On Wall Street

By Bob Hill

One of the best signs of an economic recovery is an increase in personal incomes. Personal income continued to rise in May, the third month in a row. The total individual earnings for May topped $100 billion, up 7.6% over May a year ago. The year-to-year growth in before-tax personal income doesn't seem too impressive, but worker's take-home pay improved substantially, due to the 1974 tax rebates and the smaller withholding under the new 1975 tax rates.

The individual tax cuts stimulated employment in service and trade industries, causing a sharp jump in private wages and salaries. Agricultural prices rose and this in turn favored the farm states with increases in personal income.

Not one of the farm states showed a decline in personal incomes in May. This is the first time this has happened since August 1974.

Total payrolls increased just slightly in the manufacturing industries because gains in textiles, paper and chemicals merely offset declines in the payrolls of primary metals, machinery and transportation equipment.

The best performance in any one industry and state was the trade and service employment incomes in Nevada, up 13%. Las Vegas hotel and gaming employment took a 64% jump from the level of April because of increased seasonal tourist traffic combined with the opening of two major new hotels, the Californian and the Marina, plus the expansion of the Hilton.

Payrolls continue to slump in heavily industrialized Eastern states, but Texas, which enjoys a far superior per capita income, showed a healthy 12.2% increase in personal incomes in May.

 Signs posted at each corner of the property or at any turn road entrance, stating that the property owner needs something on every side, telling outsiders not to come on the place.
 The property owner may give the intruder notice (tell them to get off the place) and if he fails to leave, then this is a criminal action and the trespasser can be filed against.
 Attorney Green pointed out that the man having the authority to order the trespasser to leave is the owner of the land or the renter, if the land is leased. "The man in control of the premises should be the one to tell them to get off," said Green. If the person remains on the premises, then the man having authority, should tell the police, "I told them to leave and they won't get off my land," then the officer can arrest the trespassers.

 Arthur Burns, Federal Reserve Chairman:
 "We're in a turning zone and I think this is a time to pause as far as fiscal policy is concerned."

County Attorney Green explained what constitutes obstruction of a highway, or roadway, stating this is when a group of people congregate in the road, blocking traffic. "It is a violation of the law, assuming they obstruct traffic," he said.

"You," the farmer, "have no authority to tell them to move off the highway, only an officer of the law has this authority," he stated. However, those obstructing the highway must first be advised by the officer that they are obstructing traffic and blocking the road. Then if they refuse to move, the officer has the right to arrest them. If their vehicles are parked in the bar ditch or they are congregated in the bar ditch, and are off the improved part of the road, and not obstructing the traffic, they are not in violation of the law, pointed out the attorney.

Sheriff Clement told the Farm Bureau members that the officer has put in a CB base station, and anyone having problems may use Channel 9 and call for the Muleshoe Police or the Muleshoe Sheriff's officers, and assistance will be given them.

Garrett, Farm Bureau president, urged the members to handle all problems within the law, and contact the law enforcement officers if they have trouble.

Metal No Trespassing signs were made available for purchase, sponsored by the Farm Bureau, to Farm Bureau members, at $1 per sign. Members wishing to purchase the signs should contact the Farm Bureau office, Garrett said, as the meeting came to an end.

Mrs. Kerry R. Wagon

Shellye Hargrove Receives High Honors

Shellye Hargrove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bob Hargrove, has been notified that she has been selected to receive honorary award recognition and to have her biography published, in the Ninth Annual Edition of WHO'S WHO AMONG AMERICAN HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS. This is a nationally recognized honor.

Shellye was Student Council representative for her junior class, was in the junior class play, a member of the Sudan Hornet Band for three years, a twirler for the band for three years, FHA for three years; FHA officer for two years with second vice presidency her senior year and Parliamentarian, her junior year.

She was captain her junior year and was named to All District, her sophomore and junior years. She was named "Hustlin Hornet" her sophomore year -- "Best Defensive Player" her junior year; FTA, her sophomore year and Football sweetheart, her junior year. Shellye will be a senior at Sudan High this 1975-76 school year.

Miss Hooten, Wagon United In Marriage

Miss Gayla Hooten became the bride of Kerry R. Wagon in a candlelight ceremony the evening of Friday, August 15, 1975, in the First United Methodist Church of Muleshoe.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hooten of Muleshoe. The parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mack Wagon of Muleshoe.

