Map Plans For Home Building Airmail Week Plan Advanced

Committee Leaders Named, Contest Is Announced

Looking toward a series of concerted programs in observance of national airmail week May 15-21, Postmaster Nat. Shick Thursday announced his local committees on the celebrations.

Shick, who previously had been named by Bruce Luna, Dallas, state chairman, as chairman of activities in the 19th congressional district, also has been designated as leader of the local groups for the week.

Other committee heads named were Howard Barrett, radio; W. C. Blankenship, education; Edmund Notestine, civic and fraternal; Ray Kimmons, business; airmail pick-up and schedules, Glenn Golden; and Newton Robinson and Joe Pickle, publicity.

Essay Contest

In addition to a round of speeches, announcements and other promotional activities, the celebration will feature an essay contest open to high school students with an airplane trip as a prize inducement.

Arrangements are being pushed for a schedule which would result in the gathering of airmail from over the district on May 16 by plane. Shick said after talking to Glenn Golden.

The two are seeking to map out a plan whereby the plane would stop at Colorado, Snyder, Lubbock, Plainview, Stanton, Midland, Odessa, Pecos, and possibly other points in this area to pick up mail. The postage would be flown here in time to make connections with the American Airlines eastbound ship.

W. T. Strange, Jr., local architect, is preparing a special cachet for the occasion, said Shick. He said that the cachet would carry out the idea of the city's slogan—'Big Spring, The Mainpring of West Texas.'

Hudson Landers, manager of the municipal airport, will be head of the contest.

Roosevelt Reasserts The Monroe Doctrine

In Address On Pan-American Day, Says Western Hemisphere Will Not Permit Any Aggression

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—President Roosevelt declared today the American nations would not permit peace in the Western Hemisphere "to be endangered from aggression coming from outside."

Speaking on Pan-American Day to the governing board of the Pan-American Union, the president reasserted in a few words the historic Monroe Doctrine—without naming it—and placed it on an inter-American basis. His speech was broadcast to all American republics.

Asserting that the 300,000,000 citizens of this hemisphere have the same material for controversy which exists elsewhere, he said:

"Yet, we have undertaken contractual obligations to solve these normal human differences by maintaining peace; and that peace we are firmly resolved to maintain."

"It shall not be endangered by controversies within our family; and we will not permit to be endangered from aggression coming from outside of our hemisphere."

The president added that this common objective "forms a lasting foundation for the maintenance of an international understanding unique in the world. Elsewhere, he said, there are 'tragedies whose shadows lie heavy on the world.'"

"The 21 American republics," Mr. Roosevelt continued, "present proudly to the rest of the world a demonstration that the rule of justice and law can be substituted for the rule of force; that resort to war as an instrument of policy is not necessary; that international differences of all kinds can be solved through peaceful negotiations; that the sanctity of the pledged word faithfully observed and generously interpreted offers a system of security with freedom."

Recalling that "all of us gained independence because our fathers were willing to sacrifice their lives and all they possessed for a great goal," he added that "some part of that duty to sacrifice rests also on us."

"We are vitally concerned," he said, "with preserving the high standards of international restraint and morality which the lesson of centuries has taught is the first requirement of peaceful relationships between nations."

CIO Will Be Set Up For Permanence

Decision Locks The Door On Reunion With The AFL

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The decision of the C.I.O. to form a permanent organization apparently locked the door today against any reunion with the American Federation of Labor.

The two embattled factions of organized labor, most observers agreed, will prepare for an intensified rivalry overshadowing all previous struggles.

John L. Lewis, who has guided the Committee for Industrial Organization since its inception in 1935, said his association would adopt a new name, but the initials "C.I.O." would be retained.

Leaders of the 39 affiliated unions voted yesterday to hold a constitutional convention, probably in September, at a place to be decided later.

Julius Hockman, representing the International Ladies Garment Workers—one of the largest C.I.O. units—did not vote, saying his union's executive board would have to decide whether to go along. The garment workers had hinted they might drop out of the C.I.O. if it abandoned efforts to make peace with the A. F. of L.

Lewis refused to reply to a reporter's question on peace prospects, declaring he knew of nothing "of less consequence" than the A. F. of L.

HELD UNDER BOND FOR THREAT NOTES

HOUSTON, April 14 (AP)—Unable to supply $10,000 bond, Lester R. Woodall, Brenham beer broker, today was sent to the Conroe, Tex., jail to await federal grand jury action on his admission he sent death threat extortion notes to two men.

Woodall pleaded guilty yesterday to sending notes to Fred Heinke, Brenham druggist, and J. E. Evans, Houston bottling company executive. Letters demanding $5,000 and threatening them with death were received by the pair.

RFC PLANS TO WORK WITH THE BANKS

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—RFC Chairman Jesse Jones, ready to lend $1,500,000,000 to business men and states and cities, asked the nation's bankers today to turn over to his corporation the loan applications they can not meet.

"The security put up by borrowers must be reasonable," he declared, "but naturally we expect to make loans which the banks consider slow, frozen or unliquid."

"In any case, we're already set about doing that and we're now working out a formula of cooperation with the banks."

In Deadlock On Tax Bill

Committeemen Can't Agree On FD's Recommendations

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—A committee of senators and representatives, disagreeing over recommendations of President Roosevelt, reached a temporary impasse today in its efforts to formulate a compromise tax bill.

The major argument was over the undistributed profits tax, approved by the house but rejected by the senate. Mr. Roosevelt asked the committee yesterday to retain the principle of that levy, as well as a graduated tax on capital gains.

Representative Treadway (R-Mass.) said an ultimate agreement by the conference committee "seems almost impossible as a result of the president's indication."

Representative Vinson (D-Ky.) on the other hand, said the definite position taken by the president had given supporters of the profits tax principle a powerful weapon.

POPE RESTS FOR EASTER SERVICES

VATICAN CITY, April 14 (AP)—Pope Pius, conserving his strength for the elaborate Easter ceremonies in St. Peter's, abandoned plans for participating in the Holy Thursday services.

Today's commemoration of the Last Supper was held with full solemnity in the Sistine chapel, however, in the presence of 24 cardinals and other prelates and diplomats accredited to the papal court.

PROPOSES 5 BILLION IN GOVT. SPENDING, CREDIT EXPANSION

Additional Appropriations, More Funds For Public Works, Widening Of Private Credit Suggested

FDR'S RADIO TALK AT 9:30

President Roosevelt tonight will follow up his congressional message on recovery with a "fireside chat" in which he will explain to the people the nature and reasons for his proposals. The broadcast is scheduled for 9:30, Central Standard time, over all major radio chains.

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—President Roosevelt proposed today a $7,000,000,000 recovery program, embracing $5,000,000,000 out of federal spending and lending and a $2,000,000,000 expansion of bank credit.

