Oil Administrator Decrees Stocks Of Gasoline Must Be Brought Under 51 Million Barrels By December 31

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary Ickes Thursday set gasoline inventories as of December 31 next to be 51,000,000 barrels in an effort to control production there as he now is controlling production of crude petroleum.

Woman Heard In Probe Of U. S. Senator

NEW ORLEANS, (AP)—Mrs. Hilda Hammond, chairman of the women's committee of Louisiana, took the stand before the senate committee investigating the election of Senator John Overton, and that the charged senate committee "could have obtained hundreds of thousands dollars for a thorough investigation if any member of the committee was sufficiently interested."

Reforms— Before many more days pass you may expect electrifying news from the Senate Banking Committee's stock market inquiry.

Wolves—

The transfer of Henry Morgenthau, Jr., from the Farm Credit Administration to the Treasury is not going to stop the howling of the Congressional wolves at the doorstep of FCA in January.

Repay—

One hopeful sign of the times lies buried down in the Farm Loan and Crop Production Bureau, formed here in 1929 to make seed and fertilizer loans to distressed farmers.

Exit—

A little group is scheduled to assemble in Washington some time in December and vote twenty persons into the army of the unemployed. They will constitute the executive committee of the "unemployed."

Facts About Your Chamber Of Commerce

SOME YEARS AFTER CUTTING DOWN A CHERRY TREE Some years after his notable juvenile performance as a woodsman, George Washington, who was then carrying his sword as a general of the Continental Army, said: "I will not say of a man anything I will not say to him." Think what that platform would mean if adopted by all of us today. It is a sort of golden rule for gossip.

Legal Agency Is Created To Back Oil Code

Ikkes Appoints Corps To Deal With Complaints Of Violation

WASHINGTON—The petroleum administration set up a special legal agency Wednesday to aid in dealing with violators of the oil code, Secretary Ikkes announcing "enforcement will be actively prosecuted in the courts where necessary."

The secretary, who is also oil administrator, appointed seven attorneys to his new unit, for both field and headquarters work, and likewise added nine other lawyers to the existing legal staff of the petroleum administrative board.

The seven, six of whom will take the title of special assistants to the attorney general to enable them, in cooperation with justice department agents, to bring prosecutors in federal courts, are:
Walker a Member
A. W. Walker, Jr., professor of law in the University of Texas, at Austin, and chairman of the Texas Petroleum Council. Walker was not classified as a special assistant to the attorney general.
Douglas Arant of Birmingham, Ala., former editor in chief of the Yale law journal.
Charles Francis of Wichita Falls, Texas.
La Verne Francis Guinn, of Dallas, formerly a member of the oil marketing committee for Texas.
Allen J. Furlow, native of Rochester, Minn., and formerly an attorney for the United States veterans administration assigned to Texas in 1931 and to Michigan in 1932.
Frank J. Higgins of Jersey City, N. J.
William H. Hoover of Washington.

TAX DELINQUENCIES

C. A. Jay of Dallas, executive vice president of the Industrial, Commercial and Agricultural conference of Texas, who pointed out in a statement last week that delinquent taxes of all kinds in this state amount to $120,000,000, brought the lesson home to the taxpayer with this outline of what it all means:
If a taxpayer wants to know what the delinquent tax situation means to him he should compare the totals of taxes collected during the past fiscal year and the total of delinquent taxes. If a county actually collected $500,000 in taxes last year and had $500,000 delinquent, it simply means that the taxpayer paid twice as much as was necessary to pay if the others had paid. If 25 per cent of the taxes were delinquent, it means that the taxpayer is paying a 25 per cent penalty.
In the larger communities, Mr. Jay asserted, 6 per cent of the delinquents owe 46 per cent of the tax. It is the large property owner, in most instances, who is not paying his tax, he insists. He urges citizens to inspect their tax rolls and bring pressure to bear upon collectors to force collections from those who are able to pay.

TEXAS AND MUSIC

It seems that an epidemic of songs of a strong Texas flavor is having an influence on travel in this country.
Distributor of national road reports visiting in Austin last week told the Statesman that his department had received more applications for information pertaining to automobile travel in Texas in recent weeks than ever before. He attributed this interest to such songs as "The Last Round Up," and other western tunes.
The young man from Ballinger, David Gulon, probably has had a great influence on the national thinking. If songs can inspire, then to be sure his "Home on the Range"—a truly beautiful and authentic song—has turned many thoughts Texas-ward. President Roosevelt liked it so well that he asked a great baritone to sing it twice at a Washington banquet.
Texas is to the fore in literature, and has been for some years. That "The Lone Star" is ascending into the "riment of song is becoming apparent. Many a Texas songbird has enthralled metropolitan audiences,

Youth Exonerated In Slaying Of Financier

FRANKLIN — The Robertson county grand jury Wednesday nobled Erwin B. Conway on a complaint charging him with murder for the shooting of his fiancée, Miss Ledelle Hammond, the night of June 16.
Conway, a Bryan youth who was in his senior year at Baylor university, was motoring from Kross to Bryan the night of the shooting, accompanied by Miss Hammond.
According to Conway's statement, he was stopped and robbed by persons who shot Miss Hammond through the heart and wounded him in the left shoulder.
Texas rangers and local authorities investigated the case and on August 22, County Attorney John R. Grace swore out a complaint charging Conway with slaying his fiancée.
Conway has maintained his innocence ever since the investigation started and the parents of the slain girl have repeatedly expressed their belief in his innocence.

Finger tip Convenience Makes Cooking A JOY With The Modern Gas Range

Long ago, gas banished drudgery from the kitchen. Even the gas ranges of the past generation made cooking simpler, easier, and more economical. But these earlier ranges have been outmoded by the new gas ranges, just as the early horseless carriages have given way to the trim streamlined automobiles of the present day.

Guesswork in cooking is eliminated in the new gas ranges. Oven heat can be controlled to the exact degree you want, thus assuring the success of your favorite recipes. Time control is also available so that cooking can be started and stopped automatically.

Full insulation is another important development. It keeps the heat where it belongs—in the oven and not in the kitchen. It cuts down gas consumption. The automatic lighter is another notable convenience.

Equally important is the complete redesigning of gas ranges. They are just the right height for the average woman, and many extra conveniences are built into them. Table top and console models, utility drawers, work shelves, and improved broilers are just a few of the features that you should see for yourself at the first opportunity.

Complete Text Of Revised Labor Code For Food And Grocery Trade To Become Effective November 28

Full text of the Revised Labor Code for Retail Food and Grocery Trade, signed by President Roosevelt November 17, to become effective November 27, is presented below:

To effectuate the policy of Title I of the National Industrial Recovery Act and pursuant to the Executive Order of the President of the United States, dated June 26, 1933, and amendment thereto of October 20, 1933, reserving to the National Recovery Administration the power and function to determine and administer provisions relating to hours of labor, rates of pay and other conditions of employment with respect to trades engaged in the handling of food and foodstuffs, the following provisions are established as a Code of Labor Provisions for the Retail Food and Grocery Trade:

ARTICLE I
Request for Separate Code.
Any division of the retail food and grocery trade which has not participated in the formation or establishment of this Code may make application to the Administrator to operate under a separate Code of Labor Provisions. The Administrator shall determine whether such division of the retail food and grocery trade shall operate under this Code or under a separate Code and may, if justice requires, stay the application of this Code to such division pending his decision or pending the approval by the President of the United States of a Code or Labor Provisions for such division.

