Area Cotton Harvest Reaches Halfway Mark

Ginners Report Near 50,000 Bales Ginned

As of Friday, most area gins reported that they were approximately half way through their ginning season. There has been about 29,000 bales already reported ginned from six gins surveyed. If ginners expectations are correct, a total of 54,000 bales should be ginned from these six reporting gins at the end of the season.

mid-January, most all of the cotton will be off the stalks.

Clauch Gin at Bula reported from 4,400 to 5,000 bales already ginned and not half through yet. They generally gin about 12,000 bales per year.

Clay's Corner Gin reports 3,300 bales ginned with many modules on the yard. They predict that they are about half way through the season, since they usually gin in the neighborhood of 6,000 bales. Mid-January should see them begin to catch up.

A total of 3,465 bales have been ginned as of Thursday at Lariat Gin. Their usual run is somewhere between 4,500 and 5,000 bales, so they are half way through the harvest.

Muleshoe Coop Gin, one of the gins not on Bailey County Electric service, reports 13,000 bales already ginned with three plants running 24 hours a day. They usually gin about 20,000 bales but expect that they could possibly gin more than that this year.

Nickels Gin, west of Baileyboro reports totals of 1,550 bales to date.

Ag Open House Slated Monday

The Muleshoe Ag Boosters will host an Agriculture open house Monday, December 14 in the High School ag department.

Booster President Bill Harmon stated, "We'd like the parents and general public to know what the Ag Boosters Organization is all about. What we do and why." He also stressed the fact that any student who takes ag or is an FFA member benefits from the Booster's support.

The Ag Boosters group was formed some five or six years ago by parents who joined together to provide needed moral and monetary support to the high school agriculture program. Over these years, many things have been accomplished by the Boosters, including a vehicle and trailer, plus needed classroom items. They've also purchased calculators for the ag students to use in the classroom.

Cooperative Refunds Capital Credit

Members of the Cooperative who were receiving service in 1961, 1962, and 1963, will be receiving Capital Credit checks for their prorated part of the net margins for those particular years.

Checks were placed in the mail during the first week of December. The total amount for the year 1961 is $34,749.20, for 1962 there is a total of $109,029.72, and the portion of 1963 being paid at this time, 14.418% of the year's allocation, is $17,899.63. This is a grand total of $161,678.55, a sizeable sum of money being placed back into the area economy... and just in time for Christmas too.

Bailey County Electric Cooperative Association is chartered under Texas State Law as a non-profit corporation. It is operated for the specific purpose of providing electric service to its members at cost. Any funds received in any one year over the cost of doing business is set aside as net margins. Since the money belongs to the member-owners of the Cooperative, they are issued Capital Credit Certificates for their prorated part. This money is forever assigned to them or members of their estate. The Board of Directors have the authority to administer these funds, and any time they feel the Cooperative is in a financial position to do so, will refund these credits in cash.

There is a policy that states this will be done on a "first-in-first-out" basis. The net margins from 1954 through 1962, and 1966, have been paid in full, plus 14.418% of 1963. If you have Capital Credit Certificates for subsequent years, be sure to keep the Cooperative informed of your current mailing address. We have many checks returned for lack of a correct mailing address.

Wind Energy Used For Pumping Water

Rural residents and agricultural producers may throw more money to the wind than they get from it with windmills and other wind machines.

In most areas, wind machines are not yet economical for pumping water if another means is available, says an agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Without electricity or an engine-powered pump, however, a windmill is the best way to pump water for home or livestock use, says engineer Wayne Keese. "But the choice between a windmill and existing electrical power for pumping water should be thoroughly analyzed," he cautions.

For comparison, select a windmill and an electric pump that can provide the necessary amount of water. "Then compare the cost of owning and operating both systems," suggest Keese, "including depreciation, interest on investment, repairs, the cost of power for the electric pump and the cost of water storage for the windmill system."

Irrigation generally requires a higher pumping rate than a multi-blade farm windmill provides. Keese notes that modern wind turbines are being tested in combination with electric pumps to provide "wind assistance" for irrigation.

