Golden Spread Center News

Pearl Pierce, the vibrant director of the Golden Spread Center, keeps things humming and keeps her pulse on the needs of senior citizens in the Spearman area. She is knowledgeable of all geriatrics programs designed to meet the needs of the elderly. She is at the Center all day every day and available for counseling and referral. The Center is open to everyone fifty-five years of age or older without discrimination as to sex, race, religion, color, national origin, ethnic background, denominational preference, political affiliation, or handicap.

Ruth Phelps will be teaching rosemaking classes on Thursday, May 31 at 9:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m.

Thursday and Friday, May 31 and June 1, will also be cleanup days at the Center and days for setting up the Center for the annual Bazaar. The Bazaar will be held all day Saturday, June 2, Hansford Day. Senior citizens have been working on all manner of gift items for months in preparation for the Bazaar. If you are looking for a different or unusual gift for a birthday, anniversary, or get a head start on Christmas shopping, you will want to visit the Golden Spread Center before or after the parade.

Golden Spread Center also operates a bus-van. It is available for all people sixty years of age or older with the need of the people being served as a first priority. Anyone needing transportation within town for almost any reason can call 659-3521 and the van will come and pick you up and take you where you need to go. It may also be used for needs out of town if a whole load may be lined up, such as if there were enough demand and about fifteen persons could all get doctor's appointments on the same day, the van could be used for that purpose. The van is also used for special trips to places and events of interest.

People who have bought chances on the micro-wave oven may want to be at the Center on Saturday, June 2 for the drawing. However, one does not have to be present when your name is drawn to win.

Extension Clubs

The Hansford County Homemakers Extension Club met Tuesday, May 22 in regular session at 1:30 p.m. in the Club Room with Chairman Penny Ralston presiding over the meeting. Old Hansford gave the devotional and roll call was answered by 10 members. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and the Treasurer's report was given by Nan Nicholson and is on file. Communication was received from Frenchy McCormack Dinner Theater inviting all the Club to come to the show at group rates. Standing committee reports were given. Finance Chairman Delinda

McLaughlin reported that the Bake Off will be June 2. Each member is to bring two baked items to the courthouse lawn by 8 a.m. Judging will begin at 9:00 a.m.

She also announced that there will be a box at the Extension Office for raffle tickets. Members should bring all sold tickets when they bring baked items to Bake Off Saturday morning. The drawing will be sometime Saturday afternoon.

Delinda announced that the Horse Clinic will be June 11 from 1-6 p.m. and June 12 from 9:00 a.m. til 6:00 p.m.

The 4-H announcements were by Peggy Winegarner who reminded council about the upcoming Fashion Review.

Club Room will be cleaned by Happy Homes in June and by Spearman in July and August.

Peggy Winegarner needs each club to update and revise Standing Rules by September 1. Standing Rules must include opening clause.

The program was given by Joan Brown of Town and Country Club.

The next meeting will be August 28 at the Club Room.

Business meeting was adjourned.

The TEHA Chairman Ethel Byers called the TEHA meeting to order. A discussion of the State meeting was held. The meeting will be held in Ft. Worth September 25-27. The members then selected by acclamation nominees and alternates for the meeting were Ethel Byers and Joyce Byers. The alternates are Adalyn Barnes, Susan Delk and Aitha Groves. These nominees will be presented to the Clubs for approval.

The meeting was adjourned.

Peggy's Pointers

Sear today's nylons for outdoor wear--to prevent raveling. Ripstop nylon and nylon tafeta--two popular fabrics for outdoor wear--need searing before sewing.

Searing will melt the fibers along raw edges to prevent fraying.

Also, searing is quick, fun and easy to do.

HOW TO SEAR

To prepare the fabric, trim loose threads from all raw edges.

Set up a thin, dripleas candle or alcohol burner in a well-ventilated room--free from drafts.

To sear, hold the fabric taut--or tight--between hands.

Carefully move the raw edge quickly past the BASE of the flame--NOT OVER THE FLAME.

Flame base is the blue part of the flame at the bottom.

