The Russian is Nikolai Skvortsov, personal assistant to Constantin E. Zinchenko...

Zinchenko, who is believed here to be in hot water with the Soviet government...

The news that Skvortsov had been barred from returning broke amidst demands from U. S. officials...

Skvortsov is the second Russian worker on the U. N. Secretariat staff to be accused in a spy plot...

Answering reports that Skvortsov could not return, the U. S. delegation issued this statement:

The United States mission confirms the fact that the United States government notified the United Nations that Mr. Skvortsov had attempted espionage activities...

No details were available about the attempted espionage. U. N. officials said that Skvortsov has been taken off the U. N. rolls for administrative reasons...

Eisenhower Certain His Trip Has Paid Dividends

Proposal Is Due To Revive Atom Secrecy Rules

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP) - President-elect Eisenhower seems certain to receive early in his administration a proposal for revision of atomic secrecy bars...

The State and Defense Departments and Atomic Energy Commission are reported to have agreed at least informally that the Atomic Energy Act of 1946 should be modified to that extent at the earliest possible date...

Some responsible informants said today that it was obvious that no step along this line would be taken in the future unless Eisenhower felt that the proposal was sound and should be presented to Congress for action.

The present feeling of a number of military and civilian authorities is that, if Congress agrees, this country's NATO allies should be given information on:

- 1. The power of atomic weapons. 2. Methods of getting the weapons to a target (by air, artillery or guided missiles).

In Paris Thursday, in connection with a gathering of top military and political leaders of the Atlantic Treaty Organization...

With reference to United States secrecy restrictions—and the U. S. is the only country in the alliance able to supply such weapons—Foukes said "we don't need to know what's inside them to know what will do as a military weapon."

Informants here said the information which foreigners have about these weapons is only about what has been given out for general public consumption and is not adequate for good military planning...

Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, raised publicly in September the issue of supplying the Allies with more facts. He said a few selected top leaders, like Marshall Alphonse Pierre Juin de France, should be given certain atomic information for their guidance...

President-Elect Due Home Today

By DON WHITEHEAD EN ROUTE WITH EISENHOWER, Dec. 13 (AP) - President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower left for home today, confident his 15-day survey of Korean and Far East war problems had paid dividends...

Eisenhower and his party departed aboard an Air Force Constellation at 11:53 a.m. (4:53 p.m. EST) scheduled to bring him to New York Sunday afternoon after a single stop in California.

The general drove to the Kaneohe airbase looking fit and ruddy. Three days of golf followed his dramatic survey of the battle-front, and intensive conferences aboard the cruiser Helena between Guam and Hawaii.

Just before taking off, Eisenhower told Adm. Arthur W. Radford, Pacific Fleet commander, that "we may be sending for you again to talk over some of the things we have discussed."

Radford and a group of Cabinet designees and key advisers accompanied the general to Korea. In a brief statement to news-

IN KOREAN FIGHTING ROKs Still Holding Western Outposts

By GEORGE MCARTHUR SEUL, Sunday, Dec. 14 (AP) - Battered South Koreans clung wearily to Little Noi Hill Saturday as the bloody battle for two Western front outposts stretched into the third day of close range sea-saw combat.

Chinese Communist fire forced Republic of Korea units to pull back after surging within 15 yards of the frozen crest of nearly Big Noi Hill.

South Korean First Division troops captured the lower slope after a day of furious Allied artillery barrages, air strikes and infantry charges.

Some 3,000 Reds had grabbed the twin heights in bloody, hand-to-hand fighting Thursday. Big and Little Noi overlook the icy Imjin River 40 miles north of Seoul on the northern invasion route to that city.

Frontline officers estimated the three-day battle had cost the Reds at least 1,100 in dead, wounded or captured.

Fighting slackened late Saturday but Allied warplanes and heavy artillery continued pounding Red positions and approach routes with napalm (jelled gasoline), shells and bombs.

Activity elsewhere along the Eighth Army front was light. Four small Red probes were repulsed in the Sniper Ridge sector of the Central Front.

The rugged South Koreans stormed 10 times through thundering Red artillery in attacks on Little Noi. Savage Red fire also chopped up ROK charges on Big Noi.

Allied artillerymen outgunned the Reds, however, to exact an even greater toll of quilled-up formed Chinese on the blood-stained hills.

ROK First Division troops regained the top of Little Noi Saturday morning after a fierce, close-quarter battle on the crest. Engineers followed to string barbed wire and build log bunkers. Beaten off shortly after noon. But the Reds continued to spray the hill with artillery and mortar fire.

Meantime, a South Korean flanking attack hit the Reds on Big Noi. Allied tanks raged the Red-held peak. Supporting Allied planes pounded the Chinese with bombs and searing napalm.

But the Communists held firm. Red fire pined the Korean attackers to the frozen hill for 2 1/2 hours—just 15 yards from the crest.

Associated Press Correspondent Milo Farnett reported from the front that valiant South Korean artillery casualties included the screaming Red shells to battle the Chinese with grenades and bayonets until the ROKs were cut down. Then Allied planes and artillery continued the assault.

The Fifth Air Force reported destruction of two Communist trains in the Kumsoeng sector, 18 miles east of the Red capital of Pyongyang. No Russia-built MIG jet fighters were encountered.

ing a total of 1,292,887 for the Communists in those categories.

This sum is increased to 1,441,887 by counting another 549,000 battle casualties — including Communist troops wiped out by plagues and illness the Communists have been unable to combat.

In addition, North Korean prisoners are announced at 102,053 and Chinese Communist prisoners at 21,000, for a total of 123,053.

The U. N. total of killed and wounded is 283,579, of which the ROK total is 158,578 and the U. S. total is 114,621. The other 15 countries with fighting forces have sustained a total of 10,240 killed and wounded.

U. N. prisoner and missing lists total 80,791, of which the ROKs number 66,102, the U. S. 12,997, and the other U. N. members 1,692.

Disputes over the disposition of the prisoners deadlocked the truce talks at Panmunjon and formed the basis of the U. N. peace plan for a repatriation commission which would attempt to solve the problem without insisting on forcible return of those who did not want to go back to Communist areas after a truce.

men at the airbase Eisenhower declared: "It's time now to say goodbye to these Hawaiian islands and to the good friends I have here. My three days have been wonderful. If my golf had been better, it would have been perfect."

Adm. and Mrs. Radford, Lt. Gen. Franklin A. Hart, commander of U. S. Marine forces in the Pacific, and a small circle of friends came to see him off.

Eisenhower posed for photographers—including Mrs. Radford—with Secretary of State-designate John Foster Dulles. The general turned to call goodbye to the well-wishers, and disappeared into the plane.

The Eisenhower press plane followed six minutes later. A third Constellation carrying five Secret Service men, an extra flight crew, maintenance crew and baggage, blew a tire on the take-off and returned to Kaneohe. No one was injured. The plane was scheduled to take off again within a few hours.

In Eisenhower's plane were Dulles, Gov. Douglas McKay, secretary of interior—designate; Maj. Gen. Roger Ramey, Air Force operations chief; C. D. Jackson, editor of Fortune magazine and an adviser, and James Rowley, chief of the White House Secret Service detail.

The party winged toward the West Coast amid reports that President Truman's charges of "demagoguery" had cooled personal relations between the two to the freezing point.

A reliable source said Truman's remark apparently meant "the finish of any informal across-the-deck meetings between the two." He said "it probably would be a cold affair" if there were another meeting prior to Eisenhower's inauguration Jan. 20.

At Travis Air Force base near San Francisco, Maj. Thomas Barbour said the weather rapidly was approaching "zero ceiling" and the Eisenhower party Constellation had been diverted to Edwards Air Force Base. Edwards is on the Murco Desert flats about 65 air miles north of Los Angeles.

The estimated time of arrival of the Eisenhower's plane was not available immediately. The general is scheduled to arrive at the Marine Air Terminal

Two Jailed In Narcotic Raid

A Negro man and woman were arrested and a quantity of marijuana seized in a raid in the flats section Saturday night.

Sheriff Jake Bruton said that the quantity of the weed taken had not been measured, but he estimated it would amount to a few ounces.

In custody were Harry Dooley and Rosalie Lenford. Bruton said he would sign complaints against them for possession of marijuana.

Arrest of the two brought to 35 the number of narcotics cases filed this year. The biggest raid was in March when 15 people were arrested, 13 indicted in 24 cases. There had been a few pick-ups prior to that when U. S. narcotics agents joined with state and sheriff's department forces. A couple of cases followed but since then the traffic appeared to have died down, said Bruton. Lately, there were slims that it was being revived in some quarters.

Saturday night liquor control board and state highway officers joined with Bruton and his deputies in raiding a place in the 500 block on NW 2nd Street.

Besides the marijuana, Bruton said a quantity of brown papers were found, indicating the material was being put into cigarettes. Some of the material was found on the person of the woman, he added.

Mac And Ike Slate Meeting On Korea Issue

By RELMAN MORIN
NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (AP)—In the next few days, two of the nation's great military minds will meet to explore the details of a significant statement—
"There is a clear and definite solution to the Korean conflict."
When he uttered these words eight days ago, Gen. Douglas MacArthur set no clue to the nature of the solution. He said a public platform was not the proper place to disclose, fully, what he had in mind. However, he said enough to indicate that he has a specific plan, a formula, for one of the world's most dangerous problems.
No immediate reaction came from official quarters, despite MacArthur's towering prestige as a soldier and his acknowledged qualifications to speak about the Far East. Washington was silent. And if the chancelleries of the world took notice, they gave no sign of it.
Then, in the South Pacific, the radio crackled on the cruiser Helena.
Another general, President-elect Eisenhower, returning from a fact-finding trip to Korea, messaged MacArthur that he would like to hear the details of the plan. A few days later, having received MacArthur's acceptance, the word came from the Helens that the two men will meet in New York soon after Eisenhower gets here.
Observers noted two points.
MacArthur's message was couched in unusually cordial terms. He addressed his former aide as "Ike" and said he wished him well, "as always." The reported estrangement between the two men appeared to be at an end, clearing the way for Eisenhower to call on MacArthur for advice and counsel whenever he wants it.
And in this exchange, the two generals completely bypassed Harry Truman, the President of the United States.

Donor Certificates Are Waiting At Red Cross Headquarters

Red Cross blood donor certificates are waiting at the local Red Cross office, Fourth and Scurry, Mrs. Moore Sawtelle, executive secretary, reported Saturday.
The certificates were mailed to the blood donors, but were returned to Red Cross headquarters because of improper addresses.
Mrs. Sawtelle said the cards are available to Lynda H. Stroud, Janice Meyer, Virginia Keith and Mozelle Hodges.
Practically everyone who contributed blood during the recent Bloodmobile visit to Big Spring have received their certificates, said the executive secretary. Cards were distributed to Webb airmen Friday and Saturday.

Coahoma HS Library Is Now Completed

COAHOMA—The new Coahoma High School library has been completed and students are using it daily.
The large room, which was added as a northeast wing, is modern in every respect, with sound proof construction. The green tiled brick walls are lined with book shelves in natural finish. The floor is covered with green rubber tile. The library is heated with thermostatically controlled ceiling units.
Mrs. John Westmoreland and Mrs. Virginia Kidd recently made a trip to Abilene to purchase over 200 new books for the library. These will be put on the shelves as soon as possible.

The Brushes Are Swishing

Volunteer painters, mostly amateur, gave the local Servicemen's Center a going over Friday night at a "Paint Party." Some of the volunteers may be seen painting the wall, while two others stop the scaffold are painting the ceiling.

Servicemen's Center Receives Paint Job

An enthusiastic, if not expert, group of painters took the floor Friday night and gave Big Spring's Servicemen's Center its initial paint job.
Airmen joined the local committee and a few hostesses at a "Paint Party" to enter the home stretch of the renovation task at the center, located at 112 Runnels.
When the novice painters got tired of wielding the brush, coffee and sandwiches were served by a committee headed by Mrs. Ann Houser. She was assisted by Norma Jones, Earlynn Russell and Jean Duncan—and all joined in the painting, too.
Sam Smith, paint contractor, and Pete Anderson watched the proceedings, helped the painters and demonstrated the professional way of painting when the amateurs were in trouble.
The ceiling is being given a white coat of paint, while the walls are light green in color, as soon as final finishing touches are put on the paint job, the floor will be refinished and put in shape. The rest rooms are to be completed this week when Fiveash Plumbing Company moves in to do that job. Plastering has already been handled by Luther Coleman.
Paint was made available by Builders Supply Company and the brushes for the party came from Sherwin-Williams Company.
As yet, no decorative arrangement has been made. A committee will be appointed to handle this task. However, some furnishings have been made available by the city from their old Airport Cafe on the site of Webb Air Force Base. Nathan's Jewelry has promised some silverware and dishes. Chairs for the weary painters last night were provided by Nalley Funeral Home.

Coahoma Youth High Point Man In Livestock Judging Contest

STANTON, (SC) — Norman Spears, member of the Coahoma High School Future Farmers of America Chapter, was high point man in the sheep division of the FFA area livestock judging contest held at the Martin County Show Barn and at the J. C. Sale Ranch Saturday.
Bill Young of the Flower Grove Chapter scored highest in the hog division, and first place in the beef cattle judging was won by Bobby Carlisle of the Stanton High School Chapter.
At the conclusion of the contest at the Sale Ranch yesterday afternoon, Elbert Steele, vocational agriculture teacher at the Stanton High School, the host and sponsoring chapter, said he would have to run the totals on all the contesting more than 30 boys through an adding machine before he could announce the high point winner in all events. It is anticipated this announcement will be made Monday.
The seven contesting teams were from the high schools at Flower Grove, Stanton, Big Spring, Coahoma, Lamesa, Odessa and Garden City.
The Odessa team took first place in the finals with 3,604.5 points; Lamesa was second with 3,553 points; Stanton third with 3,499.3; Big Spring fourth with 3,497 (only 2.5 points fewer than Stanton); Coahoma was fifth 3,485, and Flower Grove was in sixth place with 3,170 points.
In the hog division the Odessa team was first; Coahoma second and Lamesa third.
The Coahoma team was first with the sheep; Big Spring's team was second, the Odessa team was third.
Lamesa took top honors in the beef cattle division, with Stanton second and Odessa third.
During the morning session at the show barn in Stanton the seven teams, as teams and also the members as individuals, judged fat barrows; fat hogs; breeding gilts; finewool lambs; crossbred lambs; breeding ewes and five fat steers. These steers were furnished, three by Homer Lee Hull, and one each by Maxey Davis and Norman Blocker. These steers were either 4-H or FFA feeding projects.
Following the morning section of the show, and after a sack dinner served by the Senior Class of the Stanton High School, the contestants accompanied by their teachers, and L. M. Hargrave of Texas Tech, who judged the events, went to the Sale Ranch, 12 miles northwest of Stanton where Herefords from that herd were supplied for the beef cattle judging.

Here the FFA's judged two more classes of fat steers, including those Bobby Sale has on feed for the coming shows, and two classes of bulls. At the ranch they were also required to grade slaughter steers and feeder cattle. In each class of beef cattle, as in the sheep and hog judging, the boys not only selected their animals but were also graded on specific questions asked them by Hargrave or one of the FFA instructors assisting him. Among these was E. L. Tiner of Big Spring, supervisor of vocational agriculture in the high schools of a 26-county West Texas area.
Members of the teams were:
Big Spring: Travis Fryar, Ronnie Davidson, Delbert Davidson, Berwood Blagaves and Melvin Daniels, with Truett Vines and R. E. Baumhardt as instructor-advisers.
Flower Grove: Wayne Wiggins, Wayne Bearden, Bill Young, Vernon Holcomb and James Burns, with Robert Becker, instructor-adviser.
Coahoma: Darrell Robinson, Weldon Appleton, David Hodnett, Norman Spears, Bill Wilson and Jimmy Burkholder, with M. T. Jenkins, instructor-adviser.
Garden City: Gary Mitchell, Jimmy McCorquodale, Truett Newell and John J. Phillips, with M. A. Barber, instructor-adviser.
Stanton: Bennie Joe Bilsard, Gordon Stone, Bobby Carlisle, Homer Lee Hull and W. A. Douglas, with Elbert Steele, instructor-adviser.
Lamesa: Jackie Goodloe, Bill Phinley, Monte Griffin, B. B. Burnett, Joe Stephens and Derrel Rogers, with Bill Anderson, instructor-adviser.
Odessa: James Laird, John Ligon, Tommy Spratlin, Charles Hart, Douglas Cunningham, Larry

Price and Eddie Clayton, with Carl Maddoux, instructor-adviser.
The hogs and sheep used were furnished by the various chapters. A number of the lambs were taken to Stanton for the event from Big Spring and the breeding ewes were supplied by the Garden City Chapter and were from the Fern Cox Ranch.
At the Sale Ranch, the herdsman, Jimmy Holloway, gave the boys a demonstration of the proper handling of a steer in the show ring.

Viennese Not Interested In Red Parades

By KURT HAMPE
VIENNA, Austria, Dec. 13 (AP)—Crowds smaller than seen at most Communist parades in Vienna in recent years turned out today for a peace march on the second day of world communism's "Congress of Peoples for Peace."

A few thousand spectators gathered on Vienna's Ringstrasse to watch 8,000 Austrian Communists march past a stand where the most prominent delegates stood shivering for two hours.

So far as the interest of the average Viennese was concerned, it appeared that the Kremlin-sponsored congress might just as well have been held in Moscow.

Possible accounting for some of the lack of interest was the complete silence of all Vienna's newspapers except the Communist press concerning the congress.

Not even Emil Zatopek, Czech Olympic marathon runner, was able to tear larger crowds away from Christmas shopping in the commercial district nearby. He ran almost unnoticed and unrecognized along the Ringstrasse bearing a message of greeting to the congress as last man of a relay team from Hungary.

Delegates on the reviewing stand included Frederic Joliot-Curie, French chairman of the World Peace Council; the Very Rev. Hewlett Johnson, the Red Dean of Canterbury, and Jean Paul Sartre, French philosopher. Sartre and the Dean told the demonstrating Vienna Communists they brought peace greetings from France and Britain.

The reviewing stand was alongside the Russian headquarters.

Jack Johnson Is ABC Club Prexy

Jack Johnson was named president of the ABC Club for the first six months of the coming year when the club met at the Settles Hotel Friday at noon.

Other officers elected include L. D. Chrane, first vice president; R. H. Weaver, second vice president; J. B. Wigginton, third vice president; J. W. Pursler, tall twister; and Johnny Hill, secretary.

It was announced that the group's annual Christmas dinner party would be held Dec. 18 at the hotel. The XYZ Club, women's auxiliary, will be in charge and serve as hostesses.

Horace Garrett gave the invocation. Twenty-nine attended including a guest, John Hall. At the meeting next Friday a new Board of Governors will be elected.

MADE FDR A LEADER Hitler Forced U. S. To Face Reality

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth article in a Sunday series reviewing historic highlights of the New Deal. Part Deal era. Proceeding articles by Sigrid Aros covered events up to the advent of World War II. The writings and postwar period will be reviewed by other Associated Press writers in the remaining three installments.

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—Shortly after Munich, President Roosevelt summoned his principal military advisers to a secret conference at the White House.

Included were Gen. Malin Craig, Army chief of staff; Gen. Henry H. Arnold, Air Corps chief, and Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war.

The main reason the British and French had to knuckle under to Hitler at the Munich conference, Roosevelt told them, was the threat of the Luftwaffe, the German Air Force. The European crisis dramatized American military importance as well. What did they think of creating a U. S. Air Force of 50,000 planes?

That was late 1938, three years before Pearl Harbor. The United States had started expanding its Navy but otherwise was almost unarmed.

Roosevelt was certain the looming world conflict eventually would engulf this country. In a speech at Chicago he had proposed a "quarantine" for aggressors.

"Let no one imagine that America will escape," he said. At the time many of his neutrality-minded countrymen thought otherwise.

At the White House that day the startled military men shook their heads. The Army at the moment could put possibly 1,500 planes into the air, nearly all obsolete. Roosevelt's figure was scaled down, and five months later Congress authorized a force of 5,500 aircraft.

Events were moving fast. Within a year of Munich, Franco triumphed in Spain, the Nazis carved up Czechoslovakia, Mussolini's Blackshirts invaded Albania and the Japanese pushed on in Asia. Then, as Russian Premier Josef Stalin switched sides and Hitler struck in Poland, World War II flared.

The American response to the conflict was FDR's proclamation of neutrality, coupled with a state of limited national emergency. Roosevelt prevailed on Congress to modify the Neutrality Act. In Europe the Nazis and Soviet Russia divided Poland, and the Western Front settled down to an eight-month state of siege.

Hitler's blitzkrieg of Norway, the Lowlands and France ended this "phony war" in the spring of 1940 and battered Britain to the ropes. More Americans reluctantly adopted the view that the U. S. must get ready faster to avoid being isolated in a totalitarian world.

Congress voted the first peacetime draft, and Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson inaugurated it on Oct. 29. He drew No. 158 from a glass bowl, the first of 16,313,240 cards for young men who had registered for military service.

With Britain in mortal peril, Roosevelt told Congress that by executive action he had obtained lease rights to British naval and air bases on this side of the Atlantic and had given the British 50 overage destroyers to fight the U-boats. Then followed lend-lease, which enabled the United States to help repair Britain and other foes of Hitler, later including Russia.

The nation gave FDR a third term. In his election campaign he pledged "again and again and again" that "your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars," but the tide of events turned out to be stronger than any resolve.

Wendell Willkie, 1940 Republican candidate, secretly approved the destroyer deal and kept it from becoming a partisan issue.

Roosevelt at the start of his third term told Congress the U. S. sought a world founded on four freedoms—freedom of speech and worship, freedom from want and fear. The Atlantic Charter, which he and Winston Churchill drafted the following August, renounced imperialism and called for a permanent system of global security.

Successive crises in 1941 swept the nation closer to war. Hitler turned without warning on Russia. As the Wehrmacht drove toward Moscow, Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff, and other top military men thought the Nazi troopers might get there in six weeks.

War came to the U. S. in the Pacific. The Japanese late in the year put Gen. Hideki Tojo and his war party into power. The Tojo government made plain it was out to absorb Asia and the Western Pacific into its "co-prosperity sphere."

Early Sunday afternoon, Dec. 7, Worried Secretary Cordell Hull was waiting at the State Department to meet with two special Japanese envoys, still trying for a way out of a crisis which had prompted FDR the night before to send a personal appeal to Japanese Emperor Hirohito.

Then Associated Press wires flashed: "White House says Japs attacked Pearl Harbor."

The U. S. was quickly at war with the Rome-Berlin Axis as well as Japan.

The sneak air attack which unified and galvanized the nation also crippled for months its power to halt the Japanese sweep in the Pacific. Hong Kong, Malaya and the Dutch East Indies were engulfed, though Australia was saved.

The Philippines and its entire American and Filipino defense force were lost with the Corregidor surrender. Gen. Douglas MacArthur was rescued by submarine but promised to return as liberator.

Three years later he carried out his pledge.

