Senator Reports

COMMUNIST PATTERN: It seems clear that the communist aggression in Indo-China and the shipment of Iron Curtain arms to Guatemala are pieces of a national pattern designed to keep the United States off balance in the months ahead.

More pieces of this sinister pattern will be revealed as the communists unravel the web they have spun. We have got to keep an alert eye on other "soft spots" in the world.

Course Of Action: Obviously, we cannot police the whole world. American soldiers can act as fire brigades rushing to stamp out flames surging up at isolated corners of the globe.

That would be a fruitless undertaking. It would exhaust both our economic strength and our manpower.

We have to pick and choose. We must select the ground upon which we will stand and know clearly just who will stand with us.

We do not want to abandon any unwilling people to communist tyranny—nor should we. We do not want to break relations with countries that are our friends and allies—nor should we.

Nevertheless, we must take a hard, cool look at the realities of the world today.

HARD TASK: Our foreign policy is a complicated network of alliances, pacts and understandings which have been built up over the last few years. Some parts of that network have worked well. Some parts have been severely strained. Some may have failed altogether.

We must examine this network and determine the strength and the weaknesses. Perhaps some parts should be propped up. Perhaps others should be abandoned altogether.

It is not a job to be accomplished in a day or a week. It is a hard, plugging task that will take time—time that we cannot afford too much time.

But it must be done. And the first step in doing it may be the promotion of national unity.

The times call for a bipartisan review—in a nonpartisan spirit—of our whole foreign policy.

Hemisphere. This is an issue which there can be no delay. Guatemala has the right to conduct its internal affairs as it sees fit. It does not have the right to threaten the peace and security of the Western Hemisphere.

STATES RIGHTS: Senate rejection of the Constitutional Amendment to lower the voting age to 18 is one of the most important blows that have been struck for States Rights in recent years.

The Senate decision to reject the Amendment did not reflect opposition to 18-year-olds voting. This point was made clear by the fact that Senator Richard B. Russell, of Georgia, led the opposition to the proposal.

Senator Russell's native state permits 18-year olds to vote. He took the position that other states should have the same right of choice.

I agreed strongly with this position! I think that Texans are fully capable of deciding for themselves the proper level of the voting age. I do not think that we should be forced by Congress and the other states to set any arbitrary limit.

Had the amendment been approved, we Texans would have lost our right of choice! I think it was quite properly rejected.

IMPORTANT TO TEXAS: Debate on this Constitutional Amendment was only one of many major Congressional activities during the week.

Of major importance to Texas was the Senate Appropriations Committee report on the Rivers and Harbors bill.

This is the measure which decides each year the dams and reservoirs that will be built and those which will be postponed to a later date. An authorization for a dam or a reservoir is only the first step; it must be followed by an appropriation which supplies the actual cash.

One project of particular interest involves $1,000,000 for the Ferris Bridge Dam and Reservoir in East Texas. This project—authorized in 1946—is an essential part of Red River flood control and levee improvement plan.

According to top experts, completion of this plan would eliminate 90 per cent of the floods which originate in the headwaters of the Red River.

The Red River basin drains a highly important farming area. It is also approved funds to continue work on other major projects which have been started or approved in the past. They include the Belton Reservoir; the Dallas Floodway; the Fort Worth Floodway; the Garza-Little Elm Reservoir; the Guadalupe River Channel to Victoria; the Houston Ship Channel; the Port Aransas-Corpus Christi Waterway; the Texarkana Reservoir.

This means action—action on an important phase of the Texas water problem. There is nothing more vital to our state.

WATER FACILITIES: The Senate passed a bill making the benefits of the Water Facilities Act available to the whole country instead of just a arid and semi-arid areas.

I was a co-sponsor of this measure and was extremely interested in its passage. It provides for financial and other aid in the construction and maintenance of water storage facilities. The new measure would also increase the limit on the amount of aid available.

"we've talked long enough, Bill"

This little thrush isn't giving her Galahad the brush. She's a teen who's keen about being a good party line neighbor... and she knows how.

She's hep to the fact other folks would like to talk, too. So she spaces her calls and makes them reasonably brief.

