Amelia Earhart Lands Safely In Mexico

Famed Flier Forced Down By Tiny Bug

Conqueror Of Two Oceans Finds Insect Worse Than Elements

MEXICO, D. F. (AP)—"Bugs get into your eyes," Amelia Earhart found to her sorrow Saturday and spoiled a non-stop flight from Los Angeles to Mexico City.

The tiny insect so blinded her that the famed conqueror of two oceans said as she arrived here Saturday 13-12 hours after taking off from the California city that she could not read her maps.

She had to land 60 miles short of her goal to get her bearings.

She removed the bug, fixed her eyes, got her bearings and hopped off again for Mexico City where 10,000 persons cheered her as she landed.

BURBANK, Cal. (AP)—Amelia Earhart rapidly neared her Mexico, D. F. goal Saturday on her good-will non-stop flight from California.

At 10:50 a. m. Central Standard Time, she had passed over Salina, in the state of Guanajuato, just east of Guadalajara. Perfect weather between Guadalajara and Mexico, D. F. was reported.

The toule-headed aviator maintained a regular but dimly-heard radio contact throughout the night with field operators here.

The conqueror of both the Pacific and the Atlantic and holder of the transcontinental non-stop record for women took off from the Union Air Terminal at 9:55 o'clock Friday night (11:55 p. m. Central Standard Time) and headed her big red monoplane for the capital city of the southern republic.

"Nothing sensational," she had hoped to depart unannounced and in a brief, quiet conversation before the takeoff, declared there was "nothing sensational about the flight."

"I'm not after any record," she said. "It's just a good will trip and I don't think I'm news for the flight."

The flier was bereaved as usual, as she climbed into the same plane which she used in her Pacific crossing. She was attired in brown slacks, a brown leather jacket and a white blouse.

Miss Earhart, who carried a cargo of mail, said she hoped to reach her destination in 12 or 13 hours and explained she was not seeking to erase the record of Leland Andrews of 8 hours and 9 minutes "because I haven't the equipment."

Originally Miss Earhart had planned to follow a direct compass course 1,700 miles to the Mexican capital, but after obtaining later weather information she decided to fly down the west coast, possibly swinging east.

News Behind The News THE NATIONAL Whirligig

Written by a group of the best informed newspapermen of Washington and New York. Opinions expressed are those of the writers and should not be interpreted as reflecting the editorial policy of this newspaper.

WASHINGTON By GEORGE DURNO

Private

Much talk is current these days that out of next month's gathering of mid-west Republicans may come a definite tipoff as to the 1936 G. O. P. presidential nominee.

"Take that idea with a grain of salt," say men who haven't failed in recent years to be in on the final decision.

Those in the Republican party who really should know say that when a man finally is selected as a best bet to oppose President Roosevelt it will be done in a completely unadvertised meeting of key men—and this huddle probably will be held in a New York City hotel suite.

Paving

The idea is that at a meeting of the real wire-pullers some time in the next few months a man will be agreed upon quietly who will be built up slowly under cover to get a majority of convention delegates.

Meanwhile some of those who first accepted the invitation to come together are beginning to have some private doubts as to the wisdom of such an early and well-ballyhooed meeting. This particularly is that of the boards of strategy backing candidacies of Republican aspirants which already have looked into the open.

Kansas Republicans Committee man John Hamilton called the May meeting with the announced idea of recognizing the majority party and putting a bit of fighting blood into it. There is a suspicion among Republicans from other sections that Hamilton and his associates want to pave the way for selection of a candidate from the middle west.

Booms

Those in charge may have called the Kansas assemblage for reorganizing purposes, it is pointed out, but all the king's horses won't be able to stop the political writers covering it from speculating on possible gains or losses for the reported candidacies of such as Col. Frank Knox, the Chicago publisher; Senator Arthur H. V. Watkins, of Mich.; Gov. Al Landon of Kansas, and others.

While the men in attendance are talking publicly about revitalizing the G. O. P. it is a safe bet they will find the reporters writing about it a bit quicker than they think.

Leaders

As for reorganizing the Republican party, wheelhorse laugh at it. They sum up the answer in one sentence "It isn't reorganization we need, it's leadership."

Thumbing past performances, they point out succinctly that Herbert Hoover pulled over 15,000,000 votes in 1932 and the G. O. P. congressional candidates polled over 13,000,000 last November. That last figure is an irreducible minimum which represents the real organized threat to the Democrats, they say.

Also, among the veterans talk about leadership they don't mean a man who is stamped as a 1936 candidate. Obviously he would be a magnetic target for the opposition.

Caution

General Hugh Johnson started off as boss of NRA with an ultra-prediction of the number of men he would have drawing pay by the following Labor Day. Secretary Interior Harold Ickes tackled Public Works Administration with a forecast he never was able to meet.

As it stands now, there is no

NRA Extension And Utilities Are Included

Social Security Made One Of Preferred Measures Before Congress

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Narrowing their "must" legislative list to a big bill Democratic congressional leaders Saturday planned a drive for speed, which they hoped would let them end the session before August.

The "must" bills were: Social security; NRA extension; utilities holding company legislation; banking; taxes; and an increase in funds for the Home Owners' Loan Corporation.

WASHINGTON, (UP)—The administration lashed out Saturday in a vigorous offensive intended to capture new deal objectives and put opposition to rout.

The action was taken in an effort to "gag" Long and prevent his taking up too much Senate time with his announced intention to "blast back Ickes' ears" Monday. Leaders intimated that if the plan works this time they may use it again.

Introduction of a compromise soldiers' bonus proposal by Senator Pat Harrison (Dem.) Mississippi, stanch party man, likewise was regarded as placing the administration on the offensive in settling that troublesome question.

The social security bill was added to the already crowded calendar of the Senate Finance Committee, which is considering NRA extension and bonus legislation. Administration leaders prepared for strenuous opposition to the security bill in the Senate.

LONG BEGINS HIS ATTACK BAYON ROUGE, La. (UP)—Senator Huey Long struck his first blow in his fight with the Federal Government over relief funds Saturday by blocking a $7,000,000 joint Federal-State bridge project at Baton Rouge.

A. P. Tugwell, chairman of the Louisiana Highway Commission and benchman of Long, sent a telegram to Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes, announcing that the state was withdrawing from the project rather than let Ickes' public works administration supervise it. Meanwhile, the obedient Louisiana Legislature met to give final approval to a bill placing all public works under supervision of a State board dominated by Long.

The bill has the effect of seizing all Federal relief money sent into the state.

Collusion With Liquor Traffic Is Jury Report

FORT WORTH, (UP)—Charges of collusion of West Texas peace officers in shielding illicit liquor sales and participation of physicians and druggists in narcotic traffic featured the sensational report released by the federal grand jury here Friday.

The liquor charge was disclosed in connection with a perjury indictment against Vernon Herman of Lamb county.

Herman was alleged to have given officers information implicating Sheriff Len Irvin and Deputy Lon Walran of Lamb county and then to have retracted his statement.

According to the indictment, Herman told officers he and his father, who recently died in the Amarillo jail paid Irvin and Walran $600 per month and $2 per gallon "to do all the whisky business in the county."

Mrs. J. E. Bristolow, accompanied by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Olive Bristolow, left Saturday morning for Dallas.

representative, openly announced on the house floor he was seeking cooperation of Secretary Ickes in violation of the law giving state control of federal relief money.

BATON ROUGE, (UP)—The Louisiana legislature Saturday put the finishing touches up Huey Long's sweet laws, which the senate passing a bill giving the state administration control of elections.

Senator Coleman Lindsey, administration floor leader, admitted a number of amendments to the bill, revealing the measure was resourcued to calendar Friday for minor changes Saturday.

Opening Step For Bruno's Appeal Taken

Defense Lists 143 Assignments Of Error, Too Much Publicity

ELAIRSTOWN, New Jersey (UP)—Egbert Rosecrans, counsel for Bruno Richard Hauptmann, announced Saturday the Hauptmann case will be taken to the United States supreme court if necessary.

Rosecrans filed with the prosecution 143 assignments of error as the opening step in an appeal to the highest New Jersey court from conviction and death sentence of the Elmsford trial court for the Lindbergh baby kidnaping murder.

Assignments of error and causes for reversal included:

"Because biased and exaggerated newspaper reports inflamed members of a jury panel against the defendant and caused it to lose sight of the law that the defendant is innocent until proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt."

"A hysterical mob spirit surrounding the jury unduly influenced the jury against defendant."

"Daily presence of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh unduly influenced the jury by presenting the picture of bereaved father for whose sorrow the world demanded a sacrifice."

"Inflammatory summation of the state's counsel, which went far beyond the evidence, influenced the jury against defendant."

"Varying theories of the state as to guilt of defendant which were unsupported by evidence."

"The court in its charge to the jury approved state's theories and witnesses and thereby impaired a free and unbiased verdict."

Rosecrans said assignments of error were being filed Saturday but causes for reversal may not be filed until next week.

Easter Morning

Easter tide; A new life breaking Through the sod, from winter's sleep. Wondrous promise of the future To the ones the grave doth keep!

Soon shall dawn the glad bright morning When eternal day shall break! Into life—a new life bursting From the earth, these dear ones wake!

"Because I live—ye shall also"— Promise of eternal life! Wafted down throughout the ages, To poor souls in sorrow's strife!

No more night! No more dying! Only bright eternal day! Gladsome, joyous Easter morning, When the stone was rolled away!

Additional Precipitation Boosts Total To 1.19 Inches Here

Additional rainfall during Friday night brought the total precipitation here during the latter part of the week to 1.19 inches and left ranges and farm lands in good condition.

Ackerly, again in the area of lightest moisture, had about a quarter of inch, bringing its total to less than a half inch for two days.

Luther had more than an inch and most of the country received good seasonings.

Saturday farmers said they probably would start planting Monday.

Way Is Left Open For Negotiations Despite Retort

ROME, (AP)—A curt and sharp note to European powers flatly rejecting the League of Nations Council's condemnation of German rearmament was Reichsuehrer Hitler's birthday gift to himself and the world Saturday.

