News, Picture Work Talked By Agents

Group Here Discusses Ways To Tell Public Of Work

How to better tell the public of agricultural developments through pictures and stories was outlined here Thursday before a group of county farm and home demonstration agents out of this section of extension service District No. 6.

Louis Franke, assistant extension service editor, and Howard Perry, experiment station photographer, led in the discussion of how to put life into news stories and news photographs.

Before the news section of the sub-district parley convened in the Settles hotel Thursday morning, J. D. Prewitt, district agent, presided over a meeting on compliance work and under the current federal agricultural program.

"Punch" In Stories
Prewitt also presided over the news discussions in which Franke stressed the importance of putting "punch" into stories.

Perry, recognizing the limited amount of equipment at the hands of most agents and club workers, said that a closer study of instructions on how to operate any particular camera would pay big dividends.

Camera Work
Acquisition of better equipment, though seemingly expensive, may well prove economical through the means of more usable pictures and less of the kind that must be discarded.

R. R. Lancaster, pasture specialist for the extension service, spoke of range practices and of means for restoring vegetation to grazing lands. Deferred grazing, said Lancaster, was beneficial in short stretches but should be practiced.

FD Maps Trip During July

Will Speak In Kentucky, Is Due To Visit Texas

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—The White House announced today that President Roosevelt—if conditions permitted—would leave on a western trip July 7 and speak in Covington, Ky., July 8.

No details were announced. It was expected, however, that the president would speak from his train at the stop in Kentucky, where Senate Leader Barkley is being opposed for renomination in the democratic primary by Governor A. B. Chandler.

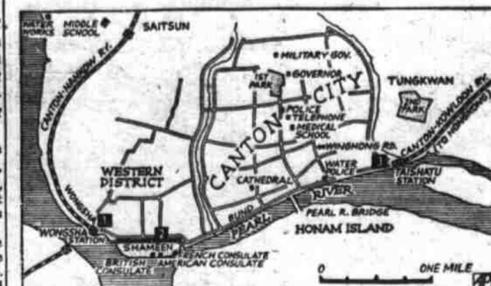

The president first will keep a long planned engagement in the morning of July 8 at Marietta, O., where he will speak in connection with the 150th anniversary of the northwest territory.

Tentative arrangements call for Mr. Roosevelt to visit Tennessee, Oklahoma, Texas and California. He may make a stop or two between the last two states.

The president is expected to take a naval vessel on the west coast for a cruise down the coast and through the Panama canal.

CANTON A HELPLESS TARGET

This map of Canton shows vital points in the teeming southern China metropolis in which the toll of dead and wounded reached the 8,000 mark after 15 days of relentless raiding by Japanese airmen, in an attempt to shatter the Canton-Hankow Railway (left) lifeline for supplies to armies fighting in the north. Main targets are the Wongsu station (1) and Taisatsu station (3) where the railway from Hongkong enters. Shamen (2) the foreign sector, has been hit and protests have been made.

British And French Bombing Losses Add To War Tension

London Proposes A Sky Patrol To Halt 'Piracy' From The Air

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
New Spanish insurgent bombardments of British and French merchantships in the Mediterranean today piled fuel on smoldering British-French resentment, giving impetus to a move for an international aerial patrol to curb "piracy" from the skies.

Five persons were killed aboard the French freighter Brisbane outside Denia, Spain, including an observer for the European non-intervention committee.

The British freighter Isadora was bombed in harbor at Castellon De La Plana but there were no casualties in that attack.

Britain, hardest hit in the recent wave of assaults on shipping, was reported the author of a plan to start an international aerial patrol of the Mediterranean danger zone much in the style of the Nyon conference warship patrol which halted submarine attacks last fall.

Approach To Italy
Viscount Halifax, British foreign secretary, faced mounting indignation from public and press over the attacks by Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco's air raiders.

The British-owned port of Gandia, Spain, was damaged and a dredge boat sunk yesterday in air attacks. Two foreign vessels have been sunk or damaged by insurgent air bombs in the past two weeks.

France also was aroused. Planes from across the Spanish border flew over French territory yesterday for the third time since Sunday despite French protests and reinforced aerial patrols on the border.

Awaits Reports
Lord Halifax was believed to be waiting for reports from British diplomats in government and insurgent Spain before making a final decision on his contemplated action.

Several courses Britain may adopt to protect her merchant flag on Spain's Mediterranean coast have been mentioned but the most emphasized possibility was that the foreign secretary would call a conference with other maritime powers.

The government was believed considering putting the question of the air attacks squarely before Premier Mussolini of Italy. There even were unofficial rumors she already had done so.

Aerial bombings in the Chinese-Japanese war which had brought American, British and French protests returned again to the Canton area for the 13th consecutive day.

Three railway stations near the South China metropolis were bombed by Japanese planes. No bombs were dropped on the city itself, where previous raids had killed or wounded more than 5,000 persons.

In the conflicts which formed the backdrop for this aerial warfare, the Spanish government shifted heavy reinforcements to the Ussera sector of the Valencia front and invading armies were arrayed in six spearheads pointed at Chengchow and Hankow and the Peiping-Hankow railway connecting those two cities.

$100,000 Unit Is Due To Be Constructed

C.C. Committee At Work On Local Stock Subscription

Establishment of another large industrial plant in Big Spring appeared in prospect Thursday.

The plant would be a cottonseed oil mill. The Herald learned, and its location here is dependent upon the subscription of stock in a fractional amount of the total investment.

Reliable sources estimated the value of the projected concern at $100,000.

The amount of stock to be subscribed locally would be around $38,000.

Committee OK's Deal
The chamber of commerce industrial committee, working on the project for several weeks now, was undecisive to have satisfied itself with the soundness of the proposition and was making every effort to meet local requirements which would mean the opening of the mill in Big Spring.

Approximately a score meetings have been held by chamber forces in interest of the plant since an oil mill is one of the principal objectives of the institution for the year. Among those who have already indicated their interest in the mill by pledging to take sizeable blocks of stock are mentioned in this area.

Those interested in the mill were quick to point out its benefits. Big Spring, in the heart of a rich ranching and farming section of mid-West Texas has long been without an oil mill, necessitating the shipment of cottonseed products into Big Spring in large quantities. Ranchers, particularly, saw in the mill the provision of cake, meal, hulls and other by-products at prices that would afford substantial savings.

Others pointed to the payroll which would be added to the industrial source of income in Big Spring. The investment, too, was considered large enough to make the mill a major item in the list of industries.

C. of C. Objective
For years chamber of commerce and other interests in this city have been seeking an oil mill of adequate size and finances. The chamber has repeatedly included a mill on its list of objectives in the belief that it would be the one thing which would be of more benefit to the city than any other one new industry.

Meanwhile, the industrial committee Thursday was reported contacting local people with the view of subscribing for stock in the company. The company, it was said, had been thoroughly checked and found to be financially capable, and large enough to carry out any program it undertook.

In other words, she doesn't have to pay.

Picard Takes The Lead In Nat'l. Open

Pennsylvania Has A 70 On The First Round Of Play

DENVER, June 9 (AP)—Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., one of the prime professional favorites, emerged from the early scoring wreckage of the National Open Golf championship today to take the first round lead with a 70, one under par for the Cherry Hills course.

While thunder-clouds overhead, obscuring the snow-capped vista of the Rockies, Picard boomed over the rugged incline nine in 34 strokes, two under par. He bagged three birdies in a stretch of four holes, the 11th to the 14th. With a chance to crack 70 by getting his par four on the famous finishing "lake hole," the tall professional over-shot the green and lost a stroke.

LINDBERGH LEAVE HOME IN ENGLAND

LONDON, June 9 (AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh have left Long Barn, in Kent, their English home for two and a half years.

Friends said presumably they had gone to lonely Illice Island off the coast of France's Brittany, which the flier bought last April.

A reliable source said the Lindberghs had given up their farmhouse for good and, with their two sons Jon and Land, left the country "several days ago."

SOUTHWEST BATTLING RUINOUS HORDE OF MARCHING 'HOPPERS'

SPRINGFIELD, N. M., June 9 (AP)—Grasshoppers by the billion were on the march in the deep Southwest and Rocky Mountain region today, threatening farmer and stockman with ruin.

Pitted against a fantastic insect menace to millions of acres of farm and grazing lands were hundreds of men and machines, waging desperate war against seemingly relentless 'hopper' hordes.

National guard detachments moved into infested areas in Northwestern New Mexico and the Texas Panhandle today, while Colorado, Oklahoma, Montana and Wyoming farmers and government agencies mobilized their resources against the pest.

Also in Wyoming, Montana, Utah and Idaho, the grasshopper horde was overshadowed by the Mormon cicada, destructive and equally voracious cousin of the 'hopper.'

weeks, the dreaded migratory movement of the 'hoppers' was under way.

In Union county and northern Colfax county, crawling insect armies were on the move over-lain as swarms of weevils, ear-rollers, farmers and stockmen dumped poison by the ton to check the migration.

Fighting forces moved at top speed against the impending zero hour when the grasshoppers cease to crawl and take wing. Once in the air, their destructive attack on range and crops cannot be checked.

"If we can't lick them this week, they'll lick us," declared Governor Clyde Tingley of New Mexico, appealing for $100,000 federal aid.

The current infestation is the fruit of last year's unchecked invasion, when winging clouds of 'hoppers' laid eggs in countless numbers. A repetition this year, all authorities agree, might seriously endanger the entire state of New Mexico and strangle financially ranchers and farmers.

Southerners Are Firm On Wage Issue

Demand Differentials, Whole Question Is Reopened

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—A threat of Southerners to fight a previously approved compromise forced a joint congressional committee to reopen today discussion of the pay provisions of the wage-hour bill.

Armed with an ultimatum supported by 18 Southern senators in a caucus this morning, Senators Ellender (D-La.) and Pepper (D-Fla.), Southerners on the conference committee, told the conferees they must have wage differentials or they would make an active floor fight on the legislation.

The compromise would provide a minimum pay scale of 40 cents an hour for interstate industry in seven years, except where it would cause unemployment.

Filibuster Threat
The decision of the Southerners carried a broad hint of a separate filibuster if conferees decline to revoke their action and lift the time limit from the pay legislation.

