

For the fourth consecutive year the Spearman Lynx have won the right to advance to the bi-district in the state play-offs. The Lynx under Gregg Sherwood are experiencing their best year ever with an undefeated seasonal record of 9-0-0 and have yet to lose a district game in the last five years, standing at 4-0 in district play this year. Spearman's bi-district foe is undecided. The Lynx have played the Childress Bobcats in bi-district contests for the last two years. The Bobcats are ranked tenth in the state with an 8-1-0 seasonal record and a 4-0 district record. Seymour is also 4-0 in district play and have a seasonal record of 6-2-1. Childress defeated Henrietta 25-6 last Friday while Seymour dropped Oquanah 28-0. This coming Friday night's game between Childress and Seymour will decide Spearman's bi-district foe.

The Lynx will host the Canadian Wildcats Friday night. Canadian is coming off of their first district win of the season this year, having downed Boys Ranch 10-7 last Friday. The Wildcats are 3-0-0 on the season and 1-3 in district play. This has been a rebuilding year for the Wildcats and it looks like they are getting tougher with experience. Their win over Boys Ranch is an indication of that, as Boys Ranch is the only district foe who can boast of scoring on the Lynx early in the football game. Canadian will have the best shot at spoiling an undefeated season for Coach Sherwood and his "Big Bunch" (a win over Canadian will give Coach Sherwood his first undefeated season in Spearman) and you can safely wager that they'll try their best to spoil it.

Around the area Gruver lost their game to Sunny by a score of 41-13. Gruver loses the Stratford Elks Friday night. Sunny's win over Gruver clinched a bi-district play-off spot for them, their first chance at the play-offs since 1962. Sunny is 8-1-0 on the season having lost only to Vega. Sunny will go to Phillips Friday night where the Blackhaws will test the Bobcats' undefeated district record.

Also in the area Perryton's 4-4's trouncing over the Berger Bulldogs gave them their third straight bi-district playoff berth. The Rangers will complete in district 1-A A next year have wound up their season undefeated this year, their first undefeated season since 1947. Perryton, ranked number one in the state by UPI, will meet Andrews in the bi-district.

Looking at the rest of District 1-A A this week Boys Ranch will be hosting the Panhandle Panthers this week. Both teams are coming off of losses and will be looking for revenge. Boys Ranch was upset by Canadian 10-7 while Panhandle lost a close one to Dalhart 17-9. The Ranchers are 1-3 in district play and 4-5-0 on the season while the Panthers have the same 4-5-0 seasonal record and stand 2-2 in district competition.

The Dalhart Wolves who are 3-1 in their district play and 7-2-0 on the season will travel to River Road for this week's gridiron contest. As mentioned above Canadian Wildcats will come to Spearman Friday night to try their best to foil the Lynx's first perfect season.

Spearman Cubs Win Ribbon

FUSHMOBILERS -- Number 914 is surrounded by Cubs from Den 2 in Spearman who built the four-wheeler and participated in the competition during the Adobe District, Adobe Walls Council, meeting in Pampa on Sunday, Nov. 6. Clockwise are Jeff Dosssett, Michael Lopez, Clinton Tindell, Jeff Plunkert, Jamie Gomez, Eric Martin, Shannon Scroggs, Ruben Gomez, Norman Hill and, in the background, Rosetta Tindell, den assistant. Not shown is Bruce Park. Everyone but the Gomez brothers made the trip to Pampa.

Cubs from Den 2 in Spearman were in Pampa Sunday, Nov. 6, to compete in the annual pushmobile competition among Cubs and Webelos in the Adobe District of the Adobe Walls Council of the Boy Scouts of America and the Spearman entry placed third in the heat and received a white ribbon. This was the first time Spearman has been represented in the three years of the competition and Mrs. Edward (Helen) Martin, the Den Mother, reported all the parents and boys involved were pleased with their performance this year.

The pushmobile competition is part of the annual district meet. Accompanied by Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Rosetta Tindell, the Cubs' making the Sunday journey were Jeff Dosssett, Michael Lopez, Clinton Tindell, Jeff Plunkert, Eric Martin, Shannon Scroggs, Norman Hill and Bruce Park.

The pushmobile from Spearman was one of 59 in the competition which began at 2:30 p.m. on a slightly sloped, 800-foot course. The race is relay style with one boy riding and one pushing for 200 feet then another team takes over for another 200 feet to cover the 800 feet in one direction and then swapping places for return trip so that each boy gets to push as well as ride. Spearman competed in the nine-year-old class. Other races involved eight and 10 year old age groups. One of the requirements for entering was that the pushmobile had to be a Den project with the boys, with such assistance as might be necessary from adults, doing the cutting of the lumber, assembling the parts, nailing and painting required. All the boys involved were working toward their Bear Badge.

Number 914 from Spearman will be used in additional Den and Pack work here and quite possibly be ready for competition next year.

Mini blizzard

Spearman, Gruver and the rest of Hansford County awoke Wednesday morning, Nov. 9, to an ice and snow covered world after a mini-blizzard roared through the Panhandle of Texas on winds which gusted up to 45 miles per hour on the south and east.

