Barkley May Fill Out Demo Ticket

Party Suffers From A Split Personality

PHILADELPHIA, July 12. (AP)—The Democrats went to Convention Hall today, suffering from a bad case of split personality. A man with this affliction knows not whether he is coming or going, much less in which direction. And that was precisely the situation in Philadelphia as the party of Thomas Jefferson gathered to nominate a candidate for the presidency.

It was split, first of all, on a north-south axis. But there were fissures within fissures, cracks within cracks, and splinters, slivers and broken pieces pointing every which-way. The "Solid South" was hardly more solid than a pile of jackstraws. The North was little better.

Doubtless as a result of this, an atmosphere of happy confusion prevailed in the convention city as the party settled down to business. The Eisenhower headquarters on Broad Street have been transformed, with a few strokes of a painter's brush, into the base for Sen. Claude Pepper of Florida.

The sign is the same. It still asserts, in large blue letters—"The people's choice for president," but underneath, in a space that formerly was blank, it now speaks for Sen. Pepper.

The senator invaded these rooms last evening. He found them bare, an empty citadel behind a brave and colorful front. The plaster was peeling from the walls, and the floors were littered with debris. It had been a facade, and nothing more.

But it had taken "the" more than six months in three separate statements to convince his admirers that this was so. Pepper set up a table and some chairs. A heavy crush of reporters, photographers and newsmen arrived. The familiar white lights gleamed and sweat poured down in streams.

The senator said he was a candidate, introduced his handsome dark-haired wife, and submitted to questions, which he answered easily.

North Carolina Fighting Polio By Every Means

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., July 12. (AP)—North Carolinians, fearful of the mounting incidence of infantile paralysis, have been assured that "everything humanly possible" is being done to meet the emergency. The outbreak of the dread disease is being met "with the most concerted attack" in the state's history, Philip S. Randolph declared last night.

Randolph, state representative of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, warned against hysteria by saying that some communities are undertaking so-called polio preventive projects with no regard for their real worth. The polio outbreak, through Saturday, had brought reports of 485 cases to the State Board of Health. Dr. J. W. R. Norton, state health officer, said that "a definite upward trend in the attack rate during the week ending June 25 has now become apparent."

SCHOOLS, CAMPS NOT AS DANGEROUS

NEW YORK, July 12. (AP)—How to keep your children away from infantile paralysis, as far as this can be done, was explained today at the first International Polio Conference.

Home is the most dangerous place. If anyone in a home gets the disease, or becomes a carrier, the intimate association spreads polio faster than any other now known way. From a polio home the disease spreads mostly to homes of intimate friends.

Schools and camps are not as dangerous, because the contacts between children there are not as frequent.

The carriers, those who have the virus causing polio but who are not sick, are among the spreaders. Anyone can become a carrier merely by being associated with another carrier or with a person sick with infantile paralysis.

Hospitals are sources of polio carriers. One case was reported of three infantile paralysis patients in a hospital ward, where 11 of the 45 other persons in that ward became carriers.

People who are sent to hospitals during an epidemic may include numerous carriers, even though they do not get the disease. In one outbreak one third of those sent for observation were carriers. These general rules of polio spread were shown in a University of Michigan exhibit.

Dr. Robert Wood, New York University school of medicine, reported that the possible known pathways of spread are food, hands, material from mouths, utensils and toys, flies and sewage.

Yale University showed that outbreaks occur near contaminated sewage, and that in many outbreaks files have been found carrying the disease. But it is not known that flies spread it to humans.

ALBEN W. BARKLEY to forefront

Civil Rights Reported Still In Platform

PHILADELPHIA, July 12. (AP)—Democratic platform framers were reported today to have drawn a preliminary civil rights plank bidding for party unity through a revival of the 1944 race stand.

But there were no immediate signs whether the proposed compromise can stop a convention floor fight—between Southerners and self-styled "liberals"—that could determine whether the Democrats will be one party or two in November.

The tentative platform draft, drawn by a seven-member subcommittee and yet to be approved by the 108-member full platform committee and by the convention, was held in secrecy.

But one source said this language was presented by the seven-member platform writing group for the race plank: "The Democratic Party and the Democratic administration are solely responsible for the great gains in recent years made in the continuing effort to reduce and eliminate unfair and illegal discrimination based on race, or creed or color."

"We have implemented our often-expressed belief that racial and religious minorities have the right to live, develop and vote equally with all citizens, and to share the rights guaranteed by the constitution."

"We again call on Congress to exert its full authority to the limits of those constitutional powers to protect those rights."

Southerners were said to have lost their fight in the preliminary drafting group for a states' rights plank. Previously Democratic chairman J. Howard McGrath said the administration might be willing to go along on such a plank if it did not "nullify" the civil rights proposal.

Chauncey Sparks, former Alabama governor and member of the seven-member drafting group, told a reporter: "Efforts are being made now to get the extremists on both sides to agree, without a floor fight. If we can't get such an agreement we might have to make some revisions."

Koreans Push Rival Regimes

SEOUL, July 12. (AP)—Koreans of the American-occupied South end the Russian-controlled North rived completion of separate governments today—each striving for eventual rule over both zones.

North Koreans raised their own hammer-and-sickel flag two days ago, said a North Korean radio broadcast translated here today.

The assembly elected in South Korea approved today the 4,000-year-old country's first democratic constitution.

The North Korean radio said the Soviet zone will elect its own legislative body Aug. 25. It added: "A 'Democratic Korean people's republic' constitution is now in effect. It will be enforced only in the Soviet North 'until the time when the constitution comes to be enforced in all Korea,' the broadcast said.

City Commissioners Scheduled To Meet

Big Spring city commissioners are scheduled to meet at 5 p. m. Tuesday at the city hall.

The agenda probably will consist chiefly of several items which have been discussed previously but were tabled for further study, officials said.

Douglas Steps Out As A Possibility

CONVENTION HALL, Philadelphia, July 12. (AP)—Justice William O. Douglas stepped out of the vice presidential picture and Senator Alben Barkley came to the front today as the thirtieth Democratic national convention got under way.

Douglas, tapped as President Truman's first choice, declined to quit the Supreme Court and make the race. His decision was announced by John Redding, Democratic publicity chief. Redding said he regards the word from Douglas, which came through friends, as an "absolute refusal."

With delegates assembled for the convention's first session, word circulated that Barkley may get the administration's call on a ticket certain to be topped by President Truman.

Southern delegates who had been planning a fight against Douglas, if he chose to run, generally reacted favorably to reports that Barkley now might be the choice.

Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.) told a reporter he thinks most of the factions rebelling against Truman's civil rights program would go along on Barkley.

There was less enthusiasm among the southerners, however, about reports from some administration sources that the presidential favor might be turned toward Gov. William Preston Lane of Maryland.

Delegates generally agreed that President Truman can have whom-ever he wants for his running mate.

The question was whether southerners would fight over the second place as they have over the presidential nomination by advancing Gov. Ben Laney of Arkansas to oppose Truman.

W. H. Davis Dies After Accident

William H. Davis, 30, city water department employee, died in a hospital here Sunday evening of injuries sustained in a car mishap Saturday.

Davis was found unconscious beside U. S. 87 highway some 18 miles south of here Saturday evening. Marks indicated the jeep in which he was riding to the city's O'Barr water field had gone out of control, left the highway and veered sharply back into the road before rolling over several times.

The machine righted itself but Davis had been thrown out. He died at about 6 p. m. Sunday without ever having regained consciousness. Roy Hester, city water superintendent, said that Davis had experienced trouble with a pickup and had taken the jeep instead to go to the Glasscock county water fields to check on water pumps.

Body was taken to Nalley Funeral home and in turn to Comanche for arrangements.

Dr. W. R. Newton Leaves Prison

HUNTSVILLE, July 12. (AP)—Dr. W. R. Newton, Cameron, Tex., physician, left the state prison today at 7:08 a. m., after serving less than a year of a two-year sentence and paying society "a debt that I never owed."

