Clif Day Explains New Farm Program

In the meeting of farmers at Amarillo on June 9, Clif Day, Plainview, explained some points concerning the new farm program.

"... The provisions and principles of this new farm bill deserve the careful study and consideration of consumer processor and producer of American agriculture," Clif Day declared.

"The two fundamental purposes of the bill are to protect the consumer and the producer of agricultural commodities against irregular fluctuation in prices and supplies.

"Stabilization of the corn and wheat supply would tend to provide ample livestock products, and consumers should have no fear of scarcity in meat and poultry. This is possible through the use of normal granary and soil conservation features of the program."

"The consumer would not expect these desirable guarantees against abnormal costs without giving the producer similar protection against unduly low prices for his products. It should be a partnership between consumer and producer. Out of this partnership the consumer is assured of food prices attuned to his income; and the producer is assured a system of loans to protect him against drastically low prices in years of excess production.

"The bill also provides for soil building payments but for no diversion or soil-conserving payments. In lieu of the latter, however, the producer is guaranteed the difference between the average market price of wheat and the adjusted parity price for his normal domestic and foreign supply of the commodities he produces for sale."

Bankers Attend Meeting In Amarillo

Agnes Windom returned from Pampa where she has been visiting in the home of her sister Mrs. J. W. Logan. Mrs. Logan accompanied her home to visit her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wilmoth.

R. E. Lee Attends Class Reunion

R. E. Lee went to Hollis, Okla., Friday to attend the Homecoming of the Hollis school of which he was a member some 20 years ago.

Eck must have had a good time because he said that he had to talk to the famous Key's quadruplets all at once. The Lee family and the Keys family were neighbors when the foursome was so small that Eck had to help them up the steps when they toddled over to play with his small brothers and sisters.

The girls gave two quartets on the program at the Alumni Banquet Friday evening. 285 guests were present, and three boys of Eck's own class were there. Eck ever got thru talking that night we don't know but he did drive over to Gould, Okla., with an old friend Dr. Ray.

Eck says he doesn't feel much older but he knew time was flying because one of his classmates had a son to graduate in this year's class.

This makes us home-sick to mingle with our own class of nearly the same years where there were nine girls and one boy—and I still feel sorry for the boy who was so alone in that group.

Canadian Baptist Assoc. Met In Spearman

The Workers Conference of the Canadian Baptist Association met with the First Baptist Church of Spearman yesterday afternoon and night. The afternoon session was given over to the discussion of the Sunday School work. An inspiring demonstration service was put on by the teacher and class from the Intermediate Department of the Follett Baptist Church.

Lunch was served to all guests present. The young people, and some of the older ones, had a social hour during the lunch hour. At 7:30 the meeting was closed with Rev. R. G. Brannen, pastor of the Follett and Booker churches presiding. A group of the young people from the Perryton church put on a very interesting and helpful playlet illustrating the importance of living and giving for Jesus' sake.

Both in the afternoon and evening services splendid talks were made by Rev. J. C. McKinzie, missionary of the 10th District, Rev. S. R. McClung, pastor in Perryton and R. G. Brannen, president of the Association B.T.U. work.

17th Annual Singing Convention At New Mexico

Tucumcari will entertain the 17th Annual Plateau Singing Convention on June 19th and 20th at the High School Auditorium. John F. Taylor, president and organizer, who will preside at the convention, announces that a large number of outstanding song leaders will be present. For the past sixteen years, Mr. Taylor has been president of this organization and has devoted much of his time in song service. He knows how to put "pep" in the singing convention and any one interested in singing or the entertainment furnished by the convention will not be disappointed by attending this convention.

Since organization of the Texas Press Association, which is to hold its 58th annual convention in Brownwood June 10-12, the body has been served by 59 presidents. Of this number, 31 past presidents are living and all are being given a special invitation to attend the Brownwood meeting.

Miss Edna Buchanan, who is going to the Nurse's School at Temple, Texas returned home to spend a few weeks.

Monroe Buchanan returned from Lubbock where he has been going to school.

Mrs. A. R. Hull Passes Away June 5th

Citizens of Hansford County were shocked and grieved to hear of the passing of Mrs. A. R. Hull, pioneer resident of this county.

Mr. and Mrs. Hull moved to Spearman in July 1926. Mrs. Hull suffered a stroke seven years ago, but recovered except for a weakened condition of her heart. On April 14th she took her bed and passed away Saturday morning June 5, 1937 at 6:15 o'clock.

Funeral services were held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the First Christian Church of Spearman with Rev. James C. Todd, Pampa, officiating. Interment in the Hansford cemetery.

The following poem was cherished by Mrs. Hull:

MY VISION

The world is full of tears,
So let me laugh today,
That I may cheer some weary heart,
And drive its grief away.

The world is full of frowns,
O let me give a smile,
That I may speed some pilgrim's feet,
Upon life's trying mile.

The world is full of hate,
Lord, let me live like Thee,
And give the best I have for men,
That they may loving be.

The world is full of death,
O let me help men see,
That they may live abundantly,
If they will follow Thee.

Amarillo Man Injured In Accident South Of City

Howard P. McDonald of Amarillo, employee of the Amarillo Baking Co., suffered a painful injury to his eye and forehead late Tuesday afternoon when he was thrown against the windshield of his car.

