Sen. Hugo Black Is Named For Court Post

Move For Speedy Confirmation Is Defeated

Surprise Nomination Creates Big Stir In Senate; FD's Recommendation Referred To Committee

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt named Senator Hugo Black, of Alabama, to the supreme court today, but his immediate confirmation was blocked by Senators Burke (D-Neb.) and Johnson (R-Calif.).

The wiry Alabamian was named by Mr. Roosevelt to succeed Willis Vandevanter, retired, in unusual secrecy. It was listed among other routine nominations but was not made public at the White House as is the custom.

Defeat Probe Of Democrat Book Sales

'They Voted Us Down' Is Complaint Of Republican Member

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—The house rules committee voted today against recommending a congressional investigation of the Democratic national committee's sale of $250 copies of its yearbook, autographed by President Roosevelt.

Chairman O'Connor (D-NY) said "no action" was taken but other committee members said they had voted to table the resolution introduced by Republican Leader Snell (R-NY) calling for the inquiry.

Representative Martin (R-Mass), ranking minority member of the committee, said:

"They voted us down."

He said the vote was strictly on party lines, although not all the republican members were present.

Martin predicted before the hearing the resolution would be defeated 10 to 4. There are 10 democrats and four republicans on the committee.

The report came after Snell had presented voluminous evidence to support his contention that the sale of the autographed books to corporations had violated the law governing political campaign contributions.

Ranges Hold Up In Spite Of Heat

AUSTIN, Aug. 12 (AP)—Texas ranges held up well in July despite extremely hot weather.

The U. S. bureau of agriculture economies reported cattle ranges were 76 per cent of normal on August 1 and sheep and goat ranges 79 per cent. Cattle ranges declined only one per cent and sheep and goat ranges none from the previous month.

However, critical conditions were imminent in the extreme southern and the northern half of the Panhandle, the bureau said.

Cattle remained in good condition and marketing of 1,213,000 head compared with 888,000 in the same period last year.

A good outlook for sheep remained continued with reported marketing of 1,500,000 head in the first six months of the year exceeding all other similar periods.

OFFICE REMODELED

Office of Tax Collector-Assessor John F. Wolcott is being remodeled in an effort to afford assistants more working space.

The old lobby space on the interior of the office is being eliminated, and the ante-chamber adjoining the hall will henceforth be used as the lobby.

Wolcott estimated that the work would be completed by the end of the week.

Monday Final Day On City Renditions

Equalization Board To Start Its Work That Evening

Renditions of property to the city, a procedure necessary before qualified voters may cast votes in any municipal bond election, will not be accepted at the city hall after 5 p. m. Monday.

The board of equalization is due to go into session Monday evening. The convening of the board will be the signal for refusing further renditions.

Of some 2,000 persons on the city's tax rolls, only about 549 have rendered property. Provided they have paid poll taxes or hold exemption certificates, these 549 will be entitled to cast ballots in the bond election called for Aug. 26 when property tax payers will pass upon a $50,000 issue for purchase of a site for the West Texas hospital for the insane.

City Tax Assessor H. W. Whitney announced Thursday afternoon that the city board of equalization would consist of Robert Stripling, Curtis Driver and E. H. Jones.

The board, he said would go into action not later than Monday evening. All who would vote in the election must have signed their renditions before that time.

Since the bond vote became apparent, 201 additional renditions have been received by the city. The range of renditions was from dogs to houses.

GARAGE, CAR BURN

Fire Thursday morning destroyed a car and garage at 1903 Johnson street. Both were swathed in flames before an alarm was sounded. The car was a 1935 Plymouth. Wednesday afternoon firemen were called to extinguish a motor fire in the 100 block on Owens street.

Soviet Starts Polar Flight

Famed Russian Flier Heads From Moscow To New York

MOSCOW, Aug. 12 (AP)—Sigmund Levenetsky, the soviet union's most famous flier, took off today for a trans-polar flight to New York.

Unlike two previous, successful Russian flights to North America over the roof of the world, this will not aim for the Pacific coast and will not be non-stop.

Levenetsky and five members of his crew took off at 6:13 p. m. (9:13 a. m. C. S. T.) with stops scheduled at Fairbanks, Alaska, Edmonton, Alberta, and—possibly—Chicago.

Their four-motor plane—vastly different from the wide-winged single-motor craft of the flier's predecessors—rose from Shevok airfield, outside Moscow, with a crowd of official spectators cheering it off.

Plans for the flight were kept secret until just before the take-off.

Levenetsky said he would not try for any speed record, indicating that the flight was intended as an experiment for regular airline service over the Polar route.

'OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME'

Doctor Tells Of Hospital's Value

How a man close to the heart of the work—a member of the staff of a similar institution—views Big Spring's victory in winning the West Texas state hospital is seen in a letter received here from Dr. W. J. Pollard, one of the medical attaches at the Wichita Falls state hospital.

Dr. Pollard in writing to his friend, B. Reagan, said this city has won "a signal victory." He continued with assertion that some might be encountered who will "pull back" on the proposition and added "but try to convey to them that civic righteousness should impel them to contribute for the future of their city's posterity and not the hope of immediate dividends."

Dr. Pollard's letter continues: "This is a lasting enterprise, one that will function long after every citizen of Big Spring has passed over the Great Divide." "I came to this (Wichita Falls) hospital 14 years ago, at which time there were but 300 patients, and I have seen it develop into a wonderful institution, whose payroll at this time is about $120,000 a year. There are 2,210 in the hospital at this time, for whom board and treatment must be provided. "A large part of this payroll is spent in this city and it goes without saying that this is one of the outstanding business enterprises of the 'City That Faith Built.' "Visitors to our city will be no mean consideration; hotel, tourist cottages, transportation, railroads and bus services will all participate in this new endeavor; nothing will be injured and everything helped in some way. "Don't lose this effort; it is the opportunity of a lifetime in Big Spring."

Texas Farmer Slain, Wife, Son Wounded By An Intruder

Posse Seeks Unknown Assailant In Austin Area; Shooting Occurs As Family Tries To Halt Theft

AUSTIN, Aug. 12 (AP)—An armed posse searched the brush four miles east of here this morning for an unknown man who shot and killed E. N. Payton, Govalls truck farmer, wounded Mrs. Payton severely and shot their 23-year-old son in the leg.

The shooting occurred about 6 a. m. when Payton and his sons attempted to prevent the intruder from stealing the family automobile.

Shortly before the slaying occurred the man had eluded Austin police who had been watching a residence for possible suspects in the San Antonio Public Service company robbery early this week when about $1,700 was obtained.

Kidnaped Youth Freed

Search for the fugitive centered in the Colorado river bottoms after an automatic pistol, killed Payton with the first shot, wounded the older son in the leg, and, as Mrs. Payton came to the garage, shot her through the stomach.

The man kidnaped another son of the family but released him uninjured about a block from the Payton home.

Payton saw the man enter his garage and when he went to investigate the intruder demanded the keys. Payton floored him with a blow from his fist and the commotion aroused the family.

The two sons and a police dog joined the struggle during which the tall-khaki-clad intruder drew an automatic pistol, killed Payton with the first shot, wounded the older son in the leg, and, as Mrs. Payton came to the garage, shot her through the stomach.

The man forced the wounded son to get the car keys and then sped away with the younger son as a hostage. However, he stopped the car suddenly a short distance from the house and pushed the youth from it.

NOTED NOVELIST IS TAKEN BY DEATH

SANT BRICE SOUS FORET, France, Aug. 12 (AP)—Edith Wharton, the noted American novelist died yesterday at her chateau near here, it was learned today.

The author of "Ethar, Frome" and many other stories was 75 years old.

Death occurred at 5 p. m., yesterday, following an apoplectic stroke which she suffered early in the morning.

Miss Wharton will be buried in the Protestant cemetery at Versailles tomorrow.

She had lived in France for nearly 35 years.

CHARGES ARE FILED AFTER ALTERCATION

Affray charges were filed in justice court Thursday against J. S. Gaullington and son, Donald, and Morris and Zelma Gay, brothers.

Charges followed an altercation on a downtown street Wednesday afternoon. Officers said that the fight arose out of differences on rentals on small grain land which the Gaullingtons had leased from the Gay brothers. A prelude to Wednesday's affray occurred in a field north of town.

Final Tribute Paid Here To Fred Read

Drilling Contractor Is Buried At Abilene, Former Home

Friends gathered Thursday morning to pay final tribute in simple funeral services to Fred Read, popularly known oil drilling contractor. Following rites at the Eberly chapel here, the body was taken overland to Abilene for burial ceremonies in the afternoon.

Read, 55, was killed at a well in Ector county early Wednesday, when his head was crushed by a falling section of ten-inch casing.

The tragedy climaxed a long career in the petroleum industry. Born May 1, 1882 in Bradford, Pa. Read entered the oil business in that state. Later he moved to Oklahoma, served for a time as superintendent in that state for the old Wolverine company (now the Shell). He turned to drilling contracting in 1920, and put down wells in Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas.

In 1927, he followed the oil play into West Texas, establishing residence in Abilene. He moved from there to Big Spring about four years ago.

He had a part in the developing of most of West Texas' major producing areas. At the time of his death, he had rigs working in Fisher, Pecos, Ector and Howard counties. Read's widespread interest in the oil business made him known throughout the Southwest, and he had numerous friends who mourned his passing. Word of his

Japs, Chinese Massing For Conflict

Peace Parley Fails; Foreign Garrisons Guarded

SHANGHAI, Aug. 12 (AP)—Ranks of Japanese Bluejackets moved into battle position in Shanghai to face an unstemmed torrent of Chinese regulars tonight and the garrisons of the United States and three other nations mobilized "for the worst."

A "peace" conference intended to ease the crisis in the panic-stricken city ended in failure.

Backed by 21 warships at Shanghai's wharves, Japanese naval forces, estimated to number between 5,000 and 8,000, moved into the same positions they occupied during 1932's Chinese-Japanese hostilities.

They deployed along the fringe of the Japanese portion of the international settlement and roads extending northward.

Only a spark needed Chinese Central government troops steaming into the city answered to no authority but the army. Civilian authorities would not try to stop them.

Each force indicated it was not planning to attack. But the situation needed only a spark to touch off an explosion.

United States marines, 1,050 strong, mobilized along with Russian, French and British garrisons. The Americans were charged with the protection of nearly 4,000 United States citizens in Shanghai, and its environs, some of whom were cut off by the Chinese advance.

British forces number 950; and French, 600. A Russian volunteer company was summoned to duty.

The American marines took up patrol duty along the northern border of the international settlement.

At the "peace" conference Chinese refused to withdraw the troops pouring into the city. Japanese replied:

"There is nothing left, then, but to take up defensive positions."

The atmosphere of this jittery city of more than 3,000,000 was the same as that which preceded the Chinese-Japanese hostilities here in 1932. Americans fled to their international refuge.

