$365 IN PRIZES FOR BEST RHYMES

A new contest is just being started which will interest everyone who reads this paper. Anyone can enter this Contest—anyone can win! All it is necessary to do is to write a 4-line rhyme on Dr. Price's Phosphate Baking Powder, using only the words which appear on the label of the Dr. Price can (front and back).

Isn't that easy? Everyone likes to make rhymes and here is a chance to spend a fascinating hour or two writing rhymes on this popular Baking Powder and perhaps winning a substantial prize for your efforts.

27 CASH PRIZES

For the rhyme selected as best a prize of $100 will be given; for the second, third and fourth best rhymes prizes of $75, $50, and $25, respectively will be given. And besides these prizes there will be 23 prizes of $5 each for the next 23 best rhymes. With such a long list of prizes as these, it would be a pity not to try your hand. Here's a 4-line rhyme as example.

The days when land was casually filed on and farmed without any in-telligent understanding of agricultural processes are going with the dwindling availability of the land, and rapidly passing is the epoch of the destruc-tion of soil values, and the abandon-ment of farms which have been ren-dered unproductive. Clearer and clear-er has become the realization that er has become the realization that farming is a specialized profession requiring special training, and in the place of this spoliation there is an prace of this sponation there is an intelligent system of crop rotation, preservation of the virtue of the land, a discovery of the nobility of the farmer's calling and a determination to secure and achieve the best possible in everything.

The Education of the Farmer.

Agricultural colleges, experimental farms, government literature, rallway farms, government interature, railway propaganda, all in an appreciation of the national benefits which accrue, contribute to the education of the farmer who, if he starts out in ignorance, speedily discovers the futility and profitlessness of continuing in this state. It is only of comparatively recent years that farming in Canada has become the comprehensive and ex-haustive study it is and its tenets been so widely absorbed, and older farmers who have followed haphazard methods or systems scientifically un-farmers who have inlowed impalzard methods or systems scientifically unsound are gradually forced from necessity into an intelligent study and application of their profession.

This brings us to the city man who is anxious to leave his old life for the greater freedom of the country and take a farm for himself, and, the foregoing holding good, he need not follow far behind the older farmer if he take up the study of his work seriously, bring energy and intelligence to bear upon a following out of the systems of experienced and successful agriculturists, and utilize the results of the expert investigation and research the Dominion places at his disposal. The whole country is working for him and the novice has almost an equal opportunity with the farmer of a lifetime.

A census of Canadian farmers would probably show that fully one-half are not farmers' sons and were not brought up to the life of the farm. Yet none would criticize Canada's farmers on the score of poor farming methods in general, the excellency of their crops with international honors and the universal demand for their live-stock would be refuting this effectually. Signalusia refuting this effectually. Signalusia refuting this effectually. Signalusia refuting this effectually. Signalusia signa products refuting this effectually. Significant is it, too, that practically all the farmers who have achieved the most signal honors at international farming competitions have not been lifelong farmers, but city men who, taking to the land after reaching maturity without the remotest proclars. taking to the land after reaching maturity without the remotest previous knowledge of agricultural activities, have through intelligent study and close application of the best farming methods surpassed the efforts of those agriculturists who have continued doing things on the farm in the way their fathers used to do them.

LESSON FOR JUNE 18

THE DOWNFALL OF JUDAH

LESSON TEXT—II Kings 25:1-21.
GOLDEN TEXT—Be not deceived: God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.—Gal. 6.7. REFERENCE MATERIAL—Deut. 23:5-13: 25, 36, 37; II Chron. 35:11-23; Luke 19: 41-44

PRIMARY TOPIC-God Punishing Disbedient People.

JUNIOR TOPIC-The Capture of Jeru-

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC
-A Nation That Disobeyed God.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC
-Results of National Disobedience to God.

Zedekiah was made king of Judah by the king of Babylon (24:17), but in by the king of Babylon (24:17), but in spite of this kindness and the word of the Lord spoken to him by Jeremiah (Jer. 38:17, 18: cf. Jer. 52:3), he rebelled against the king of Babylon. He relied upon the help of Egypt, but all that Egypt could do was to cause temporary interruption of the siege of Jerusalem.

