HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

Of course we'd talk about the census today.

An increase of 271 per cent, a grand total of 13,731.

How about the boys who were guessing under 10,000?

Big Spring got a good, fair count. There was no padding or duplicating. Far from it.

In fact, when the rolls were first sent from here to the district supervisor he was so astounded at the figure that he sent them back.

Then a laborious checking process, consuming two weeks, was started. Records of each of the local enumerators were checked individually. Then they were checked against each other. And, finally, they were checked against rolls of the enumerators working in Howard county outside the city limits.

So thorough and so efficient was the job that the fact is there were less than one hundred duplications.

These enumerators merit a vote of thanks from every one of us. They worked hard and long. In fact, they worked many, many hours without any remuneration at all.

To the Chamber of Commerce, too, there should go a lot of credit. Working in cooperation with the enumerators it helped with the clean-up during the last ten days of the enumerating period.

And, even though the figure did jump more than 1,500 past the mark of 12,000—the figure heretofore generally conceded as the correct one for Big Spring, there were several groups not enumerated, among them practically all the employes on the T & P shops and Settles Hotel constructions.

Big Spring now will be—for ten years—the largest city, officially, between Fort Worth and El Paso with the single exception of Abilene, which counted 23,126 persons within her city limits.

Big Spring is smaller only than Amarillo, San Angelo, Abilene and Lubbock in all West Texas.

We ought to be proud of this growth. We ought to get it in our heads that we really do reside in one of the largest and most important cities of Texas, that we must meet the enlarged responsibilities thus created.

One for all. All for Big Spring.

BROWN HAS MARGIN FOR GOVERNOR

Wet Candidate Far Behind; Pinchot Is Second

PHILADELPHIA, May 21 (AP)—Returns from 7706 districts out of 8701 in the state showed that the lead of Francis Shunk Brown candidate for governor in yesterday's primary had dwindled to 8,518 over Gifford Pinchot. Secretary of Labor James J. Davis saw his lead over Senator Joseph R. Gundy mount to 220,000.

With 995 districts missing, the vote for Brown was 572,990; Pinchot 464,478. The vote for Thomas W. Phillips, the wet candidate, was 244,727.

Missing districts are from up-state country where Pinchot has been receiving his strongest support.

SOUTH DAKOTA
PIERRE, S. D., May 21 (AP)—Warren E. Green of Hazel, who placed last in a field of five candidates in the state primaries two weeks ago, today was the republican candidate for governor. He will oppose D. A. McCullough of Sioux Falls, democrat, in the November election.

Green was nominated last night by the state convention after a heated fight which deposed a woman candidate who placed first in the primaries—Miss Gladys Pyle, secretary of state—and three others.

Miss Pyle led a field of five in the primaries, but failed to poll the requisite 35 per cent vote, necessitating nomination by party convention.

The final vote: Green 64,223; Pyle 47,985; Carl Trygstad, Brookings, 7,340; Brooks Howell, 3,441; and Carl Gunderson, Mitchell, none.

PHILADELPHIA, May 21 (AP)—Returns from 6805 districts out of 8701 in the state for governor gave Francis Shunk Brown a lead over Gifford Pinchot of 43,229. The figures included all of Philadelphia and 1238 out of 1458 districts in Allegheny county. The totals were Brown 536,806; Pinchot 493,577; Thomas W. Phillips, wet candidate 229,705.

Babe Smashes Three Homers In One Game

PHILADELPHIA, May 21 (AP)—Babe Ruth smashed out three home runs in the first game of today's double header between the Yankees and the Athletics. It was the first time the slugger ever had hit three homers in a regular season game although he has twice performed the feat in world series contests. The first two came off George Earnshaw in the first and third innings and the third of Bob Grove in the eighth. The three homers gave him the American League lead with a total of nine.

Houston Man Is New Bishop

DALLAS, May 21 (AP)—Dr. A. Frank Smith of Houston showed an unexpected large gain on the seventh ballot in the voting on a third new bishop for the Methodist Episcopal church, south, at the general conference here today. He jumped from 20 votes on the sixth ballot to 113 votes on the seventh. Dr. T. D. Ellis of Louisville received 180 votes on the seventh ballot.

It was learned that Dr. Forney Huttenhain had told delegates last night of his intention to withdraw from the race, and it was said a number of the delegates were trying to select a western man that would be suitable for the place.

The Graf at the time of her message, was about 800 miles north of the Equator and about 1,400 miles from Pernambuco, Brazil, the first South American destination.

Question Curtis About Retainers

CHICAGO, May 21 (AP)—Harry K. Curtis, Chicago attorney and son of Vice-President Charles Curtis, was called to the state's attorney's office today and questioned concerning complaints of local contracting firms that he had paid Curtis retainers for his aid in obtaining government contracts.

Curtis told Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney, that he had received approximately $10,000 in legitimate fees from contractors for legal work including investigation and research on building contracts. He denied, however, that any fees had been accepted on a promise to exert personal influence with Washington officials to win contracts for his clients.

Mike Maloy, taken into custody as reputed "go-between" in the transactions of Curtis and the contractors, was interrogated with the vice president's son.

Chain Banking Is Given Rap

TULSA, Okla., May 21 (AP)—Group, chain and branch banking came in for criticism in an address by James G. Strong, Kansas congressman, chairman of the house committee on banking and currency before the Oklahoma Bankers' Association convention here today. He pictured the new methods of multi-unit banking as having a tendency to permit monopolies and centralized control of money and credits for selfish interests.

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 21 (AP)—Trial of the $2,000,000 receivership suit against the Oklahoma Cotton Growers' Association, set for Thursday in district court here, has been superseded by an appeal to the state supreme court, and no further action will be taken pending outcome of the appeal, it was said today by attorneys in the case.

The appeal was taken from the ruling of district Judge Tom G. Chambers, refusing to vacate his previous order appointing R. H. Wilson temporary receiver.

1-YEAR-OLD HARPISHT GIVES PARIS CONCERT

PARIS, May 21 (INS)—Doina Nora Michaelesco, aged seven years, harpist for the Queen of Rumania, recently gave a concert in Paris. Fresh, plump, and rosy, little Doina is only half as tall as her harp, but this does not prevent her from being one of Europe's most interesting child prodigies.

A DISH-WASHING CHAMPION

Because Madona Asslin's hands were more nimble than a score of other young women's, she won the title of dish-washing champion of southern California. The contest was a feature of the Los Angeles food and household show.

NEED FOR SIDEWALKS SHOWN IN POSTMASTER'S ADDRESS

Need for additional sidewalks in Big Spring in order to increase the mail delivery staff of the postal service, was discussed today by E. E. Fahrenkamp, postmaster, at the regular session of the Business Men's Luncheon Club.

According to data presented the body by the postmaster, construction of new sidewalks in the south portion of the city would provide means for opening 50 more blocks to free mail delivery, increase the staff of carriers, and provide additional funds totaling $9,270 annually to Big Spring's payroll.

At the present time Big Spring has only three carriers, according to Mr. Fahrenkamp. The postoffice department figures a city of 11,000 should have at the least seven carriers on full time.

Approximately 5,000 people, and 111 blocks are served at the present time by the three carriers. Although additional aid is needed, condition of territory does not warrant adding a new carrier to cover the improved section of the city, according to Mr. Fahrenkamp.

The postmaster estimated Big Spring that should exist. In 1928 the percentage was 44. In most towns it ranges between 82 and 87 percent, and should be established about 75 percent.

Mr. Fahrenkamp outlined an improvement program whereby 50 additional blocks could be added to the delivery. He suggested construction of continuous sidewalks on Seury street, with the same on Johnson or Rannels Streets.