Passing through Hansford County, the preview of winter storm left rain, which later became sleet and then finally snow before the main force of the storm moved on and began to leave clear skies and below freezing temperatures.

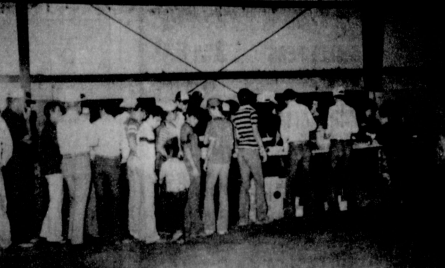

Wednesday morning, Spearman had received .29 of an inch of moisture and during the early morning hours the temperature had dropped into the low 20's.

HD Council States Program

Many Hansford County residents observe the traditional Veteran's (or Armistice) Day November 11th although some have already had "Veteran's Day 1977 in October. Members of the Hansford County Home Demonstration Clubs have planned a special 10:00 A.M. program at the Varsity Gym in Spearman for all area residents.

Five decades and nine years have passed since that November 11, 1918 when Jubilation erupted all over these United States and all over the world for World War I was at an end! Since that day in time, changes have been made and the din has quieted, the name changed, and in some cases, the date and month. However, our obligations to these honored dead are civily brought to mind each year at this time.

November 11, 1977 - Veteran's Day - the name and date are not important - our pledge of our faith to the future is! Attend the Veteran's Day program sponsored by the Hansford County Home Demonstration Council, 10:00 a.m., Friday, November 11, 1977 at the Varsity Gym.

Some 600 guests were on hand at the Panhandle Training Center barbecue last Saturday, held at the Training Center, located between Spearman and Gruver.

At The Lyric Now

Now well established in the role of Special Agent 007 of the British Secret Service is Roger Moore, who starred in "Live and Let Die" and "The Man With The Golden Gun". Another British Director, Lewis Gilbert, who previously helmed "You Only Live Twice", has supervised the five-month shooting schedule at London's Pinewood Studios, Sardinia, Egypt, the Bahamas, Ruffin Island, Scotland and Switzerland. All ten James Bond films are released by United Artists, a Transamerica Company, it opened at the Lyric Theatre, Wednesday.

The world's largest film stage was built at Pinewood especially for the interiors of the superlative which kishaps three nuclear submarines. Overwinning Production Designer Ken Adam is responsible for the gigantic settings.

A new James Bond car, which transforms into a rocket submarine—a special Lotus "Esprit"—replaces the traditional Aston Martin with a whole battery of tricks calculated to dazzle the villainous pursuers in "The Spy Who Loved Me". A motorcycle which rides on water—called a "Waterbug"—will be seen for the first time.

Playing the girl in the title role is Barbara Bach, an American living in Rome, who has never been seen before in a major international production. Portraying a Russian spy, she has the most important feminine part ever seen in a Bond film.

Portraying the kinky villains are international star Curt Jurgens—a Nordic shipping magnate, and "2" Richard Kiel as the hand-lettering "Jaws". Convinced our civilization must be destroyed and renewed underneath, Jurgens has felt work behind his fingers, his "Jaws" Kiel has shark-like steel teeth for disposing of his victims.

For the first time, a Bond film has an entirely original story. In accordance with Ian Fleming's wishes before his death, only the title of his original novel has been retained. A brand-new screenplay was developed over the past three years by Producer Woodcock with Screenwriters Christopher Wood and Richard Maibaum. Bond traditionalists will feel entirely at home with the scenario, which is a large-scale, high-tech, high-action, high-thriller projection of the night-mare menaces which leap out at us from the front-page headlines of the daily newspaper. The exotic locales flash back and forth from a countdown aboard a nuclear-

Not much of a world—when you consider all its human imperfections. Yet it's the world we are giving our children—the world in which they must grow up and find their destiny. And we keep hoping that theirs will be a finer generation—one able to improve this world.

What our children eventually do with the world depends upon our spiritual resources and how we share these truths and ideals with them. By encouraging faith and showing them right from wrong, our children can become the finest generation, destined to change the world—for the better.

Is there a church in your life? There should be!

The Terrible Twenties

In recent articles, we have concentrated our attention upon the problems faced in this confusing period of life known as adolescence. As Gail Sheehy points out in her book, Passages, childhood and adolescence have been carefully studied.
However, she added "Beyond the age of 21, apart from medical people who are interested only in our gradual physical decay, we are left to fend our ourselves on the way down-street point we all picked up again by gerontologists. *****

Two major issues crop up in the early twenties. First is the pressing question of a career choice. Usually by this time a person is gainfully employed and many have spent several years in training for a specific occupation. However, we begin to question this career choice made in adolescence. We ask ourselves if "this is where we want to invest our time and resources. *****

The second issue is what Sheehy calls the "Urges to Merge." This is the feeling young people experience when they feel they are expected to marry and start a family. All too often, this conforming to the "shoulds" of the twenties, creates marriages destined for problems. *****

It is important for young adults who are planning marriage to look closely at their reasons for this giant step. Gail or the chance of a mid-winter major operation?

