billions bushels. That's down 9 percent from the early forecast, 14 percent below last year's total.

Nationally, Missouri's corn crop apparently has been hit the hardest. Once forecast at 188 million bushels, it's now seen at only 90 million bushels. That's a 52 percent decline.

Elsewhere, crops in Alabama and Georgia are both seen off 1/3 from earlier predictions.

usually unchanged from earlier reports, 9 percent above the 1979 crop and record high.

Not so for corn. Forecast at 7.3 billion bushels earlier, it's now seen at only 6.65

Understanding Cult Involvement

Me? Get caught up in a religious cult? Renounce school, family and friends, to become the slave of some nut who says he's God? Quit Believe it. A group of ex-members of various cults, along with families and friends know it can happen to anybody no matter how intelligent and well-educated they may think they are. Intelligence has nothing to do with getting trapped by a cult; it's done by manipulating the emotions. The cults get someone by isolating them somewhere, bombarding them with "love," controlling their thoughts and activities every minute for days and forcing them to see reality only in the cult's terms, and surrounding them and preventing them from ever leaving again. Call it brainwashing. It works, it's happening.

There are hundreds, maybe thousands of totalitarian cults in this country, from groups of just a few people in the service of some money-hungry pipsqueak god, to mammoth world economic/political enterprises like Sun Myung Moon's Unification Church (the Moonies), which is linked to the Korean CIA. Students are the prime target of many cults. The Moonies are planning to blitz the schools around here this year; someday you be greeted by a friendly person trying to get you to a lecture on "principles" or to a "free international dinner" or something similar. David Berg's Children of God are back in town (after they fled the U.S.A. a few years ago to escape prosecution for their racket). The Hare Krishnas and many others want you, too, body, soul and bank account.

Be aware that true fanaticism give rise to the discipline to conceal itself. If sweet-looking strangers invite you to a free dinner off campus, an ill-defined lecture or a "weekend school to sell flowers or beg on the streets 16 hours a day, trapped by fear that spirits will kill me if I leave? ME? You've got to be kidding.

seminar," chances are it's a totalitarian cult. Find out the exact name and purpose of the group (if you can); college chaplains sometimes know what's going on.

Cults make a special effort to get to freshmen and other people at a crossroads in their lives. Do not let a strange group persuade you away to a distant, isolated retreat (which the Moonies in particular will try to do) no matter how sincere or harmless the people make themselves appear. If you do make the mistake of going have your OWN transportation back, do NOT surrender your car keys on any ruse, make sure your Friends and family know EXACTLY where you are going and when you intend to be back, and stick to this schedule no matter how the group tries to manipulate you into staying.

Most importantly, do not be lulled along by the sweetness and light routine the group will give you the first few days to counteract publicity like this. Don't get tangled in their web by trying to pick holes in their doctrine. It won't work. It's a method they can use to trap you while they lead up to the announcement that their is the Messiah and you must stay. Remember YOU ARE YOUR OWN PERSON and no one has the right to take that away from you. Best yet, stay away altogether.

This information is directly quoted from ex-members of various cults. It could be the most important advice anyone ever gives you.

Take the time and make the effort to attend the free awareness program on "Cults", October 6 at 7:00 p.m. at Spearman High School. The Extension Homemakers Council and Spearman FHA are sponsors.

Continental U.S. residents can call the toll-free at 800-424-9393. Residents of Alaska, Hawaii and Washington, D.C. call 200-426-0123.

ODOMETER LAW

Another advantage for the used-car buyer is the odometer law, Mrs. Piernot says.

This law makes it illegal to turn back, adjust or tamper with the odometer, and it requires that the buyer be given a written, signed statement that the mileage noted on the odometer is correct.

If the actual mileage is not known, this must be stated in writing.

This statement should also include the seller's name and address, vehicle identification data, and a sentence referring to the law and the liability incurred if the information is incorrect, she adds.

Surprisingly, there were some increases. Ohio's crop is seen up 2-1/2 pct., that in Wisconsin is seen up 4 pct. from the July forecasts.

