

Spearman Schools Will Open Monday

---"Everything Ready," Says Wilcox

The Spearman schools will open Monday, September 10, for the 1928-29 school year at nine o'clock. Spearman is looking forward to what promises to be one of the best school terms in the history of the school. The buildings and grounds have been thoroughly gone over the past week, putting everything in readiness to take care of the large enrollment expected this year. Hansford county has had a record year and many new students are attending school that were unable to do so last year. The enrollment is expected to reach a higher mark than ever before. The enrollment is expected to reach a higher mark than ever before. The enrollment is expected to reach a higher mark than ever before.

MYSTERY DURANT PUZZLES SPEARMAN

The showrooms of the Spearman Motor Company, local Durant dealers were crowded both afternoon and night during the first three days of this week, where the famous Mystery Durant was being exhibited by Billy Van, well known vaudeville comedian. The crowd laughed at the jokes and marveled at the almost super-human powers of the Durant 65 Coupe. The car is a regular stock model 65 Coupe and seemed to be the same as any of the other Durants displayed on the floor and although the visitors subjected it to a most rigid examination they were unable to discover why the Mystery Durant could talk, answer questions, tell ages and birthdays, put on its lights and blow its horn at word of command.

CHEVROLET SALES

The following sales were reported by the sales manager of the McClellan Chevrolet Company for the week of August 26 to September 1: L. M. Patterson, cabriolet; Alta Hays, coupe; Mrs. J. F. Lackey, Sr., coupe; Pope Gibner, coupe; Vernon R. Green, coupe; Jesse Morris, Sedan; R. L. McClellan, coupe. For the month of August 41 new cars were sold and 30 used cars, making a total of 71 car sales during the month.

WHEN A MAN'S A MAN

When a man's a man, he doesn't lie and he will not play the cheat. And he doesn't look with scornful eye at the beggar on the street; And he doesn't brag of the things he's done or talk of his lands or gold. When a man's a man you will find my son, that he's gentle with the old.

FOR BAYLOR UNIVERSITY

Waco, Texas, August 29.—Occupying possibly the 18 most important positions of the entire Greater Baylor University campaign, district chairmen, chosen from the leading Baptists and Baylor alumni of the state, are laying definite programs of effort to promote the drive for $2,000,000 in the state at large.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Rev. A. L. Elkins and Rev. Horace Tedley will hold a meeting at the Church of Christ, this city, Monday night, September 10. Preaching will begin at 8:00 o'clock. Everybody is invited to attend this service.

RAIN AND HAIL FELL AT SPEARMAN TUESDAY

Spearman was the scene of much excitement Tuesday afternoon, when it was visited by a large rain and hail storm. Hail stones of small size fell for a considerable time and perfect crops caused considerable damage to some of the feed crops. The storm was not severe enough to do much damage about town, however a few unprotected window lights were broken. Fred W. Brandt, who is the on out. Fred W. Brandt, who is the on out. Fred W. SPEARMAN FOLKS VISIT FAMOUS CARLSBAD CAVERN

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gibner, Mrs. G. P. Gibner and son Woodrow left Spearman last Saturday morning for a visit to the famous Carlsbad Cavern near Carlsbad, New Mexico. The party was joined at Amarillo by Miss Beatrice Gibner, Miss Ruth Castle, Mrs. Haley and daughter, Clara Mae and Miss Mary Bennett. They motored to Carlsbad Saturday and spent Sunday in the cavern, going into the cave at 10:30 a. m. and coming out of it at 5:00 p. m. While in the miles they walked a distance of 7 miles viewing the different caverns and formations. At one place in the cave they were 750 feet under the ground and the largest room known as the King's Palace is 350 feet high and is 925 feet wide. The entrance of the cave is wired with electricity but flash lights were carried as they went farther into the interior. Guides go before the crowd and with the crowd. Sunday witnessed the largest crowd going through the cavern in one day. There were 1032 paid admissions and all children under 16 years of age were admitted free. The Spearman folks returned home Monday deeply impressed with the cavern and said it was one of the most wonderful sights imaginable.

COUNTY COURT MONDAY

The honorable county court of Hansford county met in regular session Monday morning. Nothing of importance came before the court and the jury was dismissed at noon. Cases in probate were to come before Judge King Tuesday.

CAMPFIRE GIRLS

The Campfire girls had a meeting Monday night at the Methodist church. They decided to have their future meetings on Friday as Miss Addison will not be able to come in from her school except on week ends. The girls are looking forward to their Counsel Fire and first meeting in the City Hall, where they will be awarded for some of their hard work by the different kinds of wooden beads that were ordered some time ago. Every girl is working hard and they expect to have their big Counsel Fire in October, where they will get their second rank. The Campfire Girls have two pennants and two charters with which to decorate their room in the City Hall. They also have some pine cones that Anna Lee Morton brought from the mountains for decoration. The rings which part of the girls ordered have come and everyone liked them so well that more have been ordered.

