

Many City Issues Covered At Busy Council Session

City commissioners, operating before another full house, wrestled with more than a dozen problems Tuesday evening in a four hour session.

Manager Seeks Set Policy For Departments

City Manager B. J. McDaniel asked city commissioners Tuesday for a statement of policy concerning employment of department heads.

Although the matter was not mentioned specifically, presumably it stemmed from the reported resignation, not accepted, by the manager, of Chief of Police A. G. Mitchell.

The manager asked for the commission to "instruct me what you want done," adding that he believed department heads and other employees were capable and the best that could be secured.

Commissioners Mack Wright and George Mims said that "static" centered on the police department. Mims said he had heard reports of abuse and cited a case occurring Saturday evening in which a man, picked up on a charge of drunkenness, allegedly was cuffed by an officer.

Members of the commission voted against inspection fees in favor of absorbing the cost through the general fund.

Dr. J. E. Hogan, city health officer, in a talk to the commission, called for general cooperation in maintaining sanitary conditions as a means of forestalling polio and other infections which flourish in the summer.

Mayor Dabney read a letter from Earl Evans, a New York man, charging his wife had been frightened into settlement in connection with a car crash.

McDaniel said he had followed a policy of veteran preference in making appointments where qualifications were equal; where they were not equal, the highest qualifications prevailed, he said.

More Cash Needed For West Side Playground

One additional contribution Tuesday added $10 to the fund for construction and operation of a playground area for young people on the west side.

Contract Route Voted On Paving Fifty Blocks

Contracts will be let on a sizeable block of city paving, perhaps 50 blocks previously designated.

The action came at the city commission meeting Tuesday evening following lengthy discussion and testimony from several individuals.

Sanitary Rules To Come Before Next Meeting

Ordinances which will call for regular inspection of livestock lots and poultry yards and more explicit regulations for food handlers will be drawn up for consideration of the city commission at the next regular meeting.

Byrnes Suggests Work Begin Now On Nazi Treaty

Proposes, November Date For Big Four Peace Conference

PARIS, May 15. (AP)—US Secretary of State Byrnes proposed to the foreign ministers council today that a peace conference be called Nov. 12 to draft a peace treaty for Germany, an American informant said.

In a session completely taken up with discussion of critical German problems, Byrnes proposed that representatives of Britain, Russia, France and the United States start meeting immediately to draw up a treaty draft for Germany which the foreign ministers could present to the peace conference, the informant said.

Byrnes was reported to have proposed that the foreign ministers' representatives first report on the economic status of Germany to the foreign ministers council at their next meeting, possibly June 15.

Byrnes' three colleagues, the foreign ministers of Russia, France and Britain, said they wanted to study the proposal before committing themselves.

The three-hour meeting today began with Georges Bidault, French foreign minister, presenting France's demand for complete separation of the Ruhr and Rhineland from Germany and for French control of the Saar.

Referring to the number of times France has had to fight Germany, Bidault said economic measures to control these territories were not enough, that there must be political separation.

Sources close to the Russian delegation predicted today that Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov would agree to a US proposal to summon a 21-nation peace conference in July following another four-power conference next month.

While they did not turn down the idea of a fund, their action seemingly erased any possibility of a permanent settlement of the coal dispute by nightfall as President Truman asked.

As a counterproposal to Lewis' proposition, the operators suggested the possibility of setting up a jointly-financed fund for hardship cases under the administration of an independent agency such as the Red Cross.

The operators' negotiating committee said in replying to the United Mine Workers that Lewis' proposal presented "a new social theory and philosophy, the effect of which would extend to every industry in America, and as such must be considered and acted upon as a national problem and not as one relating to the coal industry alone."

The operators gave three major reasons for rejecting Lewis' demand for the levy to be paid by operators who estimated it would net the union $70,000,000 annually on the basis of last year's payroll.

Lions Elect New Officers

Lions club members went through their annual election of officers Wednesday with Steamrollers and Streamliners campaigning with torrid words — all in fun.

When it was all over, the official slate, which will take office the first meeting in July, stacked up like this:

Otis Grafe, president; Bill Dawes, first vice-president; Harold Steck, second vice-president; Dewey Martin, third vice-president; Dan Conley, secretary-treasurer; Rev. James Roy Clark, Liontamer; Bob Satterwhite, tail-tagger; Avery Falkner and J. C. Douglass, Jr., directors.

President Jack Smith sketched plans for the district 2-T and state Lions convention here June 17-19.

Grafe urged members to attend a ceramics meeting Thursday evening at 8 p. m. in the Settles club at E. P. m. in the Settles club.

Dr. F. K. Pence, Austin, will speak.

SAFE PERMISSION

YOKOHAMA, May 15 (AP)—The US Eighth army today granted GI's permission to take ostriches home as pets.

Heart Attack Fatal In Local Hospital

Miss Bessie Horowitz, 36, died in a local hospital yesterday morning after becoming ill on an American Airliner en route from Los Angeles to her home in Hoboken, N. J.

The plane made an unscheduled landing here about midnight for medical aid. Her condition was described as an acute cardiac failure.

Operators Reject Demands To Finance Welfare Fund

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—Soft coal operators today flatly rejected as a "new social theory" John L. Lewis' demand for a seven per cent payroll levy on operators to finance a welfare fund for mine workers.

While they did not turn down the idea of a fund, their action seemingly erased any possibility of a permanent settlement of the coal dispute by nightfall as President Truman asked.

As a counterproposal to Lewis' proposition, the operators suggested the possibility of setting up a jointly-financed fund for hardship cases under the administration of an independent agency such as the Red Cross.

The operators' negotiating committee said in replying to the United Mine Workers that Lewis' proposal presented "a new social theory and philosophy, the effect of which would extend to every industry in America, and as such must be considered and acted upon as a national problem and not as one relating to the coal industry alone."

The operators gave three major reasons for rejecting Lewis' demand for the levy to be paid by operators who estimated it would net the union $70,000,000 annually on the basis of last year's payroll.

"1. The committee would not exercise such authority and make a commitment of this character for the industry, and further, this matter does not go to the question of wages, hours or working conditions."

"2. That the plan constitutes double taxation on the industry for social welfare, for which it is now paying approximately 10 cents per ton, which in 1944 amounted to more than $61,000,000."

"3. That it is a matter of public concern and is therefore a problem that should be considered not by this wage conference but by public legislative bodies and then only after a complete and thorough investigation by such legislative bodies of all the problems involved."

Bill Exempts Teen-Agers, Men With Children

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—Childless men 26 through 29 years old came back into the draft picture today as President Truman's choice of "the lesser of two evils" kept selective service legally alive but crippled.

For the moment, however, only men 20-25 will be inducted. Mr. Truman chose last night to sign a 45-day stop-gap extension of the draft law—but with an outright ban on inductions of either fathers or teen-age youths—rather than let the act expire at midnight.

The chief executive affixed his signature just four hours before the deadline. Less than two hours earlier the senate rammed through the extension after Senator Langer (R-ND) abandoned his threat to talk selective service to death.

Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey immediately wired local boards to confine inductions to men in the under-26 group Mr. Truman designated when Japan fell last August, but army officials in a position to know said this will have to be changed.

Nothing that the new law specifically permits men 20 through 29 to be drafted, one official said. "Of course, that's what we'll have to do." He asked not to be identified by name.

At draft headquarters, spokesmen took the position that it is up to the army to take any steps to raise the top limit set by the president.

Mr. Truman left no doubt that he was displeased with the way the draft extension was brought about. His press secretary, Charles G. Ross, used the "lesser of two evils" description in telling reporters the president regarded the stop-gap measure as a "bad bill."

Stop-Gap Measure May Return Two Boys From Army

The new "outright ban on induction of either fathers or teenage youths" into the army may bring two local youngsters back home.

Sent to El Paso this morning by the local board, the youths, whose names have not yet been released, were 18 and 19 years old, respectively. Up to noon today the board here had received no official communication on the new "stop-gap" measure signed last night by President Truman.

Jittery Sleeper Shoots Prowler In Texarkana

TEXARKANA, May 15 (AP)—The 35-year-old man shot early today as he peered into a window of the Emmett Giles home and tavern is not a suspect in the series of Texarkana slayings, officers said.

He and a companion are being held in jail on charges of drunkenness.

He had been arrested earlier this morning after Giles, who operates a restaurant and lives in part of the building, at an isolated spot 10 miles from here, reported that he had shot at a man he saw looking into a window.

Officers questioned the suspect, and said his explanation of his night activities, were logical.

The man explained that he and a friend had been drinking en route to his home, about three miles from the Giles' home, they decided to stop for "one more beer."

The restaurant was closed, and he walked up to see if he could awaken the owner.

Mrs. Giles, sleepless since the last slaying by a phantom believed responsible for five deaths here since March 24, had heard the car drive up, and awakened her husband.

Giles shot twice, one bullet striking the man in the foot. He staggered back to the waiting car, and he and his friend drove off.

The incident was reported to police, who promptly arrested the driver of the car. He led them back to his friend's home. There officers found bloody footprints, and an injured man.

Both were jailed and questioned. No charges will be filed against Giles in connection with the shooting.

Banking Unit Votes To Extend Control

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—The Senate Banking committee voted today to extend the life of the price control law a full year beyond the June 30 expiration date.

The House previously had voted only a nine-month extension and had hedged its approval with numerous restrictions.

Senator Barkley (D-Ky) said the vote for the year's extension was "about 11 to five." Earlier, the committee had rejected, 10 to seven a motion by Senator Butler (R-Nebr) for a nine months' extension.

