Here are some of the section captains taking the United Fund campaign to Texas & Pacific Railway employees. The group gathered this morning to pump new life into their own phase of the fund drive. UF leaders were hoping their work would also inspire other groups. Left to right are R. L. Hayes, maintenance of way employes captain; Charlie Vines, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; A. C. LaCroix, general chairman for the T&P; Curtis Boyd, American Train Dispatchers Association; L. M. Tucker, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; C. T. McDonald, International Brotherhood of Teamsters; F. E. Lowke, B.E.; C. A. Murdock, Brotherhood of Railway Clerks; Russell Lawrence, Engineering Department; and Joyce Knappe, BRC.

T&P Employees Plan To Renew Efforts In Lagging UF Campaign

Railroad workers gathered this morning to instill new drive in their part of the lagging United Fund campaign. Following the meeting, A. C. LaCroix, general chairman for the Texas & Pacific Railway phase of the drive, announced that railroad workers have completed about 55 per cent of their part in the campaign. Renewed efforts to complete

Forsan Reports 1.05 Inches Rain

Rain clouds which apparently came in from the east all but bypassed Big Spring this morning but did dump 1.05 inches on Forsan between the hours of 2 and 7 a.m.

Most gauges in and around Big Spring, along with one maintained by the Texas Electric Service Company east of town, measured about 1.0 of an inch. The U. S. Experiment Farm north of town measured .18, as did Ralph Proctor, who lives this side of Vealmoor.

The showers played out entirely before they got to Lamesa. Tom Jay Goss III, Herald correspondent in Colorado City, reported that 1.40 inches of moisture had been recorded there. Some hail was reported in that area shortly after midnight. The TESCO gauge at Colorado City showed only .91, however. Other TESCO readings included 1.31 at Abilene, .42 at Chalk, .65 at Sweetwater, .65 at Eskota and .22 at Snyder. Morgan Creek did not report any appreciable downfall.

Freezing weather capped the top of Texas Wednesday while the first cold-bearing front of the season plunged on southward. Thundershowers continued as the front moved toward the Rio Grande Valley. At 7:30 a.m. the front ran on a line from Shreveport, La., to Lufkin and across the state to Del Rio.

Dalhath had a minimum of 27 degrees early in the morning, low for the state. It was 59 degrees warmer at Corpus Christi. The Gulf Coast city had a minimum of 77 degrees, high for the state. Rainfall totals include Abilene .59, Dallas .44, Lufkin and Corsicana .41, Odessa .32 and Amon Carter Field—between Dallas and Fort Worth—.27.

Continued cool weather was predicted through Thursday with a possible warm-up due over next weekend, the Weather Bureau said. Meanwhile, there was no drop in the Sabine River at Mineola and the usually placid stream was expected to crest at 18 feet, four above flood level, this Wednesday. The Weather Bureau said the river would crest at about 35 feet, ten above flood stage, by the time the crest reached the Gladewater vicinity.

Forecasts called for continued cool weather over most of the state with widely scattered thundershowers in East Texas and the south central portion.

Two Bodies Are Found In C-City Hotel's Ruins

Two More Thought To Be Dead In Fire

By TOM J. GOSS

COLORADO CITY — Firemen and other volunteers removed two bodies from the charred ruins of the Colorado Hotel this morning and the search continued at noon today for at least two other persons who were believed to have perished in the fire that destroyed the building early today.

One of the bodies recovered this morning was tentatively identified as Lon Mize, 29. Identity of the other could not be established immediately.

Four of the hotel's 17 guests, including Mize, were listed as missing. The others missing were Al Cate, 52, Colorado City cafe operator; H. E. Ladd, 73, operator of a second-hand store; and A. R. Trice, 71, a retired farmer.

Mize was identified only as a windmill repairman. Tentative identity was made through location of the remains.

Fire completely burned out the interior of the 54-room, three-story hotel. The blaze started shortly before midnight, apparently when the building was struck by a lightning bolt, and spread rapidly throughout the structure.

Firemen from Sweetwater and Snyder assisted volunteer firemen from Colorado City with efforts to control the fire. Rain and light hail fell as the hotel burned, but the fire fighters were unable to start the search for victims for several hours.

The two bodies recovered this morning were removed to the Kiker & Son Funeral Home and efforts were being made to establish positive identification.

Lightning struck the building shortly before midnight, according to residents of the three-story hotel, and immediately flames shot down hallways and roared thru the building. "I heard the blast as the bolt struck," said J. C. Barkley. "I pulled on my pants and opened the door. Flame came into the room from the hallway and I shut the door quick and jumped from my window to the roof of the next building."

Barkley said that he and others were trapped on the adjoining rooftop for several minutes until rescued by the fire department.

At the time a chill rain was pelting down and hotel residents, who escaped in nightgowns and pajamas, were wet and cold as they watched flames eat up the building, taking their clothes, money and personal possessions. Few were able to save a coat or other outside clothing. Thirteen of the hotel patrons

Eisenhower Puzzled By Apathetic Voters

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower said today he is puzzled by the apparent apathy among voters and hopes to do a little stirring up personally—by he can squeeze a one-day flying trip into his tight schedule.

In his first news conference since Aug. 17, Eisenhower said he certainly hopes the American people are going to elect a Republican Congress but that he was not going to predict the outcome of next Tuesday's balloting. Alluding to reports of an apparent lack of interest among voters, Eisenhower said he would like to dramatize his desire to see everybody vote.

And, he said, he is considering a flying trip Friday which might include stops at airfields in four cities. He didn't name the cities but there had been reports that GOP leaders want him to visit Detroit, Louisville, Minneapolis, Boston, Wilmington, Del., and Waterloo, Iowa.

Eisenhower said his schedule is so tight that he could not possibly leave Washington except for one day of campaigning and would not know until later whether it would be possible for him to go even then.

One of the reasons he had been given, he said, was that the United States had got what it wanted from his administration and the voters are satisfied. This indicated, he said, that it might not be discontent at all but too much satisfaction that was making the voters apathetic.

Answering a wide range of other questions, Eisenhower said the United States now has better reason to hope for world peace than

Man Dies In Mishap North Of Vealmoor

Francisco Vasques, 30-year-old Abilenean, was killed about 3:30 p.m. Tuesday when the car in which he was traveling overturned on the Vealmoor-to-Gall road about two miles north of Vealmoor.

Two other Latin-Americans were in the car, but apparently neither was injured. Highway Patrol officers said today they had not been able to locate the pair.

Driver of the vehicle was not identified, although officers said Vasques apparently was only a passenger. The car is owned by Raul Vasque of Stanton.

One of the persons summoned an Eberley-River ambulance from Big Spring before disappearing, according to the patrolmen. The accident occurred in Borden County, just north of the Howard County line. The vehicle apparently went out of control on a curve.

Vasques was born Jan. 7, 1924 in Devine. He is survived by his wife, Antonia Vasques of Abilene, three children; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Disente Vasques of Lamesa; four brothers, Cristabel of Sweetwater, and Joe of Lamesa; and four sisters, Antonia Rodriguez, Natalia Valencia and Tiodora Losano, all of Texas, and Juana Garcia of Phoenix, Ariz. Funeral arrangements are pending at the Eberley-River Funeral Home.

Red Police Detain Two U.S. Wives

MOSCOW — The Soviet Union today returned a U.S. note protesting against what the United States called the forcible detention of the wives of two American Embassy officials.

The U.S. Embassy in Moscow takes an extremely grave view of the incident, feeling that it strikes at the basic issue of the personal safety of American diplomatic personnel in Russia.

In Washington, the State Department said the women were held by Russian secret police for approximately an hour and a half Monday "in violation of generally accepted diplomatic practice that prohibits the arrest or detention of persons having recognized diplomatic status."

(U.S. officials said the Soviet government contended the U.S. protest was accusing one of the wives, Mrs. Earl E. Sommerlatte, of "hoiiganism"—a Soviet term for rowdy behavior—and demanding her recall by the United States. Mrs. Sommerlatte is the wife of the embassy's second secretary.

(The other woman involved in the incident was identified as the wife of Marine Lt. Col. Houston Stiff, assistant naval attaché at the embassy.) Washington officials said the women became alarmed during their detention and a scuffle ensued. One of the women slapped one of the policemen. This apparently was the basis of the hoiiganism charge against Mrs. Sommerlatte.)

Both women involved are in a highly nervous state and have stayed close to their apartments. "Both these girls behaved admirably," Bohlen said.

Mrs. Sommerlatte is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. McCormack of Wilmington, Del. Mrs. Stiff is from La Jolla, Calif. Her husband is a native of Waco, Tex.

Accused Red Moved From Houston Jail

HOUSTON — Ramon Mirabel-Carrion, arrested at Hidalgo Thursday today was presumably en route to Puerto Rico to face charges of conspiring to advocate the overthrow of the U.S. government there.

Federal officers checked him out of the Harris County jail early yesterday. He had been brought here from Edinburg, where he has been held since his arrest and arraignment before U.S. Commissioner J. C. Hall.

COLORADO CITY LANDMARK AFTER FIRE

Blast Damages Valley Building

EDINBURG, Tex. — A man carrying a box apparently filled with explosives blew himself to pieces today in a blast that wrecked the second floor of the Hidalgo County courthouse here and shook the downtown Edinburg business district.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Tom Winger of Hidalgo County said the man blew himself up. The sheriff's department said it was obvious that the box the man was carrying was loaded with dynamite or some similar explosive. The man was identified as Henry Miller, about 60, of Realito, Tex.

Former Edinburg Mayor Chester Blodgett, who knew Miller, said Miller had come to the Lower Rio Grande Valley and had been under some sort of strain and had threatened to commit suicide on several occasions.

Two women were reported injured by flying glass and the courthouse switchboard operator suffered severe shock. Several hundred persons normally in the building at that time of day apparently escaped with only minor or no injuries.

Less than an hour after the 10:20 a.m. explosion, sheriffs deputies found a second unexploded bomb in the lobby of the courthouse. Officers said Miller apparently took the elevator to the second floor, went into the 92nd District courtroom for a moment and then left. The explosion followed immediately.

The blast blew open the door of the courtroom, and a portion of Miller's body sailed into the room. Frank Hester, city secretary of nearby Donna, said he saw Miller walk into the back of the courtroom and sit nervously for a moment.

Hester said that while the terrific noise and severe shock startled everyone in the courtroom, no panic ensued. Hester said he looked out into the corridor and saw the man's head on the floor and his legs about 20 feet away. Cecil Holman, business manager of the Weisco school district, said he was standing in the hall only a few feet from where the blast occurred. He said at the moment of the explosion he dropped to the floor and escaped serious injury. He, too, told of seeing the man's body blown to pieces.

The courthouse is a five-story modernistic structure costing 1 1/4 million dollars. It was dedicated only a few months ago.

Mrs. G. C. Brock, the courthouse telephone operator, was seated at her desk inside the main entrance and suffered severe shock from the blast which came down the broad staircase from the second floor and threw her against the marble wall on the other side of the main floor corridor.

Portions of the man's body were found even outside the building. Miller had been in a compensation hearing in the 92nd District Court, seeking additional awards following an accident in which he was hurt. He had been working on a pipeline and a dynamite explosion too near him caused his injuries.

Blodgett, who had been representing Miller, said his client had been carrying a bag the last several days and he thought he had been carrying his lunch. Blodgett said Miller had been under a doctor's care for a psycho-neurotic condition.

Mitchell Promises Federal Action To Build Prosperity

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON — Secretary of Labor Mitchell has pledged "any government action necessary" to boost employment and living standards, carrying out the "prosperity without war" theme to which the Republicans have pitched their campaign to win control of the next Congress.

Following President Eisenhower's lead, Mitchell told a nationwide television and radio audience last night that 1954 has been "the most prosperous peacetime year in our history."

He lashed out at "politicians trying to get your vote by distorting facts and trying to scare you." He said that while there was some prosperity during the 20 years of Democratic administrations, "it was built on the suffering and tragedy of two wars."

The Eisenhower administration has brought about peace and increasingly prosperous times and is working for further economic improvement, he said.