BAPTIST

With summer drawing to a close and the rush season just about over the church work is getting back to normal. People are returning from vacations, school teachers and pupils are again getting ready for business and the attendance at Sunday school and church is rapidly increasing. We are glad to see all the old and new faces again and extend a cordial invitation to the public to meet with us Sunday morning at 10 o'clock for Sunday school, at 11 for morning services and again at 8 p. m. for the evening services.

Hansford County Singing Covention

Convended at McBride School Sunday

The Hansford County Singing Convention was opened by a snappy introductory talk by its popular and genial president, Mr. W. W. Grooms. As promised this convention was marked by a large attendance and a program of singing unexcelled by any previous meeting. The best singing talent of the towns and communities of Conlin, Stratford, Texhoma, Goodwell and Gruver were in attendance. The Knight Male Quartet of Conlin, composed of D. M. Knight and his three sons, assisted by his daughter as pianist, attracted much favorable attention. The Gruver Male Chorus took their usual share of applause as did other well arranged special numbers of different towns. The most commendable part of the program was the song leading of three small girls of Stratford and Conlin, ages 9 to 10.

TWO NEW RESIDENCES IN WEST SPEARMAN

Two more new residence buildings have been added to the growing list of Spearman homes. The two new homes are located in the McLain addition of southwest Spearman and are owned and were constructed by John Beck. These houses are of the bungalow type and have all modern conveniences and have a coat of stucco added greatly to the appearance of the buildings and makes them much warmer and drier proof. At the present they are occupied by the Walker Gillispie and C. A. Bitt families.

HAZEL HURD PLAYERS AT LYRIC THEATER MON. NIGHT

Spearman show-goers will receive the first of a series of eight high-class royalty plays to be offered by the Hazel Hurd Players in the next eight weeks, at the Lyric Theatre. This splendid company needs no introduction to the public throughout the Panhandle, having played this territory many times before. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Twyman, owners of the company, feel confident in announcing this season the best company they have ever assembled. A circuit of six towns has been contracted by the company for an eight weeks run of what is known as circle stock. In this manner Spearman will have the company each Monday night, for eight consecutive weeks, playing an entire change of program on each visit. Mr. Twyman has engaged for his circuit only the best late Stock productions being offered in the larger permanent stock companies of the city. The opening play "The Push," by Chas. F. Harrison promises to be one of the greatest plays ever offered in this section of the country. Special scenery is being painted for each play, and will be transported over the circuit each week. The players have all arrived in Spearman and rehearsals are on "full blast" this week and without a doubt the opening night of this well known company will see a turn-away attendance at the Lyric Monday night.

WE ARE GOING SOME

The world has been spinning rather rapidly the last few months. Herbert Hoover has predicted the approaching abolition of poverty. Edward A. Filene has announced that we need never again have a business slump. The Westinghouse people are preparing to broadcast movies by radio. Henry Ford feels that the universal six-hour working day is not far off. Forty million people have listened to a presidential campaign speech, a German airplane is about to start trans-Atlantic airship service and the American people are buying new automobiles at the rate of 200,000 or more a month. All in all it becomes obvious that we are moving pretty fast. The times are times in which, as the psalmist said, the young men are seeing visions and the old men are seeing visions. Before us are new horizons opening before us, and it isn't to be wondered at if we sometimes feel that the greatest era in human history is about to dawn. Yet it is quite possible that we are a bit too optimistic. "The Kingdom of Heaven is within you," is a very old piece of advice. It means, obviously, that externals are unimportant; that the real starting place for all reform—all advances, all happiness, lies in our own hearts. We are, for all our crassness, stupidity and acquisitiveness, essentially spiritual beings, and we must seek a spiritual satisfaction. Now it may be that the devices of this machine age will bring us this internal release. Automobiles, labor-saving devices, short working days, radios, abundant money and all the rest may free us to find, within ourselves, the pathway to the Kingdom that was envisioned so long ago in Judea. But, on the other hand, they may make us more earth-bound than ever. What earthly good is added leisure if we use it only to race about more heatedly than before? If radio movies serve only to bring the five-minute movies of Greta Garbo and John Gilbert into every living room, they will be a doubtful boon. Happiness and peace do not depend on gasoline and electricity; there were men who managed to lead rich lives before the invention of the steam engine. There are boundless possibilities in this new age, to be sure. It is within our power to free ourselves as our forefathers never dreamed. But we must adopt a new set of values—or, rather, we must get back to one of the oldest sets of values an earth. We must realize that the world, with all that is in it, is only a stage setting for a great internal conflict. We must find our Kingdom within ourselves.—Lubbock Morning Avalanche.

