

Rain and snow hit area Tuesday

HALLOWEEN struck early in the Hansford County area, as 1.35 inches of rain fell here on Tuesday, turning to snow by 4:30 p. m., Tuesday evening, and a wet snow turned into a blizzard by 10 p. m. Tuesday night. The maize has been flattened, but hopefully it will recover after some drying sunshine on it. Telephone poles are down all over the county, and some cattle have been lost. School has been canceled for today, (Wed. in all of the county schools. Presumably the schools will start as the electricity has come back on as of 12 noon Wednesday. We lost electricity in all county towns on Tues. and as we said, it has come back on at noon Wednesday.

Spearman received a total of 2.60 in rain and snow (melt-out) probably the wettest rain and snow we have had in the county in years! The damage to poles in the county seems to be the heaviest in the James Sparks, Worley Smith area on the Borger highway! Your paper will be late this week, because of the storm!

Several news stories have been left out as we have been closed since 4 p. m. Tues! No electricity to operate our machines with!

Porter speaks at Lions club

R. C. Porter

R.C. Porter, of Spearman spoke to the Spearman Lions Club last week, on the problems of becoming a "candidate" in the state of Texas. The complicated system was explained by Porter to the Lions Club, and on several occasions Porter stated that you really need a lawyer and a bookkeeper to advise you if you plan to seek office in Texas.

Lion Queener has been named as the "Eater" of the year, and has replaced Lion Miller, who admitted that Queener should be nicknamed "Jaws" because of the amount of food that he inhales at each Tuesday meeting. Lion Queener and Lion Miller are not allowed to eat at the same table, or even set a the same table, as the other Lions who sit by them complain that they cannot find time to eat because they are always passing food to Lion Queener and Lion Miller!

Bullock Says Let Cities Collect Sales Tax

AUSTIN, Tex. --State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Friday that if Texas cities want to increase the city sales tax, the cities should have to collect it.

In a telegram to Texas Municipal League President Robert S. Folsom, Mayor of Dallas, Bullock said that the tail would be wagging the dog if the state had to administer increased local sales taxes equal to the state sales tax.

The Municipal League at its yearly meeting in Houston next week is expected to consider asking the Legislature to increase the city sales tax by as much as two cents, an idea recently backed by Governor Clements' Mayor's Advisory Committee.

The Comptroller now takes care of the city tax-along with transit authority sales taxes-in the same collection system as the state sales tax.

"For the past five years this department has done everything possible to speed up and upgrade every phase of administration of the city sales tax," Bullock said.

He pointed out that in his administration the Comptroller's office has increased city tax collections beyond the national average, stepped up payments from quarterly to monthly and cut the handling fee charged the cities by more than half.

"If the cities of Texas embark on a course of total local freedom in sales tax matters," Bullock said, "then I pledge the fullest cooperation of my department in an orderly transition of the collection system--from permits to court suits--from the state to city hall."

"All the cities have their own tax offices now," Bullock said. "It would be appropriate for the burden of the collection and the benefit of the income to rest in the same place."

Bullock opposes any city sales tax increase, saying that the sales tax has historically been reserved for the state and that giving the cities an additional bite of the pie will lead to similar demands from schools, counties and other government bodies.

During the past year nearly 1,000 cities shared in more than $450 million from the city sales tax.

Grains Eligible For Reserve

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22--Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland today announced all 1978 grain crops currently under loan to the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) and all 1979 grain crops eligible for CCC loans may be placed in the farmer-owned reserve program. The only grain not affected is barley, which currently has a market price above the department's "call" level, thus making it ineligible for the reserve.

Bergland also announced there will be no set-aside or diversion for 1980 feed grain crops.

"I would remind producers about the importance of good farming practices as they plan for 1980 and I would recommend against bringing fragile lands into production. Farmers who plant these lands in 1980 will not have this acreage added to their farms' normal crop acreage in subsequent years," Bergland said.

Bergland said the program decisions were based on projected supply and demand factors for 1979 and 1980. "We see a tighter supply situation in the future. The actions we are announcing today will help meet domestic and export requirements and reduce the risk of rapid food price inflation."

Under actions announced today, all producers of barley, corn and sorghum will be eligible for target price protection, loans and for participation in the farmer-owned reserve in 1980. Oat producers will be eligible for loans and the reserve program in 1980.

"We will assure producers at least the same 1980 feed grain and soybean loan rates as in 1979," Bergland said. This means loan levels of at least $2.00 for corn, $1.90 for sorghum, $1.63 for barley and $1.03 for oats, $1.70 for rye and $4.50 for soybeans."

"I will be asking for public comment on possible changes in the operation of the farmer-owned reserve program in the next weeks," Bergland said. "Therefore, no changes in the reserve management rules are being made at this time."

