Lynx Meet Boys Ranch Team

The current grid season is shrinking. After an open weekend, the Spearman Lynx will travel, gear and gall, to Boys Ranch for one of two remaining 1-AA contests on the schedule. Following the upcoming game, Friday, night, the Cats have one more conference clash which will also be a home game--with the Dalhart wolves.

While Lynx title chances go along with the proverbial snowball in August, the team that has been charging all season building up a very respectable win-loss record against some very respectable competition-that Lynx team is not about to slack offf now and both players and coaches are promising first rate action on the turf, Friday

At press time there was no to determine officially whether Steve Tindell will get to see some action before season's end. There was an earlier rumor that he might play some against Perryton but it was decided to avoid the risk.

Tindell's injury points up something we have been harking on these pages all season: the Lynx have no "second stringers." They have a squad of performers who bring different talents to the position they

Jamie Bulls brought different field tactics to the role of quarterback when he stepped into the breach made by Tindell's injury--so much so that the Perryton Ranger coach said, in an interview before that game, that he would have as tough a game against Bulls as against Tindell according to the report of that interview by another medium

-- And so it went. The Randall brothers were effective separately in the lineup of working in tandem. The same was true of a veritable corps of kickers that were on tap when one pulled a muscle.

Perhaps the most apt and complimentary comment on the Lynx was made by a veteran visiting sports writer not involved with coverage of our teams and their records:

"When you consider that most of the squad this year were on the team last year, you have to believe that something very special and extraordinary passed between coaches and players this year.

"The Lynx may not have a conference crown but they certainly played themselves into the annals of high school football in this part of the

-- And there are two more games to see this in action.

The Dalhart game affords a chance at second place and they will settle for that ... will fight for it but--every competitor that has faced them will know it is second PLACE, not second

The Spearman Study Club will be hosting a Fall Home Tour on Sunday, November 9th, from 2:00 - 5:00 p.m. The tour will consist of 2 country homes and 3 homes in town.

There is at least one whole generation of Americans who do not know what a "landslide" victory is in an election -- until Tuesday night when Ronald Reagan headed for the White House at about a 4-to-1 margin over incumbant Jimmie Carter.

Carter conceded at nine oclock central time and the national election night audience turned to radio in communities across the land because that medium was giving local, grassroots returns where the tube was not.

Hansford County was no exception. With three "cliffhangers" developing, there was a white-heat excitement both at the courthouse where returns were being tabulated and in hundreds of homes where voters were listening.

This was one election where the majority of voters did not stay at home all of Election Day. The vote-counting process was slowed at the courthouse because at least 75 percent of the registered voters turned out casting some 605 ballots at that one Hansford County box.

The tight fight developed between "Chunky" Blackburn and John LaGrone for the district judge bench. This involved returns from the three counties comprising the judicial district and Ochiltree County was slow with totals and that left constiuents of both candidates gulping a diet of strong coffee and fingernails. At 1 a.m., Wednesday, the trend in the three counties projected Blackburn the winner but that victory definitely was not a landslide.

The two other tight fights were between Ron Slover and Jack Hightower early on and between R. C. Porter and "Buck" Buchanan. The Porter-Buchanan race was hard to mark a trend because it involved returns from 10 Panhandle counties and returns were not moving that fast, Tuesday night.

(The unusually large turn out plus the difficulty in county split tickets was the reason for slow returns all across the nation.)

With two boxes left to be counted in Hansford County, here is the way returns were tabulated at 1:30 a.m., Wednesday morning.

The Reagan -Bush ticket had polled 758 ballots to 289 for the Carter-Mondale ticket. At that hour of the morning, Ron Slover was was trailing incumbant Jack Hightower by a scant 84 votes at 760 to 676. Bill Sarpalius had established an almost 2to-1 lead over incumbant Bob Price with 997 to 448 in Hansford boxes.

R. C. Porter had a slim lead over Buchanan, 571 to 559 but this was just one county in the 10-county bailiwick the two were seeking to represent. Blackburn was leading LaGrone in Hansford at that hour, 1104 to 313. At that time, Hutchinson County still had one large box unreported as did Ochiltree County.

Fate of the proposed constitutional amendments was almost lost in the excitement of a landslide nationally and close races nearer

In Hansford, this was the county for the changes sought with the amenement number in parentheses, the pro vote first and the adverse count second.

(1) 851-478 (2) 420-801 (3) 587-645 (4) 787-516 (5) 430-810 (6) 841-413 (7) 837-431 (8) 502-686 (9) 855-420.

