Fireworks Blamed For 9 Calls

Fireworks were blamed for 9 fire calls for the Spearman Volunteer Fire Department the night of July 4th.

Firemen put out several grass fires, one house top fire and two fires at mobilhomes due to the avalanche of fireworks.

Fireworks have been blamed for many damaging grass fires over the area this July.

Legislators are being urged by ranchers especially to outlaw the sale and use of fireworks in the state and certainly the local firefighters would be glad to see this law passed.

Hunter Is Lucky Winner

Bill Hunter of Gruver was the lucky winner of the "Las Vegas Weekend."

His name was picked at the drawing held July 4th during the Independence Day festivities in Spearman.

The trip includes 3 days and 2 nights at the MGM Grand Hotel in Las Vegas.

Baptist 60th Birthday Celebration Continues

Fun Run Winners Named

Rev. O. L. Bryant

First Baptist Church is celebrating her 60th birthday with three separate events. The second event July 13 will feature the 1940-1960 era of the church.

Featured personnel for the Sunday program include Rev. and Mrs. O. L. Bryant of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Malone of Houston, Mrs. Salla Mae Bradshaw of Baytown, and Rev. Marshall Walker of Nashville, Tennessee.

Beginning in 1940 with a basement, the congregation erected the auditorium over a new basement in 1948 and paid the last payment in 1950. In 1958 the present educational building was erected and dedicated debt free under the leadership of Rev. O. L. Bryant.

Rev. Sam Malone served as Pastor following World War II. He led the campaign and building program for the auditorium that had been discussed, planned, and re-planned since the mid 1930's. It was left to Rev. Ray Stephens to raise the last of the money for the auditorium and dedicate the building debt free on the last Sunday of his Pastorate. Rev. Stephens was called into the Chaplaincy of our country and soon sacrificed his own life in an effort to save two men from drowning. Bro. W. B. Green served the church for a brief time before the arrival of the O. L. Bryant family. Church growth was evident during the faithful ministry of Rev. Bryant. Community growth prompted church building expansion.

Jerry Malone is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Sam Malone. He served the church as a summer worker under the Pastorate of Rev. Ray Stephens. He and his wife will present special music at each of the services Sunday, July 13.

Marshall Walker, son of the late Mr. Walker and Mrs. M. W. Walker of Amarillo will speak at the 7:00 P.M. service. Walker is a product of the local church, and following his directorship of spiritual life at Hardin-Simmons University, he serves on the Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention in Nashville, Tennessee.

Mrs. L. E. (Salla Mae) Bradshaw is the former Mrs. Ray Stephens. She lives in Baytown, Texas. Her feature time will be Sunday afternoon during "Remembering and Reflections."

A basket lunch will be served at the noon hour to all guests.

Heat Wave Continues

County residents continue into the third week with record high temperatures and no moisture with little relief in sight from this prolonged heat wave.

In checking with U.S. Weather Observer Billie Haden, the heat wave began on June 23 with 101 recorded, June 24 and June 25 it was 107, June 26, 104, June 27, 107, June 28, 99, June 29, 101, June 30, 102, July 1, 105, July 2, 104, July 3, 100, July 4, 104, July 5, 101, July 6, 98.

Total precipitation for June was .94. The only moisture in July was .02 on July 3.

According to Ken Wigner, agriculture meteorologist for the National Weather Service, high daily records were recorded throughout West Texas and in North Central Texas. Dallas-Fort Worth recorded the all time high-113 degrees-two days in a row. Wichita Falls set an all-time record of 117 degrees. El Paso had more than 20 days of 100 degree or higher temperatures--a new record consecutive 100 degree days.

Many farmers and ranchers claim Texas and a large adjacent area of the Southwest are suffering another cyclical drought, similar to those of the 1930's and 1950's, Wigner is hesitant to call the present day spell a major drought. The weather service only has data going back 70 years, he said, not a long enough time to indicate whether drought cycles exist.

Reason for the heat wave, Wigner said, was a high pressure system "in all levels of the atmosphere except for the surface." The high pressure forces air toward the surface and the air warms as it descends.

The high pressure settled over Texas because the jet stream shifted to the upper Midwest. "As a result, we can't get any moving systems" such as cold front or an upper level impulse that could bring rain.

Wigner said he does not expect any widespread rain for at least two weeks. This is reflected by the National Weather Service's extended July forecast, which calls for below normal rainfall and higher than normal temperatures.

Those looking for relief from the hot, dry spell can take comfort from the fact that, on the average, the last two weeks of June and the first two weeks of July are the warmest of the year.

Many people believe August is the hottest month, but Wigner said that is not so. The greater average humidity during August just makes the month seem hotter.

HAPPY FACES were seen at the big 4th of July celebration in Spearman.

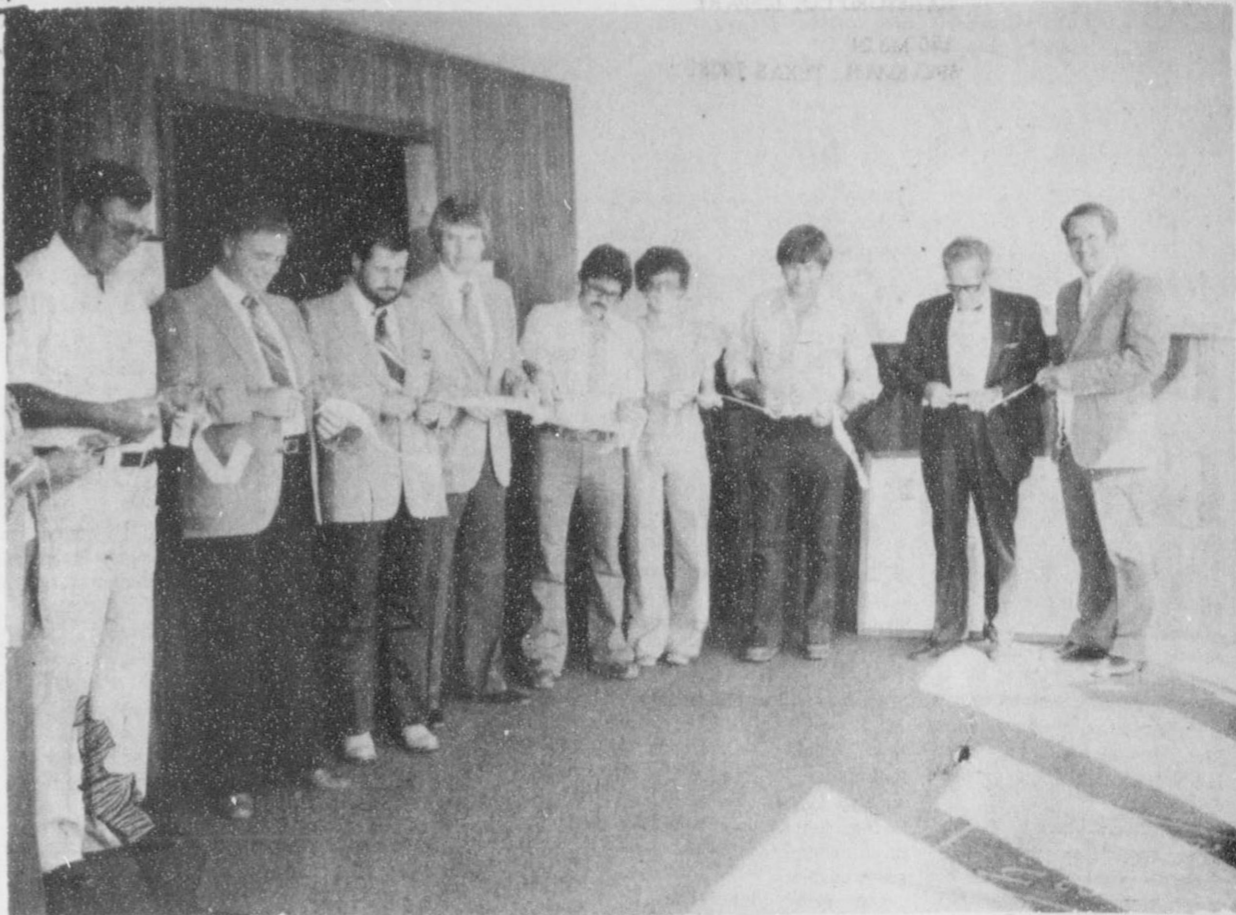

The torpedo fish is equipped with a powerful electric current that it can turn on at will.

Comment On Sports

BOXING

By Pete Fritchie

WASHINGTON, D. C. -- Sugar Ray Leonard probably made more money than he ever will again in fighting Roberto Duran, but it would have been better for him, from the career viewpoint, to have waited a couple of years.