BIG JERSEY SALE AT PERRYTON SATURDAY

S. M. Lawson of Fort Worth, well known in this section of the Panhandle, having been holding Jersey milk cow sales for some time, is again in the country. He was here from Perryton the first of the week, advertising a big auction sale of Jerseys which is to be held at Perryton Saturday. Mr. Lawson brings in only high class Jerseys, many of which are bred on his farm in Tarrant county, and they are guaranteed to give satisfaction. He invites you to see them milked before the sale—milk them yourself—and know exactly what you are getting. An advertisement of the above mentioned sale will be found elsewhere in the Reporter.

HUDSON ESSEX AGENTS OPEN SERVICE DEPARTMENT

A complete service department has been opened by the management of the Spearman Sales and Service company, local dealers for the Hudson and Essex cars, of this city and they are now ready to deliver the service, which, according to their policy, is the first consideration in the satisfactory use of an automobile. The service shop will be under the management of Frank Thompson who has been with his cousin, Clinton Wilson, all summer servicing tractors and combines. Mr. Thompson knows his business in this line, and any Hudson and Essex owner will be acting wisely to accept his advice and help in taking care of their cars. A large stock of parts are on hand and twenty-four hour service will be rendered. The repair shop is located immediately behind the show room.

TRI-STATE FAIR TO DRAW CROWDS WITH FREE GATE

Amarillo, Texas, September 5.—Two of the outstanding entertainment features of the Tri-State Fair, September 22 to 29, will be the Schooley and Collins Winter Garden Revue with eighty people participating, including a chorus of more than 30 girls, and Leonard Stroud's Rodeo. The Rodeo performance offered by Stroud is an annual attraction at many of the biggest cities and fairs in the nation. Included in Rodeo acts are some of the leading cowboys and cowgirls in daring breath-taking exhibitions. The Winter Garden Revue of 80 people, one of the highest type of revues for big state fairs will furnish beautiful and rollicking entertainment every evening in front of the big grandstand. Indian dances, football games and a number of other entertainment features are scheduled. The gate will be free for the first time in the history of the fair.

TOM JORDON DIDN'T NEED GUN EITHER

At the recent Big Spring meeting of the West Texas Press Association, Tom Jordan, editor of the Herald there, and who acted as host editor, came in for a lot of good stories. Most of the jokes were on Tom, however, and here is one they told on him: Mr. Jordan went to attend a party given by one of his neighbors, where just a few weeks before the home had been blessed with a new baby. The hostess met him at the door and after the usual salutation, he asked after the baby's health. The lady was hard of hearing, had a bad cold, and thinking Tom had asked about herself, answered that although she usually had one every winter, this was the worst one she ever had; it kept her awake at night a great deal and at first confined her to bed. Then noticing that Mr. Jordan was acting very strangely, she said that she could tell by his looks and actions that he was going to have one too, just like hers, and asked him to come in out of the draft and sit down.—Scurry County Times.

Parent-Teachers Association to Meet Friday, September 14, at High School

The Spearman Parent-Teachers Association is a live organization. They are planning to get into action and are ready to assist the school and in every possible way from the very beginning of the present term. The schools are to open on Monday morning, September 10. Increased enrollment is expected, and the burdens of the officials will be increased. Officials of the P. T. A. announce that a meeting of that organization will be held at the high school building at 3:15 on Friday afternoon, September 14, and they desire all those who are interested in the welfare of the school, and especially all parents, to attend this meeting and get lined up in order that they may better be of assistance to the worthy cause.

AMERICAN LEGION TO STAGE DANCE

The local post American Legion will conduct a dance Saturday night, September 8, at the skating rink in this city. When the Legion gives a dance here you can rest assured that it will be a good one, and the young and old folks are all expecting to have a good time. Music will be furnished by the Hazel Hurd orchestra, who, from all reports, know their stuff. With a good hardwood floor, good music and the lively crowd that always attends, this will be one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season.

International Sunday School

Lesson BY DR. J. E. NUNN

FOR SEPTEMBER 9, 1928

General Topic:—Paul in Athens and Corinth.

Scripture Lesson:—Acts 18:1-11; 1 Tim. 2:3-7.

Acts 18:1. After these things he departed from Athens and came to Corinth.

2. And he found a certain Jew named Aquila, a man of Pontus by race, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla, because Claudius had commanded all the Jews to depart from Rome; and he came unto them;

3. And because he was of the same trade, he abode with them, and they wrought; for by their trade they were tent makers.

4. And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and persuaded Jews and Greeks.

5. But when Silas and Timothy came down from Macedonia, Paul was constrained by the word, testifying to the Jews that Jesus was the Christ.

6. And they opposed themselves and blasphemed, he shook out his raiment and said unto them, Your blood be upon your heads; I am clean: from henceforth I will go unto the Gentiles.

7. And he departed thence and went into the house of a certain man named Titus Justus, one that worshipped God, whose house joined hard to the synagogue.

8. And Crispus, the ruler of the synagogue, believed in the Lord with all his house; and many of the Corinthians hearing believed, and were baptized.