Mr. McDonald had made the turn on the Dalhart Highway 12 miles southwest of Spearman, when he ran up on the small bridge, weakened by heavy rains, gave way. A passerby picked Mr. McDonald up in a very short time and rushed him to Spearman where he received medical attention from Dr. Gibner. Friends from Amarillo came in about 9 p. m. and took him home.

Move To Lubbock, Texas Friday June 4

Mrs. Bill Whitson, son Craig, and daughter Anna Carol left Friday for Lubbock where they will make their home. Bill preceded them by several months, having been employed there.

It is with regret that we give them up because they have been in Spearman for a number of years and we will indeed feel the loss. Both Mr. and Mrs. Whitson have a host of friends here and the young folk are very popular in the younger set.

The Reporter joins friends in wishing the them best of success in their new location.

Mrs. Morton took Betty Morton Vera Beth and Frances Hoskins to Amarillo Tuesday. They plan to spend the rest of the week there, shopping in Amarillo Thursday.

The Fashioned Better Than She Knew — by A. B. CHAPIN

Hail Damages Most Of Wheat In County

Starting Sunday evening and again Tuesday morning, hail destroyed about 25 per cent of the county's wheat crop. And from 10 per cent to total loss in the fields where it struck.

Morse and Pringle report a 75 per cent loss. McKibben, 70 per cent, McBride, Gruver, Bernstein all report about 50 per cent damages.

In the Holt community most of the wheat was completely destroyed. No report was received from the Blodgett community, but it is thought that little or no damage was done there.

Most of the farmers had hail insurance ranging from 3 to 10 dollars per acre.

R. V. CONVERSE SAYS:

Senator Harry S. Truman, Democrat, of Missouri made the charge in the U. S. Senate that the nations railroads "have been deliberately looted," by financial agents who "made Jessie James look like a piker... Do you suppose that has anything to do with high freight rates?"

The writer attended a school for grain buyers held in Amarillo. The school was conducted by the official grain inspectors, and were it possible for all farmers to attend such a school, they would hold a great deal more respect for their local grain buyers.

I see by the News that about twelve of the employees of Dr. Townsend's organization resigned all at the same time, and gave as a reason that they did not approve of Dr. Townsend's stand on F. D. R.'s court plan. We have some Senators who do not approve of it either. Someone should suggest to them that they could resign.

If we had all the rivers that lead out of the dust bowl dammed up, Honest Bill Miller could sit on his back porch and persuade his favorite pastime of fishing. The rains have been so persistent the last few days that there is talk of building an ark, similar to the one Noah built. Then if it ever stopped raining we could use it to keep from drowning in the bonded booze that is being stored up in Government warehouses.

Mr. and Mrs. Beecher Towse and family of Roswell, New Mexico are visiting in Spearman this week.

Mrs. S. E. Harbison and children of Amarillo were visiting in Spearman last week. Mrs. Main, her sister returned to Amarillo with her.

Mrs. D. B. Kirk went after Doris and Buster Kirk who have been attending school at Lubbock.

Roy Wilmoth returned home to spend the summer vacation.

Tom Rosson was visiting and transacting business in Amarillo Friday.

Mrs. Burl Brockus and Miss Vera Brockus were visiting and spending the week there, shopping in Amarillo Thursday.

General Rain Over County Helps Wheat

According to weather observer F. W. Brandt the following rain was recorded, June 1, .85; June 6, .65; June 7, .50 making a total of two inches for this week.

Light showers fell every day this week, but not enough to insure a bumper feed crop.

Pan American Exposition Opens June 12th

The Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition will open in Dallas June 12. The exposition this year will be entirely different from the Texas Centennial Exposition of 1936.

The Pan American theme has brought in fifteen Central and South American republics who will maintain governmental exhibits of their natural resources, history and progress in the Pan American Palace.

The Calvalcade of the Americas a completely new production on a much larger scale than last year, will vividly and dramatically tell the story of five centuries on the Western Hemisphere from the landing of Columbus until President Roosevelt's Peace Conference in Buenos Aires last December.

Headlining an elaborate entertainment program, upon which special emphasis is being placed this year, is the Pan American Casino, a spacious, air-cooled, cafe-theater presenting the most elaborate and spectacular performances ever staged in the Southwest. The sports program will include the Pan American Olympic games and Soccer Tournament in July; a 300 mile automobile race classic to be run within the grounds in August; Pan American boxing championships also in August; and an elaborate program of professional, collegiate and high school football games occupying each week-end in September and October.

Vacation Bible School Has 90 Enrolled

The Daily Vacation Bible school is progressing fine. Pupils and teachers alike are enjoying their work. You are invited to visit this school, which meets every morning at the Baptist Church.

A challenge comes to us from Follett. They have an ambition to have the largest Bible school in all this section of the Panhandle. Come on boys and girls and let's beat them. Don't let Follett best us! What do you say? Enrollment is about 90 this the 3rd day of the school.

Panhandle A. and M. To Present Play in July

Goodwell, June 10—After intensive tryouts which lasted the greater part of last week, the cast for the summer play at Panhandle A. and M. college was announced this week by Miss Frances Bailey, director.