But up to dusk not a shot was heard.

Northern portions of Shanghai about the Chapel and Kiangwan areas were considered doomed to be battlegrounds if the present Shanghai powder keg explodes.

The fringe of the expected trouble zone was deserted as Chinese patrols stamped past vacant houses and shops.

Close to the international settlement, streets and alleys were jammed with Chinese fleeing from the prospective battleground.

Neighbors said the houses collapsed without warning. One minor there was only the steady din of rain pouring from black skies.

Approve Pledge For Early Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—The senate agriculture committee approved today a concurrent resolution pledging congress to take up general farm legislation in the first week of the next session.

There was a belief among some committee members that if congress adopted such a resolution President Roosevelt would agree to make crop loans this year. The president, however, has indicated several times he possibly would not make loans until after enactment of farm legislation.

No action was taken on any of the measures before the committee providing for crop payments to farmers. Chairman Smith (D-SC) said the committee would meet again tonight "to report out one of the bills."

RITES AT COLORADO FOR CHANEY YOUTH

Funeral services for Bennie "Buster" Chaney, 17, who died in a local hospital Wednesday morning from a gunshot wound in his head, were to be held Thursday at 5 p. m. in Colorado.

Rites were to be performed in the home of an aunt, Mrs. J. L. Harrison of Colorado. Buster had made his home with her before entering the CCC camp at Sweetwater and subsequently coming here.

Burial will be in the Colorado cemetery.

STRUCTURES ARE RIPPED ASUNDER BY TORRENT

Tenement Houses On Staten Island Wrecked By Avalanche, Sleeping Residents Trapped In Debris

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—At least 19 persons were crushed to death in their sleep early today, amid a smothering avalanche of bricks and debris, when three Staten Island tenement buildings collapsed during a violent rainstorm.

Tons of water, roaring down from an overflowing storm sewer about midnight, struck the ancient brick dwellings and ripped them asunder.

Rescue squads of police and firemen pulled at the tangled wreckage for additional victims.

Three persons were still missing. Four others, who escaped from the shattered structures, were taken to the Staten Island hospital with serious injuries.

Dies a Hero

Patrolman Joseph McGreen of emergency squad No. 10, the first rescuer on the scene, died a hero. He plunged into one of the buildings after the first structure collapsed. Searching squads found him later, buried in the wreckage. In his arms, with her arms curled tightly around his neck, was the body of 4-year-old Virginia Budnick.

The disaster struck at the height of a thunder and electrical storm that swept the metropolitan area and Long Island, in which four other persons were killed by lightning or were drowned.

Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine, directing the rescue work, called the tragedy "the worst of its kind in years."

Killed Outright

The trapped victims were crushed and then buried beneath wreckage in a 30-foot cellar filled with muddy water. Most of them apparently never knew what struck them, being killed outright.

Staten Island, the scene of the disaster, lies five miles from the Battery, the lower tip of Manhattan, in lower New York harbor. It is 14 miles long and nearly seven miles wide at its widest place, with 160,000 residents, many of them commuters who work in Manhattan. The tragedy occurred directly across the Kill Van Kull, a narrow strip of water, from Bayonne, N. J.

The three buildings, erected nearly a half a century ago, were hit by a foaming torrent rushing down a steep hillside from a storm sewer. They were levelled as if struck by a tornado or an explosion. Not a wall stood intact.

Neighbors said the houses collapsed without warning. One minor there was only the steady din of rain pouring from black skies.

TAX EQUALIZATION WORK PROGRESSING

Howard county commissioners court spent its first of two days as a board of equalization in session at the regular courthouse quarters Thursday morning.

During the forepart of the morning the board was kept busy granting interviews to protesting taxpayers. However, the number dropped off toward noon and before luncheon the waiting list had been completely cleared.

The court will sit as a board again Friday, completing its equalization work for the year.

Range Papers Prepared

Score Howard Ranchers Participating In Govt. Program

County Agent O. P. Griffin and staff were engaged Thursday in completing ranch papers under the terms of the 1937 federal range program in which more than a score Howard county ranchers participated.

With a forage acre factor of 53 established, Griffin has been arriving at the maximum allowance permissible to the various ranches. The factor is the number of acres required to maintain one animal unit. 60 per cent of density and palatability times the total acreage, divided by the factor gives the number of animal units which a tract may maintain, and payments are based upon this.

There has been wide range of difference in the quality of ranches, according to preliminary figures, with sections ranging from 18 to 45 animal units.

Texas Doctors Alert To Check Paralysis

Precautions Urged Despite Reports Outbreak of Malady Declining

DALLAS, Aug. 12 (AP)—Wary medical men of Texas spoke today of infantile paralysis today but kept their scientific powder dry.

From many points in the state came reassuring statements that sporadic outbreaks of the disease were declining but there was evidence the doctors were overlooking no beta to prevent anything resembling an epidemic.

In Dallas, city and county health authorities decided to discuss today what should be done about the baffling malady. They were moved to action because five youngsters of the city-county boys' industrial homes were believed stricken and because the 18 Dallas county cases this year were more than the county ordinarily has.

Statewide awareness of the paralysis threat was further pointed up when Texas A. and M. college called off its annual summer school course, to which about 1,300 rural boys and girls come each year to learn about farming.

Elsewhere in Texas large gatherings of children were being discouraged or stopped.

Since Jan. 1 state health department men said, 221 cases have been reported from about 60 counties, 27 of which reported only one case each.

In every affected region physicians warned parents: Keep your children away from crowds. The Dallas Pediatric society explained that advice: "The disease definitely follows the line of most traffic."

The state health department suggested a physician be called immediately if symptoms develop (fever, headache, vomiting, drowsiness, restlessness) and not to let children to undue exertion or fatigue. Use of nasal sprays, the department said, should be avoided except under supervision of the family doctor.

The medical man carefully pointed out the infantile paralysis, even at its worst, could not affect a great number of Texas. The Dallas pediatric group said: "Only about one in every 3,000 persons is susceptible to the disease. Epidemics have proved the great majority of people are immune."

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, said the disease usually affected about 10 persons in 100,000 and on that basis 600 would not be of epidemic proportions.

Dr. Cox pointed to a strange fact in the current outbreaks of infantile paralysis, he said: "It seems peculiar that the disease is more prevalent in rural areas than in crowded urban centers, but such are the facts and it may be assumed the function in cities may gradually give protection to individuals."

Monogrammed Set

By RUTH ORB
Pattern No. 507

The pattern alone of this file set is attractive enough to appeal to the most particular; but since we've finished the design with a handsome monogram, you will certainly want a set for your best chair. The center of the chair back has an opening into which will fit an initial you desire, and the pattern includes file diagrams for each letter of the alphabet as well as for each of the pieces of the chair set.

complete, easy-to-understand directions, with block and space diagrams for each piece of chair set and for each letter of alphabet to add you; also what crochet hook and what material and how much you will need.

To obtain this pattern, send for No. 507 and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to cover service and postage. Address Big Spring Herald, Needlework Department, P. O. Box 172, Station D, New York, N. Y. (Copyright 1937, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Useful Hints May Benefit Housewife

Use equal parts of lime or lemon juice in place of the vinegar called for in French dressing recipes.

Kisses and tortes require long slow baking. Individual kisses ordinarily require about 30 minutes and large tortes an hour.

Cook peas and green beans uncovered if you want them to retain their color. Be careful not to overcook green vegetables.

Dice leftover potatoes, add a creamy white sauce and combine them with other leftover cooked vegetables or hard-cooked eggs.

A little vinegar or lemon juice will add to the pliancy of greens. It should not be cooked into the greens, but sprinkled over them just before they are served.

Sweet omelets are general favorites. Add one tablespoonful of sugar to the regular omelet batter. When the omelet is cooked cover it with fresh fruits or berries sprinkled with sugar. Serve it immediately—with syrup, honey or whipped cream. (Fruits may also be used as a filling if the omelet is served half turned over.)

To make a "rose jar" collect petals from several types of roses. (Select those with a heavy perfume.) Sprinkle the leaves over a flat surface in the sun and leave them until they have dried very crisp. Then put them in a jar and put on a cover. The fragrance will keep for several months.

Party food for the four-year-old should be simple and yet have a "party" air. Serve a luncheon or supper during the regular hour for the meal. Place creamed chicken in mashed potato or boiled rice nests. Add a helping of buttered green beans. Put animal cutout

Cleanliness Tips To The Job Hunter

Spic And Span Appearance Is Important Asset In Business World

Sweet girl graduates, are you preparing to set out on that exciting adventure—the search for your first job? You might think the matter over before checking off the prospects on your list. How much do you know about yourself, about the business of finding a job? A record of good scholarship and letters of recommendation are all very well, but in these days of competition, they aren't enough to make a prospective employer say, "Come in next Monday morning."

According to vocational experts, personality is usually rated higher than ability in surveys conducted among employment executives in factories, offices, and department stores. Fortunately, there's nothing elusive or mysterious about the average business man's conception of personality. It is made up of traits any young person can acquire. Good posture, correct speech, a friendly manner, and a trim, well-groomed appearance, are the characteristics usually found in the girl who gets the job and holds it down.

To quote the personnel manager of a large department store: "The girl with neat hair, who is carefully and cleanly dressed—and by that I do not mean her clothes must be expensive or the last word in style—will get the preference. We expect carefully kept hands and well-brushed teeth. The real factors of cleanliness are as easily observed by a girl who is poverty-stricken from lack of work, as by a girl who has more money. The girls we want are those who are instinctively neat and clean because of their early training, in spite of difficulties."

A neat appearance has an important psychological effect upon the individual as well as upon those with whom he comes in contact, psychologists say. If you're fortified by the consciousness of immaculate cleanliness, you can face any situation with confidence and poise.

TEXAS MAN DIES

ROCKPORT, Aug. 12 (AP)—David M. Picton, Sr., 73, died this morning at his home here.

Mr. Picton was president of D. M. Picton company, marine contractors of Port Arthur.

He is survived by five sons, David M. Picton, Jr., of Houston; Charles T. Picton of Rockport; John H. Picton of Rockport, and William M. Picton and E. E. Picton of Port Arthur, and two daughters, Miss Vivian Picton and Miss Velma Picton of Rockport.

A native of Mobile, Ala., Mr. Picton was born July 8, 1863. He married Miss Fannie Ellen Hynes of Refugio county, Tex., in 1887. He had been a prominent resident of Texas for many years.

Funeral services will be held Friday morning with burial in Rockport.

READING AND WRITING

By John Selby

"ONE LIFE, ONE KOPECK," by Walter Duranty Simon & Schuster; $2.50.

Walter Duranty has left his tempered and precisely written news dispatches a long way behind in his first novel—an exposition of Russia from the Communist viewpoint. It is called "One Life, One Kopeck."

