk a straight line.

I have scarcely touched on the goodies in this Christmas catalogue, which includes a "mad money garter" for good little girls who would rather walk home than wrangle.

Until I received this catalogue I have always felt that no matter what time of year it is, there are always too few shopping days until Christmas. Now, I'm not sure.

Business Mirror

The Old Problem Of Food Prices

NEW YORK (AP)—The housewife pushing the grocery cart is at odds again with the statisticians who figure the food price index.

The housewife is told the wholesale index is down but she can't see that the retail food prices are—at least not much.

It's largely the old story of the spread between the price of the raw materials out of which foods are fashioned and the finished products on the grocer's shelves. That spread like others, tends to widen with the years.

The grocer insists the housewife's getting more for her money today—if she takes into consideration all the fringe benefits of convenience, time saving and improved nutrition in today's prepared foods.

The government's wholesale farm product price index is well below the 1947-49 base. The government's wholesale food price index is about even with that pre-Korean war level. But the government's retail food price index in September was 11.8 per cent higher, although nicely down from its peak of two years ago.

Dun & Bradstreet's wholesale food price index is the lowest since June, 1950, when the Korean war started. The housewife finds this hard to believe because she says the prices she pays certainly aren't.

The D. & B. index is a rough and ready indicator. It isn't supposed to be definitive nor a cost of living index. The index is the sum of the price of a pound each of 31 foodstuffs. Included are lard, steers, hogs, barley, cottonseed oil. Few housewives would buy a pound of these each week.

Food prices, at every level, have come down from their peak. They fluctuate now. Some foodstuffs, like coffee or storm damaged vegetables go up because of temporary shortages. Some, like pork, tumble because of over supply.

But what the consumer mostly talks about is that the price of farm products and of foods at wholesale have fallen more than retail prices—and it's retail prices that interest him primarily.

The grocer, and food processors have their arguments handy. They are aware that the consumers suspect profit taking as the villain. Paul S. Willis, president of Grocery Manufacturers of America, says only a small amount of the retail price is represented by manufacturer and distributor net profits.

He says, "their combined profit today is down to around three cents of the consumer's food dollar. It was six cents before World War II." And he insists that food prices have declined in terms of wages, that "an hour's work will buy more and better food than ever before."

It's Cold But The People Stay

CHURCHILL, Min. (AP)—Take a look at life in this town on Hudson Bay, an outpost of the Canadian frontier.

Milk is 40 cents a quart, gasoline 54 cents for an imperial gallon. Plumbing is mostly outdoors. Summer brings black flies and mosquitoes. Winter brings numbing cold.

And when you die they have to dig your grave with dynamite.

Yet some 850 persons call this town home.

Ocean shipping—freighters from England—carry out wheat in summer and make jobs. Construction of radar defense lines farther north has turned the town into a bustling operations headquarters.

There's even some whaling. Building sites would make a city contractor shudder. They are strewn with huge rocks—some as big as a small house—beneath the tundra.

Only two or three feet below the surface the ground is frozen solid the year round. Excavation is impossible; buildings rest on a gravel pad hauled in by truck. Lots are selling for $80 to $130.

Because of the cold, permafrost pipelines run along the surface. When cold weather sets in, the house supply is cut off and householders must haul their own water or pay 75 cents for a barrel delivered.

Fuel oil sells for $14.30 for a 55-gallon drum and coal at $24 a ton. Electricity is 12 cents a kilowatt hour.

In frequent garbage collections are made during the summer but none in winter. Vegetation is lacking. Hudson Square, a huge rectangle in the middle of town, is a barren expanse of boulders and gravel. There are no lawns or gardens.

And "Her Majesty's secretary is abed, and can't be disturbed at this time."

Moran planned to try again today.

Clashes Are Certain At Geneva Meeting

GENEVA (AP)—The second round of this year's East-West negotiations at Geneva almost certainly will produce sharp clashes between Western spokesmen and Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov — with the summit conference last July, the Big Four foreign ministers are expected to put to severe test the "spirit of Geneva" developed when President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Bulganin met here with British Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Faure.

The July conference succeeded mainly in establishing a courteous, top-level contact between the Soviet and Western governments and in dramatizing the fact that both sides would rather find ways of easing world tensions than let their 10-year-old conflict drift along toward atomic disaster.

