Lynx look good against Guymon!

The Spearman Lynx teams looked great against a fine Guymon team in a controlled scrimmage held here Friday evening. Although Guymon probably had the edge in overall statistics, the Lynx teams looked great according to many local fans.

The Lynx will travel to Booker this Friday night for another controlled scrimmage. The Kiowas from Booker will be equally strong and should furnish some extra sharp opposition for the Lynx JV and Varsity teams...

The scrimmage will begin at 6 p.m. for the JV teams. The Lynx have been working extremely hard in their two-a-days, and fans are looking forward to the opening game at White Deer.

Banks franchise taxes to local taxing units

State Comptroller Bob Bullock has sent checks totaling $61.6 million from the first collection of the state's new franchise tax on banks to 1,996 local taxing jurisdictions.

In a special session last year, the Legislature brought banks under the franchise tax for the first time and allocated receipts from the tax to cities, counties, school districts and other local taxing units where the banks are located.

Banks are taxed at the same rate as other Texas corporations. Previously, bank stocks were subject to local property taxes. The Legislature exempted the stocks from property taxes, substituting the new bank franchise tax. Collections are prorated among local taxing units based on their tax rates.

Hansford County received $13,524.88; Spearman Independent School District $15,890.82; Gruver Independent School District $5,068.97; North Plains Water Conservation District $389.85; North Plains Water District $626.71; Palo Duro River Authority $242.59.

Also the City of Spearman $16,246.70 and the City of Gruver $4,206.93.

Total to local taxing entities is $56,207.45.

School registration set

Registration for grades Kindergarten thru grade four will be Friday, August 30, 1985. Registration will be from 8:30 until 10:30. It is very important that you register your child on this date, for it will take longer for you to register your child on September 3, 1985, for we will be having school on that date.

New students that have moved into the district will register August 27th and August 28th from 9:00 until 12:00 each day. Also they will come in on August 30th from 8:30 until 10:30 to pick up information and meet their child's teacher.

Kindergarten students will need to bring their physical form and a copy of the Birth Certificate. They will not be able to register if they do not have the above information. If you could have a copy made of the Birth Certificate, we would appreciate it. The County Library has a copy machine and the charge isn't much.

Pre-enrollment of all Junior High students that were not enrolled in Spearman ISD last year, will be August 29 and 30, from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. at the Junior High School Office.

Tri State Fair Sept. 16 - 21

When you think of a fair, the first thing that comes to mind is the carnival midway, cotton candy, candied apples and special stage acts. All of these ingredients are a part of the fair, but probably the most important aspect of a fair are the events where people match their individual skills, goods and animals against each other for prizes, ribbons and other awards. The 1985 Amarillo Tri State Fair, scheduled for September 16-21, will offer over $58,000 in prize money, plus scores of ribbons, banners and trophies to winners in competitive events. In addition to the traditional livestock events, there will be competition between hundreds of people in the areas of aquarium, art, photography, ceramics, china painting, 4-H baked goods, vegetables, canned goods, bread, cakes, cookies and pies. Also knitting, sewing, embroidery, quilts, rugs and novelty items. All of the above events are judged prior to the opening of the fair and will be on display throughout the week for viewing by fair-goers. Don't miss the opportunity to see all of the above items at the Tri State Fair next month.

Neeley speaks to Rotarians

Rick Neeley with Data Processing Management in Amarillo was the speaker at Rotary Club Monday.

He began his speech about computers by saying that our computers began with digits (five on each hand) and a person that could compute. In 1642 a Frenchman named Pascal developed a "Language" for calculation. Then in 1890 Herman Card set up a system for placing the first U.S. census on punch cards. Card then formed a company named IBM. In 1934 the U.S. Army calculated cannon trajectory with a machine that used vacuum tubes.

About 1936 computers with magnetic cores were used. Then we went to transistors. Bell Labs got those up to a speed of 33,000 additions per second.

Now a Logic Chip 1/8 inch square can perform 100,000,000 multiplications per seconds and, the information can be typed with a laser printer that types 18,000 lines per minute.

Neeley, who works for Southwestern Public Service, said that there is enough information on one disc that would equal a book 135,000 feet tall.

Square dancing good exercise

Are you looking for an inexpensive hobby both you and your spouse and/or friends may share? Do you like fun and music? Are you interested in good exercise, meeting friendly people and becoming involved in social activities?

Square dancing will answer all the above questions! It is one of the least expensive recreations around, the fun and music abounds (with much laughter), and square dancing is known to burn 350 calories each hour (or in a 2 1/2 hour dance, 875 fat-producing calories) - beating out walking (210), cycling (210), and swimming (300). Also, you will meet and socialize with friendly people from all walks of life.

If you've never square danced before or need to re-learn after not dancing, call 659-2958, to express interest in lessons. If there's enough interest, lessons will be offered. CALL TODAY!!!

Lions-Rotarians to play slow pitch game

Coach "Buck" Schott issued a challenge to the Rotary club this week to engage the Lion's in a game of slow pitch.

The Rotarians accepted the challenge and the two clubs will meet on Saturday September 7th, 2 p.m. behind the YMCA building.

Coach Schott is an experienced slow pitch Coach and is very active in the Lions Club affairs.

New state laws in effect Sept. 1

Hundreds of new state laws take effect Sept. 1, and two in particular will change the habits of many Texans-mandatory auto seat belt use and repeal of the Sunday-closing Blue Law.

But the real effects of those laws may not be felt that first day.

The fines backing up the seat belt law won't start until Dec. 1 and many Texas retail stores already have thrown away their Sunday "closed" signs.

During the regular legislative session that ended May 27, the Senate and House passed a total of 1,024 bills. Some that got a two-thirds vote of approval became effective immediately, and others become effective 90 days after the session on May 26. But most become law on Sept. 1, the beginning of the state's new two-year business period.

The new seat belt law states that anyone in the front seat of a moving automobile or small pickup must be wearing a lap seat belt. State troopers first will give warnings to those not wearing the belts, but fines of $25 to $50 will be issued after Dec. 1.

Repeal of the Blue law is effective Sept. 1. The Blue Law, enacted in 1961 prohibited the sale of 42 items on consecutive Saturdays and Sundays, effectively banning Sunday sales of the items.

Probably the only store here that will come under this new law will be TG&Y with plans to be open this coming Sunday only for their Labor Day sale.

State college tuition will triple from $4 per semester hour to $12 the first year, then jump again to $16 in the fall of 1986. Non-resident tuition will go from $40 per semester hour to $120 for the next two years.

Drivers licenses will go from $10 to $16 for each four-year period; annual auto inspections jump from $5.25 to $7.75, with a two-year $15 levy on new cars.

It will cost $75 to file a lawsuit in district court instead of $25, except that child custody cases remain $25.