Senator Ellender (D-La.), one of the conferees, said: "If they (the conferees) don't accept our plan there is going to be a lot of talking on the bill. I guarantee that."

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), the other Southern senator on the conference committee, said he would propose to the conferees that a minimum wage scale of 25 cents an hour be made effective for all interstate industry as soon as the bill becomes operative.

His proposal also would establish industry boards empowered to fix the minimum wage to be paid in each industry. These boards would be charged with increasing this minimum to 40 cents an hour as soon as "economically feasible."

No Definite Date
There would be no requirement, however, as to when the 40-cent scale must be reached.

Under Pepper's proposal, the industry boards would have power to make a differential in wages within an industry. Larger units would be ordered to pay a higher minimum than the smaller ones, Pepper said.

This, in effect, would provide for a geographical wage differential if the board found that living costs and other factors made it impossible for one section of an industry to attain the same level of minimum wages as another portion of that industry.

The Southern senators who attended the meeting—all democrats—were:

Ellender, Pepper, Caraway and Miller of Arkansas, Harrison and Bilbo of Mississippi, Bankhead and Hill of Alabama, Andrews of Florida, Overton of Louisiana, George and Russell of Georgia, Smith and Byrnes of South Carolina, Berry of Tennessee, Lee of Oklahoma and Connally of Texas.

Ransom Thrice Paid In Vain

Other Victims Were Dead When Kidnapers Collected

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Three times in recent years kidnapers' ransom demands have been met in vain.

Testimony at the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann indicated that Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., already lay dead in a shallow grave when John F. Condon, acting for Colonel Lindbergh, turned over $50,000 for the youngster's safe return.

The second ransom paid in vain was $50,000 raised by Mrs. Charles S. Ross of Chicago, Ill., for the return of her husband, a retired greeting card manufacturer who had been kidnaped September 25, 1937.

The payment was made October 8. Two days later the elderly man was killed in an underground hide-out near Spooner, Wis. John Henry Seadun is awaiting execution for the crime.

The body of little Jimmy Cash was found yesterday near Princeton, Fla. The lad's father had delivered $10,000 to a spot designated in a ransom note, and hoped to get his boy back alive. A 21-year-old truck driver, Franklin Pierce McCall, federal agents say, confessed to collecting the money.

Truck Driver Had Been In Custody For A Week

Hoover Indicates Crime Not Yet Completely Solved; Suspect Had Directed Attention To Notes

MIAMI, Fla., June 9 (AP)—The body of kidnaped James Bailey Cash, Jr. was found today and G-men announced the recovery of the $10,000 ransom and the arrest of a suspect but indicated the case still was not completely solved.

"We have the kidnaper or one of the kidnappers," said J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, in discussing the arrest of Franklin Pierce McCall, husky 21-year-old truck driver who he said admitted writing the three ransom notes and collecting the money.

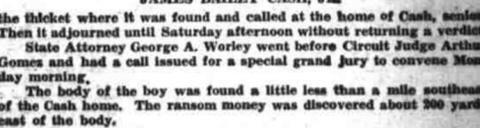

Hoover declined to say whether authorities were seeking possible confederates. He also turned aside questions as to whether any others were in custody.

"The investigation will actively continue," Hoover announced, adding that the FBI field office in Princeton, however, would be closed.

Hoover said Dr. Thomas Otto, who accompanied federal agents when they located the five-year-old victim's body three minutes after midnight this morning less than a mile from his home, believed he had been dead when left there.

"Climate and humidity caused rapid decomposition," he said. "The body was found face up. There was no evidence of violent injury."

A coroner's jury impaneled by Justice of the Peace S. L. Kendrick of Homestead viewed the remains at an undertaker's there, inspecting JAMES BAILEY CASH, JR. the thicket where it was found and called at the home of Cash, senior. Then it adjourned until Saturday afternoon without returning a verdict. State Attorney George A. Worley went before Circuit Judge Arthur Gomes and had a call issued for a special grand jury to convene Monday morning.

The body of the boy was found a little less than a mile southeast of the Cash home. The ransom money was discovered about 300 yards east of the body.

Leads Officers To The Child's Body

Sheriff D. C. Coleman said McCall, without any show of emotion, led Hoover, himself, and a squad of agents to the dense thicket where the dead boy had been left, without an effort at burial. Little remained but the skeleton and fragments of the pajamas the five-year-old tow-head wore when he was seized from his bed May 23.

When it was explained what condition the body was in the boy's father decided not to look at it. Friends of the family said they planned an early, private funeral.

It was McCall who called Cash's attention to the third ransom note two nights after the abduction, saying he found it on the floor of Cash's apartment and that the kidnaper apparently had slipped it under the door.

Sheriff Coleman, suspicious because the note had been wadded into a ball, arrested McCall June 1. After questioning he was released, with the gun showing him. The following day he joined the volunteer possemen hunting for clues over the very ground where the body and the ransom were hidden. That night authorities picked him up again and he has been held ever since in a detention cell at the FBI office atop a downtown skyscraper.

There he could be protected from violence, but Princeton received the news the case had been "broken" without any great stir.

Locale Of Crime Within Two-Mile Range
In addition to recovering the ransom, the authorities also found the shoebox in which Cash delivered the 1,500 bills of small denomination. It had been torn to pieces and hidden beneath a stone in a Palmetto clump.

The locations of the body, the ransom and the shoebox indicated the locale of the entire crime never ranged farther than two miles from the Cash home. This circumstance apparently strengthened authorities in their belief McCall carried it out by himself. He did not own an automobile.

Worley took charge of the prosecution as Hoover indicated no federal law apparently had been violated and the kidnaper should be tried in the state courts. Whether he is charged with murder or kidnaping for ransom, he would face a possible death sentence upon conviction.

Sheriff Coleman said McCall bore generally a good reputation in Princeton and Sheriff Frank Hancock of Jasper, Fla., his birthplace, described the suspect as "a boy who sometimes got into mischief, but never into any real trouble."

Other Suspects In Case Are Released
Several persons had been brought to FBI headquarters for questioning and later released. Among them were M. F. Braxton, unemployed Princeton carpenter, his son, James, and his son-in-law, Ray Bayburn.

James Mizell, attendant at the Cash filling station, said McCall accompanied Cash and others to the home of a negro where a ransom note was found the night of the kidnaping and was a member of various searching parties looking for the body.

"We met McCall as we approached the home of Asbury Cash, whose the first ransom note was found, as we were on our way to John Emanuel's home," Mizell said.

"He was walking and carrying a large flashlight, which he used to wave down the car of Ishmael Cash, which was just ahead of the one in which the boy's father and I were riding. He got in with Ishmael and went on to the place where the note was found."

"I wasn't with him any more that night but I saw him in the crowd around the Cash home several times and I know he went around with the searchers for the body."

"He did not seem nervous when I last saw him."

Mizell said McCall rented Cash's rear apartment last winter, moving out in April.

Mrs. F. P. McCall, mother of the man held, declined to comment on the arrest of her son. She remained sequestered at the home of a daughter, Mrs. C. E. Shepherd, in St. Augustine.

Mrs. Shepherd said her mother received first word of McCall's arrest through a St. Augustine newspaper.

"We simply don't know what to think of it," she said.

HOOVER PRAISED FOR WORK IN CASH CASE

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Attorney General Cummings said today that Director J. Edgar Hoover and his associates in the Federal Bureau of Investigation performed "a brilliant piece of work" in the Cash kidnaping case. He wired congratulations to Hoover at Miami, Fla.

Society + THE WORLD OF WOMEN + Fashions

Chattergrams

By Jeanne Suits
Wealth of the United States is estimated at $195,000,000,000 with the last three figures as an approximation of this department's portion.

There is a certain group who want all the money and they are just shrewd enough to get it. Economic authorities say if all the wealth of the world were evenly distributed, in less than 10 or 15 years, a greater portion of it would all be back in the hands of the present capitalist.

What would the movies do to describe all these characters of a sensational film if they hadn't stumbled upon the phrase—"And a cast of thousands"?

If you still wear exceptionally high heels, what a "heel" you've been. Look in the mirror. You think you need a facial to tone up the complexion and relieve the tension of the nerves. It's not a facial you need, but a comfortable pair of shoes.

The hang of the neck and shape of the spine depend on whether you wear flat or high heels. A low heel never finds itself parked under the bridge table or theatre seat to hoof it alone.

If the women of your acquaintance nag, it's because their feet hurt. Down with the heels of America.

READING AND WRITING

"PUCCINI AMONG FRIENDS," by Vincent Seligman (Macmillan, $4).
The advantage of Vincent Seligman's "Puccini Among Friends" is that it presents its subject, a genius of the theater if not a genius of music, almost wholly off-stage.

The letters add up some 700, and they were mostly written to Mr. Seligman's mother, Sybil, at the London branch of the banking family. Many of them were mere notes, containing little of interest to you, or to me.

Mr. Seligman begins the book with a short biographical sketch which takes Puccini from his birth in 1858 to the period of the letters: 1904 to 1924. From 1904 to the end the letters do most of the talking, with occasional asides and footnotes from the editor to keep the thread of things distinct.

Veteran Is Confident Schmeling Will Again Kayo Heavy Champion

By GAYLE TALBOT SPECULATOR, N. Y., June 9 (AP) Bill Osborne, who owns everything around here, including the overgrown cottage in which Max Schmeling lives for the moment, says that the German is an absolute clinch to knock the daylight out of Joe Louis again.

Osborne has been sitting here watching the big fellows go forth to victory or defeat ever since Gene Tunney came up in the summer of 1928 to get ready for his first fight with Jack Dempsey. He is one of the very few who actually saw Tunney take up reading books, and he justifiably is considered something of an oracle.

Among clubs expected to be represented are Lubbock, Amarillo, Abilene, San Angelo and McCamey, Ky., 103.

INDIANS TO STAGE A REAL BUFFALO HUNT

ESPAÑOLA, N. M., June 9 (AP) Lo, the poor, modern Indian who probably never has seen a buffalo, much less a buffalo hunt, is going to get a chance here to pursue the lumbering plains beast with bow and arrow—even as did his ancestors.

