Secret Treaty Memo Issue Is Not Settled

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Republican senators proposed anew today that the Eisenhower resolution denouncing Russian enslavement of free peoples be amended to make doubly clear that the Senate is not approving secret World War II agreements.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) said he wants "a simple amendment to cure the ambiguity," and Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) came up with an amendment he believed would do the trick.

Hickenlooper's amendment was designed to make plain that the resolution is aimed only at Russian "perversion" of agreements calling for self-determination of nations, and does not take any stand on the clauses which granted territorial concessions to Russia.

Secretary of State Dulles has insisted that the Eisenhower resolution as it stands does not approve the wartime "Big Three" agreements. But Taft said Dulles was agreeable to having the Senate say in its report on the measure that Congress was not affirming the agreements.

"If you can do it in a report, you can do it in the resolution itself," Taft said. "I don't believe we would lose any votes by doing it in the bill."

A number of Democrats have made plain they would fight any criticism of past Democratic administrations for entering into such agreements as Yalta, Tehran and Potsdam. They say that in the light of information available at the time, it was necessary to grant concessions to Russia to induce her to enter the war against Japan.

Among other things, the agreements recognized Russian territorial claims in Poland, while promising Poland compensating territory from Eastern Germany. They provided that Russia should take over all of Sakhalin Island and the Kurile Islands, and granted Russia rights in Manchuria. Republicans have roundly denounced such provisions.

The agreements also provided for free elections in Eastern European countries, which Russia later converted into satellites.

The Eisenhower resolution, which denounces perversions of the agreements, starts off this way:

"Whereas, during World War II, representatives of the United States, during the course of secret conferences, entered into various international agreements or understandings concerning other peoples—

Sen. Hickenlooper proposed that the latter part of this sentence be changed to read: "... international agreements or understandings which provided for the freedom and self-determination of other peoples—"

Legislature Has Money Troubles Among Others

AUSTIN, Feb. 28.—Money troubles mounted this week for the 53rd Legislature with bad news from the comptroller indicating the lawmakers must dig deep in somebody's pockets for more revenue.

Legislators worked hard clearing out or paying the way for debate on some lesser issues, both in committee meetings and on the floor.

But any definite action on appropriations and highly possible new taxes has been waiting on the winds of appropriations committee hearings on spending requests, and some hint from the comptroller on how much he thinks will be available for spending.

The legislators got the tipoff from Comptroller Robert S. Calvert Friday. He said declining oil production—the big key to Texas economy—may force his estimate down as much as 20 million dollars for the next two fiscal years.

Subcommittee hearings on the needs of state services financed from the all-purpose general revenue fund nearly are finished. That plus Calvert's statement, pointed to a showdown soon on spending and taxing—still the session's most troublesome and vital issue.

The hard working House chopped down one storm stirring bill and passed another along to the Senate this week.

It killed a bill that would have ended the Parks Board ambitions to develop state resort property after giving it tentative approval earlier. That left one issue less for Senate debate.

But the much-harangued optometry bill cleared final reading in the House and went to the Senate. It will go before the Senate State Affairs Committee Monday at 2 p. m.

Also sent to the Senate calendar this week was one proposed answer to the water supply problem. It was a suggested constitutional amendment with a bond plan designed to keep control of Texas' water resources out of federal hands.

Chiang Urges Efforts To Get Back Mainland

By SPENCER MOOSA
TAIPEH, Sunday, March 1.—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek called on Formosa and the rest of free China Saturday to mobilize all its manpower and resources and speed united efforts for recovery of the Chinese Communist mainland in the near future.

In his first message since President Eisenhower lifted the ban on operations by Nationalist military forces against the Reds, Chiang said:

"The moment of our counter-attack is drawing nearer and nearer. . . .

"Hundreds of millions of our compatriots are suffering from oppression at the hands of Russian puppets and are eagerly looking to us to deliver them at an early date."

The veteran Nationalist leader issued a 7,000-word statement on the eve of the third anniversary of his re-assumption of the presidency of the Republic of China.

During the height of the Chinese civil war Chiang stepped down temporarily Jan. 21, 1949, while his successor, Vice President Li Tsung-jen tried in vain to reach an agreement with the Reds. Li left China for the United States late in 1949 ostensibly for reasons of health. Chiang came to Formosa and on March 1, 1950, proclaimed that he once again had assumed leadership.

Chiang recalled that when he resumed office the entire mainland was lost, the nation was shaken to its foundation and there was danger on all sides. He said that "unnumerable difficulties" had been overcome in the following years.

Now, he said "our nation as a whole has hopes of regeneration." He continued:

"The current year is the most important, in so far as the making of anti-Communist and anti-Russian preparations is concerned."

He urged redoubled efforts to reduce expenses and increase production "at this time when fervid preparations are being made for counterattacking the mainland."

Russell Lashes At Self-Styled Demo Liberals

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 28.—Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) said today that "self-styled liberals" will carry the Democrats to disastrous defeat in 1954 unless they quit trying to "drive the South out of the party."

Russell, who sought in vain to win the Democratic presidential nomination last year, called for unity on a give-and-take basis within the party.

He said attempts by extremists—"sometimes in, and sometimes out of the Democratic party"—to take over the party last year succeeded only in driving part of the South out.

If such a "conspiracy" is continued, he said, the Democratic party will suffer "the most disastrous defeat in American political history in the congressional election next year."

Russell's plea to "keep the Democratic party democratic" was in a speech prepared for a Jefferson-Jackson Dinner here and broadcast in North Carolina.

Reportedly, the Democratic National Committee had canceled plans to re-broadcast it nationally after learning of the nature of the talk. Neither the committee nor Russell would comment on the report, which was circulated yesterday in the Senate.

According to the report, Russell was invited to make the speech as one in a series by party orators. The committee, it was said, arranged for a tape-recording and later national broadcast but, when Russell learned of this plan, he told the committee what he intended to say. Re-broadcast plans were then abandoned.

Russell, who ran third in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination, praised the party's ticket, Adlai Stevenson and Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, as "great Americans."

Morse Holds Party Meet

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Today's issue of the Congressional Record carries this curious heading on page 1548:

"Friday meeting of the Independent party."

Following are nearly 18 columns of fine print on what Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon said late yesterday to an almost empty Senate.

Morse is "The Independent party" who sits with 48 Republicans and 47 Democrats.

For weeks now Morse has engaged in what other senators call a "war of nerves" because he has lost his places on the Armed Services and Labor Committees.

"I am forced to do my committee work on the floor of the Senate now," he says.

Morse was re-elected to the Senate as a Republican in 1950 but during the last presidential campaign he quit the Republican party and supported the Democratic presidential nominee. He now lists himself as Independent.

Because of this and the narrow party division in the Senate, neither the Republicans nor Democrats would give Morse his former committee assignments.

Now, each Friday afternoon, usually after the week's business is concluded, he stands up and announces that he must do "my committee work."

That is a signal for almost all other senators to leave. The Republican and Democratic leaders usually assign substitutes and even Vice President Nixon generally finds a stand-in as presiding officer.

But this apparently does not disturb Morse. Yesterday he covered several different topics.

He criticized private utilities for a campaign against publicly-owned power projects. Then he discussed the national budget.

He endorsed a proposal for a "loyalty check" of each of the 1,800 Senate employees and suggested it be widened to include senators themselves. He said senators should be checked on such things as present or former membership in the Ku Klux Klan which he termed "highly un-American and one of the most subversive organizations in America."

Finally he suggested that former

Sen. Lodge (R-Mass), now this country's chief United Nations representative, was unwise in refusing to shake hands with Soviet Russia's Vishinsky as the U. N. sessions opened.

The cost of recording his views in the Congressional Record runs more than $85 a page, the same as for any other senator.

Morse's discourse covered almost six pages, with three columns to a page.

So far this term the Senate has been meeting three days a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

The current quip is that sessions are held "Monday, Wednesday and Morse-day."

Optometry Bill Due Hearing This Week

AUSTIN (U.P.)—The fury of House debate on a bill to tighten regulation of optometry has hardly died down, but a renewal of the battle is scheduled Monday before a Senate committee.

The measure is identical to the one originally introduced in the House by Rep. Stanley Banks, San Antonio. Bank's bill was much amended before winning House approval Thursday. It likely will be substituted at the Monday hearing.

The optometry bill is one of 30 or more set for public hearing the first three days of next week.

Arguments will be renewed on the Motor Vehicle Financial Responsibility Law enacted two years ago.

State-Backed Program Would Aid Alcoholics

By MAC ROY RASOR

AUSTIN, Feb. 28 (U.P.)—A state-supported $400,000-per-year program to combat, prevent and cure alcoholism in Texas was urged on the governor and the Legislature today.

The proposal came from Gov. Shivers' State-wide Committee on Alcoholism at the end of a two-year study.

The cost, the committee said, should be borne either by all dealers through taxes or by all dealers through higher fees for permits and licenses. Preference was given the latter route.

"Previous estimates of 50,000 chronic alcoholics and 150,000 more problem drinkers in Texas appear to be conservative, and the number is increasing," the committee said.

"Direct money costs due to neglecting the problem are paid by everyone everyday in increased auto insurance premiums, loss to industry due to absenteeism and accidents, increased taxes for welfare, neglected children, police, jails and hospitals.

"This appears to be a clear-cut case where neglect actually costs more than constructive corrective action."

Recommendations specifically included:

1. Creation of a new and separate state agency to administer the program.
2. Furnishing funds to support local efforts at existing clinics and the like.
3. Providing funds for state facilities to be operated by the Hospital Board.
4. Setting up an experimental farm or colony-type facility for custody, re-education and rehabilitation of recurring jail cases.
5. Sponsoring of research, study and modernized instruction.
6. Charging of patients able to pay.
7. Raising cost of dealers' beer and whiskey permits $10 and $15 respectively to finance the program.

W. B. Berry, trustee, R. H. Snyder, filer, W. J. Kohanek, inner guard, and Phillip Praeger, member.

A banquet preceded the institution ceremony which was conducted by J. T. O'Rourke of the El Paso lodge, who is also district deputy.

The Sweetwater lodge conducted the initiation of 69 candidates and while the Lighthouse lodge installed new officers following the election.

One of those elected to a San Angelo lodge post was Marvin B. Savage, a former Big Spring resident, who was given the post as royal knight.

Earlier this week, the local lodge initiated two new members, John Whitting and C. B. Lewis.

2,200-Year-Old Wine Found On Cargo Ship

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (U.P.)—The oldest known cargo ship in the world is being raised from the spot where it sank in the Mediterranean Sea off the southern coast of France some 2,200 years ago.

Included in the cargo: bottles of wine, some still corked after all these years.

The ship was found by the National Geographic Society-Calyppo Marine Archeological expedition. Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, president of the National Geographic, announced the discovery today.

The society's news release said of the ship: "One of the rarest finds or archeological treasure in recent years."

And Grosvenor said of those on the expedition: "Their startling discoveries promise to add much to mankind's knowledge of the ancient world."

Wearing aqualungs which enabled them to range far below the surface of the sea, divers found that the ship carried almost a thousand amphoras—pottery vessels for wine.

It also had 1,400 pieces of fine expert glassware, probably from the Greek province of Latium. This now is Campania, Italy.

Scholars already have figured out who owned the 110-foot, 600-ton ship. He was a fellow named Marcus Sestius, a Roman naturalized as a Greek who lived on the Greek island of Delos.

One ancient historian said he was a powerful politician who was sent to prepare Greece for a Roman conquest.

The expedition was headed by Capt. Jacques-Yves Cousteau, one of the few men who ever danced with an octopus. Or even wanted to, for that matter.

He tells of this, and other strange experiences in the sea, in his recently published book, "The Silent World."

Cousteau has been here conferring with National Geographic officials. He said the ship will be cleared of cargo and mud by late spring, and then will be brought to the surface.

Wine supposedly grows better as it grows older. The National Geographic made no reference to anyone sampling the world's oldest wine, but it was learned unofficially that someone indeed had tasted it, with this result:

"The alcohol was gone, and only sludge was left. Tasted terrible."

Local Elks Attend Angelo Ceremony

Six members of the B.P.O. Elks Lodge 1586, Big Spring, attended Institution rites Friday night for a new lodge at San Angelo.

Attending the ceremony from this city were Glen Gale, exalted ruler; Bill Regedale, leading knight; W. B. Berry, trustee; R. H. Snyder, filer; W. J. Kohanek, inner guard; and Phillip Praeger, member.

A banquet preceded the institution ceremony which was conducted by J. T. O'Rourke of the El Paso lodge, who is also district deputy.

Local Chamber Adds Four New Members

Four new Chamber of Commerce members were announced Saturday, running the month's total to approximately 20.

Latest to secure memberships in the organization are Dr. C. B. Marcum, Eberley-River Funeral Home, Dr. John N. Straub, and Good Housekeeping Shop.

All new members of the Chamber will be invited to a meeting of the organization's board of directors, according to J. H. Greene, manager. Membership in the Chamber has been enlarged by Adolph Swartz, chairman of a committee for that purpose, and Truman Jones, his assistant. Loyd Wooten, projects secretary, also assisted with the program during the first part of the month.

Theft Is Reported

W. B. Pritchard reported theft of four hubcaps from his 1932 Oldsmobile Friday night. The caps were taken while the car was parked in the 300 block of Gregg, he said.

'53 Scholastic Census To Start

Faculty members of the Big Spring schools will start the annual scholastic census Wednesday.

All schools in the city will dismiss classes at 3 p.m. on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday so that teachers can devote time to the census. Principals of the various schools will be in charge of the census in their respective districts, and teachers will make the canvass, said W. C. Blankenship, superintendent.

All parents who have children in the age bracket to be enumerated this year are being urged to be at home during the hours teachers will be making the canvass.

"We must complete the census as rapidly as possible," Blankenship explained, "so that proper reports can be completed."

In addition to the regular scholastic census, the teachers also will be obtaining information on exceptional children. Most every school district has some children with physical handicaps which require special facilities and training, Blankenship said. The schools here are making a study with a view toward providing special facilities for exceptional children.

Children to be enumerated on the scholastic census this year are those who were born from Sept. 1, 1935 through Sept. 1, 1947.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

"Hurry to this address," the police radio dispatcher alerted patrolmen Friday night, giving them a residential number. "There's a man standing on a woman's front porch."

A few minutes later the patrol car radioed back, "Prowler's gone. He was a big, black cat."

Fishing Equipment And Ring Are Stolen

The theft of a ring, fishing tackle and fishing rod from a local home was reported to the sheriff's office Saturday by Mrs. Lewis Forgas.

Mrs. Forgas said the items were missed Friday, but she does not know when they were taken. The theft was from her home, 811 San Antonio.

She reported missing a 14 carat yellow gold diamond ring valued at $150. The rod was metal.

To Visit Schools

Jewel Barton, public health nurse for the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit, will visit three county schools Monday.

She is to confer with pupils and teachers at Vealmoor, Gay Hill, and Center Point schools during the day.

A well-child conference is scheduled for the health unit Wednesday. Miss Barton reported.

Britisher To Lecture On Soil Improvement

The improvement of soil, as the British see the international task, will be explained in Big Spring next Saturday by a member of England's nobility.

Lady Eve Balfour, development secretary of the Soil Association, Ltd., will lecture on the subject of soil improvement at a public meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. Saturday at the Settles Hotel.

Her appearance here is being sponsored by the Big Spring Altrusa Club. Lady Balfour is a member of the London Altrusa organization.

She is on a three-month research and lecture tour of the United States. Earlier this week she will visit the Texas Research Foundation, Dallas, and the University of Oklahoma.

The English woman is interested in soil improvement as a means of improving the quality of food at the source. The Soil Association believes this is one of the best methods for promoting better general health.

The speaker is expected to discuss the three principal methods of soil improvement as practiced throughout the world today. These are the return of all possible organic waste to the soil, addition of chemical fertilizer, and a com-

Airman Charged With Theft Here

Eugene M. Beaver, airman from Webb Air Force Base, was in county jail Saturday on charges of stealing a typewriter and two Bibles from a local church.

Deputy Sheriff Dale Lane arrested him within an hour after the theft was reported. Beaver is charged in Justice Court.

The typewriter and Bibles were taken from the church, early Wednesday morning. After the report, Lane found the typewriter in a local pawn shop.

Beaver, in a typewritten statement, said he got $25 from the shop on the typewriter, spent $15

LOST 50 POUNDS WITH THIS HOME RECIPE

Here is a sensible way to help take off unwanted weight, that is not based on the rigid diet and "vitamin" plan. You get all you want, but you eat LESS. Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. It definitely saves you eating more than the body requires for the energy you expend. At the same time it dehydrates and stimulates.

Just get a four-ounce bottle of Barcontrate at your drugist. Four ounces into a pint bottle or jar and add grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Take two table-spoonful twice a day. In the improved Barcontrate carton, in addition to the liquid, you will find a supply of appetite "kick" tablets which help loosen the taste buds which lie on the surface of the tongue. Dissolve tablets on tongue as per directions on label. If the very first bottle of Barcontrate doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose off unwanted weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Alice Grand Jury Asks Help From The Governor

ALICE, Tex., Feb. 28 (AP)—The grand jury that investigated the Buddy Floyd murder case asked Gov. Shivers today to "use your influence to remedy the existing situation in this judicial district."

The request in a letter to the governor was the grand jury's last official act. The jury's term expired today. Nine of the group's 12 members, all who were present at the final session, signed the letter.

The grand jury accused Dist. Judge Woodward Laughlin of "stumbling blocks and delays" in the way of its investigations.

The grand jury's biggest investigation was in the death of Jacob S. (Buddy) Floyd Jr., 22, son of a prominent South Texas lawyer and political leader, who was shot and killed Sept. 8 at the family home here, Nago Alaniz, Alice attorney, and Marie Sapet, San Antonio bar owner, were charged with murder and with conspiracy to murder the youth's father. The elder Floyd said Alaniz told him the bullets were intended for the father, not young Floyd, in a political assassination plot.

Floyd and former Dist. Judge Sam Reams were opponents of political boss George Parr of Duval County. Laughlin won the district judgeship from Reams with Parr's backing.

Laughlin said the grand jury's letter was "just more politics." He refused to comment further.

The grand jury's letter to the governor recited these incidents:

1. The grand jury in District No. 104, Duval County, Texas, was organized on a charge of defrauding Jim Wells

County by selling it his law books for more than they were worth. Laughlin bought back the books on the day he was to be tried and the charges were dismissed. The grand jury called this an "apparent admission" by Laughlin.

2. Laughlin's first official act as district judge was to dismiss the grand jury. The State Supreme Court was asked to order him to reinstate the grand jury. However, before the hearing, the grand jury wrote, "Judge Laughlin admits apparently admitted his error and rescinded his order dismissing the grand jury."

3. "When the grand jury reconvened Feb. 16," the letter went on, "Rushon Norris, newly elected district attorney, who was supported for such office along with Judge Laughlin by district judge by George B. Parr in Duval County, insisted upon sitting in the grand jurying during our interrogation of witnesses and investigation of further facts in connection with the Floyd murder case, although he was associated with Nago Alaniz at the time of the murder. . . .

Norris and Alaniz were law partners.

The letter recited that after some argument, Judge Laughlin agreed to let Dist. Atty. Bill Allcorn of Brownwood substitute for Norris and directed Norris to stay out of the jury room. Allcorn is scheduled to prosecute Alaniz in Brownwood March 16.

"However," the letter said, "Mr. Allcorn was only able to stay with the grand jury about a day and a half and had gone back to Brownwood, whereupon Raeburn Norris, or his assistant, Oscar Carrillo, an attorney in San Diego, Duval County, insisted upon being with the grand jury at all times except during our deliberations for returning an indictment, irrespective of whether we were investigating the Floyd murder case or any other matter."

"We were desirous of subpoenaing a number of witnesses to interrogate in the Floyd murder case but were instructed by Judge Laughlin that he had appointed a deputy by the name of Sanchez (Octavio Sanchez) who is reputed to be a friend of George B. Parr and that all subpoenas issued for Duval County by the grand jury must be served by him, although there were two Texas Rangers available for serving such subpoenas and two of them had been sworn in as bailiffs to this grand jury."

"The grand jury said that Judge Laughlin, agreed in a conference to issue Duval County subpoenas provided that they be served by a committee made up of Texas Ranger Capt. Alfred Alle, Jim Wells County Sheriff Halsey Wright and Duval County Sheriff Archer Parr, George Parr's nephew."

"As a result of such stumbling blocks and delays," the letter to the governor said, "when an attempt was made to locate two of the witnesses we had subpoenaed, officers informed us one of them had gone to Mexico and the other had disappeared and neither were served with subpoenas as far as we know."

The letter added:

"We feel that Judge Laughlin's conduct in this matter (grand jury investigations as a whole) has not been in accordance with the standard of practice which a district judge in this state should follow."