This would throw open a new section, inasmuch as other requirements, such as street lights, house numbers and street guides have been provided. He suggested the business men work in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce and service clubs of the city in waging a campaign for additional sidewalks.

V. R. Smitham, city manager, announced the city engineer's force could make a survey in order to obtain concrete facts as to needs, after Tuesday of next week.

Further discussion of the project will be made at the next session of the organization.

Entertainment for the day was provided by five high school seniors, Veda Robinson, Margaret Bettle, Clara Brenner, Janice Mellinger and Pauline Melton, the first four being presented in quartet, the latter accompanying at the piano.

OWEN ROBERTS IS AUTHORIZED TO TAKE OATH

WASHINGTON, May 21 (AP)—Owen J. Roberts of Philadelphia was authorized today to take office as an associate justice of the supreme court.

His nomination to that post was approved unanimously by the senate late yesterday, in sharp contrast with the bitter disputes that preceded the confirmation of Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes and the rejection of the nomination of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina.

Roberts will succeed the late Associate Justice Edwin Terry Sanford, to whose post Parker was nominated. The new member of the highest court is recognized as an outstanding lawyer and gained national distinction through his services as a special government prosecutor in the oil scandal cases. He has never before served on the bench.

Demote Captain At Ohio Prison

COLUMBUS, O., May 21 (AP)—John Hall, night captain of Ohio penitentiary was demoted to guard today by Warden P. E. Thomas an aftermath of the Easter Monday prison fire in which 320 convicts perished. Since the fire Hall has been confined to his home with a nervous disorder.

Testimony at the state's investigation of the fire was that Hall had been slow in ordering night guards to unlock the cells in which the prisoners were trapped.

Turtle Derby Is New Feature For Local Jubilee

GET your turtle on a diet and start training him right now.

For you may win sizeable prizes with him at the Turtle Derby, to be held here during the Oil Men's Jubilee July 3, 4, and 5.

The program committee announced Wednesday that three big races will be held during the Jubilee.

To the uninitiated it might be explained that a turtle race is one wherein a number of turtles, each the "entry" of a human being, are placed in the center of a large ring, covered by an electric blanket (the better to put pep into them).

When the blanket is snatched off the turtles are supposed to start a mad rush for the outer rim of the circle.

THE winning turtle is the first one that crosses the boundary of the circle. If he goes only partly across and turns back he hasn't "finished."

To assure smooth running of the Derby program efforts are being made to get Fred Olmstead, who really calls Big Spring home but spends a lot of time in and around Ponca City, Okla., to come here and referee the races.

Olmstead is the founder of the famous Turtle Derby staged annually at Ponca City on the Miller Brothers' 101 ranch. In fact, he founded the first Turtle Derby in the history of the world.

THERE will be three races. The morning of July 4 prizes of $50 and $25 for first and second will be offered.

Prizes in the race on the afternoon of July 4 will be $75 and $25.

The final setto, the afternoon of July 5, will carry prizes of $100 and $50.

Lights Being Installed At New City Park

FORMER BORGER SOLON, OTHERS FACE CHARGES

AMARILLO, Texas, May 21 (AP)—Former Mayor Glenn Paos of Borger and five other Borger residents, including several former deputy sheriffs, faced arraignment today on federal charges of conspiracy to violate national prohibition laws.

A blanket indictment returned against them Monday by the federal grand jury alleged they conspired to organize a "liquor line" in Hutchinson county and Borger.

Thirty Bids For Sewer Work Here Already Received

Keen competition for the construction of sewerage improvement is reflected in the number of plans and specifications being issued at the office of V. R. Smitham, city manager.

According to Smitham, 30 sets of the plans and specifications have been given to prospective bidders. Sealed bids for the construction of the sewerage disposal plant, outfall line and collection system, will be opened at the regular meeting of the city commission Tuesday night.

The city reserves the right to accept bids covering such angle of the construction program, or award all to one bidder.

ABILENE, Tex., May 21 (AP)—Thomas L. Blanton of Abilene continued to hold his lead over Mrs. R. Q. Lee of Cisco in latest returns compiled in yesterday's special election to name a successor to the late Congressman R. Q. Lee, husband of the woman candidate.

Returns compiled at noon gave Blanton, who formerly represented the Seventeenth Texas district in congress, a lead of 1,760 votes over Mrs. Lee. His total was 2,668 and Mrs. Lee's 908.

These figures showed only complete returns from one county, Taylor, of the 19 counties in the district.

Blanton sent the following telegram to Mrs. Lee:

"Even though unsuccessful you made a most gallant fight. I have been really honored by having so worthy and formidable an opponent. Please command me when I may serve you or your friends. With kindest wishes and with great respect I am sincerely yours,

"THOMAS L. BLANTON."

McKinney had Lavender five down at the turn of the ninth hole, but the Abilene boy's comeback was insufficient. Bud's valdictory was a 10 foot putt which he made on the last hole.

Signon Gusher Reported Shut

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 21 (AP)—Owners of the Number 1 Signon Oil well, which got away from the drillers when it was completed Friday and had been blowing wild since, announced that it was shut in last night by a die nipple.

The oil-saturated lease was being cleaned up and the remainder of oil trapped in pits and cellar was being recovered preparatory to resumption of normal activities in the southeastern corner of the field, which have been suspended because of the fire menace presented by the cloud of oil and gas.

MAGNOLIA OILERS WIN SPLIT SEASON CROWN

Unheralded Hurler By Name Of Rainey Pitches Brilliantly Against Continental Oil Company

While an unheralded moundman by the name of Rainey held Continental off with two hits, with a victory meaning the first half championship, the Magnolia Oilers downed the Continental nine in the most sensational game of the season by a score of 1 to 0. Johnson hurled a wonderful game for the losers, holding the slugging Magnolia outfit to only two singles.

The victory was a great triumph for the brilliant Cramer, ace of the Magnolia staff, who was passing at shortstop to a score arm. He was the fielding star of the game, and his perfect bunt in the sixth inning scored Ferguson with what proved to be the winning tally. McGee and Ferguson scored the only two Magnolia hits while Green and Cooper were the only ones to hit safely off of Rainey. Neither side committed a blunder throughout the brilliant contest that clinched the first half of the Magnolia team.

Cooper made a great effort to tie the score in the seventh when he singled and stole second. But the cool Rainey whiffed Moody and Johnson to retire the side. They were his eleventh and twelfth strikeout victims of the day. The Magnolia outfit scored in the sixth. Ferguson walked and promptly stole second. Rainey was safe when Cooper elected to try for Ferguson at third. Cramer worked the squeeze play to perfection and Ferguson, leading hitter of his team, crossed the plate with the winning run. Chester grounded out to end the inning.

NATURAL GAS INDUSTRY ON UPWARD TRIP

TULSA, Okla., May 21. (AP)—The natural gasoline industry, which supplies 12 per cent of America's motor fuel supply has weathered the squalls of depression created by world wide overproduction of oil and may expect a gradual improvement through the rest of the year.

The view, containing optimism yet tempered with a note of conservatism, was before the annual convention of the National Gasoline Association of America here today, presented by Dr. E. R. Lederer of Fort Worth, Texas, president of the organization, in his opening address.

Natural gasoline is condensed from natural gas and is used as a blending agent in making motor fuels and for various other purposes. In oil field terms it is " casing head" gasoline.

Dr. Lederer pointed out that while the outlook for 1930 was "none too rosy" the industry is in a healthy condition and should ring up satisfactory though diminished profits in the year's balance sheet.

The doctor will also obtain material concerning the pioneer work of French Huguenots in colonizing Georgia and South Carolina.