As the fabric moves past the flame, a small bead--almost invisible--should form along the edge of the fabric.

Be careful not to "over-sear" the fabric, since that forms a heavy brown bead.

To extinguish the flame on the fabric, simply bow it out--but watch the fabric carefully, since the flame is almost invisible. Be sure the flame is out.

Once garment pieces are seared, it is time to mark them and sew.

KNOW PROBLEMS--AVOID THEM

Knowing some possible problems with searing will help avoid them.

Be sure to avoid placing the fabric over the flame--as that will smoke the fabric with black char-looking spots.

A dancing and flickering flame caused by drafts also can produce undesirable results.

Moving the fabric the flame too slowly may cause melted holes or notches.

Also, fabric may catch on fire, especially if loose threads are not trimmed.

show up as utility savings. Air conditioning can contribute up to 70% of summer utility bills, so it is an important part of the Energy Checked program. For energy efficiency, the Energy Checked air conditioning unit should have at least a 7.0 Energy Efficiency Ratio (EER), and the higher the EER, the more energy efficient it is. Duct work should be located in conditioned area. These hidden improvements in the Energy Checked Efficiency Home can mean savings on your utility bill. Don't settle for less--make sure your home is Energy Checked the next time you build, buy or remodel.

Senate Passes Water Import Bill

AUSTIN. . .The Texas Senate has passed the Ogallala Water Import Authority bill as amended by Senator Bob Price of Pampa. Senator Price offered a floor amendment which changes the language of the bill. The bill with these changes was approved by the State Senate Saturday.

"I am naturally pleased that the Senate saw fit to pass this legislation with the changes I offered and thought were needed to make the water importation bill a better piece of legislation. Several counties in the district had asked to be exempt from the Water Import Authority. Now I think the bill will be palatable to all parties involved," commented Senator Price.

Last week, Senator Price tagged the bill in the Natural Resources Committee so a hearing could be held on both the House version of the bill and Senator Price's version of the legislation.

"Some saw fit to criticize the tagging of the bill. They even went so far as to say I was trying to kill the bill. I assure the residents of the 31st Senatorial District that I would never try to kill a bill so important to our common interests. My only intention was to strengthen the bill and change parts of it which had met heavy and reasonable opposition," said the Pampa Senator.

"This state needs to get moving on the importation of water. I think this bill is the beginning of a real, comprehensive water plan for the entire state of Texas, especially the Panhandle and South Plains," explained Senator Price.

"My changes in the legislation will settle the question of private land owners once and for all," concluded Senator Price.

New Warning Signs At Railroad Crossings

AMARILLO - Wisconsin Century Fence Co. of Waukesha, Wisconsin, is the apparent low bidder to upgrade 640 public road railroad crossings in the Texas Panhandle with warning signs and pavement markings.

The Wisconsin firm, with a bid of $391,551, was the lowest bidder of our companies that submitted applications on the project to the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission. A.L. McKee, Amarillo District Engineer of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, said the project will increase the safety of traveling on public roads in the area that intersect with railroad crossings.

McKee said T.L. Armstrong of Amarillo, SDHPT Senior Traffic Engineer, will be in charge of this project.

Rehearsals for "Texas" Begin

Today for the fourteenth time, the photographer, Fred Potter this year, will be taking pictures for the Souvenir Program; Elsie Higdon will be taking information for the payroll; the director, William A. Moore will be meeting people and sending them to their appropriate stations; Virginia Raillard, program coordinator who is in charge of the souvenirs during the show, will be consulting with each actor about his story for the Souvenir Program; E. Don Williams, assistant to the directors, will be organizing groups for photographs to be sent to the papers of their hometowns; Margaret Harper will be gathering material for publicity releases; and Raymond Raillard will be discussing the details of contracts with each member of the company.

At 3:30 the choreographer, Neil Heas, will join the dancers for their group picture for the program, and by four, Royal Brantley, the musical director, and everyone connected with the show will gather in the Branding Iron Theatre for the first meeting of the whole company. There will be greetings from members of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation Board - the organizations which produces the show, and from officials of the University - the co-producer - and from members of the staff. And there will be reminiscences, and instructions, instructions, instructions.