The play, "The Family Upstairs", a lively comedy of American life, will be presented early in July, but the date has not been definitely set by the director.

Rehearsals began this week for the comedy, the only all-college dramatic production of the summer term of college.

Miss Wren Loftin left Friday for Ridge Cret, N. C. where she will spend two weeks.

Mr. Charles L. Carroll, expert jeweler has opened his business in the Home Bakery. Watches and other jewelry repaired at reasonable prices.

Agent Hatton Explains Wheat Payments

There seems to be some confusion out in the County as to just what will qualify and what will not qualify under the Farm Program. If you will study the practices as outlined on sheet, it should help you to clear on the new Program.

1. There are two kinds of payments that may be earned:
1. Diversion of soil conserving payments for diverting 15 cent of your base acres to soil conserving crop or practice.
2. Soil-building payments for any amount of several different practices.

2. There are a number of ways you can qualify on the 15 per cent. The most common ways to qualify are:
1. Plant Sudan. Can be drilled with a lister 2 to 4 feet apart. Cannot be harvested. Can be grazed or all crop left land.
2. Summer Fallow. Furrows the contour and the land kept free of weeds. Remember, this must be done by July 1st, and remember also, that summer fallowing is only three fourths of a serving. In other words, you must follow a Fourth More Acres than he actually needs.

NOTE: Maize cannot be planted on the 15 per cent or on Excess, unless it is drilled and the entire crop left on the land. In this case, it must make a reasonable growth to qualify.

Soil building payments. Remember no producer can earn more than his soil-building allowance.
1. Cover crop payment. Sudan cane drilled or planted with lister, maize if drilled. Have to actually make good growth and a crops left on the land $1.00 per acre.
2. Contour listing or furrowing. Must be done with double moldboard lister, (not less than 8 in. in width and plow at least 6 in. deep) or with chisel or approved design (furrows not less than 4 in. wide and plow at least 6 in. deep). All furrows 2 to 3 feet apart, 25c per acre.
3. Terracing in accordance with good terracing practice for the land, 40c per 100 linear feet.

Everyone in the County has been given a cut. The County amounts to 5 per cent. The best way to handle this excess land is to divert it. Just as you do the 15 per cent. Be Sure and Do NOT plant or harvest a soil-depleting crop on this excess. The ONLY way maize can be drilled and all the crop left on the land. If maize is listed in on the excess, it automatically penalizes the producer about $6. or $7. for every acre planted, even though not harvested.

Note: If sudan is planted on the contour and grazed, the producer will be paid, ONLY 25c for the contouring.

Note: Sudan must be left on the land until after the blow season is over next year, in order to earn $1. per acre. This $1. will be LOST if the sudan is either plowed under or grazed.

We have listed only the most common ways a producer may qualify for the 15 per cent and also for soil-building payments. Anyone interested in other ways to comply, should come to the County Agent's Office immediately.

The above practices apply on the regular program, but in addition there has been a special Soil Building Allowance of 75c per acre set up for the Wind Erosion Area, that may be earned on the 85 per cent. Do not confuse the provisions of the 75c Allowance with the regular program, as it has Nothing, whatsoever, to do with the 15 per cent. There has already been a letter sent out on the 75c Program.

Farmers, land owners and any other persons interested in Soil Building practices, if any question arises come at once to the County Agent's Office.

WHAT ARE THE FACTS?

That is the fundamental question upon which all business depends. Opinions and beliefs are all right in their place, but they have no place in business operations unless they have facts to support them. Theories and theorists get scant attention in this or any other well conducted business, unless they fit in with every known fact. The best theory in the world falls down in the presence of a single proved fact which does not fit in. It is the theory which has to give way, not the fact, when the two find themselves in conflict.

Government, unfortunately, is seldom or never conducted on that basis. Government does not have to show a profit from operations. It is Government's function to spend money, not to earn it. Indeed, it would arouse considerable public indignation if any Government in this country engaged, in any important way, in operations for profit. So long as income flows freely from the taxpayers, the Government is primarily a spending institution.

There is, however, a duty too often overlooked to the sources of the money Government spends. The taxpayer is, as Professor Sumner long ago pointed out the 'forgotten man.' On his behalf, it would seem but fair that Government, before scattering tax money too lavishly should inquire: "What are the facts?"

"SCHOOL'S OUT"

For nearly twenty million American children this is an important time of the year. School's out - or soon will be - everywhere, and the long Summer vacation is beginning.

Much criticism has been levelled at our school system. It is charged with not fitting the children to find jobs when they are through school. Without stopping to debate the question whether or not that is the prime purpose of any school except a farm or trade school let us look at another side of the picture. What do American children definitely get out of their schools besides book-learning?

It seems pretty clear that they get a social outlook on life as a whole which the unfortunate children of the rich, education by private tutor or in "select" private schools never get. In the give-and-take of association with children of their own age, of all social and economic strata it is a stupid youngster indeed who does not learn that human nature is the same whether one's father is a banker or a bootblack. In the public school every child finds his or her own level, regardless of pedigree. And that is probably the most valuable education the children of a democracy can have.

Meat Cuts and How to Cook Them

PORK CHART

Pork is a universal favorite. It appears more frequently on the American table than any other meat dish, but there are a good many attractive pork cuts which are passed over by the average homemaker, because she is not acquainted with the possibilities they offer for new and attractive main dishes. The pork chart shown above deserves a place in the household files because it shows at glance the variety of pork cuts and how to cook them.