One bill passed by the Legislature that will affect many Texans will not be felt until 1986. It raises the drinking age from 19 to 21. Federal highway authorities said that if Texas failed to pass the law, it would lose $100 million in road building funds.

Also effective Sept. 1, counties must start planning and contracting to take over at least part of the cost of caring for those in their counties unable to pay hospital and doctor bills. After Sept. 1, 1986, counties must spend up to 10 percent of their general operating costs to help the needy ill.

There are more laws going into effect Sept. 1 but these are the ones that will apply to most people.

and twice filled tea and cola glasses, at no extra charge. It's not usual for restaurants to refill cola drinks and this was a surprise.

THE salad bar was adequate, though not up to Ponderosa's. The kidney bean soup that day was too spiced. There was no dessert, though one came with the extra price of the salad bar-$1.99.

THREE of us chose the sirloin tips, at $2.99. The meat was good and for that price one also gets a potato and vegetable (such as onions and green peppers from the grill.)

THIS may be the safest buy, the bargain buy, in this chain. The sirloin tips are all lean meat and easier handling for youngsters--than cutting a steak.

EATING OUT

By Rose Hughes

ONE chain steak house this writer formerly enjoyed and which, it was thought, had not recently kept up with such chains as Ponderosa (with its outstanding salad bar) is Western Sizzling Steak.

ON a recent visit, we're happy to report, the impression was that here they're trying harder.

PTA plans first meeting

A recent "Washington Post" article reported that "PTA may once have been viewed as a tea-sipping group of women baking cookies to raise money for band uniforms, but that view is no longer valid."

PTA has been recognized as a potent political force, locally and nationally, addressing such issues as drug dependency, sexual abuse of children, and declining academic standards," the article stated.

Today congressmen actively seek PTA's testimony at congressional committee hearings on education and children issues.

What does PTA mean to you as a member? The PTA is a non-profit, democratic voluntary organization whose membership is open to all persons who are concerned with the welfare of all children and youth. The national organization is made up of more than six million memberships. Its members belong to PTA's in the 50 states, Washington D.C., and the European PTA.

As a PTA member the PTA offers you the opportunity to attend meetings where you can learn about the school program, meet teachers, and meet other members. It also gives you the opportunity to join study discussion groups where you can come to recognize community problems, help to form a plan of action, and get into the action.

The Spearman PTA will kick off its 1985-86 membership drive on August 30 during Elementary registration from 8:30 a.m. to 10:00 a.m. Membership chairman, Sue Wooley hopes to have another successful membership drive in this the second year of reorganization of the Spearman PTA Annual dues are $5.00 for an individual membership and 18.00 for a family. The first meeting of the coming school year will be Sept. 23 at 7:30 p.m. in the Jr. High cafeteria. Get involved you'll be amazed at what we can accomplish.

Commissioners pass orders to comply with new laws

The county commissioners met Monday, August 26 in regular session. They took care of the usual business, approving minutes of last meeting and ordering bills paid.

They passed a resolution on overtime, asking that department heads not allow overtime except in case of emergency.

They also passed an order for the county treasurer to receive all deposits from the different offices within a maximum time of 30 days.

They also voted to allow the county treasurer to collect $15 on hot checks given to the county.

They borrowed money from Fund 8 to put in Fund 25 in order to finish paying for the chair lift and courthouse renovation. The money for this will be coming to the county in October from Revenue sharing but commissioners need to pay the bill now. The money will then be returned to Fund 8.

IRS offers free publications

Small business owners are being reminded by the Internal Revenue Service of two free publications that explain federal tax requirements and procedures.

Publication 334, "Tax Guide for Small Business," goes into detail on such subjects as setting up a tax records system, determining net income, and tax credits and business assets. Publication 583, "Information for Business Taxpayers," explains what a small business person needs to know to meet tax obligations, such as how to file forms and to compute the tax.

Taxpayers can obtain these free publications by calling the IRS number listed in their local phone directory.

It does not always take a change in the tax law for people to legally minimize their federal taxes. Current law contains a number of deductions and credits for those who engage in certain financial or other activities. Contrary to popular misconception these tax benefits are available to all taxpayers.

The key to minimizing federal taxes lies in careful tax planning. The IRS offers the following tax planning ideas.

IRA contributions not only increase your savings but also result in a tax deduction of up to $2,000 per working taxpayer.

Energy conservation expenditures on your residence will reduce your energy costs as well as provide a tax credit.

Educational expenses incurred in connection with enhancing your current job skills have not only the educational value but may be deductible.

Timing the purchase or sale of capital investments such as stocks can minimize taxes if the tax implication of long or short-term gains or losses is considered.

Sale of a home has a capital gain tax implication also. If you are over 55, up to $125,000 of such a gain may qualify for exclusion from taxes.

Moving expenses may qualify for a tax deduction.

To assist with tax planning, the IRS offers publications on over 80 topics.

DPS estimates 45 may die over holiday weekend

The Department of Public Safety estimates that as many as 45 persons may lose their lives in traffic accidents in Texas during the 78-hour Labor Day holiday period.

"This number is an estimate, not a prediction," said DSP Director Jim Adams. "We hope this number will prove to be far too high."

In 1984, 41 persons were killed in collisions during the holiday period, with five others dying later of injuries suffered on the Labor Day weekend.

In an effort to hold down the number of deaths, the DPS again this year will conduct Operation Motorcade, in which the deaths during the period beginning at 6 p.m. Friday, August 30 and ending at midnight Monday, September 2 will be counted with periodic reports being made to the news media.

"Our philosophy is that public awareness of the number of people who are dying on our streets and highways will make drivers more cautious and help reduce accidents," Adams said.

On September 1, Texas' new mandatory safety belt law goes into effect. The law provides a 90-day grace period before fines can be assessed.

"We're hoping Texas will start getting in the habit of using safety belts," Adams said. "If the vast majority of motorists make a conscious effort to buckle up during this Labor Day holiday period, we will see a dramatic decrease in the number of deaths."

Last year, 28 of the 46 persons who died were killed in accidents where speed or drinking were factors, Adams said.

"That amounts to 61 per cent of the fatalities for the period," the director continued. "The message to Texas motorists is obvious: speeding and drunk driving kill."

In addition to conducting Operation Motorcade, the DPS will place additional troopers on duty to deal with the higher volume of traffic anticipated during the period.

Senator Bill Sarpalius

Reports

TEXANS OK DRINKING AGE, SEAT BELTS

AUSTIN — Texans, apparently by an overwhelming majority, approve of our efforts to raise the legal drinking age from 19 to 21. And, they also appear to be giving tentative support to the state's new mandatory seat belt law.

Those were the results of the most recent Texas Poll, conducted by Texas A&M University's Public Policy Resources Laboratory. The poll indicates a whopping 82 percent of all Texans support our Senate Bill 21, which raises the legal drinking age, and 56 percent approve of the law requiring all Texans to buckle up.

