BIG SPRING, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MAY 12, 1922

BY JORDAN & HAYDEN

DEVELOPMENT IS SLOW BUT SURE

Development Coming Along Nicely With Plans for More New Tests

Maturing

Big oil companies seem to be the active just at present in this territory. Heretofore they have been checkerboarding but we understand that the big oil companies are purchasing two different tracts of 3840 acres each in the eastern part of this territory.

It is noted that all interest is now centered on the Smith well No. 1, about six miles east of Morrison No. 1, the Zilpha Morrison No. 1, a well so west of Morrison No. 2 as wells will give an indication as to the direction the Mitchell County oil is going to take. Both these wells are being drilled in an interesting stage. The Smith well No. 1, south of Morrison is also being watched.

To Celebrate July Fourth

At their regular meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night the members of William Frank Martin Post No. 185, American Legion decided to have a big picnic in Big Spring on July 4.

The following was appointed on the arrangement committee: Pitt Gardner, James T. Brooks, Homer McNew, John Witten, E. A. Rowland, and J. F. Hair. Another meeting will be held May 23 to discuss plans and arrangements for the big picnic.

It was also decided to hold Memorial Services for our soldier dead on May 30th and the following were appointed on a committee to arrange the program: W. Carroll Barnett Jr., Ernest Ross and J. F. Hair.

The Legion meeting Tuesday night was an interesting and enthusiastic one and the attendance was good. The refreshments served were especially enjoyed.

Anderson-Taylor

At the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Griffice, at 7:45 o'clock Monday evening May 8th the ceremony was performed which united in the bonds of matrimony, W. G. Anderson and Miss Alice Taylor, Justice of the Peace J. A. Stephens officiated and only the immediate relatives were present.

We join the many friends of these worthy young people in extending to them best wishes for a long, happy and prosperous journey through life.

P. & F. Company in New Location

The P. & F. Company, dealers in Produce, Groceries, etc. this week moved into their new quarters, now occupying the space in the south part of the Bauer block, formerly occupied by the E. E. Scott grocery.

Messrs. Pickle and Flowellen, proprietors, have added a select line of groceries which will be sold on the same plan they sell their fresh vegetables, country produce, etc.—the safe and sane Cash and Carry system.

Father of Mrs. C. L. Alderman Dead

E. M. Stanbery, aged eighty-nine years, died at his home at McConnellsville, Ohio, Thursday morning, May 4th. Mr. Stanbery had made his home there for fifty years and was the best known and most highly esteemed attorney and business man of his county.

Deceased was the father of Mrs. C. L. Alderman and her many friends in this city deeply sympathize with her in her deep bereavement.

Joiner-Kennedy

On Friday May 5th Justice of the Peace J. A. Stephens performed the ceremony which united in marriage J. R. Joiner and Miss Mary Fay Kennedy, two well known and popular people of the Vincent community.

The Herald joins their many friends throughout our county in wishing for them a happy and prosperous wedded life.

I. O. O. F. Entertains

Some two hundred and fifty folks attended the I. O. O. F. entertainment last Saturday night, this being in honor of the 102nd anniversary of the founding of the order.

Some fine talks, readings, songs, and music made up a fine program. Then, too, the delicious refreshments served were very much enjoyed.

Lamesa Has Costly Conflagration

Our neighboring town of Lamesa had a costly fire Tuesday morning when three brick business buildings on the west side of the public square were totally destroyed and the business men conducting stores therein suffered heavy loss. The buildings totally destroyed were occupied by the following firms:

Clark and Lowery Drug Store; Williams Hardware Company; Strong Holloway and Dixon, dry goods and clothing. The following business firms occupying buildings adjacent to those destroyed also suffered losses: Caldwell Drug Store; Jones & Simpson Dry Goods.

The fire started about 3 o'clock Tuesday morning, the origin not determined. The loss is indeed a heavy one but the Lamesa folks are not quitters and it will not be long until handsome new structures replace those destroyed.

Candidate for the U. S. Senate Addressed Large Audience at Courthouse at 7 P. M. Last Saturday

R. L. Henry of Waco, candidate for the United States Senate was a visitor in Big Spring last Saturday and addressed a large audience at the courthouse in this city at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The speaker was introduced by Judge James T. Brooks. Following is an outline of the speech delivered by Mr. Henry:

I am a native of the great state of Texas; I was raised in Cass County and I came under the tutelage of Reagan, Culberson and others. When I was scarcely past my majority I began to hold office, becoming the mayor of Texarkana, from which place I was called to Austin and became assistant attorney general. I held that office for four years while Governor Hogg was the chief executive of the state. From Austin I went to Waco and after being there for a year I was elected to congress to the seat held by Roger Q. Mills. In 1896 I was elected to congress and I held that office for ten consecutive terms, extending over a period of 20 years. My constituents will testify that I served in that capacity without a blot or stain on my record. I have surrendered that office and I am now seeking a higher office.

"This is the day and time when the people should approach the altar of their country and lay aside their prejudices and cast their ballots on their convictions. There has never been a time when there are such problems to be settled. Democracy has wandered far afield, and today I am coming before you as a Democrat, as a Jeffersonian democrat. The transcendent problem before the country today is states' rights. And if these are disregarded soon the foundations of the republic will be undermined. Let no man misunderstand me; I uphold the constitution, and all the amendments which have been made to it, and I obey each and every one of them. But I am not willing to surrender the sovereign rights of the states. This great state is powerless and helpless to control its railroad rates. Federal encroachment has extended so far that we cannot fix our own railroad rates in the state unless we consult Washington. I want to say to you that if you elect me to the Senate my energy will be devoted to restore to the people the right to fix their railroad rates. I will vote for the repeal of the Esch-Cummings bill that strips the states of all jurisdiction."

"The speaker declared that there is an imminent danger of federal election laws being passed which will put into the hands of the Federal Government the administration of all elections, even to the smallest precinct. He declared that a federal law on marriages and divorces and repeal of the separate coach law for whites and negroes are dangerously near.

"I belong to the old school," he said, "who believe that the white man is as good as the negro, and a little bit better." Applause greeted this remark.

"This is a white man's country and we're going to dominate it," Mr. Henry mentioned one of his opponents, Cullen F. Thomas, this being the only one of his opponents he mentioned by name. The speaker declared that "Thomas wants to get in out of the weather now," having reference to states' rights.

The speaker mentioned what he called the great burden of taxation that now rests on the shoulders of the American people. "I do not know whether I will be able to reduce taxes if you elect me to the Senate," the speaker said, "but I will make a fight to reduce them at least one-fourth." Mention was made of the tariff question. "My position is that we should levy an import duty on practically every thing that comes through our customs houses."

A vigorous attack was made on the Federal Reserve System. It being stated that the system has been a failure, and that amendments should be made to it in order that a reconstruction of it may be put into effect.

"In 1920," he said, "two speculative banks in New York city borrowed $250,000,000 from the Federal Reserve Board, more than twice as much as loaned to the farmers and stockraisers in the entire 48 states of the Union. I arraign the board for allowing this to be done. The Federal Reserve Board is allowing the reserve board in New York City to build a building costing more than $25,000,000.

European nations pay up for them to pay up. "I will never vote to cancel our foreign debt," he said. "There is a strong propaganda now in Europe for the cancelling of the debt and it is soon to reach the United States. They are going to say that the nations of Europe are broke; that they cannot pay up. I am in favor of collecting the foreign debt and then offering off a big sum of it to pay the American soldiers for their services for democracy."

A strong defense of the Ku Klux Klan was made by the speaker, who reviewed the fight which has been made on it particularly by an organization in Dallas. "The Dallas News asked me two essential questions: 'Are you in favor or against the Ku Klux Klan?' and 'Are you a member of Klan?' I answered them, 'Yes, I am.' I am in favor of the Ku Klux Klan and I am proud of my membership." Applause greeted this statement. "I was a natural born Klansman and I didn't have to change any of my views to join it. Since I made my announcement in Fort Worth I have had many letters from women over the state, asking me when a 'female Klan' is going to be organized so that they can join. They say I am the candidate of the Klan; if I was, I would quit talking, pack my trunk and get ready to go to Washington."