9. And the Lord said unto Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak and hold not thy peace:

10. For I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to harm thee: for I have much people in this city.

11. And he dwelt there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

1 Tim. 2:3 This is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour;

4. Who would have all men be saved, and come to the knowledge of the truth.

5. For there is one God, one mediator also between God and men, himself man, Christ Jesus.

6. Who gave himself a ransom for all; the testimony to be borne in its own times;

7. Whereunto I was appointed a preacher and an apostle (I speak the truth, I lie not), a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and truth.

Time:—Paul's stay of a year and a half in Corinth, A. D. 51, 52.

Place:—After several weeks in Athens, Paul removed to Corinth.

Golden Text:—For I determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified.—1 Cor. 2:2.

Introduced

When Paul left Berea, he was accompanied by some of his friends, but not by Silas and Timothy. His next stopping point was Athens. In many ways that wonderful city has never been approached, so that still, when we wish to praise a city as the abode of learning and art, we call it "the Modern Athens." Athens was famous for its statesman, such as Solon, Themistocles, and Pericles; for its philosophers, Socrates, Plato, and Aristotle; for its historians, Herodotus, Thucydides, and Xenophon; for its dramatists, Aeschylus, and Sophocles and Aristophanes; for its orators, Demosthenes and Aeschines; for its sculptors, Phidias and Myron; for its lyric poets, Pindar and Simonides. Its imposing Acropolis bears on its summit the ruins of the world's most beautiful building, the Parthenon, or temple of Athena (Minerva). Athens was a great military power, victor at Marathon and at Salamis. It was the most interesting progenitor of the modern republics. It was a most original city, preeminently a city of genius, and was great in more ways than any other city in which men have yet lived.

"Paul on Mars Hill." Acts 17:22-31. "Men of Athens," Paul began his address, using the formula familiar at the beginning of all classical Greek orations. His opening words would be understood by his hearers as a compliment: Paul declared that he had found the people of Athens to be "very religious." They had on show no fewer than three thousand public statues, most of them representing gods and goddesses; a Roman poet once said sarcastically that it was easier in Athens to find gods than men.

Among these multifarious statues Paul had lighted upon one dedicated to an Unknown God. He taught the image-worshipping Athenians the folly of idolatry. There is one God and only one. He made heaven and earth and does not live in man-made temples. He gave men all things and needs no gifts or sacrifices from men. All he wants from us is that we should feel after him and find him, for he is not far from us. So near is he that he has come down to dwell among men, to die for men, and prove his deity by rising again from the dead.

That was the outline of Paul's masterly and most courageous address, as Luke records it.

Paul in Corinth. Acts 18:1-17. "After these things, he departed from Athens, and came to Corinth." This famous city was about fifty miles west of Athens. It enjoyed a situation most favorable for trade, for it was placed on the rocky Isthmus of Corinth, 262 feet high and three and two-thirds miles wide, which connected northern Greece with the southern peninsula, the Peloponnesus. Thus Corinth was the point of transference of ships' cargoes between the Aegean and Adriatic Seas, and through it trade was conducted between the north and the south. Marine traffic is now conducted through a canal cut across the Isthmus. Corinth itself was noted for its statues and pictures, its cases and vessels of metal and earthenware. The Isthmian games, held at Corinth, were among the most famous athletic contests. At one time the city is said to have had 300,000 inhabitants, with more than half a million slaves at work in its fleet and its colonies. It was a city of pleasure and of unbridled license, where the idle rich of all lands went to satisfy beastly desires. About two centuries before Paul's visit the Romans under Mummius completely destroyed the city, but a century after this destruction it was rebuilt by Julius Caesar.

Paul Earning His Way, v. 3.

"And because he was of the same trade he abode with them, and they wrought; for by their trade they were tentmakers." We are well acquainted with the wise Jewish practice of teaching their boys some trade, no matter how wealthy the family might be, and even when the lad was educated as a rabbi, as Paul was. Paul probably followed his father's trade, as was customary, and tentmaking was easily learned at Tarsus of Cilicia, where the goats abounded from whose hair a rough cloth called Cilician cloth was made, and out of this cloth tents were constructed. Later, in writing to the Corinthian Christians, Paul glories in the fact that he earned his own way and was no expense to them, while at the same time he admonishes them not to make that a precedent in the case of any other Christian preacher, for "the laborer is worthy of his hire" (See 1 Cor. 9:6-18; 2 Cor. 11:7-12).