Preliminary feed grain target price ranges will be announced by March 15. Current estimates based on the formula in the Food and Agriculture Act of 1977 indicate these prices would be $2.08 per bushel for corn, $2.46 for sorghum and $2.35 for barley.

In order to qualify for full target price protection, farmers cannot plant more corn, sorghum or barley in 1980 than was considered planted and set aside from these crops this year. Farmers who exceed this acreage will be subject to an allocation factor that can reduce any target price payment by up to 20 percent.

National program acreages (NPA) of 82.1 million acres for corn, 13.9 million for sorghum and 7.9 million for barley were also announced today. The NPA is the number of acres for each crop needed to be planted to meet projected domestic and export requirements as well as provide for an adequate carry-over.

Crops eligible to move immediately into the farmer-owned reserve are 1978 and 1979-crop wheat, corn, sorghum, oats and rice under CCC loan. Barley will be eligible for entry when it is no longer in a call status.

Crop & Livestock Reports Needed

From mid-November to early January, thousands of Texas farmers and ranchers will receive a crop or livestock questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service or will be personally interviewed by the Service's field staff.

The information gathered through the questionnaires and interviews provides the basis for determining the final acreage, yield, and production of crops and end-of-the-year livestock and poultry numbers for the state of Texas and for each county.

County estimates for 1978 and January 1, 1979, are available on Livestock, Poultry, Dairy, Field Crops, Small Grains, Cotton, Vegetables, Fruits and Pecans, and Cash Receipts from the Sale of Texas Farm Commodities. Bulletins can be obtained from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, P.O. Box 70, Austin, Texas 78767, or by writing Reagan V. Brown, Commissioner of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

All of the estimates published by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service are based on the data provided by Texas farmers and ranchers, County Extension Agents, ASCS offices, and many others in agriculture. This cooperation provides the necessary data which is, in turn, returned to farmers and ranchers and other in the form of accurate estimates, which are so essential in making the wisest production and marketing decisions. Accurate estimates are also essential to farm organizations and legislators in promotion, planning, and enacting wise legislation and are used in establishing acreages and payment levels to producers under the various commodity programs.

The collection and publication of agricultural statistics are a cooperative effort between the Texas Department of Agriculture and USDA. This cooperation avoids duplication of effort, promotes economies, and increases the effectiveness of statistical reports. All individual farm and ranch information is kept confidential, and only state and county summaries become part of the final published estimate.

Senate Committee To Hold Gasohol Hearing

Austin—How will state and federal liquor control regulations affect the development of gasohol as an answer to the nation's energy problems? That question and others will be posed by the Senate Committee on Gasohol at its first public hearing November 1 at 10:00 AM in the Senate Reception at the State Capitol.

"We will be hearing from representatives of several state agencies and the Federal Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Bureau", said Sen. Raul Longoria of Edingburg, chairman of the committee.

Also expected to testify are representatives from: the Alcoholic Beverage Commission, Agriculture Department, Governor's Office, Attorney General's Office, Texas Energy & Natural Resources Advisory Council, Midwest Solvents of Atchison, Kansas, and the Rio Grande Valley Sugar Growers Association.

"There are many factors which must be examined before legislation might be written to speed up the development of gasohol as an alternate fuel for the future. We hope the agencies we have invited will help us examine current laws and look into possible changes for the future," he said.

"Like any committee, we are in the midst of a fact finding process. But, unlike most committees, we feel a sense of urgency in helping to develop alternate energy sources," Longoria said.

Cull Cows

Although the cattle market is strong at the present time, it's wise to "clean up" herds by culling open cows and giving more attention to a controlled breeding program by culling late-calving cows.

There's no need to put expensive winter feed into unproductive cows, points out Layton Barton, County Agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Culling the cow herd now will also help you plan on hay and feed supplies for the winter months.

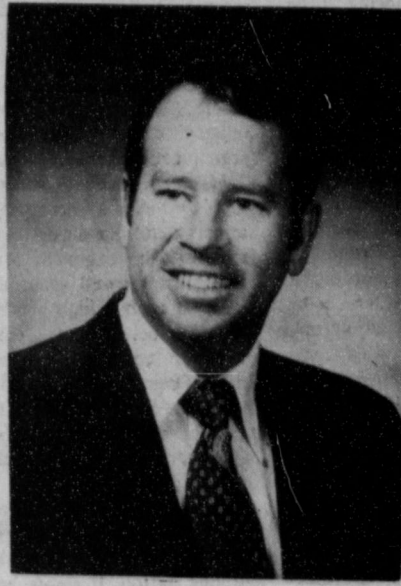

Also, pregnancy testing cows this fall may be a more profitable management tool than ever before.

Since it's difficult for a cow to produce a calf large enough to pay her annual maintenance bill and leave some profit for the producer, we know an open cow is surely losing money, emphasizes Barton. In addition, cows calving during the summer months wean calves 30 to 90 pounds lighter than their herd mates which calve at other times. For this reason it's advisable to cull cows which will calve late next year and buy a replacement which will calve early.