The speaker reviewed what he said were "the benefits of the Klan."

Directly after the meeting Mr. Henry left for Midland where he was scheduled to deliver an address Saturday night.

Coahoma School Exercises

Commencement exercises are being held at the Coahoma school today—a splendid program having been arranged. Four graduates are completing the work, these being Miss Jessie Westfall, Schley Riley, Elmo Birkhead, and Sam Buchanan.

In addition to scholarships being awarded, medals are also to be awarded to the pupil of each grade making the best record for the year. The following were awarded medals: Miss Jessie Westfall, honor student of graduating class; Miss Doris Wolf, 10th grade; Putnam Cramer, 9th grade; Almeda Coffman and Reba Williams, 8th grade; Jennie Coffman and Fannie Mae Coffman, Grammar grade; Johnnie Spears, Intermediate grade; Telma Schultz, Primary grade.

The medals were donated by First State Bank of Coahoma, Coahoma Mercantile Co., Collins Drug Store, J. A. Roberts Cash Store, Service Garage, Runyan Garage, B. R. Thomason.

Dr. J. P. Sewell, president of the Christian College of Abilene, is to deliver the address to the graduates.

In addition to a splendid program of readings, musical numbers, drills, etc., for today and tonight, a big baseball game between Big Spring and Coahoma at 3:30 o'clock is on for this afternoon.

On Saturday night a delightful four-act play will be presented under the direction of the members of the Senior class.

Supt. R. B. Hood in commenting on the work of the Coahoma school stated that he believed their school had established a record for attendance which was not going to be surpassed by any school in Texas. The record shows that the attendance for the nine months just passed was 94 per cent.

Big Spring Defeats Coahoma

A good sized crowd enjoyed a game of baseball between the Coahoma Sluggers and the Big Spring team Sunday afternoon, the Big Spring team winning by a score of 8 to 2. The first pitcher tried out by Coahoma must have tossed them in just about right for the Big Spring boys for they rapped out seven safe hits which netted five scores when Coahoma sent in Chas. Hale to do the twirling. When he went in the bases were full and only one man was out so he struck out the next two batters. The Coahoma players made one score in the seventh inning and one in the ninth.

Some sensational catches were made in the outfield by players of both teams.

Reason for Clean Up

Because prospective citizens in choosing a residence are influenced by civic appearances; therefore, orderly streets, yards and homes are factors in population growth.

AN ENCOURAGING OUTLOOK FOR '22

All Signs Point to One of the Most Prosperous Years the Big Spring Section Has Ever Enjoyed

In no other section on earth can changes take place so rapidly as in West Texas; and it truly seems as though the fairies with their magic wands occasionally visited us.

When you remember what conditions were in effect a month or so ago, and compare them with the present, and it is difficult to believe that such a wonderful change for the better could have been wrought in this short space of time.

Truly the outlook for the most prosperous year our section has ever known, now seems assured. With the ground loaded to the guards with moisture, and with every lake, tank and waterhole full to overflowing, our section is in the best shape at this the ideal season for planting all manner of crops. With such ideal conditions in effect, crops planted now are going to grow at a great rate and it will not require many good showers to push them along in the shape of bumper crops. Not only are conditions ideal from an agricultural standpoint, but the stock raising interests declare that never in the history of this section was the outlook for the ranchman as bright. With plenty of grass and water assured—a growing demand and better prices being offered for cattle and sheep; as well as for wool, hides, etc.; the livestock interests believe they will have an opportunity to recoup some of the heavy losses they had to stand the past few years. In addition to better prices for livestock, it is also reasonably certain that cotton and other farm products will command a much higher price this fall.

The mild winter and the late planting of cotton in Central Texas are due to give the boll weevil a big send off in our state, and if all experts are not very much mistaken the cotton crop is going to be cut very short by these pests. If this proves true it will mean a higher price for cotton—and it will mean also that many citizens of the boll weevil section will come to West Texas seeking new homes.

Then here is a big building program due this year. Many who have been holding up on erecting a new building or a new home will now go forward with their plans to build. The new structures to be constructed, as well as the additions, repairs, painting and other improvements are going to keep many men employed in the months to come.

The construction of the 99 mile section of the Bankhead National Highway from the east line of Howard County to the west line of Ector County will call for many workers the balance of the year. With the grading nearly completed in most places, the big task of topping the ninety-nine mile stretch with gravel is now underway.

While the T. & P. railway shops have recently made a big reduction in number of the employees of the railroad shops here we believe this is to be but a temporary arrangement. We are informed that some carmen who were let out have been reemployed and other men will be added as business on the road improves. The work of ballasting the T. & P. tracks from Baird west, is to be continued thru the coming months.

So taking everything into consideration the outlook for a busy and prosperous year is very bright and there is more reason for feeling optimistic than otherwise.

Another encouraging item is the steady and ever increasing oil development campaign being made in this section. With two wells in Mitchell County producing oil—one making 250 barrels daily, the other estimated at 100 barrels, with a well twenty miles southwest producing oil for more than eighteen months and with a dozen or more tests being made to locate the big pool there is no telling when something big in the oil game may break. But say they only succeed in securing good wells of from 200 to 500 barrels, this would add greatly to the wealth of our section. That the big companies are expecting big production somewhere in this section is evident from the amount of land they are leasing and the number of scouts they keep on the job.

While we do not anticipate any big oil boom soon we do expect to see an additional number of test wells started within the next few months.

F. P. Woodson and family of Hugo, Okla., have decided to make their home in Big Spring, arriving this week. Mr. Woodson formerly was engaged in conducting a grocery business.

Representatives Return From Meet

The three young ladies who represented the Big Spring schools in the State Interscholastic meet at Austin May 5th and 6th returned home Monday morning.

Misses Frances Sullivan and Ruth Miller, were our representatives in debating. Miss Geraldine Davis, aged eleven years, represented our schools in the declamation contest. They were winners in the district meet at Abilene. Mrs. R. A. Eubanks accompanied our representatives to Austin.

The young ladies were handicapped at Austin due to delays enroute. They arrived in Fort Worth just after the Austin train departed, thus necessitating a delay of twelve hours. It was impossible to secure sleeper reservations from Fort Worth to Austin and they arrived just in time to enter the contests and before they were given an opportunity to secure any rest, so it was no fault of theirs if they were not among the winners, for no one could be at his best under the circumstances.

They report a most delightful time during their stay in Austin where Wilbur Matthews, a Big Spring boy attending the State University, made it a point to see that they were shown every courtesy.

R. P. O. E. Entertains

The Elks gave an entertainment at B. P. O. E. Hall last Friday night complimentary to those who assisted in making the "Round the Clock" entertainment a success. Several hundred folks were in attendance and a jolly good time was in order. Dancing was the main attraction for many, while the little folks were treated to ice cream.

The entertainment was planned as an appreciation of the members of the B. P. O. E. wishing to show they truly appreciated the efforts of those who so unselfishly gave of their time and talent to assist in making the Elks Charity entertainment one of the finest entertainments ever presented in our city.

Cleaning Up Old Ball Club Debts

The indebtedness of last year's baseball team has been reduced to about $65 and this sum will be wiped out in the very near future. To J. M. Bogard manager, and members of the team, who have been donating all proceeds derived from admission to the ball park is due much commendation. Theirs was indeed an unselfish act and a fine spirit of good sportsmanship as they were not obligated in anyway to clear this indebtedness.

They deserve the support of all the baseball fans in our city for their efforts to give Big Spring a winning baseball team.

Juan Fierro Dead

Juan Fierro, aged eighty five years, died at his home in the northwestern part of this city Saturday morning and was buried in Mt. Olive cemetery Sunday morning.

Deceased had made his home in Big Spring and vicinity for more than twenty years and was respected by all who knew him. He worked on ranches, caring for sheep during the greater part of this time and was a faithful worker.

He is survived by three sons and one daughter: Frederico, Felipe and Savos Fierro and Mrs. Rufus Flores.

