

Fruitcake Review Friday & Saturday

About one hundred and fifty people from Hansford County will be performing in the Fruitcake Review, Now That's Entertainment, on Friday, November 30 and Saturday, December 1 at 8:00 p.m. in the Spearman High School auditorium. This is a money raising venture of the Spearman Chamber of Commerce and the Hansford County Y.M.C.A.

Jim Horne, a native of Austin, Texas, is directing this lively paced variety show that will be a little touch of Broadway transported to Hansford County. Certainly no one in Hansford County will want to miss seeing so many of their friends, relatives, and acquaintances performing in such a professionally done show.

Tickets are $4 for general admission, $5 for a reserved seat and $6 at the door. The sooner you buy your ticket the better a seat you will be able to pick. Tickets are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office.

You may also buy tickets from Irene Baker, Shelly Beedy, Jim Benson, Candy Boxwell, Kim Brock, Mary Brock, Lloyd Buzzard, Carolyn Cummings, Gina Davis, Pat Dear, Perry Dixon, Dick Elbert, Robert Elliott, Charles Gann, Pete Hall, Judy Hutchison, Jim Ivy, Charlotte Jackson, Eddy Limbocker, Joy McCormack, Jim McLain, Sherri McWhirter, Judy Nelson, Dr. Earl Novak, Marcia Pipkin, Robert Queener, Linda Sanders, Mike Schnell, Karl Schumann, Mary Schumann, Jaime Sexton, Jim Shirley, Brenda Shieldknight, Cindy Schneider, Gary Sims, Verna Strawn, Dee Taylor, L. E. Thomas, Hazel Shieldknight, Joe T. Venne-man, Sheila Watley, Verlin Weingartner, and Mary Lou Wysong.

There will be a cast party at the rehearsal hall in the old Beedy building in the North Plains shopping center following the Saturday night performance. This is for all members of the cast and crew and their spouses. No children will be admitted to this party. People may stay as long as they want in order to unwind from three weeks of intensive rehearsals.

Spearman Chamber of Commerce will use its share of the proceeds from the Fruitcake Review toward a new four color brochure. These are very costly and cannot be purchased from the regular Chamber budget.

The Hansford County Y.M.C.A., as co-sponsor of the Fruitcake Review, plans to use its portion of the proceeds to purchase additional needs in the Y.M.C.A. Youth Center and for athletic equipment for youth athletics and recreational supplies.

Joy McCormack is the general chairperson for the Fruitcake Review and Mary Lou Wysong is her co-chairperson. Rehearsals are going great and are scheduled for all hours of the day and night. 150 people have been working hard to make this the most professional variety show that has ever been seen in Spearman. These two evenings will be fun packed with good clean entertainment for the entire family.

Postmaster Ray Robertson advised today that mail box vandalism is a Federal crime and the penalty for this crime is imprisonment in a Federal prison up to three years and a fine of up to $1,000.00. The postmaster said juveniles are most often involved in these offenses. Usually these youngsters do not understand the seriousness of their actions, but once the penalties are called to their attention, these ordinarily "Good" kids rarely do it again. The postmaster is asking all parents in our community to stress the seriousness of mailbox vandalism to their children.

Newton Attends UIL Council Meet

COACH NEWTON

Spearman's girls' basketball coach, Ralph Newton recently attended the University Interscholastic League Executive Council's annual meeting in Austin as a presenter on behalf of the Texas High School Girls' Coaches Association. Coach Newton was elected president of that organization at the general business meeting in July in Abilene. The THSGCA now has a membership of more than 1500 coaches of all girls sports in the high schools of Texas. Duties of the office of president of the THSGCA will include appearances before the UIL council, legislative hearings and judicial hearings.

The activities for this year will culminate at the National seminar, clinic and awards banquet in Seattle, Washington, June 27, 1980.

Operation-Christmas Greeting-1979

The members of the Hansford County Hospital Auxiliary are beginning their annual fund raising campaign in which they ask that the amount of money which you plan to spend for Christmas cards to mail to friends be sent to them instead to use in their various projects for use and beautification of the Hansford Hospital.

This is the only fund raising event that the Auxiliary sponsors and they appreciate and thank the public for the fine way it has received and supported this idea for the past six years. The proceeds of this campaign have been used in many different ways - furnishings for the labor room, reclining chairs, utility shelves, surgery lights, wheel chairs, kitchen needs, a crash cart, a baby crib, a stretcher and many seasonal decorations.