It is hoped that the journal of Pere Marquette, now at St. Mary's College in Montreal, along with his crucifix and prayer book may be loaned for the exhibition.

Doctor Chinard also hopes to obtain the loan of the Bible used at the Huguenot Church at Charles town, Ga., three hundred years ago.

LIL STONER BACK, SETS SHREVEPORT DOWN, 2-1

Panther Stock On Upward Trend, Says Cats

By GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Things were looking up at Fort Worth today. Lil Stoner was back in town. The stock righthander so blazed his way to stardom with the Cats a half dozen years ago heralded his return from the big show yesterday by setting the Shreveport Sports down with four hits and beating them, 2 to 1, in the final bout of their series.

If he continues the form he displayed in his initial start, Stoner may prove the wheelhorse to lead the Panthers out of the woods. The team owes its present berth in the lower bracket to the collapse of what looked like a great hurling staff.

Loss of the decision cost Art Phenix's men their hold on third place. The Beaumont Exporters climbed into that niche by splitting a double bill with Houston. Muleshoe Vaughn bested Floyd Rose 2 to 1, in the first, but Joe Brown gave the Buffs an even break when he set the shippers down with three hits and blanked them, 1 to 0, in the nightcap. While the Buffs stood still, the onrushing Wichita Spudders bowled Dallas over a third straight time to take a firmer hold on first place. The score was 7 to 3, the winning runs rinding in on Howard Fitzgerald's double after two were in the ninth. The Indians took a woolly affair from Waco, scoring seven runs in the sixth inning to win, 9 to 6, after the Cubs had jumped on old Tom Estill for five in the early rounds. Hobo Cason, the former T. C. U. hero, went in and stopped the Prattner and drove in three runs with a triple in the big sixth frame.

North Texas club switched sparring partners today, the Spudders moving over to Fort Worth and the Sports invading Dallas.

Gold Star Mothers See Graves Of Their Soldier Sons Today

Romance, France, May 21 (AP)—Nearly two-thirds of the American gold star mothers looked for the first time today on their soldier sons' graves in the principal American military cemetery here.

The mothers came in motor cars from historic Verdun where they spent the night resting from their long drive from Paris.

The sky itself was tinged with sadness and rain cut short the pilgrimage after an hour. Many of the mothers had brought evergreen wreaths, some entwined with flowers and others found wreaths ready for them here.

The mothers, almost 200 of them, went in little groups to different parts of the cemetery and there prayed at the graves of their boys. There was some sobbing and all were wet eyed as they lived over again the day their sons departed.

When after an hour a squall of rain came, the mothers were hurried by the accompanying officers to the hostess house where they had lunch.

All of the mothers arrived at Verdun last night, but many were tired. Mayor Schleiter and other officials as well as the French war widows of the region greeted them.

EASTLAND, May 21 (AP)—Mrs. J. H. Leach, mother of Danny Leach of Cisco, charged with slaying a man identified as Jack Johnson of Golden, Colo., testified for her son here today.

Mrs. Leach related that A. B. Morton, state's witness who swore that Leach told him that he had killed a man, came to her home and told her that if she would give him $50 to buy off employes of a carnival that he would see that her son was never convicted.

She said that she told him that she did not have the money but that if he was broke as he claimed he was she would let him sleep in her home.

Joe H. Jones, county attorney, in cross examining the witness brought out the fact that Leach had married after his arrest on the murder charge while out on bond.

SMOKERS THE WORLD OVER stick to Chesterfield because of its thorough dependability of quality, its unchanging good taste.

GOOD TASTE!—What smoker would trade it for any number of cigarette claims? No Chesterfield smoker would. For here choice tobaccos are blended and cross-blended to a finer aroma and a richer, milder flavor to give you the utmost a cigarette can offer... "TASTE above everything".

We state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield cigarettes are of finer quality and hence of better taste than in any other cigarette at the price. LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

The Abilene & Eastern

VICTORY OF CIVIC loyalty backed by good American dollars appears in a fair way of being realized over the opposition of a great railway company in the case of the Abilene & Eastern application...

To organize the railroad company Abilene citizens subscribed for $450,000 in stock to match a similar amount to be owned by Frank Bell of Wichita Falls...

He declares, also, that the citizens' interest in their city and the willingness to invest in the line cannot fairly be criticized.

Big Spring would do well to study all new railroad projects inaugurated in West Texas, New Mexico and Colorado. This city will find itself soon—if it indeed is not already very near the point—when its continued growth will be seriously endangered by lack of rail outlets.

HOLLYWOOD — Unintentionally a movie actor, but glad of it, young David Manners has met many turning-points in his life in the same manner — unintentionally.

It was certainly never intended that he should be an actor at all, coming from a family which did not regard the stage too highly as a profession.

As an adolescent in New York City David had become definitely interested in the theater, and to remove him from that center of stage activity and from the influence of numerous theatrical friends, his parents sent him to the University of Toronto to become a civil engineer.

ERROR

They reckoned without the university's little theater group which of course defeated the parental aim. David graduated in forestry and returned to New York, not to work with trees but to go on the stage.

Then slowly the theater began to lose glamor for him. The play ran 45 weeks, and David irked under the monotony.

He expressed his growing distaste one night to a friend, incidentally, but the remark led him from the stage. The friend introduced him to a fine arts concern which employed him.

LUCKY BOY

He came to Arizona to recover, becoming a cowboy guide. Incidentally, it was through a near-accident that he met Miss Suzanne Bushnell, now his bride. Her horse ran away, and David, pursuing in the approved fashion of movie hero, saved her.

Murder at High Tide

CHARLES G. BOOTH

SYNOPSIS: A maze of conflicting evidence confronts detectives in the murder of Dan Parados. At first members of his household are suspected.

"Well, maybe I wish I knew who paid for that advertisement. What do you know about Lacote's parents?" "His mother was French. Of his father we know nothing. It is thought that Lacote once served in an arsenal, but we do not know."

VOICES IN THE DARK

This newspaper notice, Flique told Samuels, had appeared in three French journals for six months.

"And their escape seven months ago was in headlines all over the world," Samuels muttered. "This notice went into print a month later—hmm—plenty of time to get over there from California."

"None. The money to pay for it was sent—as you say—anonymous."

"I do not know, my friend." "Assuming that it is, do you think that Bec and Balafre killed him?"

"Monsieur, I do not know. I have the open mind. But from what I have learned of le Balafre and Ciceron Bec, M. Parados was not killed by them."

"Because a devil lives in their hearts. After 25 years on I'll du Diabole could it be otherwise? Those two would not content themselves with a bullet in the heart of the one who sent them there. They are artists. The death of Jules Lacote would be an awkward one for that person, I assure you."

"But as here," Samuels countered. "That notice brought you to San Lucas. Wouldn't they figure on your people seeing it and looking it up? I should think they'd want to put themselves on the other side of the earth."

"I do not know," Flique said, shrugging. "I take the chance. Perhaps they will, also. Which has supremacy in their hearts, fear of le Surete, or lust for vengeance?"

perhaps 30 feet away from it when voices—Celia's and Annersley's, I thought—became audible.

"Oh, Claude, how could you do that?" "Celia, Celia!" Annersley pleaded. The girl began to weep. "I wouldn't have believed it of you! Oh, Claude—"

"But, Celia, dear—" Annersley broke off. "Bash!" he muttered. "There's someone coming."

"What an idiot I am!" I muttered. "Why didn't I think of that?" I remembered the billiard room window. To my relief it was open and I stepped softly into the room, latching the window behind me.

Half way across the dark room I paused with a prickling sensation at the base of my neck. There is nothing comparable with the feeling I was as positive as I was of my own existence that some one beside myself was in the room.

