Old Papers Tell Of Political Strife In Pre-Civil War Days

An insight into politics and contemporary art and customs of 1828 to 1835 is contained in a collection of old papers and magazines shown here by S. E. Randall, Kilgore.

Those who read their history well will recall the circumstances surrounding the election of John Quincy Adams to the presidency in 1824 by the House of Representatives although Andrew Jackson received the highest electoral vote.

Copies of the United Telegraph (Extra) devoted exclusively to the presidential campaign in 1828 when Old Hickory came storming back to give Mr. Adams a drubbing which was considered pretty sound in those days. The United Telegraph appeared to have been rooting for Jackson in the 1828 election and particularly against Henry Clay, third ranking candidate in 1824 and at whom the finger of suspicion had pointed in a purported deal that he exchanged his House influence to Adams for appointment as secretary of state. The Telegraph was plain spoken about this.

It had something to say about Clay's having challenged John Randolph, U. S. senator from Virginia, to a duel, and took this to mean that Adams sanctioned dueling since his secretary of state could flaunt challenges.

When political whisperers spread it around that Jackson was in sympathy with Aaron Burr in his reported conspiracy against the Union, sheaths of letters were reproduced in the Telegraph to refute this.

Among them were letters from Old Hickory in which he stated that when he learned of the alleged conspiracy he had written Burr and informed him not to speak or confer with Jackson until the charge had been definitely cleared. It seems that implications against Jackson had been based on a trip Mrs. Jackson's nephew, Col. S. D. Hays, had made with Burr.

The other collection Randall has is a volume of Gleason's Pictorial, a weekly publication issued in 1854 with an abundance of excellent wood cuts.

It is rich in allegorical representations, carried several rip-roaring serials in addition to art and had many discussions pertinent to the day. F. Gleason, the publisher, apparently travelled much and wrote and engraved as he went. Consequently the Pictorials abound in material authentic of all peoples of the world in the 1850 decade.

There are fine line jobs on various subject matter such as hunting, transportation, geography, flora and fauna, costumes, weather, panoramas, wars, generals, leaders of nations, religion, livestock, flags, etc.

Among personalities shown are Dr. Benjamin Franklin, John Jacob Astor (whose estate then was valued at 50 millions), John Paul Jones, Com. A. H. Perry of Lake Erie fame, his brother, Com. M. C.

WILLING AND WELDING—Because she thinks the demand for skilled airplane welders is bound to increase, Mrs. Mosele Stitt (above) studies welding at night in St. Louis. She's a 29-year-old widow with two children and is determined to continue until she can pass stiff government tests. With her family, a WPA job by days and study by night, she keeps busy.

Mexico Would Restrict Two Radio Stations

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 4 (UP)—The Mexican government today was reported to be contemplating measures that would restrict activities of two powerful border radio stations—those operated by Dr. J. R. Brinkley and Norman T. Baker.

Official circles here said Brinkley's station at Villa Acuna—one of the strongest in the world with 180,000 watts power—and Baker's 50,000-watt station in Nuevo Laredo, had interfered for several years with American broadcasts originating in Texas, the middle west and even states on the Canadian border.

The Mexican action would be based on the recently ratified North American regional broadcasting treaty.

This treaty was designed to end international radio interference by allocating specific wave bands to each nation for the exclusive use of stations in that country.

With a restricted number of wave lengths—instead of the whole broadcasting range as formerly—shortly to be divided among Mexico's extensive radio industry, sources close to the government reported one of two courses were under consideration with reference to Dr. Brinkley and Baker.

One, and the more drastic, was to refuse them any of the new wave bands on the grounds there were now only enough to satisfy the needs of Mexican stations.

The second course was, if wave lengths prove available, to assign them the highest bands on the register. This would make it exceedingly difficult for either Dr. Brinkley or Baker to reach their audiences.

In either case, it was said they would no longer cut through the programs of United States stations.

The United States has been made independent as regards the supply of iodine by processes which extract this element from West Coast waste brines.

Havana stood as a city fully 100 years before the first houses were built in what was to become New York.

