Soviet 'Jitters' Believed Cause For Air Attacks

LONDON (AP)—British officials said today Soviet attacks on British and American planes were evidence of post-Stalin jitters behind the Iron Curtain. Eden Denounces Bombing, Says We Want Peace

NEW YORK (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden has denounced as "barbaric" the shooting down of an RAF bomber by a pair of Soviet MIG jets. Eden, delivering a major speech last night before the Foreign Policy Association, departed from his prepared text to lash out at Russia over yesterday's attack on the British plane, which killed six of the seven crewmen.

Jet Ace Downs 12th MIG As UN Scores 6 Kills

Reading text, Eden said the U. S. and Britain stood ready to negotiate with Russia—despite Premier Stalin's death—and that both nations would welcome a similar intention from the Soviets. Discarding the text momentarily, Eden added: "There is nothing of the kind up to the present. On the contrary we have today heard of the shooting down while on a routine exercise of a Royal Air Force training bomber. . . . Deliberate and unprovoked attack of this kind by what are supposed to be friendly forces can only be called barbaric." The RAF plane fell in flames yesterday after the MIGs attacked above the Elbe River Valley at the East-West frontier of Germany. Britain's government ordered a "protest" in the strongest terms. The Moscow radio already has claimed the bomber had been violating the Soviet zone of Germany. More than 1,800 persons jammed the main ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel to hear Eden's speech, which also had a nationwide radio and television audience. Kirkpatrick said that, for the present, his sharp protest to Gen. Chuikov spoke for itself. The commissioners indicated they were awaiting further instructions from their governments. The British-Russian paper war appeared destined for the same futile pattern as the exchange between the United States and Czechoslovakia after two Czech

Charges Deputies 'Beat' Him To Secure Confession

HOUSTON (AP)—A defendant in the flower shop murder trial here told the jury sheriff's deputies worked in relays while beating him to make him confess the slaying.

Repudiation of the confession came when Maurice (Rabbit) Sampson, 19, a Negro, returned to the witness stand in a night court session.

Before the Negro denied he was the man who stood over Mrs. Ruth McCasland, 52, a grandmother, and shot her in the head, his defense attorneys tried vainly to keep the jury from hearing his alleged confession.

Dist. Judge A. C. Winborn denied the defense motion, but after it was read to the jury, Sampson asked from the witness stand, "How could I have stood over her if I ain't even walked in there?"

Sampson testified that deputies of sheriff C. V. (Buster) Kern beat him every day from the time of

25 Sabre Jets To Leave Soon For W. Germany

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force said early today that 25 Sabre jets will leave "very soon" in a mass flight to Germany.

An Air Force spokesman said the planes, a normal squadron, are replacements for F84 Thunderjet fighter bombers.

The spokesman emphasized the F86 Sabre jets are not going to Germany as a result of the incident in Weisbaden, Germany, in which an American Thunderjet was shot down by two Czech MIG-15s.

He said Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, told a press conference in Paris last October that the F86 jet would be replaced by the F86 Sabre jet.

He added that the replacements were "in the cards" since then and that the Air Force view is toward replacing all of the Thunderjets in Germany eventually.

U. S. Air Force headquarters in Weisbaden denied reports that squadrons of Sabrejets were on the way as reinforcements in view of the latest incident in which Soviet jets shot down a British plane on Thursday.

Ban On Identification Of Units In Korea Battle Hurts Morale

By FORREST EDWARDS

SEOUL (Delayed)—(AP)—Americans from private to general say one phase of military censorship is hurting the morale of United Nations soldiers fighting in Korea.

Except in rare instances, censorship forbids the identification of Allied troops manning the front lines, not only by units but even of nationality.

Today a hard-fighting outfit gallantly rescued one of its patrols, ambushed by Chinese Reds. Correspondents were allowed to identify the men only as Europeans.

Often, when identification is permitted, it is only after a unit has been unfortunate or run into criticism.

The trouble does not lie with the censor but with the regulations

At the height of the recent U. S. furor over Operation Smack, the Seventh Division was identified as the outfit where programs were passed out to military leaders witnessing a combined air and infantry attack. Less than a week later, men of the Seventh Division stood firm in the face of a Chinese Communist attack, beating back the Reds and inflicting heavy losses.

But censorship would not permit identification of the Seventh then, despite argument by correspondents that it already had been identified as in the line.

Identification of the Puerto Rican unit was permitted in a story of mass court martials. But the Puerto Ricans could not be identified when they fought, valiantly, before and after the incidents which led to the court martials.

At one time last year, U. S. Marines withdrew from a hill position and retook it in a bitter battle the following day.

A report that the Marines lost the hill cleared censorship.

But the following day correspondents could report only that "U. N. soldiers recaptured" the position.

Officers, men and war correspondents alike recognize the necessity of security when new units go into the line. No correspondent would gamble the life of a single United Nations soldier for a story or a headline. But most military men concede the Communists know within a week after the units move what Allied units they are facing into the line.

One U. N. division has been on the line more than a year. Red propaganda broadcasts beamed at it not only address the men by their division but sometimes by their regiment or even their company.

Yet when those Allied soldiers hurl back a Red attack or hit the Reds a punishing blow, censorship forbids their identification.

One division commander says: "We know that the Communists know that this division is on the line, that they know which regiments face them on a particular sector, and even the points at which my division ties in with adjoining divisions.

"But my men cannot be given credit for the good work they do... "It is only human that the men want the folks back home know when they fight a valiant battle—and feel outraged when the only time their unit is mentioned is when it has run into trouble or criticism."

An enlisted man in another division said:—

"The only time my friends back home, who know my unit, probably

Kennan May Be Retired

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ambassador George F. Kennan may be permitted to retire instead of being given a new assignment, officials said last night.