The letter was signed by Jury Foreman Dean Allen, John Hershchlag, Henry Cornelius, Victor Garcia, B. C. Rokohl, H. L. Poole, Guy Seale, Jack Dunn and C. E. Vandiver.

The grand jurors said the letter was mailed today.

They also issued a brief report to Judge Laughlin's court. It asked that in the future petit juries be chosen by jury wheel. They now are chosen by a jury panel.

Judge Laughlin said the new grand jury will be empaneled Thursday.

Senate Gets Bear Facts

Bruin Mike takes a firm hold as he lobbies presumably against a bill in the Minnesota Legislature that would establish a bounty on the heads of his wild cousins. Mike is seizing the gravel, not the finger, of Lt. Gov. Anchor Neffsen, president of the Minnesota Senate, during a lull in the legislative proceedings at St. Paul. GARDEN HOSE BRINGS WATER

"Operation Garden Hose" might describe the methods the city uses to supply customers east of town with water.

The city has several water consumers along the main which used to bring water into town from Moss Creek and Powell Lakes. But the lakes are now dry and water is secured from another source.

Customers out that way still draw their water from the lake line, however. A garden hose transfers water from the municipal treatment plant to the lake main.

The hose runs all the time, keeping the main pretty well reservoir serving consumers as far away as the lakekeeper's cottage.

Killing Halts Play Practice

SUNDOWN, Tex., Feb. 28 (AP)—A clean-cut teacher quietly interrupted a murder play rehearsal to kill a friend he accused of forcing his wife to make love.

Blood Jack Killingsworth, 29, told his story today to reporters and officers at a bond hearing in Searby Levelland.

The man he killed last night was Richard McChristal, 37, muscular vocational agriculture teacher at Sundown High School.

Killingsworth, a 5 ft 10 in. man, was on his way home from work when the family friend had forced her to make love to him.

The young high school shop teacher, an amateur gunsmith who boasts he can hit a running coyote with ease, grabbed a .22 caliber semi-automatic rifle and went out to get McChristal.

He found him at the high school auditorium, where McChristal was learning a role in the faculty play, a murder mystery called "Meet the Body."

All 13 members of the cast were present for the Friday night rehearsal.

Killingsworth said he called to McChristal, "I want to see you, Mac."

Then it went like this, according to Killingsworth:

McChristal walked outside with him. Killingsworth told him the story (came out as Sheriff Weale Clem and Justice of the Peace A. F. (Pop) Odell questioned him at the bond hearing. Three newspapermen were present.

Tucker said today he was sure the play would not be presented, that he believed none of the faculty members would consider going ahead with it.

Proceeds were to have paid for a senior class trip.

Killingsworth said that when he heard his wife's story and grabbed his gun, she ran in terror to a neighbor's porch. He said he fired at her but missed, then told her: "I'm not going to kill you, but I am going to kill him."

Asked if he intended to hit his wife, he said:

"I guess I didn't. I've shot running coyotes with ease. I figure I could hit a woman at 50 feet if I wanted to hit her."

He said he doesn't blame his wife for what happened.

The Killingsworths have two children, a boy, 7, and a girl, 5. McChristal was married but childless.

Killingsworth said McChristal made improper advances to his wife last summer. He said they discussed the situation and agreed neither liked it but allowed McChristal to continue visiting them.

"Both of my kids were crazy about him," Killingsworth said.

Killingsworth goes to Lubbock, 45 miles northeast of this West Texas oil and farm town, to attend a night class at Texas Technological College each Wednesday night.

He said he was working in the high school shop here last night when his wife drove to the school and asked him to go home with her, saying she wanted to have a talk with him.

Killingsworth said she then told him that McChristal had visited her last Wednesday night while he was at Tech. Killingsworth said his wife told him that McChristal forced her to have intercourse with him and that she made no outcry because of the children and because she was afraid.

"When she told me that, I just went crazy, that's all," Killingsworth said.

Seven Dead In Palestine Fire

PALESTINE, Feb. 28 (AP)—Seven graves side by side in a cemetery here today bore evidence of the fury of a flash fire which swept through a home.

Five persons were burned to death outright in the Thursday night blaze. A sixth died yesterday of burns and a seventh last night. All were Negroes.

Latest victim was Etta Rene Edd, 20, who reportedly started the fire when she accidentally dropped a glass jug of gasoline.

Mary Taylor, 78, died yesterday.

The charred bodies of five other victims were identified yesterday as those of Margaret Edd, 25; her son, James Harold Jackson, 4; her daughter, Eddie Mae Jackson, 1; Crandall Wilson, 13, and Jimmie Leroy Callier, 3.

Funeral services for six victims were held yesterday. Etta Rene was buried today beside them.

John Harris Howell, Odessa, Dies Here

Services were held at Nalley's Chapel at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon for John Harris Howell, 57, of Odessa, who died at the Veterans Administration Hospital here Friday.

Chaplain C. O. Hill of the hospital officiated at the rites, after which the body was shipped to Waco for burial.

A veteran of World War I, Howell was a photographer before he became ill. He was born August 16, 1895 in Temple.

Survivors, in addition to his wife, include a brother, C. W. Howell, Temple, and two uncles, Walter H. Harris, Memphis; and Earl R. Harris, San Antonio.

CIO Political Group Is Meeting Today

A district meeting of the CIO Political Action Committee is scheduled here today.

T. E. Webb, Dallas, arranged the meeting at the Settles Hotel. Meeting is slated for 8:30 a. m. and a luncheon will be held at 12:30 p. m.

Harold Bishop, Big Spring, of Communications Workers of America, Local No. 610, is local representative on the PAC. It was not reported Saturday what is on the program for the district session.

Bonds Set In Trials Of Two Men Saturday

Justice of the Peace (Cecil) Nabors set two $1,500 bonds in examining trials Saturday. One was for Grady Madry, charged with bigamy, and the other for Claude Lee Norris, charged with forgery and attempt to pass a forged check.

Both men remained in county jail in lieu of posting bond. Norris tried to pass a $72.50 check at a local store, but was caught in the act by sheriff's officials.

VOA Rejects Work For German Agency

By ALBERT CARMICHAEL. NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—Two men rejected for posts with the Voice of America for security reasons "now hold 'high positions' under the U. S. high commissioner to Germany, a witness said today."

Sen. Joseph McCarthy's Senate subcommittee investigating possible subversion and waste in Voice operations heard the testimony on a nationally televised hearing.

The witness, James F. Thompson, facilities manager for the Voice, said the men were Ed Schechter, now chief of the U. S. radio branch in Bonn, and Theodore Kagan, who was chief of the press section in Germany.

Thompson said his own office had to work with the men and that his department suffered "inordinate delays" in developing a radio plant in Munich during the past four years.

Earlier, two Voice officials testified that the State Department ordered suspension of anti-Communist broadcasts to Israel last December—just two weeks after the Prague anti-Semitic trials.

These witnesses were Gerald Doehner, chief of the Voice's Near East and Asia service, and his subordinate, Sidney Glazer, chief of the Voice's Hebrew service.

"It was a well struck blow for the Communist powers," he added.

Doehner said the order came on Dec. 9 from Reed Harris, then acting administrator of the International Information Administration.

32 Scouts Here Register For National Jamboree

A total of 32 local Boy Scouts met the Saturday deadline to register for the National Jamboree to be held in California July 17-28.

Approximately four other "John Doe" registrations will be wired to national headquarters Monday, it was announced by Jimmie Hale, local field executive.

The John Doe registrations are four Scouts who might later decide they wish to make the trip, Hale said. Besides, the local Scouts will be able to make the trip as a separate unit if 35 go.

Original quota for the Lone Star District was 22. Hale said only one other district in the council met the quota, and it is centered in Odessa.

Hale said that 145 Scouts have registered over the entire Buffalo Council. The original council quota was 175. One Scout submitted the largest number of registrants with 36.

Scouts from the immediate area are scheduled to leave Big Spring via T&P Railroad on July 10 and return July 29. Hale said travel would be by air conditioned coach.

Leaders in charge of the Lone Star group will be Bob Davenport, Stanton; Arnold Seydler, Big Spring; and A. E. True, Big Spring.

Approximately 50,000 boys will be in attendance at the Jamboree from all over the United States and a few foreign countries. The Jamboree will be at Irvine Ranch, near the west coast.

Those from the area who have registered include: Donald Lovelady, Adrian DeGraffenried, George Peacock, Lanny Hamby, Bill French, Bernard McMahon, Art Dodd, Tommy Buckner, Richard Engle, Frank Powell, Kelsey Meeks, Lee Denton, Jerry McMahon, Jimmy Simmons, Bill Owen, Gordon Bristow, Teddy Groehl Jr., Vance McCright, Benny Edwards, Don Collins, Robert Phelan, Johnny Phillips, Adison C. Rawlins, Douglas Eastham, Billy Bob Satterwhite, Jim Damrow, Bill Martin, Buddy Martin, Rufus Tom, Dave Cravens, Frank Tate and Muri Bailey.

All but the last four are from Big Spring, Tom and Cravens are from Stanton, and Tate and Bailey are from Forsan.

Court Fines In Week Hit $747

Drunkenness took a back seat in corporation court this week.

For the first time in months, the offense failed to account for at least half of the fines assessed. Intoxication was responsible for but $284 of the $747 in fines assessed in city court during the week.

Theft, disturbance and traffic charges climbed into the spotlight. Two persons were fined $125 for theft. A $75 fine was assessed for disturbance, while driving without license and speeding accounted for $145 in fines.

Other principal traffic fine was a $50 levy against a man for driving on the wrong side of the street.

Transferred from city to other courts were two persons arrested and held as District Court witnesses, two juvenile girls who ran away from home, and one person, also a juvenile, charged with drunkenness.

Speedup Possible In Desensitization

BOSTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Patients now may be desensitized to allergic reactions in 20 days—instead of five or six months—through a speedup made possible by a new use of the Edmund L. Keeney, Dr. Harry A. Wess and Dr. Edward Mears of San Diego, Calif., reported today.

Three other doctors reported restoring asthma sufferers to useful lives by carefully supervised use of acth and cortisone.

Their papers were prepared for the annual meeting of the American Academy of Allergy.

Under the standard technique, a patient undergoes desensitization treatment by injections (about twice a week) of the substance to which he is allergic. The injections are to cause the body to build up concentrations of protecting antibodies.

Big Spring and Howard County are getting a real treat in that the Red Cross campaign is being limited to just the local chapter's needs until next fall. Then, Red Cross will join other agencies in an honest-to-goodness United Fund Drive. This may be the answer to a lot of prayers—prayers of canvassers who have to work on all the drives, and of donors who have been approached so many times. You can help make the United Fund theory work, if you'll help put this emergency Red Cross drive over the top—quick.

The political scene stirs, even though we call this an "off" year. There are now six bidders for two places on the City Commission, five candidates for three places on the School Board. The elections are in early April.

This is school visitation week, and you might learn nearly as much as some of your youngsters if you would take a little time and drop in on a school room. Might learn that teachers, too, have their problems.

It's to be school census week, too, with teachers taking the annual canvass on March 4-5-6. Be sure and see that the children's noses are counted.

Citizens will be welcoming a big new paving project. The city fathers plan to issue $100,000 in warrants for a summer program. It is due to mean up to 183 blocks and everyone of them needed.

Man Is Jailed On Charge Of Theft

J. D. Jackson was arrested Saturday evening by sheriff's officials on charges of theft. Complaint was lodged against Jackson by Mrs. W. A. Barnes in September of last year.

He is charged with taking two carburetors, other used car parts and a suit case valued at $35. Mrs. Barnes lives on Oil Field Road.

Willer To Manage Store At Lubbock

Dick Willer has been promoted in the Zale's Jewelry organization to the management of a store at Lubbock. He is leaving today for his new post.

Willer has been assistant to Vic Alexander, Zale's manager here for the past year. He has been with the company for four years.

Don Richards serves as assistant manager in Big Spring.

Small Claims Court Is Aim Of Measure

AUSTIN, Feb. 28 (AP)—A bill to cut costs and save time in small claims law suits will be introduced in the House by Rep. Waggoner Carry Lubbock.

The bill would limit court costs and attorneys fees and provide for early trials in such cases, Carr said. In effect the bill would establish small claims courts in Texas.

supports and always have been," he said. "It would be my recommendation certainly to include price supports as part of the new program." However, he made it clear he doesn't favor a high, rigid support level. He feels the high supports encourage inefficiency and wasteful surpluses.

This issue is: some farmers and members of Congress favor continued high-level supports on basic crops while Benson and his supporters would prefer a flexible price support plan ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

A storm broke around Benson's head earlier this month when he spoke to a group of cattlemen in St. Paul, Minn. He referred to the use of price supports as "disaster insurance," and also said farmers were going to have to depend more on themselves and less on the government.

Some of his critics picked up the "disaster insurance" phrase and pointed to it as an indicator that Benson wasn't going to be too sympathetic toward the farmers.

Some people close to Benson say the new secretary had two or three rough days before the pressure began to ease—and that a lot of people were wondering what President Eisenhower would have to say.

But it is understood on good authority the President gave Benson assurance he was standing squarely behind him and gave him the signal to march ahead.

Last Saturday, Benson went before a farm group at Des Moines, Ia., to clarify his position. The general reaction there was that Benson had made a lot of friends and won himself considerable support with his talk.

Benson is convinced now that he must go throughout the country talking to farm groups and explaining his plans to them as he did in Des Moines.

turned the slot, took the money, placed a pint of whiskey in the container, and turned it back to the buyer. The undercover man never saw who sold him the whiskey.

Another interesting find at the house Saturday was a kitchen cabinet which had a false back. The cabinet could be turned out to reveal shelves in the wall partition behind.

Mitchell County Sheriff Dick Gregory said he had found liquor in the shelves behind the cabinet in the past. There was nothing there Saturday.

C. B. Arnold, director of the Big Spring office of the Liquor Control Board, was in charge of the raid. J. T. Morgan and Marshall Smith, board investigators, accompanied him.

Highway Patrolmen Dan Nowlin and Ed (Bip) Allen also helped, along with Gregory's deputies. Colorado City Chief of Police Sam Hulme arrived right after the raid started.

Officials looked in the attic, checked all walls for false openings, checked underneath the house, and made a thorough search. There was no liquor to be found.

The "electric stash" was made of iron and was set in concrete about two feet deep. It took officials nearly two hours to tear it up from the concrete bedding.

Fumes from the hole underneath were so strong that Sheriff Gregory had to wear a gas mask to go down into it. The glass particles were in the bottom.

The stash was confiscated and taken to the sheriff's office in Colorado City. No charges were filed Saturday as the occupant did not possess liquor for sale at the time of entry.

Officials said the "electric stash" is unusual. One was located in Sweetwater recently, and others have cropped up from time to time over the state.

Bible Class Plans Dinner Meeting

The Business Men's Bible Class has planned a social event for members and their wives for Monday evening, Frank Hardesty, president, has announced.

A dinner meeting has been set for 7:30 p. m. in the Candlelight Room of the Wagon Wheel. There will be a brief program, including numbers by a "barbershop quartet," Hardesty said.

Britain Ponders Exchange Offer

By TOM OCHILTREE
LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Britain weighed gravely today a Communist offer to trade a British businessman serving a 13-year prison term in Hungary for a Chinese glamor girl guerrilla leader standing in the shadow of the gallows in Malaya.

The Foreign Office said no decision had as yet been reached. It was a grim chess move by world communism through Hungary's Red government with these human beings as pawns.

Edgar Sanders, 48, bespectacled cousin of film star George Sanders, who has served three years of the 13-year sentence on espionage charges in a case that originally involved Robert A. Vogeler, a New York businessman.

Lee Meng, alias Lee Ten Tai, 25, a pretty and sullen rebel campaigner in Malaya, regarded by the British as more dangerous than a tiger when they placed a price of $40,000 on her head.

A Malayan court convicted Lee Meng last summer of carrying arms, specifically a hand grenade. The offense carried a mandatory death penalty in Malaya, where the British have been waging a jungle war for five years against Communist-led guerrillas. The girl was accused of responsibility for the death of nine Britons.

The sensational barter offer clearly put the British government on the spot. Communists figure the Kremlin will reap a propaganda advantage, regardless of what decision Prime Minister Churchill's Cabinet takes.

The offer gave Communist confirmation to what the non-Communist world already knew—that the struggle in the steaming jungles of Malaya is tied in with the whole world picture of Communist aggression and pressure. In the past the Communists have contended the Malayan fighting was entirely a Nationalist movement against British authority.

Sanders and Vogeler, executives of the International Telephone and Telegraph Corp., were convicted on espionage charges by a Budapest court Feb. 21, 1950. Both the United States and British governments branded their conviction as travesties of justice completely unfounded in fact.

Vogeler, who got 15 years, was released in 1951. The U. S. government made a series of concessions to Hungary in negotiating for his freedom, among other things allowing previously closed Hungarian consulates in the United States to reopen.

Vogeler's release led to demands in Britain that the government make a bid for Sanders. But, until the human barter offer came up, Britain had nothing to offer. Sanders' family, unable through the years to establish contact with him, feared he had died.

While Britain's minister to Budapest, R. M. A. Hankey, refused there today to either confirm or deny that the offer was made, the Foreign Office in London admitted that Hankey was approached on the subject several weeks ago.

The pro-empire London Daily Express said "Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden supported the proposal, but most members of the British Cabinet were against it. Sanders' wife, Winifred, began bombarding British officials with pleas to make the trade. She sent this telegram to Prime Minister Churchill:

"Please do all possible to release my husband, Edgar Sanders, father of my three girls. Cannot understand ministers' decision after Eden's support."

Taft Sees Little Hope Of Balanced Budget By July 1

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Senate Republican leader Taft indicated today he has little hope of balancing the budget by July 1, although he said federal spending now runs about two billion dollars under former President Truman's estimates.

Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.) told the Senate yesterday it might be possible to hold spending to 66 billion dollars in the fiscal year ending June 30. This would be about eight billion less than Truman's estimates.

While Taft did not take direct issue with Carlson, the Ohioan said in an interview that government outlays would have to be slashed 16 per cent in the next four months even to bring the budget down to 70 billions.

A 70-billion outlay would still leave the government in the red about two billions, since tax receipts have been estimated as short of that figure.

"I think we ought to bring the total down to around 70 billion for the full year," Taft said, "but until we get reports from the department heads on the commitments that already have been made and some guess from them on how much we can cut, it's hard to tell what we can do."

Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge has called for reports from department heads Monday and expects to have some recommendations on reductions as soon as the figures have been compiled.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) told a reporter he is waiting to see what recommendations Dodge comes up with before he makes any suggestions for cutting expenditures.

Byrd only Democrat to be chosen as permanent head of a committee in the Republican-controlled Congress, said he understands the administration is aiming for a 10 per cent slash.

Remaining Controls Expected To Vanish During Next Week

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—If the Eisenhower administration continues its rapid decontrol timetable, most of all of the few remaining price ceilings on food and consumer goods will vanish next week. More prices will rise.

Within two weeks, officials expect to have virtually closed out the consumer end of price stabilization field offices over the country can be in liquidation by the middle of March.

The next batch of decontrols, it was reported, may include bread, coffee and beer; major appliances like refrigerators, washers and ranges, laundry and cleaning services and hundreds of hardware-store items.

Possibly sharp increases in the cost of laundry, cleaning, linen and diaper services are anticipated. Some of the durable goods also may rise. Officials have reported "considerable pressure" on several home-laundry and electrical kitchen appliance items.

Automobiles, the first things controlled more than two years ago, are scheduled to be among the last decontrolled. Price increases may be curbed, however, by sales competition in what bids fair to be the industry's second biggest production year in history.

Steel also has been on the OPS "last-to-go" list. However, last week's decontrol of copper and aluminum, which brought immediate price boosts of 12 to 17 per cent for copper, may compel earlier decontrol for steel.

An immediate jump in coffee prices is considered almost certain when the lid comes off. Price officials said Brazilian suppliers long have sought better prices for coffee beans but were restrained by regulations which forbid U. S. importers to pay above the OPS ceiling.

Since virtually all the items still under ceilings, aside from chemicals and industrial materials and equipment, a few family-budget goods on which price pressures have been strongest, the end of controls may reverse the recent downward trend in living costs.

The consumers' price index released yesterday, showing a 0.2 per cent drop, was for the month ended Jan. 15, five days before the Eisenhower administration took over. The effect, if any, of the early Republican decontrol moves will show up in the index a month hence.

In spite of the early-January decline, in which foods led the way, the index remained 11.9 per cent above its pre-Korea level. It is

Auto Tag Sales Lag; Sub-Units Planned

Purchase of 1953 automobile license plates has been dragging during the past week, according to Mrs. Viola Robinson, tax assessor-collector.