Now is the time to have your heating unit checked by a qualified specialist and put into top operating condition. Not only will you minimize the possibility of a costly and uncomfortable breakdown in the middle of winter, you'll also help to keep home operating costs down this winter. A heating unit that is in tip-top shape requires less electricity to do the job than a faulty unit. So before you need it, have your heating unit checked and serviced so it's ready to do its job as dependably and economically as possible this winter.

Sheehy conducted a survey in which she asked 115 men ages 30-35, "Why did you marry?"
The answers were consistent, a few mentioned "being in love" as their primary reason for marriage. The four most common reasons were cited: First is a need for safety; this being the desire to have a caretaker. Men as well as women marrying for this reason in an attempt to alleviate their own insecurities, often expect their mate to take the place of parents. *****

The second most common reason is a need to fill a vacancy within the self. A man or woman may feel that marrying a mate who is a strong person will enable him or her to attain the same qualities ready-built.
Another common reason cited for marriage is a need to escape from parental restrictions. Sheehy talks these marriages as "half-baked marriages." *****

The fourth reason for early marriage is a need for prestige and practicality. Many people feel their mate will confer higher status or help foster his or her ambitions. *****

"We have taken only a brief look at some of the problems encountered in early adulthood.
There are countless others, and by making ourselves aware of these potential dangers, we can better deal with the realities of tomorrow. *****

Energy Bill

WASHINGTON - Congressman Jim Collins, a member of the House Conference Commitee on Energy, today warned his colleagues that the already hard pressed American farmer could expect nothing but more trouble if Congress does not change the Tax section of President Carter's Energy Bill. *****

"By choosing to increase taxes on gasoline, diesel fuel, oil, and natural gas the Carter administration is forcing the American farmer to bear the major burden of its energy conservation program," the Congressman from Dallas said.
"Costs for fertilizer and pesticides will rise dramatically, thus greatly increasing the costs farmer will have to face. At a time when a farmer can only get $1.23 for a bushel of corn that

Eddie Martin, of Martin Steak Garden's in Spearman was pleasantly surprised last Friday, with a Birthday Party. Eddie was "roasted" by many of his friends, and he is pictured above with his family.

Memorial Services Held

Memorial services for former Spearman resident Frank K. Bannister were held Monday, November 7th at 11:00 a.m. in the First Christian Church in Spearman with the Reverend Don Wirsdorfer, minister of the Christian Church, officiating. Interment was in Hansford Cemetery.

Texas State Library News

Peter Rabbit talks to young Texans who can't read ordinary printed material because of poor vision of a physical handicap that prevents their reading ordinary printed material.

He's just one of the childhood favorites included in the Texas State Library's collection of materials available to all Texans who qualify for the special service. During Children's Book Week November 14-18 the Texas State Library will be making a special effort to reach young Texans who qualify for the service that provides books by mail to readers.

New legislation regarding handicapped children in the classroom has dramatically increased the number of teachers that apply for the special service for their students," said Donald K. Bailey, director of the service. "There are, however, many others who would qualify but are not yet receiving the materials."

Books are available recorded on disks or tape and in Braille. Machines on which to play the recorded materials are furnished at no charge. The number of disabilities that may qualify a young reader is large. Vision that's 20/70 with the best possible correction qualifies a reader. A muscular disability that keeps a child from holding a book also qualifies him or her for service. Physicians may certify that certain learning disabilities have physical causes and require the special materials.

In addition to receiving the library materials available from the Texas State Library, users of this service will receive information on other recorded materials available to them. This includes access to taped materials being produced by various volunteer groups. Taped textbooks that can be duplicated for use are available. Braille materials include dictionaries and encyclopedias as well as other books. Among the new titles is an introduction to the metric system. From Peter Rabbit for the youngest readers to materials older ones need for academic work, the State Library provides access to a wide range of materials.

Information on the service may be obtained by calling 1-800-252-9605. This is a free call. Or information and applications may be obtained by writing Texas State Library, Box 12927/Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

Comptroller Collects Additional Taxes

AUSTIN -- State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Monday his auditors compiled one of their best records yet in Fiscal 1977, uncovering an additional $81 million in taxes owed the state. That amounts to more than $191,800 for each of the 420 auditors employed by the Comptroller's Office, Bullock noted. The 1977 fiscal year ended August 31.

"That $81 million in additional taxes owed the state that money that otherwise would have gone uncollected," Bullock said.

He pointed out that for every $1 it cost Texas taxpayers to fund his office's expanded audit staff, $10.55 was returned to the state treasury in the form of additional taxes.

"We think that's a pretty good return on the investment -- even by Texas standards," the Comptroller said.

Bullock said that more than $14 million of the $81 million detected by field audits was assessed firms headquartered in other states, but who do business in Texas.

In the year before Bullock took office in January 1975, Comptroller's Office auditors turned up only $18.8 million in additional taxes owed the state.

"We've increased that amount more than fourfold and we believe we can do even better," Bullock said.

He also noted that his 40 enforcement offices across the state collected $93.2 million during the past fiscal year -- more than double the amount anticipated.