On Monday rehearsals will start in earnest. Until the opening on June 20th, the company will be working eight hours a day, six and a half days a week: warming up with physical exercises under the guidance of Neil Heas so that each one will be in shape to run the half mile from the dressing room through the crossover onto the stage; singing voice exercises to study blends with the other voices in the chorus; reading lines, cueing one another; trying costumes; planning car pools; practicing with hats; blocking scenes; learning dances; developing and interpreting characters; and polishing with endless repetitions.

On the evening of June 20th will be the Gala Opening in the Canyon. The technical crew will have arranged the lights, readied the theatre, tested the sound and light equipment, taped the dream sequences and the fourteenth season will begin. The season will extend through August 25th, nightly except Sundays. There will be one Sunday performance on July 1. For tickets and information, write "Texas", box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015. It is helpful to make early reservations.

Police Report

Sheriff R. L. McFarlin, and Chief Jimmie Jackson had their entire crews out Monday of this week, assisting in law officers in the county area who were hunting a Mexican national, in connection with the slayings of two men in the Texas Panhandle. A warrant charging Fidesel B. Mendoza, about 25, with the slaying of Bruno Tarango, 31, has been issued by Hutchinson County. Fidesel Mendoza is also being sought for questioning in connection with the murder of Felix Garcia Guerrero 29.

Mendoza, is from Perryton, Texas, and was employed in Spearman.

Ochiltree deputies called in Hansford officers when they thought that they had sighted Mendoza near the Lake Fryer area. They were chasing a black pickup and the person, or persons in the pickup fired some 10 shots at the Perryton officers. The road-block which the Hansford units set up, was near the Getty Oil Company plant, Southeast of Spearman.

As we go to press Wednesday morning, Mendoza is still at large.

Local Girls Receive WTSU Honor Scholarships

JANA BUCHANAN
WTSU-West Texas State University's President's Honor Scholarships have been awarded to 325 graduating high school seniors from 113 Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma towns and cities as of May 17,

SUSAN COPE
Now in its second year, the scholarship program has already attracted over one third more participants than last year's total count, and the number grows each week.

The final number of high school honor society members who accepted the $100 scholarships to attend West Texas State for the 1978-79 academic year was 213.

Not only has the WTSU President's Honor Scholars program gained in popularity among the tri-state area's scholastically talented high school seniors, students and faculty members on the WTSU campus have begun donating money to augment the scholarship fund.

Phi Delta Theta social fraternity was the first student organization to offer support.

Of the fraternity's $100 gift, Phi Delta Theta president Brady Yearly said "We have several brothers who have participated in this program. We felt that it was a worthwhile project, and would like to urge other campus organizations to also support it."

WTSU faculty members, such as Dr. Robert Sawvell, acting head of the WTSU Geosciences

Department, are also working to broaden on campus the program's base of support.

At first critical of the program, Sawvell said that he now feels that "For the money spent it is the most successful program in recruiting high school students to WT."

He has presented the information about the program to the University's Faculty Council, which consists of elected representatives from WTSU's entire faculty, as well as the individual faculty members.

"I felt that it was time that the faculty get involved in a program which statistics show to be successful not only in recruiting students but retaining them," he said.

The President's Honor Scholars themselves are doubled delighted, according to program sponsor Keith Winter, WTSU director of Development.

"They are excited not only about the recognition of their academic abilities, but also about the special attention they receive once they get here," Winter said.

In the program's first year, the students were invited to receptions with President Max Sherman, their families and WTSU faculty members, as well as treated to dinner and a drama production, he said.

Winter said that one of his goals for the program is to be able to give $100 each year to the student's four years in school.

Already he has expanded it to include out-of-state students.

"People are now realizing how important this program is not only to the students, but to the University as well," Winter noted.

President's Honor Scholars from Spearman are Jana Buchanan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Buchanan of 1112 Linn Dr.; and Susan Cope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cope of 1010 Blodgett Dr.