The novel is a melodrama which seems at one time entirely explained by what has happened in Russia, and in the next moment seems to leave reality, become merely another too-telescoped love story.

Ivan, a peasant boy of good appearance and excellent mind, is the chief character. Mr. Duranty takes him first into the house of his master, where he is companion to the "young master." He accompanies the young master to school, the two are caught in a "compromising" situation. Ivan is banished to Siberia while still a boy.

Siberia is too hard a school for Ivan. He learns much, even finding a miraculously forgotten copy of Marx and reading it. He meets curious people, escapes, meets other curious people, and then communism enters his life. It is almost like a folk tale... out of the void a sweet old cripple with a core of murder appears, charms Ivan and the girl he is with at the moment, converts both to communism, and sends Ivan on to learn military tactics in the Czar's army.

The plot grows too involved for summary. Ivan does, however, meet the daughter of his old master and learns that she loves him. But Ivan must go on in his new career; the girl, naturally, can't quite stomach that career. The end is visible from this point; it is tragic and yet it happens so suddenly that it is almost ludicrous. Ivan finds the love of his life, enters the white Russian headquarters housing her and her brother, is discovered and they all die in a heap—in six or seven scantily printed pages.

The book is viciously cruel at times, beautifully written often, but unconvincing as either Communist propaganda or as a love story.

Regions inhabited by the Eskimos extend from Bering Strait over the northern coast of America and the group of Arctic Islands to the east coast of Greenland.

Dust Bowl Migrants Converge Upon California 300,000 Strong; City Bars Transient Aid

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11 (UP)—Between 300,000 and 400,000 migrants from the dust bowl and flood areas in the East, Middle West and South, constitute the most serious problem facing California, in the opinion of Harold W. Robertson, field secretary of the Gospel Army, a religious and welfare organization, that has made a study of migrant and transient problems in the San Joaquin and Imperial Valleys.

"Unless immediate measures are adopted to provide medical treatment and rehabilitation, also some plan to stop this homeless horde from coming into California, by autumn this state will be facing the most serious health, moral, economic and sociological problem in its history," Robertson declared.

He said that the Gospel Army, which originally called attention to the seriousness of the situation, would refuse to listen to threats of intimidation from any source until the federal government and public agencies affected by the menace launch some comprehensive program to handle it.

"We cannot assume the task of feeding, clothing and housing these people because such a task is beyond the combined capacity of all private and welfare organizations," Robertson said.

County No. "Santa Claus" in support of Robertson's contention that the situation was one for the federal government to deal with, the board of supervisors of Los Angeles county issued a statement recently that the county was through "playing Santa Claus" to indigent transients.

It notified other counties and states that Los Angeles county hereafter will turn a deaf ear to the relief pleas of employable transient indigents, leaving them to work and earn their own way as best they can. Health records in three northern counties of California reveal that many of the migrants have died from malnutrition and exposure, and, according to one physician, 6,000 have been vaccinated for typhoid because of fear of an epidemic.

Robertson, in his survey, said he had made a study of what the transients and migrants are doing to rehabilitate themselves, their numbers, everyday life, recreations, their earnings per family, morality, illness and deaths, and what aid they are receiving either from the government or charity.

Tour of State Made
Following are his opinions, the result of his trips to Northern and Southern California, and his observations in Los Angeles county:

"These refugees are mostly from the flood and dust bowl sections of Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas, with a smattering from Kansas and Oklahoma.

"The majority of them came to California within the last six or seven months, and according to a statement recently released by the U. S. Resettlement Bureau, 10,000 are on the way. Few of these people have obtained employment. They are settled mostly in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys, in Los Angeles county, and in the Imperial Valley counties. A percentage of them come from the cotton states of the South, and large numbers of these people who have had some experience with cotton, are camped in two counties, where there are no jobs to take care of them.

50,000 in Family Groups
"As far as I was able to determine through questioning chiefs of police, mayors and representatives of welfare organizations, approximately 50,000 migrants are camped in the valley counties in family groups. This does not include the single transient or migrant. I have been informed by members of the Los Angeles board of supervisors that the number of migrant or transient indigents in Los Angeles county is three or four times that number at the present time.

"There also is a large group camped around some of the Imperial Valley communities.

"Approximately one-half of this migrant group is of a particularly low moral caliber. Many of the adults have never had any education and are unable to sign their names to receipts for food and clothing given them by welfare organizations."

Indicating the seriousness of the situation, a representative of the government said that no federal funds were available to cope with the matter and a representative of WPA said that no jobs for these migrants were available.

Co-operation of California in stemming the tide of indigents and migrants and in meeting the grave relief situation which has developed was discussed at a conference of Southern California officials.

Grain Trade Best In Seven Years

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (UP)—The grain trade is enjoying its best business in seven years.

Return of the public to the grain market, coincident with the production of large American crops in 1937, has quickened the tempo of La Salle street.

In the last three months the turnover on the board of trade, world's focal point in the grain business, has been running 77 per cent greater than in the corresponding 1936 period.

Big crops, wide fluctuations in prices and small world reserves of wheat are factors in the broadened trade that has transformed La Salle street's frowns to smiles. Movement of the biggest wheat crop in six years has added to the commercial use of the market by handlers protecting themselves against possible losses.

The market's total volume of grain futures dealings in the three months ended July 30 involved approximately 4,900,000,000 bushels.

START TESTIMONY IN BLANTON MYSTERY

RAYMONDVILLE, Aug. 12 (UP)—After many delays the secret court of inquiry into the Blanton disappearance case was ready to get down to business today.

Justice of the Peace Thomas M. Heath of San Perita announced he would open the inquiry this afternoon, four days after the investigation was to begin. Three previous attempts to find a suitable presiding officer had failed.

Louis Lamadrid, special officer once assigned to solve the case, was named court interpreter.

Luther Blanton, 57, and his son John, 24, San Perita farmers, left their home last November to hunt ducks on a nearby ranch. They disappeared and have not been accounted for.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gay of Ada, Okla., are visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Gay and other relatives.

Lyle Talbot's real name is Lyle Hollywood.

Blonde Held In Probe Of 4 Deaths

Admits She Collected Money From Estate Of One Victim

CINCINNATI, Aug. 12 (UP)—Held on fugitive warrants charging murder and grand larceny, a comely 21-year-old blonde was held today, as police, investigating the deaths of four elderly men, said she admitted benefitting from the estate of one and had sought to collect money from two of the others.

Four mysterious illnesses—of two men and two women—also were under scrutiny as city, county, and federal authorities delved into the history of the woman, Mrs. Anna

Fisher Hahn. Colorado Springs, Colo., police have been investigating the death there, August 1, of George Obendorfer, 67, moderately wealthy Cincinnati cobbler, who, police say, was accompanied by the woman after she first had gone to the bank with him when he withdrew money for the trip.

Detective Walter Hart, who filed the murder and larceny warrants against Mrs. Hahn, said he was "not at liberty to divulge the basis for the action."

Met By Chance
Mrs. Hahn, widow of a Viennese physician, denied knowledge of the case and contended, it was George W. Schattla said, that she met Obendorfer "by chance" en route west.

The three other deaths under inquiry were those of Jacob Wagner, 78, Albert Palmer, 72, and Ernest Kohler, an elderly teamster who died several years ago. Wagner's body was disinterred a week ago and portions of the viscera are being subjected to tests for poison.

Schattla reported. He said Mrs. Hahn cared for Kohler in his last illness and that she claimed Kohler bequeathed her the $12,000 home in which she has resided with her telegrapher-husband.

George Heis, 63, a coal merchant who said he had been unable to talk since becoming ill from eating food offered by Mrs. Hahn, filed another larceny warrant charging theft of a $75 diamond ring and $140. Mrs. Hahn denied Heis' charge, insisting he gave her the ring during their short acquaintance.

Lieutenant Schattla said Mrs. Hahn admitted signing Wagner's name to a check for $1,000 which she presented for payment the day of his death, June 1. The name was written in English, although Wagner could write only in German, Schattla said.

ITALIAN VESSEL IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

NAPLES, Aug. 12 (UP)—A spectacular fire which threatened all the shipping in Naples harbor destroyed Italy's prize hospital ship, the Helouan, early today while tens of thousands of persons, including hundreds of Americans, watched.

One fireman was hospitalized in the desperate and successful battle to save the waterfront.

The wrecked ship was towed in flames into deep water and sunk.

The fire began at 4 a. m., while Naples slept, but before the blaze was ended practically every resident of the city was out-of-doors. The majority of Americans went to bank.

TYLER, Aug. 12 (UP)—If parents approve, Tyler's 7,000 school children will be fingerprinted when they start to school this fall.

The city safety council proposed and the school board approved such a plan to thwart any possible recurrence of the confusion arising from the New London school explosion this spring. In that tragedy many identifications were difficult to establish. Superintendent of Schools John Hodges said the plan would go into effect if parents agreed and that he expected little opposition inasmuch as the idea was to protect the children.

The council said the prints would be sent to Washington for permanent filing. The plan contemplates eventual fingerprinting of every person in the city.

HELP 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

To Flush out Acids and Other Poisonous Waste
Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the beginning of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Banking News

—tells a story of strength and growth in public service.

In our previous advertisement we pointed out that 63,000,000 depositors have entrusted some 45 billion dollars in their banks. The latest official nationwide figures show how the banks are employing these deposits through sound conservative loans and investments:—

Bank loans on farm lands and city real estate, nine billion dollars; loans to individuals and business concerns, twelve billion dollars; investments in direct Federal government loans, eleven billion dollars; in obligations of various government recovery corporations, one billion dollars; investments in state and municipal bonds, over three billion dollars; in American corporate securities, six billion dollars.

This bank feels that American banking as a whole is fully measuring up to its duties in the public services it is rendering.

MONTGOMERY WARD

THE SPORTS PARADE

BY HANK HART

This bit of correspondence should explain everything about the once mysterious case of George Brown: Dear Hank:

x x x I have just signed a contract with the Dallas public school system. I don't know where I'll be located just yet.

I regret very much in leaving Big Spring but feel that I have a promotion and a permanent position with a good salary and scaling increases every year.

I hope the school board there secures a good man. They have a fine group of boys who I feel sure will give their best and show good reason why athletes should go forward.

I don't know whom the board will select but I wish you would tell the boys it is my hope that they will give their best and cooperate with their coach. I shall always keep their interests in mind and wish to see each one of them make a name for the school as well as for himself. I'll keep up with them closely. x x x

Sincerely,
GEORGE BROWN.

The appeal made by the Texas Wild Life Association is earnest and it is hoped that each and every hunter will be sportsman enough to leave the restricted fowls alone. The 75 to 100 members of the local chapter have been asked to report anyone stepping out of bounds.

