

Petition Against Obscene Literature Presented To Council

The Spearman Reporter

VOLUME 09, NO. 11 THE SPEARMAN REPORTER, SPEARMAN, TEXAS 79081 THURSDAY, JANUARY 26, 1978

American Ag.

Reports coming back from Washington that the American Ag. Group proposal of a new law that does not request or require any federal money is so strange and foreign to Washington thinking that both Congress and Bureaucrats alike are having one heck of a hard time understanding it.

WILL YOU LET "LITTLE RED HEN" DO IT? SIR: To all you "stay neutrals"--"look oners" -- and "non helpers" sitting on the sidelines while 'active farmers' are making their one big effort for equality----

IT MAY BE TOO SIMPLE. All we are asking Congress to do is to pass a law making it illegal for any Agricultural product to be sold or bought at a price below cost of production plus a reasonable profit. "We get our price at the market place, no subsidy, no payments in any way."

What price to you plan to take for your wheat? Are you going to say, "Oh well, $2.20 a bushel is enough for me, since I didn't help in bringing the price up to the cost-of-production plus?" Or will you be like all the animals in the story of "THE LITTLE RED HEN"--After she had grown the wheat and baked the bread, they all wanted in on a share of it then!

trucks bought. Consequently, more steel and other supplies for the factories that produce these items; helping further to reduce unemployment. For years the Powers that be have practiced a "trickle down" to influence the economy. Help the upper economy and some will "trickle down" to the lower group.

out what is happening in all states from Florida, California and Illinois. The Guyton, Oklahoma office has thirty phones. They are a 'backup' office to the national office in Springfield, Colorado, and this office is a beehive of activity. This costs money but people, farmers, businessmen and others are chipping in a dollar here and a hundred dollars there. Several widows of farmers have sent generous checks

Ralph Newton presented a petition objecting to the sale of obscene literature to the City Council at the regular meeting on Monday, January 23. Present were: Gene Cudd, Bill Pittman, Mayor Ralph Blodgett, Jim Nicholson, Frances Loftin, and Brad Beedy. There were twenty-two visitors.

The petition presented by Newton was signed by 440 citizens of Spearman and stated: "We the undersigned object to the sale of obscene literature in Spearman, Texas. We, the undersigned encourage the mayor and the city council to obtain a city obscenity ordinance that prevents the sale or distribution of obscene pictures, books, pamphlets, magazines, papers, documents, or objects, or the keeping of a place where such are exposed, displayed, sold or distributed."

American Agriculture has scheduled a meeting Thursday evening, Jan. 26, at 7:30 p.m. in the County Bank here. The purpose of the meeting is for the American Agriculture representatives that went to Washington to tell of their trip, who they saw and how they were received by those that they met.

City Manager Mark Neff reported that $5000 had been appropriated in the budget for a new flatbed truck out of revenue sharing and time warrant payment for computer. Neff recommended that a utility box be purchased for the present pickup. It was moved by Loftin, and supported by Pittman, and authorized by Neff to advertise for bids to develop such a program. It was pointed out that it was only a proposed program and that it would need to be a carefully screened program.

Nicholson noted that there was an unmarked police car again. Neff explained that the marking was taken off when the car went to Amarillo on city business and that the marking will be back on.

The next item of business was the consideration of a resolution to allow the mayor of Spearman to execute a ten year lease agreement with K.L.D.S. Inc. and the Hansford County YMCA for use of the Spearman Community Building beginning February 1, 1978 and concluding January 31, 1988.

Chamber banquet Sat.

There is probably no native Louisianan more deserving of the title "Goodwill Ambassador" than Justin Wilson. In addition to being one of the finest entertainers ever to come out of the South, his constant travels to all parts of the United States give him a unique opportunity to boost his home state, an opportunity he relishes deeply.

Bulletin:

The flu bug is not quite as bad as the school holiday. Approximately 140 being absent as of Wed. morning.

Gene Cudd, local John Deere implement dealer, will be sworn in as the new president of the Southwest Hardware and Implement dealers association, in San Antonio, January 29-31st.

JUSTIN WILSON

Justin's appeal is never prurient, his material never blue. What grandma can hear is what junior may hear as well. For many years he has been active in working with the young people of his state, and he has the awards to prove his effectiveness. Most recently, he has added another bright facet to his career. The Justin Wilson Radio Commentaries, a daily 5-minute tongue-in-cheek reports on the affairs of the nation, are now heard in 8 states, and the list is growing rapidly.

Accent On Health

TEXAS Department of Health
FRANK L. DUFF, M.D., Commissioner

Kind words sometimes return great dividends.

They can be strong medicine for the troubled or help bring some people back to reality.

In a Panhandle nursing home recently a Texas Department of Health volunteer learned of a man who stayed on his bed and failed to communicate with anyone.

"In effect," said Lucy Hestir, volunteer consultant in the Patient Care Services Division of the Department, "the man had just given up. But this volunteer began visiting and just talking to him. Finally, he started responding, asking about other residents and eventually began participating again in activities at the home."

In another case, an Austin male teacher decided to invest part of his summer vacation in volunteer activities. It became apparent to him, said Mrs. Hestir, that men needed more help than women. Most men had been accustomed to active business lives and felt pushed aside by their confinement.