Such a system reduces the load on the electric motor while providing a dependable and constant flow of water, explains Keese. However, he says the wind-assist concept does not work as well for pumps driven by internal combustion engines.

"If wind power becomes economically feasible," Keese says, "research indicates it could provide as much as 40 percent of the energy now used for irrigation. The economic feasibility depends on several variables, but it may improve as electric power costs continue rising."

Alcohol Has Effect On Stress & Occupation

Alcoholism, a destructive form of stress control and a menace to the work industry.

An estimated 10 percent of adults in the United States have a drinking problem. Twenty percent of all purchases consume 80 percent of total alcohol sold, reports Dr. Mary Ann Shirer, a health education specialist.

Consequently, alcoholism costs the job industry approximately $40 billion annually, she points out.

High costs are the result of the impact alcoholics have on co-workers, in addition to increased absenteeism and losses in productivity, she notes.

One of every four families reports that drinking interferes with homelife as well as occupation. More cases are cited in high-income families than in low-income ones, the specialist reports.

Symptoms of alcoholism usually appear in the home after four years of drinking, but don't show in the work-place for another seven years, Shirer warns.

Alcoholics drink to "tune out" self-doubt and ease challenging work pressures, which are both possible sources of stress, she explains.

In order to relieve these stress pressures, supervisors and co-workers should assume the responsibility of helping the alcoholic, the specialist urges.

Co-workers should not ignore the fact that the person has an alcohol problem or cover up for his behavior, she advises.

To prove to the individual he has a problem and needs assistance, Shirer recommends that supervisors record unacceptable habits, such as continuous absenteeism, long lunch hours and drinking on the job.

From this point, the "team approach" should be used to help terminate the problem, she urges. The team consists of supervisors, employee-assistance programs and community services.

Shirer is with the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Long Live Blue Jeans

There's new hope for old, faded jeans! When your favorite blue denims start showing signs of wear, don't toss them out. . . revitalize them with Rit Dye. Dyeing denim is quick and easy, and with jeans prices steadily on the rise, this recycling project is economically well worth your while.

For best dyeing results, make sure your jeans are 100% cotton. Also, keep in mind that extra trims and fancy stitching will be affected by the dye, giving your designer jeans a new look.

The easiest way to dye your jeans is right in the washing machine — just follow the package directions. (Use one bottle of Navy Blue No. 30 liquid dye, or 2 packages of powder dye dissolved in 2 pints of hot water for one lb. of material or one pair of jeans. Add either solution to your washer filled with hot water.)

After you've followed the dyeing instructions completely, rinse your jeans well in cool water until the water runs clear, then dry them in an automatic dryer or on a clothesline away from direct sunlight. As quickly and easily as that, your jeans become "true blue" again.

After dyeing, faded pockets, seams, knee and seat areas are inconspicuous — even those faded hemlines in lengthened jeans become less noticeable. But don't stop there, you can renew your faded denim jackets, skirts, vests and accessories by using the same simple technique.

Now that your jeans look good as new, make them look even better than new with imaginative additions for the summer season. Stitch on nighttime dazzle with sparkling sequins and shiny braid to change ordinary jeans from plain to fun and fancy. You can also add blue fringe to jean side seams for a Western look or monogram denim jackets for a preppy look. Denim is a versatile wardrobe stretcher, and one important key to stretching your clothing dollar is to keep your old jeans looking great for many fashion seasons to come.

Send for additional information on recycling and decorating with dye by writing to: Rit Dyeing Literature, RIT/1DH2, P. O. Box 307, Coventry, CT 06238.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Miss Powell, Nichols

Cynthia R. Powell and Jimmy Eugene Nichols were united in marriage during a double ring ceremony performed Saturday, November 28, at 7:00 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Sudan.

Performing the service was Rev. Truman Johnson, pastor of the church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Powell of Sudan and Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Nichols of Littlefield.

Vows were exchanged before a four tiered candelabra decorated with blue gladiolus and blue and navy carnations entwined with greenery around blue candles. Flanking the center candelabra were two heart shaped candelabras and two round tiered ones with blue candles entwined with blue carnations and greenery.