ARTICLE II
Definitions.
Section 1.—Retail food and grocery trade. The term "retail food and grocery trade" as used herein shall mean all selling of food and or grocery products in any form, in the continental United States excluding the Panama Canal Zone, but shall not include the selling of food in restaurants for consumption upon the premises, or in confecturers' stores, or the selling of milk or its products by delivery from home to home upon regular routes; it is provided, however, that the term shall not include the selling of any food or grocery products which is now or may hereafter be governed by a separate code approved by the President of the United States; and provided further that this code shall not apply to employees engaged only locally in retail trade who do not employ more than five persons and who are located in towns of less than 2,500 persons (according to the 1930 Federal Census) which are not in the immediate trade area of a city of larger population.

Section 2.—Food and grocery retailer. The term "food and grocery retailer" as used herein shall mean any individual or organization engaged wholly or partially in the retail food and grocery trade.

Section 3.—Retail food and grocery establishment. The term "retail food and grocery establishment" as used herein shall mean any store, department of a store, shop, stand or other place where a food and grocery retailer carries on business in the selling at retail of products included within the definition of retail food and grocery trade.

Section 4.—Employee. The term "employee" as used here shall mean any person employed by any food and grocery retailer, but shall not include persons employed principally in the selling at retail of products not included within the definition of retail food and grocery trade.

Section 5.—Executive. The term "executive" as used herein shall mean an employee responsible for the management of a business of a recognized subdivision thereof.

Section 6.—Maintenance employee. The term "maintenance employee" as used herein shall mean an employee essential to the upkeep and or preservation of the premises and property of a retail food and grocery establishment.

Section 7.—Outside service employee. The term "outside service employee" as used herein shall mean an employee engaged primarily in delivering merchandise outside the store and shall include stable and storage employees.

Section 8.—Outside salesman. The term "outside salesman" as used herein shall mean a salesman who is engaged not less than sixty per cent of his working hours outside the establishment or any branch thereof, by which he is employed.

Section 9.—Watchman. The term "watchman" as used herein shall mean an employee engaged primarily in safeguarding the premises and property of a retail food and grocery establishment.

Section 10.—Junior employee. The term "junior employee" as used here shall mean an employee under 18 years of age.

Section 11.—Apprentice employee. The term "apprentice employee" as used herein shall mean an employee with less than six months experience in any division of the retail food and grocery trade.

Section 12.—Part-time employee. The term "part-time employee" as used herein shall mean an employee who works for less than the maximum work week.

Section 13.—South. The term "South" as used herein shall mean Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Texas and the District of Columbia.

Section 14.—Population. Population shall be determined by reference to the Fifteenth Census of the United States (United States Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, 1927).

ARTICLE III
Effective Date and Expiration Date.
This Code shall become effective on the seventh day after it shall have been approved by the President of the United States, and shall continue in effect until December 31, 1935, provided that if prior to such date the association presenting this Code shall request that the same shall be continued, then it shall continue in effect until the expiration of the line contained in such request.

ARTICLE IV
General Labor Provisions.
Section 1.—Collective Bargaining.
(a) Employees shall have the right to organize and bargain collectively through representation of their own choosing, and shall be free from interference, restraint or coercion of employers of labor, or their agents, in the designation of such representatives or in self-organization or in other concerted activities for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection.
(b) No employee and no one seeking employment shall be required as a condition of employment to join any company union or to refrain from joining, organizing, or assisting a labor organization of his own choosing.
(c) Employers shall comply with the maximum hours of labor, minimum rates of pay and other conditions of employment approved or prescribed by the President.

Section 2.—Child Labor. On and after the effective date of this Code no person under the age of 16 years of age shall be employed except that persons 14 and 15 years of age may be employed either:

(a) for a period not to exceed three days on six days per week; or

(b) for one day per week, such day not to exceed eight hours in either case all such hours of work shall be between the hours of 7 a. m. and 7 p. m. and shall not conflict with the employees' hours of day school.

It is provided, however, that no persons under the ages of sixteen years shall be employed in delivering merchandise from motor vehicles on regular routes.

It is further provided that where a State law prescribes a higher minimum age, no person below the age specified by such state law shall be employed within such state.

ARTICLE V
Store Hours and Hours of Labor.
Section 1.—Basic Hours of Labor. No employee, except as hereafter provided, shall work more than 48 hours per week, nor more than 10 hours per day, nor more than six days per week.

Section 2.—Exception to maximum hours of labor.
(a) Watchmen and outside salesmen. The maximum periods of labor prescribed in Section 1 of this Article shall not apply to watchmen or outside salesmen, but in no case shall employ work more than six days per week.
(b) Maintenance and outside service employees. The maximum periods of labor prescribed in Section 1 of this article shall not apply to maintenance and outside service employees, but such employees shall not work more than six hours per week above the maximum hours per week otherwise prescribed in Section 1 unless they are paid at the rate of time and one-third for all hours over such additional six hours per week.

(c) Executives. Subject to the conditions set forth in Section 3 of this article, executives receiving $35 or more per week in cities of over 500,000 population or receiving $30 or more per week in cities of 100,000 to 500,000 population, or receiving $27.50 or more per week in cities of 25,000 to 100,000 population, or receiving $25 or more per week in cities, towns and villages and other places under 25,000 population may work in excess of the maximum periods of labor prescribed in Section 1 of this article.

It is provided, however, that an establishment which operates as a grocery and meat department as separate units shall be permitted to exempt one worker in addition to the proprietor or executive as provided above from all restrictions upon hours, provided that such additional worker shall not receive less than $25 per week.

In the South, executives receiving not less than 10 per cent below the salaries stipulated above may work in excess of the maximum periods of labor.

It is provided, however, that in no case shall executives work in excess of one-half hour above the established daily store operating hours.

Section 3.—Limitation upon number of persons working in excess of the maximum periods of labor prescribed in Section 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of the foregoing Sections of this Article, the total number of workers in any grocery or meat department (whether such workers are executives, proprietors, partners, persons not receiving minimum wages, or others), which shall be permitted to work in excess of the maximum periods of labor prescribed in Section 1 of this Article shall not exceed the following ratio:

In grocery or meat departments comprised of twenty workers or less, the total number of workers permitted to work in excess of the maximum periods of labor prescribed in Section 1 (except watchman, outside salesman and maintenance and outside service employees) shall not exceed one worker for every five workers or fraction thereof; in departments comprised of more than twenty workers, the total number of workers permitted to work in excess of the maximum period of labor prescribed in Section 1 (except watchman, outside salesman, and maintenance and outside service employees) shall not exceed one worker for every five workers for the first twenty workers and one worker for every eight workers above twenty.