If other teens... and their elders, too... would follow her example, everyone would enjoy faster, better service straight down the party line. Telephone courtesy is as important as any other kind.

State wheat, under Government loan, is using most of the existing storage facilities in Corpus Christi and the surrounding area.

The result is that the miller producers have no place to warehouse their bumper crop. They are faced with the necessity of having to sell on the current market, which would cause them serious loss.

I am doing everything I can to get the Agriculture Department to move out the wheat—most of it from Oklahoma—so that our own farmers will not be penalized in this fashion.

Dairymen To Promote Industry
June is dairy month. Dairymen of Texas will contribute two cents per hundred weight of the milk and one-half a cent per pound of butterfat in cream they sell this month to the state ADA headquarters in Austin.

Sam Von Rosenberg, state manager of the American Dairy Association of Texas, says that it is a voluntary plan proposed to the 30,000 milk producers in the state, to provide $150,000 annually to promote an increase in the sale of milk, butter, ice cream, cheese and other dairy products through advertising.

More Wild Life
Wild animals seem to take a liking to the rugged area west of Austin. There has been a panther scare for several months. Latest report is the appearance of a 33-inch long alligator—which walked out of Shoal Creek almost in the heart of this capitol city.

Despite most executives' fears the business would get along nicely without them.

We had a humorous idea for this paragraph but forgot it; that's funny, isn't it?

The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., with spring tulips in bloom in park maintained by denomination, is well known Boston landmark. The great Extension with dome (left) was dedicated in 1906, and seats nearly 5,000 persons. The Original Edifice (right) seats approximately 1,000 persons and was dedicated in 1886. Flowers from this park are frequent winners in exhibitions at nearby Horticultural Hall.

Christian Science News Release June 7

Spiritual understanding alone can heal today's widespread distrust and disorder and assure universal freedom and security. The Christian Science Board of Directors said today in a special statement.

About 7,500 Christian Scientists from many parts of the world heard the Directors' message at the Annual Meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

Stressing the universal nature of spiritual understanding, the Directors said that the healing promises of practical Christianity apply to every human being and every group and nation.

"When we look at the world and its problems, we cannot fail to be grateful that the teaching of Christ Jesus has so broadly and deeply registered in it," the Director said. This teaching, they declared, offers a lasting solution to confusion in government, conflicting national interest, and world tension.

Named President of the Mother Church for the coming year was Mr. William R. Knox of Boston, Massachusetts, a Christian Science practitioner active in the healing work of the denomination for almost 50 years. His term of office is one year.

Mr. Knox emphasized the conviction of Christian Scientists that God's law and power are scientifically applicable to human problems and available to all. He said they base this conviction on the practical results of "the simple power of prayers" in their own lives and in the healing of others.

Emphasizing the significance of spiritual healing in the work of Christianity as understood in Christian Science, Mr. Knox said, "Christian healing is the lifeblood of our Cause—That branch church is most prosperous and blessed where the healing work flourishes and the lives of its members overflow with the Christ influence."

Bearing witness to this were accounts of Christian Science healing read at the meeting which included total recovery from a case of multiple sclerosis diagnosed as incurable, appendicitis and peritonitis diagnosed as beyond help, brain tumor pronounced fatal, and a case of internal injuries and crushed pelvis medically pronounced as crippling if not fatal.

Growing recognition of the effectiveness of Christian Science healing was reflected in favorable legislative action. Will B. Davis, Manager of Committees on Publication reported, "Freedom imposes responsibility." Mr. Davis emphasized, in referring to legal exemptions from compulsory medication. He said that respect for the rights of others and careful observance of the laws relating to quarantine and the reporting of communicable diseases "has done much to win the public respect so widely enjoyed by our Cause."

Commenting on the widespread interest in healing, Mr. Davis reported that hundreds of letters are received each week from listeners to the new radio series, "How Christian Science Heals." The responses from strangers to Christian Science, the reports of healing, and of increased church attendance show that these radio programs are accomplishing their purpose, he added.

Reports on the world-wide activities of the denomination which has branches throughout the United States and in some 40 other countries, were made by other key officials.

