ANOTHER FIRST FOR THE INN -- This historied old structure was the first hotel in the city of Spearman. The Spearman Lynx racked up a 3-2 win-loss record, Friday night, but the real pain of the 29 to 22 defeat at the hands of the Canadian Wildcats was that it was Homecoming.

It is easy to say but... actually the Lynx should not feel hurt for Lynx fans are feeling no pain! Despite the trailing score, the Spearman 'Cats showed what they could do more than at any other time since the season opened.

Here was a team with a lonesome six-point touchdown--not even a point-after for comfort--until the closing minutes of the contest and they reeled off 16 points, accomplishing two feats often not done by either team in an entire game: two successive two-point after touchdown score.

So, the feeling of most fans is that the clock beat the Lynx.

What they are referring to is the belief that another ten minutes would have seen a different score. However, to be perfectly honest, those few times the Lynx were out-finesed leaving a lot of green grass to the Wildcats, had their effect, too.

It appeared, in the first quarter, the game would be a punting contest more than anything else. The Wildcats won the toss, elected to receive and both teams mounted the teeter-totter. On their second possession, the Wildcats made the first first-down of the game and on their second possession, the Lynx got their first over-ten.

There was a disheartening moment when the Wildcats raised the officials arms with pass from Wildcat left-handed quarterback Bear Shafer to split-end Dennis McPherson in the end zone. But the Wildcats were plagued with the same misfortunes that marked the Hobart game and the TD was nullified by penalties.

So, the first quarter ended tightly with no score and about 17 yards charging for both teams.

In the second quarter, the Wildcats drew first blood with a short lunge by Bear Shafer followed by a faked kick as Shafer passed to Scott Carpenter for the two-after and the Wildcats led 8-0.

Then, turnovers reared their ugly heads.

There were two given up by the Wildcats and four committed by the Lynx and every time each team scored on the bobble.

The ground defense weakness of the Wildcats indicated by the stats of the Hobart game the previous game failed to materialize and Rocky Randall's center-of-the-line bulldozer plays met a stone wall. Steve Tindell's rolls to right and left were a little more rewarding as were gambits by Karey Bodey and Jeff Lackey.

Early in the second half the Wildcats scored again bringing the tally to 22-6. This was soon followed by another TD but it was called back alas the Hobart game.

Then, in the closing minutes, Phil Paul intercepted a Wildcat pass and raced 27 yards for the touchdown. Tindell's pass to Bodey in the end zone was good for the two-after.

Minutes later, Lackey scooted over to pay dirt and Monte George, in the end zone, folded in Tindell's pass for another two points.

As time for play came to be measured in seconds, the Wildcats chose to "hunker" when they had the ball and wait out the clock. They seem to decide the Lynx had bitten off enough Wildcat hair for the evening.

With enough cat-hair in their mouth just this far into the season to drive a hunting dog wild, the Lynx are going through a "tooth-brushing" this week to get ready for the big game--and you can read that both ways--the Tigers of Guymon, Okla. who won a cliffhanger over Perryton last Friday night.

Meanwhile, despite the 3-2 season record thus far, the dopsters are still touting the Spearman Lynx as a deadly threat in conference play.

7th Grade Lynx Meet Wolves

Our 7th grade Lynx will travel to Dalhart to play the Wolves. The Wolves are and have always been tough. Our Lynx are coming off of a very heartbreaking "Homecoming" defeat delivered by Boys Ranch. This game is the last game in the "regular season", and our Lynx are so improved that they just might surprise those Wolves!

The game starts at 5:00 p.m. And, take it from me, seeing a game at the start is more fascinating and exciting than getting to the game at halftime and trying to figure who did what and how the score could be so high or so low. So ya'll "dash" on down to Dalhart early so that ya'll can get there before the kick-off.

This game is going to be a whale of a game for our 7th grade Lynx. Some people might say that our Lynx are "starving for a win", but I believe if our Lynx tie or lose just by one touchdown, they'll be "full of joy" for doing that great.

Dalhart teams are known as "offensive teams". Well, our Lynx do have a big task ahead of them, but they are ready and willing to take on this powerful "offensive team".

If ya'll have seen "Amazing Animals" then ya'll should know that "wild dogs" can be tamed although it takes a lot longer than it does regular dogs. So, I think, that if our Lynx do "tame" the Wolves it will probably take all four quarters, but I know that our Lynx want to tame these Wolves. With 4 games under their belts--tough ones--I'll bet our Lynx will put all their tactics together from those games and get those wolves!!

COME ON LYNX--GET A WOLF!!

Hospital News

Freshmen and Jr. Varsity "Homecoming"

Since our Varsity Lynx had their Homecoming game this past Friday, October 3, and our 7th and 8th grade Lynx had their first "Homecoming" this past Thursday, October 2; our 9th grade and Jr. Varsity don't have Homecoming like the Varsity so they will have the first ever "Homecoming" game this Thursday, October 9, against the Dalhart Wolves. So ya'll tell your neighbors and pals about it and show up and show your spirit at the 1980 "Homecoming" game of the Freshmen and Jr. Varsity Lynx.

Let's go Lynx Win "Homecoming"!!!

Jr. Varsity Lynx Ready for Wolves

The Jr. Varsity Lynx will host the Dalhart Wolves this Thursday, October 9, right after the 9th grade game. Our Jr. Varsity Lynx are ready to play their arch-rivals. And since this game will be "Homecoming" since they played away last week when it was Homecoming for the Varsity and the 7th and 8th grade teams. All the Spearman teams cannot play at home the same week; so since last week was "Homecoming" for the 7th and 8th and Homecoming for the Varsity Lynx; this week will be "Homecoming" for our 9th grade and Jr. Varsity Lynx.

GOOD LUCK LYNX

9th Grade Lynx Twice as Ready

The 9th grade Lynx will host the Wolves from Dalhart. The game will begin at 5:00 p.m. If ya'll don't make it to Dalhart watch the 7th and 8th grade Lynx beat the Wolves then go to Lynx Stadium and watch our 9th grade Lynx tame the "big, bad, Wolves." As ya'll know, our 9th grade Lynx didn't play last week so our Lynx will be twice as ready for the "wolfpack".

Postal Checks Up

Consumer complaints about work-at-home promotions that take money from those who can least afford it have prompted the Postal Service to assign 18 postal inspectors to spend all their time investigating that type of fraud, according to the postmaster.