The lure of so much money, especially among promoters and others set to gain, couldn't be resisted. And Leonard wasn't disgraced. But he took on a veteran fighter in Duran who is certain to slow down in the next year or two. Sugar Ray is still young enough to be improving. Thus two years hence his chance would have been much better.

Muhammad Ali picked Sugar Ray to win, saying he was quicker. He was wrong and he is wrong to think he can win back the heavyweight crown at 38, after the easy life he's been living.

Just as Sugar Ray should have waited, Ali should wait --and wait--and wait. He has done all any boxer could hope to do. Few gave him much chance against George Foreman. Then he did in Leon Spinks--against the odds. There's nothing else for Ali to prove--except that he doesn't know when to stop. Neither did the great Joe Louis.

Should you be afraid of lightning in summer thunderstorms? Will you be able to see the bolt that strikes you, if you're hit?

There is no reason whatsoever to be afraid during a lightning storm. There is reason to be sensible, and to stay out of places where lightning is most likely to strike.

It's technically possible that if you were standing outside in an open area and saw the streak of lightning high above, starting down toward the earth, that same bolt might hit you. But chances that you'll see the discharge that strikes you are almost nil.

So there is no reason to fear lightning; if it hits you, you'll know nothing about it, and there will probably be no agony beforehand, if it's fatal. Therefore, take sensible precautions and do not risk unwise exposure, and then sit back and enjoy the great show that is lightning.

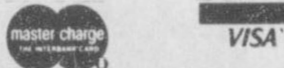

Save yourself time by purchasing containers to can or freeze home grown fruits and vegetables ahead of time. If you plan to use jars that you have on hand, wash them the day before and keep covered.

Common Sense Tips

Hints For Homeowners

DRYERS
Modern automatic dryers have well designed lint filters to help eliminate any "lint picking" problems. However, even the most efficient lint filters need some fabric sorting help from the homemaker.

For instance, home economists from Whirlpool Corporation advise that it is very important to separate lint "givers" from lint "receivers." If you dry terry towels or a chenille robe with synthetic fiber knits or corduroys, you'll have lint all over the items no matter how well the lint filter performs. Synthetic fibers produce static electricity and that causes lint to cling.

It's best to take the extra time to properly sort clothing before drying, say home economists, to avoid those annoying lint problems. Be sure to empty the lint screen after each load. A clean lint screen cuts down on drying time and saves you energy and money.

Were You Counted In The Census?

NEWS RELEASE

"Working" figures have been released by the Bureau of Census on the 1980 census of population and housing. The City of Spearman, City of Gruver, and Hansford County have received these working figures. All three entities are very concerned about the low count concerning each entity.

The three entities are requesting that persons that have not been counted or filled out the 1980 census to please call one of the three entities. The persons living in the City of Spearman please call 659-2524, for persons living in Gruver call 733-2273, and for persons living in Hansford County call 659-2626. Please give your name, address, and telephone number.

The main reasons we need an accurate count are the following: (1) to enhance industrial development within the entire county, (2) revenue sharing funds can be effected dramatically, (3) receiving federal grants for public works projects.

Your cooperation in this matter will be greatly appreciated by all three entities.

UNSUNG HEROES OF AMERICA

Little Known Facts About People Who Help Us

OUR GREAT GROWERS

Some 96 percent of the population of America (and a fair percentage of people in other countries), is dependent on the remaining four percent—the American grower—for an abundant supply of food at astounding low prices. A fair percentage of those consumers are currently communicating with their legislators protesting proposed laws and regulations that could make growing that food a lot more expensive for our growers—and so make food prices grow, too.

One American grower can feed 60 people...

...at less relative cost to the consumer than a generation ago.

Despite our rising inflation rate, the average American spends only about 17 percent of his disposable personal income on food today. In 1950, the average was about 26 percent. In West Germany, the figure is about 40 percent and in the Soviet Union, where about half the population is involved in farming, it's 56 percent.

Better management practices and farming know-how, better fertilization, generically improved crop varieties and increased mechanization have been vital, contributing in a major way to this abundance. As one grower put it: "The worms can eat you up; the diseases can eat you up; and the weeds can eat you up. Without chemicals productivity and helped you assure the success of the other improvements, scientists say." Nobel Laureate Norman Borlaug estimates that without crop protection chemicals, up to 50 percent of the U.S. food plant crop would be lost every year. Yet it's this growers' aid that's in danger.

When, as in California and elsewhere, regulators try to hamper the growers' use of these chemicals and so hamper this efficiency, growers and consumers alike are protesting vigorously.

With them, it seems, our great growers are helping America grow great.

You Name It

From the den of the poison pen

The 4th of July week-end was a scorcher here in Spearman. However, the celebration at the slide park was a big success! We did have a couple of bad accidents, however. Jimmie Snider fell from a pickup and was seriously injured. He was rushed to Amarillo, but at this time is doing fine. He is one of the finest football backs on the Lynx team. I sure hope he "mends" in time for the kick-off in September. Also, I was coming in from the west over the week-end and noticed a motorcycle had hit a reflector post at the Knox Pipkin corner, Southeast of Spearman some 20 miles or so. Pat "Precious" Cates was with me, and we searched the area for the rider of the motorcycle, to be sure he wasn't "down" in the tall weeds needing some first aide. Sure enough, it turns out that it was Jimmie Owens, and he had been seriously injured when he fell from the motorcycle. He was picked up by Roy Flowers and brought to the Hansford Hospital, where he was transferred to Amarillo. He is doing well at this time also!

Harvest has come and gone, and all in all, it has been a pretty good harvest! Most of the dry land was pretty good, and of course where the farmer was able to fertilize and water the wheat a time or two it was real good!

The new football schedule was released in the Hansford Plainsman Sunday. It is an all new schedule with several new teams. The Lynx open with Stratford September 5th at Stratford. We always open with Stratford! But, the schedule is all-new after the opening game.

After the opener, we play: FRITCH, GRUVER, BOISE CITY, CANADIAN, AND GUYMON. Canadian is no longer in Class AA, but has been moved down to Class A. The conference games include, River Road, Porryton, Boys Ranch and Dalhart. This new schedule will completely do away with the long trips to Oklahoma and Central Texas! Because of the gasoline "squeeze" we had to re-schedule teams closer to home!

think the Lynx will be terrific this year! Dalhart has a new coach, Buddy Sharp, of Sunray. Dalhart is the defending district 1-AA champion. They will be tough this year!

Hiway deaths are up! The reason, smaller cars! Can you believe that you just don't have a chance of survival if you have a wreck in one of the smaller cars! And, of course people just won't use their seat belts! In Australia, they passed a law making people wear their seat belts, and auto deaths really came down! But, you can't make people wear their seat belts in free America! They would rather die!

CWA Ratifies Contract

SAN ANGELO--Communications Workers of America Saturday (June 28) announced ratification of a three-year contract with General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

Tentative agreement on the new contract was announced June 9 by Federal Mediator Vincent Guy of Dallas. The union terminated a 26-day strike June 11 with employees returning to work beginning June 15.

The agreement increases wages and benefits by over $42 million over the three-year life of the contract.

Wage increases over the three years amount to 30.3 percent, including cost-of-living adjustments not to exceed 6.5 percent in 1981 and 1982.

Other improvements within the three year period include benefit changes for vacations, hospitalization and medical treatments, pension program, premium pay for night and certain holidays, saving plan, a new holiday, expanded life insurance plan, and increases in car fare mileage, per diem and incidental meal allowances.

There are any number of people who will do great things if they can do them without exertion.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas effective August 12, 1980, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

It is expected that the requested rate schedule will furnish an 11.65 percent increase in the company's intrastate revenues.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas.

Different organizations had refreshment booths during the festivities at the 4th of July celebration.

Coleman Recalls Faulty Containers

WICHITA, Kan.--The Coleman Company, Inc. reported today that approximately 7,000 one-gallon containers of liquid camping fuel marketed by it in Texas and areas of Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and New Mexico bordering on Texas may leak. Leakage of the fuel, which is extremely flammable, could cause a fire hazard.

The fuel was packaged during early February 1980. Each container may contain a few drops of water which could eventually cause rust and leakage from the affected containers. Affected containers are identified by the brand Coleman and by the code L020 stamped in ink on the container bottom.

Persons who find they have these fuel containers should remove them to the outdoors and call their local fire department for disposal instructions.

The containers should not be returned to place of purchase or transported in motor vehicle until emptied. Empty containers marked as mentioned above will be exchanged free of charge if returned empty to the place of purchase.