Growing acceptance of spiritual healing by young people was noted by Gordon V. Comer, Clerk of The Mother Church. Pointing out that Sunday School pupils are shown how to rely successfully on prayer, he told of some of the clear-cut healings by the pupils themselves that came to his attention during the past year.

In another field, Richard H. Chase, Manager of Christian Science Activities for the Armed Services disclosed that some 365 civilian field workers were ministering the hospitalized veterans and members of the armed services. In addition, eighteen Christian Science chaplains — three of them in Korea — were on active duty with troops. New records for circulation and advertising were noted in the report on The Christian Science Publication Society.

C. Of C. Meeting At Gruver Tonight

A very important meeting of the Gruver Chamber of Commerce will be held tonight, beginning at 8:00 p. m. in the Memorial Building.

All citizens who have been members of this organization are urged to attend tonight for the report from the officers and directors of the organization. Plans will be outlined for future activities.

REMEMBER THIS and THAT

THIS SUNDAY

JIM NEELYS

We hope you will be reading this early Thursday evening. We have an important Chamber of Commerce meeting Thursday June 17th (To-night) at 8 o'clock in the Memorial Bldg. We have tried to contact all the members and notify them. If you have been a member, but not signed up for this year, won't you come to-night? The Board of Directors want to report on what has been done so far, and what they are planning to do. It will take all of us working together to do a good job. If you are interested in your community, then be there.

For the benefit of those who do not know, it really rained in Gruver Sunday evening. The official gauge at the A. W. Evans home in the center of town registered 2.95 inches. But on the western edge of town where we live, two gauges showed 3.50 ins. We do not know how much good it did, as it was hard and driving. There was also some good hail with it. Mart Hart's wheat was seriously damaged, so was the Cooper's. Kelly Garrett had some damage, but had not been able to get into the field when we contacted him. But it was rain and lots of it, and that is what we need.

I am sure you will all sympathize deeply with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Thom. Mr. Thom is seriously ill in an Amarillo Hospital and will be moved to Albuquerque N. M. as soon as possible. It will be a long time before he regains his health and strength.

th again. Bob has many friends, because he has been a friend to so many. We shall miss him, and I hope and pray for him.

Mrs. Mart Hart is in St. Anthony's hospital in Amarillo undergoing a thorough examination. We hope that nothing serious will be found.

Mrs. Harold Orman of Borger underwent major surgery in the Borger hospital Monday morning. At last reports she is doing as well as expected. She is the former Margaret Gross. Mr. and former Margaret Gross. Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Gross went to Borger to be with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Bergin of East Chicago Ind., visited in the home of E. H. Taber and Tommy to Bergins.

Mrs. Joe Bennett and two children of Edna, Texas, is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rafferty. She is the former Johnna Rafferty.

Miss Dottie Jones returned Sunday from weeks visit to Kansas City. The young lady is feeling quite grown up these days.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gross and Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Gross returned from their vacation Sunday morning. Gordon and Sis had been vacationing in St. Louis, Mo., and O. J. and Mrs. Gross in Lebo, Kansas.

Gruver Baptists held their first baptismal service in their new church last Sunday evening. The church is not yet ready for regular services, but the men of the church are working hard to try and have it ready for next Sunday. Right now, the Baptists need financial help, and if you need financial help, a little it will be appreciated. They are at so anxious to sell the old building. That would help them to finish in good shape. The building could be made over into good size apartments, and would make a good investment. If you are interested talk to Gay Frazier.

Mrs. Ivey Dunson, Mrs. Chas. Stowell of Pampa and Bill Egan of Amarillo visited their father over the week end.

Washington News Letter From Congressman Walter Rogers

To The People Of The 18th District.

ITTO

I used the word ditto as the heading for this part of the news letter because my heading last week was "Gaged Again". I could use the same heading again, because the same thing has happened again. I have just returned from the floor of Congress, where H. R. 9474 was being considered. This bill is a law to extend the authority of the President to enter into trade agreements under Section 550 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. The law extends this authority in the President for a period of one year, Eisenhower had requested that the extension be for three years, but after much agitation, contention, and debate behind the scenes, it seems that the White House put the stamp of approval on the one-year extension. In any event, that was the bill that was brought before the House for passage. It was brought in under the closed rule, or as I said last week, the "gag rule." The duly elected representatives of the people did not have a right to change one word in the bill as it was written by the Ways and Means Committee. I repeat that this is steam-roller politics. Under the democratic form of government, it makes little difference whether a man is for or against a piece of legislation, as long as he is a Member of Congress he is a representative of the people and should be entitled to be fully heard on these matters and to have an opportunity to seek such changes in them as to him may seem pertinent and to the best interest of his constituents.

