As Broken Flywheel Hurlled 7 Blocks

Injury and death were miraculously averted Thursday evening when a 30 inch fly-wheel came apart at the Logan Feed and Hatchery and hurled heavy fragments as far as seven blocks.

One piece weighing 33 pounds screamed through the air for a distance of a half mile before smashing into the roof of the Bernie Thompson home on Runnels street.

Another riddled four blocks east and crashed into the F. Cleve Reese home. It weighed 37 pounds.

Of the four other pieces, one buried itself about 18 inches in the ground nearby. Another ripped a hole in a stucco and tile wall. A third tore jagged holes in a feed catcher and the other fell harmlessly.

The fragment which tore into the Thompson home ranged down through the roof of the bathroom on the east side of the house, shattered a 2x4 inch rafter, burst a hole through a sheet rock and ship-lap wall, hit the top of a clothes box and ranged horizontally for 36 inches through clothing, ripped through a wall and baseboard, struck a kitchen table leg, shattering dishes, and came to rest against the opposite wall.

Margaret Thompson, 6-year-old daughter of Mrs. Bernie Thompson, was standing by the table when the missile hit. She was preparing to cook some eggs and dropped them on the floor where the table had been. She received minor bruises about the head.

Hal Sanders was in the room with her when the object descended. He could not see the piece of metal for flying dishes and utensils.

Mrs. Sanders was in the bathroom at the time the steel chunk smashed through the room.

Occupants of the house at first thought that the electric line had shorted. They searched for some time before they discovered the fragment.

Clothes in the box looked much as if a colony of rats had preyed upon them.

Several persons Friday said they heard the piece coming through the air, making a screaming noise like a cannon projectile.

At the Reese home, force of the fly-wheel part was slowed somewhat when it hit a used car outside, but retained sufficient force to tear a hole through a wall and to lay a bed low. Impact of the blow delivered against one of the metal legs of the bed spun it across the room and virtually leveled it.

A number of people were in an adjacent room and on the front porch.

Vernon Logan, manager of the hatchery, said that the wheel brought down an account of a broken rod in the motor.

WASHINGTON
 By GEORGE DUENO

Henry Fletcher is rapidly discovering that being Republican National chairman this particular year isn't all beer and skittles.

From within his own party Fletcher has been urged recently to ease up on his charge that the New Deal is "bribing" large sections of voters to string along with the Democrats next fall.

Two distinct schools of thought are apparent in G. O. P. ranks. One thinks it good politics to hammer away at the administration for the way it has been pouring out A. A. A. checks and unemployment relief just as the voters get ready to go to the polls.

On the other hand, Fletcher has received letters from state and county leaders in various sections begging him to lay off. The latter group fears too many recipients of government largesse will get insulted over the allegation they have been bribed.

City of Big Spring has finished the first half of its fiscal year with a slight over run of the budget occasioned by the payment in September of $1,000 rental on water rights.

Expenditures for September from the general fund were $1,175.42 in excess of the amount appropriated by the budget for the month. This was also due to the payment of water rental.

Water revenues for the month amounted to $9,008.83 or $475.42 less than for August. It was, however, $2,527.31 above the water revenue for September a year ago.

Cash in the interest and sinking fund increased 5,684.44 during the month to give a cash balance of $25,256.89 in the fund. There were no disbursements from the fund during September.

Revenues for the general fund were $2,113.85 above expenditures for September, swelling the cash balance in the fund to $23,943.35.

A total of $93,058.84 has been collected by the city during the first six months as compared to a total of $175,890 estimated for the entire fiscal year.

Delinquent tax collections have exceeded expectations, aggregating $19,374.92 for the first six months as against $25,000 for the year.

During September five departments showed over runs and five under runs in the budget.

Expert Says Hogs Haven't Any Given Number Of Ribs

How many ribs are there in a hog?

Roy Snider, specialist from the Texas A&M extension service, College Station, asked this question during the demonstration of hog cutting recently at the Southwestern Baby Beef, Hog and Sheep show in El Paso, but did not receive an answer.

"No one knows," Snider said. "Some have 13 sets, others as high as 15 sets. In Canada, they are putting hogs under an X-ray to determine the number of ribs before buying, for Englishmen like plenty of spare ribs, and bacon."

The hog cut up in the demonstration recently by Snider had 14 sets of ribs.

Fletcher thus finds himself between the devil and the deep blue sea. He has asked his party critics what alternate angle of attack he might better adopt. So far, there has been a dearth of good suggestions.

Many of the G. O. P. high command think privately also that their "back to the Constitution" war cry isn't getting them very far. There is a fair amount of opinion that the man-on-the-street isn't paying much attention to Republican charges that Mr. Roosevelt and his Brain Trust are stretching the Bill of Rights out of all proportions.

But Chairman Fletcher quite properly takes the attitude that the G. O. P. must stress this argument until it is to follow a policy of wait and see, only.