Section 4.—Peak Periods. At Christmas, inventory, and other peak times, for a period not to exceed two weeks in the first six months of the calendar year and not to exceed three weeks in the second six months, all employees may work eight hours per week above the basic work week prescribed in Section 1 of this Article, but not more than ten hours per day. Such work may be without the payment of overtime.

Section 5.—Hours of Work to be consecutive. The hours worked by any employee during each day shall be consecutive, provided that an interval not longer than one hour may be allowed for each regular meal period, and such interval not counted as part of the employee's working time. Any rest period which may be given employees, shall not be deducted from such employee's working time. In communities where a longer lunch period has been customary, any establishment may with permission of the Local Food and Grocery Council allow employees a longer period than one hour for lunch, but such period shall in no event exceed one and a half hours.

Section 6.—Extra Working Hour One Day a Week. One day each week, employees may work one extra hour, but such hour is to be included within the maximum hours permitted each week.

Section 7.—Conflict with State Laws. When any state law prescribes for any class of employees shorter hours of labor than those prescribed in this Article, no employee included within such state shall be employed within such state for a greater number of hours than such State law allows.

Section 8.—Agreement for Uniformity of Hours. In any retail trade area, town, or city, retail food and grocery establishments may by mutual agreement of seventy-five per cent of such establishments, subject to the approval of the Administrator, establish uniform store operating hours which will be binding upon all retail food and grocery establishments within such area, town, or city for a period not to exceed one year, subject to renewal by similar mutual agreement.

Hours so established shall not be less than sixty-three hours per week, except that any establishment which was operating upon a schedule of less than sixty-three hours per week on June 1, 1933, may continue to operate upon such basis but shall not reduce such hours. Hours so established shall be continuous but every establishment shall have the right to select the days and the hours when it shall operate.

It is provided, however, that any delicatessen store whose principal business is serving, preparing and selling foods ready for immediate consumption, may operate longer hours than those prescribed by such local agreement.

All establishments shall register the operating hours they select with the local administrative committee and shall post such hours in a conspicuous place in the establishment.

ARTICLE VI
Wages.
Section 1.—Basic Schedule of Wages. On and after the effective date of this Code, the minimum weekly rates of wages which shall be paid for a work week as specified in Article V—whether such wages are paid upon an hourly, weekly, monthly, commission, or any other basis—shall, except as provided hereafter, be as follows:

(a) Within cities of over 500,000 population, no employee shall be paid less than at the rate of $18 per week.
(b) Within cities of from 100,000 to 500,000 population, no employee shall be paid less than at the rate of $14 per week.
(c) Within cities of from 25,000 to 100,000 population, no employee shall be paid less than at the rate of $12 per week.
(d) Within cities, towns and villages of from 2,500 to 25,000 population, the wages of all classes of employees shall be increased from the rates existing on June 1, 1933, by not less than twenty per cent, provided that this shall not require an increase in wages to more than the rate of $10 per week, and provided further that no employee shall be paid less than at the rate of $9 per week except as provided in Section 2 and 3 of this Article; within cities, towns, villages and other places under 2,500 population, the wages of all classes of employees shall be increased from the rates existing on June 1, 1933, by not less than twenty per cent, provided that this shall not require an increase in wages to more than the rate of $9 per week.

Section 7.—Weekly Wages Above Minimum Not to Be Reduced. The weekly wages of all employees receiving more than the minimum wages specified in this Article shall not be reduced below the rates on June 1, 1933, notwithstanding any reduction in the number of working hours of such employees.

Section 8.—Conflict with State Laws. When any State law prescribes for any class of employees of either sex a higher minimum wage than that prescribed in this Article, no employee of such class of either sex employed within that State shall be paid less than such State law requires.

ARTICLE VII
Section 1.—National Food and Grocery Distributor's Council.
(a) Composition. The National Food and Grocery Distributor's Council shall consist of one member, elected by a fair method of selection approved by the Administrator by each of the national trade associations presenting this Code of Labor Provisions, one member similarly elected from any other association which the Administrator upon application shall recognize as representing an important branch of the retail food and grocery trade, and such members as may be elected from the wholesale food and grocery trade in accordance with a Code of Labor Provisions for such trade approved by the President of the United States.

The Administrator may appoint a representative or representatives who may participate without vote in all activities of the Council.

The National Food and Grocery Distributor's Council shall serve until a successor body shall have been set up and approved by the President of the United States.

up to the minimum rate of pay established in the preceding Section.

Section 5.—Part-time Employees. Part-time employees shall be paid not less than an hourly rate proportionate to the rate specified in the foregoing Sections of this Article.

Section 6.—Southern Wage Differential. In the South, within cities of over 25,000 population, the minimum wages prescribed in the foregoing Sections may be at the rate of $1 less per week, within cities, towns and villages of from 2,500 to 25,000 population, the wages of all classes of employees shall be increased from the rates existing on June 1, 1933, by not less than twenty per cent; provided that this shall not require an increase in wages to more than the rate of $10 per week, and provided further that no employee shall be paid less than at the rate of $9 per week except as provided in Section 2 and 3 of this Article; within cities, towns, villages and other places under 2,500 population, the wages of all classes of employees shall be increased from the rates existing on June 1, 1933, by not less than twenty per cent, provided that this shall not require an increase in wages to more than the rate of $9 per week.

Section 7.—Weekly Wages Above Minimum Not to Be Reduced. The weekly wages of all employees receiving more than the minimum wages specified in this Article shall not be reduced below the rates on June 1, 1933, notwithstanding any reduction in the number of working hours of such employees.

Section 8.—Conflict with State Laws. When any State law prescribes for any class of employees of either sex a higher minimum wage than that prescribed in this Article, no employee of such class of either sex employed within that State shall be paid less than such State law requires.

ARTICLE VIII
Section 1.—National Food and Grocery Distributor's Council.
(a) Composition. The National Food and Grocery Distributor's Council shall consist of one member, elected by a fair method of selection approved by the Administrator by each of the national trade associations presenting this Code of Labor Provisions, one member similarly elected from any other association which the Administrator upon application shall recognize as representing an important branch of the retail food and grocery trade, and such members as may be elected from the wholesale food and grocery trade in accordance with a Code of Labor Provisions for such trade approved by the President of the United States.

The Administrator may appoint a representative or representatives who may participate without vote in all activities of the Council.

The National Food and Grocery Distributor's Council shall serve until a successor body shall have been set up and approved by the President of the United States.

President of the United States to assist in the joint administration of this Code of Labor Provisions and such other Code of Fair Competition as may subsequently be approved by the President.

(b) General Powers. The National Food and Grocery Distributor's Council shall represent the retail food and grocery trade in the administration of this Code and shall have, in addition to the specific powers herein conferred, all general powers necessary to assist the Administrator or his deputy in such administration.