Paul's Earnest Preaching, vs. 4, 5

"And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath." Following his invariable custom in a new town, Paul began his work there where he was most likely to find converts; for in spite of the bigotry of some Jews, their training in the purest religion made them more accessible than pagans to the truths of Christianity. "Paul was constrained by the word." The Philippian Christians had sent him money, so that he was not obliged to work so hard for his own support (Phil. 4:15; 2 Cor. 11:9), and could give more time to preaching and teaching. The Spirit moved him to do this work of "preaching the word" with more zeal even than before. "Testifying to the Jews that Jesus was the Christ." His testimony was based on the ancient prophecies fulfilled in Christ, by his own conversion through a vision of Christ, and by the facts of Christ's death and resurrection. His text was ever this: "The man Jesus was the divine Christ, the Messiah, the Son of God, the Savior of the world." It is the central truth of Christianity.

Paul's Vision in Corinth, vs. 9, 10 "And the Lord said unto Paul in the night by a vision." Paul, we have seen, was a man of visions. He had beheld the Lord on the road to Damascus; he had seen a vision of Ananias coming to him and restoring his sight; he had seen a vision of the Macedonian summoning him to Europe; now again he sees the Lord Jesus Christ. "Be not afraid." Here is a window into the heart and of the apostle. He was not dull of the Jews and the rage of the idolaters. He had suffered but he showed his heroism by marching straight forward in spite of fear. "For I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to harm thee." This was all the encouragement needed, the knowledge that his life were to be successful. It is all

Confidence in the ability of the business men to supply our needs
 with reliable merchandise at reasonable prices is likewise a most important factor in the prosperity of the community. Since it is of such vital import to all of us to keep our confidence in our neighbors and their confidence in us, let us each do every possible thing to warrant confidence.
 It will help us to build our home community into a busy, prospering town—a home town of which we will all be proud.

THEIR FAME TRAVELS

"New Mexico is visioned in the minds of many persons of the East as a great expanse of sandy desert lying in a tropical or semitropical climate,"
 says the Haggerman Messenger, adding: "As a matter of fact, it has emense wooded areas, mountain peaks and streams, great expanses of cool summer vacation lands with a summer climate unexcelled. For example the Sacramento Mountain chain, lying within less than half a day's drive from towns in the Pecos Valley, contains thousands of acres of wonderfully alluring woodlands combining every attraction for the camper and tourist." This is but one of the state's greatest treasurers of scenic splendor, at present it is drawing more enraptured visitors even than usual, due in part to the extensive good road construction being carried out by the state and federal governments.

Now that its mountain resorts and camping grounds are becoming accessible by means of good roads, the fame of New Mexico's wonder-grounds of beauty, its winelike, crystal clear air, its trout streams and healing balm of golden sunshine is finding its way to all parts of this country and is repeated in foreign lands as well, where possibly the story of New Mexico's historic treasures is better known than it is in this country.—Ex.

DOG CATCHER FIRED
 FOR BEING TOO MUCH
 AND TOO GOOD ON JOB

Evanston, Ill., August 30.—As a dog catcher Clarence Skinner was very, very good. So they fired him.
 "If you weren't stopped," said
 Police Chief Freeman to Skinner,
 "you'd make Evanston dogless. And that would be too doggone bad."

The chief told Skinner that the dog catcher's records showed 1,336
 dogs had been captured since March 1st.

"That's a lot of dogs," the police head said in informing Skinner that his dog catching duties were about to terminate.

"You caught all kinds, muzzled
 and unmuzzled, licensed and unlicensed, thoroughbred and just plain dog. The Humane Society complains you also shot several that you couldn't catch.

"It appears that you are altogether too good at catching dogs to be a good dog catcher."

Gene Deservi as appointed to succeed Skinner. Upon this appointment Deservi issued a statement:

"No dog," he said, "need fear that I will take undue advantage of my authority. Every dog will have its day and every day its dog."

New Case Grain Drill

We have just received a shipment of Case Grain Drills
 and invite you to come and see them before buying.
 Case drills possess advantages which will appeal strongly to all grain growers:

1. Accuracy in drilling, from one extreme of adjustment to the other—from the lightest to the heaviest rate of seeding.
2. Evenness in planting, both as to depth of furrow and distribution of seed in the furrow.
3. Uniformity in covering.

In addition, Case drills are convenient to fill with seed, easy to oil and adjust, light of draft, long wearing and adaptable to an infinite variety of conditions. The results are gratifying. Quicker germination; a more even stand; stronger growth and a better crop at harvest time.

ENOUGH MOTORISTS NOW TO RELIEVE FARMERS

There are enough motorists now to bring relief to many farmers who have a fair sense of business. Frank Bestman, of Des Plaines, Ill., believes, and he showed bank deposits of $10,000 to prove it. Bestman declares that he has a steadily growing list of more than 400 Chicago people who drive to his farm regularly, in addition to those who stop while passing a roadside stand he has erected. His $10,000 earnings last year were entirely from his roadside stand and excluding the remainder of his farm.