Setting forth to congress measures by which he said the government could "help to start an upward spiral" and summoning a "united national will" for a vigorous attack on the recession, Mr. Roosevelt told legislators who recently have dealt stunning defeats to major administration measures: "Our capacity is limited only by our ability to work together. What is needed is the will."

"The time has come to bring that will into action with every driving force at our command. And I am determined to do my share."

The president declared that the will to cooperate places "on all of us the duty of self-restraint" and that "there can be no dictatorship by an individual, or by a group in this nation save through division fostered by hate. Such division there must never be."

The chief executive reiterated in a message read to the house and senate, that "improvement in government and business practices must go hand in hand with recovery," adding:

"The western hemisphere the good neighbor policy has strengthened the American republics that a spiritual unity in our relations now prevails. Can that good neighbor message be accepted and practiced in our national life?"

All the energies of government and business must be directed to increasing the national income; to putting more people into private jobs; to giving security and the feeling of security to all people in all walks of life.

I believe that improvement in government and business practices must go hand in hand with recovery—that they should be, and will be, a definite aid to recovery.

Our immediate task is to consolidate and maintain the gains achieved.

We must start again on a long steady upward incline in national income.

Our capacity is limited only by our ability to work together. What is needed is the will.

Program should be limited to $3,000,000,000 and that loans or grants should not be made on projects which cannot be started within six months after legislation is enacted and completed within a year and a half.

The president proposed that PWA advances should be put into operation form. Either the existing method or a 45 per cent grant and 55 per cent loan or a loan of the whole sum with the federal government assuming the interest payment.

Mr. Roosevelt said there still were improvements in government and business practices which would be "a definite aid to recovery."

"While I do not wish in this message to over-emphasize some of the needs," the president said, "I do want to say that I believe that we must be definitely aware of certain of them—the elimination of future tax exempt bonds of all kinds of government agencies; the subjecting of government salaries and wages of all kinds to federal and state income taxes; a serious undertaking to solve the railroad problem and the problem of monopolistic practices and price fixing. x x x

Must Maintain Gains

"The never-ceasing evolution of human society will doubtless bring forth new problems which will require new adjustments. Our immediate task is to consolidate and maintain the gains achieved."

"In this situation there is no reason and no occasion for any American to allow his fears to be aroused or his energy and enterprise to be paralyzed by doubt or uncertainty."

"Our situation is vastly different from that which we faced five years ago. Let us use the tools already forged and laid out on the bench, x x x The problem calls for immediate action both by the government and by the people. x x x

"Let every business man set out to use his strength of mind and heart and his confidence in his fellow man and his country. Let every labor leader find new new work can be stopped but that it can be made to proceed smoothly, continuously and fairly. Let every public official consider that his task is to use his authority so that the service he renders is adapted to curbing abuses and helping business."

The great flush field, which since Sept. 8, 1930, has produced 1,223,063,303 barrels of legal oil, had a potential daily producing total of 15,081,597 barrels and an allowable of 9,020,000 barrels.

On the world's largest known petroleum reserves were 128,290 productive acres, including a small gas est effort. Let every one of us work together to move the life of the nation forward.

Depression Causes

Discussing causes of the depression, which many administration backers have blamed upon the White House, Mr. Roosevelt said efforts of the government to stimulate business were "so well recognized" at the end of 1936 that "both the business community and the government felt that a large measure of the government's spending activities could be materially reduced."

"But the very vigor of the recovery," the president continued, "in both durable and consumer goods brought into the picture early in 1937 certain highly undesirable practices which were in large part responsible for the economic decline which began in the later months of that year."

"There were many reasons for this over-production. One was fear—fear of war abroad, fear of inflation, fear of nation-wide strikes. None of these fears have been borne out. There were other causes of over-production and these causes affected the country."

The chief executive listed these measures as the farm adjustment act, the tax-loophole law, wage and hour legislation, which was never enacted and a tax bill "to remove inequities from the undistributed profits tax." This legislation now is in conference between the senate and the house.

China

nese population they have to keep in hand, the greater the difficulties of the invaders. The difficulty is that while the Nipponese have been "overrunning" territory, they haven't been "conquering" all of it. That is to say, they have been encountering heavy resistance, both passive and active, on the part of the Chinese civilians. Now the Japanese thus far have bitten off territory which houses more than two hundred million people—say close to twice the population of the United States. A mere refusal on the part of the Chinese to cooperate, not to mention active resistance, creates a grave and far reaching problem for the invaders.

The real sensation, however, is the increasing strength and activity of the Chinese armies, under the dictatorship of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. Everywhere along the line of advance the Japanese have been encountering both rough and ready guerrilla warfare and attacks employing European military tactics.

Latest reports state that the Chinese have brought the Japanese advance to a halt on the important central front of Shantung. The Japanese are rushing reinforcements to this area and a major conflict is in prospect. If the Japanese win here, and history repeats itself, the Chinese will simply withdraw and be ready to fight another day.

PLEADS GUILTY TO SENDING EXTORTION NOTE TO FORDS

DETROIT, April 14 (AP)—Wesley Earl Gray, 22, pleaded guilty in federal court today to a charge of sending an extortion note to Henry and Edsel Ford last Nov. 8, demanding $10,000.

Judge Edward J. Molner referred his case, without bond, to Richard F. Doyle, federal probation officer, for complete investigation. Gray said that after his extortion attempt failed he went to Cincinnati and finally hitch-hiked to Texas, where he surrendered on March 25 to the sheriff in San Antonio.

He explained that about 10 years ago in St. Louis he was injured while working for a construction company and settled for $2,000 damages. "Too much money ruined me, I guess," he said.

British Banks May Offer Loans To Chinese Govt.

LONDON, April 14 (AP)—The government "has under consideration" recommendations to British banks that they grant long term loans to the Chinese government, the house of commons was informed today.

Dr. Sun Fo, China's ambassador-at-large, who came to Europe to seek financial help for China in her war against Japan, has been in London the last two weeks urging British loans.

D. J. Colville, financial secretary to the treasury, told commons that if British banks approached the government for permission to lend to China such requests would be "sympathetically considered."

He added that the chancellor of the exchequer was considering action to "encourage" the granting of loans.

Financial aid to China was recommended by a resolution of the league of nations assembly Oct. 5, 1937.

Dr. Sun, whose father, Sun Yat Sen, was considered founder of the Chinese republic, recently assured a private meeting of members of parliament that China was confident of defeating Japan.

Only Quota On Mexican Silver Is Abandoned

Metal Still Can Be Offered For Sale In U. S.

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau said today that the treasury had not barred Mexican silver from sale in this country.