Local Boys To Boys State

James Pierce, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. V. Pierce and Brent Ware, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Ware, all of Spearman, will be among the 900 high school juniors who will assemble on the Campus of the University of Texas in Austin, June 6 for the 1979 session of American Legion Boys State, State Commander, George H. Skelly of San Leon, has announced.

Delegates will converge on Austin and commence registration at 2 p.m., Wednesday, June 6, at Jester Center. Following an evening meal the new citizens of Boys State will assemble for orientation in their respective Boys State cities.

The program sponsored by The American Legion, State of Texas, is an annual event in which the organization teaches boys the responsibilities of citizenship in an actual "do it yourself" type program from which comes its motto, "Learn by Doing."

The approximately 924 boys will be housed in 21 Boys State Cities with each city further divided into two precincts, one for the Federalist and one for the Nationalist political party. Each Boys State City is named in honor of a Past State Commander of the Legion who is now deceased.

Dr. Firman Haynie of Austin Post No. 76 is Chairman and Director of this year's program.

The American Legion is stressing its belief that youth should be offered a better perspective on the practical operation of government; that the individual is an integral part of, commensurately responsible for, the character and success of his government. Boys State is an activity of high educational value, born out of a need for youth training in practical citizenship.

Citizens must remember that whether we of this generation like it or not, the young men and women attending high school and college now will eventually be the chosen leaders of this land. Boys State brings future goals within sight by developing civic leadership and pride in American citizenship; by arousing a keen interest in the detailed study of our government; by stressing the importance of maintaining our form of government and by bringing a full understanding of our American traditions and beliefs in the United States of America to more than 28,000 youths throughout the nation who participate this year.

"Boys State is one of the outstanding youth training programs of the Americanism Commission of The American Legion," Commander Skelly stated. "Not only do the youths learn more about the functions of government but also they see the importance of the role played by each good citizen in discharging his basic citizenship responsibilities in voting. They soon discover how the quality of government is related directly to active interest of each citizen."

On Tuesday, June 12, the citizens of Boys State will visit the State Capitol and actually sit in chairs of the office to which they were elected and run the state government for a day.

Boys State enrollment this year brings the total to 22,883 high school juniors who have attended since 1940, when Boys State was first inaugurated in Texas.

Oil Production Decline Noted

DALLAS -- With another year of production at the maximum efficient recovery rate in nearly all the state's fields, Texas' crude oil output last year again topped one-billion barrels. This is a level that has been achieved annually since 1965, although a downward trend in production continued for the sixth consecutive year. If this trend persists throughout 1979, it is unlikely the billion-barrel figure will be achieved this year.

The output of the nation's No. 1 oil producing state in 1978 was almost 1.1-billion barrels, thus pushing the state's cumulative production since 1889 to more than 43.7-billion barrels. However, last year's output was more than 61-million barrels below 1977 production and nearly 224-million barrels less than the all-time peak production year of 1972.

H. B. (Hank) Harkins of Alice, president of the Dallas-based Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, notes that the decline in production in 1978 corresponds to a drop of almost 777,500,000 barrels in Texas' reserves of crude oil. The decline from approximately 8.5-billion barrels to some 7.7-billion barrels amounts to a 9.2-percent drop. But, Harkins sees a brighter future for the Texas petroleum industry despite the recent drop in production and reserves.

"The improved prices for both old and new oil that we can expect as a result of a phasing out of federal price controls will help to stimulate increased efforts to recover oil in Texas, particularly through secondary and tertiary recovery projects," Harkins says.

"However, if the federal government adopts a policy that would take half of the revenue that the oil companies might realize from decontrol, then future enhanced recovery projects, as well as increased exploratory and developmental drilling, could be severely curtailed," warns Harkins, an independent producer and drilling company executive.

Census Bureau Rounding Up Farm Reports

A drive to round up reports that have not yet been returned from farm households in the 1978 Census of Agriculture was launched today by the Bureau of the Census.

Bureau officials called the drive a "special effort to provide statistical results to the Nation's farmers and other users of census data as early as possible."