Hopes Run High To Avert Strike Of Railroad Unions By Saturday

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—Government hopes picked up slightly today for a settlement of the threatened railroad strike before Saturday's walkout deadline.

President Truman's personal intervention, followed by resumption of negotiations at his request and reports of "some progress," did much to bolster the guarded optimism, but officials still waited anxiously for more positive encouragement from the actual bargaining sessions.

For there was frank apprehension over the effects of any nationwide strike by 250,000 engineers and trainmen. With the country still hard hit by the soft coal stoppage, the impact of a general rail tie-up could be incalculable damage.

Mr. Truman sent representatives of the unions and railroads back to their negotiating after a series of White House conferences yesterday. The disputants met until nearly midnight last night, reported some progress, and scheduled another session for today.

Needed Showers Fall, Crops Greatly Aided

By-passed previously as other sections of the state soaked up beneficial moisture, a sizable portion of Howard county received rain in sufficient quantity to enhance crop planting prospects early Tuesday night, as storms and torrential downpours were recorded in various regions of Texas.

Stanton and vicinity suffered heavy crop damage from hail which accompanied a hard, two-hour rain and broke several windows and beat in normal auto tops. All crops in the area, which extended about five miles west and 10 miles north of Stanton and continued to the south and east, were destroyed where plants already were up, and those recently planted washed away. Total rainfall in Stanton was estimated at about four inches.

The US Weather Bureau gauged 1.17 inches at the Big Spring municipal airport, and reports this morning indicated that the fall was substantially the same along highway No. 80 from east to west boundaries of the county. Northern parts of the county were not included, however, with negligible precipitation reported at Knott, Ackerly, Fairview and points north of the Coahoma area.

Forsan reported an estimated inch and a half, while estimates in the Elbow community varied from an inch and a half to two inches, with considerable hail accompanying the rain. E. T. Bronough reported 200 acres of cotton completely destroyed by the hail. Some hail fell in Big Spring, but no other damage here had been reported this morning.

A rain of near cloudburst proportions was reported at Ballinger, with the total there gauged at seven inches.

Wind up to 50 miles an hour, hail, rain and severe lightning hit Dallas early today, causing some damage. Police radio stations were forced off the air, and burglar alarms were set off in downtown buildings. There were several power line failures. An air transport was delayed 20 minutes in landing, circling the field until the weather abated.

Highest winds in Texas last night were reported at Wichita Falls, where gusts reached 82 miles an hour.

Eleven airplanes were demolished and two others damaged when the storm struck the airport and factory of the Luscombe Aircraft Corp., near Garland. Ankle-deep mud is hampering salvage work today.

Houston reported 2.05 inches of rain that accompanied thunder, lightning, hail and wind there. Crops nearby were damaged, but no estimate has been made yet. A storm struck Austin and raged for about half an hour. Peak gusts were 60 miles an hour.

Other rainfall reported includes: Abilene 1.05, Waco 1.35, Fort Worth 1.27, Wichita Falls .88, Brownwood 1.66, Palestine .64, Corsicana .50, Tyler .32, Galveston .79.

The forecast for today says more thunderstorms and thunder showers will hit East Texas. Strong winds are predicted on the coast. Clearing weather, and slightly cooler temperatures may be expected in West Texas.

Two More Cities Close Schools Fearing Polio

By the Associated Press

Two more schools joined the list today of those forced to close because of infantile paralysis.

They are the Benavides and Freer schools in Duval county.

The Benavides independent schools district board decided the move in an emergency meeting yesterday. The county council prohibited children at public gatherings for a 14-day period.

The Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for Crippled Children offered its facilities to all polio epidemic areas.

Throughout the state the fight against the spreading malady continued with grim sincerity.

Civic clean-up campaigns were spurred to greater effort yesterday with the report of a fourth death since May 1. To date the disease has struck one seven-year-old boy and four 16-year-old high school students at San Antonio.

Today the health authorities in San Antonio hope to spray the city, from the air with DDT in a strenuous effort to stamp out the disease.

Shortage Of Wheat May Force Six-Week Holiday

WASHINGTON, May 15. (AP)—Fast-dwindling wheat supplies at the mills threatened today to force a six-week holiday in the output of flour for domestic consumption.

This possibility arose as the House Agriculture committee announced a comprehensive investigation of both the domestic and world food situations, with the first session set tomorrow.

Chairman Flannagan (D-Va.) said if evidence warranted the committee also would consider the necessity for renewed food rationing. Most lawmakers, however, apparently remained unconvinced that there is need for restoring such controls at this time.

The flour situation shaped up this way:

On May 1 mills were required to cut their stocks to a 21-day supply. Few if any have been able to obtain wheat in the meantime because the government is offering farmers a bonus of 30 cents a bushel above the ceiling price—which is the top legitimate price millers may offer. And the 1946 wheat will not start moving to market until July.

Some mills already have shut down and a survey last night indicated many others either will close or curtail operations sharply.

This prospect posed two problems for the government:

(1) Will flour stocks on hand be sufficient to supply consumers until the new wheat crop becomes available?

(2) Should the government divert some of the famine-relief wheat it is buying to American mills in order to keep them operating until the new harvest?

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson is known to be studying these problems. Chester C. Davis, chairman of President Truman's famine emergency committee, told an interviewer that he believes supplies of flour now in distribution channels will be sufficient to meet domestic needs until new wheat becomes available.

Mrs. Sarah Rice Dies In Hospital; Services Pending

Mrs. Sarah Ellen Rice, 70, of 200 North Benton died Tuesday night at a local hospital, after an illness of several weeks duration.

Born in Kentucky on July 11, 1875, Mrs. Rice had lived in Big Spring and Howard county for 34 years.

She is survived by her husband, George O. Rice, five sons, Perry, Oliver S., Ira, Floyd W. and W. P. Rice, all of Big Spring; seven daughters, Mrs. Nettie Butts, Fort Worth, Mrs. Effie Foster of Kentucky, Mrs. Hattie Lowdermilk, Big Spring, Mrs. Alice McInturff, Monahans, Mrs. Nellie Williams, Longview, Mrs. Lorena Gibson, Odessa, and Mrs. Mary Chambers of El Paso.

Also surviving are 35 grandchildren, 10 great-grandchildren, two brothers, Bill Rigby of Big Spring and Ross Rigby of Chertsey, Ill., a sister-in-law, Mrs. Alice Speers, Coahoma, and a brother-in-law, Sam Rice of Hurley, N. M.

Funeral arrangements are pending arrival of the daughters. Eberly-Curry funeral home is in charge.

TLCB District 9 Makes Monthly Report On Cases

Of the 22 cases filed in District Nine by investigators of the Texas Liquor Control Board during the month of April, 17 resulted in convictions and several of the others are pending in the respective county courts.

A record total of $2,874.45 was paid out in fines and court costs in the cases where the accused was found guilty.

Howard county, one of 25 comprising the district, had four cases filed and as many convictions returned during the 30-day period. Fines levied during the month amounted to $495.40, local records show.

Dawson county led the entire district in number of cases filed, with seven. The $1,153.35 collected in penalties there also led all other counties.

Sherwin-Williams Group Meets Here

Merchandising plans, and problems of supplying demands, will be under discussion here Thursday by a group of Sherwin-Williams store managers and sales representatives called for a sectional conference.

The meeting will be directed by P. E. Dietz of Dallas, Sherwin-Williams division manager. Armstrong E. Bailey of the local store will be host manager.

Representatives are due here from Abilene, San Angelo, El Paso, Lubbock and Amarillo. Dietz arrived Wednesday to make plans for the conference.

McEwen Horses Win Heavily At El Paso Show

Back home today from El Paso, and pretty much in the role of a conquering hero, was Russell McEwen, who, in riding in seven events at the El Paso Riding and Driving Club's horse show, emerged with seven ribbons. He was the show's second money winner.

McEwen participated in the weekend event with two of his own mounts. Stellar winner was his Northwoods Peavine, a three-gaited horse that has never been out of the money in a show.

Peavine was first in the three-gaited saddle horse event, and shared a first with Star Melody (Mrs. Joe Carter of El Paso up) in the pair class. McEwen also rode Peavine to second place in the three-gaited championship stake, and to second place in the three-gaited Open.

The local motor man's Southern 1 team was second in the stallions and geldings class, and third in the five-gaited championship stake.

McEwen also rode another horse, Frontier Friday, to gain second place in the junior five-gaited.

Frank Kelley of Colorado City, prominent showman of this area, had several winners. His Frontier Sue and Frontier Pat rated one and two in the five-gaited junior; and Frontier Pat and Mr. Liberty placed two-three in the fine harness class.

Announcement of his candidacy, subject to the July Democratic primary, for congress as representative of the 19th district was made here Wednesday by Hop Halsey of Lubbock. Halsey was here overnight contacting friends in behalf of his campaign.

He said he would be back in the Big Spring area during the coming weeks to make a more formal solicitation for support.

Halsey, 31, is an ex-officer man and former member of the Texas legislature. A long-time resident of Lubbock and member of a well-known family there, he is a graduate of Lubbock high school and an ex-student of Texas Technological college. At present he is associated with his father, Mark Halsey, in the drug business.

Halsey, as a member of the Texas house of representatives (119th district) from 1941-45, served on the appropriations committee, highways and motor traffic committee, and on the legislative and judicial district committee. On the last named, he was instrumental in house enactment of a re-districting bill, by this measure died in the senate.