Clarifying for the first time his announcement of a few weeks ago that the treasury was suspending its arrangements for purchase of 5,000,000 ounces of silver monthly from Mexico, Morgenthau said Mexico can still offer its silver for sale to the United States treasury on the New York silver market. "We buy all silver offered to us on the New York market at the price fixed each day," the secretary said. "That has always been our policy and we have no change in mind."

In effect, the only change made by the suspension of the Mexican silver agreement, he explained, was to eliminate the 5,000,000 ounce quota which gave Mexico advance assurance of how much silver it could sell the United States treasury each month.

For more than two years the treasury fixed the price of silver at 45 cents per ounce on the New York market but after suspension of the Mexican agreement the price was cut to 42 cents per ounce. Morgenthau declined, however, to say whether any Mexican silver had been sold to the treasury under present conditions.

FORMER SENATOR TAKEN BY DEATH

NACOGDOCHES, April 14 (AP)—Former State Senator W. E. Thomason, 66, died in a hospital here last night after an illness of several months.

Thomason, who resigned the post-mastership here earlier this year, had served in the Texas house of representatives during the 35th, 36th and 37th legislative sessions and in the senate from 1920 to 1932.

Funeral services were to be held this afternoon. The good neighbor act was being performed on a community-wide basis Thursday, as friends in the Fairview community of Mrs. J. G. Hammack gave their time and equipment to working her fields.

Mrs. Hammack's husband, well-known resident of the Fairview community, died last week. Neighbors put in a half-day knitting the Hammack cotton lands. There were seven tractors and four teams at work on the place during the morning.

Would Get Federal Aid For State Buildings

AUSTIN, April 14 (AP)—Governor James V. Alfred said today he would recommend to the next legislature creation of an authority to borrow money from the federal government and erect an office building and a courts building on Capitol grounds.

It has been estimated the former would cost approximately $1,000,000 and the latter $500,000. "I don't see why this cannot be done and the state reap great benefit," Governor Alfred said. "The government long ago outgrew its present quarters and is paying rent for space in privately owned buildings."

READING AND WRITING

"WHAT PEOPLE SAID," by W. J. White; (Viking; 32.75). William Allen White, who has made the Emporia, Kas., Gazette one of the most quoted and best-known small daily papers in the world, has a son. The son's name is W. L. White, but everybody knows him as Bill.

Bill White has lived the life you might expect the son of William Allen White to live. He has seen a good deal of the world, has decided not to take over his father's paper, apparently. He is now on the staff of Fortune, and he has employed himself otherwise at writing a novel called "What People Said."

He says on the proper page that he has not "attempted or intended a portrait of any actual person, living or dead." This is, perhaps, true in a literal sense, but it is an evasion. For Young Bill has not missed Emporia into the book in rather a nice way. Not excepting his parents and himself.

The book is written around a financial scandal. Emporia (and all of Kansas) had a scandal extraordinarily like it not long ago. The author shows not only the scandal and the results it had, but how it could have happened. The reader comes to know the man responsible almost too well—the book's only serious fault is its inordinate length. There are 614 pages when 300 would have been quite enough.

The lines of character are drawn surely, however, and that is odd enough truth in the case of Young Bill himself, called Junior in the book. Not unexpectedly, Junior's father is the least clear of any principal character; there are literally dozens of small parts which have a more ponderable impact, if a shorter life. But the theme of the book, which is to demonstrate the course and effect of a fault in a given social stratum, is sharply and clearly managed except when it is lost in a fog of words. It must be added that these words are superfluous, but not in the Woolfian sense. Wolfe writes too many words about too few actions; White includes too many small thoughts and actions, and too many characters.

This is obviously a book that has been boiling in Young Bill's mind since the Emporia bond scandal. It is out, now, and a good job. One wonders how Emporia will take it.

Chattergrams

By Jeane Suits

Gene Howe, Tacless Texan of the Amarillo News, made mothers-in-law an object of praise instead of puns, and the electric refrigerator eliminated the icemen jokes, but nothing has been done about those stale back seat driver jokes. It wouldn't be a bad idea to round up all back seat drivers and hold a convention similar to the mother-in-law day, advertising the good they have done for humanity.

No doubt many an accident was avoided this past year because of the unappreciative warnings issued by non-drivers. Instead of being called Public Enemy No. 1 by the average driver, it might be well to label them No. 1 Public Preservers because in many instances they have preserved public property and, yes, even the public itself.

"Advice is cheap" as the saying goes and the back seat driver gets more of this stuff than he can utilize. But no matter how it is dishied out, it always amounts to the same abruptness, "Shut Up." If anxious advisers would follow a few of their own suggestions, everybody would be happier—that is everybody but the mortician and automobile dealer.

Your feet in relation to the floor has something to do with thought. Men sitting with their feet stop a desk smoking black cigars are not thinking as generally believed—they're in a state of reminiscence—probably patting themselves on the back for making a super sale or remembering with a smirk how cleverly they passed the buck. You've got to bring your feet down to the ground to get any constructive work accomplished.

The life of a baldheaded man looks pretty bare to me. Besides being harassed and hounded by hair restorers, even his best friends deny him any peace. If he places the straggling sprigs on one side, the other side is bare and vice versa. Then if he brushes it down the middle, some observant soul will pipe, "You didn't part your hair today." And the man with a toupee is even more unhappy. If he isn't worried about whether it is on straight, he is wondering if it is on at all. But in spite of all that has been said, there isn't anyone who likes a baldheaded man better than I do—except maybe the fly.

Smaller Wheat Crop In Texas Forecast

AUSTIN, April 14 (AP)—A 1938 Texas wheat crop of 39,862,000 bushels, compared with 41,984,000 last year, was forecast today by the U. S. bureau of agricultural economics here. The bureau said, however, no estimate of damage resulting from low temperatures and winds since April 1 had been made. It reported damage was more apparent in the area immediately east of the caprock where a large portion of the crop was headed or in boot. Some of the headed wheat was blown over by high winds which accompanied a drop in temperature April 7, 8 and 9. Other April 1 conditions: Irish potatoes, 75 per cent of normal compared with 73 a year ago. Peaches, 68 per cent compared with 54. Farm pastures, 84 per cent compared with 68. Citrus, indicated production of 11,000,000 boxes of grapefruit and 1,900,000 of oranges.

Girl Plunges 12 Stories To Death

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—The 12-story death plunge of Norma De Marco, injured heroine of a Greenwich Village night club holdup two days ago, was termed by Police Inspector Michel F. McDermott today as "unavoidable by a suicide." The attractive 22-year-old woman, clad only in a brassiere, fell to her death last night from the apartment of a friend, Miss Dorothy LaMarr, hatcheck girl at the Howdy club. Miss De Marco, a patron at the club when it was held up early Tuesday morning, attempted to aid police. She kicked away a gun dropped by one of the three bandits, grabbed at another weapon and was struck heavily over the head in return. Lieutenant Thomas Martin said Miss LaMarr told him that after the two, accompanied by escorts, returned to her apartment following visits to several drinking resorts, the girl shouted: "My eyes are bulging out. I'm losing my mind. I'm going to jump out a window."

