DEPARTING OF MRS. J. P. WINDER BRINGS SORROW TO MANY FRIENDS

J. P. Winder, wife of J. P. Winder, commissioner of precinct No. 10, Hansford county, and one of the most loved and dearly loved women in north plains, passed away at her home, March 8, 1929. Her going was an unexpected shock to her loved ones and great host of friends. For she had endured what seemed but the ordinary sufferings of the human body is subject, but suddenly taken very ill, at their bedside morning, March 5, she died. Her medical attention was at the hospital in Amarillo. Here an operation was performed, but a ruptured appendix had released elements which the skill of science and the science of tender nursing could not save.

Funeral services were held in the Methodist church in Gruver, on Saturday afternoon, March 9, conducted by Pastor Bogue, Panhandle District. The church for the Christian church was assisted by Rev. O. M. Addison of the Methodist churches of Hansford county and Rev. Richards of the Methodist church of Spearman. Music was provided by Mrs. Boxwell of the local chorus.

Interment was in a plot of ground in the cemetery for the Hansford community. As she had filled a noble place in the community life, she will rest in a plot in the center of the cemetery.

An unusually large mass of floral tributes attest the high esteem in which she was held and the tribute of sympathy of her friends and the community.

Willie Lee-Winder
On November 18, 1872, there was born to William and Fannie Lee near Oklawaha, Alabama, a daughter. In thirty years, three months and ten days, she lived amidst the sorrows and the songs and sighs, sunshine and clouds of earth's changing scenes and experiences. Her father died when she was young, and when about seven years of age her mother removed to the home in Alabama to near the home in Collin county, Texas. She grew to young womanhood, received her education and for life's work, accepted as her Lord and Saviour and obedient to the gospel. She was a member of the Baptist church in her girlhood. At Copville, Texas, she was united in marriage to John P. Winder, a schoolmate, and afterward they removed to Fannin county, Texas. Her marriage she became acquainted with the Christian church, in which faith she lived, served and enjoyed rest.

She and Mrs. Winder removed to Leonard to Canyon, in Randall county, in 1908, and to their present home in the Palo Duro fourteen miles west of Spearman and a few miles south of Gruver, in 1914.

She and Mrs. Winder were born to children: Cecil E., of Vega; H. of Gruver, and Mrs. E. F. Bennett of Amarillo. With their families; three sons: Henry Redman of St. Jo, Texas; J. M. Harder of Ralls, Texas; one brother William Hereford, Texas, their family husbands, and an unusually large circle of admiring and appreciative friends, live and will hold in sacred tenderness the memory of this tender, loving wife and Christian woman.

As truly it can be said: "She was what she could." In life's relations she sought ever to accomplish. In life's living she hoped to attain. She was a mother whose heart ever moved with the needs of her loved ones ready to do her part. As a woman she was interested in and to contribute in every way to the welfare of the Kingdom. She loved to pray and her heart was in the service of her own community. She was the organizing of the Gruver primary school and this school was her cherished child, even to the time of her going.

County Seat Election Called For April 20

A petition bearing the names of 453 freeholders of Hansford county was presented to County Judge C. W. King on Wednesday, March 13, asking that an election be called in this county to determine whether or not the county seat shall be removed from Old Hansford to some other point in the county. Acting on this petition, Judge King has called an election for the purpose stated, said election to be held on Saturday, April 20. The call for an election as issued by County Judge King will be found elsewhere in this issue of the Reporter.

The city officials at present are as follows: Mayor, Geo. M. Whitson; aldermen, Fred W. Brandt, Floyd Hays, E. C. Womble, P. B. Higgs, and S. E. Harbison. The terms of Mayor Whitson and aldermen Brandt and Hays expire on April 2. Aldermen Higgs and Womble have announced that they would resign on April 2, therefore a mayor and four aldermen must be elected. This election will be held at the city hall and O. C. Raney will be the presiding judge.

School trustee election, Spearman Independent school district, will be held on Saturday, April 6. The board at present is composed of the following: President, A. P. Barkley; secretary, E. C. At a meeting of the board held on Saturday night of last week, A. J. Wilbanks resigned and Sid Powers was appointed to fill out the unexpired term.

Rip-Rousing Legion Meeting Last Night

A very interesting meeting of the local post of the American Legion was held at the Odd Fellows Hall in Spearman last night. Much important business was attended to. Plans and specifications of the Memorial Home which the local post will erect in Spearman were discussed. These plans will assume definite shape and form in the very near future. The legion accepted the invitation of Boy Scout leaders of Spearman to sponsor troop No. 2 for this town. Other important matters were discussed and acted upon.

Will Celebrate Anniversary

The local post decided to celebrate on next Wednesday, March 20, the 10th anniversary of the founding of the American Legion. This event will be celebrated in a fitting manner, with a big banquet and smoker. Judge Newton P. Willis was extended an invitation and has accepted same, to deliver the principal address of the evening. Judge Willis is one of the most interesting speakers of north Texas, and the legion boys feel very fortunate in securing his services for this event.

B. Y. P. U. Will Present "Mother Mine"

The three-act drama, entitled "Mother Mine" to be presented by the Baptist Young People's Union at the high school auditorium on Friday night, March 22, promises another quite interesting evening's entertainment. "Mother Mine" is a story of a boy without a mother, who ran away from home because he was in trouble. He happened into a home where lived a lady who wanted a son. She lived in a quiet little village. The characters, found among the neighbors are: A group of young folks, a curious old maid, Deacon Whitecomb, Joe Payson, and others. The presence of the stranger naturally caused a stir in the village. An interesting love story is mixed through the entire play. See what happens. Will the officers find the boy? See for yourself next Friday evening, March 22.

Car West of Pampa Killed While Working On Rig

Establishment at Texhoma. The boy was taken back to Pampa for burial. The West boys had bought the well rig from some of the companies who have been operating in Cimarron county, and were taking it down to move it to Pampa. Deceased was 29 years old and was married.

A. McKay and family are new residents of Spearman. Mr. McKay arrived here the first of the week and has accepted employment with the R. L. McClellan Grain Company as a sales and service man for the Case line of farm machinery. The family will arrive in a few days from their former home in California.

Fine Old Gentleman Passes Away Suddenly

Joe Boswell, 57 years old, was found dead in the yard of the J. W. Hendrix home at old Hansford, at about 5:00 o'clock Sunday morning, March 10. The cause of his death was given as heart-failure. Deceased was well known in Spearman and vicinity, and apparently was always in the best of health. He has been employed for the last two years on the D. C. D. highway, and was a fine road-builder. He took a pride in his work and often referred to that part of the D. C. D. which was in his charge as the fastest dirt road in north Texas.

Mr. Boswell had no relatives living in this section. He lived practically all his life in west Texas and in Idaho, was a member of the Methodist church at Castleford, Idaho, and belonged to lodge No. 107, K. of P., Colorado. He has one brother living, but his address is not known. Two nephews, A. B. and G. F. Hays and their wives, came from Littlefield, Texas, to attend the funeral, and Mrs. George Engman of Amarillo, who is a niece of the deceased. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Richards. Interment was had in Hansford cemetery.

Building Extension To Variety Store

The Smith Variety Store building, next door to the Reporter building, is to be made forty feet longer. Excavating for the foundation has begun and the material is being placed on the ground. C. W. Smith, owner of Smith's Variety, states that the building will also be remodeled and improved in many ways, including a new front. When completed it will be 26x100 feet long, and will be a Standard Ben Franklin Chain Store in every particular. A feature of these stores is that the fronts are all alike. Mr. Smith carries an attractive stock and with a new building will have a mighty good-looking store. The building belongs to the J. Mathews estate.