But the July conference actually did not solve any of the outstanding problems. The heads of government assigned their foreign ministers the task of detailed negotiations on German reunification, European security, some aspects of disarmament and freer contacts between Russia and the Western Powers.

Now, in the meetings opening here Thursday, it is up to both sides to find out how much of the good will displayed here in July can be translated into action.

U.S. Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Pinay will be prepared to insist that the first and greatest problem before the conference is that of reunifying West and East Germany. They will argue that there can be no secure peace in Europe until unification is achieved.

Molotov, following the line already laid down by Bulganin, is expected to contend that the time for unifying Germany has not arrived and will not come so long as West Germany remains a member of the North Atlantic Alliance.

According to all the evidence to date, he will insist that first the Atlantic Alliance must be replaced by an all-European security system.

The Western Powers are seeking to reserve and strengthen the Atlantic Alliance. They want East and West Germany merged under conditions which will permit the unified nation to join NATO. They want to eliminate any possibility of a future Communist Germany, or a German alliance with Russia.

Western officials believe Russia, on the other hand, wants both to destroy the Western alliance and to create the opportunity for communizing Germany sometime in the future. Failing that, Russia apparently is determined to hold onto her position in East Germany.

Chances of winning Soviet agreement to unification of Western terms appear nil.

U.S. Rubber Company Uses Wire In Tread Of New Casing

The United States Rubber Company, manufacturer of U. S. Royal tires, is introducing a new line of passenger car and truck tires, each containing from one to eight miles of flexible, high strength steel wire, Truett Thomas of Phillips Tire Company, local distributor, reported today.

Steel wire makes a tire tread rupture-proof, doubles cut resistance and eliminates tread cut growth, according to Thomas. It also makes a tire run from 20 to 40 degrees cooler, minimizes the danger of centrifugal force throwing off treads at high speed, improves high speed riding qualities and contributes to increased tread mileage.

This is the first time wire has been used successfully in a passenger car tire, although engineers have experimented with it for more than 20 years.

There are wire truck tires on the market at the present time but they use wire in place of textiles. U. S. Rubber uses wire in addition to textiles.

"The wire, made of steel as strong as that in bridge cable, is used in filaments which are slightly larger than a human hair. These filaments are twisted into strands and laid in criss-crossed layers which give the effect of a fine mesh steel cloth.

"A big advantage of wire is its ability to conduct heat away from the shoulders of the tire toward the cooler central part of the tread," Thomas said. "This means that, over-all, the tires with wire run from 20 to 40 degrees cooler than tires without wires. This is particularly important at high speed."

"For truckers, wire means a lower operating cost per mile," he said. "Truckers can get more recaps per tire carcass without costly carcass repairs. The elimination of tread ruptures, carcass cut damage and groove cracking means less down time per mile of haulage. Operating economy is possible without increased tire inflation and without limiting truck speeds."

"For motorists, all the advantages of wire add up to greater safety with a minimum of tire breakdowns. In addition, the new passenger car tire gives 40 per cent more mileage than standard or '100 level' tires due to a new long-wearing GR-S synthetic rubber tread stock utilizing a new type of carbon black and a new tread row distribution."

According to Thomas, U. S. Rubber is including wire in its line of six new Royal Master Premium tubeless tires in all passenger car sizes. The tires will sell for an average of $10 below the present Royal Master premium line. The new Royal Master premium in 700 x 15 will sell for $69.35 compared to $79.70 for the previous Master. The line will offer two distinct styles and a choice of colors to blend with modern automobile styling, he added. One style has a white sidewall only one inch wide. The other style has a wider white sidewall with a curb guard that protects the white from scuffing. He said the company is also offering wire in its line of Fleetway and Super-Fleetway truck tires in sizes ranging from 600 x 16 to 1100 x 20. The tires will sell at the same price as regular highway truck tires made with an all-nylon carcass.

New Steer Feed Supplement Proves Profitable On Test

A new steer feed supplement, Purina Steer Fatina, containing stilbestrol, has proved to be a source of extra profit in feeding out livestock, according to officials of the John Davis Feed Store, 701 E. 2nd.