Candlelighters were Sherri and Kathy Powell, sisters of the bride. They wore light blue formal gowns and wore light blue and navy wrist corsages and matching flowers in their hair.

Wedding selections were provided by Georgeann Rasco, organist and Missy Fisher, pianist with Mike Fisher and Tatia Newsom singing "Endless Love", "The Rose", "Annie's Song" and "If".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a formal length white organza gown lavished with ruffles. The scalloped neckline and long sleeves were of Alecon lace dotted with seed pearls. The chapel length train cascaded with ruffles. She wore a mantilla veil of lace and carried a cascading bridal bouquet of blue silk carnations, roses and daisies and baby breath.

For something old, the bride carried a handkerchief belonging to her grandmother, something new was her dress, and something borrowed was a Bible from Tanya Crawford. Something blue was her garter and in her shoes she wore pennies minted in the year of their births.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Kim Powell, sister of the bride and bridesmaids were Carol Williams of Aurora, Colo. and Karen Fuller of Estelline. They were dressed in light blue formal gowns trimmed with white lace. They carried light blue and navy silk flower bouquets and wore silk flowers in their hair.

Kenny Eady of Big Spring served as best man and groomsmen were Gary Dempsey of Seminole and cousin of the groom and Buster Kittrell of Amherst. They wore navy blue tuxedos. The groom was attired in a light blue tuxedo.

Ushers were Terry Burton of Muleshoe and cousin of the bride and Clay Robinson of Booker and they were also attired in navy tuxedos.

The flower girl, Amie Beckett of Midland and cousin of the bride wore a long gown made of the same material as that of the other attendants.

Shannon Fisher of Sudan served a ring bearer and wore a light blue tux like that of the groom.

The mother of the bride chose a formal length almond pink dress double knit accented with an organza cape. Her corsage was a pink silk orchid.

The grooms mother was dressed in a navy suit with a light blue silk orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was laid with a ruffled organza cloth topped with a lace cloth tied with blue ribbons. This was centered with a silver candelabra with blue candles entwined with fresh blue carnations.

The bridal cake was three tiered heart shaped white trimmed with blue and white icing and topped with white satin bells and doves and blue ribbons.

Pineapple punch was served along with blue mints and mixed nuts.

Serving at the table were Laura Powell of Sudan and cousin of the bride; Tanya Crawford of Muleshoe, Brenda Boone of Lubbock and Pam Kent of Sudan.

Several of his paintings may be seen this month at the Muleshoe Public Library.

Using Interfacing In Sewing

Why use interfacing in homesewing?

First, interfacing is a separate supporting layer of fabric—it's placed on the inside of the garment's fabric, explains Nancy Brown a clothing specialist.

Use interfacing when you want a professional-looking garment, because it adds support, shape and body. It also gives clothing longer wearability, she says.

Brown is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

Muleshoe Native Named Western Data Manager

Muleshoe native Mike Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Jones of 221 Cedar, Muleshoe, has been named manager of the new Western Data Centers, Inc. remote center in Perryton.

Jones had been a Western Data employee since 1979. He started in the Amarillo office as a control clerk and was transferred in 1980 to the firm's Lubbock center where he was an operator. He moved to Perryton Nov. 1 to begin setting up the new center.

Jones is a graduate of West Texas State University with a degree in journalism.

Western Data is a subsidiary of First National Bank of Amarillo. The new remote center in Perryton will handle data processing for banks in the Perryton-Booker area.

The center was opened to provide additional convenience for Western Data's current bank customers located in the northeast Panhandle area. These customers were previously handled through the Amarillo office.

Western Data's main offices are located in Amarillo, and other remote centers are in Lubbock, Quanah, and Lamar, Colo.

Jones will have two employees to handle evening and night shifts at the center.

Western Data President Bill Henderson is also a Muleshoe native.

zer. Whether a producer is doing his fall or winter tillage or is making preparations to plant in the spring, fluid blends can do the job, Foster said.

Fluid blends are suspension fertilizers that combine the best of both dry and liquid ingredients. Foster Fertilizer offers these blends, custom mixed, to serve the farmer's individual needs.