The physician bought time with blood—six transfusions he gave to inmates reduced materially the time served on an assault to murder conviction.

Mrs. Newton arrived at the prison at 6 a. m., bringing her husband an outfit of civilian clothing. He walked into the warden's office at 7 a. m., and greeted his wife. The couple left the prison eight minutes later after the physician had donned a light tan suit. Mrs. Newton brought him. They immediately entered their automobile and drove away.

T&P Executive Is A Visitor Here

L. C. Porter, assistant to the president of the Texas & Pacific Railway company, was here on business Monday.

It was the first visit to Big Spring since his election to the position of vice-president in charge of operations was announced by W. G. Vollmer, president of the T&P. Mr. Porter is to take over his new duties Sept. 1 and thus will assume charge of operations of maintenance and operation of the entire system.

While here he made an inspection of property and conferred with several community leaders.

Anti-Truman Vote May Be Texas Plan

Resolution To Be Offered At New Caucus

PHILADELPHIA, July 12. (AP)—A resolution pledging Texas' 50 votes to "some Democrat" opposed to a Federal civil rights program but who will not bolt the party will be offered the delegation's second caucus late today.

This proposition apparently had the backing of Gov. Beauford H. Jester and other delegation leaders.

The resolution, if approved, would prevent the casting of Texas' votes for President Truman. It indicated further that the Texans have given up all hopes that the platform committee will bring out a civil rights plank satisfactory to all factions within the delegation.

Former Gov. Dan Moody, who worked until 4 a. m., with the platform-drafting committee, said: "The going is tough." That was all he would say on the question of civil rights and the Texans' wish for a plank backing state ownership of oil rich tidelands.

Texas Democrats flirted with the Southern rebels today, waiting to see what the platform committee will recommend on the touchy civil rights and tidelands issues.

All the signs pointed to no bolt, but a token vote for some Southerners with anti-Truman civil rights beliefs could keep Texas' 50 votes out of the Truman column. The delegation's first caucus yesterday brought sharp denunciations of the President from moderate and extreme right wing speakers.

The caucus voted to take no action of any kind until former Gov. Dan Moody, on the platform committee, could inform the delegation how he fared in his fight against a federal civil rights recommendation and for a plank advocating state ownership of the tidelands.

Moody told reporters the national party leadership's civil rights program in effect was a new reconstruction, attempting to conquer the South with laws rather than bayonets.

If the platform committee comes up with a civil rights plank even as moderate as that of 1944, and against state ownership of tidelands, chances were good the Texans would take another crack at Mr. Truman by casting their vote against him.

"We should have the guts to stay in the party longer than those who seek to run us out," State Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton told the caucus. "Let's don't tuck our tails between our legs and run, giving over to those who have boasted they will run the party the way they please. I don't intend to take a licking lying down."

Phillips was speaking for the middle-of-the-road forces led by Gov. Beauford H. Jester, delegate chairman, and Wright Morrow of Houston, national committee-man-elect. They argued making a stand for a fight as possible within the party framework.

Professor Quits Columbia Post, Hits Infiltration

NEW YORK, July 12. (AP)—A Columbia University faculty member has resigned, charging that the Polish government was attempting "academic infiltration" at the university.

Dr. Arthur Prudden Coleman said yesterday his decision resulted from the acceptance by Columbia of a grant from the Polish government, which he described as controlled by "Moscow and the Cominform."

To stay at his post, Coleman said, he would be "convincing at the sort of intellectual 'collaboration,' typified by the professors who stayed at their posts and drew salaries during Hitler's regime."

Coleman, who has been an assistant professor of Polish language and literature at the university since 1928, said the grant provides for the founding of an Adam Mickiewicz chair of Polish studies.

Absentee Ballot Total Reaches 48

Absentee voting will continue through Tuesday, July 20.

WAR HEROINE FROM PHILIPPINES ARRIVES FOR LEPROSY TREATMENT

CARVILLE, La., July 12. (AP)—Mrs. Joefino Guerrero, 30-year-old war heroine, arrived here from the Philippines yesterday to become the first foreigner admitted to the Carville National Leprosarium as a patient.

At first denied a visa to leave Manila because of a ban on the entry of lepers into the United States, the little Filipina finally was admitted after a special ruling from Attorney General Tom Clark.

Her room here was numbered 13 but she thought it would be lucky for her.

"I am going to get well now that I am here and can get treatment from sulfone drugs," she said.

The flower-filled room had a red, white and blue scarf, made by a

STEP TOWARD JERUSALEM

Arabs Offer To Surrender Er Ramleh To Jewish Forces

CAIRO, July 12. (AP)—The Israeli high command announced in Tel Aviv this morning that Arabs defending the strategic town of Er Ramleh have offered to surrender to encircling Jewish forces.

The spokesman said Arab and Jewish commanders have arranged a meeting outside the town to sign surrender terms.

The fall of Er Ramleh would open the way for a two-way Jewish assault on Arab Legion forces defending Latrun, now the last barrier to Jewish entry into Jerusalem.

Never in the 2,000 year-history of Holy Land wars has Latrun Hill fallen to direct assault.

A few hours earlier Israeli units seized Lydda. Jewish commanders reported large-scale Arab flights from the Lydda-Er Ramleh area.

The obvious immediate objective of the Jews was to burst the Latrun barrier and carry the battle to Jerusalem.

In the face of the Israeli advance the 4,000 Trans-Jordan legionnaires defending Latrun may be forced into a withdrawal to avoid being outflanked or into coming out on the plains for a show-down battle of armor, a Tel Aviv dispatch said.

Before the truce the legionnaires, massed behind the Trapist monastery, defeated repeated Israeli attempts to dislodge them. During that period the Jews won all the rest of the Tel Aviv-Jerusalem road but were unable to use Bab El Wad gorge which came under the Arab guns on Latrun.

On their way to Lydda, which was occupied last night, Israeli troops captured Lydda airport, the largest in Palestine, the village of Ben Shemen, and Israeli-held Beit Nabala. There were 35,000 Arabs in Lydda and Er Ramleh when the Israeli column drove into the area.

The Jewish thrust had the effect of blunting the nearest Arab wedge threatening Tel Aviv. At one time that wedge was only about eight miles east of the Israeli capital.

Group Will Ask Stronger Real Estate License

DALLAS, July 12. (AP)—Recommendations for a stronger state real estate license law are to be made to the Texas Real Estate Association in September by its legislative committee.

John Zeller of San Antonio was named at a meeting of the association's executive committee here yesterday to head the legislative committee.

Chester R. Seals, Wichita Falls, TREA president, appointed Zeller and announced plans for the legislative committee study.

Besides Seals and Zeller, other executive committeemen attending the meeting were L. A. Russell of Dallas; Hugo H. Loewenstern, Amarillo; M. A. Rowe, Houston; Ted Logan, San Angelo; John Stinson, Houston; E. P. Estes, Fort Worth, and Porter Oakes, association executive secretary, Wichita Falls.

Death Claims Early Day Star Of Films

HOLLYWOOD, July 12. (AP)—Death has taken another of Hollywood's old guard—King Baggett. Baggett, one of the top leading men of the early silent screen and a successful director, died yesterday in a sanitarium. He was 69.

In 1909, when he left a stock company to join the infant motion picture industry, until a year ago when illness forced his retirement, Baggett was active in the film world. In recent years his roles were confined to bit parts.

New Fight On Price Fixing?

A good neighbor, the Avalanche-Journal of Lubbock, has for some time been doing yeoman work in acquainting its readers with efforts being mobilized toward bringing about passage of a so-called "fair trades" act at the next session of the Texas Legislature.

It has polled four candidates in the race for State Senator from the 90th district (which includes Howard as well as Lubbock county) asking their attitudes on this proposed legislation.

The present senator, Sterling Parrish of Lubbock, was quick to assert his opposition to any such measure, in fact, has a record to indicate his opposition to it at the last session of the Legislature, when attempts at passage were made. The senator's published views are that he is for the people and against "pocket-picking" by the special interests.