First made public at Rome, the note was sent through German Ambassadors and ministers to all nations participating in the Geneva deliberations.

Hitler did not, however, close the door to future negotiation. Obviously restraining his bitter resentment, he avoided invective and put into the record of Europe's Foreign Offices a message which indicated the Reich's willingness to co-operate in forthcoming efforts toward fortifying the peace of the Continent.

The sending of the note was the high light of Hitler's Nation-wide birthday observation, during which Nazi Storm Troopers gave him twenty-seven airplanes and the League of War Veterans presented him with fourteen more. These are a part of the rebuilding of the German war machine which brought the Reich to a European crisis on charges of violation of the Versailles treaty.

Into every chancellery of Europe went the Hitler note:

"The German Government challenges the right of the government which, in the Council of the League of Nations, adopted a resolution April 17 by which they appointed themselves judges of Germany."

"The German Government sees in the League Council's resolution an attempt at new discrimination toward Germany. It therefore rejects the resolution in the firmest manner."

"The German Government reserves the right to make known soon its viewpoint on various questions dealt with in the resolution."

May Seek Laval Visit

It was rumored today that Hitler intended to ask Foreign Minister Pierre Laval of France, now the center of European diplomatic efforts to preserve peace, to visit him as his guest.

Hitler's note was delivered by messenger, Ambassador, Minister, Charge or Secretary, to Argentina, Australia, Chile, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, France, Great Britain, Italy, Mexico, Poland, Portugal, Spain, Turkey and Russia.

Unloading of John I. Moore, Loffland Bros., and others' No. 1 I. S. McDowell, northwest central Glasscock county unit wildcat, will be started Tuesday or Wednesday.

This was decided at a meeting of unit holders attended by John I. Moore, who returned Thursday from Fort Worth and Tulsa.

In the event time between 9.471 and 9.946 feet, the total depth, shows sufficient oil, No. 1 McDowell likely will be shot, or acidized, or both. Results will have a bearing on whether it is deepened. A showing of oil and gas between 9.471 and 9.920 feet caused the operators to cement 7 5/8-inch casing at 9.460 and test. When the plug was drilled and the hole was swabbed down to 5.760 feet the showing had diminished. More oil and gas was reported in deepening.

The wildcat is believed to be in the lower Pennsylvania. It is in the southeast quarter of section 22, block 23, township 2 south, T&P Ry. Co. survey.

Wallace Beery May Play Part Of Sam Houston

By S. RAYMOND BROOKS

AUSTIN—Wallace Beery expects his next major film to be the life of Sam Houston of Texas, and soon will come to Texas to absorb the historical atmosphere and background for the picture.

This he told his chum, Acting Gov. Walter F. Wood, when he telegraphed his thanks for a commission making him a lieutenant colonel of the staff of the acting governor.

"I have invited him to come to Texas, and we will entertain him anywhere in the state he may want to go," Wood said.

"I have always felt that dramatizing 'The Raven'—life of Houston—would be a masterpiece of the films. I think Beery would be ideal in the role of Sam Houston."

Wallace Beery Stars In 'West Point Of The Air', Pulse-Stirring Drama Of U. S. Army's Air Corps

Feature Picture At Ritz Theatre Sunday And Monday; Breath Taking Aerial Scenes

Wallace Beery, who in the past three years has been established as the pinnacle of box-office popularity, is to be seen in the most stirring dramatic role of his career in "West Point of the Air," story of the United States Army Air Corps to be shown Sunday and Monday at the Ritz Theatre.

Beery's sensational success in "The Champ" was followed by "Dinner at Eight," "Tugboat Annie," "Viva Villa!" for which he won the International Award for acting from Italy; and recently "Treasure Island," Robert Louis Stevenson's immortal classic. Each picture established him more firmly as one of the world's favorite character stars.

The Romantic Leads In "West Point of the Air" his notable supporting cast includes Maureen O'Sullivan, as the youthful romantic lead; Robert Young, as Beery's son; Lewis Stone, James Gleason, Rosalind Russell, Russell Hardie, Henry Wadsworth, Robert Taylor, Robert Livingston and Frank Conroy.

At famous Randolph Field, Texas, the $10,000,000 Army aviation school, Beery's son, played by Robert Young, finds romance with Miss O'Sullivan the General's daughter. She offers encouragement to the cadet while he goes through the rigors of tests, flying instruction, solo flights, and, finally, spectacular aerial maneuvers and training reviews with hundreds of planes.

Hundreds of Thrills Thrills never before photographed for an air picture to be seen in the film include "power dives" from an elevation of ten thousand feet to the ground; a "group parachute jump" from one hundred planes in the air at once; peace time bombing maneuvers of training planes over 2,000 ground troops and other breath-taking aerial scenes.

Nearly two years were required for technical research and story preparation by Lieutenant Commander Frank Wead, and Arthur J. Beckhand, who adapted the photoplay from an original story by James K. McGuinness and John Monk Saunders. Richard Rosson directed.

'Happiness Ahead' At Lyric

Dick Powell Featured; Has Real Film Talent

Dick Powell is still a top-notch among the singers of popular ballads, but he has proven that in addition, he is a very fine romantic leading man. His work in his latest First National vehicle, "Happiness Ahead," which comes to the Lyric Theatre on Sunday, is primarily an acting part.

Dick is now a dramatic actor who sings. Usually a singer, appearing in musicals is expected to walk in and out of scenes, speaking - unimportant lines, while waiting for a music cut. It is customary to judge him entirely by his ability to put over song numbers. Playing opposite him is Josephine Hutchinson, direct from highest acting honors with the Civic Repertory Theatre of New York with Eva Le Gallienne.

No mere eroner could sing his way through a scene with this fine actress. Dick Powell is said to give a natural and sincere performance in his latest starring vehicle and the song numbers he introduces are incidental to the dramatic action.

Another Week Spring Drills

Scrimmage Sessions To Wind-Up Football Practice

Scrimmage sessions this week will wind-up spring football for the Steers. Coach George Brown said Saturday. Only about twenty-five or thirty candidates have been out, and practice the past week was spasmodic and the drills light. Whisenant apparently has made the greatest improvement. His blocking has been much better and coaches say he shows possibility of developing into a first-rate end. The spring drills have served more or less as a toughening process.

Farmers In Panhandle Can Stop Wind Erosion

DALHART (UP)—Farmers in the Texas Panhandle can do much to stop wind erosion of the top soil by allowing the wheat stubble to remain on the fields, H. H. Fennell, soil erosion service director, said here. "Stubble provides almost complete protection against this type of erosion," he said. "The greatest mistake farmers have made in this section was to permit grazing of sorghum and other stubble."

"There is no physical excuse for permitting the Panhandle soils to be blown away," Fennell said. "The only limitations are economic and social—how much money will be available and how much farmers will do." The use of a combination of several control methods is the most important requirement. Terracing alone, while a great help, is not a complete solution, but should be supplemented with proper terrace outlets, permanent pastures, strip cropping, sodding, or other control methods, the type and number being determined by the individual problem.

Constitution Is Unimpaired, Says Professor

DALLAS (UP)—Though it has passed through periods of marked governmental changes, ranging from the rugged individualism of the past century to the collectivism and near regimentation of today, the United States constitution is unimpaired, Roscoe Pound, dean of the Harvard law school, said here.

In a talk before the Dallas bar association, the famed legal scholar, discussed the theory of balance between judicial, legislative and executive branches of our government. While theoretically the government is equally balanced between the three branches, in fact each of the three at different times has been dominant. In the earliest days of our constitution, Dean Pound said, the legislative branch was dominant. After the civil war leadership passed to the judicial branch when the passage of the 14th amendment gave it power to "pass on the reasonableness of state legislation." With the modern demand for speed, the executive branch has become dominant in the 20th century. The times call for guidance during action for which neither the judicial nor the legislative branches are well suited. All over the world the executive has been growing in importance, Dean Pound said. "This does not mean that we have to choose between individualism and regimentation," the legal scholar said, "but rather that we must seek some balance, some adjustment and harmony between these two methods of advancing civilization."

Surgeon's Order That He Undergo Operation Vetoed By Colorado

COLORADO—C. C. Thompson, Colorado attorney, maintains that while not a chief executive, he holds the right of veto and exercised that privilege in Fort Worth the first of the week. Accompanied by Mrs. Thompson he left Colorado Sunday morning for Washington for a visit with Congressman George Mahon and family. He had not been on the Sunshine Special an hour until he became ill. As the train sped toward Fort Worth his condition became more acute.

Leaving the train in Fort Worth Thompson called for a doctor and his trouble was diagnosed appendicitis. An immediate operation was recommended. But Thompson had other plans. He was improved Monday morning and when an early afternoon train pulled out of Fort Worth for the west he and Mrs. Thompson were aboard. They arrived in Colorado at 8 o'clock. Feeling fit, as he termed it, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left Colorado Thursday morning for Washington to make good on their original plan to visit with the congressman and family. Judge Thompson still had his appendix, he suggested.

Come to Church for Easter Services

AGAIN WE LEARN THAT FAITH IS LIFE
ITSELF

"And He is risen"—how magnificently the organ peals out the melody of those words! "And He is risen"—what fervor that brief phrase instills in the souls of all who hear it! Who can help but believe . . . who can fail to want to believe when one knows the glory that is His! Let us find our true faith in our Church, where we may worship all that means Love, and Peace, and Fellowship of man. And thus in all our hearts will surge the joyousness of believing when we, too hear, on Easter Sunday—"And He is risen".

When did you last go to church? Last Sunday? Then you are near to Him on this high-holiday. When did you last go to church? Never fear—He is ever in your heart.

Easter Services To Be Held By Knights Templar Sunday 9:30

Annual Easter services of Big Spring Commandery No. 31 Knights Templar will be held this morning at 9:30 at the asylum in the Masonic building, with Rev. R. E. Day, pastor of the First Baptist church, speaking on "The Risen Christ." All Masonic bodies, as well as the general public, are cordially invited to attend the services.