"The teacher interested others in volunteering, and he and his friends started taping conversations of residents concerning their previous occupations and travels. Young men in the same or related fields of endeavor were brought into the volunteer program. Before long, said Mrs. Hestir, many young men took advantage of the business expertise offered by nursing home residents and at the same time added to the feeling of self-worth among residents."

Volunteer activities aren't new to the Texas Department of Health, since they have been ongoing in the Department's Chest Hospitals for some 20 years. But, since the Department received additional authority in the nursing home field, the volunteer program is being expanded and coordinated through the Patient Care Services (PCS) Division, directed by Dr. B. D. Pierce.

Regional social supervisors in the PCS Division are being involved more and more in the volunteer program, and indoctrination and training programs are being held for them. "Nursing home administrators and their activity directors also are being involved, and we hope to work with them in setting up scheduled volunteer activities year-round in each facility in Texas," said Mrs. Hestir.

"Many organizations provide group activities," said Mrs. Hestir, "but we would like to emphasize one volunteer working with one resident in our program."

"It's important to have visitors other than family," she explained. "When a person enters a nursing home, they miss all the casual contacts they were accustomed to by people dropping in or by going to church or the grocery store."

Volunteers can just talk to residents, write letters for them, fix their hair, or perhaps take them on excursions outside the home. A project underway in Austin emphasizes a variety of activities. In a combined volunteer program between that city's nursing homes, residents who are able are taken annually to the circus. Volunteers also take them on picnics, stage domino tournaments and have even taken residents night clubbing. Volunteers pick up the residents and return them to the home.

"This program has been very successful and very rewarding," says Mrs. Hestir, "and it's something volunteers statewide could do."

Mrs. Hestir says she feels that volunteers get as much out of the program as the recipients of their services. The volunteer program is large, and she sees a growth in the future.

We had about 20,000 volunteers a month working in nursing homes when we moved to the Texas Department of Health from the Department of Health Resources last fall, she said.

December is always a big month for volunteer activity, and last December 50,000 volunteers gave some 150,000 hours.

Mrs. Hestir emphasized that there's a big job to be done in this field, since there are more than 1,000 licensed nursing homes in Texas. Anyone has something to give to a nursing home resident, and in giving the volunteer also receives.

FACTS & FIGURES

According to experts at the Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania, America's Gross National Product is likely to rise 4.5 percent from 1977 to 1978.

Professors Lawrence R. Klein, F. Gerard Adams and Richard M. Young, who form Wharton Economic Forecasting Associates (WEFA), also say we can expect a tax cut of approximately $20 billion in July of 1978.

Faraway Places

I've never seen the Taj Mahal. Nor have I looked up at the Leaning Tower of Pisa, or out across the broad Sahara to the Pyramids and the Sphinx.

Most of my life, as a matter of fact, has been spent right here in my own town. Not because I don't want to travel. To visit these faraway places is one of my big desires—and, one day, I hope to do it.

But I know, deep in my heart, that even if I never leave my home town I'll have more to do than I can hope to accomplish. Because God is just as much here as he is anywhere. Our minister used that thought in his sermon last Sunday, and he told us how much there is for all of us to do in our own particular place—and how much remains undone!

If we'd bring just one other person to church with us on Sunday, we'd really be doing something, he told us. And, as I thought it over, I knew how true that was.

That's why I'm asking you.

Kilgore Receives Grant

WTSU - Glenn Kilgore, a West Texas State University student, was recently awarded a $200 direct grant through the Eastman Kodak Company's 1977 Education Aid Program. Kilgore, a computer information systems (CIS) major, was one of the five WTSU students awarded a Kodak grant. The Eastman Kodak Company regularly awards direct grants of $250 to public institutions and $750 to privately supported schools for each undergraduate or graduate year completed by those who graduate and join Kodak within five years of their graduation. The Department of Computer Information Systems at WTSU this year received a $1250 grant in the name of George E. Jarboe who graduated in 1970 with a Bachelor of Business Administration in Computer Science and received his Master of Business Administration degree in 1971. He is currently employed by the Kodak Colorado Division. Kodak awards the direct grants in response to the contributions made by college and university graduates to the company's business success. Awards are made during the graduate's fifth year of employment with Kodak. Recipient schools are encouraged to distribute grant money to the departments indicated by a person's degree for use as Kodak undergraduate scholarships. WTSU scholarship recipients were chosen by the CIS faculty on the basis of scholarship. Kilgore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kilgore, 716 Dressen, Spearman.

Kilgore Receives Grant

WTSU - Glenn Kilgore, a West Texas State University student, was recently awarded a $200 direct grant through the Eastman Kodak Company's 1977 Education Aid Program. Kilgore, a computer information systems (CIS) major, was one of the five WTSU students awarded a Kodak grant. The Eastman Kodak Company regularly awards direct grants of $250 to public institutions and $750 to privately supported schools for each undergraduate or graduate year completed by those who graduate and join Kodak within five years of their graduation. The Department of Computer Information Systems at WTSU this year received a $1250 grant in the name of George E. Jarboe who graduated in 1970 with a Bachelor of Business Administration in Computer Science and received his Master of Business Administration degree in 1971. He is currently employed by the Kodak Colorado Division. Kodak awards the direct grants in response to the contributions made by college and university graduates to the company's business success. Awards are made during the graduate's fifth year of employment with Kodak. Recipient schools are encouraged to distribute grant money to the departments indicated by a person's degree for use as Kodak undergraduate scholarships. WTSU scholarship recipients were chosen by the CIS faculty on the basis of scholarship. Kilgore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kilgore, 716 Dressen, Spearman.