If you wish to support "Operation - Christmas Greeting" again this year, please send your contribution to Helen Etter, Box 1045, Spearman, Texas, with your names listed the way in which you wish them to appear in the paper and they will be published each week in the Spearman and Gruver papers.

Stop Smoking Clinic Planned

Now you can stop smoking at the FIVE-DAY PLAN TO STOP SMOKING clinic! This clinic will be presented at the Hansford Hospital dining room in Spearman beginning Monday night December 3 and run through Friday night December 7th from 7:30 P.M. to 9:00 P.M.

The STOP SMOKING clinic will be directed by pastor Tony Gonzales, who himself is presently completing a Master of Science in Public Health Education, states that expert information about the effects of smoking and how to stop will also be given by Dr. David McClellan, M.D. and Dr. Billy Baker D.D.S. both of Spearman.

The clinic is open to the public and will include film and slide presentations as well informative and helpful discussion. While anyone wishing to observe is welcome to, those actually participating in the FIVE-DAY PLAN will receive a control booklet and other materials. A minimal $5.00 donation is asked for the costs of material only.

MICROWAVE OVEN SAFETY

Routine servicing, careful maintenance and proper use of microwave ovens can insure many years of safe use.

ROUTINE SERVICING

If the microwave oven gets hard use or if the user tends to overlook manufacturers' use and care instructions, have it checked for possible radiation leakage at least once or twice a year.

Also check for possible radiation leakage if the oven has been moved either voluntarily or involuntarily.

You can buy hand-held leakage testers for home use; however, the accuracy of some of the commercially available testers has been questioned by independent testers.

Call your appliance dealer or a service representative for servicing information.

Microwave ovens sold after October 6, 1971, meet the federal safety standards for microwave radiation emission levels. They do not present a radiation hazard when used according to the manufacturer's instructions.

However, if your microwave was manufactured before this 1971 cut-off date, have it checked for possible leakage.

MAINTENANCE

Regardless of when your microwave was manufactured, check for leakage periodically. Also check for build-up of cooking residues on door seals.

If this region is not kept clean, it may contribute to energy leakage.

Clean the oven cavity, door and seals frequently with water and mild detergent. Do not use scouring pads, steel wool or other abrasives.

PROPER USE

Never operate an oven if the door does not close firmly or if it is bent, warped or otherwise damaged.

Never tamper with or inactivate the oven safety interlocks.

Never insert objects through the door grill or around the door seal.

Most geologists believe the Great Lakes were once river valleys enlarged by glaciers during the Ice Age.

She gave a very interesting lecture on how each piece is formed and made. The pieces she brought were all limited edition pieces. After the closing ritual and

PIONEER Harvest Hotline

John Maxson reports Hansford Co. Results

Again this year Pioneer brand seeds are delivering outstanding yields in field after field. But we know it takes more than one year's performance to tell the whole story. Look at these results, then ask your Pioneer dealer to show you records from several years. You'll see for yourself why Pioneer brand seeds have become famous for their consistency.

This tall, semi-upright leaved hybrid has demonstrated better standability than most popular competitive upright leaved hybrids. And that made an important difference to Hansford County farmers this year. V. B. Morris of Gruver reported a yield of 158.7 bu./A. with 3360 in a comparison field where lodging was a problem with other hybrids in the test. 3360 has outstanding head smut tolerance, excellent MDMV tolerance and good early season vigor to get off to a good start. In 27 comparisons on the Northern High Plains, 3360 averaged 8.7 bu./A. more than competitive hybrids. And it offers the same kind of outstanding performance potential again next year.

One of the most popular hybrids on the Northern High Plains, 3184 proved its reputation in 32 comparisons again this year. It averaged 14.9 bu./A. more than competitive hybrids and demonstrated the consistency of performance that's made it so popular. Strong stalks and roots provide excellent standability, and it holds ears well to minimize field losses.

In nearby Sherman County, Joe Morris recorded a yield of 162.9 bu./A. with this outstanding hybrid. Although it's relatively new to many High Plains farmers, 3183 is an established favorite across the U.S. And this year's averages prove why. In 34 comparisons it yielded 12 bu./A. more than competitive hybrids. Excellent drought tolerance and very good seedling vigor give it extra appeal in this area, too.

Equity expands gasohol network

Three months after launching its sale of gasohol, the Perryton Equity reports that sales are good and the gasohol trade looks promising. Sometime this week, the Equity will be offering gasohol at six different locations in the tristate area. The bulk plant located on East Brillhart in Perryton will serve as the distribution point.

