New airport officially opens June 1 YMCA Summer Program

A whole lot of hard work... a modicum of misunderstanding... and considerable inconvenience to certain patrons culminates at 12 noon, June 1, at Spearman. That is the date set for the sign die closing of the "old" Spearman Municipal Airport and the opening of the NEW Spearman Municipal Airport based on action taken at the regular meeting of the Spearman city council, Monday night. Meeting one day early this one time, the council quickly set the airport change-over, accepted bids, set delinquent tax penalties and authorized a number of payments. Among these and related to the action on the airport simply by definition, was the approval of partial payment to Gifford Electric Company for lighting at the new airport. The authorized payment was in the amount of $15,806.11. It should be noted here that the action closing the old airport facility and activating the new one was made subject to FAA approval with provision for the date to be adjusted to FAA regulations if necessary. Spearman Mayor Ralph Blodgett noted that the date did not mean that various companies and individuals using the airport had to have their change-over completed by that specific time. He said regulating authorities had built into their regulations a time period to complete the transition. It was just required in the course of completing all the requirements beginning with the original notice to close the old airport that a transition date be set and executed. North Plains International was the successful bidder for a loader to be used by the Spearman street department. The bid by this local firm was $2,798. Another local firm, Hansford Implement Company submitted the low bid for a rear blade for this loader. That figure was $895. Recent enabling legislation makes it possible for the city -- and other taxing entities -- to add a penalty up to 15 percent to delinquent taxes to pay the representative attorneys for all necessary action in the collection of these delinquent taxes. Heretofore, attorneys had bid on the job of collecting these unpaid taxes with the fee accepted subtracted from unpaid taxes finally collected. This reduced the amount of tax income by the amount set. Now, the delinquent taxpayer must bear this collection cost up to 15 percent of the amount of his or her unpaid taxes. In the matter of a rate increase sought by Texas-New Mexico Power Company, members of the city council voted to exercise an available option and suspend the rate increase and action on it another 30 days. The city had already taken advantage of the initial built-in 120 suspension available at the outset of the rate increase action. With the potential weather danger of this past weekend, an emergency item was added to the city agenda so the panel could consider replacement of the emergency generator now in use by the Spearman Police Department. Actually, this action deals with the generator in use at the time of the weather emergency. Failure due to use and age made it necessary to borrow a generating unit from the city of Gruver until purchase of a new unit can be made and installation effected. This unit would supply power to the police station and all systems it uses and power for one warning siren within the city. Need for this generator was sharply pointed up after a power "outage" of some 12 minutes in the city of Spearman last Sunday afternoon during the storms that traipsed across the entire Texas Panhandle. Following consideration and approval of the routine bills and reports from various city departments, the meeting adjourned. The next regular meeting of the city council returns to the regular meeting day, Tuesday, which will be May 25. Meetings begin at 8 p.m. during daylight saving time and they are open to the public.

County commissioners nix new tax plan

With one exception -- the collection of taxes -- business transacted by the Hansford County commissioners court in regular session, Monday, ranged from the unsensational to the routine. Other taxing entities in the county had been waiting for "the other shoe to drop" -- and it did. The county itself becomes the only taxing entity to elect to collect its own taxes for the forthcoming year. All others, the cities of Spearman and Gruver and the independent school districts of those two cities had agreed to a proposal by the newly created central appraisal district.

There were some security measures Sheriff McFarlin asked for and there was the matter of some ventilation and cooling demands by the existing code of jail standards. Commissioners agreed to try the installation of some fans for the ventilating and cooling task to see if the required comfort factor was met. Hard on the heels of this discussion came the news -- while the commissioners court was still in session -- that the state penal system would not accept any more prisoners. Some figure projections will have to be made before an estimate of the load and the cost to the county because of this decision can be made. At present, when the edict was issued, Hansford County had only one prisoner to be transferred to the state department of corrections.

Crop & Livestock Reports Needed

AUSTIN -- The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service will begin interviewing Texas farmers and ranchers in mid-May on 1982 crop acreage and midyear livestock inventories, State Statistician Doug Murfield has announced. Results of the confidential interviews, conducted through the mail or in person by field enumerators, will be published in June. Murfield is urging farmers and ranchers to complete and return mail questionnaires promptly. Information will be combined for state and county estimates. Murfield said estimates give Texas farmers and ranchers planning information for planting, breeding, feeding, storing, producing, and marketing. "Without these reports, most producers would have to depend on trade and other sources for information on crop and livestock prospects," he said. Reports are also used by farm organizations and legislatures to plan and develop farm programs, extension economists and farm and ranch management consultants to advise farmers and ranchers, and exporters to plan and promote sales of Texas agricultural products in foreign markets. Estimates are published annually for livestock, dairy, poultry, cotton, small grains, vegetables, fruits and pecans, and cash receipts from the sale

Appeals To Appraisal Review Board

Beginning in 1982, taxpayers with property located in the Hansford County Appraisal District will have the opportunity to air their complaints before the new Appraisal Review Board.

This group of citizens is appointed by the appraisal district board of directors to equalize property values and consider claims for exemption and agricultural valuation. For the first time, taxpayers will be able to address a single equalization board instead of one for each taxing unit in which their property is located.

