STEER LOOPERS VISIT CAT LAIR TONIGHT

Inability To Hit Basket Worries Coach

Bill Maves of the Ranger news staff says Brownwood will be the surprise grid team in the Oil Belt next fall.

It appears that Brownwood will put up a strong argument in basketball, which makes the horizon look a little dark for the Steers, Cottonwood and Foran are also listed among the stronger cage teams.

Jimmie Black, who wrestled Mervin Barackman here last week, claimed his weight as being 139 pounds. Barackman weighs 138. Our belief is that Black would come nearer tipping the scales at 170.

San Angelo is going to be stubborn about it—"San Angelo school officials are determined to battle right down to the last white line against permitting the Lubbock entry in district 3 football. Lubbock has found favor with its proposal in Sweetwater and Big Spring, the other two members of district 3. San Angelo already has carried the matter to Roy Henderson, interscholastic league athletic director.

"San Angelo would as soon have Austin or Waco, or instance, join this district as to be confronted with a 200-mile jaunt over rough roads to the Plains village.

"Chester Kenley, San Angelo high school principal, remarked during discussion of the Lubbock entry that "Lubbock doesn't want to get in district 3 half as badly as it wants to get out of its present district," where it has "been made wild cat rope by Amarillo and Pampa."

San Angelo officials don't really object to the mileage. They hate to think of the idea of being defeated by Lubbock in the district race. Lubbock would add a lot to this district.

Jerry Mallin of the Amarillo Globe-News says the loss of Lubbock will take away a lot of the rivalry that existed in district 1. It doubts whether, but we fall to see where it would be a bad move to get Lubbock in this sector.

Temple, booked to play on the San Angelo grid Sept. 27, may not get to keep its date, according to a report in the San Angelo paper. There seems to have been some mix-up in schedule arrangements.

Big Spring has been invited to enter the first annual Permian Basin High School Relay Carnival scheduled for April 6 on the Crane track. Spike Henninger must want a cinch in his invitational tournament. The Couden Athletic Director is striving to rally his forces. The Foran Drillers seem to have been trying to recruit some of the Couden stars. Horace White, the Foran school teacher and cage star, has been dividing his time with the Drillers and the Oilers. Mr. Henninger didn't like the idea so White thought the right thing to do would be to play with the home over the nation as a whole. The depression has been a hard school, but we all have learned something in it; one of the surest and most hopeful indications is this new spirit that Dean Gilkey finds on the university campus.

WHERE BUILDING STOPS

Neither more ample credit nor direct government stimulation will restore health to the building trades until rents go up or building costs come down. So says a bulletin issued currently by the National Industrial Conference Board.

Building costs today says the bulletin, are somewhat lower than they were ten years ago, but rentals are a great deal lower. Then years ago a man could put $6,000 into a new house and lot and could rent it for $360, or a net return of 6 per cent.

Today the same house and lot would cost him $4,800, but the rental income would be only $188, a net return of 3.8 per cent. To get a 6 per cent return, the original cost would have to be reduced to around $3,100—about 38 per cent below present levels.

That, adds the bulletin, is why private capital is loath to invest in new building. Unless rents go up or costs come down, its reluctance will remain unshaken.

Schreiner To Play Kingsville Soon

KERRVILLE (Sp.)—Two cage games will be played in Kingsville on February 15 and 16 with the Texas A & I Javelins, returning the two which were played in Kerrville last week. A & I won the first, 37-34, and Schreiner won the second, 23-20.

A week later, on February 22 and 23, Victoria junior college will come to Kerrville to return two games which Schreiner played in Victoria January 11 and 12 and won, 72-43 and 57-37.

The West Texas District tournament will be held March 1 and 2 at Thomas Jefferson gym, San Antonio, and the state tournament a week later at the home gym of the winner of the East Texas title, with the four district winners participating.

John Henry Lewis, sensational Pacific coast light-heavyweight, is studying for the ministry.

The result is that the Drillers will not be invited to the Couden tournament, at least that's what Bill Tate of the Foran team tells us.

To make matters worse, the Drillers have been trying to secure the services of one Howard Houser, who would make a fine addition to any man's basketball team. That aroused Mr. Henninger more than ever.

This folks, is just one side of the story. Maybe Spike can balance the race tomorrow.

County Basketball Tournament Starts

County basketball tournament for senior boys and junior girls will get under way this afternoon at 4 p. m. in the high school gymnasium.

AS BARACKMAN DEFENDED BELT HERE

A crowd estimated at nearly 2,000 people saw Mervin Barackman defend his big mid-west belt successfully here Tuesday night by taking the deciding fall from Jimmie Black of Cleveland, Ohio, in a thrilling finish. On the right is the champion and on the left the challenger, Herman Fuhrer, referee, is standing between the two grapplers. Black, tired by the referee's tactics in trying to prevent illegal holds, demanded another official.

NITTANY LION GIVES A ROAR FOR ITSELF AS MAT MONARCH

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (Sp.)—The Nittany Lion of Penn State has had to comb some troublesome opponents out of its mane in recent years in intercollegiate sports, but when it comes to wrestling, Leo roars like a true king of the collegiate jungle.

In 1910 Penn State took up wrestling on a varsity basis. Since that year—in 25 seasons of wrestling—only four colleges have defeated the Lions on the mat. They are Navy, Cornell, Lehigh and Iowa State college. Penn State has engaged in 142 wrestling meets with 29 colleges, winning 118, losing 21, and tying 3.

State was admitted to the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association in 1918, and succeeded in winning the championship for the first four years of its membership, taking second place to Cornell for the next two years, and then winning the trophy two more years in succession.

The Lions have continued their success in dual meets up to the present, although Lehigh has come to the front in late years and has won the association championship in the last three tournaments.