"We are looking forward to more jobs, more production, and a higher standard of living for all Americans," he said.

"We Republicans are committed and determined to keep the people of the United States prosperous and to take any government action necessary to expand employment and have an ever-higher standard of living for all the people of the United States."

An Eisenhower economic speech Monday night and Mitchell's follow-up appeared designed as a one-two counterpunch against frequent Democratic campaign claims that the Republican administration has neglected the working man and kept aloof from the jobless problem.

Eisenhower said unemployment declined by 400,000 from September to October. The exact figures, as released by the Commerce Department yesterday, showed a 358,000 drop, from 3,669,000 to 2,741,000.

V-8 Powers Newly-Designed Chevrolet

A styling advance from any point of view is claimed for the 1955 Chevrolets, which go on display over the nation Thursday, and are to be seen locally at Tidwell Chevrolet Co. The latest lineup of 14 models has been completely restyled and in addition incorporates the widest array of chassis improvements ever offered by Chevrolet on a new model. Lower, sleeker lines are accompanied by new frames, new suspensions, new operating devices and new power. With the optional Powerglide or overdrive and new V-8 engine plus two six-cylinder engines, a customer has a choice of six "power packages." The Bel Air 4-door sedan is pictured here.

ON DISPLAY TOMORROW

All-New Styling, V-8 Engine Mark Chevrolet Line For '55

"Most spectacular model announcement" is the word for Chevrolet this year as it offers the 1955 line embodying pronounced mechanical advances, plus new riding comfort and a complete restyling of bodies.

The 1955 models go on display Thursday, and an outstanding local showing is offered the public by Tidwell Chevrolet Company, Third and Johnson Streets. The company is announcing several outstanding features in connection with the new car unveiling.

The broadscale improvement program adopted by Chevrolet this year has been a result of a thorough job of re-engineering and of new plant facilities Chevrolet has added, the company announces.

Among the outstanding features to be noted at the showing are these:

1. First automobiles in the low-price field to reflect the "dream car" influence of the General Motors Motoramas. All roofs have been visibly lowered with a corresponding reduction in hood and belt lines to accentuate longer, sleeker appearance. Overall, sedans have been lowered two and one-half inches, station wagons as much as six. At the same time, passenger room has been increased.

2. First V-8 engine offered on a Chevrolet in 35 years. Profiting by recent research in combustion and manufacturing techniques, the V-8 is unveiled as "far more precisely built and efficient in performance than others in its class." Named the "Turbo-Fire V-8," the V-8 delivers 162 horsepower.

3. Higher horsepower ratings and new quietness and smoothness in two "Blue Flame" sizes. Engines are of the traditional valve-in-head design, which the last few years has won virtually 100 per cent acceptance by other makes. A 123-horsepower engine is available with the manual gearbox. The six built exclusively for the Powerglide automatic transmission now develops 136 horsepower.

4. Integrated body and frame design. Chevrolet points out it has been able to obtain close unity with body and frame by engineering components to complement each other. An important reduction in vibration has been effected and weight saved. The frame is more rectangular and twist-resistant.

5. Front and rear suspensions revamped. Added riding comfort and roadability, Chevrolet states, are assured by vastly improved suspensions. At the front, a modern version of the ball-joint design aids car handling and steering as well as comfort. Rear suspension improvements include leaf springs nine inches longer to an overall length of 58 inches. For stability, rear spring mounts are outside the frame, after the fashion of the Chevrolet Corvette.

6. Increased safety through greater visibility. Every car window of safety plate glass—front, rear and side—is larger in 1955 Chevrolet bodies. The gain is due largely to the extension of glass over areas that have been "blind spots" since the early days of the automobile. Increase in visibility through the sweepback windshield alone is 19 per cent.

7. Optional overdrive. An overdrive installation will be offered for the first time. Engine speed reduction of more than 20 per cent is accomplished by the overdrive which automatically cuts in when the foot is lifted off the accelerator above 31 miles an hour. Operating economy is better while reduced engine revolutions also give smoother, quieter performance. Less clutch operation in city driving is still another advantage. Optional overdrive brings to six the number of "power packages" available on each of 14 Chevrolet passenger car models.

8. More electrical power. A 12-volt electrical system will furnish ample reserve power for the ever-growing demands of accessories. The system is standard on both sizes and V-8s, assuring increased generator efficiency and higher starting motor speeds. A new safety feature is a dual circuit breaker. A short circuit or overload will as a consequence not entirely disable the system.

9. "Dry Air" ventilation. This feature involves an arch-shaped plenum chamber that channels fresh air from a slotted cow vent. Drainage from the chamber prevents any water from reaching passenger, even in rainiest weather. Cowl-installed and extended to the frame on each side, the plenum chamber acts as a structural brace as well. In addition, it is a perfect adjunct to an all-weather air-conditioner which Chevrolet introduces this year as optional equipment.

10. Tubeless tires for increased safety. The casing remains the same, but instead of an inner tube, interior surfaces are coated with a butyl "skin" for sealing. Blowouts are resisted and deflation slower with punctures.

11. Smoother power application. The torque tube drive is replaced by a hotchkiss drive to deliver power more smoothly to the rear wheels and to provide a "flatter" ride in combination with the longer springs. According to engineers, the "work-out" of a new axle, springs and drive line, together with new engine mounts achieve a velvet-like transmission of power.

12. Easier steering. From power steering, an improved version of which is available on 1955 cars.

Actress Claims Kick By Trigger, Files Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An actress who says Roy Rogers' horse Trigger kicked her has sued the cowboy actor for $100,000.

Mrs. Mabel Smythe alleged she suffered head and chest injuries during the filming of a movie scene in 1951.

As trial of the suit opened yesterday, Rogers' attorney denied she was badly hurt and said the horse backed into her.

Toddler Dies In Cave-In Accident

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—When 8-year-old Joseph del Fuente went to play in the cave the neighborhood boys had dug, he took his 4-year-old sister along yesterday as a special favor. She wanted to see it.

The cave roof collapsed and Mary Lou was buried alive. Joseph dug frantically and finally pulled his sister out. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Korimo del Fuente, carried her home, but a fire department rescue squad could not revive her.

Tony Curtis Named Film Town Mayor

UNIVERSAL CITY, Calif. (AP)—This legally incorporated township, wholly populated by Universal-International Studios, has elected actor Tony Curtis as its mayor.

He beat out Maureen O'Hara by two-thirds margin of the 2,000 votes cast.

Mamie Van Doren was elected honorary police chief and Mara Corday, honorary fire chief.

Mayor Curtis was quoted as saying: "I'll keep the Dior look off this lot."

Paid Adv.

Chevrolet has adopted the recluculating ball-out gear and combined it with a relay type of linkage that increases smoothness and reduces driver effort. A more rigid wheel coupling and truer geometry is also claimed.

Most distinguishing mark of the new Chevrolet bodies is their low-slung silhouette and vertical windshield pillars. Broad, flat hood and trunk lids are approximately three and one-half inches lower than last year while the high, straight crown of the fenders enhances an impression of fleetness and agility. The design gives the cars the appearance of much greater length although wheelbases remain unchanged.

Brand new among 14 bodies on the One-Fifty, Two-Ten and Bel Air series are two-door station wagons. The complete line-up shows two-and four-door sedans in all series, two-door station wagons in the One-Fifty and Two-Ten, four-door station wagons in the Two-Ten and Bel Air, a utility sedan in the One-Fifty, a club coupe in the Two-Ten and sport and convertible coupes in the Bel Air series.

Even more appealing colors than the brilliant array of 1954 are available. Of 14 solid color options, ten are new. All 21 of the two-tone paint combinations are new except one. An interesting sidelight is a special two-toning option on Bel Air convertibles and sport coupes which extends the top color onto the rear deck and quarter panels. Unusually luxurious interiors combine harmonizing colors and a variety of cloths and plastics.

Station Wagons

Station wagon fans will truly be pleased with the new 1955 Chevrolets. George W. Hamilton, Tidwell Chevrolet salesman, believes, "Steadily increasing popularity of the station wagon," Hamilton notes, "has prompted Chevrolet to offer four bodies of this type in its 1955 line. The models, styled with the lower, longer look, promise to create a new standard of automotive beauty."

Mario Lanza's Great Voice May Take Him Even Higher

By BOB THOMAS
Last of Three Articles
HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—What kind of a man is Mario Lanza?

He is a person of lusty appetites, and not just for food. He works hard and sings each song as though it might be his last. His conversation is as forceful as his singing, full of broad Italian gestures and punched across with earthy expressions.

In his capacity for enjoyment of human pleasures, he is much like Enrico Caruso, who has been his idol for most of his 33 years.

Having been reared in poverty, Mario enjoys the luxuries that his brilliant voice has provided. He lives in a West Los Angeles mansion that rambles almost endlessly down terrace after terrace. There are seven TV sets, a pond with hundreds of goldfish, a swimming pool that would float a cabin cruiser, a formal garden and a tennis court. He rents the place for a reported $2,500 a month from silent film star Norman Kerry.

Royalties from phonograph records, which reach astronomical heights, allow the nonworking Lanza to live so lavishly.

On the court is a regulation sparring ring, and it is Mario's pride and joy. When he showed me around, he hopped up on the canvas and peppered the punching bag with the skill of a pro. He spoke glowingly of his new friend, Rocky Marciano, who has promised to train in the Lanza ring when he returns here. When Mario goes to Palm Springs, he has the ring collapsed and sent to join him at the desert resort.

Mario is intensely loyal. He will recognize someone who gave him a helping hand a decade ago, even though he hadn't seen the person since.

He has a robust sense of humor. His house backs onto the 13th green of the Los Angeles Country Club. When a golfer gets ready for a crucial putt, Mario sometimes emits a booming "Fore!" that could possibly be heard on Catalina Island. It's said that the golfers are unnerved for days.

Mario is conscious of his great voice and speaks of it with almost a reverence. I have heard him say many times:

"It is a gift of God. I cannot take credit for it; it merely passes through me. That's why I must cherish it and give it to others."

He believes he can sing better than anyone alive, and there are those who will agree with him. One of these is his vocal coach, Giacomo Spadoni, who spent 22 years with the Chicago Opera Company and has worked with all the great stars, beginning with Caruso. A tall, stooping, white-haired man, he sits at the piano long hours while Mario sings.

Mario said he would sing for me, and stepped behind a podium next to the piano.

"I'm going to sing from 'Otello,'" he explained. "Most people would say I was foolish. Tenors seldom attempt 'Otello' until they are 40 years old. It is that difficult. I am just a baby, but I will sing it. I will let you judge."

He explained the plot and then sang two arias, with maestro Spadoni offering a fiasco Desemona. It was a performance that would have cost many thousands on TV or in the concert hall, but Mario sang his heart out for an audience of one. He sang with great force and clarity, hitting a high C that seemed to make the windows rattle.

As I sat and listened, I again became conscious of how great his gift is. It is a voice that is heard once in a lifetime, maybe in a century. Perhaps its greatness has been too large a burden for one person to carry.

But Mario showed every sign of having overcome whatever mental troubles he has suffered in the past. I met him when he first came to Hollywood, and he is much the same as he was then — like a highspirited race horse eager to show the world what he could do.

It could be that the Mario Lanza story is really just beginning.

Phosphorous Blast Takes Two Lives

FT. CARSON, Colo. (AP)—A truckload of phosphorous left after the filming of a war movie exploded and killed two men yesterday. A third was injured critically.

Killed in the violent blast were Louis Sarkas of Encino, Calif., and Royal Lowe of Van Nuys, Calif., both about 45 and employed by Warner Bros. Studio.

Paul Zook, of Colorado Springs, was injured.

The men had driven the phosphorous, used for battle effects in the Korean War picture "Target Zero," away from the main building area to dispose of it. Officials said Sarkas and Lowe were in the truck when it exploded. Zook was about 20 feet away. The cause of the detonation was unknown.

You can talk all you want about television, but for sheer entertainment we'll still take the old-fashioned party line phone.

Marilyn Monroe Expected At Divorce Court Hearing

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Marilyn Monroe is scheduled to appear in divorce court today to tell what wrecked her nine-month marriage to baseball's Joe DiMaggio.