The Seige of Jerusalem (vv. 13) 1. Time of (vv. 1, 2). It began on the tenth day of the tenth month of the ninth year of Zedekiah's reign and lasted about eighteen months. The tenth month according to the Jewish calendar corresponds to our December-calendar corresponds to our December-January, as their calendar year began about the middle of March. The reason the exact time is given 's that this was to be an event of great importance to the Jews in their exile.

2. The Method (v. 1). Nebuchādnez-zar came in person with a large army and encamped against Jerusalem and built forts against it round about. It is thought that siege walls were built around the city, shutting it in. On the tops of these walls forts were built from which missiles of destruction could be hurled by their engines of war against the city. With the city shut in its fall was only a question of time.

3. The Famine (v. 3). It is estimated that one-third of the people of Jerusalem died of starvation

II. Zedekiah's Flight and Fate (vv.

4-7).

1. "The City was Broken Up" (v. 4).

1. "The City was Broken Up" (v. 4). The Chaldeans had succeeded in mak-ing an opening in the wall so large that they could make their way into the city in spite of all that the He-brews could do. Resistance was car-ried on to the bitter end.

2. Zedeklah's Flight (y. 4). The king with his men of war fled by night to-ward the plain. His object, no doubt, was to cross the Jordan at Jericho and hide in the mountains east of

3. Zedekiah's Fate (vv. 5-7). (1) He 3. Zedekian's Fate (vv. 5-7), (1) He was overtaken in the plains of Jericho (v. 5). When his flight was discovered the Chaldean army pursued and captured him. (2) He was brought to the king of Babylon at Riblah (v. 6), Riblah was a town north of Damascus. It was the king's headquarters from which he directed his writing against which he directed his armies against Tyre and Jerusalem. Before Neb-uchadnezzar, Zedekiah was tried as a criminal. (3) His fate (v. 7). His sons were slain in his sight; his eyes were put out; he was bound with fetters of brass; and they carried him to Babylon where he remained pris-oner until the day of his death (Jer.

III. Jerusalem Destroyed (tv. 8-10). The dismantling of the city was de-layed a month, perhaps awaiting in-structions from Nebuchadnezzar, who vas at Riblah.

1. They Burnt the House of the Lord (v. 9). This was the sacred temple built by Solomon with additions and modifications. Before burning it they plundered it of all its sacred contents. 2. Burnt the King's House (v. 9). This was doubtless the palace built

3. Burnt All the Houses of Jeru salem (v. 9). The implication is that the common houses were left for the people (v. 12).

4. They Broke Down the Walls of erusalem. The aim was to render Jerusalem. The alm was to render the walls useless as a means of de-

Doubtless they were looking forward to colonization by foreign peoples. The object in leaving these people was that the country might be ready for their coming. Over these people Gedallah was appointed as governor, with head-quarters at Mizpah.

To the Thief.

Let him that stole, steal no more; but rather let him labor, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth.—Ephesians 4:28.

The Greatness of God's Mercy.
Remember me, O my God, and spare me according to the greatness of thy mercy.—Nehemiah 13:22.

No Peace for Them. There is no peace, saith the Lord, unto the wicked.—Isaiah 48:22.

THAT there are Physicians who specialize on Infant ailments you know. All Physicians understand Infant troubles: all Physicians treat them. It is his profession, his duty, to know human ills from the Stork to the Great Beyond.

But in serious cases he calls in the Specialist. Why? He knows as every Mother knows, or ought to know, that Baby is just a baby, needing special treatment, special remedies.

Can a Mother be less thoughtful? Can a Mother try to relieve Baby with a remedy that she would use for herself? Ask yourself; and answer honestly!

Always remember that Baby is just a baby. And remembering this you will remember that Fletcher's Castoria is made especially for Infants and

The False and the True.

Advertising by the use of large space, the expenditure of huge sums of money have placed on the market, have put in your home, perhaps, many articles that today have been discarded, as you will readily admit.