A second candidate, Kilmer Corbin of Dawson county, also voiced his opposition, with the remark, "I feel that being against the Fair Trades act is like being against sin." Corbin also characterized the proposal as "a vicious thing which would affect the economic welfare of every person" in the district.

The Avalanche-Journal announced it had received no replies from either Dudley Brummett or Ralph Brock, both of Lubbock, to its queries as to their position on the bill.

The position taken by the newspaper and two of the candidates: that the act is a scheme on the part of Northern and Eastern manufacturers and jobbers, and a few others who dislike vigorous competition, to increase prices by law.

Prices on scores of essential articles of household use would be "fixed" so that a flat rate would have to be charged for these items, regardless of any circumstances. This amounts to governmental control of business, and, in practical fact, would serve to increase the cost of living for every family. The increased cost in Texas has been variously estimated from 30 to 100 million dollars a year.

A strong fight was made by some groups to get enactment at the last Legislature, and the battle likely will be joined next year. It is within the realm of the democratic scheme of things as West Texas understands it, to determine how prospective legislators would stand on such an issue.

Intrusion Into Local Rights

Objection to Washington hording in on the business of the states, violating what we call "states' rights" is one in which this newspaper has taken part and probably will again. Not with too much hope of causing a change in governmental trends and policies, but in the exercise of the great American privilege of kicking.

There is a replica, on a smaller scale, right here in Texas, or maybe more than one. Certainly there is one in the matter of the legislature fixing the salaries of county officers. The State does not pay these salaries, but the legislature sets them at figures that, in many cases, run the counties, or some of them, into debt, unless taxes are increased or obligations issued to meet the deficit.

The people voted willingly and in rather large numbers to discontinue the old method of payment by fees collected by various officers, believing that a set salary would be more business-like and would prevent the abuses that were sometimes practiced under the fee method. It would have been, and still might be, if counties were allowed to each set its salary schedule for its officials. If that were done, each county could pay its servants according to the ability of the county to pay, raising or lowering salaries from time to time as the condition of the county treasury justified or demanded.

The fixing of salaries for '94 counties by the legislature is a direct violation of local self-government. If the State paid the salaries, it would be entirely proper for the legislature to say what they should be. In fact, it would be a duty, for the legislature is charged with expenditure of state money. Deficits for a county are not good business, and some at least might be avoided by letting the county manage its own finances.

FRED ALLEN IS INTRODUCTION MASTER DELUXE

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK — Fred Allen, in an era of standardized introductions is a master of the unique and impudent. None of the usual superlatives arise to beleaguer Fred after he has introduced anyone on his radio show. And now that he's escaped from the tentacles of Mr. Hooper for the summer, let's take a look at the things he's had to say about Al Goodman's orchestra during the past season on the wireless.

Each week Fred introduced Al Goodman and his orchestras as "the 26 men who..."

"...are the reasons this is not an all-musical program."

"...think the Monroe Doctrine was written by Vaughn Monroe."

"...were not invited to Toscanini's 80th birthday party."

"...will soon be seen at Lewishohn Stadium—trying to sneak in to see Toscanini."

"...were not seen in the movie, 'Carnegie Hall.'"

"...are appearing through the courtesy of Jamaica Racetrack."

"...are just killing time until Belmont Park opens."

"...were honorary pallbearers at Seabiscuit's funeral."

This makes much laughter among orchestra members as well as studio and radio audiences, for the fellows don't know week to week what Fred's newest jibe will be. They love it and look forward to the fun, but in reality they are among the finest musicians in radio.

The same orchestra, in its entirety, plays for the Sunday afternoon family hour, a program long celebrated for its fine music. And the musicians in the Goodman brigade include, for instance, C. Dudley King, an arranger, graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music; first violinist Oscar Shumansky, who, at 29, already has played two seasons under Toscanini's baton; Cellist Jacob Bernstein, who was invited to come to the United States by Toscanini himself after the latter had heard his virtuoso scapring with the Palestine Symphony Orchestra. Pianist Milton Lettenberg, along with his pianistic, is editor-in-chief of Broadcast Music, Inc., and has his own program, Keeper of the Keys, on a New York station. Saxophonists Ernest White and Charles Dale are graduates of some of the finest "name" dance orchestras. First trumpeter Andy Ferretti played with Tommy Dorsey and is the envy of most other network brass masters. Emmanuel Weinstock played with Freddie Martin. All the boys have histories comparable to the best in the trade.

PHILADELPHIA — No matter who else may be for him, there is no doubt about the fact that Harry S. Truman is the favorite Democratic candidate—of the Republican Party. G.O.P. leaders are keeping their fingers crossed, hoping, praying that this convention will not fall to nominate the man.

Reasons behind their prayers are manifold and some quite obvious. One which is not so obvious is the fact that the Republicans have been saving up some of their juiciest scandals on the Truman administration to be publicized this summer—after the Philadelphia convention. They don't want to break the scandals too soon; first, for fear Truman won't be nominated; second, because public memory is short.

One scandal is the contributions given to the Kansas City primary which elected Mr. Truman's hand-picked congressional candidate, Enos Axtell, in 1946. It so happens that big-talking General Harry Vaughan, the White House military aide, collected some cash from certain people in this campaign, which should make sensational reading. Only a small part of this Kansas City scandal has ever been told.

TRUMAN'S FRIENDS

Another juicy connection which the Republicans intend to expose this summer and election is the association between the White House gang and a partner of Frankie Costello, biggest king-pin gambler of the nation.

The New York State Liquor Authority has now made public officially the long-suspected fact that William Hells, the New Orleans race-horse owner, is associated with Frankie Costello and ex-convict "Dandy" Phil Castell as owners of the William Whitley Distilling Company in Scotland. Both were pals of Lucky Luciano and the undisputed lords of the New York underworld.

This is the same William Hells whose room at the Hotel Statler Mr. Truman occupied after the Ahepa dinner at which the President spoke and Hells presided. Outside Hells' hotel room on this occasion stood John Maragon, an ex-bootlegger, acting as a guard in keeping other dinner guests out of the room while Mr. Truman and Mr. Hells chinned inside.

BEWARE GREEKS

BEARING GIFTS

Hells and Maragon, are, in turn, intimate pals of General Vaughan. Maragon has kept the White House supplied with whiskey, has frequently been seen driving in General Vaughan's special White House automobile, has had the run of the White House himself, and at one time was allotted a special official parking space just outside the White House.

Both Maragon and Hells are Greek by birth and their influence around the White House has led Republicans to wonder how much this close association had to do with selling the President on the Truman Doctrine for spending half a billion dollars in Greece. That is another thing the Republicans want to dig into.

Note—One thing they might also probe is the way General Vaughan and Maragon palmed around New York with young Athanasios Tsaldaris, son of the then premier of Greece. Young Tsaldaris, though of military age, was not up in the mountains with General Markos fighting communists, but enjoying the night clubs of New York with Truman's aides. It is also significant that Premier Tsaldaris awarded Greek decorations to General Vaughan and to General Wallace Graham, the President's grain-speculating physician.

MIXING BOOKS AND GOOD WILL

Probably the Republicans haven't got wind of it yet, but sooner or later they may also smell out some highly interesting commercial aspects about the President's recent trip to Bolivar, Mo. It illustrates how Mr. Truman unwittingly jumps into things which look perfectly innocent on the surface but which sometimes have international repercussions.

Probably he didn't know, when he agreed to go out to Bolivar, Mo., to dedicate a bust of the famous South American hero, that the scheme was cooked up by a publishing house, originally to promote the sale of pamphlets about Bolivar and Latin American countries.

Again it was General Vaughan, the smiling, irrepressible military aide, who sold the President on a venture which isn't going to help our relations with Latin America. It happens that General Vaughan is a great friend of pamphlets on Latin America. Crane was looking for a way to promote the sale of his pamphlets, and approached Vaughan on the idea of setting up "The Simon Bolivar Memorial Foundation." Truman also was approached, and among other things was told that this important ceremony held in the town of Bolivar, Mo., (population 3,500) would help the chance of carrying his home state.