We're not particularly surprised at the overwhelming support accorded S.B. 21. We knew from the beginning that most Texans had become convinced that raising the drinking age will save lives.

Statistics show beyond any doubt that states with a 21-year-old drinking age have fewer alcohol-related fatalities than those without such a law. Reports from our own Department of Public Safety indicate a disproportionate number of Texans under age 21 are involved in alcohol-related fatalities.

If there was any surprise in the drinking-age poll, it's the strong support the bill enjoys among younger people. Half of those surveyed who were between 18 and 21 support the bill. Among those 18 to 29, approval was 78 percent.

We find such backing extremely gratifying. After the law goes into effect Sept. 1, 1986, we're confident the resulting drop in the fatality rate will prove that support was worthwhile.

Though the drinking-age survey merely confirmed what we already suspected, the results of the seat belt questionnaire came as a pleasant surprise. We backed the mandatory seat belt law with mixed emotions, so we're happy to see Texans beginning to warm to the idea.

At the time the bill was introduced, we seriously questioned whether a mandatory seat belt law would be too intrusive, whether government would be stepping too far into everyday lives. Most of all, we resented the federal government telling us we had to pass a law, as it was telling us in this case.

Finally, we decided the federal government's interference could be ignored in this one instance because so many lives were at stake. We also decided forced buckling up did not represent a loss of essential liberty. The bottom line, of course, is that lives are going to be saved.

Already a majority of Texans agree with our reasoning. We think the benefits of the law will become evident after Sept. 1, when the law takes effect. As lives begin to be saved, the mandatory seat belt law may enjoy just as much support as S.B. 21.

If you have any questions about the drinking age, the mandatory seat belt law or other issues, please write us at P.O. Box 12068, Austin, TX, 78711.

Now have volunteers for Hansford County

MARY FRANCES ELLZEY

Guess what! We now have volunteers from Hansford and Lipscomb counties!

But we had twice as many interested inquiries as we ultimately had volunteers. Why?

Apparently many inquirers balk at the idea of a screening. This sounds formidable to them. But the screening is done by our director, Helen Bussey. She is a most sympathetic interviewer, and you will enjoy talking with her whether or not you "pass." Two of our current volunteers I had to take by the hand and lead to her. They were glad I did. This initial screening is valuable not only for the sake of the client with whom you will be dealing, but also for your own sake. Occasionally we find a volunteer who is so sensitive to the situations to which she will be ministering that she is unable to commit herself to the task. It's somewhat like the doctor who does not prescribe for his own family: he's too involved to be able to do a good job, or he gets so emotionally distressed that he suffers from the responsibility. The screening is to help determine whether you can be sufficiently detached to be a good counselor.

This is not a criticism of those who are unable to take an objective view. I can remember a time when I very nearly fainted when my little sister was getting a shot. Another time, much later, when I was reading a book on obstetrics, I became so faint that I had to lie down to continue my reading! To know me now, you would never guess I had ever had a such a problem.

Sometimes an anxious husband disapproves of his wife's becoming a volunteer. For his reassurance, let me say that the risk is minimal. Your identity is never disclosed to the client. You are known simply by whatever name you choose for identifying yourself to the director and the office manager. No one else knows your true identity, no even the other volunteers unless you yourself choose to give it. Furthermore, you choose the times during which you wish to be on call. You never go to the house of the victim, nor do you ever bring the victim to your own house. If it is necessary for the client to return to her own home, she goes either alone (if the risk seems reasonable) or with a friend, or, if necessary, with a police escort. Unless you are willing to be on call more often, the chances of your services being needed more than once a month are nil.

Next the training. This sounds like an ordeal. But it isn't. The training teaches you what options are open to the client. You can then present them to her for her own decision. You do not make that decision. It teaches you how to deal with a client who is crying, and, to say the least of it, upset. This can vary from a simple face-to-face talk to a visit to the hospital or a doctor.

How do you approach a client? How do you minister to her? These and other questions are answered for you in the training process. The training is not arduous, though it does involve several hours. It is always interesting.

In addition to the training, the volunteers attend one in-service session of from one to two hours a month in order to keep updated on procedures and for mutual support and social occasions.

So don't be intimidated by the fact that you have to knowledge of how to meet such situations. If you come through the initial screening still believing in your willingness and ability to become a volunteer, your education will be sufficient to give you confidence. Furthermore, new volunteers are accompanied on their initial visits to a client (which is always in a neutral zone, away from the area of distress) by a more seasoned volunteer.

Very soon your husband (if you have one) will himself become convinced that you are dealing safely with a very important service. And you too will become enriched by your contribution to a painful and growing need.

So if you feel an impulse to volunteer - follow that impulse! Call 435-5008!

And guess what again! The Perryton Jaycees donated the funds for us to buy a second-hand copier from the Booker School system, which needed a more sophisticated type, with enough money left over to buy the service contract for it. Now we don't have to run from pillar to post to get our material copied! Isn't that great?

To God a note of Thanks

By: Mrs. E.A. Greever

Friends the Holy Bible tells us that God is love. John 3:16 For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in him should not perish but have ever lasting life. Eph. 5:25-27 Christ loved the church and gave himself for it that he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word that he might present it to himself a glorious church not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing but that it should be hold and without blemish. Oh thank God I've found this is true and the following by inspiration is words of a song entitled, "The secret place of love." Verse 1 Under the blood I would hide till the storms of live subside there abiding in a secret place of love. There is peace and contentment there the joy of salvation race feeling his presence in this secret place of love. Chorus. Love that is untold love that never grows old O what wonderful love the Saviour had for me I know either death nor life in this world of sin and strife can move me from this secret place of love. Verse 2 O the love he had for me dying on the cruel tree brought me to this secret place of love. Here am I dear Lord today what can I do for thee while I'm living in this secret place of love. Verse 3 Oh how I love his voice knowing he made me his choice that I might enjoy a secret place of love some day I'll hear him say rise up and come away and dwell forever in a secret place of love. Now why do we call it a secret place of love? Answer - In Deut. 29:29 we read. The secret things belong unto God but those things which are revealed belong unto us and to our children forever that we may do all the words of the law. (The law was fulfilled in Christ.) 1 Cor.

2:9-10 Eye hath not seen nor ear heard neither have entered into the heart of man the things which God hath prepared for them that love him but God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit for the Spirit searcheth all things yea the deep things of God.

WTUS professor has poetry published

Dr. Jerry Craven, professor in West Texas State University's department of language, literature, and journalism, has published selections from his book of poetry, "The Book of the Weaver," in the most recent issue of "Liberal and Fine Arts Review."

