Extension Of . Connally Oil Act Is Urged

Control Measure Otherwise Will Expire On June 15th

AUSTIN, June 3 (A) - The petroleum industry kept one eye on Washington this week in expecta-tion of house action on extension of the Connally hot oil law.

Supporters pressed for immediate congressional approval as the acst would expire June 15 unless extended. The law prohibits movement in interstate commerce of oil produced in excess of state allow-ances and is the only means of federal control endorsed by officials of Texas and several other produc-

Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the interstate oil compact commission and member of the Texas railroad commission, stopped in the national capital to join in the movement for quick passage of the extension bill. He was en route to Paris, France, for the World Pe-

The Texan also requested Presi-dent Roosevelt to ask congress to approve extension of the interstate oil compact for two years from a xt September 1. Authorities of the signatory states, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado and New l exico, consider the compact a valuable weapon in preventing oil wastage and forestalling federal Producers in districts other than East Texas were keenly dispointed that the 8-cent crude raise given that area ten days ago was not general. They attributed the absence of a general increase to large overproduction this spring. With a record amount of vacation motoring expected and severn' of the major producing states showing more inclination to hold contput fairly well in line with de-mand estimates of the United States bureau of mines, some still believed higher prices might be forthcoming a little later.

CONOCO DEALERS ARE EXPECTING LARGER TOURIST BUSINESS

Conoco dealers are looking forward to substantial profit this summer, as a result of the largest tourist season in history, according to J. C. Loper, manager here for Continental Oil company.

"Early summer requests received by the Conoco Travel Bureau for touring information indicate that 1937 will surpass even last year's "Tievel business," he said. "Naturally all merchants will profit, but the Conoco dealers have an additional reason for optimism.

"Under 'Continental's new policy all of its products are sold through independent dealers—which means that every Conoco dealer either owns or leases his station, is in business for himself. He doesn't work for a weekly or monthly pay envelope; so naturally he gets out and hustles for that extra profit. And when he gets that profit, it stays in town, as he spends his money with the local merchants.

"Furthermore, Continental Oil company is giving its dealers some fine cooperation. They are taking newspaper space to advertise the dealer's station as well as their own products. In this advertising Conoco dealers are known as 'mile-age merchants' — and, actually that's just what they are."

Urges Check On Security Numbers

For All Employes AUSTIN, June 3 — Orville 8. Carpenter, chairman-director of the Texas Unemployment Compensation commission, is urging employers subject to the unemploy ment compensation act to review their employe records to make cer tain that all employes have ob tained social security account numbers.

The numbers are available or application at any postoffice prior to June 30.

Unless an employe has been as-gened a social security account number, Carpenter said, it is impossible for his employer to report completely and it is likewise im mossible for the commission to make certain that the employe's earnings are credited to the right

The employe should report his account number to his employer, but the account card is the property of the employe to whom is-stied and should be held by him to establish his claim for benefits when they come due. Employers who have been given account cards by their employes are requested to eturn them at once,

REDUCING ILLITERACY

When the United States government takes a census, among other things it reports the number of illiterate people in the country and in each state of the Union. The census definition of illiteracy is, unable to read and write. It does not mean lacking in a school or college education, but the simple inability to read print and to write legibly.

That being the case, there should be no illiterates in this nation. Practically every child nowadays has the opportunity to learn at least to read and write, and in some states they are compelled to attend school where they are taught Italy has not improved and hese essentials. But the greatest extent of illiteracy is relative standing is about among adults-people who did not have opportunity to attend school, or who may have been prevented by circum-Blances from attending, or who just didn't want to attend.

The constitution of the United States has been picked threadbare in a literary sense, and still is being picked for that mat-ter. And Mr. Hendrick's second subject which is (one guess!) the supreme court, has had just about enough attention also. In general, it is Mr. Hendrick's plan to proceed leisurely along the 150 years of our constitution's existence to now, discussing crises up to 467. They are printed closely

And when the reader arrives at the index, he suddenly makes a discovery of great importance which he should have made at page one. This is that Mr. Hendrick's book is a book for people interested in studying the detail of something which has been repeating itself for 150 years, and is not for the general, reasonably cyni-cal deader. These last know already what is going on. The whole battle over the constitution is the good old battle between the Haves LONE STAR LODGE No. 375 meet- and the Have-nots which started, ing 2:30 o'clock at the W.O.W. according to the Bible, in the Gar-