Plane Is Forced Down For Repairs; Patient Aboard

The plane piloted by L. L. (Pinky) McMillan, and occupied by Mrs. Margaret Williams, registered nurse, C. B. Akers, and C. C. Lindsey, all of Lubbock, was forced to land at American Airlines field late Thursday afternoon on account of engine trouble. Mr. Lindsey, who was ill, was brought to a local hotel, where he remained during the day and night until the plane was repaired. The party left Friday morning for Del Rio, where Mr. Lindsey was being taken for the benefit of his health.

American Airlines mechanics repaired the ship, which has been brought down on account of a broken rod in the motor.

Auto Thieves Active Here

Odessa Man Suffers Loss Of Valuable Sample Cases; Tires Taken

Thieves continued their tirade against automobiles here Thursday night, taking casings off two and looting another of its contents.

S. L. Parker, Odessa, suffered the heaviest loss when thieves made off with three valuable sample cases locked in his car. One was valued at $100, he said. The other two were less valuable and one contained half pairs of shoes. His car was parked near the Horn hotel.

Four casings were taken from W. E. Burchett's Chevrolet roadster at 8th and Aylford, and two from E. L. Newsom's car on Nolan street.

Production Of Meat Cannery Increases To 18,500 Daily

Production of the federal meat cannery here as shown another marked increase.

Daily output has stepped up from an average of 16,000 cans to as high as 18,500 for one day this week. Average production is now well above 17,000 daily.

More than 800,000 cans have been turned out by the plant here.

County Administrator R. H. McNew said that at least 8 more weeks of operation were assured.

Senate

In next month's elections certain of the Republican inner council forces privately a distinct threat at their chances for a come-back in the presidential year of 1936.

If the Democrats make good their claim of capturing a minimum of five new senatorial seats to add to their already large majority in the upper house, the PARIS (AP)—The Surete Nationale announced Friday two suspects, Yaroslav Novak and Ivan Rajitch, alias Wladislav Benes, confessed they had been sent to France on secret mission by the Yugoslav organization 'Pave-rich' but did not know what their mission was.

Rajitch is alleged to have told police he and a friend came to Paris on "blind" orders and were told they would be met here by others who would instruct them what to do.

Surete officials said the men admitted sharing a Paris hotel room with Petrus Kalem-an, assassin of King Alexander and Louis Barthou.

Maytag Men To Hold Meeting

District Confab Scheduled For Today; Company President Will Speak

Walter Rogers, Dallas, president of the Maytag Southwestern company, and J. J. Adams, divisional manager, will be the principal speakers Friday evening when the Maytag dealers and salesmen of this district convene at the Douglas hotel.

H. A. Schmidt, district manager, said Friday afternoon that dealers and salesmen from Lamesa, Snyder, Colorado, San Angelo, Rowena, Eden, Midland, Big Spring, Odessa, Monahan, Pecca and Wink would attend the meeting.

F. L. Maytag, founder of the company, will be in this territory soon, said Schmidt. Maytag, despite his 74 years, is still very active and makes a practice of visiting his distributors, dealers and salesmen as often as possible.

McNew Is Given Slight Chance For Recovery

Condition of I. N. 'Uncle Ike' McNew, 78, remained critical Friday after he was rushed to the Big Spring hospital Thursday afternoon when struck by a locomotive.

He sustained a fractured skull and bad fractures of both legs.

Attending physicians gave him a bare chance for recovery after he had apparently weathered the effects of shock.

Uncle Ike was hit as he walked on the railroad tracks near the stock yards east of here Thursday afternoon.

He apparently did not hear the approaching local freight train, and if he did, was unable to get off the track.

An Eberly ambulance rushed him to a hospital where he was given emergency treatment.

Relatives could not say Friday what he was doing at the stock yards. They surmised that he had walked there to inspect feeding pens being installed nearby.

Uncle Ike had lived in the country for the past 40 years, coming here from Mitchell county. For a long time a farmer, he has lived in town for the past 15 years.

Husband Of Kidnap Victim Leaves Home On Mystery Mission

LOUISVILLE (AP)—Ransom for Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll has been paid and the family is awaiting instructions, it was announced Friday from Berry V. Stoll, husband of the young society matron snatched from their fashionable country home near here Wednesday.

CHARLESTON, West Virginia (AP)—Walter Childers, 29, was taken into custody Friday for questioning about the kidnaping of Mrs. Alice Stoll, after officers said they had found tufts of brunette hair and strips of white cloth in an automobile Childers sold to an automobile wrecking company.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) Berry V. Stoll dashed from home in an automobile Friday, lending credence to persistent reports that there was reason to believe the family had, or expected soon, to make contact with the man who kidnaped young Mrs. Stoll Wednesday.

Coupled with renewed activity came a renewed request from the Stolls through William S. Hammons, their spokesman, that no airplanes fly over the vicinity of the place.

Taken into custody for questioning in Charleston, West Virginia, Friday of a suspect named Walter Childers, Charleston, was coincident with Stoll's departure, but there was no announcement whether he might have started for Charleston.