Tournament of Games By Legion Auxiliary Greatly Enjoyed By Many

A large crowd of Spearman folks and many out-of-town guests greatly enjoyed "The Tournament of Games" last Wednesday evening, March 6, at the Odd Fellows Hall. The charming hostesses, Mesdames Don Rawlings, Sid Clark and Joe Perry, entertained in a royal manner with table games. The games opened at 8:00 o'clock and were continued until late in the evening. Among the most interesting games played were bridge, buncio and forty-two. Radio music was enjoyed throughout the evening. The national color scheme was carried out in the decorations, which were very artistically arranged. Bouquets of artificial flowers, some of which were made and donated to the auxiliary by Mrs. Marvin Lee, and a pot plant and two ferns added much to the loveliness of the room. Bridge lamps placed here and there made a very attractive appearance. Delicious refreshments consisting of fruit jello, whipped cream, coconut macaroons and coffee were served at a late hour. Several out of town guests were present. The auxiliary ladies were delighted to have them present, and hope to have them and others present at their next "Tournament."

Resigned Head of Spearman Schools After Six Years Successful Service

Coming as not an altogether pleasant surprise to his host of friends in Spearman and throughout the Spearman country, the first of the week, was the announcement that A. H. Wilcox had tendered his resignation as superintendent of schools of the Spearman Independent school district. Prof. Wilcox, it seems, had contemplated taking this step for some time, but had mentioned the fact to only a few of his closest friends. The school board, at the regular meeting held on Saturday night of last week, accepted the resignation, and elected Prof. R. L. Snyder of Hedley as superintendent of schools, Spearman Independent School District. Prof. Snyder was here to meet with the board, and accepted the position.

When seen by a reporter in his office at the school building, Prof. Wilcox stated that it was hard for him to make up his mind to leave Spearman, still he cherished a desire to continue to go farther; to continue his studies and build up in his profession. Therefore, he expects to go to Nashville during the coming season, where he will do some teaching in Peabody college, and continue the work on his Ph. D. degree. He finished his Master's degree last summer. At the beginning of the next school term Prof. Wilcox will go back to the A. & M. College at College Station, his old home, and again enter into college work.

Prof. Wilcox has been superintendent of Spearman schools for the past six years, and has done a wonderful work here. When he took charge, six years ago, the Spearman schools had 7 1/2 conditional credits of affiliation

Junior Class Play Feature Of Week's Entertainment

The big event of the week in the way of entertainment will be the Junior Class play, "Fingerprints," to be staged at the high school auditorium on Friday night, March 15. The Juniors are a pretty bunch, and under the efficient leadership of Mrs. Fittle will doubtless put on a great play. They have been rehearsing consistently for the past several weeks. "Fingerprints" is an interesting, laughable, fast-moving comedy; a story of ranch life and a false oil boom. The cast of characters follows: Hoosey Hawks, Fingerprinter—Bill Burran. Ned Thorndyke, rancher—Raymond Kirk. Jimmy Lee, cowboy—J. C. Harris. Pammy Thorndyke, Ned's daughter—Evelyn Waters. Roger Whitney, Jr., millionaire's son—Randolph McClellan. Amelia Thorndyke, old maid—Obera Gay. Paulette Whitney—Juanita Wilmet. Mrs. Whitney—Louise Harvey. Mignon Mocarre, French maid—Mary McMurry. Porcelain Purdy, "Cullud"—Thelma Maize.

Coming Soon

Other entertainments for Spearman and vicinity, now in the making are: "Mother O' Mine," by the Baptist Young People's Union. This most excellent production will be given on the evening of Friday, March 22. "Ain't It the Truth," by the P. T. A. The date for this fun-maker has not been definitely decided on but it is thought that it will be staged about the 27th or 28th of March. "Poor Father," is the title of a side-splitter, which the Lynx Club of Spearman schools will present about the 15th of April, and the senior class, which made such a big hit with "Smile—Rodney, Smile," will entertain again during the latter days of April. All of these plays will be held in the high school auditorium.

TWO CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH MOTHER RESCUED THIRD

FARM LAND IS NOT ON THE INCLINE

Real estate dealers say that because of newspaper reports emanating from Dalhart and being widely copied over the country, telling of a large number of recent land sales in the vicinity of Dalhart, non-resident land-owners have gained the impression that land values are rapidly going up, and many of them are taking advantage of the supposed rise in price to go up several dollars per acre on their land. Some of the local dealers have even received telegrams from their clients, either taking their land off the market or going up in price.

While, as a matter of fact, a great deal of land has changed hands recently, no perceptible increase in price is noted. Most of the land sold has been brought at prices obtained several years ago. Here and there, for one reason or another, a tract of land is offered at a price lower than formerly, and in many instances, it is made to appear in public print that the land brought more.

Most of the land sold recently went to practical farmers, in small tracts, and when more farmers buy and improve their places, and not till then, will there be any real reason for any owner to boost the price of his holdings, according to local dealers.—Dalhart Texan.

Our Local Dentist Back On The Job

Dr. Fred J. Daily was able to return to his offices and resume his dental practice on Monday morning of this week. Dr. Daily underwent an operation for appendicitis at Dr. Newman's hospital at Shattuck three weeks ago, and for the past ten days has been at the home of his parents at Guymon, while convalescing.

Off To Tulane

Dr. J. E. Gower will leave tomorrow, Friday, for New Orleans, where he will take a six weeks course, doing general review work, in medicine and surgery at Tulane University. Tulane is one of the oldest and is considered one of the very best universities of this kind in the United States. Dr. Gower expects to be away about six weeks.

Big Farmers Meeting Here On March 26

Wheat farmers of this section, and especially those who are interested in cooperative marketing, are looking forward with much interest to a meeting which will be held in Spearman on March 26. The object of the meeting will be to explain to the wheat-grower just what the cooperative movement is; what the Oklahoma Association has done for its members and how they did it. The association is in position now to give its members a service that can not be obtained outside the association, state the members, who are in position to know. Prominent speakers will be at the meeting, which will be held in the high school auditorium in Spearman.

CLEANER-BALDWIN SCHOOL AN INTERESTING EVENT

The Gleaner-Baldwin Combine School, sponsored by the local dealer, R. W. Morton, in Spearman last Saturday, March 9, was one of the most interesting and instructive entertainments of the kind held here for some time, report many farmers and their wives who attended the event. Factory men were here and explained in detail the mechanism of this wonderful little machine, which is doing so much each year toward saving the nation's wheat crop. The short talks and explanations, and the program at the Lyric theater in the afternoon were all greatly enjoyed.

WANT TO GET MARRIED GET A JOB AT MAIZE'S

Any young lady who wishes to become a bride may get a mighty good start in that direction by accepting employment at the P. M. Maize & Company store in Spearman. The most recent "graduates" from this institution are Mrs. Bob Crawford and Mrs. Oran Davis. We suppose this firm is now looking about for another sales-lady, but it seems that Messrs. Maize and Brandt should follow the lead of certain school boards, who will not employ a teacher without she agrees to remain single during the term for which she is employed.

Some little boys, whose names we failed to learn, found a book entitled "Dred's Radio Cyclopedia" on the streets of Spearman and left the same at this office. The owner may have the book by calling at this office and making proper settlement.

Fire, originating with the explosion of an oil stove, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Reed, at Wawaka, ten miles east of Spearman, burned to death two of their children and totally destroyed the home and contents, on Thursday afternoon of last week, at 4:30 o'clock.

At home when the explosion occurred were the mother and three children, but she succeeded only in saving the baby boy, one year old. Junior, five years old, and Pauline, three years old, died in the flames, while the mother and neighbors hastily summoned, fought to rescue them, but owing to the heat and dense smoke, this was impossible.

A telephone call to the Spearman fire department was responded to instantly, but the fire had gained such headway when the boys reach Wawaka with the truck, they could do little except assist in saving nearby property. Dr. Gower was called to the scene also, and rendered every assistance possible. The grief-stricken parents especially the mother, have been near a nervous break-down since the sad occurrence. They are farmers and have resided in the Waka community for several years. Rev. Addison conducted the funeral services. The bodies of the two children were taken in charge by the Wilson Funeral Homes, and interment was had in Old Ochiltree cemetery.