An old story to West Texas farmers is the shortage of qualified labor and the high costs of application equipment. "Fluid blend fertilizers take care of this problem, since they are nearly all custom applied by carefully trained operators," said Foster.

Liquids are applied using positive action pumps that deliver carefully calculated pressure to ensure a uniform coverage; thus, making the best use of the producer's time and money, as well as leaving the farmer with a sense of a job well done.

The numbers they play are "No Room", "Sleep Holy Child", "The Birthday of the King", and "In a Manager".

Director Carroll Rhodes stated that "of all the Christmas cantatas that I am acquainted with, 'King of Love' is one of the most beautiful musically and correct scripturally. This is not just another performance of the Christmas story but truly a worship experience. I sincerely believe that God has a blessing awaiting each of us, so come and partake of this experience of worship and praise."

date. Their usual total runs from 4 to 5,000 bales, so they are just getting started in their ginning season.

Most all the gins reporting indicated that the grades of cotton coming back from the Classing Office were not too bad, the "juke" or micronaire however, is not good. Most farmers seem to be getting about the expected quality of cotton. Turn outs as a general rule are low this year. Most of the troubles affecting the cotton crop can be attributed to the weather and the insects. One ginner stated that the cotton prices had been steadily going down for the past three weeks. Cotton that would have sold at a premium last year at this time is drawing 40 to 42 cents per pound this year and many farmers will be hard put to repay loans or even interest in some cases this year.

Farmers Need Bill Of Rights

"The economic crisis" in rural America is growing worse each day, yet the Reagan Administration is only aggravating the problems through their domestic policy," charged Mike Moeller, President of the Texas Farmers Union. Moeller spoke following a two-day session of the Board of Directors and county presidents of the Texas Farmers Union in Abilene last week which called on the Congress to adopt a Farmers Bill of Rights.

"The House-Senate Conference Committee on the 1981 Farm Bill is under severe pressure from the Reagan Administration to weaken farm programs which have been the historic base of the high productivity of American agriculture. Unfortunately, the committee appears to be yielding towards setting low price supports which will make the 1981 Farm Bill the worst farm bill in history," Moeller stated.

Even if the best selections of the House and Senate versions were adopted, producers will still be facing low prices on commodities. The TFU Board has urged the Congress to rush for the strongest bill, even if it would risk a presidential veto.

"With the realization that we will effectively be stuck with a Farm Bankruptcy Act next year, the TFU is calling for a Farmers Bill of Rights," Moeller declared. As a result of the action by the TFU Board and county presidents, the family farm organization will be calling on Congress to adopt legislation for producers protection.

In the Farmers Bill of Rights, the Texas Farmers Union is calling on the Congress to adopt the following:

Family farmers and ranchers should be free of

DIET CENTER
Diet facts & fallacies
These nutritional tips brought to you by DIET CENTER
As this holiday season approaches, it will bring many Christmas parties and family get-togethers. These special occasions are often accompanied by cookies, candy, alcoholic drinks and rich, calorie-laden meals. Don't fall into the trap of associating "HOLIDAY" with "EXCUSE" for overindulgence in those sweet, sugary foods.
Instead of nibbling on sweets, try this filling, low-calorie, vegetable snack.
In a large jar or container, place the following: sliced cucumbers, bite-sized cauliflower, diced green pepper, chopped celery, chopped green beans and chopped green onions. Marinate the vegetables in vinegar and seasonings overnight. Snack on these delicious vegetables liberally throughout the day. Their fibrous content will keep you full and satisfied.
This holiday season, don't let the "mirth" be replaced by "girth" when your scale registers an extra five pounds. For additional hints, consult your local Diet Center Counselor before the holiday season begins.

Cheese is a good item to have on hand for a nutritious snack, says Dr. Cass Ryan-Crowe, a food and nutrition specialist. Soft cheese keeps up to two weeks after opening—if tightly wrapped, she says. Hard cheese will keep several months. Tightly wrap it, too.

If cheese becomes too hard, grate it or shred it and use in sauces, she adds. Ryan-Crowe is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

Mulettes Win Vega Tournament

The Muleshoe Mulettes gathered three straight wins last week in the Vega Tournament. The three wins gave the Mulettes the first place trophy for the second time in three years. Last year's Mulette team missed the first place trophy but did grab second place.