Do you recall anything that has more modestly appealed to the public than has Fletcher's Castoria: modest in all its claims, pleading at all times—and truthfully—for our babies?

The big splurg, the misleading claims may win for a time, but the honest truth-telling advertiser is like the old story of the tortoise that beat the hare.

To them; to these true mothers no argument can induce them to set aside their bottle of Castoria, their old friend, that they might try even another and unknown remedy for babies. # Big Baking Powder Value

IF there were no other reason for using Dr. Price's Phosphate Baking Powder, its wellknown high quality would be sufficient. But in addition to this, think of these other advantages!

Dr. Price's is sold at the low price of 25c for a large can of 12 ounces. It is pure and wholesome and imparts a fine, appetizing flavor to the food.

It contains nothing to leave a bitter taste-no ingredient which is not in itself wholesome.

THE OILPULL TRACTOR IS THE CHEAPEST FARM POWER .

(1) Low Fuel Cost

Low Upkeep Cost

(3) Long Life

Three things are necessary to produce theap tractor power. (1) A cheap but powerful fuel. (2) A tractor not liable to delays and breakdowns. (3) A tractor that will last many years, thus reducing cost per year.

Actual records prove that the OilPull meets the requirements in all three. That is why it will do your plowing, discing, dragging, seeding, threshing, and belt work cheaper than any other power.

Triple Heat Control Is the Reason

OilPull economy is due to Triple Heat Control. This system of oil cooling has solved the problem of burning kerosene successfully under all conditions. The OilPull is the only tractor soid with a bona fide written guarantee to that effect. There is a size that will make money for you. Come in and see it. Prices are right.

Johnnie Comes Into His Own.

When Clay shot off at a tangent from the car and ceased to function as ready the taxi was traveling at a speed that made this dangerous. He leaned out of the open door and shouted to the driver.

"Say, lemme out, doggone you. I wantta get out right here."

The chauffeur paid not the least attention to him. He skidded round a corner, grazing the curb, and put his wet street, now and again skidding dangerously. It swung into Fourth avenue, slowing to take the curve. At the widest sweep of the arc Johnnie stepped down. His feet slid from un-der him and he rolled to the curb across the wet asphalt. up and tested himself for broken bones. He was sure he had dislocated a few hips and it took him some time

But Johnnie, free, had no idea what to do. He was as helpless as Johnnie imprisoned in the flying cab. Of what Clay's plan had been he had not the remotest idea. Yet he could not go home and do nothing. He must keep a chance to call the police to find out the first cigar store he stopped and was put on the wire with headquar-ters. He learned that a car supposed to be the one wanted had been driven Johnnie's mind carried him on straight line to the simplest decision. He ran across to Fifth avenue and Johnnie left the bus and plunged into the park. A man beside the girl jumped up with a snarl, gun in hand.

Johnnie fired once, then forgot all about the private little war he had started. For his arms were full of a sobbing Kitty, who clung to him while she wept and talked and exclaimed all

Clay told the story of his enco with Durand on the train and of his subsequent meetings with him at the Sea Siren and on the night of the poker party. He made elisions and emendations that removed the bed-room scene from the tale.

said Clay, smiling. "She sure wants you. I'll hit the trail to have that talk with Jim Collins." He found "Slim" Jim at his stand. That flashily dressed young crook eyed him with a dogged and wary defiance. He had just come from a call at the bedside of Jerry Durand and he felt a healthy respect for the man who could do what this light-stepping young fellow had done to the cham-pion rough-houser of New York. The story Jerry had told was of an assault from behind with a club, but this Col-lins did not accept at par. There were lins did not accept at par. There were too many bruises on his sides and cuts on his face to be accounted for in any way except by a hard toe-to-toe fight.

"Mo'nin', Mr. Collins. I left you in "A gun-play?" asked Clay pleasant-ly. "Say, there's a shootin'-gallery round the corner. Come along. I wantta show you somethin'."

"Aw, go to h-l!"