Another little boy lost his life in a fire caused by the explosion of an oil stove at Gray, Oklahoma, on Wednesday of last week, and the body was being held in the Wilson Funeral Home at Perryton, when the awful tragedy at Waka took place.

Revival Meetings At Baptist Church

A series of revival meetings will begin at the Baptist church in Spearman on Sunday, March 24. Rev. Truitt of Pampa will do the preaching. Arrangements are being made to provide excellent music during the meetings, to which everyone is invited and in which all church people are urged to cooperate. The Rev. Truitt is a noted evangelist, and his sermons will interest all who hear him. Rev. J. H. Richards, pastor of the Baptist church here, states that he hopes and believes this will be one of the best series of revival meetings ever held in Spearman.

District Court In Session This Week

The eighty-fourth district court, Judge Newton P. Willis presiding, has been in session all the week at Old Hansford. This term of the court has been rather uninteresting from a spectators standpoint. There was no grand jury, and all criminal business was continued for the term. However, two civil cases, in which wheat crops were involved, were hotly contested. Judge Willis states that at the August term a grand jury will be empaneled and an effort made to clean up the docket in good shape. Court will adjourn today.

Pacific Coast Evangelist Holding Meeting Here

Alice Wilson Parham began a series of revival meetings at the Union church Tuesday of this week and will close her engagement here tonight, Thursday. Mrs. Parham, of Los Angeles, is a prominent Pacific Coast religious worker and came here from Amarillo where she has just concluded a lengthy revival meeting. She is accompanied by Rev. Wilfred C. Parham, soloist, who has charge of the music at the meetings. The Parhams are just concluding a tour of the large eastern cities where they have been holding successful meetings. They are well remembered in Spearman having held a revival here some time ago and made many friends during their short stay.

Bernstein Is Thriving Town On New Rock Island Line

Captain J. Bernstein of the north flats country, was in the city Monday morning attending to business matters and visiting with friends. The new Amarillo-Liberal branch of the Rock Island passes through land owned by Captain Bernstein and his son Arthur. They have owned this land for many years, and have been quite successful stock-farmers. When the Rock Island surveyors began to climb through his fences and stick up wooden pegs in a row, like soldiers, the Captain didn't know whether or not it suited him. Yet he realized that the onward march of progress could not be stemmed. And now he is still less dissatisfied with developments, since a town is to be located on his land, and this town will be known as "Bernstein." Captain Bernstein states that already elevator men are asking for locations, and that inquiries are coming from other business sources. Bernstein is located in a rich agricultural country and will grow into a thriving little town.

Remember the city election, April 2, trustee election April 6.

THE COMPLETE ANGLER

In that charming book, "The Complete Angler," by Izaak Walton, one may find many amusing passages extolling the art of angling as the one fine sport for the real gentleman. In places he lists a number of notable personages of his age who were devotees of the rod and reel. To that list we may now add two Presidents, Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover.

In all lands and in all ages fishing has been a favorite pastime of people of all stations in life. No man is so important in the affairs of the world to enjoy a day on a lake or creek, pitting his wits against those of the wily denizens of the water. No man's station is so high in the life of his time to prevent him from enjoying the fishing yarns of the old timer native whose name is unknown beyond the township in which he has always lived.

Thus we find a great brotherhood of the rod, a true democracy that knows no social cast or class. This is due to the universal appeal of sport.

So when the new fishing season that is almost upon us opens let us think of fishing and its universal appeal to all men and women of all times and places. Let us realize how much joy and fun it can bring to thousands and millions of fellow citizens, and refrain from permitting our own greed to rob them of some of the pleasure it affords.

Observe the laws enacted to preserve fishing for generations to come—go out for the sake of the sport rather than for the sake of the catch—support in every way the work of such as the Izaak Walton League, that have been formed to preserve one of the finest sports that any man can enjoy, and remember that you, too, will want to have the fishing remain good during the years to come.

WOOLWORTH ADVERTISING

The K. F. Woolworth Company with its chain of 5 and 10 cent stores has just appropriated some $3,000,000 for newspaper advertising. To every newspaper man this is gratifying because the Woolworth Company was about the only great and successful organization that has not found newspaper advertising a necessity in modern business.

But when one considers this matter rather carefully one can see that the Woolworth Company always believed in advertising, at the expense of the other fellow. Its stores have always been located in good business centers, where crowds are attracted by advertising of the big stores on either side of the street.

In Spearman and in almost all other communities there are a few merchants who have the same attitude as that which dictated the former Woolworth policy. They agree that the sale put on by the merchant next door brings people to town and attracts some business to them while it brings much business to their neighbor. But they feel that they can "get-by" without the expense of doing any advertising themselves.

Dr. Powell, Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist. Will be in Spearman, at offices of Dr. Gower, on Thursday, April 4, 1929. Glasses fitted and tonsils and adenoids removed.

Possibly they can, but what would happen if every merchant in the community felt that way? The answer to that question may be found in many dying and stagnant business towns throughout the country.

Why not be a good sport. Why not stop setting tight like a parasite, taking advantage of the enterprise of your neighboring merchants. Why not conclude, as the Woolworth executives have done, that advertising that pays even when the other fellow does it will pay much more when it appears over your own name?

MARLAND admits no peer in service responsibility to modern motordom! Strong statement for an oil company in its 'teens... but achievement today is measured by the clock... calenders are too cumbersome to enter the reckoning! Already a veteran, as such things go, in the producing and refining sides of the industry, Marland today looks down from the high pinnacle of public approbation and customer loyalty in Marketing!... Two reasons for this: One, high standards of raw material and its treatment... Two, a true understanding of a much-buffed word, "Service"... We take this word to mean more than a smile at the gas pump, (although that is never neglected), to mean in the final analysis, the furnishing of finer motor fuels and lubricants that are in step with new-day's demands... to lead rather than follow in America's Industrial Advance... to live and work in accord with Marland's policy... Co-Operative Marketing

Talk by H. S. Mobley, at the I. H. C. Short Course Held in Spearman February 4 and 5.

In discussing "Co-operative Marketing" Mr. Mobley began laying down as basic truth the fact that the whole world is organized against the solitary producer and only through co-operative efforts can the producer of any line of products expect to receive any just returns.

In the game of Solitaire," he said, "you have only one chance in a good many hundred of winning. You may win twice or even three times in succession but if you keep on playing you will find that, generally, the odds are stacked against you and your chances of winning are very slim."

Mobley declared that the solitary producer is compelled to sell his products at the other fellow's price and to illustrate the truth of his assertion he told this story:

Down in Arkansas there was a colored mammy who was employed as a cook in a private family. She had a husband, Sam, a lazy, indolent fellow.

POINTERS FROM ADDRESS

The whole world is organized against the solitary producer.

In the game of Solitaire you can win only once in many hundred times.

If co-operative marketing is worth the effort, don't complain. Just go on taking what you can get.

Co-operative marketing is so successful in Denmark that farmers belong to five different organizations.

The solitary producer of raw material receives the least part of what he produces. The pearl diver wears no pearls.

Co-operation between business men and farmers in California has placed California farm products in the stores of every town and in the kitchens and on the table of nearly every family in the United States.

degree who would not work. His wife had to feed and clothe him but this she was unable to do with her meager wage so she fell into the habit of pilfering food and provisions from her mistress. The mistress began to suspect her and kept a watch on her. Finally she caught her in the very act of taking things.

"Mandy" said her mistress, "you are a good cook and I have kept you for a long time, but now, you see, I cannot trust you any more. I am going to discharge you, but I shall have to discharge you."

So Mandy took her belongings and made her way to her little cabin on the river bank. She was not in a very comfortable frame of mind and blamed her misfortune on her indolent husband. When she reached home she found Sam sitting on a bench by the door smoking his pipe and her wrath kindled.