My first thought was of Brent collection, but I had already brushed against some of the pictures and the pottery was still on the billiard table. No, it was my impression that the intruder, whoever he was, was after something else. I was not afraid, but I did not move.

It could not be Annersley or Celia. Nor Caroline. Miss Jahries, Flique, Mrs. Parados, Johns, Grainger—one of these, perhaps, but for some obscure reason I did not think so. And then I thought of le Balafre and Ciceron Bec and my blood turned cold. Likely enough—

And then, quite distinctly, I heard the sound I had been waiting for. What it was I did not know. But it gave me the impetus I needed. The intruder was making for the hall door. If I had had a clear course we should probably have reached the door together, but there was a chair in my way. My foot caught in one of its legs and I pitched headlong to the floor.

It would raise its members on dairy products. The club, which draws its membership from the younger college set started in the Sigma Phi Society at S. M. U. because the co-eds decided that every member should be able to wear gracefully the new tuck-in dresses.

"Every girl must be so proportioned that she can wear the tuck-in dresses."

THEN COLLEGE GIRLS ORGANIZE WAIST LINE CLUB

DALLAS, Texas (NS).—"The Waist Line Club," which originated at Southern Methodist University, and is fast becoming the latest college fad in the South among co-eds, would add the farmer as best it can.

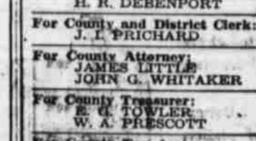

"I wanted a breath of air before turning in and I left by the patio window. Samuels locked it behind me. A path crossed the patio. I followed it, pondering."

Here were a 25-year-old bank robbery in a French city, the purchase of a jade phoenix with a history 30 centuries long, two men escaped from a French penal colony, and Dan Parados with a bullet in his heart...

Coming out of the patio, I thought I might as well go as far as the edge of the cliff that looked down into the cove. A pergola was built on the edge of the cliff. I was

SOVIET LENDS AID IN WAR ON GOITRE

MOSCOW.—(INS).—The Commissariat of Health has dispatched 25 health officers to Turkestan to assist local authorities in combating a mysterious epidemic of malignant goitre.

Physicians in the Kokand and Zeravshansky districts report that 60 per cent of the population is incapacitated by the disease which is spreading throughout Turkestan. Hospital facilities are wholly inadequate to care for more than 10 per cent of the afflicted, to say nothing of enabling surgeons to perform operations.

Turkestan with its dry climate is normally immune to the disease. Health authorities believe that some chemical substance in the drinking water is suddenly affecting the thyroid glands of the inhabitants.

SAYS PROHIBITION IN U. S. IS JOKE

PARIS.—(INS).—That prohibition in the United States exists in name only and that one can get a drink anywhere and anytime, except in Kansas, at the White House and the British Embassy—this was the message brought back from the other side recently by Gilbert White, well known artist.

"I don't like to say it," said Mr. White, "but I found that many so-called 100 per cent Americans are only 80 per cent American and 20 per cent alcohol. The only place where prohibition can truly exist is where people make a religion of it. Americans are for prohibition in spirit only."

Mr. White added that he had travelled around the world to find the top of the earth and had only found it on his return to the starting point, Paris. He was a little bitter over the fact that just because he lived abroad, many Americans at home called him an "ex-patriate." This, he contended, was not so for American ideals and American principles had a wider scope than a mere bit of real estate as exemplified by one's old home town and anyone can be just as good an American abroad as at home.

ANGELO CAFE MAN SUFFERED THREE YEARS

WANTS EVERYBODY TO KNOW WHAT ARGOTANE DID FOR HIM—GAINS DAILY ON ARGOTANE

"I have not only gained in weight and strength since I began taking Argotane, but I have been completely relieved of three years of suffering," said H. M. Johnston, owner and proprietor of the Latin American Cafe, located at 1523 South Chadbourne Street, San Angelo, while in the Schwab Drug Co. the other day.

"Yes, sir, Argotane just knocked my troubles winding," continued Mr. Johnston. "And it is the only medicine I got hold of that did me any good at all. I had been suffering from stomach trouble for the past three years and just gradually grew worse all the time; finally I got to the point where I thought nothing was going to do me any good at all. I didn't know what it was to get a good night's sleep. Finally heartburn started bothering me and what I ate would sour and cause gas to form so bad I couldn't hardly get my breath. I tell you I was in mighty bad shape and the different medicines and treatments I had didn't do me a particle of good."

"I saw Argotane so highly spoken of in the San Angelo papers and I heard several people who had been suffering like I did had been greatly helped by taking the medicine, so that I decided to give it a trial. Well, sir, this beats the world the way I have been improved since I began taking that medicine. Why, I have only taken two bottles so far and am feeling like a different person entirely and my general health is better than it has been in years. I have gotten rid of that stomach trouble and eat three hearty meals every day and I never suffer a particle afterwards. I will tell the world that Argotane is the best medicine I ever saw and I am glad to have this opportunity to pass the good word along."

Genuine Argotane may be bought in Big Spring at the Collins Bros. Drugs.—adv.

Leland planned to leave tomorrow for New Orleans to enter the southern A. A. U. meet and next month will go to Chicago for the National Intercollegiate events.

PARIS BIRD CHARMER ENDS HIS LIFE

PARIS (INS)—Paris has lost one of her most picturesque figures—the well-known bird charmer of the Tuileries gardens has just committed suicide. Henri Julien, dead at the age of sixty-seven, had been coming to the gardens every morning at an early hour for many years. His pockets were always filled with moist bread-crumbs and every little sparrow and pigeon knew when he approached. They would eat from his hand, pose on his white head and fly about him for hours, chirping and seeming to thank their old friend.

Times have been hard with Julien during the past years. The birds were his only happiness and even they could not prevent him from throwing himself from the window of his little lodging.

LARGER PRESS IS PURCHASED FOR HERALD

FOURTH TYPESETTING MACHINE TO BE INSTALLED; OTHER EXPANSIONS

AND, now, more long steps forward for readers of The Herald.

This is formal announcement that The Herald has purchased a 16-page rotary press and a fourth typesetting machine to be installed as soon as they can be shipped to Big Spring.

This press will displace the 8-page "flat-bed" machine now in use.

Included in installation of the press will be a complete stereotyping department.

Advantages of this additional equipment will be many-fold for the reader and the advertiser.

To begin with the paper will be printed more clearly and will present a neater and clean-cut appearance.

Maximum capacity of this press is 12,000 sixteen-page copies per hour, folded.

One basic difference in the new and the present press is that instead of printing directly from the face of the type plates will be cast of each page form and these printing done from the plates. That is what is generally known as a "cut" will be made of each page, in cylindrical form, and these placed on the press.

The other fundamental difference is that the new press will operate with rotary motion rather than forward and backward. This is the chief reason for greater speed.

With installation of this press as many as sixteen pages may be printed on one section. As it is two sections must be printed when the day's volume of advertising justifies an edition of more than eight pages.

In addition to the new press another Linotype will be installed. This will give The Herald four typesetting machines, three Linotypes and an Intertype. Recently too, an Elrod casting machine, which turns out column rules, borders and slugs was installed.

An additional typesetting machine will mean an increase of one-third in the daily capacity of the plant. This will enable "loosening" of the paper. In other words, as more type can be set more pages may be produced with the same column of advertising.

The Herald strives daily to stay abreast of its home city. Doing this has called for unlimited persistence and energy during the past ten years, and especially within the past three.

Founded in 1904 by T. E. Jordan and W. G. Hayden, The Herald was conducted as one of the leading weeklies of the state until June, 1928 when the Daily Herald made its appearance. The Weekly Herald is still published regularly each Friday and is supported loyally especially in the rural communities.

