Important Notice

The U. S. Treasury Department has announced an issue of 4 1/2 per cent Treasury Bonds of 1947-52.

4 1/2 per cent Victory Notes, the numbers of which are prefixed by the letters A, B, C, D, E, or F, have been called for redemption, and interest on these notes will cease on December 15th, 1922. Victory Notes, whether called or uncalled, will be accepted in payment of the 4 1/2 per cent Treasury Bonds of 1947-52. Holders of Victory Notes prefixed by any of the above letters should plan to have their Victory Notes exchanged for the new Treasury Bonds, or redeem them on or before December 15th, 1922.

The issue of Treasury Bonds is a refunding issue and it affords a particularly favorable opportunity to holders of 4 1/2 per cent Victory Notes to acquire a long-time Government bond on attractive terms in place of Victory notes which will mature or be redeemed within the next few months.

We will be glad to assist you in making the exchange, or accepting your subscription for Treasury Bonds.

COCA MERINGUE PIE

1/2 cupful cocoa
1/2 cupful sugar
4 tbsps. cornstarch
2 cupfuls milk
2 eggs
3-4 tsp. vanilla
6 tbsps. sugar
1-8 tsp. salt
Pastry

Line a medium sized pie plate with pastry, having a fluted edge, and bake at 500 degree F. for twelve minutes. Scald the milk in the top of a double boiler. Mix together the cocoa, cornstarch and salt, and pour the scalded milk over it. Return to the double boiler and cook for twenty-five minutes. Combine the egg yolks slightly beaten, and the one-half cupful sugar and pour the milk mixture over it. Cook five minutes longer. Cool, add one-half teaspoonful of vanilla and turn into the baked pastry shell. Cover with a meringue made from the egg whites, six tablespoonfuls of sugar and one-fourth teaspoonful of vanilla. Brown at 300 degrees F. for fifteen minutes.

Dr. Joseph C. Jones Elected President of the North Texas and Santa Fe Railroad

At the regular election of officers of the Spearman branch of the Santa Fe, which was held in Spearman last week, Doctor Joseph C. Jones of this place was tendered and accepted the presidency of the line, so we are informed by the newly elected president, who is justly proud of the high honor bestowed upon him. This position, carrying great responsibility, keen foresight and business ability, came as a great surprise to the doctor and his friends, and also wholly unexpected and unsolicited. However, it seems that those who are high up in Santa Fe circles recognized in the energetic young doctor, who has been in Santa Fe physical for some time, those qualities which are required to make a successful railroad executive. The doctor is now predicting that his friends will hold him responsible to a great degree for the existing high freight rates and the high rates for cars, and one reporter predicts that they will rejoice with him in his good fortune and that a greater menace to him will be the demand for passes by his life long friends.

PT. WORTH MULE BUYERS HERE

Parker Jamison, representing Ross Brothers, well known mule buyers of Fort Worth, spent several days in the Spearman country the past week. Mr. Jamison bought 38 head of mules of R. B. Archer and Jim Slavin. He was accompanied by Bill Hughes of Texhoma.

Jesse and Madison Womble returned Monday from Chelsea, Oklahoma, where they were summoned the forepart of last week by the serious illness of J. F. Wamble. Jesse reports that his father is improving nicely.

Geo. L. Arcock and Agery Campbell of Texhoma, were looking after business matters in Spearman Tuesday.

AN OPERA HOUSE FOR SPEARMAN

S. B. Hale informs the Reporter that one of the fine new brick buildings he is having erected on Main street, will be used as a show house. Mr. Hale will have this building fitted up in first class shape for the staging of the regular run of shows which come this way. A new stage will be erected, dressing rooms will be provided and the room will be seated in a way to accommodate a crowd of about 300 people very comfortably. It will also be used for moving pictures. This show house will be a great thing for the home talent plays, as parties who wish to put them on have been handicapped considerably since the old show house burned, by having no suitable stage and room for seating the audience.

SANTA FE OFFICIALS VISITS SPEARMAN

Spearman was honored on Thursday of last week by a visit of a large party of Santa Fe officials and a number of their friends. They came in their private cars and spent a greater portion of the day here. The object of the visit to Spearman was to hold the annual election of officers of the North Texas and Santa Fe. Among those in the party were: F. A. Lehman, vice-president and general manager; F. M. Myers, assistant general manager; E. C. Blanchard, engineer; T. J. MacKie, superintendent; J. N. Freeman, secretary and treasurer; H. C. Brock, trainmaster; E. E. Macbavee, mechanical superintendent. Among the visitors with the Santa Fe party were: A. W. Wheatley of the Amarillo Bank and Trust Company, and Judge Maddox of Amarillo.