Halsey served in the Marine Corps as an enlisted man for 27 months, 14 months overseas at Saipan and Guam. He is married and has two children, four and six years of age, and is a member of the Church of Christ, the Shrine, Knights of Pythias, Lions club, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Marine Corps League.

Outlining his platform in brief, Halsey said he is against an income tax on incomes of less than $35 a week; favors a 20 per cent increase in all school teachers' pay through a federal aid grant; believes veterans should have first priority on all government war surplus property; and advocates a federal grant of $20 per month to all those past the age of 65, regardless of state pension grants. Federal pension money now is allocated on the basis of sharing with the state.

Halsey further declared "a man old enough to be drafted is old enough to vote," and would be favorable to lowering the franchise age to 18.

"Send a new man to Washington," is the basis of his appeal to voters in the 19th congressional district. "I feel that by experience I am qualified to represent the people of this district," he said. "And I think I can go to Washington with new viewpoints that will be helpful to the people of the nation and of our district."

Federal pension money now is allocated on the basis of sharing with the state.

Halsey further declared "a man old enough to be drafted is old enough to vote," and would be favorable to lowering the franchise age to 18.

"Send a new man to Washington," is the basis of his appeal to voters in the 19th congressional district. "I feel that by experience I am qualified to represent the people of this district," he said. "And I think I can go to Washington with new viewpoints that will be helpful to the people of the nation and of our district."

Outlining his platform in brief, Halsey said he is against an income tax on incomes of less than $35 a week; favors a 20 per cent increase in all school teachers' pay through a federal aid grant; believes veterans should have first priority on all government war surplus property; and advocates a federal grant of $20 per month to all those past the age of 65, regardless of state pension grants. Federal pension money now is allocated on the basis of sharing with the state.

Baby Beef's A-Coming

LINCOLN, Neb. — Seven 4-H club girls have served notice to the Cass county boys that they will have plenty of competition in baby beef shows this fall.

The girls, ranging from 11 to 15 years old, have formed a "for women only" baby beef club, and are feeding Herefords, Angus and Shorthorns.

Oil Producing Topic Of Talk To Rotarians

A humorous discourse on the business of being an independent oil producer was given at the luncheon of the Rotary Club Tuesday by Obble Bristow.

Obble disclosed the requisites necessary for being a successful producer and touched on the many obstacles which barred the way to the ultimate goal. He stated that, in the beginning, the aspiring promoter should have a knowledge of geology, plenty of capital, stickability and a fair share of luck, as there are many things working contrary to his ambitions, including, as he put it, "the regulatory bodies and the major companies."

Henry Norris told of his visit to Amarillo as delegate to the Rotary conference held there last week and his expedition, by special train, to the famous Boy's ranch.

Guests of Dave Duncan were Coaches John Dibrell and Herschel Stockton and the Big Spring high school track and field lettermen.

Accomplishments of the athletes in competition the last year were praised by both Duncan and Dibrell.

CONSTIPATION
is the cause of MUCH SUFFERING

Constipation may cause symptoms for a long time, but unless corrected will finally invade the health. Symptoms associated with advancing constipation are loss of appetite, heavily coated tongue, tired feeling and mental depression. Headache, dizziness, anemia, and skin disturbances such as acne, are commonly experienced. In severe cases, hemorrhoids and piles may occur. Constipation with gas formation and colic, and piles and fissures frequently add to the discomfort of severe chronic cases.

No matter how many other medicines you may have tried for constipation, we urge you to try B-I-B PREPARATION, with the understanding that B-I-B PREPARATION will bring you satisfactory results of your tummy back. Caution: Use only as directed.

Amarillo Studies Effects, Symptoms Of 'Q' Fever, Truly Mystery Malady

AMARILLO, (AP) — Here on the wind-swept plains of the Panhandle medical science is studying what is truly a mystery disease — "Q" fever.

It struck down 40 men here about a month ago, killing two. It was the first known public outbreak in the United States.

It is not a new disease, but a newly discovered disease, one of the doctors said.

Similar cases were studied in 1937 in Australia. In the same year, "Q" fever was isolated from a tick in Montana. In the extensive research that followed, several laboratory workers were infected. In Washington, one died in 1940.

Following the outbreak here, Dr. John Hooper, city health officer, called upon the state department of public health for aid. Dr. J. V. Irons, Austin, began an exhaustive study.

Two men, specialists in diseases of this type, were sent to Amarillo from Washington—Dr. Norman Topping and Dr. C. C. Shepard, of the US Public Health Service. Laboratory samples were sent to the National Institute of Public Health, Washington.

"Q" fever is called a rickettsial disease. In this same type are Rocky Mountain spotted fever and typhus. Some believe the name came from the Australian province of Queensland; others think a question mark placed after a report on the disease was mistaken for the letter "Q."

Although it can be diagnosed, its cause is unknown.

Dr. Topping would not comment officially upon its method of transmission. However, it is known the outbreak in Queensland, Australia, was among handlers of cattle. The outbreak here was largely confined to handlers of cattle.

"Possibility of animal infection is being investigated," Dr. Irons said.

Dr. Topping and Dr. Shepard spent considerable time in and around stockyards.

Dr. Topping said he expects to be able to give a report of laboratory tests in Washington by June 1.

Although the outbreak here was the first known occurrence in the country, Dr. Topping said there probably have been other such infections in various parts of the country, "but the disease was not recognized."

The fatality rate is about 5 percent, he said.

Colorado Revives 'The Amateur Hour'

COLORADO CITY, May 15 (Sp)—The peace-time revival of Mitchell county's outstanding summer entertainment program, weekly amateur talent shows staged at Ruddick park, will be undertaken this year by the newly organized Jaycees of Colorado City. General chairman of arrangements for the feature known over the county as "The Amateur Hour," will be Harold Bennett, secretary of the junior chamber, and frequently master of ceremonies for the hour discontinued in 1942.

Chairman of the first return, set for June 7, will be Dr. Harry A. Logsdon. Bennett, Bill Benson and Dr. Logsdon will act as MC's during the summer. It was decided at a joint meeting of Junior and senior chamber committees. Others named to the general committee are Ernest Griffith, Jaycee president, L. A. Chapman, new secretary of the senior chamber, Bill Craddock, Porter Richardson, L. J. Taylor and R. F. Rose.

The king salmon has been known to weigh as much as 100 pounds.

TOP STUDENTS ONES WHO TAKE ON ADDED WORK

COLUMBUS, O. (UP)—College students do better work when they are allowed to carry heavier-than-normal schedules, according to a recent survey made at Ohio State university.

The survey, covering a three-year period, showed that those students who requested and were given additional work made better grades, enjoyed higher morale and had a happier intellectual life.

Charles W. Reeder, dean of the college of commerce, listed four reasons why Ohio State students asked for more work:

1. Haste to finish educations and begin their life work.
2. Dislike of idleness and complaints that the 15-hour load did not present enough challenge, and did not keep them busy.
3. Accustomed to heavier loads if transferring from certain other colleges, such as engineering, where more hours were taken.
4. Intellectual curiosity and desire to explore fields outside the regular curriculum of the college.

"We have found that a student who has just been coasting along with 'C's' or 'B's' often will buckle down and make 'A's' and 'B's' when his course presents a real challenge, or he's in a hurry to get out," Dean Reeder said.

The accelerated programs enabled students to dip into arts, philosophy, science and other broad fields. "This certainly makes for a much better balanced person, and should be encouraged," said Dean Reeder.

DEFLATED TIRES, DEFLATED YOUTHS
OSHKOSH, Wis., May 15. (P)—Three youths who admitted to police they deflated tires on a string of parked automobiles, learned the folly of their prank the hard way.

With Policeman Walter Loppnow supervising, the three boys, each manning a hand pump, re-inflated all the tires to normal pressure.

Oil lamps were used to light New York streets in 1762.

$4,000 Street Sweeper

MANSFIELD, O. (UP)—The city of Mansfield has a $4,000 "Guttersnipe" to sweep its streets. At least that's the name given to the new mechanical street sweeper that the city has purchased. And the city safety director says that people will be asked to keep their cars off the street when the "guttersnipe" is doing work in their particular section.

Billion-Pengo Note Is Easier For Bookkeepers

BUDAPEST, May 14. (Delayed P)—A single bank note worth the million pengos went into general circulation today as Hungary's inflation wrecked currency plunged on in an apparently winning race to equal nothing.

Before the war, when five pengos were equal to one United States dollar, this new billion-pengo note—significantly displaying cheaper engraving on cheaper paper than any previous currency—would have been worth $200,000,000.

Today, with the dollar bringing two billion five hundred million pengos, it is worth less than 50 cents.

There are undoubtedly suffering people in Hungary but they are not to be seen in Budapest's crowded theaters and opera house, or dining lavishly at Gundel's or quietly and expensively in the Colonial's shadows or noisily at the Derby Club.

The government still has announced no anti-inflation action. Government circles once threatened to punish all those caught with foreign currency, but nothing ever came of it.

Most government sources now say the government does not intend to do anything about inflation until after the peace treaty has been negotiated.

There has, however, been some progress. A new word has been announced officially. It is "million-pengo" and means a million pengos. It is intended primarily for the use of bookkeepers who are running off the page to the right and for the owners of adding machines who are seeing eiphers in their dreams.

Canadians Plead Innocent At Trial

OTTAWA, May 15 (P)—Five Canadians accused of conspiracy to violate the official secrets act in connection with the activities of a Moscow-directed spy ring in Canada have entered pleas of innocent to the charges before the Ontario supreme court.