"Look here, you good for nothin' man, you," she broke out. "See what you've done and done now."

"What 'Ise done?" he asked.

"You done lost me my job, that's what you done," she replied. "You're lazy and onery and wont work and I had to steal to help support you and I got caught, and now 'Ise lost my job."

Sam, overcome with the tragedy of the moment, only looked at her with blinking eyes.

"Yes sir," she resumed, "that's what you've done and now you've got to go to work, 'Ise done supportin' you. You've got to get a job, that's what you've got to do."

The situation was a awful one for Sam and he wanded down by the river and sat down on a log to cogitate. While he was pondering a merchant of the town came along and saw that something was the matter with Sam.

"What's on your mind, Sam?" he said.

"Yes, sir," replied Sam. "Ise sure downcast." He told the merchant all about Mandy losing her job and about his having to go to work or starve and ended: "And now what I gwine to do, that's what I wants to know. I ain't used to workin' and I don't know where 'Ise gwine to get a job."

"Well, Sam," said the merchant encouragingly, "perhaps I can help you out. Do you think you could get a boat and a log chain?"

"Sure," replied Sam, brightening up.

There had been a heavy freshet recently that amounted almost to a flood and the river was filled with floating timber.

"Well," said the merchant, "do you see those logs floating down the river? There's walnut logs and oak logs and pine logs and cedar logs and hickory logs and ash logs. Tomorrow morning you get a boat and chain and go out and catch as many of them as you can and haul them into the bank. Keep on catching them. Sam, as long as they float by and when the flood is over we will sell them and divide fifty-fifty."

The idea appealed to Sam and the next day he was busy hauling in logs. But along about 3 o'clock in the afternoon he got tired and sat down on the bank to rest. He got to thinking and the more he thought the less he liked the bargain.

"How come?" he said to himself. "that man he says to me, 'Haul in all them logs, Sam, and we'll sell 'em and divide fifty-fifty.' How come that fifty-fifty? Haint I done all the work? How come he gets half what we sells the logs for?"

While he was thus communing with his injured spirits the merchant came along again. He saw the big pile of logs and said: "You sure got a fine lot of logs there, Sam. They will sure bring us in some money."

"Look here," said Sam, "What you mean by that 'we'? Haint I done all the work? How come I only get half the money?"

"Oh, well," said the merchant, "if you feel that way about it, the thing for you to do is to sell the logs yourself and keep all the money. But Sam, do you see that big log there? How many feet of lumber will that make Sam?"

"Huh," replied Sam. "How you 'spect 'Ise goin' to know that? I never done no figgerin' on logs."

"And Sam," continued the merchant, "you've got some walnut logs and some oak logs and some pine logs and all kinds of logs. Now you know they are not all worth the same price. Now, Sam, how much do you think that black walnut log there is worth? And that oak log over yonder and those pine logs?"

"Huh," replied Sam, "there you go again. I don't know nothin' about the price of them different kinds of logs. How you reckon I ever learned to know that?"

"Well, Sam," replied the merchant. "You see I do. I know how many feet of lumber each log will make and how much it is worth a thousand feet. That's my business."

"You see Sam was at the mercy of the other fellow," Mr. Mobley pointed out. "He had to take what the other fellow offered. It was the best he could do. In co-operative marketing isn't worth the effort, don't complain. Just go on taking what you can get."

In Denmark he declared, co-operative marketing is so successful that farmers belong to as many as 5 different organizations.

Co-operative marketing enables you to draw dividends and participate in profits when there are any, and to whistle to keep up your courage when there are no profits, in place of whistling to keep up your courage to fight the organizations you are not prepared to fight," he said.

Co-operative marketing calls for voluntary subordination to a self-chosen organization, instead of involuntary subordination to an organization you never chose, with which you have no affiliation and over which you have no control.

"One of the outstanding facts of economic history," he continued "is that the solitary producer of raw materials is inevitably the one who receives the least part of the wealth he produces. The pearl diver, who is a producer, wears none of the pearls he produces."

He declared that the most outstanding thing in California is that the business men of San Jose, and Fresno, and San Francisco joined with the farmers of that state in planning for and financing the selling of the farm products of California, so that they would yield a profit to the people on the farms who did the work of producing.

"The gold mined in California has not made the rank and file of the people of that state self-sustaining, but the co-operation between the state's business men and farmers has made deserts fertile and has brought the products of the farms of California to the stores of every town and the kitchen and tables of almost every family in the United States.

"Get these two thoughts: The profit from these sales go to the farmers. The business men realize their part in working this out. Does this mean anything to you? It should, for this is true: Producing crops at a loss to the farmers, not alone discourages and stops the progress of the farming community, but influences the deposits in the banks, the sales in the stores, the contribution in the churches, and the joy and laughter and pleasure at the society functions. Marking at a profit is not alone the problem of the farmer. It is the problem of every person who lives in the business district of this community and I am going to leave it with you for what it is worth to say that difficulties in the way of solving the problem have been overcome in other places and the solutions have been community solutions and not class solutions."

AND THEY STILL GRAFT

Sixty pieces of printed cardboard which cost $9.25 including the printing, were sold to business people of Shamrock last week for $54.00. You ask, "how come?" The answer is "advertising," the magical word which smooth-talking grafters purr into the ears and get the same results as bolder members of the profession obtain by sticking a gun in the ribs of their clients.

This time it was a hotel directory. State hotel rules and the state prohibition law as affecting hotel guests were printed in the center of the card. Around this was a border of ten advertisements. The management of the three hotels is not to be blamed. They knew nothing of the advertising rates to be charged and they were in no way connected with the scheme. They were presented the cards by the promoter. Collecting $54 from the merchants and paying $9.25 for the printing the grafter earned $44.75 for his day's work.

Shamrock is not the only town that is being victimized by those unscrupulous so-called advertising men. Here is an editorial which appeared in the Rockdale Reporter:

this week. Down at Goliad a carnival grafter held up the business men for cash-in-advance advertising banners to appear on the ferris wheel. Then the carnival "blew up" and the grafter had disappeared.

The Beeville paper tells of a church grafter who sold ads for a bulletin board for the Baptist Church, collected in advance and published out with the money.

A North Texas paper tells of a school grafter who collected money from the business men for their ads to appear on blotters to be given to the school children. The school authorities knew nothing about it, and now nobody knows where the grafter went, and the blotters were never seen.

The Rosebud News tells of the printing of a church directory. A strange couple came to town, got the church to help them solicit ads to the tune of $84.00. The church ladies got $10.00 of the money, the printer got $10.00 for the job and the man and woman carried away $64.00, leaving a few cheap cardboards which people were supposed to hang on their walls—the crudest kind of advertising and the most expensive.

MAKING GOOD

The boys of today are very quick witted. But some people claim that as workers they are not thorough and responsible.

"I should think it would pay you to hire in more help, clean up this place, and rush your work along," remarked a traveler recently to a repair man in a shop along a popular automobile route.

"Sure, I'd like to," said the artist of valves and cylinders. "But you can't get good help. When I hire new boys they get everything out of place and they sit around and talk about the dances."

The modern boys have large ideas. They expect to be earning big money soon, so they can't afford to waste much valuable time sweeping floors and cleaning up litter.

But if many workers are irresponsible, the effect is to create opportunities for those who are more reliable. If some are heedless, those who finish every job completely shine by comparison. We are looking for those faithful fellows in Spearman. Our business men make places for those chaps, and push them ahead.

CALL FOR ELECTION

Whereas, on the 13th day of March A. D. 1929, a sufficient petition was presented to me for an election to determine whether or not the requisite majority of the legally qualified voters of Hansford County,

TEXAS MARINE IS DEAD SHOT

Though many medals for marksmanship adorn the breast of Sergeant C. J. Cagle, U. S. Marine from Texas, he is likely to win more decorations soon. The sharpshooting Texan has been selected to take part in the International Rifle Team try-outs to be held at Quantico, Va., early in April. If he shows his usual skill in hitting the bull's-eye, he will go abroad with a team representing the United States, which will compete in the international matches to be held at Stockholm, Sweden, in July.