The poems are dramatic lyrics from watershed moments in the life of Roxanne Weaver, a fictional character. They deal with her discovery of love at age 17, her wedding (a male dominated ceremony in which Roxanne is given to her husband by her father like so much property exchanging hands), the worsening of the marriage, and finally her divorce.

Craven wrote the collection of poems while on faculty development leave in the spring of 1984. A committee of readers from the Review, published by Eastern New Mexico University, selected six. Eleven other poems from the collection have been published in other poetry journals, including one translated into Spanish by WTSU professor Helen Wossum.

Dance exercise classes offered

Feeling the end-of-summer blahs? Ready for a change? Didn't shape up and lose weight like you wanted to this summer? Are you an exercise "drop-out"? If any or all of the above apply to you, join a dance-exercise class at the Y.M.C.A. and have fun while you whittle away the inches and bum fat.

The class starts out with warm-up stretches and movements to prepare your muscles for the aerobic portion of the class. This aerobic part is from 35 to 40 minutes of fat-burning, easy to learn, simple rhythmic dance movements that are so much easy to learn, simple rhythmic dance movements that are so fun you can't believe it's exercise! During this portion of the class, your working heart rate is carefully monitored by the instructor to make sure it's high enough to burn fat but not so high as to be harmful. This is very important! Safely, both for the heart and muscles, is the by-word of this class. Last is the cool-down to gradually bring the body to its normal state. There are 20 to 25 minutes of spot exercises included to tighten the upper and lower abdomen, shape the hips, thighs, and bottom, and firm the "flab" on the arms (light weights are used during the arm exercises).

These classes are offered Mondays, Wednesday, and Fridays from 4:15 to 5:00, Tuesdays and Thursdays from 6:30 to 7:30, and Saturdays from 9:30 to 10:30 (A.M.).

The instructor for the dance-exercise classes is Wanda Archer, certified Jazz-Dance and Fitness Fantasia teacher.

Call the Y.M.C.A. or Wanda for details. New classes for the fall begin Labor Day week (on Tuesday).

Congressman Beau Boulter Reports from Washington

'85 FARM BILL DEMANDS ATTENTION

In the past three weeks I have talked to farmers in 20 counties throughout the 13th District. And after hearing what those farmers had to say, I decided it was time that I talk with the Secretary of Agriculture, John Block, about the agricultural crises I was seeing and hearing about first hand.

My primary concern, when I spoke with Mr. Block, was the wheat program. As the farmers know all too well, it's time for them to begin planting, and to date, they have gotten no indication from the federal government about what the wheat program for '86 will look like. Besides being unfair, it is highly impractical to have farmers planting without the benefit of planning. In my opinion, you don't put the cart before the horse, and you don't plant under a federal program if you have no real idea of what the federal program is going to be.

Although he couldn't be specific, Secretary Block gave me fairly strong assurance that the wheat set aside will come in somewhere on the high side between 20 and 30 percent. It's not exact, but at least it can provide our wheat farmers with a guideline.

That still leaves us with the very big question of what the 1985 Farm Bill will contain, unanswered. As reports continue to come in of some of the most bountiful crop harvests in years, increased pressure is put on Congress to come up with a farm bill that provides some solutions — long term solutions — to the problems farmers are facing.

As many farmers have told me, what is the glory of having a good year, a good harvest, when you know there isn't going to be a market out there for the crop? In 1981 a farmer could get $4.21 per bushel for his wheat. Today, despite government programs, set-asides, and cutbacks, that bushel of wheat sells for as low as $2.65.

The 1985 Farm Bill has got to take into account the problems our agricultural exports face overseas, and the need to open up our foreign markets. Otherwise, we are going to continue to see farmers put in a position of having a large crop with the U.S. government as the primary customer.

The way things are right now, at harvest time, the government makes loans to growers of wheat, corn, cotton and other major crops to cover operating costs until farmers can sell the crops at the best prices. Loan rates are expressed in a per-bushel or bale rate set for each crop, and repayment is due at the end of a specified period of time. However, since crops are used as loan collateral, many farmers default on their loans if market prices fall below loan rates. The government ends up buying the surplus, incurring added costs for storage and spoilage.

There have been many number of suggestions made as to how best to run the Farm Program. Ideally, of course, agriculture should be allowed to operate solely in a free market system. However, because of unfair trade practices and agricultural subsidy programs in other countries, American farmers are at a devastating disadvantage on the export market. The 1985 Farm Bill must be designed to meet these problems head on. It should contain sections that would promote U.S. exports with good conservation measures, in hopes of increasing farm prices in the near future.

Because American farmers are dependent on world markets for the sale of their commodities, any omnibus farm program must recognize and incorporate this fact. If we in Congress are to produce a farm bill which provides equitable income protection to farmers, innovative solutions to our current problems will undoubtedly be required.

That is why we have got to look at the overall economic picture when addressing the Farm Bill. We must actively pursue a course that will enable us to lower interest rates, reduce the value of the dollar, and lower overall production in a fair way, if we are going to be competitive in foreign markets and realize our goal of increased prices and profits.

Among The Neighbors

Joe Mike and Dee Bryan and two sons returned to their home in Houston after several days visit in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dan Bryan. Joe Mike is a hydrology engineer for Brown & Root Construction Company. While they were here, Joe Dan entered St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo where he is currently undergoing treatments. Mrs. Bryan is staying in Amarillo during the treatments.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Larson, the Jack Oakes, and the Bill Jackson returned after spending about ten days in the Colorado mountains. Most of the time they spent in the Durango and San Valley areas. They were in South Fork also and visited the John Allens who are fishing there.

Katie Marshall took her son, Todd, to Six Flags in Dallas over the week-end. They drove thru rain enroute, but had good weather and enjoyed a pleasant week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lemons visited her mother, Mrs. Myrtle Henderson, in Panhandle on Sunday.

For all the neighbors who have been curious about the new house being erected east of the high school, out of the city limits it is Bobby and Teresa Browns. It is a log-home-new to this area-the pin logs are brought in from North Carolina. Bobby is the contractor and sub-lets the construction. It is approximately 3000 square feet. Bobby, Teresa and their four children eagerly awaiting completion. John and Wanda Brown, next door, are equally eager.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Cline, Grady and Bethany, returned from several days vacation in the mountains of Colorado. They enjoyed Colorado Springs and Aspen. The children were impressed, in the middle of summer, by snowing at Independence Pass.

Kyle Keim of Clovis, New Mexico, plans to attend high school in Spearman this fall. He will be making his home with his grandmother, Verma Gail Keim. Verma Gail is polishing up on conjugating verbs, etc., in order to assist with home work, again, after many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sutton attended the funeral of her uncle in Colorado Springs the past week. Mr. H.S. Loveless, 90 years old, had visited in Spearman many times with his twin brother, who died about four years ago. Mr. Loveless was the last of his family. Mr. and Mrs. Wally Berner and Ed also attended.