Most farm operators first received report forms last January, and most have, by now, completed and returned them. Although the rate at which reports have been returned has exceeded the pace of the last farm census, some farmers and ranchers have not sent in their reports.

"The completeness and accuracy of this important agricultural census depend upon each individual filling out the report form received," said Orvin Wilhite, Chief of the Bureau's Agriculture Division. "I am sure that farmers and agricultural leaders want their county and State totals to be as accurate and useful as possible."

The farm census is the only government or private method for gathering and reporting agriculture information on a county-by-county basis for the entire Nation, Wilhite noted.

Important decisions will be made by farmer organizations, marketing associations and co-ops on the basis of information in the farm census, he said. Census figures also are widely used by many other organizations, both public and private, on which farmers depend for services, supplies, and equipment.

Operators who neglect to fill out and return their reports, Wilhite said, are doing themselves and all other operators a disservice. They impair the accuracy of the statistics for their area and may even reduce their county's share of funds allocated for research and other agricultural purposes, Wilhite said.

Persons who did not operate farms in 1978 may have received report forms, and others may have received more than one form, each addressed differently. Wilhite explained this as follows:

"Each report that the Bureau mailed was assigned its own census file number (CFN). We need a response for each CFN so that the record can be cleared. Anyone who did not farm in 1978, for whatever reason, and anyone who received extra reports with different file numbers should note these facts on the forms and return them so that additional follow-ups can be avoided."

The Bureau realizes that some farmers and ranchers need reassurance that their report is confidential. "By law," Wilhite said, "the report may be seen only by sworn census employees, and used only to tabulate totals for your county, State and the Nation."

"The hardest job of all is trying to look busy when you're not." William Feather

Included in the food order is 4,000 pounds of fish, 3,000 pounds of potatoes, 2,400 pounds of cabbage for the cole slaw, 550 pounds of onions, 112 gallons of pickles, 60 gallons of salad dressing, 300 loaves of white bread and 250 loaves of whole wheat bread.

The "World Largest Fish Fry" gets underway at 11 a.m. and last until 8 p.m. on June 2.

One of the features of this year's fish fry is the chance to win various gift certificates and merchandise from Borger merchants. Each ticket will have a stub with a number on it, and persons whose numbers match those posted in the stores of participating merchants will be eligible for designated prizes. Winners must be present at the businesses to claim their prize.

Special entertainment will be held in the 400, 500, and 600 block of Main St. downtown Borger from noon until 5 p.m.

Fish Fry June 2

The 16th annual "World's Largest Fish Fry" will be held on June 2 at the Borger Aluminum Dome.

The gigantic feed, which is sponsored by the Borger Chamber of Commerce, is expected to draw at least 6,750 hungry fish-eaters this year.

Along with the dinner, a wide variety of entertainment is on tap.

APPROXIMATELY 5,000 people were fed during last year's big event and Fish Fry Commodore Art Kracke is preparing for 6,750 for this year's feast.

Included in the entertainment will be Kawadi Indian dancing, acrobats, gymnasts, square dancing, and others. Entertainment will also be provided at the Aluminum Dome including a model airplane show and various bands from gospel singing to hoe-down country music.

Advance tickets are now on sale $2.75 each. Tickets in blocks of fifty are also being sold to businesses.

Tickets will also be on sale at the door for $3.00.

Everyone is invited to the World's Largest Fish Fry, June 2, at the Aluminum Dome, at Borger, Texas. Ya'll come.

Burt Reynolds: No Stranger to Stunt Work

Burt Reynolds has achieved a special kind of Hollywood distinction through his sly sense of humor, his on-coming physicality and a remarkable blend of toughness and sensitivity. These are the very qualities which he brings in abundance to "Hooper," the Warner Bros. release opening 5/30 at the Lyric Theatre, a film which, upon analysis, couldn't possibly have starred anybody other than Burt Reynolds.

"Hooper" is the unstoppable narrative of that daring creature spawned, nurtured and glorified by the film industry, called a Hollywood stuntman. Reynolds plays such a man, "the greatest stuntman alive," and through this character clearly exposes the perils, both physical and emotional, that a stuntman faces on a more or less daily basis throughout his productive professional years.