Through Saturday a little more than 1,900 passenger car tags had been issued. Actually this is about 485 more plates than were issued in the same period last year.

Mrs. Robinson said that the majority of the licenses this year were issued during the first two weeks of February. During the third week business started slackening up, and last week it actually dragged.

She said that more licenses have been issued this month than in February of last year because of the good start. "We started off like a house afire," she said. "But the flame has started going out."

She said that sub-stations would be set up beginning March 9 to give better service to the people. The sub-stations will be a Coahoma, Forsan, Knott, Big Spring Motor Company, and the Fire Station at 18th and Main.

Mrs. Robinson said she hopes people will use the sub-stations so that congestion will be relieved at the Courthouse. She also said that if people do use them the last minute license rush might be lessened.

Mrs. Robinson warned Howard County residents that those waiting until the last few days to purchase licenses would have to stand in fairly long lines.

Authority for setting up the sub-stations was received from the Highway Department. Mrs. Robinson sent a request in early February, and highway officials thought it was a good idea.

Passenger, farm and commercial vehicles which have been previously ly registered and have Texas titles can be registered at the sub-stations, Mrs. Robinson said.

All people owning out-of-state cars and needing title transfers must apply at the courthouse office, as the sub-stations will not be equipped to aid them.

Sub-stations will be manned by regular tax office personnel. The Coahoma station will be opened in the city hall there March 9, 10, and 11. On March 12, the Forsan sub-station will be open, and on March 13 the Knott station.

Both the Big Spring Motor Company station and Fire Station post will be open March 16 through 31.

Zone Hearing Is Set For Monday

Public hearing will be held at 8:15 p. m. Monday on proposal for changing zoning classification of four half blocks of residential property near 11th Place and State.

The City Zoning and Planning Commission has called the hearing for the Corporation Courtroom, City Hall.

The commission will hear discussion for or against the proposed zoning change to a commercial classification. If approved, zoning changes will affect the north halves of the three blocks on the south side of 11th Place between Young and Settles, and the south half of the block facing 11th Place from the north between Maple and Rosemont.

J. T. Thornton Jr. requested change of the Maple-to-Rosemont half block. The zoning commission decided that any enlargement of the community business center probably should also include the property across the street.

County Court To Be Resumed This Week

County Court session will resume Tuesday with some 42 civil cases scheduled for trial during the week.

County Judge R. H. Weaver stated that a 24-man jury panel has been called for 10 a. m. Monday. He said a large number of civil cases has been scheduled to clear the court docket.

Criminal court week has been tentatively set for March 9. County Attorney Hartman Houser says that about six cases on driving while intoxicated are scheduled.

Large Turnout Due In Fort Worth Meet

FORT WORTH, Feb. 28 (AP)—More than 1,000 official entries for the 30th annual Southwestern Recreation Track and Golf Meets here next Friday and Saturday had been filed today, Meet Director R. D. Evans announced.

Eighty-eight teams are entered in the five-division track and field carnival, including 60 high schools, nine junior colleges, seven prep school-college freshmen, and six each in the university and college classes.

Four of the five team champions from last year—Southern Methodist (university), North Texas State (college), Victoria (junior college) and Stillwater, Okla., (high school)—will be on hand to defend their titles.

The University of Texas freshman team, which won the prep school-college freshman crown, has not filed an official entry yet.

Strong team bids in the university division this year are expected to come from Oklahoma A&M, SNU, Baylor and TCU.

Stillwater and Amarillo are expected to provide the chief competition in the high school division.

High school preliminaries will get underway at 1 p. m. Friday. Prelims in all other divisions begin at 9 a. m. Saturday except the university field events which begin with all finals at 1 p. m. Saturday.

Team entries in the golf tournament, which will be held at Meadowbrook, include 26 high schools and four each in university and freshman-junior college divisions.

Final arrangements for big outdoor classics, first in the nation this year, will be made at an organization meeting here Wednesday night.

SW Teams Open Baseball Drills

By The Associated Press NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—Topped by big 6.11 Walter Dukes of Seton Hall, three players from the Atlantic Coast and two from the Pacific Coast were named today to the 1953 Associated Press All-America collegiate basketball team.

Selected with Dukes were 5.09 Johnny O'Brien, Seattle University; 6.07 Bob Houbregs, University of Washington; 6.08 Tom Gola, La Salle College, and 6.04 Ernie Beck, University of Pennsylvania.

They were chosen by a vote of 201 sportswriters and broadcasters of every section of the country. Their selection emphasized the tremendous improvement in their play this season. Only a year ago when the 1952 team was picked, Dukes, Gola and Beck rated no better than honorable mention.

O'Brien and Houbregs got sufficient votes to place a notch higher—on the third team. Now they are the first players from the Pacific Coast to win a first team berth on The Associated Press All-America.

On the basis of five points for a first team vote and two points for the second team, Dukes dominated the balloting. The Seton Hall star polled 124 first team votes for a total of 684 points. O'Brien got 502 points and Houbregs 450. Gola, a sophomore and the only non-senior

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 28 (AP)—Green-tailed Straight Face, the 5 to 1 favorite, overcame the front-running tribe in the stretch today to win Hialeah's famous Flamingo Race and the richest pot of gold ever collected by a three-year-old thoroughbred.

Vernon Clouts B'wood Lions

VERNON — The Vernon Lions of District I-AAA advanced to the State Basketball Tournament by defeating Brownwood of District 2-AAA for the second straight time here Friday night, 56-37.

The Vernon team had won an earlier game in Brownwood, 54-47. Brownwood lead early in the game but the home club was in command by a 13-12 count at the end of the opening period. By half time, it was 27-19, Vernon.

Later Dye scored 18 points and Ramon Towry 17 for Vernon. Leonard Fry again paced Brownwood with 10 points.

Midland Indians Acquire Hurler

MIDLAND — Romanrico Soto, a righthanded hurler, has been acquired by the Midland Indians from Havana of the Florida International League.

Soto worked in 16 games for Havana in 1952 and wound up with an earned-run-average of 2.29. He's a limited-service player.

Buffaloes Beaten In Second Round

BROWNWOOD — The Forsan Buffaloes lost out in the second round of the Region II-B Basketball Tournament here Friday night, yielding to Lipan by a 76-51 count.

WARREN UNANIMOUS CHOICE

Three HC Players Named To All-West Zone Team

Three HCJC sophomores — Bobby Williams, Charley Warren and Bobby Maines — have been named to the West Zone 1952-53 all-star basketball team.

Warren, along with Odessa's Tommy Smith, were unanimous choices for the team. Williams-lacked one vote of getting universal backing.

Bobby Hudson, Amarillo, was the other player named to the first five. The coaches within the conference named all-opponent teams, and Sports Writer Hank Brown of Amarillo gathered the information.

Clarence (Casey) Jones, HCJC, was named to the second team, along with Duane Jeter, Odessa; Charles Meadows, Frank Phillips; C. W. (Red) Meyers, Amarillo; Tom Boyd, Amarillo; and Bob Black, Odessa. Boyd and Black received the same number of votes.

Williams, a native of Dallas, Texas, wound up as the conference's leading scorer in all games. In conference play alone, Boyd was first with 178 points, compared to 133 for Williams.

It was the best representation the Hawks had ever had on the mythical quintet. The HC team waded through eight conference games without a loss.

Big Spring is the home town of both Maines and Warren. Hudson hails from Amarillo, Smith from Pampa, and Williams, of course, from Dallas.

Jeter is also a Pampa product. Meadows lives in White Deer, Boyd in Amarillo, Black in Monahans, Jones from Odessa and Meyers from Dumas. Meyers became eligible at mid-term.

Dukes And O'Brien Are Named To All-America Cage Quintet

By TED MEIER NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—Topped by big 6.11 Walter Dukes of Seton Hall, three players from the Atlantic Coast and two from the Pacific Coast were named today to the 1953 Associated Press All-America collegiate basketball team.

Selected with Dukes were 5.09 Johnny O'Brien, Seattle University; 6.07 Bob Houbregs, University of Washington; 6.08 Tom Gola, La Salle College, and 6.04 Ernie Beck, University of Pennsylvania.

Straight Face Wins Rich Flamingo Stakes Race

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 28 (AP)—Green-tailed Straight Face, the 5 to 1 favorite, overcame the front-running tribe in the stretch today to win Hialeah's famous Flamingo Race and the richest pot of gold ever collected by a three-year-old thoroughbred.

It was the biggest first prize in racing history for a three-year-old event and the third largest for any race. It was surpassed only by the $144,325 paid Great Circle for winning the 1951 Santa Anita maturity and the $119,900 to Crafty Admiral for his triumph in the 1952 Washington Park Handicap.

Vera S. Bragg's Tribe snatched the lead at the first turn in the mile and a furlong test for Kentucky Derby hopefuls and held it until Straight Face nosed to the front halfway down the stretch.

Royal Bay Gem came on to best Tribe by a neck. Cerise Reine, only filly in the field of 16, was fourth.

A crowd of 32,728 turned out in beautiful 78-degree weather to view the race in person and millions more saw it on a national television network (CBS). It was the first Florida race to be televised.

Straight Face's time over a fast track was 1:49 2-5, two and one-fifth seconds slower than the track record for the distance established last season by Spartan Valor.

Straight Face rewarded his backers with $5.30 to win, $3.40 to place and $2.80 to show. Royal Bay Gem paid $4.30 and $3.30. Tribe returned $3.30.

Abilene Blue Sox Plan Tryout Camp

Boys who aspire to a baseball career will get an opportunity to learn how the professionals do in Abilene next Saturday and Sunday.

The Abilene Blue Sox will hold a school and tryout camp in their park on those days. Players with previous professional experience, as well as those who want to break into the game, are eligible to attend, if they are free agents.

Each boy will furnish his own room, meals, transportation and equipment. If he is signed to a contract, all expenses he has incurred in camp will be returned to him.

In addition, he will be taking to the Abilene spring training camp at Kissimmee, Fla.

Masters' Meet Set To Begin On April 9

AUGUSTA, Ga., Feb. 28 (AP)—Present day rulers of golf and the Masters' meet here April 9-12 to compete for one of the game's most prized titles, the Masters' Championship.

Ninety-seven invitations to the 17th annual Masters, one of the top four tournaments in the nation, were announced today. This select group includes 16 players who were not eligible for last year's Masters.

They will match skill and patience, and perhaps a bit of luck, over the beautiful but tricky 6,900-yard, par-72 Augusta National Golf Club course. Sam Snead won the 1952 tournament, his second Masters' victory, with a 286, highest winning score in history but still four strokes better than runner-up Jack Burke Jr.

Four players were added to the Masters' permanent invitation list by virtue of their achievements during the past 12 months. They are Julius Boros, U. S. Open champion; Jack Westland, U. S. amateur winner; Harvie Ward Jr., British amateur tillist, and Jim Turnesa, Professional Golfers' Assn. Tournament champion.

In addition to the 97 invitations already extended, four more American golfers yet to be named will get bids. Winners of the top professional and amateur tournaments in foreign countries also will be invited, but their names have not been announced.

Winners of six tournaments—the U. S. Open and Amateur, the British Open and Amateur, the PGA Championship, and the Masters—earn lifetime eligibility for the Masters.

Others qualifying on a year-to-year basis are the first 24 players in the previous year's Masters and the U. S. Open; quarter-finalists in the previous year's U. S. Amateur and PGA Tournaments one amateur and one pro, not on the invitation list, to be selected by ballot of the U. S. Amateur and U. S. Track Workouts To Open Monday

FORSAN — Full scale track and field workouts will get underway at the local high school Monday.

An invitational track meet was to have been held here March 13 but was postponed due to a conflict in dates with a teachers convention.

Dan Hayhurst, who won first place in the shot put in the district meet last year; Harold Hicks, first in the quarter mile in district in 1952; and Jesse Overton, promising sprinter, are among those due to report for workouts.

C. Middlecoff Has Lead At Houston

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Dr. Cary Middlecoff scrambled for an even par 72 today for a 54-hole 211 and a one stroke lead in the $30,000 Houston Open Golf Tournament.

The Memphis dentist went one over par on the final green with two putts, but the 211 was good enough for a narrow lead over Shelly Mayfield, Cedarhurst, N. Y., and Bill Nary, Los Angeles, who had 212.

Nary, playing in the final threesome, missed a tie with Middlecoff when he had to settle for a par four on the eighteenth green after a 30 foot putt stopped beside the cup. Nary finished with a one-under 71 for the 7,150-yard Memorial Park Course.

Middlecoff had shared the first round lead with Al Besselinck, Grossingers, N. Y., and the 36-hole lead with Mike Homa, Rye, N. Y., Homa today put a 74 beside his previous 70 and 69 to deadlock with Jim Ferrier, San Francisco, Calif., and Earl Stewart Jr., Dallas, at 213.

After getting a 67 in the first round Besselinck jumped to a 74 yesterday and again today for 215, a stroke behind Al Brosch, Garden City, N. J., who carded a three under 69 for a 214.

Tied with Besselinck at 215 were Walter Burkemo, Franklin, Mich., and Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Stewart was the hard luck man of the day while turning in a 69, had to three-putt both the seventeenth and eighteenth greens.

"Everything I did just cost me money," he said.

Seventeen professional players were eliminated as the field for tomorrow's round was cut to 69 pros and six amateurs.

Jim Turnesa, Briarcliff, N. Y., the current PGA champion, was among those eliminated. He had a 75 today for a 227, three higher than the cut off score 224. His earlier rounds were 77 and 75.

Another victim was Leland Gibson, the Kansas City, Mo., veteran, who had a 77-75-75-227.

Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio, with a 219, was the only amateur to break the 224 mark.

Middlecoff was one stroke behind Homa when their threesomes began the final nine holes. The Tennessean finished the front side at 37 after having gone one over on two par four holes, the 450-yard third and the 454-yard fourth. He got one stroke back on the 491-yard eighth.

Two approach shots still left him six feet short of the final green and he missed his first putt after a chip had put him four feet from the cup.

Burkemo with previous rounds of 73 and 75, climbed to his 215 with a 67 that gave him $150 for the day's low score. He joined Middlecoff and Besselinck as the only players to take five strokes off par.

PIONEERS FAIL IN OWN LOOP

VANDERBILT (Sp)—Wharton Junior College, who reigned as the National Junior College Basketball champion in 1952, failed to win its own conference championship this season.

The Pioneers lost out in a playoff for the South Texas Conference crown to Victoria JC here Thursday night, 65-55. The two teams had tied in regular play.

Cotton Smyrl scored 16 points and Charles Christenson 12 for Wharton.

Wharton had won its conference crown four straight times.

Cadet Five Wins Over Tiremen

The Webb Cadets defeated Phillips Tiremen, 53-53, Saturday night to push the City Independent Basketball Tournament into an extra playoff game.

The two teams will meet again Monday night to determine the championship.

Lilly of the Cadets paced his teammates to the Saturday night victory. He scored nearly half—28—of his team's points and was high-point man of the game. Don Easenwein was high scorer for Phillips with 17 points.

The loss was the fifth of the season for Phillips, which has 29 wins to its credit.

Monday night's playoff game is set for 8 o'clock in the junior high gymnasium.

Wolvettes Win 5-AA Tournament

COLORADO CITY—The Colorado City Wolvettes won the 5-AA girls' basketball tournament here Saturday night by defeating Merkel, 60-41.

Rotan defeated Hamlin, 36-22, for the consolation title. Dannie Mac-Hart of Colorado City was named most valuable player on the court, and Anita Bower of Rotan was named best sport.

All-star selections include Lois Beck, Merkel; Ella Mae Turner, Hamlin; Meggy Golden, Colorado City; Lula Posey, Rotan; Billie and Dorothy Foster, Merkel; and Dixie Plaster, Colorado City. Miss Golden was high point scorer for Colorado City.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Providing championship trophies could prove expensive for District I-AAA... The conference had to ante up two awards for Lamesa and Vernon, its football kingpins... Five teams recently tied for first place in basketball standings and each may draw a trophy... Bill Edwards, who applied for the SMU coaching job after leaving Vanderbilt, took a job as line coach at North Carolina... Les Pedan, who was captain of the Texas A&M baseball team back in the early '40's, is finally getting his chance in the big leagues after six years in pro ball... The big catcher, who is with Washington, is known as a long-ball hitter... One of every three of his hits in pro ball has gone for extra bases... Pat Stasey, the ex-Big Springer now at Roswell, is off on his annual scouting trip to Cuba... He's still looking for a third baseman... Down at Brownsville, Stubby Greer plans to get the veteran Dick Tross, ex-Vernon hurler, another chance on the mound... Tross has been bothered with a sore arm the past several seasons... If Ray Taylor doesn't land a managerial job (he was slated to boss the Lamesa Lobos), he'll probably play second base for Paris of the Big State League... The toughest player to strike out in the Longhorn League last season was Odessa's Roberto Fabian, who fanned 29 times in 137 games.

Abilene Cage Official Keeps Busy

In response to numerous questions fired at this desk, Plainview is the only District I-AAA school which hires a full-time basketball coach... The Big Spring Broncs will this season be at home five days in April, 17 in May, 14 in June, 18 in July, 12 in August and three in September... Steve Lagomarsino, a pitcher under contract to the Carlisad Polashers, is working out of Belen, N. M., for the New Mexico State Police... Plainview of the WT-NM League has a C. Rues working for it but he's not Bob, the feared slugger... This one's handle is J. Vernon, who is the club's business manager... Regis Burns, who'll try to win a spot in the Amarillo Gold Sox lineup, is a brother to San Angelo's power hitter, Glenn Burns... Shorty Lawson, the Abilene school master who helped officiate the HCJC-Amarillo cage fiasco here the other night, works about 160 ball games a season... He helped call the NAIA Tournament in Kansas City last year... Bob Carter, the Amarillo coach, wouldn't have dared pulled that stall his boys staged here on his home court... There's nothing will kill off the cage game quicker than continued use of such tactics... Fans go to a basketball game to see action, not to be lulled to sleep...

'Old Guard' Is Being Replaced By Young Tutors

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—Along with the platoon system, the "old guard" of the college football coaching profession is fading out and a fresh batch of new names is moving in.

The 30-odd head coaching changes since the end of last season have produced this significant trend:

The big colleges no longer are going after the big names. To fill vacancies, they are dipping into their own reservoirs to bring up assistants or reaching out to pluck some little-known mentor from a minor institution.

The result has been rough on established coaches, many of whom now are scurrying around looking for employment.

SMU Picks Youngster

Southern Methodist, with a proud history in the Southwest, recently tapped little McPherson College in Kansas to get a replacement for Rusty Russell, Russell's successor, taking up reins once held by Ray Morrison and Matty Bell, is Chalmer Woodard, 33, not long out of high school coaching ranks.

During the last week, Tennessee brought up Assistant Coach Harrey Robinson to fill in for the ailing Gen. Bob Neyland, whose Volunteer teams have been the scourge of Dixie gridirons for two decades.

Texas Christian replaced the veteran Dutch Meyer with an aide, Othol (Abe) Martin, John Cherberg, a little known fire s in a n coach, succeeded Howie Odell at the University of Washington.

Other assistants who moved up to their bosses' seat were Bernie Witucki, replacing Buddy Brothers at Tulsa; John McKenna, succeeding Tom Nugent at Virginia Military Institute; Jack (Moose) Myers, taking over for Ernie Jorg at College of the Pacific; Ned McDonald, line coach, succeeding Art Guape (new Vanderbilt coach) at Virginia, and George Barclay, who moved into Carl Snavely's chair at North Carolina, Barclay had previous head coaching experience at Washington and Lee.

Denver went to Pasadena Junior College to pluck Bob Blackman as a replacement for Head Coach John Barker. Wyoming grabbed Phil Dickens from Little Wofford to fill the shoes of Bowden Wyatt, who went to Arkansas.

In the last three years, many of college football's most prominent coaches have left the profession—either through choice or a shove. The business world caught some who, agreeing with Snavely, contend it's a hazardous job, filled with back stabbing, jealousies and buck passing.

AS HAWKS WIN

By JOE REICHLER
CLEARWATER, Fla., Feb. 28 (AP)—It was their first spring drill and the Philadelphia Phillies were discussing the recent four-team swap that wound up with pitcher Russ Meyer moving to Brooklyn by way of Boston for Braves' first baseman Earl Fergerson.

"I see where according to Charlie Dressen, the Dodgers are going to beat the Yankees in the World Series next fall," Coach Bennie Bengough was saying. "My, but this season went fast. The Dodgers must have made a runaway race of it because we never even saw them."

"Someone remarked Dressen was quoted as saying that the acquisition of Meyer insured Brooklyn of the National League pennant in 1953, Bengough laughed.

"I'd hate to have to depend upon Meyer to win me a pennant," he said. "That Dressen must be a professional optimist. How does Dressen figure that Meyer could help Brooklyn only if he controls his temper?"