In the Atlantic, U-boats had a chance for telling military blows, and it was months before they were curbed.

The tide turned late in 1942 with the British desert war triumph at Alamein, the Allied invasion of North Africa led by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Red Army stand at Stalingrad. In the Pacific the Navy turned back the Japanese in the Coral Sea and Midway battles.

Before the Axis was crushed three years later there came the Italian knockout, the Normandy landing, the frightful atomic destruction of Hiroshima and Nagasaki and the most appalling outpouring of blood and treasure in history.

In its disruptive effect on the nation the conflict made World War I "look like an episode," as one eminent historian concluded. Some 14 million Americans served in the armed forces. They suffered more than a million casualties.

World War II had made Roosevelt a leader of the free world. He died April 12, 1945, with victory in sight. ## Liquor Arrests Are Noted In 4 Area Counties

Arrests on charges of transporting liquor were made in Dawson, Borden, Mitchell and Andrews Counties during the latter part of the week.

Local Liquor Control Board officials were responsible for arrests in Mitchell, Andrews and Dawson Counties. C. B. Arnold, investigator, stated that more than 165 cases of beer, 18 cases of wine, and eight cases of whiskey were confiscated.

Liquor Control Board investigators J. T. Morgan and Marshall Smith arrested Chris Mundoz of Lubbock in Andrews County Friday. He was driving a pickup, and officers said he had 85 cases of beer when arrested.

Arnold and Dawson County Sheriff's officials arrested Elbert Taylor, Negro, Friday night. The complaint states he had 25 cases of beer, 10 cases of wine and two cases of whiskey in his possession at time of arrest.

Arnold and Morgan also arrested a Negro on the old Colorado City road Thursday who was transporting liquor in a pickup. He received $300 fine.

Sheriff Sid Reader arrested two men carrying liquor in Borden County Friday. Each received $200 fines plus cost of court. Police at Lamesa arrested a Negro for transporting beer in county.

Higher Fines Backed By Local Patrolmen

Local highway patrolmen agree with the governor's traffic safety committee that there should be tougher court treatment for speeding and reckless driving.

Jack Taylor and Amos Johnson, highway patrolmen working out of Big Spring, believe there will be less traffic accidents and fatalities if the committee's recommendations are followed.

The committee recommended Friday that the next legislature raise minimum fines for speeding from $1 to $10, plus $3 for each mile over the first 10 in excess of the legal speed limit.

It was also recommended that a $10 minimum fine be placed on violations such as passing on hills and curves, driving on the wrong side of the road, reckless driving or driving without a license.

"That committee knew what it was doing," Taylor said. "The members are not out of line in what they are asking. If the recommendations are followed, it will mean a lot safer conditions on the highways."

Both Taylor and Johnson pointed out that drivers take any number of chances because "they know the fine will not be unbearable if they are caught." Each said it was these "chances" that led to highway deaths.

The patrolmen said that the committee's report that the minimum fine of $1 is assessed in 95 to 98 per cent of the cases holds good here. "Most of the people we give tickets to pay the minimum," Johnson said.

Under the committee's proposal, a man traveling 90 miles per hour would have to pay $10 for the 70 speed mark and $3 for each of the other 10 miles per hour—making a total of $40 fine.

Both men believe that if minimum fines are raised by law that the drivers will be more careful.

"We wouldn't pull in near so many men if they knew they would have to pay a high fine," they said.

The committee also recommended that a $25 fine be assessed everyone who fails to answer traffic summons involving moving and speeding violations.

"I sure do wish such a fine was in operation," Taylor said. "I have a handful of warrants daily that must be delivered to people who have received tickets in other parts of the state and failed to go before the judge."

He said that such people are served warrants in the communities where they live. They go before their Justices of the Peace and pay fines, which are mailed to the jurisdiction in which they are caught.

The two patrolmen said they were also happy to see that the committee recommended that the 470 man patrol be increased to 1,385. "We have two men here in Howard County for approximately 250 highway miles. To patrol it properly, we should have six men," Taylor said.

Construction Work Is Scheduled On Schools At Coahoma Over Yule

COAHOMA — A considerable amount of repairs and construction work is planned during the Christmas holidays by the Coahoma schools.

Rest rooms in the grade school will be completely remodelled. The construction firm also hopes to complete a library-study hall for the grade school, which is being made from a classroom. When completed the room will be used by the intermediate grades. Another room is being converted into a public school music room. The floor of the school gymnasium also will be refinished during the holidays.

The committee also recommended that a $25 fine be assessed everyone who fails to answer traffic summons involving moving and speeding violations.

"I sure do wish such a fine was in operation," Taylor said. "I have a handful of warrants daily that must be delivered to people who have received tickets in other parts of the state and failed to go before the judge."

Theft Charges Due Against Man Here

Charges of theft probably will be lodged against a local Latin American man arrested by city police Saturday.

Detective C. C. Aaron, who made the arrest, said the man is to be charged with theft of more than $100 worth of tools from a telephone company vehicle here recently. The tools were recovered.

Teacher Resigns School Position

COAHOMA—Mrs. J. M. Apple has resigned her position as third grade teacher in the Coahoma school, effective Dec. 19. The school board has employed Mrs. Doris McKinney of Westbrook to fill the vacancy.

Supt. H. L. Miller said he also is seeking another teacher to be added to the grade school faculty when the new building is completed.

Bids To Be Opened For Webb Heating

Bids for heating equipment have been asked by the contracting office at Webb Air Force Base.

Proposals for heating 14 buildings will be opened after 2 p.m. on Friday (Dec. 19). Offers for furnishing and installing four large type heating units will be opened at 10 a.m. Dec. 23.

Bids to be received until Friday afternoon cover the installation of gas heating equipment in various buildings. The successful bidder will be required to start work within 10 days of notice to proceed and will be due to finish 30 days after notice to proceed. Details may be had from G. P. Howell, engineer at the AFO at Webb, and plans and specifications and bid forms are available at the same office.

Covered under the Dec. 23 bids are: gas suspension heater 120,000 BTU; gas wall panel heater 20,000 BTU; gas suspension heater 68,000 BTU; gas suspension heater 80,000 BTU. Information may be secured from the office of Donald A. Reinhardt, contracting officer, at Webb AFB.

Cerebral Palsy Clinic Is Slated

A clinic for the examination of cerebral palsied children will be held Jan. 12, at the Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center, 3502 Avenue N, Lubbock.

Specialists present to examine children will be Dr. E. T. Driscoll, Midland, Dr. R. Q. Lewis, Lubbock, and Dr. R. E. Donnell, Plainview, orthopedists; Dr. J. C. Breaud, Lubbock, dentist; Dr. E. E. Moss, Lubbock, eye specialist; and Dr. Pauline Miller, Lubbock, pediatrician.

Parents who plan to bring children to the clinic are requested to register the children at the center before the date of the clinic. Information regarding the clinic may be obtained by writing Dr. Esther Snell, director, or calling Lubbock 5-6541.

Those Last Few Hours

Aviation Cadet Marion A. Tuttle, of Elizabeth City, N. C., logs one of his final flights in the T-33 jet trainer at Webb Air Force Base. Tuttle, along with 91 other student-pilots, is scheduled to receive his pilot's wings in the graduation of Class 52-H at Webb AFB on Friday. After graduation, most of the new pilots will leave Webb for training in combat-type fighters. (Air Force Photo).

Webb Graduation Is Slated Next Friday

Cadets and student officers in Class 52-H at Webb AFB literally knocked themselves out during the whole week and preparing for graduation next Friday. Last minute jobs for the soon-to-be United States Air Force pilots include the tailoring of uniforms, placing of pilot's wings and insignias, the flying of their final hours in jet airplanes, completion of many military records, and other small "musts" too numerous to mention. Scores of letters have gone to all parts of the United States to invite the student pilots' families and friends to graduation. By the middle of the week airliners, trains, buses, and private automobiles will bring these guests to Big Spring from all parts of the United States. Sixty-eight aviation cadets and 23 student-officers are scheduled to receive their wings at the Friday graduation of Webb's fifth jet-pilot class. Tentatively, the guest speaker for the graduation will be Brig. Gen. R. L. Waldron, deputy commanding general of the Flying Training Air Force. Most of the student-pilots have completed their flight training already, and the remainder will finish their quotas of flying hours Monday and Tuesday. Wednesday and Thursday will see the entire airbase readied for the graduation ceremonies, which begin Friday at 8 a.m.

Need For Additional Highway Money Seen

AUSTIN, Dec. 13. (AP) — Public hearing on the problem of financing and maintaining a modern highway system provided a preview today of the fight likely to develop over this issue when the Legislature meets next month. Representatives of the Texas Good Roads Assn., the County Judges and Commissioners Assn. and private individuals offered their views to the Texas Legislative Council's Highway Study Committee. The need for millions of dollars more than is now being spent for highways was recognized generally. Fritz Thompson, Borger, vice president of the Good Roads Assn., presented his group's policy in the absence of President J. H. Kullgens, Waco. Commission Chairman E. H. Thornton's estimate that at least 100 million dollars a year more is needed for highways, Thompson said his organization had reached "four inescapable conclusions: 1. We must provide four-lane divided highways with every safety and load factor included on all our primary highway system in our state now carrying in excess of 4,000 automobiles a day. 2. We must complete our present farm-to-market system of at least 35,000 miles now projected and begin to balance maintenance against construction of this type of road. 3. We must integrate this system of primary highways and farm-to-market roads with a secondary system adequate to meet the increasing demands that will be generated. 4. We must provide relief for increased urban pressure brought about in the expansion of inter-regional and expressway systems." Thompson said a series of meetings held co-operatively with regional chambers of commerce had found most of the participants in favor of sticking with the principle of financing roads with "user revenue" either in increased gasoline tax and/or increased car registration fees. Other suggested sources of revenue, he said were the automobile sales tax, which now goes to the general revenue fund, a natural gas tax and a readjustment of truck rates. Thompson said strongest support went to increase of the state gasoline tax, now 4 cents a gallon.

New Mental Test For Enlistment Into Service By Women

Women wishing to qualify for enlistment in the armed forces will have a new mental test after the first of the year. Sgt. A. M. Burt, local recruiter, states that the new test for women is not contained in questions on tools and space relations. Formerly men and women took the same test. It was emphasized that the new tests will not alter the level of mental ability required for enlistment. Burt said that about 1,850 women are enlisted in the services each month. So far there have been no women recruited through the local office, he said.

Two More Dogs Die Of Poisoning Here

Two more canines died of poison Saturday, police said. Mrs. Mary L. Koger, 1501 Runnels, reported her dog was poisoned sometime Friday night. W. R. Taylor, who resides on the old U.S. Highway 80, said his pet died Saturday morning as a result of poisoning. Dogs have been poisoned in practically all sections of the city in recent weeks. "Bait"—meat containing poison—has been found in two or three locations. Police repeatedly have warned against the practice of distributing poison material for any purpose. They point out the substance might fall into the hands of children.

Rifle Stolen Here Said Used In Pecos Shootings Thursday

The 22-caliber rifle with which two persons were killed in Pecos Thursday was tentatively identified Saturday as one stolen from a pickup here last week. Police said the rifle fit the description of one stolen from A. H. Honey, 1009 Scurry, several days ago. Honey is expected to go to Pecos to identify the weapon. He didn't know it had been stolen until Friday when a check of the pickup showed the gun was missing. The firearm was involved in the deaths of Mrs. Mildred Louise Gregson and James Lloyd Gregson, former residents of Big Spring. Gregson was in Big Spring last Tuesday.

Recruiting Office To Be Closed Yule Week

The local Air Force and Army recruiting office will close during Christmas week, it was announced Saturday by Sgt. A. M. Burt, local recruiter. During the week two men from Midland joined the armed forces through the local office. They were Roy E. McKinney, Army, and D. H. Herford, Air Force.

Texas Took Front Row Seat In U. S. Republican Politics

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN, Dec. 13 (AP)—A rugged, revolutionary year in Texas politics winds up here Monday when Republican presidential electors cast this state's 24 votes for Gen. Eisenhower.

It will be the second time this century that Republicans were able to storm through to a victory in a state that has almost always been considered in the bag for the Democrats. Eisenhower himself came to Texas to battle that theory, setting a precedent by being the first Republican presidential candidate ever to consider it worthwhile to appeal personally for the votes of Texans. Texas went into the Hoover camp in 1928, but in nothing like the sensational fashion that gave Eisenhower his clear-cut majority in November. This year the battle was out in the open, the issues were sharp and clear and it brought voters to the polls in record-smashing numbers. It was a year of many "firsts" in Texas politics. The state Republican Convention at Mineral Wells in May focused national attention on the bitter battle for the nomination between Sen. Taft and Eisenhower. The charges of strong-arm manipulation hurled at the Taft people in Texas and the National Convention's repudiation of the Taft delegation was one big factor that led to Eisenhower's nomination. Texas thus took a front row seat in national Republican politics for the first time in more than 100 years. For the first time in history, a Democratic nominee for governor of Texas came out openly for the Republican candidate for President. Not only did Gov. Shivers vote for him, but he campaigned actively for Eisenhower without any apologies. The year saw the first State Democratic Convention in Texas history flatly repudiate the National Convention's nominee for President and urge Democrats—officeholders and voters—to get out and work for him. It was the first year that a state Republican convention adopted the entire slate of state office candidates nominated in the Democratic primary. These included Shivers

Compensation Suit Is Filed In Court

R. E. Hatley filed a compensation suit in 118th District Court Saturday against the Texas Employers' Insurance Association as a result of an oil well accident on June 28. Hatley claims he was totally disabled as a result of the accident and is asking maximum compensation under Texas law—$25 for 401 weeks or $10,025. The petition alleges that Hatley injured his muscles, ligaments, bones, back, pelvis, hips, and legs. It is also alleged that internal organs of the abdominal cavity are injured, that the lumbar vertebrae are fractured, and that a disc of cartilage is ruptured. The accident is alleged to have happened when Hatley was 60 feet up on an oil derrick and attempting to hand the "dead line." He fell and struck the hook on the swivel of the kelly in the pit of his stomach, according to the petition.

and Atty. Gen. Price Daniel, who thus was unopposed as a candidate for the U. S. Senate. This procedure was made possible by a cross-filing law passed by the Legislature two years ago. It was the first time in Texas history that the Democratic nominee for U. S. senator supported the Republican nominee for President. Sen. Tom Connally, the retiring senator, campaigned for the Democratic nominee, Gov. Adlai Stevenson. It was the first time that the State Democratic Committee ever threw the weight of its organization behind the GOP presidential nominee. This took the form of a "Democrats for Eisenhower" committee that worked in close collaboration with the state GOP organization.

It was the first year in history that both presidential nominees took the trouble to campaign personally and widely in Texas, so unsure was the outcome. Political pros do not think all these developments mean that Texas has become a two-party state overnight. Republicans believe they have gained more ground in a year than they had in the past quarter century but they seem to have no illusions about future victories without more hard work—and national issues as sharply outlined as they were in 1952.

Some seasoned observers believe it will merely be easier for Democrats—officeholders on all levels—to support Republicans than it has been since reconstruction days. Many feel it will lead to the building up of a big body of independent voters who might line up with either party in future national elections.

224 Families Ask Christmas Aid From SA

A total of 224 families applied for Christmas aid at the Salvation Army headquarters by the Saturday deadline. Lt. Robert Hall, commander of the Big Spring Salvation Army post, stated that 173 of the applications had been approved. Rejections totaled 31, and another 20 families are being investigated for need.

Lt. Hall stated that he expects more applications to come in yet. The deadline, he explained, was set so that time could be had to order supplies and investigate the need of families. Those needing help will be aided despite the deadline, he said. Applications were still coming in fairly heavy Saturday, he said. Each family will receive a basket of groceries and gifts.

Lt. Hall said he would like to express thanks to all the people in Big Spring who are helping in the aid movement. He said that about 50 of the families had already been adopted. By adopted, he meant that various individuals and groups have said they would furnish the needy families with supplies. Many other people in Big Spring have furnished groceries to go in the baskets, he said. Contributions have been liberal in the Christmas kettles, he said, and people seem to be enjoying the Christmas caroling which the Army sponsors in various parts of town. Hall said that caroling will resume Monday with a visit to the residential area east of the High School Stadium. The caroling ventures consist of records being piped out over a loud speaker and Salvation Army workers making collections. One of the favorite carols of the Army workers is "WIR Santa Come Here COMES B. E. MCKINNEY INSURANCE MAN BIG SPRING INSURANCE AGENCY 103 E. 2nd Phone 173 Big Spring's Oldest Fire Insurance Agency

Man Posts Bond On Wife Desertion Count

Glen Overton was released from county jail Saturday after posting $1,000 bond at examining trial on charges of wife desertion. The complaint was filed in Peace Justice W. O. Leonard's Court by Mrs. Margaret Overton. Overton was placed in custody by sheriff's officials.

Atomic Energy Won't Replace Other Power Means For While

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—The use of atomic energy instead of coal or other standard fuels to produce electric power economically still may be anywhere from 10 to 50 years away.

That wide range of estimates by some of the top nuclear physicists and industrial experts of the nation appeared tonight in a 400-page report of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy.

The committee itself made no effort in the report to arrive at conclusions or make recommendations. It merely compiled scores of statements, reports, testimony,

Businessmen Plan To Talk Highway Problem At Meet

A group of West Highway 80 businessmen is expected to attend the Chamber of Commerce directors meeting Monday to discuss a State Highway Department proposal for rerouting a segment of the road.

Chamber directors will discuss the proposal whether or not a delegation is present, however, J. H. Greene, manager, said Saturday.

The highway businessmen oppose relocation of the route because of large property investments along the present highway. A delegation met with District Highway Engineer J. C. Roberts in Abilene Tuesday to request the existing roadway be widened.

The Chamber of Commerce directorate is expected to discuss construction progress of the new Permian Building, office structure at second and Scurry. Action to encourage decoration of homes and yards in the Christmas theme also may result, said Greene. Routine reports from various committees will be heard.

speeches and papers and presented them in connection with the intention of Rep. Carl Durham (D-NC) to call a series of meetings on "industrial participation" in the next session of Congress.

However, the material did show definite trends of thinking on whether and how private enterprise can enter the atomic energy field which is now one of strict government monopoly. Among other points developed were these:

1. The proposal for "dual purpose" atomic energy plants stands high in consideration of methods by which industry could participate in a program which costs billions instead of millions. Such a plant would produce for the government the plutonium it requires for atomic weapons. And at the financing and other questions of economics and techniques still unsettled, Chairman Gordon Dean of the AEC felt there was an "upswing in optimism," including re- same time and as part of the same production of fissionable material it would produce, during the manufacturing process, enormous quantities of heat which could rub turbines for electric power generation.

2. The financing of an atomic plant for only power production, except for a limited size or experimental plant, might be difficult or impossible. Utility executives told the committee that they could not obtain capital for risk ventures "running into tens of millions of dollars." There were estimates that the atomic reactor "furnace" end of such a plant might cost 40 million dollars with the remaining, actual power generating portion costing an additional 20 to 40 million.

Reports Theft Case

A week-old case of theft was reported to police Saturday. Olton Lewis, of the Cactus Cafe, said a Chrysler wheel and tire was stolen from his automobile "about a week ago."

3. But despite the problems of utility and chemical companies which explored the feasibility of economical power production from atomic energy, Dean said of the reports that "not one was pessimistic."

4. Dr. Robert F. Bacher, former AEC commissioner, was recorded as saying of the atomic power production project: "Some people have an idea that it might replace all forms of generation of electrical power. I think such complete replacement is unlikely. In the first place, the power capacity of the United States is so extremely great that even if we had a plant that was capable of generating power and knew exactly how to build it, it would take many years to get enough of these plants in operation to replace a sizeable portion or fraction of the power facilities in the United States."

Since Bacher made that statement several years ago the AEC has brought to the point of actual construction experimental power generating plants, including those for two submarines now being constructed.

However, even this long stride in atomic engineering has not shortened by much recent estimates of leading experts in the field.

Reef Fields Plant Ready For A Start

By CLIFTON LAWHORNE

A portion of the new Reef Fields Gasoline Company's new 12 a s t Vealmoor plant will be cranked up Monday.

Reinecke Field will be ready within 30 days, he said. Already dry gas is being flared at the Good Field installation...

Shallow Test Prepares For Completion

Haynes and V. T. Drilling Company No. 2 Chester L. Jones, a Coronet-2900 venture, had treated open hole above total depth of 2,982.

Treatment was with 500 gallons of mud acid and operator was preparing to swab, clean out and test. Location is 990 from the north and 2,310 from the east lines of section 15-28, H&TC.

King Oil Inc. No. 1 Magnolia-Winters, 600 from the north and 330 from the east lines of section 6-25, H&TC, one mile northeast of Vincent, progressed to 5,724 in lime and shale. This test is seeking the Vincent-Lower Canyon pay and is projected to 7,150.

Robinson No. 1 Gartner, a mile north outpost to the depleted Vincent Clear Fork pool, was at 5,010 in lime and shale, fishing for junk.

NO SHOWS IN MARTIN TEST

Tide Water Associated Oil No. 1-B Dickenson, central Martin exploration, took a drillstem test in the basal Pennsylvania.

The tool was open three hours from 10:55-9:23 with recovery of 380 feet drilling mud. There were no shows of oil, gas or water.

Cosden No. 1 Kincaid, which made an unsuccessful bid for lower Canyon pay east of Vincent, was re-perforating for an intermediate test Saturday.

Perforations from 4,705-35 were squeezed off. Operator was to perforate lower, probably from 4,762-82 opposite the Clear Fork.

The Atlantic Refining Company No. 2-Q Texu has been completed as an Ellenburger producer in the Block 12 field of West-Central Andrews County.

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 721 Goldsmith, wildcat in Northwest Ector County, flowed oil on a drillstem test taken from 5,065 to 5,090 feet.

Tool was open nine and one-half hours. Gas surfaced in 15 minutes and oil in seven hours.

Operator reversed out nine and one-half barrels of clean oil. No formation water developed.

Location is 660 feet from north and 2,908 feet from east lines of section 4, block 44, T-1-S, T&P survey.

Operator reported a daily flowing potential of 304 barrels of 44.8-gravity oil through a three-eighths-inch choke and from perforations at 10,924-10,949 feet.

Location is 660 feet from south and 684 feet from west lines of the southeast quarter of section 17, block 12, University Lands survey.

Prospector In S-Central Terry Looms As Discovery In Reef

A Pennsylvania reef lime discovery was in prospect for south-central Terry County at the end of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Turner Jr. and Lynn D. Furham of Midland took a drillstem test on their No. 1 Manon Ralls and recovered oil.

The test in the prospector was from 10,030-090 with the tool open for three hours and 35 minutes.

Total recovery was 9,000 feet of clean oil.

Gas surfaced in 10 minutes and there was a continued good blow throughout the remainder of the period. No fluid came to the surface while the test was open.

There were no signs of formation water from the zone covered in the test. Operator did not announce the gravity of oil, gas-oil ratio or the pressures.