The three wins began with a 54-49 overtime win over Channing. Regulation time ended with a 45-45 tie, but the Mulettes rolled off six straight points in overtime toward the five point victory. Kristi Henry led Mulette scorers with twelve points and also gathered nine rebounds. Rhonda Dunham also helped in the win with nine points, and Denise Wilson had eight points.

The second win in the tournament was over host Vega by a 38-19 score. In a low scoring battle, the Mulettes finally broke the game open in the fourth quarter by outscoring the Vega team 15-1. Balance scoring again took place for the Mulettes with Rhonda Dunham leading scorer with nine points and Sherry Ellis and Lavon Rhodes both pitching in six points each. Dunham also led rebounders with eight and was helped by Marilyn Lewis and Jill Turner with six each.

Free Enterprise/Career Day Plans Underway

The Marketing and Distributive Education and the Free Enterprise Departments of Muleshoe High School are planning a Free Enterprise/Career Day for Tuesday, January 19.

All senior students and some selected junior students will attend a Free Enterprise Workshop in the auditorium from 8:30 to 12:30 that day. Among the morning's activities will be speakers Dan Law, President of Fields and Company of Lubbock, and C.L. Kay, Executive Director of the Center for Business and Economic Education at Lubbock Christian College and a group of college students to lead our students in some special activities. It is hoped that all students who participate in the workshop will gain a new appreciation and better understanding of our free enterprise system.

All underclassmen will be involved in presentations given by selected people in different career areas who will be speaking in the classrooms. Surveys were taken earlier in the year to determine which careers were of the most interest to the students. Approximately twenty career fields will be covered with each student hearing six presentations. Senior students will join the underclassmen for career presentations in the afternoon.

Everyone is getting very excited about this special day. We would like to invite anyone who is interested including parents, business people and friends to join us on Tuesday, January 19.

In the championship game the Mulettes took a twelve point halftime lead and then stretched the lead to a 46-26 win over the Memphis girls team. Denise Wilson led scorers with fourteen points followed by Sherry Ellis with eleven, Kristi Henry with eight and Lavon Rhodes with seven. Jill and Kristi gathered six rebounds each to help in the win.

These wins jumped the Mulette record to 3-4 for the season. The players selected for the Vega Tournament team were Sherry Ellis, Kristi Henry and Lavon Rhodes.

The Mulettes played in the Friona Tournament this past weekend and scores were not known at press-time. They travel to Lockney Tuesday, and Friday they host Abernathy in the final game before the Christmas break.

Leslie Gonzales

Dear Santa,
We want to make sure that you know that there are now three Rennels boys Early Monday, November 16, 1981, at 12:19 a.m. our mother Magann Lamb Rennels lost 9 lbs. and 2 ozs. that was 22 inches long when our brother Greyson Lamb Rennels was born at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. No wonder Mother had been feeling stuffed. Neither one of us were that big. He has long black hair and a lot of it, too, plus blue eyes.

This original production on video tape starring Greyson will not be shown on Channel 6, but can be seen by written permission only of the Third Heir, and he cannot write as yet. Cameraman, among many other things, was our dad Jack Regnald Rennels. Director was Edward L. Broome, M.D., assisted by stage crew Terri Agnew and Michelle Tobias, both nurses. The miracle of this special event is that there was not a technical adjuster this time.

Greyson can be heard daily broadcasting on Channel 6 from 1011 West Third, Muleshoe, Texas, both in hard rock and easy listening.

You know Mother and her family names. She wanted this baby named for our grandmother Olabelle Lamb, but Daddy put his foot down and said, "olann does not fit on a man." So Greyson got the middle name of Lamb after the "Whole Lamb Family" Gil, Olie, and Maggie, but especially Grandmother Olabelle. Greyson comes from our great aunt Mariet Grey Lamb and cousin Ruth Grey Wyrtsbaugh Knighton.

By the way, don't tell Bob-Oh we borrowed his stationery. You do know who Bob-Oh is don't you? He's our granddad, Gil Lamb, number one public relations representative when it comes to announcing the birth of grandchildren on his "Muletrain News."