Last month, more than 100 farmers used more than 11,000 gallons of Equity gasohol, reported general manager, Kenneth Allen. By next month, we expect more than 1/2,000 farmers and ranchers in the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandles to using the product, Allen added.

Equity has recently completed remodeling of the bulk plant in Perryton to hold 10,000 gallons of the alcohol, which is being transported here from Midwest Solvents and Farm-land Industries of Atchinson, Kans. The local plant will serve as the distribution point for deliveries to Liberal, Beavers, Keyes, Hopkins, Stratford and Pringle.

"It looks very promising and hopefully the gasoline will bring about a cleaner engine and we know a cleaner tank," said the Equity manager. Primitive testing locally has indicated that gas mileage is up some 4 per cent with the use of gasohol vs. common no lead gasoline. "We think cars will start better in the winter," Allen noted, pointing out that the alcohol would do away with any moisture problems in the line.

Gasohol sales locally have been limited to members of the Equity Exchange. Allen is not considering any change in that policy for the time being. Alcohol being used here comes from corn, and it is a relatively simple process to mix the alcohol with gasoline.

Earlier this year the Equity announced that it was actively looking into the possibilities of locating a gasohol plant in this area. Allen was questioned about progress in the search for answers.

"We've been looking for a market for the product. So far, we haven't found any people willing to sign a contract," said Allen. "When you're talking millions of dollars (and the proposed gasohol plant could cost in excess of $50 million) you can't operate on promises. We have had people that are interested and they say it sounds good. But that type of non-commitment doesn't mean much."

"We're still lacking a lot of answers from authentic sources," Allen concluded. He did say that if a market can be established the Equity board would make a decision to build or not build within a six-month period.

Benefit Stud Service Auction Set

The Fourth Annual Benefit Stud Service Auction, sponsored by the Panhandle State University Rodeo Club, will be held Saturday, December 1, 1979, at 2:00 PM, at the Elks Lodge in Guymon, Oklahoma. The Stud Service Auction is a yearly event sponsored by the Rodeo Club for the specific purpose of raising money needed to support the rodeo team. The event annually raises several thousand dollars which is used for rodeo scholarships and travel expenses. Stud owners from the Panhandle area, and elsewhere, are asked to donate services which are auctioned off to buyers who attend the auction. Over the past few years the auction has grown in both the number of stud services donated and the number of bidders. This year a special effort is being made to substantially increase the size and scope of the auction.

The Panhandle State University Rodeo Team is a member of the Central Plains Region of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association. The 1979-80 rodeo team is made up of approximately 25 young men and women who travel throughout Kansas and Oklahoma to a dozen rodeos a year. Several years ago Panhandle State instituted a Rodeo Scholarship Program which has attracted a number of talented participants to the campus. PSU has qualified for the National Finals Rodeo for the past seven years in either men's or women's competition and has won several Central Plains Regional Championships, both in individual and team competition. The Scholarship Program, and travel expenses necessary to attend regional rodeos, are financed through University funds, private donations and various club functions. The most effective club function has been the yearly stud service auction.

To insure that the Rodeo Club obtains a decent price and to minimize bad publicity for stud owners, many owners have set a minimum acceptable bid for the services of their stud. In some cases the PSU Rodeo Club has set minimums for the same reason.

Less Tillage For Crops

LINCOLN, Neb.—"If farmers want to hold fuel costs down, their best bet is less tillage," says William A. Hayes, agronomist for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service in Lincoln, Nebraska.

Figures compiled Oct. 15, 1979, by the department show that the price of diesel-fuel delivered to farms rose 77 percent during the last year and gasoline went up 51 percent. Conventional—or "clean"—tillage, which most farmers use today, requires an average of 7.4 gallons of fuel for each acre cultivated. In conventional tillage, the moldboard plowing, disking and other operations require many trips over the same field.

A no-till system, in which the soil is not touched until planting time and residues from earlier crops are left on the field, requires only about 1.25 gallons of gasoline per acre.

"There is no doubt about it," said Hayes. "Conservation tillage not only reduces oil consumption to about one sixth of that required for ordinary tillage operations, it also reduces soil erosion 50 percent to 90 percent."

1978 Agricultural Statistics

In a USDA release of 1978 Agricultural Statistics, Hansford County had 182,000 acres of wheat planted with 77,200 being harvested for an average yield of 28.2 bushels per acre for a total of 2,175,000 bushels.