KEEPING HUMAN MACHINERY IN REPAIR

Everybody knows the danger threatened the railroads of the country last summer when the shopmen went on strike. A blow had been directed against the very heart of the transportation system. Repair of locomotives and rolling stock generally was interfered with; it was a question as to how long the trains could be kept running unless the work of the shopmen should be done in some way. Loyal assistance of other railroad employees and newly enlisted men provided the needed relief and the trains were kept running with only limited exceptions.

The necessity of keeping machinery in repair and of regular inspection to detect possible breakage or weaknesses is recognized by every industry, by every individual who has to do with some kind of mechanical device, such as a watch or motor car. But the remarkable thing is that the same idea has not carried over to a greater extent in the human machinery. A man who may be most diligent in attention to the mechanism of his car is neglectful of the mechanism of his own body or the bodies of his children.

on the future of health conditions in this country, Lee K. Frankel, a vice president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, showed that the promise of continued improvement in bodily welfare and the control of disease will be determined by the regularity of attention to individual health, or periodic physical examination. Medical authorities who are launching an immense campaign of information next week on the subject of cancer stress the fact that failure of persons afflicted with this disease to consult a reputable physician in time leads to thousands of unnecessary deaths in the United States each year. Many other forms of disease are insidious in their approach; the sufferer, whose health or life may be seriously endangered, may not be aware that anything at all is amiss.

Mr. Frankel mentions some of the startling conditions that have been discovered by physical examination of various groups of people. There is the well known case of the tests of men drafted in the late war. Another was that of 1,000 employees of the insurance company of which Mr. Frankel is an official. Two hundred and forty-five, nearly one-fourth the number, showed defects in heart, lungs and kidneys. Another examination of one hundred postal employees in regular service revealed that twelve of the number were seriously defective; that fifty-three were in need of regular medical or surgical attention; that thirty-three had defects calling for correction, and that "not one of the one hundred examined was free from some slight physical defect or impairment."

That the right kind of attention to defects revealed by examination may have highly beneficial results was shown when 53 per cent of the imperfections of the group of life insurance company employees were eliminated at the end of one year of competent medical service. Similar experiments with a group of policy holders in the company brought a reduction of 28 per cent in mortality in five years.

How to make the means to health and longer life available to all the people will be one of the big problems of the next few decades. Mr. Frankel's discussion indicates. The schools, particularly city schools, have made vast strides in providing for health examination of pupils, for health instruction and for cooperation with parents in removing defects that may be discovered in the children. Many industrial plants have seen the value in furnishing, either free or through a nominal annual fee, medical advice and service to their employees. But with these and other advances, there are still millions of persons who, because of ignorance, indifference or inability, fail to get the benefit of reliable medical assist-

Struck by Roof of Chicken House

A very serious accident happened to Mrs. Carl J. Hays on the farm about 5 P. M., Saturday evening, in which three vertebrae of the neck were dislocated and she was paralyzed from the neck down. At the hour mentioned Mrs. Hays went to the chicken house to close the door as the wind was blowing a hurricane. When a few rods from the building the wind lifted the roof and the unfortunate woman was struck on the back of the neck and knocked to the ground, the roof falling on her, she lying in this position for nearly half an hour. Her little son, Edmund, six or seven years old, when his mother did not return, kept calling, as by this time it was dark and he could not find her.

She could hear the boy calling and answered him but on account of the serious injury her voice was so weak that he could not hear her. The little son then set out to find his father who was in the field endeavoring to weight some stacks to keep them from blowing away, telling him that he could not find his mother. Mr. Hays hastened to the home and soon discovered his wife under the wrecked roof of the chicken house. She was at once removed to the home and a physician hastily summoned. The unfortunate woman was found to be perfectly conscious but completely paralyzed from the neck down and in a very precarious condition. All possible aid was extended for her relief and on Monday she was taken to the hospital at Dodge City with the hope of readjustment of the dislocated vertebrae and her permanent recovery.—Meade Globe-News.

Makes Chickens Pay

Gus Gustafson of this place is making the chicken business a paying proposition. Last spring he started in with 175 hens mostly Rhode Island Reds. With reasonably good care he has been able to market $200 worth of eggs, about $100 worth of young roosters and has 400 pullets left which he will keep. Besides this he has had all the eggs the family cared to use and they have eaten chickens until he is almost ashamed to look an old hen in the face.

He expects to keep 500 hens for the next year's start.—Huzoton Hermes.