In June, 1928, that the paper might do what it had done through a quarter century, that is meet the needs of its field, Mr. Jordan, who in 1925 had bought the interest of Mr. Hayden, inaugurated the daily. It has grown rapidly just as has the city.

Groundwork for its future having been securely constructed by Mr. Jordan and Mr. Hayden, when the present owners purchased the property March 12, 1929, they had but to continue the excellent work of their predecessors.

Circulation of the Daily Herald has doubled in the past year. The daily circulation now is 3,200.

The paper is a member of the Associated Press and since April 1, 1930 has received the full day leased wire service, the news matter being received in the Herald office continuously for eight hours each week day, with double service Saturday. The automatic printing telegraph machines, one of the finest and most remarkable products of this generation of invention, carry forty words per minute.

Beginning next Monday this speed will be increased to sixty words per minute.

The Associated Press general feature service, daily news and daily comic and cartoon services are also received.

The list of regular correspondents located in strategic points in Howard and neighboring counties, has been greatly enlarged and a sizable sum is spent monthly for this neighborhood news.

Just this week announcement was made of another important addition to facilities offered readers. Beginning next Friday eight full Meaning that, although this picture of the construction of the 16-story Settles hotel building at East Third and South Rannels street was taken but a few weeks ago the project has progressed so rapidly that the structure appears quite differently today. Brick work was being completed Wednesday. Most of the partitions are in, the plumbing is almost finished. This is one of the principal projects which have come to Big Spring within the past two years because of her rapid growth. It is planned to open the hotel in September.

Deep Pays In Howard-Glasscock Field Produce 17,586, 853 Barrels In 20 1-2 Months Despite Proration

Big Spring Gains Position On Air Map

Big Spring rapidly is becoming the chief center of air travel, although there had been an airport here but a year.

Situated on one of the two busiest transcontinental air lanes, the southern route where weather very rarely makes flying hazardous, and located half way between Dallas and El Paso, the long trans-Texas flight is broken here daily by ships of Southern Air Transport division of American Airways, Inc., on the Dallas-El Paso line.

The field is under lease to Southern Air Transport, which maintains division headquarters here.

But two weeks ago a second concern entered Big Spring and patronage has been usually good from the outset. This is the Cromwell Airlines schedule between Big Spring, San Angelo and San Antonio. Its ships, arriving here at 11 a. m. and departing daily at 1 p. m., connect with the S. A. T. ships from El Paso and from the east.

Equipment of the port ranks it among the best in the southwest. It has two large steel hangars, a machine shop building, a five-room administration and office building.

Oil production in the Roberts, Settles, Coffee and Phillips pools of the Howard and Glasscock county field totaled 17,586,853 barrels for the 20 1-2 months ending May 1, 1930, according to reports of E. E. Andrews, proration umpire for the state railroad commission.

Discovery of oil in highly profitable quantities at five distinct levels is generally conceded to have been the stimulant that inaugurated phenomenal growth of the city during the latter half of the decade.

Pay rolls of producers, refiners, pipe lines companies and oil field supply houses operating in Big Spring and the nearby fields is figured by informed oil men at $2,000,000 annually.

Producers operating in Howard county include Humble, Magnolia, American Maracibo, the California company, Cosden & Company, Cranfill-Reynolds, Continental Oil Company, F.H.E. CENSUS SPLITS COUNTY OFFICE

With the announcement today that Big Spring's population exceeds 13,000, the offices of Howard County tax collector and sheriff were automatically split.

Although formal separation of the two offices, which heretofore have been served by one office holder, must come before the general election in November, this action is expected to be taken prior to that time.

Counties with more than 10,000 inhabitants are entitled to a tax collector and a sheriff.

According to several to the county officials, several are waiting the census report received today before announcing for the office of tax collector.

The census has no bearing upon the separation of the county clerk and district clerk's offices.

At the present time Howard county's two offices are presided over by one official.

According to J. I. Pritchard, county and district clerk, creation of two separate offices is based on the number of votes cast in the general election in November.

Should 1,600 votes be cast in the forthcoming governor's election, Howard county would be entitled to the two offices. The total number of votes cast, multiplied by five, decides the question. Should this total equal 8,000 or more, the two offices would be automatically created.

Postal Receipts Substantially Greater

Big Spring, at the present time, can boast of the only first class postoffice between Abilene and El Paso.

By virtue of huge postal receipts in 1928, and even larger ones in 1929, the local unit of the federal system was designated as a first class office.

Continued increase of postal receipts is noted from 1926 through 1929, with the 1930 receipts holding well in comparison with other months.

In 1926 the receipts totaled $24,955.77. This was increased by approximately $6,000 in 1927 when the total reached $30,821.80.

An increase of approximately $16,000 in 1928 over 1927 was made. The total for 1928 was $46,827.71.

The peak was attained in 1929 when the total receipts reached $58,854.30, an increase of $33,896.53 over 1926.

Postal receipts for the first four months of 1930 were, January, $4,323.58; February, $4,449.97; March, $4,439.44; April, $4,687.14.

rod from Coshama to Big Spring on the T&P train, and that when he attempted to leave the train after it had stopped he was shoved and fell on a concrete platform, causing injury to his hip and knee.

One of the tasks thrust upon the people of Big Spring because of rapid growth of the city was provision for proper school facilities.

Realizing this need voters of the Big Spring Independent school district returned a majority of 16 to 1 for a $125,000 bond issue which will be used to build two additional elementary buildings and possibly to enlarge others. Plans and specifications for the two buildings are now being drawn by a local architect, the sites have been bought and contracts are to be awarded within a few weeks.

Scholastic population of the school district was 1,111 in 1920.

In 1930, according to the annual scholastic census of April, this figure had jumped to 2,755.

Actual enrollment for the 1929-30 season was 1,106.

Actual enrollment for the season ending this week was 3,000.

Big Spring's 1930 population, according to official announcement of P. C. Beard, census supervisor, is 13,731, within the city limits.

This is a gain of 9,458 or 321 per cent compared with the 1920 population of 4,273.

What's more, Big Spring is the only city of magnitude in West Texas which, according to the official figures, has more inhabitants than the Chamber of Commerce has ever claimed. Twelve thousand has been the figure printed in all Chamber of Commerce advertising, in all correspondence and otherwise.

"Just why shouldn't Chamber of Commerce figures be as conservative as those from any other source?" C. T. Watson, manager of the organization, asked when reminded that the real population is 1,731 more than had been claimed.

Big Spring population in 1910 was 4,102 but 171 less than ten years later. In 1900 it was 1,245.

Fourth in West

This figure fixes Big Spring's position "securely as the largest city between Fort Worth and El Paso with the exception of Abilene, which enumerated 23,195 persons.

But four West Texas cities are larger—Amarillo, 45,878; San Angelo, 25,304; Abilene 23,126, and Lubbock, 20,018.

Other West Texas cities whose census reports have been released ranked as follows: Sweetwater, 10,844; Midland, 5,482; Eastland, 4,641; Ranger, 3,153; Odessa, 2,697; Breckenridge, 7,556.

Big Spring also passed a number of cities in the other parts of the state, including Greenville, with 12,407. Among other reported cities formerly larger but now smaller are Lawton, Okla., 12,115; Chanute, Kansas, 9,861; Clinton, Indiana, 7,925.

This figure was reached only after eight weeks of constant work by the four local enumerators. During the final ten days of the counting process the Chamber of Commerce gave valuable assistance.