THE SPORTS PARADE

By HANK HART

To the Lone Star Chevrolet, of which Cliff Wiley is the head, went the distinction of paying the greatest price for a sign for the Big Spring baseball club's park fence and that one sale alone caused Jack Hutcherson, who has had a world of worries so far, to see the brighter side of a few things.

Cliff and company paid out 225 iron men for the privilege of daubing the barrier.

Hutch and his aides, Mileway Baker and Pepper Martin, also disposed of a 20-foot sign in their rooms Wednesday and are swinging out today to clean up around the edges. If the committee can get contracts for those that have been promised the wall, from foul line to foul line, will be practically covered.

The trip of Hutcherson and Taylor Anderson, which carried them into Dallas and as far as Shreveport, La., was fruitless. Hutch left to contact several prospective ball players, but the president didn't collide into any attractive material down there. He's apparently satisfied, however, with the ivory in training here and is of the opinion that the team can't be improved on when his 1933 prospects from California arrive on the scene, said arrival set for the first part of next week.

It seems very likely at the present time that all of the track and field records written into the District Five books will remain there after Saturday for the class of material that will compete in Sweetwater is not up to standard.

A mark hasn't been established there since 1935 and five of the records have been stymied since the 30's.

Most likely record smasher at the present time appears to be A. D. Henson of Roby who copped honors in the high hurdles last year. Ahlens is returning three relay veterans along with a newcomer but he ace, J. D. Tidwell, has completed his eligibility.

A couple of football stars, James Egan and R. H. Hughes, and Jack Dooner will run with Willie Phillips to try to break an Eagle mark established by Cogdell, Wyatt, Green and Baldwin in 1933. The Var Birds' mark that year was 5:28 minutes.

Bedford McLinton of Snyder still holds the low hurdles mark he established in 1934. Bedford covered the 230-yards in 25.3 seconds. Wade of Rotan was another fish that season, setting up a 125 feet, 6 inch discus toss for a new all-time high.

The other marks are old, too. The 230-yard and 440-yard dash records were hung up way back in 1923 while the shot put standard has warded off all efforts for a renewal for 10 years. Parker's Stevens holds both the dash marks, running a 22.4 second 230-yards and a 32.4 seconds quarter mile.

Colorado's Stagner covered the half mile in 2:44 in 1934 to get a tie hold on one record while broad jump and high marks were established by Stevens, Ahlens, and Egan, respectively. Stevens, competing in the 1924 games, leaped 20 feet, 8 inches for a new mark while Porter high jumped six feet, six inch in 1933 for an all time high.

Big Spring's share of the records, of course, looks safe. There doesn't appear to be a man active in this sector who could better Buren Edwards' 28.7 seconds high hurdles mark, Cy Reida's 2:15 mile standard, or Lillian Morris' 170 feet, 6 inch javelin toss. Red Womack, who will represent Big Spring as a mile runner, has had reservations about it. He has difficulty in covering the laps in less than five minutes.

Yanks To Start Without DiMag

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14 (AP)—The New York Yankees will have to battle the Boston Red Sox as they can without Joe DiMaggio in the American League baseball opener Monday. Joe still wants more than the offered $25,000 for his third season in the majors.

DiMaggio decides to travel by airplane, which he has said he would not do, he will miss the initial big league firing at Boston. Last night was his last chance to leave by train and get there in time.

Tex Carleton Or Clay Bryant To Work With Harnett In Opener

CHICAGO, April 14 (AP)—This town welcomes home tomorrow its favorite baseball son, Charles Leo (Hobby) Harnett.

The Chicago Cubs and White Sox will clash in the first of a three-game city series dual as a final warmup for the opening of their major league races, and old Gabby will be at his usual stand behind the plate, contrary reports notwithstanding.

They're now trying to count back out of active player picture for six years and each season he comes back—to the delight of thousands of admirers. He's starting his 37th season in the majors, all with the Cubs, and is ready to fight his self-appointed task of another season's work of 130 or more games as the Cubs' regular catcher.

DISTRICT TRACK AND FIELD MEETS ARE SPOTLIGHTED

WOODROW WILSON AGAIN FAVORED

400 Athletes Will Qualify For Regional; Lonnie Hill Missing

By The Associated Press
Twenty-four districts hold track and field eliminations Thursday, Friday and Saturday to pave the way for regional meets on eight points next week-end.

From the regional competition will come approximately 400 athletes who will compete for state honors at Austin May 6 and 7.

MORE MORE
The defending Class A champions—Woodrow Wilson of Dallas—ruled favorites in the District 11 meet at Dallas, Dallas, Grayson, Collin, Rockwall, Kaufman and Ellis counties sent participants to the meet.

Woodrow Wilson has a well-balanced squad but not another Lonnie Hill, who last season won the state meet almost single-handed. Hill is now at Schreiner Institute.

Eight meets have already been held. In District 13, held at Commerce, Campbell came through with first place; District 14, held at Texarkana; went to Texarkana; District 15, at Tyler, to Grand Prairie; District 16, at Livingston, to Conroe; District 17, at Houston, to John Reagan (Houston); District 18, at Port Arthur, to Port Arthur; District 19, at Robstown, to Corpus Christi; District 20 at Laredo, to Pflug.

District meets as follows are scheduled for Saturday unless otherwise specified:
District 1, at Canyon; District 2, at Pampa; District 3, at Lubbock; District 4, at Childress; District 5, at Sweetwater; District 6, at Breckenridge; District 7, at San Angelo; District 8, at Brownwood; District 9, at Wichita Falls; District 10, at Fort Worth; District 11, at Waco; District 12, at Nacogdoches (also Friday); District 13, at Bryan (Friday); District 14, at Pearland; District 15, at San Antonio; District 16, at Georgetown; District 17, at La Grange; District 18, at Victoria; District 19, at San Benito; District 20, at El Paso; District 21, at Fort Stockton (also Friday); District 22, at Midland (also Friday); District 23, at Van Horn.

H. Moody To Hit Comeback Trail Again

Former Champ Of Net World Intent On Regaining Laurels

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14 (AP)—Mrs. Helen Willis Moody, who made tennis history in 1935 with a comeback for her seventh Wimbledon title, packed her favorite rackets today to battle for an eighth English championship.

Mrs. Moody, who at 31 is playing what coaches declare is her best game, had reservations this afternoon on a train for New York. She will sail April 20 for England.

The lure of the All-English championships, virtually a symbol of the world's title, proved irresistible for Mrs. Moody, who in 1935 announced she was retiring from all tournaments except those which fitted in with her work as a fashion designer.