The dual meet record of Penn State teams with the other eight members of the Eastern association follows:

W. L. T.
Against Cornell..... 14 5 2
Against Pennsylvania..... 11 0 0
Against Columbia..... 11 0 0
Against Harvard..... 2 0 0
Against Lehigh..... 16 2 0
Against Syracuse..... 12 0 0
Against Yale..... 2 0 0
Against Princeton..... 6 0 0

W. E. "Doc" Lewis and Iowa State are the only teams who have won more than they have lost from Penn State. Navy has lost 11, lost 8, and tied one, while the Iowans have won three of its four meets from the Lions.

W. E. "Doc" Lewis and Charlie Speidel, coaches during 17 years of the 25, are given most of the credit for the continued success of Penn State's wrestling teams. Lewis led Penn State in 1921 to become wrestling coach at Harvard, while Speidel took up his duties here in 1927 and this season began his ninth year as head coach.

Of the 21 meets which Penn State has lost in this 25-year period, only five defeats have been administered to Blue and White teams on the home mats. This fine home record will be seriously threatened this year when Lehigh brings a strong team here on February 2, and again when Navy wrestles here on March 9.

Spring Training Underway In Aggie Camp

COLLEGE STATION, (Sp.)—More than sixty-five candidates, tested in freshman, varsity and intramural competition, will begin the Texas Aggies annual spring football training period within a week or so. Tentative plans made by Coach Homer Norton call for work to start either Feb. 15 or 18.

The Aggies, as usual, will devote the majority of their thirty-day training period to fundamentals. Scrimmages will be held frequently, Coach Norton has indicated, although no real intra-squad game probably will be played.

Included in the number invited to participate in the training are eleven lettermen, fourteen squadmen, thirty-three freshmen and several intramural players, some of whom were ineligible for varsity competition the past season. Additional intramural players probably will be selected following close of training competition.

Two promising backfield candidates will be Ed Wicker, of Corpus Christi, and Joe Routh, of Chapel Hill, both of whom were ineligible the past season.

Oil Excitement High At Rotan

ROTAN—This Fisher county city today is teeming with oil excitement, jubilation being evidenced throughout the town in a double celebration—apparent discovery of a new Fisher county oil field and indicated drought-breaking rains.

Despite an accurate estimate, every indication this morning pointed to a producing well on the Howard farm, five miles northeast of here.

On 8,000-Acre Block
The well is owned by Merry Bros. & Perini, San Angelo independent operators, and the Tide Water Oil Co., on an 8,000-acre block. Operation activities are in charge of the San Angelo operators.

Their No. 1 Miss Mary Howard headed at 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning and again at 6 o'clock last night from an estimated five or six feet of pay entered to 3,670 feet. The second flow was the larger, lasting 30 minutes and before estimated at 40 to 50 barrels. All the oil went into the pit.

Pay Struck Tuesday
Pay was struck at 4:30 Tuesday afternoon and oil rose 2,000 feet in one and one-half hours. When the well was run at noon yesterday it revealed 2,900 feet of pay of which the bottom 1,100 feet was water. The well is scheduled to be swabbed today in an effort to determine whether or not the water is coming from behind the 6 5/8 inch pipe set at 3,450, or in bottom hole. It then is planned to run and cement 5 1/2 inch casing on top of the pay.

The oil is coming from a horizon lower than the pay zone eight miles away, in the Royston pool. No. 1 Howard is 1,250 feet from the north line and 560 feet from the east line of section 180, block 2, H. & T. C. Ry. Co. survey, on a block of 8,500 acres. It is five miles northeast of Rotan. The Water owns a three-quarter interest and Merry Bros. & Perini a quarter interest.

Tigers Have First Claim in Professional Football

No doubt he could find a place in professional football if he craved it but his ambitions lie in the direction of baseball.

It is generally conceded that Detroit has first claim to Howell's services, although he has not signed a contract. Eddie Goosire unearthed him just as he did Schoolboy Rowe and Tom Bridges for the Tigers.

Dixie attracted the attention of Goostrey while playing for Dathan (Ala.) of the Dixie league, an amateur circuit composed largely of college boys on vacation. The veteran scout was impressed by Howell's speed and competitive spirit as much as he was by the way Dixie stood up to the plate and "took his cut."

If and when Howell signs with the Tigers, he will probably be sent to Beaumont or some other Detroit farm for further development. At Alabama he has played at shortstop and in the outfield. His present plans call for him to continue playing baseball for Alabama until after graduation—then to hope to sign with the pros.

Dixie Howell appears to have more than an even chance of carrying on Alabama's tradition in the major-leagues. You'll hear plenty of him later on.

The annual loss from malaria in the United States is estimated at one-half billion dollars.

Major league baseball clubs of ten seek football stars as diamond prospects but the highly advertised gridiron heroes seldom make the grade.

Millard "Dixie" Howell, one of the outstanding halfbacks of the South last season, at least has the Alabama tradition in his favor. Dixie promises to follow in the footsteps of a long line of Alabama graduates who've made the grade in the major leagues.

Joe Sewell and his brother Luke, Riggs Stephenson, Ike Brown, Ernie Winard, Jack Hayes, Del Pratt and Fred Singleton played varsity baseball on the campus diamond at Tusculooosa. Several of this number, notably Stephenson, Brown and Singleton, also starred at the gridiron.

Stephenson still carries a memento of his football days, an arm injury which hindered his throwing and forced him to switch from playing second base to the outfield. It didn't seem to affect the "Old Home" when it came to pounding the ball, however.

Fred Singleton, an all-America tackle while at "Bama," hit 29 homers and drove in 150 runs for Alabama of the International league, before Washington bought him in time to play the last nine games of the 1934 American league schedule. In his first time at bat in a Senators uniform Singleton drove in a run which beat the Philadelphia Athletics. Manager Stanley Harris is counting on the 215-pound giant to add thunder to the Washington attack this season.