Hollie and Earl Riley enjoyed re-newing contacts with old friends at the Perryton celebration this past week-end. They took the sound car and assisted with the wagon train in the parade.

E.J. and Bernice Callaway have been entertaining, or perhaps being entertained, by grandchildren, Kara and Tyron Lee. They are the children of Dr. and Mrs. Jock Lee of Fritch and Mrs. Lee was in the hospital after surgery. The children met their other grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Lee in Amarillo and enjoyed the air show on Saturday.

Jock and Janice Lee will be glad to see fall arrive and end a summer of mishaps. In addition to the surgery, in early August their home was struck by lightning and sustained heavy damage. Earlier Jock had turned over in the four-wheeler in the Canadian river and suffered minor injuries.

Mrs. E.A. Greever has had house guest this month whom many here will remember. Laura Rowl and Tooley of Kerrville, who lived with the Greevers and went to school in Spearman many years ago.

On Saturday, Mrs. Tooley's daughter, Mrs. Ladonna Priest, and daughter arrived to take her to Kerrville. They live in Stockton, California. They stayed in the home of the Tom Suttons while in Spearman.

Tommie White and Gordon Cummings participated in the team tournament of fishing at Possum Kingdom over the week-end. They have entered the tournament before and usually won, but this time they came in 5th. There was a multitude of entrants. The weather was very hot, but calm.

Neighbors are always interested in, and proud of, the high school graduates. Because of this interest, a list of where they are continuing their education would be appreciated. Below follows a partial list: West Texas State University- Canyon; Rosa Pierce, Maria Garcia, Shiela Schneider, Donna Martin, Joanne Odogaarde, David Sorgi, Danny Ralston, Brian Davis, Ross Bulls, Kevin Slater, Carla Latta, Tiki Jackson. Answering the following yes and no questions can be a simple test to determine whether you're overspending:

- Is an increasing percentage of your income going to pay off debts?
- Are you near or at the limit on your lines of credit?
- Are you extending repayment schedules - paying in 60 or 90 days, bills that you once paid in 30 days?
- Can you make only the minimum payments on your revolving charge accounts?
- Are you paying bills with money set aside for something else?
- Are you borrowing to pay for items you used to buy with cash?
- Are you chronically late in paying your bills?
- Is your savings cushion inadequate or nonexistent?
- Do you take out a new loan before the old one is paid off, or take out a new loan to pay off the old loan?
- Do you put off medical or dental visits because you can't afford them right now?

Are you threatened with repossession of your car or credit cards, or with other legal action?

Are you working overtime just to make ends meet?

If you lost your job, would you be in immediate financial difficulty?

Are you unsure about how much you owe?

Do you worry a lot about money when you are on the job?

A "yes" answer to any of these questions is a warning signal. One "yes" may not mean disaster, but it is an sign that you need to review your spending habits and possibly make some changes.

CANCER: The GOOD News

CANCER:
The GOOD News - Part 2

DETECTION DEPENDS ON YOU

Tim Dillard describes himself as "just a country boy from Cross Plains," yet he dreams of traveling to faraway places someday.

Now 24, Dillard dares to share some of those dreams -- especially about going to Hawaii -- because he appears to be winning his personal war against cancer. He is also busy running the flower shop he owns and planning improvements for the garden he enjoys in his hometown near Abilene.

"I thank the good Lord every day that I've been so fortunate. The doctors in Houston said I had a pretty bad case -- and there were times when I felt like I might not make it," Dillard recalls.

Testicular cancer is the type he had. Although relatively uncommon, it strikes young men between 18 and 35, often interrupting their college or career plans. Dillard had never heard about testicular cancer until his diagnosis was confirmed in late 1981, but he has plenty to say about it now.

"Every young man needs to know that a lump or pain in his testicles could be serious. There's no time to waste in getting to a doctor," Dillard says.

The cure rate for testicular cancer when the tumors are contained inside the testicle is virtually 100 percent. Even when the malignancies have spread, as Dillard's cancer had to be one of his lungs and several lymph nodes, surgery along with potent anti-cancer drugs can successfully treat 75 percent or more patients. Radiation therapy also may be used in some cases.

Dillard had two operations and multiple courses of chemotherapy at The University of Texas M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute at Houston. He has been free of any signs of cancer for nearly two years.

Curing testicular cancer and many other malignancies depends in large part on men and women of all ages paying attention to warnings from within their bodies and looking for clues among their loved ones.

Being cancer-conscious means women take a few minutes each month to examine their breasts for lumps and men check periodically for enlarged -- and usually painless -- testicles. Both of these habits should begin during the teen years.

Other early warning signs that might signal cancer include changes in bowel or bladder habits, unusual bleeding, sores that don't heal, altered appearances of warts and moles, persistent hoarseness, nagging coughs, difficulty in swallowing and any unexplained bumps or lumps.

"Detecting most cancers early can mean the difference between cure and a poorer prognosis for many people. It is imperative that people seek medical help the moment they notice something out of the ordinary," maintains Dr. Helmuth Goepfert, chairman of head and neck surgery at M.D. Anderson Hospital.

"One message we simply must get across is that people cannot be treated successfully for most cancers until they replace their fears with facts. Getting accurate information and, in some cases, second opinions is everyone's right and responsibility," Dr. Goepfert notes.

Regular breast self-examination by millions of American women gets credit for improving breast cancer survival rates over the past 20 years. Women over 50 and those who have a family history of this type are at increased risk for breast cancer, which affects one in nearly every 10 women in this country.

Dianna Landrum practiced breast self-examination, yet she didn't notice "a funny lump" in her right breast until trying on new clothes in May of 1983. She sought a second medical opinion for the initial diagnosis and soon afterward chose to have both breasts removed because the specialist said her type of malignancy frequently recurred in the opposite breast.

"I didn't want to face a second mastectomy down the road," she recalls.

Landrum, now 39, remembers thinking she was "too young" to have breast cancer. After the bilateral mastectomy -- a modified radical on her right breast and much simpler procedure on the left breast -- she chose to undergo reconstructive surgery.

"My husband, Ben, was very supportive at every step . . . and soon after the reconstruction was completed he took me on a cruise to celebrate. I was able to wear low-cut bathing suits, sun dresses, a revealing evening gown and other clothes that never would have been possible otherwise," she said.

Having three children, ages 11 to 16, means diverse activities for the Landrum, who live in the Woodlands north of Houston. "Recently,

I felt wonderful when I was able to ride the rapids again in New Braunfels," she confided.

More options than ever are available now for women diagnosed with breast cancers, although there is debate among medical specialists on the best approaches for some types. Limited surgery combined with radiation therapy is becoming more common for smaller tumors. This regimen not only saves most of the breast tissues but is has produced treatment results equal to more radical operations in many studies. Chemotherapy is being used with increasing success to prevent recurrences and to treat breast cancers which have spread to other body sites.