The postmaster made the announcement in connection with Consumer Protection Week, October 6-11.

Although reluctant to label all work-at-home promotions fraudulent, the Postal Inspection Service has yet to find an envelope stuffing offer that is legitimate.

"Postal Inspectors haven't been able to identify a single operation that produces anywhere near the kind of income claimed in most advertising," the postmaster said. "My advice is to avoid them all."

The goal of the nationwide assignment of postal inspectors concentrating all their efforts on work-at-home investigations is to shut down all operations that are fraudulent or misleading.

"It's an ambitious goal," the postmaster said, "but postal inspectors are a tenacious group."

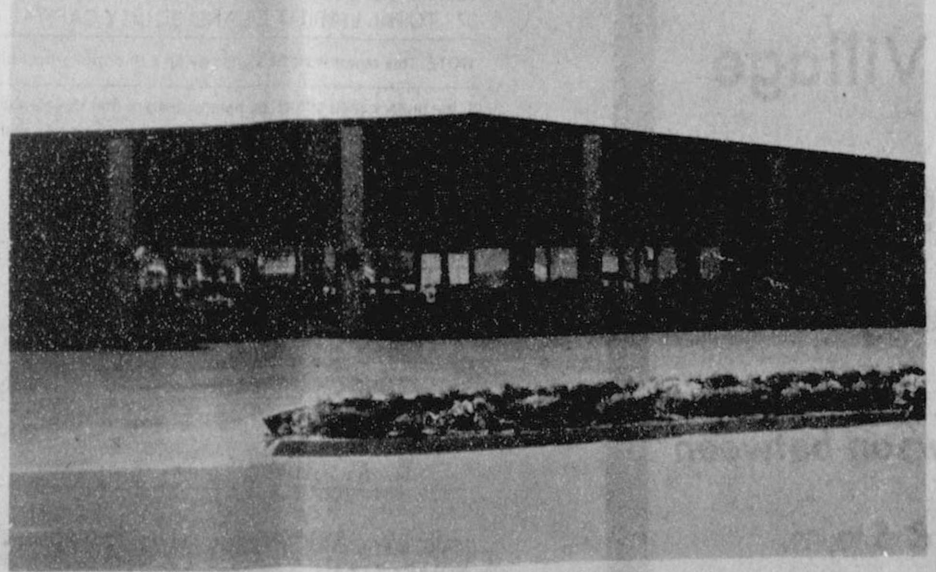

Since last October their efforts have resulted in stopping more than 500 questionable work-at-home promotions resulting in savings of thousands of dollars to the public.

"If you think you might be a victim, or simply see an ad for a work-at-home scheme in a publication," the postmaster said, "let us know so that we can achieve our goal of eliminating these kinds of rip-offs."

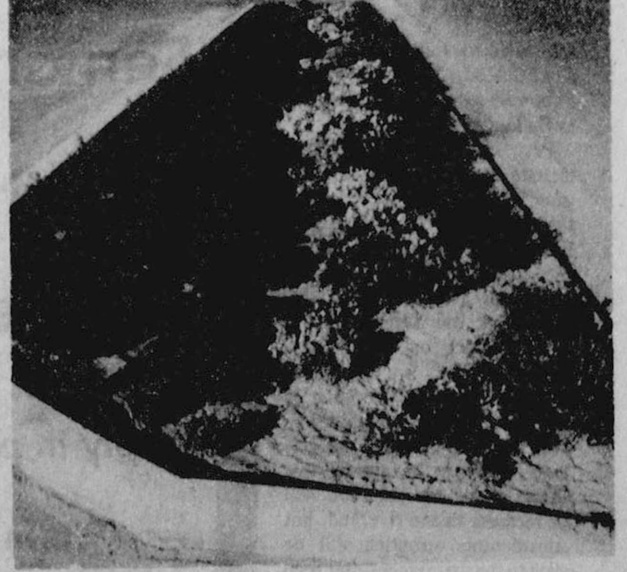

The most common work-at-home promotion seeks people to stuff envelopes even though envelope-stuffing today is a highly mechanized operation. Literally thousands fall victim each year, the postmaster said, despite the fact that many people realize no company could afford to pay people to perform such a chore by hand.

"Unfortunately, it is the elderly or low income people who lose money to these con men," the postmaster said, "and that makes this kind of scheme particularly disgusting."

The postmaster suggested the next time readers see an ad for a work-at-home scheme, they clip it out and send it to him so postal inspectors can be among the first to examine it.

BEAUTY . . . INSIDE AND OUT -- For 18 years, Beedy Furniture has been in the business of beautifying the homes of Spearman and the surrounding area. A mark of their success is the beautiful home now occupied by Beedy Furniture. Not content with the displays inside -- both singular pieces and ensembles, Beedy has challenged the elements of the High Plains in creating this curbside floral masterpiece.

Womens Volleyball

Two games were played with First State Bank winning both with the scores of 15 to 6 and 15 to 9. Baker and Taylor played two real good, tough games against First State Bank. At 9:00 Golden Spread Sales played Thriftway. Three close games were played. Golden Spread won two games with the scores of 15 to 11 and 15 to 12. Thriftway won one real close game with the score of 16 to 14. These games were very exciting as the teams were evenly matched.

FEATURED TEAM

For years, researchers have known that smoking is the major cause of emphysema. Now they are beginning to find out why.

According to the American Lung Association of Texas, the lungs function normally if there is a vital balance between two substances—two enzymes.

One enzyme called elastase actually digests the rubbery fibers that make the tiny air sacs in the lungs elastic. The other enzyme exhibits the first so that it doesn't get out of control and severely damage the fibers.

Among emphysema victims, a very small fraction inherit the disease and develop emphysema even if they do not smoke. Most emphysema patients, however, have smoked heavily for many years. But those who inherit the disease have a deficiency of the second enzyme. As a result the uninhibited elastase enzyme devours the tissues of the air sacs. The air sacs cannot exchange oxygen and carbon dioxide properly. The emphysema patient must struggle to breathe 20 to 25 times a minute instead of the normal 15. In its advanced stages the disease is agonizing.

In "smoker's" emphysema, the problem is more complicated, according to new research from the National Institutes of Health. By comparing lung fluid from heavy smokers with fluid from nonsmokers, investigators found that the second—the inhibiting-enzyme was present; but it was not doing its job. A chemical in smoke called on oxidant apparently turns off the second enzyme.