Christian Science

"God the Preserver of Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday June 13.

The Golden Text is: "In God is my salvation and my glory; the rock of my strength and my refuge, is in God" (Psalms 62:7).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you" (11 Cor. 13:11).

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Christlike understanding of scientific being and divine healing includes a perfect Principle and idea,—perfect God and perfect man,—as the basis of thought and demonstration" (page 259).

Then, taking it with sudden decision, she dialed. In an instant, Garrison's voice responded.

"Do you know," Joyce asked,
"who this is?"

"Of course," unhesitatingly—"I

Madeira Night

By ELIZABETH C. FORREST

WNU Service.

PRISCILLA PORTER looked up from the fat purse in her hand
to gaze gratefully after Great Aunt Agatha rustling down the tree-bordered alameda on her way back to the steamer. Then with a thrill of anticipation she turned to the beauty of Madeira. Narrow streets that mounted steeply in steps of pebbled mosses. Brilliant flowers spilling their perfume over gray walls that hid mysterious gardens. Carros drawn by wide-horned bullocks.

In a nearby booth gorgeous em-broderies caught her eye, drew her from purchase to purchase. When she emerged again onto the alameda which all afternoon had been thronged with crowds of tourists from the steamer, the street was almost deserted. Mantillaed women and sleek dark men alone were visible.

She glanced swiftly sideways and an evil-looking Portuguese with stiffly waxed mustache, leered at her. Terrified, she whirled and confronted broad tweed shoulders, a smooth blond head. A clipped voice asked, "Need any help?"
She steadied her voice. "Yes...
please."

He turned a torrent of Portuguese
upon her and she turned the man slunk off.

"Traveling alone?" he asked.
"No, I promised Aunt Agatha I'd stay with the other passengers; but they've all disappeared."

"Tourists always take in the Casino," he remarked casually, and added, "Shall I call a carro?"

That settled it. To slide through the perturbed dust in a quaint basket-carriage drawn by bullocks.

With hot cheeks and thud-ding heart Priscilla found herself
being helped into the low wicker seat. The runners slipped away
over the polished pebbles.

They slid on through narrow twisting streets. Suddenly they halted in a confusion of shouting drivers and carros disgorging
black-haired señoritas and swarthy men. In the garden beyond the gaming tables they sat at a little table, surrounded by couples slipping ruby liquid from shining glasses.

"Wine?" he asked.
"Oh, no!" She was genuinely shocked.

"In Rome—" he suggested, a hint
of mockery in his eyes.
What a little greenhorn he must think her! Recklessly Priscilla flung inhibitions to the wind, sipped
a glass of liquid sunshine; puffed daringly at a cigarette; placed a timid shilling at the roulette table
—and won enormously. It was midnight when her companion
scooped her winnings into her bulging purse and led her, starry-eyed,
from the Casino.

In silence they slid downward
toward the waterfront, Priscilla thinking: "And they warned me not to trust a stranger!"

At the pier she held out her hand.
"You mustn't come out with me,"
She slipped into a tender in the shadow of the pier and named her steamer. The boat had chugged out of the blackness of the bay into a path of the steamer's light, before she saw her boatman. Then her heart missed a beat. The man in the stern was her mustached an-noyer of the alameda.

Abruptly the engine coughed and stopped. A voice whined, "La-dee,
I am vera poor man. Give money,
please."

"Not one cent!" Priscilla's voice was sharp with hidden fear.
The tones were suddenly heavy with menace. "You are alone. It is vera dark."
"Here!" cried Priscilla wildly.
Her purse fell with a thud on the boat's bottom.

The man picked it up and hefted
it. "Bueno," he grunted.
The engine sputtered and recommenced its steady chugging. The boat slid in against the steamer's side. Trembling, Priscilla mounted the ship's ladder. One thought consoled her. Her companion would never know that their perfect evening had been spoiled.

Back at the shore the tender slid in against the pier. Broad tweed shoulders emerged from the shadow
to meet it.

"Get it?" asked a crisp voice.
"Si, Boss," the boatman answered.
Together they moved over beneath a lamp. There was the clink of money changing hands.

Lithuania
Lithuania has been described as the Ireland of the Baltic, and the two countries have much in common. It is even possible that they may be racially akin. The origin of the Lithuanian race is lost in the mists of prehistory, but many anthropologists believe that they are a Celtic tribe left behind on the Baltic in the great trek of the Celts from east to west. They were the only Druids and tree worshipers
in eastern Europe, and their music and folk songs and tales bear a strong resemblance to those of the Irish.

International Postal Union
The United States and practically all the countries in the world are members of the International Postal Union for the reciprocal exchange of mail.

INSIST BULLDOG IS SHIP'S ACE SAILOR

A waddling, bow-legged, one-eyed Boston bulldog is unanimously conceded top honors as the best seaman aboard the navy transport U.
S. S. Sirius which docked at San Diego recently en route to San Pedro and Mare Island, writes a San Diego, Calif., United Press correspondent.