Kennan, an expert on Russian affairs, is credited with authorship of the policy of containment of Soviet power—a policy which Secretary of State Dulles has criticized as inadequate.

Kennan, in turn, has been critical of a policy of liberation toward the Russian satellites, a favorite Dulles theme.

Kennan, after five months as ambassador to Moscow, was banned by the Reds last year after voicing criticism of the way foreigners are treated there.

He could be retired under legal provision requiring that a "chief of mission" be retired unless given a new assignment within three months after his services as chief of mission are ended.

February Weather Was Familiar To Big Spring Area

Of course developments of the past week end have changed patterns, but February weather continued in an all too familiar pattern of the past three years.

It was substantially dry — only .26 of an inch moisture, according to the monthly summary of the U. S. Weather Bureau. There were a number of blustery days with blowing dust and there were two days had enough to be classified as dust storms. Wind velocity on the whole was comparatively mild with a maximum sustained blow of 25 mph. The month was much calmer than it was a year ago when some of the worst storms in history stifled the area.

Temperatures were mild. The mean reading was 47.6, which was 12 below normal. However there was no severe weather with the low for the month being 20 degrees. Only 13 days had freezing readings.

There was snow on one occasion, the 23rd, and a trace on two other days. Fog shrouded the area twice.

Fresh Cries For A Tougher Defense After Plane Shootings

By JACK BELL. WASHINGTON (AP) — Fresh demands for strengthening American defenses collided today with efforts of the Eisenhower administration to balance the budget by cutting military spending.

The week's second Communist attack on Allied planes, which sent a British bomber crashing to earth in North Germany yesterday, provoked strong congressional talk of retaliation. Previously Czechoslovakian airmen shot down an American plane near the Czech-German border.

The Jan. 31 level of 1,327,548, was ordered cut to 1,288,200 by May 31.

The economy move, part of President Eisenhower's budget-balancing drive, will come in two stages: a reduction of 26,400 by April 30, with 12,940 more by May 31.

Texan Gets MIG, Shares In 2nd Downed Red Jet

SEQUEL (AP)—Allied Sabre jets tangled with Communist MIG's near the Manchurian border today and shot down six of the Red warplanes, the Fifth Air Force announced.

Ma. James Hagerstorm of Tyler, Tex., was credited with destroying one MIG and shared a second destruction claim with Capt. Elmer Dunlap, Glendale, Ariz. Hagerstorm now has 4 1/2 MIG's destroyed and four damaged.

Dunlap described the shared kill with Hagerstorm this way: "When Hagerstorm finished off the MIG, the other broke and headed northeast. We got on his tail and Hagerstorm opened up on him during the tail chase. He ran out of ammunition and called me in to take over. I fired several bursts. The MIG began to smoke and the pieces started falling off. We saw the pilot eject when he was down to around 35,000 feet."

Bill Would Aid New Teachers To Stay In Jobs

AUSTIN (AP)—A pay-raise bill designed to encourage teachers in the lower salary brackets to remain in the profession was filed by Rep. Floyd Bradshaw, Weatherford, yesterday.

Bradshaw would offer teachers less than $600 across-the-board increase sought by the Texas State Teachers Assn. but would pay more than the 10 per cent boost offered in a bill by Rep. Joe Kilgore, McAllen.

Kilgore's bill, introduced early this session, is regarded as having Gov. Shivers' support.

Bradshaw calculated his proposal would require an additional $18,561,969 per year.

A straight $600 increase would require an estimated extra 33-35 million each year.

"It's the beginning teachers who need higher salaries the most—salaries that will encourage them to stay in the profession," said Bradshaw, a former teacher. He is chairman of the House Education Committee.

The largest increase offered by his bill is $558 a year for teachers with three years' experience and either a Bachelor's or a Master's degree. Bradshaw said statistics indicate more teachers quit after three years than at any other level of experience.

His proposed schedule of salaries for teachers with Bachelor's degrees would run from $2,907 for beginners, up $504 to $4,203, up $171, for teachers with 26 or more years experience.

Promoted

J. T. (Tom) Suggs, general counsel of the Texas and Pacific Railway, has been promoted to the newly created position of vice president and general counsel by the board of directors.

Suggs, a native of Denison and graduate of the University of Texas who joined T&P as general counsel in 1944, begins his new duties immediately.

Fire Destroys 4 Business Houses In Deming, N.M.

DEMING, N. M. (AP)—Fire swept through the downtown district of this southwestern New Mexico city early today, completely destroying four major business houses.

Early estimates of the loss were placed at approximately one million dollars by Fire Chief Danny Simonds.

The flames broke out following an explosion of a furnace in the Tidmore Dry Goods Store.

In less than two hours, the blaze had gutted the business, destroyed the City Drug Store, Vogue Dry Goods and Lindauer Men's Clothing Store. It badly damaged the Luna Theater.

Handicapped by lack of men and equipment, the fire department of five men brought the blaze under control at 7:30 a. m. (MST) after it had burned two and a half hours. Firemen continued to play streams of water on nearby businesses.

A recently discharged sailor, Dud Hargreaves of the Bronx, heard the explosion and turned in the first alarm at 5 a. m. He was hitching through Deming enroute home after his discharge.

The flames jumped across an alley from Tidmore's to the theater, Vogue and Lindauer's.

Simonds and his assistants were on duty when the fire broke out. Other full-time men on the force and the volunteers who make up the balance of the fire fighting crew were summoned quickly, but the flames spread too rapidly to prevent the buildings across the alley from being burned.

13 Shrimp Boats Put Up Bonds To Get Out Of Mexico

MERIDA, Mexico (AP)—Mexican officials last night released 13 of the 17 Florida and Texas fishing boats seized off Yucatan on charges of fishing illegally within Mexico's territorial waters.