County second in wheat production
 AUSTIN-Hansford County was the second largest wheat producing county in Texas in 1977. Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown said today. With a total harvest of 4,903,900 bushels, Hansford County produced 4.2 per cent of the wheat grown in the state, Brown said. Of the 184,800 acres planted in wheat Hansford County farmers harvested 129,400 acres, and realized a 37.9-bushel per acre average yield, he noted. The state's winter wheat production for 1977 totaled 117,500,000 bushels. This boosted Texas into the No. 9 spot in the nation in total wheat production, Brown commented. He stated that the low wheat prices which accompanied this near-record production have hurt Texas farmers, particularly in the face of rising production costs. "However, Texas farmers will receive a substantial share of the $1.2 billion in federal wheat deficiency payments that will be paid out this year," Brown noted. "This would help ease the serious cash-flow problems our farmers have experienced because of the low grain prices." Some have believed carrying crops in their pockets would make them lucky at cards.

Although television as we know it today was not developed until the 1920's, The World Book Encyclopedia states that 98% of all American homes have at least one TV set. Altogether there are about 110 million TV sets in the United States.

For security... you lock it up, we light it up!
 Good locks are important, but good outdoor lighting gives you added security as well as safety and economy. You can have mercury vapor or Metal Halide leased floodlighting directed wherever light is needed around your business property. Leased floodlighting provides a deterrent to nighttime vandals or burglars. It helps prevent accidents around your business after dark. It's economical - automatically turning itself on at dusk and off at dawn - and leased floodlighting is available at a very reasonable monthly rate. For more information, give us a call.

Couple United in December Wedding

Frances Inell Byrd of Gruber became the bride of Howard Leon Grubbs of Temple, Oklahoma, at a 7:30 p.m. ceremony performed December 12, 1977, at the Gruber Church of Christ. Officiant for the double ring service was Jim York, formerly of Gruber, now of the Church of Christ in Brady, Texas.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Byrd of Gruber and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Grubbs of Temple, Oklahoma.

Offering nuptial vocal selections was a quartette including Mrs. B. J. Renner, Mrs. Mike Burnam, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Lee who sang "I Can't Help Fallin' in Love", "Love Me Tender", and "Faithful and True".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor length gown of white qiana, fashioned with a daintily smocked yoke outlined with ruching which was repeated at the neckline and also edging the floor sleeves the fullness of which was caught at the wrists. Complementing her wedding costume was a white floppy brimmed straw hat with lace edge.

She carried a nosegay bouquet of red and pink rosebuds and stephanotis steamed in white satin atop a white Bbble.

She observed the bridal traditions of something old, a cameo necklace belonging to her Grandmother Byrd and a hand painted rose brooch belonging to her late Grandmother Cotter; "something new", her bridal attire; "something borrowed", a white Bbble loaned by her cousin, Mrs. Lewis Hill; the traditional blue bridal garter; and she wore a sapphire in her shoe, the gift of Mrs. Anna Cooper with the date of the bride's birth.

Attending the bride was Mrs. Jim Canada as matron of honor and her sister, Diane, served as bridesmaid. The attendants both were attired in floor length cream knit gowns accented by long red streamer ribbons extending from bows at the scoop neckline. They carried long stemmed red roses with baby's breath and wore red rose hair-movies, etc. frequently a mixture of fancy and harsh, harmful realism." The most important thing we can provide for our children is an adequate spiritual foundation for learning," states a local minister. Both Uncle Dan and Aunt Sue are devoted Christians who feel that their work with the Story Hour program has greatly enriched their own lives, while they in turn have blessed the lives of so many listeners. Our Story Hour is a family program of Bible stories and true character building stories. The program is 20 years in the making with a professional acting cast and realistic sound effects. The program is produced by The Character House, P.O. Box 15, Berrien Springs, Michigan 49103.

The program is designed to "make boys and girls of today better men and women tomorrow," says Uncle Dan. "A Child is a trusting, easily led and truly an impressionable being," says Aunt Sue, "his world today is filled with schoolbooks, storybooks, television,

CHECK APPLIANCE LIFE EXPECTANCY

Before replacing a major appliance that needs repair, consider its projected life expectancy—repairs may cost less.

Following is a list of life-span estimations for selected household appliances:

Appliance	New	Used
Freezer	20 years	9 years
Refrigerator	15 years	7 years
Gas Range	13 years	7 years
Electric Range	12 years	6 years
Dishwasher	11 years	7 years
Washer	11 years	5 years
Electric Dryer	14 years	5 years

These figures indicate how long, on the average, household appliances keep.

The data does not show how long a given appliance model will last—it provides a general basis for estimating the service life expectancy of major home appliances.

PERSONAL INSULATION

Clothing traps air to insulate the body and retain heat for added warmth in winter—without using more energy.

Air trapped between layers of clothing or trapped in a fuzzy fabric acts as insulation and helps retain body heat.

The body heats the trapped air and generates warmth.

Several loose layers trap more air and are warmer than one tight layer, regardless of its thickness.