C. M. Rosalar announced today a real, old-fashioned buffalo hunt, with San Juan Pueblo Indians as the hunters, will be held as a feature of the Espanola rodeo, July 2-4.

The buffalo have been procured in Colorado and will be shipped here for the event.

NORRIS OBJECTS TO FLOOD CONTROL BILL

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) contended the omnibus flood control bill before the senate today gave the war department too much discretion in determining power potentialities in reservoir projects.

Norris objected to language in the bill giving the engineers broad jurisdiction in determining needs for flood control, navigation and "allied purposes." He wanted to know what "allied purposes" meant.

Norris succeeded yesterday in having the words "allied purposes" deleted from the rivers and harbors bill. That measure now goes back to the house for action on the senate changes.

The flood control bill would authorize projects to cost $375,000,000 over a five-year period. It also would cut to 30 per cent the required local contributions for reservoirs.

VETERANS' HOSPITAL ASKED IN PANHANDLE

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Bruce Stubblefield, executive secretary of the national rehabilitation committee of the American Legion, said he has placed before the federal hospitalization board a resolution signed by several congressmen urging construction of a veterans' hospital in the Texas-Oklahoma Panhandle area.

The hospital would serve parts of Texas, Oklahoma, Southwestern Kansas and Northern New Mexico.

VATICAN ACTING AGAINST BOMBINGS

VATICAN CITY, June 9 (AP)—
 A Vatican news service said today that the Holy See was directing
 "continual insistence" to General
 Francisco Franco, leader of insurgent Spain, against bombardment of civilian populations.
 Such action, it was said, is part of the Holy See's policy of doing always what it can to diminish suffering and hardship in war and there has been "no let up" in appeals made to Franco in this direction.
 Other than this "unending insistence" no special protest or appeal is being made at this time and the Holy See is not joining in any move with other powers, the news service said.

Cotton Quotas Not Yet In Effect For South Texas Farms

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Cotton growers of extreme Southern Texas are getting a jump on Uncle Sam.
 They are selling their 1938 cotton crop unrestrained by marketing quota provisions of the crop control law.
 The agriculture department has not yet set up machinery to regulate the marketing of this year's crop under which growers will be assessed penalties of two cents a pound on cotton marketed in excess of their quotas. Quotas may be announced next week.

The first bale of 1938 cotton was marketed from Starr county, Texas, last week, officials reported. The bulk of the American cotton is not harvested until after August.
 Officials said it was possible that a few Southern Texas growers might be able to sell in excess of quotas before the regulations are announced.

Economists Present
 Views On Business Situation

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 9
 (AP)—One economist today presented "a definite program for the recovery of the American economic system"; another said "American private enterprise is running downunder controlled economy. Both were scheduled speakers at the Edison Electric Institute convention.

Dr. Virgil Jordan, president of the National Industrial Conference Board, urged that "business take the ball at this crucial juncture" and mobilize a national reconstruction council of business leaders to "come forward to the American people with an unconditional pledge and a specific program to re-employ our labor and rehabilitate our industries."

W. W. Cummings, partner and economist of Wellington & Co.,
 New York stock exchange firm, in a prepared address said the United States "at least from 1930, and possibly before that date, abandoned the capitalistic system." Hence, he said, it was incorrect to say that the capitalistic system has failed.
 Moreover, he said he saw "no indications that our population is ready to demand the conditions under which capitalism can function."
 Jordan's plan calls for the establishment in each state of a state re-employment council, formed by existing business and labor organizations and the state governments, to assume their responsibilities.

CALLS BOMBINGS OF CITIES 'NECESSITY'

ROME, June 9 (AP)—Virgilio
 Gayda, authoritative fascist editor, declared today that Spanish insurgent bombings of "so-called open cities" were "a necessity."
 The recent raids on Barcelona, wrote Gayda in his newspaper,
 Giornale D'Italia, destroyed important government aerial reinforcements.

His plea in favor of insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco's bombers was taken in informed quarters as the Italian answer in British and French efforts to halt air bombings of civilians.

 via plane for New York where she is to spend two months as a guest of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William Green.

ABANDONED WELL COMES TO LIFE

CUTBERT, Okla., June 8 (AP)—Operators sought today to shut in an abandoned well in the old Lovell pool of Logan county which came to life with a roar yesterday when crews were shooting off pipe to plug in the test, drilled in 1929 but recently off production.

A Braden head and a Madoer gate were being moved in to control the wild gasser. Operators said no accurate estimate of the gas volume was available, although a similar well in the same area was gauged at 20,000,000 cubic feet daily when it blew wild a year ago.

Petroleum Saving Texas From The Recession, API Chieftain Asserts

W. R. BOYD

PORT ARTHUR, June 8—Business is good in Texas, with retail sales at virtually the same level as last year, chiefly because annual expenditures of the petroleum industry amount to about $500 for every family in the state, W. R. Boyd, Jr., executive vice president of the American Petroleum Institute, asserted today at the annual convention of the Texas Press association.

"Texas currently is one bright spot on all business maps," said Boyd. "The reason is oil. This industry has maintained its operations during the depression years; has paid its workers virtually at the same high rates. Last year this one industry distributed more than $725,000,000 in Texas. This sum may be compared with $117,000,000 spent in Texas by the federal government during the period March 4, 1933 to January 1, 1938—an average of only $151,000,000 a year. Last year alone the petroleum industry paid Texas farmers more than $100,000,000 on royalties, bonuses and leases. That sum was equivalent to more than 20 per cent of the entire cash income of Texas farmers from their total sales of livestock and crops."

But the dark spot in the petroleum picture is the growing burden of taxation, said Mr. Boyd, pointing out that "last year the total tax contributions of the industry in Texas approximated $125,000,000. State and local taxing jurisdictions received $112,000,000; the balance went to Washington. This tax bill falls only slightly below the industry's pay roll."

Answering the proposals frequently advanced for strict governmental regulation of industry, and especially the petroleum industry, Boyd said: "Any industry's capacity for public service, and its ability to maintain and to improve its position as an economic factor, are limited only by the extent to which it is permitted freely to develop. Nothing so stunts the growth of industry, and thereby curtails its economic value to a state or community, as excessive taxation and unwise regulation. "Already government control, if not operation, of the American petroleum industry is advocated, the excuse advanced being the danger of imminent shortage. But the latest authoritative estimate, dated January 1, 1938, places the proven oil reserves of Texas at 8,247,928,000 barrels, or 83 per cent of the nation's total. When the first survey was made in 1925, Texas was credited with proven reserves of only 752,000,000 barrels. Despite the production of approximately 4,900,000,000 barrels of oil since 1925, the proven reserves have increased by more than 7-

From this vast herd, 72,000 calves and 36,000 yearlings are marketed annually. West Texas is called "The Birthplace of the Nation's Meat."

Counties in district six are Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Winkler, Ector, Midland, Glasscock, Andrews, Martin and Howard. West Texans are being invited to attend the formal opening and dedication program to see the new home of the regional organization. MICKEY CRACKS WHIP, PITCHER FINED $100

PHILADELPHIA, June 9 (AP)—Mickey Cochrane, a hustler from way back, has started cracking the whip over the Detroit Tigers.

When the Tigers moved into Philadelphia Tuesday after some daffy playing in Boston, Manager Cochrane assembled his once ferocious Tigers and told them they had become a bunch of tame kittens but were still under the delusion they belonged to the championship class. "From now on this is going to be a cold turkey ball club," Cochrane said. "You produce, or else! You will cooperate with each other or you will be fined. Furthermore, the privileges a championship ball club enjoys are herewith withdrawn. You fellows have proved you don't appreciate them."

ADMINISTRATION FOES BLAMED FOR FARM LAW ATTACKS

CHICAGO, June 9 (AP)—H. R. Tolley, agricultural adjustment administrator, declared today a part of the "organized opposition" in the corn belt to the new farm law was "evidently inspired, if not financed" by foes of the administration. The administration did not mention but apparently referred to activities of the Corn Belt Liberty League, an organization of farmers formed at Macomb, Ill.

ADJOURNMENT BY NEXT TUESDAY?

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, predicted today congress would adjourn "about Tuesday." After talking with President Roosevelt, Barkley replied to a question about adjournment prospects: "Not a chance this week. I think we will meet about Thursday."

LOOP RACE ONE OF CLOSEST IN ITS HISTORY

By the Associated Press

A matter of but two games separated the first and fourth place teams of the hurly-burly Texas league race today as the field pounded toward the half-way mark in as thrilling a race as the loop has ever known.

Leading Beaumont's winning streak was snapped at four games by the Fort Worth Cats, 5-3, and second place Tulsa fell before Houston, 5-0.

At the same time Oklahoma City, fourth place team, downed Shreveport, 10-8, as Ash Hillin joined the ranks of pitchers with 10 victories.

Criminality Overlapped By Insanity

Warden Of Alcatraz Cites Cases To Back Findings

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9 (AP)—James A. Johnston, warden of Alcatraz, the federal island penitentiary here which houses Al Capone, Machine Gun Kelly and other desperate men, today pictured criminality as it looks to him and said it is "overlapped by insanity."

"The warden, who seldom talks, presented a 6,000-word paper to the American Psychiatric association. He gave 10 case histories of prisoners, but no names. The 10 appeared not to be among Alcatraz's notorious band.

He drew a word picture of what the warden looks at as he sits waiting for a criminal who has cracked to enter his office for medical examination.

"As hospital attendants or guards bring the patient to the door," he said, "sometimes it makes a rather pathetic procession.

"Some are quiet and clean, others are untidy, unclean and violent. Some of them cut capers and if it happens to provoke a laugh, they laugh at themselves as if they were happy in their tragic foolishness. Those with delusions of persecution are often difficult to handle."

Drawings of Society

The prison gets the drawings of society. These men, Warden Johnston said, include "latent, unrecognized lunacy, borderline cases and numerous variants, deviates, defectives, abnormals, subnormals, neurotics, epileptics and psychopaths."

"Then too," he went on, "there are special types who germinate and flourish in cells and prison surroundings. In this class are some lifers and long-termers, who crack from doing time. Circumscribed existence may cause them to stagnate, or develop and deepen an in-growing attitude from constant feeding on repetitious happenings of their small, narrow world."