There is no debate, however, on the value of women practicing regular breast self-examination, perhaps after the monthly menstrual period. Professional breast examinations should be done at least every three years from age 20 to 40, and annually thereafter.

National guidelines also have been approved advising women to have low-dose X-ray tests called mammograms at varying intervals to pick up extremely small lesions, some as tiny as a pencil eraser. A baseline mammogram is recommended for most women between ages 35 and 39, then every one to two years between 40 and 49, and annually after age 50. Women at higher risk for breast cancer and those with abnormal mammographic findings should be followed more closely.

"Tremendous progress has been made in the last 10 years in both earlier detection and therapy for breast cancer. When found early and treated promptly, it is one of the most curable types," notes Dr. Eleanor D. Montague, a radio-therapist at M.D. Anderson.

Early detection of cervical cancer has been a real success story, largely due to women having routine pelvic examinations. By doing the Pap smear test periodically, physicians can pick up very tiny cancers before any symptoms occur and while these are virtually 100 percent curable.

Other common tests used to help find colon and rectal cancers include the digital rectal exam, the hidden stool blood test and proctosigmoidoscopy, in which a flexible, lighted tube enables doctors to inspect the rectum and portions of the colon. Analysis of sputum and chest X-rays are screening techniques available for lung cancer.

Food price increase not found in farmers pockets

The president of the Texas Farmers Union noted the U.S. government's July report on the Producer Price Index, which indicated that prices at the producer level increases 0.3 percent in July, due mainly to the increase of the price of food.

"Food prices are going up in the supermarket, but study after study tell us that farmers are getting less and less of the food dollar," says Joe Rankin, president of the family farmer organization.

The monthly index that Rankin referred to measures the increase in prices of manufactured or finished goods that are to be sold to final users, either consumers or businesses.

"The increase in the Producer Price Index means little to the consumer; it translates into a very low annual inflation rate," according to Rankin.

"But it does have strong symbolism for farmers and ranchers. Prices are at the lowest point ever for agriculture, versus what it costs farmers and ranchers to produce agriculture products. So where are the increases going? To the processors and the packagers, and farmers are still not able to make a profit."

"There are obviously problems in the American society when farmers and ranchers receive such a small proportion of the consumer's dollar, and those hard-to-pinpoint middlemen get the lions share of that dollar. As Congress moves to debate the 1985 Farm Bill this coming September, the American consumer must recognize that eventually we could lose our cheap source of food if current agriculture policies are continued."

The Texas Farmers Union and other agricultural organizations are working on the quadrennial writing of the nation's food and fiber legislation this fall. Policy will be determined for the next four years by Congress on items ranging from farm price supports to soil and water conservation. The TFU has endorsed federal legislation that would control the supply of major agricultural commodities, instead of paying support prices to farmers and ranchers.

Marriage Encounter

"I would like to offer the strongest endorsement for a program called Marriage Encounter...this program is the best I've seen for improving the quality of communication within the family."

Dr. James C. Dobson
author of Dare to Discipline and president of Focus on the Family, from his book Love Must Be Tough.

Spearman area couples are being offered a unique opportunity to participate in a Marriage Encounter weekend September 7th and 8th. Spearman First Christian Church is sponsoring the event at Perryton's Ambassador Inn. The Marriage Encounter begins Saturday, September 7th with registration at 8 a.m. and continues until Sunday, September 8th at 5 p.m.

Marriage Encounter is a Christian Movement, open to couples of all faiths, designed to give married persons the opportunity to examine their lives together in a face-to-face, heart-to-heart encounter with the one person they have chosen to live with for the rest of their lives. The emphasis is on communication between husband and wife and, except for introductions, participants are not asked to share with anyone but their spouses. Three team couples from the Fort Worth area, trained and prepared beforehand, set the atmosphere for open and loving dialogue.

Marriage Encounter is for all marriages, for all couples who desire to deepen their love. There is no age limit. Newly-married couples and couples married over 50 years have made Encounters.

"Frankly, I attended [Marriage Encounter] for professional reasons, not expecting to get anything relevant to my wife and me. If there is anything I felt Shirley and I didn't need it was help in communicating. I have rarely been so wrong."

Dr. Dobson

The Marriage Encounter is developed in the following cycle:

1 Presentation
The team shares their personal experiences relating to a particular aspect of married life, then gives questions pertaining to the talk.

2 Personal Reflection
Each person individually is given time to reflect and write down his/her personal feelings in response to the questions.

3 Couple Dialogue
In the privacy of their own rooms, the spouses are given time to exchange notebooks and dialogue in an effort to better understand each other.

"The beauty of the Marriage Encounter is that it has the ability to float to wherever the need is greatest."

Dr. Dobson

This Marriage Encounter is unique in that ordinarily couples have to travel to large cities to attend. This Encounter, through the efforts of Spearman First Christian's education committee, is being brought from the big city to our rural area. The team couples receive no salary for their time or effort. They believe strongly in the benefits of Marriage Encounter and are eagerly anticipating their trip to share with Spearman area couples.

To make reservations for this Marriage Encounter weekend or for further information, call Bob and Candy Boxwell at 659-3450, Larry and Marsha Murphy at 659-3972 or First Christian Church at 659-2036. A $20.00 registration fee is requested and will be applied toward the cost of the weekend. The approximate total weekend cost is $125. per couple, including all meals, lodging and supplies from 8 a.m. Saturday through 5 p.m. Sunday.

Marriage Encounter is a gift that husband and wife give to each other - a gift of time, free from the tensions, pressures and interruptions so often present at home; a gift of time to share themselves - their hopes and fears, frustrations, joys and sorrows.

Labor Day

The first man to suggest a day should be set aside in honor of labor--the working man and the spirit of industry--was probably Peter McGurie. He was president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America in 1882.

The first Labor Day, then, was observed in 1882. In 1884, the Federation of Organized Trades and Labor Unions, which later became the American Federation of Labor, adopted the suggestion.

States (Oregon was the first) began to declare the first Monday in September a holiday. McGurie had chosen September because it was about midway between July 4 and Thanksgiving.

By 1894, when Congress declared the day a holiday in all federal offices and territories, some thirty states had acted to make Labor Day a legal holiday. After Oregon, Colorado, Massachusetts, New Jersey and New York were the next to declare the holiday.

This year Labor Day is on the 2nd. As on other holidays, there will be too many accidents; take care that you live to observe another.

One's past is what one is. It is the only thing by which people should be judged.

-Oscar Wilde.

Biggers attends Bar Leaders Conference

Spearman attorney Cecil Biggers, Representative to the Northeast Panhandle Bar Association attended the Annual Bar Leaders Conference sponsored by the State Bar of Texas August 9-10. The conference, held in Corpus Christi this year, is designed to gather local bar leaders from throughout Texas, to alert them of current developments in the legal community and at the same time make them aware of future plans of the State Bar.