The film, a Warner Bros. release, stages with vigor, precision and breathtaking reality some of the most daring stunts ever filmed, and at the same time it reveals the heart, soul and mind of the people who take up stunts as a profession. It shows the fierce competitive nature of the business, the bone-shattering hazards involved, and the fear and indecision that assail the practitioners of this most specialized of all trades. Besides that, it's romantic.

Reynolds' involvement in "Hooper" comes naturally. He worked as a stunt actor during the lean, early years of his career. "They would give me a few words or a line," he recalls, "then set me on fire and push me out of a third story window. If you were willing to do it, you could always get a job."

And to compound the realism of "Hooper," the director is Hal Needham, who not only directed Reynolds in the enormously successful "Smokey and the Bandit," but whose name is synonymous with screen action. At one time Needham was the highest paid stunt specialist in the business, and he is the founder of a pro-group called Stunts Unlimited.

"Hooper," a Burt Reynolds-Lawrence Gordon Production, also stars Jan-Michael Vincent, Sally Field, Brian Keith, Robert Klein, John Marley, James Best and Adam West.

Even as Burt Reynolds began shinning up the pole of acting success on television in "Gunsmoke," "Dan August," "Hawk" and "Riverboat," he managed to endow his characterizations in these series with the kind of physical activity that was just barely on the safe side of stunt work, laying the groundwork, no doubt, for "Hooper."

Personally, Reynolds is a monument of opposites. He is stubborn yet reticent, quick-tempered but slow to make decisions, and he is always idealistic. He is dark with a muscular build and stare-proof eyes which don't give a clue to what is happening behind them. Although he sometimes appears icy, his warmth and friendliness and sense of humor dominate a personality compelled to be honest.

As his screen success has solidified with such hits as "Deliverance," "White Lightning," "Semi-Tough," "The Longest Yard," "The End," and the aforementioned "Smokey and the Bandit," Reynolds' ultimate goal is to give up acting entirely and concentrate on directing. He has directed legitimate theatre productions, a dozen television shows, and "Gator" and "The End" as feature films.

A Georgia born, former Florida State University football hero, Reynolds began acting on the New York stage before moving on to TV and films. He maintains a fine and classy residence in the Holmby Hills section of Los Angeles and a Florida Ranch, which he proudly announces was built in 1923 by Al Capone. It has guest houses, a gym, pool, tennis courts, stables and a growing menagerie, including 138 champion horses, a few head of Black Angus, four cats, five dogs, six goats, two swans and one alligator. But no matter where he is, off-screen Burt Reynolds may be found in denim, a football jersey and cowboy boots, and, by his own admission, "ready to laugh at just about anything."