"Every individual who smokes shows some signs of emphysema," says Oscar Auerbach, M.D., who recently was awarded the Trudeau Medal from the American Lung Association for his years of study that documented the correlation between the amount of lung damage and the amount of smoking.

To find out more about quitting smoking and preventing such diseases as emphysema, contact the American Lung Association of Texas—the Christmas Seal people. Write ALAT: 7701 N. Lamar, Suite 104, Austin, Texas 78752 or phone 512/458-2206. Tax-deductible contributions to the lung association help in the fight against lung disease. It's a matter of life and breath.

More educators studying in MBA programs

COLLEGE STATION — A profile of students entering the graduate business program at Texas A&M University this fall shows an eight-fold increase in the enrollment of former school teachers, counselors, and those with education backgrounds but no work experience, say college officials.

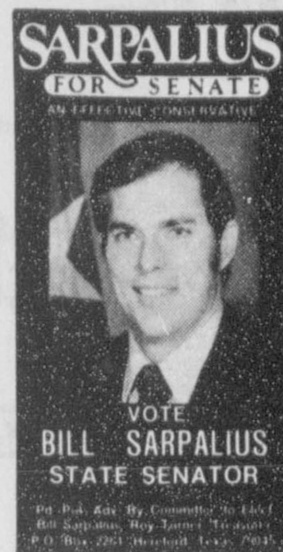

At least 50 percent of those entering the graduate business school have undergraduate degrees in areas other than business administration. Among these 16 percent have education degrees, 19 percent come with liberal arts backgrounds, eight percent from engineering or technology and seven percent from science.

At least 40 percent of the students this fall are women, officials say.

Drought Effects Reflected In Higher Auction Sales

AUSTIN—Livestock auction sales increased significantly in August, reflecting the effects of the summer's relentless heat wave. Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

"During August — at the height of the drought — thousands of head of Texas livestock were being moved off of withered pastures and into auction barns across the state," said Brown. "The effects of this weather-related sell-off will be with us for some time."

Figures from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service show that auction sales of cattle were up by 15 percent during August compared to a year earlier. Some 115 percent more sheep and lambs were sent to auction than in 1979, and hog sales totaled 56,000 head, 37 percent above August 1979.

Over 40,000 head of goats were marketed in August, compared to 26,000 head the previous month.

"In the case of cattle, Texas herds were just beginning to rebuild after several years of reduction," he said. "There is no question that the drought will prolong this rebuilding cycle, and create reduced supplies of beef in the coming years."

"The situation is particularly bad for livestock producers because marketing decisions are taken out of their hands," said Brown. "When faced with hungry stock, sparse grazing and expensive feed, many have no other choice but to sell. The drought could not have come at a worse time for most producers."

Brown also noted that movement of cattle, sheep and lambs into Texas feedlots accelerated this summer due to the hot, dry weather.

Pollution

PRPC—How polluted is the Canadian River in the vicinity of Borger? What percent of the pollution is the result of man's presence? How much of it is linked to natural salt deposits? Those are questions Delmar VanEpps will try to answer as he begins a project for the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission this month.

The study, made possible by funding from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, will take approximately two years to complete. During that time VanEpps and the consultant he will hire, will scour the drainage of the Canadian from a point at the foot of the Sanford Dam downstream to Plemmons Bridge about 20 miles away.

"We will be taking periodic water samples," VanEpps says, "to determine the dissolved content. Our first goal is to see how high the salt concentration is. The State Water Control Board says the safe limit is 1,000 milligrams per liter of water. We will be using that as a standard."

In more familiar terms, that would mean the water would be noticeably salty to the taste; perhaps slightly more salty than the water that comes out of Amarillo's faucets. Delmar VanEpps says there are three potential major municipal chloride pollutant sources: the cities of Sanford, Borger, Phillips, and associated industries. "We are going to be looking closely at Sanford," he says. "They don't have a standard sewage collection and treatment plant. Each home has its own septic tank. It is possible that some of the chloride buildup would be coming from those septic fields by way of groundwater tables."

Before any ground work gets under way, Delmar VanEpps must organize a citizens committee as called for under the "208" Water Quality Planning grant. He has contacted twenty citizens to serve on the board. They are grouped in four interest areas: four are private citizens, four are from economic interest groups, six public servants are included, and four men from public interest groups have been signed up. They will meet periodically with VanEpps to hear his reports and help him map strategy. The organizational meeting for the group is scheduled for 1:30 p.m., Thursday, October 2, in the PRPC Conference Room in the Amarillo Building.

Part of the strategy will include a lot of work on the ground. VanEpps, who joined the commission in August, will be looking over the shoulder of the consultant during sample collection. He will watch the testing of the samples as a quality check on the consultant's work.

He will get to know much of the 1500 square miles study area first-hand during the collection phase of the grant. Much of his investigation will be focused on the riverbed, but considerable attention will be paid to the dry arroyos that feed periodic runoff into the main course for about 20 miles on either side of the mainstream of the Canadian.

Long-range outcomes of the study could include applying for federal funds to construct the sewage treatment plant any where man-made pollution is high. Previous studies have judged the target segment of the river to be the most polluted of any stretch that runs through the Panhandle. Earlier findings indicated a high salt content in the western Panhandle branch of the river, but it was concluded most of that came from submerged salt deposits on the New Mexico side of the water course.

Federal Grant Awarded

PRPC — A rural electric cooperative somewhere in the Panhandle will benefit from a $25,000 federal grant recently awarded to the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission.

The Commission is one of sixteen councils of government in the U.S. to participate in the Department of Commerce's Rural Energy Initiative.

Initially, the commission will survey the thirteen RECs in the Panhandle-Plains region to determine interest in the program. The co-op boards and staffs will be asked to complete questionnaires showing their level of interest in such issues as solar and wind energy, the use of synfuels, biomass conversion or alternative approaches to energy production and supplementation.

The REC that is selected as a target for the Panhandle Rural Energy Program (PREP) will be assisted by PRPC staff member, Wayne Hughes, in exploring the alternative energy resources that might be adaptable to their economic situation.