Owners of the freed boats put up a bond of $1,720 on each to cover the fines in case of a conviction. The required bonds were not made on the four still being held—the Norcaster and Low Tide of Tampa, Fla., seized March 3, and the Lois Rand and Mabel I of Fort Myers Beach, Fla., seized Feb. 20.

The operators decided to clear out to avoid incidents like the one Tuesday when a U. S. fisherman was shot dead by a Mexican guard. Official reports said he was trying to knife another U. S. fisherman and the guard intervened.

US Industry Set If Defense Needs Rise

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The tenser world situation due to the shooting down of American and British planes finds U. S. industry ready this time.

It's in much better condition to meet any stepping up of tension than it was two and a half years ago when the Reds invaded South Korea.

Businessmen are keeping a close watch on developments in Germany—trying to judge whether the Russians are getting tougher—or have a bad case of nerves.

In either case, their actions are likely to put a brake on any congressional move to trim defense spending. It may make balancing the budget harder and tax cutting more remote.

But this time, stepped up tension in Europe needn't have the effect on prices that the Korean outbreak did, businessmen hold. And they add there is even less excuse this time for any outbreak of scare buying.

Since the Reds moved into Korea in June, 1950, U. S. industry has toolled up for both defense and civilian needs. The tooling-up job is nearing completion. And in all but a few items, industry is producing all that the military require, and in some cases more than the civilians want to buy.

For the first time since the Korean outbreak, the National Machine Tool Builders Assn. reports today, deliveries of machine tools are back to normal.

The food situation is excellent, too. Bumper crops have built up big stores of most of the basic farm products.

On the production front: steel mills are turning out more steel than any time in history, and are approaching the end of the greatest expansion of capacity ever.

Reed Feels GOP Is Committed To Income Tax Slash

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Daniel Reed (R-N.Y.) says he is trying to cut income taxes because he feels committed by Republican campaign promises to reduce both spending and taxes.

He protested in the House yesterday against the bottling up in the Rules Committee of his bill for a 10 per cent individual income tax cut starting July 1.

"What have I done in the last 24 years that I should be subjected to this treatment here?" he asked.

Reed is the oldest Republican House member in continuous service.

Reed has said he will use his prerogative as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee to call up the bill by April 15 if the Rules Committee has not cleared it.

New Print Made Of First Plane Flight

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Library of Congress said today it has made a new and better copy of the only photograph taken of the Wright brothers' first airplane flight near Kitty Hawk, N. C., Dec. 17, 1903.

The new print "shows many details not visible in any known previous printing," including a few which perhaps only the Wrights knew about, the library said in a statement.

Prints made from the Wrights' negative usually have been trimmed down so that little shows except the plane and Wilbur Wright's running figure.

The new copy shows the launching track and the position of the plane before take-off.

BEER, COFFEE MAY GO UP Consumer Economy Completely Freed

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The consumer's market was wide open today—not a price ceiling in sight—and there was talk of coffee and perhaps beer costing more.

President Eisenhower's step-by-step return to a free consumer economy came to a halt yesterday after a six-week control-hawking drive. The latest order lifted price ceilings from goods selling at the rate of 40 billion dollars a year.

Next date on the decontrol calendar is April 30 when, unless extended by Congress, the law which authorized wage-price controls and created the Office of Price Stabilization expires after 27 months on the books.

Eisenhower has said he does not want controls continued except for defense materials and critical areas rents. He has said he will not ask Congress for standby power to reimpose controls in an emergency—power which some members of Congress say he should have.

Still under controls are items vital to the defense effort. These include steel mill products, pig iron, ferro-alloys, nickel, beryllium, manganese, tungsten, molybdenum, tantalum, columbium, steel drums, metal cans, machine tools, concrete reinforcing bars, sulphur, sulphuric acid, oleum and sulphur trioxide.

Decontrolled yesterday—besides coffee and instant coffee, beer and ale—were such things as hot water heaters, garbage disposers, metal building materials, soybeans and all animal feeds which had been controlled, No. 2 heating oil used in the Northeast, most chemicals, many industrial materials and some kinds of industrial machinery.

Coffee seemed to be the major price problem for housewives. Price officials and coffee traders agreed coffee prices, now ranging from 89 to 95 cents a pound for most brands, might go up 10 to 12 cents. Grocers might absorb some of it.

"If it goes over a dollar," one big New York coffee merchant said, "we'll run into severe consumer resistance."

The price officials said some beers and ales may go up one-half to one cent a can or bottle. They said fuel oil, now reported in ample stock, might go up if a cold snap develops and depletes supplies. No price rises were seen for feeds and building materials.

JESUS TEACHES USING TALENTS FOR LOVING SERVICE.
Scripture—Matthew 25:14-30.
By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
EFFECTIVE use of our talents and loving service to others are the two themes of our lesson today.
 The day on which Jesus spoke the words recorded in our lesson was the last day on which He taught. It was Tuesday of Holy Week. On Thursday, He spoke only to His disciples, the day before Wednesday—a day of silence. This discourse was given on the slopes of the Mount of Olives, east and opposite the city of Jerusalem.
 Following Jesus' warning that no man would know when the day of judgment would come, He says:
 "For the kingdom of heaven is as a man traveling into a far country, who called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods."
 To one—the most capable, presumably—the entrusted five talents; to the second two talents were given, and to the third but one. Then he started on his journey.
 The man who had the five talents hastened to trade with it, and succeeded in doubling the amount; the one who had two did likewise. But the one with only one was afraid to do anything with it, but dug a hole in the earth and buried it.
 Of course when the master returned he was very angry, especially as the servant said he was a hard man, "reaping where thou hadst not sown, and gathering where thou hadst not sown."
 The master acknowledged that he was such a person, and told the servant that he should have put the talent to the exchange, where he would have received interest on it. He took the one talent from the servant and gave it to the one who had the five, saying:

MEMORY VERSE

"Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of these My brethren, even these least, ye did it unto Me"
 —Matthew 25:40

And He shall set the sheep on His right hand, but the goats on the left."
 To those on His right, He would say that when He was hungry they had fed Him; when He was thirsty they had given Him to drink; when He was a stranger they had taken Him in; when He was naked they had clothed Him; when sick or in prison they had visited Him.
 When they asked, when they had done those things? the answer was: "Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these My brethren, ye have done it unto Me."
 When those on the Lord's left asked why they were condemned, He answered that they had never had compassion for others. Never had they fed the hungry, ministered to the thirsty, clothed the naked, taken in the lonely, visited the sick and those in prison.
 The lessons are clear. Not only for our own good but for the world's we should use our God-given talents. We will be judged not only for our faith, but for our compassionate love and ready help for those who need it. We must love God with all our hearts, minds and souls, and love our fellowmen as we would have them love us.

DISCUSSING THE HIGH POINTS

We never learn all we are taught!
 In religious education, as in secular, certain truths are grasped immediately; others are stored away in the mind to be understood later; and some are promptly forgotten.
 When your child comes home from Church School each Sunday he has grasped a few "high points" of the lesson. You can encourage him by talking them over.
 He also brings home each Sunday certain impressions. He cannot express or understand them. But they are seeds which, if nourished in a Christian home, will blossom into moral and spiritual character.
 But your child leaves behind him many truths which are essential to a mature soul. These "lost" ideas will be re-learned in future experiences at Church. That's why religious training must be continuous.
 Wise parents study their faith with their children. In our local churches there are classes for young and old.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Steerettes Yield In First Round

Three Big Spring teams bit the dust in the first round of the eighth annual Girls' Volley Ball Tournament here Thursday.

The varsity Steerettes were shocked by an inspired Midland team, which won by a 15-15 count. Big Spring closed fast in that one and Rose Rice spiked one as the buzzer sounded that apparently had tied the score but the referee ruled she had stepped on the boundary line.

The Big Spring reserves yielded to a classy Phillips outfit, 44-13, although outplaying the Blackhaws much of the second half.

Big Spring Junior High yielded to a good Lamesa team, 40-19.

In the other match, Andrews gained respect by drubbing Snyder, 40-10.

Play was to be resumed at 9 a.m. today in a game between Abilene and Levelland. Four other first round games were on tap, with Pecos and Winters clashing at 10 a.m., Plainview and Monahans at 11 a.m., Imperial and Sweetwater at 12 noon and Denver City and Fort Stockton at 1 p.m.

The Big Spring reserves were to return to play in the consolation round at 3 p.m. today, meeting the Pecos-Winters loser. The Steerettes do not play again until 10 a.m., Saturday. The local junior high sextet will be idle until 11 a.m. Saturday.

There'll be volley ball through 9 o'clock this evening and play will be resumed at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Championship finals go on at 8 p.m. Saturday. The consolation finals are down for 6 p.m., the battle for third place at 7.

All-tournament teams and winners of the Tournament Queen title and Sportsmanship award will be announced following the last game Saturday.

NEWS LEAKS OUT

Baltimore May Get First Chance At Brown Club

By JOE REICHLER
SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Baltimore—one of the original major league cities and the one that spawned Babe Ruth—appeared today to have a good chance of returning to the big time—if a transfer of the St. Louis Browns is approved.

It has been an open secret since the start of the spring training season that Bill Veeck would like to get the Browns out of St. Louis because they have not been drawing. Milwaukee generally was regarded as the logical city to get the franchise if it were shifted.

But in less than 12 hours, the entire picture changed and President Will Harridge of the American League finally admitted negotiations have been going on for the transfer of the Browns from St. Louis to Baltimore.

"But I don't think they are anywhere near the closing stage," he told The Associated Press. "If Veeck received approval of Jack Dunn (president of the Baltimore club of the International League) to move the Browns to Baltimore, it will still have to be approved by both the International and American Leagues.

"Right now I would say it was in the discussion stage. There is nothing definite about it. It can happen, though."

He added that if the details can be worked out and everything is properly arranged, it would not be too difficult to make the franchise shift before April 14, start of the major league season. He also said he thought a decision would be made one way or the other by Monday.

The American League has scheduled a party for sports writers at Clearwater, Fla., on Monday and Harridge advised the Associated Press to have a representative there. He declined to go beyond that.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, reached at Belaire, Fla., said there was nothing to prevent an immediate transfer, provided all parties were satisfied.

"However," he said, "I have nothing before me asking for approval of a franchise shift of any kind."

Asked about his statement of last week in which he said it would be impossible to make a shift now, Frick said he was referring only to the Milwaukee situation.

Dunn, the Baltimore president, admitted he had been "approached" on the deal.

"I've been working hand in hand with others, but right now I'd say it is premature," he said. "It is not impossible, but I wouldn't say it is definite at this time."

Veeck, the party of the other part, was not available at an early hour. He was reported en route to St. Petersburg, Fla.

Apparently the negotiations were a well kept secret until yesterday when a high baseball official told The Associated Press the switch from St. Louis to Baltimore was probable and that it might come by Monday.

He said under the plan, the Baltimore club would be moved to Toledo, which, until last year, had a franchise in the American Association. The club was moved to Charleston, W. Va., in the Central League during the '52 season.

The first official to admit that the transfer was in the talking stage was Mayor Thomas D'Alessandro of Baltimore. He said negotiations had been going on for "some weeks."