A property owner may protest before the appraisal review board the following actions:

- * A property's appraised or agricultural value;

- * Unequal appraisal of his property in comparison to the weighted average level of appraisals of other property in the appraisal district;

- * Inclusion of his property on the appraisal records;

- * Denial of a partial exemption such as a homestead exemption;

- * Denial of agricultural-use, open-space or timber valuation;

- * Identification of the taxing unit in which the property is located;

- * Determination that the taxpayer is the owner of the property; or

- * Any other action that applies to the property owner and adversely affects him.

A property owner who wishes to lodge a protest based on one or more of the previously stated actions must file a written notice of protest with the appropriate appraisal review board. He should check with Alice Peddy at the appraisal district office to determine the deadline for filing a written protest and when the Appraisal Review Board will begin hearings.

The notice of protest, which may be in a letter or on an official form, must identify the property owner lodging the protest, the property that is the subject of the protest and must indicate dissatisfaction with some determination of the appraisal district office.

Notice of protest forms are available at the Hansford County Appraisal District office. A hearing will be scheduled after the notice of protest is filed and the property owner will be notified at least 15 days prior to the date of the hearing.

The property owner filing the protest is then entitled to appear in person before the Appraisal Review Board to offer evidence or argument. He may also offer his evidence or argument by affidavit without personally appearing. The property owner and chief appraiser will be notified by certified mail of the Appraisal Review Board's decision.

For more information, contact Alice Peddy at the Hansford County Appraisal District office at 13 W. Kenneth or call 659-5575.

GM's Bonus Plan

Top management at General Motors recently agreed to forego a proposed easier bonus program for top GM officials. The program would have made it easier for officials to earn increases and incentive payments.

Certainly this was a poor time to propose to open the door to easier increases for officials in management--when workers were giving up raises and other benefits in an economy move.

This approach was hardly one to convince workers all at GM are sacrificing for the common cause. Nor is it easy to understand why GM's chairman and president last year received substantial raises to already very high salaries--at a time when the company was making less money than it had in years.

Wise corporate management should see to it that when workers must tighten their belts, management does likewise--and proportionately. And profit-sharing, which many U.S. corporations are turning to, is often a very prudent approach to labor-management relations.

Dogs & You

Dogs are man's best friend, usually. But of late there have been too many cases of dogs attacking children, singly or in packs, and some have been permanently maimed.

In some instances, when this happens, reams of arguments fill the newspapers and courtrooms--whether or not the dog is gentle or dangerous.

A simple rule is a good guide. Unless the dog was on his own property, defending his home, there is little to argue about. If the dog is positively identified, and has seriously maimed and attacked an individual which did not harm or threaten him, he must then be constantly kept enclosed, or put to sleep.

The owner of the enclosed dog then assumes a sober responsibility, and is legally liable to pay heavily for any recurrence.

More dogs should be enclosed, in any event, as is the custom in western Europe. In this country, where land has been plentiful in the past and social standards not long and widely established, some have adopted the convenient notion that dogs can run free--in our towns and communities.

This is neither good for dogs nor the community. More and more communities are rightly requiring that animals be penned as well as properly cared for in other ways.

Texas Drilling Boom Continued

DALLAS--The 10th consecutive year of production at the maximum efficient recovery rate in nearly all of Texas' oil and gas fields pushed the state's output of crude oil and condensate last year to nearly 929-million barrels.

The total of 929,710,351 barrels included more than 897-million barrels of crude oil. Figures compiled by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association also indicate that more than 31-million barrels of condensate were produced.

Texas' drilling boom, spawned by crude oil price decontrol, continued last year. Figures from the Railroad Commission's Oil & Gas Division show 24,998 new holes drilled in the state last year, an 18.1-percent increase from the 1980 total of 20,490 wells. Oil completions stood at 15,627, up 21.2-percent from 1980, while drilling applications jumped 17.8-percent between 1980 and 1981. A total of 47,940 applications were received last year, compared to 39,442 in 1980.

Last year's crude oil and condensate production total was 31.6-million barrels below the 1980 figure, a decrease of 3.3-percent. It marked the ninth consecutive year of a downward trend since Texas' output peaked at near 1.3-billion barrels in 1972. However, 1981 production from the nation's No. 1 petroleum producing province pushed the all-time cumulative total since 1866 to more than 46.6-billion barrels of crude oil and condensate.

Avery Rush, Jr., of Amarillo, chairman of the Dallas-based Association, noted that although the production decline continued last year, the 1981 decrease reflected a slowing in the rate of decline. It was the lowest percentage drop in the past five years.

"It is very encouraging to see that the unprecedented drilling activity of the past two years is beginning to have a positive effect on Texas production," Rush said. "Only by increasing our reserves can we eventually turn around our production decline. And the only way to increase reserves is by drilling," Rush said. Hansford County, which has had recorded production since 1937, last year produced 422,497 barrels of crude oil and condensate at the rate of 1,158 barrels per day. Production in 1981 boosted Hansford County's production total through the end of the year to 30,338,169 barrels.

'82 Grain Price Outlook Bleak

COLLEGE STATION -- With a new crop year dawning, Texas farmers face low grain prices because of a record U.S. crop last year and good crops throughout the world.