New Turntable for Big Spring Shops

A large turntable has been ordered for the T. & P. railway shops here. The new turntable is to be electrically propelled and large enough to handle the 500 type of engines. In order to handle these large engines it has been necessary to build an extension to the table now in use here. Turntables which were ordered for this place heretofore, have been appropriated and placed at Fort Worth and Baird so it is reasonably certain that a table will eventually be delivered at this point.

New Filling Station

The Masonic Building Association have let the contract for a drive-in filling station on the portion of the lot, just in the rear of the Masonic Temple. This is to be an up to the minute filling station, equipped with every modern convenience, and will be operated by parties who have secure a long lease on the property.

H. H. Padgett was awarded the contract for the construction of the building and work was started last Friday.

Mrs. Tuel Robb returned last night from a visit to Sweetwater.

J. R. Copeland left Tuesday night for Fort Worth in charge of an engine crew.

The speaker declared that all the foreign debt owed to the United States should be collected, stating that this country only has to demand that the

R. B. Murray has completed plans for opening a new bakery in Big Spring on or about June 1st. He has leased the space in the Bauer Block formerly occupied by the Busy Bee Restaurant. Mr. Murray was formerly with the City Bakery.

With quite a number of culverts and bridges on the railroad out in this vicinity, and the Texas & Pacific tracks on stilts, or rather cribbing, we are sure that the bridge crew force is being cut. If such be the case, we cannot understand the reason for such action.

In Hospital Five Times

No detective of fiction has had more hair raising experiences than Harry J. Loose. He has handled every class of criminal from "pickpockets" to the high up big men of the criminal "system." Loose began with the great Pinkerton agency. He has been a member of the Chicago Police Department for seventeen years. For seven years he was assigned to the investigations conducted by the Hull House, whose head is Miss Jane Adams.

The investigation conducted by the Chicago Crime Committee into the "Causes of Crime in Chicago" was handled by Mr. Loose. He also handled the investigation for the Chicago Vice Commission.

Much of Mr. Loose's work has resulted in legislation. The "Habit Forming Drug" investigation took the census of seventeen thousand drug users. The facts uncovered resulted in the Federal probe and the "Harrison Anti Narcotic Law" restricting the sale of habit forming drugs.

In the course of the work Mr. Loose had many times literally to risk his life. This was particularly true when dealing with drug addicts and the lower forms of criminals, many of whom are degenerates. Hence the five trips to the hospital.

"They never get away" is a fact that Mr. Loose emphasizes in his talk on criminals. He is a detective, not an entertainer. Seldom indeed has a lecture been given which has more of the dramatic. Yet Loose talks plain, everyday English. Many times he lapses, for illustration, into the jargon of the criminal world.

Mr. Loose will appear on the Chautauqua program here.

Big Rodeo at Dallas

Tom Burnett, famous Texan, ranchman and oil producer, has an ambition. It is to make Texas the headquarters of an annual round-up of the best cowboys in North America. Tom likes to see the boys ride and rope and he dislikes to think that Cheyenne, Wyoming takes the lead in this line of sport.

"I am going to stage a round up at Dallas during Durbar week," says Burnett, "and I am going to offer $10,000 in prizes as well as the world's championship trophy. This will bring to Texas the greatest array of riders and ropers, both boys and girls the country has ever seen. It will not be a wild west show, for nothing will be rehearsed. The prizes will be offered in all the different feats known to the cowboy, and the contestants will struggle for these prizes. If they win, they get the money. If they lose—well, they lose, that's all."

Burnett's big Rodeo will start Tuesday May 23 and will continue every afternoon and evening, rain or shine, until Saturday night May 27.

Tom Burnett is the owner of the famous Tri-Angle Ranch which contains several hundred producing oil wells. He can afford to ride his hobby.

We are in receipt of a "Tuberculosis Primer" for school children, published by the Texas State Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Sanatorium, Texas, which we consider one of the most valuable boosters for good health that we have ever seen issued. It should not only be in the hands of every boy and girl in our schools but in the hands of teachers and parents as well. A relentless warfare must be waged against tuberculosis for ignorance, mainly, is responsible for the spread of this disease. Someone's carelessness or thoughtlessness may cause one of your loved ones to fall a victim to this disease and for that reason everyone must aid to warn against its spread.

Copies of the Tuberculosis Primer will be furnished free of charge if you will but write to the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Sanatorium, Texas. Teachers can secure copies for every scholar in their room upon request.

Land Forfeitures to be Declared in August

The Midland National Bank, having recently written Commissioner J. T. Robison on the subject, is in receipt of the following self-explanatory reply: "Replying to your recent date, beg to advise that interest on non-settlement sales made Sept. 2nd, 1919; Jan. 2nd, 1920; and May 3rd, 1920, must be paid to Nov. 1st, 1921. Interest on all other sales must be paid to Nov. 1st, 1918. Forfeitures will be declared on August 25th, 1922."

Land owners will understand this and they are urged to take due notice.—Midland Reporter.

The common idea among some farmers that "poultry don't pay" is simply based on ignorance of real facts. The average farmer, while enjoying fresh eggs and tender chickens that his wife serves him takes no account of the money value they represent. It is the wife and children who care for the poultry with little or no help from him, and the daily output is to him a matter not worth bothering about.—Farm Bureau News.

"West Texas in Movies"

Stamford—Motion pictures showing views of West Texas towns, irrigational projects, mountains, streams, wheat fields, and whatnots will shortly be taken by the "movie" department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in its plan to thoroughly advertise West Texas over the union. Porter A. Whaley, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, announced today.

Coincident with this announcement Mr. Whaley advised that Hamilton Wright, staff correspondent of the Fort Record, has been appointed publicity manager of the organization, effective May 9. The publicity department is to be thoroughly strengthened and the motion picture department is to be one of the features of the publicity department henceforth. Mr. Wright has had twelve years experience as an active newspaper man. He has been connected with the Galveston Tribune, Abilene Daily Reporter, Abilene Morning News, San Angelo Daily Standard, Fort Worth Record, Ranger Daily Times, Wichita Falls Record-News, Amarillo Daily News, and other papers in the state.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce purposes to issue a daily news service for the larger papers of the country. When the moving picture department begins to function educational films will be sent out over all of West Texas. Other films will be sent to the North and East in a campaign to put "West Texas across."

Not Deep—To a Duck

An English rider coming to a river he was unfamiliar with, asked a youngster he saw playing on the bank if it was deep. "No," replied the boy, and the rider started to cross, but soon found that he and his horse had to swim for their lives.

When he finally reached the other side he turned and shouted: "I thought you said it wasn't deep."

"It aren't," was the reply. "It only takes grandfather's ducks up to their middles."—The Traveler's Beacon.

No use to weaken because we haven't an oil boom. It takes years and years, sometimes, to find the big oil pool, even after several oil wells in the field have been brought in. As long as wells continue to be drilled our chances are mighty good.

How to Get Back

shall never swing back to so-called old normal times again, nor will we drift back. By only one way we can come back, and that is by industry and thrift; by each individual doing all that he can normally, and by extravagance and saving a margin for the future. More production that first wakes up to truth will be the one to lead in industrial revival. Neither America nor Great Britain seems as yet to fully comprehend the fact that the production of goods can be good times. France and Germany the nations worst hit by the war, show the best return to industry, work and short rations under unwholesome surroundings are to them as compared with the stress of war which they have come through. America and in Great Britain the people are still dreaming of short work and long pay, light work and leisure. Play seems to most of the highest good. Work seems good to France and Germany.

Our country there is a widespread sentiment of a leftover, war-accumulation, to look to Government for cures of financial ills. A loan, a bonus, a credit, an inflation—these we first think of for, rather than go out and dig for longer each day than is our practice. More producing per acre is the remedy. Less killing of a higher value set on add—Portland (Ore.) Telegram.