At any rate the Simon Bolivar Foundation was set up with Harry S. Truman as chairman and "co-founder" and John M. C. Crane also as "co-founder." With Harry Truman's name at the top it was easy to get South American ambassadors to serve, and also easy to get the president of Venezuela to come to the United States on the special Truman airplane "Independence." President Romulo Gallegos is one of the true leaders of Latin America, a former author, and a crusader for Latin American democracy. Naturally he had no idea, when he accepted the invitation, that he was playing into the hands of book promoters.

However, on the special train which bore the two presidents out to Missouri was also Don Farran, publishing partner of Dr. Crane, and E. F. Gillian, his business manager. Also on the letterhead of the Simon Bolivar Memorial Foundation is listed another of Crane's publishing partners, Robert Fowler. Incidentally, the Bolivar Foundation and Crane's publishing firm share the same offices and seem to be run by the same men.

Dr. Crane, on the train to Missouri, told newsmen that he expected the Bolivar ceremony to give a big boost to the sale of his pamphlets, and that he got a royalty of a half-cent on every six-cent pamphlet sold. He also estimated that he would sell 2,000,000 copies this year.

Crane is also working on a plan to sell literature on another Latin American hero, San Martin, and is promoting the sale of 250,000 copies of his San Martin pamphlet to Argentina which in turn would have them distributed in the United States.

Movie Manners Are Going From Bad To Worse In U.S.

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Are you a theater jester?

Of course, you know what a theater jester is. That's a combination jerk and pest who makes life miserable for the average patrons who want to see a movie in peace and quiet. Movie manners have become so bad in recent years that many customers are going to picture less often because they can't stand these pesky jesters.

I consulted a friend of mine, a tall, handsome Navy veteran who is now manager of a local first-run film house. I found him a broken man.

"I was once a happy, carefree boy," he sighed, dripping with a tear on his tuxedo front. "Then I became a theater manager."

Jesters are the cause of his woe. With a crazed glint in his eye, he told me about the scourge. I have classified his complaints and added a few of my own in the following jersts:

1. Corn chomper. This character tries to see how many decibels he can get out of a bag of popcorn.

2. Knee nudgers. He likes to shimmy up the back of your seat with his knees.

3. The commentator. This bush-league know-it-all has to comment on the entire picture.

GOP Plans To Expose Harry Truman's Association With Gambler's Partner

By DREW PEARSON

(ED. NOTE—Drew Pearson today continues his series of columns on personalities holding the stage at the Democratic National Convention.)

Both were pals of Lucky Luciano and the undisputed lords of the New York underworld.

This is the same William Hells whose room at the Hotel Statler Mr. Truman occupied after the Ahepa dinner at which the President spoke and Hells presided. Outside Hells' hotel room on this occasion stood John Maragon, an ex-bootlegger, acting as a guard in keeping other dinner guests out of the room while Mr. Truman and Mr. Hells chinned inside.

BEWARE GREEKS

BEARING GIFTS

Hells and Maragon, are, in turn, intimate pals of General Vaughan. Maragon has kept the White House supplied with whiskey, has frequently been seen driving in General Vaughan's special White House automobile, has had the run of the White House himself, and at one time was allotted a special official parking space just outside the White House.

Both Maragon and Hells are Greek by birth and their influence around the White House has led Republicans to wonder how much this close association had to do with selling the President on the Truman Doctrine for spending half a billion dollars in Greece. That is another thing the Republicans want to dig into.

Note—One thing they might also probe is the way General Vaughan and Maragon palmed around New York with young Athanasios Tsaldaris, son of the then premier of Greece. Young Tsaldaris, though of military age, was not up in the mountains with General Markos fighting communists, but enjoying the night clubs of New York with Truman's aides. It is also significant that Premier Tsaldaris awarded Greek decorations to General Vaughan and to General Wallace Graham, the President's grain-speculating physician.

MIXING BOOKS AND GOOD WILL

Probably the Republicans haven't got wind of it yet, but sooner or later they may also smell out some highly interesting commercial aspects about the President's recent trip to Bolivar, Mo. It illustrates how Mr. Truman unwittingly jumps into things which look perfectly innocent on the surface but which sometimes have international repercussions.

Probably he didn't know, when he agreed to go out to Bolivar, Mo., to dedicate a bust of the famous South American hero, that the scheme was cooked up by a publishing house, originally to promote the sale of pamphlets about Bolivar and Latin American countries.

Again it was General Vaughan, the smiling, irrepressible military aide, who sold the President on a venture which isn't going to help our relations with Latin America. It happens that General Vaughan is a great friend of pamphlets on Latin America. Crane was looking for a way to promote the sale of his pamphlets, and approached Vaughan on the idea of setting up "The Simon Bolivar Memorial Foundation." Truman also was approached, and among other things was told that this important ceremony held in the town of Bolivar, Mo., (population 3,500) would help the chance of carrying his home state.

At any rate the Simon Bolivar Foundation was set up with Harry S. Truman as chairman and "co-founder" and John M. C. Crane also as "co-founder." With Harry Truman's name at the top it was easy to get South American ambassadors to serve, and also easy to get the president of Venezuela to come to the United States on the special Truman airplane "Independence." President Romulo Gallegos is one of the true leaders of Latin America, a former author, and a crusader for Latin American democracy. Naturally he had no idea, when he accepted the invitation, that he was playing into the hands of book promoters.

However, on the special train which bore the two presidents out to Missouri was also Don Farran, publishing partner of Dr. Crane, and E. F. Gillian, his business manager. Also on the letterhead of the Simon Bolivar Memorial Foundation is listed another of Crane's publishing partners, Robert Fowler. Incidentally, the Bolivar Foundation and Crane's publishing firm share the same offices and seem to be run by the same men.

Dr. Crane, on the train to Missouri, told newsmen that he expected the Bolivar ceremony to give a big boost to the sale of his pamphlets, and that he got a royalty of a half-cent on every six-cent pamphlet sold. He also estimated that he would sell 2,000,000 copies this year.

Crane is also working on a plan to sell literature on another Latin American hero, San Martin, and is promoting the sale of 250,000 copies of his San Martin pamphlet to Argentina which in turn would have them distributed in the United States.

Notebook—

MASTERPIECE FOR STAGE IN A COLUMN

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, July 12. (AP)—Strange people with long hair keep sidling up to me at literary teas and whispering:

"Young man, why don't you quit chasing fire engines and write a play? There's fame and fortune in it. Look at Tennessee Williams. Surely you have a play in you."

This makes me mad. Because I did have a play in me—but it's been outside me now for some years "I wrote it when I—Hal (Mo.) Boyle—was in college with Tennessee (Thomas Lanier) Williams. While I was earnestly studying the history of early Roman hand instruments and other cultural subjects, Tennessee wasted his prime in literary doodling.

But the drama critics have been turning cartwheels over his "The Glass Menagerie" and "A Streetcar Named Desire." Perhaps now, in fairness to the theater, I should at long last publish my play. Well, you didn't ask for it, but here it is:

(The curtain rises and discloses a luxurious anteroom in a hospital so plush that even death can't get in without showing a calling card. A venerable, white-haired lady and a high-priced medical specialist stand before a door. Beyond the door, but unseen by the audience, the lady's husband—a poor old multi-millionaire—is dying in comfort.)

Doctor (somberly)—"He's still conscious, but he can't last another half hour."

Lady—"Can you guarantee it?"

Doctor (surprised)—"Beg pardon?"

Lady—"I want to tell him something—but only if he's about to go to Heaven."

Doctor (cautiously)—"Well, he's about to go somewhere."

Lady—"I must confide in you, doctor. You see, my husband is one of those men who pride themselves they are always right. And he has been right so often. He never made a mistake in his business career. He was buying automobile stock when other people were still defending the horse. He has made millions."

Doctor (rubbing his hands)—"How thoughtful."