A Thomas Product
Dixie Howell won considerable fame when he passed Alabama to a spectacular victory over Stanford in the Rose Bowl on New Year's day. He tossed touchdown passes like an outfielder throwing runners out at home plate.

At heart, Howell is more of a baseball player than a footballer. The diamond sport comes natural to him whereas what degree of proficiency he attained in football can be traced directly to the wisdom of Coach Frank Thomas. His uncanny passing was the result of constant practicing on and off season.

Three years ago the chubby Alabama football tutor set about the task of molding a gridiron star of Howell. A natural athlete, although hardly as big as one generally pictures great football players, he was willing to lay in his mentors' hands. Stanford will attest the fact.

The Fords Plan Their San Diego Exhibit

Here are Henry and Edsel Ford getting their first glimpse of a model of the building that will house the Ford exhibition at the California Pacific International Exposition at San Diego, Calif. Between them is G. Aubrey Davidson, chairman of the exposition.

DEARBORN, Mich.—Both Henry Ford, and Edsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor Co., will visit the California Pacific International Exposition this summer. So they told G. Aubrey Davidson, chairman of the exposition, who was here to make final arrangements for the Ford exhibit at the Exposition.

Mr. Davidson told the Fords that it is hoped that the exposition will make a definite contribution toward world amity, as the assembly of more than 30 representatives of countries whose shores line the Pacific Ocean is bound to bring about greater understanding and good-will. The building that is to house the Ford exhibit is to be a permanent structure that will remain in beautiful Balboa Park, site of the exposition, after the show is over and the exhibit removed. A huge circular building, partially roofed, is fronted by a tower rising from what appears to be two immense gears, one inside the other. The building, architecturally, is done in the modern motif, but its open court, in the center, is characteristic of the Spanish and Mexican types of architecture that dominate the exposition.

The circular main section of the building will be 340 feet in diameter. The tower, resting on a base 221 feet above the Pacific, will rise 195 feet. The outer walls of the building will be 40 feet high. The tower will be lighted in a manner to make it resplendent in varying colors.

A special feature of the Ford exhibit will be a series of dioramas showing, in picture-story, life in the principal countries on the Pacific Ocean.

Inside the main section will be two great corridors. Along one will be shown the actual manufacture of Ford parts, including the rolling of steel and some of the more interesting foundry operations, such as die casting. In the other corridor will be grouped a number of exhibits showing the technical development of the Ford car—torque, Woodward, and other tests of steel; ball-bearing and pin-rig tests and inspection; methods of testing the action of weather on upholstery and other features.

Construction of the Ford exhibit will start immediately.

Last Rites Held For A. G. Winn, 49

Death Claims Former Big Spring Business Man In Sweetwater

SWEETWATER—Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at 4:30 from the family home, 1011 Siles street, for A. G. Winn, 49, who died early Wednesday morning from a heart attack. Dr. Gary Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church here, officiated.

Burial was in City Cemetery under direction of Doran-Yates Funeral Home.

Although Mr. Winn had been in ill health for quite a while, his condition was not thought to be serious. The attack came while he was asleep, and he died soon after.

Mr. Winn moved to Sweetwater in 1922 and started a wholesale produce business here, later establishing other houses in San Angelo, Big Spring, Lubbock and Pecos. He also was in the manufacturing business at Lubbock and Aitfield and owned farm property in several West Texas counties. He came to Sweetwater from Longview.

Mr. Winn was prominent in civic affairs of the city, and at the time of his death was a member of the Board of City Development. He was a Mason and Shriner, and a member of the Presbyterian church.

Immediate survivors include his widow, two sons, Donald and Billy, and one daughter, Dorothy. Three brothers and two sisters also survive, all of whom were here for the funeral.

Menus Of The Day

Soup that sabbant beginning to a good meal, is worth all the noise that's made over it! A hot savory soup warms the very cockles on a frosty day. A sturdy cream soup can satisfy and "stick to your ribs" and a delicate clear soup stimulate the appetite. And none is quite so good as the homemade variety with its pleasing melody of the flavors you like best.

The requisites of a good bowl, plate or cup of soup are too obvious to need cataloging. Everybody knows soup must be hot and well-seasoned. It should also contain something of interest—some snowy flakes of rice for the spoon to "dive for," some croutons on top, or some juicy vegetables. The texture of cream soup is important—it should be neither too thick or too thin, and never, never lumpy!

Here's a soup that can be the main course for a whole meal, because its basis is rice, which adds food value to any dish. Note that eggs are cooked right in the soup.

- 3-4 cup rice
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 2 small onions
- 1 green pepper
- 1 pt. tomatoes
- 6 eggs
- 1-2 cup cheese
- 3 cups water
- Salt

Have water boiling in a kettle and add chopped celery and onions.

"ALL-BRAN FORMS MAJOR PORTION OF MY BREAKFAST"

Delicious Cereal Relieved His Constipation*

Read Mr. Huyghe's voluntary letter: "After suffering for years, I happened to notice in the grocery a box of ALL-BRAN. I determined to give it a fair trial.

"Today it forms the major portion of my breakfast. I cannot say enough for its effect, as I am a man 58 years of age, at the time in life when one needs just what ALL-BRAN does for you."—Mr. Bob A. Huyghe, 810 Union St., New Orleans, La.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.

Research shows that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. With each meal, in serious cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN resists digestion better than the "bulk" in leafy vegetables. How much better to use this gentle food in place of patent medicines.

At all grocers in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

SHE'S QUEEN OF MOUNT HOOD

Mildred Vahl of Portland, Ore., was named queen of the 1935 season of winter sports at Mount Hood, whose snowy outline rears its self in the background. With her is Francis E. Williamson, director of recreational activities in Mount Hood national forest. (Associated Press Photo)

Add green pepper (chopped) and cook slowly 15 minutes. Just before serving break the eggs into the hot soup an sprinkle with grated cheese. Cover and keep in boiling place 5 minutes. Cook rice in boiling salted water until tender, or use steamed rice which has been previously cooked). Put mound of rice in tureen or put individual portions in soup plates and pour hot soup over them. Serve with muffin crisps and tart pickles.