Sergeant Cagle achieved distinction in the National Matches held at Camp Perry, O., last September, when he won the National Individual rifle match by outshooting 1,453 crack riflemen, both military and civilian. He is 28 years old, was born in McGregor, Texas, and has been with the U. S. Marines about eight years.

WOMEN'S WORK IN THE COMMUNITY

I. C. H. Short Course, Spearman, February 4 and 5.

In her talk on "Women's Work in the Community," Miss Grace Marian Smith declared that woman has a part, and a very important part, in community development.

"Women's work, like man's work," said Miss Smith, "is making the community a better place in which to live. Sometimes we do not realize what we are doing or what we are failing to do for our boys and girls. Sometimes we are so interested in trying to make money that we let our boys and girls get away from us. Suppose we do get a larger farm but the boy has become disgusted with farm life and gone away? What have we gained? We must carry the boys and girls along with us."

A very important part of woman's work, the speaker pointed out, is doing for the community the little housekeeping jobs that men forget or neglect to do.

Referring to some of the things women can accomplish in community

OUTLINES WOMEN'S WORK IN THE COMMUNITY

Women's work, like men's work, is making the community a better place to live—doing the things other folks forget to do.

We need both men's and women's viewpoint on anything going on in the community.

You can't get very far in any movement unless you have organization.

Suppose we do get a larger farm but the boy has become disgusted with farm life and gone away? What have we gained?

No one would raise a cow, a horse, or a pig and let someone else take it away from him. Yet we raise boys and girls and let them get away.

I don't believe any county should get along without a county demonstration agent.

We wouldn't let our boys and girls live in a home as bare as some school houses are.

An unattractive home doesn't make children want to stay there.

Referring to some of the things women can accomplish in community building, Miss Smith said: "We need both women's and men's viewpoint in anything that is going on in the community. Community development requires the attention of someone whose business it is to keep up with the new and worth while things, and I think that in some ways women are just a little more qualified along that line than are men, especially in things relating to the home."

Not only are home economics needed in the schools, according to the speaker, but these subjects should be taught in the intermediate grades and not left for the high school which pupils never reach and which always has a crowded program. She declared that organization is necessary if we are to get very far in any movement. Connections between Granges and other farm organizations and women's clubs should be perfected. In one county in Colorado she had recently visited, many old families from the big ranches had moved into town, but the women kept up their memberships in the country clubs. In this way a co-operation between town and country clubs was formed which resulted in many improvements in the affairs of the entire community.

Again emphasizing the importance of making country life attractive so that children will remain on the farm, she pointed out that no one would raise a cow, horse, or pig to maturity and then let someone take it away from them, yet we raise our boys and girls and then let them go away.

Every county needs a home demonstration agent, she declared, asserting that she didn't see how any county could get along without one. Another thing needed are good school houses. "We wouldn't let our boys and girls live in a home as bare as some school houses are," she said, "but we let them go to school there. We must make life pleasant for the children if we want to keep them with us."

We should study the wants and needs of our children and try and make home attractive for them. As one of our overights in this respect, she called attention to the fact that we think our daughter should have a room of her own, but few of us think that our son should. The appearance of our home is another important factor in influencing the young folks in deciding whether to stay on the farm or go to town. "Some folks have no trees or shrubbery or anything attractive about the place," she said, "to make the children want to get back home."

Another job for the women of a community, according to Miss Smith, is to check up on the health and sanitation in their county. "Do you have more tuberculosis, typhoid, scarlet fever or other diseases than has the average county in your state?" she asked. "If so, why not stamp them out? It is not necessary to have them to any great extent."

Declaring that no community is so small but what it can attract favorable public attention, Miss Smith told of a country school in a southern state that was so dead and unimportant that no one living outside the township ever heard of it. But a new teacher took charge. She interested the parents in the school and, by all working together, they accomplished many things, not only for the school but for the whole community. They woke up the entire county and soon attracted the attention of the whole state, with the result that the Governor of the state was proud to de-lover the commencement address in that little country school house.

Do something for your community; work together for the good of all—that was the keynote of her talk, and in closing she uttered this challenge to the community:

"If the women start something and the men folks help; if the town people start something and the farm folks help; if the educators and ministers and editors and bankers and doctors and lawyers and merchants and farmers help; if the people as individuals, put in all you have and all work together toward a definite goal and keep on working, can't you think of anything you would like to do for your community or your state that you couldn't put over? It's up to you."

DAVIS-MITTS

A wedding which came as quite a surprise to the hosts of friends of the contracting parties, was solemnized on Sunday, March 10, at high noon, when Miss Elsie Mitts became the bride of Oren Davis. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Mitts, near Old Hansford. Rev. O. M. Addison, pastor of the Spearman Methodist church, officiating.

Immediately after the ceremony an informal dinner was served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. D. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Maize, Mr. and Mrs. Olin Sheets, Grandma Sheets, Mrs. J. E. Womble and children, Retha Hooper, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mitts and Grace, Merritt and Lewis Mitts.

The bride is one of the most popular of Spearman's younger set, and is quite well known over the entire county, having been for the past year or more employed at the P. M. Maize & Company store here. The groom came to this country about six months ago from California, and has been employed on the J. L. Steele ranch north of Spearman. They expect to make their home on the Whitteberg ranch near Dalhart, where Mr. Davis has accepted employment as foreman.

The newly-weds, accompanied by Mrs. Geo. C. Mitts left Monday morning for Oklahoma City, where they will visit a short time with Chester Mitts, a brother of the bride, who is receiving treatment at a hospital there. They also will visit with relatives and friends at Alva and other Oklahoma points while away.

CHARGED WITH STEALING TWELVE HEAD CALVES

Tom and Charlie Burgess were arrested last week on the charges of stealing calves. The arrest was made by Sheriff Alexander, following an extensive investigation lasting over a period of three months. Twelve calves disappeared from the Andy James headquarters ranch north of Dalhart about November first.

The calves lost by James were unbranded and when the stock which was alleged to have been his was recovered, it was branded with the Burgess brand. They had been pastured on the Vic Porter ranch by the Burgess brothers for some time, and were recently sold to J. B. Summerour, ranchman.

When questioned regarding the cattle, Burgess stated that they had purchased the calves in Oklahoma. But upon investigation it was found that the stock had never been in Oklahoma at all, or at least in that part where the references had been given.

Hearing was held for the two men Thursday afternoon before Judge Gaines' court, and the parties were bound over to the grand jury. Tom Burgess was released on $1500 bond and Charlie is still held in the county jail in default of $2,000 bond.—Dalhart-Texan.

AFRICAN JUNGLE BUILT FOR "TARZAN THE MIGHTY"

A Central African jungle was built on the lot at Universal studio for the filming of "Tarzan the Mighty," Universal's thrilling chapterplay, the second chapter of which will be shown here at the Lyric Theatre on Friday and Saturday, March 15 and 16. "The Love Call" is the title of the second chapter, the first, "The Terror of Tarzan," having started last week.

On an area covering forty acres Universal planted thousands of jungle plants which had been brought from Africa, kept in a hot house on the boat and immediately put into the ground at the studio. Quick production was necessary to shoot the scenes before the plants died as a result of the change of climate. The work was done under the supervision of men who had lived for years in the real jungles of the Congo.

A scheme of concealed wires was employed to keep the wild beasts, most of whom were untrained, from escaping. The wires, strong enough to hold back the attacks of a lion or an elephant, were surrounded by the plant growth. Even the beasts did not know where they were until they dashed against them.

The happy young couple are undecided yet as to where they will make their future home and at the present are at home to their friends at the Baker Hotel.

