Scattered Showers Last Night Brightens Hopes For Feed Crop

Rainfall in Hansford county which ranged from a scant twenty hundredths of an inch to a reported half inch at the Hicks Wilburn farm East of Spearman, brightens the hopes for normal feed production in the county.

Feed was badly in need of moisture, with much of the grain blowing out, and the hot dry weather of the past few days beginning to show up.

We are not informed of the amount of moisture at Graver morning broadcasts we learn 43 inches fell at Amarillo air port. The report stated that 22 inches fell at Dalhart, and this gives us a picture of some moisture in most parts of Hansford county.

Mrs. Mary Brandick is back home from a visit to the Harvey Shapley's. She reports a very enjoyable time, and she especially enjoyed the cool weather.

Mrs. Gene Cline and Mrs. Paul Shurtz are still spending Tuesday in Amarillo.

Don't miss Spearman Greenback Day.

Boy Scout Jack King, 13, believed to be first recipient of merit badge in railroading, Scouting's newest merit award, was congratulated at National Jamboree in California by Fred G. Gurley of Chicago, president of Santa Fe railway. The youth's father, J. A. King, is manager of Santa Fe's Barrow, Calif., and his two grandfathers—John King and O. B. Boutton, both of La Junta, Colo.—are veteran conductors on Santa Fe's La Junta-Dodge City (Kan.) run.

Hansford County's wheat production figure for 1933 is announced Wednesday at 131,679 acres, a reduction of 30 percent from present cropland. This was a much deeper slash than had been expected since the national wheat acreage reduction was announced at 20 percent.

Paul Chapman, county PMA head, reported the county allotment figure at a meeting in Pampa Wednesday morning. He said that all Panhandle counties received similar reductions.

There are 35,419 acres of cropland in Hansford county and 122,972 acres are customarily planted to wheat.

Some wheat farmers will receive a greater reduction than 30 percent, with some getting a 50 percent cut, depending upon the history of seeded wheat acreage in Colorado Springs. They will be held in Hansford county and across the nation, on August 14, when farmers will decide whether to accept their marketing quotas on the wheat crop or to forego the marketing quotas and have wheat supported at 50 percent of parity.

If quotas are rejected no marketing penalties or detentions will apply to any wheat farmer, but the price will be supported at 80 percent of the parity price to cooperators planting within their allotment. This would be about $1.20 per bushel based on the present parity price.

All counties within the drought disaster area (Hansford included) can plant wheat for cover crop, but must plow it up before harvest time. A check must be filed showing the fields planted to "cover crops" before the wheat is seeded.

The election will be held in four places, Community A, at the Graver Elevator, Community B at Harvey's Home, Community C Spearman High School, Community D at the Graver High school.

The families present were: Jack Whitton, Charles Brillhart, L. T. Dossita, Joe Ertrekin, and Eugene Keith. The Brillharts will live near Perryton but we are glad to have them back.

Suppose It is True After All?

Two friends were discussing the question of punishment for sin in a future life. They settled to their own satisfaction that there was none. They decided that hell was a myth. "If God to love the world that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish but have everlasting life." Our sin was laid on Him.

Tell God you want to be included among those for whom Christ suffered; that you do accept Him as your Saviour—the One who suffered in your place. Jesus said, "Him that cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out." There is no problem in your life too great for Him to solve if you will let Him. "Come unto me," He said, "and I will give you rest."

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

In Washington it is not felt that it was by accident that a horse named Eisenhower was hitched up to pull the Royal State Coach during the Coronation. In fact, betting is even that if the event had occurred a year ago, there would have been a horse named Truman hitched to the Royal State Coach instead.

British will be noted for being wry and dry. It is also sardonic, and thus many feel that this aspect of the ceremony was a tacit admission that C. W. Harder the pomp and glitter presented depended upon support from the American government.

And with similar tongue in cheek tactics, the British also launched the grandiose slogan "Trade, Not Aid" in the drive to break down American tariff protection to permit the flooding of the U. S. market.