During the phase I term of the PREP, the co-op board and staff will be acquainted with all aspects of alternative energy systems open to them and then be encouraged to adopt one of those systems or a set of systems for further study and development. Part of the adoption process would include public hearings to get input from private citizens and acquaint them with the progress of the grant.

One possible application of the funding would be to train owner/members of the co-op to construct small solar collectors in their farm workshops. The co-op would then sell the units to other members of the co-op or to the general public. This kind of cottage industry would help prevent job displacement resulting from increasing mechanization of farming operations.

The Panhandle Rural Energy Program was designed to be linked to an electric cooperative because this kind of organization already has a board of directors and a professional staff. It saves the time that would be spent in creating a governing body from "scratch." Co-op organizations are accustomed to dealing with energy issues routinely. Consequently, little of the grant time would have to be spent in educating board members about basic energy issues.

Spokesman for the Commerce Department have told PRPC officials that the energy program could be eligible for continued funding on a three-year basis if the pilot program is successful. The additional funding could be used to purchase hardware for pilot projects and to hire consultants to train workers in construction of alternative energy devices.

The Department of Commerce and Energy will distribute $400,000 in federal funds to economic development districts in fifteen states in the energy program. The PRPC is the only district in Texas to be awarded a grant in the program.

The COMMUNITY PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY
AVERAGE BILLING PLAN

When your electric bills fluctuate greatly from month to month, it can be difficult to plan your budget. For your convenience, Community Public Service Company has designed the Average Billing Plan. When you convert to the Plan, your bills are averaged out so that you pay approximately the same each month. Your bills will vary some, but you will know about what to expect and can plan your budget accordingly. Your total annual electricity cost will remain the same — you'll just know about what you'll be spending for your electric bill every month. The Average Billing Plan could be just the edge you need to plan your budget efficiently. If you're interested and would like to find out more, call Community Public Service Company.

CAN SMOOTH OUT

THIS IS HOW YOUR AVERAGE BILLING AMOUNT IS FIGURED:
FIRST MONTH EACH MONTH THEREAFTER
Most recent Billing Amount + 12 months actual use = 12 months actual use + 12 months accumulated difference = Average Billing Amount *12% of accumulated difference is added to the current bill when the accumulated amount for electricity used is more than the accumulated amount billed under the Average Billing Plan.

NOTE: If you have less than 12 months' history at your present address, the "average" will be based on the number of months available.

Texas' small towns are doing just fine

COLLEGE STATION — Once depicted as an endangered species, the small town in Texas is alive and well, says Dr. Robert Skrabanek, sociologist at Texas A&M University.

Two-thirds of all Texas towns with less than 500 people lost residents between 1950 and 1960. The situation began to reverse in the late '60s, and now three-fourths of those towns have recorded population increases, he said.

YMCA News

SPEARMAN HOSTS BOXING MATCH SATURDAY

The Spearman-Gruver Box Club will host its first boxing match for 1980-81 this Saturday, October 11, at the YMCA. Ray Thomas, Coach of, the Spearman Club, says that boxers will be from Amarillo, Tulsa, Guymon, Stinnett, Hereford, Spearman-Gruver.

The admission by spectators to the match will help defray costs of the boxing program at the YMCA. These include equipment purchases, hand wraps and travel to other communities for matches and tournaments.

The match will be on Saturday, October 11, at the YMCA, 501 South Hazelwood at 8:00 p.m. Admission will be $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for students. A concession stand will be operated by the boxing team mothers and will provide coffee, cakes, sandwiches, cookies, cakes, popcorn and the like.

The young boxers begin at 8:00 p.m. with the younger boys, age 6-8 through the open division for those 16 and older. There will be some young men competing who have fought for a number of years. Competition should be excellent. The club invites all the boxing fans to come and see some excitement in the ring beginning at 8:00 p.m. Saturday at the YMCA.

BOYS' FLAG FOOTBALL AND GIRLS' CHEERLEADING CONTINUE

Five hours of cheering and deflagging take place at the high school practice field each Saturday morning between 8:30 a.m. and 1:00 p.m., as boys grades one through six compete in some exciting flag football competition.

The teams are matched by grades 1-3 and 4-6. Teams are coached by volunteers. The girls enter into the act as cheerleaders. The girls take the cheerleading very seriously. The six squads of girls come by the Y from one to two times a week learning new cheers, practicing routines and becoming key motivators for the boys as they challenge one another on the gridiron.

The boys flag football teams are each showing gradual improvement as the season has just passed the half way point. The practices and games are teaching many fundamentals of football execution. Flag football tends to be wide open, as each player on the team is eligible to receive the ball in a handoff or passing situation. The boys playing defense are learning to read the offenses extremely well. It really is gratifying to see the progress being made by these young men and young women.

Through the first three weeks of games the standings are: First-Third grades—GIANTS 4-0-0; RAIDERS 2-1-0; OILERS 0-4-0. Fourth-Sixth grades—COWBOYS 2-1-2; STEELERS 2-0-1; COLTS 0-3-1.

Games for Saturday, October 11 are: 8:30 a.m. Steelers vs Colts; 9:30 a.m. Giants vs Raiders; 10:30 a.m. Cowboys vs Colts and 11:30 a.m. Giants vs Oilers.

8th Grade Lynx No. 1 Defense

Our 8th grade Lynx will travel to Dalhart to play the Wolves. Coach May said that Dalhart is the toughest team in District, and our Lynx will have to play the best game yet to beat the Wolves. He also pointed out that all the teams that Dalhart has played, they have beaten their opponents with a 30 point spread. So again the Wolves are probably known as the #1 offensive team in this District.

Dalhart now knows that Brian Williams runs as fast and as hard as their best back does. They'll probably try to contain Brian, but they better be ready for Mark Pearson's "arm" and the other running backs and ends. The first thing they--Wolves--better worry about is going thru the offensive line. As ya'll know those are one "big, bad, bossy" bunch of guys. #1--they are big enough to take licks; #2--they are bad enough to give licks and once they get started they become the boss and the defense becomes the slave. So, if you ask me, Dalhart is the team who has to worry about Spearman instead of vice-versa. Their offense is the best in the league, but our 8th grade Lynx have got the best defense in the league. The secondary has vastly improved that it's impossible to throw a pass and get it completed. If a pass is completed; right when the end catches the ball; the defender gives him a big, hard lick that the end, supposedly, tells his quarterback not to throw him another pass. The defensive line has played great since the first game and is improving in each game. They rush the quarterback causing so many incompletions and interceptions that the quarterbacks--for that game--have negative yards passing. The line also have sacked quarterbacks so many times that those poor boys are black and blue. The defensive line plays just as great against the run. So this game will be between the #1 defense--Spearman Lynx--against the #1 offense--Dalhart Wolves. If our Lynx can stop the Wolves, then our Lynx will be #1 in District. In other words, this game means a lot to both teams--which ever one wins is going to be the dominant team in the District. So GOOD LUCK LYNX!!