The sinewy hand moved again to-ward the aching muscles of the gunman. Collins changed his mind hur-riedly.

The Antenna

HOW AMATEUR CAN BUILD A RECEIVER

Instructions for Setting Up the Antenna and for Assembling the Tuner.

In order to pick up sufficient energy with the simple radio receiving set it is necessary to connect one terminal to an antenna consisting of one or more wires suspended in the air and insulated from all grounded material and the other terminal to a ground, usually the water supply pipe. The height of an antenna used with a small receiver should not be less than small receiver should not be less than 30 feet. As the received energy va-ries directly as the height of an anten-na, the higher the antenna the louder will be the signals or voice produced. The length of an antenna for short wave reception should not be less than 50 feet nor should it be longer than 200 feet. The minimum wave length to which a simple receiver can be adjusted for electrical resonance will be above that used by amateurs if the receiver be connected to an antenna 200 feet or more in length.

A simple radiophone receiver capable of picking up radiophone stations similar to KDKA at East Pittsburgh, can be assembled by a novice for from $4 to $15, depending upon the builder's ability to use his hands. If the builder will construct most of his apparatus he will appreciate it much more and probably will under-stand more about its operation than if he buys a set already made. How-ever, for those who have not the abil-ity or the time to spend constructing their own apparatus the following de-scription will not only give the details as to the construction of each com-ponent part of a receiver but also what standard ready-made parts can be purchased and used in its stead. The material can be purchased at any electrical supply store. In erecting a simple antenna for use with the receiver shown in the diagram, the antenna proper and the lead-in are of stranded hard-drawn copper wire, strand No. 22, costing about 1 cent per foot. The two insulators are of molded material and can be purchased for about 25 cents each. The antenna shown is supported between a house and a pole. It may be found more convenient to support it between a tree and a house, two houses or even between two chinneys on the same house. In bringing down the lead-in care should be taken that it is kept as far away from grounded material as possible and when bring-ing through the wall or under the win-dow into the house it should be brought through some sort of an insulating tube, such as rubber or bakelite.

tube, such as rubber or bakelite.

In making the ground connection the same kind of wire can be used as was purchased for the antenna. You can clean a section of the waterpipe oughly and solder the ground wire

MAKING THE TUNER

To make a tuner for this receiver, the following raw material will be required: Piece of cardboard tubing three ricce of cardboard tubing three inches outside diameter and five inches long, costing about 10 cents.

When thoroughly dry slip the two fasten the end blocks to the wound tube. The slider is to be mounted on top of the coil and should be capable of making contact with any turn of the wire on the tube. In order to remove the insulation from the wire just under the rod where the slide moves back and forth, wrap a piece of sandpaper around a thin piece of wood and using another piece of wood as a guide, sandpaper the insulation from the winding. Drill a hole one eighth inch in diameter through the slider rod about one-fourth inch in from each end so that the rod can be fastened by screws to the end blocks. After the slider rod is fastened in place see that the contact finger on the bottom of the slider can at all times make good contact with the winding. Mount a binding post on either end of the coil, attaching one by means of a wire to the silder rod and the other to the end of the wire wound on the tube and the tuner is aiready assembled for about $3.50 to $4.00.

LINKING MOVIE AND RADIO

in Wireless Transmission of Motion Pictures.

British scientists are reported to have met with more or less success in developing a method of transferring motion pictures by radio. months ago a photograph was trans ferred by wireless from the Copen hagen newspaper, the Politiken, to Eng land, and later from England to a ship in mid Atlantic, so that the possibil-ity of linking the movies with the new art is not remote.

If perfected the new development of the already versatile art will make it possible for one to see on his own re-ceiving instrument things that are happening at a great distance. For instance, a ship is sinking at sea. The transmitting station of the vessel, in-stead of sending a message of the disaster, sends a picture that anyone with a receiving set will be able to see just as the present broadcasting programs are heard.

That all sounds remote now, but the telep...ne was considered even more so, and the wireless, even after Marconi's immortal message had bridged the Atlantic, was generally be lieved to be akin to the idea of per-