Report Discovered Gold

It is currently reported in Meade that gold has been discovered in Clark county in paying quantities running as high as $65 per ton on assay. Our neighboring county on the east has been extremely fortunate as to reported discoveries, as it will be remembered several months ago a 5-foot vein of coal was said to have been found in the northeast part of that county. It is our wish that both reports may prove to be true.—Meade Globe-News.

Making Sugar at Garden City

The Garden City sugar makers are busy these days making sugar out at the sugar factory just west of the city. The factory is running night and day and a great quantity of the sweet stuff is being turned out each day. The campaign of sugar making is now about one-third over, the same having started about three weeks ago.

The beets, which are being ground into sugar this year are of higher grade and the percentage of sugar is greater than the crops of former years, according to Mr. Gillespie of the Garden City Sugar Company.—Garden City Herald.

Allison Test is Causing Much Interest

Excitement has been running high in this community over the prospects at the Allison test well five miles north of town since drilling was resumed last Monday.

The gas has increased and is now estimated around six million feet and is said to be a sufficient quantity to supply several towns the size of Texhoma. At this time Thursday morning the bit is in a lime stone formation and every indication points to an oil producer. The well is now 2,700 feet deep and it is thought that oil sand will be found before the 2,800 foot mark is reached.

Large crowds are continually visiting the well and everybody is much excited over the prospects and we hope to be able to report an oil well before our next publication day.—Texhoma Times.

IT WAS A HELL RAISERS ELECTION

Broadly speaking, this is what might be called the hell raisers' year. The politician who represented revolt was the man the voters generally turned to.

Discontent and unrest have been widespread. The farmer, with the prices of what he sold cut to pieces and the prices of what he bought on high levels, was dissatisfied. Neither the worker nor the business man was happy. The burden of heavy taxes was resented.

Nor had the administration aroused enthusiasm by the character of many of its appointments. Men like Mont Reilly were a heavy load for it to carry.

The voters took out their resentment by flocking to the men who promised to kick the table over, even though these men could not possibly bring any real help.

The outcome is a warning to the party in power. If the administration fails to formulate a constructive program and to put it forward with sufficient force and plausibility to win its support, the warning will have been wasted. A policy of drift won't do. A policy of weak personal appointments won't do. A policy simply of formulating a good program alone won't do.

The administration must dress itself up with appointments of the highest class. It must propose a constructive program, particularly on taxation. And it must put sufficient driving power behind the program to sell it to the country. It still has two years for action. There is no time to waste.

Unless the warning of yesterday is heeded, this will be a period of administration, and 1924 will be another hell raisers' year.—Kansas City Star.

NEEDED A START

An Alabama darkey, who prided himself on being able to play any tune on the banjo after he had heard it once, perched himself on the side of the hill one Sunday morning and began to pick the strings in a workmanlike manner.

It chanced that the minister came along. Going up to Moses, he demanded harshly:

"Moses, do you know the Ten Commandments?"

Moses scratched his chin for a moment, and then, in an equally harsh voice, said:

"Parsons, jest yo' whistle the first three or four bars, and I'll have a try at it."

HOME

Here's where the sweetest laughter rings,
Here's where the praise is good,
Here's where the merriest rambles sing,
And not in the distant wood—
Here's at the end of my little street
Is all that maketh life's struggle sweet.

Here's where the fairest of blossoms grow,
Modest, and small and few,
Here is the friendliest tree I know,
Faithful and staunch and true,
Here in these walls by the weather stained,
Is all the splendor of life contained.

Here's where the mother and child await
The day and its toiling end,
Here by the side of our humble grate
We welcome our truest friend,
Over this roof as the years go by
Are the brightest stars and the clear-est sky.

Here are my dreams and the distant goal,
Here is the life I build,
This I am striving for, heart and soul,
Always and ever I want to see
Love at the window on watch for me.

Nothing of joy could my strength attain
If ever these walls should fall,
Comp and glory and wealth were vain
Were I to possess them all,
If there was no home on a little street
To make the struggle for victory sweet.

MAKING JAZZ USEFUL

Folks at Gulfport, Mississippi, keep their phonographs going all night. They have discovered that bats dislike jazz, so in order to drive them away from the homes and down to the bath houses along the shore where the bats are of great service in consuming mosquitoes, Gulfport at night sounds like the midway of a big city. Jazz is so popular that bats seek peace and mosquitoes and find both near the bath houses.

"Cruff!" retorted Sam scornfully. "Mose, you' sutenly is tho' shiftless boy, Me, I done got religio when de fust bomb bust."—American Legion Weekly.