Hollywood's most famous attorney, Jerry Giesler, will usher the blonde actress into the Superior Court of Judge Orlando Rhodes and lead her through the divorce proceedings. He expected the hearing on the suit, which is brought on grounds of mental cruelty, to last about 20 minutes.

The wedding took place in another courtroom and was even speedier. It was performed last Jan. 14 by Municipal Judge Charles S. Peery in San Francisco. After a Korean honeymoon and a seemingly idyllic life in Hollywood, Marilyn dropped a bombshell Oct. 4 by announcing the marriage was finished.

Two days later, the onetime Yankee clipper left their Beverly Hills cottage, telling the press he was heading for San Francisco.

Since then Marilyn has been working on her current picture "The Seven Year Itch." Others on the set report she has been in good spirits. She had a day off yesterday to prepare for today's ordeal and won't have to report back to the studio until tomorrow.

Giesler said there would be no alimony request nor community property division. He said the divorce apparently will be granted by default, since he has not heard from DiMaggio. Joe did not file an answer to her suit.

Actor George Raft Sued After Accident

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor George Raft was sued for $10,000 damages yesterday as a result of a three-automobile freeway collision.

Miss Virginia Bouldware alleged the actor's car hit the rear of one in which she was riding last Jan. 9. She accused Raft of negligence and said the $10,000 represents medical care and lost earnings. Also named a defendant was Donald Frankel, whose car hit Raft's in the pileup.

Mother's Polio Takes Her Life

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP)—A 25-year-old Powell, Wyo., mother, who gave birth to a daughter here last Thursday, died yesterday of bulbar polio.

Mrs. Donald Slinger, paralyzed in both legs and an arm, was brought here and placed in an iron lung Oct. 19. Two days later her baby was delivered by Caesarean section.

The infant is being cared for in an incubator.

$1 Parking Ticket Squabble In Court

CORSICANA (AP)—A decision is due Friday in the $1 parking ticket case of the city of Corsicana against a well-known district judge, A. P. Mays of Corsicana.

A truck bearing a license number registered in Judge Mays was tagged in Corsicana on Sept. 22 for being overparked at meter No. 198 in the 100 block of South Beaton, the city states. The fine was $1. Judge Mays had not paid the fine and was served with a warrant on Oct. 13.

Testimony in the case was held here Friday, Oct. 22, before City Corporation Court Judge Kenneth Douglas and a six-man jury.

Throughout the day spectators filled all the available seats, overflowed the aisles, jammed the doorways of the courtroom, and many stood outside the building listening through the windows.

The day was filled with objections by first one side, then the other, to what had been said or what was being attempted and the jury going in and out while "points of law" were argued.

At the end of the day attorneys for Judge Mays filed a lengthy motion for an instructed verdict of not guilty. Judge Douglas dismissed the jury with instructions not to discuss the case and to appear again in court by 10 a. m. this Friday. He said he would rule on the motion for an instructed verdict at 9:30 a. m.

David Ralston, an attorney for Corsicana, argued that the jury panel was not sworn in properly, that the city had not complied with city ordinances when it threw away the ticket and kept just the record in a book, and that the constitutions of the U.S. and Texas vouchsafe to Judge Mays certain rights.

In the courtroom, city attorney W. J. McKie asked Judge Mays if "you didn't tell me that you wouldn't pay the ticket."

Judge Mays replied "I'm not on the stand."

At another time in the courtroom, Judge Mays said "If I had been accorded a court hearing as provided by law, I would have paid the measly dollar." He added that he was not given the hearing until the court action was prompted.

Judge Mays told the court that when he saw on the "yellow ticket" that the police were "charging" him a dollar, he wondered when the court had stepped down and let the police department become both judge and law enforcement agency.

An exchange developed into a controversy as to whether the city could pass an ordinance that "presumes" a person guilty when a car is found overparked, when, as the defense contended, the state had never passed on such a point and therefore the city could not invade the state's right of legislating such a law into effect.

City attorney McKie said the city was trying to prove its case by "prima facie" evidence showing from testimony and records introduced as exhibits the procedure followed by the city in tagging overparked cars and collecting fines.

He said the city would prove its case by that means, and if not allowed to do so, then it probably would be possible for "parking meters to be knocked out everywhere."

He admitted the city could not prove a "circumstantial case" and had to rely on a prima facie case, which under the city ordinance, allows for a presumption of guilt.

Annexation Move Passes 2nd Step

An ordinance to annex approximately 75 acres just east of Big Spring passed second reading in a meeting of the Big Spring City Commission last night.

There was no other business to come before commissioners, and the meeting was recessed until Thursday afternoon at 5:15 p. m. When the ordinance is read and approved for the third time it becomes law. The ordinance calls for the annexation of land bounded on the north by Fourth Street and on the east by Birdwell Lane. South and west boundaries are the present city limits.

The meeting was recessed because city administrative officials were absent today. City Manager H. W. Whitney, City Attorney Walton Morrison, Engineer Clifton Bellamy, Secretary C. R. McClenny, and Tax Collector C. E. Johnson Jr. were in Fort Worth attending a meeting of the Texas League of Municipalities.

Rotarians Asked To Favor Amendment

Support for the proposed constitutional amendment which would permit Texas women to serve on juries was asked by Mrs. Nell Frazier at the Big Spring Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday.

In a brief talk, Mrs. Frazier pointed out that women are taking an increasingly active part in public life in Texas. As a result, they should share in the responsibilities of citizenship. Women are willing to accept their responsibilities, she said.

Two of Mrs. Frazier's pupils were featured on the luncheon program. Margaret Fryar sang two numbers, "Golden Days" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life." Billy Evans was presented at the piano in a modern version of "Turkey in the Straw."

The performers were introduced by John A. Freeman. A motion picture, "Concerning Telephone Courtesy," was projected by Joe Pickens.

At Bureau Meeting

Arlon DeVaney, Coahoma, goes through the "chow line" as the Howard County Farm Bureau convention opened at the fair grounds Tuesday evening. Dishing out the food are Mrs. Ralph Coates, Lomax, Mrs. Ray Shorter, Big Spring and Mrs. Neil Fryar, Lomax. The annual meeting was held at the Howard County fair plant last night.

Farm Bureau Members Elect Directors, Adopt Resolutions

The membership of the Howard County Farm Bureau elected eight new directors, approved a revision of the bylaws, adopted resolutions, heard a financial report and enjoyed a supper at their annual convention last night.

The convention was held in the Show Barn of the Howard County Fair Association, with Ralph White of Coahoma, the organization's president, presiding.

The newly-elected directors, several of whom succeed themselves, include C. A. Nichols and W. J. Rogers from Precinct 1; Ralph White and H. T. Hale from Precinct 2; R. V. Middleton and Everett Lomax from Precinct 3, and J. L. Baugh and L. J. Davidson from Precinct 4.

In the resolutions, which will be presented to the state convention of the Texas Farm Bureau, the Howard countyans asked that the Social Security program, as applicable to farmers, be made optional with the farmers; that revisions be made in the Smith-Dooley Act; that this nation's foreign assistance program be made one of "helping others to help themselves"; that free enterprise be encouraged and that all unnecessary government controls be eliminated; that prices be stabilized not only on what the farmer produces, but also on what he must buy; that foreign markets be expanded and that farm production in this country be reduced to such quantities as will bring fair prices; that federal and state governments cooperate with land owners in turning acres taken out of production into a soil fertility bank; that the TFB continue its present policy in connection with the Texas public school system, and that water from Texas rivers be made available for irrigation with private and local government agencies making the necessary investments in such projects with no more federal assistance and controls than necessary.

These resolutions will be presented to the state convention of the TFB by Ralph White, Ellis Iden, Rexie Cagle, Clarence Fryar and Thad Hale, who were elected delegates last night.

EISENHOWER

It has had in recent years. He said, too, that the country has made the transition from war to peace economy without a real depression—thus echoing a theme repeatedly sounded by Republican campaigners who have attempted to counter Democratic contentions that there has been a downturn in the economy.

On this particular point, the President said his recent report on a decline in unemployment was interpreted by his advisers not merely as a seasonal upturn but the result of an upturn in the entire economy of the nation.

On another subject which has come into the political campaign, the President said he is getting constant reports from officials of the Defense Department on possible economies in administrative and logistic fields which could be made without hurting the nation's defenses.

Some Democrats have complained that budget cuts have reduced the country's defenses. Eisenhower defended a recent White House memorandum outlining ways in which Republican senators, House members and other party officials should be consulted about applicants for federal positions.

Borden

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 12-A J. R. Canning made 62.13 barrels of oil plus 78 per cent water on a 24-hour completion test in the Diamond M (Canyon lme) field. Gravity of oil is 41.8 degrees, and the gas-oil ratio is 693-1.

Howard

Ray Morris Drilling Company No. 1 Gutter has been finished in the Moore field for a 24-hour pumping potential of 137.9 barrels of oil. There was no water, gravity of oil measured 34 degrees, the gas-oil ratio was too small to measure, and some 7,500 gallons of acid were used.

Mitchell

Blue Danube Oil Company spotted location for its No. 1 T. Bird in the Westbrook field about two miles northwest of the community of Westbrook. It is slated for depth of 3,500 feet. Drill site will be 330 from north and west lines, 34-28-in. T&P survey.

Nolan

British American No. 1 Lindsey, C SE SE, 85-X-T&P survey, bored to 5,360 feet in shale.

Scurry

Taylor No. 4-A Winston. It is today boring ahead at 7,547 feet following oil recovery on a drillstem test from 7,478 to 7,506 feet. The test was for 90 minutes and oil surfaced in an unreported time. Some 18 barrels of oil flowed. Final recovery was 3,600 feet of clean oil, 154 feet of oil and gas mud, and 444 feet of salt water. Flowing pressure was 1,650 pounds, and the 30-minute shutin pressure was 1,900 pounds. Location is C SE SE, 11-68-block 1 of J. C. Smith survey. Drilling depth is slated for 8,500 feet for a test of the Ellenburger. This semi-wildcat is one-half mile east of a recent lower Canyon reef discovery in the Southeast Kelly Snyder field. It is also three miles southwest of Snyder.

Halloween Party Set

Kate Morrison School will have a Halloween carnival tonight from 7:30 to 10:30 at the school. Proceeds will help in the purchase of a piano for the primary building. Games and refreshments will be available. The public is invited to attend.

Mitchell

General Crude of Abilene No. 1 Hugh Taylor is a new Scurry County wildcat about 10 miles west of Snyder. It will be drilled by rotary to 8,500 feet, starting at once. Drilling site will be 330 feet from south and 600 feet from east lines, southeast quarter of northeast quarter, 285-97-H&TC survey. Elevation is 2,449 from ground, and location is on a 39.1 acre lease. Operations are to start at once.

Stonewall

C. L. Norsworthy No. 1 J. H. Golson, C NW NE, 57-D-H&TC survey, is to be a wildcat some seven miles north-northeast of Aspermont. It will be drilled to 6,700 feet. Location is a half mile south-east of a 6,320 foot Ellenburger failure four miles north of the Boyd (Conglomerate) field.

Coke

Homer Snowden of San Angelo has completed a former 8,341 failure in Northwest Coke County as a flowing discovery from the Strawn. It is his No. 1 Nora Gee, which made a 24-hour flowing potential of 268 barrels of 41 gravity oil. Flow on test was through a 10-64th inch choke from perforations in casing between 7,086 and 7,103 feet. Operator treated perforations with 500 gallons of mud acid and 12,240 gallons of sand oil. The new well is one and a quarter miles south of the recently opened South Fuller-Coke (Strawn) field. Well site is 2,315 ft. from north and 2,321 ft. from west lines, 144-2-H&TC survey. Location is 12 miles northeast of Sterling City. Original depth of 8,341 feet was drilled by United Production Company of San Angelo and plugged last January.

THE GRUB LINE
With Franklin Reynolds

"Matadorable" — That's a quite fitting word, coined by Bill Roberts, a columnist for the Houston Press, to describe our Pat McCormick.