D'Alessandro obviously—and understandably—was reluctant to talk and at first declined to comment. Then he reconsidered and issued a statement which said: "I can't confirm or deny the announcement that Baltimore is returning to big league baseball through the transfer of the St. Louis Browns here. However, I have been participating in negotiations for some weeks...to bring the Browns here. We had hoped to make a formal announcement within the next few days. But to say more at this time might jeopardize the whole venture."

Mayor Joseph M. Darst of St. Louis termed the projected transactions for an "outrage."

"A real opportunity should be given to St. Louisans who have supported Bill Veeck," he said. "We should be considered and given an opportunity to organize."

Byron (Santone) Townsend, the Odessa-Texas University football star, has been playing basketball with the Holder Grocery team in Odessa.

Townsend will get a chance to make good with the Los Angeles Rams again this fall. The Army wouldn't take him because of faulty eye sight.

Carl Coleman and his coaching aides here would have enrolled in the Texas Tech coaching clinic in Lubbock this week and but for the girls' volleyball tournament. Their services are needed to help stage the big event here.

Coleman took in the state basketball tournament in Austin last week end. He missed connections with his brother, Tonto, by about two hours in Austin.

Tonto, the Georgia Tech assistant, is filling speaking engagements in Texas and left Austin about two hours before Carl arrived there.

Coleman saw all the games in Austin and says he thinks South Park of Beaumont might have had the best team there, with Bowie a close second. He didn't mention Pampa, which won the AAAA championship.

A man in medicine who should know says if more people would read and rant at wrestling matches, fewer stomach ulcers would result. Good safety valve for human emotions, he adds.

JUNIOR COLLEGE HAS PUBLICIZED THE CITY

The Howard County Junior College Jayhawks deserve some sort of recognition for the recognition they've brought the city this year. In their department field as well as their ability with the roundball, the Hawks have been champions in every way.

The school shows fierce pride in its team. The city should, too.

The team's scoring record is fabulous, one of the best in the land. It would have been even better had it not been limited to 29 points (in a game it won) in one test and 52 (which it also won) in another.

It would have been bigger, too, had Coach Harold Davis kept his regulars in action longer, as some coaches are prone to do.

Davis is a fellow who believes in giving all his reserves as much chance for activity as possible.

BASEBALL IN SLUMP, BUT NOT IN TEXAS

Harold Ratliff of the Associated Press points out that Texas will have 34 professional baseball clubs this year, the same number it boasted last season.

The number is amazing when one considered that Pennsylvania, a more populous state, now has only nine pro teams, compared to the 26 it had about three years back.

The state does rather well by the horsehide sport, even though it's recognized more for its caliber of football—collegiate and high school, that is.

Steer Tracksters Leave For Snyder On Saturday

Coach Mac Alexander and 26 members of the Big Spring High School track and field squad strike out bright and early Saturday for Snyder, where they compete in the annual Snyder Relays.

The Longhorns will be making their initial start of the season in this one. They are not due to pose too much of a threat for the team trophies but are capable of scoring heavily in several events, notably the discus, quarter mile, pole vault and possibly the sprints.

The locals are entering a full lineup in all events.

Workouts have been limited here the past week due to the condition of the track. Part of the field was under water due to heavy rains.

A total of 27 teams had entered the meet up to this morning and Coach Speedy Moffett of Snyder expected at least two more to show up. Moffett is director of the meet.

Snyder boasts a new cinder track, which is considered to be one of the best in West Texas.

Official entries are already in from Pampa, Borger, Plainview, Stamford, Childress, Wink, Lorraine, Colorado City, Falls, Abilene, Lubbock, Andrews, Phillips, Brownfield, O'Donnell, Hamlin, Hobbs, Sweetwater, Snyder, Dumas, Roby, Abertown, Seminole and Winters, as well as Big Spring. San Angelo and Brownwood may also be represented at the meet.

Bearcats, Tyler Win In Regional

TYLER (AP)—Wharton Junior College plays Lon Morris and Allen Academy meets Tyler Junior College here tonight in the semi-finals of the NJCAA Regional Basketball Tournament.

The Wharton-Lon Morris game is set for 7:30 p. m., with the Allen-Tyler duel on tap for 9 p. m.

Lon Morris defeated Victoria JC, 84-59, last night to gain its semi-final berth while Allen Academy coasted to beat the Panola Ponies, 74-52.

Wharton, the defending champions, whipped a game Kilgore JC team, 69-64, after trailing, 57-54, at the end of the third period.

Tyler Junior College downed Schreiner Institute, 98-61, and showed plainly the strong Apaches were no match for the South Texas team.

Hanson's Keeps Circuit Lead

Lee Hanson's retained his lead in Men's Bowling League standings this week by nudging Big Spring Herald, 2-1.

Dairy Maid, which is only one game behind the Haberdashers, kept within shooting distance by felling West Texas Roofers by the same score.

In other matches, the Eagles Club nosed out Seagram's and Sinclair-Oil shaded Mathis Studio, both by scores of 2-1.

Ray McMahon, Big Spring Herald, posted high game score with a 213, followed by Phillip Palmer, Hanson's, who had a 209.

E. B. Dozier Jr., had high series with a 203-576. He wears Seagram's togery. Ralph Wright, Sinclair, had a 203-557 for second high.

Roy Osborne, West Texas Roofers, achieved the only other 200 game, a 208.

Hanson's registered a new season's scoring record with an 878-2566. The old mark of 2550 was registered by Dairy Maid.

Seagram's had an 881 for game high. The Eagles Club and Seagram's each had a 2443 aggregate.

Lee Hanson's has won 43 and lost 32, followed by Dairy Maid, with 42-33. Third in Seagram's, with 41-34. West Texas Roofers have copped 36 and lost 37. Sinclair 37½ and 37½, the Eagles Club 36½ and 38½, Big Spring Herald 36 and 39 and Mathis 26 and 49.