MONEY IN YOUR POCKET

The following little sermon on thrift was clipped from an old newspaper by Mrs. J. W. Preston of Huzoton, who believes it is a good advice today as ever:

Hard as it seems, there's a good deal of truth in the saying that the best friend in the world is money in your pocket. Money in your pocket is the one thing that is as faithful as a dog. It asks no questions, demands no reference, never inquires into your moral character, does not care whether you are a deacon or a porch climber, never heeds and haws and looks the other way; but when you want anything, it goes and gets it for you, whether it's a hymn book or a sack of tobacco; when you're hungry it feeds you, when you're ragged, it clothes you, when you're tired, it furnishes you a bed, hence to be broke it had, it's worse.

SEWAGE GAS USED TO RUN ENGINES

Gas produced from sewage is being used to run engines at the sewage disposal works of Birmingham, England. Experiments made by John D. Watson, chief engineer, have proved successful, according to reports transmitted through consular channels. The sludge from the sewer, after it has undergone a certain amount of sedimentation, is fed into a septic gas producing tank, which is furnished with an air relief valve. The sludge is not aerated before it is used. The gas thus obtained contains about 60 per cent of methane or marsh gas and is of big calorific value. It averages as much as 675 British thermal units per cubic foot, which compares very favorably with coal gas with 600 British thermal units per cubic foot.

Mr. Watson calculates that two tons of sludge will produce the gas required to give 150 horsepower hours and that the total power available at that particular station could be raised if necessary to 6,000 horsepower hours daily. The gas produced at the plant is employed in driving a 25-horsepower engine, which in its turn works a centrifugal sludge pump. The exhaust from the engine is passed through pipes traversing the septic tank to supply heat and hasten the formation of gas. Samples of gas taken for analysis in cold weather had a higher calorific value than those taken in warmer weather, a fact which would seem to indicate that a warm climate is not essential for gas production. Queer Feelings

"Some time ago, I was very irregular," writes Mrs. Cora Robie, of Pikeville, Ky. "I suffered a great deal, and knew I must do something for this condition. and of others, who seemed to have the same troubles I had, being benefited, so I began to use it. I found it most beneficial. I took several bottles ... and was made so much better I didn't have any more trouble of this kind. It regulated me."

Cardui has been found very helpful in the correction of many cases of painful female disorders, such as Mrs. Robie mentions above. If you suffer as she did, take Cardui—a purely vegetable, medicinal tonic, in use for more than 40 years. It should help you. Sold Everywhere.

RECIPES AND HINTS

Pastry. Measure one and one-half cups of sifted pastry flour and sift together with one-half teaspoonful of salt and one-half teaspoonful of baking powder. Then measure one-third cupful of shortening—the easiest way being to fill your measuring cup two-thirds full of cold water; then drop in pieces of cold shortening, until the water level reaches the one cupful mark. Pour off the water, and one-third cupful of shortening remains. Work this shortening into the flour, using two knives in a cutting motion, until the particles of fat are the size of small peas and the whole resembles a coarse meal. As a next step add cold water very gradually, until enough has been added to make a stiff dough—about three to four tablespoons will be needed. Use a knife or spatula for working in the moistening. If there is time, it is always well to chill the pastry at this time. Toss it out on the mounding surface which has been floured slightly and pat into a long narrow sheet one-quarter inch thick. Then roll it up like a jelly roll, ready to cut off the pastry as needed from the end. Dust the board or the paste with flour when necessary but use no more flour than is absolutely required. If the mass slides on the board it will not stick.

Apple Pie. Line a smooth medium sized pie plate with pastry. Pare, core and cut five to six apples in eights and fill the plate with them. Mix one-third cup of sugar, one-fourth teaspoon nutmeg, one-eighth teaspoon of salt and one tablespoon of butter. Sprinkle dry ingredients over apples, dot with butter. Roll pastry over top one-eighth inch thickness. Bake forty minutes.

Cocoa Meringue Pie. 1/2 cupful cocoa 1/2 cupful sugar 4 tsp. cornstarch 2 cupfuls milk 2 eggs 2-4 tsp. vanilla 6 tsp. sugar 1-8 tsp. salt Pastry. Line a medium sized pie plate with pastry, having a fluted edge, and bake at 500 degrees F. for twelve minutes. Scald the milk in the top of a double boiler. Mix together the cocoa, cornstarch and salt, and pour the scalded milk over it. Return to the double boiler and cook for twenty-five minutes. Combine the egg yolks slightly beaten, and the one-half cupful sugar and pour the milk mixture over it. Cook five minutes longer. Cool, add one-half teaspoonful of vanilla and turn into the baked pastry shell. Cover with a meringue made from the egg whites, six tablespoonfuls of sugar and one-fourth teaspoon of vanilla. Brown at 300 degrees F. for fifteen minutes.