Lady—"Yes, but his life has been miserable. His proud nature couldn't stand to be wrong—even once. And in one instance, he still isn't sure he was right."

Doctor (puzzled)—"Yes?"

Lady—"After our marriage he told me, 'I know you've had a lover before me.'"

Doctor (politely)—"Hmmm, strange."

Lady—"Of course I denied it. He tried in every way to get me to admit he was right. I refused. Year after year he came back to the subject. He couldn't stand to be wrong. I always told him he was—on that point, I think that helped hold our marriage together. He never gave up. Wasn't it terrible on him?"

Doctor—"Hmmm hmm."

Lady—"Last night was our fiftieth anniversary. We had a nice party. But after our five children and 12 grandchildren left, he asked me that same question again. I said, 'No.' That's when he lost his temper—and had the stroke."

Doctor—"Well, he hasn't more than 15 minutes left in this world."

Lady—"Then open the door."

Doctor—"You want to say goodbye?"

Lady—"No, I just want to tell the expiring old fool the truth at last so he can die happy. But I still wouldn't do it if I thought he was going to be around to brag he was right about that, too!"

As she goes through the door, the curtain falls—quick.

Okay, Broadway—it's yours. don't think I want it anymore.

The Nation Today—

Radio Is Spreading

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Radio is spreading so widely it's reaching out to cover people from the cradle to the grave.

A diaper service in the Southwest wants a license for a two-way radio-exchange between their office and its trucks.

And a cemetery near Chicago is so busy it wants an okay to use radio in directing traffic.

Those two extreme cases show pretty well how radio has blossomed to cover all kinds of living and activity.

This will give an idea of the spread:

In the war years 912 regular commercial radio broadcasting stations were operating in this country.

The more familiar, standard AM-amplitude modulation—radio stations.

And during the war there were only 48 FM—frequency modulation—stations running.

The war froze all kinds of new radio building. But the boom got under way when the shooting stopped.

Now there are about 2,000 regular AM stations. The FCC has applications to let 600 more set up shop.

And the FCC has okayed 1,000 FM stations, of which 600 now are in operation.

Also—30 commercial television stations are doing business. FCC has told another 70 they can operate.

Round The Rim—By The Herald Staff

America Loves Its Magazines

Don't let anyone kid you, the adults go for the comic books as enthusiastically as the youngsters, operators of local news stands say. And, judging from the persons who seek them out, readers from all walks of life pour over them.

Some magazine vendors keep as many as 30 different kinds of comic books on hand. Some naturally are more popular than others but there is a reliable market for all of them.

Collectively, the gaudily colored pamphlets help keep the news stand in business and, from all indications, are increasing in popularity.

Outside of the comic books, the weekly slick magazines and the pocket-size fiction books have the best market. The cartoons that can be found in most of the weekly magazines no doubt accelerate their sales. Americans obviously don't believe in being miserly with their sense of humor.

Behind the weekly periodicals, the movie books have the most appeal with the public. A great many of the purchasers of those journals probably find pleasant retreat in reading of the fabled lives of their cinema heroes. More than a few base their likes and dislikes, however, on the picture reviews included therein.

The demand for detective stories, both fiction and the so called true reconstructions of the episodes in crime and punishment, have a tremendous appeal with the reading public.

Pulp magazines still enjoy an astonishing sale. Stories of the old west, the raw north, romance, the rail road, sea sagas—all have a fatal lure for the short story reader.

Magazines which feature camera work exclusively are always snapped up by the public. News magazines, which heretofore appealed to a certain clientele, are gaining more and more popularity.

The number of magazines published in the United States can be numbered in the tens of thousands. One local vendor estimates he handles up to a thousand different periodicals during the course of a year, yet cannot satisfy the needs of many of his customers seeking a magazine not available in these parts.

Newspapers have a greater ready appeal than ever before, local vendors insist. One stand handles as many as 11 different daily papers and disposes of the most of them. The same shop also channels six other Sunday papers to the public. — TOMMY HART

Today And Tomorrow—

Democrats To Be Opposition Party

By WALTER LIPPMANN

At no time has there been any one, except General Eisenhower, on whom the Democrats could have united in place of Mr. Truman. That was in part, but not only, because with Eisenhower they would have had so good a chance of winning. It was also because Eisenhower was the only man with whom the main factions, the Southerners, the New Dealers, and the big city bosses, really wanted to win. He was uncommitted on all of the issues that divide them. His views were known only on the broad general purposes, such as peace without appeasement, national defense without militarism or war, which unite them. They could all have been for Eisenhower in the happy hope, almost certainly the illusion, that on the disagreeable issues about which they disagree he would be with them, or at least not strongly against them.

There was no one else available who looked like a probable winner; even more significantly there was no one else with whom they all wanted to win. Mr. Justice Douglas would have been popular with the New Dealers but, because he has even more thorough-going advanced convictions on Negro rights and on social questions than Mr. Truman, not with the Southerners. To have united on him would not have meant victory in the election. But it would have meant the recapture of the Democratic national party organization by the New Dealers. Senator Byrd, or some one of his school, would have brought absolute and complete defeat in the North, and at the same time a violent disruption of the party.

All this suggests, it seems to me, that the Democratic party cannot now be reunited except as an opposition party. Out of office, relieved of the responsibility of having a President and an administration which has to act on the many issues about which they disagree, the Democrats can once again become reunited. The heat and urgency will go out of their disputes when they do not have to decide them at the White House, when they can deal with issues locally, and need only talk about them as members of a minority in Congress.

Though Mr. Truman will not, of course, allow himself to believe it, and though none of the practical politicians can under the rules of the game admit it, the main purpose of the Democrats this year is to prepare themselves to become the effective opposition.

OSCAR HAMMERSTEIN, II, born July 12, 1895, is the third generation of a fabulous Broadway family. He has written books and lyrics for such shows as "Oklahoma!" and "Show Boat" which, he insists, are musical plays, not comedies or operettas. His father and uncle were stage managers and producers. His grandfather, Oscar I, ran the old Manhattan Opera House. Oscar II, trained as a lawyer but turned to the theater after a year in law,

BUTANE APPLIANCES

It's Not Too Early To Study Heating

It may be 110 degrees in the shade at the present but now is the time to be thinking about completing arrangements for heating your home or office during the cold months that lie ahead, according to S. M. Smith, owner of the butane company bearing his name. Smith's store on the Lamesa highway is equipped with a complete line of appliances, including cook stoves, heaters and hot water heaters as well as deep freeze units. All but the latter appliance works on the butane system.

Butane systems, ranging in size from 250 to 1000 gallons can be installed by Smith's crews upon order. Subscribers in increasing numbers favor the larger size of tanks.

Butane gas works much the same way as natural gas and is as easy to handle. It has become especially popular in rural areas.

Estate, Florence and Tappan cook stoves are among the makes handled by the S. M. Smith company. Mission hot water heaters, ranging in size from 20 to 30 gallons, can also be purchased through the concern.

All types of servicing on butane systems is accomplished by the personnel on duty at the Smith concern.

More and more drilling rigs in this area are being equipped with butane units. Trucks can use the gas at a saving, too, if equipped with a special type of carburetor.

A new 12,000 gallon storage tank has been installed on the new Snyder highway to facilitate handling of the commodity in that part of the county.

Customers of U. S. gas utility companies totalled 21,500,000 at the end of 1947.

H. M. Rowe New Distributor For Packards Here

After a six-months lapse, Packard automobiles are coming back to Big Spring, and a new distributor for this territory already has been designated.

He is H. M. Rowe, veteran automobile repair expert who has operated his own garage here for the past nine years.

Rowe said he expects to receive his first new Packard early this week and he expects to be placed on the company's regular quota list immediately.

When his first automobile arrives it will be the first new Packard to reach a Big Spring dealer in approximately eight months.

Immediately upon learning of his appointment as Packard dealer, Rowe began making plans to move his business to a location where display space will be available. He expects to make a definite announcement concerning a new site within the next few days. Ultimately he hopes to erect a new building of his own.