CAA Slates Hearing Today On Plane Service In Texas Cities

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Business leaders and officials of a scope of Texas towns and cities crowded into a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing room today to plead for expanded air service.
Many of them were ready to back up a board examiner's report on the Texas local service case, but others were on hand to protest his failure to include their communities in his recommendations.
Complying with only a fraction of the requests for extended commercial air service, Examiner Herbert K. Bryan had recommended that:
1. Pioneer Airlines extend its system by flying between Houston and the Beaumont-Port Arthur-Orange area.
2. Trans-Texas Airways enlarge its network to fly between San Antonio and Austin.
3. Either Pioneer Trans-Texas be authorized to operate between Shreveport, La., and Tyler, Tex., via the Gregg County Airport serving the Longview-Kilgore-Gladewater area.
4. Breckenridge be substituted for Mineral Wells on Pioneer's Abilene-Fort Worth flight.
A 14-member delegation from Marshall wants the board to override the examiner and designate that city a stop on a direct service route between East Texas and Austin.

ice route between East Texas and Austin.
Examiner Bryan said in his report:
"Marshall is one of those cities in the unfortunate position of having an air passenger potential but being located reasonably close to a certificated point."
"Traffic to Shreveport, readily accessible by surface transportation, would derive little benefit from air service. Service to Dallas and Fort Worth, of course, would substantially benefit Marshall users. However, such service under the proposal, herein could be provided only by connections at either Longview or Tyler."
Supporting the Marshall delegation is Joe W. Crosby, Trenton, N. J., president of the Thiokol Corporation, now building a $2-million-dollar plant in the East Texas city.
Representatives from the Texas Panhandle were unhappy over the fact that the examiner's report did not recommend a local service route stopping at Pampa, Borger, Amarillo, Childress, Vernon and Wichita Falls before going into the Fort Worth-Dallas area.
Typical of their views was that of W. H. Wright, Vernon, who said in a statement prepared for the board:
"The economy of Vernon is based primarily on agriculture and cattle raising, with oil and small industry contributing to the general welfare."
"The community of interests with Amarillo, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth and Dallas is clearly shown from an examination of bank clearings, a review of hotel registrations, mail, telephone calls and telegrams."

Heading the Gregg County delegation was County Judge Earl Sharp, who brought before the board charts and data showing the rapid growth of that area, and observed that over 400 million dollars has been invested in heavy industry there with more than 10,000 workers on payrolls.
W. R. Tyler, manager of the Kilgore Chamber of Commerce, agreed with Judge Sharp's views as to the need for increased direct air service with Austin. He pointed out the vast petroleum operations in that section of the state and of the continual necessity for oil and gas men to go to Austin to do business with the Texas Railroad Commission.
Along with Judge Sharp and Tyler urging the board to approve the examiner's recommendation, which called for designation of the Gregg County Airport on a Shreveport-Austin route, were the airport manager, Dewey Dovel and Dist. Atty David Moore.
Tyler was represented by Russell Cantwell, Chamber of Commerce manager, who urged the board to approve the examiner's report. Tyler, too, would get direct air service with Austin. He had statistics on the industrial growth of his city and its importance as headquarters for oil and gas men with operations going on in all parts of the state.

Farouk, Narriman Reveal Separation

By ALLAN JACKS
ROME (AP)—Ex-King Farouk night-clubbed until the early hours today with a long-haired blonde "French model," shortly after his 19-year-old wife, Narriman, left for Switzerland.
In Geneva, Farouk's mother-in-law, Mrs. Silas Sadek, told newsmen her daughter had decided on a "complete and definite separation" from the ex-monarch but "there is no question whatsoever of a divorce."
Mrs. Sadek, travelling with her daughter, said Narriman would return to Cairo within a few days with the full approval of Egypt's government, which bounced Farouk from his throne last July. She said she did not know what would become of the couple's son, Baby Prince Ahmed Fuad II, but "we assume he will remain with the King (Farouk) for the time being."
The exiled Egyptian monarch and the unidentified blonde spent most of the night and early morning in "La Botte Pigalle," one of Rome's few night spots, under the watchful eyes of Farouk's husky Albanian Moslem guards.
At 3:30 a.m., when newsmen and photographers arrived at the club, the girl was spirited out. Farouk left a few minutes later. As he walked out an Italian policeman and one of the ex-King's guards manhandled a newsmen and a photographer, knocking aside the photographer's camera.
Farouk and his guards drove away in a long, light-colored station wagon.
The ex-King's appearance with the girl—identified only as a "French model"—fanned flames under the rumor pot already bubbling over with conflicting reports that—
1. A divorce or separation is pending for Farouk and Narriman.
2. She is pregnant again.
3. Her departure is a political move to safeguard Egypt's royal dynasty and prepare for the possible return to Egypt of their son, tiny, 13-month-old King Ahmed Fuad II.
The infant King succeeded to the throne last July when Farouk was summarily ousted after the military coup led by Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib, now Egypt's premier.
Fuad remained in Italy with his father today but sources close to Farouk were quoted by Rome newspapers as saying he might be taken away later.

A curiously-worded statement issued by Farouk's legal adviser after the Queen flew to Zurich with her mother, Mrs. Sila Sadek, said the divorce reports "must once again be denied." But it added: "King Farouk has only given his permission that his young wife leave Italy because she may be tired of her life in exile, despite the attention of Italian and Swiss doctors."
"The decision to leave, which has been ably helped by her mother, who evidently has had contacts with Egyptian political elements, is a result also of the propaganda promoted by the enemies of the royal dynasty of Egypt to throw shadows and discredit on the reigning family."
Sources having close contact with the former King said Narriman's departure was a final one from which there would be no return to Farouk. Instead, they said, she very likely will return to Egypt as "Queen Mother."
At the time Farouk was packed off to exile, the Egyptian government said the ouster order did not apply to either Narriman or the infant King if they desired to stay.