Congressman Blanton has been granted a little vacation from Washington. It is understood that he will spend the part of the summer with the United States. He bought a whiskey flask just before leaving capital and if he runs across a still and bootleggers during his absence he has found crooks in the employ he will experience difficulty in keeping a supply of drinks even if his flask don't hold a pint.—Brownwood Banner

Living From Hand to Mouth

In the days of the Pharaohs, the Egyptians seldom had less than three or four years' supply of grain and other foodstuffs on hand against the possible time when the river Nile failed to overflow and spread its waters over the fields. When the Spaniards invaded Peru in the fifteenth century, they found the ancient civilization of Western South America forehanded enough to have store houses well filled with foodstuffs from which nothing was ever taken in times of plenty unless it was immediately replaced with an equal amount of the new crop. Here in the United States we live from hand to mouth, figuratively speaking, consuming and exporting all we produce in a single year and congratulating ourselves that the demand was equal to the supply, or a little better. Should we, by chance, have an overproduction, it is almost a calamity. Instead of a blessing, for the surplus is used to depreciate prices and discourage the producer from putting forth his best efforts another season.

It has been said, and without reason to deny, that one complete crop failure would bring this, the richest nation ever known to civilization, to the verge of famine. In many respects we are not as forward looking as were the semi-civilized tribes of South America 400 years ago. It is true we have the means of transporting the necessities of life from one part of the country to the other, or even importing from distant parts of the world, but inasmuch as a great part of the world looks to America for a large part of the food consumed, failure in America would prove a world calamity.

The time may come when great warehouses will be erected in America for the storing of surplus, imperishable products, and that this surplus will not be used as a means of bearing the market. At the present time farmers dare not overproduce because of penalty imposed upon them. A heavy fine in form of reduced prices is assessed against producers when they succeed in bringing forth the necessities of life in abundance.

The hand-to-mouth policy of the nation is worthy of serious consideration. The fact that our present system of distribution does not permit our farmers to overproduce for the market should in no way deter them from exercising foresight enough to store up food for their own use and an abundance of foodstuffs against the time of drouth which is sure to come, if not this year, perhaps the next.—Farm and Ranch

HOW TO ESCAPE FROM EVIL:—Because thou hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the Most High, thy habitation; there shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling. For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.—Psalm 91: 9-11.

Disfranchising Illiterates

We can fully appreciate the viewpoints of former Vice President Marshall in his efforts to have the ballot refused to every man and woman who is unable to read, write and speak the English language, and yet we dispute with him as to whether he is proceeding in the right way either to correct or to punish the offense of illiteracy. We say offense, because illiteracy that can be prevented is nothing more or less than a crime both against individuals and against society. No one will dispute with Mr. Marshall the general principle that persons either unable or unwilling to conquer illiteracy after they have reached the age of reason are in the majority of cases incapacitated to decide the destiny of this nation. For the greater part such persons are the prey of crooked politicians who, through them, are able to corrupt and contaminate elections, and in cases of this sort it would be better if all such did not vote. But there are other persons whose illiteracy may be invincible so far as they are concerned and upon whom it would work an injustice to deprive them of citizenship.

In some rural communities, for instance, the crime of illiteracy should rest not upon the illiterates, but upon their parents, because for the illiterates themselves there was not either the incentive or the opportunity to secure an education after they attained the age of reason. But such cases should not be. They should be prevented at the start, and the best method of prevention would be to punish parents who either refuse or neglect to have their children secure at least the fundamentals of an education. It will be neither just nor effective to penalize the unfortunate victims of circumstances, and disfranchisement is nothing but such a penalty.

If we are to guard against the offense of illiteracy we must tackle the problem from its cause and not from its effect. The guilty and not the unfortunate should be made to suffer.—Memphis Commercial-Appeal

Epworth League Program for Sunday.

The regular Sunday evening service of the Methodist Church will be conducted by the Epworth League. One of the chief features of the service will be the installation of officers by the Pastor. Those to take part are: Mrs. Fletwell, president; Miss Martha Hoard, vice president; Miss Louise Johnston, treasurer; Miss Hazel Line, secretary; Glenn Lovelace, Era agent and the departmental superintendents appointed by the president. After the installation of officers, an interesting program will be given, setting forth the need of cooperation between the League and church. Some of the features of the program will be three addresses by Miss Hazel Line, Mr. Bryon Reynolds, Miss Janice Pickle, and a duet by Misses Ruth Johnson and Martha Deuts.

Christian Church Notes
The Missionary Society met with Mrs. Springman May 1st. Vice president Mrs. Hall presided at this meeting.
Song—Move Like the Master.
Prayer—Bro. Brown.
Thirteen members responded to roll call. Minutes read and approved.
Business session.
Mrs. Maxfield was leader and gave us an interesting program.
Lesson subject—Mission Fields Around the World.
Song—The Whole Wide World.
Bible Study—Bro. Brown.
Vocal Duet—Mesdames Hall and Read.
Countries and Peoples of Latin America—Mrs. Kennedy.
Our responsibility in Latin America—Mrs. Hogg.
Echoes from Everywhere—Mrs. Eddins.
Benediction.
We feel that when thirteen members braved the threatening elements to attend this meeting their hearts are in the work. Regretted the absence of our president, Mrs. Parks, who was out of town. This being the first meeting she has missed since she was elected to this office eleven months ago.
The social hour was splendid, even if it was pouring down rain. We were served a dainty two course luncheon.
Mrs. Springman was voted an ideal hostess and we are looking forward to meeting in her home again.
We have 152 enrolled in Sunday school and were delighted to have 106 of these present. Most everyone promised to invite some one to come with them next Sunday.
We are cutting down the lead Colorado has in our contest to such an extent that they are getting nervous.
Let's make this end like the story of the tortoise and the hare. We have from five to nine new pupils each Sunday, but some drop out. Come and let us put you on our roll again.
At the close of the morning service Bro. Brown baptized four girls and boys who had confessed Christ.
We had no evening service as Bro. Brown had to leave town at that hour to enable him to get to San Antonio in time to attend the State Convention.
Next Sunday is Mothers' Day. There will be a special program.
Let's all be on time at Sunday school and stay and enjoy these special numbers.
Now is the time they should petition Congress to recognize that the Trinity river was navigable.
Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cox of Garden City were here Tuesday.

Methodist Notes
We had a splendid attendance at Sunday school last week and expect even more this Sunday, as mothers and fathers too are getting a special invitation from their own sons and daughters to attend our morning services.
In the afternoon at three we expect to have the Parent-Teachers meeting that was postponed from April 30th, because of the heavy rains. We cordially invite all parents to be present. There will be a brief program, including special music.
On Monday at three the social service session of our W. M. Auxiliary will be held at the church. On last Monday we started our Bible Study, and decided to use the first 15 minutes of each Monday's meeting in the Bible questions and answers we are now studying. Anyone wishing to take part in the drill may secure the two books for twenty cents.
On Wednesday we shipped the box of supplies given by our Auxiliary. This was truly a love gift. Those who missed seeing the beautiful outfit for our adopted conference family missed a real treat. Father, mother and family of five children, one girl and four boys were fitted out completely in perfectly new and made-to-measure spring garments. It was a most beautiful and fitting sequel to our recent revival meeting. Every one who had a part in this "shower" were certainly made glad at heart by the sight of this definite expression of Christian love and sympathy.
Our Auxiliary also donated ten dollars on the dishes just purchased by the Y. M. C. A. Auxiliary, as we, together with all other organizations in Big Spring, are benefitted by the use of the "Y" auditorium whenever we choose to meet there.
We wish again to extend an invitation to the young married men of our church to come and join the new Bible class at the Parsonage at 5:45 each Sunday morning, conducted by Mr. Mannel. It began on time, and the ones present are sure of its success. Join as a charter member. Begin on Mother's Day.
We are informed that wool buyers from Boston are now in this section contracting for all the wool they can take, even buying the wool on the back of the sheep. A big corner in the wool market has been manipulated in South America and a big advance in the price of wool is expected.

The following communication was printed in the Anderson, (S. C.) Mail of June 20, and signed by the Rev. Guy H. Frazier. The communication expresses Mr. Frazier's opinion of the picture which is to be shown at the Lyric Theatre in this city and is as follows:
"To Editor Daily Mail:
"In view of the crying need of shielding and saving our young people from the horrible and unspeakable and unprintable deformities and abnormalities of life when abused, I wish it were possible for the police to arrest every young man in Anderson and take them to the Strand tonight and compel them to sit through the picture as entitled 'Are You Fit To Marry?' We believe in compulsory education, and this contemplated act, if it could be carried out would be entirely in keeping with that principle, for education of the sort contained in that picture, if heeded, will do more for the salvation of the race than almost any amount of preaching.
"I am not advertising the Strand but I say all glory to the theatre when used for the benefit of the race. We have not begun to capitalize the moving picture house as a blessing. On with the show. Guard our young women for the sake of the little angels."
Guy H. Frazier.

