ABC TECHNIQUE DESCRIBED

Careful Plans Explain 'Luck' Of Quiz Shows In Phone Calls

HAI HAI! SPRING IS HERE — Terry Simkovich stops to brush the snow from a car windshield at Hazleton, Pa., where seven-inches of wet, clinging snow greeted folks on the first day of Spring. AP Wirephoto.

NEW YORK, March 22. (AP) — Those giveaway quiz shows which use the long distance telephone to call radio listeners have a lot more luck with their calls than the average user.

Only it isn't luck, but careful planning. To put it another way, arrangements are so made that there will be the least amount of delay on a phone call, once it is ready to be cut in on a broadcast program. That's why when the phone rings on the air there's always, or nearly always, some one on the other end of the line.

An example of how this works is the technique used by ABC's Stop The Music for its radio edition Sunday nights and the video version Thursday nights.

Numbers to be called are selected by lot by a guest celebrity a few days before the broadcast. Twelve cities scattered over the country are chosen for each broadcast.

From these communities, 120 numbers or names are picked, ten for each city. That's so if one phone is busy or the person is not at home someone else can be called. Precautions are taken to maintain the element of chance.

When the program is ready to go on the air, six girls telephone operators get set to start making calls. A list of numbers in the first six cities is given the supervisor at the central office. Later on, she is given the rest.

It is the supervisor's job to do everything possible to expedite the service, such as clearing lines to the various communities just ahead of the calls which go out in order given in the list. As a rule, the first call is ready for the program within the first five minutes.

This process continues through the hour broadcast or telecast. Sometimes a call may be set up and held a moment or two to be fitted into the broadcast while a tune is being played so it actually "Stops The Music" rather than interrupt an announcement.

Any difficulty an operator may experience in putting through a call never becomes apparent in the broadcast itself. Calls are not cut into the program until someone in the home called is ready to talk to the announcer.

Under this arrangement, the person called generally has a brief tipoff that he or she soon is to have a chance at the pile of prizes.

Numbers for the radio program are obtained from telephone books of communities all over the country. Those for the telecast are supplied by the viewers themselves, who are asked to send in post-cards. This method was adopted because not every telephone home has a television set, nor does every city have a television station.

Naturally, with the number of radio sets so many times larger than the TV total, the chance of a televiewer being called is considerably greater.

For the radio show, the telephone operators are completely anonymous. In the telecast they are part of the show. Occasional video views of the girls—selected because they are telegenic, too—are inserted between the main scenes.

Final Interment Of Capt. Freeman Set At Texarkana

Mrs. Kathleen Freeman has received word that the remains of her husband, Capt. James B. Freeman, will arrive in Texarkana the latter part of this week.

Last rites will be held at 3:30 p. m. Saturday in the East Funeral home at Texarkana, Texas.

Capt. Freeman disappeared while on flight Sept. 10, 1945, and it was only last Nov. 10 that Mrs. Freeman learned that the wreckage of his bomber had been found on Mt. Bal, Mindoro, P. I. Only four of the occupants could be positively identified. A group service for the other six is set for Friday at Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

Entering the service Aug. 18, 1941, Capt. Freeman came to the Big Spring Bombardier school in 1942 and transferred in 1943 to San Angelo. Later he went to Ellington Field, Greenville, S. C. and overseas for a short tour. Returning, he was based in Salinas, Calif. briefly before reporting to the Pacific theatre.

He and Mrs. Freeman, the former Kathleen Underwood, were married Jan. 16, 1944 in Big Spring. Besides his wife, he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Freeman, Hughes Springs.

City Scout Troop No. 6 Readies For Annual Roundup

Boy Scout Troop No. 6 began preparations for the annual Scout Round-Up at a regular troop meeting Tuesday night in the First Christian church.

The Round-up is set for the last weekend in April. Members of Troop No. 6 spent considerable time Tuesday night working on equipment and making other preparations for the event.

Motion picture films were projected by Duval Wiley, chairman of the troop committee.

The troop also has a membership campaign underway, and prospective Scouts have been invited to contact Otto Havins, Scoutmaster, on Tuesday nights at the First Christian church.

New members received into the troop this month include Don Fite, Bobby McCarty, David McIntyre, Jan Talley, Jimmie Bice, R. H. Rowden, Charles Marchant, Travis Hargett, Preston Morgan, Wilbur Cunningham, Wayne Medlin.

Houston Bans Meat Butchered In Galveston

HOUSTON, March 22. (AP) — Houston has banned meat butchered in Galveston.

Two recent shipments from there were found to be diseased City Veterinarian R. S. Martin notified Galveston Health Officer John McGivney yesterday, in declaring the ban.

Similar bans on shipments without federal inspection from Dallas, San Antonio and Tyler have been in effect since last year.

Martin said one plant in each city since then has qualified to meet Houston regulations and again is shipping meat here.

Teen-Agers Face Murder Charges

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 22. (AP) — Two teen-agers from Waco, probably will be charged with first degree murder here today, Maricopa Attorney Warren McCarthy has said.

The pair are Ebert Gene Riddell, 19, and Charles Roy Opie, 16.

Sheriff L. C. Boles said Riddell admitted firing the shot which killed Gustave A. Beauseau, 36, of Los Angeles, Sunday night.

Beauseau had picked up the two near Globe, Ariz. After traveling about 75 miles, Boles said, the youths attempted to rob the motorist who resisted.

The pair later registered at a motel and the motel operator became suspicious of them and notified authorities.

Seven Stills Taken

AUSTIN, March 22. (AP) — The State Liquor Control Board yesterday reported capture during February of seven illicit stills, two in Smith County and one each in San Augustine, Marion, Freestone, Bowie and Red River Counties. Seven arrests were made.

A Bible Thought For Today -

Every visible thing was once an idea and a purpose. After this universe wears out and is forgotten God's purposes will still be fulfilled. "Let there be firmament in the midst of the waters, and let it divide the waters from the waters." Gen. 1:6.

How To Get More Water For Peak Summer Load Confronting City

One of the problems, generally recognized and yet not easily solved, is that of finding some way of getting more water to more patrons in the approaching summer.

