

As Usual, Spearman Gets Top Producer, and Population Exceeds 3,000 January 1st!

As usual Spearman got the top well in the Panhandle the past week... The Texas Company's No. 6 well in section 69 block 2, W.C. survey, northeast of Spearman, was dually completed for 100 barrels. The well flowed barrels from the Atoka and Des Moines... The well is of interest in the area: Shamrock's A. H. Frazer No. 1, sec. 14, blk. 1, C.I.F., 4 miles northeast of Gruber, 8 miles northeast of Gruber, PD 7500.

Based on official averages of 3.6 people per outlet, the population of Spearman has soared to a new high as of the first of January. Unofficial figures by the newspaper and other reliable sources revealed that actually the population in Spearman was well above 3,000. Plans to build more homes, open new businesses, and many other outstanding projects are underway. One Contractor, Macias Construction Company, is behind some 12 homes now, and probably will build a record number of homes in Spearman during 1958.

The Oldsmobile building in Spearman, C. and H. Motors, suffered heavy smoke and some fire damage late Wednesday night. A GMC Pick-up, parked in the center parking area was badly burned, and the entire show room and at least one new car was damaged from smoke. The smoke was so intense in the show room, that it was impossible to tell if there was a car on the floor or not. Firemen broke into the building after the alarm was turned in.

Snow Bound On South Plains

The bottom fell out and the roof caved in so far as Mr. and Mrs. Pete Fisher were concerned the past week end. Pete and Mrs. Fisher were in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Joyner, a brother of Mrs. Fisher's. They were returning home with Donna, a niece and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joyner, who live about 40 miles southwest of Plainview. Pete stabled his trusty 1957 Mercury in the equipment barn along side of the Joiner family car. Then came the snow. There was so much snow accumulated on the roof of the comparatively new barn that it caved in and virtually demolished the 2 passenger cars. Pete and Mr. Joyner had to walk a mile and it took almost a half day to reach the nearest neighbor and get a tractor to go to town. Fortunately, Mr. Joyner had a pick-up truck in town and the Joiners returned the Fisher back to Spearman Tuesday morning.

S. V. WHITEHORN
MODERN DAY HUNTERS GET TING SOFT?

When Grandpappy hunted he usually hunted in his spare time. It was on a rainy day or at some time of the year that he didn't need to be in the field plowing hoeing, or in the woods cutting wood or fencebuilding. In this atomic age some seem to think that the modern hunter should stalk his game as did our forefathers or as did the Indians. Hunting is too easy now is the remark of some of the youthful hunters. Perhaps it might be for some of those young athletes or some of the young men that take to the field in perfect physical condition when you get to be forty plus and fat and out of condition it is very taxing on the torso to trot over the sandhills and thru the draws in search of wild game. Grandpa was probably in good physical condition and felt up a days of arduous tramping in the field. If Grandpa had spent several years of office work he probably would have thought that he could walk as far as ever but one day's hunt would have convinced him that he didn't enjoy the sport as much as he did when he walked thru the field was a pleasure. It is hardly ever that I write anything with fear of contridiction but this is an exception. In my opinion many of the present day hunters had almost as soon kill a pen-raised gobbler, a broad-breasted bronze corn fed specie. Of course I said "almost". If the hunter couldn't get a wild one he would quickly and without hesitation settle for one that had been released a few days before the season opened. If it comes to an endurance contest we could have an almost elimination race and only those that won could have the privilege of hunting. Personally I will prefer a Browning shotgun to a tommyhawk and a luncheon for hunting paraphernalia. Wick, of Wick's sporting Goods Store in Borger once actually chased down a wild turkey gobbler (after a few flights they play out in a hurry). That was when Wick was younger and could jump a picket fence just like a deer.

Game in the hunters bag and on the table is also one of the objectives today just the same as it was a hundred years back. but this is all about something like this. Wouldn't it be a good idea for someone that was the owner of a shooting preserve to release a few choice gobblers even tho they were cornfed and some what tame to and allow some of the esteemed guests to shoot one of these rather than for the guest to go home empty handed.