The number of layers needed for comfortable warmth depends on personal activity. An active person generates more heat so fewer layers are needed.

Trap heat by clothing design, too. Normal garment openings such as necklines and sleeve openings should fit close to the body to prevent heat from escaping.

Cuffs, elasticized wristbands, turtle-necks, and cow-collars are all warmer than open necks and open sleeves.

Remember, bulky socks and fleecy boots are warmer than slippers.

Camisoles or under-shirts provide an extra layer over the major portion of the body—and when the body is warm, extra heat goes to the hands and feet, making them warmer.

RESISTING FALSE HUNGER CUES

Effective weight control starts with resisting false hunger cues that contribute to weight gain.

It involves resisting internal and external cues that contribute to weight gain and resisting the temptation to use fad diets to take off the extra pounds.

People should recognize the source of their urge to eat. Some internal cues, such as hunger cues.

On the other hand, external cues stem from seeing others eat, seeing food, smelling good food, or hearing food ads on television.

These cues are not real hunger—and they do contribute to weight gain.

In addition, fad diets do not encourage the eating habits necessary for long-term weight control and good nutrition.

While fad diets may result in short-term, quick-weight loss, they are not effective for long-term weight control.

Fad diets are ineffective because they fail to provide adequate nutrition—and they are dangerous if followed for a long time.

Women's Division of C of C Meets

The Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce met Wednesday, January 18 at Martin's Steak Garden in the Garden Room. Mrs. Mary Lou Wysong presided over the business meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Gina McCUES.

They discussed the decorations for the Chamber of Commerce Banquet which will be held Saturday night, January 28th. The women did elect to meet at the High School to begin decorating for the banquet at 4:00 Friday afternoon.

Members present were Mesdames: Russell Townsend, Ronnie Schaefer, E. J. Callaway, Jr., Jim Fowler, E. L. Collins, John Sutherland, and Mrs. Dennis Nelson is also added on to the list of new members.

LEGAL NOTICE

On this 9th day of January, 1978, at a meeting of the Governing Body of the Hansford County Wind Erosion Conservation District #148, came to be considered the report of the Committee appointed to designate lands in their precinct upon which a program of work is necessary, said report being dated the 9th day of January, 1978, and after having examined said report, heard the evidence submitted on said contemplated program, obtained such technical information as deemed necessary, and after having estimated the cost of such program of work the Governing Body of said District finds that said program of work is necessary and that the owners of the lands covered thereby will derive a benefit therefrom equal to or in excess of the estimated cost of the work allocated to said lands.

Therefore, be it ordered by the Governing Body of Hansford County Wind Erosion Conservation District #148 that the following program of work for entering upon, treating, and/or constructing such improvements and maintaining same, such facilities as are hereinafter set out be undertaken and performed in the following described tracts of land for arresting or preventing soil erosion thereon by reason of winds; or may become necessary and the estimated actual cost of the work which should be done on each tract, is not to exceed $2.00 per acre, on all land worked. Land described as follows:

Caan's Skill as Horseman Perfect For His LeLouch Film

In addition to his impressive credentials as an actor, James Caan also is one of the most proficient Hollywood stars in the ways of the western range. He demonstrates his ability as a horseman and his skill with the lariat in "Another Man, Another Chance," the first western film by French moviemaker Claude LeLouch. Starred with Genevieve Bujo, Caan portrays a frontier veterinarian who shows that he can handle a horse, rope a steer and ride with the best cowboys.

He actually has competed successfully in rodeos against the leading professionals, and steer roping is one of his specialties. In one of the rough, rowdy races. The film is released by United Artists, a Transamerica Company. Written and filmed by Claude LeLouch. "Another Man, Another Chance" was produced by Alex and Genevieve and Georges Danziger. Co-starring are Francis Hoster, Susan Tyrrell and Jennifer Warren. Music is by Academy Award-winner Francis Lai. "Another Man, Another Chance" is a Film by Claude LeLouch and A Film 15 - Films Artime Productions Artists Artists Production. It opened Wednesday at the Lyric Theatre.

In his role as David Williams, frontier veterinarian, James Caan has the opportunity to combine his avocation, western riding, with his vocation as an actor. For the big race sequence which climaxes the movie, Caan rides his personally-owned horse, Durango, a handsome gray. "I don't do the star things," Caan says of his career. "Most of my friends are stuntmen, or athletes, because I could never be bothered talking about the business 24 hours a day. I don't mix with the right people. Acting is not my life. It is my job."

Whenever the demands of his film career allow, Caan spends his time on the rodeo circuit, roping steers. He is accepted by the cowboys not as a movie star, but as one of the guys. Caan's big breakthrough as an actor came in the early 1970s through the television movie, "Brian's Song," which has become a classic for that genre, and later in the boxoffice colossus "The Godfather." For those two widely diversified performances he was nominated in 1972 for both an Oscar ("The Godfather") and an Emmy ("Brian's Song").

Caan recently completed a major role in the Joseph E. Levine Production of "A Bridge Too Far" and previously starred in "Rollerball," both for United Artists release.

Ted Harbour On Dean's List

Ted Harbour, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Harbour of rural Spearman, was listed on the Dean's Honor Roll during the fall semester.

To qualify for a dean's honor roll a student must have a grade point average of 3.0 or more on a 4.0 scale and must have taken as many as 12 semester hours of work.