Buddy, a solemn appearing dog,
is more than an ordinary sailor.
He wanders wherever he pleases on the Sirius and is just as much at home in the quarters of the ship's commanding officer, Commander C G. Richards, as with a third-class seaman.

Every visitor to the ship passes Buddy's inspection as he peers inquiringly at them, and when the Sirius passes another vessel, he perks up his ears and stands at attention. When the sailors line up for inspection, Buddy waddles up to his place with the rest of the crew.

Men on board the Sirius know when they're close to port because Buddy creeps up on the bridge and stands stiffly, looking out toward the horizon.

Buddy has cost the Sirius plenty.
Various expenses required by the masoc have taken $300 from the ship's welfare fund. Buddy lost one eye in an encounter with a cat. The services of an expert veterinarian were required. Not long ago he got lost in wandering about Oakland, Calif., and the ship posted a $50 reward for his return.

But the crew of the Sirius swears
by Buddy and nothing is too good for him.

GAS IN THE AIR IS CAUSE OF ILLNESS

Carbon monoxide is the gas from automobile exhausts and gas burners. Odorless and tasteless, when present in large amounts it causes death by quickly replacing oxygen in the blood stream. It takes thousands of lives annually in this manner. Not so commonly known are the disastrous effects from inhaling carbon monoxide in small quantities. Discovery of many of these previously overlooked was reported recently to the Southern Medical association, meeting in Baltimore, by Dr. Harvey G. Beck of the University of Maryland school of medicine.

Dr. Beck said that vertigo, convulsions, delusions, lack of memory, neuralgia, neuritis, intestinal or heart pains, cramps of the legs, toes
and hands, muscle quivering, bronchitis, and other ailments have been found in garage mechanics, bus drivers, and conductors, and others in daily contact with the gas in large amounts. He pointed out that 0.04 per cent of carbon monoxide in the air will produce headache and nausea; 0.16 per cent, death in two hours; 0.32 per cent, death in 30 minutes, and slightly more than 1 per cent of the gas, immediate unconsciousness and possible death in from 1 to 3 minutes.

Women's Hats 50 Years Ago

Women's hats fifty years ago
were, in general, small, and hairdressing comparatively simple, says a writer in the Chicago Tribune. A kind of compromise was evolved between the hat and the bonnet with strings. Plumes, artificial flowers, and a blend of the two became fashionable, and complete stuffed birds
were sometimes used for trimming.
The hat tended to rise more and more off the head as the decade
progressed, and in 1890 the front brim, which was much larger than the rest of the hat, rose steeply above the forehead. Men's straw and felt hats were adopted by women with inclination toward sports.

Ancient Lime Kiln Discovered

An old lime kiln has been uncovered in the steep clay bank of the James river within the boundaries of Colonial National Historical park, Virginia, says the interior department. In the kiln remained a quantity of oyster shell lime, well tempered and as soft as when prepared, three centuries ago. The kiln is a primitive "fire kiln." Charcoal embers denote the type of fuel in use. Only a few yards distant a similar kiln was later discovered.

Church Cool to Grizzly Bears

Offering to provide each church

guaranteed to increase the church attendance of that town, reports the Daily Star of Windsor, Ont. However, local ministers thought that acceptance of such an offer, even with the guarantee of larger congregations, might have the opposite of its intended effect.

Phonograph for Bells

Rev. Eric Robson, vicar of St.
Andrew's, West Derby, London,
has placed a record to call his parishioners to worship. He dreamed he heard bells from his church; awoke to find it his radio.
But the dream gave him the idea of the record with loud speaker attached. His church tower is not strong enough for real bells.

Short Circuit Beetle

The determination of insect life is nowhere better demonstrated than in the case of what linemen have dubbed the short circuit beetle.
These beetle attack telephone and high tension lines, boring through the outer coating of the wire, the lead offering no barrier to their chisel-like jaws.

MORE PROTEIN IN DIET IS NEEDED

The American people are not eating enough of the protein foods
which are so essential for good nutrition, Prof. Chester M. Jones of the Harvard medical school, told the annual session of the American Dietetic association the other day,
reports the Kansas City Star Science Service.

The reason, he said, lies in the tremendous economic changes which during the past half century have radically altered the people's food habits. Our pioneer ancestors, he cited, obtained more than a liberal supply of proteins from the large amount of fish and game
which was theirs for the taking.
Later when the population was rural rather than urban, farm animals supplied milk, cheese and meat for home and village consumption. But with the development of our cities, the prices of these products have increased with a resulting deficiency of protein foods
in the average diet, he said.

That such a trend is dangerous
is shown by the serious consequences which result from the interference with the absorption of protein characterizing several diseases. To offset these diseases such foods as meat, liver and milk must be emphasized in the diet.

While it is not necessary to stress these foods in the average diet, he said, their presence on the menu must be regular.

Lockjaw Germ Present in Day's Common Situations

The dust of your desk, the soil under your feet and the machine you run all carry the lockjaw germ, known as tetanus bacillus. This statement is made by Dr. Herbert L. Hershensohn in Hygiea, the Health Magazine.

However, unlike most other germs
the tetanus bacillus does not multiply to any great extent in the human body. When it finds its way into a wound it stays in that vicinity. The poison which it liberates, though, travels so swiftly on the current of the blood stream throughout the system that its progress cannot possibly be halted by amputation.