The great mystery in many circles in Washington is the effectiveness of British salesmanship in selling these ideas to many presumably intelligent Americans, aside from the American businesses with plants abroad.

But despite their ringing acclaim for the principle of "Trade, Not Aid", British leaders continue to prove that they either have no intention, nor ability to work out free trade even among their own Dominions.

Mutual Security Bulletin No. 317 contains an interesting demonstration of classic British thinking on free trade.

It seems apparent that the cornerstone of their thinking on free trade is first that someone in authority in America make free with U. S. tax dollars. In the bulletin referred to, MSA approved a deal whereby U. S. taxes are being used to buy $25,000 worth of copper made in a British Dominion, Canada. The authorization further provides that this material can only be shipped either to Norway, or to Great Britain for retinning with the delivery of the retined product made to France.

Thus Canada's copper industry profits, the United Kingdom refining industry will profit, and presumably French industry has a way of making a profit on the deal.

But significantly, the American taxpayer, who foots the bill, doesn't figure in the profits.

On the same day MSA also released authorization for another trade deal between members of the British Commonwealth.

An item of $20,000,000 in aluminum is bought in Canada and sent to Great Britain, in a little inter-family deal, courtesy American taxpayers.

But of course, free trade between Britain and her commonwealth is flourishing today.

And with American dollars furnishing the backbone of the trade, it is easy to see why the British are enthusiastic backers of their own slogan "Trade, Not Aid."

But this big question unanswered is this: If the U. S. should abolish tariff protection so that cheap imports will close up American factories, depress American farm income, where else on the face of the earth can a group of taxpayers be found both willing and able to compensate the loss to Americans that is incurred by such free trade.

Wild Camels Raid Australian Ranches

BRISBANE, Australia—Certain areas of Australia—the outer edges of Queensland—are having trouble with wild camels. The animals are entering sheep and cattle land, breaking through fences to get water and feed, and greatly damaging property.

The camels are the descendants of those imported by Afghan traders to carry produce to and from outback townships many years ago, especially to the opal fields of Australia. When motor transport came, the camels were discarded and many were let loose to roam and breed at will. For years they have been a common sight in the Cloncurry and surrounding districts.

In one district 20 wild camels have been killed this year. In the United States the U. S. Army once experimented with camels in the western desert. Many of them were turned loose and from time to time herds of them were seen. None have been reported in recent years, however.

Valley Forge Was Iron Works Before War Fame

VALLEY FORGE, Pa.—Not many people in the United States know how Valley Forge got its name, although every school boy knows some of the numerous tales of American troops suffering there in winter quarters during the Revolutionary War.

According to historians an iron forge was built at Mt. Joy, Pennsylvania, in 1742. It was known locally as the valley forge. The small ironworks was burned by the British in September 1777, about two months before the site was occupied as the winter camp of George Washington and the Continental Army.

The modern town and the national park called Valley Forge, take their names from the forge.

Emotionally Distressed

A noted psychologist reported recently he believed many mental and emotional disorders can be cured when doctors better understand the psychological meaning of what and how people eat. People emotionally distressed, for example, seem to drink more milk or eat more cheese, he reports. The need to stress their adulthood may find an unconscious outlet for some people in the increased intake of such "adult foods" as coffee or beer, denied them in their youth. The psychological needs of a person may also be read in the way a person eats, the researcher stated.