The warden said a percentage of the defective delinquents owe their mental troubles to syphilis. "Another group that prison managers have to deal with," he said, "and watch out for, are foxy fellows who feign insanity in the hope of being transferred to a hospital from which they easily escape."

Many of the mental cases, in fact all but the dangerously deranged, he explained, are put back to work and absorbed as "naturally as possible" into the main population of the prison. Those inclined to flare up when crowded are housed in cell blocks where they can get some exercise as orderlies or janitors and at the same time have supervision and protection of cellhouse guards.

"Psychiatrists and wardens working together in utmost candor and whole-hearted cooperation," he concluded, "is one of the most encouraging futures in present-day study of the penal problem."

Louisiana Argues Franchise Bill

BATON ROUGE, La., June 9 (AP)—Senator Jules Fisher, long a staunch supporter of the Huey P. Long political organization, angrily warned the house ways and means committee today that passage of a bill affecting Jefferson parish gas franchises might have "a disastrous result" in Louisiana politics.

The committee decided unanimously, over Fisher's protest, to submit a favorable report on a senate bill of Harvey Peltier, administration leader, which allows the Louisiana public service commission to grant public utility franchises in parishes where police refuse to do so.

"You may have the power to cram this thing down our throats in Jefferson parish," said Fisher.

"But there never has been a parish more loyal to the administration and, if it hadn't been for Jefferson parish, there wouldn't have been any Long administration. You may expect us to sit back and take it. But it's questionable whether we will and you might as well know it."

CORN HAMPERED BY TOO MUCH RAIN

CHICAGO, June 9 (AP)—Unless warm weather comes to the corn belt soon, there is little likelihood much corn will be "knee high by the Fourth of July," crop statisticians said today.

Hampered by too much rain, farmers in some sections have not yet completed planting. Others must do considerable replanting because of rains and cutworm damage. Thousands of acres need cultivation due to heavy weed growth.

MANY IDEAS HEARD FOR CURING U. S. ECONOMIC ILLS

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—New ideas for curing the country's economic ills are reaching the Farm Security administration at the rate of 2,500 a year.

Most of them outline "back to the farm" movements to be conducted at government expense, officials said today. The administration has contended, on the other hand, that there ought to be fewer, rather than more, people on farms. Resettlement projects like those the government has started all over the country are proposed as original ideas by many of the writers.

One man suggested the government should buy up all the tractors and prohibit their manufacture, then give the farmers horses to use instead. This, he declared, would provide more employment, create a demand for horse feed and result in the propagation of colts.

"The tractor has no offspring," the letter added.

YOUNG PEOPLE OF CHURCH TO MEET

SALT LAKE CITY, June 9 (AP)—Youth will tackle its own problems here when the young people of the Latter-Day Saints church hold their annual convention Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Some 8,000 leaders in the church young men's and young women's Mutual Improvement associations in the United States, Mexico and Canada will attend.

Purpose of the assembly, said George Q. Morris, general superintendent of the young men's association, is to encourage and inspire the youth leaders—and through them some 160,000 young people in the church and thousands of their non-Mormon friends—to lead cleaner and more spiritual lives.

MAN IS SLAIN

TUCSON, Ariz., June 9 (AP)—James W. Everhart, 52, was shot and killed early today as he got into an automobile with a woman, and a short time later Frank James, 34, husband of the victim's companion, surrendered at the sheriff's office.

Ben West, acting chief of police, said James and his wife were to have been divorced today.

ARITHMETIC PROBLEM

YORK, Pa., June 9 (AP)—Adjudication of the $988 estate of John Benedict was more of a problem in arithmetic than law. Judge Harvey A. Gross, in dividing the estate among 109 heirs, had to deal with such fractions as "one-seventh of two-thirds and one-seventh plus one-twenty-fourth."

When Men Play With Doll Houses, It's Moving Time For Their Firms

FUN SAVES MONEY Interlocking blocks enable planners to assemble a model office quickly. Here's a wall cabinet being put into place.

READY FOR AN OKAY By studying this model office arrangement, the executive saves moving time later on.

NEW YORK—In spring, when a big New York corporation's fancy turns to thoughts of moving, its executives turn to playing with demountable doll houses.

The doll houses, with their adjustable partitions, are being used more and more in place of paper, pencil and eraser to show the executives just how their new offices will be arranged.

By shuffling the partitions around, the executives decide with comparative ease where to put up or tear down partitions. It's cheaper than doing it with real partitions six months later.

Laymen Can Understand All this started when L. F. Luhn, a young mechanical engineer here, decided that to most folks blueprints are a Chinese puzzle.

He wanted to translate the prints into something even a layman might understand readily. He decided it couldn't be done on paper. So he started devising models.

A set of these models, filled with cardboard furniture built to scale, would be a little girl's dream of a doll house. In fact, the models are so attractive that those which survive the pawings of executives usually are snapped up for the executives' daughters.

They're Elastic The models are used not only to help corporations move but to help homebuilders lay plans.

Says Luhn: "The purpose of my models is to create a layout in space. Although architects have been building individual models for a long time, that system usually is too expensive. I found a cheaper way by devising standard size wall sections, windows, doors, staircases." Luhn scales his models so that a 6-inch section represents an 8-foot wall. Sections are held together by H-shaped rubber keys fitted into notches at the "floor" and ceiling. Elastic at the joints, the models can be folded up and packed away. Taken out again, they snap back into their original positions.

Foreign Ships Are Bombed

French, British Vessels Are Targets For Insurgents

DENIA, Spain, June 9 (AP)—The British freighter Isadora and the French freighter Brisbane were bombed today in separate insurgent air raids in government-held Mediterranean seaports.

Five persons were killed, including an observer for the European non-intervention committee, in the raid on the Brisbane by a lone bomber outside this harbor. Ten others were injured, four gravely. Denia is 20 miles south of Gandia, the British-owned port which was bombed yesterday.

The Isadora was struck in her engine room about midnight in the harbor of Castellon de la Plana and was believed to have been put out of commission. There were no casualties, however, aboard the Isadora.

The Brisbane was set afire. It was feared she would sink.

The French ship, of 4,000 tons and loaded with fertilizer, was at anchor in the Denia harbor when the air raider struck.

The plane dumped four bombs on the ship and then sprayed her decks with machine gun fire.

A French destroyer at Valencia sped to the Brisbane's assistance and quickly reached her side. The French consul at Valencia came to Denia by automobile to investigate, as yet.

Near top price was given for the sale today.

New Destroyer Makes 42 Knots

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9 (AP)—The navy's new destroyer McCall made 42 knots—equal to 47 land miles an hour—in preliminary acceptance tests for four hours Monday outside the Golden Gate, it was learned today.

Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation officials made the tests and indicated the belief the speed was the greatest ever made by an American naval craft.

The 341-foot McCall, first naval ship to be built by a private company since 1921, is a twin-screwed oil-powered craft. She was built in the Bethlehem's San Francisco yards.

WOOL CONSIGNMENT BRINGS 18-20 CTS.

KERRVILLE, June 9 (AP)—The Schreiner Wool and Mohair Commission company today announced the sale of 625,000 pounds of 12 months wool to Jack Hughes, representative of Emery and Conant of Boston, at a price range of 18 to 20 cents.

Bulk of the accumulation went at 18-1-2 to 19-1-2 cents per pound for the entire lots.

The sale disposed of approximately one-half of the 12 months clip. Scott Schreiner, official of the firm, announced he expected 1,000,000 pounds of spring, eight months wool, none of which has been sold as yet.

Near top price was given for the sale today.

WAR MANEUVERS IN SYRIA PLANNED BY FRANCE

BEIRUT, Syria, June 9 (AP)—A French Mediterranean fleet anchored today in Beirut harbor preparatory to combined war maneuvers with French troops and airplanes in disturbed Syria, which France governs under League of Nations mandate.

Arrival of the fleet, commanded by Vice Admiral Jean Abrial, coincided with tightening of martial law by French authorities in the snajak (state) of Alexandrette.

The snajak, part of France's Syrian mandate, has been a source of French-Turkish friction. A plebiscite will be held in Alep andretta, probably late next month to determine whether the territory which borders Turkey, should become Turkish or remain part of the new Syrian republic.

Reports here said 30,000 Turkish troops still were massed on the frontier.

NAME COUNSEL FOR TVA INQUIRY

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—The congressional committee investigating the Tennessee Valley Authority announced today that Francis Biddle, committee counsel, would receive $10,000 for six months service.

Chairman Donahay (D-Ohio) said that Biddle would begin drawing a salary as soon as he came to Washington from his home in Philadelphia, probably within a few days.

The committee discussed the names of about 60 applicants for the job of chief engineer to the committee, but reached no decision. Donahay said an effort would be made to arrive at a choice tomorrow morning.

Fingerprints Are Checked In $4,000 Dublin Robbery

FORT WORTH, June 9 (AP)—A fingerprint left on an abandoned automobile thought to have been used by the Dublin, Texas, raiders when they looted that Erath county town of over $4,000 early Wednesday was identified Thursday as that of James Harlan Massey, 23, who two weeks ago escaped the Busham prison farm.

The identification was made by Lon Weatherly, member of the identification bureau of the Fort Worth police department, who was dispatched on the case after Erath authorities requested aid.

Weatherly established positive identification after information was furnished by State Rangers Daniels and Duncan, assigned to this district.

JARRETT DIVORCED FROM ELEANOR HOLM

LOS ANGELES, June 9 (AP)—Arthur L. Jarrett, singing orchestra leader, today obtained a divorce from beautiful Eleanor Holm, one-time Olympic swimmer.

Talk of a romance between Eleanor and Billy Rose, theatrical producer, caused Jarrett "great mental anguish and embarrassment," he testified in so many words at the hearing. Judge Charles E. Haas granted him the decree.

CENTENNIAL ROMANCE FAILS TO PAN OUT

CHICAGO, June 9 (AP)—Mona Leslie, professional swimmer and dancer, told a divorce court judge today her Texas centennial expedition romance went awry when her husband brought his former wife home to live with them.

She won a default divorce from Gilbert Clement, 36, a Dallas, Tex., fashion designer, whom she met at the exposition and married Sept. 9, 1936 in Rockwall, Tex.