"More than a third of that money was in the form of delinquent taxes -- money we really had to work to collect," he said.

Social Security

Full-time students 18-22 who get social security checks have several things to keep in mind this time of year, according to Howard L. Weatherly, social security branch manager in Pampa.

One of the most important things to remember is their school enrollment status. Most of these young men and women have been getting checks during the summer vacation period because they planned to continue their education this fall. They should report to social security if their plans have changed and they did not return to full-time attendance, so they can avoid being overpaid.

On the other side of the coin, those students who told social security last spring they did not plan to return to school this fall but who have returned to school or college, they can have their checks restarted.

There is a third group that should contact social security. These are the young people between 18-22 who became eligible for social security student benefits because an insured parent started getting social security retirement or disability benefits, or died during the summer. Their benefits can start with the month they begin attending school, college, or university on a full-time basis, if they are unmarried and under 22.

There are other items students getting benefit checks should report. The first applies to those students who have been working for someone or for themselves and earning money.

They should check their total earning for the year to make sure they have not yet, nor will soon, go over the annual earnings test exempt amount. This is $3,000 for 1977. If their earnings are over this amount or they expect to go over it before the end of the year, they should report this immediately to social security. This way the can avoid or minimize any possible overpayment, which would have to be paid back.

The final reminder concerns marital status. Students can generally get social security checks only if they are unmarried. Any student getting checks who has married, should report this to social security immediately. Students wishing information about social security can contact the Pampa Social Security, 1541 North Hobart Street or call 669-3381.

Students wishing to make any of these reports, or anyone wishing information about social security can contact the Pampa Social Security, 1541 North Hobart Street or call 669-3381.

Mr. Billy Miller Box 458 Spearman, Texas 79081

Dear Mr. Miller:

In regard to your football cartoon on the front page of the Hansford Plainsman paper dated Sunday, October 30 (which was actually the Sunday, November 6 edition), I object very strongly to your idea of the River Road-Spearman game and score. We are known as a team with a highly rated football team that is known for its good sportsmanship conduct. This cartoon, as far as I am concerned, degrades Spearman, the football team and the fans, and is also in very poor taste.

EDITORS NOTE: We apologize to everyone concerned. We often make mistakes, and we appreciate you calling our attention to this particular one. We assure you we meant no harm towards the fine River Road team. They were a great bunch of kids. The editor.....

Annual Christmas Seal Campaign

By now you have probably received your Christmas Seal and your appeal letter, signed by Douglas Wayne Gill, the little boy who designed our Texas seal. You have received seals for many years, and it's easy to take for granted something that comes in the mail automatically, something you don't have to buy or even rent if you don't want to.

But please take time to look at every one of those seals. They are 54 original works of art by 54 different elementary school students, and they are really valuable. With their spontaneity and vibrant childhood expectancy, they remind us of the joy heard angels proclaimed.

One of the questions most often asked non-profit health organization like The American Lung Association of Texas is: Where do you get your money? We answer: Mostly from Christmas Seal contributions.

We also receive memorial and special tribute contributions, which are promptly acknowledged. We hold special events such as bangle days, when a small, red, double-barred cross is given in appreciation of your gift. Together with Jayce chapters, we hold SUPPERKIDS athletic events, and sponsor other fund-raising activities that provide entertainment of merchandise. Your contributions are tax deductible.

The next question follows naturally: How do we spend our money? The largest expenditures are for professional education. Statewide, The American Lung Association has awarded $60,000 this year in fellowships for advanced study and research in lung disease. Locally, each year, we award a scholarship to a respiratory therapy student at Amarillo College. These students graduate and go to work in panhandle hospitals. Another example of Lung Association education in the Top of Texas Area is our day of chronic obstructive pulmonary disease mini-seminars, held October 14 in Amarillo for 180 nursing students, respiratory therapy students and working medical professionals.

At least one million, three hundred thousand Americans have incurable, crippling emphysema. Six and a half million suffer from chronic bronchitis and six million from asthma.

Over thirty-three thousand American children never live to be 5 years old, because they die from some respiratory ailment. But large figures tend to seem abstract, so remember how miserable a cold or the flu can make you. An asthma attack can be frightening and cause loss of school or work days. No breath an emphysema victim takes is ever an easy breath. Your Christmas Seal contribution is used to prevent and control all lung disease.

Mrs. Mary Brock represents Hansford County on the Top of Texas Area Advisory Council of the American Lung Association of Texas.

Wedding Announced

Wedding vows were exchanged October 23, 1977 by Nancy Sue Craun and Joseph Lee Morris in a 2:00 P.M. ceremony performed in the home of the groom's parents with the Reverend H. F. Dunn, minister of the United Methodist Church of Gruber, serving as officiant.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Ruth Gourley of Krum, Texas, and Mrs. Vance B. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Mathews, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Duncan, Scott and Steve, Mr. J. C. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Morris, Melanie and Chris, Mr. J. R. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Vance B. Morris, Sherry and Renee.

For her wedding the bride chose a white floor-length gown fashioned with Empire waist encircled by an ice blue ribbon. Her attendants wore a floor-length blue and white dress.