They were: Capt. Gordon Lunan, 30, Edward W. Mazerall, 30, former national research council engineer; James Scotland Benning, 38, and Harold Emanuel Gerson, 43, former munitions department officials; and Matt Simmons Nighthaling, 40, former RCAF communications expert.

Two others accused, Eric Adams, industrial development bank official; and F. W. Poland, formerly connected with the Canadian information service, are scheduled to be arraigned later.

Teamsters' Strike In Southwest Off

DALLAS, May 15. (P)—The strike of AFL teamsters union members against 46 southwestern motor freight companies scheduled to begin today has been cancelled, US conciliator Ted Morrow announced.

A settlement was made yesterday in a new contract calling for wage increases and covering all working conditions, Morrow said.

BLOOMIN', BLOODY HONEYMOON TRIP

PARSONS, Kas., May 15. (P)—Police halted Tom Russell on a New York pier as he rushed to meet his British bride and three-months-old son on the Queen Mary.

"Hi've forgotten m' bloomin' pocketbook," he shouted. His posing as a British sailor worked as far as a porthole where he saw his wife but couldn't get any farther.

Kansas, Branch Rail Lines Plan Merger

KANSAS CITY, May 15. (P)—A proposed merger of the Kansas City Southern Railroad would bring a one-name line from Kansas City to the Gulf of Mexico at Port Arthur, Texas, and New Orleans.

W. N. Deramus, the road's president, said stockholders of the railroad approved a merger of all subsidiary lines and companies.

It is proposed to bring the Louisianians and Arkansas railroad now a separate corporation, under the Kansas City Southern to allow the line to Port Arthur.

The merger must be passed upon by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

"UNBLOCK" your DIGESTIVE TRACT

And Stop Dozing Your Stomach With Soda and Alkalizers

Don't expect to get real relief from headache, sour stomach, gas and bad breath by taking soda and other alkalizers if the true cause of your trouble is constipation.

In this case, your real trouble is not in the stomach at all. But in the intestinal tract where 80% of your food is digested. And when it gets blocked it fails to digest properly.

What you want for real relief is not soda or an alkalizer—but something to "unblock" your intestinal tract. Something to clean it out effectively—help Nature get back on her feet.

Get Carter's Pills right now. Take them as directed. They gently and effectively "unblock" your digestive tract. This permits your food to move along normally. Nature's own digestive juices can then reach it. You get genuine relief that makes you feel really good again.

Get Carter's Pills at any drugstore—25c. "Unblock" your intestinal tract for real relief from indigestion.

NON-PEDIGREES ENTER PET SHOW

AURORA, Ill., May 15. (P)—The Fox Valley Animal League is planning something new in a pet show May 26.

Any type of animal may be entered—if it isn't pedigreed.

Early entries include an Albin goat, two fox cubs, ponies, goats, rabbits, mice and a turtle, and dogs and cats. Prizes will include dogs—with pedigrees.

Maybe you aren't this big a nut about cars

Maybe you're able to resist taking your engine apart—as long as it runs well. That's generally enough for most anybody—no matter how curious he is to see Conoco Nth motor oil in the act of OIL-PLATING the engine's insides.

OIL-PLATED engines aren't forever having the top opened up to see about carbon—nor having the bottom opened up to see about sludge. Carbon and sludge are the camp-followers of wear. But OIL-PLATING is in the best position to oppose wear—because it is fastened and held direct to inner surfaces. This is accomplished by the magnet-like action of an added material in Conoco Nth oil—patented.

The Issue And Settlements

The perplexing status of the soft coal industry is giving rise to concern all over the nation.

As is inevitably the case, the popular course is to single out a personality on either side for praise or vilification. Because John L. Lewis symbolizes and heads the United Mine Workers of America, he becomes an issue. In that respect he is at advantage, and disadvantage, because there is no central figure to represent management in the struggle. Yet the state of the industry, as it affects the national economy, does not justify the assumption that John L. Lewis is the issue.

The issue is whether it is right, proper and sound for either side in an industrial dispute to paralyze national economy.

Most people think not, but there a point of even partial agreement ends. Just how may the situation be handled more satisfactorily? There are some who would impose the most rigid sort of controls in openly anti-labor legislation. This would be unwise, for one has only to consider the gains made in behalf of better working conditions, hours, pay, etc. to recognize that in the main the efforts of organized labor have contributed much to sounder economy and social conditions.

At the other extreme is the school of thought that management is inherently evil and should be forced to come across on terms of labor. This would be unwise, for if management is management, then it must have the right to manage.

Until now, and perhaps even yet, negotiation has been the most satisfactory means of settling issues between the two. The quieting point, however, is the frequent and sometime progressive disruption of production in basic industries. Because of this, and the coal situation is a case in point, there is a growing trend of thought that some governmental machinery may have to be devised for arbitrating differences.

It seems that the better policy in the long run would be for labor and management to devise less drastic means of composing differences, free of government intervention. Yet, if an unyielding spirit is manifested on either side, necessity may provoke machinery of settlement. Under this type of program, whether it be boards, labor courts, compulsory acceptance of findings, or what have you, the result may be such that the parties to disputes may wish they had worked out the situation more satisfactorily on their own.

HOUSING PROBLEM

Europe's Question Mark

BERLIN, (AP)—The Jew is still one of the big question marks of Europe.

His problem is one no single nation or group of nations has been able to solve, and he is trying to solve it now himself by seeking to get to the Shangri-La of most oppressed European Jews—Palestine.

There are believed to be only 1,500,000 Jews left of the 8,000,000 in non-Russian Europe before the war. The soft ones were trapped and exterminated. Most of those left are tough, aggressive. They know what they want.

Anti-Semitic Europeans—and they run into the millions—say the Jews are the brains and backbone of black market and other illegal activities in almost every country over here.

There are Jews in the black markets, of course, but the charge is ridiculously overdrawn. I was discussing it recently with a friend, a young, intelligent American Jew who knows what is going on over here now. I asked him to write me a summary from his viewpoint, and here it is.

"It looks pretty much like the Jew is through with Europe. It's going to please a lot of people when you say that, but the reasons for the statement are a little different than they think.

"Even though the United Nations won, the Jews lost. Their battle is being fought now, they are hardy souls who never die, and because of what is within them they are able to fight back.

"Thousands of Jews wander about Europe seemingly aimless. But there is a purpose. There is a leadership. There is a plan. These are the ones who suffered.

"They are going to Palestine. They have few possessions, but they have courage. Slowly they wander with hope—and broken shoes. Gradually they cross borders, engulfing them, seeping through them. Nothing can stop them.

"Germany, Poland, Romania, Austria, Italy. Italy. There Polish troops from the exiled government attack and loot them. But the movement continues. The allied commission closes the displaced persons camps in the north.

"The crowds surge ahead. UNRRA supplies rations. The Jews sell, and surge to the south. UNRRA camps take them in, clothe, feed, clean them. They push blindly on.

"They reach southern Italy. Along the Adriatic coast there are fishermen, tramp steamer, coastwise vessels. These are what these people want.

"No longer do they stumble blindly. The pattern is clear. Shrewdly they join together, as always they must. Under sound, striped leadership they purchase or charter vessels. Now you know why they sell food and possessions in the black market.

"They are off to Palestine at last. Not gaily, not with music and bunting. But with determination, a quiet doggedness, that must have made our pioneer ancestors so serious and humorless."

Best Lewis Weapon Neglected

Last autumn, for instance, when Lewis pulled his abortive strike to secure recognition of the foremen's union, Ickes advised Truman that Lewis was on shaky ground, that then was the time to weaken Lewis by going over his head to get the miners back to work. Ickes knew the miners already were straggling back to work, would welcome a plea from the White House. They had no sympathy for a foreman's union. But Truman didn't act.

Ickes, also urged that the government-owned pipelines, built during the submarine crisis to bring oil to the Atlantic coast, be turned into natural gas lines to tap Texas gas fields. For gas competition against coal is what Lewis fears most.

Two applications from reputable groups to buy these pipelines have been on file with the Federal Power Commission, but nothing has happened. While it would take some time to get the pipelines operating, not one preliminary move has been made. Even the threat to open these lines would send shivers down John L. Lewis's back.

Miners Deserve Safety

Finally, the miners have a legitimate grievance regarding mine safety. Never have they been able to get a satisfactory safety law passed by Congress. In his private conferences, Truman has taken the position that this must be worked out by the operators and the miners; but if, instead of waiting for this, he had urged Congress to pass a mine safety law, he would have pulled the rug from under one of Lewis's best arguments.

Likewise with the welfare fund. Other unions have such a fund. The railroad brotherhoods have a retirement fund established by Congress. The same could be done for the miners—though not to be administered by one man.

However, no one in the White House, saw these things in advance, no one had the vision to crack down on John L. Lewis with gas pipelines in one hand and mine safety, plus a proper welfare fund, in the other.

This failure to meet the issues early, to ward off either a bonus army or a coal strike before it festers, is the gravest failure of the Truman administration today. It is the difference between

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Draw Pearson

Three Chiefs Basically Different

WASHINGTON.—Insiders who have watched the Hoover, Roosevelt and Truman administrations, point to two events as best illustrating their methods of approaching national problems. Those two events are: the bonus army under H. H. Hoover; and the coal strike under Harry Truman.

Roosevelt also was threatened with a bonus army, also with several coal strikes. But they have been forgotten, whereas the public will always remember the Hoover bonus army and the current coal crisis.