There were days last summer when production from all sources passed the five million gallons per day mark—just about the capacity of the city to produce under forced draft, and just about the capacity of the distribution system.

It is reasonable to expect that the situation will be more aggravated this year. At the present moment, the lake reserves are about even to stronger than at the same time a year ago. That means they have an ample supply to carry through the summer season.

But only about one and three-quarter million gallons can be forced through the line and the filtration plant in a 24-hour period. There is a pinch on the backbone of the supply system, but a realistic pinch. The filtration plant was designed, not for peak demands, but for anticipated maximum demands in keeping with total reserve.

But the limitation on surface water delivery to mains throws the only possible answer at the moment back on the well supply. In periods of stress, city wells can be produced intensively at the park, section 17 and section 33. They may be produced for a time at a rate exceeding that of demonstrated replenishment.

Wells in the Glasscock county field are not producing to the capacity of the line. If some means could be found to develop auxiliary supplies somewhere adjacent to the line, it would alleviate the situation. Somewhere, somehow the city may have to put a water rabbit out of a hat to meet peak demands during the summer. Not counting the Veterans Administration hospital, which will be a heavy consumer, there are something like 300 more customers than a year ago, and that means that the over-all regular demand will be higher.

Kerr Bill Removing Gas Price From FPC Would Be Harmless In Texas

Drew Pearson and some other bigtime commentators think the Kerr bill is disgraceful. The Kerr bill — by Senator Kerr of Oklahoma, a big oil and gas man himself—would deprive the Federal Power Commission of the right to fix rates at which gas producers sell to transporters—the big pipelines. Kerr bill critics claim this would result in enormous increases in the price of gas to consumers.

The FPC has assumed authority to fix rates at which transporters sell to distributors. That's interstate commerce. But FPC has no control over distributors of gas; they are under state jurisdiction. But FPC has assumed the prerogative of fixing the price at which gas producers must sell to pipeline companies for transport in interstate commerce, and that's what the shooting is all about.

Independent gas producers have smarted and fumed under this assumption of power by FPC. They contend it is none of the federal agency's business what price they charge the big interstate pipeline companies for the gas they deliver. They claim that under this FPC assumption of power their business has suffered, and they are forced to take whatever price Washington bureaucrats force upon them.

Hence the Kerr bill. Hence Senators Connally and Johnson's support of the Kerr bill.

Texas people who worry about the siphoning off of their vast natural gas reserves to warm Northern and Eastern homes and to turn the wheels of industry, without adequate return on this exported gas in the form of tax revenues, should remember this about the Kerr bill: It would enable Texas gas producers to demand and get a better price for their exported gas, and since they do business here and pay a lot of taxes here—taxes based largely on market value—the Kerr bill could do no harm to Texas, and might do a lot of good. In any case, the Texas Railroad Commission and municipal governments would continue to fix the price consumers pay for the gas they use.

Inexplicable Things Can And Do Happen To Radio Humorist

NEW YORK, (U) — WHEN A MAN writes 12,500 jokes a year, he feels he ought to know why a thing is funny or not. "But there are some things you just can't explain," said Walter Kiernan, a radio humorist who figures he has turned out some 75,000 gags in the last six years.

"Take the 'K' sound, for example. For some reason it is the funniest sound in the language. No one knows why. But all you have to do is say Brooklyn or Hoboken or Kalamazoo or Keokuk—and people start laughing.

"THE FIRST LAUGH JACK BENNY ever got on the stage came when he stepped out and said, 'my name is Benny Kubelsky—which is his real name. But the audience died laughing."

Unfortunately, a jokesmith can't just keep saying "Keokuk, Keokuk, Keokuk" like a flattened trainwheel. He has to go on to other things to earn his yuks.

"Another standby in the trade is known as the rule-of-three joke," said Kiernan. "For instance, if you say, 'she is not only pretty... she is not only wealthy... but she is also stupid'—well, a certain percentage of people will think that remark is mildly funny. The sequence builds up to an anti-climax."

Always popular also is the "rule of opposites" or "upside-down joke." Example: Instead of saying, "drink is the curse of the working man," you turn it around: "Work is the curse of the drinking man."

There are dozens of similar tricks, but Kiernan doesn't believe anybody can become a successful humorist merely following formulas.

"IT CAN'T REALLY BE TAUGHT AT all," he said. "It's just an attitude of mind. I doubt if some of the best gag-writers even can read. It isn't essential, certainly."

Kiernan, a pleasant, easy-going man of 48, shows little of the strain that afflicts many laughter merchants. He doesn't have an ulcer, one hallmark of success in this clan, nor does he support a staff of psychiatrists.

This may be because he specializes in what is called "throwaway humor," casual pleasantries aimed at stirring chuckles instead of the explosive yuks which are the goal of high-pressure buff artists, such as Milton Berle.

During a 70-minute morning broadcast, interspersed with phonograph records, Walter generates a minimum of 30 low-pressure wisecracks on news of the day, and tosses them off spontaneously. But it takes him an hour-and-a-half of yard writing to develop and whip into pattern the 30 gags he packs into a five-minute ABC network program.

Quarrel Still Exists Between Ireland And Northern Ireland

SURE AND ITS STRAIGHT TALK that Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York has aimed at Prime Minister Sir Basil Brooks of Northern Ireland because Sir Basil's government banned St. Patrick's Day celebrations.

His honor, who originally hailed from Bohola, County Mayo, Ireland, and therefore is a real son of the old sod, has announced that Sir Basil would be welcome at New York City Hall on the latter's forthcoming visit to this country. And that's fighting language as tough as the blow of a shillelagh.

BUT WHAT MAYOR O'DWYER HAD to say was milk compared with the tide of bitterness which ebbs and flows daily between Ireland and Northern Ireland. It is one of the world's most deep seated quarrels. Prime Minister John M. Costello or Ireland reiterated his country's stand on St. Patrick's Day when he declared:

"With all our history behind us, and with an unshakeable resolve, we shall never forget about the partition of our country until that partition is ended."