Cherry Morris, sister of the groom, registered the guests. At the reception following the ceremony the guests were served by Donna McGee. Highlighting the table was the three-tiered cake trimmed with white and blue icing and topped with white wedding bells. Pineapple sherbet, coffee, and punch were also served.

8-inch Rain!

Would you like to have an 8-inch rain? I saw one this week as I attended the Texas Plant Food Institute Convention in McAllen, Texas.

The valley was beautiful. The citrus was almost ready for harvest, sugarcane was still in the field and palm trees lined the city. The farming techniques were also very interesting. For example, beans are planted in March and again in August. The celery crop requires 200 pounds of nitrogen and is fertilized better than our corn crops.

TFPI put together a very educational lecture panel. Sarah Weddington, chief counsel to the administration, discussed the new farm program. State Rep. Joe Hubank, chairman of the committee on Agriculture and Livestock, spoke on various stages of agriculture and the bureaucracy effect. Other speakers spoke on soil sampling, facts on Folan Fertilization, and TVA's presentation on the latest development in farming and fertilization.

Dr. Larry Miller, a former college professor and presently a life insurance researcher, spoke on proposed tax law changes. According to Dr. Miller these changes will double tax much of our income. Also these laws will make it more difficult to keep family farmers due to inheritance tax.

Our Heritage of Faith

notes from Faith Lutheran Church

On Monday, November 7, Faith played its first dartball games of the season. From November through March Faith plays against other Lutheran churches in the area once or twice a month in dartball. This is a good time for fun, relaxation, and fellowship. So in spite of losing two out three games (they were just lucky) to Trinity Lutheran from Guymon, an enjoyable time was had by all.

Churches are often characterized as being too desirous of getting people's money. In some cases, unfortunately, that is true. Faith hopes to avoid conveying that impression and falling into that error while still having a stewardship drive on November 20 and December 4.

The focus of this stewardship drive will be on education and not on getting a pledge from each member. This will be an opportunity for each member to see how the money is spent, what the needs are, and how the finances have looked for '77. Each member will also have the opportunity to give their input on how they think the money should be budgeted for '78.

Stewardship should not be a church or organization asking for money. But stewardship is the response of an individual to the realization that he or she is a child of God. All that we have comes from God. Stewardship is using all this that we have in a loving and responsible way since we are God's children and have all things through His gift of love and life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

If you have no regular place of worship we invite you to join us at Faith. Sunday morning worship is at 9:30 and Sunday School follows at 10:35.

LESSONS GIVEN BY MARGARET OF MARINITA'S OF AMARILLO

The Baffling Stage Of Adolescence

As I mentioned in an earlier article, adolescence is the period of transition from childhood into adult life. Without understanding this may prove to be a painful period for the parent as well as the young adult. Parents may best help guide their children into adulthood by understanding the changes in attitude, growth and expression which accompany this stage.

An essential factor in understanding any adolescent is to take the adolescent's perspective. By this, I mean to attempt to see situations as the adolescent sees them. This is indeed a difficult task. While obtaining her boyfriend's class ring may be a major concern for an adolescent girl, her parents may pass it off as trivia and react accordingly. In turn, the girl may be humiliated or embarrassed, or emotionally crushed because she feels her parents are unconcerned or think she's silly.

Adolescent's attitudes may shift from one extreme to the other almost daily. However, there are several beliefs common to most teenagers. Most adolescents don't think that their parents are willing or able to understand them. For this reason, I feel it is imperative that parents make sure that their children know that they are willing to listen. Although many times an adolescent does not wish to discuss certain issues with his or her parents, it's still comforting to know that there is someone with open ears just in case.

Another common misconception adolescents harbor is that their parents are attempting to close the damper on their quest for independence. On the contrary, most parents see their children's need for increased responsibility and independence, and want to help them attain it. However, because they assume their child knows this, rather than openly telling him, the adolescent remains unaware.

Because teenagers are, themselves, inconsistent in their patterns of behavior, it may be hard for a parent to maintain consistency in treatment. One day a parent may acknowledge the youngster's maturity and responsibility and the next day express impassioned doubts that he or she will ever make the grade. Adolescents, whatever their individual differences, uniformly brood when their parents offer adulthood with one hand and take it away with the other.

Adolescents must be willing to admit to make his own decisions and not feel freed or snatched back the freedom if the decision is not the one they would have made. If the young person is to be someone who can think and act for himself, he needs an opportunity to test his own judgment.

Farm Population Declines

According to the latest USDA Bureau of Census figures, the United States farm population is dropping at an alarming rate—even faster than previously anticipated.

Last year alone the number of farm personnel slipped another half million to dip to an all-time low of 8.35 million people. The net result is that fewer than one in twenty-five Americans now live on a farm while just a few short years ago in 1935 about 25 percent of the U. S. population were living on farms.

Since 1970 the farm population has declined 14 percent. This trend is explained partially by movement to large, mechanized farm operations and the preference of farmers and farm hands to reside in towns and commute to fields. These along rates which saw the number of children under 14 living on farms drop a whopping one-third in the past six years, account for the drastic decline in our rural population.