(c) Reports and Investigations. The National Food and Grocery Distributor's Council, subject to the approval or upon the request of the Administrator shall require from all retailers such reports as are necessary to effectuate the purposes of this Code and may, upon its own initiative or upon complaint of any person affected, make investigation as to the functioning and observance of any provisions of the Code and report the results of such investigation to the Administrator.

(d) Recommendations. The National Food and Grocery Distributor's Council may from time to time present to the Administrator recommendations based on conditions in the trade, which will tend to effectuate the operation of the provisions of this Code, and the policy of the National Industrial Recovery Act. Such recommendations shall, upon approval of the Administrator, become operative as part of this Code.

(e) State and Local Councils. The National Food and Grocery Distributor's Council shall, subject to the approval of the Administrator, supervise the setting up of State and Local Councils for the purpose of assisting in the administration of this Code within the States, and local trading areas.

(f) Expenses. The expenses of the administration of this Code shall be equitably assessed and collected by the council, subject to the approval of the Administrator.

Section 2.—Interpretations. The Administrator may from time to time time, after consultation with the National Food and Grocery Distributor's Council, issue such administrative interpretations of the various provisions of this Code as are necessary to effectuate its purpose and such interpretations shall become operative as part of this Code.

Section 3.—Exceptions in Cases of Unusual or Undue Hardship. Where the operation of the provisions of this Code imposes an unusual or undue hardship upon any retailer or group of retailers, such retailer or group of retailers may make application for relief to the Administrator or to his duly authorized agents, and the Administrator or his agent may after such public hearing

Section 1. Membership in the national retail associations represented upon the National Food and Grocery Distributor's Council shall be open to all retailers of that branch of the retail food and grocery trade which said associations respectively represent, and said associations shall impose no inequitable restrictions upon admission to membership therein.

Section 2. The provisions of this Code shall not be interpreted or applied to promote monopolies or monopolistic practices or to eliminate or oppress small enterprises or to discriminate against them.
Section 3. No establishment shall use any subterfuge to frustrate the spirit and intent of this Code, which is, among other things, to increase employment by universal covenant, to shorten hours of work, and to raise wages to a living basis.
Section 4. This Code and all the provisions thereof are expressly made subject to the right of the President in accordance with the provisions of Section 10 (b) of Title I of the National Industrial Recovery Act, from time to time to cancel or modify any order, approval, license, rule, or regulation issued under Title I of said Act.
Section 5. Such of the provisions of this Code as are not required to be included herein by the National Industrial Recovery Act may, with the approval of the President, be modified or eliminated as changes in conditions or experience may indicate. It is contemplated that from time to time supplementary provisions to this Code, or additional codes, will be submitted for the approval of the President, to prevent unfair competitive practices and to effectuate the other purposes and policies of Title I of the National Industrial Recovery Act.

Mrs. Frazier said the chorus was progressing splendidly.

Open Door To Press At Treasury Department Is Suddenly Shut

WASHINGTON, (UP)—The shades are being pulled down on the goldfish bowl in which the Roosevelt administration started to work.

The open door to the press at the Treasury Department has been suddenly slammed shut at one of the most sensitive moments in the country's monetary history. Action of Acting Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau in forbidding his associates to talk to the press started newspaper correspondents here and provoked a direct protest to President Roosevelt. It was signed by representatives of leading newspapers of all political complexions.

There is apprehension among some correspondents lest this policy of sealing up government sources of information be adopted throughout the capital.
Cutting Publicity
Morgenthau's action was preceded by several developments which have been construed by some here as indicating that the administration is swinging away from its original policy of keeping the doors of information wide open—or as general Johnson phrased it, of working in a goldfish bowl. No administration within memory has been so frank with the public up to now.
Morgenthau insists his "general order No. 1" which would make him and his press agents the only mouthpieces at the Treasury is not a gag or censorship order. As working correspondents view it, this order prevents them from talking privately with other high treasury officials to gather informal explanations for their own guidance in attempting to report and explain the administration's fiscal policies accurately and intelligently. The complaint is that it permits the public to have only formal statements approved by Morgenthau or his press agent, Herbert Gaston.

Great Significance
The situation here is regarded as of greater significance because it has developed at a time when President Roosevelt was changing his command at the Treasury, eliminating officials out of sympathy with his monetary policy.

Some see in the Morgenthau order an attempt to create the semblance of a 100 per cent united front in the Treasury department whether it actually exists or not.

White House Secretary Early, at Warm Springs, was quoted as saying the Treasury Department has been the only agency to operate without a central bureau for giving out news. The difference as seen by correspondents here is that in other departments, though they all employ press agents, reputable newspapermen are free to talk first hand with key men whose discretion and loyalty are taken for granted.

That is not to be the case at the Treasury unless Morgenthau's "general order No. 1" is discreetly winked at and betting here is that it will be.

LINE UP—
District three is out of style this year. We haven't had any eligibility squabbles yet. The committee did their best to get Louis Wohl of the Mustangs out of the way, but failed. Maybe they gave up too quick.

At any rate, just as we predicted, the Amarillo Bandits are about to get the gate. It'll be too bad for the Ponies to win this district without any argument at all.

SHAKE DOWN—
Bristow and his cohorts snort off to Hobbs, New Mexico, Friday morning to play that afternoon. The Steers may be jolted a bit by the Hobbs club but it'll be a good shake-down in preparation for the Wolves here Turkey Day.

Speaking of the Wolves, some of the local gridlers saw the Mustangs romp over the Colorado club last week and declare Cantrell's charges to be much weaker than first expected. But it'll pay to be on the watch Thanksgiving as they may have improved a lot. And another thing, the Steers aren't as strong as the Ponies either.

FINAL SHOW—
The Colorado scrap here Thanksgiving will mark the final grid show of the current season for the Wolves. But for the largest part of the Steer squad it will be a long way from their final high school football contest. Most of the starting line-up will return for another year or two. Big Spring's heretofore unsuccessful campaign for a district title should be realized next year. They'll be in a good position to take it.

ALL-DISTRICT—
The matter of all-district selection for some of the Bovines hinges on the Colorado battle. Practically every boy who comes out for some kind of sport strives to be among the best at his job. The Steers will be hustling harder in that game than any other. They'll all want to say they did their best in that scrap, and they'll do, too.

BASKETBALLING—
Somehow or other basketball never seems to draw the plaudits of thousands like football, but it won't be long before the favorite indoor sport will be with us again. Followers of the cage game are awaiting opening practice (which begins soon after Thanksgiving) with keen anticipation of a highly successful season. A tournament will probably be held here and several of the best ones in this section will be completed in by the Steers.

HEADED UP—
We're headed up folks! At least the sporting world seems to be, according to sporting goods salesmen who report a much better business this fall than usual. One salesman declared it shouldn't be long before we have some good boxing matches out here again.

Big Spring is a real golfing town now with two of the best courses to be found anywhere. Golfers should be especially proud of the new Municipal course located in the city park. The greens and fairways have been put in top shape and the rough has been cleared of undergrowth.