That in Nebraska is seen down 17 percent, while those in both South Dakota and Texas are seen down 16 percent from earlier forecasts. Pennsylvania is seen off 13 percent from the pre-drought estimate. Crops in Illinois and Iowa are seen down 8 percent and 3 percent, respectively.

Even if it stands at this present level, it'll be the biggest year-to-year drop in corn production on record—more than a billion bushels. That'd be a sharper drop than that from 1973 to 1974 when drought was also the major factor as the nation's corn production dropped from 5.67 billion bushels to 4.70 billion bushels, down 970 million bushels.

All this has cut feed grain (corn, sorghum grain, oats and barley) expectations. Output is now seen at 197 million metric tons, down 16 percent from last year's record high 234 ton total and the lowest since 1976.

Winter Fashions

COLLEGE STATION--Fall and winter fashions this year will be full of their wearers' individual creativity, a clothing specialist predicts.

"Many fashion options are allowing the individual to create her own special look for fall and winter," says Ann Vanderpoorten.

Ms. Vanderpoorten is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

This year, choose one look to build an entire wardrobe around, or select different styles for your different moods, the specialist suggests.

Two popular fashion trends are the "total look" and the "separates look." Both are "easy to wear," Ms. Vanderpoorten says.

"TOTAL LOOK"

The "total look" strives for chic elegance.

It is based on a collection of suits, dresses and coat-with-skirt combinations.

Colors are muted but not dull. Textures are smooth and crisp.

The mainstay of the "total look" is a trio of items: classic suits with narrow fitted jackets, Chanel suits and one-piece sweater dresses.

"SEPARATES LOOK"

Today's "separates look" depends on cardigan jackets, sweater sets and waistlength jackets coordinated with skirts or pants.

Textural interest is important—with fabrics that are nubby, lacy, napped, and, for contrast, shiny.

Argyles and Fair Isle patterns are popular for sweaters and knee socks.

Casual elegance describes this classic look.

WARDROBE EXTENDERS

Great wardrobe extenders for either look are a ruffled or lace-trimmed blouse, a pleated skirt and a blazer, Ms. Vanderpoorten says.

MAKE IT YOURS

Whether you choose a single fashion trend or select from several, one thing is certain: now is the time to create a wardrobe that is uniquely yours.

All of us had heard about the drought, but that crop report still came as a shocker. The wheat crop, which for all practical purposes had been made before it hit, held. At 2.32 billion bushels, it was vir-

Not so for corn. Forecast at 7.3 billion bushels earlier, it's now seen at only 6.65

Partridge-Meadors Vows Exchanged

MRS. KEVIN MEADORS nee Elizabeth Sherisse Partridge

On Saturday, September 27, the sanctuary of the Calvary Baptist Church in Amarillo, Texas was the scene of a wedding which united Elizabeth Sherisse Partridge and John Kevin Meadors, both of that city.

Parents of the couple are Mr. & Mrs. Bill R. Partridge, of Canyon, Texas; and Mr. & Mrs. P.U. Naples of Amarillo. The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. & Mrs. Slim Cates, Spearman.

Vows were exchanged beneath an arch entwined with greenery. Seven-branched candelabras flanked the altar area enhanced by large urns of burgundy roses, pale pink daisy poms, and spider mums. Isle bows marked the family pews.

Bob Crass, Church of Christ minister, read the double ring vows at 6:00 p.m. Cindy Woodward of Amarillo, organist, rendered traditional wedding selections and accompanied Connie Turner of Gruver when she sang "Song Bird" and "Ice Castles".

Kelli Simpson, cousin of the bride, registered guests at the wedding.

Entering on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage, the bride looked beautiful in a formal gown of hand-cliffed chantilly lace over peau de soie. The basque was designed with a bateau neckline and embroidered with seed pearls and irridescent. The long tapered sleeves extended below her wrists. The full skirt featured a scalloped hemline with folds of peau de soie draped with lace to form a chapel train. The veil of French illusion fell from a tiara of pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of burgundy roses, pale pink daisies and baby's breath tied with matching streamers. The wedding gown and veil were worn by her mother at her wedding.