Gov. Allred To Attend Banquet

Governors Of New Mexico And Oklahoma To Attend Convention

STAMFORD—Something unique in the way of West Texas Chamber of Commerce entertainment is in the making for Tuesday, May 14, which is the second day of the WTCC's 17th annual general convention, assembling this year at Plainview.

The Westex Chamber is going to blow itself for a free-for-all banquet for all conventionists wearing the registration badge. It will not be a formal affair at all, but a sort of basket picnic where it is anticipated that a thousand or so convention visitors will break bread with James V. Allred, young governor of Texas; with (it is hoped) the governors of Oklahoma and New Mexico and other out-of-Texas speakers and visitors; and with the past presidents of the regional Chamber.

These will be the honor guests of the evening—the first time the organization has attempted to bring them all together and publicly honor them. Since its No. 1 convention, held at Mineral Wells in 1919, the West Texas Chamber has had 15 presidents of whom four have died. These are C. T. Herring of Amarillo, first chief; A. B. Spencer of Crosbyton and Fort Worth, elected at Plainview in 1922 and re-elected at San Angelo the next year; H. P. Bristol, sr., of Eastland, elected at Abilene in 1929; and R. Q. Lee of Cisco, elected at Mineral Wells in 1925.

Eleven living and in excellent health. They are, in the order and with dates of their election, Clifford B. Jones of Spur, 1921; C. C. Walsh of Dallas (then of San Angelo), 1924; Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield, 1926; R. W. Haynie of Abilene, 1927; Andy Bourland of Vernon, 1928; W. B. Hamilton of Wichita Falls, 1929; Charles E. Coombes of Stamford, 1930; Houston Harte of San Angelo, 1931; Wilbur C. Hawk of Amarillo, 1932; Walter D. Cline of Wichita Falls, 1933; and James D. Hamilton of Farwell, 1934.

More about banquet plans is given by Jed Rix, WTCC convention manager who is already in Plain-

Two Tests To Be Drilled In Abilene Area

ABILENE—Likely indications are current among Abilene operators that at least two more tests will be drilled in the area south of here where the Lewis and Clark No. 1 High was treated with acid about two months ago. It is in this area, between Lytle lake and Kirby lake, about four miles southeast, that a number of wells were sunk but which never produced enough commercially to make a field. Those interested still believe oil in commercial quantities will be found if the correct spot in the actual structure of the Cisco beds is found.

Although the lease deal has not been closed, Skaggs and Brewer, drilling contractors of Abilene and Mineral Wells, have filed application to drill another semi-wildcat on the A. J. McClure farm, a mile east of Kirby lake. Location has been made 320 feet from the north and east lines of the south half of the southeast quarter of section 8, Llanita Asylum lands. The Lewis and Clark well is located in the southwest corner of the northeast quarter of the same section. The old Hunch well, which produced for some time during the 1920's is in the northwest corner of the southwest quarter.

H. Christman of Abilene is reported building a derrick on the old Osborne farm, row on a lease of the West Texas Utilities company, or the west side of Lytle lake. It is not definitely known when drilling is to commence. Christman had been drilling for some time on a test below the data of Kirby lake on Abilene city fee, in section 06, Blind Asylum lands. About eight miles north of Abilene, the Condon Petroleum company has delayed running a test on the No. 4 Henry Styles, in section 3, block 20, T&P ry. survey, Jones county, until weather conditions are more favorable. The test will probably be operated the first of the week for a gauge.

The Shappell Oil company No. 1 J. J. Steele was last reported un-drilling pipe at a depth between 1,300 feet. Location is 2,000 feet from the east line and 150 feet from the north line of section 10, block 13, T&P ry. survey, Jones county.

East of the Shappell test, the John & Brewer No. 1 Jeffrey, located 200 feet from the southeast corner of the south half of the northeast quarter of section 7, block 15, T&P ry. survey, is drilling below 1,965 feet.

The Oyster & Rhodes et al (Ungreen & Frazier) No. 1 J. J. Steele, lost the hole completely last week after being held up over two weeks on a fishing job about 1,200 feet, and has moved rig over 30 feet east and drilling again around 200 feet. Present location is 1,450 feet from the south line and 280 feet from the west line of lot 8, block 10, Catherine Allen survey.

The Fundera Production company No. 1 Sam R. Cox, jr., reached the contract depth of 2,402 feet without a showing, and will be plugged this week. Location is 3,700 feet from the east line and 200 feet from the south line of section 74, block 14, T&P ry. survey.

Wildcat location has been staked in Callahan county by George R. McManis et al of Breckenridge for a No. 1 Norton, to be 150 feet from the north and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 2976, E. T. & L. survey. Depth will be 800 feet.

A 4,000 foot test was scheduled to be spudded last week in eastern Shackelford county, eight miles east of Albany. It is the Pitzer & West No. 1 George T. DeLaFosse, located 900 feet from the north line and 750 feet from the east line of the northeast quarter of section 1549, T. E. & L. survey.

view working out details: "Our past presidents not only will be honored guests, but a committee from that group will be actively in charge. We are not planning this as a brass collar affair, but as a catch-as-catch-can meal open to every person who registers. "We expect to pull it in the general convention hall Tuesday night, May 14, starting at 7 o'clock. Governor Allred will extend greetings and so will the governor of Oklahoma and New Mexico if they accept our invitation to be on hand, but there will be no long-winded speeches from anybody. We will have short bits of music from fifteen or twenty town quartets and bands! Then, girls from our member towns who are taking part in the Fiesta will put on a short revue for us. The My Home Town contestants will be introduced. "The big idea is to make this affair a tribute to our past presidents and to offer a quick but comprehensive view of things going on in the convention."

Contest Entries Rix reports receipt of entries from 15 more towns in the My Home Town contest, and five more entries in the poster contest. In the former the new entries are from Quitaque, Ralls, Pampa, El Paso, Amarillo, Dalhart, Floydada, Slaton, Vernon, Memphis, Olney, Burk Burnett, Lubbock, Brownfield, Breckenridge and Tahoka. The new poster entries are from Dalhart, Slaton, Memphis, Olney and Tahoka, bringing that list to 29 to date, as against 20 at the close last year.

Definite word has been received from seven more towns that they will have bands on hand and are asking that quarters be reserved for bandsmen. Those are Ralls, Lubbock, Amarillo, Wichita Falls, Slaton, Memphis and Denton. From all parts of the territory requests are reaching Plainview hotels for room reservations, indicating all space will be taken ahead of time with the strong probability that the Plainview Chamber of Commerce will have to go into the residential districts to help.

Eighteen towns, reports Rix, have nominated their 1935-36 WTCC directors, these being Abernathy, Amarillo, Anton, Burk Burnett, Channing, Clarendon, De Leon, Del Rio, Foltz, Midland, Olton, Ralls, Roby, Seymour, Slaton, Spur, Vernon and Wichita Falls. The first named has nominated two former WTCC presidents, Walter D. Cline and W. B. Hamilton, along with Marvin Smith. Amarillo has an ex-proxy as a director, too, in Wilbur C. Hawk, and so has Spur in Clifford B. Jones.

Conventions Work Work of the convention will clear through the 200-odd directors from the 197 affiliated towns as they sit at luncheon and breakfast on the three days of the big show. The program will come to them via the conventions work committee, of which Wichita Falls' Hamilton will be chairman. Serving with him are to be the following: R. H. Nichols, Vernon; Clifford B. Jones, Spur; Arthur P. Duggan, Littlefield; Houston Harte, San Angelo; Wilbur C. Hawk, Amarillo; H. C. Custard, Cleburne; L. E. Saunders, El Paso; Hamlin Y. Overstreet, Texico; B. P. Bludworth, Brownwood; Spencer A. Wells, Lubbock; W. C. Heare, Shamrock; A. M. Smith, Breckenridge; Price Campbell, Abilene; Gen. John A. Hulen, Fort Worth; Lawrence Hasy, Amarillo; L. A. McDonald, Denton, and T. B. Galaher, Amarillo.

Nichols also will preside over the conventions' territorial development conference; Jones over the agricultural conference; Duggan over the tax conference. Those three important group meetings will work during the afternoons.

The Texas Electric Service Company has made an appropriation of $4,000 for the repair and improvement of their plant at Andrews, according to a story published in the Andrews County News the past week. Thirty million miles of Ford Economy

MORE MILES. Faster miles. Greater economy... that is the story of the Ford V-8. There are conclusive figures from owners to show that it is the most economical Ford car ever built.

A particularly interesting and complete report of costs comes from a national fleet owner who has owned 854 Ford cars which were run more than thirty million miles in business use.

175 were Model T Fords which were run 5,017,075 miles. 599 were Model A Ford cars which were run 24,041,632 miles. 80 are Ford V-8 cars which have been run 2,982,886 miles.

This owner's cost records show that Ford V-8 cars cost 12% less to operate than the Model A Fords and 31% less than the Model T Fords. And they covered more miles per month! The monthly average for the Model T Fords was 1509 miles. For the Model A Fords, 1866 miles... And 2571 miles for the Ford V-8.

Each year the Ford car gives you more in value and performance and costs you less to operate. The Ford V-8 was an economical car in 1934. This year it gives you still greater reliability and economy, new beauty, new safety, new ease of control and remarkable new riding comfort.

Actual Figures Show the Ford V-8 is 12% more economical than the Model A, and 31% more economical than the famous Model T.

The Big Spring Week Housing, Rain, More Business, And Service Featured

You have seen performed here this week a veritable miracle. Nowhere but in West Texas could rain work such wonders. Stiffed and almost whipped by intolerable winds and unbearable dust, this area, along with much of the midwestern section of the nation, was despondent. Then rain fell, precious life-giving rain, and West Texas was changed from a dusty mess of barren fields and motly rangers to a verdant setting. All in the space of less than three days. Where a week ago people could see nothing but despair through the dense folds of dust, now they are lifting their eyes unto the ranges and hills with hope. That's why we love to live in West Texas.

Lead an ear to the gentleman who can see nothing but the worst, and you will feel that all is not well with the world, and in particular with this city. But look at figures and be convinced that this is a bright spot on the business map. Postal receipts continued to go up again for the first fifteen days of the month. Building permits were issued a great increase. New business firms are locating in Big Spring, and you may rest assured that they come not without good reason. There must be better days ahead.