WATER

The irrigation program in our district has been moving along at a pretty good pace and we hope that it will be continued. I have obtained some figures from the Farmers Home Administration, of the Department of Agriculture, that I think will be of interest to you. They are as follows: "For the current fiscal year, $6,500,000 was available for making loans under the water facilities program. Of that amount, $600,000 was allotted to the State of Texas. The President's budget request for the fiscal year 1955 provides for an appropriation of $5,500,000. If that amount is appropriated by the Congress, it is likely that the allotment to Texas for the fiscal year 1955 will be about the same amount as in 1954. If Senate bill 3137 should be enacted into law, additional funds might be available under the insured loan features of that bill. To the extent that lending institutions participate in the insurance loan program under the Water Facilities Act, considerable expansion of the loan program could take place in Texas in the fiscal year 1955. "As of June 1, the Farmers Home Administration had made 142 loans, totaling $585,660, from regular water facilities loan funds allotted to Texas. In addition, 57 loans, totaling $344,515, have been made or are in process of being made for water facilities purposes from economic emergency loan funds. Under these two programs, the total number of loans made or in process is 199 for an amount of $929,975."

THE HEARING IN THE SENATE

During my years of law practice in the Panhandle, I have heard many people, especially prospective jurors, complain about the slowness of court proceedings. I, of course, agree with them that there are many things that can be done to speed up the court proceedings. The judge is usually bending over backwards trying to see that no one's rights are infringed upon, and that this law is followed to the letter so that justice may finally prevail. However, one look at the Senate hearings would make a so-called slow court proceeding look like a jet-propelled plane. The reason that the headway has been so slow in these hearings is that no one wants to answer questions or carry it out; and the last, a saving sense of humor about human frailty. The questioner usually makes a speech instead of asking a question. When a question is asked that could be answered and throw some light on the subject, the witness usually makes a speech as to the other morning and was reminded of the story of the old darkey who turned up late to work. His boss asked for his excuse and the darkey told him that he had stepped down at the corner to hear a politician make a speech. The boss asked the darkey what the man talked about. The darkey replied, "Not much, except he did highly recommend himself."

I still say that a good West Texas grand jury could have separated the chaff from the grain and had the facts thoroughly documented in not more than two weeks. THREE PRETTY GOOD QUALITIES - A commencement speaker at one of the schools here in Washington told a graduating class recently that three qualities were THE CHANGE IN THE PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE. I have received many letters requesting early action on the Resolution to insert the words "under God" in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. I am happy to report that the House and the Senate have passed a Resolution to insert these words in the Pledge of Allegiance and the Resolution is now in the White House awaiting the President's signature. As soon as he signs it, the official Pledge of Allegiance will be as follows: "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands; one nation under God, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all." Word from the White House at nine o'clock this morning was that the President had not yet signed the measure. However, it will be the law long before this letter reaches you.

VISITORS

Visitors in Washington this week were: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Durst and sons, Robert, Richard and Tommy, of Amarillo; Howard Bramlette, of Canyon; James M. Scott, of Borger; Dick Gifford, of W. Helms, Deane Watson, and Dwight Elliott. "The Fo urHearsemen", famous barbershop quartet from Amarillo. We are all pulling for them to win the national championship in the finals tomorrow evening.