Three-Four Club Plays At Settles

Mrs. J. H. Kirkpatrick entertained the Three-Four club Wednesday afternoon with a pretty Thanksgiving party in one of the bridge rooms of the Settles Hotel mess-parlor.

Thanksgiving tables and table covers in orange and brown, pumpkin pie, whipped cream and coffee carried out the season's colors. Mrs. Ernest made club high, for which she received a suede cloth card table cover. Mrs. La Boff made visitor's high and was given a deck of cards in a little cedar chest.

The guests of the club were: Miss Portia Davis, Mrs. W. D. McDonald, E. M. La Boff, Combs and W. T. Hittson. The members present were: Misses Jake Bishop, C. C. Carter, V. W. Latson, Harry Lester, C. S. Diltz, Shirley Robbins, Clyde Watts Jr., R. L. Carpenter, P. W. Malone, Joe Ernest and M. E. Tatum.

Mrs. Latson will be the next hostess.

TODAY and TOMORROW

By WALTER LIPPMANN
Newspapers and N. R. A.

The place of newspapers under NRA is as yet unsettled. While most newspapers are operating under the so-called blanket code and are entitled to display the Blue Eagle, specific newspaper codes have not yet been approved. The point of contention has been a demand put forward by the publishers that their code should contain the following paragraph:

In submitting this code, or in subscribing or assenting thereto, the daily newspaper publishers do not thereby agree to accept or to comply with any requirements other than those herein contained or waive any right to object to the imposition of any further or different requirements, or waive any constitutional rights or consent to the imposition of any requirements that might restrict or interfere with the constitutional guarantee of the freedom of the press.

The authorities in Washington have not accepted this paragraph and a deadlock has resulted.

The general impression is that the newspapers have asked the administration to recognize their special guarantee under the First Amendment, which forbids Congress to make a law "abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press"; that the Administration has replied that no such recognition is necessary since it could not if it would and would not if it could abridge the freedom of the press; and that the newspapers have been objecting: "Why then do you object to saying so?" But a close reading of the proposed paragraph will show that it means more than that the free expression of opinion shall not be interfered with. The vital clause, it seems to me, are those in which the newspapers "do not thereby agree to accept or comply with any requirements other than those contained in their proposed code, or waive any right to object to the imposition of any further requirements." These clauses reject the idea of an evolution and elaboration of the code, either by act of the President or on the initiative of any association in the newspaper industry. In effect, the newspapers say: We are prepared to accept the rules in this code, but we do not agree that you can proceed to use codes to legislate for the newspaper business.

In order to appreciate the issue which has been raised, it is necessary to realize that an NRA code is Federal legislation for a particular industry; it is framed by trade associations, labor associations and the Executive, and is an enforceable law as if it were a statute that had been written by the Congress of the United States. Mr. Ford for example, the delegation of legislative power, is subject to the law of the automobile code precisely as if that code had been passed by Congress. A code is thus a very striking example of the delegation of legislative power. If I read correctly the paragraph on which the newspapers are insisting, it means that they refuse to agree that the power to legislate for the newspaper business shall be delegated. They are willing to subject themselves to a particular set of rules, but not to the principle that the NRA shall go on legislating about newspaper publishing.

This means that while the newspapers are willing to accept certain requirements about labor conditions, they really do not wish to be brought under the NRA system. In other words they do not wish to have a code in the true meaning of the term. It would be better if they said so frankly. The issues would be clearer if they did. It would be much better in the long run to take the forthright position that newspapers do not belong under the code system contemplated by the National Industrial Recovery Act.

For the code system as authorized in that act contemplated the setting up of control over whole industries. The immediate purpose of that control is to prevent destructive price and wage cutting; the ultimate purpose is to promote balanced, co-ordinated, and planned management of whole industries. Now while newspapers are for the most part profit-making enterprises, their main function, which is to provide news and opinion, can not be brought under the conception of industrial planning. At least not in a free country. Thus, for example, it may be wise to say, as the Administration has recently said, that the cotton textile industry should not enlarge its plant. That may be good planning. But no one can or ought to say that a new newspaper should not be started, or that two old newspapers should be combined as we are saying that two railroads should be combined. Competition may be wasteful in industry. In newspapers it is the indispensable condition of freedom. The industrial philosophy of NRA is therefore wholly inapplicable to the newspapers. For they ought not to be combined. They ought not to be co-ordinated. They ought not to be set up as public utilities and brought within the orbit of government.

It may be asked: What, concretely, is the objection to bringing the newspaper press under code? The answer is that the powerful conservative newspaper publishers really object to are the better wages and hours and the collective bargaining not the threat to the freedom of the press. For myself I do not care what their motives are. It is not the powerful and rich newspapers that are threatened. It is the weaker newspapers. If the principle of raising costs uniformly is carried very far, it is the weaker newspapers, more often than not the liberal and progressive newspapers, which will be driven to the wall. It is the big newspapers which will survive.

In other words, it will accelerate the process of merger and combination which has already, I believe, gone much too far for the public good. That is the real danger. I am not afraid that the President or General Johnson will suppress a newspaper they do not like. I am much more afraid that they will inadvertently kill a whole lot of newspaper they do very much like. For it is a fact, and it might as well be recognized, that liberal, progressive, or radical newspapers are on the whole the least profitable. They do not attract the advertiser. It is upon the least profitable newspapers that the burden of rising costs falls most heavily.

What is a free press? Is it one which is allowed by law to say what it thinks? Yes. But it is also a press which is able to say what it thinks. In order to have a press able to say what it thinks there must be many newspapers of all shades of opinion, not merely a few industrially sound institutions. In banking, railroads, manufacturing, the ideal may be a few sound institutions. For the press the ideal is many institutions, many of them necessarily not financially sound. The NRA system applied to newspapers, if carried out logically, would give us a few sound newspapers institutions. That is not desirable in the public interest.

So I believe that the newspapers ought to reconsider their position and frankly adopt the view that since the NRA code system is not suited to them, they are withdrawing their application for a code. Then, to show their good will, those newspapers which can afford it ought to voluntarily to make a gentlemen's agreement among themselves and perhaps with the President, putting into effect the labor provisions in the proposed code. Then they ought to remove the Blue Eagle from their own pages on the principle that it makes them tacit participants in an implied boycott against publishers who are not able to meet the terms and that such a boycott is morally odious and legally without warrant.

Not the least of the advantages of such a solution is that it will strengthen the permanently valuable elements of the NRA. I am myself a believer in the immense possibilities of the code system as applied to basic industries and to highly competitive manufacture. But there is no surer way of discrediting NRA than to apply it indiscriminately and at wholesale. It should never have been applied to little shops, to small stores, to the large mass of modest enterprises. It has been applied to the government itself. It should not be applied to churches, schools, colleges, or non-profit making institutions. It should not be applied to any activity which does not naturally and readily fit into the concept of industrial planning.

Even with all these exceptions the field in which NRA does apply is immense. It is so immense that the task of working out and enforcing codes in that field will take all the brains and all the energy

Airplane Ride Rids Dog Of Fleas

DEL RIO (UP)—When fleas get too bothersome for his dog Emery Davis, aviator-ranchman near here, takes them for an airplane ride and loses them.