Thursday the Kiwanis club celebrated its sixth birthday as a club here. Little as one may think, civic organizations, such as this, play a vital part in the city's make-up. First of all they offer an excellent place for fellowship, they help one man to better know and appreciate his associates. Second, they afford an excellent medium for an expression of unselfish service. Without the ideal of service, we would all be spending our own fish, cracking ill-gotten oocounts, and fighting off wild beasts from the mouth of a cave.

The Better Housing Program got off to an impressive start last week. Evidently it was started in earnest just at the right moment, for it found people in a receptive mood. Several building permits last week were directly attributable to the program. And the program is not due to yet be in full stride. Apparently the movement is going to produce beneficial results to the community in needed repairs, new construction, and in money for labor and materials. Aside from the actual working campaign in the incident which came up in a meeting called to promote the campaign. Two present took the view that the work would come sooner or later and there was no need to rush it up. They should look further into the old adage and reason that the early bird got the worm not only because it arose early, but because it got the worm before it got away.

With rains falling and the seasons changing, it is likely that the dust storm era for 1935 is over, at least for this section. While very little of the soil in Howard county was blown away, much dust from Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska and even the Texas Panhandle settled down in this county. Assume that all told about one-sixteenth of an inch dust came in here and stayed. Then there must have been in the neighborhood of 2,500,000 pounds of foreign soil which is now a part of Howard county. As choking as it was, it surely must be good for our lands now that it has been anchored by rain. However, our own winds will send it scurrying back in a few years.

You read where bones of a prehistoric monster are being unearthed near Coahoma. Long before many people like to believe the earth was created, these gigantic creatures inhabited this region. Apparently the mammoth had come to water and was killed in quicksand. It was the old, old story which persists even today. Bones of ten have cow bones been found beside a water bog. Need for water is evidently not a new problem here.

Last Sunday the current softball season got underway. Despite bad weather, large crowds turned out to see the opening games. The city has showed good judgment in providing good playing space for this popular sport. It is a good way for people to spend leisure time.

PIPELINERS PLAY FORBAN, (Sp.)—Ivey's Coedon Pipeliners play the Chalk baseball team here Sunday.

of news of the day is the dispatch from Paris announcing that women's skirts are going to be shorter this summer. Yet a fanciful man could deduce from this announcement a harbinger of restored prosperity.

Someone figured out a very odd circumstance, not long ago; to wit, that skirt lengths tend to increase in time of depression and to grow shorter as good times return.

There are even in existence charts to show that ever since the war the distance between the ground and the hem of the average woman's skirt has been a pretty fair gauge of the general health of business.

Why all this should be is something for the seers and the soothsayers. Nevertheless, there it is—short skirts stand for prosperity, long ones for depression. Hail the latest news from Paris!

"LOST EMPIRE" Germany's "Lost Empire"

Territories which Germany lost as a result of the World War are shown in black on this map. Possible demands by Hitler for the return of some of them, coupled with his rearmament program, have worried European statesmen. The territorial question, particularly the status of Memel, was slated for discussion at the Stressa meeting of British, French and Italian leaders—a meeting called to consider means of insuring Europe against war.

The possessions lost in Europe as a result of the Versailles treaty, are: Alsace-Lorraine, returned to France; northern portion of Schleswig, which went to Denmark as a result of a plebiscite; southern portion of Upper Silesia, which went to Poland by plebiscite; the northern portion returned to Germany, also by plebiscite; the Polish Corridor, leading north to the free city of Danzig, which latter is administered by the League, though its foreign policies are determined by Poland; and Memel and its hinterlands which went to Lithuania.

ON TEXAS FARMS By W. H. Darrow Extension Service Editor

Gardeners hung up a $21 value per garden record in 1934—and that in spite of the drought—(we should have a rubber stamp for those last words—according to figures compiled by Extension Horticulturist J. F. Rosborough from the annual reports from counties having extension agents, where 22,683 garden reports showed $480,263 profit.

Good as this was, Rosborough is backing 1935 gardeners to beat it and to this end is coaching them on subirrigation to defeat the drought. And warning them to watch out for mildew on the peas and all the varied crawling, creeping, sucking, chewing insects likely to cut down profits.

"Making the punishment fit the crime," he has a spray or poison or trick ready to meet each attack and wise gardeners will follow his advice as to which to use. That way neither time, labor nor money will be wasted.

To prune or not to prune? In the question that vexes tomato growers. Whether it is better to pinch the eager sucker and so increase the size and earliness of the fruit, or let them grow and lose this great advantage. Rosborough says nip 'em.

He says also stake tomato plants in the region of generous rainfall. In regions of limited rainfall staking is not necessary since it is done to insure that the fruit does not rest on the ground and become blemished.

Disbursement Of Billions Holds Much Dynamite

By BYRON PRICE (Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)

President Roosevelt has undertaken some sizeable tasks, but it is questionable whether anything he has tackled thus far is even in the same class with the $4,880,000,000 spending job he now is beginning. The total of the new work relief appropriation is so great that most ordinary people simply can't grasp its magnitude. To most American citizens, $1,000,000,000 is hard to visualize. Imagine 4,880 stacks of money, with $1,000,000 in each. And in spite of the qualifying amendments which congress put into the act, the president's attitude as to the manner and allocation of the spending remains extremely broad. The ease with which "earmarked" funds can be moved about from one ledger column to another has been demonstrated frequently. The responsibility which rests on Mr. Roosevelt in this matter would be positively staggering, even if it involved only the obvious difficulties of making wise selections, in a wholly detached way, from among the thousands of spending projects which will be placed before him for approval.

UNDER PRESSURE But it involves a great deal more. Mr. Roosevelt is very far from being in the position of a man making a will disposing of $4,880,000,000. Undue pressure from possible beneficiaries invalidates a will; and moreover, the maker of the will never has to worry much about the consequences.

From now on until the last penny is allocated, Mr. Roosevelt is certain to be under the strongest kind of pressure. The states, cities and communities are mobilizing their most persuasive agents on the doorstep. It is a disputed question how far politics actually will enter into the decisions made, but it is perfectly assured that scores of politicians will do their oily best to get in on the ground floor.

So far as the consequences are concerned, Mr. Roosevelt himself has more to gain or lose than has any claimant. Not only the success of his recovery program, but his own political future may easily be come involved. Either a first-class failure or a first-class scandal would be used against him in 1936, even though the real cause lay in the blundering recklessness of subordinates.

AT A CRITICAL TIME Many in Washington believe this least of Mr. Roosevelt's acumen hardly could come to a more critical time. On the one hand, political currents again are swirling uncertainly. The republican opposition, declaring public sentiment is turning

Uncompromising Ickes Has Great Job In Spending

This is the first in a series of four daily articles sketching the personalities of four men who will have charge of spending the $5,000,000,000 appropriated for federal work-relief.

By WILLIAM S. WHITE WASHINGTON, (AP)—The square-jawed man of many titles, Harold L. Ickes, assigned to still more work in helping to run the $5,000,000,000 work-relief machinery, will break a lance with any man, anytime and anywhere. The great opponentist of the past, he is as well the great antagonist to the backslapper in politics. He's been fighting all his life, usually in causes so hopeless they seemed almost Quixotic, and it has become a pleasant habit, something like his great hobby which—of all things—is growing dahlias.

Ickes is known as an acid-tongued liberal. At 61 he has been a campaigner for three parties and a "regular" in none, and once it was uncharitably said that he had rather be disagreeable than pleasant, even if it made no difference anyhow. But despite this, has uncompromising worship at the one great shrine of his life—honesty—has brought public bouquets from men who agree with him on little else in all the world. This quality, and his great loyalty, is regarded by men as his chief attribute for his new job.

'Plainest' Cabinet Member By odds the plainest man in the cabinet, he works in his shirt sleeves, cares nothing for society and handles about the sharpest phrases of any man in Washington official life. His sense of humor, a matter of open pride with him, is so irrefragable that he dares to joke publicly not only with himself but sometimes with his chief, President Roosevelt. For example, on one occasion he said grinningly of Mr. Roosevelt:

"The President pulled a fast one and they (reporters) all fell for it. He was trying to alibi for himself." And at another time he spoke this way to a group of business men: "I don't believe in universal college education. You wouldn't want to make everybody Ph.D."

strongly away from the President, is preparing for its most victorious attack since the "new deal" came into being. That preparation will include a microscopic examination of every work relief allotment.

On the other hand, many economists believe recovery itself is in the balance. They look for a definite turn up or down within the next few months. For all of these reasons, the new spending program seems likely to overshadow everything else in the Washington picture for a long time to come.

Harold L. Ickes, square-jawed, acid-tongued, irrepressible humorist. He worships uncompromisingly at "the one great shrine of his life—honesty."

even to satisfy the demands made on our college faculties by the brain trust. Would Change Party Lines Cheerfully he expounds what to some administration associates is the ultimate heresy—that he'd like to see a liberal-conservative party division rather than the historic democratic-republican division. Republicans and democrats look alike to him and he detects the giving of patronage favors, from time to time, so stating in no uncertain terms: "He gets a curious pride from his 'choice collection of enemies' and he loves the underdog."

In appearance he is square, rugged and firm of jaw. The light of battle in his grayish eyes rarely is absent. With cutlers he smokes cigarettes furiously but alone forgets them often, as he does his lunch. He has had as many as eight jobs in the administration, the big three being secretary of the interior, oil administrator and public works director. His sardonic jests are many and famous as for instance when in a tone of mock sweetness he announced "I understand the chief charge against me is impoliteness. If that is the most serious, may God bless them."

MRS. BICKLEY ADDRESSES MEMBERS OF EAST WARD PARENT-TEACHERS ASS'N.

Mrs. C. W. Dickerson And Corps Of Officers Are Installed; Miss McClendon's Room Gives Health Program

The East Ward P. T. A. met Thursday afternoon at the school building for a very instructive program. Mrs. C. A. Bickley talked on "Safeguarding the Child from Moral Harm."