Contact The Coleman Company, Inc., 250 N. St. Francis, Wichita, Kansas 67201 or telephone toll free (800) 835-3278 for further information.

Social Security News

A large majority of the people polled in a nationwide survey supported the Social Security program and even favored paying higher Social Security taxes to avoid lowering benefits or raising the retirement age.

Nearly 76 percent of the 1,549 people surveyed opposed ending the program, and only 19 percent favored such a move. Many working Americans under age 55, however, expressed concern about the program's ability to pay future benefits at current levels, according to the study released by the National Commission on Social Security.

"These fears are unwarranted," said Howard L. Weatherly, Branch Manager of the Pampa Social Security Office. "People can always count on receiving their Social Security benefits. The strength of the Social Security system rests on the demonstrated commitment of the Federal government and the Congress to take whatever steps are necessary to maintain its financial security."

"We are constantly monitoring the Nation's economic situation to assess its impact on Social Security's financial stability," Weatherly said. "In the event of unfavorable economic circumstances, changes in the financing structure would be made to assure that Social Security benefits would be paid on time."

Medicine has made progress in the past fifty years. People live longer even if it costs more.

WTSU Researchers Will Visit Area Communities

A grant of $26,000 has been recently made to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum of Canyon, Texas, by the National Endowment for the Humanities. The grant will enable the Museum to research and plan its first traveling exhibit, which will be entitled "The Last Migration: European Folk Islands in Northwest Texas."

The exhibit will depict the histories and folkways of German, Austrian, Czech, Polish, Norwegian, Swedish, and Russian immigrants who settled in the region between 1890 and 1920. The research and planning of the exhibit will be conducted between July and December of 1980. The unveiling of the exhibit is scheduled for the summer of 1981.

The rich European cultural heritage of this region of Texas which has been largely ignored will be fully documented by the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum. The resulting exhibit will feature photographs, artifacts, and descriptions of the various groups portrayed. Hopefully it will make the people of Texas much more aware of a heretofore neglected aspect of their heritage.

This summer and fall researchers will visit the towns of Slaton, Wilson, Follett, Oslo, Waka, Paken, Wichita Falls, Thurber and others in search of interviews with descendants of immigrants, objects of historical interest, photographs, and historical data. The project directors, Bobby Weaver and Dianna Everett, would like to make contact with anyone familiar with those European communities listed and any others that might exist. If you have information or know of someone who should be interviewed, please contact: Folk Island Project Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum Box 976, W.T. Station Canyon, TX 79016

CLASS PROPHECY

We didn't know that we had a genius in our class, but that just goes to show that we don't know as much as we think we do. For Roy Lee Uptergrove, he has invented a wonderful time machine—wonderful, because it really works. Some of us believed it would work though; so one day he brought it up to school and proved to us that it works. His machine took us to the year 1955 and I can tell you, some of us were really surprised to find out what we turned out to be. Here's what we found:

Harold Graves and Melvin Schell have developed into two traveling salesmen going from house to house selling fly ointment. They have just returned from a short stay in a resort that is popular with some people. They were there for gambling the company's money a way in a fruitless effort to see Gone With The Wind a popular screen success of some 15 years ago.

Estella Garnett is now the most famous tree surgeon west of the Atlantic Ocean. She has had to take up some sort of outdoor work because of her studies. They were so pressing, and she kept at them so strictly that she was fast getting a hump on her back and slowly going blind.

Eli Unruh is now a noted anthropologist at Harvard University. Through his extensive studies of the body and its organization he has made a perfect synthetic blood. He won the Nobel prize for his work in that line and has retired to make more thorough studies of the body organs.

Joe Carol Van Sant keeps in close touch with his friends by cutting their hair. Perhaps this choice of profession dates back to his name of Thistle Head McGoon in the Senior Kid Day program. We don't know, but it could be.

Peggy Archer is now running a matrimonial bureau in Reno, Nevada. No doubt this is a result of her happy high school experiences in Gruver. At least she's willing to share her happy experiences.

Verna Gail Allen is now acting as Hitler's right hand in dishing out orders to the League of Nations. She attracted Her Hitler's attention by her brilliant career as a lawyer before she went abroad.

Olen Riggs is slowly winning recognition through his romantic poetry. His poetry is written somewhat in the manner of Byron, yet it is rather like Shelley sometimes, too. His inspiration must have come from his childhood sweethearts—orchids to them!

Richard Shedeck is a manufacturer of over-sized shoes for the lean and lanky. His previous troubles in securing shoes of the proper size and of a moderate price led him into this great work. He has found it much less expensive in the long run.

Willie Mackie followed her secret ambition to become the head of a nursing home. She says a nursing career is a wonderful thing, but that if it stood between matrimony and a career that she would choose matrimony every time - and what's more she has three times already.

Idros Maize is the vivacious young red head in the shoes of George White's Scandals. She leads a merry, merry life, but who wouldn't under the circumstances.

J.R. Keim has just won fame and fortune in the annual speed races at Indianapolis. He plans to soar to new heights next week by breaking the world's speed record at the Salt Flats in Utah.

Merle Mizar is mixed up in the political whirl of Gruver, having recently been elected mayor of that city. It is hinted that there were probably some shady transactions in the matter - how can we doubt it?

the season with Mickey Rooney's orchestra. Just for the sake of gossip we might add that he found her in a night club in Shanghai where she was getting her first start.

Arlo Unruh, formerly known to his classmates as Allison, was seen stepping out of his Rolls-Royce accompanied by the lovely and glamorous Miss Shirley Temple the other night. When last seen they were entering the Coconut Grover.

We see Janelle Womble busily engaged in feeding her flock of prize leghorns on a small farm in the backwoods of Connecticut after a hard and trying day's work in the village Primary Department.

Robert Harbour, believe it or not, backs many successful hits on Broadway every season. His Friends say that he and the beautiful blonde dancer who is now appearing at the Stork Club will soon make a trek toward the altar.

Virginia White is finally a cowboy's sweetheart on the Bar-None Ranch. She didn't get the ranch she wanted, but she finds this one will do just as well, especially the foreman, who is "really" handsome.

Howard Perry has become quite a diplomat since the people of 1940 last saw him. (Not that he wasn't always a roaring success with the girls!) He has been in Nitpia for the last few years and has become quite distinguished. Just lately, however, he has been over in old Reversia trying to get things turned the right way in spite of our modern day Corrigan! Joyce Shieldknight is now owner of a chain of skating rinks. Although she has become very wealthy, she once skated too far, and now she looks at him across the breakfast table very morning.

Roy Reed has just returned from an island in the Southern Pacific where he has become a multimillionaire from the manufacture of grass skirts. It must have been a little hula-hula girl who was his inspiration but at any rate, what an inspiration and what skirts!

Beuna Vernon, popular stage star of past years, is trying to stage a come back as Scarlett O'Hara in the Broadway production of Gone With The Wind.

Cecil Reynolds has taken over the duties of public enemy No. 1. His career in crime has to compete with his ardent practices on the fiddle. His rackets now hold New York in terror. Whether it be the screeches of his violin or his crimes that cause this terror, we are at a loss to say.

Bonnie Gatlin changed her tactics a little bit and married a trapper who lives in Padunk, Alaska. They have made their fortune in the Gold Rush of 1949. As a side-line-can you believe it? She is running a possum farm.

Henry Horn is the first aviator to make a non-stop flight to the South Pole and back. He is now preparing to write a book on the "Emotional Life of the Penguins," on which he has made an extensive study.

Juanita Hendricks is the years most sensational bubble dancer at the world's fair of 1955. She's really quite a gall Ledru Jacobs has just retired from a professional basketball career. He has made a study of horticulture and is now sole owner of "The Little Flower Shop Around the Corner."

Kyble Lackey turned out to be a sensation in the swing band line. Her band, the "Dizzy Darlings" keeps us jitterbugs till late in the night, but what's sleep when there's syncopation! Julia Kern is now Dr. Kildares assistant at his hospital. It is hinted that she has interests there other than nursing.

Betty Morton has gained the coveted position as the editor of College Humor and Whiz Bang. It is rumored that she will soon take a voyage on the sea of matrimony with the editor of Esquire At least they'll have a lot in common.

A.L. Jackson has become a noted lecturer for Women's Clubs. He is speaking before the ladies Humane Society for the aid of Crippled Cats. Next week on the subject "The Uses of Psychology in the Treatment Of Cat Diseases." All ladies just adore him?

Doris Jean Russell is editor of a Column "Comfort For The Love Lorn," in the New York Times. She is truly another Dorothy Dix. Her advice is based on her high school experiences, and she really knows her stuff.

