Drafted Dollars Constitute Drive Against Unemployment

Nearly a Billion Dollars Recruited For Work And Wages In Areas of Nation

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP).—Drafted dollars—nearly a billion of them—constituted a restorative applied today bringing back the color of health to American prosperity. Cities, states and the nation itself are marshalling monies for wages and work, reports from all areas reveal. Great private industries have announced programs to create more jobs for more men.

Roughly estimated, funds totalling $996,000,000 have been mobilized—not for relief but for work—with additional projects taking shape rapidly.

Crews Remove Victims From Mine Disaster

Twenty Seven Found, Two Others Are Located

McALESTER, Okla., Oct. 30 (AP).—The Wheatley No. 4 coal mine on the state penitentiary farm near here where 29 men were trapped in a violent explosion Monday night today had given up the bodies of 27 of the victims and both the others had been located.

Coal damped in the sixteenth west entry delayed removal of the remaining bodies, known to be on that level, but it was expected they would be brought up by noon. Their identity was not definitely known because of slight confusion in identification of a body recovered previously.

As a large crowd remained around the mouth of the mine throughout the night, rescue crews brought mangled bodies of the victims to the surface where they were identified by brass discs which each miner carried on his person.

Funerals for most of the victims were to be held today. Two bodies, those of Tom Holt and Ernest Fears, were buried yesterday.

An official investigation into the cause of the blast was expected to be started soon by Miller D. Hay, state chief mine inspector. A campaign by the American Red Cross to raise $25,000 for dependents of the dead miners also was expected to get under way at once.

Ted Painter, member of the rescue crew which located the first group of bodies, expressed the belief the miners "didn't know what hit them."

"They fell right where they were working when the explosion occurred," he said, explaining that some of the bodies were lying face down while others were upright with a cup in one hand. This body was that of Sam Lovera Jr., who apparently was taking a drink of water when the blast hurled the dead gas through the mine.

Death Penalty Given Fritts In Haskell Slaying

Found Guilty Of Murdering Hamilton, Son

Second Time Extreme Penalty Has Been Assessed

CLAIREMONT, Texas, Oct. 30 (AP).—The death penalty was returned by a jury in the district court here today against Bill Fritts.

Fritts, farmer of Haskell county, was charged with the murder of D. W. Hamilton, who, with his young son, Earle, was shot and killed at their home near Rochester, Haskell county, Oct. 24, 1928.

The case was brought here on change of venue, going to the jury at 12:10 Wednesday afternoon. The verdict was returned at 8:15 this morning. The courtroom of the small frame courthouse of Kent county was half-filled when the jury came in. No demonstration followed and Fritts took the verdict stoically. He was immediately placed into an automobile and carried to Haskell, by Sheriff R. R. Goodall of Kent county.

Fritts has been tried four times for the murders of the Hamiltons. The first trial, at Anson, for Earle Hamilton's death, brought the death sentence, the defendant attempting suicide while the jury was balloting on his fate. The case was reversed, however, because the indictment had omitted the words "with malice aforethought." On the second trial, in Eastland county, Fritts drew life imprisonment.

The D. W. Hamilton charge was first tried at Roby, a hung jury resulting, the jury dividing on the question of penalty. It was sent to Claremont on change of venue.

Texas Woman Learns Identity

Stolen at the age of 18 months by a band of marauding Kiowa Indians who massacred her mother and sister, Millie Duran, shown here with a grandchild, lived the life of an Indian the intervening 66 years and only a few weeks ago learned her identity. Now she is back at her home on an Oklahoma Indian Reservation and has no desire to change her habits of life at this late date. A savage chief, Aperiin Crow, adopted Millie and named her Sain-toh-oo-lee. When she grew to young womanhood she was married to Chief Goombi, a Kiowa. During the last few days she has concluded a tour of the area, including Graham and Newcastle and Austin, where she met Governor Moody. In Graham and Newcastle she was greeted by a very few old settlers who recalled the raid in which Millie was kidnapped by the savages.

Kidnapers Of Banker Elude Police Force

Surprised at Place Set For The Final Payment

KEWANEE, Ill., Oct. 30 (AP).—Officers were believed closing in early today on three members of the kidnaping gang which abducted and held for ransom, Earl L. Yocum, wealthy Galva, Ill., banker.

The trio eluded capture last night when they fled from what officers believed was the final pay off of a mile west of here. Three highway policemen surprised the men but they fled at the officer's approach. One shot was fired by the highway police to halt the extortionists' car, believed the same in which Yocum was carried off Saturday night to be held for four days. The kidnapers fired once in return and finally crashed their machine through a farm fence four miles from the start of the chase. They fled north and although additional forces were hastily summoned from Kewanee, their trail was lost.

Police and volunteers from all towns in this section were called out to patrol roads and at daybreak an airplane took off from Kewanee airport to scout for the kidnapers, believed still in the vicinity where they left their car. It is a farming country but wooded in spots.

The abandoned car bore an Iowa license, and, according to a highway officer at Princeton was seen early yesterday passing through that town followed by the car of Andrew Anderson, cashier of Yocum's bank.

A tip from an undisclosed source to Sheriff Charles Nash of Henry county, now leading a pursuit, revealed that the final installment of the ransom, reported to total $50,000, was to have been paid last night. Officers said it was not handed over before the surprise and flight of the extortionists.

No indication was found in the automobile used by the abductors either as to their identity or where they had held the banker during the four days he was their captive. Col. Nash said, Yocum returned to his home unharmed yesterday and indicated that the extortionists' demands would be met by him. He refused to aid the hunt for the kidnapers.

Meanwhile 50 vigilantes armed with rifles and shotguns guarded the Yocum estate at Galva, where they had held the banker during the four days he was their captive. Col. Nash said, Yocum returned to his home unharmed yesterday and indicated that the extortionists' demands would be met by him. He refused to aid the hunt for the kidnapers.

SWEETWATER MAN LEAVES JAIL, WRITES

SWEETWATER, Tex., Oct. 30 (AP).—H. O. Winn, under two-year prison sentence in a liquor case, absented himself without leave from the Nolan county jail last Saturday afternoon. Winn had had a visitor, and while Sheriff Jess Lambert was showing the visitor downstairs, leaving a door unlocked, Winn walked out of the jail, strolled over to a nearby drug store, telephoned friends to come after him in a car, and disappeared.

Yesterday Lambert received a letter from Winn. He is at his old home, Hillsboro, perfecting his $2,500 appeal bond, and promised the sheriff to return here Saturday. Lambert said he would leave the fugitive alone, depending on his promise to return.

Loses Balance While Playing With Children

Funeral Rites Today For Son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Hall

While playing with his brothers and sisters, Bobbie Gene Hall, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Hall, fell into an earthen tank and drowned Wednesday afternoon at the family home near Hiway.

The baby was playing with the children near the tank, when he lost his balance and fell into the water. He drowned before he could be rescued by other members of the family.

Funeral services will be held at the graveside in the new Mt. Olive cemetery this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Three brothers, Jack, Ray and an infant, and four sisters, Ouida Fay, Pauline, Doris and Anna Laura, besides the parents, survive.

Challenge For Debate Issued Ross Sterling

Lucey, G. O. P. Chairman Defends Hoover Administration

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 30 (AP).—Capt. J. F. Lucey, chairman of the Republican state campaign committee, today issued a challenge to Ross Sterling, democratic nominee for governor, and United States Senator Tom Connally and Marcello Sheppard to debate with a public hearing the achievements of the Hoover administration.

The proposal stipulated that the debate be held in either Fort Worth, Dallas or Houston at any time prior to November 2.

Gov. Dan Moody, here attending a cotton conference, said Capt. Lucey's challenge "merely is an effort to get outwards to hear Col. W. E. Talbot, republican nominee for governor."

"As for any debate upon the merits or demerits of the present republican administration: There will be plenty to say on that score when the national campaign starts a year from now," the governor said. "There is no escaping the fact the Hoover administration is badly in need of defense."

HOUSTON GETS O.E.S. SESSION

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Oct. 30 (AP).—Houston was selected this morning as the next meeting place of the Grand Chapter of the Texas Order of Eastern Star in session here.

Mrs. Bessie Garth, associate grand matron of Temple is virtually assured of being elected worthy grand matron, although this election will not be held until this afternoon. Mrs. Belle Tomlinson, grand mistress of Wallace, is scheduled to become associate grand matron. William G. Vollus of Houston will be chosen worthy grand patron.

Appointments of officers will follow the election. Contests are expected for the positions of associate grand patron, associate grand conductress and the grand trustee.

The business of this morning consisted of reports from the grand examining board and of the transportation and mileage group.

The grand chapter will close tonight following the installation of grand officers which will take place at 8 o'clock in the municipal auditorium.

The eight elective grand officers, the most worthy grand officers and all out of state grand officers were luncheon guests today at the "St. Angelus."

Earthquake Takes Life Toll Of 27

Adriatic Coast Rocked, Many Residents Are Injured

ANCONA, Italy, Oct. 30 (AP).—Twenty-seven persons were known to be dead and more than 120 injured by an earthquake that shook the Adriatic coast this morning. It was believed casualties in towns unheard from at midday would appreciably increase the totals.

One hundred persons or more were injured at Senigallia, while it was estimated the number of injured at Ancona was at least sixty. Among the towns reporting injuries and damage were Osimo, Castel Fiedro, Montecosaro, Candi di Ancona, Falconara, Castel Petretti, Fiesolara, Senigallia, Loreta, Ostra, Belvedere, Monsanvito, Moravaldi, Fano, Mondolfo, Costanzo, Montelupone and Civitanova.

Detachments of the Sixth Infantry were sent to each place.

The main railroad line between Ancona and the north was interrupted, but trains were running slowly between Senigallia and Ancona.

Houston Salesman Slays Wife, Daughter, Suicides

Son of Wealthy Chicago Real Estate Operator Uses Pistol Borrowed From Friend

HOUSTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Andrew E. Hart, 38-year-old refrigerator salesman, early today shot and killed his 35-year-old wife, Helen, as she slept; mortally wounded his 13-year-old daughter, Vivian, and then turned the same gun on himself, taking his own life. The inquest verdict was murder and suicide.

The daughter died at 8:30 in an infirmary.

Hart, said to be the son of a wealthy Chicago real estate operator, had been in Houston since 1926.

According to authorities who sought to reconstruct the killing, Hart got up about 5 o'clock, dressed, and with a pistol he had borrowed yesterday from A. L. Atwood, shot his wife as she lay asleep in bed, shot his daughter twice as she lay sleeping and then killed himself.

The time of the shooting was placed at 5:45 a. m. both by Mrs. William Rosenthal, living on the second floor of the residence occupied by the Hart, and by Mrs. W. R. Setton, living next door.