She said the study of character building was the most interesting subject in the world and much more important than building the physical body. "It is so far reaching," she continued "that it touches everything. Just as the twig is bent so the tree will be—an old saying but very true."

It was commendable that the P. T. A. was so interested in the character development of the child, was the gist of her talk. Anything that hindered character building in the child was detrimental. The child's character could be determined by the knowledge and disposition of each, as well as the influences of his life.

Under influences came the environment; knowledge shapes character; knowledge gives self-confidence in meeting situations. Lacking knowledge one is unable to face them. Disposition needs understanding and cultivation. Weak points should be strengthened and so should strong ones. Every child is a separate personality. Goodness cannot be imposed from without but must come from within.

Mrs. Bickley's closing questions were: "Who will do this? Who better than parents? Teachers too are great factors in every one's life with whom the child comes in contact."
Miss McClendon's room gave the program which dealt with health and won the contest for the month. The pupils rendered the following numbers:
"Yankee Doodle" song by room.

ROUND OF PARTIES AND BRIDGE CLUB SESSIONS ARE ANNOUNCED FOR THIS WEEK

By O. R. P.
With the Lenten season at a close and the brown rains driven away by the wet rains, Big Spring women are looking forward to the sort of Spring fabled in song and poetry, and putting the nightmares of March and early April behind them.

The social calendar for this week, as well as the remainder of the month, is given over chiefly to meetings of the bridge clubs and parties honoring the bride of the season—Miss Mary Alice Wilke.

So seldom does a Big Spring girl marry with all the pomp and ceremony with which tradition has invested that solemn occasion that when such a wedding is announced it is the event of the season and eagerly awaited.

Miss Wilke, whose nuptial date is set for May 4, will be the honoree for two, possibly three parties this week. Her maid of honor will entertain for her Tuesday evening and Miss Jeannette Barnett, who will play the wedding marches, will join Mrs. Hubert C. Stipp in entertaining Wednesday evening. Mrs.

Miss Lellene Rogers entertained the members of the Epsilon Sigma Alpha Literary Sorority Friday evening with an interesting club session.
Answer to roll call was a fact concerning favorite composers. Miss Roberta Gay read a paper on "Musical History and Composition." Eddy Rayne Lees gave a pianoforte selection.
Miss Mattie Heffley was a visitor. The following members attended: Mmes. Ruth Airhart, Thomas J. Coffee and J. W. Madry; Misses Mary Burns, Edith Gay, Roberta Gay.
Mrs. McAdams will be the next hostess. Mrs. Coffee will be in charge of the program which will be devoted to the reading of original manuscripts.

Resolutions Of Thanks Expressed By PTA Officials
The following copy of Courtesy resolutions was sent to the Big Spring Daily Herald and to Mrs. Charles Koberg from the sixth district of Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers that convened here April 11, 12 and 13.
We, the delegates assembled in this conference, desire to express our sincere appreciation to those who have labored so long and so efficiently in our behalf. Their labors have not been in vain, for each of us has felt that there has been nothing left undone for our happiness and comfort. Especially do the board members wish to express their thanks for the luncheon given at the Settles hotel and at this time do we wish to express our regrets to the Senior and Junior Hyperion and Alpha Sigma clubs, that the business session held us past the hour, making it impossible for us to attend the tea given in honor of Dr. Templin and the board.
We are greatly indebted to the citizens of Big Spring for the homes which have been opened to us; to Mrs. Koberg and her co-workers; to the Baptist church for the use of the auditorium; to the school superintendent and his faculty for their cooperation.
The drive to the state park on Scenic Mountain with the picnic lunch so beautifully provided will be a bright spot in our memories. Many thanks are expressed to the pages; to the ushers; to the press; and to each and every one who has contributed to the programs which have been so worthwhile and inspirational.
We are glad you invited us, and are happy to have been with you, and it is with a spirit of regret we bid you a fond adieu.
Mrs. Homer Williams, Mrs. C. C. Coffee, Mrs. J. T. Havel, Mrs. A. L. Stewart, Mrs. Eaker E. Smith, Mrs. S. T. Gilmore, Chm.
To this expression of thanks Mrs. Koberg, who was general chairman for the convention, has added her personal thanks to the committees that functioned so efficiently and to all others who helped make the convention one of the most successful ever held in the district.

CLEVELAND BEATS DETROIT TIGERS, 2-1

Roman Soldier Wins Third Running Of Texas Derby Saturday

HOT BATTLE AMERICAN BALL LOOP

DETROIT, (AP) — The Cleveland Indians, rated as the most dangerous pennant contenders in the American League, went thirteen innings Saturday to turn back the Detroit Tigers, 2 to 1, in a brilliant pitcher's battle.

Successive singles by Hughes, Vosmik and Averil in the final inning produced the winning run. Oral Hildebrand, pitching with fine control went the route for the Tribe, scattering nine hits. Against Hildebrand, Mickey Cochrane used Eldon Aulker and Joe Sullivan.

Boston stayed close behind Cleveland in the American League race Saturday by blanking Washington 4 to 0. Chicago came through with a 9-4 decision over St. Louis and New York managed to beat Philadelphia by two runs, 3 to 1.

Saturday's games in the National League failed to break the tie for the lead between Brooklyn and Cincinnati. Both teams lost their Saturday contests. Brooklyn was walloped by Boston, 7-1 and Chicago beat out Cincinnati, 4-3. Pittsburgh fell before St. Louis attack, 4-1, while New York was measuring Philadelphia, 6 to 4.

Demaree's Homer Stems Duel

CHICAGO — A home run off Frank Demaree's bat in the tenth inning broke up a pitcher's duel between Fray of the Reds and Warneke of the Cubs and enabled the Bruins to snap the Cincinnati brief winning streak Saturday by the score of, 4-3.

Demaree, a recruit who was farmed out to the Pacific Coast league only to be brought back this season, won the game after Riggs, the Red's first year third baseman, had tied the count with a home run with two abrad in the ninth.

Down The Fairways

THE HAIG (Walter Hagen) used unusual strategy in his golf with Bobby Jones at Saratoga in 1926 when he soundly whipped Bobby in a 72-hole special round. Walter was hitting his iron shots superbly, so he purposely let Jones outdrive him from the fairway. Then he put pressure on Bobby by laying his second shot on the green.

J. E. Payne is such an ardent golfer that he takes a few minutes off every now and then during the day to take a few practice swings with his fine set of Hagen clubs.

Obie Bristow is one of the world's best golfers in the rough. Last week they say he made an eagle on No. 15 at the Country club after driving far into the rough.

A golf writer who followed Paul Runyan during one round of the recent North and South open at Pinehurst, said that it was noticeable that on every hole Runyan was outdriven by Horton Smith and Denny Shute, who were playing with him. In fact, it is said that Paul seldom outdrives any of his rivals. His marvelous scoring ability is due to accuracy, not great distance. It is an interesting fact that Paul's swing that he seems to put more weight on his right foot than his left at address, and when he has reached the top of the backswing his left foot bears practically no weight at all. My impression is that he lifts his left heel much higher than most players. He appears almost to sway back, though he does not. It may be that this interferes to a certain extent with the power of his stroke. Actually, though not a big man, Paul is a very well built one, closely knit and co-ordinating in every movement. I think he could hit farther if he wished to do so. But he has wisely studied out a game suitable to his strength and disposition. There is a lesson in this for all sufferers. Don't try to be Hagen, Jones or Armour. Take from them anything that may be useful, but first of all find out if it is suited to you.

Many course women golfers did not hold their match play last Thursday as scheduled. It was postponed because of the weather.

Charley Akoy, Mundy pro, is jubilant because of the rain, which put his course in top shape.

SPORT SLANTS

It is easy to believe that Capt. Lawrence "Biff" Jones was sincere when he said, "I am glad of the opportunity offered by the transfer" when he received the army order which directed him to report to the University of Oklahoma.

What coach wouldn't be happy to take charge of the Sooners' football squad which numbers 23 lettermen? Lewis Hardage, Jones' immediate predecessor, rated the squad as the best looking group he ever laid eyes on.

Jones will have an opportunity to look the boys over carefully when he calls the squad for a bit of spring training. A few lectures will serve to introduce his single and double wing back formations, new to the Big Six conference.

As the matter now stands, Jones has a year and a half to serve before entering the Ft. Leavenworth War school for further training. But there is a possibility that his stay at Norman may be extended to four years.

A coach's hands are tied unless he has the material to carry out his plays on the gridiron. Coach Harry G. Kipke of the University of Michigan realized that after last year's disastrous season, if not long before.

"First Generation" Best
The Michigan coach is convinced that the boys of foreign born parentage make the best football players today. And the reason, he told Chicago alumni, is because the average American youth leads a pampered boyhood with too much emphasis placed on his development.

"Ask the modern youngster to walk a block for a loaf of bread, and he'll ask you for the keys to the car," says the coach whose team flopped from a mythical national championship to the bottom of the Big Ten in a year.

It's the boys from homes of foreign extraction, where, as a rule money isn't so plentiful, who can stand up and take it in a football game, says Kipke.

By the time the average boy gets to college he's just about as first class sissy, says the coach. On the other hand, the football "naturals" have their drawbacks, too, says Kipke. "It's one thing getting them in college and another thing to keep them there with the present high scholastic requirements at Michigan."

For a coach whose team won but one of eight games last fall, Kipke has been in anything but retirement. He figures he has travelled 63,000 miles in the last year, visiting more than 100 alumni groups and speaking before high school assemblies.

The late Major Frank Cavanaugh would be quick to second Kipke's motion about preferring boys of foreign born parentage for his squads. The "Iron Major" favored the "first generation Americans" for in most cases he found them better disciplined and more willing to take orders in the proper spirit.

The unhardened and untempered, used to the hard knocks of life, they stood up better when the going got tough on the gridiron.

EVEN MONEY FAVORITE COMES THRU

ARLINGTON DOWNS, (Sp.)—"Roman Soldier", an even money favorite, passed "Whiskolo" and "Wizzaway" on the stretch to win the third running of the Texas Derby before 25,000 fans here Saturday.