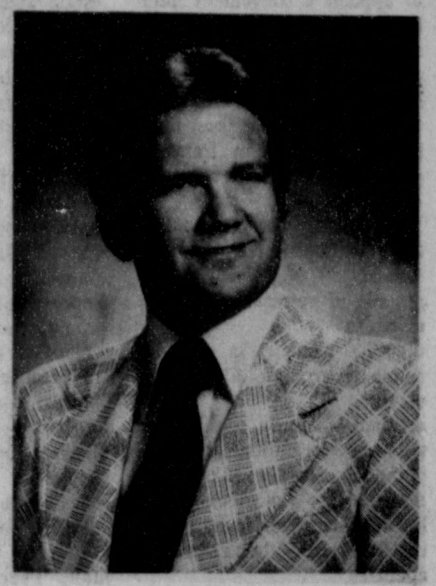

Whoever does the pregnancy diagnosis (usually your veterinarian) will be able to estimate the calving date on each animal and make it easy to identify next year's late-calving cows. Your definition of a late-calving cow should change every year until your calving season has been reduced to 60 days preferably, and certainly no longer than 90 days.

Removing barren and late-calving cows from the herd will increase both the herd's reproductive potential and pounds of calf weaned, contends Barton.

Election Nov. 6

The Constitutional Amendment Election will be held Tuesday, November 6 from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. for the registered voters of the county.

Proposition No. 1 would require the Secretary of State to appoint a convenient number of Notaries Public for the state, which would change the present practice of appointing Notaries Public by county. It would also increase the Notary Public term from its present two year limit to a term of four years.

Proposition No. 3 would allow for legislative review of the process of rulemaking by the more than 200 agencies in the executive department, all of whom now act independently of such review and would eliminate much of the unnecessary red tape and many of the ridiculous guidelines coming from many of the executive department agencies.

Proposition No. 3 on the ballot would authorize the legislature to provide for the guarantee of farm and ranch loans by the sale of general obligation bonds of the state of Texas. The amendment would allow the legislature to issue and sell bonds called Farm and Ranch Loan Security Bonds of the state of Texas not to exceed $10 million. All money from bond sales would be deposited in a separate fund with the State Treasurer and administered by the commissioner of agriculture.

These funds would be used to guarantee loans used for the purchase of farm and ranch real estate, and for advancing to the borrower a percentage of the principal and interest due. The commissioner of agriculture would be required to charge at least 6 percent interest on such loans.

To qualify for these guaranteed loans, one must be a Texas resident and have a net worth of less than $100,000. The intent of this amendment, according to Representative Bob Close, is to promote the small family farm. Unless you are born into a farm, it is practically impossible to get into farming these days and we hope this amendment would alleviate some of the problems the small farmer faces in today's unsteady economy.

Polling places are Precinct #1, County Courthouse, Spearman; Precinct #2, Renner ranch; Precinct #3, Gruver Elevator; Precinct #4, Gruver County Agricultural Building; Precinct #5, Spearman County Agriculture Building; Absentee Voting Place, Courthouse; Precinct #9, Morse Community Building.

Absentee voting is underway in the special election and runs through November 2. You may vote absentee at the County Clerk's office in the Hansford County Courthouse, Spearman.

moisture to the top six inches of soil increase the heat holding capacity by 50 percent.

Flood irrigating the garden the night before a hard frost will also help since most faucet water is slightly heated. Of course, the garden should be relatively dry before such flooding.

In addition to these natural precautions against frost damage, other steps may be necessary, contends Barton. If possible, cover plants with cloth or plastic. For instance, caged tomatoes can be covered with large plastic garbage bags. If plants are not caged, you may want to build a structure to support a cloth or plastic cover. However, the cages or structures must be well secured or anchored against high winds.

To protect plants against prolonged cold temperatures, artificial heat must be provided, points out Barton. Light bulbs will generate enough slow heat to protect plants from a fairly severe cold spell.

After a cold night, be careful not to remove covers from plants too early in the morning, cautions Barton. If plants have gotten slightly frosted during the night, a slow "thawing" can prevent extensive damage.

gave the locals the ball the entire last half. Both Spearman and Gruver have suffered losses in the last five seconds or less this year! The Lynx had the Guyton Tigers 52 yards away from the goal line with 8 seconds on the clock and lost the game, and the Greyhounds had the lead, and lost in the last 5 seconds Friday night! As hard as this is on fans, this is what makes high school football the greatest sport that it is! And, fans in Spearman and Gruver are still their greatest fans in the world! The Lynx will play at Canadian this Friday night, and fans are already making plans to journey to the oil rich school, and watch the local Lynx in action! The Lynx have now taken the role of "SPOILERS" in the district 1-AA race!