Traditional wedding music was played by organist Mrs. W. T. Watson. "Fur Elise," "Always" and "O Perfect Love" were the bride's chosen selections.

Officiating at the double-ring ceremony was Rev. J. B. Fowler, pastor of St. Stephen's Methodist Church, Amarillo, Texas.

A candle tree of magnolia, wild smilax, English Ivy and pink tapers adorned the altar table flanked on either side by tree candelabras and pairs of seven-branch candelabras. Palm trees placed at each end of the altar rail completed the setting. Clusters of English Ivy and wild smilax tied with shades of pink ribbon marked the pews. Hurricane candle lamps glowed from each sanctuary window.

Presented in marriage by her parents, the bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a traditional gown of white silken organza and dulcette satin with accents of dimensional Guipure lace. The Princess silhouette was designed with a moulded bodice featuring a deep picture frame yoke of English net, outlined in a border of scalloped bobbin lace. A high wedding ring neckline repeated the lace edging. The long tapered sleeves came to points over the hands which were also cuffed in the bobbin lace and featured button and loop closure. Plastrons of the dimensional lace embellished the bodice. The crescent shaped waistline was defined with a row of tiny lace flowers. The circular skirt was framed in a border of the dulcette satin with petal shaped insets of graduating panels applied in the dimensional lace, forming a stained glass window effect. Each window and the gown hemline was edged in tiny lace flowers. Her mantilla style veiling was caught to a Camelot Capulet of Guipure lace and drifted beyond the length of her chapel train. The Capulet also held her petal-shaped blush veil. The entire veil was encircled in a border of Guipure lace scrolls and flowerlets. Tiny lace flowers were sprinkled over the train. She carried a cascade bouquet of bridal pink roses and English Ivy.

In keeping with the bridal tradition, a watch-fob belonging to the bride's late maternal grandfather, Mervin Witterding, with whom she shared the same birthday, was entwined among the roses in her bridal bouquet. She wore her mother's diamond earrings for something borrowed; something blue, her garter and for something new, her bridal gown. She presented her mother a long-stemmed pink rose from her bouquet as she approached the altar and one to the groom's mother as she left the altar.

Receiving guests in the church foyer were the bride and groom and their parents.

Miss Kim Cowan served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Donnan Harmon and Mrs. Terry Field, sister of the groom. Junior bridesmaid was Miss Leslie Wagon, sister of the groom. They wore identical formal-length gowns of pink floral chiffon accented by a ruffled scooped neck and puffed sleeves. Each carried a long-stemmed pink rose.

Vance Tucker served as best man. Groomsmen were Steve Pruitt, of Idalou, and Gary Hooten, brother of the bride. Junior groomsmen were Larry Hooten, brother of the bride, Usher was Terry Field, brother-in-law of the groom, assisted by Steve Pruitt, Gary and Larry Hooten.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hooten chose a formal-length gown of deep pink chiffon complimented by a corsage of bridal pink roses. Mrs. Wagon wore a formal-length gown of blue chiffon. She carried a white clutch handbag to which was pinned a pink glamilia.

Green Plants, flowers and white patio furniture created a garden setting in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church for the reception honoring the bridal couple. Fresh pink roses adorned the four-tiered wedding cake encircled with smilax. A white lace and satin floor-length cloth covered the bride's table from which Misses Paula Lambert of Fort Worth and Carol Wilson of Dallas served the guests. Simlax entwined the silver candelabra holding tall pink tapers completed the table appointments. White floor-length cloths with squares of pink and white check gingham overlaid covered the punch and hors d'oeuvres tables. Miss Maribeth Dillman served pink punch from a silver bowl. Gifts of silver and crystal to the wedding couple were used in serving a variety of hors d'oeuvres. The bride's book was attended by Miss Regina Poteet. Rice was distributed to guests from white baskets lined with pink and white check gingham carried by Miss Becky Fowler from Amarillo and Miss Melissa Wagon. Music presented at the reception was a taped recording of selections played by the bride. Other members of the houseparty were Mrs. J. E. McVicker, Mrs. Frank Ellis, Mrs. Neal Dillman, Mrs. Marshal Head, Mrs. John Gunter, Mrs. Bill Loyd, Mrs. W. T. Watson, Mrs. Harold Cowan, Mrs. J. A. Nickels, Mrs. Bobby G. Free, Mrs. Don Harmon, Mrs. J. B. Smith, Mrs. David Hamblin, Mrs. Oscar Allison and Mrs. Harold Allison.