Texas A&M may get at least three Oil Belt stars of 1936, stealing two of them away from Tulane. Both Odell Herman and John Kimbrough returned from the New Orleans school and announced intentions of going to a Southwest conference institution while Angelo's Harry Hays is looking favorably in College Station's direction. The Angelo sports writer (his name is still Cross) has dedicated his sheet for the past week to Hays, which should go a long way in making Harry all American.

The real star of the all-star game has never been determined. Blonny insisted that Harry could have pulled a Rube Waddell by calling the other ten boys over to the sidelines and doing a solo during the last half while the Waco radio announcer stoutly maintained that it was all Marion Fugh.

Leonard Jorvis, who worked during the summer here after making all-state at tackle for Abilene last season, has returned to his home to complete his high school work. Len, one of the individual stars in the Waco affair, lacks three credits in finishing his high school work and intends to attend Southern California after he graduates.

Cleaning the cuff: Overton, the place the softball tournament will be held, is in Rusk county, on the road between Arp and Kilgore. It's about 20 miles southwest of Tyler. Big Spring basketball teams have been placed in the same situation as were the aggregations in Del Rio last year. Coach Les Cranfill did not have an inside gym for his boys to work out yet he led his team into the state semi-finals. . . . The absence of Lefty Gomes from the New York Yankees lineup hasn't mattered as Joe Balestr, Washington, a book-binder ineligible for the grand prize.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12 (AP)—Ed Galbeman, respected Cincinnati newspaper compositor, led the field into the final round of the union printers international golf tournament here today, with the Walter Hagen trophy as his goal.

Galbeman, twice winner of the trophy, carded a 76 in yesterday's third round of play and ran his 54-hole total to 228. His score was one stroke above the 228 carded by Joe Balestr, Washington, a book-binder ineligible for the grand prize.

Mrs. E. V. Mars Spends 122 Grand At Sale
SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 12 (AP)—If every bidder at the Saratoga yearling sales was like Mrs. E. V. Mars of Chicago, life would be sweet for the auctioneer and breeders of thoroughbred yearlings.

Mrs. Mars has spent $122,700 at the sales thus far, adding $69,300 to her total last night when she purchased seven yearlings.

Last night she was involved in a hot battle for a bay colt by Imp-Teddy out of Cinema with Mrs. Isobel Dodge Sloane. She finally took the colt at a bid of $16,900. Mrs. Sloane dropped out when the bidding hit $16,800.

NEW YORK AMERICANS SHOOTING FOR NEW MAJOR LEAGUE RECORDS

Have Hit 130 Homers In 98 Games

Cubs Stretch Lead By Beating Bucs, Cards Win

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Society for the Perpetuation of the Yankees as American League Champions ("Yaks" Rupert, Pres.) is on the way toward proving again the sky is the limit so far as its long-range firing is concerned.

With charter members Lou Gehrig and Joe DiMaggio as chief "disher-outers" of the daily dose of pitchers' poison, the swat squad has just about demolished what little record there was for this year's pennant, and is sharpening up its sights for another major operation on baseball's record books.

They handed knockout drops to their latest challengers from second place by trouncing the Boston Red Sox, 8-5 and 10-4, in both ends of a double bill yesterday, with a crowd of 36,127 witnessing the execution, and thereby waltzed away to an 11 1-2 game lead over the pack—a lead that puts them as good as "in" unless there's a wholesale epidemic of broken bones or an earthquake or two.

Nearing Record

With that done, they looked over the field today and found that their 1936 record of 132 homers for a season, which was supposed to be pretty close to a limit a year ago, would be somewhat of a cinch to wipe out, and that they have a fair chance to preserve for Yankee posterity new marks for won-lost standings and for the margin by which they can nail the pennant to the mast.

The 1936 edition of Gehrig and company was supposed to be the tops or thereabouts, but they were pikers compared to this collection, despite a pitching staff that appeared to be just about hanging on. So far, they have a lead of about five games better than they had at the same time last year, and are some full five games in front of where they were then in games won and lost.

No. 23

Dynamiter DiMaggio drove his 33rd round tripper into the stands in yesterday's 14-inning opener, and Gehrig greeted Buck Newsom with his 28th in the seven-inning nightcap. This pair of payoff wallopers boosted the Yankee season total to 100 in the 98 official games to date.

56 games still ahead and 53 homers needed for a record, there seems little chance that the club mark will be on hand when they finish their bombing this season.

The National league lead, currently in possession of the Chicago Cubs, also underwent a "stretching" yesterday. The Cubs took advantage of the idleness of the second place Giants to pound the Pirates, 5-1, behind Clay Bryant's five-hit flinging and boost their pace making margin to 1-2 games.

The Cleveland Indians, with Bob Feller pitching a seven-hitter and slugging six in the opener, whipped the St. Louis Browns, 5-2 and 7-2, in a twin bill. The Senators just lasted to take a 5-4 decision from the Athletics. St. Johnson twirled the Cardinals to a 2-2 win over the Reds.

The White Sox and Tigers in the American league, and the Giants, Cubs, Dodgers and Phillies in the National were rained out.

NEWCOMERS ON AT ARENA

At least two new faces will show on the card of the Big Spring athletic club next Tuesday night in an evening of entertainment that will be featured with the return of Ray Clements, referee. Clements suspended several weeks ago for having a ring ad in Lubbock will be reinstated before appearing here.

None other than Prince Omar, mighty Oriental, will hit this circuit and show his wares here for the first time. Omar is one of the best known men of his weight in the world, having wrestled throughout the United States and Europe.

The other beginner will be Cyclone Mackay of Amarillo who is remembered for his bloody bout with Danny McShain last season.

Softball Meet Begins Aug. 23

MIDLAND, Aug. 12 (Spl.)—Plans for a district softball tournament to be held here during the week beginning August 23 are being pushed here this week, it being necessary for teams to qualify before August 15 in order to be eligible to enter the state tournament in Overton, September 1-4.

Homer Williams of Sweetwater, West Texas softball commissioner, Saturday announced the appointment of Jesse Rodgers, president of the Midland Industrial League and sports editor of the Midland Reporter-Telegram, as commissioner for the district tournament here.

Invitations to clubs in the 11 counties comprising the district were mailed out Monday, the entry of possibly 50 teams being forecast.

Counties comprising the district are Loving, Pecos, Winkler, Ector, Midland, Glasscock, Reagan, Upton, Crane, Ward and Reeves.

Exposition Fighters Begin Matches Tonight

Yanks Base Hopes On Kelly

122 Fighters Take Ring In Prelim Battling

By WILLIAM T. RIVES

DALLAS, Aug. 12 (AP)—The hopes of five countries go into the ring tonight when 122 busy little battlers open the Pan American boxing games.

Cuba, Argentina, Brazil, Uruguay and the United States have marshaled their finest amateur craftsmen for the three-day fight frolic.

Testing the mettle of opponents in first round bouts tonight will be six bantamweights, six lightweights, four flyweights and six welterweights.

Chief hope of the United States were two of its national champions, William Speary, flyweight, and Joseph Kelly, lightweight, both from Nanticoke, Pa.

Speary was matched with Pedro Umperres, of Uruguay, who has lost but two in 20 matches. Kelly meets the stout marine from Brazil, Jack Resende.

The third principal bout of the first evening paired Leonard Gula, called by admirers one of the finest fighters in all of South America, against Florent Desmaris of Manchester, N. H. The Argentine was a slight favorite.

Tonight's card will feature most of the lighter divisions. Tomorrow night two fights each will be held in the featherweight, middleweight, light heavyweight and heavyweight divisions and one each in the bantamweight, lightweight and welterweight groups.

Saturday night the eight finals matches will be held.

Other matches tonight:

Bantamweights: Fidel Tricaneio, Uruguay, vs. James Mace, U.S.; Carlos Herrera, Cuba, vs. Taylor Arnold, U.S.

Lightweights: William Othon, Cuba, vs. Amelio Picoda, Argentina; Louis Petrone, Uruguay, vs. Frank Mirabelle, U.S.

Welterweights: Salvador Bonanno, Argentina, vs. John McCall, U.S.; Santa Rosa, Brazil, vs. Arthur Dorell, U.S.; Jose Garcia, Uruguay, vs. Fred Lewis, U.S.

Flyweights: Valerino Mesa, Argentina, vs. Fred Pope, U.S.

Hunters Asked To Protect Quail

Country Is Being Restocked By Officials

Officers of the local chapter of the Texas Wild Life Federation are making an appeal to West Texas sportsmen to refrain from killing the bob white quail through the coming season, which opens Nov. 1 in this county.

During the past three years almost $1,000 has been spent by the Howard county organization to restock the local area and the association have succeeded in rebuilding the fowl back to the point where it can escape extinction at the present time but the work has not stopped. The club hopes with in the next year to put 2,000 mating birds in this area.

For each bird the Howard county club buys the state will make an identical purchase.

Through experiments officers have found that the quail is a natural inhabitant of this part of the country and will thrive if the hunters cooperate with the association.

RAFT FURTHERS BALL PLANS

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Aug. 12 (AP)—A baseball job loomed today for the bumbling of home runs. George Herman Ruth, the mighty Babe, Actor George Raft disclosed, is considered the ideal prospect for manager of a Hollywood baseball team in the Pacific Coast League.

With a group of screen associates, sports-minded Raft wants to transfer the Oakland or San Francisco Mission franchise to the movie capital next year.

"Ruth is still the biggest figure in baseball," Raft said, "and with him as manager I believe a club would do a swell business in Hollywood, which deserves a coast league club."

East said that if negotiations proceeded as he expected, he would leave by plane next week for the east to lay his offer before the one-time sultan of swat.

The above map shows the seasons for mourning doves and white-winged doves during the period September 15 to November 15 and the state law provides an open season December 1 to January 15 in 18 counties and portions of 15 other counties, the above map reveals that there will be no open season in those counties and a more limited season than provided by federal regulations in most of the other counties of the state.

Hunters Asked To Protect Quail

Country Is Being Restocked By Officials

Officers of the local chapter of the Texas Wild Life Federation are making an appeal to West Texas sportsmen to refrain from killing the bob white quail through the coming season, which opens Nov. 1 in this county.

During the past three years almost $1,000 has been spent by the Howard county organization to restock the local area and the association have succeeded in rebuilding the fowl back to the point where it can escape extinction at the present time but the work has not stopped. The club hopes with in the next year to put 2,000 mating birds in this area.

For each bird the Howard county club buys the state will make an identical purchase.

Through experiments officers have found that the quail is a natural inhabitant of this part of the country and will thrive if the hunters cooperate with the association.

Betty Jameson In 3rd Place At Chi

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (AP)—One more sample of the kind of golf she has been shooting for the past three days was all Marion Milley of Cincinnati, needed today to win her third consecutive Women's Western 73-hole medal play derby in record fashion.