The Davis firm is marketing the new feed in this area. Several feeding tests conducted by Purina technicians have shown that stilbestrol, in Steer Fatina, has meant an extra profit of $10 to $15 per head to the feeder. It provided 17.2 per cent fater gains and resulted in the use of 9.4 per cent less feed being required to get the steer ready for market.

"These are an average of all our tests run with stilbestrol," said Chet Frazier, regional sales manager for Purina livestock chow. "We feel that an average is what the feeder can expect in his own feed lot."

In one Purina test, covering a 168-day period, steers at the Purina Research Farm averaged 2.68 pounds of gain daily. They made a pound of beef on only 15 pounds of silage, 1.68 pounds of corn and three-quarters of a pound of Steer Fatina.

Cost of the gain was considerably less than the cost of raising beef on an Iowa State College test in which no stilbestrol was used. Feed per pound of gain there was 52 pounds of grass silage, and 3.98 pounds of ground shelled corn. The Purina results, from stilbestrol, showed that the Iowa State College feeding required over three times as much silage per pound of gain as was necessary, according to Frazier.

Other data on the stilbestrol and Steer Fatina may be obtained at the John Davis Feed Store, which distributes a complete line of the well-known Purina feeds as well as insecticides, seeds and other products.

Graham, Hirsch Pace Pro 11's To Impressive Wins

By RIF WATSON
The Associated Press

Pro football fans in Cleveland and Los Angeles can be glad Otto Graham and Crazy Legs Hirsch aren't the retiring type.

The two old pros called it quits at the end of last season, then changed their minds. Today their clubs are leading the National Football League.

True, the surprising Pittsburgh Steelers are keeping pace with Cleveland in the Eastern Conference, but they were far less impressive yesterday in a 19-17 victory over the New York Giants than the Browns were in walloping Green Bay 41-10.

Graham, completing 7 of 12 passes for 187 yards, guided the Browns on touchdown marches of 74, 97 and 71 yards and scored once himself.

Hirsch took a pass from Norm Van Brocklin for the winning touchdown in Los Angeles' 24-13 victory over the toothless Detroit Lions. By winning, the Rams emerged from a three-way tie for the Western Conference lead as the Packers were beaten and Washington edged Baltimore 14-13 on Vic Janowicz's accurate conversion kicking.

The Chicago Bears won their second straight after a miserable start as Ed Brown ran for two touchdowns and passed for a third in a 34-23 victory over the San Francisco 49ers.

Philadelphia, the September choice to battle Cleveland for the Eastern crown, was left with a 1-3-1 mark after a 24-24 tie with the Chicago Cardinals. Cleveland and Pittsburgh are 4-1 with seven games to go.

Although the Green Bay-Cleveland game was close on the scoreboard for three quarters, the statistics tell a far different story. Cleveland rolled up 454 yards while their hard-hitting defensive platoon held the Packers to 161. A 100-yard kickoff return by Al Carmichael supplied Green Bay's only touchdown.

Blackshear Wins Over Lakeview

ODESSA, (SC) — Blackshear of Odessa won a non-conference football game from Lakeview's Rockets of Big Spring here Saturday night, 19-0.

The loss was the second of the season for Lakeview to the Odessa team.

Paul DeBoskie, Chester Jackson and James Roach scored to touchdowns for the Odessans. Willie Richison passed to Jackson for the extra point.

The contest was the second straight in which Lakeview has been shut out.

Lakeview was the victim of its own mistakes. The injury riddled Rockets outgained the Leopards on the ground, 276 yards to 218, and had an 18-11 edge in first downs but lost the ball five times on fumbles.

Lemuel Green was tremendous, both on offense and defense, for Big Spring. He made 97 yards rushing and teamed up with his brother, Earl, to make 33 tackles.

Ernest Byrd picked up 69 yards rushing for the Rockets, Earl Green 59. Don Johnson had 92 for Odessa, Ernest Allen 56 and Roach 54.

Alvin King and William Toles of the Big Springers were out with injuries.

Billy Weatherall and Ernest Byrd also played fine defensive ball for the Rockets.

Big Spring next plays Carver of Midland in Big Spring Saturday night. Midland has a 3-2 won-loss record. Big Spring has won three, lost two and tied one.