"I'll say this for Meyer," interrupted Chuck Ward, a Philadelphia scout. "Russ will make himself felt on the club. He'll either bring them a pennant, as Dressen says, or he won't win a single game for Brooklyn. He's the most unpredictable guy I ever saw in my life."

"He's a dandy," agreed Ken Silvestri, another Philly coach. "Russ is the most likeable guy in the world when things go right. But should things break bad for him, watch out, brother. Whenever Russ would get knocked out of the box and come stomping into the clubhouse, raging at the whole world, including himself, it became a ritual for the rest of us to hide all the pop bottles, shoes and all other paraphernalia lying around loose. The Mad Monk, as we called him, would fling everything in sight, including his own clothes, out of the clubhouse."

"That's right," said Bengough. "He was the toughest pitcher in the world to take out of the box. I never saw a guy hate to leave the mound as much as the Monk. I used to have the painful duty of informing him when he was through. And what a tough job that was. When I'd get within 25 feet from him, he'd give me that hanging dog look and he'd cry out, 'Rush now!' It never failed."

"It was really funny, but I dared

Bobby Williams Gets 41 Points

Records fell all over the place when the HCJC Jayhawks roared past the ACC reserves, 104-47, in a basketball exhibition here Friday night.

The victory was the Hawks' 26th of the campaign, the most the locals have ever registered in one season.

Bobby Williams, sophomore from Dallas, counted 41 points toward the total to set a new single-game mark for a Jayhawk. The old record of 33 was established by Bobby of Mines against Clarendon last year.

Williams upped his season's scoring total to 531 points, another new team mark. His game average is now a lofty 18.3 points.

The game was also significant in that it was the fourth time this season the Hawks have been able to score more than 100 points and the first time in history they have been able to twice tally 100 points in one season against the same team. Last time out, HC defeated the Wildkittens, 101-75.

It was a tired ACC team that took the floor against the locals. Several of the boys had worked out for football in Abilene earlier in the day and the "race-horse" basketball the Hawks played spent the visitors' energies in a hurry.

ACC tried playing "possession basketball" for a while in the second half but the local ball hawks wrestled successfully for the ball most of the time.

The Wildkittens took few shots at the basket after the half-time intermission and seemed content to pass the ball around over the

Olympic Games In Australia Still Doubtful

MELBOURNE, Feb. 28 (AP)—The city of Melbourne took one step forward but fell two steps back this week in plans and preparations for the 1956 Olympic games.

The forward step was: Premier John Cain's go-ahead to architects to draw plans for a $1,225,000 Olympic swimming pool at Melbourne's Fisker Park.

Backward steps were:

1. Federal Health Minister Sir Karle Page's insistence Australia will not relax its strict quarantine laws to admit horses for equestrian events.

2. Refusal of the Commonwealth government to put up any money for the 600-house, 10 1/2 million dollar Olympic village to care for 6,000 athletes and officials.

In the U. S., the chairman of the International Olympic Committee, Avery Brundage, said he understands a formal final Olympic report is on the way to him.

Hugh Weil, senior IOC delegate in Australia, who presumably would send the report, was quiet about it. He declined to tell the Associated Press whether or not he had written the report and whether or not he mailed one.

The Olympic games' chief, Arthur Coles, is still optimistic that Melbourne can and will hold the games, and he so informed Brundage in a radio-telephone talk in a radio-telephone talk Thursday.

Coles, however, was given a big shock by the federal government's refusal to help with the Olympic village. He thought Canberra would split the cost of the housing project 50-50 with the Victorian government.

The background to this question of finance for the Olympic village is a bit complicated and the federal government's refusal to put up any money for the village does not mean Canberra is against the Olympic games.

The point is that the Olympic village, as planned, is a housing project that would be used for Olympic folk first. Housing is a state matter and government housing is financed partly by a loan for that purpose given yearly by the federal government to state governments.

Beaumont Quintet To Stage Tourney

AUSTIN, Feb. 28 (AP)—Beaumont's South Park High Greenies turned back a last-quarter surge by the Temple Wildcats to win 46-44 and qualify for the state tournament this afternoon.

The victory wound up a best-two-of-three series to decide the bi-district winner. South Park took the first, 65-53, and Temple the second, 47-41.

South Park represented District 6 AAA. Temple was the District 5 AAA champ.

Mitchell Well Is Plugged; One Test Reported

Normal operations were underway in Mitchell County this week end, with no spectacular drilling developments reported. One well was plugged and abandoned.

Humble No. 1-B Coleman, venture in the North Coleman Ranch area, was waiting on pump for possible completion today. It has plugged back to total depth of 3,145 feet. Location is 1,000 from north and 600 from east, 77-78-H&C survey.

Davidson No. 1-A S. R. Coleman, which reached a total depth of 4,173 feet in Clear Fork line, had no shows and was plugged and abandoned. It was located C SW SW, V Culbert Strip.

A drillstem test was taken on A. W. Cherry No. 1 Dunn. Depth was 2,785 to 2,837 feet in Permian line. The tool was open 20 minutes and recovery was 10 feet of drilling mud with no show of oil, gas or water. Operator is now drilling at 2,941 feet in line. Location is 1,850 from south and 2,310 from west section 65-20-La-Vaca survey.

Rotary rig was being moved in on Humble No. 1-Cooper, venture located 8 1/2 miles southwest of Westbrook in the center of SE NW, 25-19-LaVaca survey.

Magnolia No. 1 Walker had spudded to 235 feet in shale where circulation was lost. Operator is trying to regain and go deeper. The venture is C NW NW, 229-1A-H&C survey.

El Capitan No. 1 Dix, located 467 from southeast and southwest lines of section 2, A. P. Smith survey, is drilling at 4,567 feet in shale and lime.

Tex-Harvey Well Rates 157 Barrels

Flowing potential of 157 barrels of 36.9 gravity oil has been reported on the Phillips Petroleum Company No. 2 Proctor in the Tex Harvey field of Midland County.

Gas-oil ratio was listed as 865-1. Recovery was four per cent water, and flow was through a 1/4 inch choke. Tubing pressure was 100 pounds.

Flow was from perforations at 7,134 to 7,182 feet and from 7,276 to 7,324 feet. Top of pay is 7,090 and plugged back total depth is 7,391 feet.

Location is 600 from south and 1,977 from east lines, section 42, block 37, T&P survey.

Crude Production Remains Unchanged

Crude-oil production of the non-Communist world during December averaged 11,587,200 barrels daily, including 6,516,000 barrels daily from fields of the United States, the Oil and Gas Journal reported this week.

As compared with November, the foreign production was down nearly 28,000 barrels daily, but the decline was balanced by a rise in United States output of about the same amount.

Texas Oil Men Viewing Foreign Oil Flow With Increasing Alarm

By MAC ROY RASOR
AUSTIN, Feb. 28 (AP)—Texas oil men and lawmakers are viewing the mounting flow of foreign oil into the U. S. with increasing alarm.

Backed up by the Legislature, independents are threatening to do something about it.

Biggest and newest goblin looming at their window is Canadian oil.

They were told straight-to-the-face last week that at least two major imports in California are looking to Canada—not Texas—for future petroleum needs.

That was testimony of Socony-Vacuum Director F. W. Bartlett and Austin Cadle of Standard of California at a public hearing before the state's oil-regulatory Railroad Commission.

They declared Texas couldn't compete price-wise with Canadian imports because of transportation costs.

Even if a pipeline is built to move West Texas' abundant flow west at 50 cents a barrel, the most they could promise was to "consider" the supply.

Canadian supplies are expected to begin pouring into California and the Northwest late this year. The Trans-Mountain Line from Alberta, Canada, is 120,000 barrels a day, although it isn't expected to carry capacity flow immediately.

Texas' concern is fanned by a reserve producing ability of more than 600,000 barrels daily not now being touched—coupled with cut-backs in permissive production three of the last four months.

Besides pinching at the pocket-books of Texas' individual oil men and her vast petroleum empire, imports also imperil the state's treasury and governmental economy. Texas has long depended heavily on oil and gas to bear much of its tax load.

The Legislature joined in the alarm in separate Senate and House resolutions. They said in part: "Imports in excess of our economic needs will retard domestic

Drill Activity On Increase In Permian Area

For the second straight time the semi-monthly survey of rotary drilling activity in the Permian Basin of West Texas and Southeast New Mexico showed a sharp increase.

The last count, as of February 25, listed 498 units drilling as compared to the 478 on the previous count, February 10.

One year ago, March 1, there were 741 rotaries turning in the Basin.

Lea County, New Mexico, continued to lead all other counties included in the tally with 131 units working. That figure is an increase of four over the February 10 survey.

Andrews County picked up three more rigs during the 15-day period and had 34 going to lead all other West Texas areas.

Coke County showed the biggest increase. On February 10 there were 20 rotary rigs in operation. The last count, February 25, listed 32 for the area. That total gives Coke second place.

Midland County, where 19 units are working, showed no change on the last count.

The Spraberry Trend areas showed 35 rigs operating as compared to the 43 two weeks earlier. Counties and their February 25 and February 10 totals are:

exploration and development of new oil fields and the technological progress in all branches of the industry which is essential to the nation's economic welfare and security.

"The state of Texas calls upon those leaders of the petroleum industry who are importing oil to use some business statesmanship and thereby protect the economy of our country and preserve our national security."

The importing companies were also officially requested by the resolutions to publish their import figures monthly.

Some extent of Texas' worries was illustrated by a spokesman for East Texas producers at the recent commission hearing when the state's March allowable production was ordered cut.

"What is going to happen to the economy of our state if we continue to shut in our wells?" inquired H. P. Nichols, Tyler.

Commission Chairman Ernest O. Thompson, a staunch conservationist, replied, "We'll have oil when California is out."

"But will we be in bankruptcy before she acknowledges she is out?" Nichols responded.

Bryan W. Payne, leader of Texas independents, later issued notice of impending war:

"Texas is not willing to continue to curtail her production simply to provide a profitable outlet for the foreign concessions of a few companies."

"We must take positive and definite steps to halt the excessive flow of surplus foreign oil whether we do so before the Railroad Commission, the Texas Legislature, the United States Congress, or the bar of public opinion."

How To Fight Oil Fire

Cosden employees and personnel from Webb AFB witnessed a demonstration Friday on the use of dry chemicals in fighting oil fires. The demonstration was staged by representatives of the Ansul Chemical Co. Jake Morgan, safety engineer at Cosden, and S-Sgt. Montgomery of Group Safety from Webb AFB, headed delegations witnessing the demonstration. Representing the chemical company were Tom Gorman, factory representative, and Shorty Leek, distributor.

Alaskan Exploration Is A Unique Effort

By KEITH K. KING

TULSA, Feb. 28 (AP)—The Alaska exploration venture for which the Interior Department has given Phillips Petroleum Co. the green light represents the first major privately-financed effort to find oil in the territory.

Success on a big scale would be not only of great strategic importance to an area roving vital to the nation's defense; it would hold high promise for economic development of the vast area's riches.

The attempt will have behind it the resources of Phillips, which steadily has been increasing its oil and gas reserves, and the drilling know-how of Kerr-McGee Industries, Inc., another Oklahoma concern.

Phillips, with headquarters at Bartlesville, and Kerr-McGee, Oklahoma City, long have had a working relationship in oil development. The drilling firm is a specialist at tough jobs, one of which was its pioneering in deep water off the Louisiana coast, where it developed techniques for whipping high tides and hurricanes.

The combination will hunt Alaskan oil in the Kattala-Yakataga region of the territory's southeast coast, where the Japanese current turns the area's glaciers into icebergs. The million acres on which Phillips has been given operating rights extends about 120 miles along the shore of the Gulf of Alaska, with the western boundary some 50 miles east of the ice-free port of Cordova.

Into this relatively mild climate country, part of a domain inhabited by Kakut Indians, Phillips has announced it will send geological field parties as soon as weather permits. Kerr-McGee engineers recently returned from a trip to look over the terrain.

Not all oil men feel the area's geology is the most promising for a big strike, but there are definite evidences of petroleum deposits, largely in seepage areas, plus a history of limited production.

Less than a year ago in a report for the authoritative Oil and Gas Journal, William T. Foran wrote that the Kattala-Yakataga area is "unquestionably suited to the accumulation of oil in commercial volume."

Foran during World War II served as geological director for the Navy's petroleum reserve on Alaska's polar coast. He is a partner in the Northern Development Co., which acted for the leasing applicants and developed the operation plan approved by the Interior Department.

"Considering all probable areas of Alaska, the Kattala-Yakataga area shows unusual possibilities," he wrote.

Foran saw exploitation of these "possibilities" another frontier task — "making available to the people the resources of a region capable of supporting considerable white population."

The oil industry measures the cost of production against that of transportation, running pipe lines only to big sources of crude, building refineries as closely as possible to centers of heavy demand for oil products. Volume production would have to be assured before investment was made in a transportation medium such as pipe lines.

Some industry observers set 10,000 barrels daily as the minimum needed in Alaska to justify even a small refinery there. Any less than that, they say, probably would be moved to West Coast Canadian and U. S. refineries by tanker, the same way Alaska must get most of its processed petroleum fuels.

Woodward and Company of Dallas No. 1 Mahaney, wildcat in Southeast Dawson County, topped the Spraberry at 6,960 feet on elevation of 2,863 feet and is now drilling at 7,180 in shale and sand. A drillstem test was taken from 7,030 to 7,060 feet. Tool was open two and one-half hours. Recovery was 95 feet of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud and no water.

It is located 600 feet from south and west lines of section 27, block 34, T-4, T&P survey and five miles north of Ackerly and 15 miles southeast of Lamesa.

Humble Group Sets A New Safety Record

Employees of Humble Oil & Refining Company and Humble Pipe Line Company set the best safety record in the history of the companies last year with an accident frequency of only 1.87 disabling injuries per million hours worked.

Humble's all-time low disabling injury rate during the past year was a 41 per cent decrease from 1951, the year the previous best record was established. A disabling injury is one in which an employee loses time from his job because of an industrial accident. No accidental deaths occurred among Humble employees on the job in 1952.

Eighteen units of Humble received certificates from the American Petroleum Institute for completing million-hour work periods without a disabling injury during the past year. Among the larger groups, the Exploration Department completed 2 million accident-free hours in 1952; the Louisiana and East Texas production divisions, the Sales Department, and Humble Pipe Line Company achieved million-hour marks.

The highest recognition of the National Safety Council, the Award of Honor, was presented in 1952 to Humble's Production and Refining Departments for the safety achievements of their employees over the three prior years. The Company's Natural Gas Division reached the next highest recognition of the Council, the Award of Merit.

Five out of the six awards presented annually by the Texas Safety Association to oil companies went to Humble in 1952 for the previous year's records. The departments receiving the Association's awards were Exploration, Refining, Production, Sales, and Natural Gas.

Drilling Due On Deaf Smith Test

Drilling was to start today on Texas Crude No. 1 Rose, new location in Deaf Smith County. The well is set for 8,000 feet to test the Pennsylvanian.

Location is C NE NE, 78-K-7, 16 miles north and west of Hereford. The well is one location south of a dry hole drilled several years ago—the Hunt No. 1 Overstreet.

API Meet Is March 4

FORT WORTH, Feb. 28 (AP)—Technical problems in drilling for and production of oil will be featured along with subjects of general interest during the annual spring meeting of the American Petroleum Institute's Southwestern Production District here March 4-6.

Field Unitization Plan Becomes Effective Today

TULSA — The giant Sacroc oil field unitization project in the Kelly-Snyder and Diamond "M" fields of Scurry County will become effective Sunday, and working interest and royalty owners who have not signed the unitization agreement before Sunday may enter the unit until Sept. 1. After Sept. 1 a party may enter the unit only on a negotiated basis, it was announced here today by M. Darwin Kirk, vice-president and general attorney for Sunray Oil Corp., who is chairman of the Sacroc executive committee.

Kirk revealed that less than 50 out of 219 separate tracts eligible to participate in the Sacroc unit have as yet failed to sign the agreements and be qualified for participation. About 1,280 acres have been added to the unit area limits because of recent drilling.

An estimated 720-million barrels of additional oil may be obtained by the secondary recovery operations for oil and gas which the operator will put into effect as authorized by the Railroad Commission of Texas during January.

"There is a very definite last minute rush of working interests and royalty owners to sign the Sacroc agreement," Kirk stated. R. F. Bryant Jr., Magnolia Petroleum Co., Dallas, who is chairman of the land committee reported that members of his committee are standing by throughout Saturday to receive agreements from those interested in signing for participation under the voluntary plan. "It is true," he said, "that working interests and royalty owners may voluntarily join the Sacroc unit within six months of the March 1 starting date, but after the six months period there is no guarantee that the negotiated basis will remain or be as favorable as the present formula using a well factor of 25 per cent and a gross acre foot factor of 75 per cent."

The Sacroc engineering committee, headed by William L. Hofner, announced Friday that the gas injection plant for the unit has been completed, tested, and will be placed in full operation after the railroad commission hears an application for permission to inject gas in certain wells to be specified at the hearing during the month of March.

The equipment subcommittee of the engineering committee, headed by George Kingelin, Pan American Producing Co., Houston, has reported that all orders for pressure maintenance equipment and supplies have been placed. Three water injection plants and a water treatment plant are to be provided.

The Sacroc committee also announced that the Colorado River Water District, Big Spring, has been sent formal notice from the operators that the contract for water supply from the river lake maintained by the water district is in full force and effect.

Howard Wildcat Recovers Show

Delhi Oil Corporation No. 2 Sarah M. Hamlin, northwest Howard County wildcat, had a recovery of 25 feet of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud on drillstem test Saturday.

The test was taken in the Spraberry from 6,176 to 6,220 feet with the tool open 60 minutes. There was no water recovered on the test.

Operator is now coring deeper, below 6,238 feet at last report. The well is 2 1/2 miles southeast of the discovery well of the Luther (Canyon) field.

Some geologists watching the well say the main sand of the Spraberry was topped at 6,210 feet, elevation 2,726 feet. It also has been reported that some Spraberry sand was picked up as high as 6,124 feet.

Pan American and Seaboard No. 1 Hamlin, the discovery well, topped the Spraberry at 6,230 feet, elevation 2,775.

Location of the Canyon wildcat is 1,650 from north and 2,310 from west lines, 17-32-2n-T&P survey.

New Wildcat Spot Staked In Nolan

A new wildcat location has been staked in the northeast part of Nolan County by Rhea and Reynolds Drilling Company of Abilene. It is the No. 1 Fenton-Boyd, 330 from north and west lines, southwest quarter, section 34-19-T&P survey. The venture is to test the Ellenburger and is located 1 1/4 miles southeast of the White Flat field.

Construction Report

DENVER, Feb. 28 (AP)—The Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Co. reported today it spent 63 million dollars on construction last year and plans to raise this figure to 71 million for 1953.

Well, we had our Welcome Day yesterday. We sure do thank each and everyone. We enjoyed doing it, we hope to see you again soon when you need anything we might have. I will have a nice line of seat covers as well as tires, tubes and accessories. And when that car needs a good wash job or lubrication, come give us a try. When that battery is down or that tire is flat or maybe you are out of gas, just call 9669 and we will be there. See you next week.

Building BOYS... FOR A BETTER Community..

Pictured here are members of Cub Scout Pack 29, as they gathered for their annual banquet recently.

It is one of the great items of pride with Cosden Petroleum Corporation that it can serve as sponsor for this Cub Pack. Pack 29 has the largest membership and the most activities of any such unit in the Lone Star District.

Cosden congratulates these boys on their achievements, is honored to be associated with them. It is in the building of boys that a better community is built.

Knife And Fork Club Will Hear Morley Friday

John Morley, noted newspaperman, foreign correspondent and lecturer, will be guest speaker for the local Knife and Fork Club Friday.

Notices of the meeting, to be held at the Settles Hotel beginning Friday for a meeting with local business interests. He is expected to suggest means of encouraging tourists and other travelers to use Highway 87 through this area.

The highway meeting will be held at 10 a.m. Friday at the Settles Hotel, Greene said. The public is invited. Ansley will conduct similar meetings in Lamesa and San Angelo this week.

Chamber of Commerce directors will meet at noon Monday at the Settles.

Morley's subject will be "A Correspondent's Uncensored Report on World Crisis," and he is expected to give a factual, first-hand account of various developments affecting world conditions today.

Morley studied law in college, but gave up this profession for newspapering, and has distinguished himself in foreign correspondence. He has been in all parts of the globe, and has been able to appraise what he saw.

He was in England for the Fuchs spy trial, talked with leaders in Berlin, the Near East and Pakistan, newscasters in Siam and Hongkong, survivors of Hiroshima, displaced persons in North China, high placed Japanese and samples of the people all the way from Ireland to Japan.