Most significant defeats were the single taxing entity for counties and the right to limited appeal for the state in criminal

While Reagan was making history with one of the rare landslides in presidential election history, Jimmie Carter was also making history as a loser. He is the first elected incumbent since Herbert Hoover to be voted out of office after only one term.

After the concession and victory speeches, the national media was rampant with speculations over the possible makeup of the Reagan cabinet once he assumes the helm of the ship of state, Jan. 20.

It must be remembered that all returns are unofficial at this point but there seems little doubt in the presidential contest with Reagan garnering votes almost 5-to-1 in the determinate electoral college. Here at home it would seem Blackburn is the district judges and due to slow returns across the area, that was the nearest decision at press time.

Although the common cold is probably the most frequent infection in human beings, relatively little is known about its exact effect on the respiratory system. Recent research, though, shows a variety of abnormalities in lung function that occur when people suffer from viral upper respiratory tract infections

A new study shows that exercise in sub-freezing, dry air triggers an irritability in the air passages of cold-suffers. The study is reported in a recent issue of the American Review of Respiratory Diesease, published by the American Lung Association.

Organized crime poses serious threat to nation's economy

Urban said the IRS estimates more than $50 billion is lost annually to the increasing exploitation of legitimate business and most of the losses are passed on to the average citizen who probably suffers the greatest economic loss.

Here are some examples on those farm machinery prices. A 5-bottom plow that sold for $4,890 a year ago, is going for $5,400 now. A 16-ft. disk harrow, which sold for $5,600 just a year ago, now sells for $6,320. The price on forage harvesters has jumped from $8,470 to $10,400 in the past year; combine prices from $44,900 to $49,200 during the same time.

Women and Cancer

Years ago, one of the most famous ads urged women to reach for a special brand of cigarette instead of a sweet. Today, the American Lung Association of Texas encourages women to reach out to life instead.

The myth that smoking and smaller waistlines go together has been swallowed by many women, say the Christmas Seal

When some people quit smoking, there may be a temporary weight gain. Changes in the body's metabolism can occur because the body does not consume as much oxygen. But quitting is completely individual experience. A substantial number of people lose weight after kicking the cigarette habit, says the lung association. People who decide to take control of their lives by quitting smoking also determine to alter unhealthy eating habits as well.

Feminists are beginning to look at the fatness issue as a special plague for women, as an example of a double standard that make women, expecially, feel being slim and being attractive are forever linked.

Trees furnish us with shade and shelter, and give character to our homes and boulevards. They purify our air and water. and reduce noise pollution and home energy consumption.

Trees also serve as willing models for budding young artists; their branches as new for small boys explore.

In honor of the role trees and their products play in our lives, the week of October 19 has been designated as National Forest Products Week.

Texans have additional reasons to participate in this observance. Texas forests produce lumber for our houses and furniture; paper for our newspapers, stationery and packaging materials; and chemicals for our clothing, foodstuffs and a host of industrial uses.

The list of products made or derived from trees is almost endless; but our forest resources are finite and shrinking rapidly According to the Texas Forets Service, over half a million acres of Texas forests have been lost to highways, shopping centers, subdivisions and recreational lakes since 1965. This acreage loss puts increased pressure on remaining forest lands.

If everyone will conserve paper and other forest products and encourage others to do the same, our forest resources can be extended; but additional action is needed.

"If only two percent of over-the-counter drug consumers in the U.S. chose to visit primary care practitioners, rather than using selfmedication, the annual increase in patients' office visits would be 292 million, a 62 percent rise. To maintain the same quality of consultative care, the number of primary care practitioners would have to be increased from the present 91,000 to 147,000.

Only about three percent of the total spent on health care in the U.S. goes to nonprescription medication.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN-House Speaker Bill Clayton, cleared last week of Brilab charges of influence peddling, has indicated he will run again for Speaker.

Clayton said he will make a formal announcement of his candidacy sometime this week. Already the first person to serve an unprecedented three terms as Speaker, Clayton seeks a fourth term against State Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas.

A third candidate, Gib Lewis, D-Fort Worth, is a top member of Clayton's conservative team in the Legislature. Lewis held the faction together throughout Clayton's legal woes, and has said he will step down if Clayton runs. Observers are waiting now for Lewis to announce otherwise . . . or withdraw for Clayton.