Our Lynx will have to play better than they did against Boys Ranch which was great. The offense and the defense worked together so beautifully, and I think they can do it again, maybe better.

Ya'll go to Dalhart and watch our boys teach their boys a lesson on how to play football. Watch out Dalhart, Spearman is going to town to bring home a victory.

GO LYNX!! GET A WOLF!

Foreign diseases seen as threat to American animals

COLLEGE STATION — Smuggling frozen semen from high-powered Brazilian bulls is daily increasing the risk of economically devastating foot-and-mouth disease in Texas, says a top federal scientist.

Foot-and-mouth disease, eradicated in Texas 55 years ago, and African swine fever, unknown in this hemisphere until 1971, are two of the foreign animal diseases most worrying scientists. Dr. Jerry Callis said at Texas A&M University.

Callis, director of the Department of Agriculture's Plum Island Animal Disease Center in New York, said ordinary pasteurization and hide and cheese processing do not eliminate foot-and-mouth virus from products of infected animals. He also said completion of the Pan American Highway from South America would dramatically boost the chances of eventual invasion of foreign animal diseases.

October, 1980

*The fields are harvested and bare
And winter whistles through the Square.
October dresses in flame and gold
Like a woman afraid of growing old

October is filled with interesting dates, and is the birthday month of six Presidents. It is also the month in which many state days are observed, or have been in the past--Missouri Day on the 1st, Oklahoma Historical Day on the 10th, University of North Carolina Day on the 12th (and Farmers' Day in Florida), Alaska Day on the 18th, Yorktown Day on the 19th, Pennsylvania Day on the 24th and Admission Day in Nevada on the 31st.

Presidents born in October include Jimmy (James Earl) Carter, the 39th, was born in Plains, Georgia, on the 1st in 1924; Rutherford Hayes, the 19th born in Delaware, Ohio, on the 4th in 1822; Chester Arthur, 21st, born in Fairfield, Vermont, on the 5th in 1830; Dwight Eisenhower, 34th, born at Denison, Texas, on the 14th in 1890; John Adams, 2nd, born in Braintree, Massachusetts, on the 30th in 1735; Theodore Roosevelt, 26th, born in New York City on the 27th in 1858.

Interestingly, October is the month in which both Leif Ericsson and Columbus sailed to the New World. While Columbus' voyage actually opened up the Americas to colonialization and trade, and therefore had immense consequences. Ericsson's voyage came about five hundred years earlier. Colorado, in 1943, became one of the first states to observe Leif Ericsson Day, on the 9th; Columbus Day, on the 12th, has become a federal holiday.

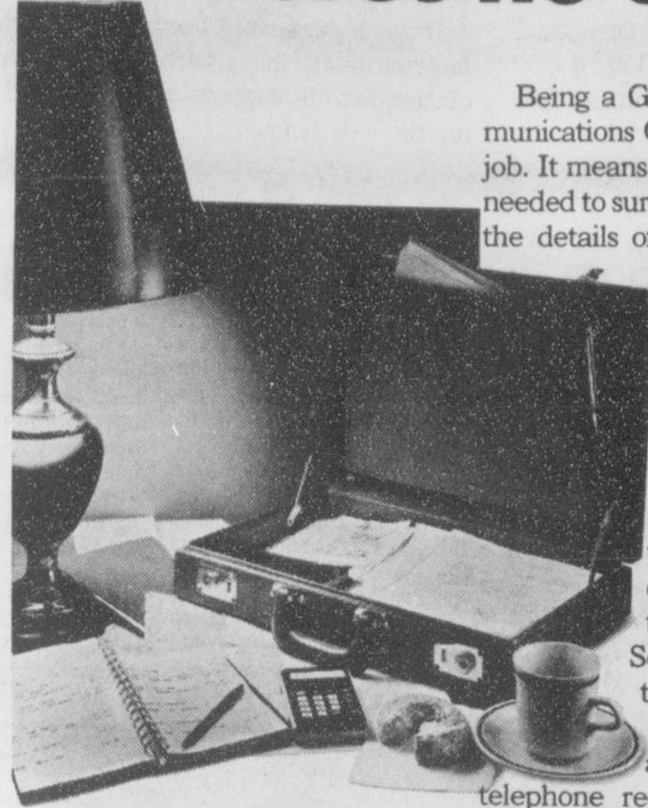

Lehigh University and Dartmouth observe Founder's Day in October, the first permanent German settlement in America was made at Germantown, Pennsylvania, on the 6th in 1683; John Clarke, a pioneer in the field of religious liberty and one of the founders of Rhode Island, was born on the 8th, in 1609 (in England).

Pulaski Day, which President Franklin Roosevelt proclaimed as one of memory for the Polish count who fought bravely for the colonies in the Revolution, falls on the 11th. St. Francis of Assisi, one of the most humble heroes of the Christian church, died on the 3rd in 1236. The Edict of Nantes, granting Protestants tolerance, was revoked on the 23rd in 1685, sending hundreds of thousands of Frenchmen fleeing persecution to America and elsewhere. Halloween ends the month, on the 31st.

Rotary Club News

Steve McElroy of Crowell, Texas talked to the Spearman Rotary Club Monday noon on the Arab-Israeli conflict in the garden room of the Cattleman's Restaurant. Community singing was led by Ed Freeman. The pledge of allegiance was led by Jack McWhirter. The prayer of invocation was given by Eschol Blankenship. Robert Elliott presided at the meeting. The dollar dealer was Gary Sims.

McElroy said that both Israel and the Arabs claim the land of Palestine as their land; both claim that God gave them that land.

From the Arab point of view it was their land for hundreds of years until England gave part of it back to the Jews and then Israel grabbed back the West Bank in the six day war. Israel conquered the Arab people but treated them well, but two-thirds of the Arabs moved out and this was the start of the Palestinian Liberation Organization. The Palestinians claim that this is their land by right and that they will continue to do guerrilla fighting and sabotage until Israel gives it up.