And Mrs. Caldwell?? She is now head of the Art Department at Vassar, the famous school for girls, but she is going to retire soon because of the success of her stories of recent paintings on Atlantic Nudist Colony.

After amazing science with the invention of the time machine we were very surprised to learn that Roy Lee had suffered tal collapse, because he couldn't bring us back to dear old SHS. He is now in his second childhood. He spends his time playing cowboy and Indian. In his spare time he cuts out dolls.

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF '40

A group of young Crusaders started out in the fall of '35 with heads held high and hearts set for new fields to conquer. The first field of battle they approached was called Freshman field. Their fight was hard on that field-not very bloody but plenty painful at times. They were led that year by Miss Barbara Hawkins, a young spirited leader. She helped them all over the hard bumps of initiation and prepared them for what was to follow. The battle was tough, but young crusaders who put their hearts into the fight always come out ahead as this troop did. The only addition to the ranks was Thora Jean Edwards, who had won all the battles in her home field and who was looking for new fields.

When the Freshman field had been left far behind this sturdy group came to another called Sophomore. By this time some of the little group had set out for other fields-Ann Davidson, Mary Haun, Charlien Ringer, Frank Cheney and Eugene Sanders all left then. But the crusaders gained a few so their loss was compensated. The addition to the group were Herman McClellan, Howard Perry, and Eula Faye Carpenter. The Soph battle wasn't half so hard as the first one had been. Of course there were only 38 brave crusaders while before there had been 42; but these 38, more seasoned and experienced. No, the Sophomore battle was comparatively easy. Of course, there were a few bumps and scratches, but most of it was just fun. And under the leadership of Wayne Wilkins, it was easy to pass over another field and trek on toward their goal.

The next field of battle was reached after a long journey. It was called Junior. This time a few were lost, but many were gained. Those who wandered off in search of something else were J.T. Hitt, and Virgil Rossen. Everyone was sorry to see them go, but everyone was glad to welcome new members. They were Sammie Morris, Elizabeth Walberry, Ann Davidson, James Beck, Harold Graves, Robert Phelps, and Allison and Eli Unruh. The number was 43, but the battle became a little more difficult. There were a few new things to contend with, but Miss Revah McLain helped them and the junior field was finally over come.

Then after many hard fights and difficult times, the group once again came before a field of battle. But this field was different-for it was the last field that this crusade was to fight upon. After this battle the small group of students would separate and each go his own way toward new things. This battle field was called Senior. The ranks again had diminished and again replenished. Those who were lost somewhere on the journey were Robt. Phelps, Patricia Snider, Elizabeth Walberry, Ann Davidson, James Beck, and Edward Bradford. The new ones who were admitted into the ranks were Joyce Shieldknight, Bonnie Gatlin, Peggy Archer and Raymond Scott. Two of the number were lost during the battle-Dale field, and Raymond Scott-but the others remained staunch and true until at last the battle was ended and the battle was won.

A sigh of relief ran through out the file of the young crusaders, and yet there was a look of sadness about their eyes a look of something lost. But they stop and think of the new things which lie before them, so they throw back their heads and laugh. There are new things today new places to go-a world of places open for those who will only enter.

'Breathed' Smoke Dangerous

(FORT WORTH, July) Which is more dangerous- cigarette smoke that is inhaled or the smoke that comes off the end of the cigarette?

The answer is surprising, but the "side-stream" smoke, or smoke that comes from the tip of the cigarette, is much more dangerous. That is the opinion of Dr. Elbert D. Glover, assistant professor of health education at Texas Christian University.

Glover explains that when smoke is inhaled, the tobacco in the cigarette, the cigarette's filter and the smoker's lungs remove many of the dangerous chemicals from the smoke.

"The smoke that the smoker exhales is much less dangerous, Glover explains.

"A lot of people just don't know the dangers of second-hand smoke," the TCU professor says. "Since the side-stream smoke is produced at a much lower temperature than the smoke that is inhaled, many of the chemicals are not burned away," he adds.

Glover recently has completed his latest book, "Tobacco and Your Health: From Cigarettes to Snuff." He has also worked extensively with the American Cancer Society and has toured the country putting on "stop smoking" seminars.

Glover says his findings about side-stream smoke have led him to advocate the enactment of city and local ordinances to restrict smoking in public areas.

Glover terms second-hand smoke as a real menace to public health.

Heat Gives Volcano Punch

Volcano—the word goes back to Roman times. People then believed that Vulcano, a volcanic island in the Mediterranean Sea, was the entrance to the world of the ancient Roman god of fire.

"Volcano" is defined as both the opening in the earth's crust that emits hot rock, and the hill or mountain formed by the ejected matter.

What causes the earth to open up and spit enough material to make a mountain? Deep beneath its surface, the earth is extremely hot. When allowed by a crack in the earth's crust to expand and liquefy, this superheated rock moves upward along narrow fissures.

Just a few miles below the surface, the hot rock—or magma—usually collects in a reservoir, where pressure builds. It is this "magma chamber" that feeds the volcano. Sometimes the gas in the magma chamber gathers so much pressure that when it finally bursts free it produces a violent explosion.

The rock spewed forth is called lava, whether it emerges as a solid or a liquid. If it comes out as liquid, as in Hawaiian volcanoes, it is called lava flow, but if it is solid, it is termed lava rock.

Tax Exemption Could Fuel Texas Gasohol Production

The head of a Central Texas farmers cooperative which plans to build an ethanol producing plant told a House Agriculture Subcommittee, chaired by Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale, that the State of Texas could best help the fledgling industry by granting a fuel tax exemption on gasohol.

Kenneth Johnson, President of Central Texas Grain Products Incorporated, said that development of the industry in Texas would serve dual purposes. "What we are doing is creating a new, stable market for our grain which will not depend on the whim and fancy of federal farm policy nor on the vacillations of global power politics," he said. "At the same time, we will be making a very real contribution toward American energy independence."

Gasohol has already been granted a four cent federal tax exemption, and the state exemption would help to further narrow the gap between the price of gasohol and regular unleaded gasoline. The gasoline-ethanol mix is now available on a limited basis in Texas.

Johnson said the development of a new industry would help American farmers who are being plagued by decreasing crop yields, skyrocketing interest rates and rising energy-related expenses. "In producing alcohol from grain, we feel that we can have a market for our grain at a fair price, and contribute in a very real way to America's energy independence," Johnson said.

A favorable feasibility study has already been completed for the Central Texas plant, which will be located in Hutto. Five other plants—two in Texas—with the capacity to produce 50-60 million gallons each of ethanol from sorghum and other feedstocks are also planned.

The other Texas farmers cooperatives involved are the High Plains GPI Cooperative in Bailey County and the Northwest Texas Grain Producers Cooperative in Moore County. The three Texas plants would produce 150 million gallons of ethanol each year, or approximately 30 percent of the President's proposed national goal for 1981.

Besides ethanol, valuable protein for feeding livestock would be produced as a by-product at each of the facilities.

He said all 19-year-old men will be required to register the week starting July 28.

I'm bowled over by the weight I lost at Pat Walker's: 32 pounds!

Shirley Brenk's True Story:

I don't know where my weight came from, but I guess my snacking had a lot to do with it. At 161 pounds, I really had big hips and thighs, and about three rolls around my middle. Skipping breakfast didn't seem to help. Even my bowling wasn't improving my figure.

One day, at the trucking company where I work, I was talking to a trucker's wife. She used to be very fat, and I couldn't believe how much weight she had lost. When she told me she'd been going to Pat Walker's, I went right on over and started my own weight loss program.

Now, with Pat Walker's passive exercise treatments, I'm down to 129 and, for my 5'9 1/2", that's almost perfect. (One of the truck drivers told me that I'm as slim as a model!) Pat Walker's taught me the right way to eat, too—I eat a good, big breakfast now, and feel much better for it.

I really recommend Pat Walker's. Look what they did for me!

FUN, FOOD AND FELLOWSHIP was enjoyed by Spearman residents as they observed an old fashioned 4th of July.

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan
Eggplant Casserole

The eggplant is a vegetable whose flavor is enhanced and often more desirable when combined with a variety of ingredients. This versatility, therefore, makes it a queen among cooks who enjoy turning out delicious casseroles. This recipe while simple, is one designed for those who like the subtle taste of the eggplant.