The project was deepened six feet to 10,086 and the drilling was soft. Saturday a drillstem test was being run to sample the new section.

After the current test is completed, operator is expected to run casing and to make production tests with view of completing.

Location of this wildcat is 660 from the north and east lines of section 146-T, D&W survey.

This puts it a mile and a half west and a quarter of a mile north of the Fullerton Oil No. 1 Zone, a recently completed flowing discovery from the Pennsylvania reef lime. It was the No. 1 Zorn which opened the Statek Field in south-central Terry.

There was a slight increase in the average daily allowable. It was up 3,968 barrels daily 3,300,473 compared with the Dec. 6 average.

Elmer Quinn and George Adams of Odessa will drill No. 1 Jacoby as a 4,006-foot Tubbs Sand wildcat in North Pecos County.

Drillite is 990 feet from north and 2,310 feet from east lines of section 34, block 2, H&TC survey, and 11 1/2 miles southeast of Imperial.

O. D. Alsbrook of Dallas will drill No. 1 Coline Oil Corporation as a 6,000-foot wildcat in North-east Gaines County.

Drillite is 330 feet from south and east lines of section 93, block H, D&W survey and 16 miles northeast of Seminole.

Hunt Oil Company of Dallas will drill No. 1 W. A. Sloan as a 7,000-foot wildcat in Southwest Fisher County four miles southwest of the Claytonville (Canyon Reef) fields.

Site is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 4, block 23, T&P survey.

Two new fields in Runnels County drew the stepout locations.

Three-quarters of a mile northwest of the Jean Burk Goens lime area, H. S. Dew and Ray Culbertson Jr., of Abilene will drill No. 1 Mrs. Willie Base.

It is 1,422 feet from north 467 feet from west lines of tract 15, block 271, Burnet County School Land survey. It will go to 5,200 feet.

One location southeast of a Fry discovery which re-opened the Wingo-gate field, Gulf Oil Corporation will dig No. 1 H. C. Steele to 4,500 feet.

It is 3,120 feet from south and 5,900 feet from west lines of block 450, Lilly Forsythe survey, abstract 176.

AUSTIN, Dec. 13 (AP)—Texas is still its best buyer of its own natural gas, the Bureau of Business Research says.

It leads among the states consuming natural gas, taking almost 50 per cent of the total output from Texas fields. This is in the face of rapid expansion of interstate gas transmission lines.

After the current test is completed, operator is expected to run casing and to make production tests with view of completing.

AUSTIN, Dec. 13 (AP)—Texas is still its best buyer of its own natural gas, the Bureau of Business Research says.

It leads among the states consuming natural gas, taking almost 50 per cent of the total output from Texas fields. This is in the face of rapid expansion of interstate gas transmission lines.

Strawn Shows To Be Tested

Plymouth Oil Company No. 1-B H. S. (Sherwood) Foster, Central-West Midland County exploration, three miles northwest of Warfield and 12 1/2 miles southwest of the city of Midland has found promising shows of oil in the Strawn lime of the Pennsylvania.

The shows came in a core at 10,582-617 feet. Recovery was 35 feet of crystalline lime. On that core 19 feet was porous and heavily oil and stained and bleeding gas.

Other 16 feet was dense lime with no appreciably shows of oil or gas. Operator then cut a core at 10,617-652 feet. That specimen was being pulled at last report. It is expected that a drillstem test will be run in a short time to check the shows which have now been logged.

This development is one location north of Plymouth No. 1-A Foster, discovery of the Hallinan (Strawn) field.

The top of the Strawn pay in the No. 1-B Foster is approximately flat with the top of the pay in the field opener.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 11, block 41, T-2-S, T&P survey.

N'West Ector Well Flows

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 721 Goldsmith, wildcat in Northwest Ector County, flowed oil on a drillstem test taken from 5,065 to 5,090 feet.

Tool was open nine and one-half hours. Gas surfaced in 15 minutes and oil in seven hours.

Operator reversed out nine and one-half barrels of clean oil. No formation water developed.

More hole was being made below 5,115 feet.

Location is 660 feet from north and 2,908 feet from east lines of section 4, block 44, T-1-S, T&P survey.

Operator reported a daily flowing potential of 304 barrels of 44.8-gravity oil through a three-eighths-inch choke and from perforations at 10,924-10,949 feet.

Ellenburger Well Finals

The Atlantic Refining Company No. 2-Q Texu has been completed as an Ellenburger producer in the Block 12 field of West-Central Andrews County.

Operator reported a daily flowing potential of 304 barrels of 44.8-gravity oil through a three-eighths-inch choke and from perforations at 10,924-10,949 feet.

Completion was natural.

Location is 660 feet from south and 684 feet from west lines of the southeast quarter of section 17, block 12, University Lands survey.

HOUSTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—J. N. Troxell was promoted today to general manager of the Texas Co.'s producing department, with headquarters in Houston.

He succeeds E. R. Filley, who earlier this week was named vice president for domestic production operations at New York City.

Abernathy Attends State Sheriff School

Howard County Deputy A. C. Abernathy returned from Austin Saturday where he had been attending the State Sheriff's School.

The school is sponsored by the Department of Public Safety, and Abernathy said that 73 were in attendance. The school covered all phases of law enforcement, and some attorneys attended.

Abernathy will become chief deputy in Martin County in January. The new Martin County sheriff will be Dan Saunders, former highway patrolman.

Twenty-Five Apply For Employment

Twenty-five applications for employment were received during the week, and 32 claims for unemployment compensation were filed, Leon M. Kinney, manager of the Big Spring office of the Texas Employment Commission, said yesterday.

During the week, he said, 260 office visits were recorded; 28 persons were referred to jobs, and of these 22 were placed in employment.

Troxell Will Head Texas Production

HOUSTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—J. N. Troxell was promoted today to general manager of the Texas Co.'s producing department, with headquarters in Houston.

He succeeds E. R. Filley, who earlier this week was named vice president for domestic production operations at New York City.

Borden Explorers Making Progress

Rowan No. 1 Long, C NW NE 37-30-in. T&P, shallow prospector in central north Borden County, drilled plug after cementing the 8 1/2-in. string at 2,948 in anhydrite and lime.

Roden No. 1 Belew, C NE SE 32-97, H&TC, a northwest outpost to the Fuvanna Mississippi pool, progressed to 8,217 in chert.

Midkiff Spraberry Adds A Producer

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company No. 1 T. O. Midkiff is a new producer in the Midkiff (Spraberry) field of Southeast Midland County.

It was finished for a daily pumping potential of 43.43 barrels of 36.3-gravity oil through perforations at 7,610-50 feet, 7,845-7,980 feet and 8,076-8,102 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 1.110-1.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,984 feet from east lines of section 47, block 38, T-4-S, T&P survey.

Mexico Won't Face Problems In Developing Its Tidelands

By LAURANCE F. STUNTZ

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 13 (AP)—Mexico has hopes of developing her tidelands off but it won't bring up the problems which undersea oil raised in the U. S.

When the present Mexican Constitution was drafted in 1917, nobody foresaw that oil might some day be produced from land under shallow water near the coast. But the Constitution asserted that all minerals underground, oil as well as ores, belonged to the federal government.

This is much the same shape as the Comodoro Rivadavia field in Argentina. This field also rests on the shore at the north and south ends and curves inland in the middle. But tests have shown the field really makes a complete circle, with about half of it lying under water off the coast.

MAN TAKES TWO RIDES

A hitch-hiker caught himself two rides at once Saturday afternoon.

One of the lifts was in an Eberley ambulance. The man was first picked up from a horizontal position alongside the highway. Apparently he had been hit by a car.

At the hospital, however, it was discovered he was uninjured. The second ride started there, too. The man was loaded into a police car for a lift to the city jail.

That last drink must have been one too many, observed Patrolman Alvin Hillbrunner as he signed the drunkenness complaint.

Corporation Court Has Busy Week

Business picked up in Corporation Court in the past week, with fines amounting to more than $900.

In addition, 17 persons, approximately a fourth of those appearing before City Judge William E. Greenlee, were transferred to other authorities for disposition of their cases.

Fifty-five fines were levied for a total of $912, half of which resulted from drunkenness. With the exception of $18 assessed for disturbance and $25 for destruction of private property, remainder of the fines was due to traffic violations.

Here is the breakdown on the week's fines: drunkenness, $453; disturbance, $18; destruction of property, $25; no driver's license, $185; speeding, $45; leaving scene of an accident, $50; prohibited turns, $7; violation of stop signals and signs, $35; improper parking, $26; and passing in a no-passing zone, $3.

The transfers included five for burglary; three for vagrancy and trespassing, and one each on charges of carrying deadly weapon, assault with intent to murder, car theft, no driver's license, and theft.

Biggest fine of the week was the $100 assessed for drunkenness. Smallest, also a result of intoxication charges, was $1.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

Private Flying In Area On Increase

Big Spring's private aviation, seriously crippled when the Air Force took over former Munny airport, is flapping its wings again.

Earlier this fall Wilbanks and Hamilton flew to North and South Dakota to hunt pheasant and grouse. Still have a few on ice, the nimrods report.

Flying highline patrol this week with Hamilton was W. M. Kelly of the Texas Electric Service Company. Bert Gannon and Steve Baker also have been aeromotoring with Cecil.

A new all-steel hangar is being constructed by Herman Taylor and Cecil Hamilton has made several improvements, including a new hangar, since the city transferred its airport service setup to the field.

There's lots of activity in the air, too.

Latest to win his wings at Hamilton is James Duncan, who soloed Thursday. Duncan, has been receiving flight instruction for some time. His fledgling hop was in a Piper Super Cub.

D. Cameron is making progress on his private license curriculum, and John E. Fort Jr., working toward a commercial license, has passed a number of CAA written tests. Another local aviator who has logged considerable time under the stick recently is J. E. Fort.

City Firemen Set Annual Yule Event

City firemen and their wives will have their traditional Christmas dinner and party at the City Hall Fire Station Wednesday evening.

Exchange of gifts, to be displayed under the firemen's tree, a big dinner, and surprise program being planned by the women's auxiliary organization will highlight the program.

It'll be an special treat for wives of the city's firefighters. The men will prepare and serve the dinner—and wash the dishes.

A session of games will follow together is to start about 7 p.m., and the fire station at 18th and Main will be shut down for a couple of hours so that the entire group can participate.

Three Are Injured In Highway Crash

Three people were injured in an auto-truck collision about two miles east of the Vincent cutoff on the Snyder highway Friday at noon.

Robert J. Farr of Midland, who was driving a 1951 Chevrolet, was one of the injured. Two of his passengers—a woman and a small girl—were also reported hurt.

Identification of the passengers and extent of injuries were not known. The three were taken to Snyder in an automobile after the accident.

Deputy Dub Weatherford said that the car had apparently rammed into a truck driven by Art Blanchard of Snyder when the truck was preparing to turn.

Blanchard was reported unhurt, and the dump truck was not damaged. The front of Farr's car was pretty well torn up, Weatherford said.

Diarrhea At Top Of Disease List

Diarrhea remained at the top of the communicable disease list Saturday, although incidence of the disease had lessened some 15 degrees from the previous week's high.

Ninety cases of the infection were diagnosed by local physicians during the past week. A week earlier, the total had been 110 cases.

Gastroenteritis was second most prevalent contagious disease, with 40 cases reported, the Big Spring, Howard County Health Unit said.

Week's work of the doctors also included diagnosis of 15 cases of influenza, three of mumps, two of measles, six of pneumonia, 21 of tonsillitis, two of bronchitis, one of syphilis and two cases of gonorrhea.

Good Strike Picture Seen As Ike Enters

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—Government officials said today that when Gen. Eisenhower takes office as President next month the national strike picture will be the best in years.

They saw only two possibilities that events between now and Jan. 20 could darken the picture:

1. Possible inability of the Wage Stabilization Board to act fast enough on a 12,000-case backlog of wage increase petitions.
2. Possible disagreement between employers and unions who will have to change their cost-of-living pay clauses because of a new consumers prices index due early next year.

The Federal Mediation Service, which has the job of trying to put out strike fires before they get started, is now working on 102 individual disputes, but most of them are minor. Mediators say this is the smallest number of cases in their active strike docket in many years.

And most union contracts involving the nation's major industries like steel, coal, autos, aircraft and others, are buttoned up well into 1953.

All the major rail unions are now asking for a pay boost based on increased productivity, but win or lose there is hardly any chance of a major rail dispute until next fall.

No official suggests that the strike lull is a result of any planned strategy, either by the government, the labor unions or employers. They see some irony in the fact that the first Republican President in 20 years, who was opposed by most organized labor leaders, apparently will not have to worry much about industrial disputes at the start of his administration.

It is simply a fact that labor contracts covering longer periods of time are now in vogue; and that many big contracts expire not in the spring but in late summer and fall.

The problem raised by the new consumers price index is this: The new index, with 1947-49 prices providing a base of 100, will replace both the indices put out now by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, one called the adjusted series, the other the old series. The base for both of these is the 1935-1939 period.

Several million workers, mainly in autos and rails, have wage contracts which regulate their pay according to changes in the cost of living. With few exceptions, these contracts use the old series index when it shows that living costs have gone up, wages are adjusted upward, usually at three-month intervals. When the index moves down, wages go down.

Four Tickets Given

Highway Patrolman Jack Taylor issued four tickets for speeding in the Big Spring area Friday night. He stated that two were given on north Highway 87, one on east Highway 80 and the other on west Highway 80.

Speaks Tonight

Paul Sherrod, who recently returned from an eight weeks visit to Germany, is to speak today at 7:30 p.m. at the Church of Christ at 14th and Main. He has been active in fostering missionary activities in the churches of Christ in Germany. Sherrod first visited Germany and Europe in 1948 and returned home to raise money for relief and missionary work. He returned to Germany in 1949 and again in 1952. Currently there are 21 congregations of churches of Christ in Germany and a training school is being conducted at Frankfurt. Visitors from surrounding towns are due to hear Sherrod today.

Entry List For HC Cage Tournament Is Complete

Entry list for the first annual Howard County Junior College Basketball Tournament, which takes place Jan. 1-3, was completed Saturday with the addition of Decatur Baptist College.

Pairings for the meet will probably be completed by Tuesday or Wednesday, Coach Harold Davis of HCJC, director of the meet, said Saturday.

Some of the field will be seeded, Davis pointed out. Teams, in addition to Decatur, which will compete here are Wharton, the National JC champion; Del Mar of Corpus Christi; Kilgore; Amarillo; Odessa; San Angelo and the host school.

The Jayhawks will see plenty of action this week, before disbanding for the Christmas holidays.

Davis takes his team to Abilene Tuesday night for an engagement with the Abilene Christian College team.

On Friday, the Hawks open play in the Ranger Tournament. They won consolation laurels last year and the season before, the last time Davis was at the helm, emerged as champions.

HCJC's first round opponent will be the strong Arlington State quintet, the defending champion. The two teams get together at 7:30 p.m.

Other first round pairings send Navarro against Cisco at 2 p.m.; Ranger against Tarrant at 3:30 and Lon Morris against San Angelo at 8 p.m.

If the Hawks win in the first round, they return to action against the Lon Morris-Angelo winner at 1 p.m. Saturday. If they lose, they go against the loser of the contest in the consolation bracket at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

Championship finals in the meet will be played at 8 p.m. Saturday. The consolation finals are due to begin 30 minutes earlier.

HC, Williams Pace League

Howard County Junior College's players set a fast pace in practice games played by Western Zone teams through Friday night.

HCJC and Clarendon were the only unbeaten teams and the Hawks had played five times, compared to only two by Clarendon.

The five boys who have been starting the HCJC games were at the very top in overall scoring, too. Bobby Williams, sophomore center from the locale, was out in front with 92 points to his credit.

HCJC's Jayhawks picked up speed in the last three periods to defeat the San Angelo College Rams, 81-72, in a rough basketball exhibition played here Friday night.

The Hawks, with two of their regulars—Bobby Mames and Dick Gilmore—sitting on the bench, fell eight points behind in the early moments of the battle but Gilmore led an attack that put the locals in command at half time, 39-34.

At one point in the fourth period, the Big Springers led by 14 points and, although they lost four boys via the foul route, were never in danger of losing the decision.

Bobby Williams, Mames, Gilmore and Don Stevens of the HC crew all had to go to the sidelines because they had committed the maximum number of penalties. Casey Jones had four fouls called against him as early as the first three minutes of the second period but his court department was perfect after that.

San Angelo, a perennial jinx for HCJC, lost four lads, too, on fouls. One of them, Tommy Milford of Lamesa, collected 17 points before bowing out in the third period.

Gilmore hit 11 points, all of them in the second period. The game's high scorer was Bobby (Dallas) Williams, with six field goals and ten free tosses for 22 points.

Lonnie Muse, Cecil Hoguard and Calvert Shortes filled in admirably when the HCJC regulars began their parade to the penalty box.

The Jayhawks reserves lost not only the decision to San Angelo's B team in the opener but the services until after Christmas of Johnny Randolph, as well. Randolph injured his ankle in the second period.

San Angelo won that one, 67-58, with Ozona's Joe Bailey collecting 13 points and Wes Rogers of Peacock 28 points for the winners.

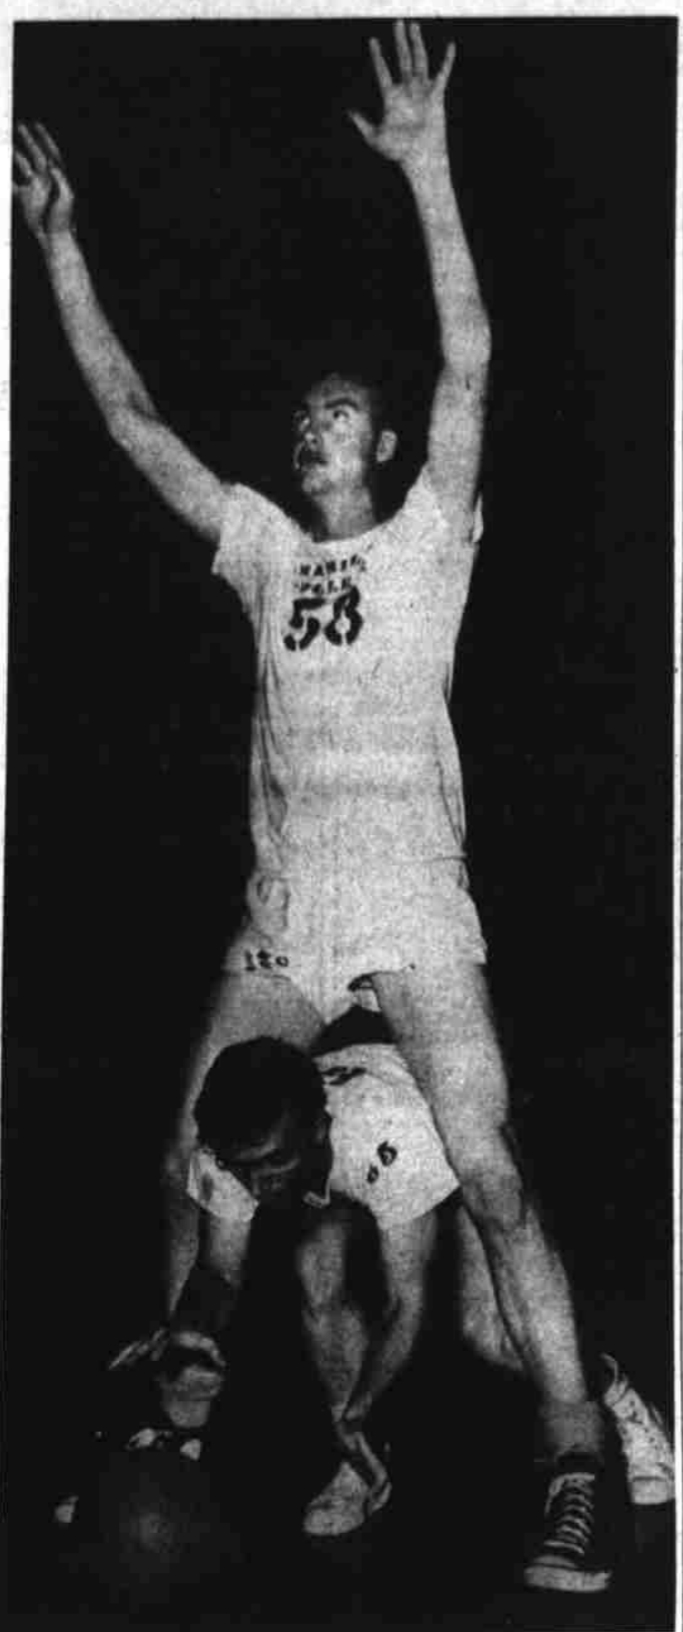

Rodney Cramer of Coahoma meshed 18 points, Shortes 14 for HCJC.

Two games are on tap Tuesday night in District 23-B basketball play, at which time the schedules open.

Garden City goes to Forsan and Knott invades Sterling City in opening round contests.

The quintets will not see conference action again until Jan. 9, at which time Garden City takes on Knott in Knott and Forsan will be at home to Coahoma.

Coahoma won the championship last season and is a slight favorite to repeat. Garden City is due to give the Bulldogs plenty of trouble, however.

Where There's A Will—

C. A. (Slick) Ellis, who is all of 5-feet-5, shows what he can do when he runs into an impossible situation on the basketball courts and that by darting through the legs of his Amarillo Junior College teammates, lat Tom Boyd (6-feet-8). The two and other Badgers will compete in the first annual HCJC Tournament here Jan. 1-2-3.

Hawks Scrap Back To Defeat Rams

HCJC's Jayhawks picked up speed in the last three periods to defeat the San Angelo College Rams, 81-72, in a rough basketball exhibition played here Friday night.

The Hawks, with two of their regulars—Bobby Mames and Dick Gilmore—sitting on the bench, fell eight points behind in the early moments of the battle but Gilmore led an attack that put the locals in command at half time, 39-34.

Tiremen Lick Mellinger's In Y Feature

Phillips Tire Company, Dibrell's Sporting Goods and Western Auto's Wizards chalked up impressive victories in YMCA Basketball League play in the Junior High Gymnasium Friday night.

In their first loop start of the year, the Tiremen humbled Vic Mellinger's Flyers, 43-26, pulling away with a torrid effort in the last half.

Dibrell's mastered Toby's Drive in Medics, 33-30, in the best game of the night.

Dibrell's boasted a five-point lead at half time but had its hands full containing the Toby attack in the final half.

The Wizards turned back Coca-Cola, 42-25, in the evening's final outing. Johnson collected 11 points, Mansfield nine for the winners.

On Monday night, Forsan tangles with Phillips at 7 p.m., Mellinger's Flyers meets Knott at 9 and Toby's Medics have it out with Western Auto at 9.

In contests in the Junior High Gym, East Ward triumphed over College Heights, 59-6, and Park Hill edged North Ward, 36-28.

Kate Morrison helped Washington Place's cause in that game by tossing in a field goal for the Senators by accident.

Terry Stanley collected five points for the Senators, Kenny Johnson four and Joe Perry three. David Abreo had five for the losers.