She went into the final round today with a five-stroke margin over red-haired Patty Berg of Minneapolis. From the manner in which she compiled her 64-hole total of 232 strokes, eight under par for that distance over the Onwentsia club course, only an almost total collapse of her game could keep her from retaining the title she won in 1935 and 1936.

Betty Jameson of Austin, Tex., made a belated rally yesterday, matching Miss Milley's 78, to move from a tie for sixth, to third place at 240. The 1937 Little-Mississippi champion had little chance of catching the leader, but was still in the running for the runnerup spot.

A stroke farther back was Beatrice Barrett of Minneapolis, who shot a par 80 for a 241 total, one stroke better than Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, Texas, and 19 year old Edith Eastbrooks of Dubuque, former Western women's junior titleholder, who carded 83 and 82, respectively.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

by EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP)—Has Joe Louis got a bum left hand? . . . Press agents in his camp scream "no," but here's what a responsible New Jersey newspaperman writes: "Saw Joe Louis the other night. . . His left hand is swollen. . . Trainer Jack Blackburn says it's sore from too much taping. But it looks bruised and a little out to me." Write your own ticket. . . The current series between the Yanks and the pepped-up Red Sox is considered so important that President Will Hargrave rushed four umpires to Beaumont. . .

Mickey Cochrane says Joe DiMaggio hits a baseball just like a top-notch golfer swats a golf ball. . . Is Rogers Hornsby making a business trip to Cheyenne land soon? . . . The feud between Patty Berg and Bea Barrett, Minneapolis and St. Paul golf stars, is like Bernie's and Winchell's and Mike Jacobs' and Jimmy Johnston's. . . Between tournaments they're pals and frequently practice together. . . There may be more poetry than poetry in that story (quickly denied all around) that Bill Terry will move into the Giants' front office next year and draw down the highest salary in the majors—$42,800. . . The St. Louis Cardinals, who have the most elaborate farm system in baseball, buy uniforms in lots of 500. . . Lou Gehrig probably gets more fan mail than any man in baseball. . . Every kid in the country writes in wanting to know how he pours the pine to that ball. . .

Rain May Cause Postponement

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 12 (AP)—After yielding to the weatherman yesterday, a dozen evenly matched three-year-old trotters were ready again today to settle their argument over speed and stamina in the 100th Hambletonian at Good Time park.

Whether they would take the track in the battle for the major share of $37,912.58 was doubtful however. Rain which washed out trotting's richest race yesterday after more than 30,000 persons had crowded their way into the track continued well into the night. Several inches of water covered the inside of the course.

The weather conditions had no effect on the betting. Before the race was postponed, Desota, owned by Paul Bowser, the Boston breeding impresario, was installed the firm choice to take the winner's share of the purse, amounting to $19,916.92. He remained so today.

If any horse beats Desota, it figures to be either Schanaps from Brooklyn, N. Reynolds' Winston Salem, N. C. stable or Bill Strong's New York-owned Twilight Song.

Abilene Favored In TAAF Boxing

PORT ARTHUR, Tex., Aug. 12 (AP)—Amateur boxers from 12 Texas cities match punches tonight in opening bouts of the annual Texas Amateur Athletic Federation boxing tournament.

Abilene, with a nine-man team that swept its district opposition with ease, was a prime favorite.

Fighters were here from Abilene, Fort Worth, Austin, San Antonio, Waco, Wichita Falls, Vernon, Galveston, Houston, Rosebud, Beaumont and Oenaville, Bell county.

Preliminaries are scheduled to night and semi-finals and finals tomorrow night.

E. G. Furgue, chairman of the Port Arthur C. A. athletic committee and state vice-president of the T. A. A. F., is in charge of the meet.

CATS MARK UP 9TH STRAIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

The third-place Fort Worth Cats scored their ninth consecutive triumph to warn all contenders they were out after a roughness playoff berth in the Texas League by wallowing the loop-leading Oklahoma City club, 9 to 1, last night.

Brilliant support helped Ed (Bearclaw) Greer mark up his 16th victory of the season. He permitted eight hits and whiffed six. Leo Stibbin's three-run double in the first inning was the major slam of the tilt.

In a series opener the Galveston Buccaneers hurtled their an'ce'n' nemesis, Mike Cvangros, to defeat Houston 4 to 3. Ten Houston bingles were scattered by June Barnes. Manager Ira Smith came to Cvangros' relief too late.

A crowd of more than 16,000 (it being free night for men fans) saw Dallas split a double bill with Tulsa, winning the first, 12 to 8 and dropping the second, 5 to 2. Dallas still appeared to have a first mortgage on the cellar.

San Antonio fought hard to keep its second place rating in whipping Beaumont 6 to 3. The Missions got 12 safeties off two Shipper hurriers.

Falls Upon Evil Days

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Aug. 12 (AP) Babe Phelps, Brooklyn catcher, never had been chased by an umpire until this season. He got the old have-his-five-times-before-the-'37 baseball race reached its advanced stages.

Harmless Bat Rack

CINCINNATI, Aug. 12 (AP)—A new bat rack has been built inside the Cincinnati Race track, the object is to provide additional room and to lessen the chance of injuries. It is expected that "inside" bat racks will be installed at all National league parks in the future.

Two Texans Stay In Denver Meet

DENVER, Aug. 12 (AP)—An second round play opened today, the Rocky Mountain amateur invitation golf tournament still had its three former champions left in its championship flight of 32 shotmints.

Nine of the players are visitors representing Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Jack Malloy, Oklahoma and Broadmore invitation champion, who won the medal with a two-under par 60, faved J. A. Holzwarth of Denver at 9:20 a. m., Mountain Standard Time, in today's initial match. Malloy was one under card figures yesterday in beating O. D. Pleasant, another Denverite, 5 and 2.

W. C. Nevin, head of a Denver candy company, conquered a 17-year-old Alvin Moncrief of Fort Worth, Tex., in 26 holes, the longest early-round battle in tournament history.

The three champions left in the competition over the 6,404-yard Lakewood course a few miles short of the mountains, were Rufus King of Wichita Falls, Tex., a student at Southern Methodist university and N. C. Morris and Nathan Warren, both of Denver.

King, who won the crown in 1935, defeated Robert Dergance, 3 and 2, yesterday, and drew Frank J. English, head of an aluminum concern, in today's firing.

Other out-of-state players still left included J. L. Taylor, Houston, Tex.

FAVORITES MOVE ON AT RYE

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 12 (AP)—Alton Marble, the United States No. 1 woman singles player, will meet Miss Sylvia Henrotin, of France, in the first of the semi-final matches of the eastern grass courts tennis championships this afternoon.

Miss Marble breezed through a 1-6, 6-1 victory over Jane Stanton, Los Angeles, yesterday, while Mrs. Henrotin was beating Barbara Winslow, Hollywood, Calif., 6-3, 6-4.

Jadwiga Jedzejowska and Graywyn Wheeler, Los Angeles, the other semi-finalists, had somewhat tougher going. Miss Wheeler defeated Dorothy May Bundy, 6-4, 7-9, 8-6, and the Polish champion defeated Mrs. Marjorie Van Ryn, Austin, Tex., 7-5, 6-3. Miss Wheeler and Miss Jedzejowska will play Friday.

Three men's third round singles matches also are set for today. Bryan M. (Bill) Grant, Atlanta, the Davis cup team member, plays Gerin Cameron, Tulsa, Okla.; Frank Shields, fourth seeded, meets Lewis Wetherell, Santa Ana, Calif., and Arthur Hendrix, Lakeland, Fla., seeded No. 7, encounters the Japanese Davis cup player, Fumitero Nakasa.

STREPHENVILLE, Aug. 12

High school athletic directors of the Texas South Plains are in Levelland this week, attending a coaching school conducted by W. J. Wisdom, who coached the John Farleton Flawbays to their world's record of 78 consecutive basketball victories, and Coach Frank Kimbrough of Hardin-Simmons.

Wisdom lectures every morning on basketball; Kimbrough, every afternoon on football. In the late afternoon and evening there are basketball demonstrations under Wisdom's direction, and football demonstrations with Kimbrough charges.

Coach Bill Stevens, athletic director of the Levelland schools, early estimated that attendance at the school would be about 50 for the week. The school will close Saturday.

Report On Food And Clothing Distribution Is Given. A total of 801 persons received food from the Howard County Welfare association during July, the monthly report submitted to county and city by Mignonne Crunk case worker, disclosed Thursday. An equal number received clothing, among them 1,559 garments 40 quilts and 514 household necessities. Included in the food distributed was 982 pounds of oatmeal, 457 pounds of rice, 2,575 pounds of onions and 48 cans of milk. The supplies came out of surplus commodities made possible by TRC. Twenty-six cases other than the surplus commodities were attended to by the association in July. For August there are 98 cases or 493 persons listed on the ERC rolls. July donations included bread from local bakeries for seven families for three days each. County and city each contribute $200 monthly toward the support of the county welfare unit.

Midland Plans To Advertise Contests

Goodwill Trips Slated To Boost September Cowboy Show

MIDLAND, Aug. 12—Goodwill trips advertising the annual Midland Cowboy contest here September 4, 5 and 6 will be started next week, practically every city and town of West Texas and Southeastern New Mexico within a 150 mile radius of Midland to be visited by local business and professional men who will distribute literature and placards and contact newspapers, radio stations and other business concerns. The goodwill trips will be sponsored by the Midland chamber of commerce.

Members of the rodeo committee of Midland Fair, Inc., announced this week that rodeo plans are developing rapidly and that one of the most outstanding rodeos ever staged in West Texas is assured. Entries are being received daily and special attractions are being booked for the three day show with afternoon and evening performances. The rodeo committee is composed of Roy Parks, Leonard Proctor, John Dublin and Donald Hutt, Midland ranchers.

SOME 'SLIMS' (ONE REALLY) OF T.E.S.

Coming to the Elits theatre Friday and Saturday is a picture dramatization of the lives of these stalwart fellows who keep the electric power coming into your homes and business houses. The picture, called "Slim" and featuring Pat O'Brien, Henry Fonda and Margaret Lindsay, deals in authentic fashion with the activities of linemen. West Texas has its own "Slims" who build and guard the power lines. Here's a whole group of them, members of the line crew in this district of the Texas Electric Service company. They are: Left to right top row: Joe Black, Jim Daniel, Peppy Blount, C. M. Alvis, B. C. Barron, E. J. Shank, Bill Elder, R. E. Hull, L. F. Caddell, J. F.

Ferguson; middle row H. R. Newth, Joe Taylor, M. Creighton; bottom row R. E. Blount, T. C. Wynn, D. M. McKinney, Raymond Masters, Bill Shaw, SLIM Larmon, Bill Welch, Doug Jones, J. W. Garrison, A. B. Sisson, Earl Scott, Roy Bruce. That "Slim" name isn't all fiction, as will be noted by a glance at Larmon, in the middle of the front row.

taking part in the parade. Over $3,000 in purses and prizes is being offered in the cowboy contests, the varied events, in which no roper or rider will be barred, including calf roping, wild cow milking, bronc riding, steer riding, bareback bronc riding, and a wild horse race. Other features will include a bulldogging contest, trick riding acts, trick roping events, a cowboy clown and mule and other novelty numbers.