We like it too, and wish we'd been the one to think it up. Pat and her mother are due to depart from Big Spring tonight for Houston where she will autograph copies of her new book, LADY BULLFIGHTER, published by Holt, and now on sale.

Carl Victor Little, another Houston Press columnist, book reviewer and editorialist, is very enthusiastic about Pat's book. He has given it a tremendous lot of praise, and praise from this man who signs his reviews with "CVL" is really something, indeed.

He explains to the glittering, diamond-studded Houstonites that Pat is from Big Spring, that Big Spring is a town of 17,000 people and 15,000 automobiles, mostly Cadillacs, and that out here oil wells outnumber mesquites at a three-to-one ratio. He has written: "Big Spring is out in the mesquite country, several continents due west of Houston as the screaming eagle flies."

While in Houston Pat will be the guest of Mrs. Beverly Bond of Joe Petty's Book Mart.

Mrs. Bond is known as Houston's number one aficionado. Every time she gets a chance she slips off to Mexico to see a bullfight. She visited in the McCormick home here after Pat came back from the Del Rio hospital where she was a patient after being gored by a bull in the Acuna arena.

Says CVL in one of the longest reviews he has ever written:

"We defy you to read one chapter of LADY BULLFIGHTER in a book store without reaching in your pocket or committing larceny if you haven't the $3.95 . . . She fights in the smaller Mexican towns and refuses to enter the Plaza de Toros in Mexico City until she is accepted on the same terms as men . . . On that glorious day she says she'll retire, even marry some lucky fellow, and settle down to the feminine business of babies and probably domestic boredom . . . Stick to the bulls, gal. They may gore you to death but they won't bore you to Kingdom Come."

Five Big Spring pistolmen and rifleman brought home six turkeys from the Westbrook Rifle Club's turkey shoot on the O. T. Bird ranch, northwest of Westbrook Sunday afternoon.

The Westbrook High School Chapter of the Future Farmers of America assisted with the shoot and had charge of the concessions. They served hot coffee and cold drinks throughout the afternoon.

The turkeys were nice ones, too, and were delivered on foot. They were raised by M. A. Webb of Westbrook.

Earl Bryant won two of the turkeys. Other Big Springers shooting themselves into the ownership of a bird were Horace Reagan, Felix Jarratt, A. J. Stolle and J. T. Gallaway.

Others attending from Big Spring were Joe Ford, Jake Bruton, J. D. Carter of Lefty Lomax. W. E. Rucker is president of the Westbrook Rifle Club. Grady Wright is secretary-treasurer and Alta Clemmer is range officer. It was a fine shoot, high power rifles, .22 rimfires and pistols — and any sights. There was a shooting class to fit any shooter of anything except shotguns, bows-and-arrows and niggershooters.

Mrs. Lizzie McNew of the Knott Community has a most unusual, and profitable business.

She makes old-fashioned sunbonnets, lots of them, and places them in stores around the country for sale. A surprisingly large number of women are buying them.

If Mrs. McNew can get one Big Spring High School girl to wear one of these sunbonnets to school one time the style will have been set and she will have to call in help to keep production up with the demand.

And they're certainly colorful.

"If I'd just stayed in Borden County I'd probably now be the oldest old-settler up there," comments 73-year-old Jess Smith of Vealmoor.

His father, Charles P. "Uncle Scalper" Smith moved his family to what is now Borden County about 1880. The elder Smith helped survey and organize the county, and planted the first cotton (and probably the first row crop of any kind) that was ever seeded in Borden County land. The nearest gin was at Colorado City. The cotton was hauled in wagons.

After the county was organized the commissioners put a bounty of four cents a head on jackrabbits, payable upon delivery of the rabbit's scalp.

M. Smith soon earned the record of having killed and scalped more jackrabbits than anybody else in Borden County. The record carried with it the name by which he was forever afterward known — "Uncle Scalper."

The Smith family first lived four miles down the "Big Spring Road" which means, not today's highway route, but the road just to the east of Gall which goes down to the Colorado River through the Beal Ranch. Now it crosses the river on the old "plank bridge." That bridge wasn't there then, and just when it was built Mr. Jess Smith doesn't remember. He does recall, however, that new approaches were added to the bridge as the Colorado cut a wider and wider channel.

In those days people had to ford the river. If it was too much they simply stayed on the side on which the flood caught them and patiently reconciled themselves to it. People had patience in those days and they weren't afraid to sit down with nobody else present except themselves.

Later the Smiths moved to a section that now corners with the Sam Kean Ranch.

Mrs. Smith, the former Miss Myrtle Howell, moved to Borden County with her family when she was about nine years old. She and Mr. Smith were married in 1915, after he had left Borden in 1910 and gone out into New Mexico Territory where he homesteaded, and lived on, a half-section for about five years. Then he sold that land and moved back to West Texas — to O'Donnell.

Mrs. Smith went to school at Gall when that community was a regular little city with hotels and a number of mercantile stores, several physicians, and had 500 scholars enrolled in the Gall schools.

Mr. Smith says that when his family moved to Borden County in 1889 there wasn't but one fence in this whole country, and none between it and away out in New Mexico except the little fenced-in horse traps that the ranchers had,

and of course there weren't any roads.

He says this fence, four strands of barb wire, ran from about half a mile south of the old "plank bridge" west to a point about even with Vealmoor. It cornered four miles north of Vealmoor and then ran on away up on the Plains somewhere. It was just a drift fence—a fence to keep northerners from blowing the cattle too far south.

Mr. Smith hauled many a load of freight to Gall from Colorado City or Big Spring or Fluvanna, with wagons and teams. Sometimes it was tough going.

Once he remembers he barely got a wagon, loaded with 1,500 pounds of freight and pulled by four big stout horses, across the Luther Flats. The wagons bogged down to the hubs. But by stopping and letting the horses rest often enough he finally got through.

NAAWP Head Told To Pay Back Taxes

BALTIMORE (AP)—W. Bryant Bowles, founder and president of the National Assn. for the Advancement of White People, has been given 30 days to remit about $2,000 in withholding taxes federal tax collectors say he deducted from the pay of employees but failed to forward to the government.

Bowles, who led demonstrations which disrupted the integration of white and Negro pupils in the schools at Milford, Del., was arrested in Delaware Oct. 10 on a charge of conspiracy to interrupt the education of schoolchildren.

He operated a roofing company — now defunct — in Baltimore in 1952 and 1953.

Sabu Denies Arson Charges In Court

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The movies' former elephant boy Sabu denied in court yesterday that he set his suburban Northridge home afire in 1950. Two insurance companies are suing him for $29,061 they paid as damage claims.

Sabu told a Superior Court jury. "I was in Malibu at the time of the fire." The 29-year-old Indian-born actor also denied ever talking to an ex-convict about an arson plot.

Andro Perez, 23, who served two years in San Quentin for arson, has admitted setting the fire and stealing jewelry and gold dinner plate from Sabu's home.

Low...and behold!

The motoramic Chevrolet for '55

Chevrolet and General Motors took a whole new look at the low-cost car—and just look what happened!

FIRST SHOWING TOMORROW!

The Bel Air Sport Coupe—one of 14 new Fisher Body beauties in three new series.

The valve-in-head V8 as only the valve-in-head leader can build it!

Now Chevrolet, the leading builder of valve-in-head engines, introduces the "Turbo-Fire V8." It carries the V8 design to a new high in efficiency with its high horsepower (162), high-compression (8 to 1), high performance and surprisingly high gas mileage. Available with standard transmission, or with the extra-cost options of Overdrive or Powerglide,

You can choose from two new sixes, too! Chevrolet also offers the last word in six-cylinder performance and economy! There's a new "Blue-Flame 136" teamed with Powerglide and a new "Blue-Flame 123" with either standard transmission or Overdrive, Can't you tell just by looking that Chevrolet and General Motors have come up with a completely new idea about the low-priced car? The idea is this: to build a car that offers the very newest thing in styling, the most modern features, the finest kind of performance and the highest quality of manufacture—all at a modest price. It's something that took a lot of doing and that only the world's leading car builders could do. Everything's new in this Motoramic Chevrolet from its lower top right-down to its tubeless tires. Come in for the most fascinating visit you ever made to an automobile showroom!

Impact Of Press, Despite Other Media, Remains Without Parallel

Dr. Cyril Garbett, archbishop of York, second only to the archbishop of Canterbury among Anglican churchmen, recently told the Royal Commission on the Press that newspapers still set the pace for creating and influencing public opinion. The press, he declared, leaves a deeper impression than either radio or television. He takes no stock in the oft-heard opinion that the press does not have the influence on public opinion it once had. The written word "makes a deeper impression on the mind than what is heard."

London-Paris Parley Yields Plan For Concerted European Defense

President Eisenhower was entirely justified in calling the achievements of the London and Paris conferences a "great deal more than a diplomatic victory; it is a historic step." At London the U. S., Britain and Canada had underwritten the efforts of six West European nations to consolidate their defenses. Britain reversed a policy of more than a century in doing this, by agreeing to maintain four divisions on the continent. The U. S. also made an important concession by agreeing to keep troops in Germany as "long as necessary." More than anything else, these steps paved the way for the European alliance that includes West Germany.

Washington Calling—Marquis Childs Foreign Policy Problems Will Be With Us After Election Day

WASHINGTON—In the current Congressional campaign, as in every political contest in recent years, the conduct of foreign policy is being hotly disputed. A favorite theme of most Republican speakers is that the GOP is the party of peace and the Democratic party the party of war. Speaking in Missouri the other day, Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall put it as bluntly as it could be put: "The Truman-Acheson foreign policy got us into war, the Eisenhower-Dulles foreign policy got us out of war."

POTOMAC FEVER

By FLETCHER KNEBEL. WASHINGTON — He says he may become a resident of Pennsylvania "soon." Of all his titles, the one he covets most is "former President of the United States." Democrats say that if they win Congress, they'll investigate the Dixon-Yates power deal. The purpose of winning an election is not to defeat the other guy for office — but to investigate him for losing. Several Republican governors decline to join President Ike's Sunday observance of United Nations Day. The GOP may have to be internationalist on working days — but by gum it's going to stay isolationist on weekends. Ike says 21 FIA officials appointed by the Democrats have been fired in the housing scandals. You can believe the Democrats when they say they favor clean politics. They cleaned out half the agencies in Washington. The allies create a new European defense union. This is such a triumph for Secretary Dulles that conservative Republicans may decide not to abolish foreign affairs after all. Adlai Stevenson accuses Vice President Nixon of "McCarthyism in a white collar." Democrats feel Nixon is guilty of the No. 1 Republican sin — holding office. Vice President Nixon says the Communists are backing the Democrats for Congress. Funny team, the Republicans. Every time they take the field against the Democrats, they go out — and wallop the Communists again.

Mr. Germany In Person Of Adenauer Due In Washington For Conferences

By ED CREAUGH (For James Marlow) WASHINGTON, (AP) — "Mr. Germany" comes to town today. Konrad Adenauer, chancellor of the Federal Republic of Germany, might reject that title. And a great many of his fellow Germans might have misgivings. The idea of wrapping up a whole nation, or even half a nation, in the person of one man seems to have perished there with Adolf Hitler. Still, Adenauer is a symbol of the new Germany to most other Western countries. Since the deaths of Ernest Reuter and Kurt Schumacher, he is about the only West German political figure whose name is widely known in the United States. He occupies a dominant position, too, in the eyes of Western political leaders who deal with Germany. It is a respected position. Secretary of State Dulles went out of his way, in addressing Monday night's televised Cabinet meeting, to praise Adenauer as a "great statesman."

Notebook—Hal Boyle Playwright's $1,000,000 Nice If He Could Keep It

NEW YORK (AP) — "I have a morbid interest in money," confessed George Axelrod, a young man who wrote in 60 hours a Broadway play he says will earn him a million dollars. For the actual time he spent at the typewriter in turning out "The Seven Year Itch"—now being filmed as a vehicle for Marilyn Monroe—this comes to $16,666.66 an hour. Axelrod, who is 32, wears a crew cut, and looks like a fugitive Princeton freshman, thinks this is a fair rate of pay for a writer—if he got to keep the money. But, of course, he doesn't. Today it may take more time to figure out the income tax on a hit play than it does to write it. "You work for years and years and starve," said George wryly, "and then when you hit the big loot they take it all away." "Money is no longer enough. A writer needs some new kind of payment that can't be taken away—such as a guarantee your golf score will improve. Or they might promise to add two years to your life or—in my case—agree to find a way to make my front teeth come together."