Ben McCrary scored 16 points for Central in its win over West. Jerry White contributed seven and Don Masters four.

Jimmy Parkhill, Wayne Fields, Charles Russell and Bernard McMahan all had big hands in East Ward's win over College Heights. Parkhill scored 16 points, Fields 15, Russell ten and McMahan 13 for the Hornets. Wilson Bell counted three and Jimmy Don Williams two.

Jerry Graham was the standout in Park Hill's win, collecting 22 for the Tigers.

Next in line is the Pacific Coast Conference, which won 19 and lost eight for a .704 average. SEC partisans can also point out that even without the 21-1 record compiled by the bowlers Georgia Tech, Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama and Florida—the SEC record is 16-6, or .727.

Who ranks third? Before that information is disclosed, it should be reiterated that the figures against non-conference opposition are not intended as a means of ranking the various conferences.

With that in mind, it can be reported that the Rocky Mountain Conference had the third best average against outside competition with 13 victories in 19 games for .684.

Most football writers and fans probably would agree that the Rocky Mountain boys would have a rough time against either Big Ten or Ivy League representatives. These two conferences had the lowest average — .400 — against non-conference competition, the Big Ten with 8-12 and the Ivy League with 10-15.

Big Ten partisans can find solace, however, in the fact that three of their defeats were inflicted by Michigan State, the nation's top-ranked team and a Big Ten standard bearer starting next year.

Purdue, Indiana and Michigan were beaten by Michigan State, and Purdue also bowed to Notre Dame.

The Big Seven and Missouri Valley Conferences were the only other league with winning averages against outside foes. The Big Seven took 16 out of 27 for .593 and the Valley teams had 16 victories against 13 defeats for .555. The overall average for the members of the various conferences was a winning one, though. They won 188 and lost 167, a .530 average.

Other conferences and their averages were: Southwest, .429 with a 12-16 record; Border, .425 with 17-23; and Southern and Skyline, both with 4-17. The Southern had a 30-42 record and Skyline 0-14.

It was the second straight year, incidentally, that the Southeastern Conference finished with the best average against non-conference foes.

That's one question that will be argued as long as football is played and never settled to the satisfaction of more than one party in the debate.

The Southeastern Conference, whose partisans have been spreading the news that five-count 'em—member teams are bowl-bound, may have something to back up their boasts.

It's foolhardy to go on record, outside of the Deep South, as saying the SEC teams are best, but it can be pointed out that they have a better record against non-conference opposition than any other conference.

A comparison of SEC conference records and all-gamerecords shows that the teams down in the Bowl belt won 37 games and lost only seven against the outsiders for an .841 victory percentage.

That may or may not prove they're the best in the land, but they do have a better average against non-conference opposition than any body else.

LITTLE SPORT

Senators, East, Central, Park Register Wins

Activity got underway on two fronts in Ward School Basketball League play Saturday morning.

In games played in the Senior High School gymnasium, Washington Place subdued Kate Morrison, 16-9, and Central Ward turned back West, 30-10.

In contests in the Junior High Gym, East Ward triumphed over College Heights, 59-6, and Park Hill edged North Ward, 36-28.

SOUTHWEST FAR DOWN LIST

S'Eastern Conference Has 1952's Top Grid Record

By RIP WATSON

NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (AP)—What section of the country has the best college football teams?

Is it the South, where anybody who is anybody is headed for a Jan. 1 bowl date? Or the rugged Midwest, where the Big Ten reigns supreme? How about the sun-drenched lads of the Pacific Coast, or the proud Texans of the Southwest Conference?

That's one question that will be argued as long as football is played and never settled to the satisfaction of more than one party in the debate.

Lubbock Rips North Dallas Club 42-14

LUBBOCK, Dec. 13 (U)—Lubbock's Westerners, defending state Class AAAA football champions, cruised to a 42-14 victory over outmanned North Dallas today to bluster into finals again.

The Westerners will meet Baytown, the team they defeated last year, for the 1952 crown next week.

A rugged defense, led by end Pat Hartsfield, stole the show from a powerful Lubbock attack before a crowd of 16,000. Hartsfield, a 185-pounder, blocked four North Dallas punts and each led to scores for the Westerners.

Lubbock struck for its first score before the game was five minutes old on the fourth offensive play. But a scrapping North Dallas defense held the Westerners at bay until midway of the second quarter and Lubbock led only 13 to 0 at the half.

But the bottom fell out in the third period as Lubbock struck for three touchdowns, all coming after Bulldog plays had backfired. Hartsfield set up the first two with his blocks of Bulldog punts and then a pass interception that backfired at the North Dallas 30 set up another.

Lubbock reserves played freely for the Westerners in the final period, allowing both North Dallas touchdowns which also came on short drives. Then the Lubbock regulars returned to power 78 yards for their final score and add a capping safety when Hartsfield climaxed a brilliant performance by blocking a final punt in the North Dallas end zone. The ball rolled out of the end zone for an automatic safety.

Fullback James Welch led the Lubbock touchdown parade with three on runs of 16, 8 and 23 yards. Quarterback Jim Haynie counted the first on a 15-yard jaunt. Guard Harold Teal fell on one of Hartsfield punt blocks in the Bulldog end zone for the third touchdown. Halfback Red Noland counted once on a plunge from the 1.

The Westerners rolled up 225 yards rushing to 104 for North Dallas. They completed four passes of 25 or more yards, but North Dallas was not able to complete a pass against the tight Lubbock defense in ten tries.

Read, Kennedy Are Honored

LORAIN — Loraine defeated Bronte, 40-39, in the finals of the Loraine Invitational Basketball Tournament here Saturday night. In the girls' finals, Bronte nudged Coahoma, 51-40.

Rotan won boys' consolation at the expense of Millersview, 37-19. Loraine prevailed in girls' consolation, defeating Hobbs, 29-26.

Bob Price led the Loraine boys' team to victory, collecting 16 points. J. O. Bagwell had 14 for the Bronte club.

Boys named to the all-tournament team were George Peel, Rotan; Bill Read, Coahoma; J. O. Bagwell, Baonte; Doyle Nix, Loraine; and Bob Price, Loraine.

Girls honored as all-stars were Jane Kiker, Rotan; Idelle Humall, Hobbs; Jo Dell Walton, Bronte; LaVerne Kennedy, Coahoma; Mary Ann Gray, Bronte; and Nancy Spurrier, Loraine.

Bronte's boys nipped Coahoma in a tight battle Saturday morning, 44-42. The final whistle cut off what would have been the tying basket.

Loraine sidelined the Colorado City Wolves in the other boys' semi-finals, 37-38. Joe Ed Coldeway led the winners with 14 points, Don Maynard the losers with nine.

The Bronte girls moved into the finals by trouncing Roscoe, 33-20, Saturday morning.

Coahoma's girls kept pace by nudging Colorado City, 37-27. Coahoma led at half time, 25-9. Florence Kennedy accumulated 22 points for Coahoma, Mary Golden had 21 for the losers.

JIMMY KITTS, EX-RICE MENTOR, DEATH VICTIM

EL PASO, Dec. 13 (U)—Jimmy Kitts, a little man who was mighty big in sports, died today. He was 32.

The former Southwest Conference football star and coach died of an internal hemorrhage. He had entered a hospital Thursday.

As an all-around athlete at Southern Methodist, he won 11 letters in football, basketball and baseball. After JIMMIE KITTs a couple of years of playing minor league baseball, Kitts turned to coaching, producing two national high school champion basketball teams and later, at Rice Institute, two Southwest Conference football champions.

Recently he had been manager of the Student Union Building at Texas Western University. Kitts was born and raised in Dallas. He never graduated from high school but passed the entrance examinations to Southern Methodist. As a 136-pound end he made All-Conference. When he got up to 140 pounds, he was switched to quarterback where he again made All-Conference. From 1918 to 1921, he won four letters in football, three in basketball and four in baseball.

After playing pro baseball with Greenville in the old East Texas League and trying with Dallas in the Texas League, Kitts went into coaching. At Athens, Texas, High School he produced two national champions.

He went to Rice as basketball coach and became football coach in 1934, winning the championship that year. His team also won the title in 1937 and defeated Colorado, 38-14, in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day, 1938.

CONFERENCES SLATED

Bill Frank said he would know today whether he would take over the Big Spring baseball club of the Longhorn League.

Frank To Decide Club Fate Today

In addition to concessions equipment, uniforms and other items. The team bus is privately owned and the park which the team uses is, of course, owned by the Big Spring school system.

Frank returned to his home in San Angelo Saturday after conferring with local men most of the week. He said every where he went here people stopped him to express hope that the game would return here but, he discovered, few of the fans could or would put up money.

Stasey, who is moving to Roswell where he will become general manager of that club, has been given until Dec. 15 by the Longhorn League to dispose of the club here.

If Frank is not successful in his move to take over here, then Stasey plans to sell it elsewhere. Hobbs, N. M., has been mentioned as a possibility.

TEXAS ATTACK BETTER

Cotton Bowl Game Looms As Tossup

DALLAS, Dec. 13 (U)—The Cotton Bowl football game is less than three weeks away but there has been no change in the view of how the thing will go—it'll be Texas offense vs that well-known bulldog defense of the Tennessee Volunteers.

That's how it was scheduled in 1951 when these same teams met in the Dallas New Year's Day gridiron extravaganza but Texas fans are hoping the resemblance stops there. They'd like to win this one.

Tennessee looked like it might be run out of the park in the first half in 1951 but had the stuff down the stretch to win, 20-14. The rock-ribbed Tennessee defense wore Texas down and Tennessee turned loose with some terrific running.

Offensively, it would appear that Texas is so far ahead as to be the favorite in this game. The Longhorns, in winning eight of ten games, rushed and passed for 3,865 yards, which is more than 1,000 yards better than Tennessee did in winning eight, losing one and tying one. The Vols gained 2,809 yards running and passing.

But Tennessee's defensive record easily outstrips Texas. The Longhorns allowed an average of 220.4 yards per game. Tennessee gave up only 166.7... and the Vols never permitted over two touchdowns in any one game while Texas twice was well over that—allowing 49 points by Oklahoma and 33 by Baylor.

It shapes up as something of a "grudge" battle because each team has a flock of boys on it who played in that 1951 game. One of Tennessee's stars, however—the fellow who did so much damage to Texas—may not be in the Vol lineup this time. He is Andy Kozar, the Tennessee fullback who was voted top back of the 1951 game. Kozar missed the last two games of the season because of an injury that may not be healed sufficiently for him to play here Jan. 1. Kozar is the only Tennessee back who can approach the leading groundgainers of Texas. Dick Ochoa, Longhorn fullback, led the Southwest Conference with 819 yards. Gib Dawson was second with 649 and Billy Quinn was third with 627. Kozar gained 660.

The next Vol to him was his substitute, Ray Byrd, who rolled up 515.

In passing, T Jones, the Texas quarterback, completed 63 of 132 for 1,018 yards. Tennessee's top marksman, Pat Shires, connected on 15 of 38 for 252 yards. But, as Texas found out in 1951, an offensive edge means nothing when playing Tennessee. Those Vols have a habit of throwing the runners for losses and catching the passers' passes, meanwhile waiting for fumbles and blocked kicks.

Survivors include his widow and a son, Jimmie Jr., now in the Army.

The body was to be sent to Dallas.

Gilmore Shines As Hawks Win Sixth Straight

HJC's crack basketball legions made it two straight wins over Cisco JC and six triumphs without a reversal by beating the Wranglers, 62-48, here Saturday night.

Richard Gilmore waxed warm for the Big Springers, clicking for 21 points.

Cisco's Peek Hall was the game's top scorer, however, with 25 points. Casey Jones and Bobby Williams each had 11 points for the provincials.

HC was in command from the start, despite the fact that Bobby Maines retired early in the contest on a strong recommendation from Referee Glenn Redfield.

Cecil Hoggard and Rod Cramer each collected eight field goals and three gratis pitches to divide scoring laurels in the B contest.

The Beahawks were in down ten points at half time but took command immediately after the intermission and were not to be denied.

Webb Defeats Amjets Twice

The Webb Air Base Dusters returned Saturday from Amarillo, where they registered wins over the Amarillo AB Amjets.

The local fliers defeated the Amjetos, 73-52, Thursday and then returned the following night to chalk up a 70-56 triumph.

Webb had lost two decisions to Bergstrom earlier in the week. On Monday, they were tripped up, 80-83. The following night, Bergstrom won, 70-65.

In the Tuesday game, George Simpson roped 35 points for the Dusters.

The Dusters have disbanded until after the holidays. They play their next game here Jan. 6, at which time they test Perrin AB in a Southwest Conference (Air Force) game. In warmup tilts, they won six games, lost three.

Junior Rose Bowl Ends In Deadlock

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 13 (U)—A touchdown after the final gun sounded gave Hartnell Junior College of Salinas, Calif., a 20-20 tie today with Bacone Junior College of Muskogee, Okla., in the Junior Rose Bowl game.

Trailing 20-14 with five seconds to go, Hartnell tried one last desperate pass. Bacone Back intercepted it and was dwned as the gun sounded.

But interference was ruled and Hartnell had one more chance. It made good on a pass from Arlin Dillard to Tony Terasa for 15 yards. But the conversion which would have won the game was blocked by an angry, charging band of Indians.

Bowling Schedule Begins Jan. 8

The Officers' Wives Bowling League begins a new session on Jan. 8. All eligible persons interested in compete have been asked to contact Mrs. J. C. Alexander, phone number 620-J-2. She is handling registration.

The bowlers will have a luncheon at the NCO Club on the base next Tuesday.

Team 4 won honors in the first round.

SCHREINER MAY QUIT

DALLAS, Dec. 13 (U)—The Pioneer Junior College Conference decided today to continue spring football practice and football scouting despite the fact that Schreiner Institute hinted it might be forced to withdraw from the league.

Temple Comes From Behind To Defeat McAllen, 36-14

TEMPLE, Dec. 13 (U)—Doyle Traylor passed for two touchdowns and scored one himself today as Temple roared from behind to a 36-14 victory over McAllen and a place in the finals of Class AAA schoolboy football.

McAllen, which like Temple was undefeated and untied, gave the Wildcats a hefty fight for a half, leading 14-12 at the intermission. But early in the third period Temple cashed in on a break and from then on had no trouble riddling the futile Bulldogs.

Temple scored midway of the first period on a 59-yard drive with Traylor blasting over from the three on a keeper. Donnell Berry's try for point was blocked.

The Wildcats scored again late in the first period when Traylor passed to Berry for 23 yards. Berry missed the conversion.

In the second period McAllen quickly marched 65 yards for a touchdown with Gary Rankins bounding over two yards out. Luis Guerra kicked the extra point.

Late in the second quarter, Temple fumbled on its three-yard line. Joe Manca recovered for McAllen and Rankins rammed over for a touchdown. Guerra's kick was good.

In the third, McAllen's Ramiro Leal brought the kickoff to his 25-yard line but McAllen was penalized to its three for clipping. Caesar Fulton tried a pitch-out and it was wild. Hal Fain Waggoner recovered behind the goal line for a touchdown. Berry again missed the point.

A short Temple punt set up the next Temple touchdown. Gaining the ball on the McAllen 32, Temple

Ford Picks Up Another Stroke

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 13 (U)—Doug Ford, Harrison N. Y. pro with a record for golf tournament consistency, picked up a stroke today in his duel with Jack Burke, Houston, for the first prize in the $10,000 Miami Open.

Adding a two under par 68 today to his pair of 67s in the first two rounds, Ford increased his margin over the second place Burke from one to two strokes with 18 holes to go.

The New Yorker's 54-hole count was 202, eight strokes over par.

FORD'S PASSES SET PACE

BRECKENRIDGE, TEX., Dec. 13

U—Breckenridge, fighting hard to retain its Class AAAA state football crown, rolled into the finals of that division today by crushing the outclassed Texarkana Tigers, 24-7, before more than 6,000 fans.

The victory sends the Buckaroos against mighty Temple in next week's finals.

That will be the second time in a row for these two teams to fight it out for the title. Breckenridge won last year.

The passing of quarterback Ken Ford and the sparkling running of a bevy of Buckaroo backs, including Bobby Pharris and Billy Dandy, paced the Breckenridge attack. Dandy skipped 49 yards on one touchdown dash and Pharris 36 yards for another.

Breckenridge led only 7-0 at the half but added three touchdowns in the third quarter and another in the fourth to smother the Tigers.

The Bucks' first tally came seven minutes deep in the initial period. Breckenridge runners worked the ball from their own 25-yard line to the Texarkana 49. From there Dandy got loose on his 49-yard touchdown run. Bobby Keith kicked the first of four successful conversion attempts.

The second period went scoreless. Early in the third quarter, when Pharris executed his 36-yard touchdown dash, knitting through the right side of a bewildered Texarkana line.

Later in the same period quarterback Ford tossed a touchdown pass to Keith on the Tiger 13, he went over standing up. Keith missed the conversion.

The Bucks rang up their third score in the third period when Pharris smashed through the right side for 13 yards.

Texarkana led off the fourth-quarter scoring with its only tally. The Tigers took the ball at midfield and worked it to the 15-yard line. From there Tiger quarter-

Poly Wins HSU Tournament By Defeating Berger, 70-65

ABILENE—Poly High of Fort Worth nosed out Berger, 70-65, in the championship finals of the annual Hardin-Simmons University Basketball Tournament here Saturday night.

Birdville turned back Coleman in consolation finals, 61-45, while Abilene took third place by defeating San Angelo, 70-65.

Big Spring, beaten by Berger, 75-36, Friday; lost to Coleman in the first round of consolation play Saturday morning, 63-42.

Poly bested Abilene and Berger clipped San Angelo in the semi-

EMPLOYMENT
SALESMEN, AGENTS

A SINCERE, FRIENDLY SALESMAN MUST BE SELF-STARTER

In line with our policy of selection of top-grade personnel, I need a self-starter for my established, protected Big Spring territory. Every account repeats several times a year. My company, Kemper-Thomas of Cincinnati, is in its 70th year as manufacturer of business gifts, and still the fastest growing. AAA-1 rating, largest line in field, nationally advertised. Everyone in business a prospect. We will train and help you get started. You can earn more with our liberal commission and bonus plan. Weekly checks against commissions. Fine opportunity for advancement. Free $5,000 life insurance policy without examination, after you qualify. If you own car and want to build your business without investment, write today to W. E. Williamson, P. O. Box 775, Amarillo, Texas.

WANTED
Interstate Engineering Corporation has openings in Big Spring for vacuum cleaner or sewing machine salesman. Man or woman. If you like to sell and enjoy a nice income by door-to-door work, we will pay you a deal over offered in this field of activity. For interview, write 1011 Walnut St., Abilene, Texas

Legislators Seen Sold On Need For Action On Water Problem

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another story analyzing the findings of an Associated Press survey of what state legislators and representatives think will be the most vital issues facing the 53rd Legislature when it meets Jan. 13.
By MAC ROY RASOR

AUSTIN, Dec. 13 (AP)—Texas' prolonged, economy strangling drought is certain to bring the 53rd Legislature to grips with one of the state's oldest puzzles—what to do about conserving water.

For years legislatures have battled at a standstill with the many factions who want something done but can't agree on what it should be. The Associated Press survey of the attitudes and thinking of next year's lawmakers indicates there'll be more of the same.

Severity of the drought, power of a state-wide conservation committee on water conservation and threat of federal invasion of the state fails to act may tilt the scales in favor of some sort of compromise.

Lawmakers apparently are sold on the need for action. They rated the problem second among the important issues facing the coming session.

"The most important matter affecting Texas' overall economy," said Sen. Carlos Ashley, Llano.

"A top issue"—Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman, San Angelo.

"Acute in many areas of the state"—Rep. Maurice S. Pipkin, Brownsville.

"One of the major matters"—Rep. Tom Heathman, Cuero.

But the lawmakers aren't kidding themselves about any paved road to a happy solution.

"Very difficult to satisfy diverse interests," said Ashley.

"It will take a lot of financing and fussing and fighting over water rights and dam building," said Rep. David Ratliff, Stamford.

To Rep. Dolph Briscoe, Uvalde, additional taxation appeared necessary.

"I do not think we should look to the federal government for the solution to the water problem, nor do I think that an adequate water conservation program can be financed on a local level. To me, this means the state will have to participate, and that means additional taxation," he said.

Gov. Shivers' 101-man water committee has attempted to do much of the spadework necessary to getting a specific program quickly under legislative consideration. One of its major proposals is a plan for raising money to help local communities build their own dams and reservoirs. The money would come from fees to be paid the state for use of all public flowing water. The 2 1/2 million dollars that the fees would raise yearly would be used to guarantee revenue bonds for financing the projects.

Other proposals call for more power for the State Board of Water Engineers, a system of cancellation for issuance of water permits, mandatory reports from water permit holders, an inventory of all Texas water resources and other reforms.

The governor's committee will have its recommendations—some possibly in the form of bills—ready for the Legislature when the session begins Jan. 13. Few, if any, committee members expect total success. One member, Houston at-

Jodie Miller Is Contest Winner

Jodie Miller, Big Spring High School student, Saturday won an area beauty contest at Midland.

With the honor went a $625 scholarship at any college of her choosing.

Midland Jaycees sponsored the contest which drew entrants from nine cities in this area. All contestants were presented compacts and Miss Miller, as winner, also was given a large bouquet of red roses.

Runner-up was Zetta Faye Anderson, McCamey, who received a wrist watch. The scholarship award was posted by the Midland Jaycees and other prizes were furnished by merchants of the host city through the Jaycee organization. There was a luncheon at the Midland Country Club and then a parade downtown Saturday afternoon with the Cowden and San Jacinto Junior High Bands furnishing music.

Miss Miller is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard L. Miller, 1700 Eleventh Place. Other entries were Faye Henshaw, Midland, Ann Hogg, Monahans, Dot Fisher, Odessa, Ann Harding, Andrews, Nola Boyd, Rankin, Glad Reynolds, Garden City, Beth West, Big Lake.

Photo Studio Is Opened At Forsan

FORSAN, Dec. 13—Add a photographic studio to the list of businesses for this southern Howard County community.

It is the La Hei Studio, which takes its name from parts of the two owner-operators. They are C. J. (Jack) Lamb and Wally Heideman.

Heideman is an experienced photographer. Since 1945, he has been a mechanic at the Big Spring Motor Company. About a year ago his father-in-law, Lamb, became interested in photography as a hobby.

However, the hobby grew to be such a robust thing that Lamb combined his equipment with Heideman's know-how and they set up a studio and darkroom at Heideman's home. Now they do portrait as well as commercial and other work.

The venture is an after-hours one for both the men. Lamb has been 15 years with Conoco here and continues his regular assignment with the company.

NATO Nations Set For Second Major Parley

PARIS, Dec. 13 (AP)—Fourteen nations, with more potential fire power than any other combination of nations in the world met here Monday to try to strengthen their European defense system so it would endure against any attack from the East.

Representatives of the North Atlantic Treaty powers will hold their second major conference of 1952 in the shadow of the Eiffel Tower, which has stood through two world wars and may see another if NATO fails in its purpose.