Young Married Couple Charivariad

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Nichols returned Tuesday from a honeymoon spent at Oklahoma City and other points east. That evening they decided to attend the show at the Lyric theatre instead of attending the ball game where their friends were on the lookout for them. However their ruse failed to work, for they were unceremoniously captured when they came out of the show and were taken on a fast and furious ride down the street in a dilapidated Ford with four flat tires, on the wheels, and then at the request of Mr. Nichols they went in a drug store where they drank and ate to the future happiness of the bride and groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Bughner Pirtle were visitors to Borger Wednesday of last week.

Sam B. Archer, Amarillo, was a business visitor in Spearman Tuesday.

BECK MOTOR COMPANY SECURE AGENCY FOR POPULAR GRAHAM-PAIGE LINE

The Beck Motor Company, of which N. L. Beck is general manager, recently accepted the agency for the popular Graham-Paige line of automobiles for the Spearman country. Mr. Beck is justly proud of this new connection; is thoroughly sold on the product and since last Saturday, his first day with the Graham-Paige line, has been giving prospective purchasers very pleasing and most satisfactory demonstrations of this wonderful, medium-priced car. The Beck Motor Company, located across the street from the city water tower and municipal building, has been the center of much activity and interest since the Graham-Paige came to town. Mr. Beck intends to devote his personal attention to the sale of this car, turning the job of running the service station and accessory department to other members of the force. "N. L." has been in business here for the past four years, knows everybody and knows conditions, and sincerely believes he has a product that will become more popular as it is better known.

The new Graham-Paige represents the desirable automobile franchise in the industry at a most spacious price. With the backing of the three Graham brothers, who retire from the automobile industry for a short time after having scored one of the outstanding successes in the light truck field, and then acquired the Graham-Paige has risen rapidly to popularity. Although the cars were introduced until January, 1929, they took hold so rapidly that on March 2 the factory's output for 1929 passed the total for all twelve months of 1927. The 50,000th car shipped August 7. For the first time, production totaled more than 100.

The Graham-Paige line comprises the six-cylinder chassis of 112, 121 and 127 inches wheelbase, and the eight-cylinder chassis of 127, 137 inches. A wide variety of body styles is offered.

The price range based on five passenger sedan models, runs from $886 to $2365.

Mechanically, the cars have numerous exclusive features, and in appearance and design, they are of the most appealing style.

Foremost of the many up-to-date Graham-Paige features is the internal-gear four-speed transmission used in the eights and two of the sixes. In combination with a high geared rear axle, the new gear set results in a marked decrease in engine speed. At high road speeds, the engine turns over at a low rate as compared with the average automobile. Not only does this produce marked smoothness of running, because engine roar and vibration are reduced, but it effects important economy in fuel consumption.

High gear is direct drive, as in all American cars. Third speed, because of the internal-gear drive, is not only quiet, but also more efficient than external gearing. Most driving even in traffic and hill climbing, is done in direct; third gear is used for rapid acceleration and for climbing unusually steep hills at high speed. First gear is seldom required, being a reserve for extraordinarily difficult pulls in deep sand or mud. The gearshift is standard, for the car is regularly started in second, which is in the same position as first in the three speed cars.

Another important improvement is the use of a mechanically driven fuel pump for gasoline feed on all models. It is driven by an eccentric on the camshaft; its speed therefore varies with the speed of the engine, and under any conditions of speed and load the capacity of the pump exceeds the engine's demand for fuel.

Many other advanced features of construction, for ease of operation, economy, and smoothness, are a part of the basic Graham-Paige design.

In general, all Graham-Paige chassis this year are of longer wheelbase and increased power, with superior flexibility and smoothness attained by power-plant refinements. Hydraulic shock absorbers and internal (hydraulic) brakes are regular equipment on all models. A noteworthy feature of the largest six and both eights is centralized chassis lubrication.

Features of Five Chassis

A notable feature of the line is the consistent similarity of the design and equipment in all chassis. Items found in all chassis are internal (hydraulic) brakes, totally enclosed cam and lever steering gear, coincidental steering and ignition lock, frames with additional cross-members, hydraulic shock absorbers, new style head lamps, combination tail and stop light, sweeping one-piece crown fenders, crankcase ventilator, a new type rubber engine suspension, gasoline feed pump and filter, air cleaner, thermostatic control of cooling system, rubber covered tread-type accelerator, and adjustable brake and clutch pedals, and seven-bearing crankshaft (in all six-cylinder engines).

This uniformity of design and equipment in all chassis has many advantages in manufacturing, permitting more economical purchasing, production, and assembling, with corresponding advantages to the dealer in facilitating maintenance and servicing, greatly enhancing the value to the owner.

New construction features in the bodies were planned to make them inherently silent. They have a steel reinforced front end, in combination with extra diagonal bracing of the frame-work, to prevent motion between parts.

Details of Five Models.

The complete Graham-Paige line, summarized, is as follows:

Model 612—Six cylinders, 112-inch wheelbase; 3-inch bore, 4 1/2-inch stroke, 62 horsepower, seven body types.

Model 615—Six cylinders, 115-inch wheelbase; 3 1/4-inch bore, 4 1/2-inch stroke, 77 horsepower, four speed transmission; seven body types.

Model 21—Six cylinders, 121-inch wheelbase; 3 1/2-inch bore, 5-inch stroke, 97 horsepower; four-speed transmission; six body types.

Model 827—Eight cylinders, 127-inch wheelbase; 3 3/8-inch bore, 4 1/2-inch stroke, 123 horsepower; four-speed transmission; six body types.

Model 837—Eight cylinders, 137-inch wheelbase; 3 3/8-inch bore, 4 1/2-inch stroke, 123 horsepower; four-speed transmission; seven body types.

BIG CHANCES ARE IN SIGHT FOR DAIRYMAN
Experiments with dry grain and milkless rations for calves carried on at the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station have produced results that may revolutionize the dairy industry according to Professor C. B. Bender, associate dairy husbandman.

Records from over eight years of experimentation have convinced Professor Bender that calves can be safely raised after the first month without milk.

The cost of raising a six months old calf, according to this new method is about $28.00. The cost of raising the same calf under the milk feed system is between $65.00 and $75.00. Thus, Professor Bender's new system will save, he estimates, from $25 to $50 on a calf.

A gain as large as this on a single calf, Professor Bender states, will be a great stimulation to the dairy industry. The high cost of milk has greatly cut down the number of calves raised. Even the gruel system has not proved satisfactory because of the large number of digestive disturbances which follow the feeding of gruel.

The calf should be fed milk for the first month, according to Professor Bender. About the beginning of the third week, the amount should be gradually cut down until none is fed at the end of thirty days.

The formula adopted by the experiment station is a dry grain mixture consisting of 150 pounds ground oats, 100 pounds yellow corn meal, 50 pounds wheat bran, 50 pounds linseed meal, 50 pounds soluble blood flour, and 12 pounds minerals. It is believed that the soluble blood flour and the minerals take the place of the milk in the ration.

RESOLUTIONS

Whereas, it has pleased our Heavenly Father in his infinite wisdom to call Sister Willie Winder from her earthly home to dwell in mansions prepared by the Saviour she trusted, and

Whereas, Sister Winder was a charter member of the Christian church of Spearman and a member of the Woman's Council, consecrated, faithful and zealous in all its work, and

Whereas, we have lost a friend and sister; the community a loyal citizen, the church a christian, the home a devoted, loving wife and mother.

Therefore, Be it Resolved: That the official board of this church, its Sunday school and Woman's Council do hereby pay a tribute of love and respect to the memory of Sister Winder, whom we held in high esteem because of her amiable traits of character and fidelity of Christian duty.

We commend to all her beautiful life which, aside from its human limitations, was so closely patterned after the example of the "meek and lowly Jesus."