And in this very fact is found the basic difference of technique between Hoover, Roosevelt and Truman.

Hoover sat in the White House watching the bonus army of veterans daily grow larger until it reached the unruly total of 20,000 men and finally was driven out of the city by General MacArthur, leaving a black mark against the Hoover administration never to be lived down.

As Roosevelt came into office, bonus-army veterans continued to enter Washington. But FDR, without any fanfare, sent them to Ft. Hunt, Va., where they were fed, clothed and sent to areas where work was most available.

In handling the threatened coal strikes, Roosevelt also tried to meet the issue before it met him. Sixty days in advance of the contract deadline—not thirty days as this time he had Harold Ickes, one of his strongest cabinet members, start knocking Lewis and the mine operators' heads together. And at one time he was all set to go on the radio with the most scathing denunciation Lewis had ever received, when John L., tipped-off in advance, yielded.

Roosevelt, of course, had the full force of "no strikes in wartime" behind him. Truman didn't. However, not only did Truman delay intervention between the warring mine-operation factions, but neglected all the many steps he could have taken, both to soften the coal miners and cut the ground out from under Lewis.

Best Lewis Weapon Neglected

Last autumn, for instance, when Lewis pulled his abortive strike to secure recognition of the foremen's union, Ickes advised Truman that Lewis was on shaky ground, that then was the time to weaken Lewis by going over his head to get the miners back to work. Ickes knew the miners already were straggling back to work, would welcome a plea from the White House. They had no sympathy for a foreman's union. But Truman didn't act.

Two applications from reputable groups to buy these pipelines have been on file with the Federal Power Commission, but nothing has happened. While it would take some time to get the pipelines operating, not one preliminary move has been made. Even the threat to open these lines would send shivers down John L. Lewis's back.

Miners Deserve Safety

Finally, the miners have a legitimate grievance regarding mine safety. Never have they been able to get a satisfactory safety law passed by Congress. In his private conferences, Truman has taken the position that this must be worked out by the operators and the miners; but if, instead of waiting for this, he had urged Congress to pass a mine safety law, he would have pulled the rug from under one of Lewis's best arguments.

Likewise with the welfare fund. Other unions have such a fund. The railroad brotherhoods have a retirement fund established by Congress. The same could be done for the miners—though not to be administered by one man.

However, no one in the White House, saw these things in advance, no one had the vision to crack down on John L. Lewis with gas pipelines in one hand and mine safety, plus a proper welfare fund, in the other.

This failure to meet the issues early, to ward off either a bonus army or a coal strike before it festers, is the gravest failure of the Truman administration today. It is the difference between statesmanship and muddling through. It gets to the heart of why we, the most victorious, the strongest, nation to emerge from the war, have lost our leadership of the world today.

Lewis Demands Holiday Pay

Inside fact is that the first day's coal negotiations between John L. Lewis and the operators got off to a bad start. Lewis demanded time-and-a-half pay promised him by Roosevelt for holiday work, but which Truman had canceled shortly after V-J Day.

Ed McGrady, opening the negotiations, did his best to emphasize the importance of the conference.

"President Truman, speaking for the people," McGrady declared, "has said that he wants some results from us in four or five days. We must not let him down and disappoint the American people."

However, Lewis again raised the question of pay for Labor Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Year's and refused to arbitrate. The coal operators requested time to caucus, but after hurried conferences were not able to reach an agreement to give Lewis this pay. They contend that, inasmuch as President Truman by an executive order abolished Roosevelt's promise shortly after V-J Day, they are not obligated to pay anything further to the miners.

"You've got the money in your pockets," thundered Lewis to the operators. "It belongs to my men."

Finally, McGrady agreed to adjourn and give the operators time to think things over.

Mine Dictator Lewis

Last week, John L. Lewis had an interesting hour's conference with Secretary of Labor Schwelienbach, in which he made this remark:

"Why don't you seize the mines? You seize the mines and appoint a good administrator, and your crisis will be over."

"Who do you think would make a good administrator?" asked Schwelienbach.

"John L. Lewis," replied John L. Lewis. "I'll see that you get your coal."

Later, in negotiations with John Steelman, Lewis opposed seizure of the mines and said that he couldn't trust the Solid Fuels Administration to run them. Lewis said the Solid Fuels Administration and the Interior Department were "full of broken-down mining engineers who are tools of the operators."

White House Merry-Go-Round

Weakest man around the President continues to be St. Louis' John Snyder, the alleged war converter. Bob Hannegan (who incidentally says Snyder is from Arkansas, not Missouri) has done his best to persuade Truman to oust Snyder. The President won't budge. . . . At economic sessions inside the White House, Snyder contributes almost nothing except to tell strangers where to find the washroom. . . . Individually, Truman has an A-1 cabinet, but aside from Hannegan and Byrnes, none will light any firecrackers under the presidential chair. Secretary of the Treasury Vinson, who used to bat home-runs in the Roosevelt administration, now takes his base on balls. . . . Any administration which can't keep young men or else attract new young blood, is bankrupt, and young men are leaving the Truman administration so fast it's tragic. . . . Only outfit attracting new young blood, the State Department, now is under attack, with the White House asking for an undercover investigation. . . . Some cabinet cronies make it a special point to find new jokes to tell the President when they call down the Potomac on week-ends. . . . Perhaps they remember the fate of an old friend, Harold Ickes, who dared be disagreeable.

The President's Daughter

Washington society has been buzzing about the President's daughter's having run to lunch with a nice young man before the Kentucky Derby, thereby standing up a large and official luncheon of Kentuckyans who had gathered to do her honor.

However, here is what really happened. Charming, efficient lobbyist for the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad is Wichita McCullough, former West Virginia WPA administrator, who throws big parties in Washington at the expense of the C. and O. and does an A-1 job for his railroad.

McCullough invited 100 select officials to travel with him to the derby on a special train, including Margaret Truman. On the train were Secretary of the Treasury Vinson and his delightful wife, both Kentuckians, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Porter, also Kentuckians, with four Texans also slipped in. Attorney General Tom Clark and Congressman Lyndon Johnson plus their better halves.

Six months earlier this group had been invited to lunch with Vinson's old aide, now counsel for the Democratic national committee Edward "Aloop" Prichard, at his home in Paris, Ky. So, although C. and O. lobbyist McCullough tried to get them to a big luncheon he staged in Lexington, this cabinet group refused to renege on their original invitation and took the President's daughter with them.

The McCullough luncheon did wait for Margaret, and the railroad lobbyist did get in a buff, though he had no reason to. Later Margaret turned up at the derby with handsome Henry Prichard, brother of Ed, which brought immediate ohs and ahs from the Washington society columnist.

"Could it be," they sighed, "that Margaret is in love?"

If so, it was love at first sight. Prior to the derby she and Henry had never met.

Russia's Stand A Curious One

Official silence on the part of Russia to a proposal that the major powers enter into a pact guaranteeing that Japan and Germany will remain disarmed for a period of 25 years does the cause of good Russian relations no particular good.

The press, which might be considered something more than semi-official in Russia, has actually been critical of the proposal. Roscoe Drummond, chief of bureau at Washington for the Christian Science Monitor, sees two possible explanations:

1) That Russia is prone to be cautious of such an offer and is silent pending a thorough analysis; or 2) that Russia does not want the Allied powers sharing in occupation of Germany over a long period of time; and in any event preferring that each major power run its own part of Germany totally independent of the other.

Whatever the reason, it is a point of curiosity why Russia would not give an expression on this broad offer.

The Nation Today—James Marlow

Explaining The Railroad Strikes

WASHINGTON, (AP)—You just have time for a deep breath between the coal strike and the threatened railroad strike.

The coal strike has been suspended for two weeks, the railroad strike will start Saturday unless President Truman can stop it.

This strike has been called only by the engineers and trainmen, not by any others among the railway workers.

But since the engineers and trainmen are key men, a strike by them would tie up the nation's railroads.

Here is the railway picture, which is pretty complex. There are 20 important railway unions:

1. The five big unions which operate the trains, called the operating unions. They're the big five brotherhoods: engineers, trainmen, conductors, firemen and switchmen.

2. The 15 non-operating unions made up of the railway workers who don't run the trains.

All 20 unions last summer demanded higher wages and changes of various kinds in their contracts with the railroads.

Because there's a special law governing labor disputes on the railroads—with a lot of machinery for settling the disputes—it took the unions from then until now to go through all the steps in a dispute.

That is, all the unions except the engineers and trainmen went through the steps.

Those two unions, dissatisfied half-way through the machinery, voted to strike and Mr. Truman set up a special fact-finding board to consider their case.

But in the end the answer was the same for all 20 unions.

The big five—engineers, trainmen, conductors, switchmen and firemen—asked for an increase of $2.50 a day, or slightly more than 31 cents an hour.

The 15 non-operating unions asked for 30 cents an hour, or $2.40 a day.

All 20 unions were told they could have only 16 cents an hour, or $1.28 a day.

The President didn't appoint that board until the two unions had voted to strike. Under the law, when a fact-finding board is appointed, it is supposed to report to the President within 30 days after starting a case.

During those 30 days, and for 30 days after the report is made, there can be no strike.

The report was made April 18. The 30 days after that report will be up Saturday. Therefore, that's the last day for the strike.

But the other 18 unions—the three operating unions of conductors, firemen and switchmen, and the 15 non-operating unions—were angry at not getting their demands.