STATE OF WEST TEXAS

Creation of the separate state of West Texas was declared feasible by Max Bentley, Abilene newspaper editor and editor of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce magazine, in an article in the October magazine.

Mr. Bentley declared an opportunity is nearing at last for the creation of "the model, modern commonwealth" in West Texas. He pointed out the law admitting Texas to the United States authorized division of the area into as many as five states. Vice-President John N. Garner long has been an advocate of dividing Texas up into several states.

Editor Bentley said the discussion of a new West Texas state is based on changes recently, looking to more equitable distribution of wealth, standard commodity prices, unity of interests, and other progressive policies, which might be undertaken as to the starting point of the model new commonwealth.

"I would have that part of Texas from Del Rio to Fort Worth to Gainesville and west prepare for the new coming order by divesting itself of the balance of Texas, and as step No. 1, being rid of the staggering debt now confronting the present state," he said. "Giving up our share in the assets of Texas, we also get relief from the liabilities.

"We would start from scratch, with the future before us. It would no longer be our concern, for example, that the Texas general fund deficit now stands at $16,000,000; we would start with no debt at all. Instead of being saddled with a $30,000,000 relief bond issue, the money all spent and repayment time looming, we would be constructively planning a long-range program, scientifically built, through funds or trusts created and maintained by employer and employee jointly; funds out of surpluses from business in prosperous times.
Thus, besides attending to periodical relief needs, we would also make permanent safeguard for the old and infirm.

"We would do everything for the State of West Texas that the president is attempting to do for the nation, and being debtless and full of imagination and confidence and youth, we would be the model state of this union.

"Billy. No premature, perhaps.
The forces of reaction, and unless fairly die hard, they have been potent and highly placed for many unhappy years; but a new day and deal are dawning in this country—a new social philosophy, a new and bolder outlook between man and man. This is the new order should have its natural beginning. We are the ideal testing ground."

His article was part of a joint discussion of the question, in which Editor Ray Nichols, Vernon, took the opposing side and argued against the possibility of the wisdom of attempting to subdivide Texas.

merhorn of Tulsa, Okla., are visiting here for several weeks.

ROOM MOTHERS APPOINTED; IMPORTANT COMMITTEES ARE NAMED AT WEST WARD P.-T. A.

Supt. Blankenship Explains New Tax Payment System To Mothers; Mrs. Cornelison Presents Program Of Music

Room mothers were appointed and committees named at a busy session of the West Ward Parent-Teachers' Association held Thursday afternoon at the school building.

Mrs. L. L. Gulley presided over the session and Mrs. W. D. Cornelison put on a program of songs and piano solos.

Rev. C. A. Bickley gave a talk on "Co-operation of School and Home" in which he stressed the character building by teachers and parents and its importance in the future of the child.

Supt. W. C. Blankenship gave a beneficial talk on the same lines, also an explanation of the new tax payment plan. He distributed and explained pamphlets on the financial condition of the schools.

Piano solos were rendered by Bobbie Nell Gully, who played "The Donna Mobile" and by Vivian Ferguson, who played "Jolly Jig." Elizabeth Young sang "Everybody Calls Me Honey," and Lillie Gene Crook gave a reading.

During the business session it was agreed to give a prize to the room during the membership drive. A letter was read from the president of the Parent-Teachers' Association at Carlsbad, thanking the P.T. A. for gifts received through the West Ward plan of sending gifts each month.

Clever Mock Shower Precedes Presentation Of Gifts At Party Honoring Miss Pickle

Prospective Bride Feted By Friends; Party Held In Beautiful Hart Garden, Featured By Trial And Mock Wedding

Miss Jeanette Pickle was honored by an unusually clever surprise shower Thursday evening, in which three of her friends were hostesses. They were Mrs. Horace Reagan, Miss Eloise Haley and Mrs. J. A. Coffey.

The shower was a "double header," the real shower being preceded by a mock shower of kitchen gifts.

The guests assembled at the home of Mrs. Reagan and there went in a body to the Pickle home. There they presented the prospective bride with an array of small kitchen gifts and attempted to leave the impression that this completed the evening.

Miss Haley suggestion that the bride be taken to her home (Miss Haley lives with her sister, Mrs. R. V. Hart) and properly initiated. The real party then took place in the beautiful Hart garden. The program was a series of rapid-fire take-offs conducted by Miss Haley, culminating in the purpose of the evening, the shower of miscellaneous gifts for the bride's home.

Wind And Frost Aided In Cutting Huge Coulee COULÉE DAM, Wash. (UP)—Grand Coulee, the great 1929 new flows, site of the $12,000,000 dam project, was formed by forces other than water, Major W. J. Hopkins, former U. S. Army geologist, believes.

Major Hopkins said wind and frost, as well as water, apparently had cut the coulee during a period of thousands of years. Many geologists have held the cut was made by the swift-flowing waters of the river, once much larger than at present.