"High interest rates, strengthening of the dollar and the worldwide economic situation also have had negative effects on grain prices," says Dr. Roland Smith, economist in agribusiness and marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A & M University System.

"The market concern now is on how fast corn and sorghum supplies can be used before the '82 harvest season," Smith explains.

How much grain is fed to livestock will be important this year, he says, especially since corn exports are off to a slower start than in the last two years even though sorghum exports are running ahead of last year. Corn exports are down 26 percent from a year ago while sorghum shipments are up 22 percent.

Add to this the fact that forward sales are considerably behind last year and the picture for feedgrains in 1982 looks bleak, says the economist.

"Of course, there is concern among livestock producers about the profitability of livestock feeding--even at lower grain prices," says Smith. "But it appears grain price levels early this year will be low enough to encourage more use."

However, Smith does not expect major increases in grain use until April-September because of the time it likely will take to increase the grain feeding base and grain consumption.

"Carryover levels of corn and sorghum probably will expand sharply in 1982," says Smith. "However, we could see some seasonal price increases this spring provided demand follows projected patterns."

But the economist cautions producers to evaluate increased holding costs against potential seasonal price increases.

Wheat producers also must deal with a large world and domestic crop from last year. However, early export projections for the current year are up 18 percent at 1.8 billion bushels. Nevertheless, wheat carry-over still will rise some this year due to the record large 1981 crop.

Wheat prospects will depend greatly on the size of the '82 crop in Texas and elsewhere in the U.S., says Smith. Texas' wheat crop was estimated at 178 million bushels in a special April survey, down 3 percent from 1981. The rest of the U.S. winter wheat crop will be surveyed in May.

Regarding the export situation, Smith notes that the British blockage of the Falkland Islands may impact on Argentina's grain exports and could result in increased shipments from other exporters.

"Grain producers must evaluate their marketing potential throughout 1982, and be prepared to take advantage of short-term upward price moves," Smith advises. "But they also need to be aware of how market prices compare to projected production costs."

Prizes To Be Awarded

Dr. Doug Steger, Chairman of the Clean-up Campaign in Spearman released the following to the Clubs and Organizations of Spearman. The name of the campaign is "Put a Shine On Spearman", given to the Chamber of Commerce by Adrian Blackburn.

New Arthritis Treatment Cleared

Oraflex, Once-a-Day Arthritis Treatment, Cleared for Marketing. Oraflex, a new once-a-day medication for the treatment of arthritis, has been approved for marketing in the U.S. by the Food and Drug Administration, according to Eli Lilly and Company.

One of the ways Oraflex appears to work is by inhibiting the migration of certain white cells in the blood stream to the sites of arthritis inflammation. Disordered action of these cells is believed to be among the major causes of bone and joint destruction involved in arthritis. In animal studies, Oraflex has been shown to arrest the development of arthritis.

gastrointestinal side effects sometimes associated with anti-arthritis medication. A sun-related side effect has been seen in some patients treated with Oraflex. This reaction, which involves the skin or nails exposed to sunlight, is generally mild, can be avoided, and, with good management, seldom interferes with treatment.

Host Families Sought For European High School Students

Have you ever wanted to travel to another country just to see what it was like? Maybe this is not possible or feasible. As an alternative, have you ever considered hosting an exchange student from another country? International Fellowship, Inc. whose Western Office address is P.O. Box 1212, Sedona, AZ 86336, has been working with exchange students for the past twenty-eight years and can provide this opportunity for you. With the help of experienced foreign directors, students participate from most Central and South American countries as well as Mexico, Europe and Japan, and stay with host families while attending our schools. It is the policy of the program to work through the secondary schools in the U.S. and Canada. Program costs covering transportation, insurance, etc. are paid abroad; therefore, there is no cost to the school or community for accepting the student. The host family is requested to furnish room, board and laundry; personal expenses are the responsibility of the student. If interested, please contact the principal, or other dedicated educator at your High School; or telephone the Western Office collect at (602) 282-7353. Learning a foreign language and customs are the obvious benefits to be derived from participating in the exchange program; however, there are many more. Like people, each hosting experience is in some way different and provides new and lasting memories which can be cherished throughout a lifetime.

New All-Risk Crop Insurance Loss Reporting Requirements

NEW ALL-RISK OR MULTI-PERIL CROP INSURANCE LOSS REPORTING REQUIREMENTS IN 1982. The dramatic increase in participation in All-Risk or Multi-Peril Crop Insurance mandates a change in notice of damage procedure, according to F.W. Crouch, Jr., Field Operations Director of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation. "New regulations in effect in 1982 will give rapid, responsive, accurate service to the producer, and increase the efficiency of the loss adjustment process," Crouch added. Current requirements for prompt written notice of damage during the growing season will remain in effect. In addition, the producer is asked to provide written notice of probable damage at least 15 days prior to the beginning of harvest. If damage is not discovered until harvest, the grower is required to file a notice of damage report immediately, and to reserve a representative sample of the unharvested crop at least 10 feet wide and extending the full length of the field. The crop residue must be left undisturbed for 15 days from the date of the notice, or until written authority is given by the Corporation to do otherwise. Notices of damage are to include policy and unit number, estimated yield per acre, and estimated amount of indemnity. "The increased volume of business and farmer reliance upon the All-Risk Crop Insurance program make it imperative that loss adjustment procedures reflect the realities of the added work load," Crouch stated.