Two of the many programs discussed by the 200 attorneys attending the conference were Interest on Lawyer Trust Accounts (IOLTA) and Minimum Continuing Legal Education or MCLE.

"Both programs," according to State Bar President Charles Smith of San Antonio, who labeled the conference a success, "are important not only to lawyers, but to the citizens of Texas."

IOLTA would allow interest to be gathered on Lawyer Trust Accounts. This interest would then go to the Texas Equal Access to Justice Foundation which would in turn use the money to assist indigents in civil legal matters.

Biggers also received the latest information on MCLE which will be the subject of a November 15th state-wide State Bar of Texas referendum.

The need for the conference was underscored by President Smith who noted in his welcoming remarks that there are now over 44,000 attorneys licensed by the State Bar of Texas and to do an effective job, serving both the public and the profession, we must have the cooperation and support of the local bar leadership.

Congressman Beau Boulter Reports from Washington

POSTAL CLOSINGS NOT IN THE PLANS

In rural communities throughout Northwest Texas post offices play a vital role. I am particularly aware of the importance of small post offices in the 13th District, and of the role they play in rural community life. Without them, not only would an essential communications link be lost, but many rural towns would lose a central source of community identity and spirit.

There has been much printed lately about efforts to close rural post offices. In large part, these reports are completely false. I resent the unnecessary fear that these reports have caused throughout the nation, and hope that I can play a role in getting the truth out.

At a recent oversight hearing of the U.S. House of Representatives Committee on Post Office and Civil Service, Postmaster General Paul Carlin said the U.S. Postal Service is "not now considering or plans to take up the question of massive rural post office closings."

The National Association of Postmasters of the U.S. has asked that the point be emphasized: USPS is not preparing to trash thousands of post offices, nor is Congress, nor the Reagan administration.

Much of this controversy has stemmed from the report of the President's Private Sector Survey on Cost Control, also known as the Grace Commission. That report asked the question, "Can the U.S. Postal Service reduce the costs of providing service to rural areas while maintaining adequate service levels?" And accordingly, suggested that as many as 7,000 post office consolidations be considered.

As founder and chairman of the Grace Caucus in the House, I have studied this recommendation. And while I am convinced that many of the savings suggested by the Grace Commission are necessary and legitimate methods to reduce waste in the federal government, I do not support this particular suggestion, and will assure each and every person in the 13th District of Texas that this will not be an issue for the Grace Caucus.

In all fairness, and in the wake of a $200 billion yearly deficit, we must look everywhere for possible savings. And while there may still be room in the postal service for changes that will improve the efficiency and service by eliminating waste and abuse, the rural post office is not the place to find those savings.

I will continue to study the Grace Commission report. It has over 2,400 suggestions that could ultimately reduce our deficit significantly. Most of these are good suggestions which I think the people of the 13th District would support.

For example, I have just learned that because of outdated and inadequate computer equipment, taxpayers are not receiving their tax refunds from the IRS. The Grace Commission has recommended that updated equipment would save millions of dollars and improve efficiency at the IRS. These are the types of changes that the Grace Caucus is working to make; real structural reforms.

New law to become effective September 1 . . .

"Fasten seat belt" law to be enforced

In a few weeks, Hansford county motorists -- and drivers all over Texas, for that matter -- must buckle up, the seat belts, that is.

Texas legislators last spring decided that if Texas drivers wouldn't try to save their own lives, a law would be enacted to help them.

Thus, fastened seat belts become the law of the state, beginning Sept. 1.

Those motorists and passengers who forget will receive warnings for 90 days, until Dec. 1, when officers may begin issuing tickets.

The fines are not great -- $25 to $50 each, plus court costs of $13 -- but the money is enough to get the attention of careless drivers.

The law specifies that front seat passengers, as well as the driver, are required to have buckled seat belts in automobiles and light trucks (pickups included) unless the vehicle was not equipped originally with seat belts.

In other words, if the seat belts have been removed deliberately, the fine may be imposed.

An exception to the law may be a person who for medical reasons could not withstand the pressure of a seat belt.

Otherwise the law is applicable in all instances.

Personal convenience has no place, nor does a plea that clothing becomes wrinkled when seat belts are in place.

A safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service describes those kinds of excuses as "strange thinking," mostly based on some myths about seat belts.

Dr. Gary Nelson has accumulated some of those myths and cites research results that refute the ideas.

Here is what Nelson says: -- Myth: Seat belts are unnecessary for short trips.

Fact: More than 70 percent of injury-causing traffic accidents occur within 25 miles of home, according to the National Safety Council. More than 80 percent of all collisions happen at speeds of under 40 mph.

People who were not wearing seat belts have been killed in accidents that occurred at speeds as low as 12 mph -- about the speed you would be driving in a parking lot.

-- Myth: Seat belts trap people inside cars, and I'd rather be thrown clear.

Research and facts dispel myths about seat belt use -- Texas drivers will have to overcome some of their "strange thinking," says expert, when a recent law becomes effective Sept. 1. Motorists have 90 days in which to get used to the law, without paying a fine for non-wearing.

Fact: "Thrown clear" is a misnomer. Being thrown from a vehicle usually means flying through the windshield or catapulting out a door. The force of a collision can fling you as much as 150 feet onto a roadside object, into the path of oncoming traffic or scraping along the pavement.

For these reasons, if you are thrown from a vehicle in an accident, your chances of being killed are 25 percent greater. What's more, instead of being trapped, belted occupants are likely to be conscious and unhurt, and therefore better able to escape in the rare situation where fire or submersions are added dangers.

-- Myth: Seat belts cause injuries.

Fact: Study after study in the United States and abroad show a substantial decrease in the number of serious injuries in actual auto accidents among those who are belted versus those who aren't.

In the rare instances where injuries due to belts have been reported, either the belt was inappropriate worn or the crash was so severe that the occupants would have been killed or seriously injured if they had been unbelted.

-- Myth: I don't need belts since I'm a careful driver.

annual weeds; comparisons of low energy precision application (LEPA) and drip irrigation system on numerous crops; cotton breeding and variety performance, and research on control of crop insect pests.

Other features of the field day, announced Dr. David Bender, assistant professor of vegetable crops and field day co-chairman, will be demonstrations on multifunction irrigation systems, soil fertility, and work of the Texas Forest Service in growing adaptable seedlings for windbreak and conservation plantings.

In addition, farm machinery and irrigation equipment will be displayed by area manufacturers and dealers. Specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and research scientists with the Experiment Station will be present to answer questions and discuss research.

The field day is a cooperative presentation of TAES, the High Plains Research Foundation, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the U.S. Department of Agriculture-Agricultural Research Service, and the Texas Forest Service.