Next Thing We Know They'll Be Wearing Girdles Just For Fun

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald. — Editor's Note. I address myself to the topic of girdle copy, not because of a growing personal need for the product but because of a fascination that has grown with the rise in eloquence and ingenuity with which the great repressors are extolled. It must have been that figure, sans outer garment but plainly adorned in a certain make of girdle and wielding a tennis racket, which first attracted me to the girdle game. At the outset, I must confess that it struck me silly for this vigorous maid to be caught by a sequence camera with nothing but a tennis racket and some scanty rubberized garments. But then she appeared in swimming, waltzing across the ballroom floor, running in a track meet, etc., so I began to reason she was here to stay. To this day, however, I have not ascertained to my own satisfaction whether the jumps and glides out of sheer ecstasy or whether that rigging has thrown her into a state of perpetual reflexes. The other day, turning through the pages of a magazine, I beheld one in similar vein—a nymph gyrating gracefully about a sylvian scene. The copy explained that this particular girdle simply made milady into a sylph. Still another proclaimed that its model was a "shapemaker, a shapekeeper" if you please, this girdle was the "easy, reasonable way to keep your figure." Now that's the angle, none of that silly old dieting, that business of doing floor rolls and other gymnastics, or pinching and patting of bulges and pones. I have discovered that there must be merit to a contraption which will grab and hold you in, and yet at the same time make you feel comfortable and prosperous. One company boasts that it has the sleek and slickest exterior of the lot but with an interior that is "kitten soft." Be that as it may, I understand from some good ladies that where there is too much for limited space, one may begin to feel as though the kitten had fleas. Another manufacturer advertises that its "long and lovely corsetette is a new waist length for dancing"... Gee whiz, we're going to have to put on accessories if we have girdles for every occasion, or else simplify the method of getting in and out. Where the need is great, this is a major undertaking. One maker says that it has material luxuries in its fabric—"wicked laces to embroidered cottons." Tak! tak! Oh you kid! From another source comes word that 47 out of every 100 women are dissatisfied with the way their girdles fit. It follows, says the copy, that a personalized fit is all-important. Of course, it also develops that most any of its stock models will provide that personalized fit. And then there's the word about a girdle which "keeps you in beautiful line, smoothly, lightly, firmly—made with elegance and the French courtly figure." Wow! You can readily observe from these examples that the girdle girls are apt to stretch things a bit, if I may palm off a pun. Judging from the increasingly lyrical language which is flowering about the product, we may expect greater claims for the compressive counterpart of the cantankerous corset. And yet for their sheer efforescence in proclaiming the virtues of their models, I cannot escape the feeling that these people are deliberately trying to hide something. JOE PICKLE

If Your Credit Is Good Enough, You Can Go Around World On It

The good word today is that man can travel farther and faster on the cuff than ever before in history. This is largely due to the fact that money is rapidly being outmoded. Really fastidious persons no longer have to carry the old, smelly stuff with them if they belong to one of a score or so of organizations that permit their disciples to eat, drink and be merry on credit. Vague rumors of such goings-on since World War II have reached me from time to time, but my personal acquaintance with these private Marshall Plans began only a month ago when a woman—it remains to be seen if she is a true friend—sent me as a gift "The Golden Key to Gracious Living." The booklet accompanying the key (genuine gold, all right) explained that if I wished to travel, buy clothes, hire a limousine, stay at lush hotels, eat at chic restaurants or see a show, I need only present my Golden Key at an impressive number of places and the joint or joints were mine. No money would change hands to taint the deals with sordid commerce. It all seemed too good to be true—or legal. But I have tried the key a few times and it is, to my joy, both. There is a day of reckoning, of course, around the tenth of every month when the mailman, with the bills, leans twice on the bell. Naturally, there is no larceny in my soul. But it just occurred to me that there might be a smidgen of same in the soul of some other Golden Key. What then? You can repossess a grand piano or a convertible, a diamond ring or a refrigerator. But how can you repossess a dinner that has been eaten, a weekend in Atlantic City or a trip some lucky guy has already made to Paris on credit? The answer is simple: people are honest. That is the experience of the Golden Key organization, on which I called when my curiosity wouldn't let down and die. Honesty also is fortified by credit experts employed by Golden Key and similar groups. They hand-pick the clientele after going over prospects with a magnifying glass. "We've never had a dead beat yet, but we've turned down more than one applicant," explained Guido Fusco Jr., who runs the famous Fusco's Restaurant, started in the Wall Street district by his father years ago. Junior is one of Golden Key's founders. When Mr. Fusco and his two partners, Harold Lester, and air conditioning engineer, and I. L. Hubschmann, a lawyer, plunged into the business of unlimited credit, Ltd., they discovered: (1) Citizens who crave A-1 credit rating should pay their department store bills on the spot. Such stores, nationwide, make it their business to know more about an individual's credit status than either his banker or his pastor, and (2) Credit losses to American business never total more than one-half of one percent of total sales volume. "It may surprise you to learn that so-called society people are the poorest credit risks," volunteered Mr. Hubschmann. "And that men pay more promptly than women," chimed in Mr. Fusco. But, eventually, all Golden Keyers pay by check. Cash and carry? These new credit organizations never heard of it.

Political Playback

Soon after the '54 primaries, there was a news story from Port Arthur that Representative Edgar Berlin had been stopped on the highway, ganged by three or more thugs and severely beaten up. It was after he appeared at a public hearing to represent an employe appealing from a demotion. Whether a cowardly attack of several men on a lone individual was prosecuted was not known at the Capitol. What was clear that Berlin must have been busy at home in his favorite role at the Capitol. Speaking for the underdog. Berlin has been one of those who wouldn't be caught on the winning side of anything if he could help it. Not exactly Irish, he has all the Hibernian instinct for a scrap. All he wanted to know was what was the unpopular side, who was the underdog, and there he was to fight it out. The gangster-like attack on the lawmaker was strange. The Port Arthur area is overwhelmingly a labor-vote section. Berlin was backed by the workers. And in the 1954 races, despite what had been termed one of his most unpopular votes in the Legislature, nobody in the entire county thought it worth while to take him on in his race for re-election. He was re-nominated without an opponent, in a county of sharply conflicting city and economic interests. Regardless of the incidental gangsterism in Jefferson County, Berlin was sent back to the 1955 Legislature, to champion whatever unpopular issues might come up, to speak for any underdog that showed up. The Associated Press hired a consultant expert on simple, graphic, pungent introductory sentences, known as "leads" on news stories. This lead on a Texas legislative story, might claim a spot in the record. At the end of a fruitless special session of the Legislature, the 30-day grind was summed up with this: "They knocked L out of Zavalla and went home." About the only thing passed by that session was a bill by Senator Archie Parr of Duval County, which changed the spelling of Zavalla County to "Zavala."

Burglary Broadcast

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — Fred King, 53, a hardware dealer has his own burglar alarm system — a loud speaker hooked up from his store to his home. And it works. King heard noises coming over the speaker and called police. They investigated and found two men chipping a hole through the rear wall of the store. Officers fired five shots at the pair, but only captured one in a chase.

Weaver Talks On Jury Service For Women

"There are actually no valid arguments against having women on juries," Judge R. H. Weaver told members of the Business and Professional Women at a dinner meeting Tuesday evening at the Settle Hotel.

"Texans," he continued, "who pride themselves in taking the lead in so many things are lagging behind in this progressive movement." Judge Weaver then

Tea Honors ESA Rushees

Rushees of Alpha Chi chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha were entertained Tuesday evening with a tea at the VA Nurses Home.

Rushees, who were Mrs. Bob Tawater, Yvonne Ory and Louise Felty, were presented with corsages of miniature chrysanthemums.

Bo Bowen gave the history of the national organization and Mrs. Darrell Webb Jr. gave the history of the local chapter.

The tea table was covered with a natural lace cloth over green taffeta. The centerpiece was a cornucopia with fruits, vegetables and fall flowers spilling from it. Flanking this arrangement were yellow candles. A silver service was placed at one end of the table. On the mantel was an arrangement of chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Tolford Durham played the piano during the evening.

The next meeting will be the model meeting Nov. 4 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Earl Bryant Jr., 1508 Kentucky Way. Mrs. John F. Priddy will review, "My Mother Was A Violent Woman." Nineteen members attended.

gave five reasons advanced against women on juries and refuted each one.

The first reason, members were told, is that women don't want to serve. He said that this service is one of the most important of public duties, though, and women should take their responsibility right along with the men.

Another reason given is the women are emotionally unfit to be on a jury. The judge brought out the fact that women are no more emotionally unstable than men, and he stated that there is no question in his mind but that women are capable of controlling their emotions under stress.

The third reason was said to be language used in certain cases. "In my years of service in the courtroom, I have never heard language which would be too objectionable," said Judge Weaver. "Again, if there is such language, it stems from a public problem, which she should take part in solving."

As far as having accommodations for women who have to stay overnight in the courthouse, our new building has such a space ready now. In other counties, hotels could and would be used if they were necessary. There are very few cases where it is necessary to keep jurors for a great length of time.

Another argument advanced is that women with children should not be made to serve on juries. This could be handled, the group was told by the system of deferment used for business and professional men, and at the discretion of the judge in charge of the case.

"There is a need for more jurors over the state. Judges in the states surrounding Texas, in a poll were reported as perfectly satisfied with women on juries, and thought their service was as good as that of the men," concluded the judge, "and so, it is up to the women to get this mark of full citizenship."

Sample ballots were shown and the 11 amendments were discussed and explained by Mrs. Viola Robinson. A poll of the members was taken on the jury service amendment and it "won."

The speakers' table was centered with a large Jack-o'-lantern filled with an arrangement of golden chrysanthemums, a bird of paradise and a black taper. A scalloped collar of cellophane was used as a base. Mrs. Nell Frazier introduced the speaker and other guests.

Pat McCormick Arrives In Houston For Tour

Houston will get its first glimpse of Patricia McCormick today. The lady bullfighter and author landed at the airport there this morning to begin a tour of autograph parties in six cities in Texas in connection with her book, "Lady Bullfighter," which was to be officially issued today.

Pat seemed to be especially looking forward to her visit to Houston since she's never been there. She'll be there Thursday and Friday. Parties will be held for her at the Rice Hotel, the exclusive Cork Club of the Shamrock Hotel and at the Press Club. The autograph party will take place at the Book Mart. She is also scheduled to be a guest at Sakowitz' Garden Room.

Pat is taking some of her bullfighting equipment with her—some of the clothes she wears when she fights and a muleta. These will be displayed in Houston and possibly in the other cities.

Next stop will be San Antonio where she will spend the weekend. There she is to be a guest at a fashion show and luncheon at Joske's and to make radio and TV appearances.

She'll be in Fort Worth Nov. 1-2 and in Dallas Nov. 3. She will then go to El Paso for an appearance Nov. 4 and then to San Angelo for a three-hour appearance the same day.

Pat's mother, Mrs. E. E. McCormick, is accompanying her on the tour.

Pat realizes she will be on her feet most of the time, but she said she'd make it, regardless of her convalescent condition.

As for clothes she'll have on the tour, Pat is sticking to the simple tailored things, no fluffy formals. She included a tweed suit, a dacron suit and a print silk dress with matching coat. To be on the safe side she has a raincoat with her.

She will return to Big Spring on Nov. 5 in time for an autograph party at the Book Stall here. Nov. 6. It will be held from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Marie McDonald, owner of the book store, is taking reservations now for copies of Pat's book.

Fora Has Study On Sweden

Sweden was the country studied by the Spoudazoi Fora Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. W. B. Hardy Jr. Mrs. Ladd Smith was co-hostess. Mrs. Glen Brown was in charge of the program.