Cranberry and Prune Pie. 1 1/2 cupful cranberries 1c prunes 3-4c sugar 1 tsp. flour 1 tsp. butter Pastry. Mix together the cranberries and prunes soaked until soft and cut in small pieces, the sugar and the flour. Turn into a medium sized pastry lined pie plate, dot over with butter, cover with strips of pastry and bake for twenty minutes. This may be baked in a double crust if preferred.

Carrot Pie. 2 medium sized carrots 1 tsp. ginger 1 tsp. cinnamon 1/2 tsp. salt 2 eggs Pastry. Scrape the carrots, cut in small pieces and cook until very soft. Strain and force through a sieve. There should be one and one-half cupfuls of carrots. To the carrots add the spices, salt, sugar, eggs, well beaten and milk. Mix well together and pour into a pie plate lined with pastry having a fluted edge. Bake in a hot oven for ten minutes to set firm and in a cooler oven for thirty minutes until filling is set. One egg and one tablespoon fine crumbs may be used in place of two eggs.

Los Angeles Pie. 1c orange juice 2 eggs 2-3c granulated sugar 1 tsp. salt 3c chopped nut meats 2 1/2 tsp. flour 1 1/2 tsp. butter 6 tsp. sugar 1/2 tsp. vanilla Pastry. Line a small pie plate with pastry and bake for twelve minutes. Meanwhile mix together the two-thirds cupful sugar and orange juice slowly. Cook in the top of a double boiler till thick; cool and add nut meats. Turn this mixture into the baked pastry shell and top with a meringue using the egg whites, six tablespoonfuls of sugar and the vanilla. Bake at 300 degrees F. for fifteen minutes.

Lemon Sponge Tartlets. 3 tsp. butter 4 egg yolks 1c sugar 1/2 tsp. sugar 3 egg whites 4 1/2 tsp. flour 1 1/2c milk Grated rind and juice of 1/2 lemon Pastry. Line little patty-pans with pastry. Cream the butter and gradually beat thick and lemon colored and gradually whip into them the remaining ually whip mixture and beat sugar. Combine mixture and beat the whole extremely light. Stir the milk into flour and salt, and when smooth add to the first mixture and then fold in egg whites beaten stiff. Pour into pastry lined patty shell pans and bake for ten minutes in a hot oven and for fifteen minutes in a cooler oven.

Pot Cheese Cookies. 5 tsp. unaltered shortening 1/2 tsp. salt 1 lb. pot cheese 1c pastry flour Jam Cream the shortening, salt and pot cheese very thoroughly together. Then add the flour, gradually, blending it in well. Roll the resulting pastry out very thin, cut in diamonds and wet the edges with cold water. Place a tiny bit of jam in the center, fold over, press the edges together firmly and bake for about fifteen minutes. This recipe makes about thirty small cookies.

Cranberry Jelly. Pick over and wash four cupfuls of cranberries. Put into a stew-pan with two-cups of boiling water, cook and rub through a sieve. Add two cupfuls sugar and cook five minutes, turn into a mold or glass.

Apple Salad. Dissolve red cinnamon drops in a boiling syrup of sugar and water. Have ready large firm apples, peeled, cored, and sliced through the center crossways. Drop these in the red syrup and keep boiling and turning until they are red and transparent. Remove carefully with skimmer. When cool place on lettuce leaves with small end up. Fill centers with chopped celery and nuts. Put one tablespoon of mayonnaise dressing mixed with whipped cream on top and if desired garnish with maraschino cherries.

residences of the defendants are as above-stated either unknown or they are non-residents of the State of Texas.

Plaintiff states as his cause of action against all of the defendants the following:—

I. That on the first day of October, A. D. 1922, plaintiff was lawfully seized and possessed of the tract of land hereinafter described situated in the County of Hansford, State of Texas, holding the same in fee simple; that on the day and year last aforesaid, defendants entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiff therefrom and unlawfully withholds from plaintiff the possession thereof to his damage $15,000.00; that the premises so entered upon and unlawfully withheld from plaintiff by defendants, are known and described as follows: All of section No. 190, in Block No. 45, Certificate 46-6324, original grantee, Houston and Texas Central Railway Company, containing 640 acres of land.