Between 25 and 30 cowgirl sponsors from over West Texas and New Mexico are expected to compete for a $100 saddle and other prizes in the colorful cowgirl sponsor's contest.

U.S. Promises Fast News On Hurricanes

Forecast Service Enlarged To Make It Best In World

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (UP)—Expansion of weather bureau hurricane forecasting to make it the most efficient in the world is announced by the department of agriculture. Stations in charge of expert forecasters and with all modern meteorological instruments are being established in more than a score of southeastern cities and on 25 scattered islands in the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea.

Virtually every important path for tropical storms has been dotted with stations from which the progress and intensity of storms will be reported, according to E. B. Calvert, in charge of the forecast division of the weather bureau.

Earlier Warnings Assured Under the new setup the weather bureau will be able to chart the path of any storm and issue warnings to ships and to coastal cities many hours before it reaches the mainland. New stations will augment many which have been in operation for years. Special emphasis has been placed on the area surrounding the Florida peninsula by establishment of stations to the east and southeast of the mainland. It is from these directions that most storms approach. The bureau's office at Miami, Fla., will cooperate with the director of the meteorological service of the Bahamas in checking the course of storms. They will exchange observations made with meteorological instruments and data on atmospheric pressure. Cooperation To Be Close Observations from the Bahamas are collected by the director of the meteorological service at Nassau, radioed to the weather bureau station at Miami and sent out over the teletype circuit to all stations in the bureau's hurricane warning service.

"With more news," the department said, "from ships at sea, better observations from the islands in the waters over which violent tropical wind storms travel, and faster communication systems, weather bureau forecasters at San Juan, P. R., New Orleans, Jacksonville and Washington can issue warnings of where the hurricane is likely to strike far enough in advance to protect life and property."

The hurricane season is from June 1 to Dec. 1. The greatest number of tropical storms in this area was 21 in 1933 and the fewest 1 in 1890.

10 years. During the early part of the century Florida was relatively free from hurricanes, but the Louisiana and Texas coasts suffered heavily.

Dr. W. R. Gregg, chief of the bureau, has sent 150 small instruments to stations at Macon, Ga.; Maxwell Field, near Montgomery, Ala.; Vicksburg, Miss., and Raleigh, N. C., for release in event of a storm, to record automatically the temperature, pressure and humidity in the path of such disturbance.

The instruments may rise to 20 miles recording atmospheric conditions. When the balloon carrying the instruments bursts, the latter fall back to earth. The weather bureau pays $3 for each one returned. Information obtained from these instruments should aid in strengthening the bureau's hurricane warning service, Dr. Gregg said.

Vegetable, Cheese Combinations Make Summer Table Attractive

By MARTHA LOGAN
An early morning trip to a vegetable stand is a real inspiration to any menu planner. Of course, we have fresh vegetables all year around nowadays but the home-grown, fresh-looking vegetables in season now are especially fine flavored. Sometimes it seems rather trying to have something different for luncheon or supper—but not this month. Take fresh vegetables, some sharp cheese, sweet smoky bacon, and what a variety of dishes evolve.

Let's take egg plant first. We like to vary the usual fried sliced egg plant by adding grated cheese to the egg and milk mixture into which the sliced egg plant is dipped. Roll in sifted cracker crumbs, then pan-fry in butter. The cheese gives that interestingly different taste. Another way to use egg plant is to cut off the top and scoop out the inside. Then combine the chopped center portions with grated cheese and seasoned bread crumbs. Fill the egg plant. Dot with butter and bake in a hot oven until tender—about 45 minutes. Another idea is to serve scalloped egg plant with grated cheese, especially if topped with thin sliced bacon to give the added zest.

Then there's squash, in varying shapes and sizes. Mashed steamed squash piled on a baking dish, topped with graté cheese and browned is a fine luncheon dish. Or bake halves of little Danish squash. Remove seeds, sprinkle with graté cheese and brown.

Now that tomatoes are plentiful, we like to have stuffed baked tomatoes or broiled slices. Tomatoes and cheese are always a happy combination, so we suggest filling tomato cups with a mixture of bread crumbs, graté cheese, and diced green peppers. Bake or broil to melt cheese and heat thoroughly. A different broiled tomato slice is made by dripping a half-inch slice in beaten egg, then a mixture of sifted cracker crumbs and graté cheese. Lay the slices on a broiler rack or place the slices on a rack set in a dripping pan. Broil one side until brown, then turn and brown on the other side.

Another reason for this enthusiasm over August vegetables is the fine yellow corn that is now so plentiful. An ever-so-good luncheon dish is made by using 1 cup of cooked corn, 1 cup milk, and 1 egg mixed together. Add 1-4 cup graté sharp cheese. Bake in a casserole in a moderate oven about 30 minutes or until set, or fill green pepper cases and bake. Cheese-corn fritters are fine too. Use 1 cup flour, 1 cup cooked or raw corn kernels, 1-4 cup graté sharp cheese, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 egg, 1-2 cup milk, 1 tablespoon melted butter and seasoning. Beat together and pan fry by spoonful in hot butter. Serve hot.

Cauliflower and fresh cabbage also make delicious luncheon dishes, when combined with cheese. Both of these vegetables should be cooked in plenty of water in an uncovered kettle to give a mild flavor. To scallop, cut the cabbage or cauliflower in pieces. Lay in a buttered baking dish. Cover with a medium white sauce. Top with graté cheese and bake in a hot oven until the cheese is melted and brown.

It scarcely seems fair not to mention turnip, rutabaga, beets, string beans, Brussels sprouts, and many others. In almost every household more interesting menus could be served if a more liberal use were made of cheese with vegetables now in season.

137 Arrests In Two Months

95 Of Total Reported By Police Are For Drunkenness

Police department reports for the months of June and July show a total of 137 arrests, 95 of them for drunkenness.

During the month of June the department arrested 66 persons, 45 for drunkenness, 10 for disturbance, four for petty theft, two on charges necessitating transfer to the county, three for investigation (and subsequent dismissal) and two on cases that were dismissed. Traffic complaints numbered 51, with fines in each instance. During July the traffic cases increased to 96 with eight additional cases for speeding. Fines were collected in all cases.

The July arrests totaled 71, 40 for drunkenness, 15 for disturbance, seven for vagrancy, two for investigation, two for petty theft, two for assault, one for insanity, and one for drunken driving, necessitating transfer to the county. Reports from the health department by H. W. Leeper, inspector, showed weekly tests on the swimming pool, all reacting negatively. Included in several out-of-town water tests was one from the Morita section house which showed unfit for human consumption. Inspections were made of 15 dairies and one each at Stanton and Colorado. Two abattoirs were inspected. Other details were delivery of 70 health certificates, collection of 28 milk samples and other sanitary calls.

Fixing The Price Of Cotton

Since the government estimate of more than fifteen million bales of cotton from the 1937 crop, it will be rather difficult to make an argument that there should be a federal loan, or loan from any source, of 12 cents on cotton that the producer is unwilling to sell at the time of production.

The total is much larger than many people expected, yet some of the seasoned traders on the exchanges had predicted something near the future. These men have sources of information, as a rule, about as good as that of the government, and taking the two in connection it is probable that unless something unusual occurs to damage the crop, the final return will not be far from the estimate.

Asking the government to guarantee a price for cotton or any other commodity unless the government or the guarantor of the price has the authority to name the amount to be produced, is asking something unreasonable. Nothing the government or an individual can do will change the law of supply and demand, and there is no use arguing about it. The cotton grower and the wheat grower and any other grower had as well make up his mind to that.

President Roosevelt is correct in his position of being reluctant to recommend any further loans on crops unless congress will at first assure him some form of control legislation will be passed. The government already holds more than a million and a half bales of cotton. It is confronted with a crop that runs about three million bales above world consumption. It would be pretty poor business to throw another half-billion dollars after the 113 million dollars remaining uncollected on cotton loans contracted in 1934-35. Without some form of control, next year might see a crop of anywhere up to 17 to 18 million bales. It would break any government on earth to guarantee a price of 12 cents on such a crop.

Government price pegging cannot be divorced from government control of production. The two go together. And they must stay together even if the guaranteed price were reduced to 10 cents, as now is indicated.

Even if the acreage be limited there is no knowing what the yield will be. This is abundantly proved by the recent estimate, where the acreage yield is considerably above average years. Other times it will be below, all dependent upon weather and other conditions. The price of cotton cannot be fixed or can that of any other commodity, by any sort of law. And even an artificial price pegging must be fortified with control of production.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—The conduct of night club guests in New York is uniformly good, but occasionally there enters upon the scene a disturbing influence which is quickly and effectively dissipated.

Such an occurrence took place at Ben Collada's Spanish restaurant, El Chico, the other night, and the patrons received a measure of entertainment that wasn't listed on the program.

What happened was that a large buxom senora, with a mop of frizzly black hair and of a positively fascinating ugliness, made herself obnoxious and was tossed out. Collada had observed not 15 minutes before that "she doesn't seem to belong here."

She was Spanish and telling everybody about it. At the next table, between herself and the floor, sat the head of the Medical Arts Center in New York with two guests. A dancer from Seville was on the floor.

Suddenly the lady screamed something in Spanish and a shower of water sprayed the guests at the next table, including this innocent bystander. A lot of the water splashed out on the floor and onto the dancer.

Quick as a flash the girl at the table next to our hysterical blackheaded friend leaped up and screamed. The head of the Medical Arts Center wore a linen suit, and it was drenched. By this time the head waiter was on the scene. "Get her out of here or we'll leave," said the Medical Arts Center man.

"I'm getting her out as quickly as possible," the head waiter promised.

Meanwhile he entered into a hurried conversation with the frivolous one. She was very angry. Her evening had been ruined, she declared.

The master of ceremonies had announced the dancer as being from Seville, when, as everybody with a grain of intelligence could see, the fellow was not Spanish at all.

So screamed the vexed, ugly one. The funny part of it was that the dancer, having just been brought over from Spain, and unable to speak a word of English, didn't know the lady was denouncing him as an impostor.

However, the headwaiter firmly but smoothly laid the check on her table and personally helped her into her ermine wrap. She waddled out, screaming invectives and shaking her chubby fists. She was about five feet high and she

ON THE RECORD

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

NAVIES FOR HIRE

The announcement, some three weeks ago, that the United States government had made a loan of $60,000,000 to Brazil, allegedly for purposes of exchange stabilization, was mystifying to Wall Street economists. It would have been less mystifying if they had associated it with a news which quickly followed that Brazil had canceled a deal whereby Germany was to purchase from her 100,000 bags of coffee, to be paid for in blocked marks, and to be used, not for German consumers, but for resale to Central European countries. Now, on top of these items comes another, more extraordinary. The State Department has asked Congress quickly to authorize the lease to Brazil of six American destroyers, for the cost of the full marine insurance.