Moreover, it is a peculiar fact that if there are no other types of germs
in the wound, tetanus is not likely to develop; whereas if there are, it will certainly work havoc.
If the ordinary germs are killed by appropriate medical treatment of the wound the possibility of lockjaw is thereby considerably decreased.

Oddly enough, despite the universal distribution of tetanus bacilli there are relatively few cases of lockjaw when compared to the number of accidents. This is due, in part, to the injection of tetanus an-toxin, which is routinely practiced by physicians everywhere in the country when treating wounds which have the appearance of favoring tetanus infection.

Most of the cases of this disease
occur in the tropics. It is so common in this region that cases of lockjaw in the new-born and the mother are frequently observed. In the infant the infection takes place in the navel.

Heating Device Sterilizes Soil

Inexpensive sterilization of dirt is possible with electrical equipment consisting of four heating units with mountings. The forist or specialty grower builds these units into a wooden vat or container. Dirt to be cleaned of plant enemies, such as weed seeds, insect life and fungi, is placed in the container and the electricity turned on. A thermostat maintains automatically temperatures of 160 to 180 degrees Fahrenheit, raising the temperature of the soil sufficiently to destroy the plant enemies. — Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Egg Laying Rooster

The egg laying rooster from Tal-leysville, Va., failed to perform for Poultryman Harry L. Moore of the Virginia Polytechnic institute at Blacksburg. The rooster recently jumped its biological traditions and laid a dozen eggs, five of which hatched. Its owner, E. E. Harrison, sent it to the institute for observation—then got it back again when the rooster failed to repeat.

body would realize that he is being assessed probably at a higher rate than most of the so-called "rich" for the expense of government. That would be painful too, to the politicians who prefer "soaking the rich" but sooner or later it is inevitable that the general run of voters will wake up to the fact that the taxes come, in the long run out of their own personal pockets.

The most important source of revenue which the Federal government has is the indirect taxes, which are to be sure paid in the first instance by producers, but which are added to the cost of their products and passed on to the customers as part of the purchase price he pays. The same is true of State and local taxes. Nearly a quarter of the average citizen's rent money goes to pay his landlord's real estate taxes. The price of a loaf of bread at the grocery includes part of the baker's taxes and those of the miller and the farmer who grew the wheat.

more interest in Government finances and a greater urge for governmental economy.

As garden time approaches there is a mighty cry going up: "Pen up those chickens and muzzle and tie up those dogs." As a matter of fact, those desiring to "tickle" old mother earth and bring forth something in the garden "sassy" line, will find themselves handicapped, if all chickens and dogs are not penned or tied up in their yards. Down at Chil-dress, we are informed, the city council has advised those having chickens to pen them up, and if said chickens are not penned up, those who have gardens should, upon finding said chickens destroying their garden kill them and throw them over the garden fence into the alley. This is hard on the chicken raisers, but they should not expect to have the best of friends among neighbors who have their gardens destroyed by said chickens, no more than if they let hogs stray over town and root up the gardens of their friends.—Claude News.

George Wells, Hornersville, Mo. tossed a burning match to the ground near the mouth of a pipe leading to an underground gasoline tank, unused for 17 years.

Mud and pebbles bubbled from the pipe. Then the tank, a few feet away, exploded. Wells is well. He wasn't hurt.

Little Boy: That's all right lady. I'm a Republican.

Federal excise taxes in addition affect the price of matches, chewing gum, toothpaste, cosmetics, cameras, radio sets, jewelry, cars, telephone messages, telegrams, show tickets cards and hundreds of other things. If every item of merchandise carried with it a notice of the amount of the Federal tax which is included in the retail price, there would be a great deal of office the men who voted to them. Politicians of all parties have so long been preaching the doctrine that only the rich pay taxes, that they are not inclined to recant whatever the government's economic needs.

It is indeed rather silly to talk about broadening the tax base when it already is so broad that it includes everybody who spends a nickel anywhere for anything. It would be more to the point to uncover the tax base, bring the vast accumulation of hidden taxes out into the open so that every-

International Sunday School Lesson

By Dr. J. E. Nunn

General Topic: The Brotherly Love of Judah.

Scripture Lesson: Genesis 44: 18-34.

18. Then Judah came near unto him, and said, Oh, my lord, thy servant, I pray thee, speak word in my lord's ears, and let not thine anger burn against thy servant; for thou art even as Pharaoh.

19. My lord asked his servants, saying, Have ye a father, or a brother?

20. And we said unto my lord, We have a father, an old man, and a child of his old age, a little one; and his brother is dead, and he none is left of his mother; and his father loveth him.

21. And thou saidst unto thy servants, Bring him down unto me, that I may set mine eyes upon him.

22. And we said unto my lord, he lad cannot leave his father; or if he should leave his father his father would die.

23. And thou saidst unto thy servants, Except your youngest brother come down with you, ye shall see my face no more.

24. And it came to pass when he came up unto thy servant my lord, we told him the words of thy lord.

25. And our father said, Go down, buy us a little food.

26. And we said, We cannot go down; if our youngest brother be with us, then will we go down; for ye may not see the man's face, except our youngest brother be with us.