The 15 non-operating unions began talking with the railroads again for the rest of the raise they wanted. Still dissatisfied, they began sending-out ballots today on whether to strike. They plan to complete polling their members by June 20.

If they vote to strike, it won't be any time soon because the government will start its machinery grinding again.

Meanwhile, the other three operating unions—conductors, firemen and switchmen—last week decided to go back to the railroad owners and demand the full pay raise they originally asked for.

The unions wanted the companies to supply the workers with watches at cost and give the workers' two hours pay for the time spent in getting their watches checked.

The fact-finding board ruled that it seemed fair to have the companies give the watches to the men at cost but that, if the watches needed checking, they should be checked on company time but not with extra pay.

Broadway—Jack O'Brian

Sky Writers Move Over

NEW YORK.—A dapper young guy whose interests before the war were pretty firmly attached to the roofs of the buildings adjacent to Times Square, has out-cossailed Hollywood in its most expansive advertising whims to a point where Hollywood has had to come to him for the biggest single hoopla to be devised so far for one studio's films.

The young fellow is Douglas Leigh, who has fashioned some of the biggest and most traffic-halting signs along Broadway. He recently walked into legal difficulties when one of his ideas proved so eye-attracting that the police had to demand its immediate abandonment so that vehicles could move through Times Square without running over thousands of persons. That aborted though excellent advertising idea included color films on a huge screen atop a Broadway building.

With his plans now full of super soap bubbles for a soap company, more bubbles of actual ginger ale for a soft drink outfit and similarly extravagant ideas run-come to him from his mind onto blueprints every day. Young Douglas, a Navy lieutenant until his recent discharge, now comes up with the all-star idea of his career to date.

A giant ex-Navy dirigible shortly will be cruising the Atlantic seaboard, touching communities from New England to Washington, D. C., totting on its sides electrical signs 40 feet high which will carry running electrical messages 25 feet high and 200 feet long advertising the various film attractions of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Pictures.

A minimum of 8,000 lamps on each side will make the sign visible for more than five miles. The block-long affair will be toted in a sort of sensational sandwich-man fashion on a dirigible of the K-type, the idea for which crept into Leigh's agile imagination while he was on Navy duty. He already has bought three of the sky giants from the government. They are stored at Lakehurst, N. J.

The sky venture will be handled completely by ex-Navy personnel. Karl L. Lange, former Navy captain who was chief of staff to Admiral Charles E. Rosendahl, the Navy's crack lighter-than-air expert, will head the advertising operation; he has more than 25 years of lighter-than-air experience.

The dirigible, about four times as large as the blimps formerly used for advertising purposes, will make a regular daily junket covering a territory of 40,000 square miles stretching 180 miles in each direction from Lakehurst. The area includes New York, of course; and all points between Washington, Scranton, Pa., Hartford, Conn., Philadelphia and Baltimore.

Italy has an area less than that of Mexico.

Presbyterian Bible School Set June 3

Plans are being initiated this week for a vacation Bible school to be held for the children of the First Presbyterian church Sunday school. Dates for the school have been set for June 3 through 14.

The classes will begin each morning at 9 and will be dismissed at 11:30. The theme of this year's school will be the life of Jesus. Moving pictures will be shown twice each week. Light refreshments will be served during the refreshment periods each morning.

Department superintendents as they now stand are Agnes Currie, intermediates, Mrs. J. M. Woodall, primary, and Mrs. Marvin Miller, beginners.

Rev. Cullie Installed As Coahoma Pastor

COAHOMA, May 15. (Spl)—A special commission of El Paso Presbytery installed Rev. E. G. Cullie as pastor of the Coahoma Presbyterian church Sunday evening.

Rev. Charles Brinkley of Colorado City presided as moderator and propounded the constitution at questions. Elder LeRoy Echols of Coahoma opened the meeting with prayer, which was followed by a sermon by the Rev. Walter Guin of Odessa.

Elder Jerold Rlordon of Colorado City delivered the charge to the pastor, and Rev. James E. Moore of Big Spring gave the charge to the congregation. The newly installed pastor pronounced the benediction.

Rev. Cullie, a native of Austin, came to Coahoma after having served for three and a half years as a chaplain of the US Navy. He and Mrs. Cullie have one daughter, Jennie.

Two simple steps in building STURDY BODIES!

YOUNG PEOPLE, especially those of grammar and high school age, are prone to be deficient in stomach digestive juices and red-blood. In such cases Nature needs extra help. If an organic trouble or focal infection is suspected, consult your physician. Tissue foods must be digested and rich, red-blood must be present to build sturdy bodies. S.S.S. Parker, Shroeder, Talbert And Mulloy On US Net Team

Cuppers To Open Wars Opposing P.I. June 14

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP)—A Davis cup team composed of Frank Parker, Ted Schroeder, Billy Talbert and Gardner Mulloy will carry the hopes of the United States in the drive to recapture the international tennis trophy which was lost to Australia for the duration back in 1939.

Headed by non-playing Captain Walter L. Pate, this quartet was selected to meet a squad from the Philippine Islands on Triple-A club courts at St. Louis, June 14-16, in the first round of play in the North American zone.

A notable absentee in this first round lineup is Jack Kramer, member of the 1939 squad, who plays in the all-England championships at Wimbledon, June 6-7-7.

His departure leaves Parker as the only player with Davis cup experience on the team. The California ex-sergeant, No. 1 in the present national rankings and holder of the national singles crown, was a member of the team which wrested the trophy from Great Britain in 1937 and the one which lost it to Australia in 1939.

Parker, defeated by Kramer in straight sets in the Southern California tournament last week-end, and Schroeder, former national champion in both singles and doubles, probably will handle the singles assignment at St. Louis, with Talbert and Mulloy teaming in doubles, although Pate is still undecided about that.

Legionnaires Meet Stanton Brigade

T. J. Dunlap takes his American Legion girls' softball team to Stanton this afternoon for the third in a series of games with the Stanton All-Stars.

In two previous tests, the two contingents have broken even. The Legionnaires won the first decision two weeks ago in Stanton but lost here last Friday night.

Lefty Lanier May Prove Deciding Factor In National League Race

By The Associated Press
Chubby Max Lanier, with 10 straight victories over Brooklyn in his credit, may be the decisive factor in the National League race if it narrows down to the Dodgers and Cardinals.

It's much too early to eliminate anybody from the flag chase, except the Phillies, but the early season results point to a duel between St. Louis and Brooklyn. The Red Birds, off to a stuttering start, closed the gap to one game yesterday by downing the Brooks, 7-5, in 11 innings.

Eddie Dyer is new as skipper of the Cardinals but he knew the answer when he got to Brooklyn for the first time. He started Lanier, the Dodgers' hex.

Not since June 2, 1943, has the Flatbush flock been able to cut down the crafty lefthander from Denton, N. C. Lanier beat the Brooks four times after that 3-2 setback in '43 and five in a row in 1944. He didn't pitch against them last year before he went into the army but now he's back at his old tricks.

Leo Durocher's gang gave Lanier a good battle, coming back from a 5-0 deficit on some lousy slugging by Billy Herman and Dixie Walker to send the contest into overtime. With the bases loaded and two out in the 11th, Marty Marion punched a two-run single to centerfield that doomed the home club.

Jim Wallace, another member of the brotherhood of lefthanders, sparked in the other National League fray, an arc light tilt in Boston, when he hurled the Braves to a 5-1 edge over Pittsburgh.

Scheduled night games between the Chicago Cubs and Phillies and Cincinnati Reds and New York Giants were rained out as was a Philadelphia at Cleveland day contest in the American.

Dave (Boo) Ferriss was the big gun in the junior loop when he outpitched Joe Haynes in a tight duel to blank Chicago, 3-0.

The Red Sox maintained their 5 1/2 game lead over the New York Yankees who dropped out of the clouds and beat St. Louis, 6-2. All the Yank runs came from homers by Joe DiMaggio, Bill Dickey and Joe Gordon. Floyd Reavins did the hurling, an efficient nine-hitter, to down Nels Potter.

Detroit's eight-game win string was shattered by a 20-hit Washington uprising that produced a 15-1 decision for Roger Wolf.

Dick Metz's 70 Sets Pace As Golfers Tune Games For Fort Worth Tourney

FORT WORTH, May 15 (AP)—The nation's links tears hammered at par over rugged Colonial country club course today in the final warm-up round before start of the $15,000 invitation tournament.

Only one par-equaling score was posted in tune-ups yesterday, Dick Metz turning in a 70. However, Byron Nelson and Ben Hogan, two of the favorites, didn't play.

All of the 29 entries—24 professionals and 5 amateurs—were on the course today.

The seven top money winners of the year all are entries in the Colonial tournament. Hogan is No. 1 with $14,819.50. Nelson is next with $9,958.75. Sam Snead third with $8,876.16. Jimmie Demaret fourth with $7,584. Herman Keister fifth with $6,356.24. Vice Ghezzi sixth with $4,781 and Herman Barrow seventh with $4,622.40, according to figures released by Fred Corcoran, PGA tournament manager.

The first 18 holes of the 72-hole tournament will be played tomorrow.

Colonial course, a par 35-35-70, 6,850-yard affair, was the scene of the last national open.

Lesnovich Wins

LONDON, May 15 (AP)—Gus Lesnovich of Cliffside, N. J., still wore the crown emblematic of the world light heavy-weight boxing championship today after knocking out Freddie Mills in the tenth round of a title bout described by London sportswriters as the "greatest fight seen in a British ring for generations."