Until this year she played only in California tournaments, but several weeks ago she began intensive training for another big time campaign that may pit her against Helen Jacobs, loser in the famous 1935 Wimbledon final.

In 1935, Mrs. Moody and Miss Jacobs, long keen tennis rivals, met in the final of the national championships at Forest Hills, L. I. Trailing in the deciding set, Mrs. Moody was forced to default by a back injury.

Doctors expressed doubt that she could play again, but the back healed and after two years' absence from tournaments, she beat Miss Jacobs at Wimbledon in 1935 after trailing 2-5 in the deciding set.

"My back seems as good as ever," said Mrs. Moody yesterday as she finished an exhaustive match with Gerald Stratford, former California champion and one of her training opponents.

A strong wind, whipping across the California tennis club courts, failed to slow Mrs. Moody's hard driving game, but she lamented "I was awful."

The chamber of deputies gave a vote of confidence to the president, while the senate, after several sessions had attacked the British proposal, adopted a resolution expressing "surprise" at Britain's attitude.

CATS, INDIANS, EXPORTERS AND BUFFALOES VICTORS

By The Associated Press
Fort Worth, Oklahoma City, Beaumont and San Antonio took the opening games in the Texas baseball league yesterday when some 20,000 fans turned out to launch the league's golden jubilee season.

Shreveport, back in the league after a six-year recess, went down in defeat on the home grounds, yielding to Beaumont, 6-4. Shreveport had a four-run lead in the third inning, but the visiting Shippers rallied in the fourth and fifth, sending Curt Fullerton to the showers in the fifth. "Mac" Fleming, Beaumont first baseman, hit a triple, a double and a single to drive in three runs and he scored two. Parsons of Beaumont topped off the ninth with a homer.

At Fort Worth the Cats turned back the Dallas Steers 3-1 behind the pitching of Jackie Reid. Reid fanned six men, hit a little, and gave up four hits, fanned three runs, in the first inning. He and Lancaster, who pitched the last two innings, allowed only one hit each after Reid's bad start. Dallas nicked Reid for 10 hits, mostly singles.

The Oklahoma City Indians nipped a ninth-inning Tulsa rally to defeat the visiting Oilers 5-3. With the Indians holding a 3-3 advantage in the ninth, Jack Mesley, Tulsa catcher, hit a two-bagger, starting a rally that accounted for two runs. Indian hurler Brillheart then forced three high popouts.

Houston defeated the San Antonio Missions 3-0 on the Missions diamond. John Grodzicki, Houston hurler, allowed only three hits and fanned six men while Jack Kramer, Mission rookie, gave up seven blows and fanned eight men.

The clubs performed on the same grounds today, Beaumont-Shreveport in a daylight game, the others under the lights.

Mustangs Play Texas, Baylor

Southwest Battles Also Feature TCU And A. And M.

By The Associated Press
Even up at a 500 percentage after six games, Southern Methodist's Mustangs start out Thursday and Friday to gain a notch on the two Southwest conference leaders, University of Texas and Baylor.

Sophomore J. C. Wofford, ace of the Methodist hurling corps, will start against Uncle Billy Disch's leading Texas Longhorns at Austin Thursday. The Steers probably will rely on Garnett, who has won two of the Longhorns' three victories.

Friday the Methodists move back to Waco, where Bill Dewell is expected to face Baylor's Mike Ducey. Baylor, with three won and one lost, is a breath behind Texas.

Texas Christian, wallowing at the bottom with no wins and three losses, faces a three-game weekend schedule. On Thursday and Friday they meet the Texas Aggies, defending champions, at College Station. Saturday they move on to Houston for a date with Rice, winner of one and loser of four.

Three Baylor sluggers are topping the circuit's regular players in the hit averages. Hightower, outfielder, has an even 500 percentage, while Ferguson, shortstop, with .428, and Patterson, outfielder, with .429, are trailing.

Texas is tops, currently, in club batting and fielding, with Baylor just behind in each department.

GREENLEAF TO APPEAR HERE

The world's pocket billiards champion, Ralph Greenleaf, who has won that distinction 18 times since he took up the game years ago, will appear here for two exhibitions on his way to Hollywood, Calif., where he is booked to exhibit his wares before the camera.

Accompanying the talented champion will be Joe McCann, veteran top fighter, who played championship billiards as late as 1930.

Scene of operations will be the Myers Billiard Parlor, Third and Main, the hours 3 p. m. and 9 p. m. Admission price has been set at 40 cents.

Greenleaf comes here from San Antonio and will appear in Midland, Odessa and Monahan before leaving Texas.

Barnabe Cuts Two Rookies From Squad

Crew Moves Back Home For Remainder Of Workouts

Rookies Reese and Sparks were cut away from the Big Spring baseball squad by Manager Charles Barnabe in Wednesday's extensive drill on the Foran diamond as the leader sought to separate the chaff from the wheat.

High winds which swept across the Copoco field, proved very discouraging to the youngsters and Barnabe elected to return to Big Spring and the Austin street diamond for the remainder of the workouts until they can move into their own park at West Fifth and San Antonio streets.

Barney included batting practice in his drills for the first time Wednesday, sending each of the 25 boys that were on hand to tee off for three different rounds.

Tylo Throw In
Marv Keller, veteran of last year's Monahan crew; Sammy Timmons, a rookie from Stanton; and Barnabe took the slab for hitting practice. Frank Jacot, only southpaw on the team, was standing by for duty today.

A noteworthy event took place with the return of Jack Hutcherson, club president, Wednesday morning when it was announced that Clarence "Fawcett" Trantham had signed to return to the locals again. Trantham had first balked at the figures offered but came out smiling after a conference with Hutch. Trantham, who is counted upon to win 30 games this season, did not take his turn on the hill Wednesday but was due to see plenty of action today.

Although an opponent has not yet been named it is probable that the Barons will romp into action for the first time Sunday afternoon, probably on a foreign diamond. Several of the members are craving action and Barnabe intends to pit them against actual competition as much as possible before the regular season opens.

RE-INDICTMENT OF TWO SOUGHT IN SLAYING CASE

KERRVILLE, April 14 (AP)—District Attorney Carlos Ashley of Menard said he would seek the re-indictment of H. B. Opp and L. E. Trimble whose counsel yesterday obtained an order to quash a slaying indictment returned four years ago.

Opp and Trimble had been accused in connection with the slaying of W. R. Tomlinson, Menard rancher.

Judge Max T. Rodgers of Huntsville ruled in favor of the motion to quash. The motion, in which the state's attorney concurred, stated the indictment was void because it was returned at a special session of court called under an order which did not specify when the term was to end.

Laughlin doesn't mind that most of his classmates in the ninth grade answer roll call in a mixture of treble and bass. The children don't mind either.