Attendants were: Andy Meadors, brother of the groom, ring bearer. Echelle Partridge, sister of the bride, Flower girl. She wore a short pleated dress of pink accented with ribbon and white lace and carried a white lace basket of rose petals.

Melanie Partridge served her sister as Maid of Honor. She wore a floor length gown of burgundy quiana.

Bridesmaids: Kandy Montgomery of Amarillo; Gail Breland of Gruver and Cheryl Reynolds of Canyon, wore floor length gowns of pink quiana. The dresses were made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs.

Walter Partridge. Each attendant carried a bouquet of pink and burgundy silk roses with tiny white accent flowers. Their pink and burgundy picture hats were fashioned from horsehair braid.

Jim Harless of Amarillo was Best man. Groomsmen were Doug Griller, Frank James and Craig Hubberd all of Amarillo.

Ushers were Ray Partridge, brother of the bride, Canyon; Lance Simpson, cousin of the bride, Perryton; Mike White and Kent Anderson, Amarillo.

Following the ceremony reception guests were received in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Julie Smith, Pat Emerson and Tina Hughes were servers. Assisting with the reception were Mrs. Arch Reynolds, Mrs. Larry McCrady, Mrs. Jim Childers of Canyon and Mrs. Owen Montgomery of Spearman.

The four tiered wedding confection iced in white, was decorated with pink roses and bells and topped with miniature bells and topped with a miniature bridal couple. The traditional chocolate groom's cake was decorated with yellow roses and a pair of white doves.

Following a wedding trip to Dallas, the couple is at home in Amarillo.

The bride is a graduate of Canyon High School and Amarillo College of Hairdressing.

The bridegroom graduated from Amarillo High School and is employed by Sound Warehouse and Clean Unlimited.

Choir Fall Concert

On October 6th at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Auditorium, the Spearman School's Choral Department will present a Fall Concert. This includes "Blue Magic" the 6th grade choir and the Seventh and Eighth Grade Boys' Choir and Girls' Choir under the direction of Charlotte Angel with Wilma Clark accompanying. Also, the S.H.S. Choral and "Celebrate" the High School Show Choir will perform under the direction of Travis Angel with Denise Blackburn and Sherry Greene accompanying. The musical program will be varied including Bruckner's Os Justi, Gonna Build a Moun- tain from "Stop the World I Want to Get Off", Put Your Hand In the Hand, Doobie Brothers' Listen to the Music, and an old favorite, In the Mood. There will be something for everyone's taste. The concert is free and open to the public.

After the concert, Mr. Angel and Mr. Craig Zinck, the Band Director, will meet with all interested people to organize a Music Booster Club to help support the music programs of the Spearman Schools. This group includes all interested parents, people from the business community, and any interested people of Spearman who want to achieve and maintain a superior music program in the schools from K through 12. Anyone interested is invited to attend. "If we want the world to be still, gray and silent, then we should keep the arts out of the school, shut down the neighborhood theatre, barricade the museum doors. When we let the arts into the arena of learning, we run the risk that color and motion and music will enter our lives." (David Rockefeller)

Rodgers and Hammerstein's Musical Oklahoma will be presented at Spearman High School on November 1 and 3 at 8:00 p.m. Make plans to attend.

FIRE PACT

of my employers. I will continue to do so until I am told by them otherwise."

A rumbling mutual mumble of agreement ran through the audience.

It seemed that Sheriff McFarlin's forthright stand influenced much of the provision made in the agreement ratified later in the meeting.

A very plain example of a lack of communication rose again and again during the meeting and was ignored. Much of the pre-agreement discussion centered around the ambulance service and the rescue unit.

County leaders were told repeatedly by both City Manager Murray and Mayor Ralph Blodgett that the business at hand was a firefighting contract and ambulance service was a separate function -- and that the rescue unit would move with other firefighting equipment and the county would pay only the fixed fee.