Marriage Enrichment Seminar Set

The public is invited to a marriage enrichment seminar at First Christian Church, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, January 27, 28 and 29. Herb Miller, Hi-Plains Area minister for the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), will conduct the program from 7:30 p.m. Friday, 6:00 p.m. Saturday and 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

The format will involve lectures and discussions designed to raise the general insights of people (without sharing personal problems) along with some direction as to helpful things partners can do privately to gain greater satisfaction from their relationship.

The object of the seminar is to help participants gain insights into themselves and their relationships with others, especially their spouses; understand the common problems which cause difficulties in marriage; and learn some communication tools which help partners communicate more clearly. No group therapy of any kind will be done.

Round-Up Association Plans Dance

The Hansford Round-Up Association will sponsor a dance February 4 at the Community Building from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Entertainment will be by John D. and the Cadillac Cowboys. Admission will be $7.00 a couple and $4.00 each for singles.

Profits from this dance will be used to finance prizes for the Fiddlers Contest, parade, celebration publicity, etc.

Farm Lease Seminar Planned

SPEARMAN - A regional seminar to enable farm owners and tenants to calculate an optimal farm lease agreement will be held Friday, January 27, at the livestock show barn here, located at Ave. D & Hoskins.

The meeting will begin at 1:30 p.m. and conclude at 3:30 p.m. Dr. Ray Sammons, Area Economist-Management with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said. "We'd like farm tenants to bring their landlords, and the landlords to bring their tenants," Sammons said. He also encouraged spouses of both groups to attend. Sammons said the seminar would explain the difference between the conventional one-third and two-thirds lease, and an optimum farm-share lease.

He said the economic situation is creating new difficulties for farm renters, especially in the area of credit. And he said

Burro Killed

The Hansford County Sheriff's Department Monday, Jan. 23, reported results on the investigation into a collision between a pickup truck and a jenny burro on State Highway 207 a mile south of the Spearman City limits earlier in the day in which the animal was killed. There were no injuries to the occupants of the vehicle and no slight property damage to the vehicle.

The pickup truck was northbound and driven by Billy Wayne Jones, 23, of Woodward, Okla., and he was accompanied by his wife, Janell, and their son, Tracy, 3, returning to their residence in Woodward after completing a work assignment in Odessa, Tex. The burro was crossing the road.

After the investigation into the occurrence was completed, the Jones family continued their journey to Woodward. Ownership of the burro has not been established, it was reported.

Tammy Mundy Janelle On Honor Roll

Mrs. Tammy (Mundy) Janelle was listed on the president's honor roll at West Texas State University for the fall semester. Tammy has maintained a 4.0 grade point average throughout college. She is a junior special education major and a member of Delta Pi, an honor society in Education.

Tammy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Mundy of Victor, Colo., and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.D. Sparks of Spearman and Mrs. Lucy Mundy of Radford, Va., formerly of Spearman.

Science Research Center Plans Open House

There will be an open house of the Science Research Center, 112 Main, Gruver, Sunday, January 29 from 2-4 p.m.

The Science Research Center at Gruver is an off-campus branch of the Science Research Center (SRC) of Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, Texas. The SRC at Abilene was started in 1976 and is headed by Dr. John H. Brewer with the principal research interests in microbiological areas relating to diseases and sterilization of space probes for NASA. The SRC at Gruver was founded in June, 1977 and is under the direction of Dr. Robert Adams. Before coming to the SRC-Gruver, Dr. Adams had been an associate professor of botany at Colorado State University, Fort Collins, for the past 8 years.

The SRC-Gruver will specialize in research on plant oils and computer analysis of variations in oil production. The National Science Foundation has recently awarded a 2-year, $54,000 grant for continued study on junipers of North America. The current project involves collection of leaf samples from the SRC-Gruver (commonly called cedars in Texas) from central British Columbia to northern Mexico. The primary purpose of this project is to investigate differences in leaf oil composition with regard to altitude, latitude, precipitation, etc. Knowledge of geographical variation in these species will be important in several applications. For example, while at Colorado State University, Dr. Adams and others found that deer browse more heavily on those plants with less oil. It has been shown that deer will browse heavily on juniper and other species during the winter but excessive oil accumulation will injure and sometimes kill the deer. For the revegetation of surfaced mined lands, one might use plants from regions of high oil production, to minimize deer and elk browsing on the young plants. Conversely, if one wishes to maximize deer habitat in a particular area, one would want to plant trees that are low in oil yield to provide more suitable forage.

Knowledge of regional variation in the juniper oils appears to be quite useful in industries such as International Flavors and Fragrances (IFF) who are presently cutting thousands of acres of Juniperus ashei in central Texas for cedarwood oil to make various perfumes and fragrances. Dr. Adams is currently investigating some local differences in these oils with IFF in order to be able to predict which trees have high and desirable oil yields for future cedar plantations.