On Oct. 15, she testified, Clement brought the other woman to their house. "He asked me to keep our marriage secret," she said. "He promised to get rid of her as soon as he could and asked me to take two small rooms while they shared the major part of the house. Finally, he did nothing to correct the situation and we separated."

She was granted her maiden name and waived alimony.

Cotton Advances A Dollar A Bale

NEW ORLEANS, June 9 (AP)—Cotton prices advanced slightly more than one dollar a bale here today on active trade and commission house buying and covering by shorts against scarcity of contracts.

Reports of heavy weevil emergence in parts of the belt which aroused fears of damage to the new crop and Washington advices saying the government planned to purchase a considerable volume of bales for relief purposes were the principal factors behind the buying movement.

ABDUCTION TRIAL ON IN ENGLAND

OXFORD, England, June 9 (AP)—Testimony that a would-be kidnaper intended to extort huge sums from Vincent Nuffield, millionaire automobile manufacturer, by threatening him with an "operation" without an anesthetic was introduced today at the hearing of John Bruce Thornton.

Thornton, 50, is charged with luring Major Arthur G. F. Ramsden to help him abduct Great Britain's "Henry Ford."

Major Ramsden, testifying against Thornton, said the latter told him he would "make a display of surgical tools" before the millionaire after the kidnaping had been carried out and thus induce him to write a letter arranging for a letter of credit for 100,000 pounds (about $50,000).

If Nuffield "did not play the game," Ramsden said, Thornton wanted to take the peer out to sea on a yacht and "dump him."

THOUGHT OF LETHAL CHAMBER PROMPTS MAN TO KILL

ST. LOUIS, June 9 (AP)—A paroled convict told Chief Deputy Sheriff Arnold Willmann today that a "jealous rage" and the thought of dying in the lethal gas chamber at the state prison prompted him to kill Mrs. Vivian Brewer Davidson last night.

Robert West, 27, who helped construct the execution chamber while an inmate of the penitentiary, was quoted by Willmann as saying, "I thought when I was building it, that when I got out I would kill somebody, so that I would die in it."

Mrs. Davidson, 30, was shot as she sat in an automobile in front of her home with Kenneth Budde-meyer of Bland, Mo., a friend of her family.

The paper says that Hoover telephoned Mrs. Rogers at her New York apartment at 3 o'clock this morning and told her of the break in the Cash kidnap-murder case in Florida.

A silver-framed photograph of Hoover was displayed on Mrs. Rogers' mantelpiece, alongside a photo of Ginger.

The British and French on Tuesday lodged a protest in Berlin against non-payment of monthly interest installments due June 1.

The bonds were to have borne 4 1/2 per cent interest. Austria was annexed by Germany March 15.

The United States was not represented at the session, although the Washington government is interested because a large part of the loan was issued in the form of dollars bonds in the United States.

NEWARK, N. J., June 9 (AP)—Counsel for the CIO and American Civil Liberties Union charged in federal court today that Saturday's egging and howling down of Socialist Leader Norman Thomas in a Newark park was done "under the direction of the authorities of Jersey City," where Frank Hague has been mayor for a quarter century.

CIO-ACLU Counsel Spaulding Fraser told Judge William Clark that the attack on Thomas was "through the instrumentality" of William J. Egan, assistant attorney and former democratic Newark city commissioner.

"There was a meeting of persons on Saturday, June 4, in Egan's office for the purpose of fomenting the attack on Mr. Thomas," Fraser charged.

"Our purpose" (in bringing in the Thomas episode), said Fraser, "is to show continuing proof of a conspiracy on the part of Jersey City authorities: x x x."

DIFFERENT AMOUNTS IN RELIEF MEASURES

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—A senate-house committee tried today to decide just how much should be spent for the administration's program to improve business by spending and lending.

The committee's job was to compromise differences between the $3,723,000,000 relief and public works bill passed by the senate and a similar $3,154,000,000 measure approved in the house.

President Roosevelt asked congress yesterday to retain an additional $178,000,000 for WPA voted by the senate.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the beginning of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 Miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

CROPS DAMAGED BY RAIN AND HAIL

VERNON, June 9 (AP)—Raucous rain and hail destroyed wheat and cotton crops in sections of Cottle, Foard, Hardeman and Willbarger counties last night.

Hail virtually wiped out wheat along a four-mile strip east of Paducah, where a four and a half inch rain also washed out cotton and necessitated replanting.

Cotton in northeast Foard county fell before a three and a half inch downpour while other rains, from a half inch to an inch, did little damage.

NO TRACE FOUND OF BANK ROBBERS

LEWISVILLE, Ark., June 9 (AP)—After an all-night hunt through desolate bottoms south of here, Sheriff S. J. McCollum of Magnolia reported today no trace had been found of a band of outlaws credited with two bank robberies in this Arkansas-Louisiana area.

McCollum and a group of his deputies, returning to their homes for rest, said the hunt was being pushed today by a large posse of Arkansas and Louisiana state police aided by county and parish officers.

Deputy Sheriff J. E. Boone said the officers were convinced the bandits were headed by Charles Chapman, federal "public enemy," and Floyd Hamilton, Texas desperado. A third man and possibly a woman were believed with them.

TAKES SUSPECT

Fish Pollard, deputy sheriff at Midland, was here Thursday morning to gain custody of A. A. Nance, wanted in Midland to face forgery charges. The sheriff's department made the arrest here Wednesday evening.

BACK FROM BEAUMONT

Deputy Sheriff Bob Wolf returned Wednesday evening from Beaumont where he had gone to gain custody of F. O. Nance, named here in a forgery complaint.

WPA Leader Defends His Program

Hopkins Answers Chief Criticisms Of Agency

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP)—Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator, writing in the current "Survey Monthly" seeks to refute the five arguments against the works program which he considers "worthy of consideration and discussion."

"In my opinion," he said, "the works program is an integral part of the long range program of economic security; it is the greatest single stride the federal government has made towards that goal since 1932."

"To one the most glaring weakness is that it can not yet provide work for all employables who are in need."

"I feel, however, that we will come to that as unemployment insurance and old age pensions develop and as business gets on a coordinated program for the future."

"Another admitted weakness x x x is the low wages which we pay WPA workers in certain sections of the country x x x. When the wages and hours bill is passed by congress, then I hope WPA will be able to increase its wages in the lowest paid regions accordingly."

Hopkins said the five arguments which are worthy of consideration and discussion are:

First, cost; second, that the WPA encourages an army of job holders who refuse private employment; third, that the projects are not worthwhile and there is "too much boondoggling"; fourth, that there are politics in WPA and fifth, "that the program has built up a huge bureaucracy in Washington."

Hopkins said that "five years is a short time for so enormous a job."

"But we are going forward, not backward," he concluded.

REFUND SECURITIES BEING ACCEPTED

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau announced today more than 97 per cent of the holders of $1,214,000,000 worth of treasury notes maturing June 15 and September 15 had accepted the refunding securities offered them.

With a few late reports yet to be tabulated, the secretary said he had received acceptances for $912,000,000 of the new 2 1/4 per cent 20 to 25-year bonds and $293,000,000 of the new 1 1/8 per cent five-year notes. Holders of both maturing issues were given the choice of either of the new securities.

The refunding was the first major financial operation of the treasury in preparation for financing the huge new administration spending program.

SEATTLE BAKERIES CLOSED BY STRIKE

SEATTLE, June 9 (AP)—Forty-five Seattle bakeries, producing 95 per cent of the city's bread, were closed early today by a strike.

There was no indication how long the strike would last.

Bakers walked out at midnight to force pay increases of $2 a week for day workers and $1 for night men. The present scale is $6.72 for a six hour day and $8.22 a night.

Here's Good Health, Governor!

AUSTIN, Texas—The milk route to good health was recommended by the Governor and the State Health Officer of Texas as Governor James V. Alfred (right) issued a proclamation designating June 9 to July 6 as Milk and Dairy Products Month. "Here's good health," the Governor was saluted by Dr. George W. Cox, who added: "Good, clean, safe milk is the nearest-perfect of all foods."

Solons Balked By Law In Plans For Milking Contest

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Arrangements for a congressional cow-milking contest on the capitol lawn ran afoul of the law today, but that didn't halt the contest.

"Speaker Bankhead," sighed Representative Sheppard (D-Calif.), one of the would-be milkers, "has informed us that an old law bars animals from the capitol grounds, especially cows."

Representative Pierce (D-Ore) was paired with Sheppard against the midwestern team of Representatives Knutson (R-Minn) and Boileau (Prog-Wis).

The contest was promoted to help publicize Milk Month by raising the issue of who could get more milk from a cow—representatives from the far west or from the middle west.

"We think we obtained about the best milkers in congress," Sheppard said in appraising the teams.

Congressional aides having witnessed potato, oyster, champagne, cheese and now milking competition—wonder what's coming next.

Almost anything, they predict, except adjournment.

Mr. George Gentry and sons, George, Jr., and Tommy, returned Wednesday from Calvert, Tex., where they had been for a visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Youngblood and children of Teague recently were guests of Mrs. Youngblood's sister, Mrs. J. E. Miles.

TOMATO SHOW ENDS

Barons Open Final Home Series With Wink Today

To Try Again

Oddity: Winner of the West Texas Invitational Golf title at Lubbock last Sunday, who happened to be Jodie Bihl, received a small trophy and reams of publicity for his efforts; winners of all other flights were given $50 watches.

Second oddity: Comparing the cards of the champions and the first flight finalists in that same meeting, the first flighters, who in this instance happened to be Doug Jones of Big Spring and Alton Holton of Lubbock; the champions would have been five down in a mixed foursome match.

Jones left Wednesday afternoon for Cisco where he is slated to enter an invitational tournament there beginning Friday. Championship matches will be played Saturday and Sunday with 18-hole championship finals set for Sunday afternoon.

Injury To Wrist

Clarence Trantham made the mistake of answering the relief call in Wednesday afternoon's losing battle with the Hobbs Boosters. The tall righthander had been struck on the wrist in batting practice earlier in the evening and could hardly close his fist.