Apparently this never registered and the ambulance-rescue unit discussion went on for some time.

It should also be noted that Hansford County Judge R.L. McClellan was highly effective, Monday night, in heading off any barbed comments or heated discussion and worked in concert with Mayor Blodgett in finally drawing the meeting to its original intent and purpose.

This was in keeping with Judge McClellan's long-time image in the community but in sharp contrast to his sudden exit from the regular city council meeting, Sept. 23.

Talking to the REPORTER after the meeting, Monday night, Judge McClellan said:

"I never realized my leaving would be interpreted as it was. I was not angry. I was frustrated. I wanted a fire agreement as badly as the city council but we had worked the discussion down to where it seemed a 'motion and second' was expected of me and I did not have that authority at that point.

"So, my spirit upon leaving was not anger but one of frustration because I felt I had contributed all I could at that point and there was no need to take further time from their meeting."

The judge made another point:

"I'll swear-- in the reverent sense -- that I did not say 'take it or leave it' as I left. I was mumbling and I could not swear to what I said but I feel I'm sure what I did not say."

One of the persons purporting to have heard the judge's exit line summed it up Monday night:

"The judge's leadership tonight and his spirit of cooperation certainly are not in keeping with such a remark and I, for one, am willing to admit I could have misunderstood because we were all more shook by the fact of his leaving rather than anything he may have said."

Anyone attending the commissioners court session the day before that night could understand Judge McClellan's sense of frustration. The city was pressing for a fire pact. The commissioners were determined to stand on their offer feeling it was fair and the matter was not on that agenda for any further action and the Judge was right. He was not empowered the following night to go any further than he did.

Just as Sheriff McFarlin drove the wedge that opened the meeting to cold hard facts and got the assemblage communicating, so City Councilman Ed Garner made the comment that closed the discussion and got leaders to vote on the actual agreement. To understand the wave of laughter that totally broke the tension, it must be remembered the county withheld approval of payment for two fire calls feeling they were caused by burning at the sanitary land fill. The city council concurred saying the county should not have to pay for fires the city started.

That was the background when another council member asked Garner if he felt the agreement offered by the county would solve the city's fire department dilemma.

"No," replied Garner, "but we are going to have to make the most of it. We've even set fires and they won't pay for 'em."

After the laughter came ratification of a pact providing a $200 payment for fire calls plus certain other conditions and limitations.

The county will continue to furnish a truck and will foot the bill for all service and repairs. The city will pay for operating fuel.

In addition, a county-owned, large-capacity water tanker truck used for sprinkling road surfaces would be on call to those county fires where water supply was critical. This unit would have to move from its work location at the time of the call.

(This disturbed at least one owner of business property just outside the city limits who asked for a private contract with the city to fight fire on his premises because he feared a time delay in the water source arriving on the scene. He, and others, were assured the city's tanker, while slowed by transmission troubles, could easily make any fire run just outside the city limits.)

The fire department will fill out a report on each fire and file it with both city and county auditors within 72 hours after a run has been made.

(This procedure will clear up much of the misunderstanding prevailing in the past. It was discovered at the meeting, Monday night, that aborted runs -- where the rescue unit might be needed and was directed back to the station by radio -- were not reported to Murray.)

In the new agreement, the city will absorb the cost of any aborted runs.

Another provision gives the county control over firefighters and their units once they cross the city limits, undertaking all the liabilities and responsibilities attendant thereto.

The county specified certain limitations such as disclaiming any responsibility for runs to other entities (Hutchinson and Ochilree) when city units cross city limits.

In turn, the city fire chief has the right to refuse to answer any county fire calls when he feels doing so endangers the city. This provision is based on a state statute to the same effect.

Included in the contract was an agreement on ambulance service. If a call came in reporting an accident but said there were no injuries, the ambulance would not run. If a deputy or highway patrolman reached the scene and found there were actually injuries, an ambulance would be dispatched.