The bride selected for her going-away attire a floor-length pink floral dress. White accessories completed her ensemble for their wedding trip to Estes Park, Colorado.

Both the bride and bridegroom are Muleshoe High School graduates. She attended McMurry College last year majoring in Secondary Education. The bridegroom is studying Computer Information Systems at West Texas State University. Both will continue their studies at W. T. this fall and Kerry will be employed by First National Bank of Amarillo.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in their home Thursday evening, August 14.

There are people who have time to talk (about their views) indefinitely.

Another Federal Agency is moving closer to the farm. This time it's the Environmental Protection Agency. EPA officials are now sifting through the chemical analysis of nearly 35-thousand pesticides to decide which ones will require a government restriction. Those chemicals classed as restricted may be applied only by persons certified. Although the starting date for the certification requirement is more than a year away (October, 1976), many farm operators are all ready checking the requirements for certification. The establishment of two levels of certification will make things easier for most ag producers. To be certified as a private applicator (applying pesticides on your own land) boils down basically to being able to read and follow instructions. Commercial certification will involve passing a written test which will cover chemical formulas, equipment specifications and EPA rules and regulations.

The Youth Rally for Christ held August 11, on the court house lawn turned out to be a successful evening. Those attending were mostly youth with several passersby throughout the evening. There were about 95 attending including everyone involved with the activities and those attending just for the rally.

The theme of the rally was in three parts. The life, death and resurrection of Christ. Doug Wood illustrated this by presenting a "Chalk Talk". A "Chalk Talk" is a multi-media presentation of drawings with fluorescent chalks, colored lights and black lights, accompanied with appropriate music. The "Chalk Talk" presents the message in a more illustrated and clarifying way.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,

I am a girl of twenty-one and I live in this apartment with another girl. We get along fine together and usually agree on things. But something has come up that we think differently about so we thought we would write and find out what you thought about this situation.

About two months ago I was eating lunch and this man came in and as there was no table he asked if I minded him sitting at my table. Well after a while we started talking and he seemed very nice. After that we happened to meet there several times and he asked me for a date. He travels for some company but I don't know any thing about him but I think I could fall in love with him without much trouble.

My roommate thinks I would be foolish to date him unless I know something about him--what company he works for and whether or not he is married.

What do you think?

Twenty-one--Ky.

Answer: I think your roommate has a point. Certainly the young man should let you know for whom he is working and whether he is single or married.

Girls dating married men are usually looking for trouble.

Louisa, Address: Louisa, Box 532 Orangeburg, S.C. 29115.

Early Sunflower Killing Cautioned

Rev. and Mrs. Billy Oliver

LUBBOCK -- Early planted sunflower crops in Bailey County have completed the bloom stage and are now in a period of grain filling, says Spencer Tanksley. Since this is the period in which oil content and seed weight are being determined, farmers need to be careful not to stop plant growth too quickly with harvest-aid chemicals. Early killing could have a drastic effect on final yields as much as 50 percent.

The agent says that with the excellent moisture conditions prevailing on the High Plains, it could take four to six weeks after completion of the bloom stage for seed to reach full maturity.

By that time, he points out, the back of the head and stalk should be lemon yellow in color and most of the leaves will be dead or appear to be dying. The triangular shaped bracts of the outer edge of the head will be brown and brittle. The seed in the center of the head will be as dark in color and as firm as the seed on the outer edge.

When these characteristics are noted, the seed is mature but the fleshy head base (which when cut open with a knife looks somewhat like a sponge) will not be sufficiently dry for combining. To avoid adding this high-moisture foreign matter to the seed during the combining operation, the head base must be dry.

Several weeks could be required for the head base to dry naturally. During this period seed will begin to shatter and some yield will be lost. The best alternative is rush the final drying process with the use of a harvest-aid chemical.