"I probably know more about these kids' troubles than Mr. Summers, the principal," says Laughlin. And Guy Summers says his oldest pupil is more of a teacher than a student.

"He takes the children to athletic contests," the principal explains. "Besides, he's a good physical instructor."

Laughlin sits behind Etta Marie, his oldest daughter, whose straight "A" average makes her a strong candidate for class valedictorian. Laughlin is a "B" student.

Easter Ham Selection Important As Selection Of Easter Bonnet

By MARTHA LOGAN

Selection of the Easter ham is quite as important, though far less difficult, than selection of the Easter bonnet. Just as milady peeps into the crown to reassure herself by reading the brand names of the famous stylist, so too the wise shopper looks carefully at the wrapper on the ham to reassure herself of the quality and type as shown by the brand name of the ham.

In many families, Easter breakfast is a sociable meal where family and friends gather after the sunrise service, or before the noon service to enjoy in leisure this day of so much meaning to the Christian world.

No Easter breakfast would be complete without eggs and most families have a traditional way of serving them. The soft boiled egg probably ranks first, though some prefer them scrambled, fried, or poached. And, of course, we serve ham—thick, juicy slices of tender ham, crisply browned on the outside and full of the true ham flavor. Because the modern ham cooks in one-fourth less time, one-half inch slices may be broiled or pan fried in about 15 minutes. To retain all the rich flavor, broil the ham slowly. Have the broiling oven very hot. Then place the broiler rack so that the surface of the ham is about three inches from the heating unit. When one side is well browned, turn the ham and brown well on the other side. And be sure to save the juices to serve with the waffles or griddle cakes.

If instead of a hearty morning breakfast, an early dinner is planned, a whole ham may be placed in the oven before going to church. With the oven regulated at slow or 325 degrees F. without fuss or worry, the ham will be baked in about three hours, because a 12-pound improved ham nowadays bakes in just 15 minutes per pound. So what could be a finer or wiser choice for the piece de resistance of the Easter dinner?

Another suggestion for those who plan a small supper party for the Easter day is a thick slice of baked ham. In preparing a two-inch slice, cover the surface with brown sugar, stud with a few cloves and pour around the ham a small amount of milk or half water and half orange or pineapple juice. Cover and bake in a slow oven (325 degree F.) allowing 22 minutes per pound. Some may prefer two one-inch slices put together sandwich fashion with crushed pineapple, currant jelly or orange marmalade. About 15 minutes before serving, uncover, baste well with the juices and let the glaze brown. Of course, if slices of the new ready-to-serve ham are used, the baking time should be just long enough to heat the slices. Whatever the meal, whatever the number of guests, there's a ham suggestion that's sure to be just right. 'Tis Easter time and the great American family chooses ham—an American ham cooked in the American manner.

Report From Car Followed Another

Massachusetts Travelers Offer New Clue In Case

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., April 14 (AP)—Statements indicating Mrs. Weston G. Frome of Berkeley, Calif., and her daughter, Nancy, 23, were pursued across Texas by a short, round-faced man in a black coat before they were slain about March 30, today sped westward to Texas investigators by airmail.

District Attorney Hugh A. Cregg said he had forwarded statements from Mrs. Hester Worcester and her son, Chauncy Worcester, 30, both of Newburyport, who said they saw the Frome car and another following closely. The Worcesteres were east-bound after spending the winter at Phoenix, Ariz.

Cregg said the statements were requested by Sheriff A. A. Anderson of Van Horn, Tex., to whom the Worcesteres wrote when they discovered through newspaper pictures that the women motorists they saw were Mrs. Frome and her daughter.

Worcester said he saw the Fromes' car parked at the roadside between El Paso and Sierra Blanca on the morning of March 30, with the black car behind it showing Texas plates. Later he said the light sedan passed him "at a very fast rate of speed" with the black car "directly behind it and obviously following it."

Worcester said he later repassed the two cars and was passed in turn as he drove toward Dallas. Finally, he said, the sedan swung off route 290 to route 80 and headed toward Balcones. "The Frome car was found in that vicinity."

"When the car passed us the second time," Worcester said, "the girl seemed to be sitting on the edge of the driver's seat and seemed very excited."

DENY INCREASE IN PASSENGER FARES

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The interstate commerce commission denied today an application by the eastern railroads for permission to increase passenger coach fares from two to two and a half cents a mile.

The commission in its order said it found the proposed increase not justified.

Railroads had estimated the half cent increase would have added $30,000,000 to their revenues.

COTTON CONSUMPTION
 WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The census bureau reported today cotton consumed during March totaled 810,941 bales of lint and 60,443 of linters, compared with 427,328 of lint and 47,885 of linters during February this year, and 776,942 of lint and 75,961 of linters during March last year.

When he asked for it a year ago Mr. Roosevelt could have had this bill. But after asking for it in January...

Since the reorganization bill was killed not because there was objection to its substance but only because there was so much discontent...

The senate has made a good beginning with the tax bill. For while the bill could easily be much better...

But that is not all. The men who now represent the working majority in the congress should use their power to obtain other concessions.

It should not, however, be necessary to force a president to yield on these points. If he respects the spirit of representative government...

And this will mean that the style and purpose of his administration must henceforth be different from what they have been, that from now on he does not dominate the nation but must conciliate men who do not follow him blindly...

Man About Manhattan

by GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Back in the days of David Belasco on Broadway there existed an almost wholly invariable rule that a man must stick to the job he chose and not invade other fields.

The Mercury theatre, a successful repertory group, has for its director, young Orson Welles who also doubles into one of the leading roles of "Julius Caesar."

Eddie Dowling, for years an outstanding singer and dancer man in Broadway's musicals, is now one of the leading producers. He it was who presented the hit, "Shadow and Substance" and next season he is planning to be impresario of a one-act play theatre.

The problems of a successful author aren't all confined to meeting deadlines or worrying over split infinitives. There is Arthur Train, for instance, who writes the Tut and Mr. Tut stories.

Prof. Eddie Cantor lectured at a Columbia university course in radio writing.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

by ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Have you a little "cycle" in your mind—the kind that Hollywood might now give its eye teeth for?

For the first time in years, the town is drifting into that most uncomfortable state of being "cyclesless." It's practically crying out loud for a major trend in production. It needs a new merry-go-round to ride, a different bandwagon to hop upon, a new leader in the game of following — the leader.

There is always, of course, the first and longest-lived of the "cycles." That's the movie western. It has gone on through the years from movie infancy, now and again given glorified treatment which results in a "Covered Wagon," a "Big Trail" or a "Wells Fargo."

Gangster Cycle: Hollywood would be happy if it had a "cycle" just one-half as profitable as the one set in motion by "The Dornay to Hell" and "Public Enemy" seven years ago.