"The growth of good roads and the increasing number of automobiles are bringing more people right to our farm gates," he writes in Farm & Fireside. "It is up to farmers to take advantage of the opportunities that are offered by this plentiful number of customers. The consumers are anxious and willing to trade direct with the farmer but they will not stand for gouging. I have seen many stands on well traveled roads fail because the owners took the attitude that the season was short and the prices ought to be sky high. My policy is to split the difference between wholesale and retail prices, plus good measure.

"Any product a day over goes to the wholesale market and in this way our customers who go to the trouble to come to us are assured of quality."

Flies have caused more deaths than all wars combined—yet some of us do nothing to help prevent future casualties. Flies have no preference—you or some of your family or friends may be next. Start today—and kill every one you see. It is very easy if you use the product produced and perfected by the foremost industrial institute of its kind in the world. It is fragrant and harmless to mankind, but kills all household insects. Just follow instructions on blue label of bottle. INSIST upon FLY-TOX from your retailer.—Adv.

ABOUT FACES

A railroad accident often happens in a minute but faces are not made over so quickly.—Farm & Fireside.

JUST WON'T BELIEVE IT

Many a man can never convince his wife that he loves her although she positively knows it.—Woman's Home Companion.

THE NEW FARMING ACCOUNT SCHOOL

The good business farmer today watches his farm accounts carefully. In respect to his labor, his farm stock and his soil, he knows what they can do and how they can be most profitably handled. He knows the mathematics of growing feed from the soil, pigs and poultry from the feed and cash profits from pigs and poultry. He knows whether he is milking the cow for paying returns or the cow is milking him out of his invested capital. Wherever his accounts show a deficit or insufficient profit on one or more items, he immediately studies to overcome the handicap and correct any mistakes that have been made.

The Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association is conducting a nationwide educational campaign for better methods of farm accounting. The commission has been stressing the wisdom of country bankers through cooperation of county agents, calling farmers together, and holding account schools where instruction is given on the use of the farm account books.

Each person is led through the various steps in keeping accounts and each enters his own inventory which he has previously been instructed to take and bring to school. This gives a good start and when properly followed up by letters and an occasional visit by the specialist in charge, greatly aids the man who is really in earnest to come through his first year of keeping accounts successfully. Many times country banks offer the rooms for holding the account schools. In some instances, an employe of the bank is designated to assist farmer patrons during the year in keeping their accounts.

HOW TO GO BROKE FARMING

1. Grow only one crop.
2. Keep no livestock.
3. Regard chickens and a garden as nuisances.
4. Take everything from the soil and return nothing.
5. Don't stop gullies or grow cover crops—let the top soil wash away, then you will have "bottom" land.
6. Don't plan your farm operations it's hard work thinking—trust to luck.
7. Regard your woodland as you would a coal mine, cut every tree, sell the timber and wear the cleared land out cultivating it in corn.
8. Hold fast to the idea that the methods of farming employed by your grandfather are good enough for you.
9. Be independent—don't join with your neighbors in any form of co operation.
10. Mortgage your farm for every dollar it will stand to buy things you would have the cash to buy if you followed a good system of farming.—Division of Extension, University of Tennessee.

SAYS AMERICA MUST LEARN TO UTILIZE ITS LEISURE

America must look forward to definite instruction in amusement and leisure as well as instruction in how to be practical if it is to become a truly efficient nation, declares the Woman's Home Companion this month.

"Looking back on summer vacations we see our pitiful inability to use our leisure wisely," says the article. "Comic papers, as usual ahead of the philosophers, long ago saw the follies and futilities of vacationists. The bathing suit beauty who lolls in the sand instead of going into the water, the idiot who wears himself out playing cowboy on a dude ranch, the man who stays in town while the family is away, spending his evenings in power and dissipation—every one is characteristic. And it is not just a summer phenomenon. All the year around in millions of homes, leisure is being abused and wasted. Reading cheap literature to 'kill time,' over-exercising one day a week and taking no exercise whatever on other days, talking by the hour on petty topics which could be settled in a minute by turning to a reference book, all are forms of abusing leisure.

"Few of us have ever learned the secret of the valuable activity known as loafing, just sitting quietly in reverie, which often brings subconsciously a stimulus to subsequent work.

"The machine age is forcing more leisure upon us and it will be an appalling weight unless we know how to employ it."

MOTHERS LOVE OVERDONE HARMFUL SAYS SCIENTIST

Mother love toward a male child can be overdone and can become harmful in after life according to Dr. G. V. Hamilton, who has recently concluded a survey of marital unhappiness and whose report appears in the Woman's Home Companion.

"A man who develops a 'mother complex' is still so childishly dependent on his mother that he can't love any other woman in a natural grown-up way," says Dr. Hamilton. "It was all right for him as a child to focus on his mother's his craving for love and to subordinate his will to hers, to a degree. But if he pushes it too far—or rather if his mother pushes it too far—he can not later escape from subservience. It is healthy for a mother to think of a child as a nuisance as well as a pleasure and the child ought to reciprocate. The large families in the nineteenth centuries helped the situation.