"Americans would feel at home more in Sweden than in any other European country," said Mrs. Brown. It is more modern and its cleaner, members were told. The religion is Lutheran and there is 100 per cent membership in churches, but a smaller per cent attend services regularly.

Plans were made for a second rummage sale to be held on the north side Oct. 30. A dinner, to be held at Carlos's on Nov. 9, was also planned. After the dinner, dessert will be served in the home of Mrs. J. M. Hill, 1808 Donley.

For the tea hour, the table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of dried cattails, autumn leaves and Halloween figures. One guest, Mrs. Jack Watkins, was present.

Carpenters Auxiliary Has Halloween Party

Prizes were awarded to Floyd R. Jones and Mrs. John Roemer for having the best Halloween costumes at a Carpenters Auxiliary 574 social recently.

Families of members were guests at the event. A Halloween theme was used in decorations. Twenty-three attended. Refreshments were served.

West Ward Carnival

West Ward P-TA will sponsor a Halloween carnival at the school Thursday at 6:30 p.m. Featured will be bingo, dart games, fortune telling, a spook room, grab bag, cake walk and a food booth where homemade chili, pie, coffee, hot dogs and cold drinks will be served.

Evan Holme Circle

The Evan Holme Circle of the Baptist Temple met in the home of Mrs. Guy Simmons Monday afternoon for a work day. Mrs. Simmons offered the opening prayer. Work was done on clothing and supplies to be given to the Latin-Americans. Mrs. Sam Bennett gave the devotion, and Mrs. M. S. Warren gave the closing prayer. Ten members attended the meeting. The circle will meet next in the home of Mrs. Bennett on Nov. 8.

John A. Kee Rebekahs

Mrs. Ollie McDaniel and Mrs. Fay Pachall were elected new members of the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge at the meeting Tuesday evening at Carpenters Hall. Initiation services will be held Nov. 2, and members of the team are asked to attend in formals. A report was made on the rummage sale recently held. Another sale is planned for Saturday. Members were urged to be at the City Auditorium at 2:30 p.m. Nov. 3 to register for John A. Kee Lodge.

Church Women Board

The executive board of the Council of Church Women will meet Thursday at 12:30 p.m. at the First Christian Church for a covered dish luncheon and business meeting. All members are urged to attend.

East Ward Carnival

East Ward P-TA will sponsor a Halloween carnival at the school Friday evening. Food will be ready to serve at 6 p.m. There will be various kinds of entertainment booths and a queen will be crowned.

Lees Baptist WMU

Lees Baptist WMU met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. D. D. Daniels. Mrs. Austin Auld gave the Bible study on the apostle Peter. Mrs. A. W. White gave the opening prayer. Young peoples work was discussed. The closing prayer was by Mrs. T. W. Baker. Nine members attended.

That's Patricia McCormick, who left this morning for Houston to start a whirlwind tour of Texas cities in promotion of her book. The sketches she's working on here are similar to those she did for the book. She'll be back here Nov. 5 for an autograph party at the Book Stall.

Jarratts To Take Caribbean Cruise

Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Jarratt will leave Sunday for Miami, Fla., where Dr. Jarratt will attend the American Dental Convention Nov. 7-11.

On Nov. 11 Dr. and Mrs. Jarratt will sail on the S. S. Queen Nassau for an eight-day cruise. They will sail on the S. S. Queen Nassau Jamaica. Dr. Jarratt will attend the National Cuban Dental Convention in Havana.

Enroute home they plan to visit in Natchez, Miss. Stopping in Austin, they will be present for the 102nd birthday of Dr. Jarratt's grandmother.

Mrs. Brooks Elected Member Of Rebekahs

Mrs. Adeline Brooks was elected to membership in Big Spring Rebekah Lodge 284 at a meeting Tuesday. Initiation will be held next Tuesday.

It was announced that a rummage sale will be held Nov. 6. Members were requested to furnish articles for the sale. The Rebekahs will help the Theta Rho Girls with a sale Saturday.

Eighteen attended the meeting.

East Fourth Circle

Mrs. Maple Avery was guest speaker for the Mollie Phillips Circle of the East 4th Baptist Church of Hockaday. The surprise ceremony honored Miss Hall and 23 other boarding students in the Dallas school. The event took place on the main terrace of the school's campus. The daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. T. Hall, 704 Texas Blvd., Miss Hall is a member of the IV Form, the graduating class, at Hockaday. She is also secretary-treasurer of her house. The ring may be worn by the graduate as long as she maintains the standards of the Hockaday School.

Proceeds from the carnival to be held Thursday evening at Midway will go into the cafeteria fund. Supper will be served at 6:30 p.m. to be followed by the crowning of the queen at 7:30. There will be a 50 cent admission charge for adults, but children will be admitted free. Included in the program will be a cakewalk, bingo games, a spook room, fortune-telling, a puppet show and a country store.

Press, Radio Guests Of Chevrolet Firm

Members of the press and radio and their families were guests Tuesday evening at a special showing of the 1955 Chevrolet at Tidwell Chevrolet Company.

Four different models were on display and special movies of the new cars were shown.

Refreshments were served by members of the automobile firm staff. About 50 attended.

WMU To Aid With RA Focus Week

Plans were made by members of the Hillcrest WMU at a meeting Tuesday to observe RA Focus Week with a party for RA members on Nov. 15.

Sponsoring the party will be Mrs. J. T. Grantham, Mrs. George Rickles, Mrs. Oscar Carter, Mrs. Sherman Shuffield, Mr. Carter and Jack Wilson.

The meeting, which was the monthly business session, was held in the home of Mrs. George Rickles.

Mrs. Grantham, community missions chairman, reported that food and used clothing had been given to needy families during October and that this would be continued in November. Food has also been given to a woman who is ill, she said.

Special music was given by Mrs. Rickles, who played the accordion and accompanied the members for singing. She also gave the devotion.

The young people's director, Mrs. Oscar Carter, asked for material for her work and also asked for intermediate and GA counselors.

Mrs. James L. Smith resigned as mission study chairman and was counselors will be Mrs. Shuffield and Mrs. William Miller.

Mrs. W. B. Potts resigned as intermediate GA counselor and was appointed Sunbeam leader. Co-appointed mission study chairman, Mrs. James Baker was elected treasurer.

It was voted to have a maid keep the nursery at the next meeting from 3 to 4 p.m.

A social hour followed with Mrs. Smith assisting Mrs. Rickles. The table and refreshments followed a Halloween theme.

Ten members and one visitor were present.

Student Council Is Ready For Carnival

When the student council of high school met Monday morning, final plans were made for the Halloween carnival to be held Thursday from 7 p.m. to 10. The parking lot of the school will be the scene, and 10 booths, sponsored by the various classes, will be open. Highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the queen.

Nanette Farquhar gave the opening prayer. Correspondence was read about the convention of student councils to be held in Sweetwater. Delegates are Betty Anderson, LaVerne Cooper Sue Barnes, LaRue Casey, Anita Hedleston, Shirley Warren and Tom Henry Guin.

Betty Anderson announced that she has received dues for the state meeting from Kernitt and Eldorado. Movies were shown of the National Convention of Student Councils held recently in St. Paul, Minn.

Party Planned For St. Thomas Youth

Plans for Halloween party for the Catechism Classes of St. Thomas Church were made Monday at the meeting of St. Thomas Altar Society. The party will be held Sunday at 5 p.m. following Rosary.

Plans were also made for a bake sale in November.

It was announced that Mrs. W. E. Blanchard and Mrs. C. C. Brunton, who attended the DCCW convention in Amarillo recently, would make a report at the next meeting, Nov. 8.

Mrs. C. Krinski and Mrs. Bob Wilson were hostesses. The Rev. William Moore closed the meeting with prayer. Eight attended.

Baptist Circles Meet In Members' Homes

Willing Workers Circle of East Fourth Baptist Church met for a work day Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. Reaves. Work was done on supplies to be sent to Buckner's Orphans Home in Dallas. Mrs. Leola Cain was appointed circle chairman. Mrs. Clifton gave the devotion and the closing prayer.

Members of the Kate Morrison Circle of the church met in the home of Mrs. Billy Rudd on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Rufus Davidson gave the opening prayer. Mrs. O. B. Warren brought the devotion on "What Is Your Idol?" Mrs. J. B. King gave the closing prayer for the six members.

Gets Hockaday Ring

Marie Hall was awarded the Hockaday School ring on Tuesday, by Robert F. Mossman, president of Hockaday. The surprise ceremony honored Miss Hall and 23 other boarding students in the Dallas school. The event took place on the main terrace of the school's campus. The daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. T. Hall, 704 Texas Blvd., Miss Hall is a member of the IV Form, the graduating class, at Hockaday. She is also secretary-treasurer of her house. The ring may be worn by the graduate as long as she maintains the standards of the Hockaday School.

All In A Day's Work

Tommy (Squeaky) Roberts, assisted by Bounce Covert, serves as team manager of the Big Spring High School football team, which means he has to cater to the needs of about 35 players and two coaches. Here are depicted a few of the many chores the boys have. In the top left photo, Covert hangs up game equipment for future use. Center, left, the two await a signal to carry water to the players. In the lower photo, Roberts checks the medicine kit which must be ready at all times during a game and while practice is going on.

Herd's 'Gungha Din' Busy Boy

In other times, for want of a better name, he was known as "water boy." Though he still takes care of that chore in a game, nowadays he's identified by the much more fitting and dignified title, "team manager."

What ever you call him, he's indispensable and all teams would be lost without one. He earns a football letter, same as the players, and gets credit toward graduation (in Physical Education). He gets to make the road trips with the team.

But, for such privileges, he has to put in long hours on the practice field and in the dressing rooms five, six and sometimes seven days a week.

Team manager of the Big Spring Steers is Tommy (Squeaky) Roberts, whose complex job would probably wreck the nerves of an older person.

He is assisted by Bounce Covert, an effervescent youngster who some day will probably succeed Roberts as the No. One "Gungha Din."

Roberts' "working day" starts shortly before the team falls out for practice — around 3 p.m. He must be on hand to check out such items as sox, sweat shirts and other items, which need cleaning regularly.

Time was when the dressing room at Steer Stadium was equipped with a washing machine. Now, the laundry is sent out. Roberts and Covert must see to it that the clean clothes are returned on time.

If the lads aspire to be doctors, they already have a head start. They must see to it that the medicine kit carried by the team is

Victory-Starved Wildcats Gun For Upset Saturday

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—The victory-starved Northwestern Wildcats could turn this dismal season into a real success with a triumph Saturday over Ohio State.

Coach Bob Voigts, flustered because his team has lost three of its last four games by one touchdown, realizes Ohio State is the No. 1 team in the nation.

"Ohio State is a very fine team," he said yesterday. "I think they're better defensively than they were last year and they have a good forward wall. Both (Bobby) Watkins and (Hopalong) Cassidy are el good and that Cassidy can break up a ball game any time."

"But we're out to beat them, and we can do it. I think, if we play the type of ball we did against Michigan in the last half. Cassidy, of course, is our big problem."

Northwestern fell before Michigan, 7-0, but the Wildcats held the Wolverines to a scant eight yards rushing in the second half and finished with a big advantage in the statistics.

Bothered with fumbles most of the season, Northwestern appears to have solved the problem. The Wildcats lost the ball only twice to Pitt last Saturday. However, the Panthers scored in the final seconds to win, 14-7.

Robison Increases Lead In Rushing

Big Spring's Frosty Robison increased his lead in the rushing department in District 1-AAA football play last week when he carried for 175 yards against Plainview.

The all-state halfback now has 402 paces in 45 carries, good for an 8.9 average, according to averages compiled by Dale Walton, Snyder sports writer. The records are for conference games only. Brick Johnson, Robison's teammate who also enjoyed a good night against Plainview, climbed back to second place in the ground gaining department. His total now is 270 yards in 33 tries.

Harold Hobbs of Sweetwater has the best average carry among players who have carried the leather 20 times or better. He has averaged 10.7 yards in 24 tries. Jerry Pearson, Vernon, remained the conference's top passer. He has completed 22 of 45 passes, good for 371 yards. Mack Freeman, Levelland, is right behind him with 22 completions in 43 attempts for 356 paces.