Musicals? They're always with us, but they're not going to be with us in such numbers as they were. They had a brief flurry in the early twenties, suddenly became as popular as plague, and revived only with "42nd Street." Now Zanuck has spoken: he's going to make only the big-star spectacle, the Sonja Henie, Rita Brox, Shirley Temple, Cantor numbers. Musicals just for music and dancing are out. Jack Warner also has spoken: he's going to keep on making them, and making them good.

George Abbott, who used to be one of the town's best actors, now skips from playwrighting to directing to producing, and all with equally high facility. "Room Service" and "Brother Rat," two current and delightful hits, were both produced and staged by him.

So it looks as if the producers will have to go ahead and make pictures without a box-office model to show the way. Out of these, of course, will come the next "cycle." Just one picture that rings the bell will turn the trick.

JUDITH

Chapter 27 THE WORLD STANDS STILL: It surprised Judith that she missed Reuben so. They hadn't been very congenial. When he had no work she found him terribly in a way...

"It's funny what marriage—even a loveless marriage—does to one," Judith thought, but she had not much time to philosophize over it.

When he had been working almost a month, Reuben sent $50 and wrote: "The Government has a camp at the forest's edge, adjoining Gabreath's lay-out with their people managing things. A few cabins built, but nearly every one lives in tents. They have raised wooden platforms and outside grills. Pack up the kids and be ready to ride back on the supply bus which leaves Pitts Junction every Saturday about daylight."

Her fingers closed over the card enclosed in Reuben's letter. "Camp Number 2 Site 18" she read it over and over. From the thrill she got it might have been the deed to a mansion on one of the world's greatest boulevards. Her camp site! And she had $50 with her to get there! If she could squeeze out some for Clasy—

Fiercely she pushed the memory of her indebtedness behind her. She'd spend it all—every cent—just to be cool once more. Just to take her children away from dust, flies, heat!

Clothes to be washed, house to be put in order. Dishes and pans to be packed—take a dance frock or two along—seem funny to wear an evening dress again. Take riding clothes, too—maybe some day she could hire a horse.

It was not quite five o'clock when Judith kissed her next door neighbor, gratefully, with the twins tied securely to the back seat and with bundles, baskets, protruding on all sides, trundled the rattle old car down Casper street.

She wondered what Gran and Jim would say if they could see her. Hard to believe that she was blood-him to people who lived leisurely, graciously at a place called Goodloe's Choice.

On the way again. Gradually the ground began to rise—up, up, up. The old car panted protestingly. Above it exhaust was faint tailing odor of pine. Passing tourists waved goodnaturedly as they whizzed past: "We'll tell 'em you're on the way, sister!"

At Pike's store Judith found three had been a misunderstanding about her tent.

"When you didn't get in on the bus I thought you weren't coming 'til next week," Mrs. Oliver said didn't hurry none. "Mike explained we've been so busy today with visitors and the dance tonight, but I'll have your place shipshape before dark—"

Before dark—before the end of time? It was all the same to Judith. She couldn't walk another step. Her knees trembled. He had ached from lack of sleep an from driving long hours facing the sun. She asked for a glass of water Gulped it down. Feeling it she walked slowly back to give the twins a drink just as two horsemen drew rein near her car. One was fat heavy-jawed man with little pig eyes. Judith noticed that people stopped their chatter to speak to him respectfully.

"Galbreath," she wondered, glanced at the second rider. "The world stopped revolving," she trembled. Cold water splashed over the edge of the glass in her hand. It stung her a little—The man whose bright, waving hair shone like copper in the sun was Gary!

She watched him swing from the saddle with well-rendered grace. Her heart felt as though a hand was squeezing it. The fat man brushed close to his way to the store. In another minute now — Gary — she never thought they would meet like this!

Vanity urged Judith to remove herself from his path. She couldn't move. The intruder that was her marriage did not exist. She was back again in a Maytime garden and Gary was going away!

His horse tethered, Gary swung along. He glanced carelessly at a slim, dark girl in blue linen shrunken and so faded that it was a dull, tawny hue. He not ed absentmindedly that there was a sort of tense grace about her—an unconscious hauteur.

She clasped both hands tight around the glass to keep from reaching out to him. She hoped it wouldn't hear her heart — drumming loudly, uncertainly. In another second now he would be gone—

But in that second, Gary looked full into her eyes — a searching, startled look. "Judith." His arm reached out to her. "Bless my soul I'm glad to see you!" (Copyright, 1938, Blanche Smith Ferguson)

New Facilities For Insane Offered

California Builds Hospital As Model For The Nation

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 14 (UP)—Fifty-eight miles north of Los Angeles, on a level stretch overlooking the Pacific ocean, California has constructed what state officials believe to be among the finest institutions for treatment of the insane in the United States.

The plant, Camarillo state hospital, receives patients suffering from all types of insanity.

When the six-year building program is completed, Camarillo will represent an investment of $3,000,000. It will house 6,000 patients.

Present quarters will accommodate 2,400 patients. Additions will include a female unit (patients of both sexes currently are housed in the finished building), a research building, medical unit and quarters for aged, infirm and tubercular mental cases.

During the 1937-38 biennium the project will be materially advanced through allocation of $2,767,000 in building funds.

Spanish Style Architecture

Because of moderate land cost and a climate favorable to the Spanish type of architecture, Camarillo is said to provide advantages not found in most institutions for the insane.

The present unit includes the series of low, red-roofed buildings usually associated with the Spanish design. Each has its enclosed patio or courtyard, offering exercise facilities.

"We'll have to recognize that California possesses unusual climatic features," declared Harry Lutgens, state director of institutions.

"This gives us a chance to permit the patients exercise frequently, in an enclosed yard where they can be supervised. We have plenty of room on the grounds and for that reason we were generous with recreational fields."

Camarillo includes a central patio covering seven acres, which serves as the principal playground. Tennis, softball and badminton are more than a merely decorative, Lutgens pointed out.

Buildings Quickly Cleared

"In case of catastrophe we can get the patients out much faster, and the style of building insures adequate ventilation."

To many a disordered mind, the calm expanse of the ocean will bring peace.

The institution receives patients from Santa Barbara and Kern counties, and a limited number from Los Angeles county. Because of its setting, the application list is large but necessarily restricted.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Conley and daughter have returned from Mineral Wells and Fort Worth, where they have been for the past several days.

Withdraws From Race

Howze Not To Campaign For Legislative Post

Murray J. Howze, Big Spring candidate for representative of the 91st legislative district, Thursday advised The Herald that he was withdrawing from the race for the office.

His withdrawal left the field open to Dorsey B. Hardeman, San Angelo attorney and former mayor. Howze was also a former resident of San Angelo and Tom Green county.

In announcing his withdrawal, Howze said, "Due to the continued illness of an infant son, it now appears that I will not have an opportunity to carry my case to the people prior to the primary in July."