New Pipeline Is Under Construction

HOUSTON (AP)—Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. has construction under way in South Texas on part of 380 miles of new pipe line it intends to build in Texas, Louisiana, Tennessee, Kentucky and Pennsylvania.
Genloc Vice President Charles S. Coats said the new facilities would make additional natural gas available to customers along the line's 2,000-mile main line. It extends from South Texas to the New York-Massachusetts state line.
Chief Engineer E. S. Murray listed the Texas part of the project, scheduled for completion by Aug. 1, as three sections of loop line, including 43 miles of 26-inch pipe from near Edinburg to near Falfurrias, 23 miles of 30-inch pipe from near Sinton to near Refugio, and 28 miles of 30-inch pipe from near Edna to about 10 miles southeast of East Bernard.

Nothing New To This Unlucky Dallas Man

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—If two bandits wondered why grocer John Kennedy seemed bored last night when they took $30 at pistol point, threatened to kill him and fled, here's the reason:
"It's nothing new," said Kennedy. "I've been held up here at the store seven times in the last four years."

Korea Veterans Are Invited To A Banquet

Invitation to all Korean veterans to be guests at the American Legion banquet Saturday evening was renewed again today.

While the banquet, set for 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Settles ballroom, falls on the occasion of the Legion's 35th birthday, the affair primarily is to honor the men who have served in the Korean fighting, said H. W. Wright, commander.

Mayor G. W. Dabney has proclaimed March 15-22 as "Korean Veterans Appreciation Week." He joined with Gov. Allan Shivers in asking that all citizens "join in our thanks to them. This recognition is long overdue."

He also urged ministers to take recognition of the occasion and if possible to make special mention of it from the pulpits or during services of the week. The Rev. Henry F. Selcer, Marshall, department chaplain, also has asked ministers of all faiths to join in honoring returned Texas veterans of the Korean conflict.

Wright said that cards had been sent to all Korean veterans listed with the draft board. If any have been inadvertently overlooked, he appealed for them to consider themselves personally invited and to attend the banquet. If possible, guests are urged to call Wright (1075) or Truett Thomas (1695) to confirm reservations for themselves and their wives.

Other Legion members should obtain tickets from Wright, Thomas, Sidney Johnston, or Walker Drug Store. Capt. Ernest A. Heister, commanding officer of the Air Installation Squadron at Webb AFB, is to be principal speaker. In 1950 he saw service in the Korean War and on two separate occasions he saw a total of four years service in Japan.

Kiwanians Hear Report On Key Club Activities

Kiwanis Club members heard a report on Key Club activities at their regular luncheon meeting Thursday in the Settles.

Pat Crossland, out-going president, told of Key Club projects that have been carried out during the present school year. He introduced Doyle Maynard, who sang two numbers, furnishing his own guitar accompaniment.

Kim Milling, president-elect, told of plans which the Key Club has made for next year and invited Kiwanis members to visit their regular meetings.

Glenn Rogers, another Key Club member, played piano selections during the luncheon. The program was in charge of Mayron Shields, who heads the Kiwanis Key Club committee.

A group of visiting Kiwanians from Colorado City, headed by Max Berman, president of that club, attended the session.

Additions To City Are Figured At 94

There are now 94 additions to the original City of Big Spring.

At least that's the number of additions counted by Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk. Mrs. Petty made a list of all the additions this week to determine restrictions in each.

She found that 31 of the city additions and subdivisions have restrictions. The restrictions mean that certain types houses must be built, certain regulations must be met, etc.

In 10 of the additions, the restrictions are mentioned in each deed. Restrictions for 21 of the additions are listed in separate instruments filed in the clerk's office.

Most of the additions have no restrictions, however. They total 63. In these additions any type houses can be built.

Additions having a special instrument recording restrictions are Avion Village, Banks, Belvue, North Belvue, College Park Estates, Government Heights to Bauer Addition, Hayden, East Highland Park, Hillcrest, Indianola, Merrick-Greene, Mittel Aeres, Monticello, Park Hill, Piner Heights, North McEwen, Ridgelea Terrace, South Haven, West Cliff, and Wiley Terrace.

These with restrictions in each deed are Cole and Strayhorn, Central Park, Douglass subdivision, Edward Heights, Highland Park, Jones Valley, LaLoma, Mesa, Mougmain Park, and Washington Place.

Without restrictions are Adell, C. L. Alderman, Bailey, Balch, Bauer, Second Bauer, Belmont Block, Birdwell Heights, Bowers, Boydston, Boydston Second, Brennand Heights, Brown, Buckner Place, California Heights, Cedar Crest, J. E. Riding THE GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

Marion Everhart, SCS work unit conservationist, is making the point that good grazing will produce as much cash per acre as cotton with less work and less risk, and is engaged in gathering figures to prove it.

He says that John Whitmire, who farms and ranches about 30 miles northeast of Big Spring, has had an experience that will prove Everhart's contention. Whitmire, explains the conservationist, sowed 60 acres of his tight soil to barley after that good September rain (the last until recently). The field has been summer-fallowed, using chisels early and was then kept clean with sweeps until planting time.

On Nov. 15, this 60 acres of barley was stocked with 50 head calves averaging 250 pounds. He also had three milk cows on the pasture. The calves received 100 pounds of mixed feed daily. This was a mixture of hulls, grain, cottonseed, meal and syrup, or two pounds per head.

On Feb. 1, after 75 days on the barley and supplement the calves were again run on the scales and showed an average weight of 401 pounds, or an average daily gain of two pounds per head.