Spinach Soup De Luxe
If Junior won't eat his spinach plain, see what he does with it in a good cream soup. Our guess is that he'll eat it with relish!
1-2 tbsp. flour
1 cup milk
1 cup cooked spinach
1-2 teasp. salt
Slice of onion

Scald milk to which slice of onion has been added. Heat a tablespoon of mazelia in top of double boiler and stir in flour. Remove from heat and stir in hot milk gradually. Stir slowly over direct heat until sauce begins to boil. Season to taste and combine with cooked spinach which has been rubbed through a sieve with water in which it was cooked. Reheat.

Fish Chowder and Rice Chowder is a hearty soup, and this one, served with snowy rice, and made with salt pork is new!

2 cups cooked rice
6 slices salt pork
2 lbs. fish
3 potatoes
1 onion
1-4 cup butter
2 cups milk
1 pint hot water
Salt and pepper

Prepare fish by cleaning and cutting into slices about an inch thick. Place in the bottom of a deep kettle the salt pork; over these spread the thinly sliced potatoes, now a layer of the fish sprinkled over with salt, pepper and a little minced onion; over these a layer of cold boiled rice, salt and pepper and bits of butter. Repeat these alternate layers of pork, potatoes, rice, fish and seasoning; add the hot water; put a light-fitting lid on the kettle and simmer gently for an hour. Remove the lid, add two cups of hot cream or milk and serve. It may be served without the milk, if preferred.

Bermuda Soup
It is important when pre-cooking vegetables for soup, to be sure they have no fatty taste, and retain their texture. In this onion soup recipe, note that the onions are cooked in a smooth oil, only until straw-colored.

6 medium onions
2 cups water
1 tbsp. butter
3 tbsp. flour
2 cups milk
Salt
Cayenne pepper
1 egg yolk
1 (3-4 oz.) can pimientos

Chop onion; place in a sauce-pan with two tablespoons of mazelia and cover and cook over low flame until onions are straw colored. Add water and boil uncovered for 30 minutes or until onions are tender. Rub through a sieve. Melt butter, add flour, add milk gradually, and beat to boiling point, stirring frequently. Add onion puree, season. Just before serving stir in slightly beaten egg yolk, and minced pimientos.

Garnishes Are Important
What you serve with the soup is also important. Try serving minced pimiento, with cream soups; minced chives are good with potato soup; popped corn is excellent with cream soups; salted whipped cream is good with bouillon. New to serve as accompaniments are the crisp wafers known as muffin crisps. These are Swedish-type wafers developed for weight-control because of their low starch content, but are found to be delicious with soups and salads especially those in the diet-menu.

Do you cook because you like it or cook because you must? To some wives cooking is a bore, a chore and a nuisance; to others it is an art, a delight and a pastime.

One of the reasons for liking to cook is success. Let but the flush of triumph color the cheek of a beginner and immediately a convert is won! One reason for disliking to cook may be traced to the endless preparation of uninteresting dishes; let these souls try their hand at something exciting! Still another argument for enjoying kitchen-rangings lies in consuming the results: if you like to eat, you will like to cook, providing you cook good things!

Especially dedicated to those who like to cook, who enjoy seeing a medley of assorted ingredients slowly change into one delightful dish, are the recipes in this column today. Every one of them is interesting to eat and fun to make!

Surprise Meat Balls
The "surprise" of this recipe is that meat balls can be different! These are combined with rice and cooked by dropping them right into tomato soup. When they emerge they are "puffed up" and delicious.
1-2 cup rice
1 tsp. grated onion
1-1/2 lb. ground beef
1 can tomato soup
2 tbsps green pepper (chopped).
1 tsp. salt
1-2 can water
1-2 teasp. pepper

Wash rice thoroughly. Mix meat, rice and seasoning. Shape into 10 small balls and drop into very hot tomato soup, to which water, onion and green pepper have been added. Cook slowly for 40 minutes. Serve on hot plate with tomato sauce over them. If preferred the mixture may be made into patties, browned in pan, the tomato soup poured over and simmered 45 minutes.

Fruit Flakes
These fruit flakes are interesting to make because it is amazing to see how a few whisks of the spoon mix oddly assorted ingredients.
2 eggs
1 cup light brown sugar
1-2 cup mazelia
2 cups pastry flour
2 cups corn flakes
1-2 teasp. baking powder
1-4 teasp. soda
1-2 teasp. salt
1-2 cup pasteurized dates (chopped)
1 cup nuts (chopped)

Beat eggs slightly, stir in mazelia, add sugar and beat well. Add flour, baking powder, soda and salt, mixed and sifted. Fold in nuts, dates and corn flakes. Mix carefully. Drop from end of spoon on to oiled baking sheet. Flatten down, bake in moderate oven 15 minutes.

Double-Decker Date Whip
Whipped orange gelatine on top a square of fruited lemon gelatine makes a two-color, two-flavored dessert that is especially toothsome because of the golden dates in it.
1-2 package orange gelatine.
1-2 package lemon gelatine.
1-2 package pasteurized dates.
1-4 cup nutmeats.
Prepare the lemon and orange gelatine according to package directions; when the lemon mixture begins to thicken, pour it into tall-stemmed serving glasses. Cover this with the dates (sliced) and chopped nuts. Set in a cold place. Cool the remainder of the gelatine until partially set, then with rotary beater, beat until fluffy. Pile the whipped jelly over the dates and nuts in the glasses. Chill. Garnish with whipped cream and date.