Aerial Game Pays Off For Oklahoma

NORMAN, Okla. — Oklahoma is famous for its devastating ground game but this season the Sooners are cashing in on a deadly air attack. It's been a potent weapon in five victories.

They have completed 24 of 43 passes for 306 yards and a percentage of 55.8. They've thrown an average of 8.6 passes per game.

Losing Coaches Ward And Eliot Praise Opposition

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK — Monday's football wash, and save a little water to revive members of the Colorado team who thought the roof fell in: "We were going along great and then I don't know what happened," said Colorado quarterback Homer Jenkins, glassy-eyed. Colorado was ahead 14-0 then, boom! Oklahoma scored three touchdowns in 7 1/2 minutes and went on to a 56-21 victory.

"It's the greatest football team I've seen on any afternoon," glibly commented Colorado Coach Dallas Ward.

Illinois' Coach Ray Eliot was almost as lavish in his praise of Michigan State, which handed him a 21-7 shellacking. "The best we've met," said Eliot, whose Illinois previously had played California, Iowa State, Ohio State and Minnesota.

Football teams sometimes are aroused by tragedies and one of these may have helped Ohio State to its 26-16 upset victory over Wis-

Whoa, There!

Jerry Barron, Big Spring, puts the clasp on Lamesa's Doyle Chapman (11) in the above action, snapped by The Herald photographer in last week's football game between the Steers and the Golden Tornadoes. No. 31 is Dennis Lamphers. Big Spring won, 28-7.

Border Picture Confused But HSU Out In Front

PHOENIX — The Border Conference football picture can't be more confused. The Hardin-Simmons Cowboys are out in front with two victories. Texas Western and Texas Tech are still unbeaten but tied each other. Arizona State at Tempe remains untied.

West Texas, Arizona and New Mexico A&M have all lost in conference play and are all probably out of it.

Three games this week should answer some questions. Arizona State plays the Cowboys at Tempe. West Texas visits Tech at Lubbock and Texas Western entertains A&M at El Paso. Arizona is idle.

The only conference game Saturday was at Canyon, where the Cowboys edged West Texas 19-18 on a late touchdown. Ken Ford passed 33 yards to Joel Honeycutt, who sped the remaining 20 yards.

Texas Western showed power defeating Wichita 28-12. A&M snapped a 14-game losing streak with a 19-7 victory over Corpus Christi, Arizona was overpowered 46-27 by Oregon and Texas Tech bowed 7-0 to Houston.

Texas Western's Miners trailed 12-7 going into the final period but showed across three touchdowns to win.

Houston recovered a Tech fumble on the Raider 31 in the first period and scored the only touchdown at Houston. The Raiders drove to the 1, 2 and 19-yard line in the second half but were unable to score.

Monterey Jars Palo Duro 11

LUBBOCK, (SC) — Monterey High School of Lubbock, next football foe of the Big Spring Steers, exploded with its greatest offensive show of the season in belting Palo Duro of Amarillo here Saturday night.

Monterey coach Bill DuRose attempted to hold down the score but the hard-hitting Plainsmen backs never stopped running.

Monterey led only by a score of 7-0 at the end of the first period but the home club got three tallies in both the second and third periods.

Don Cathey, fullback, led the Monterey attack with 123 yards rushing in a dozen tries at the line. Bryan Baxter did almost as well, gaining 98 yards in nine carries. Mike McDonald gained 78 yards in eight attempts and Roger Pierce, a substitute, 66 paces in only five tries.

Pierce scored two touchdowns, McDonald two and Milton Daniel, Cathey and Baxter one each for the Plainsmen. Daniel added an extra point.

For Palo Duro, still winless in conference play, Pat Ashburn and Don Johnson crossed the double stripes while Frank Brown booted an extra point.

Monterey made 24 first downs to 15 for Palo Duro, 428 yards rushing to 111 for Palo Duro and 47 yards passing to 139 for the Dons.

Western Wants WT-NM Towns

COLORADO SPRINGS — The Western League wants Albuquerque and Amarillo as members and will move to take them in as soon as cash deposits of $10,000 are made.

This would realize the Class B West Texas-New Mexico League of which Amarillo and Albuquerque now are members.