Suppose the hunter was three-score and ten plus, had poor eyesight and was suffering from high blood pressure, gout, and rheumatism etc. Should this hunter compete with twenty year old athletes? Let him get one easy in my opinion provided the game is legal.

To really bring this idea home lets put it this way. Suppose your grandfather was like the typical grandfather and enjoyed living in the past. He would spin interesting yarns for the pleasure of the grandchildren and tell them of the way they hunted when he was a youth. Naturally the grandchildren would be all ears when grandfather told them of killing game in the early days. O. K. then suppose grandfather was invited to hunt turkey on a certain ranch in the Panhandle. The children would know, without a doubt, that grandfather was going to bring home two of the largest gobblers that had ever been killed in this part of the state. When grandfather returned from the hunt could he return without game? Shooting Preserve Owners this is just a simple thought. What do you think of the idea? When a turkey lives in the wild and lives upon the country in a wild state of being the turkey is legally a wild turkey in my opinion. Any shooting preserve owner could purchase any number of gobblers and release same anywhere if said owner chose to do so just before the season opened.

It's really too early to predict anything but it seems to me that Lady, my prized pointer female will be the mother of a few pointer pups in the near future. Lady is by National Champion Lesters by Wahoo and out of a Spunky Creek Female. This was the Female that I mentioned a few years back that was owned, at that time by Joe Rich, formerly of Canadian. At that time this female, same as now, was touted as being the best bred pointer female in the entire Panhandle. The pups are by a grandson of The Texas Ranger, and are their tops in breeding.

If they weren't the best I wouldn't own them due to the fact that it doesn't cost much more to own the best. If you are interested drop me a line.

O. E. Sullivan, one of the most ardent bird dog enthusiasts in this neck of the woods related about a setter called 'Cap' that he loaned to a quail hunter the other day. The dog pointed eight coveys of bobs just seven, seven singles in one day's hunt. Personally my dogs can't smell at all this year and with a perfection it is almost disheartening. O. R. Sullivan owns a great setter but it doesn't make me want to give my dogs away. I am just envious of anyone that has a dog, this year, that can smell birds.

Social Security News
Tardiness sometimes merely inconveniences the one who is late, but there are occasions when being late can be more costly, according to John R. Sanderson, District Manager for the Social Security Administration at Amarillo.

"A late shopper for Christmas gifts can still find something or other even the day after Christmas, and missing a train or bus doesn't mean there won't be another one along a little later," remarks Sanderson, "but missing the December 31 deadline for filing for disability insurance benefits can mean a real loss, not just an inconvenience."
Effective with January 1, 1958, benefits under the disability insurance provisions of the Social Security Act can start no earlier than for the month in which formal application is filed. Sanderson stated that up through December 31, 1957, a claim for disability insurance can result in back-dating payments to July of 1957. He suggests that all disabled persons aged 50 or over check the following requirements and make every effort to get a claim filed before January 1, 1958.
1. The disability must have started at least six months ago.
2. It must be so severe that substantial gainful activity is impossible.
3. The disabled person must have had five years of social security credits out of the ten years just before becoming disabled, and at least 1 1/2 years of such credits out of the three years before onset of the disability.
4. The disability must be one that can be medically determined.

Washington News Letter From Your Congressman, Walter Rogers

January 1958
TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT:
BLAKEYED PEAS - HORNADAY STYLE

Texas Congressional Members, newspaper people and many personal friends of Walter and Ann Hornaday look forward with great anticipation to January 1, each year. Walter Hornaday is the Washington news correspondent for The Dallas Morning News and has been around Washington for a long time. He and his lovely wife, Ann, live in an apartment over in Virginia and have a farm some fifty miles from Washington in the Shenandoah Valley. On January 1, the Hornadays entertain the Texas Members of Congress, their newspaper friends and associates to a buffet style Black-eyed-pea dinner. Ann grows the black-eyed peas down on the farm and does an outstanding job of preparing them. She serves them with hushpuppies, slaw and ham, with fruit cake for dessert. It is "The" gathering of the year for many of the Texans in Washington. In fact, it is becoming famous as the meeting place of the finest food and finest people — black-eyed peas and Texans.