Foreign, finance and defense ministers and high military men are gathering for the new sessions.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Treasury Secretary John Snyder reached Paris today. Both are retiring soon along with the Truman administration. Acheson commented:

"I'm sorry this will be the last time I shall be taking part in this work. I'll do what I can when I return to private life to help further the work of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization."

The job of the NATO ministers and military leaders is to push Russian influence as far east of the Elbe River as possible in peace time and to keep Russian armies as far east as possible in the event of war.

Two District Judge Appointments Are Made By Shivers

AUSTIN, Dec. 13 (AP)—Appointment of two district judges to fill vacancies occurring from advancement of present judges to appellate courts was announced by Gov. Shivers today.

He named A. J. Bryan, Hillsboro judge of the 66th Judicial District, succeeding Frank G. McDonald, Hillsboro, who has been elected to the 10th Court of Civil Appeals at Waco. The 66th District is in Hill County.

J. C. Epperson, Alpine, was named judge of 83rd Judicial District, comprised of Brewster, Jeff Davis, Pecos, Presidio, Reagan and Upton Counties. He will succeed Ian Fraser, Alpine, who has been elected to the 8th Court of Civil Appeals at El Paso.

The appointments will be effective Jan. 2.

Thixtons Return Here From Boston

Service Is Set For Owen Infant

Funeral services for Henry Houston Owen Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Owen Sr., will be held at the Nalley Chapel at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Interment will be in Trinity Memorial Cemetery with Rev. Jimmy Parks, pastor of the Fourth Street Baptist Church officiating.

The child was born Dec. 6 and died Saturday.

The survivors, in addition to the parents are a brother, Eddie; a sister, Sharon, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lovorn of Coahoma.

Quadruplets Doing Things By Fours

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 13 (AP)—The Zavada quadruplets of nearby Latrobe, Pa., continued doing things by fours today, and as a result the three little girls and a boy haven't a tonil among them.

The operations were performed at St. Francis Hospital where the quadruplets were admitted yesterday.

The Pittsburgh district's only quadruplets, children of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Zavada, will be 5 on Dec. 15.

Wooten To Be Judge

MAKING HIS OWN DECISIONS Ike Is More Sure Of Himself Now That Campaign Is Over

By DON WHITEHEAD

REN ROUTE HOME FROM KOREA, Dec. 13 (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower has emerged from the strange wilderness of the presidential campaign into a position of command where once again he is more like the Eisenhower of pre-political days.

It is almost as if Eisenhower had gone through a phase in which he had shed his old personality in the campaign and then donned the old, comfortable personality again after victory at the polls.

At least that is the impression of this reporter who knew Eisenhower in World War II, watched a subtle change take place when he became a politician, and now is seeing the old Ike emerge again.

The Eisenhower of June 1 to Nov. 4—the campaigning days—was never quite the Eisenhower we had known in Europe. And perhaps the reason was that other people were making the big political decisions for him.

Eisenhower never made any secret of the fact that he was the amateur in political maneuvering—and that he was leaving the strategy to his advisers in the political field.

But that period ended with the election. Now Eisenhower is the boss once more. He has slipped back into his role easily and with an outward confidence that he never quite achieved as the political campaigner.

As the Allied commander in World War II, Gen. Eisenhower made the great and final decisions. He moved with decision and sureness through world-shaking events, dealing with world figures on an easy and friendly basis.

In those days, Eisenhower always was the boss. His meteoric rise in the Army and in the diplomacy of the time never overwhelmed him. But even with this rise to power and fame, Eisenhower still retained a midwestern, down to earth quality.

He moved in a world he knew intimately—the military world. And he didn't seem to lose his stride in moving through the diplomatic maze.

Eisenhower's great achievement

—if one is to be singled out—was his ability to bring people of contrasting nationalities and personalities together and to make them work as a team. It became a passion with him. And he delegates responsibility, depending a great deal on those he brought to his staff.

There is a story, perhaps apocryphal, that Eisenhower once called an American officer on the carpet for having been in a violent argument with his British opposite.

As the story goes, he told the officer: "I didn't mind your calling him a S.O.B. But when you called him a British S.O.B. that was too much." And the American was sent home.

At any rate, the story does illustrate the Eisenhower demand in those days for teamwork.

And the strong Eisenhower personality and directness in command never seemed to vary in the post-war years.

The subtle change seemed to come when Eisenhower returned home last June to enter the race for the Republican presidential nomination.

Before the Chicago convention, Eisenhower told reporters in Denver that he was "in the hands of the politicians" when someone asked a question about convention strategy. He replied: "You'll have to ask Lodge about that."

He was referring to Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge (R-Mass.), who helped lead the fight for his nomination.

Eisenhower's political board of strategy plotted the moves he made. Speeches were written for him. He was guided through the political maze and it seemed the sharp outlines of the old Eisenhower personality had become blurred.

One of his close associates told me recently: "Ike came home not knowing A from B in the political world. He didn't know whom to trust and which advice was best. But I must admit he learned fast."

This same adviser said: "But he's the boss now. Make no mistake about that and he knows where he's going and what he wants to do."

"It's been just six weeks since the election and look what he's done. He's named his Cabinet, taken a look at Korea, and now has completed the first moves in outlining a new policy for the entire Far East. It's quite an accomplishment."

And there has been a transformation in Eisenhower, too, since he won the election. The personality is no longer blurred.

John Foster Dulles gave Eisenhower full credit for this week's conferences which are shaping American policy and which Dulles says "will pay dividends to the American people for years to come." He said they were Eisenhower's idea.

Once again Eisenhower is pulling people together to work as a team. Just as he did while supreme commander in Europe, he has a definite goal and is moving toward it as the commander-in-chief.

And it's reassuring to see the old Ike once again.

Students Vote On Favorites

Balloting was completed Friday at Big Spring High School for favorites.

Winners will be announced at the annual Christmas formal set for Dec. 22 in the high school gymnasium. The student council is sponsoring.

In the run-off, candidates for best all-around were Bobby Haywood and J. C. Armistead and Rosemary Rice and Anna Mae Thorp.

Class favorite candidates were: Seniors—Joyce Gound, Narrell Dene Choate, Ted Scott and Don Anderson; juniors—Anne Gray, Bea Vaughn, Robert Angel, Jimmy Porter; sophomores—Barbara Bowen, Nannette Farquhar, Carlisle Robinson, Lefty Reynolds.

Other student activities on the pre-Christmas calendar include the presentation at 3 p.m. today in the high school auditorium of the "Messiah" by the choir. Director Harry Lee Plumbley has had the young singers at work on Handel's masterpiece for several weeks.

Guess He Doesn't Get An Award Now

LONGVIEW, Dec. 13 (AP)—When Longview cops see an exceptionally careful motorist, they give him a safe-driver award on the spot.

Capt. Robert Tait saw one. He followed the car. The driver didn't make a mistake.

"That's my boy," said the captain. He pulled into the inside lane to signal the driver to the curb.

The driver made a left turn from the right-hand lane in the middle of the block in front of the captain.

He got his award—a summons.

at LaGuardia Field at 12 noon CST, tomorrow.

A decision on where the Constellation may land on the West Coast will be delayed until Eisenhower's party is five hours out over the Pacific.

Eisenhower was on the last leg of a journey that will have taken him 21,672 miles from his New York headquarters to Korea and back.

At his Thursday news conference, Truman termed the Eisenhower trip "a piece of political demagoguery."

However, one source said he anticipated no trouble in an orderly changeover of administrations below the Cabinet level, adding there had been no friction.

He reported that "some strain at the high level" already has developed between the Truman Cabinet and Eisenhower's liaison men, Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge and Joseph M. Dodge.

The source said Eisenhower-Truman relations, which he pictured as badly strained during the presidential campaign, might become cordial formally.

Informants said the President-elect thinks the Truman statement should be ignored, and that he will pursue his own program—including a study of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's proposals on ending the Korean War.

Eisenhower concluded his high-level talks here last night with a brief conference which one aide described as "the most important of the whole trip" in setting the course of the new administration.

It was learned the group made considerable progress in clarifying agreements on the plans of the new administration, including questions involving Korea. It was understood, however, that no exact decisions evolved from the talks.

Eisenhower arose early today for a 7:30 golfing date with Marine Col. Welsensberg, Gen. Kaneohe base commander, and Navy Lt. (j.g.) Daniel Webb Mayse of San Diego. Mayse had lugged Eisenhower's golf clubs through 36 holes of golf yesterday and Thursday.

On Monday, the President-elect is expected to return to work at his Commodore Hotel headquarters in New York, with a possibility that he will meet with Gen. MacArthur some time next week.

In Washington, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, spent 20 minutes at the White House today. Reporters had no chance to question him. (Bradley accompanied Eisenhower to Korea, but there was no indication of what he may have reported to the President.)

On his final night in Hawaii, Eisenhower and Secretary of State-designate John Foster Dulles dined with cub reporter Gordon Morse of the Honolulu Advertiser and his pretty wife, Jo Ann.

Mrs. Morse, who likes to write letters, had sent one off to Eisenhower aboard the cruiser Helena last night inviting them to dinner. They stayed for nearly three hours. Morse had only two words for fellow newsmen:

"No comment."

Hi-Y Group Will Take Over Austin

AUSTIN, Dec. 13 (AP)—Texas government will go into the hands of 600 high school students and their advisors the week end of Dec. 19-21.

It will be the sixth annual Hi-Y youth and government session.

The session begins at 9 a.m. Friday with Ray Farabee, Wichita Falls, Hi-Y governor last year, presiding.

A governor will be elected from among four candidates: Harold Group, Amarillo; Walter Wink, Dallas; David Moore, Corpus Christi; and Ruth Parker, Port Arthur.

Other Hi-Y state officials already have been elected. They include: Tom Robinson, Denison speaker; Paula Powers, Abilene, secretary of state; Roger Brown, Big Spring, chaplain of house; Lewellyn Williams, Port Arthur, reading clerk-senate.

Two Texans Get Rhodes Honors

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 13 (AP)—Two Texans today won two-year Rhodes scholarships to the University of Oxford in England.

They are: James F. Garner, Amarillo, a senior at Yale University majoring in English literature.

Charles Peritt, Houston, a senior at Yale University majoring in history.

County Car Is Said Involved In Mishap

A 1951 Ford bearing a Howard County license plate was identified by police Saturday as one involved in a mishap at Third and Gregg Friday afternoon.

C. L. Ross, Wayne, Okla., said the Ford was in collision with his machine about 4:30 p.m. He said driver of the car left the scene without leaving required information.

No charges have been filed, however.

Winners Picked In Shopping Test

Imagination, ingenuity, considerable artistry and a lot of hard work went into entries submitted this week in the Christmas Shoppers Contest, conducted by The Herald with cooperation of 28 Big Spring firms.

A board of three judges studied long hours Saturday before determining winners from the great profusion of entries. From the lot, eight had to be picked to share in the $75 in cash awards.

It was finally determined that first award of $25 would go to M. E. Martin, 1604 Wood Street. This entry was a clever arrangement of children's play blocks, boxed attractively. On each side of the cubes was pasted the correct Christmas Shoppers Item, as determined from a visit to the stores.

Mrs. C. D. Herring, Box 64, was awarded second prize of $15 for a well-built Santa's sleigh, in which old Santa himself rode. And fitting the sleigh were the Shoppers' items arranged as attractive wreaths.

James Stephens of 1507 11th Place, adapted the "air age" for his entry, having fashioned a model fighter plane as Santa's vehicle. From the plane were suspended the miniature wreaths bearing the shopping items. James took third place and $10.

Five honorable mention awards were made, with $5 going to each of the following:

Delma Hall, 1501 Scurry, who added unique interest to her entry by enclosing it in a box of delicious divinity candy. Nestled in the box were the wreaths with the shopping items, attractively framed.

Mrs. Mattie Crews, Box 494, who put her shopping item wreaths into a red Christmas stocking. Each item, as listed in the stores, was illustrated with pictures cut from publications.

Carolyn Halbrook, 1111 Wood, who meticulously colored the contest page, then put a border of net and Christmas bows around each of the shopping item wreaths.

Mrs. Paul Hutchens, 2008 Nolan, who fashioned a large actual holiday wreath of cedar and mistletoe, then adorned this with cutout pieces to show the shopping items.

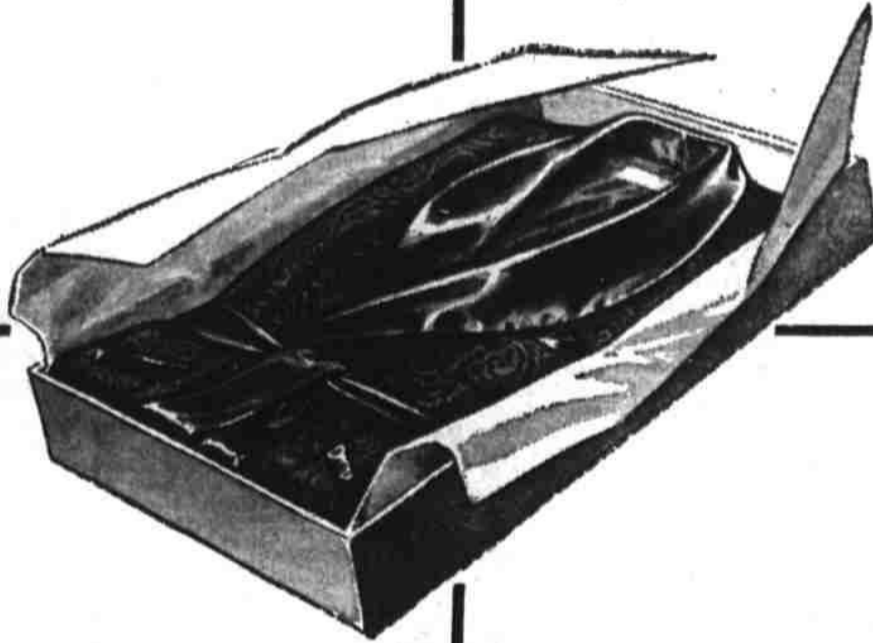

Diane Tidwell, Box 1461, who used a great piece of cardboard, upon which were mounted Santa's sleigh and his reindeer, wearing harness with bells. Into the sleigh were piled the colored shoppers' wreaths, in such a way that they resembled Christmas packages.

Checks to these winners were put in the mails Saturday.

Judges said all entries were of outstanding merit, and that it was difficult to make the award decisions. The Herald and participating merchants are appreciative of the fine response to the shoppers' contest.

It Says Right Here

Foreign Cadets At Webb Remember Christmas In Their Native Lands

Christmas is Christmas the world over. To Americans it means Santa Claus and stockings hung by the chimney with care. But to four cadets at Webb Air Force Base, whose homes are in widely scattered parts of the globe, Christmas means different things. Cadet K. B. Andersen, who left his parents, five brothers and two sisters in their home in the northern part of Denmark last January, is a good example.

Christmas has always started for the Andersens on Christmas Eve with the entire family attending Lutheran Church services. After church, Christmas hymns are sung and the Christmas tree is lighted. White lights or red and white lights, the national colors, are the only ones used on the tree. Along with the traditional Christmas balls, Danish flags are included in the tree decorations.

Contrary to the American belief that it's bad luck to keep a Christmas tree up after Jan. 1, the Danes leave theirs until Jan. 6, the "Day of Three Kings."

Gifts in Danish homes are always opened late Christmas Eve. Julenisse, their version of the American Santa Claus, arrives by sleigh to visit the children, who must have been good all year long. Cadet Andersen, 22, will probably spend this Christmas with a buddy.

"But there's a lot of 'if' about anything when you're a cadet," he smiled wistfully.

Christmas Eve dinner always begins the celebration of Christmas in Belgium, according to Cadet Prosper Van Cauter of Mollen.

After dinner the family always attends Midnight Mass.

"Then when we come home again those who are hungry eat and those who are thirsty drink," laughed the cadet.

Gifts are opened around 2 or 3 a.m. Christmas morning. Santa Claus visits Belgian children Dec. 6, according to the cadet. They believe he arrives by horseback, so baskets of hay are placed in each home so that Santa's horse won't get hungry along the way.

Instead of turkey, duck graces Belgian tables at the feast on Christmas Day.

Cadet Van Cauter may visit some friends in Georgia during the holidays.

Christmas is a very holy season of the year for his countrymen in France, Cadet Frank Moneglia says.

He has traveled much during his life in Syria, Austria and France, and can call no one place home. His mother lives in Lyons, France.

After mass on Christmas Eve, there is a Christmas tree, a feast and a family gathering.

"We always have had turkey and wine—no milk at the feasts," the 20-year-old cadet quipped.

Maybe he won't be dreaming of a white Christmas but come Dec. 25 Cadet Giovanna Buffagni of Bolozna, Italy will be thinking of his parents and his brother and two sisters he left behind.

Agreeing with his foreign cadet counterparts that the celebration always begins with church services on Christmas Eve, he differs when it comes to the celebration afterwards.

After mass, Italians always join in having a feast of grapes and bread. It's a very old custom and one whose origin Cadet Buffagni cannot explain.

The Nativity Scene, which is always a focal point of Italian homes during the Yuletide, is lighted immediately after church.

During the evening, Papa Natale,

Father Christmas, visits the homes, puts gifts beneath the tree and stuffs the stockings for good little Italian children.

On Christmas Day there is always a feast, but there are no traditional foods.

Dec. 31, the Italian have another exchange of gifts to start off the New Year properly.

Since he can't go home for Christmas, the next best thing as far as Cadet Buffagni, 22, is concerned is to spend the holidays with some Italian friends in Los Angeles.

Although they come from widely scattered points in the world, the cadets and their American counterparts all agree that Christmas with its visiting, feasting and worshipping is a very special day.

Edward McConnells Are On Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. McConnell are on a wedding trip to San Antonio and Corpus Christi following their marriage here Wednesday.

The bride is the former Dorothy Sikes, daughter of Mrs. G. W. Sikes, 806 Gregg. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Hughes, 2010 Gregg.

Dr. Ahle H. Carleton, pastor of the First Methodist Church, performed the formal, single ring ceremony at the church at 6:30 p.m. The couple repeated their vows as they stood before a candlelit altar flanked by baskets of white gladioli and greenery.

Mrs. Tolford Durham, organist, played the traditional wedding marches. She also accompanied her husband who sang "Sweetest Story Ever Told." Mr. and Mrs. Durham then sang, as a duet, "I Love You Truly."

Given in marriage by her brother, Charles R. Sikes, the bride wore a white net and lace gown. It was designed with a fitted lace bodice with cap sleeves and a full net skirt with lace insertions. She wore long lace gloves and carried a Bible topped with gardenias and cascading satin streamers.

Mrs. James Watts served as her sister's matron of honor. She was attired in a yellow net gown with matching halo and nosegay. Betty Reddy and Barbara Ann Eye were bridesmaids. They wore pink and blue net gowns, respectively, with matching nosegays and halos.

Tilden Christopher served as best man. Ushers, who also lighted the candles, were Thomas Underwood and James Watts.

For traveling, Mrs. McConnell wore a gold checked suit with brown accessories. Upon their return from their wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 107 E. 13th.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and is a member of the Alpha Chi chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha. Her husband is a graduate of Big Spring High School, Howard County Junior College and Sul Ross State College, Alpine. He is a civilian employee at Webb Air Force Base.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Slaughter.

White gladioli, palm leaves and large white wedding bells were used to decorate the entertaining suite.

The refreshment table was laid with a maroon lace cloth and the four-tiered wedding cake was topped by a miniature bride and groom.

Miss Reddy and Miss Eye served. Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bearden of Midland and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sikes and Stephanie of Abilene.

B&PW Club Plans Yule Dinner Party

The Business & Professional Women's Club will have its Christmas dinner, tree and gift exchange and special program Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the Settles Hotel.

Members may bring guests to the dinner party but should make advance reservations for them. Mrs. Lina Flewelling, chairman of the hospitality committee, announced Friday.

The reading of "The Christmas Story" will be interspersed with Yule songs by the trio composed of Mrs. Harrol Jones, Mrs. John McFarren and Mrs. Don Newsom.

Each member is to bring a cash donation to be used to purchase gifts for the little girl in the Texas School for the Deaf at Austin whom the club has "adopted."

Meeting Cancelled

The Big Spring Federation of Women's Clubs, Inc., will not meet Monday evening. Mrs. Hayes Stripling, president, announced Friday, because so many members are out of town.

New Officers Elected By Sewing Club

Mrs. Phil Grozier was elected new president of the Eager Beavers at their meeting Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Leroy Findley, Rt. 2.

Other new officers named were Mrs. Leroy Findley, vice president; Mrs. Dick Hooper, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. W. L. Clayton, reporter. Mrs. J. D. Kendrick and Mrs. D. D. Johnston comprise the new social committee.

Plans were made for the Christmas party to be held for members and their families Monday evening in the home of Mrs. J. D. Kendrick, 1408 Nolan. Games of "42" will be played after the party.

Mrs. Grozier gave the prayer and Mrs. Leroy Findley led the devotionals from James 1:1. Each member presented the hostess with a wash cloth.

Mrs. R. I. Findley presided over the business session, during which the members voted to prepare a basket for a needy family. Four members also will assist in decorating the tree at the VA Hospital. Secret pal gifts were exchanged and new names drawn.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. R. I. Findley. Nine members attended.

Newcomers Prefer Southern Sunshine

At least one newcomer family from the North won't mind not having snow during the Christmas season. They are too grateful for the Southern sunshine. Mr. and Mrs. John Wenner and two young daughters, Judy 3 1/2 and Debbie 2, 804 W. 17th, recently moved here from Bristow, Okla., where they lived for six weeks. They are natives of Chicago, however, and have been used to foggy, damp and dismal days. The day-after-day sunshine here is wonderful, they think, and already they are crazy about Texas.

Oil Products Co. He is a graduate of the Illinois Institute of Technology. Mrs. Wenner, a graduate of the Wesley Memorial School of Nursing in Chicago, likes to knit, read and sew, and they have picked up photography as a hobby, usually using the girls as subjects. The newcomers haven't had an opportunity yet, but they are anxious to travel and see all parts of their adopted state. And Mrs. Wenner hopes the girls will pick up a Texas drawl—she knows their doting grandparents would love it. They plan to return to Chicago to spend the holidays with their families.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Darlene Sneed

Students have found lately, especially the past week, that there is plenty of activity and entertainment to keep them busy. It seemed as though something was happening every moment last week. Monday night the choir, under the direction of Elizabeth Cope, gave a Christmas program for the Washington P-TA. The choir sang "Carol of the Bells," "On This Good Christmas Morn," and a medley of "Behold, That Star," "Mary Had a Baby," and "Go Tell It On The Mountains." Solist was Jo Nell West. The Bluesettes, a quintet composed of Anita Thompson, Jo Nell West, Bobbie Adams, Lou Ann Nall and Frances Rice, sang "Winter Wonderland."