Indian Herbs Blacken Teeth But May Halt Dental Decay

By F. E. COLTON (Associated Press Science Writer)

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two plants that scientists hope will help solve the problem of stopping tooth decay have been sent to the Smithsonian Institution from the wilds of South America.

The juice of the plants is used by the Indians of Colombia and Peru as a tooth preservative. It is reported by scientific scouts who went in the specimens.

There is only one drawback to the use of these plants from the American standpoint—they stain the teeth jet black. South American Indians consider black teeth a beauty asset, but it would probably take the greatest advertising campaign on record to persuade Americans to blacken their teeth for the sake of preserving them.

Find Black-Toothed Skulls
As at least partial evidence that the juices of these plants do preserve the teeth, one of the scientists reports finding skulls in ancient graves with blackened teeth that are in good condition.

One of the plants, which is new to science, has been sent in by W. Andrew Archer, botanical explorer for the department of agriculture. It is called the "queru" or "quedu." The Citara tribe of Indians use it, chewing the young roots to extract ulation, but not less than 15. All members elected by the state as a whole; for comparatively short terms, three or four years; paid substantial salary for full-time work; required to pass certain stringent examinations as to fitness and intelligence; prohibited from having any outside connections, during a term of office; or outside remuneration and easily removable from office.

There should be not over three elected administrative officials; governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general; and a state court. If possible, the legislature should be limited by the constitution to laying down the limits of administrative function, but not prescribing, regulating or interminably changing them.

The legislature ought not to be passing game laws, stock laws, road laws and creating school districts and fixing fees and salaries of county surveyors.

The executive ought to have a veto on legislation, but not as at present; perhaps the elective officials having a majority-vote veto, subject to being overridden by a four-fifths vote of the unicameral legislature.

The constitution ought to say that a simple majority of the legislature can convene or dissolve a session of any time, could pass or kill any bill at any time and that the lawmaking body should act as a permanent body by rules or restrictions.

The state, adopting the best formulas and records it could get, should set up bookkeeping to account for all values, assets, properties, earnings, in terms of financial value; and should levy all its taxes upon an even spread upon the dollar value of everything that has value. It should prescribe that no asset, property or value should have legal being; or the ability to invoke processes of government to protect it that had not been written into the records and paid its share of taxes.

The present brutal injustice of pampering a class of fee officials, giving them power to build political machine and advance self-serving legislation should be uprooted. Any official or employee except the three or four elected, accountable state officials, who took any step toward securing or defeating legislation ought automatically to forfeit his job.

There are endless ideas of how a fresh start might improve the form and type of government; but the builders and leaders of a new state would have from the first the comforting assurance they couldn't do a poorer job than has resulted from 150 years of practice—in Texas from 100 years of actual practice starting from what was a wise and progressive start by a group of people smarter, and more actuated by justice, than those who have followed them.

TEXAS TOPICS

By Raymond Brooks

Editor Max Bentley's discussion of a new state of West Texas, in "West Texas Today" magazine, opens a field for all Utopia-makers to advance their best ideas for the making of this modern, ideal American laboratory of social and economic advancement.

Form of government would be first of all. Ideas, ranging from Plato's commonwealth of senior or senile intellectuals as the governing body to More's Utopia of no government at all; Mussolini's one-man plan and American brain-trust composites of equality, will deal with the form of government.

As a state, its range of variation would be limited. There would be a governor, a legislature of some form, courts and administrative machinery.

Broadly a few individual preferences would be:
A one-chamber lawmaking body, with one member per 10,000 pop.

NEW HOOK AND LADDER BRINGS CITY TROUBLE

LYNN, Mass. (UP) Lynn officials and firemen are having their troubles.

A new $19,000 hook and ladder truck just received is a bit too large for the house. Fire officials are confronted with the problem of how to tear down the wall to allow more room.

That doesn't settle all their problems, however, for Mayor J. Fred Manning discovered that the price of the truck had dropped $2,000 since the contract was signed and said that he would not accept the apparatus unless the city got the full benefit of the reduction.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (UP)—Mansel King, 16, believed to be the youngest lion tamer in the world, has left with his lions, bound for the sawdust trail.

The youthful lion tamer will appear at the Iowa State Fair, and then will travel extensively before he comes back to Texas to appear at the Texas State Fair at Dallas.

Manuel was accompanied by his father, W. A. (Snake) King, internationally known wild animal dealer. The troupe of lions numbers 10.

Famous Old Trains Stored Treasured Relics Of Railway, Past Include 'Atlantic'

BALTIMORE (AP)—Old railway locomotives and famous trains have a last roundhouse at Haleshorpe, near here. Gay costs of paint and bright gilt letterings help many of them to retain the glory of past days.

The old Atlantic, which pulled the first train ever to enter Washington and was welcomed by President Andrew Jackson, is among the collection. Built in 1832, this locomotive served 61 years and pulled the first trainload of troops to Washington in the Civil war.