"Therefore, I reluctantly withdraw from the race in the sincere hope that our next representative will be a man pledged to aid the cause of the long suffering masses. I wish to thank the many men and women in Howard county and elsewhere throughout the district who have seen fit to support my candidacy, and I will ever be grateful for their confidence."

ARMY SPEEDS BIG AIR DEPOT TO SERVICE FIGHTING CRAFT STATIONED ON WEST COAST

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 14 (UP)—The government's new $7,000,000 Sacramento air depot—largest and most complete shop in the country for keeping trim military fighting planes and huge bombers in shape—is scheduled to be in full operation by March 15, 1935.

Army quartermaster corps and civilian engineers in charge of construction at the depot, five miles northeast of Sacramento toward the foothills of the Sierra Nevada, report work is weeks ahead of schedule.

Air corps officers and enlisted men, with a large detail of civilian mechanics, will be working at the depot soon after the first of next year as some of the units of the repair base are placed in operation.

As officers and mechanics are transferred to the Sacramento depot, Rockwell field at Coronado, Calif., near San Diego, gradually will be turned over to the navy.

Used During World War

Rockwell field has served as a repair base for the army corps since World War days but has been antiquated by rapid strides of army aviation.

The Sacramento depot will service all military planes on the Pacific coast. Until completion of a similar but smaller depot at Hickam field near Schofield barracks in the Hawaiian Islands, the California base will act as repair headquarters for army planes for the entire Pacific area.

Sacramento was selected for the new depot because of its location. Near a large navigable river and adjacent to two transcontinental marine railroad tracks, it is considered far enough from the coast to be comparatively safe from possible raids by enemy planes if the United States should be invaded.

Living quarters for 20 officers and their families, as well as about 120 enlisted men, are virtually complete. In final stages are a hospital, fire and guard house and post exchange, all located in one corner of the 12,000 acres of former farm land, purchased by the army and set aside as a military reservation.

Hangars Are Rising

Steel trusses for a three-unit hangar whose roof covers seven and one-half acres are in place. Workmen are now fastening asbestos-protected corrugated metal covering on the bare supports.

The hangars are 200 feet deep. Rectangular doors that slide back into special pockets in the side of the structure close an opening 250 feet wide and 38 feet high.

Largest bombers in regular army service at present have a wingspread of only 128 feet and a height of 23 feet, but, engineers explained, the depot is designed for future development in aircraft.

Authorities estimated six of the largest bombers now used could be stored in each hangar section by careful parking. Innumerable smaller fighting and observation ships can remain under the protective covering of the hangar while undergoing repairs.

An engineering shop and repair deck behind the hangars has a roof area of 13 1/2 acres. Completely new machinery of the latest design is to be installed.

Large Warehouse Built

Another large, concrete-steel structure has been built for general warehouse purposes, while smaller buildings, apart from the main plant, will contain paint, oil and wing "dope" supplies.

A half mile from the hangars are buildings containing utility machinery and a disposal plant. Miles of storm drainage, gas and water pipes, and radio, electricity and telephone wires have been laid underground, eliminating all overhead hazards except a large water tank which has been vividly marked and lighted.

Apart from the general plant group is a small munitions building where small bore ammunition and some powder for bomber testing purposes will be stored.

GOOD FRIDAY TO BE OBSERVED WITH A KBST FEATURE

Tomorrow is Good Friday and KBST has prepared a special program for the occasion featuring the Trinity choir, which will broadcast at 4:30 in the afternoon.

Good Friday has great spiritual significance all over the world. It is the Friday of Holy Week and the program will deal with Christ's love for the world, his suffering, crucifixion and subsequent resurrection.

The religious selections to be sung by the choir are: "God So Loved the World," "Oh Come and Mourn," "A Sacred Head Surrounded," "The Will I Love" and many others.

Fortunes Of Child Film Stars Are Being Taken Care Of; They Won't Be In Plight Of Jackie Coogan

HOLLYWOOD, April 14 (UP)—Shirley Temple, when she comes of age, will not have to go to court to obtain the fortune she amassed as a child movie star.

Neither will Deanna Durbin, Jane Withers, Mickey Rooney, Freddie Bartholomew or any other of the movie youngsters whose names are emblazoned on theater marquees.

The present plight of Jackie Coogan, who has sued his mother and his stepfather for an accounting of his film earnings as a child, which he estimates at $4,000,000, seems to have been anticipated by the studios and the parents of the present-day juvenile stars.

Deanna Durbin, for instance; her earnings (estimated at $800 a day) are handled by her father, James Durbin, who is investing them in life insurance and real estate.

Most of Shirley's money goes into trusts, annuities and government bonds. Shirley will not be able to get all her money in one lump sum, when she reaches maturity. Some of the money will go to her when she is 20, more at 30, 40 and 50.

Of Jane Withers' movie money, about $1,000 a week goes into a trust fund, and she is the sole beneficiary. The rest of her earnings are deposited in her bank account.

OFFERED A JOB

HOLLYWOOD, April 14 (UP)—Jackie Coogan, impoverished founder of a multi-million dollar movie fortune, was offered a job today.

Universal Studios sought "the kid's" services for a leading role in "No. One Man," a modest picture scheduled to be produced inexpensively with Nan Grey and Noah Beery, Jr.

With his $4,000,000 accounting suit against his mother and stepfather, Arthur L. Bernstein, soon to be heard in court, the 23-year-old former star still has the problem of making a living.

"Throughout my boyhood my father impressed upon me the value of money," Jackie said.

"He purposely gave me a meager allowance because he often told me that when I became of age I would be a rich man and he wanted me to know what a dollar is worth."

Stepfather Bernstein and the former Mrs. Coogan contend that Jackie has no legal right to the fortune, since he earned it when he was a minor.

FLORIDA CLAIMS TO BE GREEN'S HOME

MIAMI, Fla., April 14 (UP)—A pretentious $632,000 home on Star Island, a bit of land dredged up from Biscayne bay during the Florida land boom, was the focal point today of the state in its plea for $5,000,000 inheritance tax on the estate of the late Col. E. H. R. Green.

Attorney General Cary D. Laddis led an entourage of attorneys from four states through the yacht club which Green had converted into a residence. They were accompanied by John S. Flannery, special master for the United States supreme court.

"It was the only home Green owned outright and was his legal domicile," Laddis averred.

FORMER CREWMEN ARE RELEASED

GALVESTON, April 14 (UP)—Twenty-six former members of the crew of the Norwegian steamer Einna were free today after the Norwegian government had requested their release.

The seamen were jailed March 15 under the terms of a treaty of 1807 after they had staged a sit-down strike on the vessel.

U. S. Commissioner George W. Coltzter was advised this government had no case against the men.