BIBLE VERSE

Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor sitteth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful.

1. Where would you find this verse?
2. In what way was this verse used by the Jews?
3. Who was its author?
4. When was it thought to be written?

Answers to Bible Verse

1. Psalm 1:1.
2. In the synagogue service and in the family circle.
3. Presumably David, but the Psalms had a number of authors.
4. Between the time of Moses and the Babylonian exile.

At 35 mph, the force of an impact is even more brutal. There's no way your arms and legs can brace you against that kind of force -- even if you could react in time.

Farming system research program

Early findings of a farming system research program, comparing low input/maximum profitability versus conventional crop production systems designed to help farmers cut costs and increase profits, will be reported Tuesday, September 10, during the 76th annual field day of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES) at Lubbock and Halfway.

This year's tour will be held at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station/High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway, 14 miles west of Plainview on U.S. Hwy. 70. The annual event alternates between the Lubbock and Halfway facilities, explained Dr. John R. Abernathy, resident director of research for the Lubbock-Halfway centers.

At one of the featured stops on this year's tours, Dr. Charles W. Wendt, professor of soil and water, and Dr. Darrell Rosenow, professor of grain sorghum will report on the cropping systems studies. The initial research is looking at dryland and irrigated cotton, wheat and grain sorghum.

The field tours will begin at 1 p.m. and will feature five major stops, plus a walk up to stop to see the latest research on grape cultivation, said Dr. Doug Owen, research scientist and field day chairman.

In addition to the cropping systems research, featured stops will highlight work on control of perennial and

Grain Sorghum Producers approve resource plan

Texas grain sorghum farmers have approved a plan to finance a program of market development, research and education through an assessment on their grain. A mail referendum and election which concluded on August 15, authorized a statewide program to be known as Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board.

A grain sorghum assessment program has been in effect in twenty-nine counties of the Texas High Plains since 1969. This referendum, conducted in all other counties of the state, was on the proposition to expand the existing program statewide. It passed with almost 69 percent of the voters favoring the expansion. At the same time, farmers in the 29-county High Plains area voted on a proposal to raise the maximum limit of their assessment to be consistent with that approved by the rest of the state. This proposition was approved by more than 80 percent of the voters.

With the same ballots, farmers elected seven directors to serve with the eight who are filling unexpired terms on the current board. The new directors are Richard Perry of Robstown, Dennis Anthony of Friona, Weldon Shelton of Lamesa, J.W. "Chato" Bauer of Refugio, Albert Scheele of Lockney, James Dyer of Weslaco and Howard Salge of Skidmore.

This vote unifies Texas Sorghum producers and processors in a checkoff on grain sorghum at the time of its first sales transaction or when it enters the government loan program. Payment of the assessment is voluntary because any producer who does not wish to participate may have his money refunded upon request.

Elbert Harp, executive director of National Grain Sorghum Producers Association and administrator of the current Texas checkoff program, said, "Sorghum farmers have taken a big step forward. With this vote, Texas producers have announced that they intend to put the same effort into selling their crop as they do in producing it. That's essential because we have been producing 15 to 20 percent more sorghum each year than we are selling. The growing surplus has driven prices below the cost of production. We must sell it or stop producing it. Texas farmers are saying they intend to sell it."

Harp said the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board will meet in Lubbock on Friday and Saturday, August 23-24, to set the rate and effective date of the assessment. Processors will be notified of collection procedures immediately after that meeting.

Army recruiter

An Army recruiter has recently moved to Borger to recruit at the Borger recruiting station.

Sgt. Patrick D. Murphy, a native of Tomeroy, Iowa, moved to Borger from Kaiserslautern, Germany after completing a three-year tour as a tactical satellite and microwave systems operator.

Murphy says this is his first tour in Texas since he joined the Army nine years ago.

"I'm looking forward to meeting the fine people of this community," he said. "I'd like to extend an invitation to everyone to come by and visit me at the recruiting station."

The station is located at 328 N. Main, Suite 2, phone (806) 274-5287.

Emergency Medical Technicians Course

Gruver Emergency Medical Services will be presenting an Emergency Medical Technicians course at the Golden Age Center, located at 105 East Broadway. The course is being taught through Frank Phillips College in Borger, Texas as an adult education course.

Registration and orientation will be at 7:30 P.M. on Thursday, September 12, 1985 at the Golden Age Center. The first class is scheduled for 6:00 P.M., Monday, September 16, 1985.

The course is designed to provide training needed in Gruver and the surrounding area for ambulance and emergency service personnel. Upon successful completion of the course the student will have completed the state requirements necessary to be eligible to take the licensing exam given by the Texas Department of Health, and become licensed Emergency Medical Technicians.

The course will teach the role and responsibilities of the EMT in providing emergency care. The course is designed to develop student skills in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation, Bandaging, and Splinting, Traction Splinting, Patient Assessment, Mechanical Aids to Breathing, and other emergency treatment procedures which may be rendered in the field short of those rendered by a physician or by paramedical personnel under the direct supervision of a physician.

The course will be presented on Monday and Tuesday nights from 6:00 P.M. to 10:00 P.M. and is scheduled to conclude on Tuesday, December 10, 1985 with the state licensing exam. There will be 144 clock hours logged during the course which includes 100 classroom hours, 40 clinical (hospital) hours, and 4 hours of observation on ambulances.

Anyone 18 years of age or older is eligible for the course and you do not have to work or promise to work on an ambulance service to take the course.

Tuition for the course is $50.00 with an approximate book cost of $18.00.

Instruction will be provided by Steve Gaines, Paramedic, and Michele Davis, Paramedic.

If you are interested and need more information, please contact Gruver City Hall at 733-5037.

Livestock show

The executive committee of Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo has awarded $9,200 in research funds to West Texas State University's School of Agriculture. The money will go toward five separate research projects.

Dr. Arden Colette is constructing an economic model of the agricultural sector of the Texas Panhandle. By making information available on the impact of alternative agricultural policies, depletion of the water supply for irrigation and changes in relative prices, he hopes to allow producers and community leaders to anticipate problems and plan alternative courses of action.

Dr. Ronald Thomason will evaluate dryland crop production on the High Plains. He is looking for ways to use traditional and non-traditional legume plants to conserve moisture and increase the amount of available nitrogen in the soil. Dr. Leonard Wilson will evaluate herbicides, looking for the most economically feasible means for control of perennial weeds in conservation tillage farming.

Dr. Joe Sagebiel will study the nutritive content of native range grasses and eremlo love grass. He is concerned about deficiencies in protein and major nutrients for beef cattle. Dr. Ted Montgomery's concern is with the beef as it comes to the table. He will continue an investigation of the use of electrical stimulation and partial pre-cooking to produce easily heated, flavorful beef rib roast.

Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo has supported WTSU regularly in the past with research money and scholarships.