Don't Name It

By C. C. Miller
 Editors note, My cotton picking brother is guest editor of the Don't Name It Column this week. Referring to your Country Editor's gust of hot air published in last week's Reporter, I would like to defend my character by giving the true version of Bill's "Sausage and Eggs" incident. It is true that this vile specimen of humanity has urged me many years to come to Spearman. (Gosh! what I have missed!) When I made the decision to come, I weighed matters carefully. I knew Bill's penny pinching, parsimonious character. Deided if I got anything to eat I had better bring it with me. I brought a big chunk of good ol' country sausage and two dozen eggs. For once, Bill told the truth: I do get up between four and five a. m. Thought I could slip by his room without disturbing him and cook my breakfast. (I knew he was a darned, lazy no-good!) But Bill smelled my sausage. Catastrophe! By five o'clock there was no sausage left, and Hansford county's country editor was swelled out like a toad. Laying all jokes aside, may I express my real thoughts in RE your people. I have been in many places in America. I find here the only real Democracy! You judge people, not by what they own but by what they ARE. Your country editor constantly calls this "God's Country." Until I came here, I thought this a gross exaggeration. I am reminded of an incident and a hydrophobia cat can be the sweet baby I used to sing to sleep! When Bill was in his 'teens, I was running a business college. We took him into our home and gave him a thorough business education. It was the foundation of future success. All his life (up until) I used to whip him. He never grew up to me. He was my baby boy. I followed scripture about not sparing the rod. Bill was sixteen and we were on a fishing trip in the Klansville Mountains, of Oklahoma. One morning I said to your country editor, "Bill why in the blinkety blink didn't you feed those mules, like I told you?" He said, "Ah heck, I forgot it! I said I'll give you something you will not forget!" Then I hit into him. (Couldn't we just draw the curtain and leave it like that? I don't like to report the outcome. He was yet my baby boy; but I had forgotten that he was sixteen and a better physical man) That was my tactical error! I blushed to relate the disaster that overtook me. I will skip over the balance of the fight hurriedly. It is one of the few times I was thoroughly whipped. But I was a good loser. I said, "Bill, from now on you are IT. From now on I will call you MISTER! Then we resumed our fishing. You can understand from the above true story, why Bill and I are closer together than ordinary brothers. David and Jonathan. Ties stronger than blood. If I were not an old man, I would be tempted to stay with you here in "God's Country." May I close with poetry? After all it is said to be the highest expression of the literary art. My prayer is that we... "Live for those who live us. Whose hearts are kind and true; For the heaven that smiles above And awaits our spirit, too."

MEDEIA H. D. CLUB

The Media Club held a meeting on July 31 at the Club room. Mrs. Jack Taylor was hostess and served delicious home made cinnamon rolls and feed tea to the following. Mesdames: L. T. Doss, Jett, John Trindle, Johnnie Close, Jerrell Harris, Allen Pierce, Jack Whitson, Clarence Renner, Joe Entreklin, and Betty Whitson. This was a dual purpose meet house cleaning. Your reporter was absent due to illness so I guess I can say the others did a really good job on the club room this time.

We owe special thanks to Betty Whitson. She came and cleaned like a regular member. We can always depend on Betty for a helping hand in any emergency. Miss Gibbs tells of a very wonderful result of the H. D. sponsored Red Cross training. One of our Media Women, Joe Edwards took the course and then taught it to the ladies of New Hope. Recently Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hibbs were en route to town and Mr. Hibbs had to stop his car by the roadside and step out. He was struck by a rattlesnake and was bit severely about the leg. Mrs. Hibbs used a tourniquet and slashed the bite and so used her Red Cross training to fall advantage. Even so! Mr. Hibbs was very ill and in bed for some time. Possibly she even has her training to thank for saving his life. Good work Mrs. Hibbs and Mrs. Edwards.

Follett Baptist Church is setting for Steinet-Buchner wedding

The first Baptist church of Follett was the setting June 28, at 4 p. m. for the wedding of Miss Lavina Steinet and Donald R. Buchner.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Steinet of Follett, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Buchner of Follett.

Reverend Valdon Gramlich, pastor, read the double ring ceremony. Cathedral tapers in branched candelabra and large baskets of white chrysanthemums formed the nuptial setting.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Shirley Laubhan sang "I Love Thee" and "Oh Perfect Love," Jack Gillespie sang "The Lord's Prayer" as the benediction.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of tulle with lace, and she wore a long, flowing, floor-length, high-collared, long-sleeved gown with a large, ornate, jeweled necklace.