Heavy Task

Basing predictions of the task upon estimates of local citizens, whose guesses ranged from 2,500 to 12,000, and upon the 1920 figure, the census bureau in Washington, D. C., divided the city into four districts, with one enumerator for each.

Two weeks after they began work it was realized the task was stupendous for so small a force. Working from "sun 'til sun" and far into the night, with their reports, they were facing a very long siege of "counting noes." The timely assistance of the Chamber of Commerce helped terminate the work.

Checked

When the rolls were sent to the district supervisor in San Angelo he was so surprised by the total that they were returned to the enumerators, with orders to check them thoroughly for duplications.

This was done. The lists of each enumerator were checked individually. Then against each other and finally against those of the enumerators in the districts of Howard county outside the city limits.

This checking process was completed only Monday, the last list returned to the supervisor Tuesday and the official figure announced and released to The Herald at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday.

C. T. Tucker Asks Election To Tax Collector's Post

Coincided with announcement that Big Spring's population is 13,731 and that, therefore, Howard county has passed the 10,000 mark and the sheriff's and tax collector's office will be divided, C. T. Tucker, resident of Big Spring for 37 years, authorized The Herald to announce that he is a candidate for county tax collector subject to the action of the Democratic primary of July 26, 1930.

Mr. Tucker need no introduction to the people of Big Spring and Howard county. He has had much experience that would fit him for the duties of this office. His friends are legion and of the sort who "swear by" him.

Laundrymen Defeat Bankers In Hit And Run Riot

We will receive sealed bids on the following articles: one reading lamp, one Morris chair, one smoking stand, one nightgown, each to be installed in the grandstand of the Dusty Diamond, to be used on Tuesday when they have ball games like the one yesterday. Harvest moon was shining on when we finally grabbed the money bag, slipped Sammy Sals his three shokels, and went home to stare light bread in the face.

We'll say this. The Bankers almost got to play some free golf over across the way. Bob Middleton's contingent, revised and brought down to date, like to have rained our indignation when they stepped out and made seven runs in the first inning of yesterday's game. The Laundry had the Banking Department nosed out by one run in the fifth, but they went another inning and when the moonlight had cleared the Laundrymen had added four more tallies, just for target practice.

If ever we needed a 1 and 0 ball game, it was yesterday. Held a slight conference with the dentist just prior to the diamond engagement, and then had a little warm up in which the crystal dropped out of our watch. We shall also receive sealed bids on installation of one watch crystal. To make the matter worse Bill Stevens got two hits in one inning, and a fellow approached us after the fray and informed us in that friend to friend manner that if we didn't get some new bases in 24 hours and have the pitcher's mound made a mound, our name would be mud, with a big M.

We understand that the Texas and Pacific team has been aided, so it won't hop out of the conference after all. New material and new blood has been added, and, according to the boys at the shops, things will start popping in the city league within just a few days now. With the Bankers and the railroad both getting into shape we fear for some of the league leaders, meaning the Laundry, Richeo, Cosden, and the Barbers. We'll have a chance to see this afternoon. The Barbers and the Texas and Pacific clash. Thursday afternoon the big boys of the bush meet—Cosden and Laundry. The Cosden unit has cut down to fourteen men, waiving the 25 rule allowing them to carry that many on account of night shifts and day shifts.

Incidentally we have a contract on hand turned in by Cosden and bearing the signature of one Ben Anthony. The Man-Mountain who will soon be seen galloping around the confines of the Dusty D is none other than the Anthony of Cisco Lobo fame. Played center for the Big Dam aggregation.

Speaking of football we're lining up several with Cameronian complexes for the Steers next year. Big fellow with feet like ferry boats, and weighing a couple of tons, stripped hauled us at the ball park day before yesterday and wanted to know if he could get a job playing baseball. We told him we didn't manage to live without eating until next fall we'd turn him over to Bill Stevens and see that he got a job playing fullback. He wouldn't stay though. Said he could go down to the heart of the Belt and get his board and room, haircuts, shaves, shines and neckties during football season. To which we readily agreed without a bobble.

We heard at the park yesterday that a bunch of the boys around the village would battle the high school gridsters in a benefit game along about the first of September. Wanted us to play both ends, but we declined, explaining that if we couldn't play both halves we wouldn't play at all. Think the date for the fray is September 6, but we wouldn't be certain.

This is to remind managers of city league clubs that there will be a meeting of the Board of Directors in this office at 8 o'clock Thursday night for the purpose of deciding about the six-months eligibility ruling. Not only that but all managers should have their list of players eligible for participation in here before eight bells in the evening as it delays matters somewhat when they aren't. Another thing. Any club that is playing a man whose contract hasn't been turned in and approved by the board, even though his name

4 HURLERS USED BY TEAMS

Sluggest Ends As Darkness Sweeps Field

In a wild orgy of hits, runs, errors and passed balls, stopped only by darkness, the Laundry walloped the threatening Bankers Tuesday afternoon 16 to 13.

Runs were made in every inning by the Laundry, and five of the six by the Bankers. Each of the aggregations sent two hurlers to the mound in an effort to halt the continuous pounding of the opposition. Finally Crouch, for the Laundry did, striking out eight men in the last three innings, and giving up only three bingles.

After establishing what generally would be accepted as a generous margin of tallies in the first, the Laundrymen saw the Bankers same inning to tally runs and get a two run lead.

Heavy Lead
Bass walked, Clover singled, and Blevins sacrificed to advance the runners. Nesbitt walked to fill the bases, and Brewer singled tallying Bass and Clover. Nesbitt tallied on Garner's single, and Brewer went home on a passed ball by J. Payne.

In their half of the first Stevens launched the seven run drive by singling. Thurman, with the aid of Glover's error, got on, Stevens tallying. Mays was walked by Alken and F. Payne singled. Thurman going to the rubber on a passed ball, F. Madison singled, scoring Mays, F. Payne went home after Bass' error and a passed ball by Garner at third. Madison tallied on Ganoway's bingle, Ganoway hurrying homeward on Stevens' second hit in the first inning.

Knotted In Second
Matters were knotted in the first of the second when Bass walked, Glover singled, Bass stole second, Glover advanced and each went home on Brewer's single.

One was added by the Bankers in the second when F. Payne got as it appeared on the list has, should get in the little yellow pine box. And attach a fifty cent piece thereto.

to first on Brewer's error, and tallied on Barley's single.

The one run lead of the Bankers was slashed in the third when the game was tied again by the Laundry. A three base hit by Crouch off Larrimore who relieved Ganoway, started the inning. Crouch scored on J. Payne's passed ball.

In their half of the third, the Bankers again gained a one run margin, when Green singled, stole second, advanced to third, and tallied on Thurman's double.

Tied In Fourth
The game was tied again in the fourth when Nesbitt tripled and tallied on J. Payne's passed ball.

A two run lead was established by the Bankers in the fourth when a single off Alken by F. Payne, and a circuit clout by F. Madison off Crouch ran in two.

In the fifth the Laundry took the lead when they scored three runs for a one run margin. Blevins singled, Crouch walked and was forced at second by Brown, Blevins and Brown scoring on Bass' three base hit.

Crouch struck out three in a file to oust the Bankers in the fifth. With darkness covering the greater portion of the Dusty Diamond, the Laundry tallied four in the final.

A walk handed out to Nesbitt, singles by Brewer, Garner, Crouch, and Alken, and a double by Kendrick ran the total runs up to 16.

