Life Plays Hob

JUIS WOLHEIM, the motion picture actor who died the other day at the age of fifty, was famous for his "bad guy" roles on the screen. His facial characteristics made such roles easy for him. His nose was broken, (in a football game, incidentally) his entire face had ferocious cast, and no actor on the screen or stage was his superior in the portrayal of tough roles.

Yet death, the leveler, revealed facts about Louis Wolheim that the world did not know. For instance, he was a native American. whereas most people thought he was a foreigner. Again, he was a graduate of Cornell university with degree in engineering, and following his graduation he was for rears professor of mathematics in hat institution.

His addition to the ranks of mo tion picture stars came quite by accident. His pugnacious face, we are attracted the attention of told, Lionel Barrymore, who was in need of an actor to play a "bad guy" part. The quiet, retiring college professor with the fighting face was "propositioned." and accepted. He was a ccess as an actor frfom the first. Wolheim was 38 years old when he gave up the role of professor of mathematics to play bad man roles 0 on the stage and screen Life has a habit of playing hob with our preconceived notions. No-body would thought of Louis Wolheim as an industrious retiring college professor.

Of all coffees being sold today, there is one that is winning count-less new friends wherever it is introduced because of its distinc-tion side formation and the source of the source introduced because of its distinc-tive, rich flavor. As a matter of fact, more of this coffee is sold west of the Mississippi than any other brand of fine coffee. Hills Bros. Coffee owes its match-less flavor to the patented process by which it is roasted. Instead of the rare blend being roasted in bulk, only a few pounds at a time pass continuously through roasters in which the heat and speed of op-eration are accurately controlled. This proceas—Controlled Roast-ing—proves its superiority o. er any other method, because it roasts every berry evenly. None are over-done and none are underdone. "When I Got Rid of Constipation, I Became a Well Woman."

DIZZY HEADACHE

Augusta, Ga .- Mrs. Callie Morton, of 1959 Broad Street, this city, tells how she was benefited by taking Thedford's Black-Draught. "I used to suffer from bad spells of indigestion." writes Mra Morton. "I had an operation and it took some time for my system to get straight. I frequently had sour stomach. I was constipated and felt dull and sluggish. "We had used Black-Draught in our home for years, so I began tak-ing a course of this medicine with the hope that it would help me. I found it exactly what I needed. "Before long I was feeling much better. I ceased having dizzy headache, and my bowels became regu-lar. Constipation seemed to be the cause of most of my trouble, and when I got rid of it I became a well woman. "Now I take Thedford's Black-Draught when I need a laxative. My grown children take it, too. We think it is a fine medicine, and can recommend it above anything we have ever used for constipation." Composed of finely powdered medicinal roots and herbs. *****

BY driving a few minutes from the center of Big Spring .you may visit places where the things talked of and urged as salvation for the farmer are in actual practice.

The government experiment farm, the I. B. Cauble farm and several other places are scenes of the practice of breeding and feeding of livestock upon home grown feeds that are record to none in Texas.

What can be done by careful and continuous management of pure-bred beef cattle is demonstrated very forcibly.

The Cauble herd is one of the finest in America-so recognized by the nation's best informed Hereford men.

It is almost a miracle in the eves of the average man or woman to view the results obtained.

The younger generation in all simply walks of life-those reared both in the city and towns and in rural ties-are approaching the tasks of life, with minds open for earnest consideration of all information and instruction based on well-tested scientific methods as well as unorganized and perhaps tradition-laden practices of their forefathers.

It is, therefore, a solemn responsibility that falls upon the parent or teacher. He must guide his charge into paths that will make of him more productive, more prosperous citizen.

The youngster does not measure things by the extent to which his predecessors believed in a thing wood being professionally a hotbed He looks at things solely to termine will they "work." de

SYNOPSIS: That Annabelle Querdling was murdered is evi-dent as the coroner's jury seeks to learn who pushed over the stone image that fatally crushed her. The spinster's niece, Evelyn Blake, says that she and her fiance, Lionel Duckworth, were in the music room when Evelyn's sister, Marjorie, brought them the news. Marjorie and Dr. Netherton had talked to Miss Querdling in the garden only a few minutes before, and the do tor, denying love for Marjorie, evades explaining why her aunt told them that she would disin-herit Marjorie, should she wed. Major Gresham, Miss Querdling's rejected suitor, was near the fatal garden at the time, while the chauffeur, Green, and Captain stirling, owner of a car similar