Certainly it's a tragedy that the Emerald Isle should be torn by dissension for Heaven never created a livelier spot. Someday the quarrel will be settled, but how or when is beyond the sight of any man.

I'VE SPENT MUCH TIME IN IRELAND and Northern Ireland since I all but cashed in my checks while reporting the "bloody Easter Week rebellion" in Dublin just 34 years ago this coming Easter. I've studied the quarrel between the two states from all angles—political, economic, religious, and racial. Nothing would make me happier than to be able to report something concrete to give hope of settlement, but there's nothing in sight.

I probably have told in some previous column of an interview I had with the late Lord Craigavon, for many years prime minister of Northern Ireland. We got on the subject of possible union. Craigavon was leaning against the mantle-piece over the fireplace in his office—a huge man, perhaps six-foot-five tall. He turned to me and, punctuating his exclamations by slapping one hand-like fist into the palm of his other hand, he boomed:

"Union with southern Ireland? Never! Never! Never! And when I'm gone, there are others who will take up the leadership after me."

As already indicated, there are several angles to the quarrel between the two sections of the island. One is religion—based on the fact that Northern Ireland is largely Protestant, while the South is Catholic.

Atomic-Hydrogen Defense Of Capital Would Require Ring Of Fire Stations

WASHINGTON. — Here are some situations which most Americans don't know about, but which concern them vitally:

Situation No. 1—The future atomic-hydrogen defense of Washington, D.C., according to atomic scientists, must require a ring of fire stations 15 miles out of the city and completely around the city. Present fire stations inside the city would be wiped out and futile in case of an enemy attack. It will require from 10,000 to 15,000 regularly trained and paid firemen to man these stations. The defense of New York, a city nine times the size of Washington, would require at least nine times as many firemen—about 100,000—and cost nine times as much. In brief, the defense of our big cities against future hydrogen bombing would just about bankrupt us. Peace will be cheaper.

Situation No. 2—In Paris, French Foreign Minister Schuman told critics of American arms under the Atlantic Pact that these arms would permit France to defend herself against Germany. He did not mention Russia, the nation which actually inspired the North Atlantic Pact. Some Europeans are wondering whether we ourselves really mean business in opposing Russia. The U. S. A. is caught in a European cross fire — Communists who hate us and non-Communists who think we are governed by Communists. The latter have been reading Sen. Joe McCarthy.

Only brief cables regarding the McCarthy charges are carried to Europe. Cable tolls are expensive, newspaper precursors. As a result European non-Communists are confused, the Communists gleeful. McCarthy has done a great job for Moscow.

The Senate Restaurant—Every noon when Republicans senators sit down at lunch they ask each other: "How's Joe doing?" They are referring, not to Joe Stalin, but to their colleague Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin. They agree that Joe isn't going well, but the public was his winning vote for Republicans. Sen. Taft, now the leader of the party, expressed it this way: "I told Joe," he said, "to keep talking. I don't think he's got anything. But the longer he talks, the more people will think he has something."

Midwest Opinion — Partly inspired by the Chicago Tribune, partly worked up by astute political speeches, the drift toward isolation continues. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, a scholar more than a politician, has lost so much political appeal that some Senate leaders want Truman to dump him.

Prague, Czechoslovakia — The Iron Curtain is really becoming iron. Hitler, the satellite countries were ruled by local Communists. Now Moscow plans to take over Bulgaria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Rumania in toto, putting them under Russian dictators. Poland is already under Dictator-General Rokossovsky. Bulgaria probably will be next. That was one reason for cracking down on the American legation in Sofia and on Vozeler in Budapest. Moscow wants all Americans out from behind the Iron Curtain, also wants this vast area ruled as an integral part of Russia. If and when this happens, the chances of another Tito vanish.

Key West Florida — President

Truman/sits in the sun, oblivious to congressional bitterness, oblivious to his slipping foreign policy. . . . If the United States drifts back into isolation, there is no other way but the ring of fire stations around Washington, New York, Detroit. . . . In addition to Republicans, many Democrats are bitter at Truman. They feel that overnight—election night of November 1948 he was transformed from a humble little man who asked all Americans to help him, to a boastful little "I-DID-IT" Harry.

The Wardman Park Hotel—Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan, the Republican, who has had the courage and unselfishness to give the United States a bipartisan foreign policy, remains ill. He may never come back to the Senate as a vigorous leader. Without him, less responsible Republicans run berserk.

Inner Democratic Circles — Democratic leaders would like to see their President launch a bold brave move for a unified nation. They recall how President Roosevelt conferred repeatedly with Wendell Willkie, brought elder GOP statesmen Henry L. Stimson and Frank Knox into his cabinet. They wish Truman would call Dewey, Stassen, Warren of California to a conference on the vital problems facing this country—before it is too late. But is Harry Truman big enough to do this? Democratic senators ask themselves the question. They are not sure of the answer.

The Advance Guard Of The Iron Curtain—Along the Hungarian-Yugoslav border more and more divisions of the Red Army have been moved up, including mechanized divisions. They are equipped with machine shops and heavy repair units, which do not accompany troops unless they are heading for battle. Some Russian troops, seized by Yugoslavs in border raids, have maps showing Yugoslav airports and Danube bridges. . . . It looks as if the Red Army is waiting for spring and dry weather for the big push against the one man who has successfully defied Stalin. . . . But whether the push comes or not, virtual war is now on. And it will continue on until one side or the other cracks.

Stars Suggest How To Better Academy Awards

HOLLYWOOD, March 22 (U) — Oscar, who is Hollywood's biggest target better start ducking again.

The Academy awards affair, which will be held tomorrow night, is Hollywood's most criticized as well as its most publicized event. Everybody has his own idea on how the Oscarizing should be handled. So the Hollywood Forum put this question to a number of film performers: "How do you think the Academy awards can be improved?"

Ida Lupino—"I think it's the time the public was in on the voting. After all, the audiences are the final judges of motion pictures. Let the industry pick the technical awards, but leave the major selections to the movie goers."

Bette Davis—"The only improvement I could suggest would be to return to the idea of having a dinner for movie people alone. After all, we are the ones most interested in the awards; they should be strictly an industry affair."