Davis discovered the new method of flea riddance when his children insisted on taking their pet to town in the plane with them.

"When we reach an altitude that clears the hill tops the fleas come out of Wag's fur for air, take one look around and hop out of the plane," the ranchman explained.

NEW YORK

By James McMullin

Tugwell
The Tugwell purty-in-advertising bill (referred to previously in our Washington column) is stirring as much consternation among certain food and drug people as the Securities Act did among investment bankers.

They admit no quarrel with the motive but insist it's a case of too many teeth again. One expert claims it will mean the hamstringing of 90 per cent of the familiar advertising claims. Even infernals which perfectly ethical advertisers like to believe sound are out unless they can be scientifically proved. And what fun it's going to be to write copy then!

The opposition still hopes to get the bill modified before its passed but are having trouble getting organized for the purpose. They don't want to stick their necks out too far. Those who have contacted Professor Tugwell recently say that the rumor he has been moved out of the administration's throne room is as wet as the Atlantic.

Packages

Although the bill is as yet only a kite the Tugwell wishes are being observed by corporations anxious to avoid argument. One of them calls for a detailed analysis of contents on food and drug packages. The package of one branded product had to be enlarged to permit the printing of the formula in readable type.

Ingredient

New York insiders say these boys in the Agricultural Department are certainly smart.

The processing tax applies by law to all products of which the chief ingredient is one of the agricultural commodities listed for the purpose. The law also provides that the tax must be collected on manufacturers' stocks of finished goods when it goes into effect and rebated on manufacturers' stocks when it goes out of existence.

These provisions caused some worry about liquor. It seemed clear that the eventual rebate would be a good deal larger than the original collection. But there was the law. What to do?

The answer was a stroke of genius. The original draft of the distillers' code officially declared that "the chief ingredient of whiskey is the barrel in which it is contained." That will be news to consumers.

Cash

The Securities Act has definitely dampened the zest of several large corporations for any activity not strictly necessary. They are hoarding their cash reserves to protect themselves from the possibility of having to go to the government for capital. They have a conviction that government capital means government control and the prospect doesn't please.

This tendency may become apparent within a year in smaller payrolls and reduced dividends. Wall Street still nurses the hope that the government will soften when it discovers what has happened.

Mid-West

The Securities Act is also blamed here for blocking the reorganization of Mid-West Utilities. The members of the committee in charge of reorganization decided the risk of personal liability was too great to carry out their plans.

Bootleggers

Insiders in New York who know their liquor business report that local bootleggers don't seem the least bit worried over the approaching competition from legitimate dealers. "With the heavy graft out of the way our overhead will come down so much that we can easily undersell the regular trade."

Army

The U. S. Army is perturbed at one phase of Nazi activity in this country. Quite a number of Germans are enlisted men on active duty and officers in the Reserve Corps. The latter of course receive all the confidential material which goes out regularly to Army men. The question now comes up as to how many of these documents have been transmitted to Germany.

Dr. I. T. Gribel, president of the New York Nazi group, is a first lieutenant in the U. S. Army reserve.

New York learns that the Nazi Ministry of Propaganda has recently issued a brand new set of editorial rules for the German press.

Some of the instructions were as follows:

1. All reports about Nazi party activities must be submitted for censorship to local party officials.
2. For the present no more articles about war with France or Poland.
3. For the present, no more attacks on just foreign statesmen.
4. Anyone writing about the Storm Troops or the Labor Service will be sent immediately to a concentration camp.
5. The question of revision of the Versailles Treaty is to be treated with extreme caution.
6. The Jewish question is temporarily not to be discussed.

The next Cuban hothouse revolution is scheduled to coincide with the beginning of the Pan-American Conference. Watch for it.

COOKING SCHOOL

Many side attractions have drawn women to the school, in addition to the lecture itself. They came to learn about the value of certain brands carried by local merchants and to see the electrical displays. E. B. Ribble attracted many women with his unique gifts. The first day he gave away an old fashioned bouquet, made of flowers, pins, needles, thread, etc., to the oldest woman present. Mrs. Annie Fuller was the lucky winner. Wednesday a rolling pin covered with flowers was presented to the most recent bride present, who was Mrs. T. W. Caton, 1206 Johnson street. Both gifts caused a good deal of comment.

The following merchants aided Mrs. Warren in making the cooking school the success that it was: Texas Electric Service Co., Linck's Groceries, Dairyland Creamery Co., Rix Furniture Co., Dilts Bakery Co., J. C. Penney Co., Dour's Beauty Shop, Montgomery Ward & Co., Ribble the Florist, Piggly-Wiggly, meats, Big Spring Motor Co., Big Spring Laundry.

Mrs. Warren made use of K. C. Baking Powder, Pillsbury's Best flour, Wesson oil and Snowdrift in her cooking and told her classes the advantage of these.

She gave three recipes Thursday as follows:

English Fruit Cake

1 lb. butter
1 lb. light brown sugar
9 eggs
1 lb. flour
2 tsp. mace
2 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. soda
2 tsp. milk
3 lbs. currants
2 lbs. raisins, seeded and chopped
1 1/2 lb. almonds blanched and chopped
1 lb. citron cut in thin strips
Cream butter. Add sugar gradually. Beat yolks until thick and yellow and add. Beat white until stiff and dry. Add to mixture. Add milk, fruit, nuts and flour sifted several times with spices and soda. Put into pans lined with brown paper and greased well. Bake in slow oven from 2 1/2 hours to 3 1/2 hours, depending on size of cakes.

OPERATING

asked for a $10,000 policy.

Husband in K. C.
Dr. Wynkoop clarified one mysterious factor by saying that she was the writer of a sentimental letter addressed to her son Earle but never sent it. It was thought at first his wife had written him before her death. Dr. Wynkoop said she decided not to mail it because it was too sentimental.

Another element of mystery dissolved with the finding of the young widower at Kansas City, Kas., where a telegram from his mother told him of his wife's death. He telephoned the home and said the news had horrified him, and he would return immediately by airplane.

Physicians were analyzing the contents of the slain girl's stomach to determine whether the suspicion that she had been doped and then shot was well founded.

Face Scratched
An empty chloroform bottle was near the body. Curious examination, however, had not shown evidence that she had inhaled it. There were scratches on her face. The boy lay prone on the operating table in the orderly little office of Dr. Wynkoop, whose late husband, father, two brothers-in-law and daughter Catherine have gained note as physicians in Chicago.

Body Evident
She had been slain evidently by a bullet, calculating killer, for the open bullet wound pierced her back exactly where it would reach the heart. She was unclad except for her hose and a slip, pulled down to her waist. The clothes lay in a heap on the floor. Nothing else was out of place in the little operating room of the 18-room mansion. A window high in the wall, with stained glass and steel bars, and a door leading to Dr. Wynkoop's office were the only means of entry.