Bazaar Items-Afghans On Display

The Golden Spread Center members are displaying a sampling of their Bazaar items at the library this month. The items are all hand crafted and will be on sale during the Hansford Roundup. Come by the library and get a sneak preview of these lovely articles.

Mrs. Hull has a lovely array of afghans on display at the Hansford County Library through May. The afghans are in a variety of colors and designs, including ripple pattern, granny square, postage stamp design, Navajo and Indian Paintbrush.

Mrs. Hull has made all but two of these afghans since Christmas. She has nine grandchildren to crochet afghans for. She claims crocheting afghans is a good pastime for her, although Mr. Hull kids her about spending all her time on them.

The Hulls have resided in Hansford County for 51 years.

Wheat Field Day Set

RESEARCH NEWS REPORT

Bushland, Texas - There will be a Wheat Field Day at the USDA Conservation and Production Research Laboratory on Thursday, May 27 at 1:00 p.m. The public is invited by Dr. B.A. Stewart, Research Director of the Laboratory.

The highlight of the tour will be a nursery of commercial hybrid wheats being compared to TAM 105 and other varieties of wheat. TAM 105 is the highest yielding and the latest wheat released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. The Irrigated Small Grain Nursery will be shown by Dr. K.B. Porter. The researcher has developed TAM 105 and several other outstanding wheat varieties that are grown on several million acres in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Kansas.

Other features on the tour will be a dryland wheat nursery, effect of fertility and water levels on six varieties of wheat, limited tillage dryland wheat production systems, cattle grazing, and research with a new herbicide for wheat called Glean.

Dr. Stewart said, "Growers interested in seeing the latest wheat varieties and hybrids and finding out about new efficient limited tillage production methods for wheat will benefit from the tour". "Everyone is invited", he continued.

Arlington (& May)

The anniversary of the first soldier's burial in Arlington National Cemetery, May 13, 1864 (Pvt. William Christman of Pennsylvania), is a good time to remember the heritage of Arlington.

Named after the Earl of Arlington, the estate was originally 6,000 acres. But when the father of Mrs. Robert E. Lee died he left "life tenancy" of the 1,100 acres of the original estate he had bought to the Lees. This is today Arlington Cemetery and Fort Myer Military Reservation.

When General Lee moved his family, after refusing to accept command of the Union Army, federal troops occupied Arlington. In 1862, the federal government took legal possession through a wartime act authorizing confiscation for back taxes. (Mrs. Lee tried to pay the $92 owed through an agent but it was ruled that she had to pay in person!)

In 1877, after his father and mother had died, Major General (CSA) George Washington Custis Lee (his mother was descended from the famous Washington family) sued the federal government for possession. After five years of legal effort, in 1882, the Supreme Court declared him the legal owner, and he, in turn, agreed to sell Arlington, already a cemetery, to the federal government for $150,000.

Today, some 60,000 war dead of all the nation's wars rest in Arlington. Two U.S. presidents have been buried at Arlington--William Howard Taft and John F. Kennedy.

The most impressive monument is to unknown soldiers of several wars--watched over by an honorary guard night and day; there are many other memorials, that to the USS Maine, to Custis-Lee house, in memory of the Argonne, to nurses, a Confederate memorial, etc.

TV COMMENTARY

By Bente Christenson

NEW Nielsen ratings, which the industry treats as accurate measurement (and which may not be but are a good indicator), show the three commercial networks are losing more of their once-captive viewer audience.

THAT'S no surprise in view of the garbage the New York-based networks spew forth hour after boring hour. The new ratings indicate that as more people get cable and alternative services, they're switching away from the cheap-fare commercial networks.

NEW ratings show these networks now have about 81 percent of the tube's viewers. That's three points down from the rating a year earlier, which was also down.

THE interesting factor in the new ratings is the suggestion that having a choice, rather than being captive to the three commercial networks, have increased viewing by Americans.

IT'S surprising, even dismaying, that most American households watch television over six hours a day. One suspects that guesstimate. But it's true, that's a poor commentary on many U.S. households.

THE finding is that families with small children watch the tube most. That's good in the educational sense if the little ones are watching good programs (if they can find them), bad if parents are allowing unsupervised tots to stay glued to the tube all day with all its vulgarity, common behavior and crime.

BASEBALL

By Pete Fritchle

WASHINGTON, D. C. -- Of the teams in the Majors which have a new look, there are six which began with winning streaks that command attention.

Atlanta, of course, is special. Can the Braves be a pennant contender all the way? One suspects with such a start they may be. The pitching, so good in the early season, must hold up.

The St. Louis Cardinals, in the other division of the National League (the eastern), should not be overlooked. They left training camp with better forecasts than the Braves--and their streak would have been bigger news had not the Braves been setting a record.

In the American League, Chicago began with a rush and looks like a western division contender. The young pitchers must turn in consistent performances to go with the big bats, which the Chisox have.

The California Angels, the product of considerable financial outlays, who didn't move last year, started this season with zip, and even though they've lost one key infielder with injury, they're still in the running. That division is now tough--Oakland, Kansas City, Cleveland, Minnesota, etc.