Directors of the Class A Western, meeting here yesterday, adopted a resolution calling for addition of the two clubs to the present 6-club league.

The resolution said that admission of Amarillo and Albuquerque was subject to deposit of the money by Nov. 2 and "satisfactory investigation by Western League officials."

Statistics Corner: Iowa piled up more yardage and more first downs than UCLA yet lost a Friday night game to the Uclans 33-13. . . Oklahoma now has won 24 straight and scored in its last 100 games. . . Colgate's 7-0 triumph over Yale was its first over the Eli in 40 years. . . Nebraska's 118-12 win over Missouri was the first since 1937.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Vernon isn't making much progress toward getting out of AAA football. A recent census taken there showed 415 in high school.

Santa Claus really comes to see Maxie Esor, the former Heavyweight boxing champion, this Christmas.

An annuity he bought during his days as title-holder, starts paying him $2,200 every month.

The Harlem Globetrotters, who descend upon us for another of those entertaining basketball shows Feb. 15, will be playing a team called the Honolulu Surriders, rather than the House of David, as first announced.

The Surriders, their publicity says, are made up of former West Coast and Hawaii cage stars. They do pretty good, serving as "straight men" for Abe Saperstein's clowns.

Jerry Stone, who used to live in Levelland, Hamlin and Stamford, is the new golf pro at the Hill Crest Country Club in Vernon.

Odessa College will field another tough golf team this school year. Hubert Shed and John Biddy, who combined to give the Wranglers a West Zone championship, are back.

Frosh trying to win spots on the team include Jerry Johnston, Kay Garrison, Arnold Chambers, Christy Brashears, Bob Pulliam and Charlie Brewer.

The Odessa school will host another invitational tournament next spring.

Football coaches, who have to put up with all sorts of static, will have to go some to top the experience DeWitt Weaver at Texas Tech had recently.

Weaver spends much of his time during a game, talking over a telephone to a aide who looks down upon the battle pits from the press box, trying to spot weaknesses in the Raiders' attack and defense.

Recently, a female fan raked him over the coals, asking him how he ever expected to win games while wasting his time talking on the phone.

When Fred Salling, at the present time a school principal at Cosham, coached basketball at Brady, one of his players was K. Y. Owens, who is now a football standout at Hardin-Simmons.

Among athletes who do a lot of work in the Big Spring Steer football camp and get very little credit for it are Freddy Simpson, T. L. Kennedy, Bobby Fuller, Ronnie Phillips, Walter Dickinson, Clyde McMahon, Billy Lovelace and David Dibrell.

Simpson is a senior guard, always cheerful and agreeable, always ready to execute orders.

Kennedy is the second-string quarterback, a lad who puts in long hours to help perfect the team's offense and defense. He takes a lot of punishment.

Fuller, a stellar miler in track, ignored a suggestion he quit football to concentrate on track. He loves the game too much. He's a lightweight but he hits with much more authority.

Phillips, a halfback, should come onto his own next year. He conditions the year around, works with the bar bells and the weights.

Dickinson has won himself a place on the regular team and he did it with hard work. He'd be hard to replace.

McMahon has been told he's too little to play schoolboy ball but that doesn't faze him. He poses as an enemy threat in practice and he plays the role to the hilt. His attitude: Excellent.

Lovelace is agreeable and pleasant with everybody. He works hard, gets in his share of work at tackle.

Dibrell is a senior end who has never had the size to compete with the others, until this year. The son of a former Steer coach, he plays without seeking favors. What a shame he runs out of eligibility.

RESERVE SEATS GO ON SALE

Reserve seats for the Monterey-Big Spring football game here Friday night have gone on sale at the School Tax Office.

Tickets for seats in Sections 2 and 5 on the West side are virtually gone but choice seats remain for locations in Sections 1 and 6. They are priced at $1.25 each.

In addition, the two lower rows in Section 5 of the East stands, which straddles the 50-yard line, are available.

Monterey was forwarded 400 adult and 300 student tickets for the game.

Only 38 Teams Are Unbeaten, Untied

The upending of such major teams as Duke, Yale, Boston College and Colorado, has left only 38 unbeaten, untied college football eleven going into the seventh week of competition.