On of my Yankee friends asked me why people from the South and Southwest thought black-eyed peas tasted better on New Year's Day than at any other time. I advised him it was not the question of them tasting better on that day, because they are good any time, but that they were an especial delicacy on New Year's Day because those partaking of them at that time would experience good luck the rest of the year. Since then he has become an ardent fan of black-eyed peas, and I think I could sell him on turnip greens if we could work them in with some other superstition. However, it might be difficult because pepper sauce is an unknown ingredient in these parts, and both greens and black-eyed peas need pepper sauce to bring their full flavor.

If you want to see many of the Texas Members of Congress, present or past, around the first day of January, just go by the apartment of Walter and Ann Hornaday and if they are not present when you get there, you won't have to wait long.

Several soft spots in the general economy are causing many people in official Washington to awaken to the fact that the farm difficulties of the past few years might be the cause of his trouble. They are beginning to recognize the real facts of economic life — farmer is not the villain that he has been painted so many times in the past few years. Many of these same people who have continually criticized the farmer as the recipient of government subsidy are now beginning to realize that any subsidy received by the farmer from the government is infinitesimal compared with many other segments of the economy. Only recently I was amused as a headline that appeared in a trade paper of an organization representing many big manufacturers. This organization has continually criticized and lambasted the farmers on the question of subsidy. Yet it seems to have no hesitancy in headlining a proposition that the Defense Department was going to earmark billions to be spent on defense contracts and, therefore, many of its members who are engaged in manufacturing could look forward to these government contracts and not be worried about their economic life. Some of these defense contract activities would make the entire farm program look like ten cents. And it might be pointed out, that if there is anything vitally essential and necessary for the defense of any country, it is a proper and sufficient amount of food and fiber.

The American farmer had an average income in 1956 of less than one-half the average income enjoyed by non-farm workers. Yet the capital investment per agricultural worker was one and one-half times as much as the capita investment required for employees in manufacturing. Since 1947, the average per hour return to farm workers for labor and management has declined to seventy-eight cents an hour, while during the same period the average wage of industrial workers has increased to $1.98 an hour. Net farm income has declined 31 per cent since 1947, while hourly earnings of industrial workers have increased by 60 per cent, and corporation dividend payments are up 85 per cent. Farmers make up 13.2 per cent of the total population of this country, yet receive only 6.3 per cent of the national income. Much has been said about the farmer pricing his products too high. Facts and figures just do not support that argument. The truth is, that although retail prices of foods have increased, farm prices have declined. Today the average hourly wage to industrial workers will buy twice as much food as in 1929.

Let us hope that the year 1958 will produce an answer to stabilize the entire economy and provide a source of the strength that we are going to need for the next decade in the cold war with communism.

ONE MILITARY HEAD

There is much talk in official Washington of shifting the power of the Chiefs of Staff over to one individual as a generalissimo over all the Services for the purpose of unification. Congress thought that it had unified the MORE MORE MORE

Services several years ago when it set up the Defense Department and created a Secretary of Defense over the Army, Navy and Air Force. However, it seems that this resulted in nothing more than the creation of another department in addition to the three existing military departments, rather than a reduction of the military establishment from three departments to one. This is a problem that needs early attention in this session of Congress and will probably get it.

VISITORS

Our office was honored this week by a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Swenson, of Amarillo. From the Lubbock area we welcomed our old friend, Jim Millam, with whom I went to Law School at the University of Texas. Jim was accompanied by his wife and daughter.

Egg Law And You

The Texas labeling law, passed in 1957, will effect both egg producer and consumer.

The law, the first passed in Texas was primarily to have all cull eggs from other states labeled as such.

Out of state cull eggs and local law grade and culls is two reasons why so many house wives complain about eggs they get over the counter.

This labeling law requires each carton of eggs to be labeled as to the grade of eggs. If a producer does not want to label the eggs he must label them ungraded.