The other teams which everyone seems to underestimate, the Tigers at Detroit and Boston, are in the tough eastern division. The Tigers led most of the last season in 1981. They too put together an 8-game win streak. Boston did much the same.

The Secret Is Out
"I wonder why Scotsmen are so good at golf."
"They realize that the fewer times they strike the ball the longer it will last."

NEWS REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

Budget & Politics--Reagan's Compromise--Networks & Reagan--Speed Vital

WASHINGTON, D. C. -- The average American already knows network commentators have, ever since the sale of AWACS aircraft to Saudi Arabia, and in some cases earlier, been undermining the Reagan Administration.

The theme is constantly heard and repeated that Mr. Reagan is not helping the poor, that his budgets and policies are aimed at helping only the rich, etc. All the devices of slanted commentary have been steadily used on news programs and docudramas for a year now.

The latest example was President Reagan's recent report to the people on the budget impasse. After a month's hard work a group of seventeen lawmakers on Capitol Hill were still unable to reach agreement on a compromise budget. Mr. Reagan then made a positive overture to the Democrat-controlled House. He went to the Capitol and spent three hours trying to work out a compromise budget.

In the end, he offered to split the differences in the two parties' versions but was rebuffed by an adamant House Democrat position. He offered to reduce his proposed cuts in spending by more than half. He offered to postpone the third year of his individual income tax reductions. This was a genuine effort for compromise and it should have been accepted on the House (Democrat) side.

Mr. Reagan was rebuffed. The Democrats want to spend more on social programs (where they have traditionally gotten their votes); and want to reduce individual income tax reductions. They also want to slow defense spending, which Reagan agreed to, but not to the degree desired.

As a result, Mr. Reagan, the elected leader of the people asked for television time to report his case on the networks (which are constantly stressing his failure). The networks gave him fifteen minutes but gave the following fifteen minutes to a Democrat, to answer the president--or to help nullify the impact of Mr. Reagan's speech.

The point is that, while replies have sometimes been made in the past, they should not come directly after a presidential speech, so as to refute it. Congressman Richard Bolling of Missouri was elected to no national office. He has a perfect right to present the Democrat case, and even be given air time, perhaps (this is debatable), but he has no right to follow the elected president of the people, reporting on a national issue, to rebut his speech.

Congressman Bolling did a good and gentlemanly job. But what is really behind the Democrat position today, among some Democrats but not all, is the hope to keep the Reagan economic program from working. A compromise budget would have helped start recovery and heartened the stock markets. But a prolonged battle, and uncertainty, and a resulting excessive budget deficit, will keep the Reagan economic program from getting its best chance to work--with lowered interest rates.

A sagging, stalemated economy in deep recession will help the Democrats this election year. It will hinder recovery. It's true that Mr. Reagan's original budget was off the mark, and the proposed deficit far too big. After an excessive delay on the president's part, he did then offer a reasonable compromise and went to Capitol Hill to work one out. But some Democrats are more interested in an issue this year than in getting the economy moving as quickly as possible.

There is, of course, a fundamental philosophical difference between the parties. Congressmen like Bolling and even Tip O'Neill were inclined to compromise. But the ultra left in the Democrat Party in the House would not compromise. Now it is up to those Mr. Reagan calls "responsible Democrats" (the moderates and conservatives) to help get a decent budget compromise--and this process should be as speedy as possible. The House Democrat leadership is on trial at this point, with the national interest very much at stake.

Reagan must fight not only Democrats but the television media, and the commentators who constantly slant their comments against him, the program he pushes (which is for the poor as much as anyone else) and his philosophy. It's a shame because the Reagan program needs more time to have a chance to work. Democrat control of Congress (and overspending) for almost forty years shows this doesn't work--and has produced the economic mess Reagan and the country find themselves in today.

Scott Dunlap Places 2nd at Regionals Qualifies to State

Scott Dunlap placed second at Regionals and qualified to State. Scott's Event is the High Jump. He jumped an amazing 6'6". Good Luck, Scott!!

Scott Dunlap did an excellent job at Lubbock during the Regionals Meet. He played his cards just right, and when he was thru he had a hand of 4 Kings and a Queen, but Clay Hitcher of Clyde had a better hand with 4 Aces and 1 Queen and went on to be the Regionals Champ with Scott in 2nd Place.

Scott Dunlap, a Junior at Spearman High School, was awarded the Outstanding Track (Boys) Award. He didn't let his coach, Jimmy Duncan down, he went after what he wanted and just about came up with the Regionals win. Scott placed second with his jump of 6'6". He tried for 6'8" his second and third times, but just barely hit the bar, just barely grazed it, and it fell, leaving him in second place. Scott felt confident that he could clear 6'8", but now that he is going to the State Track Meet this weekend, Friday and Saturday, he will have another chance. Scott said that he felt like he could clear the bar, but his legs were dragging, just a bit and that was what caused the bar to tumble on down. Scott will compete in the Meet this Friday, May 14. Ya'll tell him you are rooting for him. He would appreciate. He does seem to have the "jitters", because this is his first time at the State Meet.

GOOD LUCK, SCOTT!!