Plant oils also play a key role in defense against insects and Dr. Adams has worked closely with members of the U.S. Forest Service at Fort Collins, Colorado on problems involving control of the pine bark beetle. Dr. Adams reports that higher prices for crude oil have caused a resurgence of interest in hydrocarbons produced by plants. Dr. Melvin Calvin, University of California, Berkeley, has recently reported an estimated yield of ten barrels of crude oil (equivalent) per acre in 7 months growth of Auphorbia species in California. Guayule (the desert rubber plant) is also receiving attention as a source of rubber in Mexico and the southwestern U.S. The Jobopa plant of the southwestern U.S. produces seeds with a high content of a liquid wax which can replace the sperm whale oil. With the current low prices for grains and high price of crude oil, Dr. Adams feels the time is right for the introduction of non-food crops into the Great Plains agriculture—a plant that will produce fuel!

Several plants are being examined in preliminary studies at the SRC-Gruver, before research funds will be sought from the Department of Energy (DOE). These plants include milkweeds, Euphorbia species, sages, mints, and plants in the sunflower family. Dr. Adams reports that many of the thousands of species that produce oil are found in deserts and would need little additional water to grow in the High Plains. Although some of the plant oils could be mixed directly with gasoline today, Dr. Adams is quick to point out that many years of breeding and field trials will likely be needed before a new "fuel" crop is added to the agriculture of the High Plains.

TO THE TEENAGER WITH NOTHING TO DO

Three teenage boys, prodigies of the slams but of a very good eastern suburb of Cleveland, have been found guilty of 11 burglaries. Why do they commit them? They had "nothing to do."

This one invites us to pass a message to the teenager: "Always we hear the plaintive cry of the teenager: 'What can we do? Where can we go? The answer is clear: Go home! Hang the storm windows, paint the woodwork, rake the leaves, mow the lawn, wash the car, learn to cook, scrub the floors, repair the sink, build a boat, get a job. Help the minister, priest or rabbi. Help the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Visit the sick, assist the poor, study your lessons, and when you're through, and not too tired, read a book."

Your parents do not owe you entertainment. Your community does not owe you recreational facilities. The world does not owe you a living. You owe the world something. You owe the world your time and your energy and your talents so that no one will be at war, in poverty, or sick, or lonely, again.

In plain, simple words: Grow up! Quit being a crybaby. Get out of your dream world and develop a backbone, act a whippersnapper acting like a man or woman.

You're supposed to be mature enough to accept some of the responsibility your parents have carried for years. They have nursed, protected, helped, supported, loved, educated, tolerated and denied the pleasures needed constant so that you could have everything. You have no right to expect them to bow to your every whim and fancy. In heaven's name, grow up and go home!"

Special styles, fabrics and seams make homesewn winter "wraps" reversible. Coats with the "big look" are especially suitable for an easy reversible style. They side-step the need for lining and difficult tailoring or fitting. Choose fabrics that look as good on the wrong side as on the right side—for reversible garments. Wool melton is a good fabric for a jacket, coat or cape. Use flat-felled seams for a neat seam finish for reversible garments. To make a flat-felled seam:

1. Place wrong sides of fabric together and machine stitch the seam allowance.
2. Press seam allowance open and then press it toward the back.
3. Trim the bottom seam allowance as straight as possible to one-fourth inch.
4. Turn under the raw edge of the top allowance to cover the trimmed seam allowance and pin in place.
5. Machine stitch the folded seam allowance to the garment.

Two rows of stitching will show on the outside and one row on the inside. Use contrasting thread to add a decorative touch. INADEQUATE WIRING SIGNS Spot "warning signs" of inadequate wiring—and save money. Three signs can indicate inadequate wiring in the home: —TV picture "winces" or shrinks in size when an appliance is plugged in. —fuses blow or circuit breakers trip too frequently. —lights flicker and dim when appliances are turned on. In addition to causing inconvenience, these signs indicate that appliances are wasting money when they cannot perform their full jobs. Too many appliances running on the same circuit can cause a "voltage drop." With a voltage drop of only 10 percent, a lamp loses 30 percent of its light and heating appliances produce at only 70 percent efficiency. When remodeling a house, be sure to install adequate wiring for present and future needs. Many homes over 15 years old need wiring improvements to match today's life style.

Corn once grew wild in the highlands of southern Mexico. The pre-Columbian Indians "tamed" it and brought it north where it now satisfies even the most cultivated taste.

Some people say that when conditions don't open in the morning it will rain that day.

A General Telephone Communications Consultant is a highly trained communications specialist.

His primary job is to help business customers like you plan, maintain and improve your phone systems. Efficiently and economically.

The Commissioners Court of Hansford County met in regular session in the Courthouse in Spearman Monday, Jan. 23, to consider several agenda items, among them being approval of a mutual fire protection agreement with the City of Spearman.

Under terms of the agreement the county will pay $100 per fire call outside the city limits as well as dig 20 per cent of the pits at the city dump ground and, when possible, assist in digging additional pits it was reported. In addition to the cost per fire call outside the city limit, the county will continue to maintain the fire truck housed at the station in Spearman and utilized in fire fighting activities. The county also has trucks at Gruver and Morse.

After consideration of the cost of meals for prisoners in the county jail, the future rate per meal per prisoner was set at $1.50.

Purchase of two metal file cabinets, 4-drawer type, for the county clerk's office was authorized.

Consideration of a pipeline agreement for Phillips Petroleum Co. was delayed until a meeting next month.

In other business, the minutes of the last meeting were accepted, the treasurer's report for the month was accepted and payment of claims as presented was authorized.