On the muddy track, first one horse and then another took the lead, but the son of "Cohort" did not pass the others until he was about 150 yards from the finish line.

With Lester Balaski in the saddle, the Sackemater entry defeated Whiskolo by about two lengths. Balaski rode "Plight", stablemate of "Roman Soldier" to victory in last year's derby.

"Furber", a 5-1 shot, with Wayne D. Wrightup, fell at the first turn and romped in without his jockey about 250 yards behind the horses.

Splendor Dropped Out
"Prince Splendor" with Jackie Westrope up, took the lead at the first turn, but "Whiskolo" and "Wizzaway" soon passed the Warden colt.

"Roman Soldier" dropped to fourth and held it until the horses came into the stretch lap. With a burst of speed, he overtook the three leaders and romped to victory with the cheers of the 25,000 persons ringing in his ears.

G. Woolf rode "Whiskolo" a fine race but could not withstand the challenge of "Roman Soldier". K. Knott was up on "Wizzaway", a Genesee Stable colt.

"Wise Player", "Hope Eternal" and "Dark Woman" were scratched to cut the field to ten horses. The latter two were the only fillies entered.

McCarthy, a 15-1 shot, and the winner of the Louisiana Derby several months ago, held the lead at one time but went under the wire far behind the leaders.

Balaski's victory runs his win streak at Arlington Downs to 12, and enabled him to take second honors behind Paul Keester, with 23 first places to his credit.

"Roman Soldier" was the first to be nominated for the $15,000. His record includes wins at Hialeah Park, Miami, Fla., and a victory in his only start at Arlington.

The race was over 1:16 miles.

ERNE ARTHUR THE CANADIAN PANTHER

Canada's Panther 'Rassles' Bromberg

Loop Lead At Stake Today

One of the leaders in the Big Spring Softball league will fall from the lists of the undefeated today when the tricky Cosden Oilers play the powerful Mellingers Angels beginning at 2 o'clock.

Both teams were victorious in their league starts this year, the Angels blasting out wide decisions over Southern Ice and the V. F. W., and the Oilers winning over the Vets and Tingle's Newsboys.

Early Season Victory
The Oilers noted out the Angels early in the season when they put two runs across the plate in the eleventh inning for a 10-9 decision, but the Hartmen were without the services of Olie Cordill, one of the hardest hitting first sackers in the circuit, and George Neel, the Angel speed merchant. Neel is one of the fastest men in the City league.

The Oilers will probably line up with Smith at first base, Morton at first short, Baker at second, Witt at second short, Martin at third, Moxley in left field, West in center, and Harvey in right. Henninger will take the mound with Middleton doing duty behind the plate.

Hart will start the same team as was used last week. Cordill will take first, Mills on first short, Roger Franklin at second base, Townsend at second short, Jack Wilson at third, Jones, Redding, and Leon Wilson will begin in the outfield.

Graves Draws Assignment
Good Graves, who mastered the Southern Ice men in his first assignment, will toe the slab, while Hart and Coburn will divide time behind the batter.

The W. O. W. aggregation, which took the place of the Tingle entry, will meet Ford immediately after the Angel-Oiler game.

Both teams lost their league starts and will be fighting to leave the cellar.

The Flewellen-Carter game which was rained out Friday night,

Tuesday's bill:
Main event—Count von Bromberg vs. Ernie Arthur. Finish match, two out of three falls.
Semi-final—Eddie O'Shea vs. Blondy Chrane. Forty-five minute time limit, two out of three falls.

The semi-finalist and main event winners of last week's reading show at the Big Spring Athletic club tangle in the main go Tuesday night.

The rugged German, who boasts the somewhat lengthy and impressive name of Count Siegfried Ferdinand von Bromberg, will meet Canada's middleweight champion—Ernie Arthur.

Although Arthur was not so impressive in his victory over Dutch Tennant last week, he's far from being in the McEubin class. At times he gets a little rough, hitting and pulling hair, but he's never so mean as to get the crowd completely down on him.

Fans of the northwest call Arthur the Canadian Panther because of his panther like movements.

In weight and appearance, Bromberg and Arthur will be well matched, and their ring tactics are somewhat alike. Bromberg's favorite is the rolling head scissors, but like the man from the land of the Mounties, he's no beginner in the grapple game.

It is possible to be popular and unpopular at the same time, then that's Eddie O'Shea. Eddie has never won a match here, and possibly draws more boos than any of the other boys, yet the majority of fans welcome the opportunity to see him in the ring, probably in hopes he'll get stomped.

O'Shea has been booked for the semi-windup with Blondy Chrane, who incidentally, is just as tough as any man who has been here. Blondy is also very popular with local fans. He has made a rapid rise from the special event class to the top-notch group.

O'Shea, known as the Wild Irishman, is just about as wild inside the ring as it's possible for a man to be.

will be played today beginning at 12:30.

Take Strong Line-Up To Play Midland Golfers Today

Big Spring Sand Belt golfers, leading the league by the slim margin of two points, journey to Midland this afternoon.

The locals have 24 points and Hobbs and Midland come in second with 22 each. The initial bout for the local linkmen gave them a 24-16 victory over Lamesa. Midland trounced Colorado, 23 to 18.

The Big Spring line-up today will include Robbins, Morgan, Bristow, Hoover, Hicks, Sturdivant, Rainey and Latson. Sturdivant moved from seventh to sixth place on the team Saturday afternoon by defeating Guy Rainey, 2. Haywood was 1 down at the turn but made a comeback on the home stretch. He had a 34, one over par, for the back nine.

Fiery Texan Makes Clean Sweep At Pinehurst

PINEHURST, N. C., (AP)—Wilmer Allison, the nation's ranking tennis player, made a clean sweep of the north and south tennis titles Saturday by winning the singles and shares of doubles and mixed doubles.

The fiery Texan annexed the singles championship off J. Gilbert Hall, South Orange, N. J. 6-1, 6-2, 6-4.

Allison and Hall teamed to win the doubles from Marcel Rainville and Laird Watt, of Montreal, winning 6-2, 6-1, 4-6, 8-6. Then Allison returned to the courts with Mrs. Penelope Anderson McBride, Shortliss, N. J. and added the mixed doubles crown by beating Jane Sharp, Pasadena, Cal., and Hal Surface, Kansas City, 7-5, 7-5. It made a total of nine sets for Allison during the day and he won eight of them.

Lawrence, Kas. (AP)—Eight records were bettered, including two world marks, by University of Iowa's allstar sprinting trouper, and Glenn Cunningham was driven to his first defeat this year by Glen Dawson of Oklahoma in the thirteenth annual Kansas Relays Carnival here Saturday.

Official estimates reported a crowd of between ten and fifteen thousand.

BABE RUTH TIED WITH WILL ROGERS

For second place behind President Roosevelt in a "who's who" questionnaire by the Lufkin high school students. The youngsters were unanimous on FDR but one designated the Bambling as "greatest football player." Rogers was tabbed "governor of Wyoming" on one paper.

AL SCHACHT, PARTNER OF Nick Altrock so many years as crows for the Washington Senators, will do his clowning for the Box this season, but only on the road. He says he'd do only serious coaching at Fenway park, fearing the Boston fans are too serious to enjoy his foolery.

TURNING BACK THE PAGES in the history of baseball with the Sporting News, we learn that five years ago this week, Al Simmons, Philadelphia Athletic holdout signed his contract an hour before the start of the opening game of the season and made a dramatic entry on the field before packed stands at Shibe Park. On his first trip to the plate, he hit a home run off George Pipgras with a mate on base to help defeat the New York Yankees.

BABE RUTH IS NOT WHAT he used to be, nevertheless he leads all second vice-presidents in batting this spring. On the other hand, Charley Grimm has been hitting just like a V-P. He went to bat 35 times during one stretch of the Cubs' exhibition period without making a hit.

ONE OF THE WIDELY READ baseball scribes writes that Grimm is Max West's closest rival as the "come-up-and-see-me-sometime" stuff. Never a day passes that he doesn't invite some 25 persons to come out to the house for supper some night. But he never names the night.

COACH BOSTICK OF STANTON is still a very discouraged man. He says that no more than ten men have reported for football practice at any one time.

FOR THE TEN BASEBALL seasons from 1925 through 1934, Harold "Pie" Traynor made the all-star big league team picked by the Baseball Writers' association oftener than any other player. The Pirate third-sacker was honored seven times to six for Babe Ruth, Al Simmons and Mickey Cochrane; Rogers Hornsby, Joe Cohn and Lefty Grove rated five times each.

JIM REESE, COLORADO coach, and Big Jim Cantrell, former Wolf mentor, were visitors in Big Spring Friday.

LOTS OF BASEBALL EQUIPMENT is being sold in the Lubbock territory, according to reports.

AT THE PRESENT TIME, THE writer knows of only six baseball teams being organized in Howard county, but the rain will probably encourage more of the boys to play.

CADDOHA BASEBALL FANS have been threatening to start practice for several weeks but haven't gotten around to it yet. They went so far once as to schedule a game but called it off.

OFFICIALS OF THE SOFTBALL league have requested that we urge managers to see that their players are out on time. Teams have only fifteen minutes leeway. If they have as many as seven players on hand they must go ahead and play, otherwise the game will be forfeited.

THEY SAY SAN ANGELO baseball fans are fighting the softball movement. We can't figure where softball is hurting baseball.

FROM SOME PLACE IN IOWA where he was refereeing a wrestling match, Jess Willard issued a challenge to Maxie Baer. Surely Jess was joking.

THE MEANING OF EASTER

Easter Sunday has a certain significance attached to it for the church-going public that no other day on the church's calendar can lay claim to. Is it mere coincidence that year after year more persons attend worship services of some description on Easter Sunday than on any other day? Or, is there something particularly inspiring about that day that causes one to have a more devout, a more reverent attitude toward his Maker? I am inclined to think that the latter question can be answered in the affirmative. There is very special significance attached to the day. In the event which this day commemorates, the Resurrection, lies the true essence of Christianity. Christianity would have been only a forgotten philosophy of life if Christ had not risen from the tomb. But through the resurrected Christ the Christian found a satisfying guarantee of a way of life and death.

whether Easter should continue to be movable, or a fixed Sunday, after March 21 should be adapted. It was deference to ancient custom that led ecclesiastical authorities to adhere to reckoning by the moon.