Doings Around the Y. M. C. A.
Tuesday afternoon the Ladies Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. met for their regular monthly meeting. Several of the ladies were present and an enthusiastic meeting was held. Mrs. G. W. Lees, president, presiding.
The Camp Fire Girls have been invited to use the new equipment upstairs. The invitation was gladly accepted.
Among the new improvements to be noted at the "Y" due to the activity of the Auxiliary are: New curtains for the rest room, upstairs, which give it a decidedly homelike appearance; new dishes have been bought. A new closet has been built upstairs and will be painted this week. Three new tables have been built, these to be for use in the different banquets that will be served in the "Y" in the future. Better come over and get acquainted with the institution. See what the good ladies of the town are doing. They are boosters. Are you?
The ladies are planning a campaign for renewals of their present members and for new members. Don't wait to be called upon but call some of the ladies and tell them that you want to be a member.

A. Mitchell Entertains Domino Sharks.
Alex Mitchell's birthday happened to fall on Tuesday of this week and he gave a birthday party to the members of his class in Good Sportsmanship. The little spread was held in Elk's Hall, and the lucky diners assert that Mr. Mitchell is certainly some actor when it comes to playing the part of "miso host." Those who attended, hope Uncle Alex lives to be as old as Methuselah if he treats them to a similar party every time his birthday rolls around and were: Dell Hatch, W. B. Currie, Dick Hatch, W. E. Hornbarger, Vic Mellinger, and Lester Fisher. Quite a few others want to join Uncle Alex's class of expert domino players since they heard of the party.

Fire Destroys Cleaning Plant

The cleaning plant for Harry Lee's tailoring establishment, located at his home in the southwestern part of the city, was totally destroyed by fire. Building, machinery, motor, etc. went in quick time. The fire took place about 10 o'clock this morning.

Paul Sims who was removing clothing from the cleaner when the gasoline blazed forth was painfully burned about the face and arms. It is thought that the blaze was due to static electricity as the cleaning machine was not in operation and the blaze broke out when a coat was being lifted from the cleaner. About 30 gallons of gasoline was in the cleaner and this as well as 50 gallons in another tank made a big blaze that was soon beyond control.

Mr. Lee has ordered complete and improved cleaning equipment and has made arrangements to take care of all work promptly until his new equipment reaches here.

In the light of our deplorable national tendency to forget today the man who lived yesterday, the demonstration recently staged by several thousand women before the home of former President Wilson was a gracious act. Such evidence of love and esteem at a time like this means infinitely more to the recipient than did the plaudits of an admiring world in the heyday of his career. The former President was visibly affected by the tribute. The high regard for Woodrow Wilson entertained by the whole people of this country is in no sense colored by political opinions. Many of us may, and do, hold views wholly at variance with those of the former President, but the people of America are one in their deep admiration for the man and in their appreciation of the high ideals by which he is inspired.—San Francisco Chronicle.

The People That Want Your Business

Mr. Consumer

Why pays your taxes?

Many families live in our community for years and pay no taxes other than the poll tax, although they may have many children getting the advantage of our schools. Others pay in a larger proportion, while there are some who pay large taxes and have no children to educate, but there is no denying the fact that the brunt of taxation falls on the business interests. In other words, the owners of business property and the merchants are paying part of your taxes.

Why the Spread?

"Resolved, That the Chamber of Commerce of McAllen ask, through our secretary, to get our daily and weekly papers to expose this, and also request that the attorney general of Texas take immediate steps to investigate, and if found guilty, to prosecute to the fullest extent. In other words, we request that it be found out where the difference of $6 per ton for cabbage in McAllen and $125 per ton in San Antonio and other markets goes."

The Chamber of Commerce of Mercedes has passed a similar resolution, and other points in the valley are taking the same action. The market for cabbage in December was about $35 per ton. It has gone down since until $6 is about all that the farmers can get. It is a fact also that the retail price for cabbage at Houston, San Antonio and other points has not come down appreciably, so that consumers do not get the benefit of the low prices.

The cooperative selling agencies in the valley cannot well establish retailing or even wholesaling stations in the big cities, and at present there is no help other than the force of publicity and public opinion as facts become known in regard to prices.

William McKinley and Woodson are the only presidents to be elected to two terms consecutively. The precedents are against President Harding serving a second term. With a congress to foist a bonus measure on the country that will upset its progress, financial recovery, and a measure that will boost the cost of an already overburdened country and at the same time penalize foreign trade, the President has to worry about if he desires to stay in office. It is more than likely until he will have a choice in reelection, but his fate will be decided within the present year. The country will repudiate both the bonus and the tariff measures if he persists to become laws.—Houston Post.

Early Care of Teeth

Decayed teeth are present in 98.2 per cent of the children under school age and are the result of neglect of the baby teeth and lack of vitamin containing foods in the diet of young children, authorities on dental hygiene and nutritional experts say.

The time to begin cleaning the teeth is when the first one appears. Mothers are advised to wash the baby's teeth with a soft cloth wrapped about her finger. As soon as the child is able to do so (about 2 or 2 1-2 years old) he should be given a small tooth brush of his own and shown how to brush the teeth, gums, and tongue and then encouraged and reminded until the morning and evening brushing of teeth will become as habitual as putting on and taking off his shoes.

During the years when the teeth are growing it has been proved that a diet which will supply the lime and vitamins assists materially in the formation of sound teeth. Milk, yolk of eggs, fresh fruits and vegetables supply both mineral salts and vitamins. Even young children should not have less than two cups of milk a day and some vegetable (green if possible) or fruit in the diet. Oranges and prunes are among the fruits recommended for their high mineral salt and vitamin content. —Minnesota Health Journal.

Ame Flache was here the forepart of the week from Brownfield to visit relatives and look after ranch property near Vincent. Mr. Flache states it has been too wet in Gaines County to do much farming for the past two weeks but that a bumper crop of corn is assured for that section. He states that he is also going to try cotton there this year.

The next big attraction for the Big Spring Country is the big Chautauqua which opens here Saturday May 27th for a week's engagement. Our folks have long since learned that the big educational program presented is worth far more than the price of admission.

Bread on the Waters

Humanity learns slowly. War, pestilence and famine plow deep furrows and leave behind them ugly scars, but the world forgets and often fails to garner wisdom from the fields of experience.

The present condition of the world is a proof that even the savage tutelage of war has not suffice to da away with the causes that make war. Distrust and suspicion, selfishness and greed have not yet been rooted out from the life of nations.

Unless the philosophers can discover some new means there is only one way to build an age of confidence, sympathy, mutuality and peace and that is by starting with the children of today who will be the men and women of tomorrow. And behold the proof!

During the awful months after the war had ended the American Red Cross, and particularly the members of the Junior Red Cross, sent food and clothing, comfort and encouragement and happiness to the little children of misfortune living in Rumania.

The other day the cables brought word that the children of a village school in Rumania had contributed fifteen lei "to aid the children of families made destitute by the destruction of the Knickerbocker Theatre in Washington, D. C."

What matters it that these Rumanian children knew little of America? What matter it that there are no destitute children in Washington as a result of the Knickerbocker catastrophe? The point is this: The proof has been made—the children of today, if guided aright, can build a new world for tomorrow!—Red Cross Courier.

Miss Mary Lou Cushing Entertains.
 Miss Mary Lou Cushing entertained her friends at the ranch home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cushing, twenty miles southeast of Big Spring last Saturday, to celebrate the anniversary of her fifteenth birthday. Dancing was in order until midnight and a jolly time was enjoyed by the young people.