Shower Held

Members of the Town and Country Home Demonstration Club hosted an informal baby shower for a member, Mrs. Jerry (Cindy) Holton on Tuesday, January 17 at the home of Mrs. Carl Kunselman.

Each member brought a gift which Mrs. Holton opened at the party.

Main center of attention was Mrs. Holton's baby son, Jason, who was born in December.

Country roads are almost always sixty-six feet wide because that was the width of the original surveyor's chain.

Courson Named In Perryton

Several Spearman citizens attended the Perryton Chamber of Commerce Banquet on Monday night. The banquet was served by members of the Jaycees and Chamber members. Entertainment for the evening was by Sharon Garrison, who is well known in the area for her singing.

Highlight of the evening was the awarding of the Citizen of the Year to Mayor Harold Courson of Perryton. Mr. Courson is one of our finest Panhandle citizens and he and his family well deserved the award.

Those from Spearman attending the banquet included, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wysong, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Woodington, and Billy Miller and Claude Newell.

Spearman Invitational B-team tournament Jan. 26, 27, 28 - 1978

Wheat Growers 92-54

The Spearman B-Team lost a thriller to the Boys Ranch B team in overtime at Lynx gym Tues. night 10-6. It was a heart-breaker for the local B teamers, as they prepared for the opening of their own tourney this week.

In the varsity game, the Lynx ran "rough-rough" over a good boys ranch team, as they won 92-54. Jones was the big gun for the Lynx, as he hit 26 points on offense and had about as many rebounds on defense. Sherwood hit 17 pts., Barber 6, Poole 1, Jones 26, Newton 11, Redd 15, Shields 13, Whitaker 2, McLean 20, Filamel 10 points. If the River road team defeats Canadian boys in the first half of conference play, the Lynx will automatically win the first half of the district 1-A race. They have already clinched a tie for first place, as they are 4-0 in district play. Both the boys and girls will travel to Panhandle Friday night for the biggest game of the year! Plan to follow the teams this Friday, and bring home a championship! The second half of play in the district will begin next week!

How Can I Quit Smoking?

The Texas Inter-Agency Council on Smoking and Health has designated the week of January 8 through 14 as Smoking Education Week. According to the American Lung Association 1976-1977 Annual Report, the latest survey on smoking attitudes shows that nine out of ten smokers say they would quit if there were an easy way.

The biggest number of requests for help received by mail and by phone in the Top of Texas Area Lung Association office in Amarillo are from people who want to quit smoking. Some of them say, "I'm desparately need to stop smoking." The big question is HOW?

MOTIVES
Medical specialists tell us the smoker must really want to quit. Often the adult smoker has an extremely strong motive for quitting. A doctor has warned that smoking is harmful to that person's health. Or the adult smoker may have a child with asthma or other lung disease which is aggravated by the parent's smoking. Cessation is imperative. These smokers feel miserably guilty about their habit. The motive is there; so we come back to the big question -- HOW?

METHODS
Most of the Lung Association's callers say right away that they can't afford commercial cessation clinics. Many of them want to know if there are groups, something like a smoker's anonymous, they can join. Such groups have been tried. One conclusion, from THE JOURNAL OF THE AMERICAN CANCER MEDICAL ASSOCIATION is that "Anti-smoking clinics seem to attract particularly anxious individuals who do badly, and some of them may need psychiatric treatment." But many responsible sources advocate a buddy system. A list of tips in CLINICAL NOTES ON RESPIRATORY DISEASES for fall of 1975 suggests organizing a voluntary group at work, or two smokers making a pact between them.

No guilt or shame as a motive, but resolve as a method works for some. One big white lapel button says in red letters: "I choose not to smoke." A young farm worker found he couldn't chase cattle back into the pasture through the broken fence without painful shortness of breath. He took his partially-smoked pack of cigarettes from his shirt pocket, flung it away and never bought another. He said, "I'm not going to let anything I can do without ruin my wind."

An interesting combination of buddy system, tapering off and one-day-at-a-time was successful in a small police department. The men began smoking just one cigarette less each day. Several were able to stop smoking entirely.

A woman who began smoking at the age of 15 chose a special tapering off method when she was 45. At that time she was smoking a very high tar and nicotine brand, one of the cigarette industry had touted as "smart" for women. She changed to a brand with slightly less tar and nicotine and smoked those for several weeks. Then she changed again to another brand with even less of the most harmful ingredients. Five brand changes brought her to the brand which had the least tar and nicotine of any on the market. She says she smokes fewer cigarettes but gains just as much pleasure from them as she did from smoking a large number of her original brand.

Some who have stopped smoking say they made smoking inconvenient for themselves. They never bought a carton, only packs and then never carried the pack on their person. Smoking became too much hassle for them.

One woman said she quit for aesthetic reasons. She overheard a man she admired speak of another woman who was elegant and immaculate, except for on "dirty habit." She smoked. The listener had visions of ashtrays filled with butts, of toddlers' hands reaching into them, of butts spilled all over a clean carpet. She began to associate smoking with "dirty habit," and it lost its appeal for her.

SUBSTITUTION
As a smoker tries cold turkey or tapering off, the most likely substitute for the desired satisfaction is food. Smoker converts to nibbler. However, studies show one smoker in four who quits actually loses weight; and for the three who gain, the situation is usually temporary.