Mother and Daddy say their Christmas present has already arrived from above in "Our Three Sons." All Gilbert wants for Christmas is his two front teeth and a John Wayne doll, Payton wants a Zoom Zoom, which in your language is a fire truck like Daddy drives, and Greyson would be happy with a little toy lamb. We will leave you some cookies and milk on Christmas Eve.

Love,
Gilbert and Payton

Dear Santa,
This is what I want for Christmas. Please bring me a Houston football suit, helmet, set, team America motorcycle and a coat. I been a good little boy. I have been helping by mom and dad. This is all. I will leave you some cookies and milk on top of the table. Bring something nice for my brothers Sammy and Jerry Don. I Love you.

Always,
Larry Gene Gonzales

Get A Texas-Grown Christmas Tree This Year

For a real Christmas this year, be sure your Christmas tree is a genuine Texas product.

What could be more fitting than to find that long-ed-for western belt or pair of boots underneath a Texas-grown Christmas tree? Those gifts plus thousands of others will find their way under some 75,000 Texas-grown trees this year.

"Texas-grown Christmas trees offer a number of advantages," says Dr. Mike Walterscheid, forestry specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "They are fresher, more fragrant and usually less expensive than those shipped in from other states."

More than five million Christmas trees are sold in Texas each year, imported mainly from northern and western states. So the growth potential of the Texas Christmas tree industry looks good, notes the specialist. Growers have planted about a million seedlings each of the past several years.

While the availability of Texas-grown trees continues to increase, most shoppers will likely have to go to the larger cities in Texas or to smaller communities in eastern areas where most of them are grown, says Walterscheid.

Many Christmas tree farms operate on a "choose-and-cut" basis in which the shopper selects the tree he wants, cuts it himself and takes it home. Walterscheid says that this restores the old-fashioned idea of making the selection of a Christmas tree an outing the entire family can enjoy.

Anyone interested in a Texas-grown Christmas tree can contact their county Extension agent for a listing of tree farms, adds the specialist.

"Texas-grown trees are mainly Virginia pines which are native to the Appalachian area of the southeastern United States," explains Walterscheid. "These do best in the acid, sandy soils of East Texas. Another species, the Afghan pine, is now being grown in central and western areas of Texas where alkaline soils and drier climates prevail."

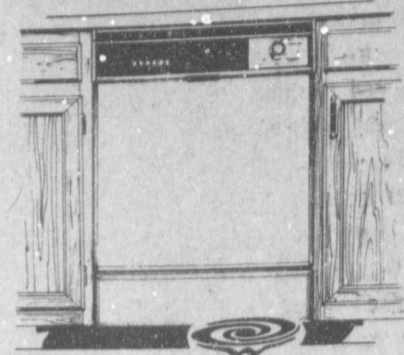

Christmas tree production has a lot of potential in Texas, but it also requires a lot of hard work, says Walterscheid. There are such regular operations as planting, weed and insect control, and twice-a-year shaping during the trees third and fourth years. If all goes well, a grower may harvest up to 1,000 trees per acre in four years.

Letters To The Editor

To the editor of "The Bailey County Journal":

Please allow me to take a few more lines to clear up the inaccurate quotation in last Thursday's (December 10th) letter to the editor. I was dismayed to think the someone not familiar with my previous letter of Sunday, November 29th might read last Thursday's letter and believe that a teacher and a professional in the Muleshoe schools would publicly call anyone an ignorant cockroach". As an English teacher striving to teach my students the importance of quoting accurately and the hazards of quoting out of context, I did not feel that I could let this injustice go by without some clarification.

Quoting from my previous letter, "It never ceases to amaze me that these people who have spent most of their lives doing nothing and caring nothing for the community can suddenly swarm out of the woodwork LIKE cockroaches when the light of progress is switched on. They are so afraid they will have to give their fair share!" I choose this simile, this rhetorical figure of speech, to express a comparison of the flurried activity of people who are never noticed in the community except at election time when their pocketbooks are threatened, to the flurried activity of cockroaches never noticed until a light is turned on. Certainly I called no one a cockroach and the adjective "ignorant" is obviously not in evidence.