II. Plaintiff shows that L. L. Medlin is the common source of title to said premises; that the said L. L. Medlin died intestate in the County of Hansford and State of Texas, seized and possessed, among other lands, the premises herein described; that on the 24th day of March, 1919, all of the heirs at law of the said L. L. Medlin, deceased, save and except the defendants, Walter McKean and Hume McKean, filed their suit in the District Court of Hansford County for a partition among said heirs of the real property hereunto to the Estate of the said L. L. Medlin, deceased, against the said Walter McKean and Hume McKean, defendants in said suit, said partition proceeding including the premises hereinbefore described that in said cause, being suit No. 181 in the District Court of Hansford County, Texas, judgment was rendered on the 22nd day of April, 1919, in which the court found that the lands of said estate were incapable of a just, fair and equitable division and that the best interest of said owners required that the same be sold at private sale for not less than $15.00 per acre, one-half cash and the remainder in not to exceed five equal annual payments at 6 per cent per annum, the deferred payments to be secured by the vendor's lien upon said land, and appointed A. F. Barkley and H. E. Hoover as Commissioners to sell said land at such price, and ordering that the money arising from the sale of said land be paid by said Commissioners to the respective parties in said suit according to their interest; that thereafter the said Commissioners duly qualified as such under the orders of the Court, and on December 9, 1919, the said Commissioners sold and deeded said land under the orders of the Court theretofore obtained, confirming said sale to C. C. Patten for the sum of $57,600.00, $28,800.00 paid in cash and the remainder evidenced by his five promissory notes, each for the sum of $5,760.00, payable on or before one, two, three, four and five years from date, with interest from date at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, interest payable annually; that said C. C. Patten, after the purchase of the same, had the tract of land herein conveyed to L. C. Kountz, who thereafter by proper deed of conveyance and for proper consideration, conveyed the same to the plaintiff herein.

Plaintiff further shows that all of the heirs of said L. L. Medlin, deceased, joined as plaintiffs in said partition suit and have received their distributive share of the money arising from said sale and paid by the said C. C. Patten to the said commissioners, save and except the defendants, Walter McKean and Hume McKean, they at said time and now being non-residents and their whereabouts being unknown, their distributive share in said estate being held in the proper custody of said Commissioners, ready to be paid over to them when they can be found.

Plaintiff further shows that all of the heirs of said estate including the defendants herein, save and except the two McKeans have not only received their distributive share of the proceeds arising from such sale, but have attempted to ratify said sale so made, all the heirs of the said L. L. Medlin, deceased, save and except the defendants herein having heretofore properly and legally ratified and confirmed said sale.

Plaintiff further shows that the said C. C. Patten purchased said land in good faith and paid the full value therefor and was and is entitled to be vested with the legal title thereto as against all of said defendants and all of the heirs of the said L. L. Medlin, deceased, including the said Walter McKean and Hume McKean and plaintiff further shows that the said C. C. Patten in good faith conveyed the land herein mentioned to the said L. C. Kountz who likewise in good faith for a valuable consideration conveyed the same to this plaintiff. Plaintiff alleges that at the sale of the land by the Commissioners heretofore appointed by the District Court of Hansford County, Texas, that the said C. C. Patten paid full value for the same, and that each of the defendants, who were parties to said partition proceedings accepted their respective shares of the purchase price paid for the same, and that of the unpaid balance of the purchase price for said land, accruing to Isaac Medlin and his heirs after his death, that said heirs and defendants herein have received their distributive shares of said deferred payments which had been made since the death of said Isaac Medlin, all of which they and each of them have appropriated and still retain, and have at all times recognized the validity of said sale and conveyance.

III. Plaintiff further shows the defendants herein claim title to said land as heirs at law of the said L. L. Medlin, deceased; that the Minor defendants herein to-wit, Opal Alene Medlin, Bessie Rose Medlin, Keeble Inez Medlin, Willie Fisher Medlin, Roy Morris Medlin and Cecil Hallie Medlin are the heirs at law and the only heirs at law of W. J. Medlin, deceased, and that the minors, J. M. Medlin, Jr., Oma Lena Medlin, Isaac Medlin, Joe Medlin, Sallie Ann Mildred Medlin and Cecil Jerome Medlin are the heirs at law and the only heirs at law of the said J. M. Medlin, deceased, and that the said W. J. Medlin, deceased, and the said J. M. Medlin, deceased, were the children of Isaac Medlin, a half brother of the said L. L. Medlin, and that the said Isaac Medlin, before his death not only joined in the prosecution of said partition suit as a plaintiff therein, but thereafter before his death received his distributive share of the moneys paid by the said C. C. Patten for said land and at the time of his death was estopped by reason of his own acts to question the validity of said judgment or the validity of the title which passed therein to the said C. C. Patten and he being estopped, the said Minor Heirs are likewise estopped to claim title to said land, or to claim that the title as against them did not pass to and become vested in the said C. C. Patten and thru him vested in this plaintiff.