Ronald Reagan—"How can we improve the Academy awards? Improve pictures."

Edmund Gwenn—"The only thing I can say is that I am alarmed at the growing amount of advertisements taken by the big studios in an attempt to influence the balloting."

Lizabeth Scott—"Hollywood is full of sentimental and loyal people who are apt to vote for sentimental reasons rather than for real merit. The awards might be more accurate if film critics all over the world were included in the voting. However, that would make the Academy more impersonal. I see nothing wrong in voting for sentimental reasons. I do it myself."

June Haver—"I think there should be an award for the best musical actress and actor. After all, musicals make most of the profits."

Lucille Ball—"Many great performances are overlooked because they are given in obscure pictures. We should get a chance to vote on all pictures and performances, whether it's a western from Republic or an epic from some other studio."

Advertisers May Claim Amazing Things To Sell Bill Of Goods

There are, on the market today, certain products which should be given special citation for performance above and beyond the call of duty.

This is the impression your humble correspondent obtains from perusal of some advertisements, particularly those on the comic pages and in the magazines.

For instance, certain cigarettes seem to have magical powers. According to some of the picture strips, a puff or two at a critical moment not only turns a poor performer into a championship one, but it inevitably wins the spotlight and most of the space. That's understandable since the space buyer is trying to sell his product. More difficult to understand is how a fragrant puff works these miracles, or how characters always pause to create about the virtues of the fog.

The lowly smoke does not have a monopoly on this type of achievement. The other day, I noticed where an ambitious ski jumper fell flat on his face. He was ignominiously out of the running, until—yes, until he was given a swig of a copious popular soft drink. By George, he came back on the very next jump, covered nearly three counties, and took the championship flitting away. Thanks to the product, no doubt, Purveyors of stiffer liquids long have utilized this sales technique. Some resort to gay little exaggerations which are for the purpose of tickling the potential customer. Others are more seriously pitched, and one continuing feature practically usurps the adventure and pictorial excellence of National Geographic, all because situations are created which result in the need for a certain beverage.

Such common place products as bread have been known to impart amazing strength. Children have been known to lay aside red hot baseball games, to abandon other forms of play just for a bite of the succulent, energizing product.

I have observed, somewhat in astonishment, how the prosaic razor blade has figured in great adventures. It is unnecessary how after the bandit is caught quickly, the blade wins the next two panels and the now smooth-faced hero wins the daughter of a rich man.

These products, and many others, are doing things they were never designed to do—and which no one seriously expects them to do. Yet advertisers go right on in the same groove. I don't know why, unless maybe it's because they sell goods. And who am I to argue against that?—JOE PICKLE.

FTC Complaints Against Drug Firms May Or May Not Stand

WASHINGTON, (U) — THE GOVERNMENT has teed off on a couple of big drug companies—and may do so on more—for the claims they make for antihistamine, the alleged cold-stopper.

The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) complains that the advertisements of the following two companies are false and misleading: Bristol-Meyers, maker of "Resistab", and Anahist, maker of "Anahist." Both companies say their advertising claims are thoroughly supported.

The FTC said these are the first government complaints to come out of its investigation into the advertising claims made for anti-histamine products. Other companies are being scrutinized.

Histamine is a chemical produced by your body tissues. There's a theory that when you overproduce histamine, it affects your tissues in such a way that you become an easy mark for a cold.

SO ANTIHISTAMINE, AS ITS NAME indicates, is supposed to offset the bad effects of histamine. But doctors disagree as to whether there's proof that it does.

Until last fall, antihistamines were considered too powerful for use without a doctor's prescription. Then some antihistamines were produced and were milder, or thought to be milder.

A number of drug companies began to sell various brands of antihistamines. But many doctors continue to write their own prescriptions to be sure of the doses their patients took.

The FTC charges the two companies have misrepresented the curing powers of their antihistamine products in treating the common cold.

Those two products, the FTC complaint says, are neither a cure, preventative nor competent treatment for the common cold. Further, in its statement about the case, the FTC says:

BOTH RESISTAB AND ANAHIST, TAKen as directed, "may be unsafe and produce injury or harm to the user" and the advertisements "have actually misled and deceived a substantial portion of the purchasing public."

This will probably be a long-drawn out argument. The only thing that has happened so far is a complaint against the companies by the FTC. The companies will have a chance to answer the complaint.

Then there'll probably be a hearing by the FTC at which the companies can argue their case. If then the FTC decides the companies are all right, that ends it. The complaint doesn't stand.

But if the FTC decides formally after the hearing that the companies have been misleading the public, it will order them to stop. But even that isn't final if the companies want to appeal to the U. S. courts.

THE COURTS DECISION WOULD BE final. But, until there is a court decision, the companies are free to continue the advertising claims which brought the FTC complaint in the first place.

The FTC was created by Congress in 1914 as a five-man commission. It has a staff of about 650 people and several jobs to do. For example:

It has the job of enforcing the anti-trust laws, or policing them; of preventing businessmen from conspiring to interfere with interstate trade; of preventing untruthful advertising; and of stopping unfair methods of business competition if those methods hurt the public.

For example, it can step in if it thinks a firm is deceiving the public in the way it advertises its products. It's on those grounds that it's stepped into the antihistamine picture.

While it has only a small medical staff of its own for investigations, the FTC can call upon other agencies of the government for help.

Munitions Board Chairman Will Translate Pact Into Weapons

WASHINGTON—A quiet, midwestern businessman left for Europe last week end to help translate the Atlantic Pact into weapons of war.

Chairman Hubert E. Howard of the Munitions Board has behind him the delicate task of channelling defense funds in obedience to defense secretary Louis Johnson's order that the taxpayer shall get a dollar's worth of defense for every dollar spent.

He asserts that all three services be have throughout the budget discussions with exemplary devotion to the common cause. The Navy, he adds, voluntarily relinquished $9,000,000 of its allotted share to a more pressing Army project.

Ahead of the Munitions chairman in Europe are similarly vital but unpectacular tasks. One is the standardization of equipment by the Atlantic allies. Which sounds sensible but is full of practical difficulties. Another is the accumulation of strategic materials—an area in which he will run into the dollar shortage and other thorny factors.