Bridge Club Notes
 Mrs. R. C. Strain delightfully entertained the members of the Bridge Club Wednesday afternoon.
 In the series of interesting games Mrs. Jno. Clarke made club high score; Mrs. S. D. Ford made visitor's high score and Mrs. J. W. Thurman made visitor's second high score. Delicious refreshments were enjoyed.

Miss Ora Cannon Married
 In a letter to F. F. Gary from Mrs. H. W. Cross nee Miss Ora Cannon, who formerly held a position in Mr. Gary's store when she resided in Big Spring and who has many friends in this city and county, she informed him that she was married on April 26 to Harold W. Cross at Phoenix Ariz., and they are now at home at Globe, Arizona.
 It seems that Miss Cannon and Mr. Cross were childhood sweethearts and when they met in Arizona after years of separation the old love was rekindled and the wedding bells completed the story.
 F. F. states that since telling the above to a number of our unmarried young ladies he thinks there will be a rush to Arizona if they act as they talk.

Presbyterian Auxiliary Notes
 Last Monday the Auxiliary met at the church for the regular monthly program. The topics, Foreigners in the U. S., and a general view of our seven countries were uncommonly interesting. Every part on the program was carried out, and those present felt that it was a meeting very much worth while.
 Next Monday at 3 o'clock the Circlea will meet, the Whatsoevers with Mrs. Carter, the Dorcas with Mrs. Strain and the King's Daughters with Mrs. Barrick.
 Next Thursday May 18th at 4 o'clock the Dorcas Circle will entertain at the home of Mrs. T. S. Currie. The 10th birthday of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Southern Presbyterian Church will be celebrated in a unique and interesting way. All the ladies of the church are cordially invited. A large attendance is expected as this promises to be one of our loveliest socials.

Spareberg to be Austin Postmaster.
 We note that the nomination of George H. Spareberg to be postmaster at Austin, Texas, was sent to the U. S. Senate Monday by President Harding.
 Mr. Spareberg has a host of friends in Big Spring where he made his home for many years, and his mother, Mrs. H. Spareberg is one of the oldest and most highly esteemed citizens.
 Mr. Spareberg served sixteen years as postmaster of Big Spring and was ever a progressive citizen and booster for his home town. His friends are indeed pleased to note his nomination and know he will make Austin the best postmaster they have ever had.

R. S. McDonald and E. M. LaBeff arrived Tuesday evening from the Mitchell County oil fields where they recently completed a derrick on the Phelan tract. They have contracts to erect several more derricks as soon as material can be secured, and will visit homefolks here until delivery of material is announced.
 E. M. LaBeff on Thursday started the work of dismantling the derrick at the Sand Hill well No. 1, having secured this derrick from the General Oil Co. He will use extra care in tearing down the derrick as he expects to sell the material to some of the men who are planning to drill test wells in the Westbrook section.

A good many women have said, "Oh, this is so sudden," when what they thought was, "Well, it's about time."

Big Spring Boys Win Athletic Honors.
 In the Junior College Track Meet of the state, held at Fort Worth, Texas, last Friday, May 5, Gill Alfred Barnett was one of the factors in winning the meet for Texas Military College of Terrell, Texas. "Kin" amassed a total of six points for his school by winning second place in the high hurdles, third place in the hop, skip and jump event; and tying for second place with Gibby Jackson in the high jump. Gibby Jackson represented Clarendon College at the track meet, and was high point man of the meet. He won first place in pole-vault, broad jump, and the hop, skip and jump; and was second in the hundred yard dash, shot put, and tied with "Kin" Barnett for second in high jump. Gibby formerly was a Big Spring lad, having been born here, and having spent most or all of his grammar school days in Big Spring. Both of these men are planning to enter the Darbar track meet at Dallas on the 27th of this month, and the records they make will be watched with interest.

"Dolly, I'm glad you eat Kellogg's Corn Flakes and fruit for supper. I'm glad, too, that Kellogg's is the only food that would appeal to my appetite. It digests so easily and yet I know it is nourishing! Guess I'll have another helping. These Kellogg's certainly are delicious."

Eat sensibly during the warm weather!
Kellogg's CORN FLAKES
 are nourishing-refreshing-delicious

It's a long step for health and riddance of summer drowsiness and that sluggish feeling if you'll all stop eating so much heavy, greasy foods and let Kellogg's delicious Corn Flakes do your health a good turn! With cold milk and luscious fresh fruit, Kellogg's are extra delightful—so crisp, and appetizing.

Kellogg's Corn Flakes are nourishing and supply all the summer energy you need; yet, they digest easily and actually rest the stomach! On such a diet you'll feel so much better; your mind will be keener and you'll accomplish a lot more work—and help yourself keep cool and snappy and cheerful!

Be certain to buy Kellogg's Corn Flakes in the RED and GREEN package bearing the signature of W. K. Kellogg, originator of Corn Flakes. None are genuine without it.

Also makers of KELLOGG'S KRUMBLES and KELLOGG'S BRAN, cooked and bran.

Mother's Day

A tribute to Mother—dedicated to the "Homemakers Class" of the First Baptist Church:

"How noiseless falls the foot of time That only treads on flowers."

This quotation is indeed verified; for it does not seem that a year has passed since last Mother's Day passed with its joys and sorrows, its hopes and disappointments. For is not life just this way? First rain then sunshine and ofttimes clouds mar the horizon of our happiness and a joy that traverses our path is like an oasis in the desert of life and "Hope often leads into the miry swamps of disappointment. It leads up to the end of life."

Again returning to Mother, the sweetest name under Heaven; right here in this connection I am reminded of the legend and it runs thus: An Angel came from Heaven seeking something to take back and it carried a baby's smile and a mother's love, and when it reached the pearly gates the smile had vanished, but the mother's love was pure and lasting.

"Mother, the fount from which our being flowed. The calm, pure fount of Mother Love."

She, who was, who is, and who ever will be the one to exert the influence and give the protecting care in our lives. The mother love for the child is exemplified from the moment its life begins. It is she who watches it with vigilance through its nights of restless or peaceful slumber, she who guards and protects it from all harm. Her love is like unto the showers of Heaven to plant life. In the Bible the Virgin Mother's love will ever be revered.

"Not she with traitorous kiss, her Savior strong, Nor she denied Him with unholy tongue, She, when apostles shrank could danger brave, Last at the cross, but earliest at the grave."

In mythological history and all of the ancient legends, the mother is magnified above all others; her examples are emulated and we all strive to be like mother. In the recent World War mother's love was exemplified above all other love. For the boys who were sent to camp, and those who crossed the ocean and fought in the Argonne and Flanders fields, where "popples blow" were followed by mother's prayer.

"Mother, dear mother I love thee; Thy smile in radiance beams In all around I see thee The guardian of my dreams For it was from childhood's hour, Thou moulded my life with tenderest care.

Thou shared my joys and gave me power To overcome the tempter's snare. —Contributed by a Former Member.

Gentry's Circus Here Tuesday

Tuesday was circus day in Big Spring but one of the quietest days our city ever experienced. Brothers were here and gave us a fine show Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Their big parade with riders, clowns, wild animals, three or four brass bands, camels and steam calliope was at 12:30 o'clock and fewer people on the streets to witness it are usually to be noted here on any day.

Folks were just too busy to get off work for a little thing like this. Only a fair sized crowd was in attendance at the performance Tuesday afternoon but practically a full house on hand for the night show.

The tricks and performance—ponies, dogs and monkeys at attraction in this show along with other good acts are featured.

As this was our first circus in a number of years it is most surprising it did not attract more attention then they couldn't have struck time with our folks.

L. C. McNatt of Abilene, deputy for the Modern Woodmen of America, was a business visitor Wednesday. Mr. McNatt will return next week when the Woodmen of Big Spring will have with a five reel picture show at O. F. Hall Tuesday, May 16th.

J. A. Mullin arrived this week to engage in business in Big Spring. Mr. Mullin has been with the Auto Parts Co. of Dallas and will open a similar business in Big Spring. He will also purchase a location on East Third Street which has been secured for the present.

Miss Rose Johnson returned Monday morning from Los Angeles, California, where she was on a business trip. Miss Johnson was to accept new students and so she decided to return here until that date.