Walter Rogers, Member of Congress 18th District of Texas. PLANS 8, 1954 - POST OFFICE PLANS TO REGIONALIZE HERE, CONGRESS. - MAN ROGERS SAYS Congressman Walter Rogers, of Pampa, Texas, today announced that, under the decentralization plan of the Post Office Department, postmasters in the twenty-eight counties of his district will report directly to a district manager nearer their communities, rather than to Washington. When the plan is made effective June 14, 1954, postmasters in Armstrong, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Childress, Collingsworth, Cottle, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Donley, Gray, Hall, Hansford, Hartley, Hemphill, Hutchinson, Lipscomb, Motley, Moore, Ochiltree, Ollham, Parmer, Pettee, Randall, Roberts, Sherman, Swisher, and Wheeler counties will report to the district manager at Amarillo. Plans call for six district managers in the two state regions of Louisiana and Texas, operating under a Regional Manager in Dallas. "This is intended to eliminate a major bottleneck in the Postal Service and to enable our own local personnel to solve local problems at the local level," Rogers said. "The result sought is better service, greater economy, and quicker solutions to problems."

The Cincinnati and Chicago regional offices were opened November 24, 1953 and April 30, 1954, respectively. According to Postmaster General Summerfield, the success of these operations has prompted the decision to move ahead on the decentralization program. Additional regional offices will be established at Portland and Minneapolis as soon as possible. Subsequently, other regional offices will be established covering the remainder of the nation.

Highway Report For May 1954 Is Released

Rogers pointed out that, in decentralizing operations, the Post Office Department will be adopting a procedure employed by many large business organizations in the country, as well as recommended by the Hoover Commission. He added that, under this plan, field personnel will be delegated authority equal to their responsibility.

We are tired of entertainers who think they win wars by doing a few shows for service men. Some people make church work and attendance a part of their business or political effort.

Don't Name It

The country editor is living like white folk for the first time in a long-time that is it seems a big improvement to be living out in the residential district rather than up-town.
We hasten to say that for most folk, a nice apartment in the center of the city is attractive—because I wanna keep the apartment rented so I can pay my rent out in the residential section.
If you are one of the fellows who want all the convenience of life at your doorsteps, and don't have to fool with moving laws, helping the wife with flower gardens and walking 5 or 6 blocks to get supplies—then the down town apartment is a fit solution. EITHER—but I don't like moving lawns or garden work. I learned from Rue Sanders that the neighborhood in which I live, the men have organized and the women do all the lawn and garden work—which makes life kinda like the life of Riley.
I wanta suggest that you folk

Four State Survey Discloses No Deaths Or Paralysis From Polio Out Of 31,868 Children Under Chiropractic Care Over Five Year Period.

Chiropractors have good reason to contend that medical fear campaigns, polio fund drives, and vaccination programs are actually doing more harm than good. According to the "Speakers Handbook" published by the National Infantile Paralysis for the 1954 fund raising campaign there were only 1,705 cases of polio reported in the United States in 1953 when the Foundation was organized. Fourteen years later the number of cases for a single year had steadily increased to an all-time high of 57,828—an increase of 3,300 per cent.

major childhood disorders including cancer, leugemia, pneumonia, tuberculosis, poliomyelitis, kidney disease and heart disease.

Chiropractors have long contended that the incidence of polio and other childhood disorders bears a direct relationship to what is popularly known as resistance to disease—a condition dependent upon the proper function of all body tissues and organs. This it comes as no surprise to the Chiropractor profession that the A. M. A. now admits that removal of tonsils increases susceptibility of the individual to poliomyelitis (JAMA 154:1180, April 3, 1954).

Chiropractors have said that proper function of various organs and tissues of the body depends upon the integrity of the nervous system over which vital nerve impulses flow. If there is interference somewhere between the brain and the various body cells, function is impaired and disease is the result. Remove the interference, and the body will provide its own resistance to disease in a natural and normal manner.

This is no theory. It has been demonstrated in actual practice in thousands of cases. For example, in a recent study conducted by the Research Department of the I. C. A. in which 300 cases of acute poliomyelitis were reported, it was found that 86.7 per cent experienced complete recovery and an additional 11 per cent were much improved—131 per cent were slightly improved and only 1 per cent experienced no improvement. Compare this with the national average of cases under other types of care as quoted in the beginning of this article.
But will timely use of Chiropractic care actually prevent polio? That's the $64 question, and one to which the Research Department of the I. C. A. is now directing its attention in a nationwide survey which will be under way during the coming year.