Rites Said For Mrs. Myles

Funeral services were held at the Eberley chapel at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday for Mrs. Nancy Caroline Myles, 77, who succumbed at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Nannie Squires, 1202 West Fourth street, following a long illness. Following rites conducted by Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor of the First Baptist church, body of Mrs. Myles was taken overland to Nienda, Jones county, for burial beside the grave of her husband. Long in ill health, Mrs. Myles had made her home with her daughter here since 1918. She was born May 1, 1852. Survivors besides Mrs. Squires are four sons, R. B. Myles of Ackery, Jim Myles of Monahans, John Myles of Big Spring and Charley Myles of Plainview; and two other daughters, Mrs. J. E. Shaun of Monahans and Mrs. Burch Baker of Ackery. There are also 26 grandchildren. Pallbearers were Paul Cates, Cody Graham, Willie Pierce, Robert Haney, Elmer Mahand and Buster Reed, all employees of R. B. Myles who has an oil agency at Ackery. Exemption Certificates Required By Jan. 31 For Those 'Under Age' Who Expect To Vote During 1940

All "unders" who expect to vote in any of the several elections during 1940 were advised by county officials Thursday to secure exemption certificates not later than Jan. 31.

Contrary to an opinion held in some quarters outside the city limits, the residence outside of Big Spring does not preclude the necessity of securing a certificate of exemption. Staff members in the office of Tax Collector J. F. Wolcott said that those who have become 21 years of age since Jan. 1, 1939 or who will become 21 during 1940 are entitled to exemption certificates, and must have them to vote in any election.

Article 2968A, revised civil statutes of Texas, specifically states that "unders" in rural sections as well as those in cities of more than 10,000 population must have the certificates to vote and must secure them not later than Jan. 31, said County Attorney Joe A. Faucett.

"Unders" who will become 21 years old during 1940 cannot vote in a given election unless they have attained the age of 21 regardless of whether they hold a certificate. The "overs" or those who were 30 years or more before Jan. 1, 1939, must secure their permanent certificates before Feb. 1, unless they reside outside the city limits. Those who have permanent certificates need not reapply.

All other citizens, unless specifically exempt by law, must pay poll taxes before Feb. 1 if they are to vote in any of the known five elections for this year.

Court Upholds Rep. Lemke

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (UP)—The Supreme Court upheld a contention that state courts are barred from proceeding with foreclosure action after a farmer files a petition in a federal district court under the Frazier-Lemke Act for a moratorium on his indebtedness.

This was contended by Representative Lemke of North Dakota, co-author of the legislation designed to aid debt-ridden farmers. He asserted that filing the petition automatically divested state courts of jurisdiction and that no notification to them of the filing was required.

Lemke was one of the attorneys who argued before the high tribunal for Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kalb, seeking to recover possession of their 120-acre farm in Walworth County, Wis. Foreclosure of a mortgage held by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Feuerstein was authorized by the Walworth County Court.

Contending they had been unlawfully evicted from the farm, the Kalbs also sought damages against County Judge Roscoe R. Luce, Sheriff George O'Brien and Mr. and Mrs. Feuerstein.

Both the Circuit Court for Walworth County and the Wisconsin Supreme Court ruled against the Kalbs.

Justice Black delivered Tuesday's decision that reversed the State Supreme Court. No dissent was announced.

WHAT A FISH SEES—This "fish-eye" view of a man is on display at New York's Museum of Natural History, as one of several exhibits showing how the world looks through eyes of animals and fish. Note how stream distorts man.

FRIEND OF MAN... AND HORSE—With his burly blanket and forlorn look, Sande might not take any beauty prizes but he has a good job as stable mascot. The horse is Vis-county, Valdina Farms' nominee for Santa Anita (Cal.) Handicap.

WINNAH!—In a bowling tourney among actresses in New York, Noel Mills (above) of Montreal bowled 210, to win.

FIVE WITH BUT A SINGLE THOUGHT—Their eastern invasion doesn't seem to worry any of these members of Missouri's stellar basketball team, massed for an attack on a Iase basketball in New York, scene of the Missouri team's test against New York University. Left to right, with the clutching hands, are: Haskell Tison, center; Capt. John Lohsiger, who's considered one of the best guards in the Big Six; Arch Watson, forward; Martin Nash, guard; and William Harvey, forward. The Tigers are coached by George Edwards.