In our own Hansford County, this trend has been very evident for many of our farmers and ranchers now live in Spearman, Graver, Morse, or Hitchland and commute to their fields in Hansford County, Ochiltree and Sherman counties.

First Tri-City Community Concert Set

The first concert of the Tri-City Community Concert Association will be on Friday evening, November 11, at 8:00 at the Berger High School Auditorium.

Robert DeCormier will conduct The DeCormier Singers in both the classical and popular fields. The DeCormier Singers is an electrifying group of young artists performing a staged program which combines the excitement of a theatrical entertainment with outstanding musical artistry. The group consists of fifteen superbly trained singers who are also possessed with delightful showmanship. Under Robert DeCormier's conducting, they present a most unusual and rewarding musical experience.

The founder and director of this group, Robert DeCormier, is well known as a composer and choral director. He has been Director of Choral Activities at the famed Eastman School of Music and is Musical Director of Choral Activities at Eastman School of Music and is Musical Director of the New York Choral Society which has been called "the finest amateur choir in New York City."

In September, 1976, he was Music Director for the premiere of a Morton Gould/Carolyn Leigh special bicentennial musical commission at the Kennedy Center. Mr. DeCormier has done extensive television work as Choral Director of the Ed Sullivan Show, Musical Director of the NET production of "Stage for Portes" based on the plays of Shaw, Baldwin, and Brecht and as Musical Director of "American Musical Heritage" series on CBS which received the Peabody Award. His choral arrangements for Broadway productions include "Milk and Honey" and "110 in the Shade" and he also composed the music for "The World of Sholun Alekhem". This extremely versatile musician was responsible for the arrangement contained in the Columbia Masterworks Mormon Tabernacle choir's performances with the New York Philharmonic and the Philadelphia Orchestra.

Mr. DeCormier founded the DeCormier Singers in 1962 and the group has made coast-to-coast tours of the United States and Canada each year since its debut. Everywhere critics and audiences have been ecstatic.

The group has also won acclaim for their recordings. This season the DeCormier Singers will once again bring joy to concert audiences across the country. An evening filled with music and theatricality, it promises to be one of the hits of the Glenn Miller Orchestra will be in concert on November 30.

Natural Gas Costing More

The price of natural gas produced and sold in Texas crept upwards 19 per cent during the first half of Fiscal 1977, it was announced Nov. 4 by State Comptroller Bob Bullock.

During that same period of Sept. 1, 1976, to Feb. 28, 1977, Texas produced natural gas cost Texas purchasers more than twice as much as buyers from out-of-state. Bullock noted. An analysis compiled for Fiscal Notes, the monthly financial statement published by the Comptroller's office, shows that the price for all Texas natural gas averaged 81.1 cents per thousand cubic feet (mcf) for the sixth month period.

This is 11.8 cents over the Fiscal 1976 average price of 69.3 cents per mc for Texas natural gas.

The average price of Texas-produced natural gas to in-state buyers during the six month period was 97.1 cents per mcf. This is 19 per cent over the 81.5 cents per mcf average for intrastate sales in Fiscal 1976.

At the same time, out-of-state purchasers of Texas-produced natural gas paid an average of 46.8 cents per mcf during the first six months of Fiscal 1977. Natural gas production for the six month period totaled 3.75 trillion cubic feet, according to the comptroller. Slightly more than two-thirds of this gas was sold-in-state.

The financial report also shows that state expenditures for the 1977 fiscal year which ended Aug. 31 totaled $6.6 billion. Revenues for the year totaled $7.36 billion.

Guidelines For Understanding Adolescence

The Family Services Center has had numerous requests for information and guidelines regarding youth. Perhaps the most baffling stage of youth is adolescence. Because of the complexity of the topic, the subject of adolescence will be dealt with in a series of articles.

First, a definition of the term is in order. Adolescence is generally thought of as a stage of human development in which the central theme is that of finding one's own identity. Although the length of the stage and chronological factors vary from individual to individual, adolescence is usually considered to occur between the ages of twelve and seventeen.

Adolescence is a period of rapid change, growing independence from the family, and increased social awareness. Children in this stage of development anticipate their role as the adults of tomorrow with increasing responsibility. An adolescent may try out many different roles in an attempt to define himself. For the unformed parent, this may appear to be a chaotic and confusing pattern of behavior.

All too often parents overreact to these radical changes in a manner which fosters rebelliousness and mistrust. At the other extreme, parents may overlook the importance of the adolescent's changing self and ignore his need for guidance and support.

Adolescence is usually thought of as a time of growing independence from the family; however, the adolescent still depends on the home as a place of emotional refuge, as a source of entertainment and learning, and for companionship. To be affective parents, we must educate ourselves regarding this confusing stage of development.

The area of communication is only one of many aspects of paramount importance in dealing with adolescence. For if we are to help our children in this

GAME NUMBER TEN

With a southeast breeze,
 Into the home side stand;
 Ninth win in a row,
 Destined for something grand.
 In the first six possessions,
 Spearman scored six times;
 The subs took over, and River Road was left behind.
 It's a new team record, for Consecutive wins in a row;
 The Angry Purple has done well,

With one district game to go.
 A playoff berth assured,
 Lynx will at least share the crown;
 Let's own it outright,
 Only Canadian left to knock down.
 Purple Pride is riding high,
 The Bunch is really on the go;
 Hop those Canadian Wildcots, and Enter the playoff road show.