Wedding vows were exchanged May 19 at 5:30 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church by Nancy Kathryn Garner and Roger Keith Brown, both of Spearman. The Rev. Frank B. Oglesby, pastor, officiated at the ceremony before an altar decorated with bouquets of pink mums, white carnations and baby's breath, and bridal white candles with pink mums, white carnations with greenery and white bows. The aisle bows were white lace ribbon, baby's breath and greenery. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lee Garner and Mr. and Mrs. James Henry Brown, all of Spearman. Mrs. Doug Steger and Mrs. Bob Meek played traditional wedding music and Mrs. Dick Countiss sang "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Randy Kirk read poetry. The maid of honor was Miss Denise Benton of Spearman. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jerry Davis of Spearman, Mrs. Stanley Josephson of Lubbock and Mrs. Steve Baker of Dallas. Groom's attendants were best man, Kirby McAdams of Perryton, and groomsmen were Mark Spann of Canyon, Gordon Dunlavy, Perryton and Virgilio Oriega, Spearman. Candlelighters were Sharie McCoy and Julie Countiss of Spearman. Flower girls were Josie Holt of Spearman and Emily Morelock of Garland. Ushers were Carl Robinson of Spearman and Bobby Fite of Canyon. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white chiffon designed with a scoop neckline and empire waist. Her bodice was completely enhanced with alien-con lace and seed pearls, complimented by angel-like sleeves which swept across the back bodice in a capelet effect. The long skirt fell gracefully to back fullness cascading into a full chapel train. She wore a matching camelot cap accented with pearls. Her cap which held her veil of fingertip length was completely trimmed with alien-con lace. Her bouquet was of white gardenias, white mums, pink baby's breath. The attendants wore floor length dresses of pink polyester gathered at the waist with accordion pleated skirts. They wore pink carnations and baby's breath in their hair and carried bouquets of white daisies and pink baby's breath. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Garner chose a floor length blue knit gown. The mother of the groom, Mrs. Brown wore a floor length gown. Both wore pink carnation corsages. At the reception following the ceremony, the bride's table was covered with a white tablecloth over pink and was centered with pink carnations, white mums, pink roses with white candles. The wedding cake was four tiered and decorated with pink roses with white lace bells with pink trim on the top. Silver appointments were used. Serving were Mrs. Kirby McAdams of Perryton, Miss Chrystal Carter of Canyon and Miss Diana Shelton of Garland. The groom's table was covered with a white tablecloth over brown and was centered with white carnations. Gold appointments were used. Miss Becky Brown and Miss Kristi Gresscott served the chocolate cake. For the wedding trip to New Mexico the bride chose a tan pant suit and a corsage of white roses. The couple will be at home in Canyon June 1. Both are graduates of Spearman High School. The bride attends West Texas State University. The groom is employed by Sutherland Lumber Company of Amarillo.

T.I. HARBOUR

Stefan Kramer's Panhandle Portrait is a new book at the Hansford County Library. The book was obtained for the library through Stefan Kramer by Ruth Bryan and Beth Phelps as a memorial book for T.I. Harbour.

Stefan Kramer has been a resident of Amarillo for many years. In 1947 he left Wisconsin and arrived in the Texas Panhandle in the middle of a terrible dust storm. Despite this initial experience, he grew to love this area and claimed it as his home.

Kramer has been an artist all his life and has received numerous awards as a commercial artist. In the early 1970's he decided to devote all his time to painting and teaching. He has taught art in numerous Panhandle towns and has used the facilities at West Texas State University and Amarillo College to teach his classes. Kramer is a watercolor purist. He always applies watercolor in its transparent form, never using opaque mediums on his watercolor paintings.

A Stefan Kramer signed print was also given the Hansford County Library and will be framed to hang in the library.

Outdoor Gas Lighting Prohibited

DALLAS, TEXAS - Final rules prohibiting installation of outdoor gas lighting fixtures and preventing gas distribution companies from providing natural gas for outdoor lighting have been adopted by the U.S. Department of Energy, it was reported today by G. Dan Rambo, Regional Representative for DoE. These rules implement section 402 of the Powerplant and Industrial Fuel Use Act, signed by the President on November 9, 1978. The Act prohibits gas outdoor lighting installations as of the date the Act was signed and outlines procedures and dates for curtailing gas supplies for outdoor lighting purposes. The authority and responsibility for administering the prohibitions will be delegated to the appropriate state regulatory authorities. In most cases, this will be the state public utility commission. According to the rules, if gas for outdoor lighting was being used by industrial and commercial customers before the act was signed, gas may be supplied for hte purpose until November 5, 1979. Residential and municipal customers who were using natural gas for outdoor lighting before the Act was signed may continue receiving gas until January 1, 1982. A proposed rule banning outdoor lighting was issued February 13, 1979, and hearings on the proposed rule were held in Washington March 22.

Community Involvement

Success in business and in life depend on the same qualities: ability to work together, accept and delegate responsibility, make decisions based on knowledge and good judgment, provide leadership.

One organization fostering this kind of growth is 4-H. Realizing this, Sun Company executives in Tulsa, Okla. decided five years ago to support a state 4-H activity—the Key Club, which recognizes overall involvement and achievement.