VAIN BATTLE TO SAVE A LIFE—Four-hour battle during which Dr. George Coplin (left) breathed into baby's mouth until oxygen tanks arrived, proved futile for this son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Dahl died next day. The boy was almost lifeless at birth, in Elizabeth, N. J., breathed normally a short time. A nurse stands near anxious father watching still-alive infant.

EYES ON FINLAND—While Finnish relief funds mount in U.S.A. and various European nations plan ways to aid Finns in war against Russia, attention turns toward country's president, Kyoiti Kallio (left), seen with Minister J. K. Paastivi.

HE SAW 'RED'—Though Councilman Michael Sullivan (above) of Cambridge, Mass., got council to pass resolution purging "Lenin" and "Leningrad" from city's reading matter, here's the catch: no provision was made for bill's enforcement.

GIVE PLEASE!—A combination hard to resist was this pair, glamorous Ann Sheridan and little Shirley Beeman of Dallas, Tex., who's passing the hat to collect money at a charity party given at Beverly Hills by Mrs. Basil Rathbone.

COMMANDER—Flight made by Britain's aviators along the western front are under the direction of Air Vice-Marshal Patrick Henry L. Playfair (above), commander of the Royal Air Force in France. He's being "decorated" at the front.

TEEN-AGE TRIUMPH—The two-year difference in their ages makes quite a difference in the sizes of George Debanay, 12 (left), of Tuckahoe, N. Y., and James Fields, 14, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who played each other in the national indoor junior tennis tourney. Debanay lost to Fields, 6-1, 6-1, in second round of the "new" stakes at New York City.

SWISS CHOICE—Marcel Fitei-Golaz (above), who had a term in 1934, has been chosen Switzerland's president for 1940.

TRY THIS ON A TRAY—When search in the White House (rear) failed to turn up a single sled, Eleanor and Curtis Dall, grandchildren of the President, used a waiter's tray for sliding. Their mother is Anna, F.D.R.'s only daughter.

FINNISH 'GHOST STORIES'—Soldiers in Finland's "ghost army" wear white tunics as camouflage, which enable them to advance across snow almost unseen by the Russian invaders.

SHE'S CONSISTENT—The glamer she displays in movie roles was taboos by Actress Helle Davis in skating costume she wore to a charity party at Hollywood film colony. Roundup Run-up in present party is at left.

NO THANKS FOR TANKS—With military activity along the western front stalemated by weather and by the apparent respect each high army command has for its enemy's fortifications, German sources distribute this picture of their concrete tank traps, designed "to protect the German frontier from sudden attacks." Note barbed wire interlacings.

there are no survivors eligible for monthly benefits.

This field office has at present three employees. The Social Security act requires that all personnel of the board be employed in accordance with civil service law and regulations.

The Big Spring field office will have nothing to do with the collection of taxes under any title of the Social Security act since, under the act, this is the function of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, Treasury Department.

Federal old-age and survivors insurance is based on a background of experience and careful study by representatives of employers, of workers, of the government, and of the public. Federal old-age and survivors insurance is an effort on the part of the federal government to provide a safeguard against dependence in old age to provide for the dependent survivors of workers who die.

In order to establish an old-age insurance account, an employee first must file application for an account number on a form known as SS-5. Any workers in the city of Big Spring who have not applied for account numbers may obtain them at the Social Security Board office, 206-207 Petroleum Building, 116 West Second Street, Big Spring.

Elsewhere in the Big Spring territory of the board, workers may continue to obtain blank application forms for account numbers at post offices. These completed forms must be forwarded, with required postage prepaid, directly to the Big Spring office of the board, where account number cards will be prepared and returned to the applicants promptly.

The Big Spring office services the counties of Andrews, Borden, Crane, Dawson, Ector, Gaines, Glasscock, Howard, Loving, Martin, Midland, Mitchell, Reeves, Ward, and Winkler.

.07 INCH RAINFALL RECORDED IN CITY

With colder weather forecast for the eastern part of the state, continued precipitation was predicted as a possibility for this portion of West Texas Thursday, after light rains had accounted for .07 inch during the night and early morning.

Temperatures in Big Spring hovered just above the freezing mark, the low being 34 degrees.

While the state's weather map was marked by a localized cold wave, covering a limited section, there were prospects for a general cold wave. Dr. J. L. Cline, meteorologist at Dallas, said a new high barometer area and a cold wave were moving east and southward over the Dakotas.