27. And thy servant my father said unto me, Ye know that my wife bare me two sons:

28. And the one went out from me, and I said, Surely he is torn in pieces, and I have not seen him since.

29. And if ye take this one so from me, and harm befall him, ye will bring down my gray hairs with sorrow to Sheol.

30. Now therefore when I come to thy servant my father, and the lad is not with us; seeing that his life is bound in the lad's life:

31. It will come to pass, when he seeth that the lad is not with us, that he will die: and thy servants will bring down the gray hairs of thy servant our father with sorrow to Sheol.

32. For thy servant became surety for the lad unto my father, saying, If I bring him not unto thee, then shall I bear the blame to my father for ever.

33. Now therefore, let thy servant, I pray thee, abide instead of the lad a bondman to my lord; and let the lad go up with his brethren.

34. For how shall I go up to my father, if the lad be not with me? lest I see the evil that shall come on my father.

Golden Text:—Let Love of the brethren continue—Heb. 13:1.

Introduction

To the first of the Jewish patriarchs, Abraham, God had repeatedly given a promise that he would make Abraham's descendants a great people, a mighty nation, a blessing to all the nations of the earth, and that he would give them a land, Canaan, for their perpetual possession. Everything that God allows to happen to Abraham and to his descendants is for the ultimate carrying out of God's perfect and unchangeable purposes. One of the great epochal moments in the history of God's chosen people occurs when the family of Jacob, by unforeseen circumstances is compelled to go down into Egypt. Now, for the third time in the ancient record, the Land of Promise suffers from a failure of crops, and, consequently shortage of food. This time, apparently all the country around Palestine was equally involved in this disaster.

Consequently, when the supply of food in Jacob's home was nearly exhausted, he knew of only one place to which he could turn for a replenishing of his nearly empty grain bins, and that was Egypt, to which he sent his ten sons to buy grain, leaving only one, the youngest, Benjamin, the child of Rachel, at home, lest peradventure harm befall him.

The Character Of Judah

Judah's name had been given to him at his birth amid circumstances of hope on the part of his mother for Judah means 'praise'. His early youth did not, however, afford any proof whatever that he was living up to his splendid name. But in these later chapters he comes to the fore with great force of character, and the whole tone of his exquisite appeal in behalf of Benjamin shows that he is now living up to his name. The pressure of poverty, the stings of conscience, the deepening family love, the checking of self-confidence, are a few of the ways in which Judah was brought into the line of true life and enabled to take the lead in these family troubles and sorrows (Heb. 12:11).—W. H. Griffith Thomas. Jacob's "Little One." Gen. 44:18-32.

We can understand how eager Joseph was to see and have with him that youngest brother, his own, full brother who had been close to him in his boyhood, and who had not participated in the other's betrayal. There is a hint that after the disappearance of Joseph the brothers, regretting what they had done, had sought to make amends by being very tender toward "the little one." (vs. 20) would be a pet name of the father's that had clung to Benjamin even after he was full grown. How tightly Jacob's heart was bound up in his youngest son is pathetically revealed throughout the narrative.

Judah's Plea, Gen. 44:33-34. What a different Judah it is from the Judah who had participated in the outrage upon Joseph years before, and had proposed selling him into slavery! The brothers had learned that the way of the transgressor is hard. This awful famine they attribute to their crime, and are truly consciencestricken. However, Judah's touching plea and noble offer to save his father the deepest sorrow by taking Benjamin's place glorify that name Judah and make it worthy of its prominence in all the after-history of the Jewish race.

I Am Joseph Gen. 45:1-4.

The polished courtier, the hardened man of affairs and prime-minister, had been able thus far perfectly to conceal his identity. But now he breaks down. All the officials and attendants who had participated in these interviews are put forth, and alone with the shepherd strangers he gives way to the pent-up affection and loneliness of his years of exile after the Oriental fashion, in loud weeping. It is a lesson for us, as to our treatment of our brothers. In the flesh, and brothers figuratively speaking. Jars, and disagreements and alas! bitter quarrels, are so likely to occur between kindred! They wrong us. We them. Jealousy, as in this instance. Or envy. But blood relationship demands a charity that bears all things, endures all things, and never fails.

God's Providence, Gen. 45:5-8. "So now it was not you that sent me hither, but God; and he hath made a father to Pharaoh, and lord of all his house, and a ruler throughout all the land of Egypt." v. 8. We are surprised to find this early in the Bible such a clear and certain statement of a great truth of religious philosophy as Joseph makes. God's providence has been in all that has happened, as a guiding and controlling force. He has taken your evil deed and my exile and made them work out "for the best." It is our Lord's faith in his Father's overruling, Paul's confidence in divine direction.

"What they had intended for evil, God had intended for good. Of course that did not lessen their guilt. The most comforting thought we can have regarding our sins after they have been forgiven, is that God has brought good out of them."

Joseph's Magnanimity Gen. 45:9-15. We almost envy Joseph the large opportunity that was now his, not only to return good for evil, but to shower blessings upon his family. A shrewd statesman-economist, he had planned for the provisioning of his adopted nation through the five lean years that were yet to come; and in this relief his family were to share; "the fat of the land" was theirs; a whole province was set apart for them. Nor was he great Egyptian grandee that he had become, ashamed of his family when they arrived; nor ashamed to present to the magnificent and mighty Pharaoh his aged wandering shepherd father. He becomes for us, therefore, a shining example of loyal devotion to one's family. His care for his father and desire to have him with him down there in Egypt are not unusual, perhaps; but remember that this invitation included the whole clan; remember, also, that it embraced those brothers whose jealousy and hatred had condemned him in his youth to what promised to be a life of slavery. We think of Jesus "If thy brother trespass against thee . . . thou shalt forgive him."