- 1 large eggplant, pared and cut into pieces
- 1 medium onion, quartered
- 3 T butter
- 1 slice of white bread
- 1/2 c grated sharp cheese
- 1 egg, separated
- salt and pepper

Boil the eggplant and onion until tender. Drain well and chop finely. Add butter, crumbled bread, half of cheese, egg yolk, and seasonings to taste. Mix well. Beat egg white until stiff and fold into first mixture. Pour into a buttered, shallow dish and sprinkle remaining cheese on top. Bake for 1/2 hour at 300 degrees.

Americans consuming less sugar

(FORT WORTH, July) America's love affair with sugar may be coming to an end. That's the opinion of Dr. Nell Robinson, chairman of Texas Christian University's home economics department.

Robinson says that for the last two or three years the country's per capita consumption of sugar has gone down. "It's still way too high, but I think it's peaked, and we're seeing a downward trend," Dr. Robinson says.

Robinson cites statistics from the United States Department of Agriculture which shows that the typical American consumes an average of 130 pounds of sugar and sweeteners per year. This high intake comes not only from the traditional white granulated sugar, but from sugar in cakes, pies, ice creams and soft drinks, she explained. Surprisingly high levels of sugar can also be found in catsup, salad dressings and processed foods.

The nutrition specialist says the principal drawback to a high sugar intake is that it provides calories and little else. "Although a lot of nutritionists object to the term 'empty calories,' it's probably a good description of what sugar provides," she explains. Robinson says that while sugar may be providing the body with needed calories, it does little in the way of supplying needed nutrients.

Another drawback to sugar is its effect on teeth. Robinson says sugar is a prime factor behind most tooth decay.

Robinson recommends substituting fresh fruits for snacks like candy bars and cakes, especially for children. She also suggests cutting back on carbonated drinks. These, she says, contain large amounts of sugar.

Tips On Eliminating Garden Pests

Just as you love beautiful flowers, so do insects. Flowers that are a feast for the eyes serve as breakfast, lunch, and dinner for these pests. Luckily there are some safe, effective ways to keep a garden from being devoured by predators.

Aphids can cause all kinds of damage to flower beds. These tiny lice-like pests, which come in a variety of colors, settle under the foliage and on new shoots. They suck the plant's juices, causing malformations of the leaves and flowers; they can also spread diseases from one plant to another.

Take Action

Get rid of these insects by washing them off with a strong stream of water from a hose. If this treatment doesn't discourage them, kill them with a safe, plant-derived insecticide. (Check with your garden supply store for specific recommendations.)

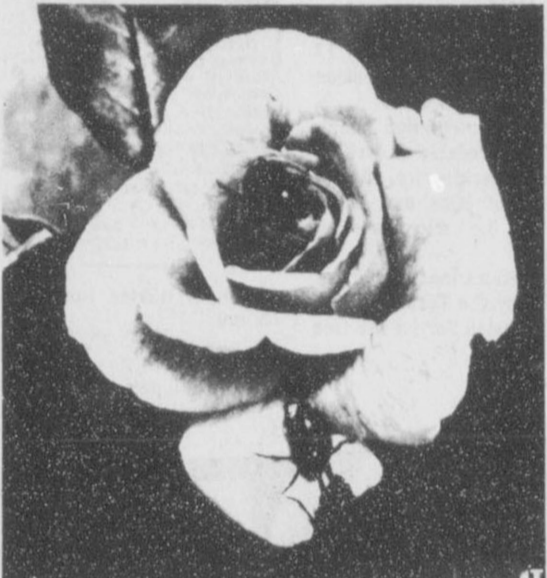

Beetles also can be a big problem. Adult beetles destroy leaves, flowers and fruit; their larvae can damage plant roots. One of the most voracious types is the Japanese beetle, a metallic-green, half-inch long creature that is particularly fond of roses. If roses are not around, the beetles will eat almost any plant. In the past sprays were used against them, though these poisons did not prove to be entirely effective.

Now, however, there is a safe, easy-to-use new trap called BAG-A-BUG™ that will help fight Japanese beetles without hurting flowers, people, pets or the environment. This trap is unique in that it uses a synthesized beetle sex attractant, known as a pheromone, along with a floral scent to lure insects away from valued flowers and vegetables.

Beetles of both sexes fly toward the enticing aroma, hit a plastic vane and fall into a plastic bag from which they cannot escape. When the replaceable bag is full, simply throw it away.

Beware Of Cutworms

Other destructive garden pests, cutworms, live in the soil during the day and, at night, come out and attack flowers and vegetables, chewing through and completely destroying their stems.

Japanese beetles are one of the most serious garden pests. They destroy a wide range of flowering plants and relish roses in particular. The beetles can be combated effectively with traps instead of with poisonous insecticides.

Use Paper Cups

Protect plants with cardboard rings or bottomless paper cups, pushing the collars an inch or two into the ground around the tender stems. The worms will be unable to cross the barrier and the plants will be safe.

Have A Beer?

Slugs thrive in moist gardens, chewing holes in the bottom leaves of plants such as delphiniums and hollyhock, and leaving a slimy trail. Beer is their fatal weakness. Leave a dish of the brew out in your flower bed, and the slugs will flock toward it and drown.

Spider mites are tiny, barely visible insects, usually red in color, that suck sap from leaves and build webs on their undersides. Wash the webs off the leaves with a strong spray from a hose. If this doesn't work, check with your extension agent for an appropriate miticide.

Vigilance is your best weapon against insect pests. Check your garden regularly and take prompt action at any sign of an insect infestation. Wherever possible, use safe, non-poisonous weapons against the unwanted invaders.

No One Is Immune To Traffic Accidents

The magnitude and severity of the traffic safety problems are not readily seen by individual motorists in their day to day driving. The reasons are not hard to find: most accidents are not catastrophic and usually "happen to someone else". In addition, the chance of being killed on an average 10-mile trip is extremely small—about one in 3 million and is not considered a high risk by most drivers and passengers.

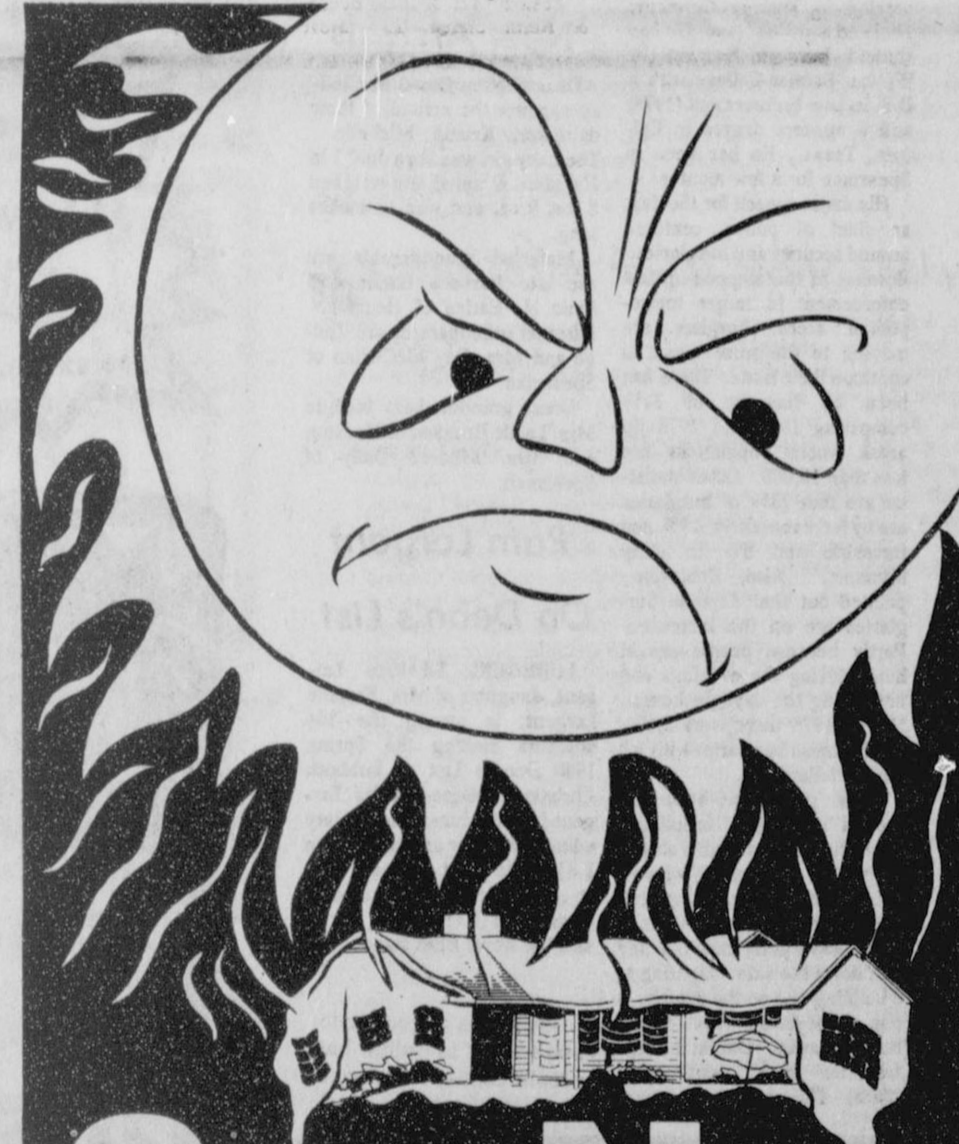

It is these short-term risks that influence the individual motorist's reaction to traffic safety, but it is the long-term statistics which produce a problem of major importance.