Israel claims the West Bank as a cushion to stop a land attack by the P.L.O.

Massada, which was built by the Romans, is on a high mountain on the West Bank. In 70 A.D. the Jews in Jerusalem began to rebel against Roman rule. Many left Jerusalem and went to Massada. The Romans crushed the revolt in Jerusalem and then went to retake the Jews at Massada. It took the Romans three years to get up to Massada, in which time many Roman soldiers were killed. In order to get there they had to build a land ramp. The Israelis thought they would rather die than surrender to the Romans, so they burned up the city and their provisions and killed themselves.

Modern Israeli soldiers have taken the motto: "Massada will never fall again." Massada is on the West Bank of the Jordan River. Israel will not give it up without a fight. Both Israelis and the Arabs want the land and are willing to fight for it.

Visiting Rotarians Monday noon were Dave Harmony of Borger and Steve McElroy of Crowell.

PRPC-Area senior citizens centers, like Spearman's Golden Spread Center, will not be able to offer information and referral services to senior residents of Hansford County. The new program has been made possible through a grant from The Governor's Committee on Aging.

The grant money is being distributed by the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission's Area Agency on Aging. Approximately $26,000 has been made available by The Governor's Committee on Aging. It will be distributed among five centers and the Texas Panhandle Community Action Corporation in the Panhandle area.

In Spearman, the money will help establish a system that seniors can use to help get information in almost any area. Some of the categories covered in the referral listings include: alcoholism, education, emergencies, employment, finances, services to the handicapped, health care, and housing. Pearl Pierce, the Spearman center's director, is the contact person for the "I&R" service.

Other services offered to Spearman and the Hansford County senior citizens include hearing tests, blood sugar, and

Collector's Decorations

LUBBOCK--The Harrell House from Scurry County will be featured on the 1980 Christmas tree collector's decoration offered by Cogdell's General Store at the Ranching Heritage Center.

The large white ball is the third in the Christmas series, each featuring a different structure familiar to visitors at the Ranching Heritage Center of The Museum of Texas Tech University. The sepia picture of the structure appears on the glazed ball surface.

Earlier Christmas balls featured the Masterson JY Bunkhouse and the Jewell House.

The Harrell House is the house that "grew," serving three ranching families in an era that began with the free range and ended with barbed wire fences separating the cowmen and farmers.

It began as a tiny, one-room, rock structure. Before the turn of the century, a box-and-strip section was added. Before 1917 a second box-and-strip wing was added. This is the front section of the T-shaped house.

Misses Faye and Myrtle Harrell of Snyder rescued the house from deterioration, restored it on their land and furnished it with articles that came as close as possible to those used by early inhabitants of the home.

The Ranching Heritage Center is a 12-acre outdoor exhibit with approximately 20 ranch structures which have been moved and authentically restored to depict the history of ranching in the American West.

Nation's supply of engineers is falling short

COLLEGE STATION — The dean of the nation's largest college of engineering warned recently the nation's supply of engineers falls far short of industry demand and there is no sign of relief.

Shortages have developed for petroleum, chemical, electrical, mechanical, aerospace, civil and safety engineers, said Dr. Robert H. Page of Texas A&M University.

Although Texas A&M graduated a record 851 engineers in 1979, including 80 women, recruiters from industry and business still demand more.

Texas Arts Alliance

At 2 p.m. Texas Arts Alliance members and guests, representing arts organizations and individuals from over 175 communities, will comment on the state arts plan at a public hearing for that purpose scheduled by the Texas Commission on the Arts.

Other business of the Alliance includes election of new officers, directors and governors for the 1600 members organization, and a review by subscribers of the organization's news service. A tour of the Arts Magnet High School and the Majestic Theatre are scheduled for Friday, October.

For registration information, contact TAA executive director Susan Morehead, at Box 5513, Austin 78763, or call (512) 474-2663.

Arts advocates from across Texas will meet in Dallas October 3 and 4 to review current state arts policies and finalize plans for support of an increased state arts budget at the fourth annual meeting of the Texas Arts Alliance.

"Despite efforts of the legislature to raise Texas from last among states in per capita arts funding by increasing the meagre budget of the Texas Commission on the Arts last session, our state remains last," according to TAA Chairman John Scanlan of Austin. "We are committed to working with elected officials to improve that standing dramatically."

In 1979, the state arts budget of $363,700 provided 2.6 cents per Texas; the 324 percent increase brought 1980 funds to $1.2 million or 9.35 cents each. The Texas Commission on the Arts has requested $9.65 million for the coming two years, which would provide 33.6 cents per person for arts activities. The agency anticipates an additional $500,000 each year from Federal sources. The requested increase is based on program expansion, with no additional staff positions.

Texas business gave $7.6 million to the arts last year, equalling the California state arts budget, which ranks 15th in state per capita arts funding. New York, with $533.3 million ranks second, Ohio with $4.7 million ranks 10th, and Texas ranks 50th.

Dallas developer/arts leader Raymond D. Nasher, a charter member of the Alliance, will open the 10:30 a.m. Saturday meeting at Dallas City Hall, and Paul Baker, Managing Director of the Dallas Theatre Center, will deliver the main address.

Continued growth

COLLEGE STATION — Continued growth has been predicted for the Texas Engineering Extension Service, which last year conducted occupational training for 50,000 Texans, including thousands of firefighters and police officers.

James R. Bradley, director of the extension service, said new programs should add 100-150 new people this year to the extension service staff that numbers about 350.

Made up of 15 training divisions with offices and centers in Lubbock, Floydada, Arlington, Fort Worth, Huntsville, Galveston, Houston, Corpus Christi, San Antonio, Weslaco, Bryan and College Station, TEEEX conducts training programs that help the people of Texas maintain productivity or become more productive. Programs range from communications, construction equipment operation and electric utilities to vocational industrial teacher and water and waste water training. Fire protection is one of the best known TEEEX training divisions.

Bradley also announced that a new East Texas center, probably to be in the Longview-Tyler-Kilgore area, is being sought.

Accent On Health

Robert Bernstein, M.D., Commissioner

Although Texas is in the loosening grip of one of the hottest summers on record, state officials are fearing the possible threat of an influenza outbreak with the approaching cold weather.