Quoting again from a later paragraph in my letter of the 29th, "The only promise for any community is through its schools. How can ignorant, apathetic citizens expect any decent, self-respecting people to move here and enroll the children they love in a school system which has no support from a "majority?" (463) of its citizens?" This was the only use of the word "ignorant" in my letter and it obviously, when taken in context, meant those citizens "unacquainted" with and "unaware" of the issues at hand, i.e., the conditions in the schools and what renovations could mean in terms of progress for the community. Most assuredly "ignorant" was not used in conjunction with "cockroaches"!

Certainly my recent letter was not phrased in terms of diplomacy and tact, nor was it intended to be for I felt then and still do feel that diplomacy and tact did not accomplish anything the first time around. But I do believe it is of utmost importance for the citizens in the MISD to understand exactly what I said and not to be led astray by a chance misquotation. Every citizen is entitled to express his or her opinion, but I am concerned that mine be expressed accurately.

Pat M. Black, Teacher
Muleshoe ISD

Dear Editor,

I am a teacher at Dillman Elementary School and I was very surprised when the school bond issue did not pass. There are many people in the Muleshoe area who have not visited our school in the last few years so I would like to tell you a little about our situation. I teach in the last room on the second grade side. My room is one of the coldest in the whole building. The first room of the second grade side is one of the hottest rooms in the building. As you can see this temperature change does not do our children to much good. My job is to teach reading so I get many children from the first rooms. When they come into my room they complain of being cold. I wonder why! It is hard enough for 7 and 8 year old children to sit still and learn, as it is, but when the temperature is 60 degrees or less the children can not learn. If the bond issue had passed our room would have had its own thermostat control and a reasonable temperature could have been achieved. The old heating system does not do the job.

There are other problems with our building that could have been corrected if the bond issue had passed. For instance, an outdoor building for our children to play in when it is cold. I would ask you, have you ever been shut up in a building with over 400 children, ages 5 to 9, all day long. A child can sit only so long then he must get up and move around. The regular classroom is not big enough for the children to move about in order to get rid of some of their energy. When the children have to stay in all day they become wild. This is only natural for youngsters. I would invite you to visit our school when the children had to stay in for more than one day.

In some situations the school contributes to new families moving into our area. I'm afraid if the prospective community members checked our schools condition out they would not move into Muleshoe. The school is suppose to be the "pride" of our community, but ours isn't. The children, teachers, and administration are all here, it's just the building that needs to be corrected.

Everyone needs to be concerned about our children even if they don't have any in school. Children are the future of our community. If nothing is done to improve our schools our children, as future parents, may not want their children to attend a school so in need of repair. They will remember when they grow up. This will not increase our community, but decrease it instead. As a teacher I am concerned for our children and their future in the community. If the bond issue is brought up again I urge you to vote for it.

Lets keep our schools the pride of our community.. We want the best for Muleshoe. We don't have to settle for second best. Our schools need to be repaired for our children, the future Muleshoe.

Sincerely,
Vowery Dodd

agri-facts
Zea diploperennis? It's a wild, Mexican perennial grass which is creating excitement among plant scientists. Why? Because of its potential for improving corn hybrids and the promise of disease resistance offered by the grass. Not only that, but it also grows well in poorly drained soils and could boost hybrid vigor. The Mexican plant resembles corn and produces rhizomes which, reportedly, are capable of growing additional stalks. Research agronomists at the USDA say the plant is immune to maize chlorotic dwarf virus as well as maize streak virus. Particularly important to areas of Kansas and Nebraska, resistance to maize chlorotic mottle virus has also been demonstrated. USDA researchers believe the plant's ability to set more than one ear can help improve hybrid stress tolerance.

SURE HANDS OF THE SURGEON

A child walks... an arm is straightened... a growth is removed... these and many other things are the result of the fine work of the surgeon. This is an occupation and a labor worthy of appreciation.

A star... a new born baby... the world itself... these and many other things reveal God to us. "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handywork."

Psalm 19, 1

God has wrought a great work. Let us show our love and appreciation by worshipping him in Church

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