"If a man with a mother complex does marry," concludes the doctor, "then mother and son are sure to find some excuse for extreme dissatisfaction with the woman who has come between them."

"Well," sighed the poor city man as he saw the birds of the country, "I'm better off than that buzzard up there." The American Magazine.

BEING YOURSELF" IS TRUE PERSONALITY

Baron, noted writer, after being questioned by hundreds of women who would become perfect husbands and men who would be popular in their business careers, has reached the conclusion that there is no formula for attaining a successful personality.

"There is none," he declares, writing in the American Magazine. "Being yourself is the nearest anyone can get to attaining the admiration of others and associates. No two people are alike and no one can attain personality by trying to be like someone else."

The United States Senate has passed a bill which would require Americans each of whom are impressed upon the imagination of a state. I defy anyone to examine these hundred and draw any conclusions. The results are all alike yet all have arrived at the same with men and women in all sorts of business and industry.

Gerard Swope, president of General Electric Company and president of the General Electric Corporation are unlike in manner and method. Judgment is merely from the outside and would seem to be little in common. Each has risen to the top of his organization and has unquestioning loyalty of thousands.

CLINGING VINE TYPE LOSES LOVE OF HUSBAND

The clinging vine type of woman is likely to lose the love of her husband or at least bore him to death, is the answer given by Bryan McCall to a woman who asks for advice to the Woman's Home Companion.

The growing reluctance of a man to express his affection in a woman is caused by persistent demands for so, that causes the rift," writes the author. "Silence in affection is advocated in that statement. A woman not only wants to be loved, but she wants to be told that she is loved. But it is a pity for her to twist the issue so that it is not a question of how he loves himself but preserve his affection."

It should not be forgotten that there are many ways of expressing affection and that one man's silence might mean more of his affection than the declarations of a different man.

The demand by a wife for constancy and reassurance that she loves her when she knows she will that he does is not the way to keep a deep and large and lasting love."

WRONG LETTER PLAYS HECK

Have you ever stop to think of what difference it makes in a name to have ONE LETTER? Last week I read made mention of a young man advertising at the Waggoner Drug Co. We desire to please, and behold the Herald had the wrong letter making the woman's name 'Barrell' when it had been Bor-rell. FURS USED AS FABRIC
IN FALL PARIS STYLES

Paris has found a new way of handling flat clipped furs such as caracul kid, shaved lamb, white and beige ermine, according to the Paris representative of the Woman's Home Companion. These are cut into narrow bands and applied to sleeves, coat fronts and collars after the manner of braid trimming. A single fox tail frequently finishes the ends of a narrow fabric tie-scarf.

The new fur collars are just as unusual as the cuffs. Both ermine and krimmer, when used at the neck take on the qualities of a scarf fabric, appearing as four-in-hands, loose knots and ascots. And as often as not these unusual fur treatments appear at the back. Another idea is fur applique.

Pairs of fox furs, one black and the other white, with their heads together, form an interesting collar front decoration on a velvet evening wrap by Worth. Lenief uses two white fox skins as the lower edge trimming of a black velvet coat, the noses coming to a point in the back. Jenny favors ermine cuffs for formal coats, not ordinary cuffs but smartly shaped and trimmed with bow ties of the fur. Paquin has interesting ermine cuffs on one of his black satin coats, long, deep cuffs meeting a row of tiny buttons above the elbow.

FIRE WRITTEN UP
BY SOCIETY EDITOR

The following story was credited or charged to the Nolan County News by Editor George F. Smith of the Snyder Times-Signal. Maybe it happened in the News, or maybe it was in some other paper, but anyway it shows what can be done with an innocent fire story when the society editor is assigned to cover the news:

"A brilliant fire was held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Slippy, in Hope Street. A large number of people attended the function. Mrs. Slippy, who recently had her hair shingled, made a charming escape in an exceedingly handsome henna silk blouse, the pattern of which appeared in our woman's page last week. The firemen, who presented an attractive appearance, were suitably garbed in blue, the tunics being full cut. The weather was quite delightful for an affair of this kind, a strong wind blowing. It is rumored that the fire was on a larger scale than any previous affair of a similar kind for years. It is also rumored that it cost Mr. and Mrs. Slippy about $25,000.—Midland Reporter.

The new Buick is the new Style

More than handsome... more than luxurious... a wonderful new type of motor car beauty... a thrilling turning point in body design

It will be imitated, of course! The new, the fine and the beautiful always inspire emulation. But so great is the cost of building the magnificent new Fisher bodies for the Silver Anniversary Buick that imitation will be possible only to much costlier cars, and even these will find difficulty in following where Buick leads.

$1,500,000 has been expended in manufacturing the dies alone for the new Buick bodies; and the gracefully curving side panels which form one of their distinguishing characteristics represent the most expensive steel paneling work employed on any automobile in the world!