Apparently all the boys are too eager to get into battle. The Capps who appeared in the Barons' lineup for the first time Wednesday afternoon is Bill Capps, who Ft. Worth had strings on for a while last season.

Bill performed for Jack Hutcherson at Monahan's in 1937, playing first and third base as well as the outfield. He didn't have his eye on the ball yesterday but he looks hunky-dory and may fit into the locals' plans.

The Big Springers broke their own base stealing record in the finale against Hobbs, pilfering a total of ten bases during the fracas. Their previous high was nine, accomplished against Lubbock on the last road trip.

The Barons have probably stolen more sacks than all other teams in the league put together.

League President Milton Price paid the local park a visit yesterday

LONE STARS GO EXTRA ROUND TO WIN OVER CLERKS, 12-9

Three Tourney Duels Played

Tommy Neel, Glenn Hancock and Lawrence Robinson advanced in first flight second round matches of the Munny spring golf tournament this week.

Neel bested O. C. Hart, 6 and 5. Robinson triumphed over Season Smith, 3 and 2; and Glenn Hancock defeated Granville Glenn, 6 and 5.

The championship semi-finals, which will find Ray McMahon opposing L. N. Millon and Frank Morgan meeting Charley Watson, will be played later in the week.

afternoon but left for Wink when the sandstorm began to peek over the southwestern hills.

It was his first look-see at a Barons game this season. He made a jaunt around the other side of the hub several weeks ago, visiting Lubbock, Clovis and Hobbs.

Too Much Ground

This is a tale about a radio announcer so you know what to expect. Clarence Garnes, who handles the sports broadcasts of KBST, is as good a baseball fan as one will find anywhere and he's as rabid a supporter of the Barons as the baby.

He really takes his baseball seriously so when Lubbock was threatening seriously in the Monday game he naturally was doing his bit in verbal support.

One of his favorite players is Douglass Harkey, center fielder. Along about the eighth frame one Lubbock slugger stroled to the plate, found one of Clarence Trantham's offerings to his likings and hooked into it. Garnes' eyes followed the ball and he began to yell, "All right, Doug! All right, Doug! Take it!"

His eyes swept down to watch Harkey and a look of anguish was written all over his face. "Where the devil is Harkey," he screamed as the ball continued to descend. Doug was standing with his hands on his hips in deep center field, apparently making no attempt to grab the ball. He had little opportunity. Rightfielder Rat Ramey was taking the pop just inside the right field four line.

Are Beaten In Slugfest By Hobbs, 15-13

Stasey Due To Throw In First Game With Spudders

A two hour, thirty minute battle in which the outlook changed almost as much as the weather swung the wrong way Wednesday afternoon at Baron park and the Hobbs Boosters made off with the decision, 15-13.

The high scoring duel was played through a dust storm and intermittent showers and played havoc with both the Big Springers' and the invaders' defense.

The Boosters had apparently sewed up the decision in the first two innings when they raked Frankie Jacot for a total of eight runs but the Barons succeeded in chasing two Hobbs pitchers from the rubber and taking the lead at one stage before finally calling it quits.

Uses Four Pitchers Manager Charles Barnabe used four twirlers in an effort to apply the brakes to the visitors' scoring machine. Marvin Keller succeeded Ragland, m. worked three innings before giving way to Clarence Trantham who did not have his usual ball magic. Hank Henderson finished.

Paced by George Donaldson, the league's leading hitter, the Rabemen collected a total of 14 assorted blows off the Big Spring quartet. Donaldson left with three of those, including two doubles and a single. He gained first base in each of his six trips to the plate.

Marshall Scott, Hobbs' starting pitcher, was having his troubles, too, and went showerward in the fourth after giving up five runs. The Barons were never completely stopped but Johnny Hogan, who had taken the place of C. Needham, Scott's successor, received credit for the victory.

Threatening The Barnabemen kept plugging away after the enemy uprising in the first two innings, making single runs in each of the first two innings, doubled up in the third to close in on the Boosters, then swept into the lead with six runs in the fourth.

Hobbs deadlocked the count in the fifth when Pepper tallied and took the lead in the sixth when Smyly and Davis dented the dish. A two run single by Allen Berndt, Baron catcher, put the two teams all square again in the sixth but the Boosters went out in the seventh to untie it for once and for all. Trantham did not have control, hitting one batter and walking another with the bases full.

The locals had an excellent chance in their part of the eighth frame when Pat Stasey went in to hit for Trantham with the bases loaded but Loken took his ground ball and turned it into a double play.

The Barons continued to shine on the base paths, however, embarrassing the Hobbs catcher, Pepper, with ten steals during the afternoon. Every man in the lineup except the pitchers took part in the thieving.

Pat Stasey was slated to work the mound for the locals in the opener against Wink today. Johnny Soden will probably close out the home stay Friday.

JIM CORBETT, THE DANCING MASTER, BATTERED SULLIVAN FOR CROWN

By DILLON GRAHAM AP Feature Service Writer A trim San Francisco bank clerk, attacking with rapier and hammer, altered the course of boxing one September day in 1892 as he dethroned the rough-and-tumble champion, John L. Sullivan, and lifted the game out of the saloon.

A despised challenger, sneeringly called a dancing master, James J. Corbett started the boxing world by outclassing the aging, disipated Boston Strong Boy. He stood off the old lion's rushes with sharp left jabs and and wore him down until Sullivan collapsed in the 21st round at New Orleans.

Sullivan's drinking and carousing during his 10 years as heavyweight ruler finally took its toll. Sullivan was hog fat and slow as a cart horse. He weighed 230 pounds. He wouldn't train seriously for Corbett. "One wallop is enough. The first time I hit this young guy on the head he'll go down like all the others," Sullivan said.

Sullivan Aided Him But Gentleman Jim brought science in on his side and demonstrated that brain is greater than brawn.

Corbett rushed at Sullivan and was upon John L. like a flash, raining on him a shower of lefts and rights," said a ringside description of the fatal 21st round.

Under the panther-like assaults of Corbett the old lion was backed to the ropes. Then Jim curled up a nicely-timed right smash to the jaw. The mighty John L. pitched forward on his face, John came up. He led with a weak left. John sparred for Jim but Jim jabbed him as he pleased.

Fiercely Corbett fought the almost helpless champion to the ropes and banged him with right and left at will.

"Sully fell three times. He tried to get up, and fell supinely back again, clearly knocked out. The time was one hour and 23 minutes." This was the first Marquis of Queensbury fight—the first of the gloved-fist era of today.

After Corbett had disposed of Charley Mitchell, the British challenger, in three rounds in 1896, he fought freckled, spindle-legged Bob Fitzsimmons at Carson, Nev., March 17, 1897.

It was a vicious battle. From the ninth on, Fitz got better. In the 14th he caught Corbett with a left-hander just below the juncture of the ribs in the chest. Jim went down, his face puckered with pain and breath knocked from his lungs.

Although he claimed foul, he was counted out after the first recorded solar plexus punch in ring history.

MANILA, June 9 (UP)—Natives knelt in the streets of Guinobatan today and prayed that the earth-shaking shower of stones and ash might cease pouring from Mayon volcano.

The postmaster of Legaspi reported the fiery mountain spewed incandescent rock with greater intensity than at any time during the seven-day eruption, shortly before noon today.

Showers of ashes fell upon villages and plantations beyond the base of the crater, and fear was expressed that the crops on hemp and coconut plantations might be destroyed by ashes which were carried by the wind over four provinces of southeastern Luzon island.

One in every six automobiles on United States farms is 10 years old or over, according to a government survey in selected counties of 40 states.

Guldahl Rated Second Choice At Denver

All Top-Flighters Having Trouble On Weir Course

DENVER, June 9 (UP)—Over picturesque Cherry Hills, the mile high course where accuracy is the double watchword, the country's foremost shotmakers sharpened their weapons today for the first round of the 72-hole National Open golf championship.

As the field of great and near great teed off in what shaped up as the most unpredictable title chase since Bobby Jones retired in 1930, the role of favorite was filled by Sammy Snead, long hitting West Virginian and sensation of the 1932 divot battles.

Defending Champion Ralph Guldahl was second choice. In practice sessions the husky former St. Louis automobile salesman, who set a National Open record of 281 last year, explored the rough frequently.

Snead's pre-tournament workouts, too, were not overly impressive although his three-under par 68 was the best round of the trials. A few days later he soared to a 78.

Substantial backing also was found for such seasoned campaigners as Henry Picard, Paul Runyan, Horton Smith, Texan Dick Metz, Harry Cooper, Vic Ghezzi, Bobb Crickshank, Jimmy Thompson, Byron Nelson and Tony Manero, title winner in 1936.

Jimmy Hines of New York and Harold McSpaden of Boston, carding final practice rounds of 69, injected themselves into the thick of the speculation. Johnny Revolta of Chicago, despite the handicap of a gashed finger, was well liked in some quarters.

Many an observer suggested the name of the only two-time winner on the ground, stocky Gene Sarazen. Champion in 1922 and again ten years later, Sarazen appears to be definitely "on" his game.

READ MEETS L. M'MILLAN

Ellis Read, J. C. Wallace, Alton Bostick and Johnny Owens left this afternoon with Ray Simmons for Abilene where they will appear in several exhibition amateur fights tonight.

Read will probably oppose Lou McMillan, state Golden Gloves heavyweight champion, while Owens is pitted against Kenneth Terry, flashy Abilene featherweight.

Red Womack, local milt slinger who was injured in a fight with Noah Valdez in San Angelo last week, made the trip but will not get into action.

Limping Chisox Rise Up To Swat Forces Of McCarthy

By SID FEDER Associated Press Sports Writer Somewhere in that valhalla reserved for baseball's departed great, the old man looked down today and had a hearty chuckle over the doings of the New York Giants in general and King Carl Hubbell and Master Melvin Ott in particular.

He's been gone six years now, but he found things just about the same. McGraw's boys are there when the chips are down.

The old man, of course, was John McGraw. There was only one. McGraw, you know, used to run the Giants, before Terrible Bill Terry's regime.

Yesterday the Giants were riding a losing run, with everything going wrong. They had dropped six out of seven on their western swing, came to Chicago for their "crosstalk" series with the Cubs, and lost the first clash there Tuesday, sinking a game and a half out of the league lead.