Plaintiff further shows that all the other defendants herein, save and except the two McKeans, having received their distributive share of the proceeds of said sale are thereby estopped in law to claim title to said land, or that good title to the same did not become vested in the said C. C. Patten and thru him become vested in this plaintiff.

Plaintiff further shows that by reason of the matters herein stated, good title passed to said C. C. Patten and thru him to this plaintiff as against the said defendants, Walter McKean and Hume McKean, all of said defendants claiming title to said land, if any as part of the heirs at law of the said L. L. Medlin, deceased.

Wherefore premises considered, plaintiff asks that the defendants herein be cited as the law directs to appear and answer herein; that upon the trial hereof the plaintiff be adjudged the title to said land as against all of said defendants and that the sale of said land by the said Commissioners to the said C. C. Patten and the sale by the said C. C. Patten to the said L. C. Kountz and the sale by the said L. C. Kountz to this plaintiff be in all things confirmed and that plaintiff be decreed the title and possession of said land as against all of said defendants and all persons claiming under them, or either of them since the common consent of this suit, for costs and general relief.

Attorneys for Plaintiff. Herein Fall Not, and have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. Given Under My Hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Hansford this 16th day of October A. D. 1922. Seal KEESSE C. NESBITT, Clerk District Court, Hansford County.

WHEN BULL SNAKE AND RATTLESNAKE MEET.

One evening in summer several years ago, writes a contributor, while I was on my way to look at a trawling line that I had set for whitefish in the North Platte river, I observed a commotion among my sheep, which were grazing near by. I knew at once that a rattlesnake was among them for I could hear the rattles, but a moment or two later near the bank of the river I heard a noise of a different kind. On hurrying toward it, I found a huge bull snake that was lashing his head hither and thither in a frenzied attempt to discharge an overgrown toad.

Just then I remembered the rather common tradition that bull snakes and rattlers are deadly enemies, and, grabbing the big fellow and thrusting him into a burlap bag I had expected to put my fish into, I ran at top speed to the place where I had heard the rattler. I found him and he was a gigantic fellow, thickset, powerful of jaw and at least six feet long.

I dropped my bag and out came the bull snake, free from the toad. He advanced threateningly toward me, but in a moment the rattlesnake sounded his rattles, and like a flash his head a foot or more, he remained quite motionless as if he was listening. Another buzz perhaps twenty feet away and the bull snake knew where his enemy was. With a rush as if he were dropping from a height, he started for the rattler which turned and fled, fearing that he would disappear into a hole. I ran to head him off, but the precaution was not necessary. The bull snake quickly gained on him. When the snakes were perhaps six feet apart they stopped and remained perfectly still. At the end of maybe a minute the rattlesnake suddenly drew himself into a coil, and the bull snake started to circle the quarry, keeping about six feet from it. Gradually the bull snake moved faster and decreased the size of the circle, and all the while among the coils at the center there was a humming and a buzzing of rattles such as I had never heard before. The flat triangular head of the rattler was almost hidden, and lifted only occasionally; whenever it did lift, the little eyes would blaze and scintillate.

When the bull snake had almost encircled his foe with his length he suddenly drew himself together in a coil like that of his victim's, and from the midst of it raised and lowered his glistening, egg-shaped head. Never had I imagined so much fury, such terrible ferocity! The two writhing masses approached each other, and the hissing and the rattling ceased. The head of the rattlesnake began warily to emerge. Then the two heads lifted a foot and came together with an impact almost like that which a base ball bat makes when it strikes a base ball. For a time both snakes were so active that you could not see which had hold of the other. The two masses intertwined and lashed and tumbled and thrashed the earth too rapidly for the eye to follow. Then the movements became almost imperceptibly less violent, and I could see that the bull snake had hold of his antagonist two inches behind the head. The rattler was vainly trying to embed his fangs in his adversary. Both fangs, almost on inch long, were in plain sight. His head almost flat; his heady eyes looked as if they would shoot out like his forked tongue.

Suddenly the bull snake made a terrific plunge, and his entire length shot to the other side of his enemy, which now lay stretched in the opposite direction. For a moment both lay outstretched, then the bull snake moved weakly away in the direction of the marsh. With his head bent back double the rattler writhed in his last throes. I followed the victor, but he had not gone far before he stopped and drew his whole length into lumps almost like knots, then turned on his back. By the fading light I could see many little pricks, dark with blood. The venomous fangs of the rattler had pierced him in many places. Before long he ceased to move. I returned to the scene of the fight, and there lay the rattler dead. The big toad, the unwitting cause of the struggle, was the sole survivor of the tragedy.—Youth's Companion.