In the meantime we now have the result of an independent four-state survey conducted by a committee appointed at the Fifth Annual Public Relation Conference in St. Louis last January. Serving on that committee were: Dr. John E. Bryan, Mrs. Helen Simmons, President of the W. A. L. C. A.; Dr. Robert Clark of San Angelo, Texas; Dr. Joan Diekfuss of Pawaukee, Wisconsin; and Dr. Sheldon Rikke of Indiana. A total of 31,868 cases were reported. The survey was limited to children under 12 years of age, and each Chiropractor was asked in reporting to list the number of children in this age group who were Chiropractic patients during the years 1949 to and including 1953. Each Dr. was asked to report how many of these children contracted polio while under his care. Out of the 31,000 cases only 9 cases of polio occurred, and none resulted in any paralysis or other disability. Furthermore, these 31,000 cases had reported to the Chiropractor for some illness or disorder. In other words, they were not healthy children. This makes the incidence of only 9 cases all the more remarkable, and effectively demonstrates that Chiropractic holds the answer to the polio problem.

We feel that the time has come to put the brakes on the polio fear campaign. Not only has the raising of millions of dollars proved fruitless in finding a preventative or cure for polio, but it may well have had the effect of increasing its incidence as witness the statistics released by the Foundation itself. It is not in the public interest to promote fear and anxiety simply for the purpose of raising funds. The emphasis should be on health and prevention rather than on fear and disease. There are far too many neurotics and hypochondriacs running at large today as a result of unwarranted publicity on the horrors of various disorders for which fund-raising drives have been created in the past decade. The fact that the Chiropractic survey just concluded shows that regular Chiropractic care is an effective polio preventative should be made known to every parent in America. People should be made to understand that there is no need to fear polio—that simple precaution of a regular spinal examination is all that is needed to give peace of mind concerning the health and welfare of their children.
Fear, in many cases, is worse than the disease itself. Prevention and a wholesome attitude toward health matters is much more desirable than the millions of dollars annually poured into the coffers of disease agencies.

The Country Editor is The Shockabsorber For The Community

The responsibility of a news paper man never ends; socially, legally and eventually. He has to be a close observer to run a paper, to say nothing about pleasing all the people. If he prints the news as it is he stands a chance of making some people mad. If there is a least loop hold, left in his statements he stands a chance to be sued. Where there is a matter of opinion on the grammatical construction of sentences somebody will call his hand on his English. In fact, to salt, pickle, preserve and run a newspaper to suit every one it just cannot be done. Some people that did not know anything about a paper will say if they could not put out a better paper than some editors they would quit. A newspaper man has to be a hardwearing man, and warm hearted on wise and helpful suggestion that is for the common good of all. I have always found editors very easy to approach, and open-minded on the problems that confront the public. The editors are for the best interest of the people. They want to stay on the progressive side of life. Small papers would a great food, in the town and community, in which they try to give both sides of the question on what is right or wrong.

Now watch my story, and I will prove to you that you can not anymore do without the news paper in a thriving and progressive town than you can the school and the church. If you want to find out what is going on in any town, the first thing you will do is to consult the paper. The paper always gives a general idea, of what is going on in any town. The reader can come to some conclusion as to what kind of a town it is by the general run of what is in the paper. Those that inform themselves on what is going on in the community, always read the home paper. My wife scans the home paper for news just the same as she does a letter from a friend to find out what is going on in the community. The home paper is a good way for us to get acquainted with our neighbors. If the editors has the hearty cooperation of those that read his paper, and give him a boost when they see some striking editorials in it, it would increase the efficiency of the paper.

The editor is a referee in homes, between the family, and his paper settle many things, when the husband says a thing is one thing, and the wife says it is another, on time dates, pieces and ect. The paper is the final judge, that settle the argument, and give a final decision, for both parties are forced to be governed by the decision of the paper. Bill is the peace maker, for even those that have their dates and pieces mixed up, when and where the backseat sermons will be preached. We, as husbands should take off our hat to old Honest Bill when we have won our point, on dates by remembering what the paper said about when entertainments would take place. It is worth many times the price of the paper, to convince your wife you are right by not saying one word, by just pointing your finger at the last and final word that proves you are right. I have never won an argument by arguing with my wife and this is the experience of all married men. Amen. I have kept down an argument by pointing my finger to the one that is an authority on what is in question in the community paper. Bill I am adding these statements in full measure, so that married men and women can be protected on questions where there is a doubt that would cause a cross fire and a back fire on things, that the paper has already settled forever.