ATTENTION SPORTS FANS!!
Jan & Jean Davis traveled to Austin this past weekend to compete in the State Track Meet. Both had the Stomach Flu Jean did not compete Jan did run and really got sick after her run. More information will be in Sunday's HANSFORD PLAINSMAN, so ya'll be waiting!!

Hadley Reed Wins 'Bareback Event'

One of Spearman's fine Rodeo stars is Hadley Reed. His sponsor, Coach Kenneth Friemel, believes that Hadley has alot of potential ability, he is only a Sophomore!! That's something else. Hadley participated in the Dumas High School Rodeo held over the weekend. He did a fine job, scoring high in the BAREBACK EVENT!!

Hadley has already qualified to the STATE Meet, with Rodeos on the "side", they make him #1 in shape for the big rodeo and #2 get him tougher competition where he'll have to "polish" his act every once in a while. If Hadley doesn't win the State Championship in any of his qualified events, he still has a couple of more years to try.

In the BAREBACKS EVENT, Hadley won the event with a score of 68. He just slipped past Lee Lowrey of Pampa and Marty Crim of River Road, with a 68. Lee Lowrey and Marty Crim tied with a score of 67. In 4th place was Chip Wooley of Dalhart with a score of 62. In 5th place was Ashley Allen of Perryton and David Clements of Dalhart with a score of 59.

The ALL-AROUND BOY was

Todd Parks of Memphis with 10 points. Mr. Parks won the CALF ROPING EVENT, and 3rd in the RIBBON ROPING.

The HIGH POINT BOYS TEAM was Dumas with 17 big points. Lots of Dumas cowboys placed in the same event.

The points are as follows: 1st Place equals 6 points, 2nd Place equals 5 points, 3rd Place equals 4 points, 4th Place equals 3 points, 5th Place equals 2 points and 6th Place equals 1 point!! There are 7th and 8th Places, but they do not count for points.

Once again, Congratulations Hadley for doing a fabulous job.

"PURPLE PRIDE AWARD"--was presented by Coach Duncan to Mr. Billy Haden, Sr.

Ulysses S. Grant

The U.S. general who did more than any other to win the Civil War for Washington was Hiram Ulysses Simpson Grant, born at Point Pleasant, Ohio, April 27, 1822. After the war, in which Grant rose to the top in the army, he was elected president twice--18th president of the nation.

Because Grant suffered failure in the Army (he was ordered to resign or be prosecuted and he resigned in 1854) and as a farmer, laborer and business man in the pre-war years, and because he was not one of the great presidents, he has often been severely criticized. Yet he rightly ranks as one of the country's great generals.

Tendering his service to the War Department again at the outbreak of the war in 1861, he rose steadily, with President Lincoln's support, because of a string of western victories which outshone those of other Union commanders.

Though handled badly by General Robert E. Lee all through 1864, suffering terrible troop losses in several major battles and in lesser ones, he learned his lessons and stuck to his goal of wearing down Lee with superior numbers and supplies, which he knew was the only path to victory.

Time proved him right and by April of 1865 Lee was beaten and almost surrounded, overwhelmingly outnumbered. Grant was chivalrous in victory, offering his foes generous peace terms. When extremists sought to prosecute Lee, Grant publicly declared the armistice terms included Lee, that if they were broken he would resign from the army and appeal to the people.

His eight years as president (1869-1876) were up-and-down years--Grant never considered himself an especially able administrator. But the people believed in his honesty. He failed in business afterward, but then, in his last year, fought his most heroic battle, against cancer, writing his memoirs almost to the end, and doing a good job. He died in July of 1885.

Donna Martin Places In 'Barrels'... Archer Places In 'Goat Tying'

Last year there were 4 Rodeo Club Members--all active. This year, as the sponsor, Coach Kenneth Friemel puts it, there are 12 Rodeo Club Members--all active. Andrea Archer happens to be one of the most active members. She has already qualified to the STATE RODEO!! Another very important factor is that, Andrea is a Freshman!! There is another person that seems to be very active, but not until this past weekend did she reach one of her goals, to place in a Rodeo. That person is Donna Martin. Donna is also a Freshman. She had placed in the Spearman Rodeo, but did not score any points. In the Dumas High School Rodeo, Donna scored 3 points--she'll be another Rodeo star to watch.

In the first event, THE BARRELS, the winner was Celia Berry of Happy with a time of 17.204. Gruver's own Suzanne Hart was 2nd with a time of 17.639. Stephanie Bartlett of Canadian was 3rd with a time of 17.759. The upcoming, uprising Rodeo Star, Donna Martin, placed 4th with a time of 17.924. She was really happy with her performance!! Darla Thompson of Canyon placed 5th with a time of 18.009. And in 6th Place was Charlottia Noble of Yale, Okla., with a time of 18.211.

In the GOAT TYING EVENT, the winner was Charlottia Noble of Yale, Okla., with a time of 10.418. Andrea Archer, Freshman at SHS and State qualifier, placed 2nd with a time of 11.469. In 3rd Place was Shannon Garrison of Dumas with a time of 11.696. Bonnie Stewart of Sunray was 4th with a time of 12.208. Stratford's Carol Chesser was 5th with a time of 12.523 and Donnie Jones of Elkhart, Kans., was 6th with a time of 22.912.