Lollipops
Candy is always fun to make, but pink peppermint "all-day suckers" sticks and all, are especially amusing. Try them in a leisure hour.
2 cups sugar
2-3 cup white Karo
1 cup water
Vegetable coloring
1-2 teasp. oil of peppermint

Put sugar, Karo and water into sauce-pan and stir over low fire, until sugar is dissolved. Cook, without stirring, until temperature 310 F. is reached, or when tried in cold water it will be very brittle. (Wash sides of pan with wet cloth during cooking to remove crystals). The last part of the cooking should be done slowly, so that the syrup will not color. Remove from fire, add coloring (just enough red coloring to make a delicate pink), and flavoring, and stir only enough to mix. Drop from tip of tablespoon on smooth oiled slab or baking sheet. Press one end of toothpick or skewer into edge of each lollipop. Loosen from slab as soon as they are firm, before they are cold.

Tea-Party Crusts
Everybody likes to find a "secret" tucked inside a familiar exterior. And every cook likes to "turn tricks" with leftovers. That's why these are popular: stiff pitted, pasteurized dates with a bit of canned pineapple; roll leftover pastry thin. Wrap each date in pastry, place on a shallow pan with the folded side down. Bake in a hot oven (450 F.) until golden brown.

Valentine Salad
1 package lemon flavored gelatin, 1 cup boiling water, 1 tsp. pure vinegar, 1-2 cup juice from can of Royal Anne cherries, 1-2 cup cherries, cut in halves; 1-2 cup mayonnaise salad dressing, 1-2 cup whipped cream, canned pears, red vegetable coloring. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add vinegar and cherry juice. When mixture begins to thicken, add cherries. Fold in mayonnaise salad dressing and whipped cream. When firm, cut in squares and place a square in a nest of lettuce for each person. On each square of salad place a half of canned pear that has been soaked in pear juice, in which a small amount of red vegetable coloring has been dissolved, and cut in heart shape. This gives the pear a deep pink color without changing the flavor. Serve as a dressing, mayonnaise salad dressing into which has been folded an equal part of whipped cream.

Is This Too Good for Your Cough?
Croupulonia may be a better help than you need. It combines seven helps in one. It is made for quick relief, for safety.

Mild coughs often yield to lesser aids. No one can tell. No one knows which factor will do most for any certain cough. So careful people, more and more, are using Croupulonia for any cough that starts.
The coat is a little more than a single help. But your druggist is authorized to guarantee it, so it costs nothing if it fails to bring you quick relief. Coughs are dangerous signals. For safety's sake, deal with them in the best way you know. (adv.)

Valentine Dessert
1 package cherry, raspberry or strawberry gelatin, 2 cups boiling water, 6 slices pineapple, 6 Maraschino cherries. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water and pour into shallow pan, having gelatin mixture about 1-2 inch deep in pan. Chill thoroughly and allow to set. Arrange paper doilies on small plates. On each, place a ring of pineapple that has been thoroughly drained. In the hollow of pineapple, place a cherry. Over the pineapple ring place a heart shaped piece of gelatin, cut using a heart cutter. Serve at once with or without whipped cream.

Louisiana: Notes on Defense of Free Institutions

The Constitution says that "The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a Republican Form of Government" and it is open to question whether Louisiana now has a republican form of government. A very considerable number of the most law-abiding citizens of the state are so thoroughly convinced that representative government has been attacked that they are organizing for resistance. Correspondents of unimpeachable integrity and excellent judgment, like Mr. Raymond Gram Swift and Mr. F. R. Daniels, have described the government of Louisiana as a dictatorship and they have used the term not figuratively and loosely but in its literal sense. They mean that the orderly processes of election, of legislation, of administration, and of justice are interrupted, and that physical and mental coercion has overwhelmed government by consent.

It is difficult to say, without fuller knowledge than outsiders now have, whether affairs in Louisiana have actually reached a point where Federal intervention under Article IV, Section 4 of the Constitution is required. The power is not one to be invoked except under the most compelling circumstances. But things have gone quite far enough in Louisiana to warrant very serious consideration of this question by the Federal government and by the people at large. They have gone far enough to justify preparedness to act should events call for action.

This acid test will be applied when we see how the ruling-powers deal with the opposition which is now organizing in Louisiana and whether a restoration of orderly government is achieved without violence.

The dictatorship of Senator Long presents a question of principle about which there is a dangerous confusion in the minds of many who believe in democracy. The question is, whether men must acquiesce in the overthrow of democracy if the dictator can obtain the support of a majority of the voters. I believe there can be only one answer to that question. To answer in the affirmative would be to reduce democracy to an absurdity. It would mean that today's majority had the right to deprive tomorrow's majority of its rights. We can make such a claim? Who will say that a dictator may use free institutions to destroy free institutions? That a temporary majority may impose its transient will upon all future majorities? That men may use freedom of speech to acquire the power to destroy freedom of speech? That they may use elections to abolish elections? That they may exploit the constitutional guarantees to subvert them?

The idea that a dictatorship may be established by democratic processes is a sophistry. It could be entertained only in an age when men had enjoyed liberty so long that they had forgotten what it means and how it was won.

One can have respect for dictators who overthrow free institutions by force and frankly say they intend to rule by force. But dictators who were elected, and then pretend to rule by popular consent, though they have destroyed the institutions through which the popular will can express itself freely, are practicing an ugly fraud. And those who acquiesce in the tyranny because it was achieved by majority rule are pretending to be convinced when in fact they are cowed.

Free institutions are not the property of any majority. They do not confer upon majorities unlimited powers. The rights of the majority are limited rights. They are limited not only by the constitutional guarantees but by the moral principle implied in those guarantees. That principle is that men may not use the facilities of liberty to impair them. No man may invoke a right to order to destroy it. The right of free speech belongs to those who are willing to preserve it. The right to elect belongs to those who mean to transmit that right to their successors. The rule of the majority is morally justified only if another majority is free to reverse that rule.