To sum up: the ambulance would not make the accident scene if no injuries were noted in the accident report. An official report filed later would note this, absolving the ambulance service of any later liability if it developed there were injuries.

The signed contract will be for one year from Oct. 1 with provisions for cancellation on 60-day notice. It was agreed that it would remain in effect providing county fire protection at the end of the year for as many days as might be necessary by circumstance to draw up and sign a new agreement.

So, after weeks of budget problems for both entities, there is accord and will be a contract as soon as attorneys for both entities have opportunity to put it in final form as to explicit legal terminology.

Finance Drive

Boy Scout's finance drive is under way with Chairmen Roy Bulls and Harry Stumpf. Our fair share by the Adobe Walls Council is $3900 for the year of 1980 which is about 10% more than what it was last year.

The art of saying something to please both sides is what explains the way people vote.

Public Invited To Hear Republican Candidates

The public is invited to hear area Republican candidates at a reception Saturday, Oct. 4 from 2 until 4 p.m. in the hospitality room of the First State Bank.

Candidates who will be present include Bob Price, state senator from 31st district; Ron Slover, U.S. House of Representatives from 13th district; Chalmers Porter, state representative from 64th district; and Chunky Blackburn, District Judge, 84th district.

There will be a question and answer session and refreshments will be served.

Hostesses include Velma Sanders, Ila Jo Hart, El Vanna Davis, Marjorie Reed, Myrt Bohanan, Mary Cornelius and Eddie Largent.

The Gruver United Methodist Women are sponsoring a Harvest Fair on Wednesday, October 8th. It will be held in the Fellowship Hall of the Gruver Methodist Church from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Jim Eddleman will be selling some of his brass trunks, and there will be craft items of every description, as well as baked goods to tickle your taste buds, and delightful Christmas decorations. This will be a great opportunity to do some early holiday shopping, or fill your freezer with goodies to eat, or surprise someone with a special handmade gift. Plan to be there early for The Best Selection.

SAFETY QUIZ

Would you know what to do should your eye be injured? This quiz will help you tell and may teach you some things about eye safety.

1. If household chemicals or battery acids come in contact with the eyes (a) flush the eyes with water continuously for about 15 minutes (b) wipe the eyes with a clean cloth and bandage lightly?

2. When reading, the best light is (a) --- that is diffused over the area where you're working (b) the brightest, highest wattage bulb available?

3. To prevent eye injuries during sporting events, always (a) place spectators (b) wear safety glasses or eye guards?

ANSWERS: 1. (a) Then, contact a doctor immediately. 2. (a) Light should be diffused to eliminate glare. Leave a second lamp burning in the room so that when you look up your eyes will not have to adjust to the dark. 3. (b) Eye protection is available for players who don't normally wear glasses as well as those who wear prescription glasses or contact lenses.

For a free booklet on eye safety, send a stamped, self-addressed business-size envelope to your state Society to Prevent Blindness or the National Society to Prevent Blindness, 79 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10016.

HOW TO TEST YOUR TOTS FOR BLINDNESS

Your preschooler can't tell you that he has a vision problem. But, says the National Society to Prevent Blindness, actions can speak louder than words.

Look for these body language messages from your preschooler: excessive rubbing, shutting or covering one eye, tilting the head or thrusting it forward, blinking often or becoming irritable when doing close work. Watch for crossed, red-rimmed, swollen or watery eyes, and bouts of dizziness, headaches and double vision.

One in every 20 preschoolers--nearly half a million throughout the U.S.-- has an eye disorder of some kind. Many of these vision problems are most effectively treated in the early years.

To find the children in need of attention, the National Society to Prevent Blindness offers a Home

Eye Test for Preschoolers. For a free copy of this do-it-yourself test, available in English or Spanish, write to your state Society to Prevent Blindness or the National Society to Prevent Blindness, 79 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10016.

4-H Week

The Texas Easter Seal Society, now in its 51st year, provides orthopedic equipment, physical, occupational and speech therapy and transportation to rehabilitation centers.