Soybean plantings were 1,500 acres with 1,400 being harvested for an average yield of 28.6 bushels per acre for a total of $40,000.

Seven hundred acres of alfalfa hay were harvested for an average yield of 4.8 tons for a

NEEDLEWORK NEWS & NOTES

Hand Quilting

Not the lost art some people believe, hand quilting can be fun and fulfilling.

The basic technique is to use an even, running stitch that is short and closely spaced so as to give the illusion of an unbroken line. Though white thread is the usual choice, a color that matches or contrasts with the fabric can also be used. The stitches should be fine (about 12 to the inch) and even on top and back. You will find stitching easier and more natural if you keep your project slightly less than drumtight on form or hoop and if you start an arm's length away and quilt toward yourself.

Quilting can be quite fun. It's easier if you do it toward yourself.

Cold Weather Tips For Hauling Livestock

Hauling livestock during cold weather can be both dangerous and costly unless certain precautions are taken, points out Layton Barton, County Agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Barton suggests that certain steps be taken in handling and transporting cattle, hogs, sheep and goats during the coming winter season:

1. Make sure animals are recovered from the stress of sorting and driving before loading them.
2. Check your vehicle closely and make sur it is in good repair. Eliminate drafts where possible. On long hauls, cover the side of the vehicle that is exposed to prevailing winds.
3. Provide a non-skid floor on the bed of the truck or trailer, or use wood shavings, sawdust or sand.
4. Make sure the loading chute is safe. A safe, properly constructed loading chute will reduce animal stress.
5. Use partitions for mixed loads and to keep animals from piling in case of a sudden stop.
6. Use suitable persuaders for moving animals to reduce excitement and stress.

7. Understand animals and what makes them react the way they do. Allow them time to adjust to a new environment.
8. Don't overcrowd the vehicle. Overcrowding increases bruising, crippling and death during transit.
9. Get on the road once animals are loaded.
10. Always check the load after the first hour on the road.

Following these simple precautions can make livestock hauling safer this winter and can cut losses to your pocket-book, emphasizes Barton.

"MORE AMERICAN GRAFFITI" WITH A BIG DIFFERENCE
by Paul Le Mat

(Upon completion of the filming of "More American Graffiti," Paul Le Mat had some time to reflect on his feelings about the new Universal film and the original "American Graffiti.")

"American Graffiti" was the first feature I did. George Lucas (the director-co-writer) took a chance on me, as he did with a lot of people. He didn't pay much attention to the studio. He just went with what he thought was right, regardless of what they'd done before. He cared about the quality of the film, rather than what anybody had to say about it before he'd made it.

I enjoyed working in "Graffiti." The farther I get away from it, the more fun it seems it was. There was a lot of work. We worked at night, which was a strange thing to do. We didn't have a lot of time, and there wasn't a lot of money, but everybody had a spirit of community that coincided with the one that existed in the film. I don't know whether that was because of the film or because of George or because of the people, but it happened, and it helped us when we worked. It made us friends and when you're friends, you can work a lot better than with people that you don't know.

As John Milner, PAUL LE MAT is now a professional race driver in "MORE AMERICAN GRAFFITI," the sequel that shows the "American Graffiti" gang grown up. The Universal release opens... at the... Theatre.

RON HOWARD 'RELATES' TO "MORE AMERICAN GRAFFITI"

by Ron Howard

(Ron Howard, who stars as Steve Bolander in "American Graffiti" and its sequel "More American Graffiti," shared his thoughts on both films.)

When we were doing "American Graffiti," I didn't know too much about the fifties, and really 1962, at least as it was explained to us by George (Lucas, the director-co-writer), was supposed to represent the last year of that era of the fifties.

I was born in 1954, and so it was very interesting for me, but not something I could relate to with any nostalgia. The interesting thing about the character that I was playing was the fact that I had just graduated from high school. Working on "American Graffiti" was my first location on my own, and we were staying up all night because we were filming and I thought it was very exciting. I was getting that sense of liberation and, also, it was just before I was going to USC.

I was 18, which was the actual age of the character. I could also relate very strongly to Steve's problem in the film. My character had to decide whether or not to go away to college and leave behind his sweetheart Laurie (Cindy Williams).