Mr. Rosenthal told of being awakened by his wife, who said she had heard a noise; a sort of tapping downstairs.

Mr. Atwood identified the pistol found by Hart's side as his own.

"Mr. Hart," said Atwood, "told me yesterday when he borrowed it, that he wanted to do some pistol practice with a doctor. I thought nothing of it at the time."

Mrs. Hart had told Mrs. Rosenthal that the family had been "up against it" financially.

OFFICER KILLS OKLA. BAD MAN

TABLEQUAH, Okla., Oct. 30 (AP).—Shooting with his left hand after the revolver had been blown out of his right hand, surrounding Lt. Grover Bishop, Cherokee county deputy sheriff, killed Claude Claxton, bad man of the Cold Springs neighborhood 20 miles north of here late yesterday.

Bishop had been sent to arrest Claxton for breaking up services at the Cold Springs church last Sunday, because they "annoyed" him.

The deputy called Claxton out of the farm house, and fired once, "winging" the farmer, when Claxton cursed and flourished a revolver. Bishop said, Claxton returned the fire, knocking Bishop's gun out of his hand. The deputy quickly picked it up and fired from a kneeling position, two bullets striking Claxton in the breast.

Claxton staggered into his house, but died soon afterward. He is survived by his widow and one child.

Attendees at the Cold Springs church complained that Claxton stole in during a meeting last Sunday, flourishing a gun. He told all of the women to go home and announced he wanted to talk to the men. He lined the men up along the wall and told them the church services annoyed him and he hoped they would not be repeated.

Church members came to Tablequah and swore out a warrant for Claxton, which Bishop attempted to serve. It was said no charges would be filed against the officer.

Garner Launches New Tax Refund Movement

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP).—A new drive to place tax refunds under adjudication of the courts has been launched by Representative Garner of Texas, Democratic leader of the house.

Heartened by the prospect of Democratic gains in congress at the election, Garner in a statement last night again called for a congressional investigation of the manner in which the treasury department has returned to corporations and individuals during the past eleven years a sum he placed at nearly $3,000,000,000.

In the past his proposals for such action, the minority pointed out, have been "promptly smothered by the republican majority."

"It is inconceivable that we should continue to grant these huge refunds except upon court decisions covering in full the various issues involved," he said. "With a decrease of $140,286,000 in collection of corporation and individual income taxes during the first nine months of this year, and a decrease of more than $60,000,000 in customs receipts, it is obvious that the burden of these refunds will become increasingly heavy upon the taxpayer."

KIWANIS CLUB TO ENTERTAIN WITH BANQUET

Kiwanis and their wives will be entertained tonight with a banquet at the Crawford hotel, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

A unique program has been arranged for the entertainment, it is declared by members of the program committee.

PURCHASES HOUSE

Mrs. W. G. Neighbors has purchased a house now being erected in Cedar Crest Addition, on Lot 1, in customs receipts. It is obvious that the burden of these refunds will become increasingly heavy upon the taxpayer.

GROUP LEAVES FOR AMARILLO

Big Spring men left today for Amarillo where they will attend a conference of representatives from towns along the proposed Texas & Pacific Northern Railway.

The session will be held at the deterring hotel at noon Friday. A luncheon will be served.

The meeting was called for the purpose of reviewing progress made in assembling data to be presented the Interstate Commerce Commission, and to make plans for future work.

Those from Big Spring who will attend the meeting are R. L. Cook, J. O. Price, E. A. Kelly, C. T. Watson, G. A. Woodward, R. T. Piner, Fox Stripling, S. T. Eason, W. T. Strange, George White, J. B. Collins, and W. B. Wilson.

REED HEARING NEARING END

COLORADO, Texas, Oct. 30 (AP).—Testimony was under way today in the trial of King Reed, former Midland police chief, charged with the killing of J. C. Holcombe, night watchman of the same place. Holcombe was fatally shot in a pistol duel in which Reed received serious wounds. Self-defense will be Reed's plea.

The case probably will reach the jury Friday.

Knute Rockne In Feature Picture At Ritz Friday

Knute Rockne has gone talkie! The first of a series of talking pictures in which the famous football coach of Notre Dame explains and the manner in which he handles his teams, will be shown Friday and Saturday at the Ritz theater. There will be six of the pictures, one of which will be shown every Friday and Saturday.

Famous players and famous plays are shown on the screen, with Rockne explaining them.

Members of the high school football squad will see the first of the pictures Friday morning, in all probability.

BURNS FATAL

CANTON, Ohio, Oct. 30 (AP).—John Bloss, Jr., 4, and his mother, Mrs. Anna Bloss, 28, were dead today from burns suffered yesterday in an explosion of oil which Mrs. Bloss was pouring into a kitchen stove.

BOMB EXPLODES

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 30 (AP).—A bomb connected to the generator of his automobile by unidentified enemies ended the life of Angelo Albanese, 31, today as he started the car that was to take him on a hunting trip.

Albanese, proprietor of a shoe store, died within an hour after the blast demolished the car.

STERLING 'BUSY'

HOUSTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Informed that he had been challenged by Captain J. F. Lucey of Dallas to debate with a republican speaker the achievements of the Hoover administration, Ross Sterling, democratic gubernatorial nominee, said today that he was too busy with state affairs to argue over national questions.

"Additionally," said the nominee, "Captain Lucey is a good friend of mine and I wouldn't debate the question with him or his friends since I think they would find it too embarrassing to attempt to uphold the Hoover administration."

SELLS HOME

Otto Owen has sold to W. R. King his home in Cedar Crest addition. The house is located on Lot 4, Block 12. The amount involved was not made public.

Fish and Dog Story Unique News Feature

OWOSSO, Mich., Oct. 30 (AP).—Every season has its crop of fish stories, and there are plenty of dog stories in the day's news, but a combination of fish and dog story is something a little out of the ordinary.

Edward Riddant, of Owosso, has a fish-catching police dog. The animal wades out into the river here at a point where it is shallow, watches intently, then suddenly shows his nose under water and comes up with a fish.

Several witnesses to the dog's fish catching ability are ready to back up Edward's assertion, among them Roger Williams, local fireman, who says he saw the dog catch three fish during half an hour's wading in the river.

How To Use Air Mail Service

Time of departure of air mail planes—westbound, 11 a. m.; eastbound, 5 p. m.; southbound, 5 p. m.

Final mailing time daily—westbound, 10:20 a. m.; eastbound, 4:20 p. m.; southbound, 4:20 p. m.

Cost—Five cents for first ounce; ten cents for each additional ounce.

Types of stamps and envelopes—Airmail stamps and envelopes may be used, but are not compulsory. Ordinary envelopes with "Airmail" written across the face, and regular stamps may be used if desired.

Mailing places—Postoffice, Douglass, Settles and Crawford Hotels. Airmail placed in street letter boxes is delayed as provision for carrier to collect before plane time has not been made. Letters mailed at the airport are credited to the next stop made by the plane, and the Big Spring postoffice receives no credit for the poundage.

Time-saving examples—Letter leaving here at 5 p. m. arrives in Kansas City 1:10 a. m., Chicago 5:40 a. m. and New York, 5:40 p. m. the day following departure from here.

Letter for Mexico City leaves here at 5 p. m., arrives there 2 1/2 p. m. the next day.

Letter leaving here at 11 a. m. arrives in Los Angeles at 9:15 p. m. the same night, and Seattle, Washington, at 11 a. m. the following day.

Special delivery letter leaving here at 5 p. m. for Fort Worth or Dallas is delivered early the same evening.

Lucey Addresses Independent Oil Men On Scientific Tariff

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 27.—Capt. J. F. Lucey of Dallas, personal friend of President Hoover, addressed the semi-annual convention of the Independent Petroleum Association of Texas here today on "A Scientific Oil Tariff." His address follows:

In a recent radio address reviewing the constructive policies of President Hoover, I stated that the tariff was not a source of revenue only, but was a guardian of our American standards of living against those of other countries whose standards of living are lower than ours.

It has been my experience that the leaders of the American petroleum industry were always willing to subscribe to any policy in the interest of the nation. Therefore, American companies will not object to a tariff on oil if they are convinced that a tariff is in the interest of American business as a whole.

It cannot now be stated that a tariff on crude and refined products would be detrimental to American business. Many students of world economy believe that all countries should have a right to import and export raw materials to the markets of the world free of tariff.

The protection of the Pacific and Atlantic coasts depends upon the prompt transfer of our fleets from coast to coast through the canal. The destruction or blockade of the canal would leave us at the mercy of an invading fleet.

Fortunately, the question of national defense need not now cause us uneasiness. The recent naval agreement between the United States, England and Japan, assures us of the continued friendship between these countries. Nevertheless, should an occasion ever arise we are in splendid position to protect the Atlantic and Pacific because of the Panama canal and the fact that the American citizens do control in large measure the traffic in the vicinity of the Caribbean.

I proposed a tariff on oil several years ago because we were consuming more than we were producing and we were depending upon Mexico to the extent of about 100,000 barrels of oil per month.

Further, our scientists were all agreed that our American resources would be materially depleted within 15 or 20 years.

A tariff at that time would have reacted to the detriment of American business and labor and it would have been unfair to American interests, who had the vision and courage to develop a source of supply in foreign fields to be available when our own fields were unable to supply the demand.

Depended on Mexico. The refineries along the Atlantic seaboard were at that time largely dependent upon the importation of Mexican crude for both their domestic and foreign trade.

There have been many changes in the oil industry in 20 years—and there will be many more changes in the next 10 years.

The cracking process, and now hydrogenation process, has brought about improved conditions in refining so that today a barrel of oil will yield as much as two would have 20 years ago.

Automotive engineers assure us that whenever it is necessary they can produce an engine that will develop 40 miles to the gallon when installed in a medium sized car.

Deeper drilling has demonstrated that we have sources of supply never considered or anticipated by the engineers who predicted the exhaustion of our oil in 20 years.

Shale Deposits. The shale deposits constitute an almost inexhaustible source of supply, which can be developed whenever the cost of production and market conditions justify.

I quote from American Petroleum Supply and Demand: "A report to the American Petroleum Institute, filed with the conservation board, Texas was represented on that committee by Messrs. J. Edgar Pew and W. S. Farner.

In their summary of conclusions they state as follows: Paragraph 1. Page 1. "There is no imminent danger of the exhaustion of petroleum in the service of the United States."

Mmes. Yarbrough, Rockhold New Church Group Presidents

MRS. J. A. YARBROUGH and Mrs. I. R. Rockhold were elected presidents of the West and East Groups of the Christian W.M.U. Council at the organization meetings of these groups yesterday afternoon.