E. L. Bangs, supervisor of the Roundhouse, says that President Theodore Roosevelt once piloted the Atlantic several miles. When he stepped down from the car, Roosevelt exclaimed "Bully!"

The Baltimore & Ohio began collecting these old engines for the World's Fair at Chicago in 1933. Eleven of them are now on exhibition at the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago, where some of them—too old to travel that far unaided—had to be transported.

Bilious Attacks

For bilious attacks due to constipation, thousands of men and women take Theodore's Black-Draught because it is purely vegetable and brings prompt, refreshing relief. "I have used Black-Draught," writes Mr. T. L. Austin, of McAdenville, N. C. "There is a package of it on my mantel now. I take it for biliousness. If I did not take it, the dullness and headache would put me out of business. It is the greatest medicine to relieve me that I know."

Band, Pep Squad To Accompany Fans Here Next Friday

SWEETWATER—The Sweetwater club, as is the yearly custom, is sponsoring a special train to Big Spring on Friday, Oct. 19, to carry fans to the Sweetwater Mustang-Big Spring football game.

The train will leave Sweetwater at 12:45, arriving in Big Spring in plenty of time for the game, which will be called at 3 o'clock. The return trip will start immediately after the game is over. The admission is set at $1 the round trip.

The club will assist in getting the Pony Princess pep squad, 100 strong, to the game, as well as the high school band.

Aggie Frosh, taking a long pass for the first one and sweeping off end for the second.

The Jr. Hi Bronco football team has not been out for practice yet. Principal Gentry said this morning that they were waiting on some equipment.

An El Paso scribe offers something that might be of interest: "A new record believed to have been established during the World Series just closed and overlooked by figure experts, has been brought to light by N. W. Williams here and forwarded to statisticians."

"According to Williams' belief, the record was set during the fourth inning of the second game, which Detroit won, 3-2, in 12 innings."

"Bill Delancey, Cardinal catcher, opened the inning by flying out to Goalin on the first pitch thrown by 'Schoolboy' Rowe. On the next toss by the Tiger ace, Ernie Ott satl grounded out to Greenberg, unassisted. Leo Durocher, third man up in the inning, fouled one pitch and then went out. Owen to Greenberg, retiring the side on only four pitched balls. Williams believes this is a new mark for the least number of pitches by a twirler during a single inning of a World Series game."

Charlie Green comments in his Nolan County News: "Big Spring, as you know, already has many sports writers over the state. Even Tom Beasley of the Big Spring Herald already has written the headline for his story, 'STERS SWAMP PONIES BY TOPHEAVY SCORE.'" Tom says in his column that the Sters will take the Mustangs quite handily.

Reed's Greyhounds won their second game last week by galloping over the Aggie Frosh 27 to 6. The Greyhounds won their opener about three weeks ago by trouncing a Camp Roosevelt team 18 to 0.

And then, after handing the department a few "razzberries" for being so cheery, Green does his own predicting: "This department has never been very strong on predicting outcome of games. It's bad business in that it's the best possible way to show up an entire lack of knowledge of the sport and comparative strength of teams. But throwing caution to the winds, we predict that the Ponies will take the Herd into camp by a couple of touchdowns."

Marian Gordon

by JEANNE BOWMAN

Chapter Six DIVORCE PARTY

Marian wondered how Silver would take the news. She tried to recall any hint of tragedy during school days and of Silver's reaction.

There had been the time Silver's imported show dog had been run over by a truck. Silver had seemed more angry at the driver than concerned over the dog. Marian had been the one to carry the whimpering animal to her room, summon the veterinarian, then accompany the dog to the hospital to stand by while his forelegs were put into casts.

of Lon and his hero, the big golden blond German shepherd who rode about with him when she wasn't in the car. She must see he wasn't deprived of his ride. The three of them could ride in that wide seat.

They were circling Sacramento. She put her thoughts aside like so many cards as they landed. A messenger was waiting for her with a wire. From Boston probably. She hesitated a moment before opening it, then did and read:

"Hendon holding his own. May last through night. Effect reconciliation. Bowen."

Marian handed the wire to Estes.

"Hi-you, stranger," exclaimed a jovial voice

She remembered too that after the cats had been removed and the dog moved about with a grotesque limp, Silver had discarded him with a laugh. Oh, well, he was happier than he had ever been with her. He spent serenely glorious days on the Gordon ranch, chasing cotton tails he could never catch, because his hop so closely resembled his own.

Perhaps marriage, four years of living in unity with another being, had taught her something, softened her. Husbands were more important than pets. Yet, Marian believed one could gauge much of a person's character by their treatment of animals. That made her think who read it with a queer little snort of disgust. "He must think you're Dan Cupid's twin sister," he remarked.

Marian smiled, but she was relieved that her word to Silver wouldn't be one of death. She relaxed, as they took off again and when the stewardess came with sandwiches, salad and coffee, found her early evening appetite had returned.