To hold any other view than this is to believe that democracy alone, of all forms of government, is prohibited by its own principles from insuring its own preservation. It is high time that free men repudiated so preposterous a doctrine. There is nothing in the principles of democracy which requires a people to surrender democracy or relieve them of the obligation to defend it.

In many countries in the world today there are armed bands of men, using the democratic liberties of free assembly and of free speech to organize for the overthrow of democratic liberties. Is there any doubt that democratic governments have the right to suppress them? If they become strong that they have the duty to suppress them? That there is no democratic right to destroy democracy and that revolutionists against democracy may be tolerated only if they are so weak as to be negligible?

A free nation can tolerate much and ordinarily toleration is its best defense. It can tolerate feeble Communist parties and feeble Fascist parties as long as it is certain that they have no hope of success. But once they cease to be debating

LINK FISCH WITH RANSOM MONEY

Two persons, Benjamin Heier (left) and Mrs. Bertha Hoff (center), sought to show in testimony for the Bruno Hauptmann defense that leader Fisch, now dead, obtained the $50,000 ransom money paid by Dr. J. F. Condon and attempted to dispose of it. Heier said he saw Fisch jump over the wall at St. Raymond's cemetery the night the ransom was paid, while Mrs. Hoff testified Fisch visited her "with bundles" around Thanksgiving day, 1933. Joseph Tartell (right) was another witness called by the defense. (Associated Press Photo)

There was an increase in world deaths from plague in 1933 of 27,000 over the previous year.

societies and become formidable organizations for action, they present a challenge which it is suicidal to ignore. They use liberty to assemble force to destroy liberty. When that challenge is actually offered, when it really exists in the judgment of the sober and the well informed, it is a betrayal of liberty not to defend it with all the power that free men possess.

INCOME TAX IN A NUTSHELL

WHO? Single persons who had net income of $1,000 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more, and married couples who had net income of $2,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns.

WHEN? The filing period begins Jan. 1 and ends March 15, 1935.

WHERE? Collector of internal revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

HOW? See instructions on forms 100A and 1040.

WHAT? Four percent normal tax on the amount of net income in excess of the personal exemption, credit for dependents, earned income credit, dividends of domestic corporations subject to taxation, and interest on obligations of the United States and obligations of instrumentalities of the United States. Surplus on surtax net income in excess of $4,000.

INCOME TAX DON'TS

DON'T prepare your return without first studying the instructions on the form.

DON'T procrastinate. Early assembling of data permits a careful consideration of all tax problems.

DON'T destroy the memoranda from which your return was prepared.

DON'T omit explanation when such information is essential to an intelligent audit. Attach memoranda to your return.

NO. 5 NORMAL TAX AND SURTAX RATES

The Revenue Act of 1934 provides for only one normal tax rate, that is, 4 percent on the amount of the net income in excess of the allowable credits such as the personal exemption, credit for dependents, etc. The act provides for an additional credit for the purpose of the normal tax of an earned income credit, that is, 10 percent of the amount of the earned net income, but not in excess of 10 percent of the amount of the net income. The personal exemption and credit for dependents are also allowable as credits against net income for the purpose of the surtax, the resulting net income being designated "surtax net income." The surtax is imposed on surtax net incomes in excess of $4,000. The rates increase in accordance with the amount of surtax net income included in varying so-called surtax brackets. On a surtax net income of $4,000 or less there is no surtax. On a surtax net income in excess of $4,000 and not in excess of $6,000, the rate is 4 percent of such excess. The surtax upon a surtax net income of $6,000 is $60 and upon a surtax net income in excess of $6,000 and not in excess of $8,000 the rate is 5 percent of such excess in addition to the $60, or a surtax of $180 upon a surtax net income of $8,000. The surtax on a surtax net income of $10,000 is $360, and upon a surtax net income in excess of $10,000, 50 percent of the maximum rate, is applicable to such excess, in addition to the $360. Many taxpayers make the error of applying the maximum rate instead of the rate provided for in the bracket in which their surtax net income is included.

Following is an example of how to compute the tax on a net income of $8,500, all of which represents earned net income, the taxpayer being single and without dependents:

Net income	$8,500
Less personal exemption	1,000
Balance (surtax net income)	7,500
Earned income credit	850
Net income subject to normal tax	6,650
Surtax at 4 percent on amount of surtax net income in excess of $4,000 but not over $6,000, 4 percent on $2,000	80
Total surtax	155
Normal tax, 4 percent on $6,650	266
Total normal tax and surtax	421

Taxpayers are advised to read carefully the instruction on form 1040 relating to the earned-income credit and surtax, as well as all other instructions thereon, before preparing their returns.

Brother Pascual

A RAPID-FIRE ROMANCE BY EVAN EVANS

CHAPTER 11 IN DURAYA

The friar walked or ran most of the way south; and he seemed to spend more energy pulling the mule after him than in getting his own bulk over the ground. Only when the way was level and there was a chance for a lopsided or a brick trot would he step into the saddle and ride the mule through the dust which the horses raised.

"Why does he do it?" asked Montana. "Once a mule that was carrying him through the mountains slipped on a frozen rock and broke its leg," answered Rubric. "Since then he takes pity on four-legged beasts. I had to stamp and rage to make him ride, on the way north with me. Even then he would not take a horse. A mule was too good for him, he said. You see, he is but a child."

"A child that moves mountains," said Montana. "But why did he come north with you?" "He had heard the thousand stories about you, brother. He was hungry to see your face. That will make him a great man with the shepherds and the villagers."

"Ah! So that was the reason!" murmured Montana. But through he smiled, the first doubt had entered his soul, coldly. He saw that he would have to be in his guard from now on.

As they came through the hills his view of Duraya, the sunset faded and died quickly. It made the white walls of the town bloom for a moment. It made the looping river run red. Then the soft twilight rose out of the valley, overflew the hills, invaded the sky, and brought down the stars.