MY WATERLOO

I swore I'd never kiss a girl
Until I was engaged.
The freedom of the weaker sex
My instincts have enraged.
And so I kept unto my vow
Till Martha came in view
She played with me—delightfully,
What could a mere man do?
She had me tie her shoelace twice,
She had me fix her hair,
I took ten cinders from her eyes—
Though not a one was there.
We strolled along a garden path,
Her bobbed curls brushed my cheek,
I held her tightly—by the arm,
And to her thus did speak:
I swore I'd never kiss a girl
Until I was engaged.
She smiled at me—beguilingly—
And now we are engaged.

The State of Texas:
To the Sheriff, or Any Constable of Hansford County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon O. M. Stubben to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Hansford County, Texas, to be held at the courthouse thereof in the town of Hansford, on the third Monday in November, 1922, being the 20th day of November A. D. 1922, then and there to answer a petition filed in the said court on the 25 day of October A. D. 1922, in a suit numbered 264 on the docket thereof, wherein Security State Bank of Boreford S. Dakota, is plaintiff and O. M. Stubben is defendant, the cause of action being alleged as follows:

Plaintiff alleges that it is a State Banking Corporation, organized and existing under the laws of South Dakota, and the defendant is a non-resident of the State of Texas. That on or about February 8th, 1918, defendant made, executed and delivered to plaintiff his one certain vendors lien note for the principal sum of $1,439.00, said note dated Feb. 8, 1918, due one year after date, bearing interest at eight per cent per annum, and if interest not paid when due to bear same rate as principal, said note executed by O. M. Stubben, payable to Security State Bank, said note reciting that to secure the payment thereof, a vendor's lien was retained on the North one-half of Section 185, Block 2, Certificate 33-480, G. H. & H. Ry. Co. survey of lands, in Hansford County, Texas. Said note also providing for the payment of ten per cent additional as attorneys fees if placed in the hands of an attorney or sued upon. Plaintiff alleges that said note is past due and unpaid and amounts on November 8, 1922, to Two Thousand Two Hundred Eight and 49-100 Dollars. That plaintiff has been forced to employ an attorney to collect said note and has employed C. D. Works to bring suit on same. Wherefore said attorneys fees have become due and payable. Wherefore, plaintiff prays for judgment for its debt and a foreclosure of its lien upon the above described land, for an order of sale, costs of suit and relief general and special in law and equity.

You are further commanded to so summon defendant by making publication of this citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county; but if there be no newspaper published there in, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published. Herein fail not, but have you before said court, on the first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. Witness Keesee C. Nesbitt, Clerk of the District Court of Hansford County, Texas, this 25 day of October A. D. 1922.

KEESEE C. NESBITT,
Issued this the 25 day of October A. D. 1922.

THE SAWDUST HAS RUN OUT

The former kaiser maintains his mimic court at Doorn. He carries out a marriage ceremony in the trappings of royalty. Yet all his efforts only serve to remind the world what a false alarm he was.

In the days of his power he was full of big talk. He flashed the sword and rattled the saber. He pursued his shining way, he told the world, responsible only to God, from whom he had received his authority. Books of the kaiser's speeches were published in the United States. They were the utterances of a supreme egotist, a man drunk with power.

Here are some characteristic excerpts:

Remember that you are a chosen people. The spirit of the Lord has descended upon me because I am the German emperor.

I am the instrument of the Most High. I am His sword, His representative.

One death to those who resist my will; one death to those who do not believe in my mission; one death to cowards.

Perish all enemies of the German people. God requires their destruction. God who through my mouth commands you to execute my will.

I will walk among you, will be your God and you shall be my people.

Ye shall walk in all the ways which I have commanded you. Without me you can do nothing.

Then came the collapse of Germany's fighting forces. Instead of remaining with his soldiers, sharing his country's fate, meeting defeat with dignity, the all-highest, the representative of God on earth, turned tail and ran away. He scuttled to the Netherlands and there set up his imitation court.

STOP 'EM WITH SPIDERS

A woman in Altoona was sitting on her porch the other night eating pop corn out of a paper sack. It was after dark and she would take out a handful and throw it into her mouth, a good deal the way a man eats, when all of a sudden she discovered something in her kernel that didn't taste just like a kernel of pop corn, and behold it began to crawl. She ran into the house to the light and just as she started to spit out what she had in her mouth, something bit her on the tongue. But she got the object out and it proved to be a spider. Her tongue began to swell and she was unable to talk for several days. Since hearing about the incident, several married men in Altoona have been looking for spiders, and are also buying pop corn, but haven't heard of any more like instances. They may be waiting for the excitement to die down a little.