Morley was used by the War Department during World War II as a director of a Military Intelligence campaign against foreign spies. He is the author of several books, a frequent contributor to national magazines.

Vaccination Papers Required Before A Dog Can Be Licensed

Take your dog's vaccination certificate when you go to the city tax office for his license.

Officials Saturday reported several persons have attempted to license their pets without presenting evidence of rabies vaccination. If the dog hasn't been vaccinated, any local veterinarian will do the job. City ordinance requires that dogs be vaccinated and licensed, as well as penned or on a leash at all times. Sale of dog tags at the city tax office is brisk, compared to the past. Already licensed this year have been 48 canines. That's about a year's total, based on past records.

C-C Directors Meet Monday

Recreation, tourist development and egg production are three of the items on the agenda for Chamber of Commerce directors Monday.

Executive committee of the Chamber Friday voted to recommend that the directorate authorize a committee to undertake a study of means of supporting a summer recreation program for Big Spring youngsters. A city-wide program, in which the city, schools, YMCA and Chamber would co-operate has been proposed.

The executive board also suggested that the agriculture committee of the Chamber be asked to explore the possibility of increasing egg production in this area. It was noted that majority of eggs consumed here are imported from other states.

J. H. Greene, manager, said the directors also will be urged to encourage a program of tourist development in Big Spring.

Fist Ansley, representative of the International 87 Highway Association, is to be in Big Spring next Friday for a meeting with local business interests. He is expected to suggest means of encouraging tourists and other travelers to use Highway 87 through this area.

The highway meeting will be held at 10 a.m. Friday at the Settles Hotel, Greene said. The public is invited. Ansley will conduct similar meetings in Lamesa and San Angelo this week.

Chamber of Commerce directors will meet at noon Monday at the Settles.

Concrete Pipes And Ditches In Irrigation Farming Stressed

STANTON, (SC) — If farmers in the irrigation areas of West Texas will continue wasting water they can keep rains falling in Kansas, more than 200 farmers and business men were told at an irrigation school held in the American Legion Hall here Friday.

The speaker said that water wasted in this area, by pumping more from the underground supply than is needed by the crops growing into the rain clouds that shower it down upon Kansas.

Hence, the use of concrete irrigation pipe and concrete ditches in irrigation farming was stressed by the school. Those attending were told that with the use of concrete irrigation pipe and concrete ditches they can grow their crops with from one-third to one-half less water since it is estimated that the loss to ditches and non-producing soil runs about 35 to 50 per cent. It was also pointed out to them that the underground supply is not inexhaustible and that conservation through the years will prolong the availability of the supply for agricultural production.

The school was sponsored by the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, and was conducted jointly by the Soil Conservation Service, the Agricultural Extension Service, the Farmers Home Administration and the Rural Electrification Administration.

Martin Vavra, SCS work unit conservationist at Stanton presided at the morning session, and Ray Hastings, Martin County agricultural agent presided at the afternoon session. Dinner was served at noon by the ladies of the Martin County Home Demonstration Club under the supervision of Mrs. Mildred Eiland, county home demonstration agent.

A large number of those attending were from Midland County, which is a part of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, and from that area north and northwest of Martin County, as well as from Big Spring and other more distant points.

Among the subjects discussed were the fundamentals of proper water application; water requirements of various crops; how water

Tax Collections At Schools Increase

Tax collections for the Big Spring Independent School District have reached 93 per cent of the roll, J. O. Hagood, collector, reported Saturday.

Total collections amount to $376,770.09, of which $364,278.14 represents current taxes, Hagood said.

From these receipts the local maintenance fund has received $262,675.61, and the interest and sinking fund $92,038.42. Discounts allowed totaled $9,533.75.

Miscellaneous collections, including fees, costs, etc., total $319.75, and collections of delinquent taxes amount to $12,202.56.

should be handled to reach the root zones; fertilizers; cotton and grain sorghum varieties best adapted to this area; concrete irrigation pipe; electric rates; and the irrigation loan program; FHA loans to irrigation farmers; comparison of electric power with other types of pumping power; permanent pastures; sprinkler irrigation and a motion picture "Conservation Irrigation."

The speakers included, in addition to Vavra and Hastings, SCS Irrigation Engineer Ivan D. Wood of Denver; R. V. Thurmond of Lubbock, irrigation specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service; John Box, irrigation specialist with the Agricultural Experiment Farm at Lubbock; Andy Holt of Plainview, district manager for a concrete pipe manufacturer at Lubbock; O. B. Bryan of Stanton, manager of the sponsoring Co-Op; Charlie Richter of Dallas, director of the division of water facility of the FHA; Lynn S. Ludlow of Washington, irrigation specialist with the REA; C. A. Richenthal of Fort Worth, pasture specialist with the SCS; Russell Skelton of Hammond, Ind., sales manager for the Champion Corp., and J. C. Mott of Stanton, representing the Sprinkler Irrigation Equipment Co.

Jim Eiland of the Cap Rock Co-Op said the school was considered a success and that participating organizations and agencies were delighted with what he called "the splendid attendance."

Unemployment Claims Are Up

There were 262 claims for unemployment compensation filed in Big Spring during the month just ended, according to Leon M. Kinney, manager of the Big Spring office of the Texas Employment Commission.

Kinney said 44 of these were initial claims, originally filed, but that the remaining 218 were continued claims filed weekly by persons who are unemployed. Under the law, he explains, a new claim must be filed each week.

He said he attributed this large number of claims to the fact that very few people are being employed on contract construction jobs and in retail and wholesale trade, both of which fields were taking on a large number of employees during the corresponding month last year.

During the month Kinney's office placed but one farm hand in a job. Office visits for the month totaled 1,884; there were 323 new applications filed, and of 141 applicants referred to non-agricultural jobs, 116 were placed in employment during the month. Kinney says there are a great many transient workers who stop at the office to ask about employment. He says these usually go on after having the local situation described to them.

Okinawans Hold Rally

TOKYO, Feb. 28 (AP)—An estimated 2,000 Okinawans rallied at a Tokyo Hall, today pressing for Okinawa's return to Japan from U. S. military control.

The Welfare Worker Leads A Busy Life

With all the agencies dedicated to the health, happiness and welfare of the public, there is no need for a single person to suffer from want or neglect.

The women who direct the work of these agencies are true humanitarians who spend many hours relieving suffering, counselling or directing the recreation of those with whom they work. Much of the good they do goes unheralded and only those who benefit can appreciate the real value of their services. Pictured here are six of those women in action.

SALVATION ARMY—Mrs. Robert Hall, above, shows a member of the Ladies Home League, which meets weekly at the Citadel, how to make an attractive rug from cotton or wool scraps. The League provides recreation for the women and an opportunity to learn a variety of handicrafts. The Army's chief work, however, is aid to transients.

WELFARE WORKERS—Mrs. Jimmye Freeman, above, watches Mary L. Cantrell as she checks bills for services and aid to welfare cases. Field worker for the state Department of Public Welfare, Mrs. Freeman aids the blind, old age pensioners and dependent children. Miss Cantrell, county welfare worker, handles emergency cases involving any person who has lived in the county as long as six months.

Girl Scouts Explore Camp Site

Troop 1 of Colorado City Girl Scouts made a half-day trip last week to their new established camp site eight miles southwest of Sweetwater. The Scouts were led by Milton Bodzin, camp chairman for Mitchell County and a member of the board of development for the new West Texas Area camp. Blue prints for a mess hall are already in the national office for approval and officials hope to have the building completed in time for use this summer. At left the Scouts are shown eating lunch after the exploratory hike. At right another group descends one of the low hills that flank the property. Making the trip were Wilda Livingston, Nelwyn Moser, Cynthia Aycock, Deanna Beauchamp, Lana Counselor, Patsy Coker, Iva Helen Gross, Gueydon Stewart, Gretchen Shelton, Carolyn Warren, Glenda Harmon, Mary Madding, Mrs. Lester Biggs, Mrs. Bodzin, Mr. and Mrs. George Shelton, Danny Shelton and Mary Ann Goss.

Bridge Club Has Six New Members

Six new members were welcomed by the Newcomers Bridge Club at its meeting in St. Mary's Episcopal parish house. They were Mrs. J. R. Davis, Mrs. J. B. Denton, Mrs. J. W. Smith, Mrs. Pat Taylor, Mrs. George Jenny and Mrs. Donald O'Reilly. Prizes were won by Mrs. R. A. Kesner, first, and Mrs. Walter H. Ross, second and traveling. Twenty-eight attended.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Darlene Sneed

This week was "Twirl Week" at Howard County Junior College. It was a week of girls carrying boys books to classes, buying hogs Cokes and coffee asking them for dates and footing the bills on the dates.

Some of the kids seen taking in the Slim Whitman Show Monday night were Sue White and Doyle Mason, Lou Ann Nall and Don Edwards, Bobbie Adams and Jimmy Seay, Marie Petty and Lonnie Muse, Lynn Mitchell and Ed Hartman, Vonnell Rhoton, James Suttles, "Weegie" Glenn, Ricketts Gilmore, Bobby Maines, Patsy Morton and Gerald Scott.

The Jayhawks' win over Amarillo Tuesday night, gave them clear zone record, of eight wins and no losses.

The freshman and sophomore classes met Tuesday morning during activity period. Both classes selected sponsors. Freshman sponsors will be Marvin Baker, Lynelle Sullivan and Mrs. Charlotte Sullivan. The sophomore class selected Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davis. The freshman class plans to help sponsor the play, "Blithe Spirit."

A movie, sponsored by the Economics Department, was shown to students Tuesday morning after class meetings.

The Beehaws scrimmaged the Webb Air Base Dusters Monday night. The Dusters eased by with a score of 66-53. Don Stevens and Gerald Palmer paced the Hawks with 18 points each. Rodney Cramer scored 14.

The music department has a radio program every Tuesday night over Radio Station KBST from 7:30 to 7:45. The program will consist of numbers by a girl's sextet, the choir and a boy's quartet.

the play, "Blithe Spirit," to be given March 12-13.

The Jayhawks played their last home game Friday night with ACC "B" team. The student council sponsored a dance in the little auditorium after the game. Some of the kids seen having a good time were Bobby Adams and Gary Hoover, Lou Ann Nall and Casey Jones, Marie Petty and Lonnie Muse, Mary Sue White and Doyle Mason, Sue Hill and Elvon DeVaney, Mary Smith and Dallas Williams, Vonnell Rhoton and James Price, Darlene Sneed and Don Stevens, Lynn Mitchell, Beverly Jones, Jonell West, Lynelle Sullivan, Don Edwards, George McGahn, Lynelle Martin, Jackie Milam, Jeanette Petty, Speck Franklin and Doyle Lamb.

A Library Club was organized Friday afternoon. Mrs. P. M. Taylor will sponsor the club.

Mrs. Taylor did a very good job this past week in display work commemorating Washington's birthday. Books about the life and works of our first president were on display all week in the library.

Some of the recent visitors at the college have been Mrs. John J. Smith, Mrs. Marjell Hatch, Mrs. Tracy Smith, Mrs. Winston Sherwood, Gene Anderson, Iva Dell Burrus, Marilyn McCray, Freda Donica, Rosemary Donica, Patsy Deel, all students at Junior High, Mrs. Iva Brady, and Olin Chancellor and Tommy.

New Officers Preside At Girl Scout Meeting

The Girl Scout Troop led by Mrs. W. B. Thornton Jr. met recently in the home of Joy White. New officers presided during the meeting. They include Barbara Sue Roberts, president; Martha Bennett, vice president; Dolores Howard, secretary; Mary Ann Williams, reporter.

Miss Burns Is Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. George Burns, Rt. 1, Ackerly, have announced the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Dorothy, to Gene Burrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Burrow, also of Rt. 1, Ackerly.

Mrs. Dyer Is Honored With Shower

Mrs. Bill Dyer was honored Friday evening with a pink and blue shower in the home of Mrs. Alex Targer.

Hostesses were Mrs. Sallie Moore, Mrs. Ray Rhodes, Mrs. Dean Forrest, Mrs. Commodore Ryan, Mrs. Otis Wilson and Mrs. Turner.

A yellow and green color scheme was carried out in the decorations. The refreshment table, laid with a grass linen cloth over green, was centered with an arrangement of painted daisies and jonquils. Yellow candles in silver holders flanked the centerpiece. Silver and crystal appointments were used. Favors were miniature booties filled with yellow and green mints. Mrs. Pete Jenkins presided at the guest book in which 45 registered.

Beauticians Entertain Indoor Sports Club

Members of Unit 24 of the Texas Association of Accredited Beauty Culturists entertained the Indoor Sports Thursday evening in the Girl Scout Little House. Mrs. Opal Osborne played several piano selections and accompanied the group singing. Canasta and other games were played and refreshments were served to 15.

MR. AND MRS. TOM ADAMS AND CHILDREN

Four Pups Can Add To Confusion Of Moving

Combine four puppies, not quite a day old, add four children, the children's parents and the puppies' mother. Move all to Big Spring and jumble with furniture moved by a van.

Confusion? You said it. That's what Mr. and Mrs. Tom Adams, 501 E. 15th, had when they moved here recently from Stanton.

The Adams' children, Raygand, 13, Anna Grace, 12, Paul, 7, and Kathy, 3 months, wouldn't dream of leaving their Stanton home without bringing along "Fuzzy," the toy collie, and her four puppies.

A practicing lawyer, Adams commuted to Big Spring from Stanton every day for four years.

The Adamses met in Camden, Ark., Mrs. Adams' home. They were married 14 years ago.

Adams, a native of Weir, Miss., received his law degree from Cumberland Law School, Lebanon, Tenn. Before moving to Stanton, the family lived in Albuquerque, N. M.

Members of the Baptist Temple, the Adamses spend any spare moments reading.

"That goes for all of us except Kathy," Mrs. Adams grinned. "Paul can't read to himself, but he's always ready for someone to read to him," she added.

FOR ALL OCCASIONS

Designer Puts Dash Into Dress, Suit For Spring

Jo Copeland puts the dash of this all-occasion dress into its expensive dressmaker tabs. The short sleeves are cut-in-one with the blouse.
Pattern No. 1061 is available in standard pattern sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. (Cut to U. S. Government Standard Pattern Measurements.) Size 12 requires 3 3/4 yds. of 35-inch material.
Miss Copeland designed the original in light weight wool, but linen, taffeta, silk or cotton are equally good.
Jo Copeland cuts this navy fallie Spring suit with the strategic use of line that would whittle down anyone's figure. The narrow skirt complements the flared fullness of the jacket's back peplum. Collar and cuffs (attached by neat little buttons) come off for laundering.
Pattern No. 1047 is available in standard pattern sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. (Cut to U. S. Government Standard Pattern Measurements.) Size 12 requires 4 1/2 yds. of 39-inch material.
The suit is especially adaptable to many fabrics - taffeta, ottoman, linen, and light weight wool. The collar and cuffs can be made in linen, organdie or pique.
To order Patterns No. 1061 and No. 1047, address SPADEA SYNDICATE, INC., P. O. Box 535, Dept. 164, G. P. O., New York 1, N. Y. State size. Send $1 for each pattern. One week delivery. Air mail handling 25 cents. Pamphlets 7 and 8 available at 15 cents each.

Student Council Completes Plans For Forum Convention

Plans for the convention of the West Texas Forum of Student Councils were completed by the BSHS Student Council at a meeting Friday afternoon.

The convention will be held here next Saturday. Al Dillon will be guest speaker at the general assembly. His topic will be "How to Become A Responsible Citizen."

Student councils from 10 towns have been assigned to lead various discussion groups on topics pertaining to council problems, projects and responsibilities.

Luncheon will be served in the cafeteria for all delegates and sponsors, and officers of the Forum will be elected. The Big Spring Council will run for the office of vice president. The various offices will be filled by the presidents of next year's councils. Big Spring Council will also be a candidate for the office of vice president of the Texas Association of Student Councils when it convenes in Lubbock March 28, 27 and 28.

The Midland Student Council will present an assembly program here Wednesday and the Big Spring Council will give one in Midland March 11.

Attending the meeting were nine members and the two sponsors.

Reproductions Of Paintings Scheduled For Exhibit Here

Reproductions of the works of artists of many generations will be on display next week at the Junior High School.

The prints will be exhibited, beginning Monday and continuing through Friday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Room 301. Admission will be 35 cents for adults and 15 cents for students, and the proceeds will be used to purchase pictures for the school.

THERE'S A FASHION FOR FLOWERS THIS SPRING . . . There's a new fashion a-bloom . . . flowers with a just-picked look, and MI-LADY'S ACCESSORIES is just blooming out all over with the pick of the crop . . . tiny little bunches of imported flowers, daisies of all sizes and colors, sprays to be worn over the shoulder—across a pocket or back of a sundress; field flowers with 3 dainty little birds perched on their petals, and nosegays adorned with honey bees . . . huge violet clusters, made in wear them with imagination—at your throat, at your wrist, or nodding from the brim of your prettiest straw. Only 50c to $3.00 for these make-believes of the real beauties they rival.

HE'LL BE UP TO HIS NECK . . . in the newest collar designs in dress shirt history when he dons one of the new Jaysons from ELMO WASHONS. You can bet your buttons that your beau is finicky about the fit and set of his shirt collar, and that's where Jayson comes to the rescue with three new collar designs . . . the Jay-Round—a round collar, soft and dignified . . . the Jay-Shore—a long pointed collar set at a wide sprawl . . . and the Jay-Kip—a short, pointed collar with medium sprawl. Styled with French cuffs and genuine ocean pearl buttons, these shirts are cut for comfort and neckline neatness and fashioned in the season's newest shades. Priced at $3.95, they're sure to get the OK nod from the head of the house.

WITHOUT ELECTRICITY . . . television would be without "vision", lamps would be without light, and you'd be without the wonderful electric hair dryers from the BIG SPRING HARDWARE. With these attractive Dominion Hair Dryers you can dry your hair in little more than a 1/2 hour. They're light weight, easily carried when traveling and sturdily constructed to give you years of service (and they're non-radio interfering). As a table model, you can adjust them for various angles—a hand model, their light weight won't tire your hand, and they blow hot and cold at your command. For only $9.95, here's a mechanical maid . . . at your service with a flip of a switch.

A ROSE BY ANY OTHER NAME . . . might smell as sweet, but there's no other name like Yardley for the sweetest fragrances you could ask for in toiletries. At the CUNNINGHAM & PHILIPS DRUGS you'll find a wonderful special offer on Yardley Toilet Soap . . . a regular box of three bars, with an extra bar at no extra charge . . . $1.99 value for only $1.35. And best of all, it's made up in Yardley's famous English Lavender (of London) . . . an airy, young-in-heart fragrance that's bewitchingly gay and fresh. Here's an opportunity for you to treat yourself to this luxurious soap, as well as a grand idea for gift giving.

THE OPERATIC THEME . . . is weaving its way into more and more homes, with performances of your favorite operas right in your own living rooms . . . through records . . . The thrilling achievements of LP recording, make it possible to enjoy complete performances, attractively and vitally handled by the world's greatest artists, and accompanied by accurate information, a clearly printed text as sung, and a correct English translation from original librettos. At the RECORD SHOP you'll find superb selections . . . finest quality reproductions of all your favorite operas . . . works such as Verdi's "La Traviata"; "Tosca" and "La Boheme" by Puccini, and many, many more. SPARKLE YOUR HAIR WITH COLOR . . . it's the simplest way to confuse a man who thinks he prefers blondes . . . or brunettes or redheads! Hair tinting that makes the hair a lovely, lustrous halo in a shade that is beautifully blended and becoming to skin color and texture, it's a specialty with the YOUTH BEAUTY SHOP. Skilled operators with artist sense of style and color can enhance the natural beauty of your hair and bring out hidden glints and sparkle. If your hair is dry and dead looking, it can have lovelier color in shampoo time. Your hair today is a fashion highlight and deserves the most exacting care that only experts can give it.

POT LUCK . . . or maybe I should say "Pot Lucky", because that's what you'll be when you discover the large and beautiful array of spring pot plants that are arriving at FAYE'S FLOWERS. You'll find a host of hydrangeas in blue, pink, white or lavender . . . big fluffy blossoms of beauty . . . to bring a rush of spring to your room. If you prefer, you'll also find azaleas and dainty hyacinths, as well as gay potted tulips, and kalanchoes. Why not make a garden spot in your living room or breakfast nook, sun porch or den, for cheerful living all year round.

TELL ME SWAMI . . . Is my future good or bad . . . will my days be glad or sad? Now you can be behind the 8 ball and still know all the answers, it's a "Magic Eight Ball" from HESTER'S SUPPLY. With this wise and wondrous prophet, complete written answers to your questions appear out of total darkness in 10 seconds. This magic 8 ball is a wonderful idea for party fun . . . just watch the amazed expression of your friends when they see the strange sealed force that floats mysterious messages into full view and answers their questions on a spirit slate in the best hocus-pocus fashion . . . why not look into the future soon . . . you'll find it's a lot of fun.