No one is immune. Catastrophe on the streets affect infants, the elderly, pedestrians, drivers, riders, and especially those in their most vigorous and productive years (15-35). Formerly, 47 States and Puerto Rico had compulsory helmet use laws, but in the past two years these laws have been repealed in 26 States, Texas included, with startling results. Fatal head injuries among motorcycle crash victims have doubled. Riders who do not use the helmets have twice as many moderate to serious head injuries, and three to nine times as many fatal headinjuries as do helmeted riders. Motorcycle registrations have increased more than six-fold in the past 15 years. This growth has been accompanied by a proportionate rise in accidents, deaths and injuries. Decreased helmet use, lack of conspicuousness of vehicle and rider, inadequate rider protection, and inadequate driver training are among the reasons for the rise in motorcycle accidents and deaths.

An informed and cooperative public is crucial to the success of Traffic Safety. Public communication helps create the atmosphere which allows other programs to work even though it cannot by itself bring about behavioral change. This is especially true with regard to the 55-mph and drunk driving programs. The speeder and drinking driver separated are serious enough but in most cases the drinking driver speeds and the problem is compounded. The single car accident late at night or early in the morning (1-3 a.m.) attest to the problem. Traffic Safety Specialists forecast if immediate and strong enforcement of drinking drivers and speeding drivers are not maintained in areas there will be an increase in accidents and fatalities.

Beat summer heat and manage energy wisely

Insulate your attic. On a hot summer day, coming home to a cool, air conditioned house sure helps beat the heat. But in an uninsulated house, air conditioning can contribute up to 75% of your utility bill. And with the recent rate increase, this summer's bill will be higher than usual. You can take steps now to make sure you pay only for the cooling you actually benefit from, by insulating your attic. Insulation helps keep hot air from filtering into your home, causing your air conditioning to work harder. And insulation can pay for itself in year round cooling and heating savings. Why not put insulation in your attic, today?

Police Chief Speaks To Rotarians

John Hutchison, Program Chairman of the local Rotary Club, introduced Chief Ron Robinson a Rotarian and chief of police for the City of Spearman.

Rotarian Robinson began his speech by giving a classification talk, which introduced him to fellow Rotarians. Mr. Robinson is married and has an eight year old daughter and a four year old son. He was born in Cheyenne, Wyoming 28 years ago. He spent eight years in the Air Force as a security policeman, serving in Turkey, Germany, Thailand and Viet Nam. He has studied law enforcement at Waylan Baptist College with a B.S. in Law Enforcement (1978) and a masters degree in Colleen, Texas. He has been in Spearman for a few months.

His major speech for the day, as chief of police, centered around security and burglaries. Because of the stepped-up law enforcement in larger metropolitan areas, burglars are moving to the rural areas to continue their trade. There has been an increase of 34% comparing 1977 and 1978 in areas where populations are less than 10,000. Other statistics are that 73% of burglaries are by forceable entry, 19% non forceable and 8% in entry attempts. Also, Robinson pointed out that daytime burglaries are on the increase. Partly because people are at home during the evenings and not during the daylight hours. During 1978 there were 3,104, 496 business burglaries with 1.3 billion dollars lost.

Some points on security around a building included: Cash Register and safes should be visible through a window outside for viewing by patrolling policemen and others. Don't leave petty cash out and bolt down the safe. Lighting in a building and on the exterior is one of the best ways to keep burglars away. One area often forgotten is air conditioning ducts. The vents should have grills covering them to prevent entry into the building. Landscaping should be kept trimmed so easy viewing into windows is possible.

The security of a building, the amount one should pay for alarm systems and locks is very complex and should meet the need of the business. A complete security check can be obtained by calling the police department. Chief Robinson or one of his officers will work with anyone on the security of homes and businesses.

WTSU—Presidnet's Honor Scholars at West Texas State University have been named from 160 schools in a five-state region for the 1980-81 academic year.

The 350 students from Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma and one student from Bloomington, Ind., have been chosen to receive $100 scholarships.

The program was begun with contributions to the President's Development Fund. Scholarships since have been awarded through interest on the fund, $200,000 from the Harrington Foundation and $1,000 from Dr. Charles Townsend, WTSU professor of history.

The first group of President's Honor Scholars numbered 216 and 322 were awarded scholarships last year, said Keith Winter, director of development, whose office awards the scholarships.

Students must be members of National Honor Society chapters in high school or a similar honor organization or graduate with honors.

Winter's office receives a list of eligible students from NHS sponsors and high school principals in the Texas Panhandle and South Plains area, eastern New Mexico and other areas. The program also is discussed when admissions advisers visit schools to recruit students.

President's Honor Scholars will be honored at a reception at WTSU on Sept. 9 and parents will be invited to a reception on Sept. 27.

President's Honor Scholars from the Spearman area include Brenda Boyd, Spearman High School, daughter of Roy Gene Boyd of 604 Evans; James Pierce, Spearman High School, son of Mr. and Mrs. I.V. Pierce of 702 Cotter Drive; and Janet Pool, Stinnett High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pool of Morse.

Canning Clinics Planned

Canning season is upon us. Now is the time to get equipment organized and in working condition.

Canning is not difficult but it must be done properly to avoid food poisoning, such as botulism.

Get your canner tested to ensure all parts are working and the pressure gauges are accurate.

The testing clinic in Gruver will be Tuesday, July 15 at 2:00 p.m. in the La Casita Room of Gruver State Bank.

The testing clinic in Spearman will be Thursday, July 17 at 2:00 p.m. in the Extension Homemakers' Clubroom.

All food preservation bulletins will be available as well as some new recipes for pickles, relishes and jams and jellies made in the microwave or freezer.

These educational programs provided by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are free and serve people of all ages regardless of race, color, socioeconomic level, sex, religion or national origin.

When driving long distances on the highway, getting set mentally for an accident or emergency may save your life. To stay alert on a hot day, try taking along a thermos of iced tea and sipping occasionally to enjoy it. Its mild stimulation, coupled with its low cost, can make your trip both less expensive and a lot safer!

FIELD DAY SET

The annual field day at the Texas A & M North Plains Research Field at Etter will be held on August 19th. The theme for the field day is "Saving Water and Energy" says Larry Poindexter, Agronomist with the Soil Conservation Service in Spearman.

Those attending should assemble at the headquarters building one mile east and one mile north of Etter at 1:30 P.M. Topics to be discussed include research on limited tillage as well as discussion of economic considerations on sprinkler and furrow irrigation. Furrow-diking to conserve rainwater and irrigation water will be discussed.

"This field day should give you some ideas to help you improve your irrigation water management and provide you information on better timing of irrigation applications to achieve the best yield results," Poindexter said.

MDA Publishes Revised Handbook

A revised patient service handbook, which describes the full range of free assistance offered by the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA) to those afflicted by muscular dystrophy and related disorders has been published recently by the Association, Gene Rodgers, president of MDA's Panhandle Chapter, announced.

The new publication, Medical services for the patient, the family, the community, details the Association's free patient care program, which includes differential diagnosis of suspected neuromuscular disorders, follow-up reevaluation, physical, occupational and respiratory therapy, genetic counseling and orthopedic aids, Mrs. Rodgers said.

Among other services available through MDA are flu inoculations, transportation to appointments at MDA's over 200 clinics nationwide and a camp program with 100 summer and winter sessions for children and adults.

Mrs. Rodgers said that the new handbook also lists the 40 diseases covered by the Association's programs, recently expanded to include malignant hyperthermia, Dejerine-Sottas disease and myositis officinas.

For copies of the new MDA handbook; contact your local MDA office listed in the telephone book, or write to the Association's National Office, 810 Seventh Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10019.

ICA Presents
1980-81 Goals

Roy Wheeler of Pleasanton was elected to his third term as president of the Independent Cattlemen's Association at the 6th annual convention in San Antonio, June 26-28.