The West Group are those living west of Main Street and the East Group are those living east of Main Street.

Recently organized, this body has gotten its working forces into the field within a week. It will meet every Monday as do the groups of the other churches.

On the first Monday it will meet in Mission study at the church.

On the second Monday it will have its group or circle meetings.

On the third Monday it will have a general business meeting at the church.

The fourth Monday will also be a group or circle meeting.

The fifth Monday will be given over to the Union Meetings of all the churches in town, as heretofore.

Mrs. J. D. Wallace is the president of the entire body with Mrs. W. W. Inkman as vice president. Mrs. G. L. Wilke is secretary. Mrs. James Wilcox is treasurer. Mrs. George L. Wright is corresponding secretary and reporter.

Following are reports of the to groups meetings held yesterday.

East Group
The East Group of the Women's First Christian church met at the home of Mrs. C. D. Baxley in Washington Place, and the following officers were elected: Mrs. I. R. Rockhold, president; Mrs. H. E. Clay, vice-president; Mrs. D. C. Hamilton, secretary; Mrs. Geo. L. Wright, treasurer.

West Group
The West Group of the First Christian church met at the home of Mrs. J. A. Yarbrough, 207 Ayford Street, and the following officers were elected: Mrs. J. A. Yarbrough, president; Mrs. Joe Jint Green, vice-president; Mrs. J. H. Stiff, secretary; Mrs. N. C. Lawrence, treasurer; Mrs. J. T. Williams, reporter.

E. F. Huppertz of Dallas gave an interesting talk on the Ministerial Pension fund.

During the business hour it was decided to have a food sale Saturday, Nov. 1, at Piggy Wiggy No. 1-419 Main street.

Refreshments were served to the following guests: Mesdames I. R. Rockhold, H. E. Clay, A. D. Weff, J. R. Harris, Don Harpo, George W. Hall, H. T. Thompson, Dorothy Newman, W. C. Pharis, D. C. Hamilton, J. R. Creath, M. A. Berry, I. D. Eddins, George L. Wright, W. W. Inkman, C. D. Baxley, and James Wilcox.

The entire council will meet at the church next Monday for their monthly missionary study, with Mrs. J. R. Green as leader, and Mesdames Joe Jim Green and J. E. Crabtree as hostesses.

Colorado Child Almost Scalped By Leopard
ABILENE, Texas, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Nine-year-old Elnora Vowel of Colorado narrowly escaped scalping and death at Colorado yesterday after she had been borne to the ground by a supposedly tame leopard. The animal's claws inflicted a gash in the back of the child's head extending from ear to ear, and the scalp was torn back from the skull for three inches.

The leopard, owned by a carnival man here for the week, was being exhibited by the owner. It was lashed on a chain, but when a crowd suddenly broke loose and bore the child toward it, the animal was released.

S. A. F. E. Pilot Is Married Here

Robert Saling Weds Miss Jeanette Green Yesterday

Miss Jeanette Green of Dallas and Robert Saling, of the Southern Air Express, stationed at the local airport, were married at the Presbyterian church Monday evening by the pastor, Rev. R. L. Owen.

The bride arrived from Dallas late Monday by automobile, accompanied by her brother, L. D. Green. The ceremony was witnessed by members of the church choir, who were holding practice.

Mr. and Mrs. Saling will be at home at 200 Nolan street. Mr. Saling was transferred here recently from Dallas.

Prairie Dogs Only Tenants Of Land Because Of Law

AUSTIN, Oct. 27.—The last stand of the prairie dog is on University of Texas lands in West Texas, and were prairie dogs quoted on the stock exchange it would have an unquestioned corner. The fact that these lands remain unopened, subject to legislative action, has discouraged development and left large areas of prairie dog town, a single such town sometimes covering a square mile.

The name "dog" applied to these animals is a misnomer, since they are really a ground squirrel. The term is an outgrowth from the Lewis and Clark expedition, and was given them because of their bark. They are quite a bit of an Indian diet, but the name has ruined them for the white man's appetite. Otherwise it is likely they would be much more scarce and protected by game laws.

After the fall rains, when the Texas range was especially good it was the custom of Indians from Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri to move their flocks and families south to the good grass. They celebrated this annual exodus by the Feast of the Prickly Pear, at which one of the main dishes was roasted prairie dog. Some of the last classes between the white men and red were over the destruction of the prairie dog.

These "prairie dog lands" which have remained so long undeveloped since they cannot be sold, form an even more serious handicap to the counties in which they are located since they pay no taxes and contribute nothing toward county support.

The university land amendment, to come before the voters on Nov. 4, is obviously fair since it means these counties will be in some measure relieved of this burden they have carried so long, says Rep. Penrose B. Metcalfe, sponsor of the amendment.

Martin Refused Bail; Writ Will Be Resorted To

Jim Martin, 56-year-old teamster for an oil company, was remanded to jail without bond Monday by Justice Cecil C. Collins, following a preliminary hearing on a charge of murder.

Martin is charged with the slaying of a week ago of LaVelle Gibson, 22, who was an employe on the same oil company on a lease near Fort Worth, where the shooting occurred.

C. P. Rogers, attorney for Martin, announced after the trial he would sue out a writ of habeas corpus to obtain Martin's release from jail within the next few days.

Gibson died from a bullet wound in the abdomen. He is alleged to have been shot after he and Martin had had a short conversation.

Several witnesses were placed on the stand by the state. None was used by the defense.

Setting Aside of Award Sought In Local Suit
For an inquiry to his eye, ready while working for the Southern & Utilities Co., W. A. Stutz asks $1200 damages in a suit filed in district court.

He alleges a piece of steel from a prodding fork used in re-entrant at the plant, lodged in his eye impairing his vision to the extent of 50 per cent.

He asks the award of the state industrial accident board be set aside, and compensation at the rate of 60 weeks at $20 per week.

Texas Public Debt Ranks In Lowest Four Of All States

AUSTIN, Oct. 25. (AP)—Statistics enough to keep the tax experts busy for several weeks were contained in a little pamphlet recently sent out by the U. S. department of commerce entitled Financial Statistics of State Governments, 1928.

Regarding Texas, the report shows one out of every four dollars of state revenue was obtained from a general property tax, the highest property tax increased 100 per cent in the decade from 1917 to 1927, and that the motorist in reality pays more tax money to the state than does the property owner.

In 1928 the Texas per capita property levy was $4.58. All revenues totalled $1670 for every tax payer, and the Texas per capita property tax was about 50 cents greater than the average per capita property levy for all states.

In this respect Texas was about "middle" when compared to other states having a comparable assessed valuation of taxable property. The Texas assessed valuation was slightly under $4,000,000,000 other states in the class from $3,000,000,000 to $5,000,000,000 showed per capita property levies as follows: Indiana, $2.71; Minnesota, $2.31; Missouri, $2.28; Nebraska, $2.24; Kansas, $2.28; and Kentucky, $2.21. There were some states in this class which did not assess a property tax.

The gasoline fuel tax ranked next as a source of income, bringing in $19,211,000 as compared to $25,442,000 income from the property tax; and auto licenses was the third largest source, netting $13,000,000. The auto owner, adding to that a city license and other miscellaneous taxes, might well consider himself a heavily burdened taxpayer.

Only four states in the union had a debt of less than one dollar per capita, and Texas was one of the four. They were: Wisconsin $4 cents; Indiana 65 cents; Texas 77 cents; and Kentucky 81 cents.

Now that the ruling has been passed by the attorney general's department questioning the validity of marriages where both parties are not present in body—that marriages by telephone sponsors for the ruling are watching he may apprehensively.

They feel that there may have been marriages consummated in his manner prior to this ruling, and that parties who these hypothetical unions may depend on the attorney general's office in a body to protest. For the benefit of these couples, it was made clear that the ruling only expressed "doubt" as to the validity of such a wedding, and that there are several other things beside the book and the ring which make a marriage valid.

More than two years at the desk of assistant secretary of state have convinced Watt L. Saunders that few Texans appreciate the extent of the state's resources.

Across Judge Saunders' desk passed a veritable record of the state's industrial and business activities, in the forms of applications for state papers of incorporation. Before taking the job, Saunders had the average conception of his state—a large state, with varied industries—but he admits that he had no conception of how large it was or how varied was its industries.

A list of the industries granted state charters is indicative of what brought about Saunders' changed viewpoint. Here are some of them, jotted down offhand—lead mining, sheep raising, oil, cotton, timber in hardwood, pine and furniture, shipping, oyster fisheries, citrus fruit, truck gardens, wheat, soy to grain such as kaffir, millets, cattle, potash and other valuable minerals, potash being one of the newest developments of the Davis mountains; quarrying of red granite, cotton milk, sulphur, and aviation.

In several of these—and the list is by no means complete—the state excels. Judge Saunders commented that from the list of corporations chartered to engage in aviation, he believes the state is destined to be one of the outstandingly "air-minded" in the nation.

Because of these varied industries, Texas had not been so hard hit as other states in the current business depression, in Saunders' opinion.

Publicity agent her being elected as one of the few women clerks of a legislative house in the United States brought Mrs. Louisa Stross Pinney, clerk of the Texas house of representatives, four proposals from as many states.

One of the proposals was from a young lawyer, newly graduated, who said that it was merely hard pickings for a beginning lawyer and if she could support him and them, to "hurry on over to Alhambra."

Mrs. Pinney is running for another term as clerk. She has served as clerk during two regular and eight special sessions of the legislature.

MARY LEON Inkman entertained the S. P. C. Club at the home Saturday afternoon with a Hallow'en party. Members came dressed in traditional Hallow'en costumes.

Camille Koberg and Winifred Pinner won the two contests held and were presented with a powder puff and a string of beads, respectively as prizes.

The next meeting will be with Eddie Ray Lees.

Express Agency In New Building

The Railway Express agency moved into new quarters Sunday, and is now located just west of the Texas & Pacific passenger depot.

The agency moved into a new $14,000 brick structure, built along the same architectural lines and of the same type of brick as the passenger depot. According to officials of the company the frame building used for years by the company will be torn down. It is not known when the old structure will be dismantled. It is located on Main and First streets.

Proposal To Pave Not To Be Submitted

A proposal to present to the city commission at its regular meeting Tuesday night a petition asking for a bond issue to pave Big Spring streets, will not be offered, according to Fox Stripling, chairman of a committee representing the Business Men's Luncheon Club.

At the last meeting of the club, it was unanimously decided to circulate a petition asking for a bond issue in an effort to relieve to some extent the unemployment situation here. Stripling was named chairman of the committee.

In a statement issued Monday morning, Stripling declared he believed this is an inopportune time to ask for the paving program.