In recommending this measure which, as far as I know, is unprecedented, Mr. Hull merely states that "Brazil is concerned with recent tendencies in world politics and is apprehensive of the desires of some nations for raw materials . . . and is seeking to build a navy of her own." He points out that "Brazil is a vast territory with a relatively small population" and that "if the governments of other American countries find it necessary to turn to foreign governments for assistance . . . it is preferable that such assistance should be extended by the United States."

These items all add up to something, and what they add up to is that the State Department and the Navy are both greatly concerned about Germany's activities in Brazil. They are first of all concerned with Germany's trade policy, and secondly they are not sure that German activity will be limited to trying to capture the Brazilian market. In considering the possibilities of German colonial expansion, most Americans have always thought merely of the return of the African colonies. But it would appear that Brazil, and perhaps some other South American countries, fear that Germany may look elsewhere than to Africa. And the Monroe Doctrine, far from being dead, has been built into a pan-American system of collective security.

The German trade policy is in direct opposition to the reciprocal trade agreements of Cordell Hull. Under Hull's policy the signatories to trade agreements contract to give each other the benefit of any trade concessions which they may give to other countries. The policy does not demand that any one country buy as much from the United States as it sells to us, or vice versa. Hull's program is to open up all the channels of world trade in the widest possible way based upon fair and non-discriminatory treatment.

The German policy is, first, never to buy more from a country than that country buys from Germany. Second, wherever trade balances run against her, payment is made through blocked marks, held in Germany for the account of the buyer and dischargeable only through purchase of German goods. Third, heavily to subsidize exports out of government bounties so that they can undersell competitors.

Now, of course, these blocked marks really amount to an enforced loan from Germany's customers. At the present moment Brazil has got blocked in Germany marks amounting to 35,000,000 American dollars. Under this system she has got to take German goods whether she wants them or not. German automobiles, although she may prefer American, in order to get her money. But Germany takes Brazilian goods and if she doesn't use them at home sells them in the world market for gold or other goods, at arbitrary prices.

Actually, what Germany has been doing has been to disorganize the Brazilian market in the small countries of central Europe. Germany buys Brazilian coffee for goods. Then she sells this coffee for cash or other goods below the Brazilian price. So that when Brazil takes her coffee into her old markets she finds that Germany has been there with it already. It's a colossal dumping campaign in which Germany is not only dumping her own goods but other peoples'—against those other peoples' interests, using her customers' goods to destroy her customers' trade, and to disorganize anything like a free market.

This game has been practiced all over the world, from China to Canada. The result is that countries who have trade agreements with the United States, and who trade with Germany, discriminate against the United States in a manner that violates both the letter and spirit of their trade agreements with us.

From the American viewpoint the Brazilian case is particularly flagrant. For years the United States was the first supplier to Brazil, followed by England and Germany. England is now in third place, and Germany is close to pushing the United States from first place. Yet the United States weighed about 200 pounds. The large fan-shaped comb in her hair had slipped from place and was dangling by a hair, so that as she made her exit it looked like a drooping rooster's feather trailing in the rain.

How To Torture Your Husband

THE $10.00 BRIAR

annually buys from Brazil about twice as much as we sell her. We are her largest customer for her most important export. We, therefore, have a club which we could use against Brazil, but Mr. Hull refuses to wield it, not only because he is interested in improving relations with our near neighbors, but because if we wield clubs against others, others will wield them against us.

We are, therefore, seeing in this Brazilian affair a real struggle between better principles of Dr. Schacht, made possible by rigid political control, and the liberal trade policies of Mr. Hull. And in Brazil it is apparently complicated by the fear of the Brazilians that German economic penetration, by means of Dr. Schacht's bludgeon, may be the prelude to penetration of a different and even more dangerous sort. Brazil is a sparsely populated country, filled with natural resources sorely needed by Germany, and a large and thriving German colony is there already.

The German government has just appointed an Ambassador to Brazil, Herr Ritter, one of the most important men in the German foreign office. For years he has been in charge of the Department of Economics.

The offer to lease destroyers cannot, therefore, be interpreted merely as a friendly move toward a neighboring American country. It is apparently a warning to the Germans. It is also not without significance that thirty-seven governments—a list in which Italy, Germany and Japan are conspicuous for their absence—have just signed their allegiance to four principles formulated last month by Mr. Hull, as the basis of an international policy. Those principles were: Treaties must be scrupulously regarded; obligations maintained; commercial barriers shattered; and armaments reduced.

HOLLYWOOD—Home is the sailor, home from the sea, and the hunter home from the hill. Or, to put it another way, Robert Young is making a picture on his home lot. It's an "A" picture, with Joan Crawford. He did one other picture with Joan on the Metro lot, but that was four years ago. This time it looks as if he has "arrived."

The other night Robert Young's preview audience, which had just seen "Met Him in Paris," spontaneously applauded when Young stepped on the screen in a supporting role. Two years ago an exhibitor told me the best way he knew to save wear and tear on his seats was to put Robert Young's name on the marquee.

Bob himself, after six years in this upside-down business, is a little waxy. "I've had spurts like this before," he says. "This time I hope

FLAME TRAIL

By Marie De Neravaud

Chapter 43
DASH FOR FREEDOM
As Ted rode out of Clear Water with Zeke Farley and his posse of four men grouped before and behind him, his eyes scanned the outskirts of the town.

His week's enforced rest had done him a world of good, in spite of the mental strain he had been under, and he felt like a different man from the weak and nearly fainting person who had come into town by this same route such a relatively short time before.

"What are those old buildings down there?" He turned to Joe, who was just behind him, and nodded toward the north end of town with an air of idle curiosity.

"Just a bunch of old shacks," Joe answered. "First off, it looked like the town was going to spread that way. Then, the railroad came a mile farther south than they'd reckoned, and left that end flat. Cleaned Ran Simpkins and a couple of others out complete, and their places have been deserted ever since."

"They're not much to look at," Ted observed carelessly, cleverly disguising the excitement that coursed through him at the thought of Kay being concealed somewhere in those ruined shacks. The time for a break was not yet, and Heaven only knew when it would be. But at least he knew where to head to look for Kay.

One thing would be in his favor, if he once made a getaway, the last place they'd expect him to make for, would be Clear Water Basin! And while they were scouting for him in the mountains, he'd at least have a chance to get back and free Kay. After that it didn't much matter what happened, he thought recklessly, as they left the confines of the town and headed up the trail on the west side of the central divide.

A Pretext For Lagging
For two hours they had been climbing, and the long purple shadows thrown by the setting sun filled the deep canyon that yawned at their left, as they rounded the high cliffs on their right.

So far there had not been the slightest chance for a break, but Ted was pinning his hopes on the more open regions above, just before they entered the timber. For Kay's sake, as well as his own, he could not afford to let his impatience lead him to take too reckless chances.

To his relief, Zeke Farley had decreed that they should push on after dark, until they reached the more dangerous passes. Ted intended it should, that he was incapable of any desperate or daring action, and this feeling had communicated itself to the other members of the posse. So when Ted complained of his cinch being too loose, causing his saddle to slip, there was no objection raised to his dismounting to fix it.

By this time they had left the narrow defile through which they had been pushing their way upward, and had come out on rock ledges that were bordered by steep slopes scantily wooded with scrub spruce and pine. A stream of water, cutting its way down from the upper levels, had carved out for itself a canyon 50 feet or so in depth, but fairly narrow at the top. Wooded slopes rose again on the far side of the canyon.

The thin, exhilarating air of the high country sent a thrill of elation through Ted. Anticipation of daring action at last set his blood tingling through his veins and, as he bent to his cinch, a heady recklessness took possession of him.

One by one, the men passed him, as he fumbled clumsily with the leather. At a bend in the trail, 50 feet or so from him, Zeke Farley, who was in the lead, called impatiently, "Get a move on," and rounded the curve, calling to Joe to wait for Ted.

At this instant, Ted's clumsy fumbling changed to dynamic action. Spangling into the saddle, he seized his mount's mane and twisted it desperately, as he raked him with his heels.

A Daring Leap
Snorting and terrified, the horse wheeled and plunged down the trail with frantic speed. Ted gave a sudden jump and shout, and guided him to the canyon's edge. With a squeal of panic the animal took the jump as the only alternative to the death drop that yawned before him.

The horse barely caught the other side, miraculously gained his balance and plunged into the timber, side by side with the cumbered rider, as shots and curses rang out from across the canyon.

Leaning low over his head, Ted urged him on, ducking as the random bullets whistled past, and praying to the gods of luck, into whose hands he had so recklessly played. Behind him resounded the screams of the horses in terror and a dull crash. Then came a blasphemous chorus of shouts, and the shots ceased.

Ted pushed on with a shudder of horror. One of the men must have tried to follow him, and missed by the narrow margin he had won by.

Realizing that at last he had broken the break he had hoped for, Ted crashed up the slope. He must give the impression that he was making for the high timber, where there were plenty of places to hide.

It would take Zeke Farley and his posse some time to round the canyon turn he had leapt across. And he could easily count on their putting up an all-night search for him, and probably continuing it by daylight. They would never dream that he had headed back to town where anyone who saw him would recognize him, and the game would be up.

When Ted arrived at a point where both shots and shots behind him had died away, and the twilight silence drenched the pines, blurring their outlines and bringing out their sweet sharp fragrances, he turned shortly at a right angle and started down. Just how he blazed that unknown trail, against the odds of darkness, Ted never knew. Not his own safety or anything but the desperate urge to reach Kay could ever have pushed him so to attempt and accomplish the impossible.

With reckless disregard of consequences if he was seen, he finally, after hours of agony, headed down the bench and toward the straggling lights of Clear Water. He was thankful that there was no betraying moon to reckon with, as he galloped toward the north end of the town, then pulled down to a walk.

Ted breaks into the ruined smelter where Kay is imprisoned, tomorrow.

Vessel Sinks After Crash

All Passengers On Liner Figuring In Collision Safe

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Radio Marine Corporation of America reported today the Danish freighter Maine sank at 9:49 a. m. after the vessel had been abandoned following a collision with the Canadian Pacific steamer Duchess of Atholl which was standing by.

BOSTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Canadian Pacific steamer Duchess of Atholl, which collided late last night with the Danish freighter Maine, today waited, in a fog-banked sea 13½ miles east southeast of Boston, the arrival of a Halifax, N. S., tug to take the freighter in tow.