What do you buy when you buy ungraded eggs? Really there is no telling! But when you buy a carton so labeled you know the eggs have not been candied, washed or graded. You can reasonably believe they have something wrong with them or the carton would bear the name of the producer. Of course there is a chance they all may be alright. But always remember you are taking that chance. The buyer is taking carton. These may be of various less risk when he takes a labeled grade, and sizes. The producer put an honest label on cartons that bear his name and address; not only because it is good business to do so but because he is proud of eggs he sells and would not be caught putting his name on a product he was not proud of. Too, these labeled eggs are subject to state inspection and the ones producing them do all that is humanly possible to meet the state requirement for all grade of eggs sold.

THE SPEARMAN REPORTER, HANSFORD COUNTY, TEXAS

The eggs labeling law will be in full effect when you read this. It places more responsibility on the egg producer and the grocery men who buy and sell his products.

Fines may be imposed on producers who mislabel eggs. And in turn one may be made on the groceryman.

Now, that isn't as technical, strict or as hard for producers to meet as one might think.

Each producer may get a sheet of instructions and requirements for grading eggs. It is most reasonable. Slight blood specks, minor dirty specks are allowed on "some grades."

The safest bet for both producer and buyer is to be sure the eggs are fresh, clean candied and marked according to the state standard.

All producers must buy a license which gives them the right to sell eggs. The license fees are paid for according to the amount of eggs sold.

If graded guaranteed eggs seem high consider what it costs for feed, equipment and cartons. When it is all paid for, the producer makes only a fair margin of profit and the consumer is saved the loss that comes with buying eggs not meeting a standard grade.

Odell Washington was in visiting Reporter staff and maybe it would be comforting to know that in Florida where he lives, people pay from 69 to 85 cents per dozen.

Veterans Land Program

AUSTIN — 1000 applications will be mailed immediately to servicemen on the Veterans' Land Program waiting list, Land Commissioner Earl Rudder said Tuesday.

More applications will be mailed as fast as they can be processed, the land commissioner added. Application forms going out now are being sent to veterans who hold waiting list numbers beginning with 001.

Meanwhile, the Veterans' Land Board set a new interest rate to be paid by participants in the program for their loans. The new rate is 3.5 per cent.

The legislature has authorized a charge up to four per cent interest, Commissioner Rudder said, "but the favorable condition of the bond market made it possible for us to hold our interest down."

The 3.5 per cent interest to be paid by veterans for a V. L. P. loan compares with 4.5 per cent for V. A. housing loans, 5 per cent for federal land bank loans, and 5.5 per cent for FHA housing loans.

About 22,700 veterans are still on the waiting list for Veterans' Land Program applications. Of these, approximately 8,000 will receive applications from the -12, $50,000 brought in by Monday's bond sale.

"So that the program will have money to continue buying land, we will offer more bonds after 90 days if the market is favorable," Commissioner Rudder said.

Monday's sale is the first issue of bonds from the second $100,000,000 in the program approved by voters in November, 1956. The last V. L. P. bonds from the first $100,000,000 were sold in September, 1954.

Mr. John Alley of Denver, former minister in Gruver, read the service before a decorative setting centered with a wrought iron archway decorated with greenery and white satin bows. To either side were baskets of white stock and greenery. Family pews were marked with white satin bows.

Truly" and "Because."
Matrons of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Tony McMillan of frock patterned in a princess style.

the same material. The princess lines flowed into a bouffant skirt.

of white lace, tulle, and net over white taffeta. The fitted bodice, buttoned at the front with tiny lace covered buttons, featured long sleeves that extended in petal points over the hands. The bouffant skirt featured horizontal rows of lace from the waistline to the floor. Her waist length veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a bridal bouquet centered with a single orchid atop a white Bible.
For her daughter's wedding,
Mrs. Lee selected a suit of powder blue accented with pink accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. Mrs. Washburn, mother of the bridegroom, chose a frock of an off black material accented with black and white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.
A reception in the country
home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. The bride's table, laid in white, was centered
