Deutsche Diplomatische-Politiche Korrespondens expressed chargin that the government of President Getulic Vargas was not showing a strong hand in suppressing anti-German measures in the outlying states. The publication said Germany had warmly welcomed Vargas' inauguration of a totalitarian regime last November 10.

(Vargas recently rejected German em bassy representations against his ban on Nazi political activities in Brazil, based on his prohibition of all political parties.)

The foreign office organ said measures "against Germandon and its organizations" were "extremely amazing," especialty in southern Brazil. It alleged that it "is well known and never seriously contested that Germans in Brazil always have refrained from meddling with domestic affairs and have merely claimed their natural legal right to advance their ractal culture and build up their organization unhindered."