R. H. Sanders and family moved from Snyder and family to their home in Big Spring. He has rented the Gilliam building in the Cole & Strayhorn block and will engage in raising garden.

Mrs. M. Holdrege presented Herald office with a beautiful bouquet of roses Wednesday and same was duly appreciated.

J. J. Hair left this week on business trip to Bangor, Minn. points east.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Thomas and family were visitors in Big Spring Tuesday.

W. L. Lemmons and family of Garden City spent Tuesday in Big Spring.

S. T. Walraven and family were visitors from Garden City Tuesday.

J. B. Hodges made a business trip to Midland Tuesday.

Some Must Take the Blame

Blaming the woman has been a favorite indoor sport since the days of Adam. If one cannot blame a woman under other pretext, put the fault upon her for having a son who does something he shouldn't!

Apparently so reason those doubtless well-intentioned but short-visioned occupants of pulpits who see in the economic and political rise of women from a dependent to an independent state the cause of all the ills to which modern civilization is heir.

A well-known revivalist declares that "the next war" is to be caused by the "flapper." He adds that all wars have been caused by "the depravity of women."

A noted woman worker in social hygiene advocates more women in politics and more laws as a cure for vice and the activities of vicious women.

A national legislator wants marriage laws so amended that from ten days to two weeks must elapse between issuance of license and marriage, as a cure for divorce, the divorced women of the country being one of the great evils of the country!

It would be a dull world if we all thought alike. Yet one is reminded that a fundamental of the government of what we revere as the land of the free is tolerance; willingness to concede to the other fellow the right to his opinion, even as we hold inalienable the right to our own.

No good American has any objection to anyone thinking that flappers cause wars, that women are evil creatures, that hasty marriages undermine the American home, or that vice can be cured by "don't do it" laws. But there is great objection of evangelists, educators and legislators stating as facts which they wish to be the basis of legal action what are, after all, only personal opinions, the truth of which it is difficult to substantiate by any evidence.

One does wonder, at times, whether these reformers who decry women really had mothers, or if, like Topsy, they "just growed!"

Millions and Advertising

Extraordinary precautions are taken by the police to guard John D. Rockefeller, Jr., even when he starts out to attend his famous Bible class. Indeed every now and then the detectives are compelled to invade the church to protect the young man from possible violence. To thousands of persons the name Rockefeller is inflammatory. The constructive charities, the civic helpfulness of this family are lost to sight in the greater vision of a money grabbing octopus that for years has been planted in the back of popular imagination. Truly the millions of the oil king have brought more terror than happiness, all of which condition is largely due to the exclusiveness with which the elder Rockefeller lived for years. To the public Rockefeller was not a personality but he was an institution. He forbade contact with his fellow beings. His photograph was never seen. He never spoke to the people or for the people through the only means of communication, the newspaper. He held aloof and became hated and despised. It was not until some thoughtful person impressed the old man with the value of advertising that the bars were let down and the people permitted to know something of the Rockefeller life and activities, and then some of the people began to understand. But even so the old man started too late ever to reap reward for whatever of constructive work he may have done. Indeed it is doubtful if his son will see the day of honor that to some extent at least may be his due. Truly the sins of the father are visited on the children even to the third and fourth generation. Never has there been a more striking lesson in advertising than the gradual change of the public mind toward the Rockefellers since they tore the mask of secrecy from their lives. The happiness, yes, even the life of the millionaire, today is dependent on the power of advertising.

Dairying Promotes Good Farming

Forty years ago Wisconsin was known as one of the Middle West grain States. Grain was the principal crop and like our cotton growing States, crop after crop was taken from the same fields until the soil became almost exhausted. Today Wisconsin is one of the richest of Midwest States, and it is the dairy industry that made it so. Recently Wisconsin farmers celebrated the fiftieth year of dairying in that State. Fifty years ago the yields of grain per acre began to seriously decline. In looking around for a substitute and an opportunity to rebuild the soil, dairy cows were suggested. A few were brought into the State, but ten years later there were many farmers sickening to the old grain cropping with little success. About this time the dairying industry began to attract more attention because of the success of the few who were pioneers. Since that time dairying has grown with such rapidity that it easily outranks any other industry in the State. Types and breeds have improved, and as evidence that these dairymen believe only in the best, attention is called to the fact that 2,500 dairy animals, which would be considered good cows in many other States, were discarded after tests in 1921.

The profits obtained from the sale of milk, cream and cheese takes up only a part of the immense value of the dairy industry of the Badger State. The wornout soils have been rebuilt until they are in better condition than when they were virgin. The acre yield of grain and feedstuffs exceeds the yields obtained by pioneers. In fact, in building up the dairy industry these farmers also reclaimed their State for the production of grain, and today Wisconsin is noted for the breeding of pure seed, holding the world championship on barley seed. Nearly every farmer is also a seed breeder of more or less ability. A new corn has been developed which will mature in the extreme northern portion of the State, while alfalfa and other hays and feeds are produced in abundance. The Badger State continues to hold first place in the production of dairy products, but good farming goes along with good dairying, and these same farmers are making records in all other agricultural lines.

What Wisconsin has done in a climate of extremes the Southwest can do with the expenditure of less money and effort.—Farm and Ranch.

Why Not Include All Citizens?

The grand jury at Austin has made a report containing the following:

"We do not believe any officer of the law whose duty it is to execute the law fairly and impartially alike to every citizen he be ever so humble, can be true to his oath of office and at the same time be true to the oath of the present Ku Klux Klan organization and its teachings."

The grand jury need not have limited its remarks to officers of the law, except for the purpose of comparing their oath of office with that of the Ku Klux Klan. For it is hard to understand how any person even the most obscure private citizen, can square the Klan's obligations, performances, masked secrecy and disregard of legal rights with the fundamental principles of American good citizenship.

The good men who have been misled into the Klan by specious arguments, will see their error and get out. They cannot be fed forever on the buncombe of Justice in a pillowslip and a night-sown.

Nothing so un-American, so fundamentally unlawful and so anti-social as the Ku Klux Klan can long survive in the United States.—El Paso Herald.

TRADE MARK

was 35 years getting ready for the new price on the Fordson. He started as a farm boy, planning to get rid of the drudgery, long hours and low money return that has always faced the farmer.

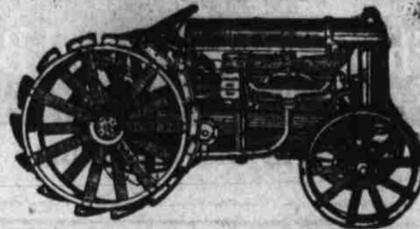

He wanted to furnish you with a tractor that would not only do your work better and faster, but at lower costs—and the 170,000 Fordsons now in use have proved that he has accomplished these things. What you get in the Fordson for $395 f. o. b. Detroit is the greatest farm power unit ever offered.

Let us show you how a Fordson will cut farm costs, increase your bank account and take the drudgery out of farm work. Write, phone or call.

Trouble on Wings

Nature is full of puzzles. None possibly is greater than the reason why some things exist. Spring brings "its pleasures and its dear delights," and with flowers and breezes fills the world with perfume and with joy.

It also brings the multitudinous pests that with the awakening of all things emerge from hibernation and proceed to fill this beautiful world with danger and with woe.

Music and poetry are delightful but fly screens and mosquito netting are more practically valuable. Civilization is learning slowly but surely the source of much of its physical woe.

"Swat the fly" is not only a piece of household slang, but has won its way into the most classical of entomological dictionaries by virtue of its importance for the public weal.

Out of 750,000 different species of animal life more than 500,000 are insects. One hesitates to say what proportion of our troubles come on wings. The Bureau of Entomology estimates that insect-bred losses in our staple crops alone aggregate $1,500,000,000 a year. This, however, is but a drop in the ocean compared with the damage that they inflict upon our health. We are going to learn after a while that if we want to be free from ague, typhoid, malaria, fevers—these are but generic names that cover a multitude of sickness and a vast registry of death—we must sound an alarm with each returning spring and by simple precaution defend ourselves against the multitudes of apparently innocent foes that seem constantly waiting intent upon our undoing.—Red Cross Courier.