"I have talked to a number of business men and a number of residents who would be expected to not money in the project," Stripling declared. "I find the people are not ready at this time to pave."

Five Miles Back

FIVE miles back from our main state highway, one knows what conditions exist. The Governor, however, in New York, "There the highways are built and hazardous, especially in the winter condition as in the time of our grandfathers."

This is not an exaggerated statement. In all parts of the country, magnificent, fast, heavy highways go from city to city, from state to state. But a few miles away from these are attempting the impossible task of employing heavy transport for their commodities and their selves on roads that were unimproved factory even in the home and on days. As a result, five months of the year an impassable barrier of mud stands between them and their markets and the outside world.

Here is one of the main causes of farm depression. In the past two or three decades there has been a revolution in industry, of which the major effects have been the mechanization of transportation. Industrial property has become a more compact, quicker, efficient and economical transportation of goods.

Insurance Men Are Interested In Court Ruling

AUSTIN, Oct. 30—A question affecting the pocketbook of every insurance agent in Texas, and the power of the state insurance commission to regulate the huge business of insurance, will be argued before third civil appeals court here Wednesday.

This question is whether the insurance commission can fix agents' rates at 20 per cent of the premium. District Judge J. D. Moore in 1928 district court at Austin upheld that power. The appeal was taken by Commercial Standard Insurance Company, Dallas, one of four Dallas companies that brought the test proceeding.

Encouraging Signs Seen In U.S. Business

Guaranty Survey Sees No Definite Recovery However

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Some encouragement is to be derived from business developments in the last few weeks, states the Guaranty Trust Company of New York in the current issue of the Guaranty Survey, its monthly review of business and financial conditions, which has just been published.

Although it cannot yet be said that definite recovery is evident, aside from the expansion that is usually witnessed at this season, the pronounced recession that characterized business activity in almost all lines throughout the late spring and summer has given way to irregularity, with positive improvement in some branches of trade and industry.

The firmer tone is reflected in the movement of the index of business activity of the Guaranty Trust Company, which stands at 72.2 for September, as against 73.0 for August, showing the smallest decline in several months. The incomplete reports covering this month's operations indicate that no severe setback has been experienced in recent weeks.

New Low Level

While the trend of business activity thus affords some ground for optimism, events in certain other directions appear, at first glance, considerably less favorable. The development that has undoubtedly attracted the major share of public attention since the beginning of October has been the further decline in commodity prices, which has caused the general level of approximately 100, if not below, that reached immediately after the collapse of last October and November.

As usual, the recession in security values has reacted on business sentiment, creating in some quarters a degree of pessimism by no means warranted by the importance of the matter of stock prices seldom, if ever, reach their lowest point immediately after a major collapse. The initial break is almost invariably followed by a more or less prolonged period of weakness in the course of which the level of values ordinarily goes below the point reached in the early stages of the decline. To many observers, therefore, the attainment of a new low level of prices for the current movement came as no surprise, but rather as an unpleasant necessity that had to be encountered before the readjustment could be considered complete.

Commodity Prices

Commodity prices have also failed to maintain the firmer tendency that was noted a month ago. In the latter part of September and the first week of October, renewed weakness appeared, particularly in prices of farm products and of imported raw materials. This decline caused the wholesale price index of the Guaranty Trust Company to a new low for the current movement of the index number for October 15 stands at 89.0, as against 88.8 a month ago.

On the whole, however, the new favor of commodity prices in the last three months has presented an encouraging contrast to the consistent weakness that was evident during the first seven months of the year. Recent movements have covered a comparatively narrow range, suggesting that the readjustment, if not actually completed, is at any rate far along on its course. This view is strengthened by the attitude of leading consumers of industrial raw materials, who have shown an increasing tendency to cover their needs at existing prices.

Wages and Purchasing Power

As a natural result of the increasing recognition of the importance of the position of labor as an influence on general business conditions, numerous efforts have been made to determine as accurately as possible the net effect on changes during the past year in employment, wage rates, and the cost of living on the aggregate consuming power of the so-called working classes. These inquiries have led to an interesting variety of theories as to what developments must take place before genuine trade recovery can occur. According to one estimate, the aggregate dollar income of wage-earners in this country has declined by nearly $3,000,000,000 a year, or slightly more than 7 per cent. The decline in wholesale prices, particularly of raw materials, has been considerably greater than this, but the decrease in the cost of living, as nearly as this factor can be determined, has probably been somewhat less. The result is a depleted purchasing power, which, according to this view, must be offset by further declines in retail prices before business recovery can take place.

Another theory is based on the observation that, while the cost of living has declined, wage rates have remained virtually unchanged, resulting in an actual advance in real wages—that is, wages expressed not in dollars, but in terms of the commodities that the dollars will buy. This point of view, which takes no account of changes in the volume of employment, is made the basis for conflicting opinions: first, that wages must be reduced; and, second, that they should be maintained in order to provide an increasing margin of income over the minimum necessary for subsistence, and thus furnish a larger market for consumers' goods in general.

For each of these views there is more or less theoretical support. The experience of past depressions, however, indicates that an increase in consumption may not be the primary necessity for a general business recovery. Production may increase without any rise in consumption at all, simply through the gradual working off of surplus stocks of goods, necessitating in a warrant charging the amount of $300 on March 15, 1929. He was then taken into custody by Ranger Sergeant Wheatley and Private Aldrich.

Buddie was arrested during the afternoon on charges of embezzlement and misapplication of public money. The warrant alleged he altered a check of the Conroe Independent school district by raising the amount $100 on March 24, 1929, according to County Attorney A. Turner. He was subjected to a lengthy questioning by Sergeant Wheatley and Ranger Aldrich.

Judge Morris, a leading figure in Montgomery county politics for 30 years, was at liberty until today after his arrest Friday night on charges of embezzlement and misapplication of money while he was cashier of the First State Bank of Conroe. The 56-year-old newspaper editor afternoon returned his campaign for county judge against R. H. Weatherly, democratic nominee, by addressing citizens of Montgomery at 2 p. m. and making another vigorous political speech at Dublin at 4 p. m. denouncing what he termed political enemies who were working to have him disqualified as a county judge.

During his address in the western part of the county at Montgomery, the suspended judge vehemently denied all charges set forth in two warrants charging him with embezzlement and misapplication of funds. Ten charges of official misconduct lodged against him last Saturday by a committee of citizens, which caused his temporary removal from office on an order by District Judge S. A. McCall.

He intimated he would file a general demurrer to the charges

W. G. McAdoo Who Saves His Time By Commuting Between Coasts On Private Plane, Stops Here

William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, and party, making an east-west transcontinental flight in McAdoo's private plane, "The Blue Streak," took off from here for Los Angeles at 10 p. m. today after having spent the night here at the Seitzler Hotel.

The former secretary of the treasury, with his son, Robert H. McAdoo of New York, his secretary, Miss Vera Ward, and Pilot Harry Ashe Jr., arrived here from Atlanta Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. They intended to take off at 8 a. m. today, but motor trouble developed in the Lockheed Vega plane and delayed the flight for over an hour and a half.

McAdoo, and his party, have just completed a west to east flight, going from Los Angeles to Washington and New York in 10 hours 11 minutes flying time. They returned from New York, via Atlanta.

He is making the trip for two reasons, he declared at the airport today. One is because he had business at Washington and New York and wanted to get there quickly. The other is that he is endeavoring to determine the speed with which the average business man can cross the continent in safety and comfort.

"In this day, speed is important," he declared. "It is not a rare case for a New York business man to have business connections on the Pacific Coast. The average business or professional man wants to get where he is going as soon as he can. That is my predicament and that is why I use a fast airplane on business—short hops or transcontinental flights, it makes little difference."

No Record Sought

"I have not attempted, in this flight, to set any kind of a speed record. I have merely charted out flying time to ascertain how long it takes a ship with an average number of passengers, and no additional gasoline storage, to make such a business flight as I have made. I am extremely satisfied with the result."

The party left Los Angeles two weeks ago today. Good flying weather, with one exception, has been experienced during the entire flight. The flying time from Los Angeles to Washington was 16 hours and 11 minutes. After having spent four days in Washington, the party went to New York where it remained nine days. On the return trip, the party flew from New York to Big Spring in 12 hours and 13 minutes. Five hours flying time between Atlanta and Big Spring, and seven hours and 13 minutes between Atlanta and Big Spring, was charted. The speedy craft covered the distance from Atlanta to Monroe, La., in three hours and 13 minutes, but took four hours on the last lap. The plane refueled at Monroe and Big Spring.

Fair Weather

Fair flying weather in the vicinity of El Paso was indicated today, but the party planned to land at El Paso if conditions were found unfavorable ahead. The blue and cream colored Lockheed Vega plane, with a top cruising speed of 185 to 200 miles an hour, developed slight motor trouble just as the take off was planned this morning. It was repaired by the mechanical force at the airport.

McAdoo likes the fly high—and fast. Soon after the plane left Los Angeles they mounted to a 12,000 foot altitude and traveled at a speed of 185 miles an hour until they reached the Colorado river. The plane is equipped with a super-charger, providing additional speed.

Comfort

"We have comfort on the plane," McAdoo said. "My son and my secretary sleep at times, but I like to watch what is going on beneath. I do a little napping on the side. I like fast flying, with a capable pilot and sufficient altitude. I go from Los Angeles to Santa Barbara and San Francisco in just a few hours, handle my court cases and am back home in the afternoon. I left Los Angeles one morning and was in my hotel room in Washington that night. It would have taken three days and nights to make the trip by rail."

McAdoo declared his wife, a daughter of the late President Wilson, doesn't like to fly. "The roar of the motor bothers her most I think," he declared.

"She made one flight with me—and I made it a good one—from Chicago to Santa Barbara, but she doesn't care for flying to any great extent."

"I think the fast plane is the busy business man's asset. I have offices in Los Angeles and Washington, and without my plane I would spend too much of all my time traveling."

Cooperative Creamery Is Being Studied

Men experienced in the operation of cooperative creameries will be brought here soon by the Chamber of Commerce to confer on plans for such a plant. It was decided Monday night by the directors after talking with Messrs. Walter Coffee, M. M. Denton, Hill and Moore, who appeared in connection with an effort to "ace a plant now being operated here on a cooperative basis and to organize it."

They said a market for dairy products, including manufacture of butter, could be formed where no satisfactory market now exists. Output in Howard county is above local consumer demands, they declared.

The directors were very favorable to the proposition. It was decided to go into it more thoroughly.

Contracts Let For Emergency Landing Fields

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 28 (AP)—Contracts have been awarded by the aeronautical branch of the department of commerce covering nearly all the construction work on the El Paso-Fort Worth section of the Southern Airway route, via Abilene, it was announced today.