COTTON UP TO SPRING . . . Indian Fashion . . . with a Squaw Dress from ZACK'S Of Margo's. Right from the reservation and Arizona designers comes this latest rage in cotton casuals, and they're taking the country by storm. It's no wonder . . . what with their gay, primitive colors and bright rick-rack trim . . . their talent for tubings and no fuss about ironing. There are several styles, all 2-piece, with a full gathered skirt designed to be rolled up after washing and tied to a broom handle until dry, so that they never need ironing. Cool and crisp, and lit with color—they're as fashionable for playtime as for a trip to town, and a luckier buy than finding an Indian head penny.

HI--TALK

By Margie McDougle

After a week of hard studying for exams, everyone can relax for another six weeks. The tests were about the only important things that happened last week, but some of the kids still found time for a little recreation.

Wednesday night the senior class put over a very successful program given by Slim Whitman. After expenses, $273 was cleared. Some of the kids seen there were Eunice Freeman, Frank Long, Joyce Gound, Merlin Peterson, Shirley Wheat, Bobby Hayworth, Jane Neale, Jim Lane, Joe White, Norman Dudley, Mary Sue White, Don's last week, Rosemary Lawson, Warren Cooper, Lynelle Martin, Jody Miller, Joyce Edwards, Carolyn Miller, Myrna Talley, Janice Boardman, Nancy Miller, Narrell Dene Choate, Frances McClain, Mary Lou Lepard, Margie McDougle, Shirley McDaniel, Carolyn Whitefield, Barbara Bowen, Oakie Hagood, Bill Dorsey, Gliz Gilstrap, Jann Bailey, Beverly Bek, Don Anderson, Steve Kornfield, Wayne Medlin, Dora Brookhart, Calvin Jones, Iva and Howard Jones, Marie Petty, Lonnie Muse, Ed Hartman, Lynn Mitchell, Dallas Williams, Ricketts Gilmore and Wayne Tollett.

This week has been set as National Education Week. BSHS will take a very active part in it. Jody Miller will interview several BSHS students on a radio program over KBST Monday at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday Mr. Plumley will present a program over KBST at 2:30 p.m. This will feature ensemble music. Wednesday the high school choir will present a program at 7 p.m. Friday the Student Council will present a program at 2:30 p.m. Each of the programs will feature a speaker that is interested in education and the schools of Big Spring. We extend a hearty invitation to everyone to come up and visit our high school as it will be open all week for inspection.

Good news students! Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday school will be dismissed at 3 p.m. Monday it will be turned over for a faculty meeting. The other three days it will be dismissed so the teachers can help take the census.

March 1 the FFA boys will make a trip to San Angelo for the Stock Show. The boys going and their entries are Melvin Daniels, crossbred; James Suggs, fine wool; James Tibbs, fine wool; Dick Fort, crossbred. These boys are looking forward to great achievement at the show this year.

Monday at noon the PTA is sponsoring a sock hop and sack lunch in the gym. Sandwiches will be sold and the price of admission will be 25 cents. This includes a free Coke. Also, a short floor show will be given.

The VIC and the VA boys played a good basketball game, with the VIC Southstars winning by a score of 27-25. The coaches for these two teams are Whiteley for the VIC boys and Mr. Vines for the VA students.

Mrs. Nancy Annen and Edna McGregor have made arrangements for coffee to be served every day from 10-11 and 2-3 in the homemaking cottage. All visitors are invited to have coffee during those hours.

Much to the students' regret, on March 13 the teachers will go to Lubbock to attend the TSTA convention. All doors will be closed and the students will not have to attend classes.

Congratulations to the Sterettes for bringing home a second place trophy from the Grandfalls tournament. Let's all show these girls we appreciate them by attending all the games.

There will be a faculty-student basketball game in the gym Wednesday, March 4.

The BSHS advanced speech class is planning a trip to San Antonio March 5-8 to attend a speech tournament there. Five students and Mr. McComb will make the trip. Jody Miller, Anne Gray, John Lawrence, Junior Suter, with Don Anderson as an alternate, will enter debate activities. Each of the students will enter an extra-curricular activity such as dramatic reading, radio speaking, Bible reading and declamation.

Twenty Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y delegates, with two sponsors, will make a trip to Amarillo March 8-8 to attend the annual Hi-Y convention. The two clubs have been working hard getting their volleyball and basketball teams together to enter the tournaments at this convention. There will be various other activities also, including discussion groups and election of officers for the next year. Those who plan to attend are Janice Anderson, Lila Turner, Libby Jones, Marie Hall, Narrell Dene Choate, Margie McDougle, Carolyn Whitefield, Gladys Buchanan, Bobby Phillips, Don Washburn, Wade Simpson, Dick Kincaid, Kim Milling, David Reed, Richard Hughes, Roger Brown, Glenn Rogers, Robert Angel and Joe Liberty. The sponsors accompanying this group will be Erma Jean Slaughter and Grover Good.

All seniors keep in mind the senior play, for tryouts will be held in the next week or two.

Demonstration is Completed At Meet

The City Home Demonstration Club met Friday in the home of Mrs. Harve Wooten.

Mrs. B. F. Mabe completed the demonstration on upholstering and Mrs. Eldon Appleton gave the council report.

Members elected Mrs. Appleton as nominee for delegate to the district THDA meeting in Lubbock.

Attending were eight members and one guest, Sue White. The next meeting will be March 13, a luncheon at 1 p.m. in the home of Mrs. W. N. Norred. Mrs. Norred and Mrs. Alton Underwood will give a demonstration on cooking a roast.

Nurses Meeting Set

Bo Bowen, president, has announced that the Texas Graduate Nurses Association, District 21, will have a dinner meeting Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. H. Randal in Lamesa.

Officer Wives Plan Parade Of 'Mad-Hats'

A Mad-Hat Parade will highlight the regular business meeting and dessert to be held by the Webb AFB Officer's Wives Club at 1:30 p. m. Thursday in the Officers Dining Hall.

Worn in the parade must be made by the members at no cost. Prizes will be awarded for the most original and ridiculous. Members are asked to bring old or new magazines to the meeting so that they may be distributed to the hospital wards.

Members not on the permanent luncheon reservation list may call Muriel Clark at 3126-W for reservations, and those who are on the list are asked to call and cancel their reservations if they are unable to attend. Deadline for reservations is Tuesday.

Mrs. W. S. Smallwood Jr., president of the club has announced after March 1, all officers wives will automatically become members of the club. Anyone not desiring membership may submit a letter of resignation to the club secretary, Box 9, Webb AFB.

In the future, the Officer's Wives Club will charge no initiation fee, and dues will continue to be $1 monthly, Mrs. Smallwood said.

'What's Cookin'

As its part in observing "What's Cookin' Week" in co-operation with local electric range dealers, Texas Electric Service Company will present continuous demonstrations of electric cooking in the company's office Monday through Friday, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Mrs. Virginia Ferebee, company home economist, above, will demonstrate different types of cooking on the electric range each day during the week.

Demonstrations On Cooking Announced

This week is "What's Cookin' Week" in Big Spring.

Starting Monday and continuing through Friday, local electric range dealers and Texas Electric Service Company will co-operate in telling the benefits of cooking electrically. As its part in the week's observance Texas Electric Service Company will present continuous demonstrations of electric cooking in the company's office from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. during the five days. Electric range dealers also have planned special attractions.

At the electric company's office, Mrs. Virginia Ferebee, home economist, will demonstrate cooking in electric ovens, on surface units and in deep well cookers each day during the week. Present users of electric ranges and also others who are interested in cooking electrically are specially invited.

These demonstrations are designed to answer the questions of women who are not familiar with all the cooking possibilities of an electric range, and to point out the many advantages of modern electric cooking," Mrs. Ferebee said.

Monday's demonstration will include preparation of an angel food cake, oatmeal cookies, smoked picnic ham, lima beans and rice.

On Tuesday she will cook spice doughnuts, hot rolls and a white cake with a broiled frosting.

Wednesday's demonstration will show the preparation of hot biscuit, barbecued ground beef and an angel food cake. Thursday's cooking schedule includes doughnuts, coconut cream pie and a shrimp luncheon dish. The demonstration will close Friday with the preparation of cheese pinwheels, biscuit, coffee, and cake and oatmeal cookies.

COSDEN CHATTER

Employees, Families See Demonstration-Lecture

Wednesday night nearly all Cosden employees and their families witnessed a special fire safety demonstration-lecture, "The Magic of Fire," put on by the U. S. Bureau of Mines. An intensive week of fire training was concluded when all employees participated in actual fire fighting demonstration held in the refinery Thursday and Friday. "Safety Jake" Morgan, safety engineer, should be complimented for staging such a fine program. We shall all miss Jake when he leaves March 15 to join the Ansil Chemical Company, manufacturer of fire fighting chemicals and equipment.

George Grimes and W. J. Jackson were in Bartlesville and Tulsa last week discussing the special chemical plant with Phillips Petroleum Company.

Mrs. Bill Adams of El Paso and Mrs. Joe Vandiver of Monahans visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Roberts this week. Mrs. Adams is a former resident of Big Spring.

Howard Cromer and John Lindsey from Mason were visitors in the office Wednesday.

Warren K. Bernhard of the Elliott Company visited the plant last week to report on progress of the new turbo-blower for the catcracker.

Walter Famariss and John Ilie of the Famariss Oil and Refining Company, Hobbs, N. M., visited the offices Monday.

John Kelly was a business visitor in Eunice, N. M., this week. He visited the Cosden No. 3 Butler Well near Eunice.

Alex Selkirk has completed the year of work which he contracted, upon his return to Big Spring, and he and Mrs. Selkirk have returned to their home in Waldron, Ark.

J. T. Morgan attended a meeting of the Mid-Continent Oil Traffic Committee in St. Louis Friday. He plans to return to the office Monday.

H. S. Blocker of Blocker Oil Company, Stanton, was a Tuesday visitor.

R. W. Thompson attended the Odessa Rotary Club meeting last Friday.

Pat Taylor, from Overton, is visiting Mickey Butts this week end.

Ell McComb spent the past week in Sterling City at our well.

Jack Y. Smith was in Abilene and Arlington Wednesday and Thursday on business.

John Kelly is spending the week end in Wago-visiting his children.

Hugh Dwyer of Dwyer and Lee Oil Company, Lubbock, was a visitor in the office Wednesday and Thursday.

We welcome as new employees Mrs. Dorothy S. McConnell and Mrs. Frances M. Nagiller.

Those on refinery vacations this week are David J. Hopper, Earnest E. Love, Herman H. Wright, Atlas E. Reed and H. F. Merrell Jr.

R. L. Tollett returned to the office yesterday morning after an absence of more than a week, which he spent in Austin, New York City and Washington, on company business.

Scalloped tomatoes are delicious seasoned with salt, freshly-ground pepper and oregano. Use about a number two can of tomatoes. Scrape the scalloped tomatoes with a cheese souffle and crisp potato chips.

Auxiliary To Pack Basket For Needy

Members of the City Firemen's Auxiliary were entertained Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. V. Crocker, with Mrs. S. R. Smith as co-hostess. Plans were made for food for an Easter basket for the needy, and refreshments were served to 10 members. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Edison Taylor, with Mrs. J. W. Grantham as co-hostess.

Fluorine Content Of Local Water Supply Declining

Fluorine content of water here is declining according to latest samples.

At 2 parts per million, it is still about .5 of a part over the point at which some staining or mottling of teeth might occur over sustained periods of time. The State Health department does not regard the difference as a substantial avenue of non-aesthetic mottling of teeth for youngsters—at least not on a temporary supply basis.

When initial samples were taken last September with the taking of supplies from the Colorado River Municipal Water District, the fluoride content was 2.4 ppm. Samples taken within the past month show the figure now down to an even 2 ppm. Total hardness shows a corresponding decline. Two things could be contributing to this—1) the reduction of influence of the concrete lining of pipe on the water delivered; and 2) the decline of fluoride concentration with steady production. H. W. Whitney, city manager, said that samples would be taken from taps here at periodical intervals.

In response to an inquiry from Dr. C. A. Pigford, director of the Midland-Ector-Howard health unit, Dr. Edgar Taylor, director of dental health for the state health department, had this to say about the fluoride content:

"While 2.0 ppm F₂ is considered objectionable in that it may produce some very mild fluorosis, in our opinion there would not be any objectionable mottling but at the same time there would be a high degree of inhibition of dental caries (decay) as compared with non-fluoride areas. It would appear to us that Big Spring has nothing to be greatly worried about in this regard unless you are using the new wells exclusively for a long period of time."

He had recommended to Dr. Pigford that samples be picked up from different parts of the city at various times and that the possibility of mixing the new water, which comes from Martin County, with those from the existing well fields in Howard and Glasscock Counties.

A somewhat similar analysis of the situation came from Dr. W. Philip Phair, assistant secretary of the council on dental health for the American Dental Association. Based on samples showing a fluoride range of 1.6 to 2.4, he said "the amount of mottling of enamel in areas where the water contains fluoride concentrations in this range is reported not to be excessive. In fact, the dental benefits which accrue far outweigh whatever non-aesthetic mottling might result. No specific estimate can be made of the effect of Big Spring water supply on teeth of the children in that area until periodic samples are taken at various points in the distribution system over a sufficiently long period of time to establish better the average amount of fluorides that are being consumed."

He observed that the possibility that lake water (from Lake J. B. Thomas) would be used in about a year from now, if rains should put water in the basin, injected another angle. "There should be no alarm about possible fluorosis resulting from high fluoride-bearing water during such a short period of time."

It should be stressed that the only thing involved in fluoride content is possible mottling of teeth. Some communities have had content run as high as five and six parts per million with nothing more than staining of teeth.

Recently, results of a six-year study at Marshall, where water was fluoridated, were announced. Six-year old children who had used Marshall water all their lives were found to have 57 per cent less caries than those in nearby Jacksonville, where the water had no fluorine. The Marshall children had only 3.06 impaired teeth. The corresponding group of six-year olds in 1945, before start of the test at Marshall had 7.06 bad teeth per child. Of the six-year olds raised on the fluoridated water, 35 per cent did not know what it was to have a dental cavity.

City Water Supply Is Second To None As Purification Process Here Is Excellent

By WAYLAND YATES
Big Spring water is like a well-advertised brand of soap—in the neighborhood of 99 per cent pure, as far as any organic content is concerned.

It may be "harder" than some, but city water is second to nobody's when it comes to bacteria or organic matter that might injure your health. There's not the slightest possibility of a disease riding into your home on the local public water supply.

That's because of the careful treatment the "raw" water gets at the municipal purification plant. Even well water, which Big Spring now uses exclusively and which ordinarily is considered treatment.

As a result, it's a rare occasion when a "bad sample" of Big Spring water turns up in the State Health Department laboratory. And even if an unsatisfactory sample should appear, health authorities wouldn't be alarmed. They figure eight per cent of water samples can fail to pass the test before there's any chance of infectious disease being transmitted through the water pipes.

With its record of 99 per cent okay, Big Spring stands near the top of the "water approved" list of Texas cities.

It is no accident that city water flows into your home free of germs, trash or any other organic material. A lot of expensive equipment, know-how and plenty of hard work go into the treatment of the household necessity whether its pumped out of a well or drawn from a lake.

Lake water requires more treatment than a well supply; consequently, much of the equipment at the local treatment plant is idle while lakes are dry and the city relies wholly on well fields.

But the sterilization process goes on. Under the supervision of Roy Hester, who has been with the water department for a quarter of a century, every drop of the fluid that enters the distribution system is cleaned of the bacteria it might carry.

Chlorine is the sterilizing agent. Minute quantities of the gas are dissolved in water and injected into the system at the point where raw water reaches the distribution lines.

Constant checks are made to assure that sufficient chlorine is added to kill all bacterial life. So small is the quantity needed that it is measured in tenths of a part per million.

While the sterilizing agent may be injected at the ratio of 0.5 of a part per million, by the time the water reaches the farthest point in the distribution system the chlorine content may have dropped to 0.3 of a ppm. But it still is strong enough to kill any germ that may enter the water.

An automatic chlorination machine works around the clock if necessary, to keep the purifying agent mixing with the water. Hester keeps a close watch on the instrument to be sure it's functioning properly. He also makes periodic analyses of the treated water, as a double check.

And a third method used in being certain sufficient chlorine is being injected is the weighing of cylinders containing the gas (in the liquefied state). The water production and treatment superintendent makes daily readings of loss of weight from the cylinder.

The loss in weight represents the quantity of chlorine added to the water. A pound of liquefied chlorine may sterilize a couple of million gallons of water, so loss of weight compared to water consumption gives Hester a rough idea of results he's getting.

The quantity of chlorine necessary to sterilize any given volume of water depends on the "demand" that particular water has for the gas. In other words, water will soak up a certain amount of chlorine before a "residual" is left to perform the germ-killing task. As the "demand" varies, Hester must also run periodic tests as a guide in adjusting the chlorinator.

A "comparator" is used for this purpose. Light shining through tubes of treated water is yellowish colored in proportion to amount of chlorine in solution. Color is compared to a series of translucent discs until it is matched. A scale on the comparator then tells the number of parts of chlorine per million of water—over and above the quantity soaked up by the water's demand.

Lake water also goes through the chlorination process, but that's Step Five in a long treatment operation.

Water such as the city has drawn from its own lakes, or will receive from the Colorado River Municipal Water District reservoir, is first aerated on arrival at the city treatment plant. It is pumped into a series of elevated troughs which are allowed to over-

Where Water Gets The Works

Roy Hester, top left, city water production and treatment boss, makes some adjustments on the automatic chlorinating machine that "sterilizes" the Big Spring water supply just before it enters the distribution mains. Scene at bottom left is in the basement of the water treatment plant. Big pipes take the water after it flows through sand filter and take it to the chlorination filters. Big paddle wheels above are in the flocculating chamber for removal of silt and lake water is treated with chemicals for removal of silt and other suspended material. The paddles stir the water-chemical mixture to create floc which later settles out in a settling basin, leaving water clear.

The last two of the area junior livestock shows on the calendar are the Borden County Junior Boys' Livestock Show at Gall, next Saturday, March 7, and then the Howard County 4-H and FFA Show here March 17-18-19.

In connection with the Big Spring show and sale Trust Vines, vocational agriculture instruction in the Big Spring High School, has been the first to list the animals and poultry that will be shown and sold by members of that FFA Chapter.

As soon as lists are received from the county agent's office and from the FFA Chapters at Coahoma and Knott these will also be printed in the Grub Line.

The Big Spring FFA boys who will have such show exhibits and sale consignments are:

Calvin Daniels, two lambs in show and one in the sale; Melvin Daniels two lambs in the show and one in the sale; Dick Fort two lambs in the show and one in the sale; Jim Dameron, two lambs in the show and one in the sale; Elbert Long, one lamb, show and sale; Bolo Crabtree, one lamb, show and sale; James Suggs, two lambs in the show and one in the sale; Joe Clark, two lambs in the show and one in the sale; Red Sanderson, one lamb, show and sale; Clarence Thompson, two lambs in the show and one in the sale; John Dameron, two lambs in the show and one in the sale; Joe Spinks, two lambs in the show and one in the sale; James Tibbs, two lambs in the show and one in the sale; Jackie Gilbert, two lambs in the show and one in the sale.

-John Dameron, on calf, show and sale. This is the only calf on feed by a member of the Big Spring FFA chapter.

Melvin Daniels, two capons in the show and one in the sale; Bill Wilson, two capons in the show and one in the sale; Elbert Long, one capon, show and sale, and Bolo Crabtree, one capon, show and sale.

A Texas livestock feed manufacturing organization is advising dairymen not to leave calves on the mother cows longer than about a week, with the argument that to leave them on the cow longer is too expensive for profit and a waste of good milk.

This same organization has been rather generous with prize money to feeders who have "milked" steers to well beyond maturity by using the feed products of this same company for the nurse cow and as supplemental feed for the grown steer.

Among the Howard County farmers and ranchers who have expressed their intention to plant green manure or cover crops of summer legumes, and their plans acreages under the 1953 agricultural conservation program are:

COWPEAS:
Margaret E. Lauderdale and Charles R. Everett of Ackerly, five acres; Mrs. Harry Lees and George W. Chapman of Knott, 17 acres; S. C. Gist and Arnold Lloyd of Knott, eight acres; J. C. Spaulding of Knott, 10 acres; Edward Lauderdale and Charles R. Everett of Ackerly, five acres; Bob Foster and Melvin Smith of Ackerly, 25 acres; Oscar B. Gaskin and Joe Mac Gaskin of Knott, eight acres; Mrs. Frank Hodnett and Robert W. Brown of Knott, 13 acres; Herman Jeffcoat of Knott, three acres; Della Jones and John H. Woods of Knott, 10 acres; E. L. Roman of Knott, 13 acres; Fred Roman and E. L. Roman of Knott, 10 acres; Fred Roman and Bobby Roman of Knott, 10 acres; Monroe G. Rosales of Knott, 10 acres; Wallace B. Thornston of Knott, 13 acres; J. G. West and Floyd Jones of Ackerly, 17 acres; Otto E. Wolfe and Morris Barnes of Ackerly, 12 acres.