They level off and go back to normal eating habits. If weight gain remains a concern, there are numerous helps available. The CLINICAL NOTES article mentioned above suggests these substitutions during early stages of breaking the smoking habit:

---Chew sugarless gum.
---Eat low calorie candy.
---Stretch, deep breathe or do isometric exercises when the urge to smoke comes over you.
---Alone or with a friend, swim, go for long walks or bike rides.
---Go dancing more often.

---If you're enthusiastic about a particular subject, carry a pocket-book about it. Take it out and read or look at the pictures each time you would otherwise reach for a cigarette.
---If you enjoy music, carry a transistor with an ear plug and turn onto music instead of nicotine at moments of temptation.

REWARDS
Not smoking soon produces a physical sense of physical well-being. One breathes more easily and deeply, coughs less or not at all. Food tastes better. The sense of smell is keener. With increased stamina, athletic pursuits are more fun.

One man put seventy-five cents a day in a piggy bank for every pack of cigarettes he didn't buy. He says he will have $13.25 by his 50th birthday--a fortune that might have gone up in smoke. Some who stop smoking very deliberately reward themselves with a longed-for present they couldn't have afforded if they'd continued spending $5, $10 or $15 a week on cigarettes.

Perhaps the number one reward of kicking the habit is the new knowledge that you have taken charge in an area of life in which you've experienced an alarming lack of control. You have really chosen not to smoke. Your Lung Association, nationally and in the 26 county Ton of Texas Area, is your ally whenever you want to quit smoking and in working to make smoking unattractive to children before the habit gets a hold on them. The Lung Association supports The Texas Inter-Agency Council on Smoking and Health in its Smoking Education Week and in its year-round efforts.

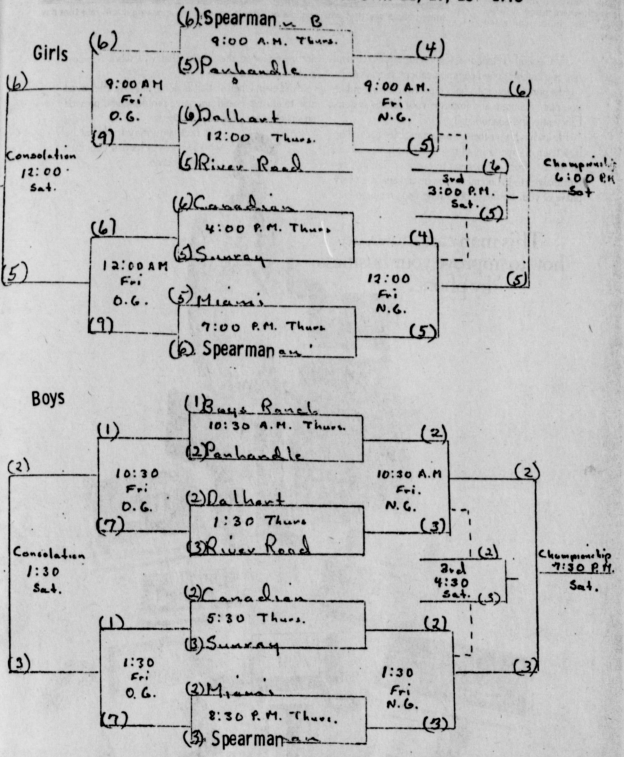

Wheat Growers Elect Officers

Winston Wilson, President of the Texas Wheat Producers Association has been elected as the Vice President of the National Association of Wheat Growers. The action came at the closing session of the four-day Twenty-Eighth Annual Convention of the organization Thursday, January 19, in Wichita, Kansas. Other officers elected were Glenn Moore, Willard, Montana as President and Jack Feigenhauer, Fairfield, Washington as Secretary.

Over 600 wheat producers from throughout the commercial wheat producing area of the nation braved winter snow and ice storms in their home areas as well as in the convention city to attend meetings. Secretary of Agriculture, Bob Bergland met with officers of the Association to discuss ways to immediately and in the long-run, strengthen farm income before addressing the membership session. Other key speakers included Sir Leslie Price, Chairman of the Australian Wheat Board. The chief spokesman for one of America's largest competitors in international markets pointed out that, "Sure, Australia will undercut you at $4.50 rather than at $2.50 so, Australia wishes American wheat producers will get your prices up."

During the business session of the national meeting, NAWG re-stated its long-standing belief in and work toward 100% parity of income for farmers relative to that of the rest of the economy. In a series of some sixty-two resolutions the group mapped plans and procedures toward achieving such a goal. These call for higher commodity loan prices, increased target prices, and expanded domestic and export market development programs. These actions would call for Administrative decision by the President and U.S. Dept. of Agriculture, legislative action by the Congress and greater voluntary participation by producers themselves in set-aside programs and especially in strengthened support of their wheat boards and commissions check-off programs for market development efforts.

Those attending the NAWG meeting from Texas other than Wilson, included: C.L. Edwards, Panhandle; W.R. Moore, Munday; Delbert Timmons, Perryton; Leo Wilkowski, Hereford; R.M. Lemon, Booker; Carter Williams, Muleshoe; Ron Kershen, Canyon; R.I. Cross with Santa Fe Railway in Amarillo and the Association executive officer, Bill Nelson of Amarillo. All of those attending had major committee assignments dealing with national organization's programs--from international marketing to public relations and from research & education to transportation.