Although he has been closely associated with the automobile business for more than a quarter of a century, the Packard appointment represents the first dealership for Rowe. He started as a mechanic in 1920, and after holding responsible positions for several firms, he opened his own repair garage here nine years ago. His establishment has gained an enviable reputation for service and workmanship.

His appointment as Packard dealer was announced only after thorough deliberation by the company which involved consideration of several applicants.

Rowe emphasized that he would continue maintenance of his first-class repair service, which will be operated henceforth in connection with the dealership.

Until plans are completed for a change in location, Rowe will continue at his present site, which is located at 214 East Second.

Newlyweds To Get Stove From Smith

Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Neel, recently married on the Bride and Groom radio program in Hollywood, will be delivered a cook stove by the S. M. Smith Butane company. The concern is being shipped the stove by the manufacturer on order from the company which sponsors the radio program.

Coldest Spot For Cold Watermelons

The coldest spot in town is the Big Spring Locker plant and that's just where you will find the coldest watermelons — and probably the best as well as among the most economical. Right now ice cold melons go at four cents a pound. Anytime the market is adjusted, the saving will be passed on to the customer.

Broncs Protect League Lead By Squeezing Past Sports

Ladies Night At Steer Park

Fans of the fairer sex will be honored again tonight at Steer park when the Big Spring Broncs and Sweetwater Sports tangle in the final match of their three-game series.

As in previous "ladies night" observances, women will be admitted at the gate free, except for tax which must be paid by all onlookers.

Either Jimmy Perez or Gerry Rodriguez probably will pitch for the home team nine as the locals attempt to sweep the series with the Sports.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

The Big Spring baseball Broncs may have to struggle along with their present lineup for at least one week, maybe longer.

Fortunately, little Humberto Baez — who wants to get back to pitching — is filling the bill fairly well as the right fielder.

Wee Bertie had to take over that spot when Joe Arenibia, who had succeeded the injured Pat Stasey, hur himself sliding into third base in a game here with Verpon more than a week ago.

Baez looked more than a little shaky going after a fly ball hit by Mel Weibel in the ninth inning of Sunday's game, what with his game leg and all, but one doesn't learn to patrol the garden in one afternoon.

Stasey expects to be back to the Big Spring lineup in about a week. His return will depend, however, on the continued improvement of his leg.

Arenibia will be out at least two weeks. He tried a head-first slide against the Dusters and injured his arm. It was feared at first that he had fractured it.

LOU BAKER COMES BACK TO SEE-BRONCS

Lou Baker, the fellow who probably had more to do with the return of Organized baseball here than anyone else, has been in town the past two days watching his Broncs play. He had intended to return to his home in Clyde Sunday morning but says he got the baseball fever after watching the Broncs.

Lou is growing cantaloupes, water melons, etc., on a farm near the "California of Texas." He moved down there with the expressed intention of taking it easy but says he has worked harder since that time than he ever did before in his life.

ODESSANS TO GIVE LONGHORN LEAGUE PARTY

The Odessa baseball club, the radio stations and the news organ up that way, the AMERICAN, will host all visiting newsmen, radio men, club owners and managers at a dinner at the Odessa country club at 5 p. m. the day of the All-Star game, Thursday, July 26.

Gene Gregston, the Odessa scribe who forwarded the invite to this department, asks that we get the Broncs off the backs of the Odessa baseball club. Needless to relate, the refusal of the Cayuses to yield the top spot is all that is keeping the Oilers from making a runaway of the race.

Merle Coleman has turned a lackadaisical outfit into a thundering herd that respects no one's ability and certainly plays its best against the pace setters. It's going to be a mad race from here on down to the wire.

RONALD HARRISON ON LONE STAR ALL-STARS

Ronald Harrison, who performed in the Ballinger outfield last season, has been named to the Lone Star league all-star team that will play the Kilgore Drillers at Kilgore tonight.

Ron is with Tyler. Klegg Miller, one-time Lubbock manager, is also a member of the club.

SATCHEL PAIGE WAS ONCE A RED CAP

LeRoy (Satchel) Paige, the Negro hurler who recently signed with the Cleveland Indians, was once a Red Cap. He acquired his nickname not because he has big feet necessarily, but rather due to the fact that he could tote so many bags. He bragged that he picked up 18 at one time.

AT SPORTATORIUM

Murdock To Test Popular Detton

Maybe Promoter Pat O'Dowdy and Dory Detton have been arguing over politics. Or again, it could be that Detton asks for the toughest assignments when he works here. At any rate, he's taken on nothing but the "big ones" in his wrestling appearances at the Big Spring Athletic club.

Tonight will be no exception. The Amarillo ace goes out against Frankie Hill Murdock of Fort Worth in the feature attraction.

Murdock doesn't boast a dazzling winning streak. Neither is he the meanest man ever to appear in the Sportatorium. Still and all, for downright ring cussedness, he can't be beat.

He'll have the advantage of 10 or 15 pounds weight over Dory and if the match goes any length of time, that will mean a lot. His famed Python hold could put Detton in cold storage in a hurry, too.

JACK CARTER ... in prelim

The 8:30 o'clock opener finds George Lopez of Tampico, Mexico, meeting Jack Carter, the Auckland, New Zealand, swiftie.

This will be Carter's first call at the BSAC in a long while. The red-head was a popular attraction here last fall. He relies on ring science and his speed to outfox the opposition.

Lopez has been showing vast improvement and has been knocking over some of the very talented tilters.

Just to see, that every thing comes off smoothly, George Curtis, the Tennessee grappler, will serve as third man in the ring.

Local Golfers Trip Lamesa

Big Spring golfers trimmed a Lamesa contingent, 23-18, in a series of team matches played at the country club here Sunday. The Lamesa squad was composed of 24 linksmen.

The Big Spring team will invade Lamesa for a return test Sunday, July 25.

Tax on betting through the totalisator (pari-mutuels) at Britain's greyhound racing tracks brought the government 2,041,515 pounds ($2,186,080) during the first three months of this year, the treasury announced.

Rally in 9th Turns Tide

The Big Spring baseball Broncs pulled another one from the fire here Sunday afternoon, coming from behind in the ninth inning to nose out the Sweetwater Sports, 4-3, in a dramatic game played before 1056 paying customers.

All appeared lost when the visitors rallied for two big tallies in their part of the last inning and took a 3-2 lead.

However, a single by Jake McClain and successive doubles by Bobby Fernandez and Justo Aspiazu, coming before a tiring Frank Akers could retire a man, altered the picture and enabled the locals to protect their 2 1/2 game lead in the standings.

McClain led off with a drive that fairly blew short stop Kenny Peacock down, then boldly stole second on a pitch-out. Jake slid into the bag and knocked the ball from Kenny's hands.

Ken Raffensberger pitched the Cincinnati Reds to a 1-0 one-hit triumph over the third place Cardinals in St. Louis. Marty Marion's fourth-inning single spoiled the lefty's bid for a no-hitter. It was the second time this year that Raffensberger has pitched a one-hitter against St. Louis. He held the Cards to one safety on May 31.

Jack Conway's first major league homer enabled the Giants to shade the Brooklyn Dodgers, 3-2, at New York. Conway homered in the ninth to snap a 2-2 tie. Four batters by George Shuba and Carl Furillo accounted for both Brooklyn runs.

The Cleveland Indians retained their half game lead over the Philadelphia Athletics in the American League race by dividing a doubleheader with the St. Louis Browns while the A's split a pair with the Boston Red Sox in Philadelphia.

After the Browns beat Bobby Feller, 3-2, in the opener on round-trippers by Rookie Dick Kokos and Les Moss, Bob Lemon pitched the Tribe to a 5-0 three-hit triumph in the nightcap.

The Athletics also lost their first game, 9-5, in ten innings but they bounced back and took the finale from Boston, 7-5. The second game was called in the eighth inning because of the Sunday curfew law.

At Detroit, Hal Newhouser joined Lemon as the majors' only 13-game winners by hurling the Tigers to a 4-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

The Washington Senators, scoring four times in the seventh and eighth innings, routed the New York Yankees, 9-4, at Wash., ton.