Watch out for mental lapse,
 It's too easy to let down;
 Lynx always be on the ready, and Determined to wear that crown.
 Continue to improve your game,
 Angry Purple is on its way;
 Take apart those Wildcots, and Spearman's on top of one-double A.

Farmers Organize For Strike!

A.A.A. can mean a number of things -- American Automobile Association -- Alcoholics Anonymous -- Amateur Athletic Association -- and even -- "Agricultural Adjustment Administration - but in these parts it means "Angry American Agriculturalists" -- and you had better believe that they mean what they say when they voice the words "We strike December 14th for 100% parity."

Tuesday, last, well over one hundred and fifty farmers, their wives, and families gathered at the Memorial Building in Gruver to hear representatives from the Hereford American Agriculture movement tell them of the need for action to accomplish the necessary goal of 100% parity for all agricultural products -- not later but now!

Gerald McCathern of Hereford was the principal speaker that evening with a discussion following which led to the organization of an American Agriculture Gruver Strike Office. Leading the movement in the Gruver area are local farmers, with many more voicing approval of this drastic move to ease the farmer's depressive situation.

Sparked a short eight weeks ago by the frustration and depression of a few farmers in the Springfield, Colorado area a conflagration has erupted to prairie fire proportions fanned by the desire to earn a fair price for what they grow.

The farmers say they would agree to plant and grow food to feed the United States and the entire world if lawmakers would agree to the parity prices by December 14th -- the deadline set before the angry farmers intend to shut down their tractors, turn off their irrigation motors, lift their drills, pull their combines out of the fields and even plow up newly planted crops.

City folks just don't seem to realize the depressed situation faced by the farmers not only of this area but throughout the nation -- farmers who are now producing food at higher costs than the prices they receive.

Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland said in a recent press release that the threatened strike by farmers is just an attempt to call national attention to their serious economic problem. At the same time he noted that Americans are now spending a greater portion of their disposable income on their cars than on food (20% on autos in June compared to 19% on food -- might be that he is implying that Americans can live on full cars and empty tummies!

People came from both the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandles areas for the Tuesday meeting and there were those there from Spearman, Sunray, Strauford, and Hereford as well as the Gruver area.

The Gruver Strike office for American Agriculture is located at 6th and Main across from the Universal Motors (in the building formerly occupied by The Huddle). For additional information write American Agriculture, Gruver Strike Office, Box 755, Gruver, Texas, 79040; 806-733-2051.

It's up to you--and you--and you to do something now if you want it done.

Texas Farm Bureau Annual Meet Set

HOUSTON -- Some 1,500 farmers and ranchers are expected to attend the 44th annual meeting of the Texas Farm Bureau Nov. 27-30 at the Shamrock Hilton Hotel here.

Policies to guide the state's largest general farm organization next year and recommendations on national policies will be adopted during the final two days of the convention. Delegates will also elect a president and directors.

More than 1,000 voting delegates, representing more than 213,000 member families in 210 organized county Farm Bureaus, will participate in the business session. County delegate strength is based on the membership in the county.

Registration will begin Sunday, Nov. 27, at 2 p.m. Other first day activities include a vesper service, and the finals of the Talent Find and Discussion Meet for Young people in Farm Bureau.

Recognition awards will be interspersed throughout the convention. Counties will be honored for achievements in membership, public relations and safety.

Texas Farm Bureau officials will address the general session on Monday morning, Nov. 28. TFB President Carrol Chaloupka of Dalhart will present his annual message. TFB President Carrol Chaloupka of Dalhart will address the general session on Monday and Tuesday.

Twelve special conferences will be held Monday afternoon, Nov. 28. These include Animal Health, Energy, Cotton, Wheat and Feed Grains, Rice, Farm Bureau Services, Livestock, Peanuts and Oilseeds, Research and Education, Farm Labor, Water, and Dairy. A number of leaders in education, research, and government will address these conferences.

Eleven district queens will compete for the state queen's crown on Monday evening. The winner of the 1977 TFB Outstanding Young Farmer and Rancher award will be announced and presented at that time.

Tuesday morning activities will include a breakfast for Young Farmers and Ranchers, and district caucuses.

The business session will begin at 10 a.m. Tuesday voting on charter and by-law amendments and a report by the resolutions committee.

Voting on proposed state policies and national recommendations will continue Tuesday afternoon and all day Wednesday. The final order of business will be election of directors from odd-numbered districts and the election of a president for 1978.

Following adjournment late Wednesday, the TFB Board of Directors will meet to select a vice president and secretary-treasurer from among their own number.

Poison Pen Predicts

The Lynx will enjoy their first undefeated season ever being 10-0 after hosting Canadian Friday night.

Childress will win over Seymour becoming the Lynx' bi-district foe for the third consecutive year.