Jane—Our wedding was delightful, and we got so many gifts in silver. Myrtle—I suppose your father gave you silver too? Jane—No, he gave us a bottle of acid to test the other presents with.

Town Drunk—(bumping into lamp post): "Excuse me, sir." (Bumping into fire hydrant): "Excuse me little boy." (Bumping into second lamp post and stitind down): "Well I'll just sit here until the crowd passes."

Arrived With The Wind

We now have on display the truly famous Coop Tractor. South plains farmers who have been using this tractor for the past two years declare it is the answer to a farmers prayer for efficiency, economy and performance. The tractor is manufactured by the Chrysler Motor Corp., and replacement parts for motors are available at most any Plymouth, Chrysler or Dodge car agency. This tractor on display was driven from Kansas City the past week end by an employee of the Consumers Sales Corp., and he will tell you, or better show you, the power, speed and economy of the tractor. Come in today and let us demonstrate the coming tractor for this section of the state.

Another Step Toward Farm Security

Directors and officials of the Hansford county Consumers Corp., feel that this tractor and the reasonable prices is just another step being taken towards farm security in this county. Cooperation of farmer interest in the purchase of supplies thru the Farmer Owned Consumers Sales Corp., has long since ceased to be an experiment. Patronage dividend payments during the past few years have been as regular as the date arrive. The more than 300 stockholder customers and the 1,000 other customers of this corporation have accepted the fact that Consumers have dominated the field of value during the past five years. It is difficult to estimate the value of a well regulated cooperative organization such as your own CONSUMERS SALES. Truly the confidence of the public once won as is the case in Hansford County, proves a resource difficult to list among the assets of a corporation. We are sincerely thankful as officials of the company for this confidence, and for the efforts of our members to bring the facts before the public. A "social security" that results can be extended indefinitely if the good people of this county continue to cooperate and take advantage of the purchasing power made available by your own county cooperative organization.

Carry Large Assortment of Farm Needs . . .

From time to time your cooperative organization is taking on new merchandise that can be serviced to the public at a distinct benefit to customers. We do not try to absorb the field of sales in this county, but those items that come within the scope of needs for farm home, must of necessity be stocked by your organization if directors and officials live up to their trust and duty.

At this time we suggest a few of the items that are seasonable, any item for your car in the accessory line. Washing machines, Windmills, Combine repairs, Radios, both Electric and Battery, for home and car. Norge refrigeration units, for either City or Farm home.

WHEN TIRE SAFETY IS VALUED MOST!

BY DIRECT WIRE FROM
WESTERN UNION

MR HARVEY S FIRESTONE CHAIRMAN—
FIRESTONE TIRE & RUBBER COMPANY—
AKRON OHIO—

HAVE TODAY WON THE SILVER ANNIVERSARY 500-MILE INDIANAPOLIS RACE ON FIRESTONE GUM-DIPPED TIRES AT 113.58 MILES PER HOUR BREAKING ALL RECORDS STOP I KNEW I COULD WIN IF MY TIRES COULD STAND THE TERRIFIC HEAT GENERATED AT THESE NEW HIGH SPEEDS STOP WORDS CANNOT EXPRESS MY GRATEFUL APPRECIATION FOR THE MARVELOUS STRENGTH BUILT INTO YOUR TIRES AND THEIR OUTSTANDING PERFORMANCE

WILBUR SHAW.

Gum dipped cords
PROVIDE THE EXTRA MARGIN OF SAFETY ON THE SPEEDWAY OR THE HIGHWAY

THOUSANDS said that tires could not stand the terrific grind. They said cars had been built with much greater speed, turns in the track had been repaved with granite-like surface, yet Wilbur Shaw drove to victory on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires setting a new record of 113.58 miles per hour on one of the hottest days in the history of the Indianapolis track.

Think of the terrific impact on these tires as the cars roared into the treacherous turns and out again. Tons of force straining, pulling, and twisting inside the tire, yet not one cord loosened, not one tread separated from the cord body—all because Gum-Dipping, the Firestone patented process, successfully counteracted the internal friction and heat that ordinarily destroy tire life.

You will never drive your car at these record-breaking speeds, but for the safety of yourself and family you need the safest, strongest and most dependable tires. Come in today. Join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires—the safest tires that money can buy.

DON'T RISK YOUR LIFE ON THIN WORN TIRES
No car owner is going to risk his life and the lives of his family knowingly on thin worn tires.

DO YOU KNOW
THAT last year highway accidents cost the lives of more than 28,000 men, women and children?
THAT a million more were injured?
THAT more than 46,000 of these deaths and injuries were caused directly by punctures, blowouts and skidding due to worn tires?

Section of smooth, worn tires which is more susceptible to punctures, blowouts and skidding.

Section of new Firestone Tire. Note protection against skidding, punctures and blowouts.