Nature's Spree

The Ranger Daily Times expresses it somewhat poetically:

"Nature is a drunkard—given to violent tempers, expressed in floods, cyclones and petty meannesses, when at the height of intoxication; fits of tempers which are sudden; that no man may foresee.

"Then nature on the other hand may feel remorse, feel it so strongly that the earth grows barren while waiting for one single drop to quench its thirst. And in her abstaining moments, no totalitar is more rigid when upholding the principles of abstinence.

"But by and by, Nature begins to feel sorry for herself and for the dreariness of the life she is living. So nature takes a 'shot' or so. Forthwith she smiles and with fresh, moisture-flecked breezes and cooling showers regales the parched earth. And all the world is glad that Nature has again taken to drink. She's more frolicsome, more emotional, her moods more varied; altogether, much better company when she's in her cups.

"But like man, she can't hold the 'edge' and must swing from extreme to extreme, with only one stage of the cycle enjoyable to her children.

"And unlike man, she recognizes no attempted control by any amendment, eighteenth or otherwise. Nature will go on many a spree hereafter."

The Way of Madness

It was once common, says the Wall Street Journal, to see in the windows of bird fanciers white mice, or perhaps grey squirrels, spinning around insanely fast, in a cylindrical cage. The faster they scampered, the more they worked, the faster the cage went around. But the animals got nowhere, not a fraction of a segment higher from the horizontal. Outside the whirling cage other animals flitted about, nibbling nervously. Soon the exhausted workers would cease their efforts and then outside nervous consumers would become seized with frenzy and rush in at the opening. Then, all together, they would begin again their mad endeavors, working frantically—getting nowhere. Chesterton once said, "Hell is effort expended without joy."

Germany which is soon destined to burst. Wages keep rising by leaps and bounds, so do taxes and the cost of living. Imagine the insane efforts transferred to America. It would be as though the average worker who in 1912 received $25 a week was now called upon to pay: For 15-cent socks, $20; for two fresh-from-the-lime eggs, $5; for a quart of milk, $4; for a plate of poor roast beef, $15; for a pound of butter, $46; for a two-cent stamp, $2; for an eight-dollar paid of shoes, $200; for a $30 suit, $1000." We're mighty good at arithmetic, if solving car problems can be classed as such. We don't have to "foot our own horn" to the people whose cars have undergone treatment here. They took it for us. But you who have wasted $11 worth of clothes and $96 worth of disposition trying to fix your own car, when we could do it for a dollar or two, you are the fellows we are talking to.

There is nothing so good but what it could be better—and we are trying to improve our methods right along. Bring the old bus in and let us diagnose the case. The operation may be a minor one, whereas you think she is about ready to croak.

Flood Waters

Two months from now, or three, at the most, the flood waters that are now rushing toward the Gulf would be worth to us many times the millions that they are costing us. Allowed to run wild, in other words, they are a destructive force. Arrested, they would be a constructive force. And as a constructive force they would be even more potential than they are as a destructive force.

To make a resource out of what is now a liability, to make these flood waters work for us rather than against us, would be a big, difficult and costly job. It would involve the building of dams by the hundreds; enough, not to impound all the water that falls upon us in deluge volume, as happened within the last week, but to enable us to regulate the flow sufficiently to enable our streams to carry off without overflowing so much of it as we should not impound.

But while that would be a difficult and costly job, undoubtedly, it is not so big, difficult and costly as to be an impossible, nor even an impracticable one. Once we made up our minds to undertake it, it would not be beyond our command to get the brains and the money to accomplish it.

And, if accomplished, it would be worth many times the cost of doing it. The escape from the losses that we now almost periodically suffer would itself make a profitable return on the investment. If we did no more than make these torrential rains innocuous, impotent to do us damage, we should have gained a large dividend. But of course we should do more than make these torrential rains innocuous. We should make them serviceable. The water impounded would be our servant during the months that we are normally without it in quantities adequate to all the needs we have of it. It would not only cease to be destructive. It would become productive; productive of power which we could convert into wealth, into comfort, into pleasure, into beauty.

It is a big and beckoning opportunity. What is mostly needed for the seizure of it is the imagination to appreciate its inestimable value and the energy and courage to grapple with the difficulties that it presents. It is because it is big and difficult that we have not undertaken it, and, rightly considered, the reason that we have not undertaken it is a good reason why we should.—Dallas News.

Alas, the Poor Meat Packers!

While the meat packers are groaning their complaints of poor business to the public, lamb chops are costing the people 80 cents a pound. Why cannot the government make a real investigation, stripped of all wholesale economic and bewildering theories, and let the people know why the housewife is robbed and who gets the money. If the farmers got extortionate profit, the news would be shouted from the rooftops, and the retailers could not long remain in business in light of outrageous gouging. If the packers are not getting it then their skirts should be cleared, because, frankly, the people believe the meat trust and the meat trust only is to blame.

When the cow was simply carved into meat and the rest thrown away, meat could be had at reasonable prices, but as soon as the by-products were developed, as soon as more money was made out of the horns and the hide and the rest of the trimmings, the price of meat, instead of falling, began to rise and it has gone up ever since. When the supply was excessive, business was poor, meat was a drag on the market, and so "profitable prices simply had to be charged." When a supposed shortage struck the country, then prices leaped by reason of the law of supply and demand. Surely it is time all of this jugglery was stopped and a few plain understandable facts were placed before the people. The meat trust should be fairly dealt by. At present it is regarded as the most impudent of business malefactors, and it is only fair that the truth should be smoked out.

Home Philosophy for 1922

What a lot more happiness there'd be in the world if we didn't have any cash registers—that is if we didn't need any cash registers. Cash registers keep men honest but they don't make them honest. Every one of us seems to have a little kink of dishonesty somewhere an' so we seem to need some kind of a checking machine. But it's awful silly! Since we've got to be honest why not realize the honesty that's forced on us has no power to bring us joy. We sort of bunk ourselves, don't we? If we get a real honesty like we get a real religion an' throw away the cash registers then we have all sort of fun an' just as much money—maybe more. Spurious honesty don't mean so much after all. It's got to be real to be worth while.

WHO WOULDN'T?

Come, faithful Muse, and let me jingle—my soul would swell in lyric chat; with heavenly strains my lyre would tingle, if some kind friend would hold my hat. . . . I'd grease my lute with country butter, and trim its crown with country ham—and, Lordy, how I'd squawk and flutter, at biscuits smeared with country jam! I faint would chant of country sausage, and eke the juicy pumpkin pie, wamed down with sips of country cider, nor pass the country doughnut by. . . . My country 'tis of thee superior—each rural gem the ribbon takes; there is no nook in my interior, that welcomes punk machine-made cakes. . . . Avant, avant, ye patent fodder, contrived by chemists in their lairs—I hate the truck embalmed in solder, their antiseptic prunes and pears. . . . O, lend me to the country table, where germs and toxins are not known, and there, with Polly Ann and Mabel, we'll carve the fowl and chew the pone. . . .

Dig Into The Oil Business

If there is to be a real investigation of the leasing of the naval oil reserves after Secretary Fall conducted secret negotiations with the Sinclair Oil interests for the exploitation of the Teapot Dome field, the disclosures are likely to prove interesting. The Sinclair interests appear to be perfectly frank in their explanations, but the government is peculiarly reticent and seemingly in conflict with some statements that have been made. A complete airing of the spectacular achievements of the Sinclair Oil company undoubtedly would be an inspiration to the youth of the country, which feels to some extent that present-day opportunities are not those of the "old days." The romance of millions that could be unfolded in all probability would put fiction in the shade. From an interesting beginning, the Sinclair Company has mounted the ladder until it has gone so far as to fix prices for the Standard Oil Company, while its enterprising president has experienced a life not less filled with interesting incidents than that of the elder Rockefeller. So far as the government deal is concerned, Wall Street appears to have had knowledge of the proposition before the public had any inkling of it, so there was no opportunity for the public to express its views or to point out any weak spot if it existed. Congress knew as little as the public, so that the principle of the "public be damned" seems to have operated throughout the transaction. A little light now, even though late, will do no harm.