Two Grades Give Program At Assembly

FORSAN, (Sp)—The sixth and seventh grades presented an assembly program at the Forsan School Friday. A one-act play "Too Much Christmas" was presented by the sixth grade. The cast included Charles Skeen, Sharon Buchanan, Stanley Willis, Gaye Huestis, Leon Calley, Judy Shoultis, Donnie Smith and Lorita Overton. Mrs. E. M. Bailey, teacher, directed. Ginny Dee Scudday gave "Christmas Beauties."

"Susan Gregg's Christmas Orphans," a play in two acts was given by the seventh grade under the direction of Mrs. Bill Conger. In the cast were Ida Lou Camp, Nedelene Pitcock, Carolyn Everett, Suzie Lamb, Tony Starr, William King, James Jones, Carolyn Sweeney, Jimmy Anderson, Muri Bailey and Gary Don Starr. A chorus, composed of both grades, sang "Silent Night," "The First Noel" and "Jingle Bells."

Oil Company Gives Party

Ted O. Groebel, owner of the Westex Oil Company, entertained employees at the annual Christmas dinner party Saturday evening at the Settles Hotel. Following the dinner, $5,000 in bonuses was given employees from beneath the Christmas tree. O. D. Young of Big Spring was presented a certificate of title for an automobile upon the completion of 20 years service. L. R. White of McCamey was given a five-year award. Around 55 attended including employees from Hobbs, N. M., Denver City, McCamey, Odessa and Big Spring. In using a candy thermometer remember that the bulb must be completely covered with syrup but must not touch the bottom of the pan.

er games, and gifts were exchanged. Present were Frances King, Marjorie Petty, Minnie Ola Woods, Betty Wright, Lynelle Sullivan, Bobby Adams, Mrs. Janelle Davis, Cecil Niblett, Sue Love, Barbara Blair, Nan McGahey, Lynn Mitchell, Beverly Jones, Mary Sue White, Darlene Sneed, Lou Ann Nall, Voncell Rhoton, Elizabeth Cope, Jo Nell West and Mrs. Charlotte Sullivan. The club then had a slumber party in the college music room. The girls played records, volleyball and basketball and had refreshments. Present at the slumber party were Jo Nell West, Elizabeth Cope, Lynelle Sullivan, Voncell Rhoton, Lou Ann Nall, Darlene Sneed, Mary Sue White, Beverly Jones, Lynn Mitchell, Nan McGahey, Barbara Blair, Sue Love and Cecil Niblett. This was a sleepy bunch Friday morning but the party was a lot of fun for everyone.

A huge Christmas tree has been put up in the picture window of the administration building and a smaller tree has been decorated in the small auditorium. The cafeteria, soon to be the student center building, is scheduled for remodeling during the Christmas holidays. The choir had a two-hour practice Friday in the college auditorium. The group is scheduled to make a tour of the surrounding small schools the next two weeks and give Christmas selections. The Science Club is scheduled to meet next Tuesday in the science lecture room during activity period. All members are urged to attend.

Bill Holbert's biology class went fishing Wednesday at Moss Creek Lake. Those who went were Barbara Blair, John Brown, Rodney Cramer, John Damron, Jackie Fryar, John Gilbert, Vesta Harrison, Delmar Hartin, Mark Harwell, Ben Hitt, Betty Hulse, Clinton Jenkins, James Knight, Patsy Maddux, Don Martin, Nan McGahey, Lynn Mitchell, Joe Mize, Cecil Niblett, Marie Petty, Max Pitts, Johnny Randolph, Tommy Randolph, Billy Mac Sheppard, Calvert Shortes, Jack Sparks, Don Stevens, Mary Stevens, Minnie Ola Woods and Tommy Porter. Marie Petty investigated several caves and found sea shells and Indian relics. The Lassos have organized a pep club to back the Jayhawks in their home stands. The girls will wear white blouses and red skirts and sit in a special section. They have planned several meetings to practice the yell they will use. Students and teachers of HCJC can be heard every week over KBST from 2 to 2:15 on Wednesday afternoons. The program is to advertise the Junior College and tell the community what is going on around the campus. Bruce Frazier, instructor at the college, is also on the radio from 12:30 to 12:45 over KTXC five days a week with the farm news. The Journalism class sponsored a ping-pong tournament Wednesday through Saturday. Entries in the teacher's bracket include Bill Thompson, Charlotte Sullivan, Lynelle Sullivan, B. M. Keese, Harold Davis, Marvin Baker, Bill Holbert and Janelle Davis. Competing in the boy's bracket were Jackie Fryar, Elwyn Bass, Tommy Porter, Larry Shortes, Carl Preston, Billy Mac Sheppard, Jimmy Wilkerson, Alfred Thleme, Richard Gilmore, Wayne Glenn, Joe Mize, Rod Cramer, Casey Jones, Charlie Howle, James Suttles and Dallas Williams. Entered in the girl's division were Jo Nell West, Patsy Maddux, Barbara Blair, Lynn Mitchell, Marie Petty, Voncell Rhoton, Lou Ann Nall and Darlene Sneed. Groups entered in the doubles bracket are James Suttles and Richard Gilmore, Rod Cramer and Alfred Thleme, Elwyn Bass and Lonnie Muse, Billy Mac Sheppard and Jimmy Wilkerson, Casey Jones and Tommy Porter, Dallas Williams and Joe Mize. Winners have not yet been announced. Bruce Frazier's advertising and salesmanship class is writing copy to be used over station KTXC as advertisements by local firms. A prize of $5 will be given for the best copy. Prizes of $3 and $2 will be given as second and third prizes. A group of advertisers and salesmen in this area met last week at the college to organize a club for this county. A new daily newspaper, "The Wall Street Journal," has been recently subscribed to for the HCJC library. Recent visitors in the library at the college have been Mrs. Joe B. Masters, Mrs. Tharon Auda, Dr. Chang W. Moon, Carroll S. Edgar of Waco, Lieut. Robert Hall, Mrs. C. Percy Jr., T-Sgt. Truman Hopkins, A-3C Dwight O. Weber and Sgt. George von Hassell. There have been several recent purchases for the library, including "The Columbia Encyclopedia," "Webster's New International Dictionary," "An Atlas of the World," two copies of "The Universal Reference Library" and "Webster's Biographical Dictionary."

Julius Hegyi To Appear In Concert Here Monday Night

The Music Study Club will present Julius Hegyi of Lubbock, violinist, in a concert Monday at 8 p.m. at the Howard County Junior College Auditorium.

The public is being invited to attend and no admission will be charged.

Hegyi, who organized "Music in the Round" for concert series in various string, piano and wind ensembles at Lubbock, is a graduate of the Juillard School of Music with highest honors in all subjects. He made his New York Town Hall debut in 1945.

He became an orchestra soloist when he was 11 and since that time has been a soloist with the CBS Symphony, a member of the NBC Symphony under Toscanini and a member of the New York Philharmonic under Mitropoulos.

Monday evening, Hegyi will play "Adagio in G Minor" by Bach, "Serenade in C" by Mozart, "Concerto in D," Brahms; "Sonata in G," Lawrence Powell; "Sonata in A," Mozart; "La Capricciose," Elgar; "Prophet Bid," Schumann; and "Rumanian Dances," Bartok.

JULIUS HEGYI

Charlotte Barrier will serve as the violinist's accompanist. She will play, as a piano solo, "Chromatic Fantasy" by Bach.

Recreation Club Entertains Railroad Employees, Guests

Members of the Tee and Pee Recreation Club entertained all T&P Railroad employees, their families and guests with a Christmas party Saturday evening at the Settles Hotel.

In charge of arrangements for the affair were O. G. Hughes, Leslie Snow, Mrs. H. D. McCright, E. K. Smith and D. D. Dyer.

The T&P Streamliners, a trio composed of Louis Bruner, Doris Gibbs and Mary Henderson, of Dallas, were guest artists.

Two movies, "The Night Before Christmas" and Dickens' "Christmas Carol," were shown. Santa Claus made his appearance and gifts were exchanged.

Richard Hughes directed the assembly in singing Christmas carols. C. S. Haught, pianist, was accompanist. Dancing began at 9 p.m.

The Streamliners, who were accompanied here by Al Mabone, representative of the public employee relations department of the railroad, of Dallas. Upon their arrival Saturday afternoon, the trio

About 200 attended the affair.

Exemplars Have Dinner And Dance

Members of the Exemplar chapter of Beta Sigma Phi and their husbands were entertained Saturday evening at a dinner dance at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Morgan.

Hostesses on the planning committee were Mrs. Tommy Gage, Mrs. Rozie Dobbins and Mrs. James Underwood.

A huge peppermint candy stick decorated the front gate, and a Santa Claus was used on the front door. On the mantel a silver log and -ed candles were surrounded by native cedar sprayed with Christmas snow and hung with red, blue and silver Christmas balls.

Centerpiece of the buffet table was a huge green candle on a styrofoam base encircled with cedar, red pine cones and two deer figures.

Gifts for both members and their husbands were exchanged from the tree. About 40 attended the dinner and dance.

Homemakers Class Is Honored With Christmas Party

Members of the Homemakers Class of the E. 4th Baptist Church were entertained Friday evening with a Christmas party in the home of their teacher, Mrs. Rufus Davidson.

Mrs. Lillian Patton led in prayer and Mrs. Davidson gave the devotional.

Mrs. T. B. Clifton and Mrs. W. O. McClendon presented Christmas readings. The group sang Christmas carols and gifts were exchanged.

Refreshments were served to 20 including five guests, Mrs. Frances Oliver, Mrs. William Opperman, Mrs. C. M. Harrell, Mable Dunagan and Mrs. O. R. Smith.

MR. AND Mrs. L. B. Messing of El Paso have been here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Harrison.

Rev. Parks Speaks At Christmas Party

The Rev. James S. Parks, pastor of the Baptist Temple, told a Christmas story, "Peter, Bingo and the Bishop" when the Couples Class of the First Baptist Church in Knott held its annual Christmas party at the church Thursday evening.

During the brief business session, a discussion on improvements for the church kitchen was held. Mrs. Porter Motley is class teacher. Thirty-three attended.

Sorority Dance

Mu Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi entertained Saturday evening with a Christmas dance for members and their husbands at Park Inn. Approximately 10 couples attended.

HI--TALK

By Margie McDougle

One more week of school and we will all be out for the Christmas holidays. I'm sure that everyone is looking forward to that two weeks vacation.

This week was election week and we elected our class favorites and the best all-around. The nominating was done Wednesday and the run-offs were held Friday.

The annual volleyball tournament has been set for March 12, 13 and 14. This is two weeks later than it was held last year.

The annual staff announced that the El Rodeos will go off sale Tuesday. Anyone planning to buy one had better do so before then.

HELEN'S CHRISTMAS HINTS

TIME IS SLIPPING BY . . . and Christmas is fast approaching. If you haven't completed your shopping, it's high time for you to take pencil in hand and get busy on your gift list.

A BEDTIME STORY OF A GOOD BUY
. . . for a wonderful guy . . . the Jayson all-silk pajamas at ELMO WASSON'S. They're a very special gift for that very special man in your life, and you'll find them in yellow, blue, tangerine and lavender. Don't let their smartness fool you . . . they're really pajamas, comfortably cut to encourage the sandman or double for lounging about the house.

"HERE'S HOW" FOR THE HOLIDAYS
. . . there's heart-warming hospitality in any party, reception or supper, when holiday "spirits" are presented in the special Christmas punch bowl from BIG SPRING HARDWARE. Of four quart capacity this brilliant crystal bowl is decorated with a gay band around the top that spells out "Merry Christmas" in eight different languages, and the graceful lines of the wrought iron stand and eight lustrous cups carry a cordial holiday air to blend with your own hospitality and add greatly to the season's festivities.

A FULL VIEW OF THE FUTURE . . . with television near at hand in this area, what could be a more wonderful Christmas gift than one of the RCA Victor TV sets from THE RECORD SHOP. Available in table model or console style, they're unrivaled in superb picture performance and as engineering masterpieces . . . they're that one-in-a-lifetime gift.

IN THE HOLIDAY FOREGROUND
. . . are the paper taffeta prints from ZACK'S Of Margo's. Here's a gay little two-piece with a crisp and crackling full, full skirt and a sleeveless fitted bodice . . . so befitting to the waistline . . . so flattering to the figure. To top it off, there's a saucy little black wool jersey bolero, lined and cuffed with the matching printed taffeta that boasts the label of that fashion-wise designer, Jonathan Logan.

HERE'S A TIP FOR CHRISTMAS . . . your Yule glamour headquarters for gift wrappings rich with imagination. When you wrap your presents from this exciting collection of Hallmark package pretties, your gifts will be the ones everyone will want to open first on Christmas morning.

LIGHT THE WAY TO A HAPPY HOME . . . with a Reglor lamp from TOWN & COUNTRY HOME FURNISHINGS. They're not just lamps . . . but copyright originals in styling and colors designed specifically to complement your furnishings and enhance your interiors . . . each one an original design . . . each an individual figure, in male and female pairs. Designed in "House and Garden" colors, you'll find them in flame and chocolate, sprout and leaf green, pebble and driftwood, and silver fox wood with matching textured fabric, lined shades. When you see them, I'm sure you'll agree that these lamps are real highlights for Christmas giving . . . for now, and for a bright future in '53. For convenient shopping T&C is open until 9:00 p.m. every Thursday.

DECK THE HALLS . . . the mantels . . . the tables of your home with charming arrangements in Christmas decor from FAYE'S FLOWERS. It's a wonderful way to say Merry Christmas when your home reflects the joyousness of the season . . . when it gleams with holiday cheer and callers with bright beauty . . . when it radiates clever ideas and striking materials for dressing up your home in the festive manner ever . . . shiny ornaments . . . gay Santa Clauses, sam, fir and pine . . . and of course, the traditional holly and mistletoe all combine to make houses brighter and spirits lighter.

TAKE IT FROM ME . . . there's nothing nicer for Christmas giving than one or more of the lovely blouses from MI-LADY'S ACCESSORIES. She'll love the custom made Eunice Anne blouses that are hand cut and hand finished . . . their smartly simple lines, their expensive details make them the perfect foils for her favorite suits and skirts. For a completely new and wonderful fabric, it's Gay's Originals in washable Orlon and silk slung . . . tailored enough for the strictest suit, soft enough for the least restricting waik skirt. You'll find neck, sleeveless, tuck-ins in soft nylon, smart over-blouses in metallic weave, any one a wonderful gift because they take their cue for a quick change from a ribbon, a scarf, a saucy pin . . . to make costuming a delight.

EVERYWHERE YOU GO . . . you'll step lightly and brightly through the holiday season—Indian fashion, with a pair of the beautiful hand faced "squaw moccasins" from MARGO'S. Just arrived via Reindeer Mail, they're fashioned of glove-soft buckskin with a rolled cuff at the ankle and tied with a leather thong. The white leather sole is hand lecced to the black buckskin, and for real soft stepping, they have a foam rubber in-sole. With bright bead trim, they'd make the grandest of gifts, and best of all, they're light on the budget as well as the feet . . . only $3.95. Santa knows that they're a step in the right direction.

FOR A LADY WHO'S GOING PLACES
. . . meet the little cosmetic kit that's the perfect traveling companion on any trip . . . the Dorothy Gray Travel Kit at the CUM-NINGHAM & PHILIPS and the PETROLEUM DRUG. She'll have no trouble in taking beauty with her, when she packs in a hurry for a week-end of fun, because this smart little shoulder strap bag will swing right along at a moment's notice. Dorothy Gray Liquid Cleanser, cologne, Special Dry-Skin Lotion, comb, lipstick, and powder are all right at hand in this neat little case that has a good looking leather-like finish. It's a pretty as well as a practical gift idea, at only $9.00, plus tax.

FIRA BENENSON

High Priestess Presents Belle Of The Party Dress

She walks in beauty... she wears a Benenson dress. She's the belle of the party... she wears a Benenson dress. She looks so style-right... she wears a Benenson dress. And so on runs the reputation of one Fira Benenson, high priestess of the world of elegant fashion. Style conscious women everywhere worship at her shrine; her translation of the intangible into the positive is world renowned. For your pleasure we present today a dress to flatter you, a dress to compliment you and a dress you will feel utterly comfortable in. Style No. 1123 answers all these attributes and many more. It's a coat dress in the grand style of our time. The neckline is asymmetrical with a liberal dip; the closing is sideways with a generous overlap, which might reveal the contrasting colour of a lining. The sleeves are short and simple. A gleaming satin or a rustling taffeta would be the designer's choice of fabric or maybe a brand new novelty brocade for the cocktail hour. Pattern No. 1123 comes in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 12 requires 3 1/2 yds. of 50-inch material. Make sure your material is at least 42 inches wide to avoid piecing the skirt. To order pattern No. 1123, send $1.00 to Spadea Syndicate, Inc., Dept. 164, Box 535, General Post Office, New York 1, N. Y. For air mail handling, enclose 25 cents. To order our pattern booklet, volume No. VII, send 15 cents. All orders are filled promptly within one week. Watch this page of your newspaper next week for a new design by American Designer Mollie Parris. And we are introducing a brand new idea in American Designer's Patterns next week.

Central Ward P-TA

Central Ward P-TA will meet at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday at the school instead of 3:30 because of the participation of the children on the program, according to an announcement by Mrs. J. H. Honan, president. A Christmas tea will be held following the program.

Recent Bride Is Honored At Gift Tea

Mrs. Odas Williams, the former Annazine Glaser, was honored with an informal gift tea Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. A. B. Sykes, 1103 College.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Ray Ford and Mrs. Joe Kitching. Receiving the guests were Mrs. Sykes, the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Earl Evans.

Mrs. Williams was attired in a spice brown satin dress with beige accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The refreshment table was laid with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums and fern. The decorated cake and crystal punch bowl completed the table appointments. Mrs. Ford poured and Mrs.

Harold Gilliam served the cake. Mrs. Kitching displayed the gifts.

Guests were registered in a white and gold guest book. An arrangement of gold chrysanthemums in a crystal vase was placed on the register table. Approximately 30 guests called during the receiving hours.

Social, Civic And Church Groups Collaborate To Fill Santa's Pack

Many orphans, hospital patients, underprivileged children and needy families will have a happier Christmas this year because of the generosity of Big Spring organizations. These organizations, social, civic and church, will remember the not-so-fortunate with baskets of food, clothing and toys. Many will give cash donations, also.

The Mu Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority will send boxes of clothes, toys and personal gifts to the residents of Girls' Town at Whiteface.

All the shut-in members of the local Order of the Eastern Star will be visited by their fellow members during the holiday season. The Order will take gifts to the shut-ins and has already sent a cash donation to the Eastern Star Home in Arlington.

Patients at the Big Spring State Hospital will be remembered at Christmas time by members of the local Business and Professional Women's Club. The club has adopted a little girl at the State School for the Deaf in Austin. They will remember the child with a box of gifts.

The 1946 Hyperion Club members will pack a box of groceries for a needy family recommended by the Salvation Army.

Members of St. Mary's Episcopal Auxiliary.

A real home-cooked Christmas dinner will be the lot of many servicemen and their families stationed here. The Concordia Ladies Aid of St. Paul's Lutheran Church is planning the affair for Dec. 21. Needy rural families will be remembered at Christmas by members of the Central Ward P-TA which is collecting groceries to send.

Orphans in a church home will have a happier Christmas this year because the Junior Girls' Class of the Hillcrest Baptist Church will pack a box to send to them.

The Exemplar Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority is planning to send Christmas gifts to the girls at Girls' Town at Whiteface.

Working through the local Order of the Eastern Star, the Past Matrons Club of the OES will visit shut-ins and take them gifts at Christmas.

Members of the Cheerio Club will be remembered with a gift from the local Order of the Rainbow for Girls.

Two needy families will have a happier Christmas this year because of the food, clothing and toys to be given them by the South Ward P-TA.

All Home Demonstration Clubs in the county will send individual personal gifts to the women patients at the Big Spring State Hospital.

The XYZ Club, women's auxiliary of the ABC club, will take toys to their annual Christmas party Dec. 19 which will be given to the underprivileged children of the community.

The personal touch will be added when the Beta Omicron chapter of Beta Sigma Phi adopts a needy family and gives individual gifts to each member. The sorority has already packed a box of clothes for Girls' Town at Whiteface.

The Big Spring Rebekah Lodge will send a check to the little girl they have adopted at the Children's Home in Corsicana.

Quilts for the Old Folks Home in Ennis and for the Children's Home in Corsicana have been made and quilted by members of the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge. The quilts will be sent to the home in time for Christmas. The members will pack baskets of clothes and food for needy families in this area.

A basket of food and toys will be packed by members of the Spoudazio Fora for a needy family at Christmas.

Not only at Christmas but at Thanksgiving, too, is a needy family remembered with food by members of the Alpha Chi Chapter of Epistol Sigma Alpha sorority. Toys will be added to the group's basket at the Yuletide.

Each patient at the Big Spring State Hospital will be remembered with a bag of fruit and soft candies by members of the Altruss Club. Club members will also pack baskets for needy families.

Food, clothing and toys will be included in the basket for a needy family to be packed by members of the Eager Beaver Sewing Club.

A donation to the Pythian Home in Weatherford has been sent by members of the Sterling Temple 43 of the Pythian Sisters. The sisters have bought vitamins for underprivileged children and will pack baskets for the needy.

St. Thomas Altar Society of St. Thomas Catholic Church has recently completed a clothing drive. The clothes will be sent to the Holy Father in Rome for distribution overseas.

Each grade at the Washington Place School will adopt a needy family for the Christmas season. The project is being sponsored by the student council. Included in the baskets will be food, clothes and toys, which will have been repaired by the 4th, 5th and 6th grades of the school. The Washington Place P-TA will assist in delivery of the baskets.

The fourth Sunday in each month, all year long, the Big Spring Garden City contributes floral arrangements to the VA Hospital. The Sunday after Christmas will be no exception. The entire hospital is a brighter place because of these contributions.

Members of the East Ward P-TA will contribute a box of food and other needed items to a local family at Christmas.

For their Christmas project the Texas Association of Accredited Beauty Culturists, Unit 24, has given six underprivileged girls permanent hairdos.

A needy family will have more food in the pantry come Christmas because a basket will be packed by the 1948 Hyperion Club.

The recreation hall at the VA Hospital will be a prayer, brighter place Christmas with the help of the Gold Star Mothers who will furnish and decorate a Christmas tree. The group will present each patient with a bag of fruit and nuts. Members will also assist with the Hospital's Christmas party.

The Temple Israel Sisterhood will give each patient at the VA Hospital a gift.

Toys will be collected by members of the Jaycee-ettes for underprivileged children. They will also assist the Jaycees in carrying out their Christmas project.

The Junior Woman's Forum has collected clothes which were turned over to be Salvation Army for distribution at the Christmas season.

Instead of bringing gifts for each other, members of the Credit Women's Club will bring groceries to their annual Christmas party Monday evening. These will be packed and given to a family in need. A turkey will be included in the basket and it will be furnished by the club as a whole. Members will also decorate a Christmas tree at the VA Hospital.

The Park Hill P-TA will adopt a family at Christmas and supply them with groceries, toys and clothes.