Remember the games on Thursday! Plan to attend, if the snow isn't too deep!

Roundup

It has been a busy week in sports for Hansford County... Friday night, while the Perryton Rangers were defeating the Spearman Lynx 14-3 in a real fine district 1-AA game, the Gruver Greyhounds were entertaining the Phillips Blackhawks at Gruver! At halftime, the press crew found out that Gruver was ahead of Phillips 20-6, and looked like it was going to be pretty one-sided in favor of the Hounds. Also, same of the Gruver fans left the game and came to Spearman, thinking the same thing! But, wouldn't you know it, the Phillips Blackhawks scored in the last seconds of game to upset the Greyhounds, and the Lynx almost caught the Rangers in the last quarter, as the Rangers

Jon Polson will speak

All men are invited to come and enjoy good Christian fellowship.

Protect Garden Plants From Frost

Mr. Jack Frost will soon be making the rounds, and home gardeners should be prepared to protect tender plants when the season's first cold spell hits.

Since the best natural protection from frost is heat absorbed by the soil during the day, keeping the soil compact allows for maximum heat absorption as well as slow heat release, points out Layton Barton, County Agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. On the other hand, loose soil and mulches act as barriers to heat release.

Water is another good natural frost protection for tender plants, notes Barton. Keeping soil moist will add to its compactness and increase heat absorption. Adding 10 percent

Bill Pittman is Treasurer

Bill Pittman is treasurer for the Fruitcake Review, featuring assorted local nuts in two evenings of good, clean entertainment by and for local people on Friday, November 30 and Saturday, December 1 at 8:00 p.m. in the Spearman High School auditorium.

Fruitcake Review is a joint venture of the Chamber of Commerce and the Y.M.C.A. who will divide all the proceeds to be used for various projects that are needed but otherwise are unfunded.

Bill sees his job as one of keeping the books on all finances dealing with the Fruitcake Review and making a final financial statement after all fees have been collected and all bills paid.

The Chamber of Commerce will use its share of the profits for a four color brochure for Spearman. These are very costly and cannot be purchased from the regular Chamber budget.

The Y.M.C.A., as co-sponsor of the Fruitcake Review, plans to use its portion of the proceeds to purchase additional needs in the YMCA Youth Center and for athletic equipment for youth athletic equipment for youth athletics and recreational supplies.

Fruitcake Review will be a lively, locally produced musical variety show. The only outsider will be the director who will be coming from New York on November 13. The co-chairpersons are Joy McCormick and Mary Lou Wysong, who have veto powers over anything the director suggests. This show has no plans of going to the road and touring the nation. This is Spearman's exclusive show featuring assorted local nuts and will provide good clean fun and frolic for the whole family.

Tickets will go on sale the middle of November. General admission tickets are $4.00. Reserved seats will be $5.00. People wanting to sit in the reserved seat section will purchase an exchange ticket and then exchange it for the reserved seats of their choice at the Chamber of Commerce office on a "first come, first served" basis.

MAJORS STAYS ON TOP

Lee Majors, who portrays American adventurer Bob Lasky in "KILLER FISH," has become a worldwide celebrity through the popularity of characters he has portrayed on television and in feature films. Now in his 15th year as a top player, it appears Majors started at the top and has stayed there. A closer look makes it apparent that he wisely has chosen a pattern of roles that best suited his capabilities. Not that he hasn't on occasion stretched himself, perhaps beyond his limitations, he believes in growth. But except for a few dips on the road to success, his steady climb to popularity and security has been more peaks than valleys.

In 1963, except for a few male friends and relatives, nobody in Hollywood or elsewhere had heard of Lee Majors. But by the close of 1965 he was receiving over 3,000 letters weekly from adoring fans. He immediately captured the fancy of millions of American television viewers in his first professional acting job as one of the stars on "The Big Valley" television series. He knew he had a lot to learn but the public didn't care — they took to the tall, ruggedly built, blond newcomer with the quiet demeanor and made "Big Valley" the hit of the 1965-66 television season.

Majors first job after coming west following college was as a playground supervisor at North Hollywood Park where he became pals with a variety of actors, stuntmen and movie crew members who congregated Saturdays for touch football. Their encouragement finally prompted him to spend time with a drama coach and, eventually, pursue an acting career.

While biographies have detailed Majors' boyhood admiration of actor James Dean and have likened Lee's humble magnetism to the late actor's, it remains part of the myth and publicity that grew with Majors' climb to stardom. It is coincidental, however, that when pals pressed him to try acting, Majors sought out Dean's former agent, Dick Clayton, and induced him to represent him.

The rest, as they say, is history. In chronology, from that start, Lee Majors continued to pile up credits in a continuing success story.

In "KILLER FISH" Majors plays the tight-lipped, grim-visaged hero — but with a dif-