The ALL-AROUND GIRL was Shannon Garrison of Dumas with 16 points. Miss Garrison placed 3rd in the GOAT TYING and won the BREAKAWAY. The HIGH POINT TEAM was--DUMAS with 23 points.

ATTENTION SPORT FANS:

During the YMCA Volleyball Tourney held over the weekend, there were 4 Spearman Teams--1 Man's and 3 Women teams--that received a Trophy. More detailed information will be in the Sunday's HANSFORD PLAINSMAN. Beedy Furniture won Consolation--this is the Men's team, Thriftway won Consolation for the Women, First State Bank won 2nd Place and Busters Dusters won 1st!!

A BUSINESS

Light

THAT MEANS BUSINESS

Many times a business can succeed or fail by the service and convenience it provides to its customers. If your business is open after dark, a well lighted parking lot could be an important factor in your success. When you choose our Leased Flood Lighting Program for your outdoor lighting needs we will install metal halide or mercury vapor units that are automatic... turn themselves on at dusk and off at dawn. And they are more efficient than incandescent lighting. They provide more light for less money. This lighting is also ideal for outdoor storage areas. For full details call our office today.

Soil Stewardship Week Is May 16-23

COLLEGE STATION -- Soil Stewardship Week annually focuses on the care and conservation of our soil, water and related resources.

This year's observance is set for May 16-23, with the theme: "A Time for Tenacity."

"Tenacity (firmness or persistence) is needed in using our natural resources wisely and in conserving them for future generations," points out Dr. B.L. Harris, soils specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"We need to give particular attention to creative conservation and management practices to protect our precious land and water resources," emphasizes Harris. "Everyone has a personal responsibility to care for the soil, water and other vital elements making up our environment."

America's farmers who till the soil are particularly concerned about the loss of valuable cropland to urbanization and other uses, notes the specialist. In addition, soil productivity continues to decline due to destructive erosion.

"We must protect our soil resources because we depend on them for the food we eat as well as for the food we ship abroad," notes Harris. "Our farmers work hard to protect this nation's soil and water resources, and each one produces enough to feed 70 other people."

"We should applaud the work of our farmers and ranchers in using our natural resources wisely," adds Harris. "At the same time we need to pledge our support and efforts to become actively involved in caring for these precious resources that have set this country apart from the rest of the world."

The Extension Service annually supports Soil Stewardship Week in cooperation with the Soil and Water Conservation Districts, which give primary leadership to the activity.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Doubtless 17 year old Gonzalo Patricio Silva de Guarando, Ecuador has heard of the justifiably famous reputation of Texans for hospitality.

So he will be even more perplexed when he gets word that he will not be able to come to Texas next fall as scheduled, to live with a U.S. family and attend high school for the 82-83 school year in exchange for a U.S. student to his home and country. The family which agreed to host him has changed its mind. Gonzalo's family will honor their commitment to host a U.S. student.

It is hoped, through your cooperation in publishing this letter, a Texas family will volunteer to host Gonzalo, not only to uphold the state's reputation, but because they would actually enjoy doing so and would mutually benefit from the experience.

Texas families willing to host a B average senior with hobbies including football, basketball and reading will be interested in knowing that Gonzalo's father is a lawyer and his mother a nurse. He has a 13 year old sister and he has fair English.

Hosting families provide a bed (he can share a room), 3 meals a day and transportation to school and church. He has his own money for personal things and is fully insured. He will be a member of the family, share in the tasks and tax deductible.

MAILBOX IMPROVEMENT WEEK

Now that the snowflakes have been put away, the Postal Service is urging postal customers-and especially those on rural routes, city curbsides and highways-to turn their attention to repairing and improving their mailboxes during Mailbox Improvement Week, May 17-21.

"This winter was especially rough on mailboxes," said the postmaster. "Now the effects of weather, vandalism, abuse and neglect are evident in leaning support posts, rust and corrosion, broken hinges on doors and missing box numbers and names."

Noting that rural carriers alone serve more than 15 million boxes daily, the postmaster said a damaged or improperly placed box will make it more difficult for rural letter carriers to leave those special letters and packages. "Of course some boxes may only need painting," the postmaster said, "but others may need to be replaced."

The postmaster said the Postal Service has restrictions on the type of mailbox customers may choose. Rural customers must erect mailboxes which have been approved for use on rural routes. Should customers prefer a custom-made mailbox, it must meet certain standards for size and strength and be approved by the postmaster before being placed in use.

The postmaster said a variety of approved commercial mailbox designs are available for use with decorative posts, and those who would prefer a custom-made mailbox, or who need information on mailbox specifications and requirements in general may check with the post office.

1982 Census of Agriculture Plans Announced

Plans for the 1982 Census of Agriculture are on schedule according to Bruce Chapman, Director of the Commerce Department's Census Bureau.

The census, to be taken starting next January, will provide basic information measuring the trends in number of farms, commodity production, land use, and income levels in agriculture. Chapman indicated that the rapid changes occurring in agriculture due to the declining farm income situation, along with continuing high interest rates, makes the information from the agriculture census extremely important to the nation's policymakers as well as farmers themselves. Chapman points out that complete and accurate responses by farmers will ensure a high quality picture of the agriculture industry to everyone's benefit.