In custody for question with Dr. Wynkoop were her daughter, Dr. Catherine Wynkoop; a son, Walker; a sister, Mrs. Harvey Woods; Miss Edith Hennessey, school teacher rooming at the Wynkoop home, and two Joliet relatives of Mrs. Woods.

Little evidence was gathered at the brief opening of the coroner's inquest. Dr. Wynkoop said that excitement and nervous strain led her to call her daughter and two other physicians and a mortician before notifying the police or coroner.

"Earle and Rheta," she said, were very, very much in love—so much so that I often said jokingly 'I couldn't last.' Her only theory was that a moron had slain Rheta after attempting to attack her. She explained that Earle had lived since October 13 with friends in suburban Beverly Hills, Ill., communicating with his wife only by telephone. The young couple had lived with Dr. Wynkoop since their whirlwind courtship and marriage four years ago.

Earle left Chicago Tuesday and sent a telegram to his mother from Peoria at 2 p. m. It was about that time that his wife was last seen alive by a neighbor. Dr. Wynkoop discovered the body when she entered the operating room at 8:30 p. m.

Police said Dr. Wynkoop first had denied she knew of any insurance on her daughter-in-law's life.

STRIKE

President May Act
The president of the United States will call on the strike by stepping in and appointing a board of prominent citizens to hear both sides at open hearings. During the hearing, and for 30 days thereafter, the president can order both sides to refrain from taking action, and after the president receives the committee's report he can "suggest" that the differences be settled according to his recommendations.

It was declared that the brotherhood members "regretted the necessity of having to take this action," and "hoped" that the strike would be of "short duration," although the railroad employees were prepared to "carry on."

"Forced" to Act
"On account of the intolerable conditions, the employees have been forced to take this action," he declared. "This is not the first time the employees have had to take such drastic steps to right a condition on the Southern Pacific."

"So far as we are concerned, we regret the necessity of having to take this action. We understand what a prolonged strike will mean, the sacrifices and hardships it will entail upon the men."

"Naturally, we hope the strike

Local Man Has Forced Landing Near Rochester

Harold Beggs and George Jennings, superintendents of construction work now in progress at Cosden Refinery, took off from Big Spring airport Tuesday morning for Wichita Falls, where Mr. Jennings went to bring back his airplane. Mr. Beggs, pilot, who has approximately 25 hours in the air, was at the controls. It was his first cross-country flight, and he fled with the aid of a road man. It was their first trip by air over this route, which carried them to Sweetwater, north and east over Stamford, Haskell, Seymour, to Wichita Falls.

They intended coming back Tuesday afternoon, but on the return trip motor trouble developed in Beggs' ship, which caused him to make a forced landing near Rochester. The landing was made in a cotton field near that place, and aided by farmers in that vicinity, he was taken to town where he phoned for help. Mr. Jennings continued in his plane, toward Big Spring, and being in the lead, did not miss Beggs until he had crossed some fifty miles on the route. He searched for Beggs, but was unable to locate him, and continued on the trip. He later landed at Colorado Springs airport, after darkness overtook him, where he phoned into Big Spring to find out about Beggs, who had phoned in telling of his motor trouble.

Beggs made the forced landing without damage to the plane or himself.

Beggs said it was his first experience in making a forced landing, and it seemed like hours before he landed the ship safely. He said the ground felt very good to him. A piston rod was burned out in the motor, which is being replaced. The plane belongs to Slim Slaten of this city.

Trees Again To Be Ordered By Chamber Of Commerce Office

The Big Spring Chamber of Commerce will again this winter provide at cost Chinese elm and Arizona cypress trees for all who wish to order them.

Manager C. T. Watson Thursday asked those who wish to buy trees this year to call at the office in the Settles Hotel and place their orders that he may know approximately how many trees to order.

The trees will be 50 to 75 cents each, the elms two inches in diameter and the cypress, rooted in buckets or baskets, 24 inches or more in height.

DENISON (UP)—Bart Ship, chief deputy sheriff, said Thursday Bill Buchanan and John McCoy, arrested in Oklahoma Wednesday and charged with slaying Saturday of Miss Antonia Bachman, had made statements admitting the slaying.

Basketball Season Opened By Cosden Men

Cosden Oilers, famed as an amateur basketball contingent, took to the hardwood floor Wednesday evening in anticipation of another successful season.

C. E. "Spike" Henninger, manager of the team, had a dozen men huddling about the high school gymnasium in the initial workout. Absent was the sharp shooting Skeet West, last year's sensation for the Oilers. But in his place were two forwards of unquestioned ability.

Wilson is back from last year. Janeway, who was high point man in the Wichita Falls city league last season, is bidding for a berth. Jake Morgan, who starred for the high school squad last year, is likewise gunning for a forward position. Walker and Haines are making the competition hotter than ever.

At center Henninger has David Hopper and Walters. Hopper was an all-district guard in his high school days here and won a letter as a freshman at Baylor.

Guard positions will be well taken care of with Phil Smith, Davison, Smith, Homer Eddy and Vernon Whittington scrapping for the call.

The Oilers will work out each Wednesday. Henninger said after next week he would be ready to card games.

Attendance At Scout Training School Improves

Good attendance again was reported at the scout leaders school rounded out its third evening of activity Wednesday at the high school.

The scouters will not meet again until Monday 7 p. m. when they will again convene at the Methodist church.

D. H. Reed's Jackass patrol took off attendance honors with the Flying Bulls running second after beginning the meeting with the least present.

In the signaling contest, the patrols finished with the following percentage: Hounds 500, Flying Bulls, 333, Krows, 250 and Jackasses 250.

Fun games consisted of Rufus and Rastus, Indian hand wrestling, Jackass George Brown won the hand wrestle tossing hoampon of each patrol. No one bit pay dirt in the other contest although Jackass Reed and Hound Steve Ford Jr. beat each other most mercifully.

Accusation Of Being Nude On Balcony Costs Lee Tracy's Movie Job

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Lee Tracy, film actor, who was arrested recently in Mexico City, was discharged from the employ of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer motion picture company Wednesday by Luis B. Mayer, studio executive, who described Tracy's behavior in the Mexican city as "deplorable."

Announcement of Tracy's dismissal was contained in a telegram which Mayer sent to Alberto Rodriguez, president of Mexico. It said the actor's five year contract had been cancelled "as a result of Tracy's deplorable behavior."

"Not only has he been removed from the film 'Viva Villa,'" the telegram continued, "but he has been dismissed entirely from our employ and his contract cancelled."

Tracy was scheduled to leave El Paso Wednesday night, for Los Angeles, where he is expected Thursday night.

He eluded Mexican border guards in reaching El Paso. They sought to arrest him on charges of making offensive gestures and remarks when he stood on a balcony of a Mexico City hotel and watched parading cadets march by.

Prior to Mayer's telegram, studio officials had denied Tracy would be dismissed, suspended or given a severe reprimand. He was under contract to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for five years, having served less than two years of it.