As is its annual custom, the American Legion Auxiliary is again this year sponsoring a gift shop at the VA Hospital. Patients are able to select gifts for each member of their immediate families at no cost. Auxiliary members will wrap and mail these gifts for the patients.

The Ladies Home League of the Salvation Army will adopt a small family for Christmas and supply them with food, clothing and individual gifts. Members are also making corages for elderly women of the city and dressing dolls for underprivileged children.

The Red Cross will be plenty busy during the Christmas season, as they always are. They will give comfort articles to all patients at the VA Hospital and at the Webb Air Force Base Hospital. The group will also decorate a tree at both hospitals. The Red Cross Gray Ladies will fill Christmas stockings for VA hospital patients.

In order that Big Spring underprivileged children will have toys for Christmas City Firemen are collecting discarded toys and repairing them. Christmas morning they will find their way into many stockings.

The Child Study Club, at their Wednesday meeting, voted to give a $25 donation to the Firemen's Christmas Cheer Fund so that more toys may be repaired and given away at Christmas.

Five little girls in one family will get dolls from Santa Christmas morning. Helping Santa out will be the BPOoes who are to meet early next week to make clothes and dress the dolls. A basket of canned food will also be given the same family.

Candy, cookies and clothes are being sent to Buckners Orphans' Home in Dallas by the WMU of the Baptist Temple. Various Sunday School departments of the church and the Girls' Auxiliary and Royal Ambassadors are to pack baskets for local needy families.

The needy will be happier at Christmas because of the generosity of the different departments and classes of the First Baptist Church. Offerings will be sent to all church orphanages along with clothes and linens. The Junior Department of the church has already honored a group of Latin-American underprivileged children with a party at the church. The children were presented gifts and sacks of fruit and nuts.

Several families, who are not so fortunate as others, will be given baskets of food by members of the Wesley Memorial Methodist Church. Church members will also remember the orphans in the Methodist Home in Waco with donations.

St. Mary's Episcopal Church School children will bring canned goods to their annual party Dec. 21.

Orphans will be remembered Christmas by members of the East Fourth and Benton Street Church of Christ, who will send contributions to them. Big Spring needy families will also be remembered.

Members of the Ellis Homes Church of Christ carry on a benevolence program all year long. They are supporting a little girl in a church home and will remember her Christmas morning with a special gift.

A White Gift Service will be held at the First Christian Church Dec. 21 with members bringing canned foods and clothing for the Juliette Fowler Home in Dallas. The departments and Sunday School classes of the church plan to pack boxes for local families in need.

Primarily Latin-American needy families will be aided by members of the First Presbyterian Church. Food and clothing will be given the families. The Presbyterian Women of the Church will collect and send personal gifts to all students at the Mexican Presbyterian Schools in Texas.

Underprivileged children of the surrounding area will be honored with a Christmas Tree and party at the Church of the Nazarene Dec. 17.

Guides, departments and classes of the First Methodist Church are planning to thank others at Christmas by packing boxes for those in need. Four church groups will go caroling and three of these will sing for patients at the State Hospital and for shut-ins. A special offering will be sent to the Methodist Orphans' Home in Waco and will be remembered.

Donations to orphan homes and baskets for the needy will be given by members of the Galveston Street Church of God during the holiday season.

Members of the First Church of God will adopt several families during the Christmas season and supply them with things they need.

Over at the Park Methodist Church, members are busily preparing boxes for people who have not as much as they. A special offering will be sent to the Methodist Orphans' Home in Waco.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company employees are adopting one family and two small girls. The family will be given a Christmas basket, and the two girls will be completely outfitted with clothes and toys.

Members of the Rotary Club will provide baskets of food for 10 needy families this Christmas. In addition each member will buy a child's present and give it to the Salvation Army for distribution to underprivileged children.

Mrs. Kay Thompson's Girl Scout Troop will "adopt" one family for Christmas. The family will be given a basket of food and gifts.

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church will also provide a family with a basket of food and gifts.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has asked the Salvation Army to provide them with a list of 15 families to aid for Christmas.

The South Ward Parent-Teachers Association will "adopt" two families who are in need.

Phillips Memorial Baptist Church will give aid to 10 families during the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. Clifford Hale will give a basket to one family, as will the Episcopal Church.

Three families will be adopted by the First Methodist Church, and the families will be given baskets and presents.

The Big Spring post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will give two Christmas parties for underprivileged children. One will be for white children, and the other will be for Latin Americans and Negroes.

Members of the Lions Club will also give a party for underprivileged Latin American children. They recently sold Christmas cards to contribute to the Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville.

The Big Spring Kiwanis Club will hold its annual Christmas party for children in the west end of town. It will be held at the West Side Recreational Center and will consist of a hamburger fry and gift presentation.

The ABC will furnish the 13 Christmas trees at Veteran's Administration Hospital.

Cost of maintaining colleges and universities in the United States in 1951 was about two billion dollars.

All vegetable products were at one time sugar in the leaves of green plants.

Sorority Has Yule Party

Beta Omicron chapter of Beta Sigma Phi entertained Friday evening with a Christmas party in the home of Mrs. V. A. Merrick, 1102 Scurry. Secret pal gifts were exchanged and refreshments were served to 28 members, husbands and guests. The buffet table was laid with a green cloth and was decorated in the holiday motif. After the party, guests went to the Skyline Supper Club for dancing and a late supper.

Coffee Bags

Now you can make coffee with a new device like tea bags, recently perfected. Just put the coffee bag in the cup, pour boiling water over it, and there you are. The bags also may be used in the coffee pot, one to a cup. The new coffee bags now are available, marketed by a number of popular brand coffee companies.

Five Major Projects Underway

Although the activity isn't causing the sensation that it would have commanded 25 years ago, Big Spring probably has more commercial construction work going now than at any other time in its history, and certainly more than at any time since the booming twenties.

Photos on this page show five major projects, some just beginning, others well advanced and still others nearing completion. Altogether they represent investments of well over $1,500,000. Some other projects now going and expected to begin before the first of the year probably will push the total beyond the $2-million mark.

At the top are the two largest projects, with the new Periman Building excavation shown at left and the new Howard County Courthouse at right. The Periman Building, located at Second and Scurry Streets, will be six stories, while the Courthouse will be four stories. Other photos at left show a major addition to the present building occupied by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., at Fourth and Runnels, and (lower left) the new dial system building nearing completion at Eighth and Runnels. The lower photo on the right shows the site for an addition to the Masonic Building in the 100 block of East Third Street.

BLOODMOBILE VISITS DUE HERE

Red Cross Expands Polio Drive Along With Its Blood Program

Expansion of the Red Cross defense blood program to combat infantile paralysis is being mapped on a $7,000,000 scale, E. Roland Harriman, national director, announced this week.

Red Cross has accepted the request of several other national agencies, including the Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, to provide gamma globulin for the nationwide war against polio. Gamma globulin is a derivative of blood which has proved effective in prevention of paralysis due to poliomyelitis.

Harriman estimates $7,000,000 will be required to make gamma globulin available for mass anti-polio inoculations. Expenditure of that amount has been authorized for the program in the 1953 Red Cross budget.

Processing laboratories will be asked to work at full capacity to produce the blood product, the national director said. American citizens will be urged to support the program, with both blood and money.

The Howard-Glasscock Chapter, American Red Cross, will participate in the program. Regular visits of the Bloodmobile will be made here throughout the year for collection of blood.

In addition, there may be a small increase in size of the chapter's budget for next year, said

Mrs. Moore Sawtelle, executive secretary.

Effectiveness of gamma globulin in prevention of paralysis was demonstrated in extensive experiments conducted during the past two years. One of the experimental projects was conducted last summer at Houston. Others were at Proo, Utah, and Sioux City, Iowa.

The Red Cross provided gamma globulin used in the experiments. Plan for the Red Cross to collect blood for gamma globulin purposes as well as for defense purposes resulted from a meeting of representatives of the Office of Defense Mobilization, National Research Council, U. S. Public Health Service, Department of Defense, Polio Foundation, Federal Civil Defense Agency and the Red Cross.

Red Cross, which collects blood for plasma to be used at the battle front and for other military and defense purposes, was chosen as the collection agency because it is the only organization equipped to do the job.

The Red Cross board of governors immediately approved the project and approved expenditure of the $7,000,000 for that purpose. National budget for the organization, including the outlay, will be $83,000,000 in 1953. This is to cover chapter activities, and work in such fields as disaster relief, the war, services to military personnel, and the anti-polio gamma globulin project.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis says polio is expected to strike in epidemic proportions in about 150 counties next summer. Some 2,000,000 children will be exposed to the dread disease.

"While this expansion of our blood program will draw heavily upon financial and volunteer resources of the organization, I am confident that we will be able to do the job successfully," said Harriman. "We will need the help of community blood banks, physicians, volunteer workers, as well as the generosity of American people, both for the additional blood needed and the additional money to finance the work."

Wholesale Commodity Prices Down A Bit

NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (AP)—Wholesale commodity prices declined a shade this week and the grains & cotton group of commodities was at a new 1952 low, according to the Associated Press commodity index.

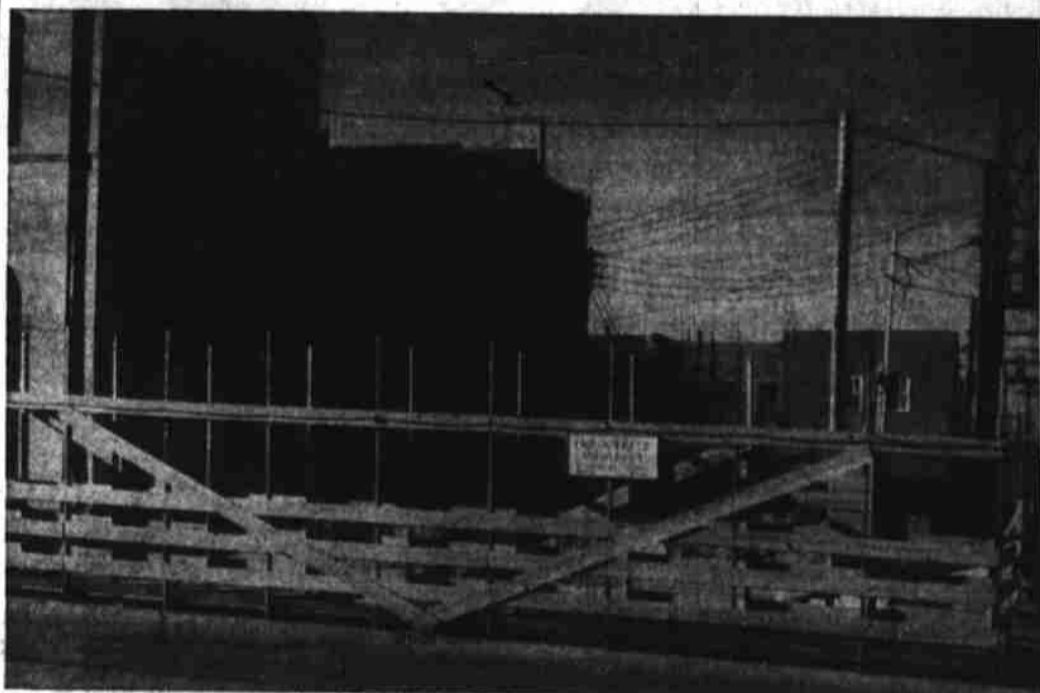

At 177.07 the index compared with 177.21 last week and 183.77 a year ago. The base year of 1926 equals 100 in this weighted index of 35 important wholesale commodity prices.

Coal Burning Can Help To Save Crops

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 13 (AP)—Now farmers can burn coal to save their crops.

It sounds queer but it makes sense. Bituminous Coal Research, Inc., has developed a coal-fired device called the BCR-Armstrong crop-drier.

By helping farmers harvest crops at the proper stage of ripeness, the crop drier reduced losses which result from bad weather.

Hoffman Didn't Score Economic Plans If Needed

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of articles on the men, in and out of the official new Republican administration, who have been the new President's strongest supporters and most intimate advisers. They are the men who likely will hold key advisory roles in the informal headquarters organization of the new administration.

By The Associated Press

Several years ago in Paris a highly placed friend of Dwight D. Eisenhower told reporters, off the record, that the general had offered to support Paul G. Hoffman for president of the United States.

History, of course, reversed their roles but the story is still significant. Obviously, a man good enough to be president is good enough to advise presidents. Thus, it is highly probable that President-elect Eisenhower will frequently seek the opinions and talents of Paul Gray Hoffman, former president of the Studebaker Corp., former ECA administrator and now head of the Ford Foundation.

Gen. Eisenhower said as much recently in expressing regret that Hoffman could not accept a government post "at this time." Eisenhower pointed out that Hoffman would be available for "consultation and advice as well as temporary, emergency assignments."

So, what kind of man is Hoffman?

He has been called a "businessman-statesman in the Ben Franklin tradition." He also is a super salesman, whether he's selling cars or democracy. His career reflects enlightened self-interest, whether the purpose is commercial profit or national security.

As a young car salesman in California, he pushed highway safety not only to save lives, but, admittedly, to sell more cars. As administrator of Marshall Plan aid to Western Europe, Hoffman's primary interest was not international philanthropy but the stopping of communism.

"On a very hard-boiled appraisal," he said, "prosperity is one of the very best antidotes to communism."

As a successful businessman — he was a millionaire at 34 — Hoffman was a fierce advocate of free enterprise but did not scorn economic planning. As head of a big corporation, he made money for himself and his firm but held the respect of his employees. During his presidency at Studebaker, the company was never hit by a major strike.

A strong foe of communism, he has been concerned that the fight against Marxism at home should not make criticism "socially dangerous." Accepting the Freedom House award in 1951, he warned

NEW COCA-COLA PLANT

New Coca-Cola Plant Is Being Built Here

Construction is well under way on the new building of the Texas Coca-Cola Bottling Co., located on Highway 80, just west of the city limits. This modern bottling plant is being erected on a site measuring 208 feet by 385 feet, and the plant itself will have 26,000 feet of floor space, with 35,000 square feet of paved area.

The building and layout were designed by Raymond A. McDaniel, vice president of the Texas Coca-Cola Bottling Co. Big Spring people will remember McDaniel as manager of the local plant during the years 1928 to 1937.

The plant will have complete modern equipment; with the bottling department fully air conditioned, as well as the offices, sales rooms, and vestibules.

While the plant will be one story in construction, it will have a good sized basement to house the air conditioning, compressors, boilers, etc., and a balcony for crown storage. Four overhead doors on the side will take care of the local delivery trucks. The transports that supply warehouses located at Midland and Lamesa will load and unload in the rear of the building.

The plant will have an attractive front of simulated cut stone and face brick, while the sides and back will be of tilt-up concrete slab. There will be a separate metal building to take care of the advertising department. Jack Roden, Big Spring manager, states that the new buildings will be ready for occupancy about April 1.

The company will either sell or lease the buildings located at 1008 East 3rd Street where the bottling operations and truck storage are now located.

Fishers Prepare For New Jobs In Brazil

ED FISHER

Within the week, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fisher will be sailing for Brazil and a new adventure.

For the next few years at least, he will be engaged in animal husbandry work to help Brazilians help themselves. Mrs. Fisher, who is a nurse, may open a small dispensary.

The experience will not be entirely new to Fisher. He spent six months in Brazil after doing graduate work in foreign trade in 1948.

The things he saw and did in those few months, however, confronted him with a challenge which he couldn't quite get out of his mind. Recently, he had an opportunity to return to Brazil in association with a group which develops agricultural holdings. These are turned over to Brazilians at appraised value and the proceeds reinvested in other developments.

Fisher doesn't know just where he will be assigned or the exact nature of his work except that it will be broadly in the field of animal husbandry. He and Mrs. Fisher will make their home in Sao Paulo, a city of some two million people.

The country is so fabulous that it almost begs description, as Fisher remembers it. Brazil is larger than the entire United States by the size of another Texas. It has some 45 million people, bunched largely on the eastern seaboard, much the same as the early colonists for the United States. Some parts of the country are still unexplored.

Basically, the soil is rich but unless great care is given it, minerals leach out quickly due to heavy rainfall. There are some areas with annual rainfall of 100 inches, and yet, almost as if nature had drawn an impassable line, right against them is an unexplained desert, one of the worst in the world.

Transportation is a problem, but Brazilians are trying to mitigate this obstacle by flying over it. In many areas the rail and highway age has been bypassed with use of the airplane. Still, the country needs urgently to expand its rail and highway facilities to handle heavy goods, he said.

Mahogany abounds like mesquite in West Texas. It is so hard—and so heavy (it won't float)—that it is ill suited for building. Fisher remembered what a time he and co-workers had once when they erected a small cabin out of mahogany with ironwood posts.

Fantastic things happen in the country. Overnight once, a type of weevil invaded a warehouse and practically devoured its content of corn. They sounded like a saw mill the next morning.

As Fisher remembers the country, it was in some respects "like West Texas 70 years ago" in terms of progress. Brazilians he found to be an extremely friendly and hospitable what his job will be mostly, providing them with some know-how.

A native of Big Spring, Fisher was graduated from the high school here in 1941 and entered Texas A & M College the same autumn. Two years later, however, his education was interrupted by service in World War II with the Armored Medics in Germany, Belgium and France.

Returning home, he re-entered A & M in 1948 and was graduated in 1948. In his senior year he was secretary of the Veterans Student organization. Then followed work toward his masters degree in the American Institute of Foreign Trade at the University of Arizona and his service in Brazil.

For the past three years he has been engaged in oil lease brokerage, in managing properties and other activities. An Eagle Scout with three palms (one of, if not the best record ever compiled here he was active in Scout work as an adult, having served 2 years as scoutmaster of his old troop (No. 2). He also was active as a Kiwanian and was vice president of the local club. He also was secretary of the local Texas A. & M. Club and is a 32nd degree Mason. He and Mrs. Fisher will go by the way of New Orleans, La., where they will meet and visit briefly with his mother, Mrs. Edith K. Fisher.

HOFFMAN

against "conformity through fear." Hoffman scorns tight little labels. Once described as "Republican and liberal," he changed it to read, "Republican and responsible." A responsible man, he explained, sometimes is on one side of "liberalism," and sometimes on the other.

The former ECA head is an energetic and affable 61. He looks like a thousand other businessmen—medium build, dark hair tinged with gray, piercing blue eyes. He is a smart but conservative dresser, favoring blue suits.

A father of seven children and grandfather of seven, Hoffman likes people around him but abhors the ritual of cocktail parties. He is a very moderate drinker and an ex-smoker. For relaxation, he plays golf—in the 80s—bridge, gin rummy and poker for small stakes and reads detective stories.

Mere size or bigness doesn't frighten him. He once told some European industrialists: "Make no small plans, for they have no magic to stir the imagination of men."

Always the salesman, Hoffman thoroughly dislikes the word "no," especially where government service is concerned. In Honolulu early in 1948 he received a call from President Truman asking him to head ECA.

"I tried for two days to think of how to say 'no,'" Hoffman said later, "but I just couldn't. . . I didn't know how to say 'no'."

So he left a $80,000 a year job for $30,000 a year because, as he said, "it may be the opportunity to put up a fight for peace."

It was strictly a selling job. Hoffman once defined that as the "process of transferring a conviction from the mind of the seller into the mind of the buyer."

Port Arthur Man Is Named By Shepperd

AUSTIN, Dec. 13 (AP)—Robert S. Trotti, 35, Port Arthur, today was named first assistant attorney general to serve under Atty.-Gen. J. Lee Shepperd.

They both take office Jan. 1. Shepperd succeeds Price Daniel, elected to the U. S. Senate.

The first assistant attorney general serves as the state's chief counsel in absence of the attorney general. He is the top appointed executive of the department.

Now-the fun and games of childhood will be Donna's

On this page you see the pictures of a little patient at the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children. They tell you more than words of the work the Hospital is doing for Texas crippled children. Let us introduce her to you.

She is Donna. She has those big brown eyes that look at you so wistfully... a peaches-and-cream complexion... a sunny disposition... the personality of a great lady... but with crippled legs. She was born that way.

Donna is but one of thousands of Texas children born every year with a deformity. But see those braces on her legs. See that confident, sure look in her face.

The miracle of modern surgery is now at work correcting and strengthening her little legs.

"Isn't it wonderful," she says, pointing to her braces. "They put these on me so that I can use my legs like other girls."

Yes, the fun and games, pets and playmates... the birthright of childhood, will be Donna's.

You Have Made It Possible

You and thousands of other Texas men and women, by your gifts of money to the Hospital, have made this possible for Donna and for thousands of other children crippled at birth or by accident or polio.

Your Gifts Keep It Going

It is estimated that at least 3,000 deformed children will be born in Texas this year. Thousands more will be stricken by accident or that dread scourge... polio. This means more mending to be done, more need for the ministrations of this Hospital.

Most of these children will come from families unable to provide the necessary treatment for their children.

In whatever county you live in Texas, near you is a crippled child helped by this Hospital. Near you also is some mother praying that her child will be admitted to this hospital for treatment.

Such Treatment Is NOT for Sale

Although this Hospital provides the best of surgical and medical treatment, such service is not for sale. You cannot buy it. It is made available only through your gifts.

Not one penny is ever collected from parents or guardians of our little patients. No question is ever asked about race or religion.

An Investment in Childhood

Your gift to the Hospital... large or small... is an investment in childhood. Children helped by your gift go forth to normal, happy lives... confident of their future. They go inspired and encouraged by the memory of your generosity woven into the very fabric of their being.

Isn't that worth a gift to the Hospital this Christmas? If your gift helps to correct one clubfoot or crippled limb, you will have laid up treasures that adversity cannot take nor time corrode.

Here Is the Record

The purpose of the Hospital is to furnish skilled attention to crippled children whose parents are unable to send them to pay hospitals.

Texas may well be proud of the work this Hospital is doing. Twenty-nine years old this year, the Hospital has provided hospitalization for 17,454 children and 80,482 clinic treatments.

When you understand that the average case... not the worst... requires about $2,000.00 worth of surgery, you will see how great is the need for your gift.

A Dollar's Biggest "Kick"

A famous person said there are three "kicks" in every dollar. One when you make it. One when you have it. One when you give it away. And, he said, the last kick is the biggest of all.

Your gift to the Hospital this Christmas will mend stricken bodies... solace broken hearts... give opportunities for useful living... this year and all the years.

The Time IS TODAY

Not tomorrow. Not next week. Make your gift today. Large or small, it will be gratefully received for it is needed in a work that constantly grows larger and more urgent.

TYPES OF GIFTS

(1) LIVING TRUSTS. You can, while you live, set up a living trust for the benefit of the Hospital, by the conveyance to the Hospital Board of Trustees, or to another Trustee of your own choice, such properties, monies, notes, stocks, bonds, and other assets as you may wish to set aside for that purpose. The Trustee will administer the fund in strict compliance with the conditions as set forth in your trust agreement. Our Board of Trustees, when designated as Trustee, will manage such trusts without expense or cost.