The Atholl wireless the Radio Marine Corporation at Chatham she had taken 23 officers and men off the freighter and was standing by for the tug Foundation Franklin, proceeding under forced draft. Herb Tolson of the Philadelphia Record, a passenger aboard the Atholl, said the Maine, of Copenhagen ownership and under command of Captain Brinck, had a 40-foot hole in her side about 40-feet back of the port bow. The liner, with 900 passengers aboard, was in no danger, he reported.

Great Boulders Tumble Into New Canyon Opening In Idaho

BOULDER, Idaho, Aug. 12 (AP)—Boulders big as houses tumbled today into a canyon newly-formed and still expanding on a farm eight miles northwest of here.

Scores of sightseers thronged to the remote ranch corner risking their lives in the rapid earth change despite an order of Emil Bordwick, manager of Griffin ranches, closing the area to the public.

Huge new cracks opened from time to time, acres of grain-bearing earth settled visibly and with sound effects, and new masses of rock and soil, loosed along the freshly-carved canyon rim, thundered into the youthful basin.

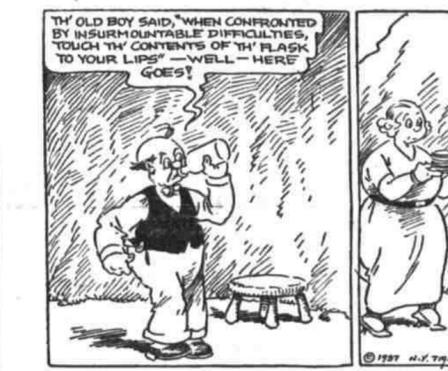

Fishermen complained the course of the nearby Salmon river had been altered as much as 20 feet in places where boulders "large as a house" had rolled into the channel.

"At least 17 acres of my land is doomed," mourned H. A. Robert, lessee of the ranch in which most of the devastation has taken place.

The Bering Strait, separating Asia from America, was discovered by a Cossack named Deshev in 1648.

Chaos At Scene

Thousands of residents rushed to the scene, creating such chaos that police fought to hold them back. Two priests stood with the rescue workers—the Rev. Edward Gobin of St. Peter's church and the Rev. Edward Jordan of Sacred Heart church. They administered last rites to victims brought from the death-trap still breathing.

Two of the victims, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Coral, of Staten Island, were visiting friends in one of the buildings, waiting for the rain to let up so they could go home, when the structure went down with a roar.

Rescue squads, comprising 250 police and firemen, worked feverishly with picks and shovels throughout the night. A searchlight, brought from Manhattan, glared on the wreckage.

Relatives of the dead or dying struggled to get through police lines, as bodies were brought out. Some slipped under the ropes clanking off the disaster scene and clanked at the jumbled tons of smashed brick and rain-soaked timbers.

Sen. Black (Continued from Page 6)

He started law practice in Birmingham immediately after graduation from the University of Alabama in 1906.

He has served in the senate since 1926.

He is 51 years old.

Measures He Voted On

As a justice of the court Black will have an opportunity to pass on constitutionality of Roosevelt administration laws on which he voted in the senate.

They include the measures regulating public utility holding companies, authorizing federal loans and grants for publicly-owned power plants, and fixing prices in the soft coal industry.

Supreme court experts said there was no law or regulation to prevent a senator from participating in decisions affecting legislation he assisted in having enacted. Whether justices disqualify themselves from passing on certain litigation is up to the individual jurist, it was explained.

Justices frequently disqualify themselves if they or a member of their family own stock in a company affected by the legislation or if they have had any previous connection as counsel for the company.

Chief Justice Hughes last term failed to take part in a decision on litigation in which his son, Charles Evans Hughes, Jr., was one of the attorneys.

Black, if confirmed by his colleagues, will become the fifth member of the United States senate to step directly from the senate to the supreme court. The supreme court place pays a salary of $20,000 a year, or just twice the senator's pay of $10,000.

Stowaway In Jail, Asks Aid In Hunt For Her Husband

GALVESTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—A plump and blonde young matron from London, England, who came to America as a stowaway in quest of her husband, languished in the county jail here today awaiting disposition and renewing her pleas to the newspapers of this country to aid her search.

Mrs. Esther Worman, who lived in the superheated hold of the American ship Hybert for 18 days without clothes and was finally driven out by fire with another stowaway, Abraham Kiper, of Poland, today said that her husband Gus Worman, receives his mail at 2069 East 19th street, Brooklyn.

She said she had last heard from her husband about three months ago. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Berger live at 65 Slater street, Bishopgate, E. 1, London she said.

GATHER EVIDENCE FOR ESTATE LITIGATION

DALLAS, Aug. 12 (AP)—Assistant Attorneys General Llewellyn P. Duke and Madden Hill set up headquarters to begin gathering evidence today for the state's case in the Col. Edward H. R. Green estate litigation.

Another of the many hearings which have marked the fight over the great fortune left by the late railroad magnate will be held here October 11. Duke and Hill were preparing for that. Texas, New York, Massachusetts and Florida are fighting for a share of tax money, in addition to the battle for the estate between the colonel's widow and sister.

Insurgents Renew Advance On The Northern Front

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Border, Aug. 12 (AP)—A border report from a military source said the insurgent forces "advanced in several sectors" today on the Santander front, apparently in a renewal of the northern offensive of the Spanish civil war.

Insurgent planes made a number of flights over Santander, dropping propaganda pamphlets urging the inhabitants to support Generalissimo Franco.

The insurgents heavily shelled the government positions at Cangal, seemingly in a fresh attempt to move their spearhead of attack closer to the Cuenca road in an attempt to cut this communication line between Madrid and Valencia.

The government was moving up additional forces into the combat zone in an effort to protect the road.

From the loyalist side came a report that further uprisings against insurgent rule had taken place in Andalusia and at Pinar de Albarada Terreros.

YOUTH CONFESSES HE SLEW FATHER

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 12 (AP)—Walter Marlin, assistant Oklahoma county attorney, said Vert Waller, 26, walked into his office today and declared he shot and killed his father, Albert Waller, while the latter guarded his peach trees at Edmond last night.

Marlin said the younger Waller told him he fired several shots at his father with a target pistol after brooding because the elder Waller refused to give him money for an operation.

WOULD FORCE LOANS ON COTTON CROP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Rep. Luther A. Johnson of Corsicana, Texas, said today congress should pass mandatory legislation requiring the Commodity Credit Corporation to make loans to cotton farmers.

He declared unless something is done immediately to stabilize the price of cotton, farmers in the South are threatened with bankruptcy and labor, industry and business of every character in that section will suffer great and irreparable loss.

SPANISH VESSEL IS TORPEDOED, SUNK

TUNIS, Tunisia, Aug. 12 (AP)—A Spanish government ship of about 6,000 tons today was reported torpedoed and sunk off Cape Bon, 60 miles from here, with the loss of 12 of her 40 crew members.

Lloyd's reported the ship was the tank motor vessel Compendar. The master of the British ship Dido, nearby, said three of the crew were picked up near the vessel last night. He described it then as "blazing furiously."

The Compendar, of Santander, carried a cargo of benzene.

Adjournment Date Now Is Set Back

Anti-Lynching, Wage-Hour Bills Create Controversy

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Congressional chiefs moved back today the tentative adjournment date to August 25 because of scraps over wage-hour and anti-lynching legislation.

They had hoped to quit by August 21. House leaders, however, abandoned hope of getting the wage-hour bill out of the rules committee and onto the floor before next week.

Disposition of that measure, once debate begins, and of other administration bills may take 10 days or more. Some members, in fact, predicted the session might last through Labor Day.

The senate faced the possibility of a long debate on the anti-lynching bill. Administration forces had intended to hold it back until their regular program had been enacted.

Senator Wagner (D-NY) surprised them yesterday by winning recognition to debate it. The bill's supporters defeated a motion which would have side-tracked it.

Leaders nevertheless were trying to reach an agreement to consider it next session. There was talk, too, that the wage-hour bill might go over until January, but not without a fight.

A majority of the house rules committee, opposed to the labor standards measure, was refusing to give it legislative right-of-way. The committee acts as a sort of sifting group for all major bills and ordinarily can hold up any which it does not favor.

One member, Rep. Cox (D-Ga.), said "tremendous pressure" was being applied to get the bill to the floor. He added:

"There is no punishment, pressure or influence that can be brought to bear that will persuade this committee to grant a rule for its debate."

Administration leaders, stymied by the committee's refusal to act, were considering several methods of overcoming the opposition.

An influential member said they might attempt to suspend the rules Monday and bring up the bill with just waiting for the committee. This would require a two-thirds vote.

"Even if this should fail," the member said, "we would demonstrate there are enough votes in the house to pass the bill."

Quiz Two Negroes In Attack Case

LIVINGSTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Two negroes, under the protection of four ready-for-action Texas rangers, were questioned late last night about an attack on a prominent Livingston woman.

While officers piled questions to the suspects in the Polk county jail, the rangers stood guard against lynching threats by more than 100 men who milled about the courthouse. There had been threats of lynching after the woman said a negro attacked her in her home Tuesday night.

Out of a dozen negroes arrested as suspects the two were selected for concentrated questioning. The victim had said she was unable to identify her attacker because the assault took place in the dark.

BODY IS FOUND

DENISON, Aug. 12 (AP)—The body of J. W. Rushing, 34, sought yesterday after he failed to return from a hunting trip, had been found today near the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Reaney Rushing, at East Colbert, Okla. A 22-caliber rifle bullet had pierced his abdomen. The accident victim was the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Rushing of Denison.

$817,000 The First Figure On Hospital, Kiwanians Told

Advantages that will accrue to Big Spring because of the $817,000 state hospital which has been located here by the board of control were outlined in an address Thursday by J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce manager, in a talk before the Kiwanis club. Greene, stressing that the $817,000 figure is only a "starter" and that eventually the institution will be a multi-million-dollar investment, urged support of the bond issue to finance purchase of the hospital tract. The bond election is set for August 26.

Other speaker of the day was Leon J. Wilson of The Herald staff, who spoke on advertising. Floyd Wright was program chairman.

DIZZY SPELLS

How To Help The Passing of Women's Most Critical Years —40 to 50

"I suffered from dizziness years and decided to try Kruschen. Of course I know it is my age that is the cause of it all. I am 47 but I have been told this and that would help me so I tried it all I could but still had the same old dizziness. Now I'm on my 3rd jar off Kruschen and don't get dizzy nearly so often. I used to get so muddled at times. Now I feel different—altogether much clearer. There must be hundreds of women like me. They must stick to Kruschen every morning." Mrs. L. B. N., August 24, 1936.

Kruschen Salts is sold the world over—millions of jars a year. If you want to help avoid headaches, dizziness, smothering spells, weakness, fits of depression—if you want to keep feeling more healthy and happy—up and about your work—take a third teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water first thing every morning. Take it 30 days and if not joyfully satisfied get your money back. Currant & Phillips