"It is not the actual moon in the heavens, nor even the mean moon of astronomers, that regulates the time of Easter, but an altogether imaginary moon, whose periods are so contrived that the new (calendar) moon always follows the real moon (sometimes by two, or even three, days). The effect of this is that the fourteenth of the calendar moon—which had from the times of Jewish law been considered the "full moon" for ecclesiastical purposes—falls generally on the fifteenth or sixteenth of the real moon, and thus after the real full moon which is generally on the fourteenth or fifteenth day. As what is meant by full moon is that it is the fourteenth day of the calendar moon, the rule is that Easter day is always the first Sunday after the Paschal full moon, that is, the full moon which happens upon or next after March 21 (the beginning of the ecclesiastical year); and if the full moon happens upon a Sunday, Easter Day is the Sunday following. Adoption of the Gregorian calendar changed the date of Easter. The Greek church, which did not accept the Gregorian calendar, therefore usually celebrates Easter on a different day from the Western church.

However, all of the foregoing information is well known to the present-day world and it is our purpose today to find what Easter has meant to the church and how it has been observed by the church throughout the centuries. Consequently, I quote for you a more concise and brilliant definition from a recognized authority: "EASTER is the festival of the resurrection of Christ, the principal feast of the Christian era. From early Christian times, it was observed with great solemnity. In the primitive church it was one of the special days for administration of baptism, and the Latin name of the octave of the Sunday following, Dominica in Albis, memorializes the custom of the newly baptized wearing their white robes through the whole week. The faithful greeted each other with the kiss of peace and the salutation 'Christ is risen,' to which the response was, 'He is risen, indeed.' This custom is still kept by the devout in Russia. In the Roman Catholic church festivities of Easter really begin on the preceding morning with the mass of Holy Saturday, in which the short first verses of Easter are included—a trace of the times of primitive severity, when the mass of that day was celebrated in the evening.

"One object in arranging the calendar moon schedule was that Easter might never fall on the same day as the Jewish Passover. However, they did occur together in 1805, 1825 and 1903 on April 12, and did so again in 1891 on April 19. The Passover usually occurs in the week before Easter, and never before March 25 or after April 25. On the other hand, the Christian festival is never before March 25. In 1761 and 1818 Easter fell on March 22 but this will not be the case in any year of the 20th century. In 1858 Easter falls on April 21. The latest Easter in this century will occur in 1945, on April 25.

"The proper time for celebration of Easter has caused much controversy. In the second century a dispute arose on this point between the Eastern and Western churches. The great body of Eastern Christians celebrated Easter on the Jewish Passover, the fourteenth day, declaring it was the commemoration of the resurrection of Jesus. The Council of Nicea (in 325) decided in favor of the Western usage. This, however, only settled the point that Easter was to be held, not upon a certain day of the month or moon, but on a Sunday. The proper astronomical cycle for calculating the occurrence of the Easter moon was not determined by this council. It appears, however, that the metonic cycle was already in use in the west for this purpose; and it was on this cycle that the Gregorian calendar, introduced in 1582, was arranged.

"Popular observance, past and present, connected with the day are innumerable. The use of eggs is of the highest antiquity, the egg having once been considered a symbol of resurrection. Easter fires formerly celebrated the triumph of spring over winter. Some of the medieval customs were quaint, such as that in several French cathedrals of a solemn game of ball played by bishops, canons and other dignitaries. Many of the popular observances are of pagan origin and traceable to the feast of the Saxon deity Easter. The worship of this deity is still remembered in the Beltaine fire. The church endeavored to give Christian significance to such of the rites as could not be rooted out.

"The time of Easter, being the most important of all the movable feasts of the Christian church, determines all the others. It was debated, at the time of the introduction of the Gregorian calendar,

"The elimination of ice formations on aircraft wings and tail surfaces and engines, propellers, and windshields, and its effect on radio reception, will result in a substantial number of air line flights being successfully accomplished that are not now attempted when icing conditions aloft are forecast.

Bureau Of Air Commerce Drafts Broad Development Program For Further Air Line Reliability

A broad program of development to assist the scheduled air lines of the United States further to improve the safety and reliability of air transportation, is now being drafted by the Bureau of Air Commerce, Eugene I. Vidal, director of the bureau, announced today.

The program, which includes certain new activities for the bureau, is the outgrowth of a conference of air line operators which met in the Department of Commerce April 8 and approved the offer of assistance advanced by Mr. Vidal on behalf of the bureau of air commerce.

"Outstanding among the problems to be immediately undertaken by the bureau of air commerce in cooperation with the air lines," Mr. Vidal said today, "are matters pertaining to air transport operations at the base of the stratosphere; elimination of ice on aircraft; the installation of a system of radio and lights at airports used by air line planes to provide safe and reliable approaches for landings under conditions of poor visibility; a system of airport and airways traffic control to govern particularly aircraft engaged in instrument flying; and the development of a transport plane carrying less than 10 passengers for use on the smaller routes which feed into the main trunk line airway system.

Danger Of Snake Bites Stressed

AUSTIN—A warning about the dangers of snake bite has just been issued by Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. A number of cases of snake bite are reported each year in Texas during the summer and early fall; however, few of these result fatally.

Most of the bites occur on the hands or feet, which indicates that stepping or falling in the immediate vicinity of an unseen snake or picking up objects under similar conditions are the hazards of contracting snake bite. The pain following the injection of the poison is most intense. Other symptoms include swelling, dizziness, difficulty breathing, hemorrhage, weak pulse, and vomiting.

If one is unfortunate enough to be bitten by a poisonous snake, such as the rattlesnake, the following first aid measures should be carried out.

After making proper incisions at the site of the wound, apply suction and continue for at least last an hour.

Apply a tourniquet above the site of the wound, releasing same every ten or fifteen minutes for about a minute at a time.

If the proper antivenom serum is available, apply it according to directions; but most important of all is to remove as much of the poison as is possible so as to prevent its absorption.

Secure the services of a physician at the earliest possible moment.

If one is bitten by a poisonous snake DO NOT run or get overheated and DO NOT take any alcoholic stimulants because circulation increased by alcohol or exercise serves to distribute the poison much more rapidly through the body.

DON'T injure the tissues by injecting permanganate of potash, which is known to be of no value as an antidote.

DON'T depend upon home remedies or so-called snake bite cures, for they are of no value.

Whirligig (Continued From Page 1) deadline for reemployment. The idea has been stressed that there are 3,500,000 employables and that the program is working toward a big crescendo in November—but no guarantees are being given. Anything you may read which would give you the idea those 3,500,000 will all be back in jobs by November may or may not come true. Reemployment is a slow, uphill fight. But if you check what F. D. R. has said, he didn't promise to get them all on the payroll so soon.

Taxes—Analyze Secretary Morgenthau's report to the people on finance. It is reassuring in spite of immense emergency spending. Roughly, about $7,300,000,000 will have been spent for emergency purposes by June 30 next. Of this about one-third has gone into public works, one-half into actual relief, and the rest into lending, of which more than one-half will be repaid. The RFC has a trick of recovering much of its lending, and Texas says public works projects will pay back about a billion. Morgenthau points out that all the money stays in the country anyway. By refunding the public debt he is paying less interest than when the debt was smaller. The administration hopes to avoid tax increases at this season. Hardbilled members of the Ways and Means committee think a few taxes should be put on, just to be on the safe side. Senate sentiment has not developed—taxes are always put off till the end of a session.

Scheduled—Social Security, which means old age pensions and unemployment insurance, is reported reliably to be THE NO. 1 bill on the administration's legislative program to such an extent that several others on the so-called "must" list may eventually be offered up as a sacrifice.

President Roosevelt is banking heavily on the house to get him over this hurdle. Speaker Joe Byrns, who helps dictate the gag rules, predicts it will pass the lower house essentially as ordered.

When the measure finally gets to the senate there will be debate and a vote. It's very safe that it goes back to conference the house conferees will take order from the White House, just as they did in the case of big work-relief appropriation.

Philately—Stamp collectors may be interested to know that Carter Glass, Jr., has just been made chairman of the Stamp Illustration committee of the American Philatelic society. The function of this committee is to drive through congress a bill which would liberalize present restrictions on catalogue and album reproduction of stamps. Under existing law a black-and-white likeness for the album collector's benefit may not be made unless it is authorized by a bar sinister and enlarged.

Mayo Dudley, a Washington newspaper correspondent and well-known stamp collector, originally headed the committee and drafted the proposed bill. Ill health forced him to turn a continuation of the fight over to the Virginia senator's son.

Notes—Another spurt of public building in Washington is to begin—the government has already outfitted its new offices. Bernie Baruch's wallop cripples the Flynn plan for penalizing everybody who does work. Textile people and textile regions are making it a hard job to hold the processing tax in the AAA law—and they are sending out a number of angry letters and some sort of infidel.

More recently the Export-Import bank made a credit arrangement which allowed the Pullman company to underbid German competition for a sale to Brazil. Everything was set for a profitable piece of business. Then the Germans came back with a special offer—and landed the order. The secret of success was that the Germans will accept payment in Brazilian cotton—largely a Japanese government enterprise.

All-Star Grid Game To Be Played Soon. TEMPLE. (Spl.)—Arrangements for the Texas high school football classic, an all-star football game between the graduated high school stars of North Texas and the stars of South Texas are developing rapidly. The game will be played in conjunction with the coaching school in Dallas July 29 to Aug. 3 sponsored by the Texas High School Football Coaches association. Standard Lambert of Temple, secretary-treasurer of the association will mail the invitations within the next two weeks.

Coaches Henry Frnka of Greenville and John A. Pierce of Corsicana will make recommendations to the board of directors of the association for the boys to be selected from the eight southern Class A districts and their corresponding Class B districts; while Coaches P. E. Showell of Breckinridge, W. E. Davis (Dallas Tech) and Charlie Trigg (Highland Park) of Dallas and Blair Cherry of Amarillo will recommend the boys from the Northern Division. The final selection, however, will be up to the board of directors which is composed of 10 of the outstanding high school coaches in the state. Each squad will be composed of approximately 18 boys.