The editors of papers gives the births, deaths, weddings, socials, the political news and the business in the towns. You can watch the paper and do your shopping in stores where the bargains and courtesies is extended to you with dignified service. Any merchant will bear testimony to this, have a sale and see how the people will flock in. Watch the people follow the crowds. It pays to advertise. That lets the people know where they can buy or where they can sell what they want to get rid of. The paper is the hub of the center of the business district. They go to the paper to get first hand information. The paper gives them their direction where they can find what they want. The paper is the best friend the business man has to help him give his customers what they want. The customers need this same "friendship" to help them do their shopping. The paper is the best friend the people on the different churches in town and their hours of worship. The church would be at a loss if they did not have the paper to inform the people on when and where they are having services. The schools would be like a ship without a sail, without the paper to inform the people on the social activities of the school, as well as the business of what the school is doing in the community.

When the war clouds were hanging low, and there was only two ways to get soldiers, the selective draft, and to volunteer. Bill put the call of his country before he did his business and he was willing to sacrifice the comfort of home life and telling his family goodbye. He volunteered in the army. That was not Bill's thought that took him in the army. He thought it would be better to die for freedom than to live in slavery at the hands of the merciless people that would put the iron yoke of bondage upon a liberty loving people, and make slaves out of them.

I know what it is to hear the bugle call, you can get him up and you can get him up. And hear the corporal, sergeant, lieutenant, or the captain say, fall out; get in line; attention; march; down the line and give your old glory to them, that we would have never dreamed of. I know what it is to walk a post with a soldier standing by with a gun, with the point of the bayonet toward my back. I know what it is to be on a drill field and march with good step of a soldier. I know what it is to stand in line for show and I know what it is to be on hikes that will make your legs weary and to look and stand at attention and see the captain give two quick moves up in the air with his hand and we would break the speed limit coming into headquarters. I am saying all this to let you know what it meant for Bill to walk out of his business and be deprived of the home life with his family and show his colors, by first a red-blooded American to prove to the world: America first at any cost.

The Court House could not run their business if it was not for the paper to report what is happening in the community. Have lawsuits and watch the people bury their faces in the paper to see what the outcome was. I am going to give the people the lowdowns on good old Honest Bill. You know more about Bill Than I know, but if you don't learn all I know about him, I have read his paper ever since I came to Spearman. You may think I have taken a long shot with a sorry gun, but you watch my story regardless to what you may think or say, about what I have to say about Honest Bill. He will say, I have hit the bulls eye, and rang the bell, on the honest truth about him. He looks on both sides of the issue fairly and squarely. I am giving score one. Now I have to go into deep water. I may drown or come out at the mouth of the river but if I am never heard of any more, you will never hear of me. I think of my good friend Bill Miller. I want to say this goes with the start that works with him and makes it possible for us to enjoy the news of the community. I have never seen Bill in a stew he never fuses and fumes about things that he cannot help. He is good natured, and considerate of the feelings of others. Bill is liberal to give free space to any and all worthy causes that should be put before the public.

Bill has made it possible with his hearty co-operation for me to send out the gospel to the four corners of the earth. Fathers have told me that their sons in Germany, wrote and said, "They have enjoyed a sermon from home by the efforts I have put forth to print them in the paper. I have a good long letter from a friend in Korea, saying 'I have enjoyed your sermon in the paper and it is swell.' I am passing it around in the barracks to the soldiers who are a way from home, fighting to help to protect our free fathers fought, bled and died, to establish and protect it from the enemies that would destroy it and put the yoke of bondage upon a free people's necks."

When the war clouds were hanging low, and there was only two ways to get soldiers, the selective draft, and to volunteer. Bill put the call of his country before he did his business and he was willing to sacrifice the comfort of home life and telling his family goodbye. He volunteered in the army. That was not Bill's thought that took him in the army.