Working with Cindy Williams is always a treat for me. She's a very creative actress and has a terrific sense of humor. She's a hard worker and I get along very well with her. I like to act with her. She makes it very easy for me because she's always got so many ideas. We have a good relationship where she makes a suggestion to me and if I don't like it, I'll say I don't think it works. We work out something else. It's nice to have that kind of rapport with some kind of trust backing it

The similarities between George and Bill (B.W.L. Norton, the director-writer of "More American Graffiti") are that both are extremely intelligent, sensitive filmmakers, and their strength seems to be as story-tellers, so that they're not just guys with tricky camera moves or guys who maybe are ex-actors who only know how to delve into relationships and don't know how to pace a film. These guys are filmmakers and they're looking at an overall project that they're trying to accomplish. I'm just glad that "Graffiti" wasn't immediately sold to television and forgotten. That's why it just makes "More American Graffiti" a bit special and it makes me that much more proud to have been in it.

RON HOWARD is caught up in a campus riot in the '60s - resulting in his arrest - in this scene from "MORE AMERICAN GRAFFITI," the sequel that demonstrates what happened to the original "American Graffiti" gang. The Universal release opens... at the... Theatre.

Equity board reacts to transport problem

The Equity Board of Directors recently ordered the purchase of 20 grain hopper cars in an attempt to meet head-on transportation problems now being faced by cooperatives throughout the country. The 20 cars, an expenditure of about $1 million, brings the Equity's fleet of grain hopper cars to 50 purchased this year.

"We want to get our product to market," said Equity board president Bill Gray. "And you can't solve transportation problems by building more elevators. We don't need more storage but we do need more rail cars. And we haven't been able to get enough cars for some time now."

Equity, like other cooperatives, has been short of box and hopper cars for the past couple of years. "The problem has been building up for years. Looking to the future, this is the only prospect we have at moving our farmers' grain."

"It's a good pile of money but we couldn't figure out any better way to do it," continued Gray. He pointed out that transportation by truck is much more expensive than is rail and that it is getting harder to get additional trucks all the time.

The current shortage of cars is coming, however, at a time when the railroads will probably be moving more grain than ever before. "But we are not on the railroad's priority list out here in the rural areas. They're predicting next year's exports will be even greater than this year," the board president added.

The new cars, approved by the 24-member board of directors, are expected to arrive in November from a Chicago firm. Simple mathematics show that 20 cars at a combined cost of $1 million breaks down to $50,000 per car.

The new hoppers will hold 3,300 bushels of grain. Equity general manager Kenneth Allen told the Herald that about one and a half trips can be made to the market place, Houston, a month. "That should be up to two or two and a half trips a month," he said.

With 50 cars, each carrying 3,300 bushels, the Equity would be able to move 165,000 bushels of grain each haul. If the railroad's are averaging one and a half trips a month, that would mean the new cars will average moving about 247,500 bushels a month. This is in addition to any cars the Equity will normally be receiving from the railroads. "We're not cutting our order for cars at all," Gray explained. "These new cars will be extra."

Allen seems to have a point on the turnaround time for cars. One and a half trips a month calculates down to 10 days each way from Perryton to Houston, and from Houston back to Perryton. Hopefully this turnaround will pick up as the railroads continue to improve efficiency.

"What we were looking at in the long range picture," Allen said, "was to take this approach or not move the grain. It is our responsibility to see that the grain gets to market."

Statewide Wheat Meet Set

Wheat producers from across the State of Texas, spurred by the largest harvest in history, but disquieted by USDA projections of "1.1 per cent increase in food prices but up to 20 percent decline farm income," will meet in Amarillo to ponder their plight and draft affirmative action. The session is set for Thursday, Nov. 29, with registration beginning at 9 a.m. at the Hilton Inn on Interstate 40-East, according to Otis Harman, Tulsa, farmer-elected President of the Texas Wheat Producers Association. It will be the organization's twenty-ninth annual meeting.

"Profile of the 80's" was chosen as the meeting theme, Harman said, because the start of a decade gives the opportunity to look backward to crop and organizational accomplishments as well as reason to look forward to new needs, challenges and opportunities. Wheat value to Texas producers experienced a leap from $70 million in 1970 to over $552 million in 1979. The success of the increase has brought new problems of storage, transportation, marketing strategy and profit squeeze as production costs soared also.

Keynote speaker for the Nov. 29 session will be Dr. W. Winfred Moore, Pastor, First Baptist Church, Amarillo who will deliver a 10 a.m. inspirational message, "Let's Don't Self-Destruct."

"Profile of World Wheat Markets for the 80's will be addressed by two of the wheat producers own leaders; the Eastern Hemisphere, by Dick Baum, President, Western Wheat Associates, Inc., Portland, Oregon who supervises U.S. Producers market development programs in Asia; and Mike Hall, President of Great Plains Wheat, Inc., Washington, D.C. who conducts similar activities in Latin America, Europe and the Middle East.