Information and registration forms can be obtained by calling or writing: Texas Easter Seal Society, 4429 N. Central Expressway, Dallas, Texas 75205; (214) 526-3811.

COLLEGE STATION--Seeking new knowledge and skills to become better citizens and leaders--that's the challenge extended to all youth by the theme of this year's National 4-H Week, "Expanding Horizons." The weeklong observance is set for October 5-11.

More than five million youth between the ages of 9 and 19 are currently enrolled in 4-H throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, Guam and the Virgin Islands. Texas boasts a 4-H enrollment of some 140,000 boys and girls.

"4-H is the nation's largest out-of-school educational youth organization," points out Dr. John T. Pelham, state 4-H and youth leader with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the parent organization of 4-H in Texas.

"4-H continues to offer unique learning experiences for youth through its time-tested 'learning-by-doing' approach," says Pelham. "4-H'ers become involved in a variety of practical, real-life activities that range from agriculture and clothing to health and wood science. Programs vary according to youth needs and community resources."

The theme, "Expanding Horizons," challenges all 4-H members to seek new knowledge, acquire life skills and build on personal strengths. Members are encouraged to strengthen their citizenship and leadership abilities and to assume positive roles in a free democratic society, notes the 4-H leader.

"The 4-H program involves youth from all social and economic backgrounds and gives them an opportunity to key in on such vital issues as energy conservation, better human nutrition, wise use of natural resources and combating inflation. In addition, 4-H helps youth gain knowledge and skills for their future careers," adds Pelham.

While 4-H is still a mainstay with rural youth, participation of urban youth has tripled in the past 10 years. Today, 23 percent of all 4-H members nationwide live in suburbs or cities of more than 50,000 population. Nineteen percent live on farms, 40 percent live in small towns, and 18 percent live in towns and cities of 10,000 to 50,000 population.

The 4-H program garners much of its support from a legion of volunteer leaders who give unselfishly of their time and resources to help youth grow and develop, points out Pelham. More than a half million volunteer leaders across the nation play a key role in the total 4-H program; almost 22,000 of these are in Texas.

Texas boasts a total of 1,973 organized 4-H clubs and 886 special interest clubs. The largest group of Texas 4-H'ers live in towns under 10,000 population--43,244. The next largest group is in cities over 50,000 population--39,104--while 29,018 live on farms and ranches and 21,866 live in towns and cities between 10,000 and 50,000 population. Organized television groups include 7,459 members.

What are the most popular project areas among Texas 4-H members? Foods and nutrition leads the top 10 by a large margin with an enrollment of 37,860. Second is electric with 13,017, followed by clothing, 10,390, horse, 9,751, creative arts 9,442, safety, 8,422, swine, 8,083, beef, 7,914, and sheep, 7,626.

Comment On Sports

BASEBALL * * * *

By Pete Fritchie

WASHINGTON, D. C. -- There have been a number of flops in the American League in 1980 worthy of mention. Both Texas and California were thought to be solid contenders in the American League West. Neither was.

Detroit respectable in the American East. But the Tigers aren't doing as good under Sparky, this year and last, as they did under Les Moss in the short time he was given the helm in 1979. How can the team win when such players as Ron LeFlore, Jason Thompson, Rusty Staub, Jim Slaton, etc., stray from the fold? The Tigers have now been a young team, coming, for six years.

The Milwaukee Brewers, also in the A.L. East, were supposed to be pennant contenders in 1980. They have failed badly, but in fairness, they lost their manager to a heart attack early in the year. Meanwhile Billy Martin showed once again what a firebrand manager can do--at Oakland.

The National League, contrary to the scene in the American, has been pretty much up to expectations. Montreal, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh have been tough in the eastern division and Los Angeles, Houston and Cincinnati have been tough in the west--as forecast.

Houston has held up surprisingly well without J.R. Richards. The big surprise in the National is Atlanta, which suddenly has become a winning team. Can it be?

People can learn to swim easily because the average human body is slightly lighter than fresh water, and much lighter than salt water.