CLEANINGS—The contest was delayed for several minutes in the first inning when Jake McClain repaired an injured finger.

Akers received credit for three assists in the first two innings. Perez laid down a sacrifice bunt in the third inning and it went for a hit.

Catcher Mac Dunlap anticipated it would roll foul but it stopped dead on the foul line. Ace Mendez, who was hurt slightly in the ninth inning when he rammed into the fence chasing Steger's double, made a great running catch of Kenny Peacock's long fly into center in the fourth. Baez looked at three called strikes in the fourth, as did Perez in the fifth. Aspiazu made a sensational catch of Or-lille Bosch's throw to retire Peacock in the sixth. Akers had to field Fernandez's bat after striking out Bobby in the sixth, the Broncs batter losing control.

Failures Spot Olympic Trials

EVANSTON, Ill., July 12.—The 50 track and field athletes selected over the week end represent one of the strongest squads in U. S. History for the Olympic Games. But the story of those who failed is as big as that of those who won.

For the first time since America has been sending its stars to the Olympics, three of the country's greatest will not compete in their specialties when the big show starts July 29 in London.

They are fellows whose reputations have made them among the most familiar names in the nation's sports picture — Chuck Fowlie, who failed to qualify in the shot put; Gil Dodds, who is injured, and Harrison Dillard.

Four Southwest Conference athletes made the Olympic team. They were: Jerry Thompson, Texas, 5,000 meter race; Clyde Scott, Arkansas, 110 meter hurdles; Verne McGraw, Rice, high jump, and Arthur Haraden, A & M., 1600 meter relay.

Braves' Dark Nears Rookie Hitting Mark

By RALPH RODEN

The Boston Braves gave Alvin Dark $40,000 to sign with their organization in 1946 and the rookie shortstop is paying back the outlay with interest.

Dark is the talk of the National League at the moment, having hit safely in 23 consecutive games. This streak, three games short of the rookie record set by Guy Curtwright of the Chicago White Sox in 1943, has enabled the Braves' shortstop to move into fourth place in the circuit's individual batting race. Dark is whacking the ball at a 333 pace for the league-leading Braves.

Dark is teaming up with Connie Ryan around the keystone.

Dark and Ryan collected five of the Braves' 14 hits yesterday in Boston's 9-4 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies at Boston.

The triumph increased the Braves' lead to 5 1/2 games over the runner-up Pittsburgh Pirates who were beaten, 1-0, by the Cubs in Chicago.

Ken Raffensberger pitched the Cincinnati Reds to a 1-0 one-hit triumph over the third place Cardinals in St. Louis. Marty Marion's fourth-inning single spoiled the lefty's bid for a no-hitter. It was the second time this year that Raffensberger has pitched a one-hitter against St. Louis. He held the Cards to one safety on May 31.

Texas League Battles Split

By The Associated Press

There are two distinctive brackets in the Texas League race. One of them is a dog-fight for first place between Fort Worth, Houston and Tulsa. The other five clubs are scrambling for the last rung in the first division.

Tulsa's Oilers pulled within a game of second place last night but couldn't gain on the hard-driving Fort Worth Cats, who took advantage of runner-up Houston's inability to increase their margin to a game and a half.

Tulsa is eight and one-half games ahead of fourth-place San Antonio.

Fort Worth whipped Oklahoma City twice, taking the first 2-0 on Carl Erskine's five-hit hurling and capturing the after-piece 3-2 as Eddie Chandler and Chris Van Cuyk teamed up to give the Indians only six blows.

Tulsa wammed Dallas in a twin bill, romping on the Rebels 9-1 in the opener and shutting them out 7-0 in the finale. Beaumont licked San Antonio 10-7 in the other game. Houston and Shreveport were idled by wet grounds.

Tonight the clubs wind up their current series. Dallas will be at Tulsa, Oklahoma City at Fort Worth, Beaumont at San Antonio and Houston at Shreveport for a twilight double-header.

Brown Sets Strikeout Mark

COAHOMA (Sp)—Bill Brown set a new Tri-County league record for strikeouts when he pitched the Coahoma Bulldogs to a 7-5 victory over HCJC here Sunday. Brown fanned 20.

Billy Mims hit a home run for Coahoma.

THREE HOMERS HELP

Forsan Rings Up Fourth Win By Edging Wolves

FORSAN, July 12.—Three home runs helped the Forsan Oilers to a 10-6 victory over the Colorado City Wolves in a Tri-County baseball league game here Sunday afternoon.

Lefly McCabe greeted Hart, enemy flinger, with a home run in the first inning to give the Oilers a lead. Bobby Asbury clouted one with two on in the third. Lewis Huevel drove out one with the sacks deserted in the seventh.

The Oilers collected 15 assorted safeties, including three by Winfred Cunningham.

The win was Forsan's fourth straight in second half play and strengthened the club's hopes for the title.

Cosden Beaten In Double Bill Saturday Nite

Bluebonnet of Lubbock maintained its lead in the Texas Softball league during weekend games, although only three games separated the first place and seventh place contingents.

Nathan's of San Angelo and Cosden's Big Spring-Forsan nine were off the pace. The Cosden aggregation dropped two and a half games behind the eight place Nathan team when Stamford captured both ends of a double-header Saturday night.

Both victories were shutouts, with Stamford winning the first by 3-0 and the second by 5-0.

In other games Saturday night, Nathan's dropped the opener to Ragsdale by 1-0, but came back to win the afterpiece by 2-1; Crane and Monahan split a twin bill, with Crane winning the first 1-0 but dropping the second 4-2; Bluebonnet trimmed Baldrige twice, 5-4 and 2-1.

Cosden will play four games this week. They plan to entertain Monahan on the Forsan diamond Wednesday night to make up a postponed engagement, and then travel to San Angelo Saturday night to tangle with Nathan's. Other Saturday night games will find Baldrige at Crane, Monahan at Bluebonnet and Stamford to Odessa. All Saturday night engagements are doubleheaders.

Howard Heads Handle Maze Of Business

County commissioners Monday waded through a maze of routine business matters as they tackled the regular monthly meeting.

By agreement, it was voted to attend to emergency situations with the county's shovel before moving it to precinct No. 1 where it will then remain for three months. Three of these had spots were in the East Howard offfield and one in the precinct No. 3 area south-west of Big Spring.

Judge W. S. Morrison announced that the state highway department was dispatching a man from the district engineer's office here to confer on a severe drainage problem on some lateral roads in the Elbow vicinity.

The court considered, without action, a resolution which would ask the governor to call a special session to appropriate more aid to counties. This was based on the contention that the state had failed to meet its maximum obligation of 14 1/2 cents per capital on the officers salary fund allotment and failure also to pay its just share of rentals, travel expenses of its district agents. Commissioners felt that the resolution had merit, but G. E. Billiam suggested that it might be better handled at a regular session. At any rate the measure did not come to a vote.

Adopted as a matter of course were some cancellation certificates on taxes on property held by Big Spring. These were obligations against property taken on tax foreclosures.

The court also passed the minutes, touched on some charity cases and checked the regular monthly financial statement.

INQUIRER SAYS University Seeks Stassen As Prexy

PHILADELPHIA, July 12. (U)—The Philadelphia Inquirer said today the University of Pennsylvania is seeking former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota as president of the university.

The 41-year-old candidate for the presidential nomination at the recent Republican National Convention was sounded out, the Inquirer said, by Robert T. McCracken, chairman of the university's board of trustees, after the convention.

McCracken, reached by the Associated Press, refused to confirm or deny the report.

He said only: "No comment." "Stassen has not yet announced a decision," the newspaper said, "but if he should accept he would succeed Dr. George W. McClelland, 68, who has been considering retirement because of his health."

Thomas S. Gates as president of the university in 1944.

Naming of Stassen would be in line with the reported plan of university officials to seek a young, popular man of administrative ability for the university presidency, the Inquirer said.