The largest single item will be undertaken by Clark and Estis of Monahan, to clear and arrange six fields between El Paso and Wink for $18,173.

C. W. Leverett of Cleburne was awarded contracts for constructing fields at Eastland for $2,477 and at Santo for $2,177.

S. D. Morris of El Paso received a contract to fence six fields from El Paso to Wink at $6,849.

H. G. Eastridge of Odessa will grade the Ector county field for $1,955 and fence it for $1,345.

The temporary field at Weatherford will be cleared by J. A. Stacks of Ranger for $948. Westbrook field will be cleared by J. L. Ogleby of Westbrook for $975, and Underwood and Love of Ranger have contracted to clear the Baird field for $1,488.

This completes practically all of the emergency field construction undertaken by the federal government on the route.

T.&P.N. Hearing Date Not Fixed Says Bateman

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 28 (AP)—G. O. Bateman, attorney for the Texas and Pacific Railway, said today the interstate commerce commission had not set a date for a hearing on application of extensions to build 333 miles of extensions in West Texas. Bateman also is president of the Texas and Pacific Northern Railroad, a subsidiary of the T. & P.

"We asked that the date be set in November, while opposing lines are favorable to January," he said. "It is possible the commission may compromise and set the hearing for sometime in December, but that is only a surmise."

The company proposes to build a line from Big Spring to Vega, with branches serving Amarillo and Lubbock.

$45,346 Sought In Civil Suit

Seeking damages in the amount of $45,346.66, S. A. Byrd has filed suit in district court against the Texas Employers' Insurance Association.

Byrd asks the award of the State Industrial Accident Board to set aside.

In the petition filed, Byrd alleges he received injuries to his back and internal organs when in the employ of the Robert E. McKee Construction Co. At the time, May 3, he was engaged in constructing the new roundhouse of the Texas & Pacific railway engine terminal.

He asks compensation for 401 weeks at $13.32 1/3 per week.

West Side Baptists Organized New Church Grows In Size; Its Organ, "The Clarion Appeal," Is Issued

THE second issue of the "Clarion Appeal," publication of the newly organized West Side Baptist church of Big Spring, was out recently.

This church, first a mission, organized by the cooperative work of the East Fourth Street Baptist church and the First Baptist group, is now well under way. Its Sunday school is growing week by week and 82 were present yesterday.

The pastor is E. L. Whitaker. Mrs. R. L. Campbell is clerk and Mrs. C. O. Murphy is the treasurer. Deacons are R. L. Campbell, and R. L. Morrow. They were ordained last Monday by a presbytery called for this purpose. Quoting the "Clarion Appeal,"

"After a strenuous examination led by the pastor of the West Side church, the presbytery recommended that the candidates be ordained. Then brethren R. L. Campbell and L. E. Morrow were ordained. Deacon W. C. Buchanan led in the ordination prayer. Deacon J. G. Hull delivered the charge to the deacons and Rev. S. B. Hughes delivered the charge to the church."

The presbytery was composed of three ordained ministers, S. B. Hughes, J. J. Daily, and E. L. Whitaker; deacons D. C. Maupin, W. C. Buchanan and J. G. Hull of the First church, Big Spring; Deacon V. A. Masters of the Hartwell church, E. L. Whitaker served as moderator and J. D. Hill his clerk.

The Sunday school superintendent is L. E. Morrow and A. E. Abney is board member.

The B. Y. P. U. has also been organized. The senior president is Mrs. L. E. Jobs, intermediate leader, Mrs. C. O. Murphy and junior leader, Mrs. R. L. Campbell.

The church is rapidly growing in membership with seven joining last Sunday and the pastor urges that others living in West Big Spring join this organization.

The ordinance of baptism was administered Sunday at the First Baptist church.

T.&P. Given Authority To Reduce Fare

The Texas & Pacific railway company's application to reduce passenger fare from Big Spring to Fort Worth, and between all intermediate points, to 2 cents per mile, was granted and the reduction authorized Tuesday by the state railroad commission, according to the Associated Press dispatches.

The fare now is 36 cents per mile. The reduction will apply only on local trains, there being three. The only train on which it will not apply will be the "Sunshine" Special and the Texas, arriving here from the east at 9:15 p. m. and from the west at 11:15 p. m. daily.

Under the new schedule of fares, which will become effective November 1, until February 28, 1931, provides for regular half fare for children and a limit of 50 pounds on baggage.

The fare between principal points on the line from Big Spring to Fort Worth will be as follows: Big Spring to Colorado, 65 cents; Big Spring to Sweetwater, $1.31; Big Spring to Abilene, $2.32; Big Spring to Cisco, $3.68; Big Spring to Eastland, $3.25; Big Spring to Ranger, $3.45; Big Spring to Weatherford, $4.73; Big Spring to Fort Worth, $5.25.

The fares will be effective on trains 3, 4 and 10, the last operating between Sweetwater and Dallas.

Denman Well Gets More Pay

Frank Greene, of the Greene Oil company, Monday night, confirmed reports of the day that a new producing formation had been struck in Green & Getty's No. 1 L. C. Denman in the east half of the northeast quarter, section 14, block 30, township 18, T & P survey, eastern Howard county.

Mr. Greene issued orders to swab the well, which he expected to make 200 barrels per day.

The new pay was drilled at 2,775 feet, the total depth. Streets of pay had been found from 2,443 feet to that point.

It is about two miles from the Sinclair company's No. 1 Dodge estate which opened this new era of production about three months ago. The nearest production to these two wells is several miles to the east of California's Forty lease across the line in Mitchell county.

Green's No. 1 Snyder, section 27, block 10, township 18, southwest corner of the northeast of the northeast, was drilling Monday noon at 2,060 feet in blue-gray limestone.

Wet Weather Halts Ships Here

The westbound S. A. F. E. passenger and mail plane, scheduled to leave here at 11 a. m., was awaiting favorable weather this afternoon before taking off for El Paso.

The plane arrived here from Fort Worth this morning on time, with pilot reporting rain only a short distance east of Big Spring. Rainy weather here and a wet field, delayed the takeoff, however, it was thought the plane would be able to leave at 2 p. m.

Four passengers were on the ship when it landed.

Investigations of Politics And Banking At Conroe Bring Forth Startling Series of Developments

CONROE, Texas, Oct. 28 (AP)—Developments in Montgomery county's tense political situation and the investigation of the Farmers and Merchants State bank came rapidly to a head today.

After a day marked by frequent firing of charges in connection with the bank investigation, which included also a probe into the affairs of the First State bank merged with the Farmers and Merchants bank a year ago, three high faced felony complaints.

Those charged included A. W. Morris, suspended non-judicially of Montgomery county, J. M. Griffith, cashier of the Farmers and Merchants State bank, and Leo Biddle, former assistant cashier of the First State bank of Conroe.

Griffith was charged in two cases of embezzlement and with the theft of records of the bank. The latter charge was filed in connection with the burning of the bank's ledgers on Oct. 18.

He was arrested this morning on a warrant charging him with the embezzlement of $1,800 on Feb. 27, 1929, and with the burning of the bank records. He was released after supplying bond in the amount of $500 in each case. Early tonight Griffith was re-arrested and charged in a second embezzlement case, on a warrant charging the embezzlement of $300 on March 15, 1929. He was then taken into custody by Ranger Sergeant Wheatley and Private Aldrich.

Biddle was arrested during the afternoon on charges of embezzlement and misapplication of public money. The warrant alleged he altered a check of the Conroe Independent school district by raising the amount $100 on March 24, 1929, according to County Attorney A. Turner. He was subjected to a lengthy questioning by Sergeant Wheatley and Ranger Aldrich.

Judge Morris, a leading figure in Montgomery county politics for 30 years, was at liberty until today after his arrest Friday night on charges of embezzlement and misapplication of money while he was cashier of the First State Bank of Conroe. The 56-year-old newspaper editor afternoon returned his campaign for county judge against R. H. Weatherly, democratic nominee, by addressing citizens of Montgomery at 2 p. m. and making another vigorous political speech at Dublin at 4 p. m. denouncing what he termed political enemies who were working to have him disqualified as a county judge.

During his address in the western part of the county at Montgomery, the suspended judge vehemently denied all charges set forth in two warrants charging him with embezzlement and misapplication of funds. Ten charges of official misconduct lodged against him last Saturday by a committee of citizens, which caused his temporary removal from office on an order by District Judge S. A. McCall.

He intimated he would file a general demurrer to the charges

King Boris Weds Princess Giovanna In Quaint, Mystic Assisi, Bringing A Royal Family At Last To The Romantic Bulgar Nation

ASSISI, Italy, Oct. 25.—A queenly princess and a Democratic king were joined together in this medieval town to give romantic Bulgarians a royal couple long desired.

The marriage of the 23-year-old princess, Giovanna of Italy, and the 37-year-old king, Boris III, Oct. 25 at the sacred tomb of St. Francis of Assisi was a panoplied occasion of pomp and ceremony.

Agassi, ordinarily a quiet little city, still containing a temple to Minerva, already is imbued with the mystical spirit of one of the most fascinating characters of church history—St. Francis who founded the Franciscan order of cowed monks and whose disciple, St. Claire, inspired a sisterhood of humble nuns.

It is cherished by the princess. For St. Francis was baptized Giovanna, the masculine form of Giovanna, and the devout princess has been a frequent visitor to the church of San Francesco where his thirteenth century tomb lies.

Once she gave it an altar cloth embroidered by her noble hands and now she will kneel with her foreign bridegroom under the famous fresco.

The match has been four years in the making. Giovanna, third daughter of the sovereigns of Italy, was born November 13, 1907, and when she came known as the most queenly of the princesses of the House of Savoy.

Of medium height and stately carriage, she has black hair and well-defined features, with the somewhat small, deep-set, almond shaped eyes of her mother's Montenapoleonic ancestors.

The intellectual of the royal family, her interests are literature and art. But she is fondly fond of the outdoors, of tennis and of horse riding, and is driving her own car. She dances and she interests herself in modern things. Yet she tends in dress to be old-fashioned.

When King Boris and Princess Giovanna of Italy wed October 25 in the basilica of St. Francis of Assisi, Bulgaria will have the royal family it has long desired.

Boris, tall and handsome, was 24 when, in 1918, his father booted from his kingdom, aware that the Austrian and German armies, with which his troops were allied, had been beaten in the war. The accession of Boris was received with great joy by the populace.

Boris, largely by his democratic ways, weathered subsequent political unrest and revolution, although narrowly escaping assassination.

Boris is said to be the lowest paid king. His allowance is a meager $43,000 a year, of which he has been giving half to charity. He has no personal fortune. The Italian royal family is reputed to be extremely wealthy.