Charles Kayoed By Tom Attra

AUSTIN, May 15 (AP)—Austin's newboy, Tom Attra, evened his duel with Tommy Charles, of Beaumont, scoring a knockout after 31 seconds of the third round here last night in Austin's first pro boxing card in 15 years.

Attra nailed Charles with a vicious left hook, flooring the Beaumont lad. Charles was on his hands and knees and preparing to get to his feet as the referee finished the count.

It was Charles' first knockout. Both weighed in at 170 pounds.

In the preliminaries, Joe Becker, New Braunfels, won a technical knockout in two rounds over Ozzie Brewster of Kelly Field in a welter weight bout. Gene Kelly, Chicago, decisioned Joe Laredo, in a four-round lightweight match. Paul Gonzales, Fort Arthur, kayoed Sam Antonio's Boby Angora in 1:40 of the second of six rounds.

In the semi-final, a welter affair, Joe Harvey, Beaumont, took a wiper's knockout victory over Oliver Hamm of Galveston. Hamm, pursuing Harvey across the ring in the second round, swung wild at his opponent and fell out of the ring, knocking himself out as he fell.

FORMER FOOTBALL STAR L. D. Meyer, second from left, is playing second base regularly for the Cleveland Indians these days. A Texas Christian university end ten years ago, Meyer played in the Southern Association, then went to Detroit. He was traded to the Tribe last season. He is shown as part of the infield that started the season for Cleveland: Les Fleming, first base; Meyer; Manager Lou Boudreau, shortstop; and Robert Lemon, third.

Bruins Turn Back Christians, 7-6

By The Associated Press
The Baylor Bears tallied seven hits against the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs last night to win the first in a two-game series by the score of 7-6. The customer saw three hours and 10 minutes of baseball.

A home run by Tom Chandler, first baseman for the Bears, with one on in the eighth put his team in the lead.

The Bears and TCU meet again tonight to end the series.

Texas university and A&M will open a series in Austin Friday night.

Saturday Southern Methodist University and TCU play in Dallas.

Tennis Meet Set

GALVESTON, Tex., May 15 (AP)—The 13th annual Gulf Coast tennis tournament will be staged here July 4 to 7. Sam Schlankey Jr., chairman of the Gulf Coast tennis committee, has announced.

This year's tournament has been sanctioned by the ULTA and TTA. Twenty-two trophies will be awarded winners and runners-up in each division.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART
It is told that John Bredemus, the golf architect who slipped past the gates of Valhalla here the other day, was considered the greatest athlete in this broad land, outside of the great Jim Thorpe.

Bredemus, the story goes, played all sports for Cornell about the time Thorpe was ripping up the gridiron turf for the Carlisle Indians. Later, John competed in the Olympics.

Everything John did in the international show of shows, Thorpe did just a bit better. But when Jim was declared a professional and had to return his many medals, Bredemus became qualified to receive them.

Certainly John was one of the best golf authorities in this part of the world. His opinions on course layouts was accepted as unquestionable fact by all unkmen who knew him.

When the major domos of the golfing game play the Colonial course at Fort Worth this weekend, they will be shooting a beautiful course John devised. And some of them no doubt will be taking the late one's name in vain before they stagger across the finish line, golf being the game it is.

Marvin House, Jr., a former Big Spring boy now residing in Fort Worth, takes short leave of his duties this week to look into the drama unraveling out Colonial way.

Knocking on the door of the Fort Worth baseball club today is Pat Stasey, the much discussed baseballer who recently obtained his outright release from the Minneapolis Millers.

Stasey, thanks to some promotional work by Ira Thurman and others, received a call to go down and have a talk with James Reeves, Cat president.

If Patrick hooks up with Ray Hayworth's bunch, he'll be the fifth Big Springer doing business in the Texas league. The others are Bill Cape and Eldon Muratore, Beaumont; Jay Haney and Will Ramsdell, Fort Worth; and Andy Mohrlock, Houston.

Jackie Robinson, the negro baseball star, is hitting .360 in the international league but those who know don't think he'll last out the season with the Montreal Royals, unless he's kept around because of the gate lure.

The reason the New York Yankees are 5-1-2 games out of first place in the American league is because the siege gun, Joe DiMaggio, is some 40 points off the 300 mark in hitting and Nick Etten and George Strinweis are doing even worse with the hickory.

Of the regulars, only Charley Keller is hitting better than .300.

With the addition of Houston, Texas will maintain three franchises in the US Hockey league next season. Dallas and Fort Worth functioned last year and did very well at the gate.

Cy Casper, the former Texas Christian university football star, has taken a job as sports announcer for radio station WKY, Oklahoma City. He'll handle Oklahoma A&M grid games next fall.

Cy played for TCU from 1930 through '33. He was also the conference's hurdling champion three straight years.

Forsan Must Win To Stay In Race

VFW To Oppose Coca-Cola Club At 9 o'Clock

Tonight's Muny softball league doubleheader at the city park finds the Couden Pipeliners of Forsan lining up against Big Spring Hardware in the 7:30 tilt and VFW mixing with Coca-Cola in the 9 o'clock test.

Jack Keith's Forsan troupe is mixed in sixth place in circuit standings with a record of two victories in four starts. Perhaps they are a better ball club than the records show but they will not get a chance to move up until one of the four unbeaten leaders is knocked off. If they lose they can kiss their designs on a title good-bye.

The Hardware Spartans have won but one decision in five starts, are but a skip and a jump out of the loop cellar.

Presence of such standouts as Lewis Heuvel and Lefty McCabe in the Forsan lineup make the Pipeliners strong favorites to win.

Coca-Cola has shown to advantage in most of its practice games and only last Monday bowled over Coahoma with a late finish. However, they'll have to go the limit to subdue the Vets tonight.

Skipper Lige Brothers of the Bo'lers is without pitching strength, his ace, Jimmy Daylong, having asked for his release.

VFW is in seventh place in circuit standings, Coca-Cola in ninth. A victory for the Bo'lers would move them up several notches.

"Jim, I thought one blade was just like another..."

Will you introduced me to PAL HOLLOW GROUND?

Lots of men have said just that—and Pal came along. Now, they say "They're all the same—except Pal!"

Ordinary safety razor blades are ground like a pocket knife. Pal Blades are different—they're Leather Stripped and Hollow Ground just like a barber's razor.

Results: Pal Blades are flexible in your razor—follow facial contours effortlessly. Your shave is cool, quick, no "bearing down." And delicate edges last longer, too. That's why millions call it the Pal.

VFW To Proffer Kegling Lessons At Lanes Friday

Leaving no stone unturned in their campaign to raise money, the members of the VFW lodge here are going to see to it that a lot of the persons who don't know a bowling ball from a watermelon get oriented on the maples when they take over the West Texas alleys here Friday.

The Vets are letting it be known that they welcome all business. They cut in "whole hog" on the take Friday and intend to see that the lanes are well patronized.

So, they'll go out upon the town looking for trade. It doesn't matter whether or not the individual they descend upon has ever had a kegling ball in his hand. The vets will educate him.

The local service chapter hopes to sweeten its pot considerably before the day is over. That pot, of course, will be, in turn, used for VFW charities.

E. B. Dozier, manager of the West Texas lanes, hands everything over to the Vets on the appointed day—concessions, shoes, leases, all. All proceeds, outside of the salary of the pin boys, goes into the VFW kitty.

Back from the Battle Fronts to Save You Motors, Breakdowns, Money New FRAM Filcron Oil Filters

With automobile production delayed, you may be driving that old car of yours a long time yet. So play safe. Get the amazing new Fram Filcron oil filter... proved by the Army and Navy on every battle front... to reduce motor wear, save costly repairs and help lengthen the life of your car.

Visit Your Service Station Today

Yes, now's the time to visit your service station or dealer and have them make the Fram Dipstick Test. The Dipstick tells the story! If oil shows dirty, have them install an efficient Fram Filcron filter to remove dirt, dust, grit, carbon, sludge and harmful abrasives that accumulate in your oil and grind away vital motor parts. You've everything to gain, nothing to lose, because every Fram Filcron filter is backed by an iron-clad, money-back guarantee.

If your car is already filter-equipped, put in a Genuine Fram Replacement Cartridge to get the most out of your present filter. There's a Fram replacement cartridge to fit most any type of filter... so visit your service station or dealer today for the free Fram Dipstick Test.—FRAM CORPORATION, Providence 16, R. I.

*Certain heavy-duty oils, due to the detergent additive used, will turn dark in color almost as soon as put into the engine. Where such oils are used, filter cartridges must be changed on a mileage basis.

HIS HONOR FLOORS DEFENDANT TWICE

GARY, Ind., May 15. (AP)—Superior Judge Homer E. Sackett, 62, left his bench yesterday and grappled with and threw to the floor Virgil Underwood, 35 years old, 6 foot, 3 inch, 175 pound tavern owner.

Bailiff Joseph Metzger said that Underwood, in court as a defendant in a divorce case, had struck a woman witness, blacking her eye.

Judge Sackett grabbed Underwood, pulled him over a three-foot railing and threw him to the floor.

Underwood got up and swung at the judge, but Sackett, who is 5 feet, 7 inches tall and weighs 185 pounds, seized him around the neck again and threw him to the floor.

Judge Sackett returned to the bench and fined Underwood $800 and sentenced him to 90 days in jail for contempt of court.

Final Plans Made For Vocational School Meeting

Veterans of the county are showing encouraging interest in the Howard County Vocational school, E. C. Dodd, coordinator, said today, as final preparations were made for a special informative meeting tonight in the district courtroom.