Refreshed, she leaned back, determined to enjoy the trip. Dark blue sky above, a lazy old moon working its way up from the hills below and ahead of them. The far flash of beacons wheeling white rays against the silvered tins of the Sierras, or punctuating the landscape with dots of red and blue.

Somewhere down there was her home, its planted acres spread out like a tattered crazy quilt, with pines and redwoods for a fringe. She wondered if the family would hear the roar of the ship and remark, "There goes the east bound" never realizing she was in it.

Lulled by the rush of the ship through the night she relaxed, slept. Estes prodded her into consciousness as they topped the divide, a moment later, pointing out Truckee below, and then not long after that,

Mrs. Vanderbilt Sob

Leaving the guarded courtroom during the hearing over the custody of her 10-year-old heiress daughter, Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt (above) went into an adjoining room and broke into tears. (Associated Press Photo)

Henry Marks, the Dispatch correspondent, was waiting at the door, and rushed them through without the ceremony of a greeting.

"Got to step on it," he remarked as he ushered them into his car. "We're taking the Galena Creek road over Mt. Rose. It's a little rough and may be slick on the top side but we couldn't make it in time by any other route. Hang on and pray."

Marian understood what he meant a few moments later. They had left the Carson highway and were racing, it seemed, straight for the sky. She who had ridden fire trucks, police ambulances and airplanes, gripped the side of the car and hoped the equipage would stay on the road, and she in the car.

And then she forgot her fear. They had topped the mountain and below, spread out like a crinkled piece of silver paper, lay the moon-washed Lake Tahoe, rimmed with snow peaked mountains and fringed with black pines.

Swiftly they descended to the shore, rolled along the road to turn into an imposing grey-stone entrance and follow the drive to a large rock and log lodge, around which were smaller log buildings.

Marian drew up before one of these, already hedged in with parked cars and Marian sat looking at it. Behind, the mountains reared, pine and fir covered to the snow line. Before it lay the lake. For one scant moment it appeared to be a pioneer lodge on the frontier of civilization, fire light flickering on its window panes, smoke curling up from the stone chimney.

And then that illusion was dispelled. The door burst open to emit a scurrying figure and with the figure came a blast of radio music and rising above this, shrieks of laughter and the chant of a song.

"The Battle of Hymn of Freedom," remarked the Reno man. Marian looked at him questioningly.

"Mrs. Hendon is evidently celebrating her divorce. Are you going to need help, or shall we stay here?"

Marian, reluctantly. She left the car slowly, walked across the intervening space between driveway and cabin, the door now closed and lifted her hand to rap.

This was going to be more difficult than she had supposed. Bad enough to awaken Silver from sleep to tell her Cliff was dying. But this celebration of her freedom from him! She doubled her fist and beat her knuckles against the door. There was no response. She tried again, then realizing she couldn't be heard above the din, opened the door.

She stepped into the cabin. "Hi-you, stranger," exclaimed a jovial voice.

Marian didn't answer. Her interest was centered on Silver Hendon. Silver sat perched on the back of

Mahons Entertained In Homes Tahoka Friends

TAKOKA — Congressman-elect and Mrs. Geo. H. Mahon and their little daughter Daphne of Colorado spent Saturday night and Sunday here as the guests of District Attorney and Mrs. G. H. Nelson.

At the Panhandle-South Plains Fair at Lubbock on Saturday afternoon, in the presence of a throng of possibly fifteen thousand people, Mr. Mahon was presented with a suit of clothes made in the Textile department of the Texas Technological college. President Bradford A. Knapp made the presentation speech and Mr. Mahon responded happily in a brief address.

Mr. Mahon and Mr. Nelson were schoolmates in the law department of the University of Texas several years ago, since which time they have been fast friends.

Mrs. Mahon also was not unknown in Tahoka, since she was teaching in the public schools here when she and Mr. Mahon were married in December 1923. Mr. and Mrs. Mahon met many friends here Sunday.