Recently, Paraquat was cleared for use as a sunflower desiccant in Texas. The chemical may be applied at a rate of 1 to 2 pints per acre when sunflower seeds are mature, Tanksley says. Five gallons of spray mix (Paraquat plus water) should be used when treating by air and 20 to 40 gallons with ground equipment. For best results, a surfactant such as Ortho X-77 should be added at a rate of 1 quart per 100 gallons of water.

Once a harvest-aid chemical is applied, the crop will READ ALL LABEL DIRECTIONS CAREFULLY BEFORE USING PARQUAT, Tanksley emphasizes.

Once a harvest-aid chemical is applied, the crop will be ready to harvest in 7 to 10 days. A combine equipped with a sunflower header attachment should be immediately available, because delays could be costly in terms of seed loss due to shattering and bird feeding.

"Keep in mind, Paraquat is a non-selective desiccant. That means it will kill any plant tissue it contacts, including cotton, sorghum and other crops in adjacent fields. Do not graze treated areas or feed treated foliage to livestock.

"Chemical drift is a potentially serious problem," Tanksley says. "Since desiccation will, in most cases, be done with aircraft, producers should insist that the aerial applicator pick a calm day for the spraying operation."

Aerial applicators can help

be equipping their aircraft with the new types of drift reducing nozzles such as "Raindrop" or by using drift reducing agents such as Target or Nalco-Trol. These equipment changes and additives will probably increase the costs of spraying operations. In the long run, however, this could be money well spent if there is danger of damaging adjacent crops, Tanksley believes.

"YOU TOOK MY PICTURE... AND I WASN'T READY!"

How concerned we are with the image we present to others! And it is right that we should be. How mightily we influence others. It is so important that the self we present is one that will influence others for good.

With guidance from God we will be ready to present ourselves to the world in such a manner as to sway others toward God and all that is worthwhile and good.

"That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God," come to His Church

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

CW2 D. G. Mathis

Local Residents Son Stationed In Japan

Chief Warrant Officer David G. Mathis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mathis of Route 5, Muleshoe, has been assigned as commanding officer and Band Master of the 296th Army Band, to Camp Zamer in Japan. His assignment begins August 23. The base is 29 miles from Tokyo. He and his family will be stationed there for three years.

CW2 Mathis' wife Cynthia, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Dever of Portales, N. M. They have four daughters, Liane, Celia, Yolanda and Tamaira.

Mathis is a 1957 graduate of Muleshoe High School and graduated from Eastern New Mexico University at Portales in 1961. He is one man who can say he has grown up with music as he took up the trumpet in elementary school. He later started playing the French horn, which he now considers his major instrument.

CW2 Mathis served as drum major in the marching band during his high school days. He graduated with a degree in music education, from ENMU and with this background, taught school in New Mexico and Texas for five years.

He enlisted in the United States Army in the year 1966 and was assigned to the 62nd Army Band at Ft. Bliss, Texas.

While in the Army, he attended U.S. Army Element, School of Music in Norfolk, Va.

His military assignments have included serving as commander officer of the 399th Army Band, Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and as staff bands officer, Headquarters 5th U.S. Army, Ft. Sheridan, Ill.

He also completed a tour of duty in Vietnam.

Also included in his musical background is the time he played with the Huntsville Symphony Orchestra, the Huntsville Community Band, a woodwind quartet and a French horn quartet. He was a member of Alabama in Huntsville Wind Ensemble and Symphony Brass and sang at the Post Chapel, as well as finding the time to give private lessons on the French Horn.

 We're in favor of a vacation each season of the year, now being behind several.

 Could it be that work is a device to make the weekends enjoyable?

HOW'S The Electric Company DOING?

Let's ask Jim Atchison, one of our town managers

"These compression connectors, such as I'm using in reconnecting this service loop, and of which we have to use many, jumped in cost 57% since 1965. Another size increased 61%. Everything costs us more these days so these higher costs are reflected in what you pay for electricity. Yet, if we are all to have dependable electric service, it's a price we have to pay."

We would like to welcome to Muleshoe, Rev. David Gray from Seagraves, Texas. Rev. Gray is the new Minister at the Nazarene Church. He has been preaching for two years, and has taught public school in the junior high level in Springfield, Ohio, in the English department. Rev. Gray and his wife Neva Jo have three children, Tonya Jean, 7, Timothy Galen, 3, and Tracey Scott, 1. Rev. Gray likes to ride motorcycles and Mrs. Gray paints in her spare time.