Census forms will be mailed out in late December to 2.5 million farmers and ranchers to collect data for the 1982 calendar year. Designed to reduce the burden on respondents through greater ease in reporting, the census form will vary by region, and questions have been reworded to be more

GSPA ENDORSES FARM/CRISIS ACT OF 1982

The "Farm Crisis Act of 1982" proposed by a bipartisan coalition of farm area congressmen would increase the loan rate and market price of grain sorghum approximately 43 cents per hundredweight. On an average production of 800 million bushels, that would mean $192 million to sorghum farmers at the harvest of their 1983 crop.

"Sorghum farmers would not be making that much more, overall," said Elbert Harp, Executive Director of Grain Sorghum Producers Association, "because, under the present program of low loan levels, the sorghum deficiency payment makes up the difference." The main advantages of the proposed new plan, according to Harp, would be: (1) the farmer would receive the added income at harvest time rather than months later in the form of a deficiency payment, (2) the land conservation provision in the program would reduce the price-depressing surplus production, and (3) it would reduce Government cost. (The Congressional Budget Office estimates a Government saving of $899 million over four years.)

Grain Sorghum Producers Association has endorsed the Farm Crisis Act of 1982. Harp said, "The real value of this plan is that by raising the market price and reducing surplus production, it reverses the trend of the past several years where farmers were forced to sell their crops at prices far below the cost of production and then depend on a Government deficiency payment for their income.

"The Farm Crisis Act of 1982" will give some added stability and income protection to farmers while lowering the cost to Government. "That is a step in the right direction," said Harp.

understandable. While the basic census program is included in the proposed 1983 budget, the agriculture censuses of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and Guam, a large-scale sample survey supplemental to the basic census, and a series of later surveys were dropped. These deletions were among other changes in bureau programs resulting from budget reductions, according to Chapman.

Farmers and ranchers will not be the only group involved in a census for 1982. The 1982 Economic Censuses, which cover manufacturing, transportation, mining, retail and wholesale trades, and the service industries, will also be taken. Taken together, these censuses will document rapidly changing patterns in production, income, capital spending, and other facts vital to measuring the nation's economy.

The report form for the 1982 Census of Agriculture which already has been tested with several thousand farmers, has been updated from that used for the 1978 census. Several items have been dropped and several added to meet current data needs. For example, a question asking for expenditures for interest has been added. Bureau officials point out that regional versions of the form for 1982 will simplify the completion of the report.

Much of the data gathered next year will be similar to that in 1978 and earlier censuses. It will include: the number and characteristics of farms, acres in farms, average value of land and buildings, harvested acres, and numbers of livestock on farms. Questions on expenditures include purchase of feed, fertilizer, pesticides, lime, gasoline, and other farm fuels, custom work, farm labor and livestock and poultry purchases.

Information reported by farm and ranch operators is held confidential by law. Data from the reports are seen only by sworn Census Bureau employees who are subject to fine and imprisonment if revealing any individual information. Published reports contain numbers only to prevent identification of single farms. Chapman pointed out that the confidentiality provisions of the census law just recently were reaffirmed by a unanimous decision of the Supreme Court.

Napoleon Murdered?

The latest on Napoleon is that he was murdered by one of his aides on St. Helena and there is a very convincing book "proving" this theory being seriously received today--The Murder Of Napoleon by Ben Weider and David Haggood.

The authors have used the latest scientific devices to study surviving hairs from the emperor's head and they believe other proof points conclusively to slow arsenic poisoning.

They think the Count d'Artois masterminded the plot and that one of the four officers who accompanied Napoleon into exile carefully did the deed. He was the one in charge of Napoleon's food and drink, and of the four, he never sought to leave the island.

TFU Supports Farm Crisis Legislation

AUSTIN, TX, May 7, 1982 -

In order to avert the economic crisis now gripping agriculture from turning into a serious depression, the Texas Farmers Union is endorsing proposed emergency legislation submitted by the Congressional Farm Crisis Group in Washington, D.C. TFU President Mike Moeller, in calling on support from both producers and consumers, said "unless we take immediate action the agricultural economy will be headed toward bankruptcy and the national food policy will be nothing more than an empty cupboard."

The Congressional Farm Crisis is calling for a three point plan to increase commodity prices and require a mandatory set-aside to reduce surpluses. The plan must be approved in a democratic referendum by producers following its approval by Congress.

The plan calls for the following steps:
1. A nationwide referendum of producers of cotton, wheat, rice and feed grains will be held in July, 1982 requiring a 15 percent reduction in planting through a mandatory set-aside. The plan must be approved by 55 percent of the producers casting votes.

2. If adopted, producers who participate in the set-aside program will qualify for a 10 percent loan rate on their commodity. The individual producer will be paid for plowing under his crop if he will set aside 20 percent instead of 15 percent.

3. Failure to comply would result in the producer being barred from participating in any federal programs for three years which affect agricultural producers.

"Farmers and ranchers right now are hit with low prices while continuing to suffer from high interest rates and costs of production," Moeller said. "We are in worse shape now than in any year since 1932 in regards to farm income," the TFU president stated.

Moeller urged all producers to join in support of the program to avert a serious financial crisis and possible food shortage should the economic situation grow worse in the next six months.