It is highly probable that such men as Howard can take the headlines from the admirals; he represents, however, a fourth service at the Pentagon which is equally as important as the others to victory in war.

Secretary of Defense Johnson announced when he took over that he had to have that fourth force of able businessmen to help him handle the $15,000,000,000 business that is America's defense in the cold war. Recruiting for it has not been easy.

The jobs don't pay well, comparatively, despite their staggering responsibilities. You have to cope with politicians which scares off many. Nor has the Truman administration, despite its 1948 feat, acquired that aura of success which allures the successful. Then, too, the President wants to appoint only the people he likes and these are neither too numerous nor too brilliant.

Secretary Johnson did not even know his good fortune when he tapped Howard. Johnson dwelt persuasively upon Howard's business success and talent for handling men. But Howard explained his acceptance to friends by recalling that:

"My father wore three stars in the other war and all his sons came home safely. In this war, I wore three stars and all my three sons came home safely. I think the Howards owe the country something."

Howard confessed to Johnson that he was only a two-term Roosevelt Democrat. The secretary assured him his new service would constitute absolution for that error.

All the defense services are still gravely handicapped by President Truman's procrastination in appointing a chairman for the National Security Resource Board. This in turn has its reflection upon the economic situation.

The NSRB is charged with the overall planning for mobilization. It reports only to the President and he alone can pass on its ideas to Congress. America can have no war mobilization plan until NSRB gives one to the President. He approves and sends it to Congress and Congress enacts the necessary legislation.

Medics Were Wrong In Case Of 'Mrs. Heart'

By WILLIAM PEART
 OKLAHOMA CITY, March 22. (AP)—The doctors were wrong—very wrong. Mrs. Heart is alive today, and "living to the fullest."
 The $10,000 the unidentified Oklahoma City widow rationed herself last March for the year doctors said would be her last is almost gone.
 But "I was ready to give up before," says the woman who was told a heart condition would kill her in 12 months. "But it's different now. There are so many things I really want to do, and places I want to go."
 Mrs. Heart says her health is better, and she's convinced she has a future.

"I have learned to live for each day," she says. "It's a wonderful thing—a precious thing—that has happened to me."
 Mrs. Heart says she gave hundreds of dollars away. None of the money, though, went to persons who wrote her for financial aid.
 "Those who really need help seldom ask for it," she says. "They are the ones I like to help—the people I come in contact with personally. I can see their needs, and it's wonderful to be able to do something for them, and to do it anonymously if you can."
 The letters—some 30,000 of them—came to the Oklahoma City Daily Oklahoman after she appeared at the newspaper office, told her story, and frankly asked for help.
 Mrs. Heart said she had been so occupied with making money that she hadn't learned how to enjoy it. And she wanted the year which was to be her final one "completely enjoyable."
 The newspaper, pledged to secrecy, agreed to ask its readers for advice.
 "I have filled a book with notes I took from those letters," she says. "Especially the letters from doctors telling me I had no reason to give up hope. And from people who had lived long past the time they were given to die."
 Mrs. Heart traveled. Later she sought additional medical advice.
 And now she has become interested in Christian Science — "It's meant more to me than anything." "I've a self-confidence that I never had before in my life," Mrs. Heart adds.

Brannan Plan Gets 'Shell Game' Tag

LINCOLN, Neb., March 22. (AP)—The Brannan agriculture plan was compared to the "old shell game the suckers used to play at county fairs" in an address here by National Republican Chairman Guy G. Gabrielson.
 "Now you see it, now you don't," Gabrielson told 1,300 fellow Republicans last night at a Nebraska GOP Founders' Day rally. The rally is held annually on or about the March 1 anniversary of Nebraska's becoming a state.
 "This plan was not written by farmers to help farmers make a better livelihood, but is an instrument for the destruction of free farmers, framed by the radicals who surround your secretary of agriculture," Gabrielson said.
 He also attacked communism, declaring:
 "We have too long tolerated communism within our country and within our government. The time is past due when we must recognize these Communists for what they are—men and women guilty of high treason against our people. We must drive them out."

 Both Gabrielson and Sen. Kenneth S. Wherry (R-Neb.) who spoke earlier, spotlighted Secretary of State Acheson and the State Department's handling of foreign affairs as a primary issue of the 1950 election.
Ochoa Aide Is Named In Writ
 LAREDO, March 22. (AP)—The grandfather of George W. Ochoa, sought in two murders, has obtained a writ of garnishment against his business manager.
 J. M. Ballesteros, Ochoa's customer brokerage manager, was named in the writ issued by the district clerk's office yesterday.
 Ochoa is believed to have been hiding in Mexico since being charged with the fatal shooting of Air Force Corporal James Lindsay, 30, and is wanted for questioning in the pistol slaying of Henry Whittemburg, 31, last July 31.
 Ochoa returned last Christmas to force his way into Ballesteros's house and flee again after seizing food.
 The writ is asked by Eliseo E. Ochoa, George's grandfather, concerning judgment against Ochoa in a suit in 49th District Court on Nov. 29, 1945. Eliseo and his wife, the plaintiffs, were awarded $2,355.81 in a suit over a note.

$2 MILLION FIRE GUTS MONASTERY

NORTH CUMBERLAND, R. I., March 22. (AP)—A fierce $2,000,000 fire wrecked four buildings of the half-century old Cistercian monastery of Our Lady of the Valley last night.
 The flames destroyed the main chapel, the infirmary, the guest house and the monastery where the monks live in bare cells.
 Fifty of the 160 residents and guests of the cloistered order were nearly trapped as the flames spouted with lightning-speed through the four structures.
 Four trappists were carried to safety from the infirmary. A dozen leaped 20 feet from second floor cells in the flaming dormitory. Another dozen escaped from the third floor. Others groped to the ground through fiery corridors.
 The Most Rev. Dom Edmund Futterer, C.S.O., abbot of the community, was caught briefly in the monastery. He leaped ten feet to the ground. His hair was singed and he was stunned.
 Several firemen and monks were nearly buried under a falling wall of the abbey.
 "The community leader said if the flames had gained five minutes more headway between 40 and 50 persons would have lost their lives," a spokesman, who estimated the damage, said there were about 30 persons in the guest house.
 The blaze was discovered by Jerome R. Spedden of Baltimore, Md., a guest. He reported the fire apparently started under the main stairway leading to the second floor of the guest house.
 Priceless manuscripts and records, including files of every monk in the community, were destroyed. Documents salvaged from a monastery established in Nova Scotia more than half a century ago also were lost.