Gary Lawton, Levelland, is the top receiver, having caught nine passes good for 160 yards and a 17.7 average.

completely supplied and must know how to apply some of the medicines.

Roberts already has mastered the art of taping an ankle and Covert is learning.

The managers must also know how to give oxygen to players afield. Oxygen kits, complete with masks, were donated to the team last year and are used by the managers in almost every game.

If a player's shoelace breaks afield or he needs a strap for his head-gear, Roberts or Covert are the ones called to fulfill the need.

When the players come in from the practice field, the managers must hand out the towels to the boys.

Game equipment is kept separately from training gear and managers must see to it that it is sorted and hung correctly for instant use. There can be no confusion on the day of the Big Game.

The managers must help load and unload the equipment on the team's trips.

Mother's washing machine has come in handy on more than one occasion for the boys. Clothes that the laundry failed to pick up or have accumulated between the rounds of the laundryman are sometimes taken home by Roberts and Covert for cleaning.

The managers tarry at the dressing rooms for at least half an hour after the players have gone their ways. They swing a broom and store gear to make the place look presentable for the next day's work.

It's a life which calls for much drudgery and earns little glory but Roberts and Covert probably wouldn't trade their lot for any other student.

FIGHT RULE IS REVOKED

AUSTIN (AP)—The 3rd Court of Civil Appeals today held unconstitutional a state law prohibiting prize fights between whites and Negroes.

The court reversed judgment of 126th District Trial Court and ordered a new trial for I. H. Sparty Harvey, San Antonio Negro prize-fighter.

Holding the state law to be in violation of the 14th Amendment of the U. S. Constitution, the appeal court said it is therefore "null and void."

Paige A Doubtful Starter In Game

KNOTT (SC)—Jerry Don Paige, defensive end, remained the only doubtful starter as the Knott Hill Billies prepared for their all-important six-man football game with Ackerly here Thursday night.

Paige is favoring a twisted ankle. First place in District Six standings hinges on the outcome of the contest.

Forsan Juniors Defeat Sterling

STERLING CITY (SC)—Forsan battered Sterling City, 45-18, in a junior high school six-man football game played here Tuesday night.

Charles Skeen, Stanley Willis and George White each scored two touchdowns for Forsan. Milton Bardwell got the other while Jerry Jacobs, Skeen and Raymond Martin counted the extra points.

Guitan counted two touchdowns and Weeks one for Sterling City.

Levelland Picked To Shade Steers

The Williamson System is picking Levelland to defeat Big Spring in this week's big game in District 1-AAA.

The System gave Levelland a power rating of 93.7, compared to 93.0 for the Steers.

In other 1-AAA games, Williamson looks for Snyder to crowd past Plainview, Sweetwater to shade Vernon and Breckenridge to wallop Lamesa.

Fifteen of 27 Giants saw action in the World Series.

Color Styling

Dock Cone, used car manager at Tidwell Chevrolet, says: "I think everyone will like the special two-tone color styling, optional on Bel Air convertibles and sport coupes, which extends the top color onto the rear deck and quarter panels. Yes, sir, it adds real sparkle!"

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Few fans knew that Head Coach Carl Coleman was ill during last week's football game between Big Spring and Plainview. Couldn't keep anything on his stomach.

Carl took some medicine prescribed for him by Dr. J. E. Hogan, however, and watched the whole action from the sidelines.

As far as the Big Spring Steers are concerned, Levelland is the big hurdle in the District 1-AAA race. Next week, Breckenridge, maybe. Right now, nothing matters but their Friday night skirmish with Levelland.

The 13-13 tie Levelland played with Breck awoke the Steers to the fact that the Lobos have a football team, if there were doubts before, there is none now.

The boys might have found it hard to believe that the Lobos were good enough to vanquish Lamesa, 26-0. Now that they've tied (and deserved to beat) Breckenridge, the local boys should (and probably have) gotten over their complacency.

They realized that the flag pole is greased, that they're going to have to hand fight it all the way, if they return the district title here.

In the heat of the preparation for Levelland and Breckenridge, don't forget the Sweetwater menace, however. The Mustangs are right up where many observers thought they'd be, in first place in 1-AAA standings. And, apparently, they're getting better every week.

Incidentally, Mac Alexander, the former Steer assistant mentor, called the shot in the Levelland-Breckenridge game. He said Breck would be lucky to win. As it turned out, they were lucky to tie.

Glenn Jenkins had his trying moments as the Steer point-after-touchdown specialist in the Vernon game but he regained his touch against Plainview, didn't he?

Glenn has had 24 opportunities at conversions this year and made good on 16 of them. A .667 batting average is pretty good in any league.

The hard-charging Big Spring line has seen to it that opposing goal kickers haven't fared too well.

Only three PAT's have been made against Big Spring this season, and the opposition has had ten opportunities to make good.

Big Spring may occupy a unique position Friday night, in that it could be the underdog for the first time in over a year. Not since the first Brownwood game last year have the Steers been generally picked to lose.

Levelland will have the advantage of playing at home and, as has been the case since it joined 1-AAA, will have great incentive to win. That's a combination hard to beat.

The Big Spring club looked almost too good to be true last week against Plainview. Coach Coleman told his boys at the half they were playing their best game of the season, even though they led by only 7-0.

So encouraged, they went out and helped themselves to 27 points in the final two periods.

They may have "jelled" in that one. Time will tell. By midnight Friday, we'll know more where we stand.

Mack Family About To Fade Out Of Baseball Picture

By TOM BRADSHAW

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Barring unforeseen developments, today marks the final hours of the Mack baseball dynasty—a half century of Philadelphia Athletics ownership by Cornelius J. McGillicuddy.

Tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. the owners of the other seven American League clubs gather in New York to vote on sale of the A's stock to an eight-man Philadelphia syndicate.

If their vote is favorable—and, Arnold Johnson notwithstanding, there appears little chance it will be otherwise—the only Mack contact with the Athletics will be a one-ninth share in the club retained by son Roy Mack, and the title of honorary president bestowed on Connie Mack Sr.

Johnson, Chicago businessman who "almost" bought the A's earlier this month and then lost out to the Philadelphia group, announced yesterday he planned to attend the league owners meeting in New York tomorrow and stated he was "still interested in buying the Philadelphia franchise for transfer to Kansas City."

However, League President Will Harridge, in announcing the meeting, said the owners would consider the sale of the franchise to the Philadelphia syndicate. He made no mention of Johnson.

Whether Johnson will make an effort to be heard at the New York session—and whether such an effort would be successful—will have to wait until tomorrow for answers.

The general feeling in Philadelphia last night was that the long, hard struggle was nearly over, with the Athletics destined to remain in the city where they were first fielded as an American League entry by Connie Mack at the turn of the century.

If the owners approve the sale to the syndicate, there will remain only the formality of exchanging the syndicate's cash for the A's stock.

Connie Sr. will be handed—probably at a meeting in Philadelphia Friday—$604,000 for his 325 shares. Another son, Earle, is to get $450,000 for his 125 shares, and Roy will receive $200,000 cash and retain a one-ninth interest in the club.

Ted Atkinson rode his first winner on May 15, 1933 at Beulah Park in Ohio. The horse's name was Musical Jack.

Bucks' Hoppy Tops AP Poll

By The Associated Press

Wisconsin's Alan Ameche wasn't kidding last week when he tabbed Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, Ohio State half back, as an "under-rated back who should be All America."

Coaches and sports writers enthusiastically seconded that nomination today when they picked 177-pound Ohio State junior as The Associated Press Back of the Week for his performance against Wisconsin last Saturday.

"Cassidy was the difference," said Wisconsin Coach Ivy Williamson. "He's been the big guy every year against us. He does these things all the time — and just when they hurt most."

Where "Hoppy" really hurt the Badgers was by intercepting a pass and racing 88 yards for a touchdown that put Ohio State ahead, 10-7, in the third quarter. After that, Wisconsin's defenses fell apart and Ohio moved to three touchdowns in six plays.

Cassidy didn't expect to score when he grabbed Jim Miller's pass. "I just got it and thought I'd run as far as I could," he explained. "Somebody threw me a beautiful block and then when I got down on the sidelines near our bench, I thought maybe I could go if I cut back."

He cut and, as Coach Woody Hayes put it, "turned on all the jets."

In addition to that run, Cassidy gained 39 yards in 7 runs from scrimmage, caught 2 passes for 65 yards and did some great blocking.

Moegle, Hooper Backed For A-A

DALLAS (AP)—Dicky Moegle, Rice's great halfback; Billy Hooper, pass-pitching quarterback of the Baylor Bears; Bud Brooks, Arkansas' mighty guard, and James Ray Smith, brilliant Baylor tackle, are the leading contenders for All-America from the Southwest Conference in the opinion of the Associated Press' regional selection board.

The board, composed of Dick Freeman, Houston Chronicle; Louis Cox, Dallas Times Herald; Mark Batterson, Austin American; Dave Campbell, Waco News-Tribune, and Bud Sherman, WBAP-TV, today submitted their first list of nominations and the consensus placed those four players at the head of the list.

Others given strong backing were: Hugh Pitts, Texas Christian center; Kenney Paul, Rice guard; Lawrence Winkler, Texas A&M tackle; Henry Moore, Arkansas fullback; Henry Gremminger, Baylor end; Don Kachlik, Texas A&M fullback; Preston Carpenter, Arkansas blocking back; Raymond Berry, Southern Methodist end; Buddy Dike, Texas Christian fullback, and Forrest Gregg, Southern Methodist tackle.

Sherman rated Hooper the top back of the conference on the basis of his great play last week against Texas A&M, and he thought Pitts the outstanding lineman.

Campbell called Smith's game against the Aggies "fantastic" although the big tackle was playing with an injured foot.

Cox agreed heartily with Campbell on Smith. "He made more tackles than anyone on the field although handicapped a bit by a metal strap on his right shoe to protect an injury," said the Times Herald sports editor. Cox also was enthusiastic about the play of Gremminger for both his offensive and defensive work.

Freeman, in submitting Moegle for All-America consideration, pointed to his showing against Texas. Moegle gained 105 yards, scored one touchdown, caught three passes for 20 yards, did a top punting job and played well on defense.

Carpenter was lauded by Freeman for a great game as linebacker and for taking the 66-yard pass that beat Mississippi. And the Houston writer praised Paul for his consistently good play all season.

Batterson cited Moegle for his great game against Texas, pointing out that while he did not get off a really long run all day, some of his short gains were among the most remarkable seen in these parts.

"For instance, his touchdown run—a short, 3-yard affair in the first quarter—was superb," Batterson declared. "There were at least four and possibly five Texas tacklers grabbing him, or at least grabbing at him."

Hanson's Leads Bowling League By One Game

Pearl Beer and Frank Sabbato Insurance jumped to a tie for second place in Men's Classic Bowling League Monday night as they downed their opponents, Westex Oil and The Men's Store, each by scores of 3-0. T. S. Chwan led Pearl Beer with a 224-565.

Earnest Rice and Roy Osborne teamed up to upset Men's Store by bowling a 225-592, 213-572 respectively. Rice's 592 was the second highest series of the season. E. B. Dozier Jr. holds first with a 546.

Sabbato set a new team high series with a 2583 while Pearl Beer came through with a 2572.

In other matches, Conco humbled the league leading Lee Hanson 2-1 to cut their first place margin to a single game. Jim Engstrom scored a 531 for Hanson.

Big Spring Herald took a 2-1 set from Cosden in a game that had little bearing on the standings. Jack Kimble paced the Herald with a 208-538 while E. B. Dozier Sr. posted a 548 for Cosden.

Frank Sabbato Insurance and Pearl Beer will be battling for a chance at first place next week while The Big Spring Herald will be trying to hold down Lee Hanson's first place lead. Cosden will be trying to gain ground in the standings when they take on Conco.

The Men's Store and Westex Oil will be matched against each other.