The Inquirer said "It is understood that, within the past few months, university officials also sounded out Lewis W. Douglas, U. S. ambassador to Great Britain, said former vice chancellor of McGill University, Toronto, Canada."

South Scurry Test Has Show

Magnolia No. 1 Winston, central Scurry test about four miles south of Snyder, showed a little oil in the Pennsylvanian lime in drillstem test and is coring ahead.

The drillstem test was for 38 minutes from 6,700-6,810 feet. A 1,500 foot water blanket was used and recovery was 10 feet of free oil, a 1,500 water blanket cut with oil and 180 feet of oil and gas-cut drilling mud.

Another test taken for one hour at 6,795-6,810 feet. Recovery was 20 feet with slightly gas-cut mud with no shows of oil. Neither test showed water. The same may be the same from which Sun No. 1 Schattell, four miles west, gets its oil. The new Sun well is being shut in while tanks are being built.

Magnolia No. 1 Winston is 18 feet higher, geologically, than the Sun discovery.

Fullerton, et al No. 1 Strain, north Mitchell county test nine miles south of Snyder, logged slight oil stains and some porosity above total depth of 7,721 feet in chert which is probably the Mississippian. It is taking a drillstem test.

Ike Williams Risks Title

PHILADELPHIA, July 12. (U)—Ike Williams, at his best when the chips are down, takes on what may be his toughest assignment tonight in a 15-round defense of his lightweight boxing title against Beau Jack.

The sharp punching Trenton, N. J. titleholder was a 2 to 1 favorite to beat the former Georgie shoe-shine boy seeking to regain a title he has held twice before.

The fight also will be Ike's second defense of his title within seven weeks. He whipped Emrique Belanos in Los Angeles May 27.

'Scared To Death' Killer Executed

BELLEFONTE, Pa., July 12. (U)—A 48-year-old Philadelphia Negro died in the electric chair at Rockview prison today for the "scared-to-death" killing of Ella Wiggins. Grant Holley showed no emotion as he walked from the death cell. Asked if he had anything to say, Holley shook his head in the negative.

He was convicted of shooting the 27-year-old woman to death in a taproom July 4, 1946. His attorneys contended Holley was drunk on the night of the shooting and did not mean to kill the woman.

Attorney James C. Welch said Holley heard someone in the taproom say "Let's get that Nigger," and that he then started shooting. "He was scared to death," Welch added.

Driving Charge Brings $100 Fine

Charles Womack of Cuthbert, Texas, was fined $100 and costs in justice court this morning on a reckless driving charge after state highway patrolmen reported he had been involved in an automobile crash near a tavern west of town at approximately 8:05 o'clock Sunday night.

Womack allegedly drove away from the night-spot and directly into a vehicle driven by James K. Perry of Penwells.

The Perry family were returning home from a vacation when the mishap occurred.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry escaped injury but the younger of their two children, a six-months old baby, suffered head bruises and the parents were advised to keep him under the care of a doctor. All were examined at a local hospital.

Country Club Meeting Called

A special meeting of the Big Spring Country club stockholders has been called for July 20 to map plans for action on some important business matters, club directors announced Sunday at conclusion of a board meeting.

Among other things, the board will ask stockholders to decide on plans for completion of the club's new building program. First unit of the project is approximately 85 percent complete. It includes a new grill, cloak rooms, rotunda, office space, golf shop, recreation room, spacious porches and complete remodeling of the old club building.

The board plans to make a detailed report on club operations during the first half of the year, and directors are particularly anxious for a large number of stockholders to be present at the called session, since they hope to learn views of members concerning future operating policies.

The special stockholders session has been set for 7:30 p. m., on the announced date.

Four Persons Die In Air Crashes Over The Weekend

By The Associated Press

Four persons died in Texas plane crashes—two to a crash—during the weekend, building the state's violent death toll to eight.

A single-engine plane piled into the side of a frame apartment house in San Antonio and burst into flames. The pilot, tentatively identified as R. B. White, and Miss Ethel Hanes, 61, an occupant of the house, were killed.

The other crash occurred north of Golden in East Texas, when a light private plane plunged to earth and burned. Troy Coburen of Mincola and John Danahay, occupants of the plane, were killed.

Traffic took three lives and drowning one. Edgar J. Dixon, Dallas; Harold D. Watkins, 6, Waco, and Mrs. Ellen Jones, 28, Midland, were killed in automobile accidents. H. A. Copeland, Jr., 14, drowned in a caliche pit near Floydada.

Landis Family To Hear Will

LOS ANGELES, July 12. (AP)—The family of Carole Landis planned to gather today to hear the actress' last known will read.

Attorney Jerry Giesler was to read the document, signed by the blond film star June 22, 1944. He indicated that it will be legally accepted as the expression of Miss Landis' last wishes, cryptically jotted down in her suicide note.

"Look in the files and there is a will which decrees everything," read her note in part. But attorneys said they found no will more recent than the 1944 testament.

The actress' mother, Mrs. Clara Landis, to whom that last note was written, is believed to be the chief beneficiary of the will.

No valuation has yet been placed on the estate, but Giesler indicated it may be less than $100,000.

The 29-year-old movie glamor girl who took her life a week ago was buried at Forest Lawn Cemetery in Glendale Saturday as scores of Hollywood celebrities and hundreds of fans looked on.

Participants In Quiz Shows Are Defended

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
By The Associated Press

People who answer questions—or don't answer them—on radio quiz programs are currently receiving the scorn usually heaped on traitors, spies and political opponents. It's high time somebody defended them.

The housewife who opines Sinclair Lewis wrote "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and the insurance salesman who identifies Jesse James as a former government official aren't as dumb as they sound to the naked ear. They are average citizens in the middle of a nightmare.

It's easy to sit in front of a radio in the living room and sneer. Under those circumstances anybody and everybody knows that Simon Legree authored the book and that Jesse James is an orchestra leader. Just the same, who sneers in comfort and relaxation are also dreaming languidly about how easy it would be to pick up a 17-jewel power lawn mower and a double-malted, non-tippable helicopter simply by answering an easy query like "Who was the first U. S. Minister to France?" John Hancock, maybe?—No, Gwinnett Buton, Buton Gwinnett.

I know a woman who suffered such ambitions. One fine day she found herself right up there on a platform, faced with a glib master of ceremonies, a howling jealous audience and a ticking clock. This lady is no underprivileged barefoot and digging acorns. She's a daisy-chain lass, who buys—not rents—double-malted, non-tippable help-best sellers, subscribes to magazines and reads two newspapers a day.

She belongs to the League of Women Voters, too.

On the air she shuddered and figuratively slipped into a hair shirt.

"I suffered from that common American disease," was her explanation. "I wanted to get something for nothing. I was greedy and it seemed so easy. But never again."

"I suppose the grinning young man asked me a question. Suddenly I heard a strange, high voice coming from my mouth. Then my knees started to shake. The audience, for some unknown and frightening reason, started to whoop and clap."

"Every bit of sense drained out of my head. I don't know what I answered, but I was suddenly off the platform clutching a couple of boxes of the sponsor's product in my clammy hands."

Later she found she'd flunked the preliminary, gag-question.

"I stammered 'England' when he asked me what nations were fighting in the Spanish-American War," she said. "My father was a Rough Rider."

Her performance, it would seem, was a public case of stage-fright. Heaven knows how many wrong answers stem from fear-frozen minds.

There are also the semi-pros, the hardy perennials who make a vocation of traveling from quiz program to quiz program. The MC's must love these characters—and each is a character—for they brighten a dull corner on the clock.

What with the frightened and the foolish, quiz shows have shown the Average American to be a tongue-tied goon who flounders hopelessly if asked any question other than his name and his hometown. Ladies and gents who are called up in front of the microphone do not represent a fair sampling of Americans. Most of them don't even represent themselves.

There's a moral—two, in fact—in all this. Don't feel superior about your intellect until you've got that gratis washing machine in your own cellar. Secondly, wait until your friends tell you how you looked in that television quiz show.