Dalhart will win easily over River Road and Panhandle will manhandle Boys Ranch.

WISU will keep their winning streak alive with a victory over Colorado and Texas will have little trouble with TCU.

The Texas A&M-Arkansas game will be a good one but I'll have to go with Arkansas.

Baylor will easily defeat Rice.

The Cowboys will have their hands full with St. Louis but Dallas will be just too strong for the Cardinals.

Juvenile Held

The detention of a Hansford County juvenile for theft and misdemeanor possession of marijuana has been announced by Sheriff R. L. McFarlin.

The youth was taken into custody Monday afternoon, Nov. 7 and is being held in the county jail pending transfer of custody to the juvenile authorities of the 84th Judicial District Court. The youth was located by the sheriff's department in a house located near a local feed-mill. Some marijuana paraphernalia was recovered but gasoline taken by the youth was not recovered.

Wheat Growers . . .

it is IMPORTANT that you

Write a Letter!

Director, Production Adjustments Division
ASCS
P. O. Box 2415
Washington, D. C. 20013

Dear Director:

We join with wheat growers of the High Plains in urging the removal by you of the regulation that would prohibit wheat producers from using set-aside acres for livestock grazing.

The climate and topography of the High Plains are such that cultivated acres that are made idle--diverted from crops--need to be planted in a cover crop. Wheat is the logical cover; but wheat growers cannot afford to plant acres unless they can utilize them for winter-spring grazing.

This is the way of farming on the High Plains, a region that takes in large parts of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado and Kansas. Winter wheat controls wind erosion of cultivated acres, and is vital.

This special regulation will drive Plains wheat growers out of the set-aside program, and cripple a key part of the Farm Bill. Surely, this is not the intent of Congress.

We urgently ask that this provision, as outlined in the Federal Register on Oct. 14, be removed, and that livestock grazing be allowed on diverted wheat acres. Your consideration and cooperation are appreciated.

Sincerely,

Address Letters to Director,
Production
Adjustments
Division
ASCS
Washington, D.C.
20013

The ASCS in Washington needs to know that Plains wheat growers cannot afford to set aside wheat acres -- unless these acres can be grazed. A regulation banning grazing will become fixed law on Nov. 14, if it is not removed.

Cong. Jack Hightower needs your letters in his effort to get the No-Grazing rule removed. Letters should be addressed as ours is addressed here.

The time is short -- your letters need to go out NOW to arrive before Nov. 14. Say it your own way -- but say it NOW, please!

Great American Smokeout, November Event

November is generally highlighted by two (maybe three) big, big events, such as Thanksgiving, Election Day, and Armistice Day—but November 1977 will also be noted for the American Cancer Society's Great American Smokeoff—an effort to get every smoker in America to quit smoking for one day and then maybe—just maybe—for always.

"The lung cancer death rate for women has more than doubled over the last decade in the U.S.," says Judge Johnnie Lee, chairman of the Hansford Unit of the American Cancer Society. "In about another ten years or even less there may be as many women smokers as there are men smokers."

"In 1975, 91,000 American men and women found that they had lung cancer," says Chairman Lee, "and 81,000 are expected to die of the disease—that amounts to approximately 225 a day."

Shocking?—you bet it is and just maybe November 17, 1977 will be the lifesaver you need.... this the date of the Great American Smokeout.

Dr. E. Dwyler Hammond of the American Cancer Society is one of the key figures involved in studies showing a causal relationship between cigarette smoking and lung cancer. The ACS estimates that cigarette smoking is responsible for at least 80 percent of the nation's lung cancer.

In 1976 many programs were conducted in the Hansford Unit by Public Education Chairman Mozelle McClellan, R.M., to try to educate young people about smoking and lung cancer and to help smokers break the habit. Throughout the United States, the ACS reached some 8 million students in more than 200,000 programs.

Judge Lee says the American Cancer Society emphasizes the smoking link with lung cancer because it is one cancer for which the principal cause is known. In addition, the survival rates are the poorest of any of the major sites.

"When treated promptly, 33 percent of the patients are alive and well after five years but early detection of lung cancer is difficult. The five-year survival rate for advanced cases is only 10 percent."

He noted that the production of cigarettes in the United States has climbed from about $4 billion to $76 billion since the turn of the century and today one person in three is a smoker. One encouraging note is that the tar content of cigarettes—a major factor in linking cigarettes to lung cancer—now is 50 percent lower than it was 20 years ago. Besides nicotine—a drop of which could kill a person in minutes—cigarettes give off carbon monoxide and contain other potentially harmful substances such as formaldehyde and hydrogen cyanide.

"Smoking is known to raise the blood pressure, block the lungs' filtering capacity, and limit the flow of oxygen to unborn babies—hindering their growth," says Chairman Lee. "It also raises the level of artery-clogging fatty acids and multiplies the risk of cancer many times when combined with other factors such as drinking alcoholic beverages or working with hazardous substances such as asbestos."

"Quitting smoking has immediate results," according to Judge Lee. "The risk of death from lung cancer declines with each year after smoking is stopped. The risk for ex-smokers after 10 years is nearly as low as for non-smokers."