Everhart quotes Whitmire as saying this type of agricultural activity, even with the drop in beef

CAPT. ERNST HEISTER Korea Returnee At Webb To Be Banquet Speaker

Capt. Ernst A. Heister, a Korean returnee and commanding officer of Webb AFB's 3560th Air Installations Sqdn., will speak at the American Legion Banquet in the main ballroom of the Settles Hotel at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Legionnaires have extended invitations to Big Spring Korean returnees, as well as all regular members, for the occasion.

The Webb captain, who acts primarily as a post engineer, will tell from experience the importance of Legion membership.

Capt. Heister has served 11 years active duty with the armed forces. During a two-year stint as a civilian, from 1946 to 1948, he was a member of the East Los Angeles American Legion Post.

In 1948 the captain was called back to active duty and was sent to Japan as an engineer. He was still in Japan when the Korean War began.

November 1950 found him in North Korea, at the capital city of Pyongyang, directing the rebuilding of the airfield there. The job was completed in December.

"Before a single American airplane could use the airport," the captain recalled, "we had to demolish the airfield again because of the retreat of American troops to the 48th Parallel."

Capt. Heister has been stationed at Webb AFB since September 1952. He and his wife, their three children, and his mother live in Big Spring.

REGISTRANT RESPONSIBILITY Draft Board Must Know Your Address

(This is the second of four articles on the draft law and its rules and regulations.—Ed.)

Ignorance of the law is no excuse.

The cliché applies still, and particularly in the case of Selective Service regulations.

The law makes it the responsibility of the individual draft registrant to do everything the law requires of him. If the registrant fails, he can lose many of the rights and privileges given him by the same law.

Probably the most important is the requirement that registrants keep their local draft board informed of any changes in their personal status. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, the state draft director, lists 10 things the selective service registrant should keep draft officials advised of:

1. Any change in mailing address.
2. Change in marital status, including marriage and divorce.
3. Pregnancy of wife, including a physician's certificate.
4. Any addition to the registrant's family.
5. Deaths in the family.
6. Permanent change of employment.
7. Serious injury or other physical defect.
8. If a student, the registrant should keep the draft board informed as to whether he is enrolled or has left school.
9. Entry into the reserves or National Guard.
10. Rejection of any attempt to volunteer for armed forces service.

The provision for notification of the draft board in case of expectancy of a registrant's wife is particularly important.

Draft regulations require that a man with an unborn child be deferred if he files with his board prior to the time his induction order is mailed. Failure to furnish the board with necessary information, the otherwise eligible registrant is subject to a hitch in the Army.

The state draft director reminds all registrants, their parents, employers, public officials and citizens in general that the doors of Texas draft boards are always ready to provide information and assist with individual draft problems.

to prefer Sand Lovegrass and will graze it first in a mixture. Some people have referred to it as the "ice cream of grasses."

The broadcast seeder he has in operation is being used on a trial basis. It was rigged up by J. C. Eberhart, agronomist with the Abilene station of the SCS and has proven especially useful for over-seeding shinnery sand where it is impracticable to use a wide grass drill because of the thickets and mesquite.

Other farmers and ranchers are also planning on using some of the district equipment with seed they either have on hand or have ordered.

And this brings up again some of the splendid work being done by the Coahoma High School Chapter of the Future Farmers of America under the guidance of M. Travis Jenkins, vocational agriculture teacher.

Jenkins and his boys are custodians of and keep in tip-top working order, a grass drill owned by the SCS and stationed at Coahoma. Farmers and ranchers in that area feeling a need for the drill should get in touch with Jenkins, any of the SCS supervisors or the Big Spring unit of the SCS.

Terrorists Sought As Strike Continues In Louisiana Town

By JAMES MCLEAN
ELIZABETH, La. (AP) — Unions and paper mills will try to un-smear a deadlocked strike today in this violence-frightened town where shotgun-toting state police are hunting dynamite terrorists.

For six jittery months, 300 strikers and two paper mills operating with new workers have failed to agree on contract terms.

Seniority rights and rehiring of all strikers are major differences still to be ironed out.

Mill owner C. G. McGehee Sr. of Jacksonville, Fla., voicing his wrath at outbursts of violence, has said he would not submit a labor decision to "riots and lynch laws."

McGehee operates the Calcasieu Paper Company and Southern Industries, which makes paper bags. Strikers' locals are the International Brotherhood of Papermakers and International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Papermill workers (AFL).

Marauders in the night who tossed dynamite for weeks have wrecked plant workers' homes and automobiles along with power lines and the town's only tavern. Strikers' vehicles have been blasted, too.

A non-striking Negro mill hand was arrested Wednesday night when state police found a machine-gun in his car.

State police, acting on Sheriff Ralph Thompson's plea for help, moved 10 patrol cars into the tiny South Central Louisiana town.

Every night police are staking out road blocks on all highways leading into town, shaking down every vehicle and examining identifications of every driver. The press and clergy get the same treatment.

The community of 1,113 popula-way slaves, Indian tribes and adventures.

The strike has divided neighbors and relatives alike. Some are on the picket line. Others have accepted company jobs, uncapping a rising tide of bitterness.

Washington Calling — Marquis Childs Problem Of A Tax Slash Is One Which Causes Lot Of Headaches

WASHINGTON — During most of his 20 years in the Senate the senior senator from Virginia, Harry F. Byrd, has felt that his was a lonely voice crying in a wilderness of waste, extravagance and debt.

For the Republicans entering into power after so long a drouth the demands for the Byrd conscience are almost of a half-shirt nature. Tax reduction was what many Republican candidates talked about last fall and tax reduction is what a great many Republicans in Congress are passionately eager to give their constituents.