Boris cares nothing for festivals, receptions or balls. He prefers reading, quiet physical exercises and automobile travel.

His hobby is railroading. He frequently takes the throttle of locomotives and journeys and has a narrow gauge railroad on his palace grounds.

He has, too, a menagerie at the palace and one of the finest collections of butterflies and insects. He is fond of dogs, is an expert in zoology and botany and is his own gardener. He speaks English excellently.

Intensely religious, Princess Giovanna and her sister, Mafalda, announced when Giovanna was 15 years old that they would never marry, but desired instead to enter a convent and take the veil.

Boris' name was first linked with Giovanna's in 1926. It also was mentioned in connection with the names of a dozen other eligible maidens of noble lineage.

So insistent was the search for a consort that a European tour was supposed to have been undertaken for the sole purpose of finding a wife. It was even reported that Boris was willing to marry an American girl, providing she was rich and beautiful. Finally Boris became bored with the persistence of these rumors and began to object to their repetition.

Scored on in the opening seconds of play, he suffered by a using at lack of which they had no previous conception, and outlasted the Hoosiers went down before Southern Methodist University's clock-like eleven, 27 to 0.

Charlie Hearon, chunky little Pony halfback, chilled the invaders on the opening play of the game, when he received the kick-off on his own 10-yard line and romped an even 90 yards for a touchdown. A wave of interference got him by the first Indiana tacklers, after which he weaved over to the sidelines and scudded across the goal without being touched.

After that there was never a doubt of the result. Calling on their tricky passing game, the Methodists scored again before the period ended and then added additional markers in the second and third quarters on lengthy heaves from Gilbert to Long and Koonitz. They were deprived of three more touchdowns only because of a staunch defense thrown up by the Hoosiers inside their 10-yard line.

While the Mustangs, using two complete teams, were piling up 19 first downs on a wide assortment of plays, Indiana could manage only eight. The visitors made their only real scoring threat in the second period, when a series of runs by Ross and Hoover and a toss from Ross to Brubaker carried to the Methodist 13-yard line. They failed of a score only because Brubaker was unable to hold a pass from Ross across the goal line. Outside of the one gesture, the Hoosiers spent the afternoon in their own territory, trying to ward off their opponents' threats.

Hearon, a sophomore and a last-minute substitute in the Pony backfield, just about earned himself a regular berth by his brilliant performance today. In addition to his opening sprint, he turned in another 40-yard sweep around end and generally pained the visitors, who found him as elusive as light. Travels, another sophomore, joined Hearon in entertaining the crowd with several long runs that ended just short of the goal line.

The Mustang back had every opportunity to demonstrate their tricky offense, as their line outplayed the Hoosiers all the way, opening holes on almost every play. The various Indiana backs seldom had a chance to get past the line of scrimmage, a 15-yard jaunt by Ross comprising their only run to speak of. They were forced to turn to the air for most of their gains, completing seven for a total of 113 yards. Southern Methodist completed 18 out of 29 attempted, gaining 221 yards. So well was their aerial game executed that only four of their losses were intercepted.

Koonitz scored the Mustang's second touchdown midway of the opening period on a five-yard slant off tackle after Johnson and Hearon had carried it that far. Their third game early in the second period on a 24-yard heave from Gilbert to Long, who caught the sphere across A short pass, Hearon to Koonitz, scored the fourth and last soon after the third chucker began, Koonitz taking it on the two-yard line and dragging a tackler across. Sprague added two of the extra points, Long another.

Score by periods: S. M. U. 13 7 7 0—27; Indiana 0 0 0 0—0. Southern Methodist Scoring: Touchdowns, Hearon, Kattman, Koonitz, Long (substitute for Hearon); Points from try after touchdown: Sprague 2; Long 1. (Place-kicks).

Hoosiers Chilled By Ponies Daring Passes: 25,000 See The Game

DALLAS, Oct. 25. (UP)—A big red team from Indiana University received a crushing introduction to the Southwest Conference football by being defeated 27-0 in Fair Park bowl here today.

Scored on in the opening seconds of play, he suffered by a using at lack of which they had no previous conception, and outlasted the Hoosiers went down before Southern Methodist University's clock-like eleven, 27 to 0.

Baby Is Born With 6 Teeth In Mouth; Rare Case Say Medics

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 26 (INS). John M. Winters is one proud father who will sit pound the floor far into the night with a teething baby. For ten-day-old Margaret Winters was born with six teeth in the lower jaw.

The attending physician declared the case a rare one in medical history. No other San Antonio baby is ever known to have had the distinction of being born with teeth.

Little Margaret is entirely normal and healthy, the physician said. Recorded in medical annals is one case where for three generations a baby was born with teeth.

Mrs. D. E. Crouser Entertains With Halloween Bridge Shower In Honor Of Mrs. R. H. Oldham

Mrs. D. E. Crouser entertained at her home on Douglas street Friday afternoon with a bridge shower in honor of Mrs. R. H. Oldham, who is leaving soon for Roswell, N. M.

Mrs. Crouser carried out Halloween colors and motif in decorations, refreshments and bridge accessories.

When the guests arrived they were told to hunt for their tallies, which were tied to Halloween horns. Following this bridge was played.

Mrs. J. O. Barker won high score. Mrs. M. H. Miller won low and Mrs. Raymond Winn won high cut. These three women presented their prizes to Mrs. Oldham.

After the bridge each guest was given a colored ribbon streamer, which she followed to the end. On the guests' streamers the surprise was an "old witch" lollipop. Mrs. Oldham found a basket of gifts, tied in Halloween colors, at the end of her ribbon.

Halloween refreshments were served to the following guests: Mesdames Charles Davis, J. A. Magee, Bob Eubanks, Howard Vincent, Raymond Winn, C. C. Carter, A. M. Underwood, J. O. Barker, Emory Duff, M. H. Miller of Houston, Charles McCuller, T. J. Higgins, J. H. Rivers, M. L. Tinsley, Jess Seal, T. L. Danner, L. C. Knight, Charles Lozano, Jack Nash and R. H. Oldham.

Miss Boyce Is Candidate For District Clerk

Miss Julia (Johnnie) Boyce, candidate for district clerk, lifelong resident of Howard county and known by most of its people through her service as a teacher in schools of Cushman, Big Spring and rural districts, Saturday issued an appeal to the voters of the county to write her name in on the independent ticket on the ballot of the general election to be held November 4.

Miss Boyce has made a strenuous campaign in every voting precinct and her friends declare her reputation for unusual efficiency in whatever position she is placed assures the public that if elected to this office the interest of every resident will be well served.

This office was created automatically by the size of the vote in the county for governor

BOLLWORM ACTION DELAYED

Board Finds Infestation Via Machine

November 13 New Date For Meeting Of Commission

DALLAS, Oct. 24. (AP)—Action on the lifting of the last pink boll worm restrictions on a certain West Texas zone was postponed until November 13 at Austin when the state pink boll worm commission met here today.

J. M. Del Curto, state entomologist, said that a gin trash machine revealed an infestation and the commission determined to await ginning for the remainder of the season. When the meeting was called no infestation had been evidenced.

The counties included in the zone are Dawson, Howard, Martin, Borden, Midland, Ector and Andrews. Most of them already had been removed from the lint fumigation area.

Members of the commission attending were W. K. Crawley of Lamesa, C. R. Beeman of Fort Stockton, W. W. Parter of Colorado, J. D. Glass of Midland, George B. Terrell, commissioner of agriculture, H. E. McDonald and W. D. Farris of the state department of agriculture, and Del Curto.

Friday's meeting in Dallas was called for the specific purpose of lifting all restrictions from this area.

However, Tuesday of this week discovery of one pink bollworm was reported from Midland, according to authentic information received here. It is understood this discovery the first of the year in the area, led to postponement of the release.

A release is, however, expected next month.

Old Father Time Halts Great Fourth Quarter Drive By Longhorns

Bovines Battle San Angelo Bobkittens Off Pedal Extremities; March 62 Yards For Touchdown In Final Frame

The man who invented Time rushed down the banks of the Concho River Saturday afternoon and saved the San Angelo Bobcats from taking a licking at the hands of the Big Spring Steers. Today, the tradition that a Big Spring team has never defeated a San Angelo contingent is still unbroken. But it has received an awful crack.

Time, or lack of time, it was, gave the Bobcats a 6 to 6 tie with the battling Bovines. Coming back in the second half, the Big Spring aggregation slashed to pieces the Concho clan, and in the fourth quarter brought the battle to a great climax by staving off drive from their own 20 yard line to the San Angelo six yard line. There the bark from the linekeeper's husky throat ended the fray.

Better Team

The Steers who went to "Rainbow's End" favored to win, came away with the realization they had a better—much better—aggregation than the 1930 collection of orange clad Angloans.

The Steers' lone tally was the result of that same kind of driving, smashing, passing attack that had been the secret of their success across the sodded section when the tilt halted. They marched 62 yards down the plains for their initial count.

San Angelo grabbed the lead early in the third quarter after the two teams had fought through a scoreless half. The way was paved when Brothers on the kick-off sent the ball over the goal line, with Mims failing to connect.

A bad punt by Phillips—the only one, by the way, the wingman made during the day—gave the Felles possession of the ball on Big Spring's 33 yard line. Phillips' punt carried only seven yards.

Rosson and Delker gleaned a first down in three plays. With the ball on the 30-yard line, Rosson made two yards, Delker made two and Rosson got away for slightly over 15 yards, to be brought down on the one foot line. Rosson on the next play was stopped at the line, but Delker smeared his way across. Brothers' attempted place kick for the extra point, was wide by a mere margin. Too near for comfort.

Start Parade

It was well along the end of the third quarter before the Steers got away on their parade towards San Angelo's traditional pride. As the quarter ended, Brothers kicked to Mims who was downed on Big Spring's 38 yard line. It wasn't long then.

Brothers fired his passing barrel at Phillips for 12 yards. Hopper around end, made six yards and Rogers 5, for a first down, to place the ball on San Angelo's 40 yard line.

Rogers passed to Hopper for six yards. Mims made two yards and Bill Flowers went through for three and a first down. Rogers made four yards, Flowers 2 and Rogers 2, before Rogers again passed, this time to Flowers, for seven yards.

With the ball on San Angelo's 15 yard line, Rogers heaved the hide and liguled gracefully into Flowers' arms. He was over the goal line. Flowers' attempted boot was smeared.

The touchdowns came in the early minutes of the fourth quarter. From then on it was more of the same, only more so. The Steers immediately took charge of the corral and did their own stampeding.