Her life fashioned after the life of her Saviour has sown the seed exemplified by love and devotion to Christian duty, which through the promise of the Master and developed within her the hope of eternal life. As the discovery of the electric spark and the ether wave reacts the evidences of the Divine, just as surely will this promise and this hope blossom forth into immortality in the great beyond.

Be It Further Resolved: That we extend our sympathy to the bereaved and sorrowing family, especially to Brother Winder. We commend to them His Words, "Let not your heart be troubled, for where I am there ye may be also."

Be It Further Resolved: That a copy of these resolutions be filed for record with the church clerk, a copy be mailed to each member of the family, to the Hansford County News and the Spearman Reporter.

By order of the Christian Church, this the 10th day of March, 1929. MRS. GEO. M. WHITSON.

International Sunday School Lesson BY DR. J. E. NUNN

FOR MARCH 17, 1929

General Topic:—The Christian Sabbath.

Scripture Lesson:—Exod. 20:8-11; Matt. 12:1-8; John 20:19; Rev. 1:10.

Exod. 20:8. Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy.

9. Six days shalt thou labor, and do all thy work;

10. But the seventh day is a sabbath unto Jehovah thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy man-servant, nor thy maid-servant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates:

11. For in six days Jehovah made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore Jehovah blessed the sabbath day, and hallowed it.

Matt. 12:1. At that season Jesus went on the sabbath day through the grainfields and his disciples were hungry and began to pluck ears and to eat.

2. But the Pharisees, when they saw it, said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which it is not lawful to do upon the sabbath.

3. But he said unto them, Have ye not read what David did, when he was hungry, and they that were with him;

4. How he entered into the house of God, and ate the showbread, which it was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them that were with him, but only for the priests?

5. Or have ye not read in the law, that on the sabbath day the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are guiltless?

6. But I say unto you, that one greater than the temple is here.

7. But if ye had known that this meaneth, I desire mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless.

8. For the Son of man is lord of the sabbath.

John 20:19. When therefore it was evening on that day, the first day of the week, and when the doors were shut where the disciples were, for fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.

Rev. 1:10. I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, and I heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet.

Golden Text:—For the Son of man is Lord of the sabbath.—Matt. 12:8

Introduction What we shall do Sunday is not a new question. It is as old as the commandment for Sabbath observance. It was a perplexing question for the ancient leaders of the Hebrews, and still a vital issue when Jesus came to lead mankind into the abundant life. Nor did the question remain settled after his wise pronouncements. It has vexed conscientious followers of Jesus even until this day. What can I rightfully do on the Sabbath? The answer to this question has varied greatly with the centuries and with different groups. A study of all the answers is beyond the scope of this lesson. However, we want to think frankly about the real purpose of the day of rest as set forth by the Master, and then ask ourselves if that purpose can be realized in these modern days, to make it truly a "sabbath for man."

The Basic Purposes of the Sabbath To honor God was one of the basic purposes of the Hebrew Sabbath. The ancient worshiper of Jehovah recognized in him his leader as well as his creator. The hardness of his nomadic life made him constantly conscious of his dependence upon God. He was not overwhelmed with an abundance of things. He was free to think a great deal and the more he thought the deeper was his sense of dependence upon his Maker. Therefore it would be perfectly natural for the believer to express his gratitude to God in observing faithfully the day set for worship and rest from the usual duties of life.

To meet the needs of man was another basic purpose of the Sabbath. We cannot think of God demanding honor and worship of his followers merely to gratify a desire for homage. He saw in the Sabbath an institution that would meet some of the basic needs of the human heart. These were rest from usual tasks, expression of gratitude, worship, social and individual, and fellowship.

The Sabbath a Benefit to Man Jesus replaced the emphasis upon the value of the Sabbath to man. He healed on the Sabbath; he did not criticize his disciples for plucking grain on the sacred day. When he was assailed by his critics for allowing his disciples to do that which was unlawful on the Sabbath, he answered them by saying that the Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath. His answer did not please his enemies, for they went out to take counsel against him. They could not see beyond the ceremony of a spiritual hindrance.

Modern Hindrances of Sabbath Observance Industry and commerce make it impossible for many to observe the Sabbath Day properly. There are manufacturing processes that make it imperative for certain workmen to be on hand at all times. There are power plants that must be attended to, telephone switchboards which must be operated—in some cases to summon the doctor—there are horses to be fed, cows to be milked, trains to be run—some carrying human beings and others hauling food, medicine, mail and other necessities of life. To stop all these processes and activities Saturday night and renew them Monday morning would disrupt, if not destroy, our industry and commerce.

The Automobile

The automobile has become both a help and a hindrance. It is used to bring many to church services, to new contacts in the old home town, to perform deeds of mercy and healing. On the other hand, it takes many far afield, it compels traffic officers to work overtime, it makes necessary the opening of gasoline stations on the Sabbath. It jeopardizes many lives. Should we leave the cars in the garages on Sunday? Some do. Others say that it is the only time they have to drive, and that they can see no harm whatever in a Sunday ride.

The Sunday Paper

The Sunday paper, and more recently the radio, are numbered by many as hindrances to Sabbath observance. The Sunday paper is so big that one does not finish it in time for church. It is so enticing to sit at home and listen to a sermon over the radio! Many yield, and slave their consciences with the assertion that the preacher on the air is anyhow a better sermonizer than their pastor. This list attempts by no means to exhaust the hindrances to Sabbath observance. It merely suggests some of the more serious conditions with which observance of the Lord's Day is faced in these modern times.

Unchanging Values for the Sabbath

Sabbath observance in the old days possessed certain religious, Christian values. It met certain deep human needs, such as worship in groups, rest from monotonous labors, fellowship, expression of gratitude, definite service in giving money, aid, and self. While the conditions of life have changed with the passing of the years, yet these basic needs remain in the human life. And the Sabbath must still, in spite of all hindrances, minister to the needs of mankind.

Worship

Yes, man can worship anywhere, at any time, but he can worship more readily in the right kind of church, where others are worshipping, than under any other circumstances. The churches need to study the needs of man and discover the best methods for serving these needs. This will give power to at least one service each Sunday. Such a service would be—should have at least one day of tone up a life for the entire day and ward off many excesses now so prevalent.

Rest

Man needs real rest. Growing specialization makes it more imperative than ever that workmen—all of us—should have at least one day of real rest. Now that the five-day week is being adopted so widely, workmen may take Saturday for sports and strenuous activities and devote Sunday to real rest.

Fellowship

Individuals are strengthened by the group and the group prospers as the individual members prosper. The speed of modern work makes fellowship difficult. Sunday should be a day of fellowship, in the church service and in family and friendly groups. The stimulation from such fellowship is always needed, and can never be measured.

Expression of Gratitude

There is something noble in every human heart that grows with gratitude, and diminishes with extreme self-concern. The Sabbath custom gives large opportunities for this expression of gratitude; and all leaders should arrive to embody in their Sabbath program not only giving of money, but also other means for showing deep appreciation to God and our fellow men. Unselfish service befits Sunday.

The Sabbath

Welcome, delightful morn,
Sweet day of sacred rest!
We hail thy kind return.
Lord, make these moments blest.

PUBLIC TASTE

Producers of salacious plays and inartistic movies, composers of noise that masquerades under the name of music, editors of lurid, sensational, and scandalous magazines and newspapers—all of these justify the low character of their work by saying: "That's what the public wants. The taste of the mob is not high."

But facts contradict this assertion. Some six or seven great Shakespearean plays have been produced in America during the past season by internationally known actors and companies, and everywhere they have been playing to packed houses. Meanwhile Broadway is cluttered up with darkened theaters that deal only in smut, sentiment and trash.

There are a number of outstanding symphony orchestras and opera companies in this land of ours, and they never want for a good audience. To attend one of their concerts or performances one must get tickets well in advance. Meanwhile there is plenty of room left in the hall when a mediocre organization dispenses the so called "popular stuff."