Sun's involvement was not only financial and not limited to the corporate level. Employees from Sun's operating units volunteered time as adult leaders in their own communities, guiding, teaching and corresponding with 4-Hers and awarding Key Club pins at county banquets.

Sun's Key Club sponsorship continues today. It includes an annual training program for two Key Club nominees from each of Oklahoma's 77 counties and sponsorship of an annual banquet at which the big prize is awarded: a trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago.

Oklahoma's Key Club program, duplicated widely across the nation, pays dividends to the children in Oklahoma. It also is in keeping with Sun Company's own philosophy of community involvement and good citizenship.

BUYING YOUR FIRST HOME

By Lisa Drake

With the average price of a conventional, site-built house now over $64,000, many young couples feel frozen out of owning their own home. Yet, first-time home buyers needn't despair. Mobile/manufactured homes, because of efficiencies of production, offer housing at a price that people can afford: more than 76 percent of all under-$30,000 homes sold in 1978 were mobile/manufactured homes.

Mobile/manufactured homes typically come in two basic types: single-section homes with about 1,000 square feet and multi-section homes with up to 2,000 square feet or more. Split level and even two-story homes can be ordered. Mobile/manufactured housing is a good investment, appreciating as the demand for housing increases.

Here are some tips on what to look for when shopping for a mobile/manufactured home: Go to several mobile/manufactured home sales centers to determine price ranges, styles, and special features. The cost of the home usually includes furnishings and appliances but does not include the lot or site, a foundation, base siding or exterior amenities, such as a porch or garage—unless it is a resale.

A first home: perhaps the most important investment a young couple will make.

When figuring the total cost of the home, consider the cost of the lot, whether you rent it or you buy it, as well as the cost of connecting to water, gas, electrical and sewage systems, and, of course, taxes and insurance.

Your sales agent can advise you on financing. Lending practices vary from one location to another. Banks, finance companies and credit unions provide reasonable financing, and there are a variety of government guarantee programs.

New homes should have the HUD seal located on the outside of the home. It assures that the home was built to strict construction safety, durability and energy-efficient standards.

In addition, a compliance certificate spells out all ratings of and other pertinent factors about installed equipment. Federal requirements regulate the acceptable level of heat losses (R-value) and are posted inside each home. Homes designed for the northern regions require storm windows or insulated glass and heavier insulation than homes designed for more southern regions. These compliance standards plus a one-year warranty are not subject to these regulations.

When you consider location, think of your lifestyle. Nearly half of all mobile homes are in planned communities.

But you may want to site your home on your own larger lot. Some communities allow the mixing of site-built and mobile/manufactured homes; others do not.

Lisa Drake is a Consumer Affairs Advisor for the Manufactured Housing Institute (MHI). MHI is a national association whose membership comprises manufacturers and suppliers engaged in producing and servicing mobile/modular homes.

The Death Penalty

As crime soars, more and more controversy surrounds the death penalty, which seems likely to be reinstated in some states in the near future. The last U.S. execution was in Utah, in January, 1977.

All states except the following have a death penalty (though several don't apply it as gubernatorial policy): Alaska, Colorado, Hawaii, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, New Jersey, North Dakota, Ohio, Rhode Island, Vermont, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

Presently, in twenty-four of the thirty-four states with the death penalty, about six hundred condemned individuals are on death row--the greatest number in Florida (124) and Texas (105).

Common sense would indicate the death penalty must have some deterrent effect, not on spur-of-the-moment murder, but on crimes planned in advance. Yet this is hotly denied by foes of capital punishment.

Nevertheless, it seems the will of the majority is about to be carried out in some states (and also, perhaps, in England, where a resumption of capital punishment is now expected). That won't end the controversy, especially in states where there are many condemned prisoners, such as Georgia (75), Alabama (37), Oklahoma (16), California (13), Arizona and Missouri (12), Arkansas (11), Louisiana and Tennessee (10), etc.

No nails were used to build the Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City.

WEATHER BULLETIN: Already wet fields received another 1.15 inches of moisture last night (Wed. morning) and this will delay the planting of maize further. But this should make the wheat crop prospects even better.