King, DeLong Top Scorers

NEW YORK, March 22. (AP)—George King of Morris-Harvey (W Va.) won the 1950 collegiate individual basketball scoring race with a record 957 points but he failed to overtake Nate DeLong of River Falls (Wis.) in their career scoring struggle.
 King took the 1950 individual crown by 106 more points than DeLong's 861, a final season compilation by the Associated Press showed today. DeLong became collegiate career champion with 2,592 points to King's 2,547.
 King, now playing with the Dayton All-Stars in the National AAU Tourney at Denver finished the season with 42 points last week and in the Cincinnati Invitational Tourney.
 Early in February DeLong threw out 310 disputed points he made during the war years, but his 2,592 points nevertheless set a new career mark.
 Paul Arizin Villanova's All-America topped the major college scorers with 735 points. George Dempsey, of Kings (Del.) finished fourth at 704 and Bob Copps of Montana, fifth at 703. Bob Lacey, Western Kentucky's ace, and Hag Huey, of Davis-Elkins (W Va.) tied for sixth at 671.

Easter Is Theme For Dinner Meet Of Business-Professional Women

Easter decorations created the atmosphere when members of the Business and Professional Women's club held a dinner meeting in the Settles hotel Tuesday evening.

Members of the International Relations committee, Glyn Jordan, chairman, Mrs. B. M. Keese and Mrs. James Harrison, were in charge of the dinner arrangements.

Tables were centered with white Easter bunnies decorated with blue ribbons and placed in nests of lavender, green and silver. Place cards were pastel colored baskets holding three Easter eggs containing the menu, the program and the words to the song, "Easter Parade." The baskets were trimmed with lace and white flowers and inscribed with the words, "Easter Greetings."

Mrs. B. M. Keese, who presided during the program, gave the invocation. She presented Cornelia Frazier, who sang three numbers, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Nell Frazier, pianist.

Other musical numbers were presented by students of Betty Farar, Rachael Phelps, Mosele Groebel, Karen Lynn Downing and Brenda Cowper presented a song and dance number, entitled, "The Tea Party." Susan Zack presented a dance number, "Easter Parade."

The program concluded with a round table discussion on social security which was led by Glyn Jordan. Announcement was made con-

Rebekah Assembly Elects Paris Woman

Delegates from more than 200 lodges, including a number of Big Springs, Monday, elected Mrs. Pat Patterson of Paris, as president of the Texas Rebekahs.

Mrs. Patterson and other officers were chosen at a business session in the Baker Hotel that highlighted the day's activities of the fifty-sixth annual Rebekah Grand Assembly of Texas.

Across the street in Hotel Adolphus, the Independent Order of Odd Fellows was holding its 119th annual Texas Grand Lodge Assembly. Both meetings began Sunday and ended Tuesday.

The 1,000 delegates of the Rebekah meeting chose Mrs. Myrtle Russell of El Paso, as vice-president, Mrs. Berta H. Porter of Fort Worth, was re-elected full-time secretary and Mrs. Charles M. Ford of Amarillo, was re-elected treasurer.

Mrs. Maude Bussard of Houston, was re-elected to the board of trustees for the IOOF-Rebekah widows' home at Ennis and orphan's home at Corsicana.

Both meetings, it was estimated, attracted a total attendance of about 2,000. In Texas, said officials, there are about 285 lodges with a membership of approximately 55,000 Rebekahs and Odd Fellows.

Expanding Gas Pipelines Tell Story Of Industry's Growth

WASHINGTON, March 22. (AP)—The nation's fast-expanding network of natural gas pipelines tells the story of the natural gas industry's growth in recent years. The federal Power Commission within the last eight years has authorized construction of 507 natural gas pipelines, adding up to more than 30,000 miles in length and with a total estimated cost of $1,876,726,000.

PARTING TEARS—Thirteen-year-old Thomas Sheehan cries bitter tears as he holds the lifeless form of his dog, Queenie, struck by a taxi cab at 43rd street and Ninth avenue in New York. The driver fled after hitting the dog. (AP Wirephoto).

The commission has no information as to the exact number of these projects which have been built, but one of its experts says he is certain that a majority of them have been.

Commission records show that since 1939 the annual operating revenues of natural gas companies under its jurisdiction have increased from $400,000,000 to nearly $1,000,000,000 and that their investments in gas utility plants have climbed from under $2,000,000,000 to nearly $3,500,000,000.

The commission's authority over pipeline construction became effective Feb. 7, 1942. In the rest of that fiscal year, ending June 30, 1942, it authorized only one project—a 20-mile pipeline costing $66,800.

In the next fiscal year—July 1, 1942, to June 30, 1943, four certificates were granted, for 51 miles of pipeline and 3,560 horsepower of compressor capacity, estimated to cost $1,642,500.

The next year, 1943-44 saw the number jump to 25 certificates, 2,272 miles, 108,490 horsepower $106,082,485 worth of construction.

The figures for the succeeding years:

1944-45—43 certificates, 1,181 miles of line, 66,610 horsepower, $34,170,760.

1945-46—52 certificates, 2,994 miles, 184,275 horsepower $127,189,731.

1946-47—132 certificates, 5,365 miles, 360,349 horsepower, $273,480,302.

1947-48—98 certificates, 8,468 miles, 531,455 horsepower, $519,945,633.

1948-49—91 certificates, 7,047 miles, 518,074 horsepower, $566,203,118.

July 1, 1949, to Dec. 31, 1949—57 certificates, 2,637 miles, 132,025 horsepower, $195,587,688.