Drops Ball

A passing attack launched by the Bobcats almost proved disastrous for the Steers. With Coulton heaving, after Cobb had intercepted Rogers' pass, on Big Spring's 46 yard line, the Cats went places and viewed certain things. Coulton to Cobb netted seven and one-half yards. Coulton to Delker gleaned a first down and 14 yards. Resting on Big Spring's 24 yard line, Coulton passed a long one to Brothers. It dropped in his arms and on his manly chest when he was over the goal line. That was the place the Bobcats went. The thing they saw was Brothers drop the ball. It was the final thrust.

The Kittens took the ball on their own 20 yard line and kept it until the game ended. They launched their running attack and hurled the inflated orbit. It was Flowers to Hopper for five yards, and Flowers to Rogers for 20 yards. Flowers got loose as he was expected to and trekked 25 yards before he was brought down near the goal line, only to have the play called back and a fifteen yard penalty assessed against the Steers.

The penalty was reversed on the next play, San Angelo drawing a 15 yard order.

With the ball on San Angelo's 24 yard line, the drive kept driving.

Breeze Along

Rogers plowed through for a first down. Flowers picked up seven and one-half yards and Mims added the remainder for a first down. Flowers shot a pass to Hopper for six yards. They did things like that all day, it seems.

With another first down in eight, after Flowers had added three yards, a five-yard penalty for remaining in the huddle too long was given Big Spring.

It was then that Flowers passed a San Angelo player touched the ball—and Glover caught it and was downed on the six-yard line.

It was at this stage of the game that Father Time, heretofore con-

Texas & Pacific Appreciates Cut In Howard Taxes

Appreciation of the slash in county tax rate is expressed in a letter received by members of the Commissioners Court from W. L. Holder, tax commissioner of the Texas and Pacific Railway.

"We note with much gratification," Holder says, "the nice reduction in the tax levy for this year in your county, and we wish to heartily congratulate you. Such an achievement requires judicious management of the affairs of the county, and you are to be greatly commended for such realization. It is greatly appreciated by us and undoubtedly by all other taxpayers, especially at a time like this, when it is so difficult to get funds with which to pay taxes. The business of the Texas & Pacific has decreased nearly $5,000,000 since January 1 as compared with the same time last year. The commercial buses and trucks are passing heavily into our business, notwithstanding we are forced to pay heavy taxes for the building and maintenance of the highways over which they run.

"The Texas & Pacific is short of funds but we have requested our treasurer as a special favor, to pay to your county as early as possible in order to assist you, and also as a further token of our appreciation for the efficient manner in which you are handling the affairs of that county."

Indians And Lumberjacks Stage Exciting T.I.A.A. Game

ABILENE, Texas, Oct. 25. (AP)—The McMurry College Indians defeated the Lumberjacks of Stephen F. Austin College, from Nacogdoches, 24 to 18 today in a Texas intercollegiate athletic association contest.

McMurry scored in the first half and the visitors in the last half. Two McMurry touchdowns came from passes of Pool to McKenzie and Roe Green, a substitute back, intercepted a Lumberjack pass and ran 40 yards for the third touchdown. Captain Buck Osburn added the extra point after each and also kicked a field goal.

Two blocked punts, one recovered behind the goal line, and one on the five-yard line, gave the Lumberjacks their first two touchdowns. Three successive passes, the final two, Robb to Hylander, carried the ball across the goal line.

Back and forth they struggled in the third quarter, the yardage advantage being again with the Steers, who kept the battle going pretty well in the Rice home territory, but finished with 21 yards still to go to the goal.

The Longhorns had another fair chance at the start of the fatal fourth period, recovering a fumble on the Rice 26-yard line, but they intercepted pass cost them the opportunity.

Texas made 14 first downs; Rice 6, and scored 20 to 12. The line-up:

Rice	Pos.	Texas
Diekey	Center	Gatours
McArthur	Right Guard	Cook
Strong	Right Tackle	DuBois
V. Driscoll	Right End	Craig
Mueller	Quarterback	Shelley (c)
Wallace	Left Half	Perkins
J. Driscoll	Right Half	Koy

Score by periods: 0 0 0 0-0. Rice scoring: 1 touchdown, 4-6-4. Rice scoring: 1 touchdown, 4-6-4. Official: Viner (Missouri) referee; Roach (Baylor) umpire; Proctor (T. C. U.) head linesman; Frazer (Baylor) field judge.

Eagle Aerial Falls Short

Undeclared Oil Belt Teams Scrap Furiously; Bulldog Tradition Stands

Special to The Herald

RANGER, Texas, Oct. 25.—Stemming the tide of a menacing passing attack in the closing minutes of the game, the Rangers' bulldogs maintained the tradition that the Abilene Eagles have never won a Lillard yard and the battle between two powerful, undefeated teams of the Oil Belt ended in a scoreless tie.

A pass for 39 yards from Galbraith to Balezac placed the ball only 10 yards from Ranger's goal line. The Rangers' bulldogs were in ball on downs on the two-yard line to end the peril as the game was almost over. Stevens of Ranger, kicking into the wind in the first quarter, was handicapped and gains on running plays coupled with this advantage gave Abilene its first opportunity in that period after Johnson had plowed through the line for 11 yards to the 15-yard stripe but after a first down had been made on the five-yard marker, Ranger stopped the advance.

With the wind at his back in the second quarter, Stevens kicked the ball 72 yards on the fly. After the prodigious punt, Ranger came into possession of the ball on Abilene's 37-yard line after Johnson had punted, but on fourth down Weaver's pass over the goal line was incomplete each team showed a fair amount of ability to gain in its own end of the field but the drive usually spent its force before the ball began to approach the dangerous territory.

Abilene, however, outgained the Bulldogs. The game counts half a victory and half a defeat for each team. The work of Barber, tackle, and Ramsey, end, on defense for Abilene was a feature while Murray, Ranger tackle, was outstanding.

Foster and Johnson starred in the Eagle backfield while Dan McCarty, Ranger's speedster, could never get loose and it was Chuck Bird, fullback, who made the heaviest gains.

Day's Biggest Upset Is 6-0 Rice Victory

Large Houston Crowd Sees Touted Longhorns Lose Conference Game

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 25. (AP)—The sophomore eleven of Rice Institute smashed a tradition of defeat almost as old as the school itself and downed the powerful and favored Texas University, the institute's ancient and perennial conquerors, 6 to 0 here today. A fumble by a Texas back, Craig, on his own one-yard line, brought the Longhorns their first loss of the season and in their first conference game.

It was in the fourth quarter when the blow fell upon the orange.

Craig Muffs

A 45-yard punt was muffed by Craig and Lou Hassell, a Rice linebacker, snatched it up.

Quarterback Senman Squyres struck the Texas line dead at center for half a yard, and Dick Jameson, who did not start the game, tried it. Once he failed; but then, with the ball only half a yard from what turned out to be victory's resting ground he smashed over.

Texas, stunned at the turn of fortune, resorted to a spectacular passing attack. Just as the last strike blew the orange was in striking distance, Biby, a sub, having raced with a pass 50 yards before being brought down on the institute's 15-yard stripe.

The Longhorns have been regarded as possessed of legitimate championship hopes and Rice as a rather erratic unit not affording any particular threat. It was the third time Rice had outscored the orange in 36 years, meeting the orange and it repaid Coach Jack Meagher, who had been punting for the Steers since September.

The teams locked horns viciously from the start, the first period being given over largely to punting. Texas once got well into Rice territory on the 27 yard line—but the own defense became more than right and Longhorn backs were thrown for a total loss of 15 yards in three plays.

Striking back, Texas returned in the next period to carry the ball to the Rice 11-yard line, but tries at the line and overhead failed, and an attempt at a field goal went the same way.

Back and forth they struggled in the third quarter, the yardage advantage being again with the Steers, who kept the battle going pretty well in the Rice home territory, but finished with 21 yards still to go to the goal.

The Longhorns had another fair chance at the start of the fatal fourth period, recovering a fumble on the Rice 26-yard line, but they intercepted pass cost them the opportunity.

Mountaineers Victors 7-6

(Special to The Herald)

MINERAL WELLS, Oct. 25.—After being outplayed for three periods the Mineral Wells Mountaineers scored a touchdown and kicked goal in the final stanza here this afternoon to defeat the Sweetwater Mustangs 7 to 6 in a conference game.

The local club's score came when McAlester, kept out of the game last week on account of injuries, was sent in at fullback. With Thornton he staged a comeback and passing to Brunson for the victory point.

Sweetwater scored in the second period, Bardwell going over but failing to place kick for the extra point. Wyatt, quarterback, was a flashy and consistent ground gainer for Sweetwater. Mineral Wells appeared slower than in any game this season. Sweetwater was the

Tech Bullfighters Play Well Against Texas Christian Frogs But Go Under Avalanche 26 to 0

FORT WORTH, Oct. 25. (AP)—Playing smart, defensive football as well as fighting courageously, the Tech Frogs, Matadors, sadly handicapped in weight, experience and numbers, held the Horned Frogs of Texas Christian University to the low score of 26 to 0. At no time did the contest assume the aspect of a rout, and the champions of the Southwest Conference had to battle for every yard.

Spearman was the outstanding ground gainer of the afternoon, although Harold Green, Paul Snow and one or two others took a prominent part in gathering the 219 yards registered on plays from scrimmage. Spearman made both of the first two touchdowns. In the first five minutes, during which time the white machine rolled 40 yards straight down the field, he climaxed the drive by circling Howell's end for seven yards and the touchdown. Green missed the goal. A few minutes later the stocky sophomore took a short wide pass in the zone and made a pretty 17-yard run along the sideline over the goal line. Green booted that goal to make the score, 13 to 0.

Cy Leland went into the game just before the first quarter ended and remained in for about ten minutes. During that time he led a short 25-yard drive for the third touchdown. He plunged the ball over from the one-yard line for the extra point Cy passed to Pruitt.

Starting from midfield in the third period the Christians battered their way yard by yard to the 12-yard stripe and from there Snow raced around right end for the final touchdown. Sumner missed the try for points.

The line-up:

T. C. U.	Pos.	Tech
Atkins (c)	Center	Jones
Lambert	Right Guard	McWilliams
Evans	Right Tackle	Howell
Pruitt	Right End	Woolridge
Woolwine	Quarterback	Brothers
Spearman	Right Half	Doose
Green	Fullback

Score by periods: 0 0 0 0-26. Texas Tech 0 0 0 0-0. Scoring: Touchdowns—Spearman 2, Leland (sub for Woolwine) 1, Snow (sub for Spearman) 1. Point after touchdown, Green and Pruitt.