"You tell me, Brother Pascual," said Montana. "Shall I pass as a true Mexican cowboy?" "Why not, dear friend?" asked the friar. "Your hair is black. And now that you have rubbed a little of that stain into your skin, you are dark as most. Your hair is already black, and as for the blue eyes, those are found in Mexico often enough."

"Besides, the red mare is the sort of horse that a famous charge would ride. And you have a suit of yellow leather with silver spangles all over it. The good Mexican speech comes so easily off your tongue that even I, who know, at times, forget the truth about you."

"Tell me, also," said Montana, laughing. "If you think that you could ever really open your heart to a gringo?" "After a long pause the friar said: "I can at least try, my friend. All men are the children of one God. So I can at least try!"

In Duraya they separated.

town, and the mare passed like a sheen of red silk through the lamp light that passed out a few steps from the door and window.

She went daintily, sniffing at the myriad odors of man and cookery and dogs and pigs and chickens that crossed and recrossed in the air, besides that other scent which sometimes made her throw her head high as she perceived the acrid air from the mountain desert blown in from afar.

Her rider sat crosswise, with his left leg thrown over the highommel of the saddle. He carried under his arm a guitar which he had picked up cheap in a musicshop. Now that it was tuned, he struck out a few soft chords and then let his voice start ringing in a very old Spanish song.

That song penetrated into the inn of Miguel Santos, where every chair around the little tables was filled and cigar butts lay about everywhere on the earthen floor and the lamplight showed nothing very clearly except the faces of the dirty playing-cards and the lower twists and whorls of smoke.

Miguel Santos himself had stepped out from behind his little bar and had gone into the small, back room where the more serious games of chance were in progress. (To Be Continued)

Under The Dome At Austin

By GORDON K. SHEARER

AUSTIN (UP)—State employees were placed on the "spot" this week.

Each employe received a questionnaire containing this embarrassing question: "Are you satisfied with your present salary?"

How to answer the question was a puzzle.

"If I answer that I'm satisfied," said one employe, "I can't expect to get a restoration of any of my salary cut that was made last year."

"If I say I'm not satisfied I may be told that the department in which I work will find some one who will be satisfied with my present salary."

One employe, incensed at the questionnaire, threatened boldly to write (he didn't) this answer: "No one is satisfied with his present salary. But that does not mean he does not want to keep it if he can't get more."

The questionnaire was traced to Sen. John S. Redditt of Lufkin, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. This committee is gathering information to use in making a departmental appropriation bill which will fix salaries to be paid for two years, beginning Sept. 1.

Former Governor "Alfalfa" Bill Murray of Oklahoma made a hit with Texas legislators when he addressed them, but batted .000 with newspaper folk.

So impressed were the legislators with the bizarre Oklahoma's speech that there is now talk around capitol halls concerning a chair of something or other for him at the

Movie Job Cheap

Gov. Allred is too wary to pin himself down to a fixed pardon policy.

Allred realizes that circumstances alter cases. He discourages personal appeals for clemency, but qualifies his attitude with the statement that he does not intend to slam the door against relatives of convicts.

The governor said, however, that relatives' appeals will be futile unless based upon facts discovered after a court and jury had passed on the case.

"I do not think it is fair to jurors," the governor said, "for persons to make an appeal to them to recommend clemency when it in effect impeaches the verdict they gave in the case."

As a general rule, he said, he will follow recommendations of the State Board of Pardons and Paroles. That rule, too, is subject to exception.

Texas legislators believe the State Intercollegiate League should pay more attention to the heroes of Texas and the Southern Confederacy.

By regulation the legislators have asked for patriotic essays and declamation topics in league contests.

New Minister Is Welcomed By Party

Members of St. Mary's Episcopal church gathered at the Parish house Thursday evening for a party to meet and visit socially with the new rector, the Rev. Paul Walter Henckell.

Rev. W. H. Martin of Stamford, former pastor, was also an honor guest of the evening.

A large group of members and friends of the church were present. At the close of the evening refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and coffee were passed by the members of the Women's Auxiliary.

"Your committee will do well to foster a tax on all dogs or to insist that the relief commission bar dogs from relief, as Kentucky does."

The average electric rate in Texas is 6.2 cents per kilowatt hour, Dr. R. H. Montgomery, collaborator on Gov. Allred's utility regulation bill, has determined. Dr. Montgomery expects to see the rate halved, giving Texas householders current at 3.1 cents per kilowatt hour.

In the press room the talk is not so favorable. Murray exhibited one of his famous "peevish" when reporters attempted to question him. A girl reporter said the former governor told her: "Tell your paper to go to hell."

Controversies that have raged about campaigns against coyotes and armadillos probably will be nothing compared to the story expected to arise if the game committee of the House of Representatives needs a suggestion from Santo, Tex.

"In this small community," F. L. Craddock wrote to the committee, "practically every family on relief rolls now has from one to four dogs, while a year ago they had practically no dogs."

"If the dogs are properly fed, they are fed at the expense of the taxpayers. If they are not fed properly, they are a menace to game and to people."

Big Spring To Ask For Meet

Big Spring will make a bid for the sectional basketball tournament to be held Feb. 15 and 16, in a meeting at Sweetwater Saturday afternoon with B. H. McLain, director in this district.

The tournament was held at Colorado last year.

It is understood here that Abilene has asked for the other sectional meet. The Big Spring crew will be among the favored teams, but will by no means be top-heavy favorites.

The defense lawyer learned seemingly to a report, which County Attorney Smith said was correct, that Sheriff Cato had been informed that the movements of several armed strangers at the veterinary hospital were peculiar. There were private statements that the sheriff was led to believe or for other reasons suspected that city gangsters had invaded the little town. He did not know the federal agents were there, it was said.