Standings:

	W	L	PCT
Lee Hanson	16	8	.667
Frank Sabbato Ins.	15	8	.625
Pearl Beer	15	9	.625
Conco	14	10	.583
Men's Store	13	11	.542
Cosden	12	12	.500
Big Spring Herald	7	17	.292
Westex Oil	4	20	.167

Flanagan Scraps Harper Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Welterweight title bout consideration will be at stake here tonight when Del Flanagan of Minneapolis, the No. 2 ranking contender, tangles with Maurice Harper of Oakland.

The 10-rounder at Winterland Arena will be nationally televised by CBS.

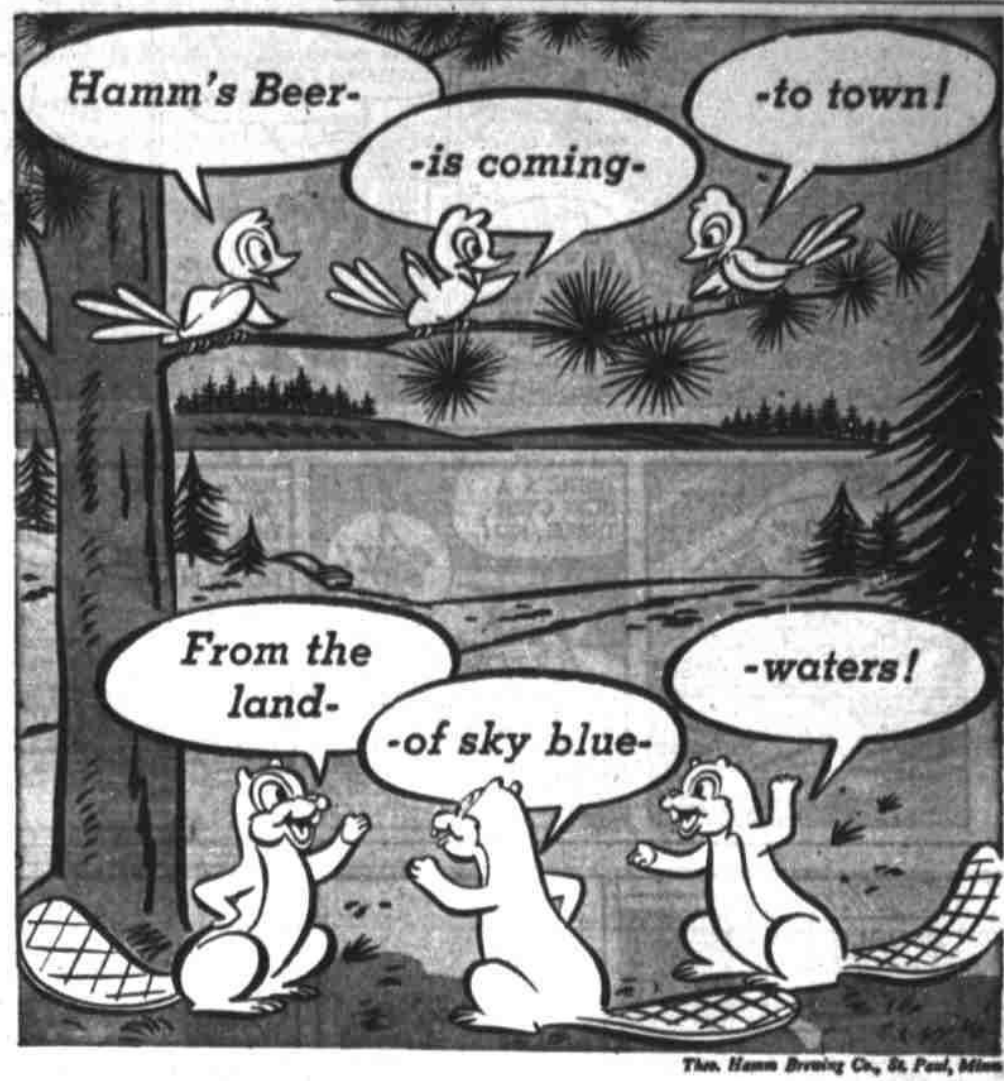

Flanagan, shifty and clever, is riding the crest of a 10-fight winning streak which includes a decision over the newly crowned world's welterweight champion, Johnny Saxton.

Harper is unranked and unknown except in this area. Local ringsiders think he has a brilliant future. This will be his most important fight and his first shot at a high-ranking contender. The Oakland boy has been ducked consistently by 147-pounders around here.

Now you can protect your car against both friction and acid—the two major causes of engine wear

NEW CONOCO Super MOTOR OIL

America's First Double-Duty Oil!

Protection 1

OIL-PLATING*

conquers friction wear . . . . because this exclusive discovery actually fastens a thin film of lubricant to moving engine parts for full-time protection.

Protection 2

ACID-PROOFING

conquers corrosive wear . . . . because this exclusive new discovery gives Conoco Super up to twice the cleansing power of other premium oils!

Automotive engineers have long known that friction and corrosion are the two major causes of engine wear. Now, from the laboratories of Continental Oil, comes America's first Double-Duty motor oil. It combines two exclusive discoveries (Oil-Plating and Acid-Proofing)* to conquer both major causes of engine wear.

The unique Oil-Plating additive conquers friction wear by actually fastening a thin film of protective oil to engine parts. Unlike ordinary motor oil, this film won't drain down even when your engine has been stopped overnight. Thus you get full-time protection against damaging wear due to friction.

Exclusive Acid-Proofing additive conquers corrosive wear three ways—it neutralizes acids, prevents rust, and gobbles up tiny particles of dust, dirt, and water and seals them safely in spheres of oil until the oil is drained. ACID-PROOFING actually gives new Conoco Super twice the cleansing power of other premium oils!

New Conoco Super Motor Oil is on sale at Conoco dealers everywhere. Drive in and ask for it today!

Your Conoco dealer will recommend the right grade of new Conoco Super Motor Oil for your car, your climate, your driving conditions.

Democratic Trend Seen In Farm Belt

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
 CHICAGO (U)—Farm belt people—not all, but a significant number—apparently are going to let their pocketbooks vote for them next Tuesday.

Many farmers have lower incomes without lower expenses. Unemployment and short shifts have hit some cities.

Voters are inclined to blame the Republicans.

Unless current omens turn out to be as changeable as autumn leaves, something of a Democratic resurgence seems to be under way in nine Midwestern states.

It may bring about no shifts at all in seven Senate and seven gubernatorial seats. Republicans now hold all the governorships and four of the Senate seats.

Both parties expect to gain and lose some House members. But Democrats have buoyant hopes of turning up with a net of six to nine gains—enough from the Midwest alone to assure control of the House. They look for even more if the customary trend toward the party out of power runs really strong in this non-residential election year.

In this region, often credited with swinging the 1948 presidential election to Harry S. Truman, there are signs that independents now are inclined to veer toward the Democrats once more. The independents usually hold the balance of power.

With last-minute reversals of form always a possibility, this is the way things looked politically in the Midwest a week before Nov. 2.

ILLINOIS
 The consensus of political experts, professional and nonprofessional, is that Paul H. Douglas, "New Deal, Fair Deal" Democrat, has the edge for another Senate term. The Republican nominee is Joseph T. Meek, former spokesman and lobbyist for Illinois merchants.

IOWA
 Democratic Sen. Guy M. Gillette may win again in a state normally 3-2 Republican. Republicans vote for him when they won't for any other Democrat.

MISSOURI
 Democrats are confident of retaking a House seat in former President Truman's district and perhaps one other. The present party division is seven Democrats, four Republicans.

KANSAS
 Eisenhower's home state evidently will give him a vote of confidence by again electing Republican Sen. Andrew F. Schoepel, a Republican governor, and all six Republican House candidates. That means the Democrats would lose a 1st District House seat they won in 1952 on a local issue involving a flood control dam.

NEBRASKA
 The Cornhuskers have a triphammer Senate election because of the deaths of their two GOP senators. One is for a short term in the present Congress, lasting only until January. Republicans are favored in all three, although Democrat James F. Green, a good speaker with many American Legion friends, is putting up a stiff battle for a four-year term.

SOUTH DAKOTA
 Sen. Mundt and the state's two GOP representatives all voted against the administration's flexible farm plan. Their Democratic challengers are against it too. So it's hard to find an issue.

The Republicans are expected to win as usual, but by smaller margins.

NORTH DAKOTA
 This state is firmly Republican and there seems to be no question that it will stay that way.

MINNESOTA
 Republicans would like nothing better than for Val Bjornson to trounce Democratic Sen. Hubert Humphrey. But it looks like too big an assignment.

WISCONSIN
 Democrats piled up their biggest primary vote in history and figure a trend is under way that will get them one or two more House seats. They have two now against eight for the GOP.

Motorboats like this one carry tourists around Amsterdam.

AMSTERDAM — In many large cities there are buses which take visitors on tours. It is common to speak of these as "rubberneck" buses, because people on them seem to need rubber necks to turn their heads toward so many sights. In Amsterdam the popular sight-seeing trips take place on motorboats. These tours are made chiefly on canals, but the boats also go on the Amstel River and on a little section of what used to be the Zuder Zee (pronounced ZY-dur ZAY or ZY-dur ZEE).

While aboard one of the boats I listened while the guide (who stood next to the pilot) described the sights along the way.

"These canals," he said, "have retaining walls which must be kept in good repair. The city of Amsterdam spends one million guilden (about a quarter of a million dollars) each year to take care of the walls at the sides of the canals. There are 70 canals, and the average depth is nine feet."

Alongside one canal I saw the "smallest house in Amsterdam." It is hardly six feet wide, but has two stories. A doorway takes up most of the front of the first story, and a window does the same for the front of the second story.

According to an old tale, the little house was put up in answer to a wish expressed by a poor resident of the city. While looking at a mansion built for a wealthy merchant, the poor man exclaimed: "I wish I had a house as wide as the front door!"

Overhearing the remark, the owner of the mansion said, "Your wish shall be granted!" Then the little house was built, sandwiched in between two good-sized houses.

Most of the houses in Amsterdam are made of brick, with brown and reddish brown as the favorite colors. Unless it is made of brick, a new house is sure to have walls of some other hard material, usually stone.

During my boat trip, the guide pointed out "the only wooden house in the city." It is an old structure, and has been allowed to stand as a curiosity.

At Least 217 Known Dead In Salerno Flood Disaster

By ANDREW NAHAS
 SALERNO, Italy (U)—Rescue workers dug frantically through the mud-covered rubble of homes along the Gulf of Salerno today, seeking more victims of Tuesday's violent cloudbursts, landslides and floods.

At least 217 persons were known dead and unofficial reports put the toll as high as 270. Officials declined to even guess at the total damage figure, but said it would run into millions of dollars.

Devastating flash floods triggered by cloudbursts struck a 10-mile coastal area between Amalfi and Salerno during the early morning darkness yesterday. Entire villages were destroyed. Hundreds of homes crumbled. Their occupants trapped without warning. Hundreds of persons were injured and thousands were homeless.

Police said the bodies of 217 persons had been recovered in Salerno, Vietri and smaller towns along the Bay of Salerno. They listed an additional 52 persons as missing and feared dead but unofficial sources estimated at least 170 persons were missing.

While soldiers, firemen and volunteers searched the debris for victims and trapped survivors, thousands of other workers began the task of restoring some form of normalcy to the ravaged communities. Communications, roadways, water, gas, electricity and sewer systems were demolished.

Violent early morning winds and rain swept in from the Tyrrhenian Sea to hamper their work.

Some communities reported all food supplies and water gone. Other villages sent urgent pleas for medicine.

In this city of 70,000 where American troops stormed ashore 11 years ago during World War II, the verified death toll reached 87. More than 100 persons were injured and 5,000 were homeless.

A U.S. Navy spokesman at Naples said American ships and vehicles were ready to go to the assistance of the stricken area but would not do so unless asked.

Some tarantulas have bodies four inches long and a leg span of 10 inches.

Body And Frame

Norman L. Patterson, mechanic with Tidwell Chevrolet Co., stresses the integrated body and frame engineering on the 1955 Chevrolets which results in a reduction in vibration and a saving in weight. "With a scientific repositioning of mounts and the utmost application of rubber insulation," Patterson explains, "the body is isolated from road shocks to an unusual degree."