The coaches attending the school will observe Coach E. E. (Tad) Wieman, Princeton line coach, and Tex Cox of Tulane, coach the Texas schoolboys stars two hours each day of the school and the clash between the two squads in Fair Park stadium the last night of the school will climax the association's third annual school.

Only boys who have finished their high school eligibility will be considered. The coaches association will be the boys' host while they are in Dallas and will present them with some kind of suitable award at the close of the school.

Prof. E. W. McDiarmid of T. C. U. president of the Southwest Conference, has assured the association that the game came in no way interfere with the boys' college eligibility.

RESISTS HOLD-UP. DALLAS (UP)—Wade Plumlee, taxi driver, thought he was taking his life in his hands when he resisted a negro who held him up. After robbing Plumlee of $4.50 the negro fled, leaving the gun, which Plumlee wrested from him. Not until he attempted to shoot the fleeing bandit did Plumlee discover it was a toy cap pistol.

Queered—New Yorkers unfriendly to organized labor are delighted if Green is playing around with David Lasser of the Workers Alliance of America and the latter's plan to unionize the unemployed. They are confident that the Federation will burn its fingers if the teamwork continues.

They figure that strikes for higher work relief pay—which Lasser avowedly has in mind—would play directly into conservative hands. The bonerang possibilities are enormous.

An attempt to force large relief wages by such methods would be flouting both President and congress—so the strikers would have Uncle Sam against them. The point would also be well publicized that a higher scale would either mean many fewer jobs to go "round" or a much heavier burden on the taxpayer. "If the unions don't watch their step they're likely to queer themselves with the public for years to come."

Target—A number of New York security dealers have been asked to show the Post Office department the correspondence they have received from a certain large utility group over a period of years.

The Post Office makes many such investigations to check up on possible use of the mails to defraud. Usually the subject of inquiry is a small and obviously fly-by-night outfit. It's very rare that a corporation of national importance is the target.

Observers note that the corporation under scrutiny has been one of the most aggressive and open campaigners against New Deal utility policy.

Real—The Stock Exchange public relations campaign has gone into temporary eclipse. Richard Whitney has called off his press conference for the remainder of his term—with what his friends say is a distinct feeling of relief. He never relished the job of answering questions. Incoming president Charles Gay is also keeping mum until he makes office. Meantime he is seeking consolation in how newspaper men should be handled.

Brokerage insiders predict that Gay will take immediate and spectacular action to prove his willingness to meet the views of outsiders—especially the Securities commission—on Stock Exchange reform. His main concern will be to convince the public that the Exchange's new deal is the real stuff.

Neighbor—Some months ago we were working on a trade deal with Germany which involved swapping cotton for German goods. One reason it was called off was because Brazil protested—and Secretary Hull didn't want to jeopardize his pending trade treaty with that country.

More recently the Export-Import bank made a credit arrangement which allowed the Pullman company to underbid German competition for a sale to Brazil. Everything was set for a profitable piece of business. Then the Germans came back with a special offer—and landed the order. The secret of success was that the Germans will accept payment in Brazilian cotton—largely a Japanese government enterprise.

War Against Liquor Nets Another Man

Charges Of Liquor Possession Filed After Sheriff Dept. Raids

The sheriff's department Saturday made its biggest haul in its recent war against illicit liquor sales here.

C. W. Gunn was charged with possession of intoxicating liquor for purposes of sale after members of the sheriff's department swooped down on his place.

They confiscated 23 half gallons of whiskey in the raid.

Gunn immediately waived examining trial and had bond set at $1,000. He had been unable to post satisfactory bond late Saturday night.

His arrest was the third made since Sheriff Jess Slaughter launched a campaign against liquor sales more than a month ago. Clyde Miller and O. J. Hamill were the first to be charged with possession of contraband liquor for the purpose of sale.

A negro was arrested by the city and turned over to the county for sale of home brew and possession of a small amount of liquor.

The 70th district grand jury convening Monday will consider the cases, officers said.

Slaughter indicated that other raids might be expected to follow illegal liquor sales persisted.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Haag and children, E. L. Jr. and Elizabeth of Abilene, are guests in the home of Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Collins for the Easter holidays.

Mrs. John Davis returned Friday from San Antonio where she has been visiting her son, Dr. Raleigh Davis and family.

R. V. Jones, Jr. is at home from Texas Tech in Lubbock to visit his parents for the holidays.

In his day Wiggins was one of the best light heavyweights.

Kinsler Fighting Against Odds To Defeat Illness

COLORADO—Jimmie Kinsler, night manager at the Humble Oil Company service station, East Second and Hickory, who shortly after midnight April 3, was shot by an armed robber, Thursday at noon was making a determined fight against death from his bed in the St. Joseph hospital. The young man developed pneumonia Saturday night from effects of the bullet wound that clipped top of his right lung.

"Condition of Jimmie Kinsler is very grave but we are still maintaining hope. He is putting up a wonderful fight and so long as one is determined not to die there ever remains the prospect of pulling through. Everything that is within the power of medical science is being done in his behalf."

That was a bulletin issued by Dr. C. L. Root, chief surgeon at the hospital at noon Thursday. The patient was reported as having been doing well until pneumonia developed during the night Saturday. The bullet that entered his right breast and ranged upward, lodging under the skin just over the shoulder blade, had been removed a few days before.

C. R. Russell, who was returned to Colorado Saturday, April 6, from Gladewater, to face charges of shooting Kinsler and robbing the station, Wednesday night was taken to Longview to face charges of three robbery indictments. The prisoner was taken to the East Texas oil town by Sheriff R. E. Gregory, Gladewater, where Russell is accused of staging two of his armed robberies, is located in Gregg county, of which Longview is the county seat.

Russell still holds that he had nothing to do with the shooting and robbery. His contention was that he was in home of relatives at a small town near Paris at the time Kinsler was shot and $12 in cash taken from the office register.

SCOUT NEWS

With memories of more than 500 scouts and scouters thronged about the grounds southeast of the city park a year ago lingering in their minds, local scouters are making plans to entertain approximately 100 more this year. More troops and better times will likely boost the number by that margin.

Area Executive A. C. Williamson is looking forward to the summer camp which will continue this year for three weeks. Only once before in council history has the camp been operated for more than a period of two weeks. The other time was when it was held in the Davis Mountains. "Chief" wants troops to get in their requests for a particular week at camp so he will know how to make plans.

Eighteen fees have been paid for the national jamboree troop from this council. This is scarcely more than half the number of places available in the troop. But other troops have indicated they will send a boy and many of those which have put reservations want another. Thus, says Williamson, a full "troop" from this council is assured.

Girl Scouts continue to put in some active work. Particularly are they engaged in outings. One patrol hiked to the girl scout hut and spent Friday night. Miss Rhoton added to the fun by telling many interesting things about girl scouting. Besides this, they had the thrill of cooking their own meals over an open fire.

Girl Scout Log
Thursday: The Girl Scouts of Troop No. 1 met for a short time in patrol corners. After that they played a game called "dodge ball." An inspirational short story was read—"The Two Trefoils." Several second class tests were passed and Clara Lou Nummy and Jean Jackson passed their tenderfoot tests. There were twenty-eight present with leader, Mrs. H. S. Paw.

Friday: The Girl Scouts of Troop No. 1 participated in the P-T-A program. A good membership of the troop turned out and Jeannette Dodge and Janice Slaughter were color bearers for the march.

Saturday: The Golden Eagle Patrol of Girl Scout Troop No. 1 enjoyed an overnight "hike" to the Girl Scout hut. The girls hiked from Chamber Phillips' house to the hut. They cooked their supper over the open fire. They had as a visitor for the evening Miss Rhoton, who told them many interesting things about Girl Scouting. Several of the girls passed their observation test.

The following morning they cooked their breakfast over the open fire. The rest of the morning was spent in games and hikes. Mrs. Ferguson came to be with them for dinner and remained until they returned home late in the afternoon. Those enjoying the delightful affair were: Marion Leage, Vivian Ferguson, Champe Phillips, a Play Mims, Jenetta Dodge, Clara Lou Nummy, lieutenant, Mary Louise Gilmour and a guest, Miss Jessie Mae Couch.

Troop Meetings
Troop No. One—The meeting was opened by checking the roll. Eight members and one official was present. Plans for the contest to see who would represent troop No. 1 at the National Jamboree was given out. Then plans for a troop hike were discussed. Speed knot tying contests were held in which the Eagle patrol was winner. The several games were played and the troop was dismissed by singing taps. Three visitors were present.

Popularity Contest Being Staged By High School Pupils

The contest is sponsored by The Wheel, school paper, as an annual spring event. Photographs of the winners will appear in the 1935 Wheel Review, the photographic yearbook issued by the staff.

Elections deciding the contest will be held Thursday at school assembly.

The manner of deciding who would be candidates was accomplished in a different way this year. Class presidents selected committees from each class which formed one large nominating committee who decided on the 12 contestants.

The committee's decision included 6 seniors, 4 juniors and 2 sophomores, and included the following: For the best all-round boy were suggested: Sam Flowers, George Neel, and Herbert Woodward. For the best all-round girl, Cleo Lane, Eddy Raye Lees, and Bobby Gordon.

Automobile Jack Proves Useful As Surgical Instrument

SAN ANTONIO (UP)—A common automobile jack is a very useful surgical instrument in the treatment of persons suffering from broken backs, Dr. Slim Driver of Dallas told the Texas Surgical Society here.

A person suffering from a broken back, Dr. Driver explained, is placed on a frame of metal splints with his feet tied down and a weight attached to his head.

An automobile jack is placed beneath the frame and the patient's back slowly raised to the level of his extremities. Thus the ligaments of the backbone are enabled to draw the fractured pieces of vertebra into place and the patient can be placed in a plaster cast, the surgeon said.

Dr. Robert Moore, associate professor of surgery, told of a method of eliminating pain in heart ailments by severing a certain nerve.