Washington — Clark Griffith, 85-year-old president of the Washington Senators baseball club, is reported making a "ninth-inning rally" after a stomach hemorrhage.

Dr. George A. Rests, the team physician, said Griffith took a turn for the better late last night with a rise in his blood pressure.

Mrs. Griffith and other family members had gathered at Georgetown University Hospital after Rests described Griffith's chances of recovery as only "fair." They left after Rests' later report.

A club spokesman said Griffith: "He's apparently putting up a 'ninth-inning rally.'"

Hurricane Jackson Tries Jimmy Slade On Friday

A couple of ambitious invaders, Hociine Khalif of Algeria and Ludwig Lightburn of British Honduras, clash tonight in a lightweight 10-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas Arena.

Lightburn, who has copied Sugar Ray Robinson's fighting style, has won three straight and has a 34-6-0 won-lost-draw record. Khalif, a protégé of the late Marcel Cerdan, has a 41-10-5 record, including a notable victory 17 months ago over featherweight champion Sandy Saddler.

Do Mo still telecast 12:30 p.m., EST.

Boardwalk Billy Smith of Atlantic City, N. J., and Johnny Holman of Chicago, a couple of solid punchers, collide in the Wednesday night radio-television fight at the Miami Beach Auditorium.

This is a "must" fight for each. Smith, once the top-ranking light heavyweight contender, fell out of the rankings when he was stopped by Paul Andrews. The same thing happened to Holman when he lost a return scrap to Ezzard Charles after beating the former heavyweight boss in their first meeting.

Lightweight contender Johnny Gonsalves of Oakland, Calif., and flashy Lulu Perez, moving up from the 126-pound to the 135-pound class, tangle in a Friday night 10-rounder at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Probably the best show of the week matches Hurricane Tommy Jackson and Jimmy Slade, New York heavyweights, in a non-TV 10-rounder in the Cleveland Arena Friday night. This is the third and "rubber" match for the two. Tireless Tommy has won nine straight and is ranked as the third contender behind Archie Moore and Bob Baker. Slade has won two bouts since losing his return to Jackson.

Three fell last week: Kermit, Commerce and Livingston. The carnage may be terrific as all of the teams with perfect records have games that figure in the conference standings.

Seven teams are undefeated but tied. They are Perryton, Lockhart, Lampasas, Port Lavaca, Nederland, Boling and Commerce. Lockhart and Port Lavaca play this week.

The schedule for the week by districts (all games conference and all games Friday unless indicated otherwise):

1. Dumas at Dalhart, Shamrock at Hereford, Perryton at Phillips.

2. Olton at Tulla, Lockney at Mulshoe, Dimmitt at Ladfield.

3. Seymour at Childress, Quanah at Electra.

North Texas, ACC In Tie For Lead

North Texas State and Abilene Christian College are tied for the lead in the Gulf Coast Conference football race but there'll be no conference action this week—all the teams meet outside foes.

North Texas brought about the tie by whipping Midwestern 20-13 last week. Abilene Christian was losing to Chattanooga 7-6.

Trinity will meet Southeastern Louisiana at Hammond, La., Saturday while Abilene Christian clashes with Southwest Texas at San Marcos. Midwestern hosts California Poly and North Texas State tackles Mississippi State at State College, Miss.

Uncle Ray:

Inca Indians Were Weakened By War

By RAMON COFFMAN
Last week we had five articles about the Inca Indians. Those Indians were most advanced among all those in South America. Today and tomorrow I shall take up a few additional questions about them, also some points about the Spaniards who conquered Peru.

Q. When did Pizarro enter Peru, and how many men were with him on the adventure?

A. The invasion of Peru started 424 years ago. That was 39 years after the first crossing of the Atlantic by Columbus. When Pizarro sailed from Panama, on his way to the homeland of the Incas, he had three vessels and 183 men.

Q. How could Pizarro and 183 men conquer a vast empire?

A. A civil war had been fought in the Inca Empire. Atahualpa (pronounced "AH-tuh-WALL-puh") won that war, but his country was weakened. His chief rival stayed at large, and was a source of danger.

Pizarro promised to help Atahualpa hold his throne. The Inca never should have believed the gold-hungry leader.