Mr. McDonald stated that since the live worm had been found at a Midland gin through the agency of one of the new gin trash machines set up by the federal and state governments, ten scouts have been put to active search for worms in cotton fields surrounding Midland. It had been believed generally that, in view of the severe temperatures of last winter, that there was little likelihood of finding any pink bollworms, but it now has been established that at least one worm managed to escape and it is not unlikely that others will be found. This, of course, changes the entire attitude toward the regulations. These will continue as heretofore.

It was suggested by the commission that the Texas law governing the pink bollworm control be amended, since it specifies that whatever quarantine measures be proclaimed must be governed by the finding of a live pink bollworm in a cotton field. The efficient new gin trash machine isolates the worms at the gins, but without any clue as to from which field the insects have come.

Mr. Crawley, representing Dawson county, was insistent that his county be released this fall because no infestation had been found there for nearly three years, but Mr. McDonald and Mr. Del Curto dissented from this view for the reason that, with the advent of winter weather pink bollworms become very active, seeking a place to hibernate against the cold, and are therefore easily discovered in the gin trash machine, which removes the insects from trash with a degree of about 98 per cent efficiency. In the Midland instance Mr. McEeachern stated it took 20,846 bushels of gin trash to run 846 bushels of cotton through the machines in the western area to find one worm. Since the machines handle trash from all the cotton coming to gins from surrounding country, often extending far into another country, the finding of a worm must be supplemented with additional field scouting to locate definitely the infested field. There are some 366,000 acres of cotton growing in the western extension, Mr. McDonald stated, of which perhaps two-thirds of the cotton has been ginned and the trash run through machines separating the worms. After severe winter temperatures have set in it will be more difficult to find the worms, since by that time they have either entered into the ground or into the seed to hibernate. The next few weeks before real weather comes will be the best time in which to find the worms with the aid of the new machines. Mr. McDonald and his assistants stated.

Highway Patrol Arrests 3,503 In 6-Month Period

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 25. (AP)—During the six-month period ending Sept. 1, the state highway patrol made 3,503 arrests, according to a report by L. G. Phares, chief of the patrol. During the six months the 50 officers and men of the patrol traveled 830,507 miles, or more than 33 times around the world.

One of the interesting facts shown by the report was the number of arrests made for operating with defective lights. The report showed that 1,133 arrests were made on this charge, Phares estimating the number of accidents from this cause being reduced, in some instances, as high as 50 per cent. Four hundred and six drunken drivers were arrested.

Miscellaneous arrests totaled 639, distributed as follows: damage to highway, 10; reflective brakes, 17; hit and run drivers, 22; minor ordinance, 59; muffler ordinance, 45; over-width and over weight, 242; parking on highway, 82; speeding, 137.

Commenting on the small number of arrests made for over-weight and over-width, Phares said the arrests are arrests in cases of this nature were made by weight inspectors since the patrol did not have scales and equipment to properly weigh the trucks. The 242 arrests represented the number arrested by the patrol on suspicion and then found to be overweight, he explained.

The report said the patrol removed 6,034 obstructions from the highways and gave information to 18,445 motorists.

A total of 30,273 warnings were issued to motorists with defective

Centenary Defeats Baylor 7 to 2 In Final Period on Pass; Lateral Flings Keep Bruins on Defense

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 25. (AP)—Before 8,000 spectators at the Louisiana State Fair, the Centenary Gentlemen today defeated the Bears of Baylor by shaking off a two-point lead in the last ten minutes of play and scoring a touch-down.

This was followed by a pass from Brown to Pattison into the end zone for a point after touchdown. Before any more scoring could be done the game ended with Baylor losing the ball on downs on the Centenary three-yard line, leaving the locals in front 7 to 2.

9,252,011 Bales Reported Ginned During Season

University Land Tax Amendment Declared Just

COLEMAN, Texas, Oct. 24. (AP)—Asserting that "the University of Texas, by reason of being such a big land owner, becomes the largest sponsor of tenant farming and ranching in the state, and if it were other than a state institution there would be a big hue and cry against it," State Senator Walter C. Woodward of this city, has announced that he will support the proposed land tax amendment, one of the four to be voted upon November 4.

"Seventeen Texas counties are in a peculiar situation because of having from one to 25 per cent of their average tax exempt," Senator Woodward went on. "I favor the land tax amendment as a means of adjusting the situation, and equalizing the burden of the university on the 234 counties of Texas. The university has 2,000, 320 acres of land in the counties in question, distributed as follows:

Andrews, 294,400 or 28 per cent; Reagan, 194,500 or 28 per cent; Hubbard, 433,220 or 15 per cent; Crockett, 235,100 or 17 per cent; Pecos, 141,900 or 1 per cent; Wall, 90,600 or 13 per cent; Upton, 77,400 or 10 per cent; Winkler, 83,120 or 10 per cent; Culberson, 40,000 or two per cent; Loving, 22,400 or four per cent; Lavin, 22,400 or five per cent; Martin, 14,000 or two per cent; and Ector, 6,000 or one per cent.

Tax figures of 1928 make the unfairness of the situation apparent. That year the 17 counties in question paid to Texas $1,281,498.47, of which only $38,185 was paid back to them in school apportionment, leaving an excess of $1,243,313.47 used by other sections. The counties have not the scholastic population to receive back much for school purposes, the number of tax payers is small in comparison to the road mileage that should be constructed to link up trans-continental highways, and revenues cannot be large because of low local values.

Prices Paid For Polo Horse Flesh Will Roger's Topic

WB's going to keep on playing.

Well all I know is just what I read in the papers. I was just sitting here tonight reading a very beautiful Horse Magazine called "Polo." It is the issue that tells of the great International Match played between England and America, and it gives the very detail of each play, and also tells of the sale of the horses after the match. You know I was just thinking it might be interesting to some of you to know something especially about the horses, for you don't have to be a Polo Nut to be interested in good horses.

Imported Fruit Trees Thrive In West Texas Soil

ABILENE, Texas, Oct. 23. (AP)—Fruit trees imported from various countries of the world do well in West Texas, and, in some instances, produce heavier fruit and foliage than native trees, experiments conducted by J. R. Masterson, former county farm agent here, under the direction of the United States department of agriculture, reveal.

Growth Is Anticipated

OLTON, as we have already stated and as most every one knows, is the county site of Lamb county. She has a splendid courthouse of brick, a population, according to the 1930 census, of 684, number of brick business houses, three cotton gins, 100 lumber yards, and the many other business enterprises that are found in growing communities. The Olton school system is the pride of the entire community. The plant is valued at $100,000 and is caring for more than 700 boys and girls of the community. Remember that all this has been accomplished without a railroad. With the coming of a railroad, it is reasonable to expect Olton to grow to a town of two or three thousand population within a short time. The productiveness of the soil in the surrounding territory can not be excelled, and the tonnage furnished by this territory now would more than offset the additional trackage it would take to come this way.

West Texas' Most Popular Cinema Palace Presents Three Outstanding Pictures

It is an event of importance in Big Spring and for many miles around when the R & R Ritz theatre celebrates a birthday.

This week the second birthday of West Texas' Finest Theatre will be observed. To be exact, October 29—Wednesday—will mark the second milestone.

The success of this brilliant playhouse is a by-word in every home. The screen lies not only in the splendor of the Ritz building and the efficiency of its equipment. After all, you know, a picture theatre must have good pictures.

Consistent... And that is the thing the Ritz has consistently offered lovers of the cinema from the first day it was opened.

This Anniversary Week, opening today is no exception. We would say—even though it is Anniversary Week—that is this week's success will be the rule, rather than the exception for the purpose of celebrating a birthday.

They are: "Laughed," "Song of My Heart," "Top Speed."

The first, opening today for a three-day run starts Nancy Carroll with Frederic March and a brilliant cast. It is the story of an ex-fiancee girl who marries for riches and whose romance, quite naturally, fails.

But the events, the situation that transpires between Nancy's marrying for money and her seeing Frederic married to another girl, therein form the stirring drama that you will see today, Monday and Tuesday.

After she has been married for a short time to Frank Morgan, an utterly wealthy Wall Street operator Frederic March, a penniless young composer, returns unexpectedly from Europe, where he had gone to forget about Nancy's marriage. He calls at her pent house and she refuses to see him. But March forces his way into the house by an agreement with the colored maid, who had known him before Nancy's marriage.

With a Bohemian's contempt of conventionalities March helps himself to Morgan's grand piano and, in the process, the great joy of the musically inclined butler, until Morgan returns and throws him out of the house.

Morgan's daughter (Diane Ellis) by a previous marriage returns to a school in Europe. She and Nancy meet for the first time in the dock. There is no great difference in their ages and they promptly become friends.

Upon their return home March brazenly appears, unannounced, just as Morgan is warning Nancy to stay away from the musician. March invites himself to lunch and later persuades Nancy and Diane to accompany him to the home of Glenn Anders, erotic young sculptor who used to know Nancy in her theatrical days.

Next day Nancy and March are caught in a storm with an empty tank, while driving, and take shelter in a deserted country home. They are discovered and arrested for burglars. Morgan gains the release after a scandal. Morgan gives her.

Anders makes a play for Diane. Nancy opposes this. Morgan gives a bal masque. Diane slips away to a home with Anders. Nancy follows and exposes Anders as a fortune-hunting nobody. Diane changes her mind. Anders commits suicide.

Just how Nancy and March become free to marry each other is the big mystery you'll have to come to the Ritz to learn.

"Song of My Heart" is an unusual picture not only because it is a stirring, heart-pounding story but also because the world's greatest lyric tenor, John McCormack, is in the star. And, more so, because he sings no less than eleven songs in the picture.

With McCormack in the picture, who Alice Joyce, who plays "Mary," whom McCormack is prevented from marrying by an aunt who forces her into a rich but unhappy marriage; Maureen O'Sullivan, the little Irish girl discovered by Frank Borzage in search of a girl to play "Eileen," one of Mary's two children; John Garrick, as Fergus O'Donnell, lover of Eileen; Tommy Clifford, an 11-year-old chap whom Borzage found in Dublin and who plays "Tad," Mary's little son; J. M. Kerrigan and Farrell MacDonald.

The songs McCormack sings in this picture are: "Then You'll Remember Me," "A Fairy Tale by the Fire," "Just for Today," "Kitty, My Love," "Rose of Tralee," "Lough Lene," "Little Boy Blue," "Ireland, Mother Ireland," "I Hear You Calling Me," "A Pair of Blue Eyes."

"Top Speed" brings together two stars who are unusually popular here. They are Joe E. Brown and Bernice Claire.

Brown is remembered for his performance in "On With the Show," "Sally," "Hold Everything," and other super-hits. Miss Claire will always be remembered for her singing, her acting and her beauty in "No, No, Nanette" and other wonderful pictures.