"I am running. In fact, I have already recontacted enough House members. We already have the election assured," Clayton said last

The Lewis Factor

While Clayton struggled with Brilab, his legislative supporters rallied around the candidacy of Lewis, who did a superb job of preventing a splintering into lesser factions. Lewis reportedly maintained some 90-plus votes (76 votes needed to win), and stood stronger than other an-

Should Clayton win when the Legislature convenes in January, he will owe much to the pair, particularly Lewis. Lewis will no doubt receive a committee plum for his stewardship, unless he challenges Clayton. The conservative lobby reportedly

Womens Volleyball

Last Monday, October 27th, was another night with hard fought volleyball action. The action started at 7:00 p.m. with Busters Dusters taking on the Baker & Taylor team. Busters just over-powered the fine Baker & Taylor team. The score for both games was 15 to 4 and 15 to 2: Busters Dusters sweeping the wins. The second game got more exciting. The game started about 8:00 p.m. with First State Bank going up against Golden Spread Sales. First State Bank had to win to stay tied with Busters Dusters for first place. Well, Golden FIRST STATE BANK Spread Sales fought both games down to the wire, but First State Bank won both games by the score, which by the way were identical, of 15 to 8 and 15 to 8. The last game on the list was, as usual, a tough, exciting, hard fought to the wire kind of game. The game started about 9:00 p.m. with JG's fighting against Thriftway. Although, Thriftway won 2 of the 3 games played, JG's sure did do a fine job. The scores were 15 to 10 and 15 to 12 which Thriftway won, and 15 to 5 which JG's won.

This past Monday, November 3rd, was another action filled night with the women playing volleyball games like pros or olympiads! The first game was at 7:00 p.m. This was the best fought game of the night. It was JG's going up against Baker & Taylor. Mind you, Baker & Taylor had only five players. They played extremely well against JG's. JG's came up on the top end of the stick; they won 2 out of 2 games played. The scores were 15 to 12 and 15 to 10. The second game was played at about 8:00 p.m. with First State Bank playing against Thriftway. Thriftway fought real well against First State Bank, but again, First State Bank prevailed by another indentical score for the second week in a row. The scores were 15 to 9 and 15 to 9. With this win First State Bank was up on top with 8 wins and 1 loss and the players would wait the final ome of the final game to see if they--First State Bank--would be still tied with Busters Dusters in a First place tie. The final game of the night was played at 9:00 p.m. Busters Dusters wanted to win for they wanted to be tied with First State Bank in First place.

games against Golden Spread Sales. Golden Spread Sales played pretty tough against the Busters Dusters, but Busters swept the two games. The scores were 15 to 7 and 15 to 5. So Busters Dusters and First State Bank had won again and were still tied for First place.

If ya'll haven't seen these women play, then do go and cheer them on. They can play real well. If ya'll want a real game going to three games for the lead in the series watch this newspaper and wait for the "Championship game" between First State Bank and Busters Dusters!!

NEXT GAMES

The next games will be November 10, Monday, starting at 7:00 p.m. with Golden Spread Sales going up against Thriftway. This game is very important to both teams. For the Golden Spread Sales team if they beat Thriftway and JG's loses to Busters then Golden Spread would have sole posession of 2nd place. On the other hand, if Thriftway defeats Golden Spread Sales and Busters beats JG's then there will be a three way tie for 2nd place with all three teams--Golden Spread Sales, JG's and Thriftway--will be 4 - 6 in the win/loss record. The second game will feature Baker & taylor facing the First State Bank team. Again this is a special game for both, but both teams can't win. The Baker & Taylor team want to win this game so that they won't be shut out for the Fall/Winter season, and it is about time a team like Baker & Taylor who fights so hard, won a game--it's past due for them to win one. As for First State Bank, they want to win for one big reason--to be in first place still. They, probably, want JG's to beat Busters Dusters team so that they--First State Bank can be in sole possession of first place. And finally at 9:00 p.m. JG's will be fighting against a tough team--Busters Dusters. This game also promises to be a "doozy". Both teams, supposedly, want to win for reasons of their own. First of all, JG's wants to beat Busters Dusters and will be happy if Thriftway beat Golden

WELCOME

NO LONGER ALONE, winner searching desperately for love went unheard by those who surrounded her.

Spread Sales, and if they did

Originally released by World Wide Pictures in commercial theatres, the film is now one hour in length in preparation for its eventual presentation as a television special.

NO LONGER ALONE traces the life of an English actress, Joan Winmill Brown. Though she skyrocketed to fame on the British stage, her life was marked by a frantic grasp for personal fulfillment and love. Tormented by a past she was unable to forget, she succumbed to a series of nervous breakdowns; and, at one point, attempted to take her own life.

In her ultimate moment of despair, Joan was invited by a 'cance' phone call to attend a Billy Graham crusade. It was here that she first discovered her worth as an individual and began her long struggle to piece her shattered life back together.