Also cowpeas: Fannie Adams of Ackerly, three acres; Sam Little of Knott, 17 acres; Ralph Proctor of Big Spring, three acres; Paul Adams and Wayland Etheridge of Ackerly, 17 acres; T. M. Robinson of Ackerly, eight acres; J. N. Adams Estate and T. M. Robinson, eight acres; J. C. Spaulding of Knott, 10 acres; Paul Adams of Ackerly, five acres; James C. Barr, six acres; Edward J. Carpenter of Vincent, 47 acres; D. P. Bigony of Fairview, 35 acres; A. J. Pirkle of Big Spring, 17 acres; Robert M. Wheeler of Big Spring, eight acres; John H. Anderson Estate and Robert Brown, seven acres; T. E. Stringfellow of Coahoma, 52 acres; Edith K. Fisher and Ross Hill of Elbow, seven acres.

Mrs. Kate Wolfe and J. H. Wolfe have signified their intention to plant 45 acres of Hubam Clover. The following plan the stated acreages of Guar, which was just introduced in this area last year: Floyd O. Shortes and Darrel Shortes of Knott, 150 acres; Mrs. Laureth Bohl, and Marlin and Gene Shaw of Knott, 60 acres; Willis Winters of Vincent, 400 acres; Wilson Brothers of Vincent, 12 acres; Joe Echols of Coahoma, 40 acres; and Ross Hill of Elbow, 40 acres.

Little Joyce Robinson is certainly to be congratulated on the fine price she got for her reserve champion steer at San Antonio.

The fact that this steer brought a total of $8,000, which was $500 more than was paid for the grand champion, appears to reflect an opinion of San Antonio newspapermen, which was repeated in this column, that she was the crowd's "sentimental favorite" to win the grand championship.

The buyers, the Pearl and Lone Star Breweries, joint purchasers, announced immediately after the auction that they plan to butcher the steer, bring the carcass back to Big Spring and have a party in Joyce's honor. How well the idea of such a party will be received here and how well it will be attended is a matter for speculation.

Four Have Filed For C-City Posts

COLORADO CITY — Two newcomers to city politics filed for places on the Colorado City council ballot this week to bring the total to four, with four places at stake.

L. L. Simpson, 63, owner of business properties in Colorado City and farms in the surrounding area, and Lawrence Ruddleck, 33 year old Col-Tex Refinery employee, were the new candidates.

Candidates who had announced previously were R. B. Baker and L. J. Taylor, both running for re-election. Both were appointed and neither has served a full term.

Simpson said that if elected, he had no particular changes in the City's operations in mind. He is an elder in the First Christian Church.

Ruddleck said that he favored the improvement of Colorado City's parks, streets and recreational facilities. He is treasurer for the Oak Street Baptist Church and the International Union of Operating Engineers. He is a veteran of World War II, with two and a half years overseas.

'Fledermaus' Is Set Wednesday

"The Fledermaus," a popular musical comedy which employs what has been described by many as Johann Strauss' most entrancing score, will be presented on the Municipal auditorium stage Wednesday evening.

It will be the second in a series of three Civic Drama Festival Productions to reach the Big Spring stage this season under sponsorship of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club.

"The Fledermaus" is a streamlined musical comedy version of the operetta that was sensationally restaged by Ella Kazan for New York's famous Metropolitan Opera House during the season of 1949. Since then it has been the most popular work in the Met's entire repertoire.

The entire musical is permeated with the flavor of old Vienna and the famous Strauss waltzes highlight the feeling of old fashioned charm, warmth and "gemutlichkeit."

In addition to the songs and dances, "Fledermaus" has a hilarious musical comedy book. It presents a play within a play, all planned by a Dr. Falke, as a practical joke upon his friend, Mr. Einstein, as revenge for spreading the rumor that Dr. Falke took the form of a "Fledermaus" — literal translation, a bat.

Through Falke's efforts Einstein is supposedly confined to jail for two weeks, leaving his wife, Rosalinda, with time hanging heavy on her hands.

This condition is short lived, however, because a lover appears in the person of one Alfredo, who is later mistaken for the real Einstein and is led off to jail.

By spurious invitations and because of suggestions from Dr. Falke, all the characters appear at a grand ball given by Prince Orlosky, in masquerade and under assumed names.

How Einstein, as the Marquis de Renard, makes love to his own wife, thinking her a baroness, and the final denouement, are among the highly amusing incidents in the plot which has been successful in promoting many laughs.

Holders of season tickets to the civic drama series here will have their same reservations.

In addition, Kiwanis club members are selling "singles" for other desirable seats which remain in the Municipal auditorium.

The single tickets for "The Fledermaus" may be purchased from any Kiwanis Club member for $2.75, including tax.

When wood absorbs water, it swells across the grain, but swelling along the grain is so slight that wooden measuring rods are quite reliable.

Scene From Comedy

This is a scene from "The Fledermaus," hit musical comedy which comes to the city auditorium stage Wednesday night under sponsorship of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club. Musical score for the production, which will be staged by the Civic Drama Guild, employs famous waltzes of Johann Strauss.

Colorado City Twins Honored By School

COLORADO CITY — Stanley and Irwin Berman, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Berman of Colorado City, were honored by election to the Mu Delta Honorary Medical Service Society of the Texas University Medical School, according to a recent announcement.

Among requirements considered by the society in making its selection are character, sincerity and personality, and only one-sixth of the class is eligible for election. The Colorado City twins are seniors in the UT medical school at Galveston.

TV Still Poses Economic Question Mark In Area

Television already has gained a prominent place in the fields of entertainment, advertising and news distribution, but as yet it is an economic question mark in areas outside metropolitan centers.

This is the conclusion drawn by Jack Wallace, manager of Radio Station KBST who has compiled exhaustive data on the subject, and who presented a portion of his findings to Big Spring Kiwanis Club members at their meeting here Thursday.

However, Wallace said that economic problems associated with TV in smaller places are likely to diminish in the future.

As an example he cited that some electronic tubes required in transmitters and other equipment used in TV stations now cost $1,250 each. There was a time, he recalled when a certain tube used in a regular radio station cost $125, but now the same tube can be purchased for about $10.30.

Wallace estimated that it would cost well over $200,000 to install a TV transmitter and tower in Big Spring. Additional costs would be required for other essential equipment, and operating expenses would be at least $20,000 per month, probably more, Wallace estimated.

Most of the revenue for a station in Big Spring would have to come from local advertising, Wallace advised. National advertisers base their expenditures on a population basis, combined with the buying power of the area covered by the TV station. Taking these factors into proper consideration, a station in Big Spring last year could have received no more than $2,500 per month in revenue from national advertising, Wallace pointed out.

The remainder of the $20,000 per month operating expenses would have to come from local advertising, he continued. That would mean rates of about $125 for a quarter hour, and on down to something like $15 for a 30-second spot announcement, figuring that the station would be on the air about six and a half hours per day.

Film costs are high for independent TV stations, and major networks already have indicated that they are not interested in book-ups taking in more than about 150 of the top markets in the country.

"That leaves West Texas, pretty much out of the network picture, except in cases where the stations want to tie in at their own expense," Wallace declared.

A station in Big Spring would be permitted to join a network, but would have to pay $32 per mile cable charges to the nearest network point. In Big Spring's case, the nearest point would be Fort Worth.

Despite all of the obstacles, Wallace predicted that TV would come to Big Spring in time, by one means or another.

"We at KBST are extremely interested in it, and you can rest assured that we are going to keep ourselves informed on progress made in the industry. As soon as we can determine a method where it will be economically feasible, we will try to do something about it," Wallace concluded.

FLOURINE

according to reports from the experiment.

Are stained teeth the price of fluoride benefits? Not necessarily. Dr. Henry F. Helmholz, for 25 years head of the pediatrics section at Mayo Clinic, said that investigation showed that a concentration of 1.3 parts to 2.6 parts of fluoride per million would mean 38.3 to 29.8 per cent of the children would show no tooth decay. But with a concentration of 1 to 4 ppm, only 5.7 per cent would be free from cavities. Research workers then found that in places where there was a concentration of one part of fluoride to a million parts of water not more than 10 per cent of the people had mottled teeth, and even then among that 10 per cent the staining was very slight. Generally speaking, only the dentist could recognize the minor change in enamel. This particular concentration reduced tooth decay about 50 per cent without changing appearance of the teeth.

Most affected are children, particularly those under six years. Seemingly, this is when fluorosis would be most likely to develop, also when the most protection would result from the fluoride. "The emphasis is on children because of another discovery—that the only time fluoride acts to prevent decay is when children's teeth are being formed or 'laid down,'" said Dr. Helmholz. He added that it has been found that "the earlier and longer a child is exposed to fluoridated water during the period of dental development, the better are his teeth."

This gets back to the point that under controlled situations, about one ppm F. would produce best results without risk of visible staining. Beyond 1.5 the chances of mottling begin to increase and the greater the concentration and the longer the consumption, the greater the possibility of mottling. Here again, mottling is not necessarily a permanent situation—that is to say it can be removed by dentists in about nine of 10 cases. It's not painful but it's plenty hard work for the dentist.

Meanwhile, if any parent should be concerned about possibility of fluorosis, he or she could talk it over with the family dentist or pediatrician about the wisdom or practicability of using distilled-remineralized water.

A Bible Thought For Today—

Aged people often have skills and wisdom that are priceless. It is an error to deprive humanity of their services simply because they have had many birthdays. Humanity needs the skills of the aged. "As thy days, so shall thy strength be." — Deut. 33:25.

flow, exposing water to the air where it gives off odors and absorbs oxygen.

Then the water flows into a mixing chamber where small quantities of lime and alum are added. Water is stirred by enormous paddlewheels.

The chemicals form a "floc"—small gelatinous particles—in the water. From the flocculation chambers the fluid is pumped into a settling basin for the third phase of treatment.

Fourth step in the treatment of lake water is filtration. The liquid is pumped from the settling basin through sand filters where any remaining organic matter is filtered out.

From the rapid sand filters, the water is collected in big pipes, chlorinated and pumped out into the distribution system, ready for consumption.

The lime and alum used in the flocculation process also is added automatically, but Hester must determine the quantities needed for any day's water supply. Constant tests are made for that purpose, along with the chlorine content analysis.

Hester also keeps a bacteriological analysis going on any lake water the city may use. It takes about 72 hours to complete a bacteria count, and as soon as one is finished another is started.

The water treatment expert must be scientifically exact in this experiment, and care must be used to avoid contamination of the samples during analysis. All laboratory equipment is sterilized, just as if it were to be used in a hospital operating room.

Hester started working for the Big Spring water department back in 1928 and he has been on the job practically every day since, guarding and purifying your water supply. During peak periods of water consumption, Hester may not get a good night's sleep for months.

He looks after all municipal wells, pumping equipment and transmission lines between Big Spring and the treatment plant, which also is his responsibility. His working day is apt as not to be 20 hours long during July and August; that has been true in the past when production facilities were being taxed to meet the demand for water.

And the city dads aren't the only ones who must be satisfied with results of Hester's efforts. The State Health Department is looking over his shoulder practically all the time. Twenty samples of city water are analyzed in laboratories at Austin each month.

As mentioned before, it's a rare occasion when the health department finds a bad sample of Big Spring water. It hasn't happened for months and the State Health Department lists Big Spring way above the average for water sanitation with rating of nearly 99 percent okay.

Hester is dissatisfied with only one thing about the city's treatment plant. The plant doesn't have the health department's wholehearted approval because unchlorinated water is used to backwash the sand filter units.

That'll be corrected in the next few months, though, when the plant is enlarged. Then Hester will

Local RC Unit One Of State's Busiest

Work sponsored by the Howard Glasscock Chapter of the American Red Cross during the past year has made it one of the most active units in the state.

A full, nine-point Red Cross program is in operation here. Such a large scale operation in a chapter the size of the local one is unusual, according to Mrs. Moree Sawtelle, director.

Records show that a top notch job has been done in aiding members of the armed, forced and veterans. During 1952 alone, the local chapter loaned or made grants of $9,338.89 to servicemen (and their dependents).

Other fields of local operation include blood procurement, disaster preparedness, home nursing, first aid, water safety, accident prevention, Junior Red Cross work, and Gray Lady efforts.

Little publicity is given to the home service aids for servicemen and veterans. However, these aids call for the largest outlay of money and time in the local chapter.

Mrs. Sawtelle prepares more than 100 furlough "verification" reports per month. Such reports furnish home conditions to commanding officers when local men request emergency furloughs.

Dependency discharge requests by servicemen require hardship reports. Other reports that must be made include home condition, health and welfare, and social histories. Mrs. Sawtelle estimates three quarters of her time is spent making reports for servicemen.

Any time a serviceman gets worried about his family the Red Cross checks, and families often check to see about their servicemen sons through the agency too.

Since activation of Webb, the service welfare program has been souped-up in Howard County. In addition to the $9,338.89 loaned in 1952, another $3,000 was loaned during the latter part of 1951.

Through 1952 some $7,048.88 of the money borrowed had been returned. Mrs. Sawtelle explained that funds are provided for emergency transportation, emergency housing for dependents, and emergency furloughs.

The local chapter is responsible for servicemen and families living off the base. Those on the base

Cecil Bowles Leaves For Insurance School

Cecil Bowles, Big Spring, left Saturday for Hartford, Conn., where he will attend an insurance school.

The course, to last five weeks, will include special training in fire and casualty insurance. The school will start Monday and be concluded April 3.

He is able to say he's seen the city water facilities grow from a few wells, with no chlorination or other treatment, to one of the most modern plants in the country—with complete approval of the health department.

are the responsibility of the Red Cross field director there.

Closely coordinated with home service work are the efforts of Gray Ladies, under the direction of Mrs. Buel Fox. They comfort patients at the Veterans Hospital and attend to their needs.

During the last three months of 1952, some 575 hours were spent attending 681 patients by 49 Gray Lady volunteers. The volunteer workers write letters, read, do shopping, mail letters, show movies and sometimes just talk to patients. Doctors attribute an uplift in patient morale because of Gray Ladies.

The most heralded work of the Red Cross during the past year has been blood procurement. Bloodmobiles have rolled into Big Spring twice and collected a combined total of 999 pints of blood.

The Red Cross is the only blood procurement agency in the country for both military and civil defense needs.

While most cities in Texas failed to meet their quotas, Big Spring residents have passed their mark both times. In February last year 364 pints were contributed in two days. A four day drive in November accounted for 635 pints.

On top of the community service list is disaster preparedness. Mrs. Sawtelle says Red Cross is ready to move into operation on a moment's notice in case of disasters such as tornadoes, explosions, fires, floods, etc.

J. C. Morgan, safety engineer for Cosden Petroleum Corporation, is the disaster chairman for the area. He has an emergency preparedness plan including a large staff of workers, shelter, canteens, emergency medical care, evacuation units, and rehabilitation for the injured.

Disaster expenditures are made by the Red Cross with no idea of reimbursement. The local chapter pays for any disaster with less than five families. When more than five are included, national headquarters foots the bill.

The home nursing program has received a shot in the arm during the past year. Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr., home nursing chairman, and Mrs. Louise Porter, Red Cross instructor, have been overly active. They trained 14 nurse instructors, and the instructors in turn trained 140 women in various home demonstration clubs about the county.

Mrs. Porter also trained school homemaking teachers within a radius of 75 miles, and they passed the instruction along to pupils. The program includes care for the sick in homes without hospital conveniences.

The Junior Red Cross program, under the direction of Miss Dixie Boyd, gives local youngsters a chance to participate. The juniors work in much the same manner as the senior division.

In Big Spring the youngsters work closely with the Gray Ladies in making things for VA hospital patients. They prepare tray favors on special days and make gifts for those confined. Most of their work is integrated in art classes.

The accident prevention program is directed by J. C. Morgan. He sees that each of the first six school grades are provided with teaching aids. Mrs. H. L. Derrick, authorized Red Cross instructor, conducts an accident prevention class in the seventh grade each year.

Approximately 400 people attended Red Cross first aid classes last year, and about 150 are now being trained. The course consists of 30 hours temporary treatment work plus four hours of advanced civil defense training.

Leslie Snow is chairman of the first aid program, and there are approximately 20 authorized instructors. In addition to school classes, several classes have been held for business concerns in the area.

Two classes of water safety were held last year, and 24 certificates were issued. Olen Puckett is in charge of the program, and instructors are June Cook and Joann Smith. Miss Cook and Miss Smith were sent to aquatic schools for special training.

Mrs. Sawtelle pointed out that all other organizations use the Red Cross water instruction as a standard in their classes.

Mystery Thriller

Richard Greene and Paula Corday are pictured in a dramatic love scene from Universal-International's "The Black Castle," scheduled at the State today and Monday. Also in this movie is Stephen McNally. The story concerns a medieval castle which is loaded with secret passages and dungeons, plus a pretty girl captive.

Western Shoot-Em-Up

Lucille Norman and Randolph Scott are shown in a lighter moment in the movie "Carson City," which will show at the Jet tonight and Monday night. Raymond Massey is also starred in the picture, colored by Warnercolor. It concerns the building of a railroad across mountains while an outlaw band gives opposition.

12th Century Drama

Robert Taylor and Elizabeth Taylor are shown in a scene from "Ivanhoe," which will show at the Ritz today, Monday and Tuesday. Also starred in the Technicolor production are Joan Fontaine and George Sanders. The movie concerns a knight's attempt to restore the throne of England to King Richard the Lion-Hearted. In addition to a three-way romance, battle adventure of the middle ages is plentiful. The story is based on Sir Walter Scott's novel.

Song And Dance Team

Ralph Meeker and Betty Hutton are shown above in a song and dance routine from "Somebody Loves Me," the Technicolor movie scheduled at the Ritz Theatre Wednesday and Thursday. The story is about two young entertainers who fight their way to success and happiness. Many of the songs which were famous at the turn of the century are sung.

'Ivanhoe' Plays At Ritz Theatre

"Ivanhoe," set for the Ritz Theatre today and through Tuesday will bring to the screen a 12th Century love triangle spiced by knightly adventure.

An all-star cast headed by Robert Taylor, Elizabeth Taylor, Joan Fontaine, George Sanders and Emyln Williams is featured in the Technicolor production.

The movie is based on the novel of the same name written by Sir Walter Scott. It concerns a knight's attempt to restore the throne of England to King Richard the Lion-Hearted.

Taylor is the knight, and Miss Taylor and Miss Fontaine are the two women fighting for his affections. Sanders is cast as the villain who supports Prince John as king.

The movie abounds with duels, jousts, fights, intrigue and war.

Several of the battle scenes have thousands of actors.

Shot entirely in England, the picture required some of the most elaborate sets, costumes and props ever used in motion picture.

Plot of the movie is centered around Prince John's attempt to steal the throne of England while King Richard is on one of his crusades.

Sanders is John's chief supporter and Taylor and Sanders are matched against one another throughout the movie. Taylor saves Miss Taylor's life in combat, and she too supports King Richard.

Miss Taylor plays the part of Rebecca, and she steps aside in the love triangle to favor Miss Fontaine, who has the part of Rowena, the heroine.

Williams, who plays the part of Wamba the jester, has quite a number of top scenes in the production.

'Carson City' At The Jet Drive-In

A story of railroad building across a lawless frontier will hit the screen of the Jet tonight and Monday night.

It is "Carson City," which stars Randolph Scott, Lucille Norman and Raymond Massey. The picture is in Warnercolor.

Scott plays a two-fisted engineer who is trying to build a railroad across the mountains for gold shipment. The road starts in Carson City.

On arrival he is greeted by Miss Norman and a newspaper reporter, Richard Webb. Miss Norman's father, the newspaper publisher, is killed by those opposing the railroad.

Massey leads opposition to the road. He also opposes Scott personally. After Scott is almost trapped in a mine tunnel by an explosion, the two meet to settle the score.

Gunfighter's Story Subject Of Movie

The story of Wes Hardin, famous Texas gunfighter, will be screened at the Jet Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in the movie "Lawless Breed."

Rock Hudson has the part of Hardin, and Julia Adams plays opposite him. Others in the cast include Mary Castle, John McIntire and Hugh O'Brien.

The story begins with Hudson playing a young Wes Hardin—a boy weary of his father's discipline who leaves home.