Wheeler, owner of the Atascosa Livestock Exchange, said he appreciated the unanimous support shown by members of the ICA House of Delegates. He said he is proud of the financial strength ICA has acquired during the past two years and called that an indication of the widespread support ICA has in the counties of Texas.

ICA goals for 1980-81 will be to find a solution to the inequities of the ad valorem taxation system and to promote expansion of foreign markets for domestic beef, according to Wheeler.

The ICA House of Delegates also unanimously passed a resolution announcing ICA's opposition to the windfall profits tax.

Wheeler urged ICA members and all those affected by the windfall profits tax to attend a special hearing in Austin, July 17, at 10 a.m., at the University of Texas Special Events Center, 1701 Red River. The hearing is being held by U.S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen who is sponsoring legislation to exempt royalty owners from the tax.

Wheeler said the tax is devastating to the thousands of royalty owners living on fixed incomes and retired in rural areas, ranchers, farmers and some city dwellers who will be unable to continue their present way of life because of the tax.

"It boils down to the fact that we're shipping our money from Texas to Washington so Mr. Carter can spend more money on his bureaucracy," said Wheeler.

Elected to serve on the executive board with Wheeler were Dr. C.E. Payne of Bryan, 1st vice president; Bill Whitehead of Sonora, 2nd vice president; H.C. Youmans of Beaumont, secretary; and Joe Conti, Jr., of Victoria, treasurer.

Afternoon interest sessions on pasture improvement, animal nutrition, cattle implants and cooking with beef and rice drew an enthusiastic response from members and a trade show introduced members to many worthwhile products.

"Everyone interest in watching ICA grow should plan to attend the 3rd annual calf sale at the Lockhart Auction in Lockhart Saturday, July 26, at 1 p.m.," Wheeler said. "Without the help of the producers in Texas we can't do an effective job."

Small Texas towns facing shaky future

(FORT WORTH, July) A lot of small towns in Texas face a shaky economic future in the opinion of Dr. Stanley Self, professor of management in Texas Christian University's M.J. Neeley School of Business.

Self sees two types of small towns in the state--prosperous communities that have expended their industrial base and those that have failed to industrialize and are still relying on an agricultural base for their economy.

The majority of Texas' small towns, says the business economist, fall into the last category and will probably find the 1980 census very disappointing. As in the 1970 census, most rural Texas Communities will show an actual decline in population, Self explains.

The 1970 census, for example shows the population of rural Texas-- those counties outside of the federally-defined Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas--declined from 2,530,353 in 1960 to 2,485,212 in 1970. Self attributes a lot of this decline to the failure of communities to industrialize.

"Many of the communities in rural areas are dominated by retired people, older people who don't favor industrialization and the type of things they perceive go with it--pollution, crowds and congestion," Self says. "They're bound to the traditions of their childhood," he adds, "which are usually agricultural."

"This anti-urban bias is often reflected in the failure to progress economically," Self comments.

But Self says failure to industrialize is not necessarily a bad decision. If it is consciously thought out, and if it is what the entire community wants to do, then he sees no problem.

"It should be a deliberate decision," he says, "and if they decide not to industrialize, there is no reason why they can't have improvements and progress. A town that has made such a decision could develop itself into a park-like setting for an aging population," Self says.

One town that's avoided industrialization to a large extent and yet has progressed is Kerrville. Self says Kerrville has developed tourism and leisure-type activities. "It's developed into sort of a retirement community," he explains.

Buying Jewelry?

One of the hardest shopping tasks for those who undertake it is buying jewelry--precious stones, pearls, rings, etc. Where can one go to get a fair price on first-quality jewelry? The buyer usually can't determine that, visually.

Especially in resort towns and often at resort hotels, smart operators often fleece the public on quality and price.

Prices can vary to the wildest degree. A single strand of seven centimeter pearls of a certain quality can cost as much as a double strand in another shop or city--of like quality! Diamonds vary so greatly in price experts are needed for advice in purchasing them.

Many Americans today are wearing stones of little value for which they paid a considerable price. Perhaps it's better they don't know otherwise.

For those about to buy--the best rule is to buy from long-established, home-town dealers of good character, who guarantee their merchandise, or from reputable estate dealers (who often have the best prices) of long standing.

Claude Monet painted his famous water lily scenes in his 70's and 80's, even after a cataract operation.

The $2.2 Billion

Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson (D-Ill.) probably knew his recent attempt to cut $150 million off foreign aid to Israel--until President Carter was assured the Begin government had "ceased the expansion of its settlements in the West Bank and other occupied territories"--would be futile. But he deserves applause for the effort.

The vote against his amendment was 85-7. The foreign aid bill envisages an expenditure of $4.8 billion. Nearly half--2.2 billion--is earmarked for Israel!

To many Americans, the vote against Adlai Stevenson will seem lopsided. So is the bill he was trying to amend.

If the United States continues to supply such a substantial part of the Israeli budget, it does not seem impertinent to ask--as the senator was attempting to do--why U.S. government foreign policy requirements are so lightly regarded by Begin.

Frank Church (D-Idaho), who has a desperate re-election battle facing him, was among the first to deride Stevenson's amendment. "The worst thing we could do," he announced, "is to attempt to coerce the present government of Israel to conform their policy to ours by threatening to withhold money."

Stevenson replied: "I don't say coerce them... I do say the Israelis can make their choices... I do suggest they not be permitted to make the choices of the United States."

Perhaps only an incumbent senator not seeking to return to office, as Adlai Stevenson is not, could state the matter so candidly.

But there you have it: The U.S.A. is supplying Israel with $2.2 billion in the 1981 budget, apparently without strings, without even the slightest holding back where outright defiance of American interests is involved, and the Senate approves this state of affairs by a thundering 85-7 vote.

Is Israel (or that small part of it fanatically devoted to expansion into Arab lands in the West Bank) not "making choices" for this country?

These choices are making trouble for the United States with our NATO allies and among many Arab countries with which we have no quarrel. We are financing Israel's folly and making it ours too.

July, 1944

The events of July, 1944, greatly influenced the course of World War II, which left the world as it is today.

D-Day for the Allies, had been June 6. British, Canadian and American troops had successfully forced a lodgment on the coast of France. But German armies sealed it off and the situation was viewed as critical by both sides by mid-July.

The German field commander, Marshall Erwin Rommel, had resolved to quietly support an effort to remove Hitler from power and surrender to the Allies. An attempt on Hitler's life was planned for July 20.

But on July 17, Rommel's car was caught on an open road by a British Typhoon. Rommel was critically injured. The one man popular enough to lead a movement against Hitler had been cut down by the Allies.

On July 20 the bomb attempt to kill Hitler failed. Generals backing the plot were ruthlessly hunted down and executed by the Nazis.

Meanwhile, General Montgomery, on July 17, had launched his long awaited (and urged) attack to break out of the German ring at Normandy. He used 1500 tanks and 250,000 British and Canadian troops, plus 2200 bombers to clear the path, and failed. Stung by criticism, he tried again, and failed again.

General Omar Bradley, serving under Montgomery (whom he loathed, as did Supreme Commander Eisenhower, who later wrote that Montgomery was untruthful), planned to open his attack at the other end of the lodgment on July 20. It was postponed until the 24th and then to the 25th.

The American attack began after heavy bombing (which killed hundreds of Americans by mistake) and met bitter German resistance. American troops, however, were better improvisers and better attackers. The Germans also had most of their armor opposite the British front, expecting a renewal of Montgomery's attack.

For several days there was very bitter fighting. Finally, on the 28th, the Americans, including General George Patton's troops, broke through the German lines at St. Lo. The Germans planned to establish another line a few miles back. But the encouraged Americans would not be halted and Patton's tanks began to roam the countryside.

That was the end of Hitler's hope to pen up the invasion force, to hold France and win the battle of the buildup in 1944.

Legislators Travel To Canada For Grain Effort

WASHINGTON -- A delegation of United States Congressman and Senators will travel to Canada later this month to meet with their Canadian counterparts in an effort to bring about greater grain export cooperation between the two countries, it was announced today.

Congressmen Glenn English (D. Okla.), chairman of the House delegation, and Arian Stangeland (R. Minn.), ranking minority member, stated that the U.S. group will travel to Canada for meetings in Ottawa on July 26th. The United States delegation will include, in addition to English and Stangeland, Representatives Tom Daschle (D. S. Dak.), Jack Hightower (D. Tex.), Charles Stenholm (D. Tex.), Kent Hance (D. Tex.), Ron Marlenee (R. Mont.), and Jim Jeffries (R. Kans.). The U.S. contingent will also include several Senators, who have not yet been selected.