Those who have followed Billy Graham's ministry will be interesed to know that Dr. unbelievable Graham appears in the film in some of the footage of his 1954 London Crusade, and also in the introduction and conclusion to the film, photographed recently for this special version.

According to William F. Brown, President of World Wide Pictures, NO LONGER ALONE was presented with the 'Award of Excellence' from the Film Advisory Board of Hollywood, as well as the 'Angel" award from Religion in Media in America, as the outstanding religion film of the year. It also received the 'Silver Halo Award' from the ture Council. NO LONGER ALONE was filmed in color on location in London, and stars Belinda Carroll, Wilfrid Hyde White, James Fox, Samantha Gates, and Gordon DeVol. Simon Willimas, who has one of the leading foles in the BBC production, UPSTAIRS, DOWNSTAIRS, also stars in the film. The title song was performed by the popular recording artist, B.J. Thomas.

Busters Dusters won 2 out of 2 then JG's would be in sole possession of 2nd place and would be 5 - 5 for the season so far. Busters Dusters, on the other hand, would have to win if First State Bank beat Baker & Taylor. And even if First State Bank didn't win; Busters Dusters would want to win so that they could be in first place all by themselves. Supposedly they--Busters Dusters and First State Bank--are tired of being tied for > get out of the tie situation would be when they meet face-to-face. If ya'll don't want to see the Patriots go up against the Oilers then go out to the Junior High Little Gym and see these six superb teams go against each other in volleyball.

When you consider the possibilities for injury, it's surprising how many people come through the hunting season each year in good shape

Come November 15, hundreds of thousands of hunters will become Paul Bunyans and Buffalo Bills as they take to the hills and valleys in their annual quests for whitetailed deer.

For many, these excursions have been well planned far in advance of the opening date. These are the hunters who may have begun an exercise routine back during the summer. who have fired their rifles. who have all their gear in shape and who have spent a weekend or two in deer

But then, there are others, says the Texas Department of Health. These are the people who start late and are only half prepared when they take to the field.

Of those in the two categories, the latter group can be expected to have the most trouble and get into the most trouble.

There's still time to prepare for the coming season, although it may be too late to tone up your muscles with a crash exercise plan. For those who are out of shape, it will be wise to take it easy. Don't let the exhilaration of the season cause you to exceed your physical potential. You ould wind up with strained muscles, a slipped disc or even a heart attack. Make a list of everything you will need and then systematically go about getting it. This will include plenty of warm clothing.

Check out your deer cabin, if you have one, to make sure it is free of stinging insects which cause more deaths each year than rattlesnake bites, says the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the Texas Department of Health. Take a can of wasp and hornet spray with you when you go to your deer stand for the first time to clear out any insects. Keep the insecticide in your camp for future use.

If you have a fireplace, potbellied stove or gas burning fire, make sure that all flues fit tightly, are clear of obstructions and that chimneys aren't covered over with leaves or other debris. Carbon monoxide is a stealthy, silent killer. In the same light, don't go to sleep at night with any fires burning and always allow some ventilation.

For people with travel trailers or campers, these precautions apply just as strongly. These mobile units may close up even more tightly than a cabin and prevent the entrance of fresh air. All burning substances give off carbon monoxide -

even the stove on which you cook, unless it's electric Always allow for fresh air and avoid sleeping with any fire going, even in the most frigid weather

Jerry Lauderdale, administrator of the Occupational Health Branch of the Texas Department of Health's Division of Occupational Health and Radiation Control, advises Texans of the carbon monoxide warning signs. "If the heat is on," says Lauderdale, "be alert to such poisoning signs as yawning, headache, nausea, dizziness, ringing in the ears and even abdominal cramps. If you suspect carbon monoxide, move outside and get fresh air immediate-

Firearms are always a threat. Each firearm. although empty, should be treated as if it is loaded at all times. Safety rules apply to all weapons. Shotgunners also have a busy season in search of dove, quail, waterfowl, squirrel and turkey.

Every time you pick up a firearm, check to see if it is loaded. No loaded weapon should be taken into a motor vehicle or a camp house. The safe hunter will load the weapon only after reaching a deer stand, and unload it. before moving from the stand. Climbing ladders. trees or over fences with a loaded firearm is asking for trouble

Before firing, make sure of your target and know what is behind it. Highpowered rifles carry a great distance. If you shoot over the crest of a hill, for instance, you may hit someone or something beyond it.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Hunter Safety Program, says 1979 was the safest hunting year in a quartercentury. Fifty-nine accidents, however, produced nine deaths. He credits hunter safety efforts and blaze orange clothing for a great part of this record. There's another side of hunting that some people don't consider. That is getting to and from your hunting site. It's a good idea to leave early so you don't have to push your luck on the busy highways. And when you're planning that long trip home. without the excitement and anticipation of the hunt. remember that you're apt to be tired from a long weekend. Try to arrive home before dark. If you've strained your eyes and treated them to too much sunlight, they could play tricks on you.