(2) BEQUESTS. You may set aside in your last will and testament any monies, properties, stocks, bonds, or other assets as a bequest to the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children.

(3) LIFE INSURANCE. You may make your gift in the form of a life insurance policy, naming the Hospital as beneficiary. You may take out a new policy for this purpose, or, you may simply transfer an old policy to the Hospital as the new beneficiary.

(4) MEMORIALS: You may wish to memorialize some loved one by a gift to the Hospital. The occasion for such gift usually is a death, a birthday, an anniversary. Both the names of the donor and that of the memorialized one are entered upon the Hospital's records. Our Secretary will gladly correspond with interested parties concerning any of these ideas.

(5) CASH. You may, at any time, and in any amount, make a gift of cash to the Hospital. This money provides for the important day-to-day needs of the Hospital.

A Bible Thought For Today—

There Are Many Angles To Traffic Safety, But Citizens Hold Key

There appears to be a commendable revival of interest in safer driving, particularly in and around the city. This has given rise to inquiries about the workings of a citizens traffic commission operated successfully in a neighboring city. Insurance men are adding their voice to the campaign because of the pressure of higher and higher casualty rates. Officials, knowing full well that the number of mishaps within the city are growing, are fearful that fender bumpings may give way to fatalities when luck has been stretched too far.

So there seems to be a genuine interest in doing something about the matter. To do this, steps will have to be taken toward getting at the basic causes—poor driving and physical limitations of streets, intersections, etc.

Sunday Talk: All About Matches

Mr. E. M. Stephenson has sent me a letter with this paragraph about a bird: "I thought you might be interested in the experience of Mr. Egbert Curtis, who lives in the area of Greenwich, Conn. Every summer they have a couple of cardinal birds who build a nest. The male will never take a bath in the bird bath until fresh water is put in it. If Mr. Curtis fails to do this soon enough, the male cardinal gets up in a tree and makes all sorts of noises until fresh water is put in the bird bath. This goes on all through the summer."

Many boxes of that kind were used during the past century; they continued in use long after matches were invented. Usually the tinder was made of charred cotton. Instead of bursting into flame, the charred cotton would glow. With the help of blowing, it could be made to set fire to other objects.

The Old Soldier Comes To Life Again And The Words Fly From Mr. Truman

By FRED GREENE President Harry Truman is probably convinced this week that old soldiers never die. In fact, the chief executive would have you believe they don't even fade away.

After all, it's his job as a soldier and it's getting some pretty good money for being a soldier. The Truman blast at Eisenhower is unfortunate. If the President thought Ike's trip to Korea was an act of "demagoguery," then he should have kept it to himself.

Human Rights Now Being Noted As Segregation Issue Is Debated

WASHINGTON—The 14th Amendment, now at issue in the public-school segregation cases before the Supreme Court, is perhaps the most-tortured section of our Constitution, both legally and in practice.

14th Amendment is emerging from the shadows. There is another. For many years, during the latter half of the 19th century and well into this, the provision in that first section about depriving a citizen of property without due process was strained and tortured by the Supreme Court in favor of corporations.

Riding The GRUB LINE

By Franklin Reynolds

Last Sunday it was suggested in this newspaper that books make ideal Christmas presents, a sentiment with which I cannot disagree, especially in view of the fact that I think I have discovered a single book that will make the perfect gift for so many different people.

This is a book that the giver can buy by the dozen because it can be calculated to increase Christmas joy for any man or woman, any boy or girl, from the age of 12 years up. Moreover, it is a gift that will be long appreciated because it can be enjoyed for many, many years.

It is J. Frank Dobie's latest, and by far his best, THE MUSTANGS, published by Little, Brown and Company of Boston, and in typography and binding one of the handsomest volumes ever turned out. It sells for $6.00.

THE MUSTANGS is the story of the mustangs, a million of which once roamed Texas, with at least another million grazing and galloping elsewhere across the face of the West, proud, free descendants of the horses brought to this continent by the early-day Spanish explorers and settlers. It is the story of "the wild ones—the coyote duns, the smokies, the blues, the blue roans, the snip-nosed paints, the flea-bitten grays, the black-skinned whites, the shining blacks and the rusty browns, the red roans, the rosted sorrels and the the stockinged bays, the spotted appaloosas and the cream-colored palominos, and all the others in shadings of color as various as the hues that show and fade on the clouds at sunset—they are all gone now, gone as completely as the free grass they vivified."

Yes, they are gone, those wild, free, tough, long-maned, long-tailed, affectionate, intelligent horses of pure Spanish blood. They fell and faded before the blaring Winchester, the gelding knife, the crossing with stallions of other breeds, the traps of the mustang men equally as wild and free as the horses they sought to capture and tame. But now we do have this literary monument to their memory, THE MUSTANGS.

In this volume, upon which Dobie spent many years, he traces the descent of the mustangs; tells of the meeting of the horse and the Indian, and describes how great a transformation took place all over the West when the horse came to provide the Mexicans and Indians with a means of fast locomotion, a transformation even greater, perhaps, than that brought about later by the automobile.

He tells the story of the Negro mustanger, Bog Lemmons, who became a mustang himself, living with the wild horses in order to capture them; the story of the fabulous pacing white mustang stallion, that must have been a thousand different horses rolled into one by traditions created from fanciful stories told around lonely campfires; the story of Diablo, the Black Devil, terror of mustangers and settlers alike; the stories of those noble stallions, who literally preferring death to the loss of their liberty, destroyed themselves by majestically plunging down upon the rocks in the deep canyons below, or by choosing a quicksand grave or by drowning.

Once as indigenous to the soil of Texas as the Buffalo Grass, the mesquite, the San Saba and Llano and Concho rivers themselves, the mustangs are all gone. The sturdiest of all horses, man thought he could improve the breed, and man destroyed it completely, with only here and there an inheritance of the blood being apparent in some infrequent horse to be seen today. There's no point in trying to tell a Texan anything about Frank Dobie, but a word about the man who illustrated the volume might be in order.

The artist is Charles Banks Wilson of Miami, Oklahoma, where, at Northeastern Oklahoma A&M College, he has developed one of the nation's best art centers for a two-year college. The folks around Vinita, Tulsa, Baxter Springs, and some of the towns up in Kansas, will remember him as the cowboy who contested in their rodeos and who always wanted to be an artist. He wanted to attend the Chicago Art Institute; but he needed money, and he made his horsemanship pay for it. He taught Chicagoans to ride.

Dobie had seen some of Wilson's work in Coronet and Collier's, and he decided Wilson was the man to illustrate THE MUSTANGS. The Texas went to see the Oklahoman and they made medicine for three days. They ate Indian food, prepared by Mrs. Wilson, a member of the Quapaw tribe. Dobie told Wilson that America had long ago "ceased to expect intellect, imagination and originality" on western subjects—but that was just exactly what Dobie wanted in THE MUSTANGS and that was why he went to Oklahoma.

Wilson read the manuscript 10 times. On the ninth reading he selected the spots at which he thought the illustrations should appear. He actually drew thousands of pencil sketches, anatomy drawings, horses on their backs, biting, running, kicking, alert in order to get the feeling of the spirit of the mustang—and then he settled down and went to work and produced the illustrations.

The artist reasoned that everybody knows what a horse looks like, it had to be the spirit of the mustang that he was to illustrate.

Yes, books do make ideal Christmas presents, and it would, indeed, be difficult to find one that will be more greatly appreciated by so many people, than Dobie's THE MUSTANGS, the beautiful volume available at the book stores.

The Cutest Little Fellow

This little Hereford bull calf, a month old just 17 1/2 inches tall, is the property of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Draper of Forsan. They bought the calf and the 20-month-old mother from Charlie Adams soon after the calf was born. His daddy is a bull belonging to Jeff Pike. The calf can scamper right under his mother without even touching her and he's going to have to grow some before he can even nurse with more completely comfortable satisfaction. The biologists have their names for such unusual animals; to the Hereford breeders it's a plain case of "dwarfism" but to the folks around Forsan he's just "the cutest little fellow." Engineers Are In Need Of Civilian Workers Overseas

Qualified civilian workers for employment overseas with the Corps of Engineers are urgently needed, according to Leon M. Kinney, manager of the Big Spring office of the Texas Employment Commission.

These positions, he said, are open in Germany, Austria, France, Italy, Japan, Alaska, Okinawa, Iceland, North Africa and the Caribbean area.

They include engineers of all categories; general maintenance workers; operations engineers; inspectors; boiler inspectors; boiler makers; mechanics; engineering and surveying aides; draftsmen; electric repairmen; fire chiefs; heavy engineering equipment repairmen; technical advisors; engineering equipment and sheet metal workers; refrigeration mechanics; administrative assistants; fiscal accountants; power plant operators; coal plant operators; supply catalogers; fire inspectors; contract specialists; mechanical advisors; water pump repairmen; organization and methods examiners; position classifiers; statistical officers, and construction inspectors in the petroleum, oils and lubricants field.

Applicants will be interviewed at the Big Spring TEC office between the hours of 7:45 a.m. and 5:15 p.m. on Dec. 17, and between 7:45 a.m. and noon on Dec. 18. Depending on position and grade the salaries range from $2,950 to $10,800 annually. Certain other jobs pay on an hourly basis from $2.13 to $3.33. Women will be employed for a number of these jobs, Kinney said.

Mailing Hints For Yule Time

The Christmas postal season is getting well underway, according to Postmaster Nat Shick.

"And from now on through the season," says Shick, "the patrons of the Post Office can help us handle their parcels and cards, as well as the usual run of mail much faster if they will just co-operate with our plans and observe the requirements of the postal laws and regulations."

In this connection, Shick points out, special mailing chutes, appropriately marked, will be provided for Christmas cards, both those being delivered from this office, and those being delivered from other destinations. Shick asks that all local cards be tied in separate bundles from cards going to other Post Offices.

"We will certainly appreciate it," he says, "if all large batches of cards will be tied in bundles. This will enable us to handle them faster and consequently we will be able to handle all mail faster."

He explains there are certain postal regulations, made in Washington and not Big Spring, that must be observed in packing, wrapping and tying parcels. "We can't accept parcels for transportation and delivery," he says, "unless they are packed, wrapped, tied and addressed in accordance with these regulations." He says that just "common sense" packing and wrapping will comply with the regulations. Additional trucks have been contracted to speed up Christmas deliveries and additional help has been employed. Shick says the goal of the local postal service force is to deliver every parcel coming into the Big Spring Post Office the same day it is received here. "And with the help of the patrons," he commends, "we'll sure get that job done."

Shick calls attention to the fact that nearly all other mail takes priority over Christmas cards mailed at the unsealed rate. That's why he is advising everybody to mail their cards first class with a three-cent stamp. When cards are mailed this way, he explains, they may be forwarded and will be returned to the sender if undelivered. If the sender's name is on the envelope, indications now are, the postmaster says, that this is going to be the biggest Christmas business in the history of this Postoffice.

Adventure And Love Combine

"The Snows of Kilimanjaro," which shows at the Ritz Theatre Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, is loaded with top-notch screen personalities. Gregory Peck (lower right) plays a writer and hunter around whom the action centers. The four women who shape the course of his life are pictured above. They are, left to right, Susan Hayward, Ava Gardner, Hildegarde Neff and Helene Stanley. A major film achievement of the year, the movie is based on a novel by Ernest Hemingway. Action centers on Peck as he reviews his life—via flashbacks—while he is awaiting possible death near Mt. Kilimanjaro. Each of the above women play a major part in the flashbacks.

AT RITZ THEATRE THIS WEEK

Top Stars Play In Film Epic, 'The Snows Of Kilimanjaro'

"The Snows of Kilimanjaro," Twentieth Century Fox's heralded Technicolor production, will have its local premiere Tuesday at the Ritz Theatre. It will show through Thursday.

Starring Gregory Peck, Susan Hayward, Ava Gardner and Hildegarde Neff, the movie is based on Ernest Hemingway's novel of the same name.

J. Y. Robb, owner and manager of the theatre, said that prices would be boosted for the showing. Matinee prices will be 80 cents and night prices are $1.00. Children will be charged 25 cents.

Reportedly one of the year's major film achievements, "The Snows of Kilimanjaro" is the story of a famous writer and big game hunter. Action begins when the writer reviews his life, loves, and frustrations while awaiting possible death beneath Mt. Kilimanjaro in Africa.

Via the use of flashback, the writer traces his career through Paris, the French Riviera, Africa and the Spanish Civil War. Gregory Peck plays the writer-hunter who searches for the world of truth. Miss Hayward, Miss Gardner and

Randolph Scott In Movie About Gold And Guns

Gold and guns give Randolph Scott a run for his money in the picture, "Hangman's Knot," which will show at the Ritz Theatre today and Monday.

The Technicolor production casts Donna Reed as Scott's leading lady. Also in the movie are Claude Jarman Jr., Frank Faylen and Lee Marvin.

"Hangman's Knot" is the story of a band of men on a mission to carry gold to the South for rehabilitation after the war. Scott plays the gunfighter who leads the band.

As a major in the Confederate Army, he captures the gold. When the war is over he tries to fight against renegade vigilantes in order to take the gold to his defeated homeland.

He and his group are forced to take over a stagecoach in which Miss Reed is hiding. She is a former Union Army nurse. The stagecoach is abandoned for a hideaway, and Miss Reed is forced to stay with the group.

They are besieged from all sides by the vigilantes, and there is internal strife over Miss Reed. Finally all the men but Scott, Jarman and Miss Reed are killed and they escape.

Symphony Musicians To Be Heard Sunday

A trio of principals from the Chicago Symphony Orchestra's woodwind sections will appear in place of ABC's distinguished Fine Arts Quartet and will be heard in three chamber compositions on KBST via the ABC Radio Network from 12 o'clock noon to 12:30 p.m. today. The Fine Arts Quartet will be absent this week only because of concert recital appearances in New York City over the week end.

The noted Chicago symphony musicians joining for this broadcast include Leonard Sharrow, bassoon; Florian Mueller, oboe, and Clark Broady, clarinet.

Miss Neff play the women in his life. The picture was made by Darryl F. Zanuck.

Although a three-in-one love story, adventure is uppermost in the movie. Action shifts from battlefields to hunting grounds, with excitement throughout.

Miss Hayward is pictured as Peck's wife. She is wealthy and doesn't mind paying for her happiness, which centers on Peck. The show opens with them on a hunting trip in Africa. Peck is deathly ill and has flashbacks into his life.

He first goes back to his youth and first love, a girl played by Helene Stanley. From his early love, his adventures travel to Paris and a bistro on the Montparnasse where he meets Miss Gardner, whom he really loves.

Adventures with Miss Gardner cease when she leaves him to keep from hindering his career. Later he takes up with Countess Liz on the French Riviera—played by Miss Neff.

Bored by the Countess, he gets drunk and ends up married to Miss Hayward. The end of the movie has some surprising straightening-out of the tortured writer's love affairs.

Supporting actors include Leo G. Carroll, Torin Thatcher, Ava Norring, Helene Stanley, Marcel Dalio, Vincente Gomez and Richard Allan.

America's Town Meeting of the Air has lined up a panel of five war correspondents in Tokyo to reply to the numerous questions Americans are asking about Korea. This quintet of front line reporters will be heard on the Town Meeting program Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, on KBST via ABC. The panelists include: Linsey Parrot, New York Times; Henry Hayward, Christian Science Monitor; Walter Simmons, Chicago Tribune; Robert Prosser, Newsweek; Robert Euston, Associated Press.

William R. Traum, director for Town Hall, Inc., will act as Tokyo moderator, and questions to be answered on the broadcast were chosen as the most timely and representative from over 1,500 questions sent in by the listening public.

'Rhubarb' Features Cat With $30 Million And A Baseball Club

Ray Milland and Jan Sterling are overshadowed by a cat in the movie "Rhubarb," which is scheduled to play at the Terrace Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

The story concerns a cat who inherits $30,000,000 and the Brooklyn baseball club from an eccentric millionaire. Milland, the ball club's press agent, becomes the guardian of the cat.

Miss Sterling, Milland's girl, has a sneezing allergy to the cat's fur. As Milland cannot leave the cat and Miss Sterling cannot get around it, there is little time for love. The picture is devoted almost entirely to comedy.

Canadian Mountie Legend Portrayed

One of the most prominent legends of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police will be brought to the screen of the Ritz Theatre Friday and Saturday with the showing of "Pony Soldier."

Tyrone Power is cast in the starring role of the movie. He plays the heroic Mountie who crossed the border into Montana in 1876 and single-handedly forced the savage Cree Indians to return to their reserve in Canada.

The movie was produced by Samuel G. Engle and directed by Joseph M. Newman. The cast has more than 200. Supporting cast includes Cameron Mitchell, Thomas Gomez and Penny Edwards.

WHEN SHOPPING

In Big Spring, eat at Smith's Tea Room where you serve yourself.

We also have a new banquet room.

Smith's Tea Room

Mixing It Up

Randolph Scott is shown pulling Lee Marvin away from Donna Reed in the above scene from Columbia's "Hangman's Knot," which shows at the Ritz Theatre today and Monday. The movie concerns a group of Confederate soldiers who try to transport gold to their homeland after the Civil War for rehabilitation. They are trapped in a shack by renegade vigilantes, but they have Miss Reed as hostage.

Widmark Stars In Film On Forest Fire Fighters

The Tuesday and Wednesday showing at the Jet Theatre will be "Red Skies of Montana," with Richard Widmark, Constance Smith and Jeffrey Hunter.

The movie is about the "smoke jumpers" of the United States Forest Service. Widmark plays the leader of a fire-fighting crew who is placed under an investigation because some of his men are killed. Hunter plays the son of one of those killed, and he tries to prove that Widmark is guilty of negligence. Widmark, because he cannot remember exactly what happened, is confused.

The movie gives a clear picture of how parachute shock corps of the forest service bail out of ancient planes to control timber blazes. Personal and emotional conflicts are the "makings" of the movie.

The first state association organized to fight tuberculosis was the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis and Health Society, founded in 1892. It is now one of the 3,000 affiliates of the National Tuberculosis Association.

Winner Take All

Sterling Hayden and Victor Jory are shown above as they struggle for possession of a knife in Paramount's "Flaming Feather." The movie will be shown at the Lyric Theatre Sunday and Monday. Arleen Whelan is also starred in the Technicolor production.

Indian Uprising Is Seen In 'Half-Breed'

An Indian uprising is the cause of action in the movie "The Half-Breed," which plays at the Terrace Theatre tonight and Monday night.

Robert Young, Janis Carter and Jack Buettel play in the movie. Action takes place in the period after the Civil War in Arizona. Trouble between the whites and Indians kindle trouble among the Indians, and Buettel, half-white and half-Apache, tries to put the uprising down.

Young plays a gambler, and Miss Carter will be seen as an actress. They furnish the love interest.

The National Tuberculosis Association was founded in 1904 by a group of doctors and laymen to conduct an organized campaign against tuberculosis. Affiliated with it today are 3,000 state and local associations carrying on the fight throughout the United States.

Synopsis: THE KING TRIED TO BRING PEACE TO HIS FIERCE NORTHMEN BY INTRODUCING CHRISTIANITY. BUT AS PRINCE VALIANT WANDERED TO ONE VILLAGE AFTER ANOTHER HE COULD FIND NO PLACE WHERE THE NEW CREED HAD TAKEN ROOT.

THEN, ONE DAY, THEY MEET A DRUID PREPARING A YULE LOG FOR THE MIDWINTER CELEBRATION OF THE FEAST OF THOR, WHEN THE LONGEST NIGHT WILL PASS AND THE GODS OF SUMMER GATHER STRENGTH TO CONTENT AGAINST THE POWERS OF THE FROST GIANTS.

THE STRANGE POWERS OF THE DRUIDS ARE WELL KNOWN, BUT VAL AND HIS COMPANIONS ARE SURPRISED WHEN THE OLD MAN STARES LONG FROM UNDER SHAGGY BROWS AND SAYS: "YOU ARE PRINCE VALIANT AND YOU FOLLOW A FOREIGN RELIGION, BUT, THOUGH YOU ARE FALSE TO THE GODS OF THULE, YOU ARE WELCOME TO SHARE MY POOR HOSPITALITY!"

THE DRUID'S CAVE IS A SHRINE AND THE IDOLS OF ODIN, THOR AND LOKI, ROUGH-HEWN IN WOOD, STAND IN A NICHE BEHIND A STONE ALTAR.

WHEN THEY HAVE EATEN, THEIR FILL THE DRUID TURNS TO VAL. "IT IS THE CUSTOM TO PRESENT SOME SMALL GIFT FOR HOSPITALITY RECEIVED.... ALL I ASK OF YOU IS THAT YOU BELIEVE WHAT YOUR EYES BEHOLD!"

AND HE LEADS THE PRINCE TO THE ENTRANCE WHERE THE RAYS OF THE SETTING SUN ARE BLINDING AFTER THE GLOOM OF THE CAVE.

"HERE, DRINK THE NECTAR OF THE GODS AS YOU LOOK INTO THE WEST!" AND HE FILLS A GOBLET WITH THE SACRED WINE.

NEXT WEEK - Valhalla.

I WANT TO SEE THE LITTLE BOY WHO WAS FOUND BEATEN UP, IF YOU PLEASE.

I'M SORRY, GIR... NO ONE IS ALLOWED TO SEE HIM, HIS CONDITION IS CRITICAL.

NO... WE DON'T KNOW WHO HE IS... THERE WERE NO IDENTIFYING MARKS ON HIS CLOTHES.

MAY I PLEASE SEE HIS CLOTHES?

OH, Y-YES... I CAN IDENTIFY HIM... THESE ARE HIS...

I'LL CALL A DOCTOR.

THIS IS THE BOY, MR. PALOOKA.

PLEASE HAVE HIM PUT IN A PRIVATE ROOM... KEEP A PRIVATE NURSE IN ATTENDANCE AT ALL TIMES... I'LL PAY ALL EXPENSES, DOCTOR.

MR. SHAPIRO, LOOK... DO YOU THINK IT WAS LITTLE MAX... OH, DEAR...

I... I'M AFRAID SO, MRS. O'BRIEN... WE BETTER SEE THE POLICE RIGHT AWAY...

YOU OPEN YER TRAPS AN' I'LL GIT TH' SAME... BOB? I WARNED THEM OTHER GAPS T' KEEP THEIR MOUTHS SHUT!

AN' YA BETTER HAVE YER PANTS READY WHEN I COME BACK!

Y-YOU BRUTE?

WE'LL HAVE TO GIVE HIM A TRANSFUSION. THE HOSPITAL IS SHORT OF BLOOD... SEND FOR 'B' TYPE.

I HAVE 'B' POSITIVE TYPE. I GAVE SOME TO THE RED CROSS A FEW MONTHS AGO.

IF IT WAS OVER TWO MONTHS AGO... YOU CAN GIVE AGAIN.

HOPES THIS DOES THE JOB... THIS LITTLE FELLOW IS REALLY IN A BAD WAY... EVERY MOMENT COUNTS!

Y-YEAH... HE'S LIKE MY OWN LITTLE BOY... DOCTOR.