A gun battle with gamblers starts his career rolling, and one shooting leads right to another. However he is finally captured by Texas Rangers and sent to prison for 16 years.

At the end of the prison term Hudson returns to his home in time to help his son, who is as impetuous as his father.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Pirate Drama Due Here This Week

The story of a famous pirate and his crew will be brought to the screen of the Ritz Theatre Friday and Saturday.

The sea-faring drama is told in "Blackbeard the Pirate," which has Robert Newton in the starring role.

Linda Darnell, William Bendix and Keith Andes have top supporting parts. The production is in Technicolor.

Miss Darnell is passenger on a ship captured by Capt. Edward Teach, who is known as Blackbeard. Andes is also on the ship and sails with Blackbeard in order to protect Miss Darnell.

Bendix is Blackbeard's mate. After capturing the ship, Newton (Blackbeard) and Bendix find that Miss Darnell's baggage conceals a fortune in jewels.

Newton has ideas about the jewels and Miss Darnell. However, he is pursued by a king's ship captained by Sir Henry Morgan. Toren Thatcher has the part of Morgan.

Morgan, however, is no better than Blackbeard. The two fight it out for the treasure. Morgan is victorious in one battle, but Blackbeard escapes.

Miss Darnell and Andes are kept in Blackbeard's custody. Blackbeard finally retakes the ship and sets sail, with Morgan catching him again.

After a bloody battle, Blackbeard is forced to withdraw to an island. Miss Darnell and Andes escape, and Blackbeard's crew revolts.

Blackbeard, mortally wounded, is buried up to his neck in the sand by his crew and left to drown by the incoming tide. Andes turns out to be a government agent who reports Morgan for the crook he is.

HIGHLIGHTS ON KBST

Baseball Program Is A New Feature

KBST adds a new show, "Your Sports Parade," to its schedule this week. "Your Sports Parade," which will be heard each Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday from 7:00 to 7:15 p.m., will feature Larry Sanville, KBST's sportscaster for the 1953 baseball season, and Bill Frank, general manager and co-owner of the Big Spring Broncs.

LARRY SANVILLE

The show is designed, explained Sanville, to keep baseball fans posted on what's happening, locally and nationally, in the realm of America's great national pastime. From time to time interviews will be conducted by Sanville with players, managers, and any others who may have something to contribute to the interest of the show.

One feature which should prove a lively element on the program is that concerning letters from baseball fans on various phases of the game. Bill Frank, ex-umpire, challenges listeners to stump him with a question on the rules or history of baseball which he can't answer.

Betty Hutton Stars In Musical Film

The story of two entertainers who went from rags to riches is told in the movie "Somebody Loves Me," which plays at the Ritz Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Betty Hutton and Ralph Meeker are starred in the movie, filmed in Technicolor.

Some eighteen songs which were famous around the turn of the century are presented in the movie. Both Miss Hutton and Meeker sing them.

Miss Hutton plays the part of Blossom Seeley and Meeker has the role of Henry Fields. The story opens when they first start in show business.

Such songs as "Jealous," "Rose Room," "Wang Wang Blues," and "Way Down Yonder in New Orleans" are heard in the movie.

Schedules Of Pioneer Being Changed Today

Changes in schedules for all Pioneer Air Lines' planes through Big Spring are to become effective today.

The changes represent only a few minutes in some cases, but it was pointed out by local Pioneer Agent Billy Watson, these will provide better connections for passengers transferring to other lines at Dallas.

Greater convenience is afforded for those Pioneer riders who use the go-and-come-in-one-day schedule, either going to Dallas-Fort Worth, or coming into Big Spring. More importantly for people in this area, Watson said, are more convenient schedules between Big Spring and Austin-Houston.

Schedule changes, set for March 1, are as follows:

EASTBOUND--

Flight 42, which has been departing at 7:19 a.m., now leaves at 7:13 a.m., for arrival in Dallas at 9:13 a.m. It makes direct connection to Austin-Houston at Abilene, with arrival in Austin at 9:53 a.m. and Houston at 10:47.

Flight 46, which has been leaving at 1:44 p.m., now will depart at 1:29, with arrival at Dallas at 3:21 p.m. This permits more time for connections with through air schedules to the East.

Flight 48, which has been leaving at 7:04, is moved up considerably, to 5:53. This means arrival in Dallas at 7:52 p.m.

WESTBOUND--

Flight 41, which has been arriving here at 9:11 a.m., will arrive at 9:09, and depart (for Midland) at 9:12. This means a morning departure from Dallas westward at 7 a.m., and also means that another connection is available from here to Austin-Houston. The flight leaves Midland at 11:18 a.m., arriving in Austin at 12:59 p.m. and Houston at 1:50 p.m.

Flight 43, which has been arriving at 5:44, is moved up to a 4:15 arrival. It departs for Midland at 4:18, via which point a flight can be made on to Austin-Houston, arriving at 7:21 at the former city, 8:15 at the latter.

Flight 45, has been arriving at 8:31 p.m., will now arrive at 8:16 p.m. It departs from Dallas at 8:05 p.m.

LIL ABNER

BY AL CAPP

Synopsis: FOR A FULL MOMENT THE GREAT STAG GLARES FIERCELY AT PRINCE ARN. THEN ARN DRAWS FORTH HIS GLEAMING SWORD AND THE WILD BEAST FLEES IN PANIC.

ARN LOOKS AROUND AT SIR GAWAIN IN AMAZEMENT..... SO BRAVE WAS HIS HUNTING DOG THAT, TO SHOW HIS CONTEMPT FOR DANGER, HE ACTUALLY SAT DOWN AND CLOSED HIS EYES!

ONCE MORE THE CRUEL FANGS OF FAMINE THREATEN THE EXPLORERS AND THIS TIME THE DANGER IS REAL. ALL THE COOKIES ARE GONE! ONLY SOME BREAD AND MEAT ARE LEFT!

WHEN HE BECOMES A WARRIOR HE WILL CONQUER THIS LAND AND BE ITS KING, HE DECIDES. HERE HE WILL BUILD HIS CASTLE. BUT MEANTIME, HE LOOKS OUT OVER A DARKENING WORLD AND REMEMBERS HOW NICE IT USED TO BE IN MOMMIE'S ARMS.

THE FOREST BELOW IS DARK AND LOOKS AS IF ALMOST ANYTHING IS MORE THAN LIKELY TO BE LURKING THERE. ARN IS SURPRISED TO FIND THE WORLD SO LARGE AND SO LONELY. IT IS COMFORTING TO HEAR THE SOUND OF DISTANT HORNS.

THE DOLEFUL SOUND OF A LOST SOUL WAILING IN THE DARKNESS REACHES THE EARS OF A PEASANT. "SUCH A WOFUL SOUND CAN ONLY MEAN DISTRESS," SAYS HE, LIGHTING A LANTHORN.

AND THE SOUND LEADS HIM TO A WEIRD AND WONDERFUL DOG WHO IS CALLING ATTENTION TO THE FACT THAT A SMALL BOY IS IN DIRE NEED OF COMFORT.

THEN THE MAN LISTENS TO THE SOUND OF DISTANT HORNS AND READS THEIR MEANING. TAKING HIS OWN HORN, HE SOUNDS THE "ALL CLEAR" OR "DANGER IS PASSED" NOTE.

NEXT WEEK—Sir Gawain!

RUSTY RILEY by FRANK GODWIN

GO YOU WANT TO GET UP A LITTLE POKER GAME, EH?... WELL, I'M YOUR MAN... JUST SAY WHERE!

MY TENT'S AS GOOD AS ANY PLACE! IN TWENTY MINUTES... OKAY?

OH, BOY! I FOUND A FOUR-LEAF CLOVER YESTERDAY... AND TONIGHT THE FORTUNE TELLER TOLD ME I COULDN'T LOSE... HERE'S WHERE I CLEAN UP!

I PULLED YOU BACK INTO THE SHADOWS BECAUSE I DIDN'T WANT DOOLEY TO SEE YOU... NOT TO EAVESDROP!... BUT NOW I THINK IT'S A MOST FORTUNATE THING THAT I DID!

MEET ME AT THE MAIN GATE, RUSTY... I'VE GOT TO SEE DOOLEY BEFORE HE GETS INTO THAT GAME!

OKAY, MR. STOVEPIPE... I'M KINDA HUNGRY, SO I'LL BE AT THE HOT-DOG STAND.

LISTEN, DENVER, DON'T BE SORE AT MY BUTTING IN, BUT I HEARD YOU TELL NEKRO YOU'D PLAY POKER WITH HIM... I'M SURPRISED TO SEE AN OLD CARNIVAL MAN PLAY WITH A CARD 'MECHANIC!'

DON'T WORRY, DOC... I WASN'T BORN YESTERDAY... I CAN TAKE CARE OF MYSELF. BESIDES, THIS IS MY LUCKY DAY... I CAN'T LOSE!

OH, GOLLY! I LEFT MY MONEY IN THE PANTS OF THAT UNIFORM I WEAR IN MR. NEKRO'S ACT! I'LL HAVE TO GO BACK TO THE TENT AND GET IT.

MR. NEKRO MUST BE IN THERE! THERE'S A LIGHT!... HE SEEMS TO BE TALKING TO SOMEONE!

I GUESS I DID A GOOD JOB TELLING OLD DOOLEY HE COULDN'T LOSE! HE SURE SWALLOWED IT!

JEEPERS, MR. STOVEPIPE! YOU BETTER COME BACK WITH ME! THERE'S A PLACE BETWEEN NEKRO'S TENT AND THE MERRY-GO-ROUND WHERE WE CAN HIDE!... BUT HURRY!

I FAIL TO GRASP THE CAUSE FOR EXCITEMENT, BUT LEAD ON, MY LAD!

DON'T FORGET! TUNE IN THE BIG FIGHT TONIGHT AT TEN!

GOLLY! DON'T WANT TO MISS THAT, BUT I'M HALF-ASLEEP NOW!

I KNOW! I'LL FIX MYSELF A BITE TO EAT!

THIS WILL HELP TO KEEP ME FROM FALLING ASLEEP!

NOW ONLY A FEW MINUTES TO WAIT!

WELL, IT WOKE ME UP!

...AND NOW THE BIG FIGHT!

HENRY ASKED MY PERMISSION TO LET YOU OUT THIS EVENING. HE SAID YOU HADN'T BEEN OUT ALONE SINCE... HA HA... WE'VE BEEN MARRIED.

DID YOU TELL HIM WHY THAT I PREFER HAVING YOU ALONG?

WELL, SEE HERE YOUNG MAN... YOU'RE GOING OUT WITH THE BOYS. A FELLOW SHOULD HAVE A NIGHT OFF.

HEH HEH... I'M BEING PUT OUT OF MY OWN HOUSE.

OKAY... PAY OFF? THERE HE IS.

HE'LL AS. I HAD A TOUGH TIME... BUT I MADE IT.

NICE WORK, CUDDLES... AT'S A NOTHER STRIKE.

HEY... WAIT A MINUTE, YA CROOK... YA GYPPED ME... I MADE A SPARE!

HEY, WALSH... HOW ABOUT YOU 'BEEB PLAVIN' US FER SOME REAL DOUGH?

DOWN, BOY! GO WAY, YA BOTHER ME!

THESE BUMS WANTED T'BOWL AGAINST US FER HEAVY SUGAR? THEY'RE A COUPLA SHARKS?

SO? WHY'NT WE TAKE 'EM ON? I KIN BEAT ANY TWO OF 'EM. I SEEN 'EM BOWL.

BECAUSE JOE WON'T GAMBLE. SO HE WON'T TOL'RATE US BETTIN' ON HIS GAME NEITHER. AN' S'IDES, THEY'RE MOB GUYS?

SO AWRIGHT ARRBDDY! GO AHEAD, IT'S YOUR 'G-N.

I DON'T LIKE NONE A THEM HIGH AN' MIGHTY BIG SHOTS!

TOO GOOD T'PLAY WIT' US? I'D LIKE T'TAKE A POKE...

YA KNOW SOMETHIN'... LISSEN... BZZZ BZZZ

THERE IS NO JUDGING THE PATH OF A CARVENING BOULDER! CASEY FORGES TO CLEAR THE GIANT MISSILE BUT IS SENT SPINNING UNDER THE IMPACT OF A SLANCING BLOW!

BUT YAGALI ONLY PAUSES, BARELY STAGGERED, AS THE THIRD AND FOURTH 44 SLUGS TEAR INTO HIS BACK!

AND THEN HE DISAPPEARS INTO THE ROCKS WITH LILLI! CASEY RAISES HIMSELF PAINFULLY TO HIS KNEES AND TRIES TO INCH HIS WAY UP THE GULLEY....

BUT HE IS SPITTING SCARLET, AND THE PAINS IN HIS CHEST GET WORSE WITH EACH BREATH! HIS BODY GIVES UP!

MINUTES LATER, THE MONSTROUS YAGALI! ARRIVES AT HIS DOMAIN WITH HIS NEW PRIZE!

TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

THORAN WAS APPOINTED NAVIGATOR, AND SOON DIRECTED THEM TO THE SHORES OF ORANDO.

BUT WHEN THE SHIP DOCKED AT THE QUAY, SOLDIERS THREATENED THEM FROM ALL SIDES!

"THE ORANDANS YOU RESCUED FROM THE GALLEYS ARE FREE, SIR," APOLOGIZED A WARRIOR. "BUT THE THREE STRANGERS MUST SEE THE KING."

SOON THEY MET THE SCOWLING COUNTENANCE OF KING ORAN. "FATHER, THESE MEN ARE MY FRIENDS," PLEADED THORAN-- AND TOLD OF THEIR PAST ADVENTURES.

"VERY WELL," SNEERED ORAN. "UNDER SUCH EXTRAORDINARY CIRCUMSTANCES I WILL GIVE THEM A CHANCE TO FIGHT FOR THEIR LIVES-- IN THE ARENA!"

EXCEPT TO SAY THAT YOU'VE SAVED TH' SEASON FROM BEING A FINANCIAL BUST!

AND NOW WE CAN SHOVE OFF FOR SPRING TRAINING IN STYLE!

LOOK! A WILD TOSS!

WE KIN STILL BEAT THEM CHICKS.

HEY, GORGEOUS! THE BOSS WANTS YOU IN HIS OFFICE!

YES, MR. LIVWRIGHT? I'VE JUST HEARD THAT MY NIECE IS ROMANTICALLY INTERESTED IN THAT NOTORIOUS OPPORTUNIST, SIR OLIVER TWERP!!

BRENDA, YOU'VE GOT TO HELP ME THINK OF SOME WAY TO STOP THIS MAN FROM GETTING HIS HANDS ON OUR FAMILY FORTUNE!!

SORRY IF THIS MATCH WON'T BE TO YOUR LIKING, BUT THERE'S NOTHING I CAN DO NOW...

I DON'T UNDERSTAND. I MIGHT AS WELL CONFESS - IF, AND WHEN SIR OLIVER MARCHES DAPHNE DOWN THE MIDDLE AISLE, IT WILL BE BECAUSE OF MY.....

UNTIRING EFFORTS

WHILE AT THIS SAME MOMENT, AN UNFORESEEN TURN OF EVENTS IS ABOUT TO HAPPEN.

SAYS HE MUST SEE YOU AT ONCE!

HOWIE HADDUM - NEVER HEARD OF HIM..... WHAT DOES HE LOOK LIKE?

THAT'S THE FUNNY THING, MISS DAPHNE! HE LOOKS JUST LIKE SIR OLIVER..... ONLY YOUNGER AND HANDSOMER...!

New FAB washes clothes WHITER WITHOUT A BLEACH WHITER THAN ANY OTHER PRODUCT WITH A BLEACH!

FAB washes clothes CLEANER than any soap on earth!

Washable colors look brighter, too!

IT'S AMAZING - BUT TRUE! New Fab washes whiter without a bleach! Whiter than any soap or any other washing product known with a bleach in the wash water. Yes, except for stubborn spots, with Fab you can actually skip the bleach. And, remember, freshly-rinsed Fab clothes are cleaner than you can get them with any soap because Fab washes out dirt and leaves no dulling soap scum! If you prefer not to rinse - Fab gives you the cleanest possible, sweetest-smelling no-rinse wash!

SAVE CLOTHES! SAVE WORK! SAVE HANDS! Fab washes clothes dazzling white without a bleach - so clothes last longer. Washable colors look brighter, too! And with Fab, there's no soaking needed, no dulling soap scum to rinse out - even in hardest water. Yes, Fab saves work. What's more, Fab is wonderfully mild to hands.

CUT DISHWASHING TIME IN HALF! Fab soaks dishes, glasses, pots, pans shiny clean! If a food speck clings, whisk it off with the dishcloth! Just a quick rinse and dishes drain sparkling clean! No hard scouring and no wiping!

FAB WASHES CLOTHES CLEANER THAN ANY SOAP. KILLING SOAP SCUM. USEFUL FOR DISHES.

TOOTS CASPER

BOY, WE'LL HAVE FUN AT MABEL AND DANNY'S TONIGHT, CASPER! WE'LL HAVE THE TIME OF OUR LIVES!

AND DANNY'S BARBECUE-- NOBODY CAN COOK LIKE DANNY!

WE'RE DUE THERE AT SEVEN, SO WE'D BETTER START DRESSING! I'M DYING TO SHOW OFF THE NEW DRESS I BOUGHT ESPECIALLY TO WEAR TONIGHT.

DANNY SURE IS A GREAT HOST, TOOTS! I WOULDN'T MISS THIS PARTY FOR ANYTHING-- THERE'S THE PHONE RINGING!

MAKE IT SHAPPEY-- WE HAVEN'T MUCH TIME NOW!

YES, THAT WAS MY BOSS PHONING-- HE SAID HE'D BE HERE AT EIGHT TO SPEND THE EVENING WITH US!

OH, CASPER! WHY DIDN'T YOU TELL HIM WE HAVE A DATE?

HE TOOK ME SO BY SURPRISE I DIDN'T KNOW WHAT TO SAY, AND I CAN'T AFFORD TO TURN HIM DOWN.

I'LL PHONE MABEL AND CANCEL OUR DATE WITH THEM! I'LL MAKE UP SOME EXCUSE.

OUR DATE'S OFF! I TOLD MABEL I'M NOT FEELING WELL-- I'M SO DISAPPOINTED I COULD CRY.

OF ALL THE NIGHTS IN THE YEAR, WHY DID THE BOSS HAVE TO PICK THIS NIGHT?

YOUR BOSS TOLD YOU HE'D BE HERE AT EIGHT AND IT'S NINE-THIRTY NOW! WHAT'S KEEPING HIM?

THERE GOES THE PHONE AGAIN!

THAT WAS THE BOSS! HE'S NOT COMING OVER! HE SAID HE'S TIRED AND HE'S GOING TO BED!

HEAVENS, WE CAN'T CALL MABEL BACK, AND IT'S TOO LATE FOR A MOVIE OR ANYTHING.

SOMEDAY I HOPE I CAN TELL MY BOSS TO GO JUMP IN THE LAKE!

SKIP IT! I'M USED TO THIS SITTING IN AND LOOKING AT EACH OTHER! IF THE STORES WERE ONLY OPEN, I'D GO BUY A NEW HAT TO CALM MY NERVES.

ONE OF THOSE MEN WEARS A MASK!

FIND OUT WHY THEY CAME HERE. IF THEY THINK I SHOT HAWKS I'LL MAKE SURE THEY DON'T LEAVE HERE ALIVE!

MAN WHO GOT SHOT ON STAGE NAMED HAWKS!

WE MUST OWN THIS MINE, I'M SURE WHOEVER SHOT HIM CAME HERE. WE'LL SET A TRAP FOR HIM, TONTO.

IS YOUR NAME SMITH?

YES! AND I'VE NO TIME FOR MASKED OUTLAWS!

HIM NOT OUTLAW, HIM LONE RANGER!

THE LONE RANGER!

THE LONE RANGER! I DON'T BELIEVE IT!

IT DOESN'T MATTER, MR. SMITH. I JUST CAME TO TELL YOU THAT MR. HAWKS CAN'T GET HERE FOR A DAY OR TWO. HE'S BEEN SLIGHTLY WOUNDED BY AN UNKNOWN GUNMAN!

SLIGHTLY WOUNDED, YOU SAY. WHO DID IT? WHERE IS HE NOW?

YOU MIGHT FIND HIM IN DOC JONES'S HOME. THAT'S ALL I CAN TELL YOU!

COME ON, SILVER!

LARSON, YOU BUNGLING FOOL! YOU DIDN'T KILL HAWKS. HE'S ONLY SLIGHTLY WOUNDED!

THAT LONE RANGER!

I'LL GET HIM AND HIS PAL-- THEN I'LL FINISH THE JOB I STARTED ON HAWKS!