But it is not in the matchless grace and beauty of exterior design alone that the Silver Anniversary Buick eclipses other cars. In fleet, powerful performance too, the world holds no equal for the Silver Anniversary Buick with Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher. And the motor-public, buying in such tremendous volume as to force the great Buick factories to work day and night to supply the demand, is elevating it to the prominence of a vogue!

The Secret Is in the Flour

The secret of good baking, at least a liberal measure of the secret of good baking, is in using flour that has been properly made from carefully selected and graded wheats. The delicious, delicate, full-floured taste it gives your baking is your reward for using it.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas,
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Hansford County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Charles Allen Smith, James Louis Smith, William Bennett Smith,
Edith Olive Smith, Robert Edward Smith and Harry Smith, minors, and the unknown heirs and legal representatives of Willard A. Smith, deceased, and their unknown heirs and legal representatives, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 84th Judicial District; but if there be no newspaper published in said judicial district, then in a newspaper published in the nearest district to said 84th judicial district, to appear at the next regular term of the 84 Judicial District Court of Hansford county, to be holden at the court house thereof, in Hansford, on the 2nd Monday in October A. D. 1928, the same being the 8th day of October A. D. 1928, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 5th day of September A. D. 1928, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 22, wherein J. C. Sangster is Plaintiff, and Edith M. Murphy, Buck Tipton Murphy, Charles Allen
Smith, James Louis Smith, William
Bennett Smith, Edith Olive Smith,
Robert Edward Smith, Harry Smith,
and the unknown heirs and legal representatives of Willard A. Smith, deceased, and their unknown heirs and legal representatives, are defendants, and said petition alleging that on April 1st, 1924, Willard A.
Smith and Edith M. Smith (now Edith M. Murphy) made, executed and delivered to plaintiff a prom-issory note in writing dated April 1, 1924, signed by Edith M. Smith and Willard A. Smith (now deceased), for the principal sum of $400.00,
payable to plaintiff October 1st, 1924, bearing 10 per cent interest, and providing for 10 per cent attorney's fees and at said time executed a deed of trust on the North 120 acres out of the north one-half of section 1, block 46, Original Grantee, P. W. Henderson, situated in Hansford county, Texas, that Willard A.

Smith died on or about the 12th day of February, 1925, and left surviving him the above named Charles Allen
Smith, James Louis Smith, William
Bennett Smith, Edith Olive Smith,
Robert Edward Smith and Harry Smith, and the unknown heirs and legal representatives of the said Willard A. Smith, deceased, who are claiming an interest in the above described land and premises; that said defendants have wholly failed and refused to pay said note or any part thereof, to plaintiff's damage in the sum of $634.82, including principal, interest and attorney's fee, and plaintiff is suing for a foreclosure of his deed of trust lien on said land and premises, debt, damages, attorney's fees, and such other and further relief to which he may justly be entitled at law or in equity.

Herein fail not but have before said court, at its aforesaid regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Hansford
on this 5th day of September, A. D.
1928. (3914.)

(Seal) J. E. WOMBLE,
Clerk, 84th Judicial District
Court, Hansford County, Texas.

Salvation for All. 1 Tim. 2:4,5
"Who would have all men to be saved." The Christian doctrine of election is to be interpreted in the light of passages such as this. God is Savior essentially and eternally;
he longs for the salvation of every one of his creatures. "And come to the knowledge of the truth." A bare knowledge of the truth of Christ and salvation is not enough; the devils believe and tremble. It must be a saving knowledge, knowledge which leads to repentance and obedience,
love and service.

Christ A "Ransom for All." v. 6.
"Who gave himself a ransom for all." Of course a mere man could not serve as a ransom for sin for all men; only God could do that. But he could do it only as a man. "The testimony to be borne in its own times." That is, when the right time for it in the history of the world had arrived, the time for Christ's testimony to the sacrificial love of God,
the New Testament in his blood.
Christ came in the fulness of time,
when the world had sunk deepest in the mire of sin, and when a little nucleus of men was ready to receive the truth of redemption.

"Whereunto I was appointed a preacher and apostle." For the passing of this Testimony along, from the dying and risen Christ to the hearts of needy men, Paul was divinely appointed by the words of Christ himself on the Damascus road.

of Section No. 9, Block 4T, Grantee, T. & N. O. Ry. Co. such road now established on this line to be widened from a sixty foot road to an eighty foot road; and also to lay out and establish a new road eighty feet in width, and of the first class, beginning on the south section line of said
Section 9 above mentioned, and running thence with the railroad right of way and on the south and east side
thereof, to the Hansford and Ochiltree county line, and terminating at said last mentioned point; and which proposed widening of the present road and the laying out of the new road may run through certain lands owned by you, and will at the same time assess the damages incidental to the opening of said road, when you may present to us a statement in writing of the damages, if any, claimed by you.

Witness our hands, this the 14th
day of August A. D. 1928.