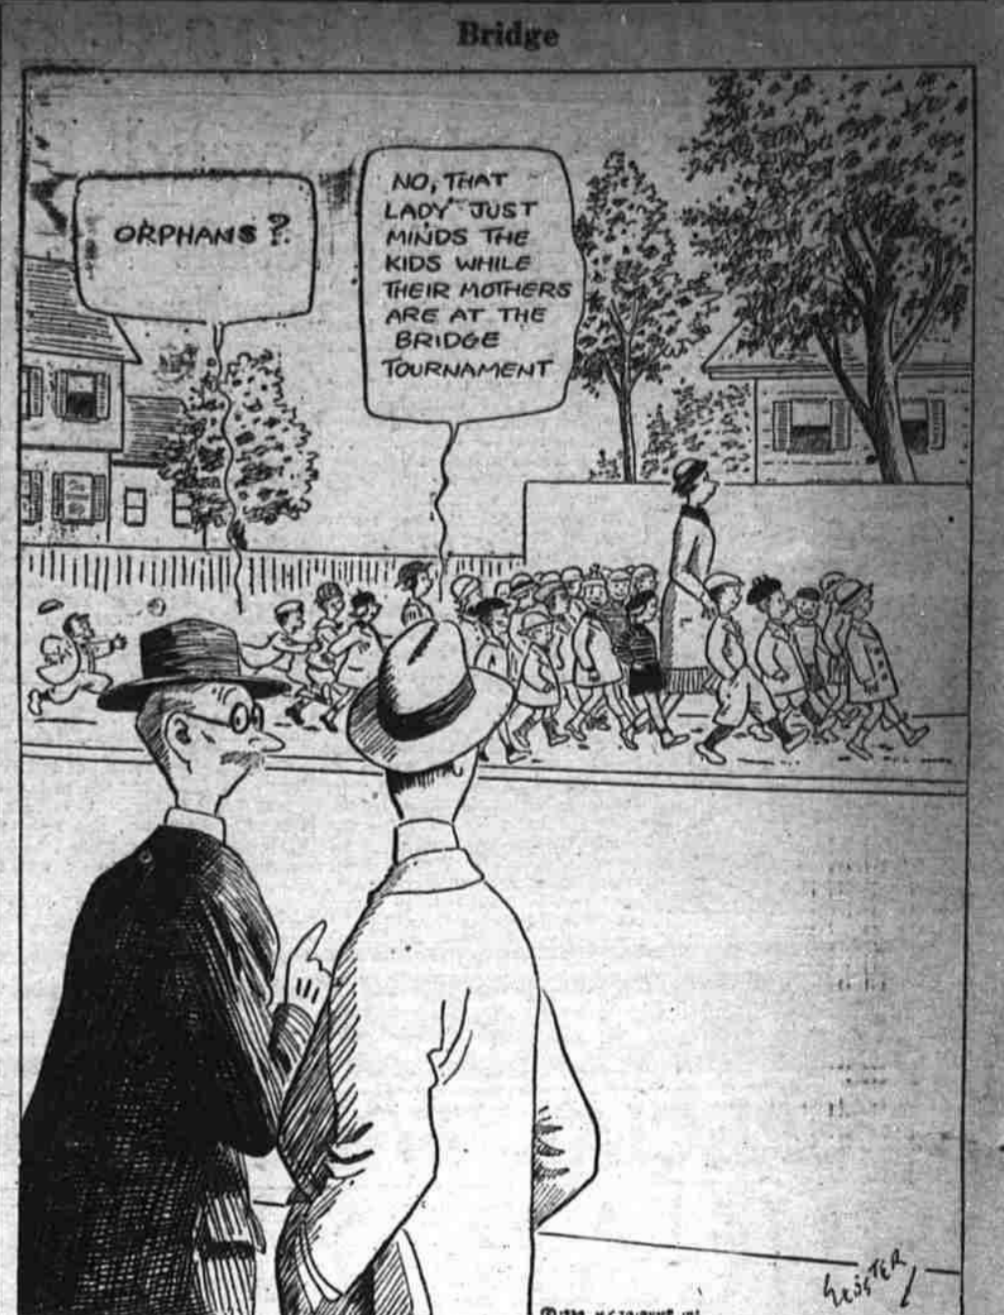

National standards for various varieties of vegetables are being worked out by the department of agriculture.

DIZZY GIVES 'EM THE WORKS

Dixie Dean showered himself with glory in the deciding world series game at Navan Field, Detroit. Besides fanning five men, he rapped out a couple of hits—and even did some fancy sliding, as this photograph shows. He was snapped as he ploved into second base for a two-bagger in the third inning. St. Louis won from the Detroit Tigers 11 to 9. (Associated Press Photo).

ROTHROCK HEADS FOR SECOND

Joe White's slow handling of the ball gave Rothrock, St. Louis outfielder, a two-base hit in the first inning of the final world series game at Detroit. Rothrock is shown here rounding first base and heading for second on what looked like a one-base hit. However, he was stranded on second. St. Louis won the deciding game of the series 11 to 9. NEW YORK
 By JAMES McMULLIN
Free—

New York business Columboes are cheered because the New Deal haven reported by their masthead scous of the starboard—or conservative—bow seems to be getting nearer and more real. They are losing their fear that it will turn out to be another mirage.
 They like the way the new NRA is shaping up better and better. When Donald Richberg spoke of the need to restore free competition the only restriction being a ban on lower wages and longer hours.

Consumers—
 Big business won't mind this last as much as you might think. There's some grumbling in disheveled circles about labor retaining all its costs benefits while industry

WAGES—

Several companies on the borderline of solvency revived an old stunt to wriggle around wage provisions. The idea was to tell employees that contracts were in the offering to assure steady work for months—but only at prices which made wage-cuts imperative. "Temporary" reductions were to be accepted voluntarily by labor in exchange for extended job security.
 The bright boys who thought this up have been cracked on the knuckles by NRA. Wage chiseling—however disguised—is one form of free competition the new New Deal will NOT stand for.