Don Riffe, Stratford, President of the National Grain & Feed Association will discuss "Profile of the Grain Industry for the 80's." Harman, the wheat association president said that, "In Texas the grain industry of receiving, handling, storing, transporting and merchandising grain was called upon in 1979 to handle over four and half times as much wheat for producers as it was at the beginning of the current decade in 1970. We are looking forward to Mr. Riffe's presentation because I know that the producer and the industry will rise or fall together in the 80's."

Winston Wilson, a Quanah, Texas wheat producer serving as President of the National Association of Wheat Growers, will discuss the "Profile of Wheat Production, Programs, and Politics for the 80's." Wilson has spent many days and weeks in Washington this year in his official capacity for wheat growers and is well attuned to the administrative and legislative forces that must be faced as producers attempt to pass or keep from passing legislation that may affect them in the months and years ahead.

Luncheon speaker will be Texas' own Commissioner of Agriculture, Reagan V. Brown who will view "Profile of Texas Agriculture for the 80's-Making Texas Number one." Brown, who won his state-wide elected post by the widest majority of any state elected official in history is a champion of farm exports, gasohol, farm product consumer information, and a strong administrator of grain warehouse and other regulatory laws charged to his department by the legislature.

Dr. John Goodwin, newly appointed Associate Administrator for the U.S. Department of Agriculture ASCS in Washington, D.C. will discuss "Profile of Current Administrative and Legislative Issues." Dr. Goodwin is a native Oklahoman and has served as Professor of Agricultural Economics at Oklahoma State University, as Deputy Commissioner of Agriculture and as Administrator of the Oklahoma ASCS program.

Mr. Ron Owens, Market Development Manager of Reuters, Inc., New York is expected to tell the wheat farmers that as for "Satellite Delivered Commodity Information," the 80's are here now. Reuter's will be supplying all day commodity information and market news pulled directly from satellites by an earth base station located at the conference. It is expected that the remote controlled multi satellite antenna will also be used to demonstrate other information, entertainment, and education capabilities. During the business session of the meeting wheat producers will adopt a series of resolutions to guide the Association's programs of the future and elect a slate of officers to implement the programs during the coming year.

All sessions are open to the public with no registration fee. Lunch will be available in the Garden Terrace at the convention hotel.

Services Held For Wreck Victim

Services were held at 2 p.m. Monday in Carmichael-Whitley Colonial Chapel in Pampa for Ricky Grant Winters Cook, 22, of Miami, who was killed about 11 a.m. Saturday when the pickup truck he was driving sideswiped a tractor-trailer rig about 25 miles north of Pampa on U.S. 70. Cook was thrown through the windshield of the car and struck the freightliner's trailer. He died of massive head injuries.

The Rev. Mike Sullivan, pastor of First Baptist Church in Miami, officiated with burial in Miami Cemetery.

Cook was born in Poplar, Mont. and moved to Miami eight years ago. He was a 1976 graduate of Miami High School and was a driller for Leonard-Hudson Drilling Company in Pampa. He married Cynthia Miller Oct. 25, 1977 in Miami.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Pamela Jean Winters of the home; a stepdaughter, Robbie Hummer of the home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Cook of Miami and Gail G. Beef Gift Certificates are made available through the Texas CowBelles all over the State and are redeemable anywhere in the United States. The Certificates may be purchased at the following 8 area banks: Higgins First National Bank, Follett National Bank, Darrouzett First National Bank,

First Bank & Trust Co., of Booker, First National Bank in Perryton, & Perryton National Bank, Spearman First State Bank, and Gruver State Bank.

"Beef Gift Certificates are a convenient and appreciated gift selection," says Kate Blau of Follett, Beef Gift Certificate Chairman of Calico CowBelles. "They can be mailed anywhere and redeemed there," she states. "We CowBelles suggest however, that unless you are sure the recipient has a freezer, to send the certificates in $10.00 or less amounts to make up the $50.00 gift that you send for example." Otherwise, the whole $50.00 would have to be bought at the same time. CowBelles are sure BEEF says it BEST for the holidays ahead and invite you into the area banks to purchase BEEF GIFT CERTIFICATES for those loyal employees, good friends hard to buy for, and those loved ones who love a steak!" says Calico CowBelle Kate.

Because there's no limit to their size, you can even fashion rugs. Motifs are also ideal for using up yarn