ORIOLES COP 10-6 BATTLE FROM JELLIES

The Orioles went into undisputed possession of first place in the Sunset League by copping an exciting struggle from the Jellies 10 to 6. O'Quinn went the route for the winners and save for occasional wildness was never in danger. Maxwell and Bishop suffered greatly from poor support, although the Orioles pounded out twelve hits. Brooks was the clouting hero of the day with a double and a single in two trips to the plate. Gray, Morgan and O'Quinn also secured a pair of safeties. Bishop threatened to win his own game in the seventh when he drove one over the left fielder's head after two were gone. hTree men scored on the hit but the Jelly hurler was thrown out trying to stretch it into a home run. The defeat sent the Jellies into third place.

1930 BIG SPRING....13,731

PROGRESS IS NEVER "HAPPEN SO." IT ALWAYS COMES IN RESPONSE TO UNTIRING EFFORT AND BECAUSE OF CAREFUL, CONSTRUCTIVE, CONSCIENTIOUS PLANNING. AND WITH A BUSINESS, THIS TRUTH IS OUTSTANDING.

We who carry on, appreciate now, more than ever, the ideals upon which this business was founded. They are constantly before us. They are foundations upon which we have tried to improve as time passed. They are the ties which unite our entire organization. They are the bond of satisfaction in every deal with every customer.

Foresight and effort were prime factors in our growth and expansion. And as Big Spring grows to greater population totals; as the territory it serves continues to make greater progress, we hope to continue to play our part in helping it maintain the responsibilities of its position and in its march forward to even greater achievements in the years to come.

The honest reason

THERE IS ONLY one real reason for smoking and that's pleasure. A pretty good reason after all. The cigarette you select in the long run will be the one that can contribute most to your enjoyment.

Camels are made with that idea in mind—the idea that genuine smoke pleasure is what you want in a cigarette.

When you try them you will find a refreshing difference—a mild, mellow richness of choice tobaccos—a blended harmony of fragrance, silky smooth—that makes smoking a delight.

The fact that more millions have chosen Camel than any other cigarette is a tribute to an honest product, marketed for an honest purpose.

Pittsburgh Goes From Fifth To Third In Race

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The amazing race of the National League clubs for the higher places in the standing has stolen the show in big league baseball from their rival circuit. Four games were played yesterday in each major league, and while the American was offering but one change in the standing, a shift of the seventh and eighth place clubs, the elder circuit left just two clubs in their former spots.

The Brooklyn Robins held their place by trouncing the Phillies, still the fall leaders, 16 to 9. All the rest shifted about. The New York Giants dropped from second to fourth place for the day's biggest Giants for their fourth victory in the five game series. Led by Wally Berger, a hard hitting recruit from Los Angeles, the Braves pulled out a ten inning triumph, 4 to 3.

Pittsburgh leaped up two places in the standing as Larry French shut out Cincinnati with four hits to give the Pirates their third straight victory. For seven innings French had a tight battle against Red Lucas, holding only a one run lead, but the Pirates came through in the last two frames to make it five to nothing. The St. Louis Cardinals followed the Brooklyn system, downing the Chicago Cubs 16 to 3 to move into second place and sent the Cubs down to fifth. The Cards got all their runs in four big innings.

Another St. Louis team, the Browns, brought about the only alteration in the American League standing by downing Detroit, 5 to 2, and exchanging places with them.

With the first and second teams, Washington and Philadelphia, enjoying a day of rest, the first division of the league improved its position a bit. The third place Cleveland Indians scored a double victory over the Chicago White Sox, who hold the fifth post, 7 to 3 and 7 to 5.

The more payrolls that Big Spring secures the larger Big Spring will become. That's an economic cause and effect in every town's life. No sensible person will dispute the statement for one need only point to Akron, Pittsburgh, Birmingham and a host of other cities all over the country.

About 35 people are employed by our Big Spring organization. These citizens are paid $65,000 every year and this money is spent with merchants and business firms in Big Spring. Their monthly income materially increases the monthly volume of Big Spring business concerns.

TODAY . . . the U. S. government officially declares the population figure of our city is 13,731. That's a real growth from our 1920 population figure of 4,273. We are proud of this growth and expect to see as great a growth during the next ten years.

Big Spring INDUSTRY

Apace With Big Spring!

With a yearly payroll of $425,000 built up within the comparatively short period... industrially speaking... of less than two years we believe that we do our part in the building of Big Spring.

Big Spring is built by its business men, by its industrial plants, by its civic leaders. The Cosden organization tries to be a part of Big Spring and a worth while factor in its progress. To this end we pledge our most sincere efforts.

TODAY... Big Spring... a city of 13,731, if you please, is taking a large stride forward. The next census should show it to be a city of 20,000... perhaps even larger. But whatever the growth Big Spring people will find "The Cosden Co." ever alert to its responsibilities in civic development.

Missouri Judge, Who Saw Big Spring Before Railroad Arrived, Recounts Recollections Of The Real Frontier

Bad Indians, and bad whisky; a few groceries and guns, and ammunition; Buffalo hunters and buffaloes; there was the Big Spring prior to 1880, according to A. L. Pope, Judge of the probate court of Wright County, Hartsville, Missouri, one of the pioneers of this section.

Judge Pope, when in his teens, perhaps, although he doesn't give his age, "landed" in Big Spring for one purpose and one purpose only—he was out of ammunition and that was the primary need in this section during those early days.

Judge Pope came here when all of the country around Big Spring west of the Colorado River, was uninhabited, except for buffalo hunters and an occasional band of Comanche and Apache Indians on their way south or east to steal horses and take a scalp or two in the bargain when an opportunity offered.

"I had spent a year further east in what was then a cattle country," Judge Pope said in relating his experiences of other days, and describing something more exciting, I, in company with a friend, came out to the buffalo country.

"My friend became 'Indian sky' and went back. I hired to a hunter by the name of Sinclair, and becoming short of ammunition, we made the trip to Big Spring. The town was then over by the spring, and had one store and one inhabitant, the first merchant of Big Spring."

According to Judge Pope, the "first merchant" didn't have such a merry time of it literally. In fact his bed of roses was mostly thorns, and his mansion should have given thanks to buffaloes.

"The only house," continued Judge Pope, "was frame, with a rough hackberry posts and weather-boarded and covered with buffalo skin. The stock of goods consisted of guns, ammunition, rough boots, a few groceries, and bad whisky."

All of that was before the arrival of the Texas and Pacific Railway in 1882. Judge Pope drifted with the country, hunting buffalo, leading the career of that band of westerners that invaded this country. Finally he became manager of a ranch on the North Cocho.

"I made a trip to Big Spring for supplies after the railroad came," he related. "It was then a straggling town with one-story frame buildings containing large stocks of merchandise. A Mr. Smith owned one of the stores, I remember."

The buffalo had been killed and the country taken over by sheep and cattle raisers, and the merchants were doing a good business. There were saloons, dance-halls, and gambling houses, and it would be impossible for a painter to depict a more typical western town than Big Spring was at that time.

"I saw thousands of buffalo killed for their hides, and the carcasses left to dry, and be devoured by the wolves, Antelope and mustangs were always in sight—the sportsman's paradise."

According to Judge Pope "farm relief" had its start about the time the railroad was completed.

"I remember a colony of Quakers settled somewhere out on the Plains for the purpose of farming, but a two years drought brought them to want and ranchers lent them supplies to help tide them over. It took plenty of nerve to attempt to farm out there in those days."

"I doubt if any town has made a greater percent of growth in the last fifty years—an increase of from one to more than 13,000."

POPULATION 13,731 Building A Greater Big Spring

Big Spring's growth during the last ten years is not the result of chance, but the result of untiring effort of the best citizenship which ever gathered together in any single community. City building is no different from anything else. It takes hard work, good judgment and forever being up and at 'em, to build a city. We feel that Big Spring is to be congratulated not only upon the official recognition and certification of its growth in population, but also upon having a united citizenship, one that is not divided into cliques and crowds and special groups—one that can work together, shoulder to shoulder, to build a city. The municipal improvements... new homes... new business houses... air and rail activity... ALL will play their part in building and boosting Big Spring to greater heights.