Influenza, or "the flu," can mean more than a bad case of the sniffles for the aged and chronically ill. To these people, flu can be a life-threatening sickness.

The Texas Department of Health (TDH) is participating in a preventive program to encourage high-risk individuals to receive their influenza immunizations early — before cold weather arrives. TDH is gearing up against different strains of the disease this year.

"Influenza is an acute respiratory illness with symptoms that include fever, coughing, sore throat, a runny nose, and general aches. Most patients recover completely within a week, although many continue to feel unusually tired for some time," said Dr. Charles R. Webb Jr., chief of the Bureau of Communicable Disease Services of the TDH.

The risk of complications and death from influenza is high, however, for those over age 65 and for children and adults with chronic health problems. These problems can include diabetes, severe anemia and diseases of the heart, lungs, or kidneys. In addition, patients who are on medications that lower the body's resistance to infection, are considered to be in the high-risk group.

Dr. Webb explained that pneumonia, either "primary" due to the influenza virus itself, or "secondary" caused by bacteria which invade the diseased respiratory tree, is a complication prolonging influenza beyond its usual one-week course. He said pneumonia can be fatal in patients over 65 years of age and for those suffering from chronic debilitating diseases.

The predominant strain of influenza virus in the United States during 1979-80 was B/Singapore/79. Excess mortality due to influenza B and pneumonia were noted at this time.

The vaccine recommended for 1980-81 is a trivalent preparation offering protection against B/Singapore/79 and two other strains, A/Brazil/78 and A/Bangkok/79. Persons 28 years of age and older will require only one dose.

Because of the lack of exposure to previous strains, people under age 28 who did not receive at least one dose of the 1978-79 or 1979-80 trivalent vaccine will require two doses of the new vaccine.

Federal funds have been released for the TDH to purchase influenza vaccines directly from the manufacturer. The vaccine will be available in mid-October through the department's regional public health clinics, local health departments, private physicians, and nursing and convalescent centers. The TDH will make about 80,000 doses available free to high-risk individuals. Patients should make plans now to receive their influenza immunizations or consult with their private physician about whether or not they need the vaccine.

The three types of influenza virus that have been identified are called types A, B, and C. It has been shown that influenza A and B viruses change their genetic make-up slightly each year. These annual changes are known as "drifts."

The genetic changes pose a special problem for developers of vaccines. As the virus changes or drifts, immunity created by previous infection or vaccines becomes less effective.

In the past, influenza A virus caused a major outbreak about every 10 years. For example, in 1957, it was the Asian flu and in 1968, the Hong Kong flu. Influenza caused by type B virus may have widespread occurrence, but the disease is generally milder. Type C viruses never have been associated with a large epidemic.

The State Health Department will conduct and coordinate a program of influenza surveillance during the upcoming respiratory disease season in an effort to identify and halt potential outbreaks of influenza.

Influenza information will be gathered every week from elected physicians acting as "sentinel physicians" in the 12 public regions and in metropolitan areas.

For more information, contact Dr. Charles R. Webb Jr., Chief of the Bureau of Communicable Disease Services, Texas Department of Health, Austin, Texas 78756.

AGRICULTURE COMMISSIONER Reagan V. Brown urged recently that America immediately undertake a "triple thrust" effort to strengthen agriculture, one of its most vital industries.

"The American agriculture industry is the most productive in the world, and today each American farmer feeds himself and 68 other persons," said Brown. "But it is possible that this amazing productivity has been a two-edged sword? While we have become the best-fed nation on earth, and a major supplier of farm products to a hungry world, have we also neglected to pay attention to what has made all this possible?"

"Unfortunately, agriculture has very often been considered a 'stepchild' during an era when plentiful, cheap food and fiber were taken for granted," he said. "We must realize that we have special governmental and social responsibilities to future generations to maintain adequate food and fiber production, at levels profitable to our producers."

Brown called for renewed dedication to agricultural research and development, so that the agriculture industry can quickly capitalize on its most hopeful innovations.

Pest control, embryo transplants in livestock, development of high-yielding, drought-resistant crop varieties, electronic marketing, energy efficiency in farm equipment and the development of a strong synthetic fuels industry based on agriculturally-derived products are just a few of the areas in which increased levels of research and development funding could help agriculture remain competitive.

"Efforts to increase production must be matched by a renewed emphasis on competitive marketing of our agricultural products, so that our farmers can produce to sell, and not be stifled by price-depressing surpluses," added Brown. "We should especially encourage the efforts of producer groups and other private organizations to seek out and expand foreign markets."

The Commissioner also called for the development of a long-range food and fiber policy which would give agriculture its rightful place among top national priorities.

Texas ranks first in the nation in 1980 in total farm and ranch land with 138.4 million acres, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

There is a vast and fundamental difference between promise and performance.

Nevada is the nation's leading producer of gold.

4-H--An Opportunity For Learning

"Opportunity" is calling for Texas youth. Whether or not they answer the call can have an important effect on their experiences down the pathway of life.

The opportunity is 4-H, a youth development program for boys and girls between the ages of 9 and 19 conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

And, now during National 4-H Week, is an excellent time. And, now during National 4-H Week, is an excellent time for interested youth to learn more about 4-H and its action-oriented, learning-by-doing programs, says Peggy Winegarner, County Extension 4-H program coordinator.

4-H provides youngsters an opportunity to learn something that will help them in everyday life, such as health, safety, conservation, leadership, citizenship and nutrition. Then there are learning opportunities that may lead to a fuller and richer life, such as knowing how to tune a small engine, how to grow vegetables, how to cook and sew, and how to raise and train an animal, to name only a few.

And there's a uniqueness about 4-H that makes it a special type of program, points out Mrs. Winegarner. 4-H is something different to everybody because of the different backgrounds and experiences of each and every member. Thus, 4-H boys and girls learn from one another by sharing these experiences, plus they have additional experiences on their own through guidance from adult leaders and Extension professional staff.

Extension professional staff backing up the 4-H program offers another unique advantage. In whatever area a youngster's interests lie, there is a knowledgeable specialist to provide background and training to guide the youth along the way.

4-H also involves the youth's family--it's a family affair. Many 4-H experiences happen at home, and this is where 4-H'ers actually work with their projects. So youth and their families work and learn together. Hopefully, these experiences will help family members communicate more openly and thus become more close-knit, says Mrs. Winegarner.