Four additional projects authorized in January, 1950, added $52,626,967 to bring the grand total to $1,876,726,000 in estimated cost.

Tighter Curbs On Reds Opposed As 'Hysteria'

WASHINGTON, March 22. (AP)—A dispute over legislation to slap tighter controls on Communists was sharpened today by a protest that the measure was a "product of hysteria."

Supporters of the bill, recently approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee, said it would force the Communists into the open and help protect this country against a Communist coup.

But Senator Langer (R-ND) contended in a minority report filed late yesterday that the bill is "the product of hysteria and frantic unthinking fear."

He added "it merits the opposition of all who cherish liberty." Langer was the only member of the judiciary committee whose name was on the minority report; some other members of the group have reserved the right to propose changes in the bill.

A majority report submitted by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), one of the authors of the bill, said that every effort had been made to keep "within our constitutional traditions" while attempting to defend the nation against Communist "conspiratorial activities."

The bill would make it unlawful to conspire "to perform any act which would substantially contribute" to the establishment in the United States of a totalitarian dictatorship under foreign control.

Communist and Communist-front organizations would be required to register with the attorney general. The bill also would bar Communists from federal jobs, deny them passports and compel them to label their literature and broadcasts.

Additional safeguards would be thrown up by the legislation to prevent security secrets from falling into the hands of Communists or foreign agents.

Under Cover Men Used In Malaya

IPOH, Malaya. (AP)—Malayan security forces are now using "undercover" men who join up with the terrorists to secure valuable information. Yap Hong Heng, a detective attached to the Federal Police, was awarded the Perak Distinguished Conduct Medal for killing four terrorists with whom he lived.

Yap and the four insurgents were ordered to carry out the murder of two police officers and agent. While the four men slept on their way to the mission, Yap disarmed them and shot them dead. He then returned to headquarters. He had been living with the terrorists since 1948 without their knowing his identity.

He Has Last Name In Phone Directory

DENVER, (AP)—William J. Zwigart has the last name in the Denver telephone directory—and this is about the only reason he regrets leaving Pittsburgh, Pa., to come west.

Several times a week, he says, strangers playfully call him up just to ring variations on the last place theme. Back in Pittsburgh there was a whole page of names after his, Zwigart said.

Vernon Man Faced With Possible Attempted Bank Robbery Charges

VERNON, March 22. (AP)—A local man who went to the bank with a gun under his arm and confused requests for money may be charged with attempted bank robbery.

Officers don't know just what course to take. Ed Luttrell, Jr., Wilbarger County sheriff, said some sort of hearing would be held today to help them determine. He said that if charges were filed, they would be attempted bank robbery charges.

Forrest Orr, a cashier at the Herring National Bank, told officers this story:

The 44-year-old man approached Orr's window yesterday. Orr quoted him as saying: "I want $750." Orr said the man implied he wanted to close out his account.

"Do you want to sign a check for it?" Orr asked.

The man backed off two steps and said: "I'll sign a check after I get the money."

Orr said he asked, "How much did you want?"

He said the man changed the figure this time and the cashier became suspicious.

"I'll go to the bookkeeping department and check and see exactly how much you have," Orr told him. He went to the bookkeeping department and called police.

Orr said the man did not make any threatening gestures with the rifle, but held it cradled under his arm. Officers said it was loaded, ready to be fired.

'COACHED FOR COURT APPEARANCE'

Child Film Star Takes Stand Against Her Adopted Mother

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., March 22. (AP) — The woman who coached her for the movies says Lora Lee Michel, 9, also coached her for the court appearance in which her foster parents are accused of beating and starving the child to keep her thin for film roles.

Lora Lee testified yesterday against Mrs. Lorraine Michel, 35, on trial in justice court on a misdemeanor charge of mistreating her adopted daughter.

The child said Mrs. Ona Wargin, her drama coach, "Told me to say I didn't want to stay with mommy (Mrs. Michel) and wanted to go back to my mother and live in a shack. And she told me to say my father took me into a bar and bought me peanuts while he drank."

She also said Mrs. Wargin told her to steal milk from doorways in the apartment house where she lived. No motive for the alleged coaching has been introduced in court.

Lora Lee cried as she told how Mrs. Michel spanked her with a hair brush "because I went down to the store and bought candy."

"I couldn't eat candy because I'd get fat," she said. "The movies don't like you to get fat."

The Rev. Elford D. Sundstrom, in whose home Lora Lee was placed last December after she first complained to juvenile authorities, testified the girl "evidently had been mistreated."

"She had black and blue marks on one arm, her shoulders, buttocks and legs," he said.

Shortly after Lora Lee's case came to public attention, her natural mother, Mrs. Lena Brunson, Nederland, Tex., came here to regain custody. Juvenile Judge A. A. Scott ruled, however, that the child's adoption by Mr. and Mrs. Otto Michel in Texas in 1945 was legal. Last week Lora Lee ran away from the Michels and Scott has said he will see to it that the girl does not work in films again.

Lora Lee has appeared in 20 movies and earned up to $100 a day.

Chrysler Strike Settlement Is Little Nearer

DETROIT, March 22. (AP) — The Chrysler strike, now in its ninth week, was reported only slightly nearer settlement today after the first major peace moves since the walkout.

The company and the CIO United Auto Workers swapped settlement proposals in an action-packed bargaining session last night.

Both sides, it was learned, gave a little ground on the pension dispute and other matters. But sources close to the negotiators indicated they would have to give considerably more ground to send the 89,000 strikers and 50,000 other idled workers back to their jobs.

The contents of both Chrysler's proposal and the UAW's counter-proposal were kept secret.

The company put its peace bid on the table as the session got underway late yesterday, after both sides had huddled privately most of the day. The union's counter-proposal came shortly before negotiations were adjourned three hours later. Another session was set for today.

Federal and state mediators as well as company and union sources tempered any optimism from the company's first offer since a week before the Jan. 25 walkout. The union had made one previously rejected offer, modifying its original demands only slightly.

Negro Charged With Murder Now Sleeping Well

CARTHAGE, March 22. (AP) — Jack King, 74-year-old Negro charged with murder, says he's sleeping with an easy conscience for the first time in 28 years.