EL PASO (UP)—Lee Tracy had nothing to say Wednesday night when he was informed that he had been "fired" by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

He said he received a curt telegram of dismissal at 7:30 p. m. and until he had arrived at Los Angeles.

120 Passenger Russian Plane, Just Completed, Crashes Near Kharkov

MOSCOW (UP)—The world's largest airplane, just completed, crashed at Kharkov, killing 34 persons, according to dispatches reaching here.

Details of the accident were not available.

The gigantic plane, named the K7, was an all-metal ship with six motors, and was built to carry 120 passengers.

Further dispatches from Kharkov stated the big plane crashed while it was flying near the Kharkov airfield.

The dead included Michael Sneider, one of the best known aviators in the Soviet Union, and several of the engineers who participated in designing and constructing the plane.

Several officials of the local civil aviation society, who were on board, were killed.

Stage Grande Dame
New Idol Of Screen

MAY ROBSON, pictured above, year on the stage, one of whose years on the stage, one of whose brightest stars she has been. Her first role was in "The Hoop of Gold" in 1883; her greatest stage starring role was in "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary." During this stage career millions acclaimed her. But today she is acclaimed by hundreds of millions. She has attained the top rung of popularity almost overnight. And all because of a remarkable performance in what was considered a secondary role in "Lady For A Day," the sensational picture which is feature unit of a new R & R road show program coming to Elite Theatre at a midnite show Saturday, then Sunday and Monday. "Lady For A Day" is a screen transcription of Damon Runyon's Cosmopolitan stories of Broadway night life and its "dames and guys," he has been called the O. Henry of 1933. There are plenty of Broadway guys and dames in "Lady For A Day" which revolves around a haggard old fruit peddler named "Apple Annie" who is made a lady for a day under circumstances which are both tragic and humorous. May Robson plays the role of Apple Annie, with Warren William as Dave The Dude (first considered the chief character), and Guy Kibbee, Glenda Farrell, Ned Sparks, Walter Connolly, Harry Norton in other principal roles.

Forsan Couple Marry At E. 4th Baptist Parsonage

Miss Luella Rank n of Forsan and Jesse Overton of Forsan were married Sunday afternoon at the home of Rev. Woodie W. Smith, pastor of the East Fourth Street Baptist church, in the presence of a few friends and relatives.

Those attending were Misses Ruby Phillips Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. White.

The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Rankin, who live sixteen miles south of Big Spring. She has spent most of her life in this section of the county, moving here from Oklahoma when she was a small child.

The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Overton, a well known ranch family of Howard county.

The couple will reside with Mr. Overton's parents until their home is completed.

Ruth Class Members Enjoy Nice Social

Members of the Ruth Class of the First Baptist Sunday School met at the church Tuesday evening for a November social session.

After jolly games a short program was given, composed of songs by Miss Gladys Carpenter and Ola Mae Hall with Miss Freddie Sellers as accompanist. Mrs. Frances Youngblood gave a reading.

Members present were: Meses Allen Hull, Joe Cleve, Bill Everett, T. E. Lee, Carl Merrick, C. P. Williams, Ralph Smith, J. E. Brigham, and Sullivan, Frances Youngblood.

Postmaster Ready To Issue Route Blanks

A supply of Star route proposals, bonds and oaths (application blanks) has been received by Postmaster Nat Shick.

He said Thursday that applicants for the Galt, Ackery, Sterling City and Garden City routes might obtain the blanks by calling at his office.

Ideal Low-Scorers Entertain Highs With Attractive Luncheon At Mrs. McClesky's

The low scorers of the Ideal Bridge club entertained the high scorers with their annual luncheon party Wednesday at 1 o'clock in the home of Mrs. McClesky.

A lovely three-course turkey luncheon was served to three tables of guests. Pink and yellow roses were the centerpieces for each table. The prettily appointed tables and the attractive rooms made the luncheon and the games following a complete success.

During the play Mrs. Ford made club high score and Mrs. G. B. Cunningham visitor's high.

Mrs. G. B. Cunningham and Mrs. Noel T. Lawson were the only guests.

Members present were: Meses L. W. Croft, Fred Stephens, Steve Ford, R. T. Piner, M. M. Edwards, V. H. Fiewellen, W. B. Clark, A. E. Service, Buck Richardson and George Wilke.

Mrs. Wilke will entertain the club with a night party Friday evening.

9 Tables Of Contract Bridge Players Enjoy Pretty Party

Mrs. Louise Paine Entertains Guests At Settles Hotel, Mrs. Carl Blomsheld And Mrs. Joe Kuykendall Capture Afternoon's Prizes

An unusually pretty nine-table bridge party was given in room No. 1 of the Settles Hotel mezzanine by Mrs. Louise Paine Wednesday afternoon.

The room was artistically decorated with bowls of deep purple petunias and yellow chrysanthemums. Fall colors were also carried out in the choice of prizes.

Mrs. Blomsheld was highest scorer for the afternoon and was favored with a brown felt box of lovely stationery. Mrs. Kuykendall cut for high and was given a small cedar chest containing decks of cards.

An attractive salad plate was served at the close of the games.

The guests of the afternoon were: Meses Wilburn Barcus, Wendell Bedichek, M. H. Bennett, C. S. Blomsheld, C. W. Cunningham, E. O. Ellington, Joe Fisher, G. T. Hall, R. W. Henry, John Hodges, M. K. Miss Willis To Play Piano Numbers At Settles Saturday

A feature of the book review program to be given Saturday afternoon by the members of St. Mary's Auxiliary at the Settles Hotel ballroom will be the series of piano selections to be played by Miss Elsie Willis.

Miss Willis has taught at T. C. U. She spent the winter before this studying under some of the best known instructors in pianoforte in New York City.

She will play three groups relieving Mrs. Faw, while she rests her voice from speaking.

Mrs. Faw will review "Anthony Adverse," by Hervey Allen, a novel that critics are acclaiming one of the finest panoramas of its kind, and that the public is reading eagerly in places where the public reads.

There will be an admission charge of 25 cents.

Another Bridge Club Plays At Mrs. Stroud's

Mrs. N. H. Stroud entertained Another Bridge club Wednesday afternoon at her home with an unusually lively party. Thanksgiving colors and suggestions were carried out in the refreshments and accessories.

Mrs. McKinney made club high and was given an ornamental card

Wright Patman Will Seek Post Again

DALLAS (UP)—Wright Patman, member of congress from Texas, announced here he would seek re-election, spiking rumors current in Dallas that the youthful representative who has sponsored veteran's relief legislation would seek a United States senatorial post.

Answering questions whether he believed President Roosevelt would find the next congress unfriendly to him, Patman said:

The democratic majority in congress will work with the president. The sentiment in congress undoubtedly will be for controlled inflation, but I feel that we are headed in that direction. Officials who are not in accord with the president's program ought to get out, as Sprague did."

The Texarkana man said Mr. Roosevelt had done more to "help the farmer and laborer" than any president.

Mrs. Albert M. Fisher is confined to her home on account of illness. She was reported some better Thursday.