4-H provides an opportunity for youngsters to "practice" for the real life experiences they will encounter in the future. Such training can only lead to a more complete and more meaningful life.

Any youth or parents interested in the 4-H program are encouraged to contact the county Extension office, adds Mrs. Winegarner.

National Family Sex Education Week

"National Family Sex Education week", from October 5th through 11th, 1980 has been designated by the Institute for Family Research and Education and Planned Parenthood Federation of America.

"This is a time to convey an important message," says Fontella McKee, local Planned Parenthood Counselor. "Parents should be the primary sex educators for their children."

Parents should be the major one in a child's sex education. Various studies indicate, most parents are not-prepared for this role or subject.

Mrs. McKee, feels most parents--mothers, fathers and grandparents, who ever is raising the child--want to teach these children, but have problems communicating on the subject. However, there are parents who feel and believe, "If you don't tell the children, they will not do it."

Society is always underestimating the parents and children. A child can not be told to much. If told more than he or she can understand, they will be asking other questions or turn you off. You, the parents, must work to be "askable", says Mrs. McKee.

Parents can not be the only educators if they could be, they might stop their children from movies, television, magazines, and stop them from having any friends.

Planned Parenthood, 26 S. Haney, has some material, for your "askable" support. Fontella McKee can be reached from 8:30 to 12:30 Monday, Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays at her office, 659-2483.

The Glorious Fall Of The Year

We bask in the glories of the heavenlies--the billowy clouds and bright blue skies throughout the day and the innumerable stars, the bright Harvest moon, and other glories at night. The crisp air makes us breathe more deeply as we survey God's splendor. We see the tranquil blue lakes, the majesty of the purple mountains in the trees have been painted into their various hues. We think of Joyce Kilmer who wrote: "Poems are made by fools like me; but only God can make a tree." And we realize this especially in THE GLORIOUS FALL OF THE YEAR! The red of the Maple; the orange and brown of the Oak and Maple; the purple of the Sweet Gum; and the evergreens which stay green throughout the year--all blend their colors into a beautiful and breath-taking landscape.

We engage in the many activities of the Fall of the year which are hickory or walnut hunting, hiking through the woods with the leaves crunching under our feet, fishing on the lake, taking that last golfing fling, driving through scenic areas, etc.

When we see the creations of God in THE GLORIOUS FALL OF THE YEAR, we remember the following passages from God's book--the Holy Bible which say: "The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament sheweth His handiwork. (ps. 19:1). "When I consider Thy heavens, the work of Thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which Thou hast ordained, What is man that thou art mindful of him?" (ps. 8:3) And finally, we have the passage: "For the invisible things of Him (God) from the creation of the world are clearly seen being understood by the things that are made, even His eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse." (Rom. 1:20)

Seeing His creations in THE GLORIOUS FALL OF THE YEAR, there is no excuse for not knowing that God exists. And if we believe that there is a God, should we not also believe in Jesus Christ and be saved from our sins? "For God sent not His Son into the world to condemn the world (of its sins); but that the world (of sinners) through Him (Jesus) might be saved." (John 3:17) And, "If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves and the truth is not in us. (1 John 1:8) Yes, Jesus died for the entire world of sinners!

And there is a harvest, too, in THE GLORIOUS FALL OF THE YEAR. Mounds of pumpkins, apples, turnips, decorative ears of corn, all colors and sizes of decorative squashes as well as edible ones, apple cider, sorghum molasses, and many other things are at the wayside stands along the roads.

There is a harvest time, too, in God's plans. Then Jesus said to His disciples, "The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few." (St. Matt. 9:37) Since salvation comes only from hearing and reading the Words of the Bible (Rom. 10:17); see that the Word of God gets to others in any way that you can. And finally, pray, "Pray ye therefore the Lord of the Harvest, that He will send forth labourers into His harvest." (St. Matt. 9:38)

NEWS OF HEALTH

Diabetic Retinopathy: A Leading Cause Of Blindness

Few Americans are aware that if you have diabetes you run the risk of developing an eye disease that is a leading cause of new cases of blindness.

According to the National Society to Prevent Blindness, those most at risk are persons who have been diabetic for many years. However, it's a possible threat to all diabetics, old and young. Fortunately, new methods such as the use of lasers are helping in the management of diabetic retinopathy.

Early diagnosis increases the chances of control. The Society urges every diabetic to undergo a regular eye examination.

COLLEGE STATION

One bonus provided by Hurricane Allen, which caused hundreds of millions of dollars in damage on the lower Texas coast, was to prepare Texans along the upper coast for major evacuation.

"Hurricane Allen was unique. It provided an excellent trial for evacuation of both vessels and coastal residents," said Dr. Wallace Klussman, state leader of the Marine Advisory Service of Texas A&M University's Sea Grant College Program.

Freedom of Choice

is the motto for the remainder of the camp as campers will be able to participate in four skill areas: Lapidary, Needlecraft, Ceramics and Basketweaving. Eight special features will be presented and recreation will be held every evening. Singing, good eating and fellowship will abound as campers choose their own activities. For those inclined to dominoes, cards or shuffleboard, space has been set aside for these activities at all times. The 1.7 million dollar facilities of the Texas 4-H Center provide a resort-type atmosphere for Harvest Happening-'80 participants. Ten lodges will house five men or five women to a sleeping area. Each has adjoining bathroom facilities. To insure your comfort and convenience, only 100 registrations will be accepted. For more information about Harvest Happening-'80, contact your County Extension Agent--Peggy Winegarner.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

One night a little boy crawled onto his father's lap and hugged him. Teasingly, he asked, "Well, son, you must want something. What do you want now?" "Nothing, Pop," he answered. "All I want is you."

Don't you think your heavenly Father would like it if, once in a while, you would come to Him in prayer and not ask for anything, but just love Him? Too often we are more interested in the gifts than we are in the Giver. We are more concerned about the blessings than we are about the Blessor. We glory more in His presents than we do in His presence.

Since prayer is the act by which men and women approach God, it is the very heart of religion. There can be no religion without prayer. Where there is no prayer there can be no real religion.

It is true, our Lord has invited, "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and it shall be found; knock, and it shall be opened unto you." But why don't you go to Him and say like the boy, "Father, all I want is You!"