Double Win So it was up to McGraw's boys yesterday—and the result was a doubleheader victory for Terry's Terriers, which boosted them right back to the top. In the opener, Master Melvin exploded his 12th homer of the season in the 10th inning to break up the game for a 4-3 Giant win. Then King Carl went out in the nightcap and took care of the rest of the job. Only five Cubs passed second base, and six fanned as

OBJECT LESSON FOR NEW DEAL

The commentators and long-distance observers are evolving all sorts of interpretations on the result of this week's primaries in Iowa, where in the democratic poll, a candidate who had endorsement of New Dealers was defeated by one who had opposed Mr. Roosevelt's court packing program.

They are saying, principally, that Otha Wearin's defeat by Guy Gillette is a distinct and definite sign at federal interference in state contests. And certainly this must be considered a correct view.

In either case, the Roosevelt administration would do well to study the situation with a view of changing course. Administration strategists, if they expect to win in democratic primaries before that time—will have to set about eliminating some of the bright young men who are thinking up panaceas which, rather than "reform" the country, get it into a deeper muddle.

WPA Administrator Hopkins ledeily proclaimed that no WPA worker should engage in politics. This turned around and publicly endorsed Wearin. Son James Roosevelt had his say in the Iowa primary. The corn states voters told Hopkins and Young Roosevelt where to get off, as the saying goes. It was not that Iowa voters opposed wholly the Roosevelt administration policies, because on many issues Gillette himself has gone along with the president. It was that Iowa voters resented unwarranted meddling in their own political affairs, and expressed that resentment in emphatic fashion.

The New Dealers would do well to consider future political maneuvering in the light of the Iowa results.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

WASHINGTON—Those erudite-minded little gels in the forefront of the Japanese silk boycott are rarely heard from in these parts lately, although New York can still get hot and bothered about it all.

A New York hotel with a night spot called the Japanese Room was careful in a recent magazine write-up to have it emphasized that there was not much else Japanese about the place except the name—no Japanese food or fiddlers to annoy the hile-stock-trading. Besides the name, it still has a dash of Japanese decoration (the magazine called it decor, but to blazes with that). Otherwise it is impartial toward the Orient.

A person would think that Washington, right near the core of conflict between Japanese and Chinese interests in this country, would hear more of it—but not so. Perhaps it is Washington's innate diplomacy, gained from neighboring with foreign problems in these trying years.

Only recently one of New York's hile-stock-ladies dipped into Washington to report on the progress of affairs in the big city. Quite obviously she wore hile stockings. In our ceaseless quest of knowledge we asked her if she had adopted cotton under-effects as well, shunning silk.

"Oh, no," she said in an off-hand manner, "I have enough silk underwear to last me until it's over."

And that, we thought, was the proper eye-to-eye way of facing the thing.

Miss Meade Makes It

Miss Anna Meade of Washington has found there is more than one way to get to the Orient. A year ago she set out for adventure in China, only to be turned back by the war. After a few weeks at home she met Holdsworth Minnigerode of the U. S. foreign service on duty in Washington. Later he was transferred by the state department to Singapore, site of the newly expanded British naval base.

Miss Meade will leave in July for Singapore to be married to Minnigerode.

If Bombs Don't Get You...

Farmingdale, Long Island, is a lucky city. On a recent date the army air corps, in a simulated attack, "bombed" the city mercilessly. Nobody was hurt.

From our own library of useless information: More than a few congressmen are making quickie trips to centers of interest in these eastern and southern states—thinking perhaps they may not have another chance after next November.

Institution To Aid Lepers

Doctors Hope To Develop Cure With New Facilities.

CARVILLE, La., June 9 (UP)—Lepers, shunned since the days of the Chaldeans, will have a $5,000,000 home erected here shortly for their segregation and possible cure. Doctors at the present U. S. Marine hospital hope, with improved facilities, that some cure can be found for one of the scourges of mankind.

"If leprosy can be checked under irregular attention, how much relief can be done under intelligent, systematic, daily care," they wonder. In Louisiana, the major battles against the mysterious disease have been fought since the days of the Spanish occupation when Governor Ulloa, in 1765, established the first leper colony, or leper quarantine colony, at Balize, about 30 miles below New Orleans.

Man About Manhattan

by GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Perhaps it was because of the contented look on the faces of their customers... Or maybe they were making so much money they were compelled to look about for new responsibilities... Nevertheless, such a wave of domesticity has swept over La. Conga that now nobody, least of all themselves, knows where it will end.

There were the three owners, Bobby Martyn, Oscar Roche and Miguel Roldan. There was Gloria Font, the little cigarette girl. And there was Dorothy Ross, the president and wife of a New York newspaperman.

So La. Conga opened, became a major stop along the carriage trade route, and then things began to happen, in this order: 1. Weary of bachelorhood Bobby Martyn took himself a wife. 2. Then the second associate, Oscar Roche, walked in one night and announced, beaming, that the fence wasn't the only thing running around his house. He had a fine young son.

Shortly thereafter Mrs. Ross became the mother of a son, too. 4. Meanwhile, only Miguel Roldan remained a bachelor among the three associates. So he convinced Gloria Font, the little cigarette girl, that single status wasn't so good after all. Down to the city hall for a license went they, then to a magistrate's chambers, where they married.

Verily, La. Conga, which epitomizes sophisticated after dark entertainment in New York, is knee-deep in rice and rattles.

Cab driver 1242 says: "Sure, business is good, but like anything else, you gotta know how to get it... No excuse for a man not making a good living, driving a hack... But you gotta have savvy... You gotta know when to cruise and when not to cruise... You gotta know for a fact a man wants a hack, and then you slow down for him... How do I know?... Don't ask me... But that's what I call having savvy... I can always tell when a man is about to make up his mind to get in a hack... With folks tipping short, I like the long hauls... From Times Square to the Bronx... From Washington Square to the Yankee stadium... It's them long hauls that pay the freight... But I hates them Brooklyn tricks... Man, I hates going to Brooklyn... Dumno why it is, but I never been there in miffs without getting plumb lost."

Kicking around: Kay Kyser, the Rocky Mount, N. C. boy, comes back to town, to the Pennsylvania... It's the first time I've seen him since Valley Dale, at Columbus, seven years ago, but he looks the same... I don't suppose he will ever change; same warm grin, same infectious good nature, same old Kay... He is smarter now, and more successful, but it hasn't changed his ways or his manner... Kyser doesn't weigh a pound more than he did when he was kicking around the campus of the U. of N. C.

Sights And Sounds by ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Every day or so there comes to this desk an elegantly engraved invitation: "You and your guest are invited to a Press Preview of... at... Theater," etc.

Scarcely a day passes that the same invitation for some other press preview does not come by telephone. The "press preview" is a Hollywood institution, and a strange one.

The idea behind it is this: The studio has a picture ready for the public. The studios would like the correspondents of Hollywood to see it and tell the public about it—especially if it's a good picture. If it's too bad a picture, they skip the preview. If it's fair to middling, they hope for the best. (Which goes for the previewers too.)

Different studios handle "press previews" different ways. Most of them have lights outside the theater, all of them attract hordes of autograph-hunters and sightseers. The press—and remember this is a "press preview" we're talking about—gets inside by bucking the line and battling its way through the ranks of glamour-on-the-hoof.

Location Troubles. Now we're in the theater. We find all the choice seats (reserved by the studio for the press) roped off. But then the fun begins. Ushers, with orders from above, take us in tow. "No, you can't sit there."

Well, we're peaceful folk, so these other seats will do. "No, you can't sit there—here are your seats." We are getting irritated. We have come early especially to get seats far in the rear and center for the sake of much abused eyes. We don't propose to sit off to the side, where the actors look like horses, or down front, where the actors look like giants swimming in our tears. So we go to bat, we call in the management, and we get seats from which we suffer only the pains inflicted by that particular film.

If not, then like Garbo, we tank to go home. But we haven't had time to admit it; not our powers of persuasion, our personal charm, or force in intimidating managers. It is CIRCULATION. The studios want us to see their picture—even if they have to give us good seats.

At some of the previews your correspondent is usually embarrassed by being treated as a Sacred Cow. A Sacred Cow is one whose appearance in the theater lobby is greeted by two upraised fingers. As Rob Wagner put it once, you are a one-finger critic or a two-finger critic. According to the number of fingers raised at your approach, in signal to the usher, you are seated. To be a Sacred Cow you must, first, have large circulation either by newspaper, magazine, or air waves. You should, preferably, appear in a Los Angeles, Chicago, or New York newspaper. The advantage in being an R. C. is simply that you get a fair impression in the picture, an advantage withheld from many shrewder, far better critics.

Big Name Press. For whom, then are these choice seats reserved at our Press Previews? For such able, conscientious, widely-read reporters as I mention only a few noted in recent years—Constance Bennett, Marlene Dietrich, the Countess di Frasso (who isn't even in pictures except socially), Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Robert Mamoulian, Michael Mitchell Curtis and Bea Meredyth, none of them connected in any way with the picture being previewed, except by invitation of the producer who is showing his latest work to the Press.

When your correspondent becomes Dictator of Previews, he will have the things shown to the producers glamorous friends one evening, and to the legitimate press on another—with the seats on a first-come, first-served basis.

Betty Jameson Should Trim Mrs. Goldthwaite In Match At Tulsa

OAKHURST COUNTRY CLUB, Tulsa, Okla., June 9 (UP)—Is there anybody who wants to be a plugged nickel that Champion Betty Jameson and doughty Patty Berg won't meet again, come Saturday, in the title match of the Women's Trans-Mississippi?

To be sure, there are four third-round matches to go today and the semi-finals Friday, but the more you think about it the more it looks as if Betty will come a-winning out of the upper bracket and Patty out of the lower.

Today Miss Jameson's opponent of the afternoon is Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Fort Worth, twice a Curtis cupper and a great player. Mrs. Goldthwaite has not had much competition thus far and the consensus of the galleries gives Betty the nod.

Miss Berg goes up against Mrs. Lillian Zech of Chicago, district champion up there. While a steady player and worthy of Betty's best, Mrs. Zech has not shown the brand of golf that can beat the Minnesota red-head.