"We hope that our discussions with our Canadian colleagues will help bring about greater cooperation and coordination between the grain export policies of our two nations," stated English. "Recent developments in the world market make it clear that this kind of cooperation is necessary -- both to help protect North American grain producers, and to help strengthen the economies of our two countries."

The lawmakers are expected to discuss differences and similarities between Canadian and American agricultural policies, and to explore the possibility of increased cooperation in production control and supply management.

ON LIFE SUPPORT

VATICAN CITY -- The Roman Catholic Church, catching up with medical advances that enable physicians to prolong the life of the dying for months or years, said that doctors and patients can morally refuse to use extreme artificial means to ward off death.

ON WITHDRAWAL

ANKARA, TURKEY -- The Western alliance demanded an immediate withdrawal of all Soviet troops from Afghanistan and pledged to continue delaying detente until Moscow agrees to a political settlement.

Who Needs It?

In Paderborn, Germany--the town where garbage cans are being decorated--the town council has come up with another innovation.

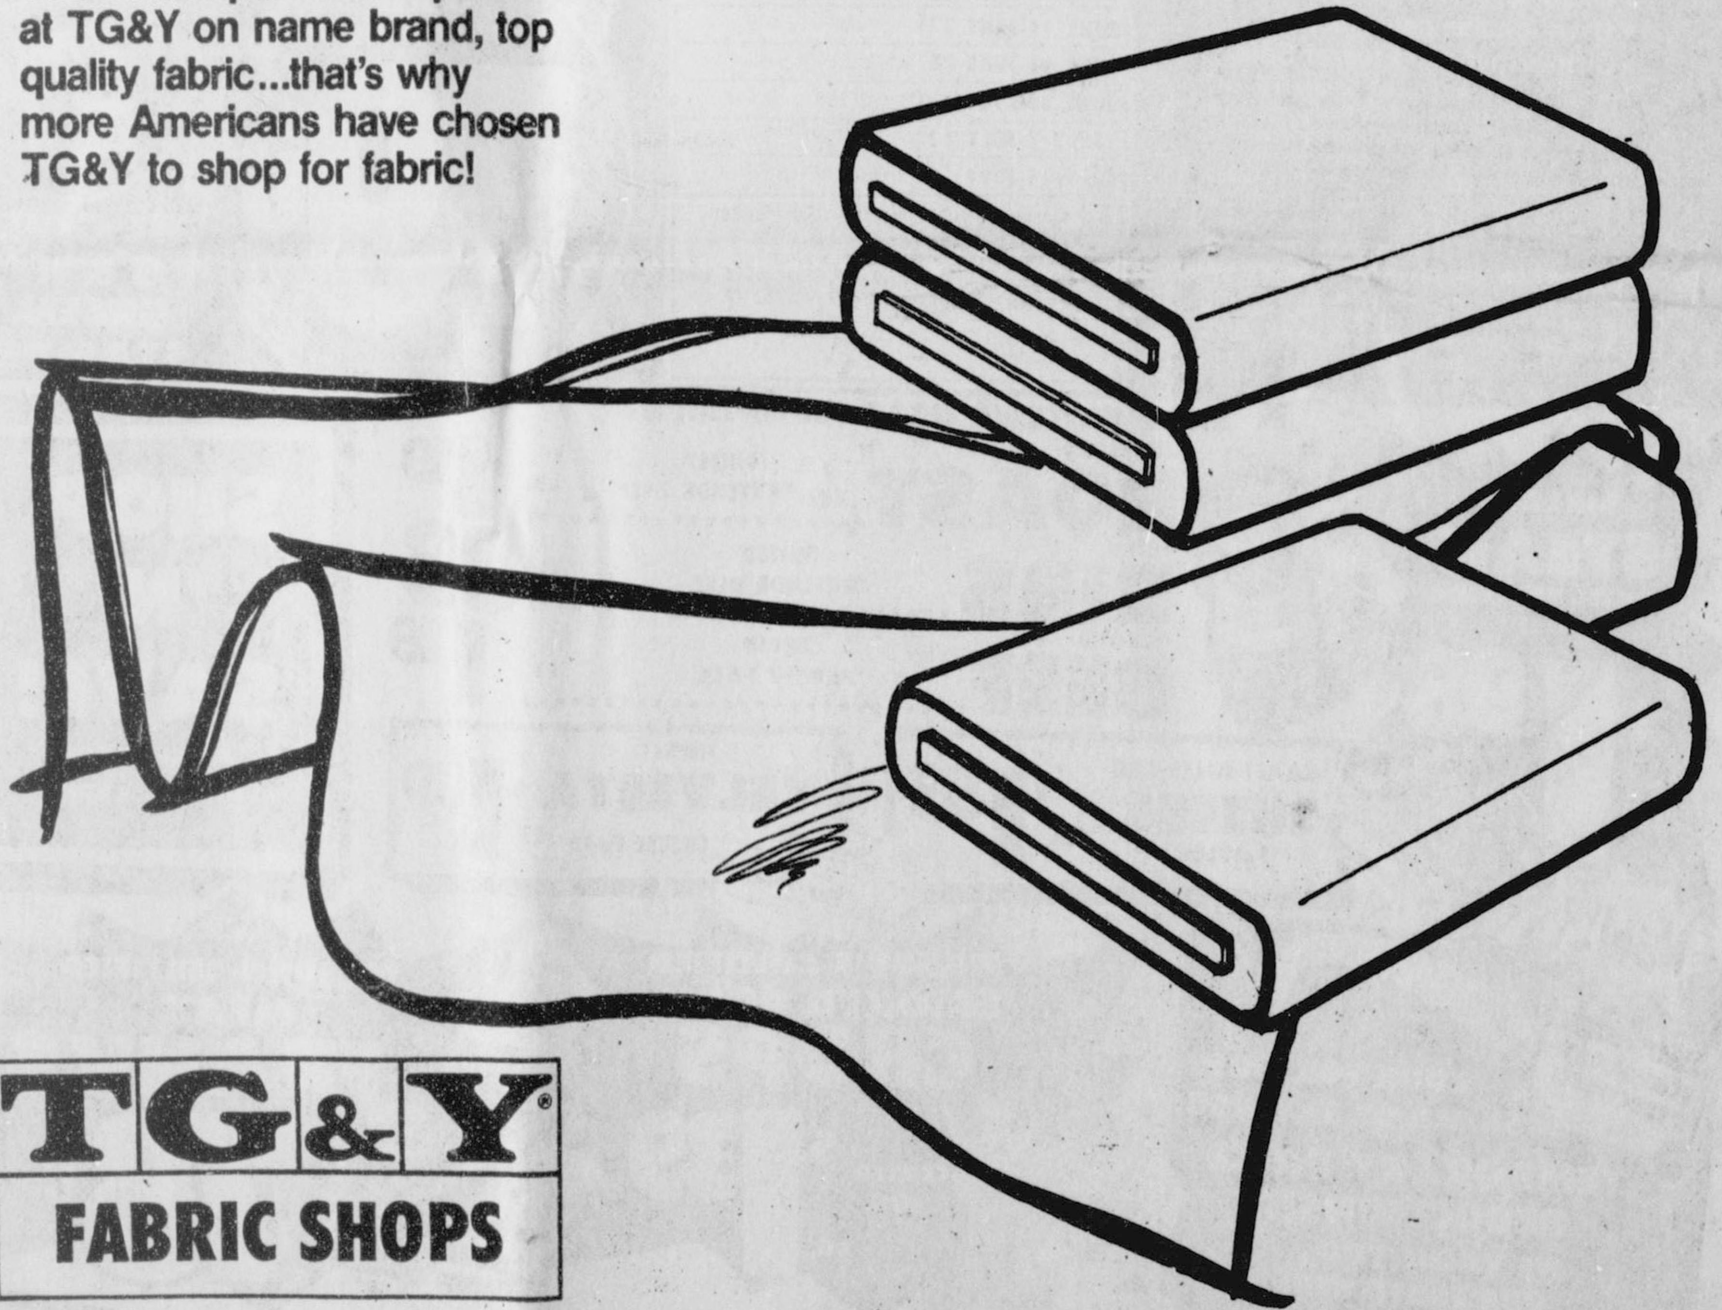

Whereas administrators have been driving automobiles, some are now being given bicycles. (In test meets, the council concluded that the man-powered two-wheeler is faster than a gas-powered four-wheeler some had favored, for short runs.)

The rider has a more quiet trip, burns no gas, and, presumably, has more time to look at decorated garbage cans.