Air Force News

ANDREWS AFB, MD, Oct. 30--The Air Force will seek Congressional approval to begin an estimated $202 million project to design and develop alternate power sources for the M-X missile system.

Known as the M-X Renew able Energy Systems (M-X/ RES), the project is jointly sponsored by the Defense and Energy Departments. Its goals is to reduce U.S. dependence on fossil fuel by accelerating development of commercial versions of solar, wind, geothermal, and biomass (waste-to-energy) electrical generating plants.

If Congress approves, experts will assess, during 1981 and 1982, renewable energy resources available in the proposed M-X deployment areas. The project will also fund a design competition among approximately 25 contractors to develop systems which can provide the average 108 megawatts needed for all 4,600 M-X shelters and other support facilities.

Besides powering the M-X system, the proposed project will speed up development and demonstration of marketable systems for commercial use.

Plans call for building prototypes of the most promising designs in mid-1982. Prototypes will be tested at Hill AFB, UT; Nellis AFB, NV; and other suitable bases in the Southwest. If successful and approved by Congress, large-scale production for M-X use will start in designs, as better suited to the desert environment. In addition, the system can reduce M-X's life-cycle costs and vulnerability to sabotage.

The successful renewable energy system can be used at other Air Force and Defense Department installations. Project designs will include how the system could be used commercially to help reduce U.S. dependence on imported oil for electrical power.

Employment Standards

DALLAS--Alfred A. Ramsev. U.S. Labor Department assistant regional administrator for Employment Standards, announced filing of a civil action against Asarco, Inc., doing business in Amarillo, Texas.

The complaint alleges Asarco. Inc., violated the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) by failing to pay employees the federal minimum wage and required overtime rate of time-and-a-half for hours after 40 worked in a workweek. The suit also alleges they failed to maintain records required by the FLSA.

The suit seeks judgement ordering compliance with the FLSA and payment to employees of back wages due them plus interest.

The legal action resulted from an investigation conducted by the Labor Department's Wage and Hour Division.

Women enrolled in higher education increased in the '70s

COLLEGE STATION -The number of women in higher education has increased dramatically, according to a Texas A&M University demog-

Dr. R. L. Skrabanek noted that in 1970 there were only 68 women enrolled in college for every 100 men; but by 1978 the ratio had increased to 92 per 100 men. Nearly one-half of all college degrees granted in 1977 went to women. The number of females receiving doctorates more than doubled between 1970 and 1977.

Skrabanek gathered his information from a new Bureau of Census report, "A Statistical Portrait in the United States: 1978." The report in itself can be viewed as an example of women's progress. It is only the second such volume exclusively about women ever to have been published by the Census Bureau in its almost 200-year history - and the first was in 1976.

If you know a boy or girl 15 years of age or younger, he or she may be eligible to compete in the World Jr. Frisbee Disc Contest leading

This champ must excel in eight events designed for the Frisbee disc.

The contest is sponsored by the Wham-O Mfg. Co., makers of the Frisbee disc, and is held annually during the summer months. The contest is conducted by local park and recreation departments. There are five levels of competition: (a) neighborhood/playground, (b) city/county, (c) state, (d) regional, and (e) world

The winner of the World Finals will receive a $1,000 U.S. Savings Bond; second place a $500 bond, and third place a $250 bond. All regional winners receive a $100 savings bond.

The contest consists of such events as distancethrowing, accuracy-throwing and trick catches. For further information regarding the competition contact your local park and recreation department or Wham-O Mfg. Co., Community Relations, 835 East El Monte Street, San Gabriel, California 91778.

They say that figures don't lie, but some that a couple of Department reports have put out recently sure give the wrong impression. The first set concerns cash receipts from farming. Those for January through June - the first six months of the year - total $61 billion. That's not only at a record pace, 4 percent above a year earlier, but about the same as cash receipts from farming for all of 1972. And, more than any full year prior to 1972.

The report shows livestock receipts, at $33.3 billion, off 3 percent from a year earlier, but receipts from crops, at $27.7 billion, were up 14 percent from the first six months of 1979.