The other two matches put the perennially good Mrs. Opal S. Hill of Kansas City up against Miss Sarah Guth, St. Louis city champion, and Mrs. Pat Newbury of Wichita against Mrs. E. R. Murry of San Antonio.

Mrs. Hill showed she's a power by reaching with yesterday when she was two down at the turn to Mrs. Johnny Farness of Dallas but came back strong to win the match of the best shot, Mrs. Farness.

Octagon House

BY PHOEBE ATWOOD TAYLOR

Chapter 25 UPSET AND DOWNCAST

The bells of Quannomet's three churches were pealing out their summonses the next morning as Assey and Pam emerged from Aaron Frey's bedroom and slowly descended the stairs. The instant the bells stopped, Aaron's clocks burst into their trade—

Peggy Bonna, who had been waiting with Mrs. Carr in the circular hallway, covered her ears with her hands. "I hope Aaron's better," she had to yell to make herself heard above the din, "and—golly, I've got to get out! Those clocks!"

"Door girl," Mrs. Carr said sympathetically as Peggy rushed away. "The clocks nearly drove her crazy last night. They bothered me at first, but I'm used to 'em. She says she woke up on the hour every hour, and just as she got to sleep the half hour rolled around. She looks exhausted."

"The cumulative effect is shattering," Pam said. "I hate clocks myself. So does Peg. But Father enjoys—"

"How is he? What can I do, Pam? If only I'd known about him last night, and could have helped—"

"I'll never forgive Tim for letting me think all the to-do was over those troops! Can't I just read him the Sunday papers, or something? Is he well enough?"

"You might take him up the funny parts," Pam told her. "But should he laugh?" Mrs. Carr demanded. "Won't it be bad for him to laugh?"

"He won't laugh!" Pam told her with finality. "Don't you worry, he won't laugh! He not only can't laugh, but he doesn't want to. He wouldn't laugh if he were in the best of health, the pinkest of the pink."

Pam followed Assey into the study and threw herself wearily on the couch. "In all honesty," she said, "can you find any small vestige of all-weather lining, Assey?"

"W-e-l," Assey said, "Aaron's jaw is broken, an' that tooth can't be replaced, an' his ankle'll be all right in a few days. An' when you consider what happened to Marina, it's nice to know nothin' worse happened to him."

"I didn't mean about Father—I know it's a holy wonder he's here. I'm thinking about the ambergis. Oh, Assey, that ambergis! I wasn't going to tell Father until he felt better, but the minute his eyes opened after Cummings' pills wore off, he raised himself up and peered out of the window and saw the ruins of the barn. And then of course I had to tell. I wish the place had been insured. Somehow it would have consoled me just to get $50 out of the mess. I'd settle for ten, cash—Assey, why do you look so enigmatic?"

"Didn't know that I was," Assey returned. "I'm just sort of 'wax-tin' an' jugglin' things over in my head, an' I ain't responsible for what it does to my facial expressions."

Goose Burns Goose. "What is there to wrestle about?" Pam asked. "The ambergis is gone. There you are. That's that. I suppose I should be a brave girl and stick out by chin and say I don't care, better luck next time, it's courage to face facts—are't there lots of worthy sentiments for misfortune and defeat? And all I could think of when I found the ambergis—was it only the day before yesterday? It seems like 50 years. Anyway, all I could think of when I found it was 'Goose! Now I can prattle about counting chickens before they're hatched, and fools' paradises, and—oh, damn! Assey! Damn, damn, damn, damn! I dunno," Assey said. "I don't think it's as bad as all that."

"Oh, I still have my health!" Pam rejoined. "I'm just a few days, and I still have my health. Good old health! Think of all the poor Spaniards and the poor Chinese and the unemployed and the distressed areas—sure. We still have our health, and we still have untold thousands for a roof tree. Untold thousands would consider us heavily endowed. Overendowed with fortune. Dear me, yes!"

Assey grinned at her. "Stop bein' so sorry for yourself," he said, "an' pause an' reflect. Why was the barn burned down?"

"For all I know," Pam said, "someone wanted to toast a marshmallow."

"The barn got burned," Assey said, "because someone wanted me—or anyone at Octagon House who might know about the ambergis—they wanted us to rush to it and save it from possible flames, thus pointin' it out, so that the someone could get a line on its location."

"Werent they fooled?" Pam said bitterly. "What's the old adage about the goose and the golden eggs? It'd make a nice headline. Goose burns goose."

to make sure he wasn't burnin' up the ambergis in the process.

"But if that's so—no, it won't work out, Assey. Father found it in the coal bin when he went down for coal for the kitchen stove Friday night. The cops were all over the place—whose car is that outside? The cops? And, by the way, if it is, what's Hanson's attitude toward me?"

"He's too upset about them two misin' troopers of his to have attitudes," Assey said. "Don't worry about him. That's the doc's car, I'd know the sound of that coffee grinder anywhere. I'll bring him in."

"Bell On The Jaw!" Cummings strode into the study and dumped his inevitable black bag down on the table.

"The recuperative powers of this village," he announced, "are amazing, simply amazing. The litter's cleaned up, the carnival atmosphere's gone, and Quannomet's going to be church as sedately as if things had happened in two other towns entirely. If I hadn't seen that riot yesterday with my own eyes, I wouldn't believe it took place. How's Aaron, pretty unhappy?"

"His jaw looks better," Pam said, "and the swelling on his ankle has gone down. I think most of his present suffering is mental. He's seen the barn."

"He had to know sooner or later," Cummings said. "But I'd imagine it would add to his suffering. He thought he was doing such a big thing, to put the ambergis in the barn for you—oh, Assey. We didn't need to use the sea serpent—"

"The what?" Pam demanded. "What sea serpent?" Cummings explained, "for distracting public interest. We didn't need it. One of the Barn Players punched another player's attractions die down. You should see Nettie Hobbs, speaking of attractions. Piously going to church, dripping black creps from every pore."

"All set, no doubt," Pam commented, "to pray for my soul. I know that crepe. It's a part of her Good Woman act, and she's worn it to every funeral since I can remember."

"Well, she had her picture taken with the minister on the steps," Cummings said, "and then dropping a dime into the foreign mission box. I hear it's the first time she ever dropped in anything—Assey really badly broken up over the ambergis?"

"Pam nodded. "He's utterly downcast about it, and he knows I am, too. And even if I could pack my voice with conviction and tell him not to worry, it doesn't matter, he'd still be downcast. And every time he looks toward the window, his eyes get all watery—"

"Were the X-rays all right?" Assey asked.

"Yes. I drove over again just now. Nothing's broken, though I think I don't know why not. I'm sure it was that tooth that messed things up so, and added such a gory touch—have you found out what that actually happened to him?"

"We've piced most of it together," Assey said. "When he walked out back in the woods with Tim Carr and his grandmother, he thought he saw someone lurking in the bushes. He slipped off without sayin' anything an' tried to investigate the matter on his own. He thought he saw someone sneak into Jack Lorne's house—didn't have on his long distance glasses, so he couldn't be sure, but he followed anyway. He went in, an' someone was waitin' for him by the door, an' give him that belt on the jaw. He didn't see the person, it all happened too quick. In fact, he went head over heels down the cellar steps that lead off the entry. That accounts for his ankle, an' the general abrasions an' contusions he's got."

Director Withdraws
BOSTON, June 9 (AP)—William J. Bingham, Harvard athletic director, has withdrawn from the 1940 Olympic games in protest against the games being held in Japan. Bingham, chairman of the 1936 U. S. Olympic track and field team at Berlin, announced his action last night at a Y.M.C.A. sports dinner. "How can we ask the American people in 1940 to support a team going to a country standing for what Japan represents today?" he said.

Obie Bristow In Meet At Ft. Worth

Opposes Thompson; Martin Low Among Qualifiers
FORT WORTH, June 9 (AP)—Iverson Martin of Fort Worth, who trimmed par by two strokes to take medal honors, squared off today against Hickman Greene, a fellow townman, in the opening round of match play in the annual River-Crest Country club golf tournament.
Martin toured the course in 71 and was the only entry to better or even equal par figures. Greene shot an 80.
Billy Bob Coffey and Derald Lehman, also of Fort Worth, shot 75a. Coffey met Raymond Thomason of Dallas, who had an 82, and Lehman played Homer Baker of Denton, who shot an 81, in opening matches.
Other matches included Buck Luce, Austin, 77, vs. Allen Gwynne, Fort Worth, 83; L. G. McCray, Denton, 79, vs. Wayne Middleton, Fort Worth, 82; O'Hara Watts, Dallas, 77, vs. Walter Benson, Austin, 82; B. V. Thompson, Fort Worth, 80, vs. Obie Bristow, Big Spring, 83; and Jimmy Walker, Fort Worth, 77, vs. Tom Miller, Austin, 82.

Giants

he turned in his usual classic, posting his seventh win of the year by a 4-1 margin.
This left terrible Terry's troupe in first place by half a game, with everything riding on today's series finale.
Meantime, Col. Jake Ruppert's Yankees were rudely clubbed around in both ends of a doubleheader by Jimmy Dyke's limping Chicago White Sox yesterday, and dropped into a tie for second place. Gerry Walker's homer in the ninth and single in the 13th gave the Sox the opener, 11-10, and Bill Dietrich's pitching through the first seven frames was enough for a Chicago victory in the nightcap.
Feller Losses
This double defeat gave Boston's Red Sox a chance to pull up to a second place tie, and they made the most of it. Jimmy Fox whacked a pair of homers and drove in four runs as Tom Yawkey's gold-plated outfit knocked off the Cleveland Indians, 7-6. Bobby Feller lasted less than seven innings.

TIGERS LOSE TO TYLER TROJANS

The Longview Cannibals were idle because of rain last night but gained a half game on the leading Marshall Tigers in the East Texas league race just the same.
While the Cannibals rested the Tigers fell before Tyler, 7-6, to trim the Marshall lead to three games.
Tyler beat Marshall in the 10th inning with four straight singles after McNabb had tied up the battle with a homer with the bases full in the ninth.
Jacksonville blasted Henderson, 10-0, while the Jax pitcher, Hank Davis, was limiting the Others to three hits.
Rain prevented the other teams playing.