Stafford's body was held in Post Thursday night. Funeral directors awaited word from his widow whether to send the body to Fort Worth or New York City. The Staffords were childless.

A registered pharmacist and a chemist, Stafford had been in the narcotics bureau since 1923, the last two years in the Texas division, of which Williams is supervisor. Before coming to Texas Stafford had served as an agent in New York and Florida.

He was born and reared in upper
New York state. Going to New York City, he worked as a chemist in a municipal department, as a pharmacist for a large chain drug company, and for a while had a store of his own. He sold it in 1920 and entered the treasury's narcotics division.

through his heart.

Within close range of the submachine gun, McCullough had not attempted to draw his pistol.

As he was mortally wounded, by four 45 caliber bullets, all of which went through him, Stafford had his head clasped in one hand. The bullet plowed in the dust beside him.

The man informer said he had grasped Acting Deputy Morgan's arm and forced it upward, as Morgan had a drawn pistol.

Only shots fired were those from Cato's machine-gun.

Authoritative information was that several minutes elapsed after Stafford had dropped before Cato was convinced by McCullough, seemingly for the first time, that McCullough and the dead man were government agents. They hid the body in the sheriff's automobile and took it to an undertaking establishment.

Examine Body

There Dr. D. C. Williams, a Post physician, examined the body about 11:30 o'clock, half an hour after the shooting.

Besides the bullet that sped through Stafford's left shoulder, one through his right hand and forearm and, striking his right chest at the seventh rib, glanced around the bonework without penetrating the cavity and emerging from the back, another penetrated the abdomen, ranged moderately downward and came out the right hip. All pellets emerged the examining physician said.

Soon after the shooting, Sheriff Cato said he had fired in self defense. County Attorney Smith confirmed that the sheriff had made the statement orally.

Asked for a statement, Sheriff
Cato later said:

"I have nothing to say. You'll have to see my attorney."

The sheriff returned to the courthouse. On January 1, he began his fifth term as sheriff of Garza county, he said.

After declining to make a statement, N. C. Outlaw, a Post attorney engaged by Cato, said:

"Very Regrettable"

"The only statement we care to make about the incident is that it is very regrettable, but under the

Flaws—

While everyone waits restlessly for the Supreme Court's gold clause decision, another interesting bit of argument in furtherance of the government's case is current around Washington. Senator Borah, who is steeped in the Constitution,
holds this view.

Briefly, it is that no congress ever has the right to commit future congresses as to what weight of gold dollar should be used in paying off such federal contracts as currency, bonds, etc. Some lawyers are making the point that the constitution gives congress the right to regulate our currency; therefore, one congress may not specify at what rate of gold content a future assembly of the national legislature should redeem government obligations. This, of course, would apply to private contracts also if the reasoning is right.

In any event administrationists are not unduly worried about the court's decision, even if it should be entirely or largely against them. They are confident that the silver men in black would notice in their opinion how congress could correct any legal flaws that might be found in the gold devaluation act. Then the government could immediately petition for a rehearing. The court would take this under advisement—and congress would have several weeks in which to remedy any errors.

But the betting is still on the government's side.

Finesse—

Reports that Sec. of Interior Ickes will resign because of the kicking around congress has given him appear to be a little premature at best.

President Roosevelt, in common with all other executives, won't have a break in his cabinet family if it can possibly be avoided. Too many embers always are stirred into flame.

Ickes is a fighter and he has his back up now. He hardly would resign unless politely asked.

Washington's guess is that if hostile Congressmen finally get at him there will be no change until next summer when the so-called solons have gone home and everything can be arranged quietly with the customary Roosevelt finesse.

Homes—

The Federal Housing Administration is now installed in new quarters and is expanding rapidly.
Banks and building loan associations are coming forward with applications for mortgage insurance.
With the $100,000,000 revolving fund available the RFC is about to finance mortgage loan associations and set in motion the circle of debenture issues which will have the effect of making mortgage investments liquid instead of frozen.

Twenty-six million home-owners with $21,000,000,000 in mortgages hanging over them are now enabled to refinance their obligations on a long-term low-interest basis.
The system "catches on" immediately it is better understood, Federal mortgage insurance is a practical relief measure without experimental or emotional theory—and it is a permanent reform affecting the whole field of home ownership, including new construction.

the American Federation of Government Employees, had an embarrassing moment before the Con-

Stanton, Gail In Application For PWA Funds

Stanton and Gail Friday announced applications for PWA funds with which to construct dams, roads, sewage and water systems and a library.

Borden county will ask for $105,
000 for two dams. County Judge L.
A. Pierce said Friday from Gail.

He said that application for a secondary project would be made for roadway extending north and south through the county to fit in to the proposed Claude to Del Rio highway which would pass through here.

Martin county application for a road from Stanton to Lamesa totals $125,000. Applications have not been filed on applications for extension of the sewage and water system, and a library. The Stanton sewage system was installed recently as a PWA project.

Martin County Judge William A.
Denton said Friday morning that applications on the other projects coming out of Stanton would be fixed soon. He indicated interest in a proposed road from Stanton to Andrews.

The Borden county dams would include one to be located on Mes-quite creek north of Gail to be used for irrigation purposes. The other would be to impound water near Gail for recreational purposes and a water supply for the town, said Judge Pierce.

DID YOU KNOW?

That less than 5% of all the school children, examined in Howard County through an official survey in the spring of 1934, were normal both from a physical and a dental standpoint?

And that now in 1935, practically nothing has been done about it?

That Eighty per cent of rheumatic cases are caused directly by diseased teeth or tonsils?

That Sixty per cent of organic heart cases are caused by diseased teeth and tonsils?

That seventy per cent of the people who are fifty years old are wearing false teeth?

Believing that the average person is eager to know what can be done to prevent disease, it is our purpose to spread the knowledge of dental and physical salvation wherever it is possible.