Improved—

On the financial side relations between the government and the bankers have improved remarkably in the last two weeks. Here are several significant bits of evidence to confirm a new spirit of cooperation on the banking side.
 1. The government bond market has notably strengthened. One reason is that the big banks have quit unloading long terms every time prices begin to move up.
 2. The conversion of the called 4th Liberties—which had all the earmarks of a colossal flop at the outset—became a normally successful operation by a last minute spurt. The bankers' change of front had a lot more to do with that than the world knows.
 3. All Wall Street agrees that the December refunding will be easy and can be had practically on the treasury's own terms.
 4. Watch for treasury announcement on October 15 that a large additional volume of 4th Liberties will be called for redemption next April. You can bet all the oil in Oklahoma that Mr. Morgenthau will not make such a commitment unless he has assurance of full cooperation from the financial powers on refunding arrangements.

Lamba—

American Bankers association officials are having their little headaches. A number of delegates to the forthcoming Washington convention are primed to shoot off their anti-New Deal grouches. But the leaders have decided that the meeting must reflect an atmosphere of friendly cooperation with FDR and are trying hard to shush the malcontents in advance.
 Every precaution will be taken to prevent any notes from mar- rying the close harmony and it's a 20 to 1 shot you'll see the financial lines behaving like wise lambs.

Insurance—

New York learns that an unemployment insurance bill—to be introduced at the next session of congress with FDR's blessing—is being shaped up. In its present form it calls for contributions equal to 2-1/2% of payrolls from capital and labor alike. The government would also kick in at the outset to get things moving. There won't be much financial opposition to the proposal as you might expect—especially if the Country 30-hour bill is shelved.

Sidelights—

Wall Street hears that fifteen ex-millionaires have applied for jobs with the Securities Exchange commission. It seems the gentlemen went broke playing the markets and figure they ought to know something about what regulations are needed. Jesse Jones' suggestion for a bus tax is part of the build-up for his job of saving the railroads.

Injury

 came apart without provocation. Senter estimated it was making about 1200 revolutions per minute at the time.
 Ralph Nell and a group of workmen narrowly missed being killed when the wheel burst asunder. One of them had started in the direction of a Studebaker automobile motor, which furnished power, with the intention of cutting it off.
 Pulp wood against the end of the projectiles bore mute testimony to the force with which they were hurled.
 Friday all sections of the wheel had been located, five of them having been collected at the hatchery at 517 East 3rd street and the other, which made the longest journey, at the police station.

Burrows Convicted Of Cotton Theft, Gets 2 Year Term

Gus Burrows was found guilty of cotton theft by a 70th district court jury Friday morning and sentenced to 2 years in the state prison.
 The case was given to the jury 8:30 p. m. Thursday after it had been opened Thursday morning.
 Alfred Burrows pleaded guilty to a similar charge and was given a 2 years suspended sentence. Raymond Burrows pleaded not guilty, was convicted and given a 4 year suspended sentence.

61-Pound Melon Brought To City

T. H. Johnson, well-known farmer of the Elmore community, brought a large 61-pound watermelon to town Friday morning. He was displaying the large fruit at the chamber of commerce office, where it was the object of much attention. Johnson says he will keep this year's crop.

Committee Asks Solons To Aid Centennial

The Howard county division committee for the Texas Centennial Friday afternoon went on record as favoring an appropriation by the legislature of not less than $5,000,000 as Texas' part in financing the 100th birthday party of the state.
 Such an appropriation would be added to that of $3,000,000 by Dallas, where the show is to be held, and an estimated $11,000,000 requested from the federal government.

Big Spring was favored by the committee as a secondary exposition site. The committee addressed a resolution to the state executive committee asking that this city be considered for a secondary exposition because of its historical background.
 This place has the only known permanent water hole between the Colorado and Pecos rivers and was the center of attraction for Indians and travelers in this section before it was settled.
 Bruce Frasier, chairman of the local committee, pointed out that "invaluable advertising and publicity would be had by the city of Big Spring if location of a secondary exposition were approved here." He added that the name of this city and the attractions would be listed on all centennial literature.

The chairman asked for a public expression of the committee's action.
 Attending the meeting were C. T. Watson, Neil Hatch, Mrs. Ches Anderson, Mrs. T. L. Freeman, Shina Phillips, and Will Hayden.

Brains and Organization. When brains and organization cease to be important business factors, the St. Louis Cardinals will fall in the baseball business. But not now.

Will Cardinals Move? There has been much talk of moving the St. Louis franchise to Columbus and abolishing the American Association club. In St. Louis, the Cardinals play in a park owned by the St. Louis Browns.

What About Detroit? Of course the Cardinals would like to move into Detroit. The city has size, and it is a good enough baseball city to support two major league teams. But there is one person who would object—Frank Navin of the Detroit Tigers.

Most of the men are liberal with their votes on the proposition, so long as their city is not affected. But if it is, they change from liberal to conservative.

In other words, the Cardinals have about as much chance of changing their franchise as the Reds have of buying Dixie Dean.