It is a 1922 slaying that brought him to the Panoia County jail. Sheriff Corbett Alkin returned him from Phoenix, Ariz., Sunday night.

"I slept for the first time in 28 years with an easy conscience," King told a reporter.

He is charged with murder in the fatal shooting of Park Rayburn, 24, on Rayburn's farm near here. King was a tenant on the farm.

He escaped, although a mob chased him.

"I'm sorry I had to shoot him," King told reporters. He said the shooting grew out of trouble with Rayburn.

When Alkin took office eight years ago, one of his campaign promises was to bring back King. A tip sent him to Phoenix.

He found King working as a janitor in a Baptist church.

Hindi Opponent May Appeal To UN

LUCKNOW, India. (AP) — A provincial assembly member threatened to appeal to the United Nations against the introduction of Hindi as the legislative language of Uttar Pradesh province.

Maulana Haqrat Mohan, who favored Urdu or Hindustani, told the assembly he would go to the supreme court if it adopted Hindi without a referendum. If he failed there, he added, he would take it up with the United Nations. The assembly adopted Hindi anyway.

Rats Plague Towns In Indian Area

NEW DELHI, India. (AP) — Health officials estimate there are 50 rats to every resident in villages in the Delhi area. They grow fat eating stores grain, which India badly needs. Infected, according to health men, with as many as 18 kinds of lice, fleas, mites and other parasites, they spread diseases such as plague and typhus.

The rats multiply at a phenomenal rate, but little is done to trip them. Villagers, reluctant for religious reasons to kill them, fence trapped rats outside the village boundaries. The rats go right back to the villages.

Theft Victim Has Double Hard Luck

BUTTE, Mont. (AP) — Robert Jones had this double hard luck story for police: A portable radio and a shirt were stolen from his room while he slept. He traced the property to the operator of a boarding house who had purchased it, innocently. But, said the boarding house keeper, just before Jones arrived the radio and shirt had been stolen again — apparently by the man who lifted them from Jones.

County Agricultural Program Slated For Changes This Year

Howard county's agricultural program will undergo a number of changes in 1950, Durward Lewter, county agent, told Big Spring Rotarians Tuesday at their regular luncheon meeting.

Reduced cotton acreage this year calls for development in other fields, he declared, pointing out that lack of rainfall thus far this year might also indicate a need for turning to other phases of agriculture.

"Grain sorghums seem to be the logical replacement for most of last year's heavy cotton acreage," the county agent stated. "As farmers are looking more and more to livestock for most of their income, a feeding program of some kind is likely to evolve as an outlet for grain sorghum production."

Feeding of beef cattle, sheep, and dairy cattle were listed as three possibilities for expanding Howard county livestock production.

A vital part of the Howard county agricultural program are boys and girls 4-H clubs, Lewter said, outlining club work here for the past year. Club members fed 20 steers during the year, selling 23 of them for $25,400 at the major livestock shows of the nation. One of the animals, winner of the Reserve Grand Championship at the Houston Fat Stock show, sold for $6,400.

Club boys and girls also fed out 60 lambs, 42 pigs and more than 100 capons during the year. They turned in records on 83 cotton patches with production averaging "over a half bale per acre," Lewter said. Twelve had grain sorghum projects with "yields more than double the average for other producers."

He credited their success to "support of Big Spring businessmen during the year."

Introduced as guests at the meeting were Mrs. J. D. Martin, Sandra Sue Martin, and Mrs. C. L. Draper, all of Foran, and Col. John A. Morrison, Salvation Army officer from Dallas.

Shine Phillips, chairman of the Rotary crippled children committee, and Dr. G. H. Dillon, spoke briefly at the meeting, discussing the club's program for aid to crippled children. The guest speaker was introduced by Wayne Williams, program chairman.

$6,016.50 Total Is Reported In Local RC Fund Campaign

The Red Cross fund had inched up a few hundred dollars by Wednesday, to account for a total of $6,016.50. Goal of the Howard-Glasscock chapter for its 1950 operations is $11,000.

With the solicitation dragging, Campaign Chairman Champ Rainwater met with members of the Red Cross advisory board Tuesday night, mapping plans for a renewal of effort.

Rainwater pointed out that prospect cards were limited in scope, and that in many cases, people must be asked to send in their subscriptions without waiting for solicitors' calls.

"Response from those contacted has been at the usual generous level," Rainwater said, "but there are still too many citizens of this community who have not done their bit. If gifts could be put on a wider basis, none of them would have to be large. We are appealing anew for gifts now, to carry on the work of the Red Cross. Checks may be mailed to the organization, or may be left at the Red Cross desk in the lobby of the Douglass hotel."

Jaycees Get Two New Members At Luncheon Tuesday

Two new members were accepted at the luncheon meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in the Maverick room of the Hotel Douglass Tuesday.

The new members included Jack B. Waide, assistant county agent, introduced by Durward Lewter; and Leonard Lyons, manager of KTXC, introduced by Joel Culver.

Plans were announced for a stag party and Get Acquainted social to be held Wednesday evening, March 29. Other club members will attend the affair.

Bill Cox gave a brief discussion on the 4-H club show. Cox stressed the importance of the Jaycees taking an active part in this annual show which is sponsored by the club. Lewter, county agent, expressed his appreciation to the members and merchants for their participation in making the 4-H club show a success.

An invitation to participate in a golf tournament with the San Angelo Jaycees was read by Lewis Hefflin, president.

MILLIKAN DOUBTS THAT MAN CAN MAKE H-BOMB

PASADENA, Calif., March 22. — Dr. Robert A. Millikan, Nobel prize winning scientist, says he is not at all certain that man can make a hydrogen bomb.

ed that it's at all certain we can build such a bomb. Of course, if it were possible to make the hydrogen in all the seas combine at once into helium, we probably could explode the whole earth and transform it into a nebula.

Even now Millikan maintains regular office hours and makes flying trips over the country to keep speaking engagements. Since retiring he has completed his soon to be published autobiography and kept up with his duties as vice president of the Cal Tech board of trustees.