Representatives of the school and the veterans administration will explain various phases of the school's operation and objectives at the meeting. Questions also will be answered concerning subsistence allowances for the veterans. Several inquiries have been received from business firms and other interested persons, Dodd said, and they all are invited to attend tonight's session, which is open to the public.

Enrollment blanks for use of the school are being prepared today, and a complete supply will be available tonight. Forms required by the veterans administration will be supplied by the VA contact office whose staff also will assist applicants in filling them out.

Reports of J. C. Webb and L. R. Armstrong, who are currently doing field work for the school, indicate good interest in the project, Dodd said. Up to the present only names and addresses of those interested have been recorded, but formal applications will begin at the meeting tonight.

Husband Killed, Wife Wounded By Gunman

CHICAGO, May 15 (AP)—John Bartuch, 43, father of five children, was shot and fatally wounded last night and his wife, Madeline, 42, also was shot by a gunman as they were sitting on the front steps of their west side home.

Before firing at the couple the assassin shouted, "now is the time to get you." Bartuch was shot in the back and his wife in the neck and left wrist. Mrs. Bartuch's condition was serious.

Lt. Ralph Catanese said a daughter of the gunman's victims gave a description of a man living in the neighborhood who had threatened her parents.

Jews Celebrate

FRANKFURT, May 15 (AP)—Thousands of Jews throughout Germany today celebrated with festivals and meetings their liberation from Nazi persecution. The new "anniversary of liberation" was observed as a holiday by all German Jewish congregations and by Jews in displaced persons camps.

VIEW OF GREEK CAPITAL— Constitution Square appears in the foreground of this view of Athens, Greece. In the background is the famous Acropolis.

Huks, MPs Clash In Filipino Area

MANILA, May 15 (AP)— Mass roundups of Hukbalahaps in central Luzon by Filipino military police was reported today by the Manila Evening News, which charged that the peasants were being given the choice of joining the MP organization or going to jail.

Provost Marshal General Frederico Oboza denied the charge and scoffed at reports from Cabanatuan that the MPs had imposed an 8 p. m. curfew on the farmers of Nueva Ecija province.

"There's plenty that Oboza doesn't know about what his men are doing in central Luzon," retorted Cipriano Cid, Evening News editor. "I'll stick by my reporters. We'll have more to say later about the MPs."

The Evening News reporter said that the police were seizing and torturing suspected Hukbalahaps. An old peasant at Ahago, Nueva Ecija, scene of a clash between police and Huks yesterday, was quoted as saying the present situation is "worse than when the Hukbalahaps" were in control.

No trace has been found of 200 suspected Huks who raided the town of Balungao, Pangasinan province, and forced officials to hand over $500 of town funds.

Stratton Making Good In Comeback

SHERMAN, May 15 (AP)—Monty Stratton is making good in his return to baseball.

Monty is the former Chicago White Sox pitcher whose major league career was blasted on a day in 1938 when a hunting accident cost him his right leg.

The gangling Stratton has done some pitching since then but it wasn't until this year, when the Class C East Texas league revived, that he entered professional ranks once more.

Monty has won three and lost one. He will be pitching his fifth game tonight when the Sherman club opens a home series with Paris.

Stratton has worked 36 innings, given up 32 hits, struck out 25 and been touched for 10 earned runs. He pitched a one-hitter against Greenville.

At bat his record isn't so good. He has only one hit in 15 times but some of his connections ordinarily would have been base knockers. Under a special league rule he is allowed a runner but must first get on base.

In fielding Stratton has been tops. He has made one put-out, three assists and participated in one double play while playing errorless ball.

Unheralded Duo, Coast Veteran Share Titles

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 15 (AP)—American Bowling Congress crowns were shared today by an unheralded doubles duo, a national match-game champion and a California veteran who led his team to the five-man title.

Respectively, the champions were: doubles, John Gworek and Henry Kmidowski, Buffalo; all-events, Joe Wilman, Chicago; singles, Leo Rollick, Santa Monica, Calif.; and team, Llo-Da-Mar Bowl, Santa Monica, Calif.

Gworek, 43-year-old milling foreman, and Kmidowski, 42-year-old welder, put together games of 397-419-544 on March 20 for a 1380 gross, second highest doubles score in ABC history.

National match-game champion Wilman won the all-events with a 2054 gross rolled April 8. He registered the score on a 690 single, 706 doubles, and 658 team total.

Rollick, 34-year-old traveling salesman, took the singles with a 737, fired May 8, and about every individual honor of the meet.

The Llo-Da-Mar Bowl squad won the team title with a 3023 gross, registered on May 7.

Rain Halts Mushball Battles At Forsan

Rain forced postponement of the Forsan softball league games, which were scheduled to be played Tuesday night.

Phillips was to have opposed Continental in the opener, while the Forsan high school contingent was booked to meet Shell in the aftermath.

The games may be re-scheduled for later in the week.

Contraband Found In Two Texas Cars

MEXICO CITY, May 15 (AP)—The drivers of two automobiles bearing Texas license plates were arrested at Oaredo, Texas, after US and Mexican authorities confiscated 20,000 contraband pistol cartridges, Gen. Gustavo Arevalo Vera, commander of the Nuevo Laredo garrison, reported to the war department yesterday.

The cartridges were found in the two automobiles at the Laredo international bridge.

Texas Fliers Invited To "Lost Plane Hunt"

SAN ANGELO, May 15 (AP)—Texas fliers have been invited by the San Angelo chapter of the National Aeronautics association to take part in a "lost plane hunt" to be staged at Mathis Field on May 26.

Finder of the plane will receive $50.

Woolen garments should be dry cleaned or laundered before being stored for the summer. Moths thrive on soiled spots.

Disease Detectives En Route To Japan

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—The war department announced today it will send a cadre of "disease detectives" to ferret out causes of illness among army men in Korea, Japan, Germany and the United States.

The "detectives" will be medical officers who have just completed 32-week courses in preventive medicine at Harvard and Johns Hopkins universities.

They will concentrate, the announcement said, on stamping out "venereal-breeding dens" and will serve too as "courts of inquiry in eliminating foci of disease."

Outstanding Soviet Bio-Chemist Dies

LONDON, May 15 (AP)—The Moscow radio announced today the death of Soviet academician Alexi Nikolayevich Bakht, 89, on May 13.

Bakht was described as the founder of scientific biochemistry in the USSR, organizer of the physical chemical institute, and an outstanding leader in scientific research.

House Makes Last Attempt For FEPC

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)— House friends of FEPC went to bat today in a last-ditch attempt to save the dying agency.

They staked their hopes on the success of a move to force out onto the floor the legislation for establishing a Fair Employment Practice Committee. The bill has been stalled in the rules committee for months.

The last ditch-nature of the effort was borne out by the fact that the temporary FEPC setup, which was to continue until June 30, has been forced to suspend operations because congress refused the necessary funds.

FEPC advocates were cautious in gauging their chances, but they told newsmen they were ready to seek a vote on the issue.

"The time has come for a showdown," said Rep. Marcantonio (AL-NY).

FEPC foes predicted the effort would be defeated, and southern leaders called on all their members to be present to vote against it.

"We will do everything possible to knock down this un-American, unconstitutional bill," Rep. Earman (D-Tenn) declared.

US Oilmen In Iran

LONDON, May 15 (AP)—The Moscow radio quoted a Tehran newspaper today as reporting that representatives of the American-owned Sinclair Oil Corp. were prospecting for oil in the vicinity of Iranshahr in southeastern Iran.

Yoshida Likely To Be Premier Of Jap Cabinet

TOKYO, May 15 (AP)—Foreign Minister Shigeru Yoshida, who today became president of the liberal party, appeared tonight to be on the way to the premiership of Japan.

Political leaders conferred on plans for a right-wing cabinet to succeed that of Premier Shidehara as the new, and mostly untried, members of the diet prepared to open tomorrow the 90th extraordinary session.

The diet must organize tomorrow to comply with the law providing a meeting within five months of the dissolution of the previous diet. It then is expected to recess until the new cabinet can develop a program, probably in about three weeks.

Shidehara was expected to recommend to Emperor Hirohito that Yoshida be commanded to form a new government. The foreign minister accepted the liberal party presidency on the urging of the present premier.

The social democratic and communist parties have announced they would remain in opposition to such a government, which would involve the coalition of the most conservative elements of the right wing liberal and progressive parties. Shidehara is president of the progressives. The problem of finding a premier has deadlocked since the Shidehara cabinet resigned under fire for having failed to solve food, housing and other postwar problems.

The same momentous problems, plus the responsibility of approving a new constitution and developing a new budget, when they are presented by the incoming cabinet, face the neophyte diet.

Virusologists Study Polio Symptoms

AUSTIN, May 15 (AP)—White coated virusologists at the state department of health today kept a close tab on the symptoms of animals inoculated with specimens taken from victims of the virus disease plaguing San Antonio.

When the inoculated animals respond to the injections, specimens will be taken from them and studied microscopically by highly-trained laboratory technicians.

These specimens will be patiently observed and subjected to known tests. The procedure is known in medicine as the "direct diagnostic method" of establishing the identity of a disease.

The outcome of the tests on the animals inoculated with specimens from victims of the disease that has taken four lives at San Antonio will tell health authorities specifically what it is.

With that knowledge, they will be enabled to battle it with certainty, applying the latest methods. Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, has expressed belief that it will be found the disease is no mystery, merely deadly encephalitis or poliomyelitis.