There are a few metropolitan newspapers that pay big dividends and need have no fear of competition. They are almost unanimously the ones that maintain the highest of editorial standards.

All this indicates that the general American public has been badly slandered. The observation of the editor of the Reporter made right here in Spearman seem to confirm this conclusion.

We feel that the best is none too good for the public that we are serving. We make no attempt to excuse any indifferent work we may do by saying that our readers can appreciate nothing better.

We have the highest respect for the general intelligence of the people of Spearman and strive at all times to keep our paper up to the standards of their taste. That attitude we feel enables us to make the Reporter a worthy contributor to all that is best in the life of our community.

FOR BEAUTIFICATION OF OUR HIGHWAYS

The agitation in favor of highway beautification is becoming general throughout the country. Scarcely an exchange comes to our desk without a story, editorial, or suggestion relative to how the roadside may be made more beautiful and the region more attractive to tourists. Evidently the entire country is being aroused to the importance of tourist travel and to the opportunities before practically every community to attract what is virtually a new industry.

We believe that Hansford county should line-up with this movement. We believe that a little effort on the part of our farmers and property owners will make our section of the state as attractive to automobile travelers as any other region in the nation. The planting of trees along the highways is always to be commended and encouraged. But this involves much time and effort in order to produce noticeable results. In the meantime we might well look for a way of getting more immediate benefits.

The thing that suggests itself to the editor is the planting of shrubbery and vines along fence rows, and the establishment of flower beds at forks, intersections and other conspicuous points. To accomplish this a certain amount of co-operation between land owners and the county highway department is necessary. The farmers might set out the flowers, perennials are generally used for such purposes, and the members of the county highway staff might give the beds the necessary care and attention when other work is not pressing. In Jefferson county, Wisconsin, the tourist will see a single flower bed of some 500 feet in length, which was originally set out by owners of adjoining property, and has since been maintained by the county highway department. In many other places similar work has been effectively done.

We cannot go into minute details in a limited editorial. Our purpose here is merely to endorse any such movement that may be undertaken in Hansford county, and to emphasize the point that it will pay the farmers and property owners of Hansford county to make our community attractive as possible.

FOR SALE: 6000 bundles of Higeria, 5000 bundles of fodder with good corn on it and 12 acres of moved feed. Will feed cattle out on place. See me at old Martin place at old Hansford.

ALMARENE O'KEEFE AND DAWSON NICHOLS QUIETLY MARRIED ON MARCH 3

Conforming to the most approved modern custom of getting married, that is without any show of superficial formality, Miss Almarene O'Keefe and Dawson Nichols of Spearman drove to Wheeler last Sunday afternoon and were married by Rev. A. C. Wood, pastor of the Baptist church there. Mrs. Nichols is a daughter and the oldest child of Judge and Mrs. J. Sid O'Keefe.

She was born in Panhandle and with the exceptions of terms spent at college she has lived here all of her life. She has been secretary at the Southwestern Public Service Company for the past year. Miss O'Keefe graduated from Panhandle high school and later attended the University of Oklahoma at Norman one year and the University of Texas at Austin two years.

At Austin, she won honors as a member of the Women's Representative Board, having been one of three girls chosen from a group of 316 girls to represent the Scottish Rite dormitory on the University government board. Miss O'Keefe was also a member of a sorority.

She was prominent in university society as well as in the social affairs of this community. She has always been known and admired for her beauty and her personality has won her many friends and kept them for her. She has always been a credit to the town, and the town deeply regrets that Mr. and Mrs. Nichols will not make their home in Panhandle.

Mr. Nichols is a native of Oklahoma. His parents now live near Oklahoma City. He attended the University of Oklahoma and later taught school three years. The bride and groom became acquainted with each other about two years ago when he lived here for some time. Mr. and Mrs. Nichols left Tuesday for Oklahoma where they will visit Mr. Nichols' parents. They will also visit in other Oklahoma cities, including Tulsa, on their honeymoon, and will be at home to their friends at Spearman in several weeks. Mr. Nichols is connected with the Chevrolet agency at Spearman. He is popular and liked here as an honest, upstanding young man of frank, honest character. One might say that his acquaintances are his friends.—Panhandle Herald.

WILL HANDLE HUGE VOLUME OF CHEVROLET PRODUCTS

Detroit, March 13.—That there will be an upward revision of Chevrolet 1929 production schedule, calling for an output of 1,350,000 units instead of the 1,250,000 quota originally established, was indicated today by R. H. Grant, the company's vice-president in charge of sales, who has just returned here after 6 weeks spent conducting dealer meetings in the northern and western sections of the country.

This alteration in production plans Mr. Grant explained, was considered only after very thorough surveys of business conditions undertaken by him and other Chevrolet officials. In the course of this year's dealer meetings, officials divided into three groups and visited 37 metropolitan centers. Exhaustive studies of sectional conditions were made possible by the cooperation of thousands of dealers, bankers and businessmen.

"At the time the new 6-cylinder car was announced, we predicted a volume of 1,250, units for 1929," Mr. Grant said. "As a result of my visit to 13 widely scattered sections and similar visits to other sections by my associates I feel that we are warranted in raising that figure to 1,350,000. Beyond that mark we cannot go with our present facilities but these can be quickly increased if the demand justifies."

"While we feel that there will be a ready market for this huge volume of cars and trucks they will be produced only if they can be absorbed in a natural way. We do not want in any way to crowd dealers or overload them. The dealers however seem to feel that this great volume will not be difficult to handle."

Mr. Grant seemed highly enthusiastic in his forecast for continued prosperity. Everywhere he traveled, he said, indications pointed to a year of unusual promise. "The farmers of the northwest, due to ideal weather conditions which have prevailed throughout last fall and during the winter, anticipate bumper wheat harvests. Increased wage scales in the Butte mining districts together with the best outlook for the copper industries in years, impressed forcefully. Since the establishment of a Chevrolet Zone Office at Butte two years ago, the volume of sales has been more than doubled and the company now contemplates the establishment of a new Ford Depot and Warehouse at Great Falls to be opened probably in July.

"In Portland and Seattle we found business generally on the up-grade. Present activity in San Francisco and its wide trading area throughout northern California seems to warrant a year of unusual prosperity. Basing January were eight percent greater than during the same month last year and the trading in building materials is consequently brisk. Bank clearing during January passed the billion dollar mark surpassing all months records."

Other Chevrolet officials who were in charge of dealer meetings at various times in other sections of the country expressed keen optimism over the outlook. H. J. Klinger, general sales manager, F. D. Douglas, D. E. Ralston, assistant general managers, joined with Mr. Grant declaring that the demand for a new car will far exceed preliminary estimates and make necessary measurable upward revision in the company's production program for the year.

Remember the city election, April 2; trustee election April 6.

EDMUND LOWE A CAVALRY 'SARGE' 'IN OLD ARIZONA' RIG, BORGER, SUNDAY

Edmund Lowe plays a rough riding Romeo of the late '90s in Fox Films "In Old Arizona," directed by Raoul Walsh and Irving Cummings and produced entirely in Fox Movietone.

"Sergeant Mickey Dunn" is his screen name, and he is of the United States cavalry, on duty along the border with a detachment that was known as never failing when it came to "getting its man."

"The Cisco Kid," famous bandit, is the man to be "got." Warner Baxter plays that role, and the third angle of a love triangle is Dorothy Burgess, recent recruit from the legitimate stage, who plays the role of the half-breed girl, "Tonia Maria."

"In Old Arizona" was written by Tom Barry, who also wrote the dialogue. The picture is the first feature-length all-talking film to be made by Fox Movietone.

Incidentally, it has one of the most notable supporting casts in the history of the screen. Names to conjure with are Farrell McDonald, Ivan Linow, Joe Brown, Fred Warren, Henry Armetta, Frank Campeau, Tom Santschi, Roy Stewart and James Marcus. They are all in the cast and they all speak their roles.