The Spaniards were welcomed when they landed. A little later Pizarro found a way to trap the emperor and make him prisoner. The prisoner might have been killed at once except that he promised ransom.

At this point Pizarro showed plainly that he was without honor. After the ransom was paid, Atahualpa was put to death.

Q. How much was the ransom?

A. It has been estimated that the gold and silver turned over to Pizarro had a value of 15 million dollars!

Q. Was Pizarro able, from that time forward, to rule the Inca Empire and to enjoy his ill-gotten wealth?

A. Far from that! He never did obtain power over the parts of the empire in Bolivia and Chile. In addition he had constant trouble with rebellious Inca Indians and, perhaps worse, with another cruel Spanish leader, Almagro.

Young Demos Name Delegates

DALLAS (AP)—The State Executive Committee of the Young Democratic Clubs of Texas named 145 delegates yesterday to the national convention.

Officials hinted that a secret resolution, sent to the Democratic National Executive Committee in Washington, was important. It will be published tomorrow.

The national convention will be in Oklahoma City Dec. 1-3.

President Dean Johnston of Houston said the Texas delegation will be entitled to 48 votes with each of the 145 delegates representing a fraction of a vote. The unit rule will be enforced.

Other officers who will attend include:

Helen Sue Riley, Crane, treasurer. The delegates were chosen on the basis of one person for each 100 in the state organization.

Delegates approved yesterday included: Midland County: Jerry Roberts. Delegates approved previously include: Midland County: Alfred Petty.

Formosa Battle Command Ready

TAIPEI, Formosa, Oct. 24 (AP)—The United States today indicated, quietly but unmistakably, that it has built up an organization instantly ready to assume all the functions of a battle command headquarters in the event of hostilities in the Formosa area.

The indication came in the form of an announcement by Vice Adm. Alfred M. Pride, commander of the U. S. 7th Fleet, that on Nov. 1 the name of the Formosa liaison center will be changed to the United States Taiwan Defense Command.

Pride also heads the liaison center, an organization representing all branches of the U. S. armed forces on Formosa. It works in extremely close cooperation with Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese high command.

DATE DATA

By Beverly Brandow

About Blind Dates

Blind dates frequently are doors to blind alleys rather than enduring friendships simply because of the attitude of the daters.

The jokes and pessimism surrounding blind dates leads the naive person to believe they are strictly the fare of wallflowers, squares, and social rejects.

This isn't so. It's entirely possible your blind date may be a real flutter-beat from dreamland. Like the rest of us, they occasionally like to take a chance on a surprise package. A fellow might be the most, but still be new in town. A local Terry Moore might be angling to get back in circulation after going steady. Maybe the person is bored or wants to meet kids from other schools.

"Okay, so blind dating has its virtues," you say. "How do you do it?"

You first ask a friend to arrange something. If you are a boy you telephone the girl to make it official after she has accepted your good will ambassador.

Some less smooth fellows feel a "Coke date" is ideal for sizing her up. If she's stacked and creamy, she makes the little black book; otherwise no budget damage is done.

Listen, fellows, nothing could make her like you less. Whether she looks like Snow White or the Witch's broom, she knows how the wheels are turning in your little pointed head.

No girl likes to feel that she is auditioning for a date, and if she meets the boy's requirements, maybe he'll call for that date. Phoo!

Of course you have no guarantee, but neither does she. You may not be her dish of stars either. Why should she dress up and forfeit her Friday evening on some fellow she's never seen and who may be a square, just to get a cold drink?

She's got those in the refrigerator! No girl can be her best when she feels the boy is trying to decide whether she is worth taking out. She's got an ego, too.

Don't be like the sissy swimmer who only gets his ankles wet. Spruce up like Easter Sunday. Plan something nice. Treat her like a desirable girl; give her a chance to be special.

Blind dating requires insight for success!

Hearing Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators slated hearings today to find out why 60 jet planes were built for the Navy without enough engine power to fly right.

Chairman Hollifield (D-Calif.) said his House Government Operations subcommittee would begin with reports from committee investigators who visited the plants of the McDonnell Aircraft Co., which built the F3H-1 fighter airplane, and Westinghouse Electric Corp., producer of its jet engine found not powerful enough.