Built in 1929 and formally opened less than a year ago the Big Spring Hospital—a Big Spring institution of mercy—has proven its value to the community that was Big Spring in 1929, that is Big Spring in 1930 . . . and that will be Big Spring in 1940.

The building is designed to serve for this year and many years to come. Included among its many features are: X-ray laboratory, fracture room, isolation rooms, and sun rooms for convalescents. Equipment throughout is most modern.

The directors of the hospital and all of those associated with them are proud that such a building and equipment is possible in a city of this size. A city of that size . . . a growing city . . . is deserving of such facilities.

In 1940—when Big Spring has grown in a measure similar to that of the last ten years—the Big Spring Hospital will still be able to offer modern, hospital facilities to its citizens.

Ten years ago this little fellow had quite a following in these parts . . . but a decade has brought more to Big Spring than just an increase in population. It has brought understanding . . . It has brought a better appreciation of the service which the Laundry is daily giving to its patrons.

A few years ago the Big Spring Laundry Company be-

C. A. VOIGHT

CREATOR OF BETTY

Meet Mr. Voight and his famous funny family consisting of "Betty," Lester De Pester, neglected, but ardent and constant wooer, a host of other and more popular male admirers and a galaxy of pretty girls.

Voight's "Betty" is famous the country over, not merely because of its humor but also for its artistic merit. Voight is an artist of rare ability. He is not only a clever humorist but a wonderful draftsman. His "Betty" in flesh would be quite as much sought after as she is in the picture. There is nothing of the "slap stick" in Voight's work. The comic is clean and of a humorous wholesomeness.

Beginning Next Sunday—These Nationally Read Comic Features Will Appear Each Week in The Herald!

- Mr. and Mrs. — By Claire Briggs
- Reg'lar Fellers . . . By Gene Byrnes
- Pa's Son-In-Law By C. H. Wellington
- Betty . . . . . By Chas. A. Voight
- Peter Rabbit . . . By Harrison Caddy
- Clarence By Weare Holbrook and F. Fogarty
- Brutus . . . . . By Johnny Gruelle
- Slim Jim . . . . . By Armstrong

CREATOR OF PETER RABBIT

Harrison Caddy, artist, illustrator and creator of Peter Rabbit is also an author. His ambition to illustrate was shown in his boyhood when he drew many fine pictures while attending school. At seventeen, Mr. Caddy went to New York where he sold his first pictures to a magazine owned by Harper Brothers.

Mr. Caddy began a series of illustrations for Ladies Home Journal and the Country Gentleman. Following that he became connected with Life, on whose staff he has been for twenty-four years. He has written and illustrated many children stories which have appeared in magazines.

HARRISON CADDY

Johnny Gruelle, author and illustrator of "Brutus" is not a new comer in the Sunday comic field. He has had various successes but has put them aside because of the press of work on his half million issue books. Now he has come back to the Sunday comic field to stay because, as he says, it's really the thing he wants to do.

Gruelle made full page cartoons called Yapps Crossing beginning in 1912 and stopping in 1923 for Judge, and full page drawings called Yahoo Center for Life for three years. He has sold stories and illustrations to Woman's Home Companion, Good Housekeeping, Designer, Modern Priscilla, Delineator and for the last eleven years has been doing serials for The Woman's World.

Weare Holbrook is a Corn Belt product. He was born in Onawa, Iowa, where his parents still reside, and he attended the state university at Iowa City.

His college career was distinguished, if not brilliant. He took part in every student activity and was said to be one of the most versatile young men in the school. Following his graduation, Holbrook became a reporter for the Daily News at Whittier, California where he remained for four years. Going to New York in 1925 as a free-lance writer, he began doing Sunday feature articles and was also a contributor to College Humor, Smart Set and the New Yorker. Mr. Holbrook is at present collaborating with Frank Fogarty in the production of "Clarence" which will appear regularly in the Sunday Herald.

When an artist turns from featuring grown-ups in his cartoons and uses kids for his comedy, and keeps it up for a number of years, each of which sees their popularity increase, it is a sure indication, the cartoonist had the right dope or hunch. Gene Byrnes' "Reg'lar Fellers" were created by him, but they have made him.

There is nothing mythical or abnormal about these kids. They are just every-day boys. Byrnes has taken the characters from real life and what they do and say. It is because of this that the characters strike a sentimental chord. While an artist in New York it occurred to Byrnes that the life of a regular kid and his many escapades might furnish the material for a kid comic strip. Mulling over his early career, the idea was born.

A good many people have wondered if the characters of the comic were from real life or not. Shorty Cook, for instance, is George T. Cook, President of the George Cook Nut & Bolt Works of Kansas City. Bump Hudson is a thriving dentist in New York City. Beano Golden is a well-known architect of New York and the redoubtable Puddin-head Duffy is none other than Warren P. Duffy, an oil promoter of Fort Worth, Texas.

Byrnes says that for every kid characteristic, he'll show you a similar one among men. The speaker at the banquet is similar to the kid who can tell whoppers back of the wood shed. The bunch assembled at the Rotary or Kiwanis Club is the grown up organized gang that used to hold sessions in the hayloft. The banker sneaking away to the golf course is the kid playing hooky.

C. H. Wellington, who created "Pa's Son-in-Law," is from St. Louis and received his early training as a cartoonist on the St. Louis Post Dispatch. In 1908 he drew political cartoons on the Memphis Press Scimitar. Twelve years ago he hit upon "Pa's Son-in-Law" which has furnished laughs for thousands of people all over the country.

Store service and courtesy are as much a part of stock as merchandise. And in the year that this store has served this territory, we have endeavored to follow this policy. We believe it is the only policy by which a store can keep pace with the rapid growth of Big Spring.

During the life of this institution Big Spring has made rapid strides. Hundreds of new homes have been built to house the increasing population; new industries have come to add wealth to the community; oil fields became a fact and activity in this line promises an unusual amount of conjecture upon the future.

It has been our constant effort to keep pace with these rapidly changing times. We have added new lines of merchandise; we have installed new fixtures; new services; we are bending every effort to anticipate just the kind of store you will like to care for your every need, and you may always expect to find this store in step with Big Spring.

13,731 IN THE CITY —And Big Spring Just Started!

Registering 13,731 definitely puts Big Spring in another class of cities—those with populations of more than 12,000. We all knew we had them but today they are certified to by the great government of these United States.

The Big Spring of 1930 is not a city built by chance. It is the result of the never-tiring civic effort on the part of the many men and women who will forget their own business for an hour—a day or week, to put over something that will help their city and their territory.

The progress of the Crescent Drug has been built on the unfailing qualities of our products. Too, the unquestioned cleanliness of our store, courtesy, and a policy of giving the customer the best for his money have contributed to our steady growth.

CRAWFORD HOTEL

It has been said that hotels build cities. We believe that if the majority of the people of the city were asked what business enterprise contributed more to the upbuilding of Big Spring, a majority of them would unhesitatingly say, "The Crawford Hotel."

With the discovery of oil in this section a new field of activity was opened to Big Spring. It became a good city first because it offered the best hotel accommodations. It had other things of course—good banks—good lawyers—good telephone service—good schools—good stores—hospitable people—but the oil man got a good room first and then looked up the other necessary requisites of business.

Not in the spirit of boasting—but in all humbleness—we take pride in the contribution which the Crawford has been able to make to the growth of the city. To making possible the opening during the past week of a beautiful annex to the hotel.
